Minnesota, hail to thee!	Like the stream that bends to sea,
Hail to thee, our college dear!	Like the pine that seeks the blue,
Thy light shall ever be	Minnesota, still for thee
A beacon bright and clear,	Thy sons and daughters are strong and
Thy sons and daughters true	true;
Will proclaim thee near and far;	From thy woods and waters fair,
They will guard thy fame	From they prairies waving far,
And adore thy name'	At thy call they throng
Thou shalt be their Northern Star.	With their shout and song
	Hailing thee their Northern Star.

Recessional The audience is requested to remain seated until those in the academic procession have marched out.

The University of Minnesota

The University of Minnesota, ranked among the nation's top public universities, reflects the commitment to education of a state that is only 20th in population. It is almost alone among universities in the United States in its combination of three characteristics; an international research university, a land-grant institution with a strong tradition of education and public service, and a metropolitan academic community.

The Twin Cities campus, the University's largest campus, is made up of 20 colleges and offers the full range of academic and professional degrees. A comprehensive campus in Duluth offers undergraduate and graduate programs. The Morris campus offers a four-year liberal arts program. Crookston offers associate and baccalaureate degrees in technical, career-oriented programs. Through the Minnesota Extension Service, the University is present in each of Minnesota's 87 counties.

The University is the primary center in Minnesota (and parts of the surrounding region) for instruction and research in the health sciences, law, engineering, agriculture, and forestry; it offers all of the graduate-level programs in these fields.

When the University was founded as a preparatory school in 1851, Minnesota had been a territory for just two years, and statehood was still seven years away. The school was built on not much more than the pioneers' faith in education. The University struggled financially in its early years and was forced to close during the Civil War. It reopened in 1867.

Two students received bachelor of arts degrees at the first commencement in June 1873. Since then, the University has granted a total of 483,487 degrees. Students earn undergraduate and graduate degrees in more than 250 fields of study. During the 1993-1994 academic year, the University of Minnesota conferred a total of 10,630 degrees on all its campuses.

The Duluth campus joined the University in 1947, the Morris campus opened in 1960, and the Crookston campus in 1966. Enrollment in fall 1994 was 47,647 on all four campuses. Enrollment was 36,699 on the Twin Cities campus, 7,467 at Duluth, 1,924 at Morris, and 1,557 at Crookston.

University alumni include four Nobel Prize winners, a former chief justice of the United States, two former vice presidents, the heads of Fortune 500 companies, pioneers in medicine, civil rights leaders, top journalists, and men and women who have achieved distinction in every field.

Alumni and their families and friends are always welcome at the University. Alumni are invited to continue their relationship with the University through the Minnesota Alumni Association and its college groups.

The College of Liberal Arts

At the heart of every great university is a college encompassing the basic disciplines of knowledge. That college at the University of Minnesota is the College of Liberal Arts (CLA). The college was formally established in 1868, 17 years after the founding of the University.

The traditional branches of knowledge are housed here—the social sciences, the humanities and fine arts, and the natural sciences. In addition, the college offers professional programs with close ties to these fields. Study and research opportunities are available in more than 60 major areas, from the usual, such as English, economics, history, to the less usual, such as women's studies, theoretical statistics, and speech and hearing science. They include disciplines as old as philosophy and as new as computer science. A student may also choose to design an individualized major program.

About 13,000 undergraduate students and about 2,000 graduate students were enrolled in CLA programs in fall 1994. The college is staffed by nearly 479 permanent faculty members who can share the most current research in their fields.

Many students complete their education in CLA. Others take their basic liberal arts coursework in the college and then transfer to another unit of the University such as the Carlson School of Management or one of the health science schools.

The degree requirements established by the college are designed to provide an education solidly based in the liberal arts. Courses necessary to meet liberal education requirements introduce students to modes of inquiry and subject matter characteristics of the major branches of knowledge.

A liberal education means not only a breadth of knowledge, but depth and proficiency in a single field of knowledge. Students are required to select a major project, usually a written paper.

The College of Liberal Arts' faculty believes a liberal arts education gives students the analytical skills and flexibility needed for shaping their lives and for adapting to new careers.

Liberal Arts Degrees

The College of Liberal Arts offers five bachelor's degrees--bachelor of arts (B.A.), bachelor of fine arts (B.F.A.), bachelor of science (B.S.), bachelor of individualized studies (B.I.S.), and bachelor of music (B.M.). The bachelor's degrees have many requirements in common.

Students making satisfactory academic progress are generally free to select the major and minor of their choice. Some programs, however, limit the number of majors admitted (the B.F.A., the B.M., computer science, the B.S. in economics, English, international relations, journalism, music, political science, speech communications, and biology in CLA, as well as some health science programs and some programs in other colleges).

Degree Candidates

Subject to successful completion, degrees will be conferred on those students listed below and on others meeting all curriculum requirements for graduation. Honor citations are provisional and do not become final until all requirements are met for the level indicated. Degrees are listed alphabetically with this program.

Associate in Liberal Arts

The Associate of Liberal Arts is a two-year degree, now discontinued, that is comprised of a portion of the general education requirements for the baccalaureate degree. This degree is conferred only upon special permission of the college.

Susan Gail Jorgenson
Gabriel Mark Mazur

Bachelor of Arts

This degree can be earned through majors in most CLA departments and programs. Its breadth and diversity in general education make it valuable as a base for many kinds of careers or for advanced study. CLA offers several professional majors and specializations as well as interdepartmental programs for the B.A. degree.
