School of Nursing

Commencement 1999

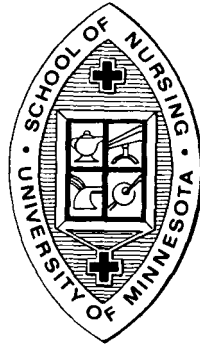

*"Destiny is no matter of chance.
It is a matter of choice.
It is not a thing to be waited for,
it is a thing to achieve".*

—William Jennings Bryan

Ted Mann Concert Hall

UNIVERSITY OF MINNESOTA

Hail Minnesota

Minnesota hail to thee! Hail to thee our college dear!
Thy light shall ever be a beacon bright and clear.
Thy sons and daughters true will proclaim thee near and far.
They will guard thy fame and adore they name;
Thou shalt be their Northern Star.

SIGNIFICANCE OF THE SCHOOL OF NURSING SYMBOL

The symbol of the University of Minnesota
School of Nursing has been in use since September 1913.

The antique lamp represents the metaphysical sciences;
the telescope, the physical sciences; the plow, the industrial arts, and
the artist's palette represents the fine arts.
These are the four dimensions of a baccalaureate education.

Above and below are the crosses of St. George,
which have stood for unselfish service for centuries.
We are proud of this heritage.

Each graduate will receive a gold-plated pin displaying the School of Nursing symbol.

MARIE MANTHEY, HONORARY PH.D. RECIPIENT

Marie Manthey is president of Creative HealthCare Management, a consultation company specializing in Professional Practice, Management Training, Staff Empowerment and Work Re-design. Ms. Manthey's interest in the delivery of hospital service began in the sixties, when she developed the concept of Primary Nursing. Since that time she has designed and implemented Primary Nursing programs for numerous hospitals. She has also conducted seminars on a variety of management and leadership topics for over one million nurses. Prior to consulting, Ms. Manthey held positions in every level of nursing, from staff nurse to Vice-President for Patient Services.

Among her academic positions, she was an Associate Professor at the University of Connecticut and Associate Clinical Professor at Yale University School of Nursing. Ms. Manthey also served as Assistant Professor in the University of Minnesota School of Public Health and is currently adjunct faculty at the University of Minnesota, School of Nursing. In 1994 Ms. Manthey was elected to the Royal College of Nursing in the United Kingdom. At that time she was one of only four American nurses to be so honored. In May of 1998 she was selected for Fellowship in the American Academy of Nursing. Ms. Manthey has written dozens of articles on timely nursing topics, plus the book, The Practice of Primary Nursing. Ms. Manthey received her Nursing Diploma from St. Elizabeth's Hospital in Chicago, and her bachelor of science and master's in Nursing Administration from the University of Minnesota.

SYMBOL KEY

H — School of Nursing Undergraduate Honors Program

STTI — Sigma Theta Tau International

STTI is an honor society that recognizes superior achievement and leadership qualities. Members are distinguished with a lavender and white cord.

ACADEMIC DRESS

The academic costume worn today originated in the Middle Ages, when gowns and hoods kept scholars and clerics warm. The distinctive gown served to set the student apart from his fellow citizens, giving birth to the expression — “town and gown.”

Until after the Civil War, students at most American universities wore caps and gowns daily. They varied in design until they were standardized by the American Intercollegiate Commission in 1894. At that time it was decided that all robes should be black; bachelor's gowns were made of worsted material with pointed sleeves; masters' gowns of silk with long, closed sleeves; doctors' gowns of silk with longer sleeves, and faced with black velvet from hem to neck and back. They also carry three velvet bands around each sleeve above the elbow.

Hoods are made of the same materials as the gowns, the length varying with the degree. The lining of the hood identifies the university by its colors. The border of the hood indicates the academic discipline in which the degree is earned.

THE MACE

The University of Minnesota mace was carried for the first time in 1961 by Regents' Professor of Physics Alfred O.C. Nier at the inauguration of President O. Meredith Wilson.
It is an honor to carry the mace.

Art professor Philip Morton designed the mace: a crystal sphere four inches in diameter surmounted by the North Star, symbol of the state of Minnesota, on a solid aluminum handle set with the University regents' seal.

"I know you will become a part of Minnesota's tradition of helping to shape the future of health care".

—Dean Sandra Edwardson
