CLA

Driven to Discover _____

We are all born with a passion to search, with a fundamental need to discover. At the University of Minnesota, this curiosity is part of our collective DNA. We provide a thriving community for those with an overwhelming drive to teach and to learn, to research, and to serve. We also celebrate those whose searches have led to the discoveries that have changed the world. At the U of M, we continually inspire the next generation of innovators and empower each other during our search for knowledge. We are Driven to Discover.

Congratulations, CLA Graduate!

We come together today—family and friends, students and faculty—to celebrate a major milestone in your life. You have studied hard to achieve the goal for which we honor you—a degree from the College of Liberal Arts at the University of Minnesota. Congratulations on your achievement!

Whatever your major—economics or art, English or Japanese, psychology or American Indian Studies—you have been privileged to learn from, and with, some of the finest professors in the country. You have listened, critiqued, challenged and been challenged, made connections, found meaning and value, explored, discovered, and created—all under the guidance of world-class scholars at one of the world's great universities.

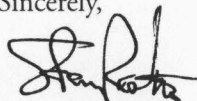

I am confident that, wherever you go from here, your CLA undergraduate education will be a foundation for a good life, however you define it. You have not simply acquired specialized skills for a job “in your field.” You have been challenged to reach beyond today to build for tomorrow; to be a leader; to think critically and creatively; to cross intellectual and cultural boundaries; to embrace ambiguity and complexity; and to think and act with vision, courage, and wisdom.

My advice to you now is to apply these values wisely and well: do what you love and do it with gusto; never lose sight of your dreams; and remember to create opportunities for others who will follow in your footsteps. Know, too, that your first job out of college is just that—your first job. If current trends hold, you may change jobs, even careers, several times in the coming years. With your CLA education, you'll be ready when change comes. Indeed, you'll be on the leading edge of change.

I do hope that your CLA education has touched you profoundly and that what you have learned about yourself and the world will give you purpose and direction in the years ahead. I also hope that your years at the University of Minnesota truly have been some of the best years of your life.

I extend my warmest wishes for your continued success throughout your life. I hope that you will carry your degree with pride and stay connected as an alumnus/alumna of the University of Minnesota College of Liberal Arts, Class of 2006.

Sincerely,

Steven J. Rosenstone

AMERICA THE BEAUTIFUL

As the soloist steps to the microphone, please stand to join her in singing "America the Beautiful."

O, beautiful, for spacious skies,
For amber waves of grain!
For purple mountains' majesty,
Above the fruited plain!
America, America! God shed his grace on thee!
And crown thy good with brotherhood
From sea to shining sea!

Dean, College of Liberal Arts
McKnight Presidential Leadership Chair

HAIL! MINNESOTA

The audience will rise and join in singing "Hail! Minnesota" in honor of our alma mater:

Minnesota, hail to thee!
Hail to thee, our college dear!
Thy light shall ever be
A beacon bright and clear,
Thy sons and daughters true
Will proclaim thee near and far;
They will guard thy fame
And adore thy name;
Thou shalt be their Northern Star.

RECESSIONAL

"The Earl of Oxford's March," William Byrd
"Now Thank We," J.S. Bach

The audience is asked to remain seated until the graduates and others in the academic procession have marched out.

A reception will be held immediately following the ceremony for graduates, family, faculty, and guests in the Northrop Lobby.

Graduates, families, faculty, and guests are invited to a reception from 3:30 to 5:00 p.m. at Eastcliff, the home of University of Minnesota President Robert Bruininks and Susan Hagstrum, 176 North Mississippi River Boulevard, St. Paul.

THE UNIVERSITY OF MINNESOTA

Driven to Discover

The University of Minnesota, ranked among the nation's top public universities, reflects the state of Minnesota's strong and enduring commitment to education. It is nearly unique among universities in the United States in its three defining characteristics:

- It is an international research university.
- It is a public land-grant institution with a strong tradition of education and public service.
- Its largest campus—the Twin Cities campus—is located in a vibrant metropolitan area with not one, but two great cities at its center: Minneapolis and St. Paul.

The University is the primary center in Minnesota (and much of the Upper Midwest) for education and research in the liberal arts and sciences, health sciences, law, education, engineering, agriculture, and natural resources. The Twin Cities campus comprises 19 colleges and offers a full range of academic and professional degrees. A comprehensive campus in Duluth offers undergraduate and graduate programs. The Morris campus offers a four-year liberal arts program. Crookston offers associate and baccalaureate degrees in technical, career-oriented programs. Through the Minnesota Extension Service, the University is present in each of Minnesota's 87 counties.

When the University was founded as a preparatory school in 1851, Minnesota had been a territory for just two years, and statehood was still seven years away. The school was built on little more than the pioneers' faith in education. In its early years, the University struggled financially; during the Civil War, it was forced to close. It reopened in 1867, thanks to the energetic leadership of Governor John S. Pillsbury, who came to be known as the "Father of the University." Mathematics Professor William Watts Folwell became the University's first president in 1869. Robert Bruininks is the University's fifteenth president.

Two students received bachelor of arts degrees at the first commencement in June 1873. Since then, the University has granted nearly 550,000 degrees.

University alumni include five Nobel Prize winners, a former chief justice of the United States Supreme Court, two former U.S. vice presidents, the heads of Fortune 500 companies, pioneers in medicine, civil rights leaders, top journalists, distinguished teachers and scholars, performing artists, and countless other men and women who have achieved distinction in every field.

Alumni and their families and friends are always welcome at the University. We invite you to visit campus regularly to enjoy the many educational, cultural, and entertainment opportunities that are open to the public—including performances by students in CLA's vibrant arts programs. We also invite you to continue your relationship with the University through the Minnesota Alumni Association and the CLA Alumni Society.

THE COLLEGE OF LIBERAL ARTS

creating the future, transforming lives

In 1869, 18 years after the founding of the University, the College of Liberal Arts (CLA)—then the College of Science, Literature and Arts (SLA)—offered its first classes at the University of Minnesota. Since then, it has become an international center for education in the arts and sciences, humanities, and social sciences.

The liberal arts span all areas of human knowledge, enterprise, and aspirations.

The college offers more than 60 majors, with study and research opportunities in fields ranging from anthropology to women's studies. Students whose interests cross disciplines may also choose to design individualized major programs.

The majority of students who enter CLA as first-year students complete their undergraduate education in CLA. Others complete their basic liberal arts coursework in the college and then transfer to other units of the University. The college offers strong pre-professional programs with close ties to the health sciences and other professional schools at the University.

There are more than 16,700 undergraduate and graduate students enrolled in CLA programs. Approximately 540 permanent faculty members—teachers and scholars of international stature—share with students their vast knowledge, their provocative insights, and the most current research in their fields.

CLA students acquire both breadth of knowledge and particular depth and proficiency in a specialized field of knowledge. Whatever their majors, students complete an education based broadly in the liberal arts. Courses necessary to meet general education requirements introduce students to modes of inquiry and subject matter across the major branches of knowledge.

This education is the very best preparation for lives and careers in a rapidly changing world—a solid grounding in ideas and knowledge across disciplines, across centuries, across cultures, and across geographic boundaries, as well as in critical analysis, communication, and research methodologies.

Equipped with this education, graduates of the College of Liberal Arts bring into the world the communication skills, critical and innovative thinking, creativity, and intellectual versatility needed for a lifetime of learning and leadership. If you want to learn more about the College of Liberal Arts, we invite you to explore our Web site: <http://www.cla.umn.edu>

KATHY SALTZMAN ROMEY

ARTHUR "RED" AND HELEN B. MOTLEY OUTSTANDING TEACHING AWARD

School of Music

Kathy Saltzman Romey is Director of Choral Activities at the University of Minnesota, where she teaches undergraduate and graduate conducting, and directs the Chamber Singers and Women's Chorus. She is also artistic director of the 200-voice Minnesota Chorale, which serves as principal chorus for the Minnesota Orchestra, and serves as choral advisor to the orchestra. She has prepared the chorale for performances with both the Minnesota Orchestra and the Saint Paul Chamber Orchestra under the baton of such conductors as Roberto Abbado, James Conlon, Christopher Hogwood, Eduardo Mata, Nicholas McGegan, Bobby McFerrin, Roger Norrington, Eiji Oue, Helmuth Rilling, Robert Shaw, Leonard Slatkin, Osmo Vänskä, Edo de Waart, and Hugh Wolff. She also coordinates BRIDGES, the nationally-acclaimed education out-reach program of the Minnesota Chorale.

Romey graduated with a B.A. in music from the University of Oregon in 1979. She continued her studies in Frankfurt, Germany, under acclaimed conductor Helmuth Rilling, receiving an artistic degree in choral conducting from the Frankfurt Musikhochschule in 1984. She returned to the United States to assist Dale Warland at Macalester College, and later served as director of choral activities at Macalester from 1985-1992. Romey has been a staff member of the Oregon

Bach Festival since 1984, and is principal chorus master of the 54-voice professional choir, assisting with many of the festival performances and recordings. She has prepared the Festival Chorus for American and world premiere performances, including the 1998 premiere and recording of Krzysztof Penderecki's Credo, which received a 2001 Grammy Award for best Choral Symphonic Recording. Additionally, she has been a chorus master to the Internationale Bachakademie Stuttgart for projects in Germany, France, Poland, and the United States. In January 2005, she prepared the Carnegie Hall Festival Chorus for the premiere of Robert Levin's new completion of Mozart's Mass in C Minor under the direction of Helmuth Rilling. That same month, she also prepared the Westminster College Symphonic Choir for performances with the New York Philharmonic under the baton of Loren Maazel.

Romey served on the planning committee of the Sixth World Symposium on Choral Music, hosted by the city of Minneapolis in August 2002. She is a strong advocate for contemporary music and writes "The Composer's Voice" column for the International Choral Bulletin. Active as a guest conductor and clinician throughout the United States, Romey was named 2002 Conductor of the Year by the Minnesota chapter of the American Choral Directors Association.

JON BUTLER

DEAN, GRADUATE SCHOOL OF ARTS AND SCIENCES, YALE UNIVERSITY

Keynote Speaker and Recipient of Honorary Doctor of Science Degree

"The U was indeed as big as promised: 60 times the size of my home town (Hector) and 6 times the size of my entire county (Renville). But belonging came from opportunity and engagement, and in gigantic quantities....

And inside the U's vastness, people counted. CLA clerks in Johnston Hall magically produced a registration card for Mulford Q. Sibley's famous political theory lecture. A librarian revealed the U's astonishing holdings of English local history journals. A history professor, Darrett Rutman, asked a still Minnesota-shy senior, "Have you ever thought of graduate school?"

—Jon Butler

Professor Butler's scholarship has focused on the role of religion in American history. His books include Awash in a Sea of Faith: Christianizing the American People (1990), which won the Beveridge Award for the Best Book in American History in 1990 from the American Historical Association and the Outler Prize from the American Society of Church History; Becoming America: The Revolution Before 1776 (2000), which was a selection of the History Book Club; and Religion in American Life: A Short History, co-authored with Grant Wacker and Randall Balmer (2003). He has published more than 40 articles and 100 book reviews and essays and currently is writing a book about religion in New York City between 1870 and 1960 tentatively titled God in Gotham: The Miracle of Religion in Modern Manhattan.

Professor Butler's wife, Roxanne Deuser Butler, also received her B.A. from the University of Minnesota (in humanities), received an M.A.T. from St. Thomas University, and is a teacher in the Hamden, Connecticut, public schools. The Butlers have two sons. Benjamin received his B.A. (in history) from the University of Minnesota and his J.D. from the University of Minnesota Law School and is an appeals lawyer with the Minnesota State Public Defender. Peter received his B.A. from Wheaton College in Massachusetts and his M.S.W. from Boston University and is a social worker in Evanston, Illinois, focusing on adolescents.

Jon Butler was raised on a farm in Hector, Minnesota, and received both his B.A. (in history) and his Ph.D. (also in history) from the University of Minnesota. Today, he is dean of the Graduate School of Arts and Sciences and Howard R. Lamar Professor of American Studies, History, and Religious Studies at Yale University.

Butler taught at California State University, Bakersfield, and the University of Illinois at Chicago before joining the Yale faculty, where he has taught for twenty-one years. At Yale he was chair of the American Studies Program and the Department of History and director of the Division of the Humanities before becoming dean of the Graduate School in 2004. He has mentored scores of graduate students, taught a popular lecture course in modern American religion, and led a freshman seminar on Revolutionary America that has received appreciative accolades from Yale's youngest students.

LIBERAL ARTS DEGREES

The College of Liberal Arts offers five bachelor's degrees—bachelor of arts (B.A.), bachelor of individualized studies (B.I.S.), bachelor of fine arts (B.F.A.), bachelor of music (B.M.), and bachelor of science (B.S.). The bachelor's degrees have many requirements in common.

DEGREE CANDIDATES

Subject to successful completion, degrees will be conferred on those students listed below and on others meeting all curriculum requirements for graduation. Honor citations are provisional and do not become final until all requirements are met for the level indicated. Degrees and degree candidates are listed alphabetically in this program.

HONORS DESIGNATIONS—Honors graduates complete college and departmental honors requirements, including completing honors projects in their majors, with a minimum G.P.A. of 3.5 for the last 60 credits of their undergraduate career. Students meeting these minimum requirements may graduate cum laude. Students graduating magna cum laude have a minimum G.P.A. of 3.66. Students graduating summa cum laude have a minimum G.P.A. of 3.75 and have completed a summa thesis that has been approved by three readers, one of whom is outside the discipline of the major.

DEGREES WITH DISTINCTION—Students graduating “with distinction” must have a cumulative grade point average of 3.75 or higher in University of Minnesota coursework at the time of graduation; students graduating “with high distinction” must have a cumulative grade point average of 3.90 or higher. At least 60 of the total number of semester credits must have been completed at the University of Minnesota. * indicates “with distinction”;  indicates “with high distinction.”

Students graduating with the Community Engagement Scholars distinction have completed at least 9 credits of service-learning course work, at least 400 hours of community service, and a series of reflective pieces. They also have completed an integrative community project that results in the creation of a sustainable project for a community organization. ♦ indicates Community Engagement Scholar.

THE DEGREE OF BACHELOR OF ARTS

This degree can be earned through majors in most CLA departments and programs. Its breadth and diversity in general education make it valuable as a base for many kinds of careers or for advanced study. CLA offers several professional majors and specializations as well as interdepartmental programs for the B.A. degree.

College of Liberal Arts

UNIVERSITY OF MINNESOTA
ALUMNI ASSOCIATION

The University of Minnesota Alumni Association (UMAA) and the College of Liberal Arts and School of Journalism and Mass Communication Alumni Societies would like to extend congratulations to new graduates of the College of Liberal Arts!

To mark this special occasion, UMAA offers new alumni complimentary one-year memberships! Here's how new alumni can make the most of their UMAA memberships:

SAVE MONEY

UMAA members are eligible for discounts on:

- Insurance (medical, auto, home, life)
- Career workshops and test preparation courses
- U of M Gopher merchandise at U of M Bookstores and Gold Country
- Internet and e-mail access
- Twin Cities & U of M arts events and U of M athletic events
- U of M Library access
- Continuing education courses

Plus, UMAA will send new members a new benefit offer each month via e-mail!

EXPAND YOUR NETWORK

Join the College of Liberal Arts or School of Journalism and Mass Communication Alumni Societies, a UMAA interest group, or a geographic chapter!

STAY CONNECTED TO YOUR COLLEGE

Get involved as a mentor; help CLA recruit new students, advocate on behalf of University and CLA legislative priorities in the U of M Legislative Network, and so much more!

KEEP IN TOUCH

Let UMAA know where you are and where you are going! If you relocate, please contact CLA's Alumni Relations Officer, Erica Giorgi, or go to the UMAA Web site to update your address.

Erica can be reached at 612-625-8837 or giorg003@umn.edu.

ACADEMIC COSTUME

Academic gowns date back to the 14th century, when they served two functions of nearly equal importance: to indicate the academic rank of the wearer and to keep the scholar warm in the drafty stone halls of academia.

The markings, cut, and color of modern-day academic-costume—cap, gown, and sometimes hood—indicate the academic degree, the field of study, and the institution that granted the degree.

Bachelor's degree gowns are black and untrimmed. A tassel hanging from the mortar board worn on the head is color-coded by college at the University of Minnesota. The College of Liberal Arts tassel is white. Honors graduates wear a medallion adorned with a maroon and gold ribbon.

Master's degree gowns, black and untrimmed, have pointed sleeves. Doctoral gowns in the United States traditionally have been black with velvet front facings and crossbars on the sleeves, but in recent years a number of universities have adopted gowns of distinctive school colors.

A new University of Minnesota Ph.D. gown and matching tam made their appearance in 1988 to celebrate the centenary of the first Minnesota doctor of philosophy degree. The new Minnesota gown is maroon-trimmed with black velvet chevrons and gold metallic braid. The traditional gown may still be worn.

The Minnesota hood, which may be worn by anyone with a doctoral degree from the University of Minnesota, is black with maroon chevron on gold. Each institution has its own pattern of colors on the hood, worn around the neck and down the back of the gown. The length and shape of the hood identify the most advanced degree the wearer has earned, and the velvet edging shows the field: blue for doctor of philosophy, light blue for doctor of education, and pink for doctor of musical arts.

At commencement ceremonies those who already have the doctoral degree wear hoods. Degree candidates wear the gowns appropriate for the degrees they are about to receive, and new doctorates are hooded on stage.

THE MACE

The University of Minnesota mace was carried for the first time in 1961 by Regents' Professor of Physics Alfred O.C. Nier at the inauguration of President O. Meredith Wilson. Art professor Philip Morton designed the mace: a crystal sphere four inches in diameter surmounted by the North Star, symbol of the state of Minnesota, on a solid aluminum handle set with the University regents' seal.

THE NORTHROP ORGAN

Comprising 108 ranks of pipes, the Northrop Memorial Auditorium organ is not only one of the largest organs in the Upper Midwest but also one of the finest examples in the United States of a late-Romantic concert-hall organ. Built in 1932, the organ is located in the ceiling of the auditorium, above the stage and behind the proscenium, and is played from a console on an elevator platform in the orchestra pit. Unlike many large organs from its era, the Northrop organ is completely unaltered and entirely in its original condition. Persons interested in events that feature the Northrop organ may contact The Friends of the Northrop Organ, c/o the School of Music, University of Minnesota, 2106 Fourth Street South, Minneapolis, MN 55455.

The University of Minnesota is committed to the policy that all persons shall have equal access to its programs, facilities, and employment without regard to race, color, creed, religion, national origin, sex, age, marital status, disability, public assistance status, veteran status, or sexual orientation.

Smoking is not permitted in any University building. We appreciate your cooperation with this policy.
