UNIVERSITY OF MINNESOTA

Medical School 1997 Commencement

Friday, June 6, 1997
Northrop Memorial Auditorium

The Class of 1947

The class of 1947, University of Minnesota Medical School, is observing the 50th anniversary of its graduation this week. These senior alumni of the Medical School have returned to Minnesota for this joyous occasion and are assembled with us today as honored guests.

The class of 1947 extends its congratulations to the class of 1997, and welcomes these new physicians into the medical alumni family of the University of Minnesota with its proud traditions and record of high achievement.

First, let me congratulate all of you, members of the University of Minnesota Medical School Class of 1997 and also those who have supported and provided encouragement throughout your student days. The four years have been full of challenges and hard work. You have given a great deal and have learned a lot. But, today is the day we say to you: You are medical doctors, caregivers and healers. The Medical School, as in the past century, continues its tradition.

Today, you will all make a pledge, the "Oath for New Physicians." The age-old oath, known as the "Hippocratic Oath," began almost 2,400 years ago. In contemporary terms, it is an oath to care, to help, and to do no harm. As the practice of medicine becomes more complex, our focus will remain clear that we are concerned with preventing disease and caring for sick people. You have become physicians during a period of remarkable change in the midst of two revolutions: the first in science and technology which provides new avenues for the practice of medicine and the second in the managed financing of medical care which teaches us how to conserve limited resources in the face of national economic change. The practice of medicine is not simply applying the newest scientific discoveries to the care of the sick in a cost effective manner. Its core is total concern, hope, trust, compassion and good communication, traits which have characterized the art of medicine throughout the centuries.

The ceremony of donning the hoods is an academic tradition. The hood has the colors that forever represent your school. In our case it is maroon and gold, the colors of the University of Minnesota. Bordering the hood is green velvet that is universally recognized as the color of the medical profession. You have earned the hood with its specific color combination. You can wear the gown and this specific hood on any academic occasion throughout your life. This color combination gives you recognition worldwide as a doctor of medicine from the University of Minnesota.

We also honor the former graduates of our Medical School. Traditionally, we recognize at each ceremony, physicians who were graduated a half a century ago. This tradition has a vitalizing effect on alumni and the new generation of physicians: we have a tradition, we have a purpose, and we are physicians and healers together. As we look to the future, the present faculty and administration serve as a link between the past and the present. We are proud to have that privilege.

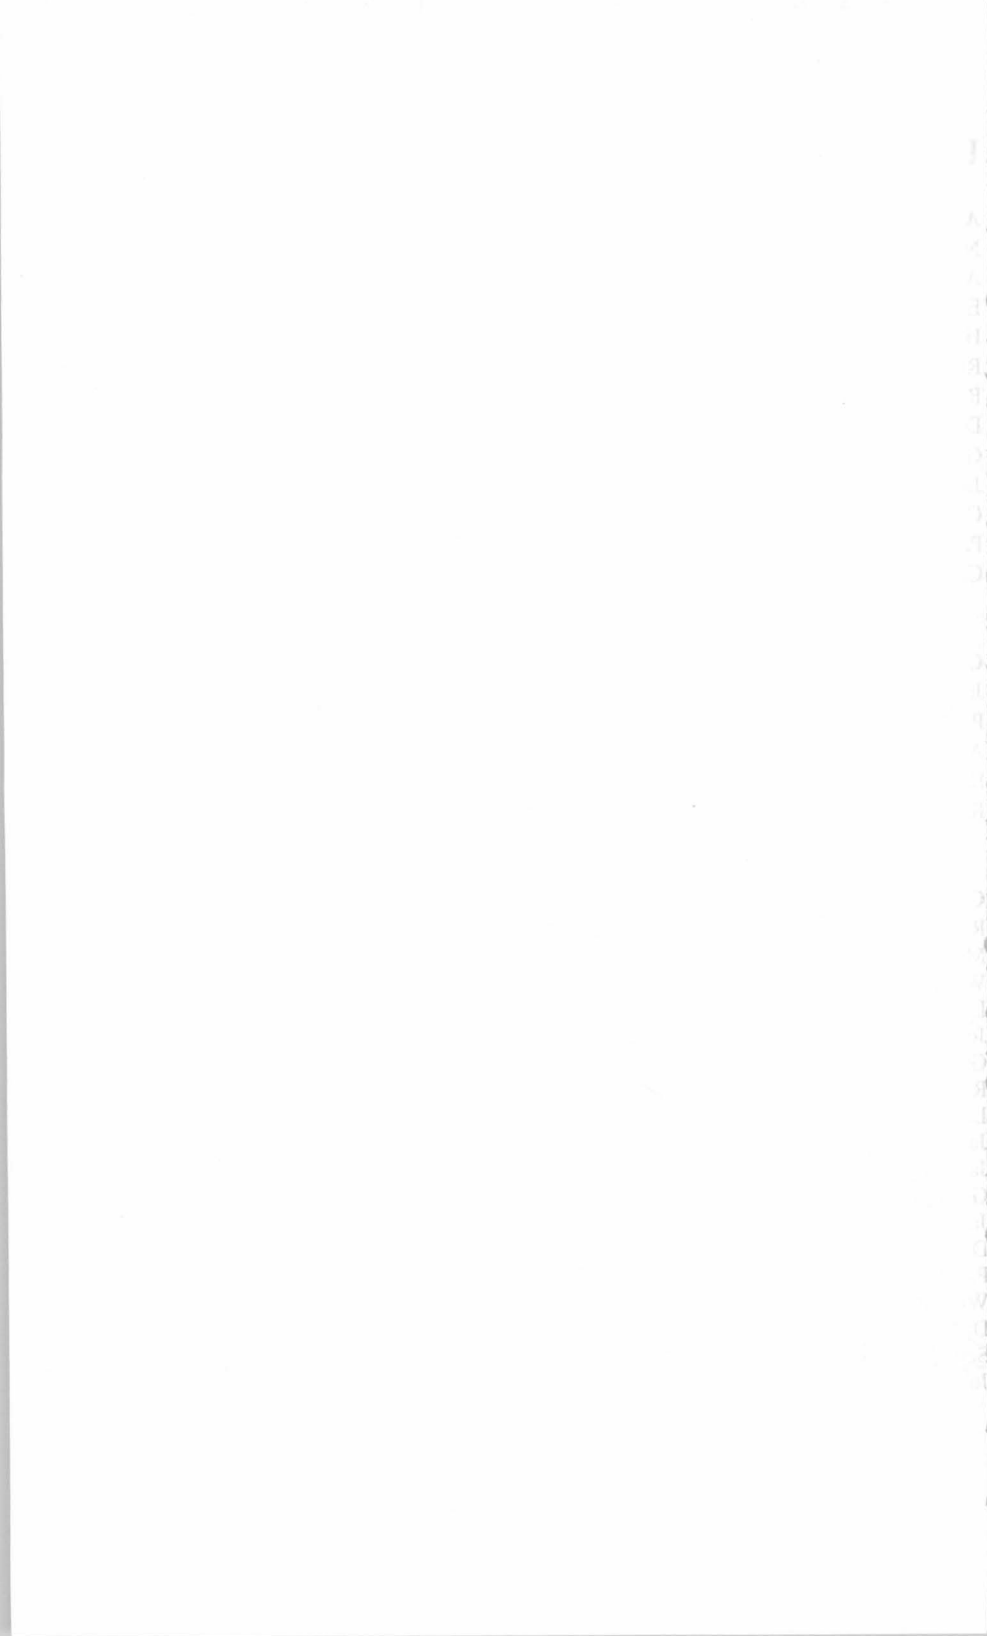

Finally, on a personal note. My tenure as your Dean has just begun. The past years have witnessed turmoil and significant changes in the Medical School. In my new role as your Dean and the leader of your faculty, I know that there is much to be done. I am very optimistic about our future.

Thank you and my best wishes.

Sincerely,

Alfred F. Michael, M.D.

OATH FOR NEW PHYSICIANS

In the tradition of Hippocrates and the men and women through the ages who have dedicated their lives to the art and science of medicine I make the following pledge:

The respect and dignity of patients and the confidential nature of our relationship are foremost in my service to them. I will value their lives as I value my own.

I acknowledge my limitations and need for continued education. I will seek the knowledge and inspiration of my colleagues, friends, and patients.

My work shall be dedicated to improving the quality of life for those who seek my assistance. I will honor the wishes and needs of the patient, recognizing that death is not always an enemy. I will do no harm.

I will strive always to improve the practice of medicine, to provide a level of care that is ethical, moral, and just. I expect the same standards from my colleagues and will not tolerate their indifference, greed, or unethical behavior.

My profession is an honored one. I will not violate the trust society has placed in me by allowing religion, race, or creed to affect my judgment or ability to take care of patients. I will be humble.

I will consider the tools of my profession to be knowledge, compassion, and patience. I will share these tools freely with my colleagues and patients alike.

I shall do my utmost to provide the vulnerable members of society the care and attention they need to assure their health, dignity, and protection. I see all life as sacred.

In the presence of my teachers, my family, and my friends I make these promises solemnly and freely. With this oath I willingly assume the rewards and responsibilities of a physician.
