JAMES D. WATKINS

James D. Watkins was born in 1947. He grew up in Austin, Minnesota. He received a Bachelors Degree from the University of Minnesota in 1969. He is an alumnus of the College of Liberal Arts and the College of Business Administration (now the Carlson School of Management).

From 1971 to 1978, Mr. Watkins developed microwave food products and programs for The Pillsbury Company. In September of 1978, he founded Golden Valley Microwave Foods, a company that develops, produces and markets food products designed specifically for preparation in microwave ovens. Mr. Watkins has served as Golden Valley's chief executive officer since its inception. Since 1978 he has been a director of the company and since 1983 he has served as the company's chief financial officer. In 1986, Golden Valley Microwave Foods went public with one of the country's top money making initial public offerings of the year.

Mr. Watkins, his wife Elizabeth and their two sons live in suburban Minneapolis.

DISTINCTION AND HIGH DISTINCTION HONORS

Distinction and high distinction honors are awarded on the basis of scholarship. "High Distinction" denotes those graduating students who scholastically rank in the upper 3% of their graduating class while "Distinction" denotes those who rank in the upper 4% to 10% of their graduating class. Honors are final only after all degree work has been completed.
