WHEELLOCK WHITNEY

Wheelock Whitney is a St. Cloud native who has followed a highly successful business career with a distinguished commitment to public service. After completing his B.S. degree in Applied Economics at Yale University in 1950, he began his business career by working in several small businesses. In 1956, he joined J.M. Dain & Company, a local investment firm, as a salesman. By 1958, he became vice president of the firm and was elected chairman of the board and chief executive officer in 1963. In 1971, Mr. Whitney was president of the Investment Bankers Association of America, the largest trade association in the securities industry. He was also named Investment Banker of the Year in 1971 by Finance magazine. Mr. Whitney now serves on the boards of a number of companies, including all of the IDS Mutual Funds.

Mr. Whitney left Dain, Kalman & Quail in 1972 to devote his energies to human services, particularly in the areas of chemical dependency and health promotion. He and his wife, Irene, founded the Johnson Institute, a non-profit organization in the field of alcoholism and drug addiction. In 1975 he was elected to the Board of Directors of the National Council on Alcoholism and was elected its chairman in 1984. He founded the Minnesota Council on Health in 1977 and was appointed by Governor Quie as the first chairman of the Minnesota Council on Health Promotion and Wellness in 1981. Due to his wide ranging public service, the United Way awarded him the Distinguished Community Service Award in 1978. In 1976, he was awarded the honorary degree of Doctor of Human Letters by Hamline University of St. Paul. Mr. Whitney has taught a course in the School of Management since 1973.
