A Letter From the Director...

Welcome back to our returning students, faculty, and staff, and especially welcome to our new honors students! We hope you had an enjoyable and satisfying summer – that you read good books, did good work, had fun, and are looking forward to the 2001-2002 academic year with enthusiasm.

Returning students will want stop into the office and pick up the new edition of Strategies for Success: The CLA Honors Division Handbook, prepared this summer by Pamela Baker and other members of the Honors staff. This new edition introduces you to the members of the staff; contains descriptions of Honors requirements, courses, and advising, and includes a preliminary listing of the CLA Honors Seminars and Colloquia through the year, as well as of scholarship competitions.

We encourage all Honors students to come in and pick up a complete description of the CLA Honors Seminars and Colloquia before each semester's course registration period. These courses are the "crown jewels" of Honors at the University – offering the opportunity for students from a variety of disciplines to attend small classes (15-20 students) on topics of broad and current interest, taught by some of the University's best faculty. Honors in CLA has historically been based on these special curricular opportunities, so in a sense, these Colloquia and Seminars embody the best, most interdisciplinary aspects of the Honors experience.

In this fall newsletter, you'll discover a list of national scholarship competitions. Don't be shy, plan to apply! U of M students often do very well in these competitions, and many students benefit enormously from the experience of participating. Last year we were extremely proud of Molly Zahn, the CLA Honors Student who won a Rhodes Scholarship.

The College of Liberal Arts also awards more than $500,000 annually in scholarships to its continuing students. Applications for the 2002-2003 scholarships awards will be available from CLA Honors later in the fall, and must be submitted by February 4, 2002. We'll send an e-mail out on the honors list-serv when these applications are available.

Let me invite our Honors students to make use of the Honors advising staff if you have any questions regarding your standing or progress in the College. We are proud of our staff – both the student peer advisors and the professionals who stand behind them. Many questions can be answered on a walk-in basis; for topics that require more discussion, we are usually able to schedule an appointment with an advisor within a few days. We want to hear about any problems you are having, and about your successes and triumphs, too!

As the new Director of CLA Honors, I am especially proud to join this Honors Program which has been so successful under the stewardship of Gordon Hirsch, my predecessor. And I am very enthusiastic about working with the staff that has made that success possible, and with you students, who are what makes us the proudest!

We're glad to see you all back on campus. Stop by the Honors office when you have a chance, and have a great year!

-Richard McCormick

Class Notes...

- Seniors—If you have completed 75 semester credits or so, it's time to make a Senior Balance Sheet appointment. This appointment will clarify your progress on graduation requirements and help you plan for that final push towards life after CLA. This appointment should be scheduled at least a couple of terms prior to graduation. Call the Honors office at 612-624-5522 to schedule a Senior Balance Sheet appointment with a professional advisor.
- Juniors—If you have completed between 45-60 semester credits and have maintained a 3.5 GPA, it is time for you to apply for the Junior/Senior Honors Program. Reapplication is necessary so that your major department may examine your past work and determine your eligibility to pursue an Honors degree in the major. Application forms are available at the Honors website (www.cla.umn.edu/honors) or in the Honors office (115 Johnston Hall).
Still undecided or have questions about a major? Remember that the University requires you to declare a major by the time you've completed 60 credits. Contact the Honors Office to set up an appointment with a professional advisor to help you with the process of major selection.
- Sophomores—The Freshman-Sophomore Honors Certificates for the 2000-2001 school year were awarded during our annual file review this summer. Those who successfully completed the Freshman-Sophomore Honors Program should have received a letter in the mail congratulating them on their achievement. Eligibility is based upon the completion of three Honors opportunities within the first 60 semester credits and a minimum 3.5 cumulative GPA. If you think you are eligible for the award but have not received a letter, check with the Honors Office.
Congratulations to all recipients. Keep up the good work!
- Freshmen— Remember to check your University e-mail! You will be receiving an e-mail from your professional advisor soon reminding you to schedule a Fall check-back appointment the week of September 10.

New to Honors?

If you've recently been admitted to the CLA Honors Program, and want to know just what you're getting into, sign up for an Introduction to Honors meetings this semester.

Bring your questions, and we'll provide the information! This is an informal group meeting intended to give you a broad overview of the Honors Program and its opportunities. Stop by the CLA Honors Division Office, 115 Johnston Hall or call 612-624-5522 to sign up.

Thesis Workshop

A CLA Honors Thesis Information Session provides an opportunity for students planning to write an Honors Thesis to discuss the project with Honors Advisor Pauline Sargent. You'll review what is involved in this capstone of your undergraduate career and discuss departmental requirements, thesis grants, how to organize your time, and more. The meeting will also introduce you to other prospective thesis writers and give you a chance to exchange information, tips, and support.

Although the session can be most useful to those with two or more semesters remaining before graduation, all are welcome to attend. The information session for Fall semester will be:

Thursday, September 20, 2001

3:00 pm

101 Johnston Hall

RSVP by phone, 624-5522, by Monday, September 17.

CLA Honors Career Clinic

Thursday, October 11, 2001

12:30-3:30

115 Johnston

Are you wondering about careers? Do you want to know where you are on the career timeline? Would you like to know how to plan a career strategy? How to get help with your resume? Kimberly Strauss Johnson, the CLA Honors Career Coordinator, will spend the afternoon in the Honors Office answering your questions and concerns about career issues. Please stop by at any time during the clinic hours and bring your questions.

More Scholarships...2002-2003 CLA Continuing Student Scholarships

Start thinking scholarships now! Each year over $500,000 is awarded to CLA continuing students through a variety of scholarships administered by the CLA Honors office.

Scholarships awarded include the Selmer Birkelo Scholarship, the ITT Consumer Financial Corporation Scholarship, the John K. and Elsie Lampert Fesler Scholarship, several Alumni Scholarships, the Neil Anderson Scholarship, the Douglas Baker Scholarship, the Morton D. and Artice E. Silverman Scholarship, and the Waller Scholarship. All scholarships offered by the College of Liberal Arts are intended only for students who plan to receive their Bachelor's degree from CLA; those who plan to complete their undergraduate program in a different college are not eligible for these awards.

Eligibility includes declaration of a CLA major by Fall semester of the award year, completion of at least 30, but no more than 75, semester credits by the end of the fall term before application, and, in some cases, financial need eligibility as certified by the Office of Student Financial Aid. Applications require a completed application form, written statement, and letter of recommendation from a professor or instructor who can describe in specific terms the quality of the applicant's academic work. Application forms and further information will be available at our website (<http://www.cla.umn.edu/honors>), or in the Honors office beginning in early October. The deadline for receipt of all application materials by CLA Honors, or postmark in the U.S. mail, is Monday, February 4, 2002.

Katherine E. Sullivan Scholarship for Study Abroad

The Katherine E. Sullivan Scholarship provides an opportunity for University of Minnesota seniors to enrich their academic experience with a fifth year of undergraduate study in another country.

The Scholarship allows a student to study abroad for one academic year and covers all or a portion of in-country educational expenses (tuition, fees, books, research costs, etc.), room and board, and round-trip transportation between the Twin Cities and the study site. Applicants must be currently enrolled undergraduates in any college at any U of M campus, have completed at least 30 semester credits in residence at the U of M by the end of fall semester 2000, have senior status (at least 90 semester credits) by the end of fall semester, and be making regular progress toward the degree, have an overall GPA of 3.5, and be U.S. citizens or permanent residents.

All application materials must be received or postmarked no later than Monday, February 4, 2002. Applications and inquiries concerning the scholarship should be directed to: CLA Honors Division, 115 Johnston Hall, 612-624-5522.

Grants... Fellowships... Opportunities...

Honors Thesis/Project Grants

Seniors, before you begin work on your Honors Thesis or Project, consider applying for an Honors Thesis/Project Research Grant. The maximum award for such grants is $500. Applications should be submitted well in advance of beginning the research. An application for a grant submitted after work has begun and expenditures have been made will be given lower priority than applications which are made for research planned completely but not yet undertaken.

Applications for Fall semester are due by September 17, 2001, in 115 Johnston Hall.

CLA Internship Grant

Grants are available to CLA sophomores, juniors, and seniors who are participating in unpaid internships, service learning experiences, or structured experiential learning situations. To be eligible for an Undergraduate Internship Grant, students must be receiving academic credit in conjunction with their internships. For more information about the Internship Grant, stop by the Career and Community Learning Center in 135 Johnston, or call 612-624-7577. Fall Application Deadline: Wednesday, September 19, 2001 by 4:30 p.m.

Howard Hughes Medical Institute Fellowships in the Biological Sciences

These fellowships are awarded for up to 5 years of full-time study toward a Ph.D. or an Sc.D. in specified biological disciplines. Predoctoral fellowships are intended for students at or near the beginning of their graduate study. College seniors, college graduates with no or limited postbaccalaureate graduate study in the biological sciences, and first-year graduate students may apply. U.S. citizens may study in the United States or abroad; others must study in the United States. More information at www.hhmi.org/grants/announce.htm
Application deadline: November 13, 2001.

Star Tribune Scholar Program Winners

The program started with a $100,000 grant from the Star Tribune Foundation and is a partnership between the newspaper and the School of Journalism and Mass Communication (SJMC). Each scholar will receive a $5,000, three-year scholarship and a guaranteed paid internship with the Star Tribune after graduation.

This year's winners, all incoming CLA Honors freshmen, are:

Rachel Bruzzone Mary Stegmeir
Jabari Ritchie Susie Vang

Congratulations, all!

What are they doing now?

Katy Backes (summa 1999, IR/Spanish) was admitted to the Woodrow Wilson School of Public and International Affairs at Princeton University. She will begin her 2 year MPA (Masters in Public Administration) program in Development Studies this fall.

Former Honors peer advisor Mark Carlson (summa 1996, Economics) finished his Ph.D. at Berkeley this year. He's now working at the Federal Reserve in D.C.

Edward Bok Lee (summa 1994, CSCL) is a local playwright who wrote short plays for the "Guthrie Experience for Actors in Training" program this year. Lee's play, entitled "El Santo Americano," was performed in July.

Bachelor of Individualized Studies (BIS) and Individually Designed Interdepartmental Major (IDIM)

The next deadline for submitting proposals for an individualized major is October 1. Information meetings are held each week at which students can learn about the BIS and IDIM programs and how to develop a program proposal. Call 612-624-8006 or visit 345 Fraser for more information or see the BIS/IDIM website at: <http://www.cla.umn.edu/class>, and follow the link to the Individualized Degree program.

U of M College Bowl Team

Like quiz competitions? The University of Minnesota's College Bowl Team is looking for members!

Students who enjoy quiz competition are invited to attend weekly practices during Fall semester. Beginning Wednesday, September 5, practices will be held from 6:00-9:00 pm on Mondays in 245 Blegen and Wednesdays in 135 Blegen. The 'U' team has won three national championships and multiple regional championships over the years. Players of all ability levels are welcome. Members of the team travel to tournaments throughout the year. For more information, contact Chris Malone at malo0013@umn.edu.

Pre-Med Information Programs

Is medical school in your future? Find out about how to get there at a Pre-Med information meeting. In these sessions, you'll learn about pre-med requirements, application strategies, and more.

Change in Med School Policy

Beginning with the 2002 entering class at the University of Minnesota Medical School, Year 1 will begin the third week of August. This change will require that applicants accepted for the 2002 entering class complete the baccalaureate degree and pre-requisite coursework by July 1, 2002, rather than by September 1st, as has previously been the case.

Paperless Financial Aid

Wondering about your financial aid award? If you're expecting financial aid for the school year, you should check your university e-mail account. The university's Office of Scholarships and Financial Aid is now notifying students of their aid electronically.

The university began posting financial aid award notices on its Web site, www.onestop.umn.edu, Monday, July 16.

Students receiving aid for the 2001-02 school year have been sent an e-mail with a link to the university's financial aid Web site to inform them of their aid packages. The Web site provides information and directions on how to accept, amend or decline aid.

It is imperative that students check their university e-mail accounts in order to complete the financial aid process. For more information, visit the financial aid Web site or call a financial aid counselor at (612) 624-1665 or 1-800-400-8636. Students who need information about their e-mail accounts should call the computer and Internet helpline at (612) 626-4276.

November 2001

Visit our updated web page!

This summer the CLA Honors web page underwent a major renovation. Now when you visit www.cla.umn.edu/honors, you'll find a beautiful new gateway to a plethora of information! Updates include links to departmental scholarships, study abroad scholarships, research, poetry and writing scholarships, and "other" scholarships. Check out the "Honors News and Events" link for up-to-the-minute information on important dates, places, and people. We've added a new "Resources for Faculty" link as well. This and much more information is just a click away. Visit us soon!

Spring 2002 Freshman Advising

Freshmen MUST meet with an Honors peer advisor prior to registration for Spring Semester. If you haven't yet received a call from us to schedule this appointment, please call the office at 612-624-5522 to set up a meeting!

2002-2003 CLA Continuing Student Scholarships

The College of Liberal Arts will award approximately two hundred scholarships for the 2002-2003 academic year to continuing students. Information and scholarship forms are available now in the CLA Honors office and on our website: <http://www.cla.umn.edu/honors/claschol.htm>.

Applications are due no later than Monday, February 4, 2002. Don't miss this opportunity to apply!

Become an Honors Peer Advisor!

Remember Freshman orientation and registration? Remember that helpful person who guided you through the maze of the class schedule, on-line registration, and just where the heck the U Card office was? Remember the fun facts and hot tips? If remembering these things makes you yearn to join the ranks of the Honors Peer Advisors, now's your chance! Peer advisors help first-year students with the registration process and other issues, and work as office assistants in the Honors office. These paid positions begin in June with training and orientation, and continue throughout the school year. Applicants should expect to spend at least two years in this position. To apply, please fill out the form in this newsletter, or go to the Honors website at: www.cla.umn.edu/honors to print and fill out the form located there.

Peer advisor applications are due in the Honors office, 115 Johnston Hall, by Friday, February 8, 2002.

Registration for Spring Semester 2002

The Spring semester registration queue begins with Waa. Seniors and Juniors with 75 or more cumulative credits register beginning November 12. Juniors with fewer than 75 semester credits, Sophomores and Freshmen register beginning November 20. To find your individual registration time, go to the One-Stop website (www.onestop.umn.edu) and follow the links to Enrollment Time or call the Gopher Student Line at 612-624-5200.

Reminder! If you have completed more than 60 semester credits, you should declare your major and apply for Junior-Senior Honors status. Junior-Senior program applications are available in the Honors office, or you may print out and submit a copy of the on-line application (www.cla.umn.edu/honors/jrsr.htm). Not sure about a major? Make an appointment with your Honors advisor to discuss options and the major declaration process.

Class Notes...

- ❖ If you have completed approximately 75 semester credits, it's time to make a Senior Balance Sheet appointment. In this appointment we'll review and clarify your progress on graduation requirements and help you plan for that final push towards life after CLA. This appointment should be scheduled at least a couple of terms prior to graduation. Call the Honors office at 612-624-5522 to schedule a Senior Balance Sheet appointment with your professional advisor.
- ❖ If you have completed between 45-60 semester credits and have maintained a 3.5 GPA, it's time to apply for the Junior/Senior Honors Program. Reapplication to the program is necessary in order to determine your eligibility to pursue Honors work in your major. Participation in the Junior-Senior Program is a requirement for graduation with Honors from CLA. Application forms are available at the Honors website (<http://www.cla.umn.edu/honors/jrsr.htm>) or in the Honors office (115 Johnston Hall).
If you're still undecided or have questions about a major, contact the Honors Office to set up an appointment with a professional advisor to help you navigate the process of major selection.
- ❖ If you have completed between 30-45 credits, it's time to start thinking seriously about your major. Remember, under semesters you must declare your major by the time you've completed 60 credits. Attend a workshop on majors that interest you or meet with an honors advisor to help you sort through some of your choices. Now is also a good time to start thinking about professors who might be willing to write letters of recommendation for you for the CLA Continuing Student Scholarships.
- ❖ If you're a freshman, we have started calling you to schedule a pre-Spring registration appointment with your Honors Peer Advisor. In this mandatory appointment we'll check up on current classes as well as discuss possibilities for your Spring semester schedule. Call 612-624-5522 if you have any questions about your schedule or appointment time.

New to Honors?

If you've recently been admitted to the CLA Honors Program, and want to know more about what you're getting into sign up for an Introduction to Honors meeting this semester.

Bring your questions, and we'll provide the information! This is an informal group meeting intended to give you a broad overview of the Honors Program and its opportunities. Stop by the CLA Honors Division Office, 115 Johnston Hall or call 612-624-5522 to sign up.

Thesis Grants

Seniors, before you begin work on your Honors Thesis or Project, consider applying for an Honors Thesis/Project Research grant. The maximum award for such grants is $500. Applications should be submitted well in advance of beginning the research. An application for a grant submitted after work has begun and expenditures have been made will be given lower priority than applications which are made for research planned completely but not yet undertaken.

Applications for Spring semester 2002 are due by the end of the second week of the semester.

Financing Study Abroad

Want to study abroad but not sure about how to pay for it? The Honors Office and Global Campus-Study Abroad are sponsoring a workshop to explain how CLA Continuing Student scholarships, federal and state financial aid, and Global Campus scholarships can make your international experience more affordable. This event will take place at 2:30 p.m. on Thursday, November 15 in Room 101 Johnston Hall. Please call the Honors Office at (612) 624-5522 to RSVP.

Psychology Premajor

Information Session

Thinking about a major in psychology? If you're considering psychology as a major (or if you're a newly declared psychology major) and you would like more information, attend a Premajor Session with a psychology advisor. The next information session will be held on: Friday, Nov. 16, 11 a.m.-noon OR noon-1 p.m. in 107 Elliott (we will hold a session at 11 a.m. and one at noon)

Advisors will answer your questions about requirements, psychology as a discipline, possible career directions and graduate studies. Sign up by calling 612-625-8520, e-mailing psyadv@tc.umn.edu, or stopping by 105 Elliott Hall.

Application for Graduation Deadlines:

Spring 2002: February 4, 2002

- Applications for degree are due in the CLA Student Information Office (49 Johnston Hall).
- "Graduation with Honors" forms for completed projects are due in 115 Johnston Hall. (If your honors project is not completed, submit the "Honors in Progress" form.)

Graduation Information Fall Semester 2001

If you applied to graduate in Intersession 2001, Summer session 2001, or Fall semester 2001, you will be invited to participate in the CLA commencement ceremony and your name will appear in the commencement booklet. The Fall commencement date is Sunday, December 9, 2001 at 1:00 p.m. in Northrop Auditorium. For more information, please go the University of Minnesota Commencement Handbook website at www.umn.edu/twincities/commencement, or contact the CLA Student Information Office at 612-625-2020.

Katherine E. Sullivan Scholarship for Study Abroad

The Katherine E. Sullivan Scholarship provides an opportunity for University of Minnesota seniors to enrich their academic experience with a fifth year of undergraduate study in another country. The Scholarship allows a student to study abroad for one academic year and covers all or a portion of in-country educational expenses (tuition, fees, books, research costs, etc.), room and board, and round-trip transportation between the Twin Cities and the study site. Applicants must be currently enrolled undergraduates in any college at any U of M campus, have completed at least 30 semester credits in residence at the U of M by the end of fall semester 2000, have senior status (at least 90 semester credits) by the end of fall semester, and be making regular progress toward the degree, have an overall GPA of 3.5, and be U.S. citizens or permanent residents.

All application materials must be received or postmarked no later than Monday, February 4, 2002. Applications and inquiries concerning the scholarship should be directed to: CLA Honors Division, 115 Johnston Hall, 612-624-5522.

Grants... Fellowships...Opportunities...Howard Hughes Medical Institute Fellowships in the Biological Sciences

These fellowships are awarded for up to 5 years of full-time study toward a Ph.D. or an Sc.D. in specified biological disciplines. Predoctoral fellowships are intended for students at or near the beginning of their graduate study. College seniors, college graduates with no or limited postbaccalaureate graduate study in the biological sciences, and first-year graduate students may apply. U.S. citizens may study in the United States or abroad; others must study in the United States. More information at www.hhmi.org/grants/announce.htm.

Application deadline: November 13, 2001.

Internships... Seminars... Workshops...

Metro Internships

Metro Internship is a fifteen-week, 20 hours/week internship offered through the University YMCA and CLA each spring. Internships are arranged at local corporations and focus on internal and external organizational relations and leadership. Interns are placed at major local corporations, in a variety of departments.

All internships provide interaction at upper levels of management and projects of significant impact on the organization and community. The six-credit course component examines issues of personal and corporate ethics, leadership, and responsibility. Students receive a $1,000 stipend for the internship. For more information or to apply, call Mark Haase at the University YMCA at 676-7710, or e-mail mhaase@ymcampus.org.

Minnesota State Senate Legislative Internships

The Minnesota State Senate will provide University students with internship opportunities during the upcoming legislative session. Students across all fields of study are encouraged to apply. These internships expose students to the legislative process and the internal workings of a specific Senator's office. Internship hours are flexible. Many Senators prefer interns with interests similar to their own, so applicants are encouraged to indicate any specific skills or interests on the application form. The 2002 legislative session begins January 29 and continues through late April. Application deadline is November 14.

The Department of Political Science offers internship credit for this experience through Fieldwork (POL 3070) as does the Career and Community Learning Center through Internship: Perspectives on Work (ID 3211). Students may also contract with their own departments through Directed Studies, if applicable. For further information, contact Rose Miskowiec (624-8517) or Scott Magnuson (651-296-7198).

Honorifics...

Jenny Carrier, (Political Science, Sociology), was a winner in Glamour Magazine's Top 10 College Women of 2001 competition. This prize is awarded annually to college women of outstanding achievement. A photo and profile in the October 2001 issue of Glamour, as well as a cash prize and trip to New York are included in the recognition. Congratulations, Jenny!

In our September issue, we mistakenly omitted one of the CLA Honors UROP grant winners from the list:

Shelley Drees, "Extroversion and Agreeableness: Can These Measures of Personality Predict Management Development Activities and Attitudes?" (Deniz Ones, Psychology). Congratulations, Shelley!

Andrew Pritchard (Spring 2001, summa graduate - Political Science), won the William Jennings Bryan Prize. This $250 award is given to the student who wrote the best essay on the science of government. Andrew is enrolled in the J.D. program at the University of Minnesota Law School. Congratulations, Andrew!

Jason Weidemann, (Spring 2001 summa graduate--English and CSCL), performed a 15-minute spoken word piece incorporating original poetry, a suitcase filled with clocks, and a leather couch at Patrick's Cabaret's bi-annual Queer Boyz Nite, on July 14 and 15, 2001. Congratulations, Jason!

Heather Fuller (Psychology/Spanish), Holly Kirking (Political Science/IR), Zach Rodvold (Political Science/Spanish), and Milo Sybrant (Global Studies/Anthropology) are all recipients of the A.I. Johnson Scholarship. This scholarship allows recipients to participate in a full-time internship with a state or federal agency, an international organization, or an agency or interest group concerned with public affairs. Each student receives an $8,000 scholarship. Heather is enrolled in the MN Studies in International Development (MSID), and will spend the year in Ecuador. Holly will intern in Congressman Martin Sabo's office in Spring semester. Zach will spend a year in the AmeriCorps program working with the Latino community. Milo is also participating in the MSID program, and will spend the year studying and interning in Senegal. Congratulations, all!

The Judge Earl and Mrs. Cecil Larson Scholarship recipients this year are: Gulzar Babaeva, Dean Harvey, Kelly McDermott, Ross Owen, Eugene Sherayzen, and Craig Sondag. This scholarship is awarded to outstanding political science students to support their research projects. Congratulations, all!

Become an Honors Peer Advisor!

Remember Freshman orientation and registration? Remember that helpful person who guided you through the maze of the class schedule, on-line registration, and just where the heck the U Card office was? Remember the fun facts and hot tips?

If remembering these things makes you yearn to join the ranks of the Honors Peer advisors, now's your chance! Peer advisors help first-year students with the registration process and other issues, and work as office assistants in the Honors Office. These paid positions begin in June with training and orientation, and continue throughout the school year.

Applicants should expect to spend at least two years in this position. To apply, please fill out the form in this newsletter, or go to the Honors website at: www.cla.umn.edu/honors to print and fill out the form located there.

Peer advisor applications are due in the Honors Office, 115 Johnston Hall, by Friday, February 8, 2002.

Honors Seminar Students Engage the Civic Engagement Task Force

Last spring CLA Honors was awarded a grant from the Civic Engagement Task Force to offer a civic engagement Honors Seminar. This fall, Professor John Wallace (Philosophy) taught the first such course - "American Ideals and Civic Engagement." The goals of the course, according to Professor Wallace, were to "draw out students' own experiences and understanding of our society's ideals, ways in which it succeeds and fails to live up to its ideals, and of ways in which citizens can take action to close the gap between American ideals and American reality." The course was considered a great success by all participants.

Evidence of this success came when students volunteered to appear before the Civic Engagement Task Force to advocate for more civic engagement learning opportunities for all students. One of the student presenters, Maggie

Albertz, said, "Community service gives an appreciation for diversity and it instills a resistance to apathy. [Through civic engagement courses] students are encouraged to care, and compassion becomes a means for leadership." Another presenter, John DiRico, admitted that his initial impulse to volunteer was to bolster his professional credentials and academic performance, but the seminar opened his eyes to the many ways in which his work was eliminating negative barriers for himself and others.

Seminar student Kimberly Jackson wrote an article for the Daily proposing a plan for increasing volunteerism among students through legislative support of civic engagement courses. "But in a time of tight money and budget cuts, why would the state Legislature want to give this alleged vacuum of a University more money?" she asks. "Because, according to many, this would be the first time we would prove we aren't just a 'vacuum' of public funds. This would be money well invested, that will show an immediate and direct benefit to the taxpayers who have financially supported us."

Another civic engagement Honors Seminar is in the planning stages for Fall 2002. Keep watching for further details!

Class Notes...

◆ If you have completed approximately 75 semester credits, it's time to make a Senior Balance Sheet appointment. In this appointment we'll review and clarify your progress on graduation requirements and help you plan for that final push towards life after CLA. This appointment should be scheduled at least a couple of terms prior to graduation. Call the Honors Office at 612-624-5522 to schedule a Senior Balance Sheet appointment with your professional advisor.

◆ If you have completed between 45-60 semester credits and have maintained a 3.5 GPA, it's time to apply for the Junior/Senior Honors Program. Reapplication is necessary in order to determine your eligibility to pursue Honors work in your major. Participation in the Junior-Senior Program is a requirement for graduation with Honors from CLA. Application forms are available at the Honors website (<http://www.cla.umn.edu/honors/jrsr.htm>) or in the Honors Office (115 Johnston Hall).

If you're still undecided or have questions about a major, contact the Honors Office to set up an appointment with a professional advisor to help you navigate the process of major selection.

If you completed the Freshman-Sophomore Honors program last Spring Semester and have not yet received your Freshman-Sophomore Honors Certificate, we want to know! Certificates were awarded during our annual file review last summer. Eligibility is based on the completion of three Honors opportunities within the first 60 credits and a GPA of at least 3.5. If you think you are eligible for the award but have not received a Certificate, please check with the Honors Office.

◆ If you have completed between 30-45 credits, it's time to start thinking seriously about your major. Remember, under semesters you must declare your major by the time you've completed 60 credits. Attend a workshop on majors that interest you or meet with an honors advisor to help you sort through some of your choices.

◆ If you're a freshman, registration for Fall 2002 begins on April 18! It isn't too early to start thinking about courses for next semester. Plan to make an appointment with your peer advisor in late March or early April. Have a question about majors, minors, or Life in General? Call and make an appointment with a professional advisor in the Honors Office (612-624-5522).

New to Honors?

If you've recently been admitted to the CLA Honors Program and want to know more about what you're getting into, sign up for an Introduction to Honors meeting this semester. This is an informal group meeting intended to give you a broad overview of the Honors Program and its opportunities. Stop by the CLA Honors Office, 115 Johnston Hall or call 612-624-5522 to sign up.

Summer 2002: June 24, 2002

- Applications for degree are due in the CLA Student Information Office (49 Johnston Hall).
- "Graduation with Honors" forms for completed projects are due in 115 Johnston Hall. (If your honors project is not completed, submit the "Honors in Progress" form.)

Graduation Information Spring Semester 2002

If you are applying to graduate for Spring Semester 2002, you will be invited to participate in the CLA commencement ceremony and your name will appear in the commencement booklet. The Spring commencement date is Sunday, May 19, 2002 in Northrop Auditorium. For more information, please go to the University of Minnesota Commencement Handbook website at www1.umn.edu/twincities/commencement, or contact the CLA Student Information Office at 612-625-2020.

Thesis Grants

Seniors, before you begin work on your Honors Thesis or Project, consider applying for an Honors Thesis/Project Research Grant. The maximum award for such grants is $500. Applications should be submitted well in advance of beginning the research. An application for a grant submitted after work has begun and expenditures have been made will be given lower priority than applications which are made for research planned completely but not yet undertaken.

Applications for Spring semester are due by February 8, 2002.

As reported in the U of M publication Kiosk, Tu-Anh Bui (Architecture) took part in the Midtown Crossings Workshop (co-sponsored by the U of M's Design Institute) in October, 2001. The workshop explored different ways to bridge over the new Midtown Greenway. Artists, architects, engineers, students, and community organizers from around the world and across the country participated in the two-day workshop.

Sharjeel Sabir (Philosophy) will present a paper at the National Conference of Undergraduate Research at the University of Wisconsin, White Water, in April 2002.

What Our Grads Are Doing

Lisa Rosenow (BS Spring 1999, Magna, Speech and Hearing Science), is currently working as a Clinical Research Coordinator at Minnesota Eye Consultants in Minneapolis. She says, "It is very exciting to be part of new technology, and learning about current FDA regulations and human ethics standards. I also particularly enjoy interacting with so many different people on different levels - from the investigators/surgeons, to study sponsors (e.g., Bausch and Lomb), to patients. I am also gaining valuable experience in project management, as I manage studies from initiation to closeout."

The Grand Canyon Semester - The West as Image and Reality

The Grand Canyon Semester offers an unforgettable learning experience in the mountains of northern Arizona and the canyon country of the Colorado Plateau. Students from across the United States and around the world will join research faculty to examine the challenges facing people in an ancient and modern environment, from the perspectives of the natural sciences, the social sciences, and the humanities.

Students complete 18 semester credit hours of advanced work, including an undergraduate research course. Courses are taught cooperatively, with faculty involved in every academic and social activity, and average about twenty students per instructor. Professionals from the National Park Service at Grand Canyon National Park, the Museum of Northern Arizona, the Grand Canyon Trust, and other agencies will serve as visiting faculty, as will native tribal officials and traditional storytellers.

For more information, and to access the on-line application form, please visit www.grandcanyonsemester.nau.edu.

Application deadline is February 1, 2002.

National Scholarships Spring 2002

National scholarships offer generous support for outstanding students to pursue undergraduate and/or graduate study. Detailed information and application materials are available from the campus contact persons. In many cases, a campus nomination or interview process precedes the submission of applications to the national scholarship foundations.

This information is also available at <http://cla.umn.edu/honors/natschol.htm>.

More Scholarships...

Katherine E. Sullivan Scholarship for Study Abroad

The Katherine E. Sullivan Scholarship provides an opportunity for University of Minnesota seniors to enrich their academic experience with a fifth year of undergraduate study in another country. The scholarship allows a student to study abroad for one academic year and covers all or a portion of in-country educational expenses (tuition, fees, books, research costs, etc.), room and board, and round-trip transportation between the Twin Cities and the study site. Applicants must be currently enrolled undergraduates in any college at any U of M campus, have completed at least 30 semester credits in residence at the U of M by the end of Fall Semester 2001, have senior status (at least 90 semester credits) by the end of fall semester, and be making regular progress toward the degree, have an overall GPA of 3.5, and be U.S. citizens or permanent residents.

All application materials must be received or postmarked no later than Monday, February 4, 2002. Applications and inquiries concerning the scholarship should be directed to: CLA Honors Division, 115 Johnston Hall, 612-624-5522.

Carol E. Macpherson Memorial and Alumnae Society Scholarships

For women students 28 years of age and older and returning for a postsecondary degree at the U after a five-year break. Deadline date is January 25, 2002. For further information contact LaShunda Cross at 612-625-1364 and visit www.umn.edu/mnwomen/programs.html.

2002-2003 CLA Continuing Student Scholarships

The College of Liberal Arts holds a scholarship competition each year for students already enrolled in CLA. Approximately two hundred scholarships for the 2002-2003 academic year will be awarded to continuing students. Information and scholarship forms are available now in the CLA Honors Office and on our website:

<http://www.cla.umn.edu/honors/claschol.htm>.

Applications are due no later than Monday, February 4, 2002. Don't miss this opportunity to apply!

Scholarships... Fellowships...Woodrow Wilson National Fellowship Foundation

2002 Thomas R. Pickering Foreign Affairs Fellowship
Sophomores! Interested in becoming a Foreign Service Officer for the U.S. Department of State? The Thomas R. Pickering Foreign Affairs Fellowship program will prepare you for "the most interesting work in the world." This program provides undergraduate funding to participants as they are prepared academically and professionally to enter the United States Department of State Foreign Service.

Students in their sophomore year who are talented and highly motivated, have a GPA of at least 3.2, and are U.S. citizens are eligible to be considered. Selection is based on outstanding leadership skills, academic achievement, and demonstrated financial need.

Fellows receive funding for tuition, room, board, and mandatory fees during the junior and senior years of college and during the first year of graduate study with reimbursement for books and one round-trip travel. The Fellow must commit to pursuing a graduate degree in international studies at one of the graduate schools identified by the WWNFF. Participating graduate schools provide financial support in the second year of graduate study based on need. Fellows meet annually in Washington, DC for a program orientation.

For further information, visit the WWNFF website at: <http://www.woodrow.org>.

The application deadline is February 22, 2002.

Phi Kappa Phi Graduate Fellowships

For the Support of First-Year Graduate or Professional Study

The Phi Kappa Phi Graduate Fellowship Program allocates more than $460,000 annually to outstanding students for first-year graduate study.

Each year, Phi Kappa Phi offers 52 Fellowships of $8,000 each and 30 Awards of Excellence of $1,500 each.

Information and application packets for this year's competition are available in the CLA Honors Office (115 Johnston). For more information, please visit the Phi Kappa Phi website at <http://www.phikappaphi.org/>.

Internships... Grants...National Endowment for the Humanities Summer Internships

The National Endowment for the Humanities invites applications for internships to be held in Washington D.C. during summer 2002. College students entering their junior or senior year in fall 2002 are eligible to apply. NEH interns receive stipends of $4,000 for 10 weeks of work. Applicants must be U.S. citizens; foreign nationals who have been legal residents in the United States for at least 3 years; or territorial residents of Puerto Rico, the Virgin Islands, Guam, American Samoa, or the Commonwealth of the Northern Mariana Islands. Up to twelve internships will be awarded to students interested in deepening their understanding of human history, language and culture and of the nature and reasons for public investment in the humanities. Application deadline is Friday, February 8, 2002. Applications are being accepted online at <http://www.neh.gov>. Questions should be directed to Russell Wyland in the Division of Research at rwylan@neh.gov.

Undergraduate Research Opportunities Program

The U of M Undergraduate Research Opportunities Program offers financial awards twice yearly to full time undergraduates for research, scholarly, or creative projects undertaken in partnership with a faculty member. It encourages students to conduct research and pursue academic interests outside of their regular courses by employing them to work on special research projects. UROP applications are judged on both the quality of the proposed project and the educational benefit to the student; awards are not based on financial need. Next deadline: March 4, 2002 for projects beginning on or after May 20 (for intersession projects) or July 1, 2002 (for summer or fall projects). For more information, visit the UROP website: <http://www.urop.umn.edu/>

CLA Internship Grants

If you are doing an unpaid internship in Spring semester, you may be eligible to apply for a $1200 competitive grant, the CLA Undergraduate Internship Grant. To apply, you must be a sophomore or above registered in CLA, participate in an unpaid internship (120 hours minimum), and complete an academic project (2 credit minimum) related to your internship during the internship semester. For questions about the grant or the application process, visit the Career and Community Learning Center website at www.cclc.umn.edu, or call 612-624-7577. You must meet with a Grant Advisor in order to fill out an application. Application deadline is February 13, 2002.

Internships...

Live, Learn and Intern

The Fund for American Studies and Georgetown University sponsor three Summer Institutes designed to address the needs of students interested in politics, economics and international relations (The Engalitcheff Institute on Comparative Political and Economic Systems), political journalism (The Institute on Political Journalism), and business and government affairs (The Bryce Harlow Institute on Business and Government Affairs). All three Institutes are held in Washington, D.C. Students work 20-30 hours per week at an internship relevant to their interests and career goals and take two courses at Georgetown University.

The special activities of the Institute give students unique opportunities to explore the world of policy experts, government officials, and political institutions. Each year students attend briefings at the White House, the State Department, and foreign embassies. Students also visit the House of Representatives and hear from leading members of Congress. They also have the opportunity to interact with national and international policy leaders, as well as a host of leaders in the media, government relations, and members of the foreign service, at weekly dialogues and lectures.

This summer's Institutes will be held from June 8 through July 27, 2002. The early application deadline is January 15, 2002 and the final deadline is March 15, 2002. Numerous scholarships are available.

For more information or to download an application, visit the website at: www.dcinternships.org.

Internship Program in Scientific Computing and Graphics

The Supercomputing Institute for Digital Simulation and Advanced Computation is pleased to announce an Undergraduate Internship Program for Summer 2002 for undergraduate students. The focus of the program is the application of computational approaches and visualization methods to supercomputing research. This includes digital simulation and advanced computation and all aspects of high-performance network communications. Supercomputing research is defined broadly to include a variety of research activities from many disciplines. This research involves the use of high-performance computing environments to address problems in science and engineering that could not otherwise be attempted. Prospective students should visit the following web site for the full details on the program and application process: www.msi.umn.edu/general/Programs/uip/summer02.html. For additional information, please call 612/626-7620 or email uip@msi.umn.edu. Deadline for applications is February 28, 2002.

Harry S. Truman Scholarship Nominees

Named as Finalists

Two University of Minnesota-Twin Cities undergraduates, Kyle Althoff and David Simon, are finalists for the Harry S. Truman Scholarship. The Truman Scholarship provides support for outstanding students with strong records of leadership and activism who plan to attend graduate programs that will prepare them for lives of public service. Students apply for the Truman Scholarship during the junior year. Information about the Truman Scholarship, as well as the announcement of this year's finalists, can be found at www.truman.gov.

Kyle, a North Dakotan, is an Agricultural and Food Business Management major in the College of Agricultural, Food, and Environmental Sciences. David, a Minnesotan, is a Political Science, Russian, and Global Studies major in the Honors Division of the College of Liberal Arts.

Approximately 200 students nationwide are finalists each year, and approximately 80 awards are made. Kyle and David will have their finalist interviews with the national Truman Committee in mid-March, and winners will be announced by the end of the month. Best wishes, Kyle and David!

Seniors!

Mark your calendars!

Plan to join your classmates at the Spring Honors Luncheon for graduating seniors (and their guests). This year's luncheon will be held on Wednesday, May 1,

12:00 - 2:00 p.m.

at the Radisson Hotel
Metrodome in Stadium
Village.

Invitations will be sent in April. Please hold that date! We'll send you more information soon.

New Application Procedures for the Rhodes, Marshall, and Mitchell Scholarships

New deadline: April 8

U of M Twin Cities students interested in applying for these scholarships, for awards beginning Fall 2003, should submit preliminary applications to the CLA Honors Division office by Monday, April 8, 2002. This is a change from past years, when applications were collected and endorsements made at the beginning of the fall semester. For application instructions or if you have any questions, contact the CLA Honors Office, 115 Johnston, 612.625.5522, or email slicb@adv.cla.umn.edu

Class Notes...

- ◆ If you have completed approximately 75 semester credits, it's time to make a Senior Balance Sheet appointment. In this appointment we'll review and clarify your progress on graduation requirements and help you plan for that final push towards life after CLA. This appointment should be scheduled at least a couple of terms prior to graduation. Call the Honors Office at 612-624-5522 to schedule a Senior Balance Sheet appointment with your professional advisor.
- ◆ If you have completed between 45-60 semester credits and have maintained a 3.5 GPA, it's time to apply for the Junior/Senior Honors Program. Reapplication is necessary in order to determine your eligibility to pursue Honors work in your major. Participation in the Junior-Senior Program is a requirement for graduation with Honors from CLA. Application forms are available at the Honors website (<http://www.cla.umn.edu/honors/jrsr.htm>) or in the Honors Office (115 Johnston Hall).
If you're still undecided or have questions about a major, contact the Honors Office to set up an appointment with a professional advisor to help you navigate the process of major selection.
- ◆ If you have completed between 30-45 credits, it's time to start thinking seriously about your major. Remember, under semesters you must declare your major by the time you've completed 60 credits. Attend a workshop on majors that interest you or meet with an honors advisor to help you sort through some of your choices.
- ◆ If you're a freshman, registration for Fall 2002 begins on April 18! It isn't too early to start thinking about courses for next semester. We have started calling to set up appointments for you with an advisor to plan for your Fall registration. Have a question about majors, minors, or Life in General? Call and make an appointment with a professional advisor in the Honors Office (612-624-5522).

New to Honors?

If you've recently been admitted to the CLA Honors Program and want to know more about what you're getting into, sign up for an Introduction to Honors meeting this semester. This is an informal group meeting intended to give you a broad overview of the Honors Program and its opportunities. Stop by the CLA Honors Office, 115 Johnston Hall or call 612-624-5522 to sign up.

CLA Honors Career Workshop "Careers for Scholars and Other Deep Thinkers"

Kimberly Strauss Johnson, the CLA Honors Career Coordinator, and Mary Moga, CLA Honors Advisor, offer the final Spring Honors Career Workshop. Join us as we discuss the meaning of life, careers, and everything, with guest speakers Professor Rick McCormick, Director of CLA Honors, and Pauline Sargent, who holds her doctorate in Philosophy.

Thursday, April 18

12:00 - 1:30 p.m.

51 Johnston Hall

To sign up or for more information, please call the Honors Office at 612-624-5522.

Thesis Workshop

A CLA Honors Thesis Workshop will be held on Wednesday, March 27 at 3:00 PM in 101 Johnston. Pauline Sargent, Honors Advisor, will facilitate a discussion of optimal schedules for completing the thesis, departmental procedures, thesis grants, and other issues related to the process of writing an honors thesis. You will have the opportunity to meet other prospective thesis writers and share your ideas, plans and support. Although the session can be most useful to those with two semesters remaining before graduation, all students are welcome to attend. Please RSVP by phone, 624-5522, by Tuesday, March 26.

Honorifics...

CLA Undergraduate Internship Grant Recipients

The CLA Undergraduate Internship Grant Program was established to enable students to enhance their academic experience with meaningful internships in the community. More than two thirds of the internships listed with the Career and Community Learning Center are unpaid internships, in both the private and public sectors. Since many students must work to support themselves while attending the university, they are unable to take advantage of the valuable opportunities and experiences internships offer. This grant is intended to assist these students in accepting unpaid internships. The winners for Spring semester 2002 are:

Meghan Anzele - Winner of the CLA Undergraduate Internship Grant for an internship with Graywolf Press in St. Paul. Meghan will be working with editors creating marketing brochures, identifying publishable texts, communicating with authors, and compiling press kits. She is a senior English major.

Belma Demirovic - Winner of the CLA Undergraduate Internship Grant for an internship with the American Refugee Committee in Minneapolis. Belma will work as a project assistant focusing on legal service initiatives in Bosnia. She will be researching and documenting successful legal assistance programs implemented in the Balkans to promote and facilitate repatriation of refugees and internally displaced persons. She is a senior in the IDIM program, studying international relations, political and economic development, and East European studies.

Erin Severson - Winner of the CLA Undergraduate Internship Grant for an internship with the Plymouth Youth Center in Minneapolis. Erin worked there as a Language Arts Teaching Intern, preparing and leading discussions, creating and implementing lesson plans, and interacting with students and staff. She is a junior majoring in English.

What are you up to? Let us know! Drop a line to the Honors Office via snail mail, e-mail, or just drop in with your stories about your honorific adventures or awards. (And if you're too shy to toot your own horn, maybe a friend can do the 'honors!')

Jillian Abram (Freshman, Fall 2001) and Renee Klitzke (Freshman, Fall 2001) were featured in the April 2002 issue of Seventeen magazine, in an article on college decision-making. Jillian "...wanted to be in a big city with a lot of art and culture. But I still craved a small academic environment. Whatever I was going to get out of Barnard (in New York City), I'm getting out of the U of M, minus the Empire State Building, I guess." Renee was interested in Northwestern University in Illinois, but settled on the U of M which offered her the opportunity to "play the cello..., (and) do the Greek system or intramural sports..." at a cost of about a third of what she'd have paid at Northwestern!

Madeleine Monson-Rosen (Junior, English major), translated into English the Latin lyrics to songs by the medieval cleric Hildegard von Bingen for the Swedish folk-music group Garmarna (whose American record label is in Minneapolis). The 2001 album is titled "Hildegard von Bingen."

Honorifics...

What are they doing now...?

Naomi Pabst, (Summa, Afro/African-American Studies, 1993), as recently noted in the February 22 issue of The Chronicle of Higher Education, has accepted a position in Yale University's African-American Studies department in a tenure track position. Now a Fellow in Harvard University's W.E.B. Du Bois Institute for Afro-American Research, Naomi will begin her new position soon.

Nikki Sorum (Summa, Economics BS, 1984), has joined AAL/Lutheran Brotherhood in the newly created job of group director of new business ventures, according to an article in the March 6 Minneapolis StarTribune newspaper. Ms. Sorum will "develop new business ventures, select and manage the distribution of non-AAL/LB products, and lead a national group of several hundred premier agents."

Study Opportunities...

Anthropology: Live the Adventure!

The 24th Annual Undergraduate Anthropology Conference will be held this year from April 26-28 at the Deep Portage Conservation Reserve in Hackensack, MN. Speakers for the conference include:

Professor Irven DeVore, Harvard University

Professor John Shea, SUNY - Stony Brook

Professor Beth Conklin, Vanderbilt University

Registration deadlines are Wednesday, March 27 for registration with a presentation or scholarship application, and Friday, April 5 for final registration.

For more information, contact the Anthropology Club at 612-625-3095, or email anthro@umn.edu.

Important Information

Declare the Spanish and Spanish/Portuguese Major/Minor Now!

Students who wish to declare a major in Spanish or Spanish-Portuguese and/or a minor in Spanish or Portuguese must do so before the end of Spring semester, otherwise, they will have to wait until Fall semester. Students cannot declare these majors/minors during May or Summer term because the mandatory group meetings are not available and individual declaration sessions are not possible.

The major declaration process requires a group meeting. Check the Spanish/Portuguese website for available meeting times (<http://spanport.cla.umn.edu/ugrad/declare.htm>). Registration must be done in person in 34 Folwell between 8 am and 4 pm.

Please note that the last available Spring semester meeting to declare the major is on Monday, May 6 from 8:30-9:30 am. The last available meeting to declare the minor is Wednesday, May 1 from 10-11 am.

Psychology Major Information

The Psychology Advising Office is sponsoring two sessions for students thinking about a major in psychology between now and the end of the term. At these sessions, students can learn about the Department of Psychology at the U of MN, the requirements for the major, typical career directions of psychology graduates, graduate school requirements, and services provided by Psychology Advising. Dates/times are:

Friday, March 15 - 11:00am-12:00pm

Thursday, April 4 12:00-1:00pm

Both sessions will be held in 107 Elliott and students should RSVP to 625-8520 or psyadvise@tc.umn.edu

New Minor

Interdisciplinary Minor in New Media Studies

This minor provides an opportunity to supplement a major field of study by exploring from multiple perspectives how information (content) is created in new media, as well as the role and impact of those media on human communication. "New media," refers to the emerging digital technologies that enable information to be produced, stored, transmitted, and displayed in ways that are not possible with traditional media. Students explore how these technologies change the ways in which various types of content can be created, managed and distributed and, in so doing, potentially change the content itself.

This minor is open to undergraduates in all majors. For more information on the minor, go to the SJMC website:<http://www.sjmc.umn.edu/>.

Individualized Degree Programs

Need to declare your major but having trouble deciding among several fields? Unsatisfied with your current major because it doesn't give you the opportunity to explore topics or approaches that interest you? You may want to check out CLA's Individualized Degree Programs, through which Honors students currently are pursuing such fields as the arts and social change, world health issues, and queer studies. The Individualized Degree Programs hold small-group information meetings three times each week. At the meeting an adviser will explain the planning and approval process for the Individually Designed Interdepartmental Major for the B.A. degree and the Bachelor of Individualized Studies degree, and there is plenty of time for questions. Meeting times vary - call (612) 624-8006 to sign up for one that's convenient for you.

Fall Semester 2002 Honors Colloquia

Only freshmen and sophomores may enroll in Honors Colloquia and, as a general rule, students may not enroll in more than one Honors Colloquium in the same semester. Students who have a late registration date or who find their chosen colloquium closed should come to the Honors Office to be placed on a waiting list. Students must attend the first day of class to have a chance of gaining admission to a closed colloquium. For scheduling information and course descriptions, please stop by the Honors Office or see the on-line class schedule: www.onestop.umn.edu/schedule.

Philosophy 4326W: Lives Worth Living: Questions of Self, Vocation, and Community.

18 day study afield experience in southwestern Minnesota MAY 28 to JUNE 14, 2002

“What is it you plan to do with your one wild and precious life?” ~ Mary Oliver

* Are you interested in creating community?

* Would you like to discuss questions of self and vocation?

* Do you want to earn college credit over the May session?

If you answered yes to any of these questions, please join us at one of our information meetings to learn more about the Lives Worth Living May 2002 course. Join us this May as we explore questions of self, vocation, and community at a retreat center on the prairie of southwestern Minnesota. This course is modeled on the folk high schools of Denmark, where students and teachers live, work, celebrate, and learn in educational communities. Find out how you can be a part of this new and unique four credit course.

The deadline for applying for the course and paying the initial installment of the course fee (room, board, and supplies) has been extended to April 12 (or until the course fills at its maximum of 20 students).

Information meetings about the course will occur on the next several Monday evenings starting Monday, March 11 (March 11, 18, 25, April 1, 8), 7-8:30 p.m. at Espresso Expose, 600 Washington Avenue SE, Minneapolis

ALSO

Two meetings near the St. Paul campus, on March 18 & April 1, 7-8:30 p.m. at Lori's Coffee House, Cleveland and Buford

See the web site <http://www.tc.umn.edu/~walla003/> for information about the course, including a section of Frequently Asked Questions, pictures of the place in southwestern Minnesota where it will be held, and more.

Rewriting Shakespeare

09:05am-12:25pm MTTh
(06/17/02-07/12/02), 2-4 cr

Instructor: Charles Sugnet is an award-winning Professor in the English Department

Students in this class will read several of Shakespeare's plays together with 20th century rewritings of those plays, to see how a story stays alive precisely by changing to address new cultural needs. Readings may include Shakespeare's King Lear, together with Jane Smiley's A Thousand Acres; Shakespeare's The Tempest, together with Aime Cesaire's 1960's Caribbean anti-colonial version, A Tempest, and John Edgar Widemann's recent novel Philadelphia Fire; Shakespeare's Othello with Richard Wright's Native Son or South African Lewis Nkosi's Mating Birds. Each pairing will take up a major issue such as colonialism, race, or gender. The purpose is not to determine which version is aesthetically best, but to see how each version addresses the needs of a different historical circumstance, and how the cultural prestige of "Shakespeare" is employed even by those advocating revolutionary social change. There will be some attention to theoretical questions of interpretation, and to changes in Shakespeare criticism with parallel or enable the retelling, but most of the reading will be in various kinds of fictions.

Scholarships... Fellowships... Internships

Lilly Lorénzen Scholarship

The Lilly Lorénzen Scholarship Committee, in conjunction with the American Swedish Institute, is happy to announce the 23rd annual competition for a scholarship in the amount of $2,500 to supplement study in Sweden.

The scholarship was established as a memorial to the late Lilly Lorénzen, instructor in Swedish at the University of Minnesota and the American Swedish Institute, author of the book Of Swedish Ways, and a builder of the Swedish heritage in America.

To qualify, an applicant must be a Minnesota resident, have a working knowledge of Swedish, and present a serious plan of study in Sweden during the 2002-2003 school year. As part of the application, a college transcript, or if a transcript is unavailable, a statement of professional and community achievement must be provided.

Applications must be received by May 1, 2002, so that the award can be presented by June 1, 2002. Finalists will be notified for a personal interview with the committee.

Applications should be mailed to:

Lilly Lorénzen Scholarship Committee
The American Swedish Institute
2600 Park Avenue
Minneapolis, MN 55407

For more information, please contact the Swedish Institute at 612-871-4907

Undergraduate Research Opportunities Program

The U of M Undergraduate Research Opportunities Program offers financial awards twice yearly to full time undergraduates for research, scholarly, or creative projects undertaken in partnership with a faculty member. It encourages students to conduct research and pursue academic interests outside of their regular courses by employing them to work on special research projects. UROP applications are judged on both the quality of the proposed project and the educational benefit to the student; awards are not based on financial need. Next deadline: July 1, 2002 (for summer or fall projects). For more information, visit the UROP website: <http://www.urop.umn.edu/>

For more information about national, University, or departmental scholarships, check out the Honors website at www.cla.umn.edu/honors/schollnk.htm

Mary E. Hahn Fellowship

The Mary E. Hahn Fellowship is given to undergraduate students majoring in Greek or Latin or Classical Civilization, to support a study program, participation in archaeological fieldwork, or other appropriate learning activity in Classical Studies requiring travel to the Mediterranean area.

Next Application Deadline: April 15, 2002

Applications should be addressed to: Prof. Gerald Erickson, Classical and Near Eastern Studies, 305 Folwell Hall, 9 Pleasant Street SE, Minneapolis, MN 55455.

Email: erick002@tc.umn.edu

Trollope Prize

The Trollope Prize is awarded annually to the best undergraduate essay in English on the works of Anthony Trollope. A contemporary of Charles Dickens, Trollope was a prolific author of essays, travel books, and novels. He is best known for his depictions of upper-class English life.

The Trollope Prize was established by anonymous benefactors to encourage the reading and enjoyment of this important yet under-read literary giant of the 19th century. The Expository Writing Program at Harvard University is pleased to administer this important prize.

The winning essay will receive $2,500, and a hard-cover copy of one of Trollope's novels. The essay will be published on the Trollope Prize website and be included in a collection of Trollope Prize-winning essays. Submissions must be in English. Each submitted essay must be sponsored by a faculty member from the English department, or other humanities department, of the writer's undergraduate institution. The faculty sponsor of the winning essay receives $1,000 for curriculum development; the sponsor's department receives $500.

Submissions are due June 1, 2002. A panel of distinguished scholars will judge the submissions, and the writer of the prizewinning essay and the faculty sponsor will be notified by September 1, 2002. Results will be posted on the Trollope Prize website.

A.I. Johnson Scholarship

The A.I. Johnson Scholarship is an internship/scholarship. The selected student will spend one semester in regular studies on campus and one semester in a full time, off-campus internship. This scholarship provides students with a demonstrated interest in public affairs a stipend for their internships.

Sophomores and juniors in all majors are eligible to apply for this scholarship.

Applicants must show evidence of a strong interest in public affairs, with an intention to pursue a career or avocational activities in public affairs, including any kind of community volunteer activity, organizing to affect public policy, service on government advisory committees, and service in appointive or elective offices.

Information and applications are available in the Department of Political Science Undergraduate Advising Office located in 1482 Social Sciences. For more information, call 612-624-8517.

Application deadline is March 29, 2002.

Pre-Medical Scholars Program

What is the Pre-Medical Scholars Program?

The University of Minnesota Pre-Medical Scholars Program is a cooperative arrangement between the Uof M - Twin Cities, the University of Minnesota Medical School, and highly qualified undergraduates. Its goal is to attract top students to the University of Minnesota Twin Cities Campus by providing them with special opportunities that will enhance their ability to enter into and succeed in medical school and in a medical career.

What are the advantages to a prospective medical student?

Pre-Medical Scholar Students are matched with mentors from the Medical School's Academy of Educators. Mentors help them complete their undergraduate work in a manner that prepares them for the rigorous requirements of medical school. Pre-medical scholars have opportunities to participate in specially designed Medical School workshops, seminars, research and shadowing programs. Participants also receive conditional acceptance to the University of Minnesota - Minneapolis Medical School at the time of their acceptance into the Pre-Medical Scholars Program.

Who is eligible?

The Pre-Medical Scholars Program is exclusively for U of M Twin Cities undergraduates. Applicants must have completed two years of undergraduate course work with a minimum of 12 credit hours in biological or physical science course work, 36 credit hours of non-science, and a total of 48 credit hours of course work overall.

What qualifications will be considered in selecting Pre-Medical Scholars?

- Highly competitive academic qualifications.
- Positive personal attributes.
- Strong letters of recommendation.
- Demonstrated human service experiences.
- Knowledge of the field of medicine
- Strong motivation for a career in medicine

How do I apply for the Pre-Medical Scholars Program?

The application period is from April 1st through July 1st. Initial applications are completed on-line. 2002 online applications will be available beginning March 7, 2002 at http://www.meded.umn.edu/admissions/index_PreMedScholars.htm. Applications undergo a prescreening, and competitive applicants are sent additional application materials and invited for interviews with Medical School faculty.

Applicants are notified of their acceptance into the Pre-Medical Scholars Program by August 15th.
