BIBLIOGRAPHY OF UNITED STATES DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE YEARBOOK 1930

Copyrighted by V. E. Nylin

The 1930 Yearbook of Agriculture continues the plan of organization of the Yearbooks 1926, 1927, and 1928 in presenting what is new in Agriculture.

Because of the large number of articles presented in the Yearbook for 1930 the following topical bibliography is presented. This bibliography is in the same form as the bibliographies found in the following issues of the Visitor—December 1926, Yearbooks 1901-1925; February 1928, Yearbook 1926; September 1928, Yearbook 1927; September 1929, Yearbook 1928.

The following bibliography for the 1930 yearbook furnishes a supplement to the above and the four should be kept together to form the complete bibliography for twenty-nine years.

ANIMAL HUSBANDRY

General

- Feeds for Livestock May Sometimes Require Special Preparation. A. T. Semple. p. 251.
Hides and Skins Have Potential Value Often Lost by Mishandling. R. W. Frey. p. 316.
Livestock Production Estimating by States Is Complicated Task. C. L. Harlan. p. 361.
Livestock Profits Grow Following Adoption of County Agents' Counsel. H. W. Gilbertson. p. 363.
Rough-Forage Grazing Should Leave Fifth or More of Plant Volume. Ernest Winkler. p. 444.
Rough Stocking Must Be Conservative to Allow for Poor Years. Matt J. Culley. p. 445.
Ranges Are Made Usable by Hauling Water for Livestock. Douglas C. Ingram. p. 446.
Timber and Cattle Can Be Raised Together on Southern Cut-over Land. L. J. Pessin. p. 512.

Beef Cattle

- Livestock Grades and Meat Grades Are Now Closely Correlated. C. E. Gibbons and L. B. Burk. p. 357.
Meat Investigations Suggest Tenderness May Be Hereditary. E. W. Sheets. p. 378.

Dairying

- Cheese Factories in Southern States Are Operating Successfully. H. L. Wilson. p. 157.
Cream Grading Enables Creameries to Improve Quality of Their Butter. William White. p. 210.
Dairy and Beef Cows' Udders Differ; Skeleton and Other Organs Similar. W. W. Swett. p. 211.
Dairy Bulls Should Be Kept Alive Until Their Value Is Known. J. C. McDowell. p. 216.
Dairy Cows When Dry Can Be Wintered on Legume Silage Alone. J. R. Dawson. p. 220.

Horses

- Horses and Mules Now Raised Are Much Fewer Than Replacement Needs. S. R. Speelman. p. 328.

Poultry

- Poultry Feeds Should Be Chosen for Protein Minerals and Vitamins. Harry W. Titus. p. 423.
Poultry Inbreeding, if Practiced too Closely, Is Found to Be Harmful. Morley A. Jull. p. 425.

- Poultry Production Is Increased Materially by Battery Brooding. A. R. Lee. p. 427.
Turkey Grading Proves to Be Popular at Terminal Markets. Thomas W. Heitz. p. 525.

Rabbits

- Rabbit Raising for Food and Fur Studied at Experiment Station. Frank G. Ashbrook. p. 439.

Sheep and Goats

- Lambs Born Twins Are More Profitable than Singles, Figures Show. C. G. Potts. p. 344.
Wool of Long Staple Is Most Profitable in Tests with Rambouillet Sheep. D. A. Spencer. p. 564.

Swine

- Hog Belt's Shift Northwestward Has Economic Reasons. W. J. Spillman. p. 318.
Hog-Feeding Tests Show that Barrows Gain More than Sows. E. Z. Russell. p. 322.
Hog Marketing Direct from Country to Packer Is Rapidly Increasing. C. A. Burmeister. p. 323.
Pork Firmness Is Modified by Feed and Other Factors. O. G. Hankins. p. 415.

Veterinary

- Cattle Malady Called Anaplasmosis Results from a Blood Parasite. L. T. Giltner. p. 156.
Hemorrhagic Septicemia Is a Widely Distributed Disease of Livestock. William S. Gochenour. p. 314.
Hog Cholera Control Is Aided by Knowledge of Other Swine Diseases. T. P. White. p. 319.
Labels on Veterinary Drug Preparations Should Be Studied. H. E. Moskey. p. 342.
Livestock Are Frequently Poisoned by Eating Paint and Other Forms of Lead. James F. Couch. p. 353.
Livestock Diseases Are Studied by Experiment Station at Bethesda, Md. W. E. Cotton and J. M. Buck. p. 354.
Livestock Malady Known as Infectious Abortion Is Intensively Studied. J. R. Mohler. p. 359.
Livestock Tuberculosis Eradication Aided by Post-mortem Findings. A. E. Wight. p. 367.
Screw-worm Losses of Livestock Industry Can Be Reduced. F. C. Bishopp. p. 469.
Warts of Cattle Are Infectious and Cause Damage to the Hides. Gilbert T. Creech. p. 526.

THE VISITOR

Published monthly by the Division of Agricultural Education, University of Minnesota, University Farm, St. Paul, Minn.

Entered as second class matter at the post-office at St. Paul, Minn., under the act of August 24, 1912.

Acceptance for mailing at special rate of postage provided for in section 1103, Act of October 3, 1917, authorized August 2, 1918.

Biology

Big Game Increase in Southwest Forests Calls for Control Measures. D. A. Shoemaker. p. 134.

Rodent Control Aided by Mixing Bait at Co-operative Stations. W. E. Crouch. p. 459.

Breeding Animals and Plants

Cotton Breeding Today Works with Main Types Known in Remote Past. T. H. Kearney. p. 182.

Dairy Cattle Breeding in Pure Lines Offers Great Possibilities. M. H. Fohrman. p. 218.

Chemistry

Food and Drugs Imported Are Tested at Ports for Purity and True Labeling. W. R. M. Wharton. p. 266.

Boron in Irrigation Water May Hurt Citrus and Walnut Orchards. Carl S. Scofield. p. 141.

Gases' Response to High Pressure and Temperature Shown. Edward P. Bartlett. p. 291.

Light-wave Lengths Yield Information Important to Farmer. F. S. Brackett and O. R. Wulf. p. 352.

CROPS

General

Chlorophyll, Cause of Greenness in Plants, Is Influenced by Nitrogen. Frank Schertz. p. 162.

Madagascar Expedition Finds Rubber Plants Possibly Suited to U. S. Charles F. Swingle. p. 370.

Seed Testing to Show Value for Planting Is Increasingly Necessary. E. H. Toole. p. 472.

Corn

Broomcorn Industry Affected by Changing Technic and Demand. G. B. Alguire. p. 149.

Cotton

Cotton Breeding Today Works with Main Types Known in Remote Past. T. H. Kearney. p. 182.

Cotton-gin Fires Frequent; Chief Cause Is Static Electricity. Hylton R. Brown and Harry E. Roethe. p. 192.

Cotton Grade and Staple Estimates Show Quality Trend. W. B. Lanham. p. 195.

Cotton of Long Staple Could Be Produced in Much Greater Quantity. O. F. Cook. p. 202.

Gin Efficiency an Important Factor in Cotton Quality. Robert W. Webb. p. 294.

Flax

Harvesting Flax with Combine Succeeds in Northern Great Plains. Arthur C. Dillman. p. 305.

Forages

Forage-Crop Seed Imports Vary Much from Year to Year; Sources World-Wide. E. Brown. p. 270.

Hay Acreage Constant Though Work Animals Have Become Fewer. R. S. Washburn. p. 310.

Pastures Have a Wide Variation in Feeding Value for Livestock. Paul E. Howe. p. 407.

Legumes

Hairy Vetch Turned Under Greatly Increases South's Cotton and Corn Yields. C. L. Chambers. p. 302.

Red-Clover Problems Turn on Production of Good Domestic Seed. A. J. Pieters. p. 449.

Soybean Industry Is Rapidly Developing in United States. J. E. Barr. p. 487.

Soybeans Are Valuable for Silage When Grown with Other Feed Crops. W. R. Dodson. p. 489.

Sweet Clover Growing by New Methods Is Giving Good Results. L. W. Kephart. p. 501.
