GOPHERS OPEN BIG TEN CAGE SEASON ON THE ROAD

Minnesota tips off the 1982 Big Ten Conference basketball season in challenging fashion this week with road assignments at Ohio State on Thursday and at Michigan State on Saturday.

Coach Jim Dutcher's Golden Gophers will go into the Buckeye shootout with an overall season record of 8-1 and a national "Top Ten" ranking after downing California State Long Beach 75-67 at Williams Arena last weekend.

Prior to that, the Golden Gophers captured championship honors in the Pillsbury Classic holiday basketball tournament for the eighth consecutive year by ripping the United State Military Academy 79-37 and the University of Arizona 91-62.

"We functioned well offensively, especially against Arizona," Dutcher said after piloting Minnesota to its 16th consecutive Pillsbury victory. "We moved the ball around better than at any time this season. Let's hope we continue that trend now that we move into the Big Ten race."

The Buckeyes tuned up for the Big Ten opener by smashing Butler 66-48 last Saturday and also hosted Syracuse on Monday. They came into the week with an overall record of 8-3 against non-conference opposition.

Michigan State, meanwhile, Minnesota's opponent on Saturday, has been tabbed as a team with an abundance of young, inexperienced talent that is "going to be" an outstanding aggregation. The Gophers hope that it's 5-4 record would indicate that the Spartans have not yet "put it all together."

Minnesota's finale non-conference test against the 49er's from Long Beach found the Gophers unable to put their visitors away until late in the contest. Throughout the game, Minnesota flirted with a blowout and several times had the margin up to 12. But the visitors gamely hung on and kept the outcome in doubt until the final moments.

"We didn't play poorly," Coach Dutcher maintained after his contingent had notched its eighth triumph of the current campaign, "but we certainly have played better. It's obvious that we aren't going to blow everyone off the floor."

And as pleased as Dutcher and his cagers were with their 3-1 mark and top-ten ranking, they knew that the preliminaries were over. "We've been waiting since October 15th for Thursday," Dutcher reminded his cagers after the Long Beach contest. "Now let's be ready for it."

GOPHER TALES--Senior guard Mark Hall, a three-year starter for Minnesota who was not able to compete during the fall term, was granted a temporary injunction last Saturday by U. S. District Judge Miles Lord making the Springfield, MASS cager eligible for the Big Ten season. "Hall will make the road trip with us," Dutcher said. "How soon he will be ready to play remains to be seen. Right now I would consider him to be our third guard."

Randy Breuer, 7-3 junior center who scored a game high 25 against Long Beach, continues to lead the Gophers with 131 points (an average of 20 points per game) and 71 rebounds. He's also setting the pace with 31 blocked shots.

Trent Tucker, Golden Gopher co-captain, chipped in with 22 against Long Beach. On the year he has 122 points and a 13.5 per-game average. He leads the club with 12 steals and is 23 of 24 from the free throw line.

A year ago Minnesota and Ohio State split honors. The Buckeyes won 76-63 at Williams Arena before the Gophers pulled out an 82-76 decision at St. John's Arena in Columbus. Ohio State leads in the series 49-36.

Last season Michigan State dropped a pair to the Gophers. Minnesota won at East Lansing 36-77 and then held off a stubborn Spartan contingent 92-89 in two overtimes at Williams Arena. The series shows Minnesota leading 34-25.

Tip-off for Thursday's encounter at Ohio State is scheduled for 8:10 p.m. (EST) while Saturday's game at East Lansing is set for 7:35 p.m. (EST). Both games will be carried by WCCO Radio and by KMSP-TV. The Spartan clash also will be telecast by Metrosports cable systems.

Clark Kellogg, Ohio State's premier 6-7 junior forward, was tabbed as the "Big Ten Player of the Year" in a pre-season poll of sportswriters covering conference basketball. He averaged 17.3 points a game as a sophomore.

Although standout Jay Vincent is gone from Michigan State's potent front line of a year ago, the Spartans own a standout guard combination in veteran Kevin Smith and rookie Sam Vincent.

One year ago, Breuer paced Minnesota to its win at Ohio State with 26 points. In the win at Michigan State, Mark Hall was the top scorer with 21. --JM--

ICERS TAKE WEEK OFF

Minneapolis, MN---Minnesota's hockey Gophers, after an international tour and two wins at home vs. Princeton, take a week off from the hockey wars due to a quirk in the scheduling. Next action finds UM playing at Minnesota-Duluth Jan. 15-16.

The Gophers traveled to Davos, Switzerland, during the holiday season to compete in the Spengler Cup Tournament featuring all-star squads from West Germany, Russia, Czechoslovakia and Switzerland. But the 0-4 Gopher tourney record does not tell the entire story.

"Possibly the biggest benefit of all was seeing the team become closer from living together for nine days," coach Brad Buetow says. "We faced far superior competition from what we normally see. I would have to say the Russian Spartak squad, the only team to blow us out (7-1), would have to be considered near NHL ability.

"But the total trip was an unqualified success. Our players and staff members were warmly received by the Swiss and all of us made many new friends. In fact, the local fans totally adopted the Gophers and cheered us hard in every game. With the side trips into the mountains and people to people contact, everything about the trip was fantastic. I just hope we get to go back again very soon."

Minnesota returned to friendly Williams Arena last weekend and won two games from Princeton, 7-1 and 5-4. Getting back on the winning track was naturally the main thing as UM had gone six games without a victory.

But possibly the next largest factor for Buetow and his staff was the chance to watch several players up from the varsity reserve squad in action. In all Buetow used 12 new men in the two games against Princeton.

"I was fairly impressed with the overall performance of these new men," the coach said Monday. "However, I honestly believe right now that only one, freshman defenseman Mike Guentzel, could be with us when we next play in Duluth.

"But at the same time we now are pretty certain that if we have to call on our reserves to fill in, we know some men who can step in and do the job. It also gives us more of a handle on the future for these are the men who replace those that leave us when this season is over."

Speaking about having the week off, Buetow said, "In a way I kind of wish we were playing this weekend if for nothing more than maintaining continuity. But at the same time I believe our men are pretty tired from the traveling and all, so I guess it's for the best. We will get in a lot of long, hard practice sessions so as to be ready to start on the final leg of league play.

"We have a a tough schedule ahead and do not return home until the last weekend of this month. We hope to maintain our position near the WCHA leaders, but to do that we'll have to play a lot better than we did in December."

There is hope that one outstanding member of this year's freshman class, left wing Jim Malwitz, can return to duty by the end of January. Malwitz suffered a serious knee injury in his fifth game of the season and has been out since November 7. He is now skating, but it will take a few more weeks before he can return to full-time duty.

Physically the Gopher squad is in good shape, except for Malwitz.

Junior wing Butsy Erickson continued his recent scoring binge against Princeton picking up five goals on the weekend, three in Saturday's 7-1 victory. Erickson has now replaced season-long leader Scott Bjugstad atop the Gopher scoring race. Erickson has 15 goals, one less than Bjugstad, but has added 11 assists for 26 points in 17 games. Bjugstad has played in all 18 games and has 23 points.

Freshman center Rick Erdall, who missed the trip to Switzerland while playing for USA in the recent Junior World Games, is third with 22 points. He scored one goal vs. Princeton. Senior captain Kevin Hartzell, playing with a tender elbow, picked up six points last weekend on a goal and five assists. Erickson also had six points gaining one assist vs. the Tigers.

Freshman goalie John Colombo impressed many with a sparkling relief performance vs. Princeton in Saturday's game. He replaced starter Jim Jetland with five minutes gone in the second period and UM leading 4-0. Colombo made 28 saves in his 35 minutes of action and received several ovations from the crowd.

Gopher Sportsline provides interviews with players and coaches at (612) 373-4211. Tapes are updated as they are listed on the schedule.

WRESTLERS MEET BLOOMSBURG ON WEDNESDAY

The University of Minnesota wrestling team faces Bloomsburg State College of Bloomsburg, Pennsylvania Wednesday night at Lakeville High School. The dual competition begins at 7:30 p.m.

Led by four NCAA qualifiers, the Defending Eastern Wrestling League champion Huskies should provide Wally Johnson's Gophers with a strong test of their dual strength.

Following the Bloomsburg meet the Gophers travel to the Air Force Academy for a dual on Friday and a tournament on Saturday.

Last Tuesday and Wednesday at Northwestern's tough Midlands Tournament the team finished sixth with 40.5 points. Iowa State topped the field with 91.5 points, while Iowa was third with 57. The Hawkeyes were the only Big Ten team that finished ahead of Minnesota.

Following the trip to Air Force, Minnesota entertains Northern Iowa at Osseo Junior High School on January 15.

GOPHERS TO HOST IOWA AND MICHIGAN

Minnesota returns to the friendly confines of Williams Arena this week for what Coach Jim Dutcher hopes will be an even more rewarding two games series in the already hectic Big Ten Conference basketball race.

Thursday night the Golden Gophers play host to arch rival Iowa in an 8:05 shoot out. Then on Saturday, Minnesota entertains Michigan in a 1:05 p.m. Big Ten TV Game of the Week extravaganza.

"It will be another challenging week for us," Coach Dutcher admits. "We have had some great games with Iowa in the past, and right now they are playing very well. We must be very aggressive if we hope to beat them. Michigan has some good young talent, and they are improving with every game. And it always adds something to be on the TV game of the week."

Dutcher's earlier plea for an "even more rewarding" situation refers to last week's results when the Gophers had to settle for a split in Big Ten road action at Ohio State and at Michigan State.

First Minnesota dropped a 49-47 decision to the surprising Buckeyes on Thursday before coming back to salvage a 64-58 victory over the Spartans in another cliff hanger on Saturday.

"We played too tentative at Ohio State," Dutcher analyzed. "We had only one fast break basket in the entire game, and our inability to push the ball up the floor really hurt us. We had a bad stretch at the end of the first half and another bad stretch at the start of the second. From then on we were playing catch-up basketball, and that's tough to do on the road in the Big Ten."

It was a different story at Michigan State where the Gophers came out very aggressively and took command early. In fact Minnesota built up a 17-point lead early in the second half only to see the host contingent rally during the final moments to make the final score closer than it should have been.

"We emphasized the need to get some transition baskets," Dutcher revealed, "and we told the players....like we seem to tell them every week....that it was a crucial game for us. But we wound up playing a 17-point lead into a two-point lead, and we obviously were worried and concerned."

Was Dutcher satisfied with his team's first conference road ventures of the season? "We had to get a split," he pointed out. "The loss at Ohio State made the game at Michigan State very big. It was a tough week for us. We look back and think we could have won two, but we also look back and admit that we could have lost two. But that's life in the Big Ten."

And now the Gophers return home to Williams Arena for two more "crucial" conference assignments. "We're happy to be home," Dutcher proclaimed. "Hopefully we can get the job done."

GOPHER TALES--Iowa will come into Thursday's game with an overall record of 10-1. The Hawkeyes are tied for first place in the loop standings at 2-0 with Ohio State.

A year ago Minnesota and Iowa split. The Gophers won at Iowa City (it was the Big Ten TV Game of the Week) 60-43 but lost in The Barn 60-58 to the Hawks in overtime. The series standings show that the Gophers hold a 71-59 edge going into Thursday's contest.

Michigan comes into this week's slate with an overall record of 1-9 and a Big Ten log of 0-2. The Wolverines are deadlocked for the cellar with Indiana.

Last season Michigan whipped the Gophers twice. First the Wolverines prevailed 68-67 in two overtimes at Williams Arena and then they notched an 83-67 triumph at Ann Arbor. Michigan leads the series 47-44.

Dutcher changed his starting lineup at Michigan State and opened with freshman Tommy Davis at guard along side Darryl Mitchell. That move enabled Trent Tucker to move to forward with Gary Holmes. Randy Breuer was at his usual center position.

Breuer continues to lead the Gophers in scoring with a 19.1 average. He's also tops in rebounds with 84 for a 7.6 average. Tucker is second in scoring at 13.6 while Holmes is second in rebounds at 6.4. Breuer also tops his mates in blocked shots with 32 and in assists with 27.

Mark Hall made the trip to Ohio State and Michigan State after being declared eligible for the winter term last Monday. He saw limited service last Saturday against the Spartans.

Ken Buell, Gopher ticket manager, reminds fans that the Iowa game is a total sellout. The same already holds true for the Indiana game at Williams Arena on February 6.

ICERS AT DULUTH

Minneapolis, MN---After a week off following six games during the holiday break, the Minnesota hockey Gophers return to the WCHA wars this weekend in a pair of games Friday and Saturday at in-state neighbor Minnesota-Duluth.

Strangely enough UM-D was Minnesota's last league opponent. In the series at home in December, UM only managed a 6-6 tie the first night as the Bulldogs won 4-2 in the second game.

"I believe the week off probably did our men some good," coach Brad Buetow said Monday. "We have several players laid up with injuries, and I also believe our men were pretty tired following the long trip to Switzerland.

"The injuries I mentioned could really hurt our chances this weekend. Juniors David Jensen, on defense, and center Scott Bjugstad are, at this point, at best questionable for the series at Duluth.

"Jensen chipped a bone below a kneecap in Europe and has not skated the last two weeks. Bjugstad reinjured the same ankle that cost him some playing time earlier in the season. We hope they will be ready, but we can't tell at this time."

Buetow said two men who impressed him recently with solid play could break into the lineup this weekend. Included are forward John Muscat, a senior from Duluth, and freshman defenseman Mike Guentzel from Coleraine.

As of Monday it appears senior Paul Ostby will be in goal Friday for the Gophers. However, Buetow declined to say if Ostby or another senior, Jim Jetland, would play Saturday. "We'll wait and see how things go Friday before making a decision for the second game," Buetow offered.

One thing is certain, however. If Minnesota plans to make any charge at the WCHA leaders the time is now. Wisconsin and North Dakota both swept league games last weekend and are moving ahead of the pack. Minnesota trails the Sioux by four points and Wisconsin by six. The Gophers have one road series remaining against each of the leaders.

UM TO PLAY CHINA AT MET

Monday, January 25, marks the date the University of Minnesota hockey Gophers plays the Peoples Republic of China National Team at the Met Center in Bloomington. The Exhibition game has been scheduled by officials at the Met.

Tickets are available at Bierman Building on the U. of M. campus, and at the Met Center. Cost for reserved seats is $5 and $3.

The Chinese Nationals playing out of Peking are on a tour in the U.S. for the first time and play junior teams in Battle Creek, MI, before coming to Minnesota to meet the Gophers. The visitors complete their tour with additional exhibitions in Colorado, home of the Amateur Hockey Association of the U.S. (AHAUS), sponsor of the tour.

Unbeaten Wrestlers Dual Northern Iowa and Wisconsin this weekend

The University of Minnesota wrestling team is putting its perfect 9-0 record on the line this weekend when it duals Northern Iowa and Wisconsin.

Wally Johnson's squad meets Northern Iowa Friday night at 8:30 p.m. at Osseo Junior High School, then travels to Madison for a Sunday afternoon match with the Badgers.

The Panthers are making their second trip to Minnesota this season. They competed in the Gopher Quad on November 20 and captured one individual title.

Johnson feels his team needs help in the upper weights, but is determined not to rush any of the injured wrestlers. "I can't sacrifice one of the injured wrestlers for a dual. It is better to let them come back slowly and point to the Big Ten Tournament," Johnson said.

Missing from the lineup are 190 pound George Bowman (Grand Forks, ND), 158 pound Darrell Gholar (Chicago), heavyweight Al Jenson (Foley), 167 pound Jim Trudeau (Inver Grove Heights) and 142 pound Dalen Wasmund (Worthington). Trudeau appears to be out for the season, while Bowman, Gholar and Wasmund could all return to practice this week.

Last week without those five regulars, the team won the eight-team Falcon Invitational at Air Force and picked up three dual wins to raise its record to 9-0. Wednesday at Lakeville High School they defeated Bloomsburg State 32-8, then Friday at Air Force they downed host Air Force 43-5 and North Dakota State 30-11.

Individually, Jim Martinez (Osseo) raised his record to 24-0 at 142 pounds, Ed Giese (Wood Dale, IL) topped the Invitational field at 118 pounds and Mark Luby (Minneapolis) brought Minnesota its third title at 177 pounds.

Following the trip to Wisconsin the team returns to face Athletes in Action on Wednesday, January 20 at Coon Rapids High School.

Swimmers At Nebraska Tournament and Bemidji State

The Gopher swimming and diving team returns to competition this Saturday and Sunday at the University of Nebraska's Fourth Annual Mid-Winter Invitational and Saturday at Bemidji State.

Coach Paul Stearns has split the team, sending those who normally don't travel along with some versatile performers to Bemidji for a dual, while the rest are headed for Nebraska.

Nebraska has put together one of the top fields in the country for the Invitational that should be a challenging test for the Gophers. The Big Eight champion Huskers are one of four championship teams in the field. California is the reigning PAC Ten champ, Southern Illinois-Carbondale is the king of the Independent Schools and Iowa topped the Big Ten last season. Kansas and Iowa State round out the seven-team field.

Stearns has the competition in mind when he talks about the tournament. "It would be all right to finish fourth or fifth in that field. We have been swimming well in workouts and I'm anxious to see how we do at Nebraska and Bemidji," Stearns said.

Two freshmen have caught his eye over the long break. "Bob Barrett (Arlington Heights, IL) and Matias Lindholm (Oulu, Finland) have worked extremely hard and are starting to see results," Stearns said.

The Invitational is the first meet of the season for the team's divers. Senior Jeff Adamson (Crystal) and sophomore Randy Lien (Glenwood Springs, CO) give the team a strong combination, while freshman Flip Crummer (Omaha, NE) has looked good in practice.

(MORE)

The team has been weakened by the loss of senior distance freestyler Tom Walle (Lavvik, Norway) who suffered a concussion when he collided with another swimmer in a rare mid-pool collision. He has been out of training for three weeks and it is not certain when he will be able to return.

The team returns home to the Cooke Hall Pool on Saturday, January 23 for a 2 p.m. dual with Northern Iowa. ---30---

New-Look Gymnasts Travel To Wisconsin

The Christmas break appears to have had a positive effect on the University of Minnesota gymnastics team. Heading into Saturday afternoon's meet at Wisconsin, the Gophers potentially are fielding their best lineup of the season.

Freshman all-arounder Tim Koopman (Bloomington), sophomore Jason Laks (Tucson, AZ) and pommel horse specialist Bob Harrison (Hinsdale, IL) have shaken off early injuries and returned to the lineup, while sophomore rings specialist Tom Groechel (Brookfield, WI) has rejoined the team.

Coach Fred Roethlisberger emphasizes the team's new-look. "We are two different teams, the one before Christmas and the one now. I expect to score over 270 as a team and average 9.0 or better individually," Roethlisberger said.

Senior Brian Meeker (Edina) is at his peak as Roethlisberger explains. "Brian is at the best of his life. He is healthy, and continues to improve. He is ready for the national championship right now," Roethlisberger said.

Meeker, a two-time National Team member, is a top candidate for the Nissen Award, the Heisman Trophy of gymnastics.

The team is on the road again next weekend traveling to Michigan on Friday, January 22 and to Michigan State on Saturday, January 23.

GOPHERS GET ROAD AND HOME ASSIGNMENTS THIS WEEK

If variety is the spice of life, then the University of Minnesota basketball team can expect a little spice this week as the Big Ten Conference basketball team provides some variety.

On Thursday Coach Jim Dutcher's Golden Gophers take to the road to face the University of Wisconsin in Madison at 7:35 p.m. Then on Saturday Minnesota returns home to Williams Arena to take on the University of Illinois in an 8:05 p.m. encounter.

The Gophers will take an overall record of 11-2 and a Big Ten log of 3-1....good for a share of first place in the loop standings....into Thursday's assignment against the Badgers.

Minnesota gained its current tie for the top spot by virtue of recording two impressive wins last week. First the Gophers stunned Iowa 61-56 and then held on to top Michigan 67-58. Both of those triumphs came at Williams Arena.

"We played exceptionally well on defense against Iowa," Dutcher said, "especially in the second half. It took a great physical and mental effort on our part to win over a very good Iowa team. Against Michigan we probably played just about well enough to win, and that is understandable after what Iowa took out of us. But it was another W, and that is what we wanted."

Wisconsin, meanwhile, fell to Northwestern 61-55 last Thursday and then dropped a 73-62 verdict to those Hawkeyes on Saturday. Those two setbacks mean that the (MORE)

Badgers will come into Thursday's game with an overall record of 4-3 and a Big Ten mark of 1-3. They tied for eighth place in the standings with Michigan State.

"Wisconsin is similar to Michigan in that it has a lot of young players," Dutcher analyzed. "They have talent, but they lack experience. They'll be tough at Madison, however, and we know that. We've lost two straight games over there, and both times it has knocked us out of the NCAA playoffs."

Which means the senior-dominated Gophers may again be motivated by a "get even" factor at Madison on Thursday. And they would like to come home to meet the Illini on Saturday still sitting on top of the loop standings.

That Saturday shootout against Illinois also looms as a toughie for the Gophers. Last Thursday the Illini dropped a 51-50 overtime decision to red-hot Ohio State. And then Saturday they bounced back with a 55-51 win over Michigan State.

As a result of that split, Illinois came into this week's action (they are slated to play at home against Indiana on Thursday) with an overall record of 9-4 and a conference log of 2-2. They are tied for fifth place with Indiana and Northwestern.

Illinois also lost some giants via graduation and will reveal a lineup with a new look at Williams Arena on Saturday. But two veterans still around are Derek Harper and Craig Tucker, two of the most skilled backcourt players in the league.

GOPHER TALES--A year ago Minnesota split honors with both Wisconsin and Illinois, winning at home and losing on the road. Against the Badgers it was 76-60 for the Gophers and 60-58 in overtime for Wisconsin. Against the Illini, it was 76-69 for Minnesota and 80-76 for Illinois.

Minnesota leads in the Wisconsin series by a 73-61 margin while the Illini remain on top in that rivalry by a 72-49 edge.

Dutcher is not expected to make any lineup changes for either game this week. That being the case, he'll open with 7-3 Randy Breuer at center and co-captains Trent Tucker and Gary Holmes at forward. Tucker is 6-5 and Holmes is 6-10. The guards are expected to be 6-5 Darryl Mitchell and 6-4 Tommy Davis.

Breuer continues to pace the Gophers in a couple of categories. He's tops in scoring with 250 points for a 19.2 average, and he leads Minnesota in blocked shots with a current total of 46.

Tucker also is averaging in double figures with a 13.8 mark while Mitchell is next in line with 11.5. Mitchell also leads in assists with 31 while Breuer and Tucker each have 30.

In last year's win over Wisconsin, Mark Hall led the way with 25 points. In the win over Illinois, Tucker had 22 and Breuer had 21.

Since being declared eligible, Hall has played only briefly against Michigan State. He's still working himself into shape, but hopes to be ready to contribute to the Gophers this week against Wisconsin and Illinois.

Ken Buell, U of M ticket manager, already reports that the Illinois game is a sellout, as is Indiana.

ICERS AT NORTH DAKOTA

Minneapolis, MN---After enduring another split series weekend, this one at Minnesota-Duluth, the Minnesota hockey Gophers now head for North Dakota and a chance to tie for second place in the WCHA standings.

Minnesota won 5-1 last Friday at Duluth, but fell the next night 6-3 to the opportunistic Bulldogs. The Gophers are in third place in the WCHA with 14 points on a league record of 6-6-2. That places Minnesota four points behind second place North Dakota.

The Sioux, after splitting at Colorado College last weekend, stand 9-5-0 in league play with 18 points. The only way Minnesota can move up in the standings would be by sweeping the Sioux on their own ice, something that rarely happens.

Minnesota jumped out to a quick 3-0 lead last Friday and continued to lead 3-1 after the first period. A scoreless second period followed before Dave Dillon and Jeff Larson scored in the final period to put the game away. Goalie Paul Ostby turned in an excellent performance turning away 34 Bulldog tries.

But on Saturday it was UM-D that took advantage of its chances. Trailing 4-3 in the final period after a goal by Steve Griffith for Minnesota, the Gophers could not mount another charge and UM-D got one more for a 5-3 margin, then wrapped things up with an empty net goal in the final minute.

Ostby was again strong in goal, but at the same time victim of a couple of rather weak scores.

Griffith led the Gophers in scoring with a goal and an assist each night. Top Gopher scorer Butsy Erickson had a goal and an assist. Captain Kevin Hartzell scored a shorthanded goal Friday which turned out to be the game winner.

Gopher coach Brad Buetow made some lineup changes last weekend which found three freshmen, Kurt Larson, Tom Hirsch and Mike Guentzel, on defense. He did not say Monday if any additional lineup changes were expected this week.

Minnesota and North Dakota split a series in the Twin Cities back in November with the Sioux winning 5-2 the first night, and Minnesota bouncing back to take a 7-5 decision in the second game. North Dakota, much like the Gophers, has split most of its league series this season. It seems that only league-leading Wisconsin can score series sweeps in the WCHA this year.

"Let's face it. If we plan to make any move we've got to start sweeping some of our league series," coach Buetow said Monday. "I'm not complaining about the efforts of our men. We are awfully young and somewhat in a rebuilding stage.

"But I honestly believe we can win in this league. Sure, Wisconsin is out and running ahead of the pack. Maybe they can't be caught by anyone. But we'll never know until we play out the entire schedule.

"We simply must be concerned about our own fortunes, not those of any other team. I believe in our young players and, with a break or two along the way, we could reach second place and afford ourselves a better position for the playoffs."

This year, under the new WCHA format involving just six schools, all league teams enter the playoffs. However, teams finishing one and two receive a first round bye, and then play at home in the second round.

"Naturally each team wants badly to do well during the regular season," Buetow continued. "But sometimes jockeying for playoff position becomes more important as each season wears on. We are not about to give up on doing our best in league play, but at the same time are looking ahead towards the March playoffs. I'm certain every team in the league feels the same way."

Erickson, with his two points last weekend, now leads the Gophers in scoring with 28 points on a team high 16 goals and 12 assists after 20 games. Erickson and center Scott Bjugstad, who was shut out last weekend, each have scored 16 goals. Hartzell and freshmen center Rick Erdall are second to Erickson with 24 points each while Bjugstad has 23.

Ostby lowered his goals allowed average to a solid 3.41 per game after his performance at Duluth. His record on the season reads two wins, two losses and one tie. Jim Jetland still has the best goals allowed marks among the goalies, 2.69.

One area which again will be worked on extremely hard this week is the Gopher power play. Minnesota was shut out on seven chances at Duluth, but the Bulldogs only converted one power play goal in 10 weekend chances.

WRESTLERS FACE ATHLETES IN ACTION AND TOP-RANKED IOWA

Wally Johnson's University of Minnesota wrestling team has its hands full this week when it meets what may be the two best teams in the nation.

The Athletes in Action Wrestling Team is in town on Wednesday night to wrestle the Gophers at Coon Rapids High School, while top-ranked Iowa is the opponent Sunday night at Fridley High School. Starting time for both matches is 7:30 p.m.

Competing against top collegiate, club and international teams in the world, the Athletes in Action Wrestling Team shows a remarkable 168-27 -1 record for 13 seasons.

The AIA team features two former Gopher greats in team director Jim Axtell and team member Mike McArthur, both are former NCAA all-America selections and Big Ten champs.

Iowa, 9-0 on the season, wrestles Wisconsin Friday night in Iowa City before making the trip to the Twin Cities.

Coach Dan Gable's Hawkeyes are led by the NCAA champion Banach brothers, Ed and Lou. Ed wrestles at 177, while Lou is a heavyweight. The best matchup of the evening may be at 142 pounds, where Lenny Zalesky will face the Gophers unbeaten Jim Martinez (Osseo).

Last Sunday, in a disappointing 22-17 loss to Wisconsin in Madison, Martinez raised his record to 25-0, including 14 falls, when he decisioned his Badger opponent. George Bowman (Grand Forks, ND), Gary Lefebvre (Elk River) and Dalen Wasmund (Worthington) were the other Gopher winners.

The loss dropped the fifth-rated Gophers from the unbeaten ranks and set their record at 9-1.

GYMNASTS AT MICHIGAN AND MICHIGAN STATE THIS WEEKEND

Fred Roethlisberger's University of Minnesota gymnastics team travels to Michigan and Michigan State this weekend. The Gophers face the Wolverines Friday night in Ann Arbor then meet the Spartans Saturday afternoon in East Lansing.

Michigan defeated Illinois last weekend and is off to a 5-1 start. The Wolverines are paced by Nevin Hedlund, Merrick Horn, Rick Kauffmann, Kevin McKee and Dave Miller. Horn recently compiled a career best all-around score of 54.25.

Coach George Szypula's Michigan State squad is lead by the all-around trio of Bart Acino, Marvin Gibbs and defending Big Ten vault champion Pete Roberts. The Spartans, who meet Eastern Michigan on Wednesday, opened their dual season last Sunday with a win over Illinois.

Last Saturday at Wisconsin, the Gophers evened their dual record at 1-1 with a 259.35 to 250.85 victory over the Badgers. Senior Nissen Award candidate Brian Meeker (Edina) scored 54.40 points to capture the all-around title. Meeker finished first in the floor exercise, vault and pommel horse competitions.

Sophomore Joe Ray (Maine, IL) followed Meeker in the all-around standings with 52.65 points. Senior Jeff Murray (Green Bay, WI) was first in the pommel horse with a 9.5 performance, freshman Tim Koopman (Bloomington) topped the field in the parallel bars and sophomore Tom Groechel (Brookfield, WI) was the top Gopher in the rings. Koopman is returning from a knee injury, while Groechel recently rejoined the team.

Following the trip to Michigan, the team returns to Williams Arena to face Iowa in a 2:00 p.m. dual on Saturday, January 30.

INDOOR TRACK TEAM AT DRAKE INVITATIONAL ON SATURDAY, DECATHLON TUESDAY AND WEDNESDAY

Minnesota's indoor track team, led by a pair of sprinters and a group of veteran middle distance and distance runners heads to Des Moines, Iowa Saturday for the Drake Invitational. The team is also hosting an indoor decathlon at the University Fieldhouse on Tuesday and Wednesday nights at 6:00 p.m.

Standout sophomore Francis Ude, a native of Enugu, Nigeria and senior Jamaican Errol Smith provide the steadily improving Gophers with a solid sprint nucleus.

The middle distances are manned by senior Don Hurley (St. Paul), junior Mike Gebeke (White Bear Lake), and sophomores Brian Maas (Austin) and Mike Morgan (Cottage Grove). Besides providing individual strength, the four are valuable members of various relay teams.

Coach Roy Griak will be counting on members of his cross country team in the distance events. Senior Lloyd Ness (Rochester), John Idstrom (Owatonna), and Hurley, along with junior John Keohen (Montgomery), sophomores Dave Morrison (Lakeville) and John Kromer (Hudson, WI), and freshman Dallas Allaire (Thunder Bay, Ontario) should all see extensive action during the indoor season.

Sophomore Brian Halvorsen (Hudson, WI) and senior Steve Hoff (Eau Claire, WI) will hurdle, sophomore Brett Bohanon (Anoka) is the leader in the high jump, while senior Al Whitesell (Coon Rapids) is the top pole vaulter.

Last Saurday's meet at Iowa was cancelled because of the weather and the poor traveling conditions that it created. Despite the weather, the team was able to host its own TAC Open at the Fieldhouse on Saturday. No team scores were kept for the Open which featured the area's top track athletes in a open competition.

ICERS RETURN HOME TO FACE DENVER

Minneapolis, MN---Now that hopes of overtaking first place in the WCHA are gone, Minnesota's hockey Gophers this weekend begin a drive for as high a finish as possible in the final league standings.

"The way Wisconsin is going I guess all the rest of us can do is scramble for the best playoff positions," Gopher coach Brad Buetow said Sunday.

Minnesota dropped a league pair at North Dakota 3-1 and 4-1 last week, and now must prepare to defend its narrow hold on third place in the WCHA. Denver, just one point behind the Gophers, invades Williams Arena for 7:30 p.m. CST games Friday and Saturday.

Minnesota has 14 points on a 6-8-2 league record, while the Pioneers are 6-9-1 for 13 WCHA points.

The Gophers and Denver split a November series in the Mile High City. DU took the first game 7-3, but UM bounced back with a 7-goal third period outburst to win 9-4 the next night.

The Series at North Dakota belonged to the goalies. Paul Ostby played both games for UM and deserved a better fate. However, UND's goal tenders also turned in an excellent series.

Minnesota only managed one goal each night with Brian Thoresen netting the lone score Friday, and UM scoring leader Butsy Erickson getting Saturday's Gopher score.

"It seemed that our being so young may have worked against us more in this series than in others," Buetow added. "Every player skating for us worked his hardest, but nothing positive seemed to click offensively.

"That takes a lot of confidence out of a team, especially one with so many younger players. I believe they tend to think nothing good is going to happen.

"But I have to commend the defensive play. Nobody let up for a moment on either club. The goals last weekend were good, hard-earned scores. It was a well played WCHA series. I just wish we could have done better.

"We now face the number one and two scorers in the WCHA in Denver's Don Fraser and Ed Beers. I believe we'll have to play even better defensively than last week if we hope to hold onto third place."

Buetow said Monday he did not foresee any major lineup changes for the Denver series, and that Ostby will again be in goal Friday.

BLUELINE CLUB LUNCHEON: The first GOLDEN GOPHER BLUELINE CLUB luncheon of 1982 is scheduled Friday noon at Jax Cafe on University Ave. N.E. Coaches from both schools and surprise guests key the program. The public is invited to attend.

WRESTLERS MEET DRAKE THEN FACE IOWA STATE IN THE "SHOWCASE"

Wally Johnson's University of Minnesota wrestling team meets Drake University Saturday night and Iowa State Sunday afternoon in the annual "Wrestling Showcase". Meet time is 7:30 p.m. Saturday and 2:30 p.m. Sunday.

The Gophers' dual with Iowa scheduled for last Saturday was not held because of the severe weather conditions in the Twin Cities. An attempt is being made to reschedule the meet later in the season. Last Wednesday Athletes in Action topped the Gophers 28-22 in an exhibition match at Coon Rapids High School.

The Gophers, 9-1 and 0-1 in the Big Ten, are lead by a trio of senior Big Ten champions. Jim Martinez (Osseo), 25-0 with 14 pins at 142, was a conference champ as a sophomore in 1979, Gary Lefebvre (Elk River), 22-4 with 10 pins at 126 and 134, is the reigning Big Ten champ at 126, while Dalen Wasmund (Worthington), 21-6, is the defending champ at 134. Martinez was recently named to the East squad for the annual East-West match at Lehigh University on February 1. Wasmund is an alternate for the squad.

Drake is 7-7 this season.

Iowa State, 11-1 overall and 2-0 in the Big Eight, is currently ranked second in the country behind Iowa. The Cyclones are led by defending NCAA champions Nate Carr, 11-2 at 150, and Jim Gibbons, 14-1-2 at 134. Before making the trip to Minnesota the Cyclones wrestle Missouri Monday night at home and Northern Iowa Thursday night on the road.

On February 10 Minnesota entertains Northwestern at Williams Arena.

MINNESOTA CAGERS FACE TWO CHALLENGING ROAD ASSIGNMENTS

A disheartened University of Minnesota basketball team takes to the road this week for a pair of extremely challenging Big Ten Conference assignments against two surprising opponents.

The disheartened aspect resulted when Minnesota had to settle for a split last week, the challenge is having to play at Northwestern and at Indiana, and the surprise results from Northwestern being the most improved team in the conference and that Indiana is coming on like Gangbusters in what prognosticators had figured would be a down season for the Hoosiers.

This past week Coach Jim Dutcher's Golden Gophers journeyed to Wisconsin and came home with an impressive 78-57 victory. But when Minnesota fell 64-57 to Illinois in Williams Arena.....it was the first loss at home this year.....and the Gophers were left with a bad taste in their mouths.

"We had things going our way at Wisconsin," Dutcher said, "and we were able to do a lot of things. But against Illinois, it was a case of our being totally outplayed. We never got momentum established the way we would have liked to, and Illinois was able to control the tempo of the game. We simply had poor concentration, and it cost us the game."

As a result of that split, Minnesota will take an overall record of 12-3 and a Big Ten mark of 4-2 into the Northwestern assignment on Thursday. The Gophers are tied for second place in the standings (behind front-running Iowa) with Indiana, Ohio State and Purdue.

And there is no doubt about how difficult it is going to be this week for the Gophers. Dutcher told his squad after the Illinois loss that they had dug themselves a hole. "Now you just will have to win another one on the road," he said.

That could mean that rather than settling for a split at Northwestern and Indiana, Minnesota will have to shoot for a sweep if it is to remain in contention for Big Ten honors.....and that presents a major challenge.

"We know that it will be a tough trip for us," Dutcher admitted, "but if we hope to be in the running for the conference championship, we know that we have to win at places like Evanston and Bloomington."

Dutcher looks at Northwestern as the number one "rags to riches" story in the league this season. "They have to be the most improved club in the league," he says. "They have an All-Conference calibre player in Jim Stack, and they have a team with a lot of experience. They'll be tough to beat on their home floor."

And of course Dutcher has a great deal of respect for the Hoosiers. "People thought they would have a down season after losing some key players," Dutcher said, "and when they lost their first two conference games some people counted them out of the race. That's a mistake. Indiana is a veteran team that now has won four straight. They are very much a part of the Big Ten race."

As tough as the loss to Illinois was to swallow, and as challenging as this week's road trip seems to be, Dutcher also reminded his team that it still was early. "It's only the third week of the conference season," he pointed out. "The race is far from over."

GYMNASTS FACE IOWA AT WILLIAMS ARENA SATURDAY AFTERNOON

Fred Roethlisberger's University of Minnesota gymnastics team duals Iowa Saturday afternoon at 2 p.m. at Williams Arena.

The Gophers, 2-2 overall and 2-1 in the Big Ten, are led by senior Nissen Award candidate Brian Meeker (Edina). With his great all-around ability, Meeker is the key to Gopher success.

All-arounders Joe Ray (Maine, IL) and Tim Koopman (Bloomington) along with pommel horse specialist Jeff Murray (Green Bay, WI) are other top Gopher performers.

Iowa, under second-year coach Tom Dunn, is 1-0 overall and 0-0 in the Big Ten. Kelly Grumley, Paul Goedecke and captain Tim Magee are the top Hawkeye gymnasts.

Last weekend the Gophers split two in Michigan. Friday in Ann Arbor, Michigan edged the Gophers 271.65-270.15 for their first win over Minnesota since 1975. The team rebounded on Saturday to top Michigan State 268.45-257.10 in East Lansing. Meeker captured five of the six events in the win over MSU.

Following the dual with Iowa, Minnesota meets Iowa State on Saturday, February 6 at Ames.

SWIMMERS AT WISCONSIN TRIANGULAR ON SATURDAY

The Gopher swimming and diving team travels to Wisconsin for a triangular meet on Saturday with Southern Illinois-Edwardsville and the host Badgers.

Coach Paul Stearns' squad is 1-0 overall and in the Big Ten with an early season victory over Northwestern. Last Saturday's scheduled dual with Northern Iowa at Cooke Hall was cancelled because of the severe weather conditions in the Twin Cities. It is not known at this time if the meet will be rescheduled. The team competed two weeks ago in the seven-team Nebraska Mid-Winter Invitational finishing sixth.

Freshman butterflyer Bob Barrett (Arlington Heights, IL) continues to swim well, with clockings of 51.61 for 100 yards and 1:53.91 at 200 in the Nebraska meet. At Wisconsin, Barrett will face reigning Big Ten 200-yard champ Kevin Fober.

Freestyler Brian Mortenson (Brooklyn Center) and divers Jeff Adamson (Crystal) and Flip Crummer (Omaha, NE) also had strong performances at Nebraska.

Coach Jack Pettinger's Badgers are 6-2 overall and 3-1 in the Big Ten. Last Saturday in Madison the Badgers routed Iowa State 78-34. Southern Illinois is 2-0, with wins over California and Nebraska. The Salukis, under coach Bob Steele, finished third at Nebraska.

The Gophers travel to Iowa next weekend for duals with Iowa and Iowa State.

NORTHWEST OPEN SCHEDULED FOR FRIDAY AND SATURDAY

The University of Minnesota track team is at home this weekend for the Northwest Open Friday and Saturday at the University Fieldhouse. Competition is scheduled to begin at 2 p.m. on Friday and 10 a.m. on Saturday.

The Open meet annually features the region's top collegiate teams and individuals. Last weekend, coach Roy Griak's Gophers were unable to compete in the Drake Invitational because of the bad weather in the area. Two weeks ago the team missed the Iowa Invitational under similar circumstances.

Next week, the Gophers will participate in the Minnesota Open Relays on Saturday, February 6 at the Fieldhouse.

U OF M CAGERS HOST TWO CONFERENCE OPPONENTS THIS WEEK

With the crucial challenge of a week ago successfully met, the University of Minnesota braces itself to face another one this week when entertaining a pair of Big Ten Conference basketball opponents in Williams Arena.

On Thursday Coach Jim Dutcher's quintet will conclude the first half of the 1982 Big Ten season when entertaining Purdue. Tip-off is set for 8:05 p.m. Then on Saturday the Gophers start the second half of that loop campaign when hosting Indiana in an '82 rematch at 3 p.m.

"It's another tough week for us," Coach Dutcher observed. "Purdue is an excellent team that has one of the conference's top scorers in Keith Edmonson as well as one of the strongest inside players in Russell Cross. And if Thursday's game isn't enough of a challenge, rest assured that Indiana will come in here on Saturday with all guns blazing."

The reason for those smoking weapons is Minnesota's stunning 69-62 win at Bloomington last weekend. The Hoosiers aren't about to take that loss lightly and are expected to come after the Gophers the second time around with revenge in mind.

Minnesota's victory at Bloomington followed a 61-53 triumph over the Northwestern Wildcats at Evanston last Thursday....all of which means that the Gophers swept a two-game road trip for the first time this season. In the process, Minnesota upped its overall record to 14-3 and improved it's Big Ten log to 6-2.

As a result of those efforts, the Gophers were able to take over sole possession of second place in the conference standings one game behind front-running Iowa (7-1) and one game ahead of Indiana, Purdue and Illinois (5-3) who are tied for third.

"We played well on the road," Dutcher analyzed. "A week ago we were concerned with our rebounding and our free throwing after losing at home to Illinois. But at Northwestern we excelled in both departments. Fortunately for us, we were able to keep up the pace at Indiana and make it two in a row."

At Northwestern, Minnesota was 21 of 24 from the free throw line (.875) and equalled the Wildcats in rebounds at 27. Against the Hoosiers, Minnesota was 19 of 20 from the charity stripe (.950) and garnered 28 rebounds.

"There isn't any doubt about the fact that we played more aggressively in our last two games than we did when losing to Illinois two weeks ago," Dutcher proclaimed. Hopefully we can continue to do so in our games against Purdue and Indiana this week."

GOPHER TALES---Trent Tucker, who scored 18 points against Northwestern and 12 at Indiana, was named to the ESPN "mid-season" All-America basketball team as a guard. That honor was announced late last week.

Also in the honors department, Darryl Mitchell was selected as the game's Most Outstanding Player last Saturday at Indiana. Mitchell was presented with a plaque from Honeywell following the nationally televised game.

Randy Breuer continues to lead the Gophers in scoring. He had 10 at Northwestern and 15 at Indiana (all in the first half) to give him an even 300 on the season. That's an average of 17.6 per game. Breuer now has 997 points as a Gopher and barring a national disaster will become a member of the University of Minnesota's 1,000-point club against Purdue Thursday.

Along those lines, Mitchell moved into that select company at Indiana when his 12 points put him at 1,009 in his Gopher career. Tucker already is on the list and now has 1,245 points (7th) while Mark Hall has 1,050 (14th).

Dutcher was pleased with Minnesota's efforts in a couple of other departments on the road last week. "We didn't want to foul, and we wanted to cut down on our turnovers," he said. So the Gophers responded with 13 fouls at Northwestern and only 10 at Indiana. Turnover-wise, Minnesota had 10 against the Cats and only nine against the Hoosiers.

Minnesota's starting guards of Mitchell and Tommy Davis were sparkling in that area at Indiana as neither one committed a turnover. In addition, Davis responded with 12 points.

ICERS HOST UM-D. . .AGAIN!

Minneapolis, MN---For the second time this season, Minnesota' home hockey opponent turns out to be instate rival Minnesota-Duluth.

The Gophers and Bulldogs face off for a WCHA pair Friday and Saturday at Williams Arena with both games starting at 7:30 p.m. CST. Duluth skated at Williams back in December gaining a 6-6 tie, and then handing the Gophers a 4-2 defeat.

Due to the change in number of teams in the WCHA this season, going from 10 to six clubs, Minnesota meets three league rivals---Minnesota-Duluth, Wisconsin and Denver---a total of six games each, and plays the other two schools---North Dakota and Colorado College---four times.

Minnesota is coming off a rarity in the WCHA this season, a series sweep. Behind the hot goal tending of senior Paul Ostby, and the revived scoring of junior center Scott Bjugstad, the Gophers took two from Denver at home last weekend 4-3 and 4-0. The latter game marked Ostby's first career shutout.

But UM-D also owns a hot hand having posted its own sweep last weekend at home defeating Colorado College 6-3 and 8-2. The Bulldogs have won four of their last six games, including a series split at Duluth with the Gophers just three weeks ago. UM-D has moved ahead of Denver into fourth place in the WCHA.

In the earlier pair there, UM won the first match 5-1, but UM-D came back to win 6-3 the next night. That series marked the first of six consecutive starts for Ostby. The Elk River product has responded with a 3-3 record and lowered his goals allowed average to 3.03 per contest, fourth lowest in the WCHA.

BUETOW ON UM-D

"Minnesota-Duluth comes in here flying higher than normal," Gopher coach Brad Buetow said Monday. "It doesn't take much to get them up to play us, but with the recent success they have enjoyed, well, their skaters may not even touch the ice. This should be some kind of college hockey series.

"They have taken two of the four games from us, and if we hope to stay alive and hold on to third place in the league, we'll have to play a lot better against them.

"Last weekend I believe we saw some of the consistency we have been seeking from our players. I do not believe our squad has sturned the corner yet, but at the same time I believe we are heading in the right direction.

"Paul Ostby has given us some great, great goal tending, and our defense is beginning to stiffen up, also. Our forwards appeared more effective against Denver, but last week doesn't mean a thing. It's what we do this weekend that counts.

"Minnesota-Duluth, if they beat us twice, can move ahead of us into third place in the WCHA. So, if we want to stay there and have any hopes of catching second place North Dakota, then we've got to play excellent hockey this weekend. I expect to see a highly spirited series with both teams giving every bit they have. Our fans should be in for some excellent collegiate hockey.

BJUGSTAD MOVES UP

Bjugstad had experienced a recent scoring slump after leading the Gophers through the first half season. But last weekend he was in the right place at the right time and counted two goals in each game against Denver. Three of his four tallies came on rebounds, one on a power play.

Butsy Erickson, who leads Bjugstad by one point in the Gopher scoring derby, also notched a goal in each game. Erickson's totals read 17 goals and 13 assists for 30 points, while Bjugstad is 21-8-29. His 21 goals are a team high.

Senior captain Kevin Hartzell continued his scoring climb as he scored a pretty shorthanded goal against Denver Saturday. Hartzell also added three assists and is now third in UM scoring with 28 points (7-21). He has the most assists among Gopher players.

The twin wins vs. Denver evened Ostby's season record a 4-4-1. His 3.03 goals allowed average only trails the 2.69 figure posted by senior netminder Jim Jetland. Jetland is 6-3-1 on the season, but has seen limited action since injuring a knee late in December. Ostby will start for UM Friday.

It is also hoped that senior wing Steve Griffith can return to action this weekend. He sat out the last three Gopher games with a foot injury.

GYMNASTS AT IOWA STATE SATURDAY NIGHT

The University of Minnesota gymnastics team duals Iowa State Saturday night at 7 p.m. in Ames.

The Gophers, 3-2 overall and 3-1 in the Big Ten, are led by senior Nissen Award candidate Brian Meeker (Edina), Joe Ray (Maine, IL), Tim Koopman (Bloomington), Pat Houde (Bloomington) and Jeff Murray (Green Bay, WI). Meeker, Ray, Koopman and Houde are all-arounders, while Murray is a pommel horse specialist.

Iowa State, 2-1, the college gymnastics powerhouse of the 70's is fielding a strong team in what started out as a rebuilding year. The Cyclones recently scored 278.05 points against Wisconsin. Brett Finch is the team's best all-arounder with teammate Rick Atkinson sidelined with a separated sternum.

Last Saturday afternoon at Williams Arena, Fred Roethlisberger's squad defeated Iowa 272.15-266.4. Meeker topped the field in five of the six events to capture the all-around title with a score of 56.6 points.

On February 12 Minnesota competes in the UCLA Invitational.

SWIMMERS MEET IOWA AND IOWA STATE ON ROAD TRIP

Paul Stearn's Gopher swimming and diving team faces Iowa Friday in Iowa City and Iowa State Saturday in Ames.

The Gophers, 1-2 overall and 1-1 in the Big Ten, are pointing to the upcoming Big Ten Championships as coach Paul Stearns relates. "We know what we have to accomplish in the next four weeks. By working extremely hard now and taking it easier before the Big Ten meet we should peak physically," Stearns said.

Freshman Jim Brzezinski (Burnsville) recorded a time of 1:43.43 in the 200- freestyle to lead a group of Gophers who set season and personal highs last Saturday at the Wisconsin Triangular. Freshman diver Flip Crummer (Omaha, NE) qualified for the NCAA Preliminaries with a score of 297.75. In the team competition, Minnesota lost a pair as Wisconsin topped the Gophers 65-48 and Southern Illinois-Carbondale followed with an 83-30 victory..

The Hawkeyes return the nucleus of the championship team and are one of the stronger teams in the nation this season. NCAA one-meter diving champion Randy Ableman heads a list of five returning conference champions.

Iowa State, 2-3, beat Illinois last Friday night 64-39 and seems to come up with strong performances against the Gophers, winning last season 63-50. Jim Brown is the top Cyclone swimmer.

The team is idle next weekend, resuming the schedule on February 19-20 when it meets Bemidji State and Minnesota-Duluth in the Minnesota Invitational at Cooke Hall.

WRESTLERS FACE MICHIGAN SATURDAY NIGHT AT WILLIAMS ARENA

Wally Johnson's Gopher wrestling team meets Michigan Saturday at 7:30 p.m. in Williams Arena.

The Gophers, 10-2 overall and 0-1 in the Big Ten, are led by a trio of Big Ten champions. Jim Martinez (Osseo), 27-0 with 15 pins at 142, was a conference champ as a sophomore in 1979, Gary Lefebvre (Elk River), 24-4 with 11 pins at 126 and 134, is the reigning Big Ten champ at 126, and Dalen Wasmund (Worthington), 21-6-1, is the defending champ at 134. Martinez wrestled in the annual East-West match at Lehigh University Monday night.

Michigan, 8-3 overall and 4-1 in the Big Ten, features Joe McFarland at 118 and Eric Klasson at heavyweight. Klasson won the Big Ten's heavyweight title in 1980 and both wrestlers were conference runners up last season.

Last weekend the Gophers split a pair at home. On Saturday night they shutout Drake 49-0, while second-rated Iowa State narrowly escaped with a 20-19 victory Sunday. A crowd of 3,025 attended the Iowa State match.

On Wednesday, February 10, Minnesota entertains Northwestern at Williams Arena.

TRACK TEAM AT WISCONSIN TRIANGULAR ON SATURDAY

The Gopher track team journeys to Wisconsin for a triangular meet on Saturday with the Chicago Track Club and the host Badgers.

Coach Roy Griak's squad opened the 1982 season with a strong performance in the Northwest Open last weekend. The two-day meet at the University Fieldhouse attracted more than 400 men and women competitors.

Calling it a satisfying opening meet, Griak praised sprinters Francis Ude (Enugu, Nigeria) and Tony Hunter (Memphis, TN), middle distance runners Tom Coles (Prior Lake) and Vince Rodrique (Plymouth) and distance runner John Idstrom (Owatonna).

Ude tied a meet record in the 60-yard dash with a time of 6.18 seconds as he edged Hunter, a Gopher football player, who pulled a muscle near the finish line.

Cole topped the field in the 600-yard run with a clocking of 1:13.02; Rodrique ran the 440 in 49.0 seconds to finish first and Idstrom took the two-mile title with a time of 9:05.49.

VETERAN AND NEWCOMERS COMBINE FOR BIG TEN TENNIS TITLE DEFENSE

Coach Jerry Noyce is counting on a blend of veterans and newcomers to provide the Gophers with another strong team this season.

Noyce, in his ninth season as head coach, believes the Gophers have the ability to be better than they were a year ago when they captured their first-ever Big Ten title. Minnesota and Michigan tied for the crown with 57 points each.

Two senior Big Ten champions head the list of returners. Hakan Almstrom (Stockholm, Sweden) topped the number four singles competition, while Mike Hoeger (Sioux Falls, SD) captured the number six singles title. Hoeger was also part of the number three doubles championship combination.

Senior Ted Kauffmann (Toledo, OH), a fixture at number one singles, and junior Dave Morin (White Bear Lake, MN) team with Almstrom and Hoeger to give Noyce a veteran nucleus from which to build.

Despite the veterans on hand, there are still some big gaps to fill. Missing from the championship team are Kent Helgeson, Gene Sperling, Mike Trautner, Mark Wheaton and Greg Wicklund. Wicklund was the Big Ten's number five singles champ and Wheaton was Hoeger's doubles partner.

Noyce believes he has five talented newcomers who are capable of picking up the slack: Glenn Britzius (Deephaven), Brace Helgeson (St. Cloud), Pete Kolaric (Wickliffe, OH), Lou McKee (Wayzata) and Mark Silverman (LaJolla, CA).

Kolaric, the national private school singles champ, is coming off a strong Fall and has stepped right into the lineup. Helgeson is the brother of former Gophers Grant and Kent, while Britzius, McKee and Silverman are transfers.

The Gophers face four top twenty teams during the Fall and could see another seven before the end of the season. With the high level of competition, the team will be well tested on the road to the Big Ten finals in early May.

Through the steady play of the veterans and newcomers, the Gophers are capable of replacing Michigan as the kingpin of Big Ten tennis.

The team opens the 1982 season on February 13 in the two-day Minnesota College Showcase. California, South Carolina and Texas join the host Gophers in the four-team field.

GOPHERS HOPE TO SILENCE CRITICS THIS WEEK

Critics of the University of Minnesota basketball team contend that it just can't stand prosperity. Coach Jim Dutcher and his Golden Gophers hope to dispell that theory when making two more Big Ten starts this week.

The doubting at Minnesota is a result of the Gophers winning three straight, posting two tough road triumphs only to return home to lose to the same Indiana team it had overwhelmed in Bloomington one week earlier.

"There are people who say we can't stand prosperity," Coach Dutcher admits, "and there are others who have said that Saturday's loss knocks us out of the race. But I disagree. There are eight games left, and we'll be back."

Minnesota had ripped Purdue 73-50 last Thursday before falling 56-55 to the Hoosiers on Saturday. Now it will play host to Wisconsin at 8:05 p.m. Thursday in Williams Arena before traveling to West Lafayette for a 4:05 p.m. rematch with the Boilermakers on Saturday.

It looks like another tough week for the Gophers who now are 15-4 on the year and 7-3 in the Big Ten. While Wisconsin's youthful Badgers have had their problems (they fell 55-46 to the Boilermakers last weekend), Purdue keeps getting better.

"I told our players after our big win last week that we would be seeing a much better Purdue team the next time around," Dutcher stressed. "They have a great inside player in Russell Cross and they have one of the top scorers in the Big Ten in Keith Edmonson. They will be tough to beat down there."

Dutcher was visibly distressed after Minnesota's Saturday afternoon setback at the hands of Indiana. "We can't expect to win if we get outrebounded like we did, if we shoot free throws as poorly as we did and shoot only 22 percent from the floor like we did in the second half," Dutcher analyzed. "Two weeks ago when we lost to Illinois we said that we would have to improve our rebounding, our free throw shooting and play with more intensity if we hoped to remain in the Big Ten race. We improved in all of those areas at Northwestern and at Indiana. But now we've slipped again. We've just got to correct those things and play up to our abilities this week."

GOPHER TALES---Earlier this year, Minnesota downed Wisconsin 73-57 in Madison. That victory upped the Gophers edge in the series to 74-61. The first meeting was during the 1900-01 season, and Minnesota prevailed 15-3. Wisconsin now stands at 4-14.

Along those same lines, the recent 23-point triumph over Purdue at Williams Arena gives Minnesota a 59-57 bulge in that series which dates back to the 1903-1904 season when the Gophers posted a 32-22 victory. The Boilers are 9-10 and 6-4.

Randy Breuer, Minnesota's 7-3 junior center, was held to nine points by the Hoosiers. It was the first time after 25 starts (seven last year and 13 this year) that he had not finished in double figures. Breuer remains Minnesota's top scorer with 320 points.

Trent Tucker, 6-5 forward-guard and co-captain of the Gophers, set the pace last Thursday against Purdue with 21 points and had 12 against Indiana. Tucker has 277 points on the season.

Darryl Mitchell, 6-5 senior guard who is having his best season as a Gopher, turned in two excellent efforts last week. Although scoring only eight points against Purdue last Thursday, Mitchell notched four steals, had two assists and committed only one turnover. Against Indiana, he was the scoring leader for Minnesota with 17 and added four assists and two steals.

Rebounding, or lack of it, again looms as a major concern for Coach Dutcher. They dominated Minnesota 37-23 in that department when Gary Holmes was the top Gopher with seven. John Wiley, a 6-9 senior that Dutcher looked to for help in that area, sprained an ankle against Indiana and will be lost for at least a week.

Minnesota's attendance figures for the year continued to climb as there were 16,506 loyalists on hand for the Purdue encounter and 17,356....a sellout and the largest crowd of the year....for the Indiana game. On the year Minnesota has attracted 175,379 fans in 11 home appearances for an average of 15,943 per game in The Barn. Against Big Ten invaders, the totals are 84,918 in five for 16,983 average.

Ken Buell, U of M ticket manager, reports that tickets still remain for Minnesota's home assignments against Wisconsin Thursday, Northwestern one week from Thursday and Michigan State on March 4. The Ohio State game March 6 already is a sellout. --JM--

ICERS ON ROAD AT WISCONSIN

Minneapolis, MN—After gaining a home split with Minnesota-Duluth and protecting its hold on third place in the WCHA standings, Minnesota's hockey Gophers face the unenviable task of taking on the nation's number one team in its own lair this weekend.

Minnesota travels to Madison, WI, to face the awesome Wisconsin Badgers Friday and Saturday. Both 7:30 p.m. CST games will be aired by WAYL-AM here.

Minnesota had to repel a strong challenge from the UM-D Bulldogs who came from a 3-1 first period deficit to win 5-3 Friday. The Gophers took a page from the visitor's book and overcame a 3-2 UM-D lead Saturday to win 6-3.

Scott Bjugstad again showed he has regained his scoring touch by planting three shots in the enemy net. He had UM's first goal in each game. Butsy Erickson was the other Gopher to score more than once. He had two goals in Saturday's win.

Paul Ostby ran his string to eight consecutive games in the Gopher nets. During that stretch he is 4-4-0 and has turned in some excellent netminding.

BUETOW ON THE GOPHERS

Asked if his season-long search for consistency from his relatively young charges is providing answers, Gopher head coach Brad Buetow said that "I believe in recent games we have seen just that, more consistency. Of course, I am not certain any coach believes that point ever reaches the level he wants. But I still think we are on the right track.

"Last weekend against Minnesota-Duluth we played awfully well in four of the six periods. Now that's not enough as we lost a 3-1 lead and the game Friday. But at least our men bounced back to take the win Saturday. So yes, to answer your question, I do believe we are getting there. The main problem is there isn't much time left.

"A point I would like to make about consistency is that the level of competition in our league has a lot to do with it. The six teams in the WCHA are awfully keen on talent. Any club can step on the ice and defeat another league member on any given day.

"During the last few seasons when we had ten teams in the league, a few of them were struggling and on difficult times. Every year we could pretty well count on a few extra wins when playing Michigan State, Michigan and Notre Dame. Now I'm not taking pot shots at these schools. They were valuable members of the WCHA.

"But the record shows that we had pretty good success against those clubs in recent seasons. Now with just six clubs and the talent more concentrated, it's just plain harder to come up with a string of wins.

"I may have done a lot of harping on this point of consistency, but with a team as young as ours, I believe it is a point that can't be emphasized too much. The day is gone when you can take it easy and still gain a win in this league. Sometimes it takes newcomers awhile to learn that point. I believe we are learning a little bit more each week."

BUETOW ON WISCONSIN

"Playing down there is always an exciting experience for our men. Let's face it, they are on top and playing solid hockey. But hey, Wisconsin needs points, too. The race for the title isn't over yet and they have to keep driving to capture the title we all want so badly.

"Our players accept the challenge of playing in Madison. Just like playing here in Williams Arena, it's a real showcase for our league to compete down there. They are at the peak of their game and, like us, are healthy.

"Wisconsin has been receiving excellent goal tending and is awfully hard to beat at home. I expect to see another great series between our schools. Everyone knows we will have to be at our best if we hope to remain in third place, or possibly move up on second place North Dakota.

"We have not given up hopes of finishing second, but it will take some kind of streak for us to accomplish that. It's getting near the playoffs and we want to be as sharp as possible. Playing well at Wisconsin could give us an excellent boost in that direction."

Buetow said he may shake up some line combinations, but that the same 20 men who suited up last weekend will probably be in uniform at Madison. He also said he will probably stay with (Paul) Ostby in goal Friday.

INDOOR TRACK TEAM AT NEBRASKA'S HUSKER INVITATIONAL ON SATURDAY

The University of Minnesota indoor track team travels to Nebraska Saturday for the Husker Invitational at 11:30 a.m. in the Bob Devaney Sports Center, Illinois, Iowa, Iowa State, Missouri, Southern California, Villanova and Wisconsin join the Gophers and host Nebraska in the nine-team field.

Nebraska's facility ranks as one of the finest in the country and the best Minnesota will run on in the indoor season. The track and the stiff competition may bring out the best in the Gophers.

Last Saturday at the Wisconsin Invitational coach Roy Griak's team finished third behind Wisconsin (102 points) and the Chicago Track Club (35). The Gophers scored 30 points.

Griak praised middle distance runner Mike Gebeke (White Bear Lake), distance runner John Keohen (Montgomery) and sprinter Francis Ude (Enugu, Nigeria). Gebeke, who barely missed qualifying for the NCAA Championship, was clocked at 2:10.4 in the 1000 meter run. Keohen ran the mile in 4:09.4 and Ude won the 60 yard dash with a time of 6.45 seconds. Gebeke and Keohen's times are personal records.

Keith Kuebelbeck (Spooner, WI) edged Scott Tessier (White Bear Lake) in the shot put as the two topped the field. Kuebelbeck and Tessier also are members of the Gopher football team.

On February 20 the team will compete in its own Minnesota Open Relays at the Fieldhouse.

SWIM TEAM IDLE AS PREPARATIONS CONTINUE FOR THE BIG TEN CHAMPIONSHIPS

In preparation for the upcoming Big Ten Championships, the University of Minnesota swimming and diving team is idle this weekend. Although the team is not in action, some of its members will participate in this weekend's US Swimming Meet in Rochester. The team, 2-3 overall and 1-2 in the conference, will compete once before the Big Ten meet when it swims in its own Minnesota Invitational on February 19 and 20. Coach Paul Stearns makes it clear that he is looking ahead to the Big Ten Championships.

"This weekend in Rochester will be a low-profile meet. I want them to swim a race that they want to concentrate on. All we do now is prepare for the conference meet. It is a time for making decisions and setting the lineup," Stearns said.

Last weekend the team picked up a victory at Iowa State after losing to Iowa. On Friday night Iowa beat the Gophers 53-41. Then on Saturday the team rallied to edge Iowa State 60-53. The squad spent over 20 hours on or waiting for a bus during the trip that was continually delayed by travel difficulties.

Stearns praised freshman distance freestyler Jeff Shea (Madison, WI) and the 400 yard freestyle relay team for their efforts in the triumph over Iowa State.

Shea set a varsity record in the 1000-yard freestyle with a time of 9:44.36, while the relay team topped its best previous time of the season by over two seconds with a clocking of 3:08.34. The team is comprised of Brian Mortenson (Brooklyn Center), Jay Peterson (Bloomington), Scott Swisher (Aberdeen, SD) and Jim Brzezinski (Burnsville).

TENNIS TEAM OPENS THE SPRING SEASON AT THE MINNESOTA COLLEGE SHOWCASE SATURDAY AND SUNDAY

Jerry Noyce's University of Minnesota tennis team opens the Spring season Saturday and Sunday in its own "College Showcase" at the Northwest Racket Club in St. Louis Park, California, Texas and South Carolina join the Gophers in the four-team field.

Competition begins at noon on Saturday. The number one singles flight is scheduled for 3:00 p.m. and the doubles competition is slated for 4:30 p.m. On Sunday, consolation action begins at 9:00 a.m., singles finals start at 12:30 p.m. with doubles following at the conclusion of the singles.

Noyce believes that his team is an underdog in the field, but is confident of its ability.

"Based on the strengths of the lineups we're the underdog. We've had some good individual results this winter and I feel we can do well. We could surprise some folks," Noyce said.

out the list of possible competitors.

Last Sunday the team's number one doubles combination of Almstrom and Kauffmann captured the Winter Carnival Tournament championship by beating two of the area's top professionals.

California, currently ranked eighth in the nation, is attempting to replace Mike Bauer who left school to turn professional. The Bears are now paced by Mark Wooldridge.

Texas, under coach Dave Snyder, is an experienced team that is considered a top contender for the Southwest Conference title this Spring. The Longhorns, ranked 12th, are lead by the doubles combination of Doug Crawford and Craig Kardon.

South Carolina returns five of its top seven players from last year's squad and was ranked 14th in a pre-season poll. Returning regulars Ulf Pettersson, Zoran Petkovic, Daron Roberts, Trevor Raal and Jose Neto form the nucleus of the 1982 Gamecock team.

On February 27 and 28 Minnesota will participate in the Kohler-Wisconsin Quadrangular in Milwaukee. --UM--

GYMNASTS AT THE UCLA INVITATIONAL ON FRIDAY NIGHT

The University of Minnesota gymnastics team journeys to Los Angeles Friday for the UCLA Invitational at 8:00 p.m. in Pauley Pavilion.

Defending NCAA champion Nebraska, Arizona State, Louisiana State and New Mexico join Minnesota and host UCLA in the six-team field. Last year UCLA captured the team title while Minnesota finished fifth.

Last Saturday Fred Roethlisberger's squad lost to Iowa State 273.5 to 270.5 in Ames to drop its record to 3-3 overall. The team finished 3-1 against Big Ten opposition this season.

Senior Brian Meeker (Edina) tied the Cyclone's Brett Finch in the all-around competition with a score of 55.9. Meeker and Finch also matched each other in the floor exercise with 9.6 performances. Meeker won the high bar competition with a score of 9.65, while teammate Jeff Murray (Green Bay, WI) topped the field in the pommel horse with a mark of 9.35.

On Saturday, February 20 the Gophers dual Wisconsin-Oshkosh at Williams Arena. That meet is the last before the Big Ten Championships, which are scheduled for March 7 and 8 at Wisconsin. --UM--

WRESTLERS MEET NORTHWESTERN AT HOME ON WEDNESDAY

Wally Johnson's University of Minnesota wrestling team duals Northwestern Wednesday night at 7:30 p.m. in Williams Arena. Following the match with the Wildcats, the team travels to Purdue and Indiana for afternoon contests on Saturday and Sunday.

Senior Jim Martinez (Osseo), 28-1 with 15 pins, continues to set the pace for the Gophers who raised their dual record to 11-2 overall and 1-1 in the Big Ten with a 21-15 victory over Michigan last Saturday night at Williams Arena.

Martinez, who has wrestled at both 142 and 150 pounds, saw his unbeaten string end at 27 on February 1 when Iowa's Lenny Zalesky came from behind to top him 7-5 at the 16th Annual NCAA East-West All-Star Meet at Lehigh University.

Defending Big Ten champions Gary Lefebvre (Elk River), 25-4 with 11 pins, and Dalen Wasmund (Worthington), 22-6-1, combine with Martinez to give Minnesota tremendous lower weight strength. Lefebvre wrestles at 126 pounds and Wasmund follows at 134 pounds.

Northwestern enters the match 9-9 overall and 2-5 in the Big Ten. The Wildcats, who have lost four in a row, fell to Wisconsin and Ohio State last weekend. Freshman 118 pounder Don Horning, 25-7, is coach Tom Jarman's top wrestler.

Purdue is 1-5 overall and 0-4 in the Big Ten, while Indiana is 3-10 and 1-5. The Boilermakers are lead by 134 pound Jeff Tolbert, 14-4; the Hoosiers consider 126 pound Mark Galyan, 16-7-1, their best wrestler.

The Gophers final dual of the season is Friday, February 19 when the team faces Ohio State in Columbus. --UM--

ICERS HOME TO DENVER

Minneapolis, MN---Minnesota gained a leg up in its battle to hold on to third place in the WCHA standings, and faces another tough challenge this week when Denver comes back to Williams Arena. The Friday-Saturday games begin at 7:30 p.m..

Minnesota gained what many believe was a surprise victory at Madison, WI, last Friday as the Gophers outlasted at that time the nation's number one collegiate hockey team, Wisconsin, 2-1 in a trilling overtime victory.

Wisconsin came back strong the next night to shutout the Gophers 5-0. But Minnesota did not lose any ground as fourth place Minnesota-Duluth was losing twice at home to North Dakota.

The Gophers now have a 5-point spread over Minnesota-Duluth as league action enters its final two weekends of play. So now the magic number for Minnesota stands at two. Any combination of Gopher wins or UM-D losses that adds up to two means a third place finish for Minnesota. The Bulldogs have totaled 17 WCHA points.

Wisconsin and North Dakota, who face each other in Grand Forks this weekend, have already clinched the one and two positions in the final standings. Who ends up in which spot could be decided this weekend. Next week (2/26-27) North Dakota is at Denver and Wisconsin at Minnesota-Duluth.

The Gophers finish their regular season play the same weekend at home to last place Colorado College.

Just three weeks ago Minnesota took two games from Denver in a series also played at Williams Arena. The Gophers won 4-3 and 4-0 to go up 3-1-0 this season. The schools split two games in Denver last November. DU took the first match 7-3 with Minnesota winning the next night 9-4.

UM-WISCONSIN SERIES

Last Friday in Madison, another packed house at Dane County Coliseum was treated to a classic hockey match. The game belonged to Gopher goalie Paul Ostby and Badger netminder Terry Kleisinger. Both men excelled at their trade.

Each team placed 45 shots on goal during the 63 minutes and nine seconds of action. Each team scored once in the opening period, and the rest of the evening belonged to Ostby and Kleisinger.

It wasn't until 3:09 had elapsed in overtime that Minnesota's Jeff Teal, on a partial breakaway, flipped the puck off Kleisinger's ribs and into the net to give the young Gophers an improbable road victory. It was Teal's first goal in nine games, and possibly the biggest in his four years at Minnesota.

"I do not believe there is any question that Friday produced our finest three periods of hockey this season," Gopher coach Brad Buetow said Monday. "We were playing against the best, and to come away with a win in a tight game like that has to be a giant plus for our program.

"I have said for the last couple of weeks that (Paul) Ostby has been showing the most consistant goal tending I have seen since I joined the Minnesota staff. I believe his performance in that game proved my statement.

"But he was not alone. Every man who skated turned in an excellent performance. I was proud of every man on our squad."

The next night did not produce such positive results for the Gophers. After a scoreless first period, a period that resembled Friday's game, Wisconsin broke things open with three second period goals.

Victimized was goalie Jim Jetland who was thrown into action stone cold when Ostby couldn't come out to play the second period. Ostby received a deep bone bruise in his left shoulder from a hard Wisconsin shot. It is hoped he will be ready for action this weekend.

Mental lapses in the Gopher end provided Wisconsin with the puck right in front of the Gopher net and Jetland had little chance to stop the Badgers. Also, Wisconsin's defense closed down the UM offense and the Badgers were on their way to gaining a series split.

"There is now way I can fault the play of Jim Jetland in the second and third periods," Buetow added. "It was his first action since back in December and an awfully tough way to break back in. I'm certain he will give us more solid work as the season progresses."

Buetow said he hopes to have Ostby ready for duty against Denver this weekend. But if the Elk River senior can't perform, then he will not hesitate to start Jetland Friday.

"There is little question that Denver remembers losing twice here recently and will be out to play much, much better against us," Buetow said. "They are only one point behind fourth place Minnesota-Duluth and want badly to pass them and ourselves, if they can, to reach the third or fourth spot and gain home ice for the first round WCHA playoffs.

"At the same time we want badly to maintain our third place position. We can't move any higher in the final standings, so it is our hope to finish as high as possible. We'll need much of the same type of play we exhibited last weekend to protect our place in the standings."

MINNESOTA CAGERS TO INVADE ILLINOIS

After playing host to Northwestern University in Williams Arena on Thursday, Coach Jim Dutcher will take his University of Minnesota basketball team to Champaign, IL, Saturday for a re-match with the Fighting Illini.

The Gophers, right in the midst of another hectic Big Ten Conference title chase, will risk an overall record of 17-4 and a Big Ten mark....good for sole possession of second place in the standings...of 9-3 against the Wildcats at home on Thursday.

The Gophers gained that standing on the strength of two conference wins last week. First Minnesota outlasted Wisconsin 71-60 at home and then survived a big scare at Purdue 53-52 on Saturday.

"We struggled twice last week," Coach Dutcher admitted. "We did not have a good week of practice after losing to Indiana and our performances reflected that effort. But they were both wins, and they kept us in the race with Iowa."

Against Wisconsin, Minnesota had jumped to a commanding 24-8 lead in the first half only to ease up and let the Badgers back into things. Then it took a host (eight of nine) free throws at the end to ice the victory.

At Purdue Saturday, the Gophers were able to record their first win there since the 1972-73 season and again free throws made the difference. Trailing by four points with just over a minute to play, Minnesota battled back. And with only one second showing on the clock, senior guard Darryl Mitchell hit two charity tosses to gain the verdict for the Gophers.

"It was a dramatic finish," Dutcher agreed. "More important, it came at a crucial time in the season for us. We literally came back from the dead, and it really was a gutty effort on the part of our players. Maybe it wasn't smooth. Maybe it wasn't pretty. But I think we played like a typical Big Ten team."

Now the Gophers have won two in a row, and they would like to put a string of victories together. "It's a tough time of year for everyone," Dutcher said. "Everyone seems tired, but I believe it is a mental fatigue rather than a physical fatigue. We are playing with maturity, and that's a big factor. And our win at Purdue shows that sometimes its better to be lucky than good."

Can the Gophers be both good and lucky this week? They'll have to be if they hope to add any wins to their two-game string. "Don't be deceived by Northwestern's record," Dutcher warns. "Every team has good players, and it is upset time in the Big Ten. Northwestern scares us. We will have to play well to win."

And if that assignment isn't tough enough, looking ahead to playing at Illinois is even tougher. Dutcher hasn't forgotten the fact that the Illinois topped his club 64-57 at Williams Arena earlier this year. So the Gophers would like a little revenge.

Trent Tucker, Randy Breuer, Gary Holmes and Mitchell are sure starters. Tommy Davis has been getting the nod lately, but Mark Hall came off the bench and played well at Purdue. Indications are that he may be ready to make a contribution. That could get him a starting role this week either against Northwestern at home or at IL.

GOPHERS SIGN 28 GRAD PROSPECTS

Twenty-eight football prospects have signed national letters of intent with the University of Minnesota and are expected to be playing for Coach Joe Salem and the Golden Gophers in 1982.

Included in the signees are five junior college transfers. One of those, defensive back Craig White, already is enrolled. The final four will be in school for the spring term and all five will be able to participate in spring football practice.

Seven of the incoming freshmen are from high schools in Minnesota. That group includes Scott Annexstad of St. Peter, Eric Johnson of Edina, Greg Mulligan of Richfield, Mike Piel of North Branch, Mike Praus of Wayzata, Joe Winkelman of Richfield and Ivan Zubar of Richfield.

Zubar, a 6-4, 230-pound defensive end, probably ranked as the most highly recruited athlete in Minnesota this year, and signing him to a U of M tender helped make the 1982 delegation a good one.

"We feel that we recruited some real quality athletes," Coach Salem said. "It certainly is the best group that we have signed in the four years that I have been at Minnesota, and from what others tell me it could be the best in the past 10 years."

All five of the incoming transfers were attending community colleges in California. In addition to the seven native Minnesotans, the other 16 out-of-state high schools seniors signing with the Gophers were from Wisconsin (2), Ohio (1), Michigan (4), Pennsylvania (2), Illinois (4), Tennessee (1), California (1) and Iowa (1).

"We went into the recruiting season hoping to get at least one player at every position," Salem said. "As we look back, it appears that we were able to accomplish that goal everywhere except at quarterback."

Salem also admitted that quarterback was not a high priority item at the moment since he does have record-setting Mike Hohensee returning along with back up (and 1980 starter) Tim Salem returning.

"As we looked at the student-athletes available," Salem analyzed, "we concentrated on people with speed. It has become obvious that speed and quickness are the dominating assets in football today, and that's what we went after. Again, we think we got the job done."

Salem also felt good about the "big" players that the Gophers recruited this year. "We've lacked the dominating big man the past few years," Salem admitted, "but we think that we have been able to recruit more linemen, especially defensive linemen, who have the ability to be a dominating type of player than ever before. It is a good looking group."

Leading the "speed" category would have to be Greg McCoy, a wide receiver from Chicago, IL (Sullivan) who is described as a flyer. And in the "dominating linemen" category, Terrance Roberson of Detroit, MI (Redford) looks like a pace setter.

GYMNASTS MEET WISCONSIN-OSHKOSH SATURDAY IN LAST HOME MEET

The University of Minnesota gymnastic team entertains Wisconsin-Oshkosh Saturday afternoon at 2 p.m. in Williams Arena. The meet is the last dual of the season for coach Fred Roethlisberger's Gopher squad prior to the Big Ten Championships April 1-3 at Wisconsin.

All-arounder Brian Meeker (Edina) and pommel horse specialists Bob Harrison (Hinsdale, IL) and Jeff Murray (Green Bay, WI) are making their last collegiate appearances at home on Saturday.

A member of the National Team in 1980-81 and 1981-82, Meeker was the all-around champion at the National Sports Festival last summer in Syracuse. In 1981, Brian was the Big Ten all-around champ and finished ninth in the NCAA Championship.

Meeker was injured in the Sports Festival, but has returned to full strength. Roethlisberger believes Brian is at his peak heading into the Big Ten and NCAA Championships.

Harrison has moved into a regular position this season, while Murray is the team's top performer in the pommel horse. His 9.24 average is among the best in the league.

The Gophers, 3-3 overall and 3-1 in the Big Ten, finished fourth last Friday in the six-team UCLA Invitational. Minnesota scored 270.30 points compared to Nebraska's amazing first place tally of 284.50.

Coach Ken Allen's Titans are led by senior co-captain Mickey Smith and Dan Nekich. Smith is the team leader in floor exercise and the vault, while Nekich is an all-arounder.

MINNESOTA OPEN RELAYS SCHEDULED FOR SATURDAY

Minnesota's track and field team will compete in its own Minnesota Open Relays Saturday at the University Fieldhouse. Action is scheduled to begin at 10 a.m.

The annual competition features the area's top college and individual athletes in a relay format. No team scores will be compiled for the meet.

Last Saturday the Gophers participated in Nebraska's Husker Open. Junior Mike Gebeke (White Bear Lake) turned in a strong performance in the 1000-yard run with a second place finish and a time of 2:12.34. Teammate Mike Moran (Cottage Grove) finished third in the same race with a clocking of 2:12.56.

Other Gopher standouts included Francis Ude (Enugue, Nigeria) and Al Whitesell (Coon Rapids). Ude finished fourth in the 300-yard dash with a time of 31.33, while Whitesell pole vaulted 15'9" for a sixth-place finish.

On February 27, coach Roy Griak's squad travels to Champaign for the Illini Classic.

MINNESOTA INVITATIONAL ON TAP FOR GOPHER SWIMMERS

In its final meet before the Big Ten Championships, the University of Minnesota swimming and diving team faces Bemidji State and Minnesota-Duluth in the Minnesota Invitational Friday and Saturday in the Cooke Hall Pool.

Led by distance freestyler Jeff Shea (Madison, WI) and a strong 400-yard freestyle relay team, the Gophers are 2-3 overall and 1-2 in the Big Ten.

Other top Gophers include: sprint freestyler Brian Mortenson (Brooklyn Center), butterfly specialist Bob Barrett (Arlington Heights, IL) and diver Flip Crummer (Omaha, NE).

Coach Paul Stearn's team last competed on February 5 and 6 when it split a pair in Iowa, losing to the University of Iowa and downing Iowa State.

Minnesota-Duluth, under coach Gary Krampf, is 3-6 this season. The Bulldogs Bruce Burgstahler, a distance freestyler, and divers Jim Morris and Al Hudacek have all qualified for the NCAA Division II National Championships.

Bemidji State, 3-2, is paced by freestylers Jeff Cain and Rick Fitzgerald along with butterflyer Jon Schmitz and diver Ed Lugeanbeal. Lee Ahlbrecht's Beavers have finished in the NAIA's top ten for the past four years and were fifth last season.

WRESTLERS CONCLUDE DUAL SEASON FRIDAY NIGHT AT OHIO STATE

In its last dual meet of the season, the University of Minnesota wrestling team journeys to Columbus to face Ohio State Friday night at St. John's Arena. The Gophers are 14-2 overall and 4-1 in the Big Ten, while the Buckeye's, who wrestle Michigan State on Tuesday, are 13-5-1 and 3-3.

Coach Wally Johnson's squad is led by senior 142-pounder Jim Martinez (Osseo). Martinez is 31-1 with 16 pins this season.

Defending Big Ten champions Gary Lefebvre (Elk River), 28-4 with 12 pins, and Dalen Wasmund (Worthington), 25-6-1, combine with Martinez to give the Gophers tremendous lower weight strength. Lefebvre wrestles at 126 pounds and Wasmund follows at 134 pounds.

Last week, the team easily defeated three conference opponents. On Wednesday, Northwestern fell 39-7 at Williams Arena. Then Saturday and Sunday on the road the Gophers beat Purdue 35-5 and Indiana 29-12.

Ohio State, under coach Chris Ford, is paced by 118 pound Dane Tussel, 31-8-1, 167 pound Ed Potokar, 28-4 and heavyweight Erick Neily, 34-8.

Following the meet with the Buckeyes, Minnesota will participate in the Big Ten Championship on February 27-28 at Michigan.

TENNIS TEAM IDLE AFTER SUCCESSFUL COLLEGE SHOWCASE

Jerry Noyce's University of Minnesota tennis team is idle this week after its successful College Showcase last weekend.

On February 27-28 the team will compete in the Kohler-Wisconsin Quadrangular in Milwaukee. Duke and Northwestern join the Gophers and the host Badgers in the field.

The Gopher's number one doubles combination of Ted Kauffmann (Toledo, OH) and Hakan Almstrom (Stockholm, Sweden) captured the title in the Showcase with an impressive straight set victory over their Californian opponents. Almstrom also won the number two singles championship.

In the team standings, Minnesota finished last behind Texas (9 points), California and South Carolina (3 each). Minnesota had 6-1/2 points.

ICERS CLINCH 3RD, HOST C.C.

Minneapolis, MN---With third place clinched in the final WCHA standings, and no chance to move either up or down, the Minnesota hockey Gophers can relax and take it easy with but one regular season series remaining as Colorado College visits Williams Arena for 7:30 p.m. games Friday and Saturday.

Wrong! Following this weekend, Minnesota and the other five WCHA members begin their annual trek down playoff lane. Minnesota will be at home for the first round playoffs Friday and Saturday, March 5-6. However, UM, at this point, does not know who its opponent will be.

Should Minnesota capture one game from the Tigers this weekend, then Colorado College will be at Williams Arena next weekend, too. The new WCHA playoff format calls for the 6th place team to visit the 3rd place school, and the 5th place team visits the 4th finisher while the top two clubs, North Dakota and Wisconsin, receive first round byes.

At present Denver is in fourth place and Minnesota-Duluth fifth. However, all that could change when this weekend is over as Denver hosts the new WCHA leader North Dakota, and UM-D is home to second place Wisconsin. Depending on how the latter series turn out, Denver and UM-D could change places. And if C.C. takes Minnesota twice, the Tigers could pass either or both Denver and UM-D.

Second round playoff action sends winners of the first two series to North Dakota and Wisconsin. So, no, the Gophers are not about to relax and enjoy the fruits of a third place finish.

This year's WCHA playoff winner is automatically seeded into the final field of eight teams which comprise the first round NCAA playoffs. . .the target of every collegiate hockey club entering post season playoffs.

UM-DU SPLIT HERE

Last weekend Minnesota had to go through Saturday's game in the series against Denver here before clinching third place. Denver, behind WCHA scoring leader Ed Beers' fourth league hat trick, took Minnesota 4-3 on Friday. Beers' performance clouded the first ever hat trick scored by Gopher wing Tom Rothstein.

On Saturday, Minnesota jumped two a 6-2 lead midway through the second period led by two goals from freshman center Rick Erdall. Erdall tipped in two power play goals and, with two assists on Friday, enjoyed one of his best weekends in this, his rookie season.

But Denver wasn't through. The Pioneers got one back in the second period, then added two more in the final stanza to trim Minnesota's lead to 6-5. But Gopher goalie Paul Ostby hung in there and UM gained a key league victory.

BUETOW ON THE GOPHERS

"It appeared our men believed the regular season was over the way we played on Friday," Gopher head coach Brad Buetow said Monday. "However, I was happy to see the way we bounced back to win Saturday.

"In a way this has kind of been a pattern for us all season. . .play lousy on Friday and go like gangbusters the next night. I suppose I have to go back to the same old item, young people still gaining experience, to explain that pattern.

"But one thing is for certain. We simply cannot afford to fall into that kind of syndrome when it comes to the playoffs. Even though each series has the two-game, total-goal format, you can't afford to give your opponent that first night edge.

"We were pleased to reform our freshman line of (Rick) Erdall, (Billy) Yon and (Jim) Malwitz. This unit produced four goals over the weekend, even though two of them were scored when (Tom) Rothstein got his hat trick Friday. Rothstein was skating in place of Malwitz who received a slight concussion in the first period that night. But he came back to take two late shifts in that game, and then scored a goal for us on Saturday."

Prior to Saturday's game vs. C.C., eight members of this year's Gopher varsity will be honored during the annual senior night presentation. To be introduced, along with their parents, are: Dave Dillon, Bloomington; Captain Kevin Hartzell, St. Paul; Jim Jetland, Grand Rapids; Jeff Langevin, St. Paul; John Muskat, Duluth; Paul Ostby, Elk River; Brian Thoresen, Minnetonka; and Alternate Captain Jeff Teal, Rochester. Combined these seight men have appeared in 572 games for the Gopher varsity.

GOPHERS IN MOST CRITICAL WEEK OF SEASON

What may turn out to be the toughest as well as the most critical week of the 1931-32 basketball season is underway for Coach Jim Dutcher and his University of Minnesota Golden Gophers.

Thursday Minnesota is slated to invade Ann Arbor for an 3:05 p.m. (7:05 Minnesota time) Big Ten Conference assignment against the hottest team in the league. Then on Saturday the Gophers must invade Iowa City to take on arch rival Iowa. Tip off is 2:05 p.m.

With only four games remaining in the '32 Big Ten race and Iowa still leading Minnesota by one game, every outing is critical. But none appear as tough as these two road assignments. Not even the two home games against Michigan State and Ohio State next week.

"Michigan is playing well," Coach Dutcher said. "They had their troubles early in the year, but they have come on strong. They have won four out of their last five games, and they have won four straight at home."

"If that doesn't sound tough enough, the trip to Iowa City Saturday will be. It will be the last game ever played in the Iowa arena (the Hawks move into a new facility next season) and Coach Lute Olson's contingent....as well as the Iowa fans... have been pointing to this rematch for several weeks.

Minnesota won both "first encounters" this season with Michigan and Iowa. At Williams Arena in January, the Gophers prevailed over the Wolverines 67-58 and they downed the Hawkeyes 61-56.

Since then Michigan has, as Dutcher points out, improved its stock. It will come into Thursday's shootout with an overall record of 6-16 and a Big Ten mark of 5-9. The Wolves are tied for seventh place with Michigan State six games behind Minnesota.

Iowa, meanwhile, is setting the pace for Big Ten entries. The Hawkeyes are 19-4 on the year and 10-4 in loop play. What did Iowa do last weekend in its most recent assignment? It fell to Michigan 68-58.

"We missed a chance to move up in the standings," Dutcher pointed out, "but it was that kind of day in the Big Ten. All three of the top teams (Iowa, Minnesota, Indiana) lost games by at least 10 points. It's that time of year when non-contenders are loose and play well. Any team has a chance to win."

The Gophers will put an overall record of 13-5 and a Big Ten log of 10-4 on the line at Ann Arbor Thursday after splitting honors last week. First Minnesota won at home 76-66 over Northwestern but then lost 77-65 at Illinois on Saturday.

"Against Northwestern we were six down in the first half and then scored 19 straight to take command," Dutcher pointed out. We moved the ball well and got the momentum. At Illinois, we had a terrible shooting day. We had to play from behind, and we got beat by quickness."

So where does that put Minnesota in its quest for a Big Ten title and an NCAA post season tournament bid? "The top six teams in the conference are all thinking alike," Dutcher maintains. "They all feel they can win their last four games and get a tournament bid. We're no different. In the process, we can win the title as well.

WRESTLERS SET FOR THE BIG TEN CHAMPIONSHIP MEET

Wally Johnson's University of Minnesota wrestling team competes in the 68th Annual Big Ten Championship Meet Saturday and Sunday at the University of Michigan.

Last Friday the Gophers raised their dual record to 15-2 and 5-1 in the conference with a 24-16 road victory over Ohio State.

The Gophers, who finished second in the Big Ten last year, are led by the senior lower weight combination of 126-pound Gary Lefebvre (Elk River), 134-pound Dalen Wasmund (Worthington) and 142-pound Jim Martinez (Osseo).

Lefebvre and Wasmund are defending conference champions, while Martinez is a past champion who is currently ranked number two in the nation.

Rounding out the Gopher lineup are expected to be 118-pound Ed Giese (Wood Dale, IL), 150-pound Steve Martinez (Osseo), 158-pound Darrell Gholar (Chicago, IL), 167-pound Craig Wiklund (Bloomington), 177-pound Mark Luby (Minneapolis), 190-pound Mark Miller (Afton) and heavyweight Al Jenson (Foley).

The NCAA Championship Meet follows the conference meet on March 11-13 at Iowa State.

TENNIS TEAM AT THE KOHLER-WISCONSIN QUADRANGULAR

After a one-week layoff, the University of Minnesota men's tennis team swings back in action Friday and Saturday at the Kohler-Wisconsin Quadrangular in Milwaukee. Duke and Northwestern join the Gophers and host Badgers in the field.

Coach Jerry Noyce has juggled his lineup for the meet. Ted Kauffmann (Toledo, OH) moves from number one to number three singles, while Hakan Almstrom (Stockholm, Sweden) and Mike Hoeger (Sioux Falls, SD) move up into the number one and two positions. Number four Brace Helgeson (St. Cloud), number five Pete Kolaric (Wickliffe, OH) and number six Dave Morin (White Bear Lake) will again man those spots. The doubles pairing of Kauffmann-Almstrom at number one, Hoeger-Helgeson at number two and Morin-Kolaric at number three remain unchanged.

The team last competed two weeks ago when it finished fourth in its own Minnesota College Showcase.

GYMNASTS PREPARE FOR THE BIG TEN CHAMPIONSHIP MEET

Coming off its best performance in history, the University of Minnesota men's gymnastics team heads into the 74th Annual Big Ten Championship Meet at Wisconsin on March 7-8.

Last Saturday in a dual with Wisconsin-Oshkosh the Gophers scored 275.40 points to set a new school record. Oshkosh, the defending Division II national champions finished with 258.20.

The victory raised the team's final dual record to 4-3 and 4-1 in the Big Ten. With a current NCAA qualifying average of 271.80, the Gophers are in a strong position to compete in the NCAA Championships at Nebraska in early April.

The dual with Oshkosh was senior Brian Meeker's (Edina) last collegiate appearance in Williams Arena. The defending Big Ten all-around champion responded with a brilliant performance. His all-around total of 57.15 included an amazing 9.9 on the high bar.

Official Statement from Mark Hall, issued at 11:45 p.m. on Monday, Feb. 22, '82

"The Golden Gopher basketball team is number one in my heart. My only wish in staying with the team as long as I have was to contribute to winning the Big Ten championship and going to the NCAA Tournament.

"It is now clear to me, however, that my continued presence on the team will only detract from our team's chances of achieving those goals. The negative publicity regarding my legal difficulties is distracting my teammates, my coach is being subjected to unfair pressure and criticism, and I am unable to concentrate on my game. Because of this, I have decided to withdraw from the Gopher basketball team.

"I wish Coach Dutcher and my team the best of luck."

When learning of Hall's decision to withdraw from the team late Monday night, Coach Jim Dutcher responded:

"Since I was instrumental in recruiting Mark to the University of Minnesota for the purpose of his continuing his career as a student-athlete, I regret that his collegiate career should end in disappointment."

Hall quits Gopher team

By Sid Hartman
Staff Writer

Mark Hall, the senior guard, decided Monday afternoon to withdraw as a member of the University of Minnesota basketball team.

Hall originally was declared ineligible to play basketball at the University because of a scholastic problem with General College. However, after going to court he was declared eligible to play by U.S. District Judge Miles Lord.

Subsequently Hall was alleged to have made a number of phone calls charging them to 20 University numbers. In addition he ran up a phone bill of $959.78 on his apartment phone and was sued last week for that bill in Hennepin County Conciliation Court.

Hall is scheduled to appear today at 2 p.m. before a University student disciplinary committee. There was a strong chance that he would be suspended and this may have been one of the reasons why he decided to withdraw from the team.

Hall had said Monday afternoon that his lawyer Al Faulconer, "tried to pay the University for the calls he had charged to them but apparently they want to get me and won't accept the money."

Faulconer released the following statement on Hall's behalf late last night:

"The Golden Gopher basketball team is number one in my heart. My only wish in staying with the team as long as I have was to contribute to winning the Big Ten championship and going to the NCAA tournament.

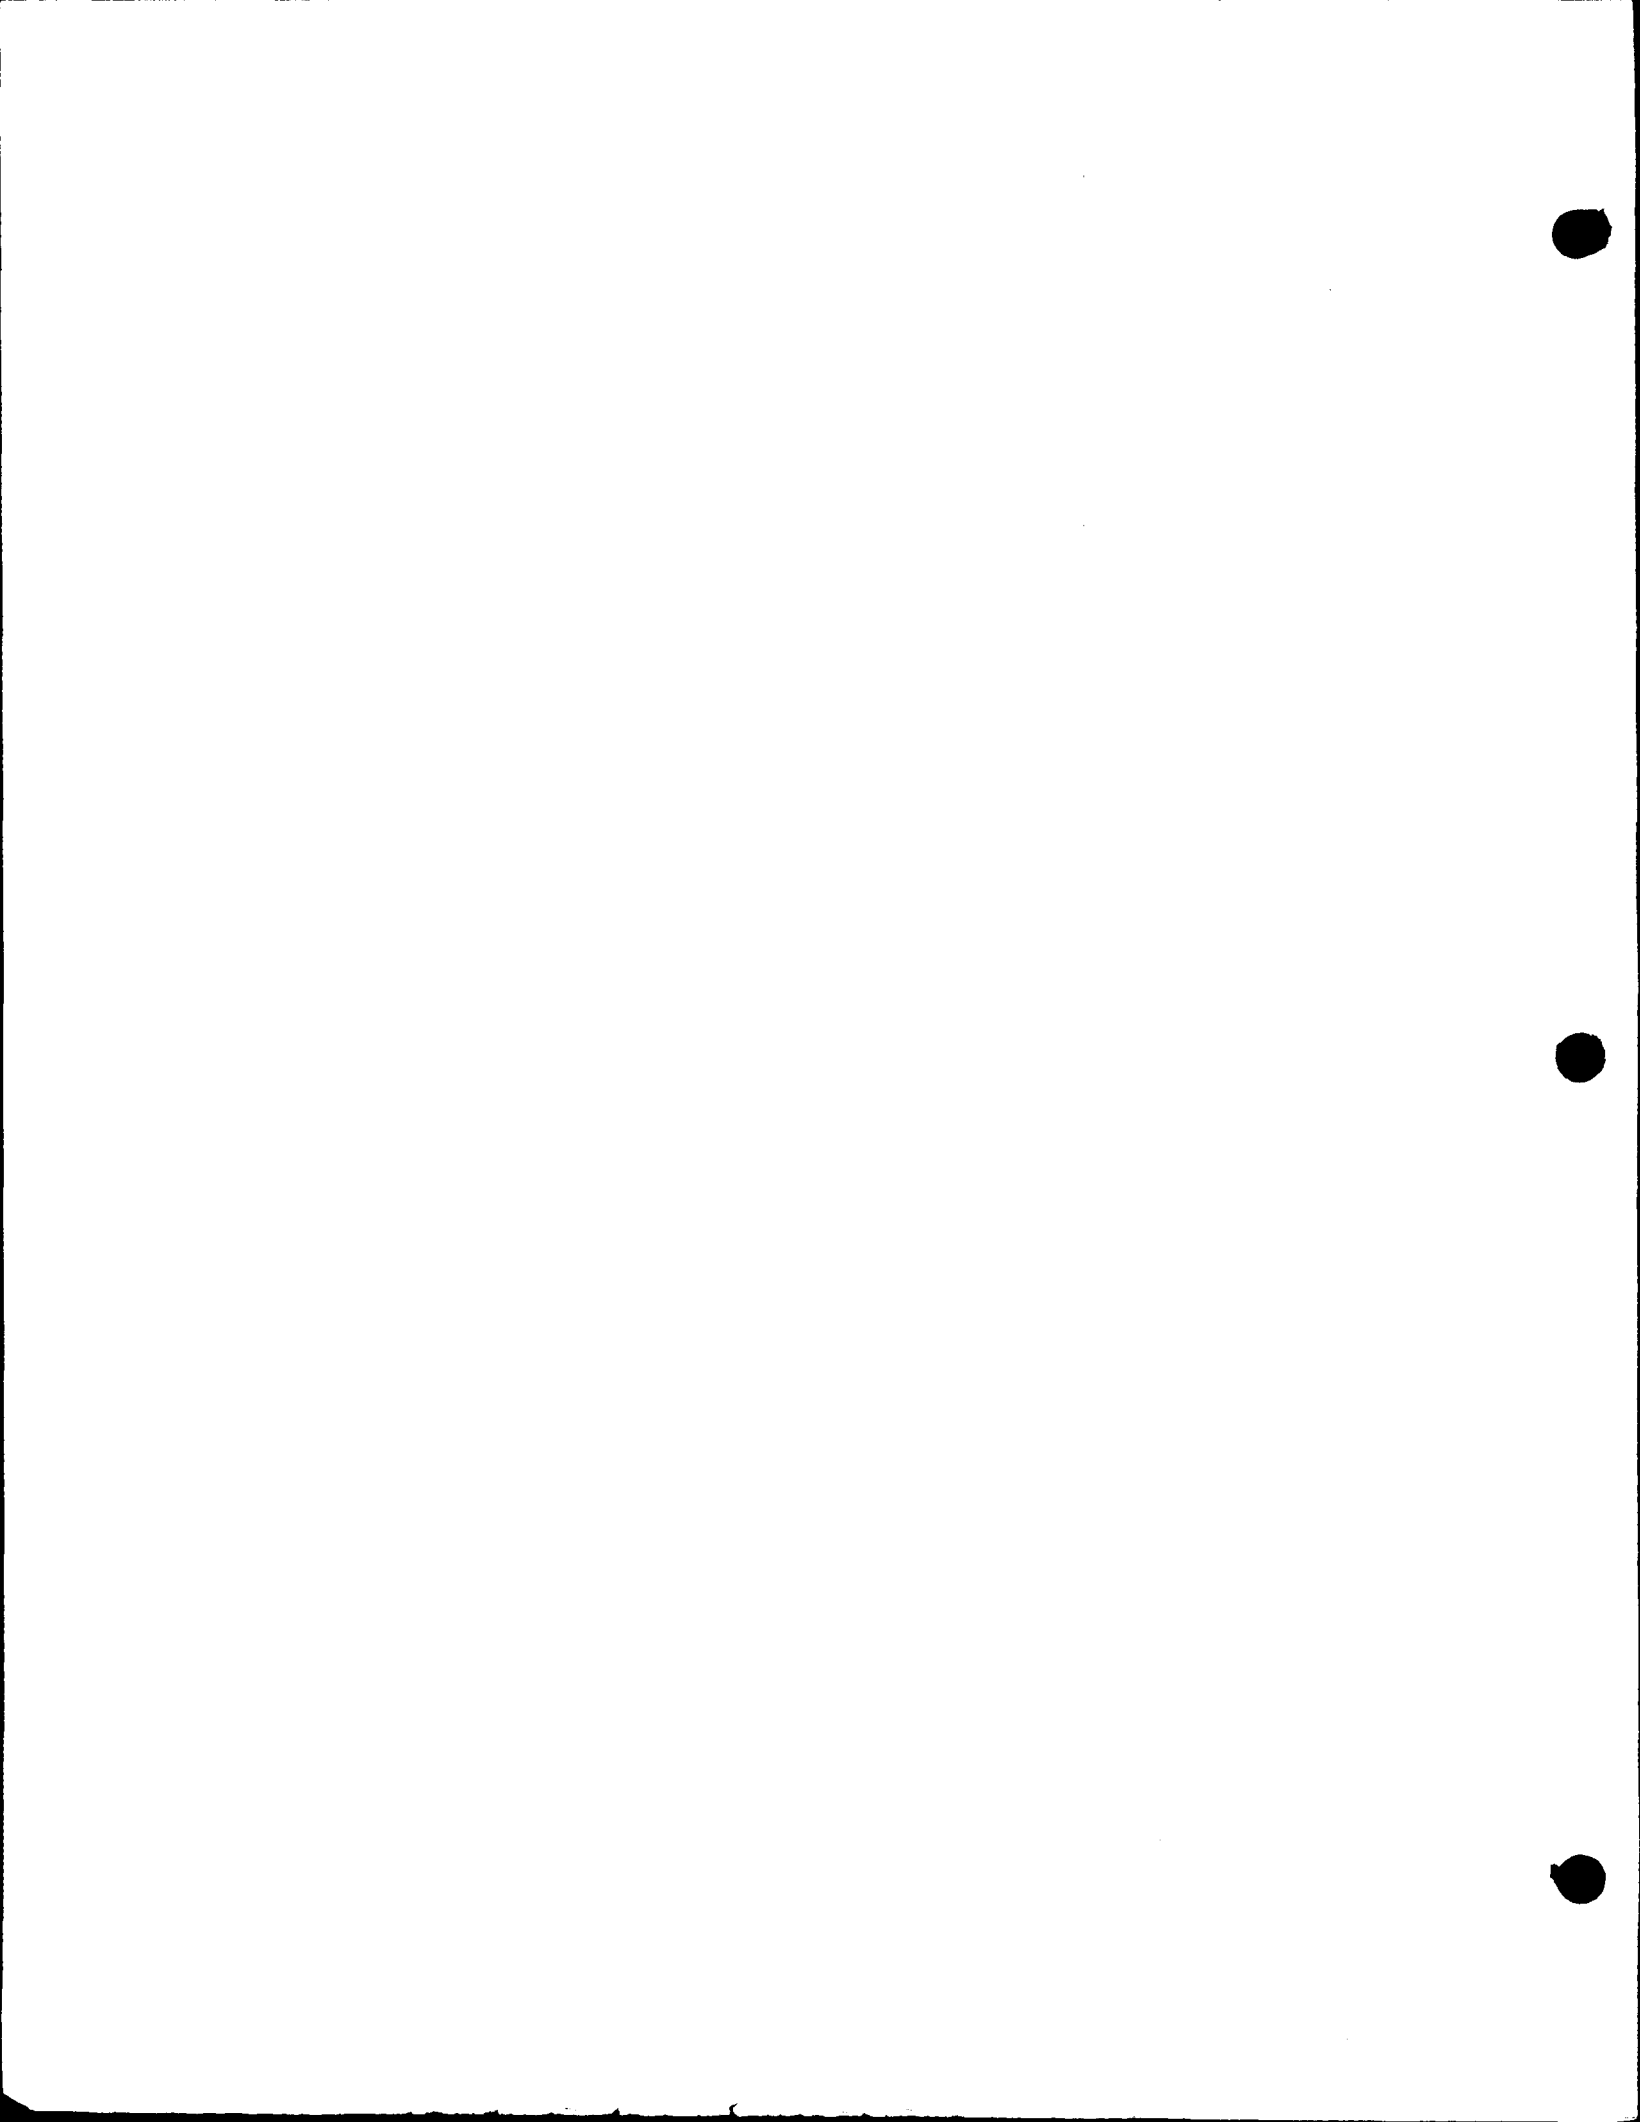

"It is clear to me now, however, that my continued presence on the team will only detract from our team's chances of achieving those goals. The negative publicity regarding my legal difficulties is distracting my teammates, my coach is being subjected to unfair pressure and criticism, and I am unable to concentrate on my game. Because of this, I have decided to withdraw from the Gopher basketball team.

"I wish Coach (Jim) Dutcher and my team the best of luck."

It's no secret that Dutcher has been very uncomfortable with the Hall situation for some time. It has been his feeling the players on the Gopher team were not getting the credit due them and unfortunately the publicity the team was getting only concerned Hall.

After learning of the announcement Dutcher said, "Since I was instrumental in recruiting Mark to the University of Minnesota for the purpose of his continuing his career as a student-athlete I regret that his collegiate career should end in disappointment."

While Dutcher refused to say it, it is apparent that Hall had the choice of withdrawing from the team or being asked to leave.

GOPHERS SHOOT FOR BIG TEN CHAMPIONSHIP THIS WEEK

With the 1982 Big Ten title in sight and at stake, Coach Jim Dutcher's gummy University of Minnesota basketball team returns to Williams Arena for the final two shootouts of the current campaign this weekend.

Thursday the Golden Gophers entertain Michigan State in an 8:05 p.m. confrontation before playing host to red-hot Ohio State in a Big Ten television game of the week extravaganza at 2:05 p.m. on Saturday.

Minnesota set the stage for those showdowns by winning two dramatic road decisions this past week. First the Gophers invaded Ann Arbor where they had not won since the 1962-63 season (16 straight setbacks) and downed Michigan 61-50. Then on Saturday Minnesota took on pace-setting Iowa in Iowa City and emerged with a 57-55 three-overtime victory over the Hawkeyes.

"It was a tremendous week for us," Dutcher admitted, "and it really shows the kind of character, the kind of courage, that this team has. Those two wins didn't give us the Big Ten title, but they put us in position to win the title."

Darryl Mitchell, the 6-5 senior from West Palm Beach, FL who has established himself as one of the premier guards in the Big Ten if not the entire nation, was Minnesota's hero in both victories last week.

At Michigan, Mitchell single-handedly kept the Gophers in contention (they led 22-21 at the intermission) throughout the first half with a seven-for-nine performance from the field before finishing with a game high of 23 points.

Then at Iowa Mitchell drilled in another game high 21 points including two free throws with no time left on the clock in the third overtime period to give Minnesota its narrow margin of victory.

Mitchell's deadly accuracy from the free throw line in that pressure-packed situation was remindful of a similar finish at Purdue a couple of weeks earlier when he dropped in a pair of charity tosses with one second left to give the Gophers a come-from-behind 53-52 verdict. And it has prompted Mitchell's teammates to proclaim, when the gutty senior steps to the line, "The Iceman cometh?"

The Gophers overcame all kinds of odds to win their two road assignments last week. First Randy Breuer sprained his ankle in practice the day before the Michigan contest. And moments later Mitchell caught an elbow in the mouth. It took 11 stitches to close the wound.

Breuer was hampered by that twisted ankle and did not start against the Wolves. But he came off the bench to play 31 minutes of solid defense and help spark the Gophers to their first win ever in Crisler Arena (after 13 straight setbacks in that facility). He played 53 courageous minutes at Iowa where he finished with 12 points, five rebounds and three blocked shots.

Winning at Iowa was even more of an accomplishment. It was the last game ever to be played in the Iowa Fieldhouse (the Hawks will move into a new arena next season) and the SRO crowd of 13,365 gave the host contingent a big and noisy home-court advantage. In addition Iowa had not lost at home since Minnesota prevailed one year (and 10 games) ago.

But Dutcher's contingent overcame all the odds and won its 20th game of the 1981-82 season (against five losses). It also moved into a tie with Iowa for first place in the Big Ten standings at 12-4, one game ahead of third-place Ohio State.

"We haven't been in a smooth groove for the last couple of weeks," Dutcher maintained after the win at Michigan. "We struggled a bit at times against the Wolverines, but the win did a lot for us. We went into that game knowing we had to win to stay in the race. Despite the pressure, our kids were able to win, and that set the stage for Saturday's game at Iowa."

All that did was give the partisan Iowa fans 55 minutes of heart stopping basketball at its best. "It was pressure," Mitchell said after his game winning points went up on the scoreboard, "but that's Big Ten basketball. It's the championship you are playing for. It's the epitome of college basketball."

Dutcher called it "The greatest game I've ever been involved in" as a college basketball coach. And what does it do? One more time, it sets the stage for this week's crucial, critical title-deciding conference assignments.

Michigan State will come into Thursday night's clash with an overall record of 11-15 and a Big Ten log of 6-10. The Spartans are in seventh place in the current loop standings. Earlier in the year, Minnesota won at East Lansing 64-50.

Ohio State, meanwhile came into this week's action boasting a winning streak of six straight triumphs, an overall mark of 20-8 and a loop record of 11-5. The Buckeyes knocked off talented Illinois 63-53 last weekend and will play at Wisconsin on Thursday before invading Williams Arena on Saturday. In the first meeting of the '82 season between the Bucks and Gophers at Columbus, Ohio State prevailed 49-47.

Two games to go. The 1982 Big Ten title's at stake. One might say the stage is set again.

ICERS HOST C.C. 1ST ROUND PLAYOFFS

Minneapolis, MN---One season is over. But another begins this weekend when the Minnesota hockey Gophers host Colorado College in the first round WCHA playoffs Friday and Saturday at Williams Arena. Both games begin at 7:30 p.m. CST.

These same schools met in the regular season final series last weekend, also at Williams Arena, with Minnesota taking both ends, 4-3 and 8-3. The wins left Minnesota in third place behind WCHA champion North Dakota and runner-up Wisconsin, while Colorado College finished sixth.

Should the Gophers prevail against C.C. this weekend, then Minnesota would travel to Wisconsin and play a second round series Tuesday and Wednesday, March 9-10, against the Badgers. All WCHA playoff series are two-games, total-goals.

BUETOW ON PLAYOFFS

"I'm pleased we are going into the playoffs with the momentum of having won our last three games," Gopher head coach Brad Buetow said Monday. "But at the same time I'm extremely concerned about playing Colorado College back to back.

"How many times have you seen one team defeat another during the season, and then see the defeated club come back to knock you off in the playoffs. And that goes for all sports, not just hockey.

"Colorado College comes in here with nothing to lose. They finished sixth in league play and we finished third. So the pressure is on us, not them.

"Who can forget what they have done in the playoffs the last few years. In 1979 they knocked us out, and last year shocked second place Wisconsin by defeating the Badgers 13-12 in two games at Madison. So who is to say they can't do it again. They always seem to come into the playoffs loose and let it all hang out. I believe we are in for a much, much tougher series this weekend.

"Colorado College played last weekend without two of their best forwards, Bruce Aikens and Butch Selman. Both will be in the lineup this weekend.

"At the same time we have lost two starting forwards. Junior Steve Griffith and senior Jeff Langevin are out for the rest of the season due to knee injuries. Griffith will be operated on this week while Langevin is scheduled to wear a protective cast the next four weeks.

"We also expect to see Randy Struch in goal both nights for Colorado College. He only played in last Friday's game, and we barely got by 4-3. So anyone who thinks because we defeated Colorado College four times this year that we will have any easy time this weekend doesn't understand the WCHA or playoff hockey. We are in for a real battle. And you can count on it."

Several new faces stood out for the Gophers last Saturday. However, it was great to see an "old" face return to duty, too, in goalie Jim Jetland. Jetland was sidelined in December with a knee injury, and then another senior, Paul Osby, got hot in the nets and started 13 straight games.

But Jetland played Saturday and turned in an excellent performance making 32 saves in winning 8-3. So suddenly Minnesota has two healthy veterans whom Buetow can call on to play in the nets. And this time of the year that's a must.

Buetow also said he believed reserves Kurt Madryga and Tom Parenteau turned in good games Saturday and that he would not hesitate to insert them into the lineup if some of the regulars are not producing.

As to replacing Griffith and Langevin, Buetow said he will probably insert left wing Tom Rothstein in Griffith's spot, and skate freshman right wing Billy Yon for Langevin.

Junior wing Butsy Erickson held the hot scoring hand for UM last weekend coming up with his team's last two goals in the 4-3 win Friday, and getting the first goal for UM Saturday. Senior defenseman Dave Dillon added two goals Saturday as did junior center Scott Bjugstad. Madryga and another reserve, John Muskat, also scored goals in the 8-3 win Saturday.

The other WCHA playoff series this weekend finds fifth place Minnesota-Duluth traveling to Denver while North Dakota and Wisconsin take the weekend off with first round byes.

This year the league playoffs go down to a single winner with that team gaining an automatic qualification to the first round field of eight teams in the NCAA playoffs. Any other WCHA team making the latter round will have to be picked by an NCAA selection committee.

UPCOMING 1982 BIG TEN WINTER SPORTS CHAMPIONSHIP MEETS AND SITES

Swimming (72nd)	March 4-6	Iowa
Indoor Track (72nd)	March 5-6	Indiana
Gymnastics (74th)	March 7-8	Wisconsin

GYMNASTS TO COMPETE IN THE BIG TEN CHAMPIONSHIP

Coming off its best performance in history, the University of Minnesota men's gymnastics team heads into the 74th Annual Big Ten Championship Meet at Wisconsin on Sunday and Monday, March 7 and 8.

Fred Roethlisberger's squad is seeking its sixth title in seven years. Last year the Gophers finished second.

Two weeks ago in a dual with Wisconsin-Oshkosh the Gophers set a new school record with a score of 275.40. The Gophers, 4-3 and 4-1 in the Big Ten, are in a strong position to compete in the NCAA Championships at Nebraska in early April with a current qualifying average of 271.30. They can add to that figure this week at Wisconsin.

Defending Big Ten all-around champion Brian Meeker (Edina) is again the favorite at this year's meet. He was honored last week by the Big Ten as its winter sports "Athlete-of-the-Week."

Meeker owns the conference best marks in five events: floor exercise (9.75), parallel bars (9.75), rings (9.7), high bar (9.9) and all-around (57.15).

Sophomore Joe Ray (Maine, IL) and freshman Tim Koopman (Bloomington) join Meeker as the squad's all-arounders. Pat Houde (Bloomington) and Jason Laks (Tucson, AZ) compete in multiple events, Bob Harrison (Hinsdale, IL) and Jeff Murray (Green Bay, WI) are pommel horse specialists, while Tom Groechel (Brookfield, WI) is a rings specialist.

INDOOR TRACK TEAM AT BIG TEN CHAMPIONSHIP MEET

The University of Minnesota men's indoor track team journeys to Indiana Friday and Saturday for the 72nd Annual Big Ten Championship Meet. Minnesota, coming off its best performance of the season, is attempting to improve on last year's last place finish.

Last Saturday the Gophers held their own in the competitive Illini Classic. All ten conference schools were represented in the meet that included teams from throughout the nation.

Gopher miler Mike Gebeke, a junior from White Bear Lake, led a group who turned in personal records with a clocking of 4:02.91. Gebeke, who finished third in the race, eclipsed Garry Bjorklund's 1970 mark by nearly three seconds to set a new varsity indoor record. He also qualified for the NCAA Championship Meet in two weeks at the Pontiac Silverdome.

Sprinter Francis Ude (Enugu, Nigeria) followed Gebeke's lead with a third place finish in the 60 with a time of 6.33. Tom Coles (Hutchinson) was fourth in the 600 with a clocking of 1:11.1, Mike Moran (Cottage Grove) ran a 1:52.9 to finish fourth in the 880 and Don Hurley (St. Paul) and Dave Morrison (Lakeville) were seventh and 13th in the two mile, rounding out the list of life-time bests.

The mile relay team comprised of Vince Rodrique (Plymouth), Coles, Brian Halvorson (Hudson, WI) and Ude finished seventh with a time of 3:18.4.

The Gophers open the outdoor season on March 26 at the Louisiana State Invitational.

SWIMMERS AT BIG TEN CHAMPIONSHIPS

Paul Stearns' University of Minnesota men's swim team competes in the 71st Annual Big Ten Championship Meet at Iowa Thursday, Friday and Saturday. Minnesota finished sixth in last year's event.

The Gophers, 2-3 and 1-2 in the Big Ten, are led by senior captains Brian Mortenson (Apollo, PA) and Joe Nagy (Brooklyn Center), sophomore Petri Tiitola (Tampere, Finland) and a group of talented freshman.

FIVE WRESTLERS QUALIFY FOR THE NCAA CHAMPIONSHIP

Five University of Minnesota wrestlers qualified for the 52nd Annual NCAA Championship Meet at Iowa State on March 11-13. The top four placers in each event at last week's Big Ten Meet move on to the national meet.

Minnesota will be represented by: 118-pound Ed Giese (Wood Dale, IL), 126-pound Gary Lefebvre (Elk River), 134-pound Dalen Wasmund (Worthington), 142-pound Jim Martinez (Osseo) and 167-pound Craig Wiklund (Bloomington). Lefebvre, Martinez, and Wasmund finished second, Wiklund was third and Giese fourth.

In the team standings, the Gophers found themselves in the runnerup position for the second straight year. The Gophers scored 49-3/4 points to Iowa's 130-1/4. Wally Johnson's squad finished 17-2 and 5-1 in the Big Ten.

TENNIS TEAM COMPETING IN MINNETONKA TOURNEY

The University of Minnesota men's tennis team is participating in a tournament at the Minnetonka Racquet Club this week. Competition began on Sunday and will continue through Sunday, March 7.

Jerry Noyce's squad finished second in the Kohler-Wisconsin Quadrangular last weekend to set their dual record at 2-1. The team beat Big Ten foes Northwestern and Wisconsin by identical 7-2 scores before losing to Duke 5-4 in the championship match.

The combination of Hakan Almstrom (Stockholm, Sweden) and Ted Kauffmann (Toledo, OH) continues to pace the team. Almstrom won three matches at number one singles, while Kauffmann won his three number three matches in straight sets. The two won two of their three doubles matches.

Following this week's tournament, the Gophers travel to California for six dual matches over Spring Break.

MINNESOTA GAINS NCAA BASKETBALL TOURNAMENT BID

Minnesota's Golden Gophers, for the first time since 1972, have won the right to advance to the NCAA basketball championships this week and have been assigned a spot in the 1982 Midwest Regional.

Coach Jim Dutcher's contingent has drawn a first-round bye and will play the winner of the North Carolina State vs. Tennessee-Chattanooga confrontation in the second round at the Market Square Arena in Indianapolis, IND on Sunday.

Winner of that contest then moves into the regional tournament at Birmingham, AL March 18-20. Eventual survival of that field gains a spot in the NCAA's "Final Four" at New Orleans, LA March 27-29.

The Gophers earned the right to advance into this year's showdown by winning the 1982 Big Ten Conference championship with two loop triumphs this past weekend. First the Gophers squeaked by Michigan State 54-51 on Thursday and then overwhelmed Ohio State 87-75 on Saturday.

"Winning those two games and in the process getting the Big Ten title gives us a very satisfying feeling," Coach Jim Dutcher said. "It's an especially good feeling because of the kind of performance we put on against an excellent Ohio State team in that final game."

Dutcher and his Gophers admitted to being a little selfish about the entire matter. "We knew that if we lost to Ohio State we would have to share the title with at least one other team," Dutcher explained, "and we wanted it all to ourselves. Maybe that helps explain why we played so well last Saturday."

While Gary Holmes was the clutch performer against Michigan State (his two free throws in the final moments provided the winning insurance), it was Randy Breuer who drew top accolades against the Buckeyes for his 32-point, 12-rebound effort. (MORE)

"Randy had the greatest game of his Gopher career," Dutcher pointed out. "He was absolutely perfect in the first half (six for six from the floor and six for six from the foul line), and while his scoring and rebounding figures were impressive, his ability to get the ball out of the middle to start the fast break was just as important to us."

The title was Minnesota's first since 1972 and seventh (outright or shared) that the Gophers have won in the school's history. Other title-years for Minnesota basketball teams were in 1906, 1907, 1911, 1917, 1919, 1937 and 1972.

"It has been a great season for us," Dutcher analyzed. "We were 7-2 on the road and 7-2 at home (in the conference race). We needed some breaks to win it all, but good teams have a way of making their own breaks. Everything fell into place for us in the final two weeks of the season when we needed to win four straight games and were able to do just that."

While praising his Gopher players...including seniors Holmes, Trent Tucker, Darryl Mitchell, John Wiley and Andy Thompson...Dutcher also had a pat-on-the-back for his staff.

"Our assistant coaches deserve a lot of credit," Dutcher said. "All year long Jimmy Williams, Stu Starner and Phil Saunders were breaking down film, on the road scouting and assisting with specific coaching assignments. They contributed a great deal to our success."

Dutcher hopes that the success isn't over as he begins preparing for the NCAA tournament. "We're going to try to find out as much as we can about our two possible opponents," he said, "and we'll scout that game on Friday."

In Dutcher's opinion, the first-round bye will be helpful to the Gophers. "There always is a difference of opinion about sitting out the first game or playing in it," he admitted, "but I think it will be helpful. It will give us a chance to rest a bit after that hectic Big Ten race, and it will give us a full week to prepare for the game."

Minnesota's seventh-year coach, who now has piloted his Gophers to seasons of 20 or more wins three times (the Gophers will go into the NCAA meet with an overall record of 22-5 after winning the loop title with a 14-4 log), also is happy that his club was assigned to the Midwest Region and will play in Indianapolis.

"Ours will be a tough bracket," Dutcher admitted, "but actually there is no easy assignment. When you get into the NCAA there are no easy opponents. We are not concerned about who we play or where we play. We're just grateful for the opportunity to play. We'll be playing our first game in Big Ten country, and hopefully that will be to our benefit."

Also seeded into the Midwest Region's second round were Virginia (seeded number one) Louisville (seeded number three) and Alabama-Birmingham (seeded number four). Other teams in the Midwest playing first-round games are Southwest Louisiana, Tennessee, Indiana, Robert Morris, Kentucky, Middle Tennessee and the possible Gopher opponents North Carolina State and Tennessee-Chattanooga. --J4--

ICERS IN 2ND ROUND PLAYOFFS

Minneapolis, MN---Minnesota's hockey Gophers made their way through the first round WCHA playoffs last weekend by defeating Colorado College twice at home 3-1 and 6-3. That makes the total-goal series come out to 9-4 for the Gophers.

The team departed Monday for Madison, WI, where they meet the powerful Wisconsin Badgers Tuesday and Wednesday in the second round league playoffs. Minnesota and Wisconsin played six times this season, four of the games at Madison, with Wisconsin taking a 3-2-1 edge in the series.

In Madison the Gophers won one and gained a 6-6 tie. The lone win was a thrilling 2-1 overtime victory when Jeff Teal scored UM's OT winner and Paul Ostby was a giant in the nets.

Should Minnesota take this two-game, total goal series, UM would compete in the final league playoffs Saturday and Sunday vs. the North Dakota-Denver winner. If North Dakota wins, the series would be in Grand Forks. If Denver and Minnesota win, the series will be at Williams Arena on the Gopher campus Saturday afternoon and Sunday evening.

Minnesota stands at 21-11-2 for the entire season after its third place WCHA finish. Wisconsin, who had last weekend off with a bye, owns a 29-9-1 record and finished runner-up to North Dakota in the final league standings.

GYMNASTS WIN BIG TEN TITLE

Fred Roethlisberger's University of Minnesota men's gymnastics team won its sixth Big Ten title in seven years Sunday at Wisconsin. The Gophers scored 274.95 points to edge second place Illinois and Iowa who tied with 274.

Senior Brian Meeker (Edina), the defending all-around champion, turned in performances of 9.75 in the horizontal bar and 9.65 in the vault, parallel bars and floor exercise.

Sophomore Joe Ray (Maine, IL), the all-around runnerup in 1981, and freshman Tim Koopman (Bloomington) also were solid Gopher contributors.

The Gophers, 4-3 and 4-1 in the Big Ten, appear to have qualified as a team for the NCAA Championships in April at Nebraska

FIVE WRESTLERS TO COMPETE IN THE NCAA CHAMPIONSHIPS

Five University of Minnesota wrestlers will compete in the 52nd Annual NCAA Championship Meet at Iowa State on Thursday, Friday and Saturday. The wrestlers qualified for the meet by placing in the top four in their weight classes at the Big Ten Championship Meet two weeks ago.

The Gopher contingent is led by seniors Jim Martinez (Osseo), 34-2 at 142 pounds, and Dalen Wasmund (Worthington), 29-7-1 at 134 pounds. Both finished second in the Big Ten and are currently ranked third in the nation by National Mat News. Martinez, who red-shirted last season, finished third in the nation at 134 pounds in 1979. Wasmund was third at the same weight last year.

Seniors Gary Lefebvre (Elk River), 32-5 at 126 pounds, Craig Wiklund (Bloomington), 17-12 at 167 pounds, and freshman Ed Giese (Wood Dale, IL), 21-14-1 at 113 pounds round out the group. Lefebvre finished second in the Big Ten, Wiklund was third and Giese fourth.

In the conference team standings the Gophers found themselves in the runnerup position for the second straight year. Wally Johnson's squad, which finished the season ranked fifth in the nation by NMN with a 17-2 overall record and 5-1 Big Ten mark, scored 49-3/4 points to Iowa's 130-1/4.

SWIMMERS SIXTH IN THE BIG TEN

The 1981-82 University of Minnesota men's swimming and diving team concluded the season with a sixth-place finish in the 71st Annual Big Ten Championship Meet. The Gophers, who broke six varsity and ten freshman records during the meet, scored 268 points. Host Iowa won its second straight title with 721.

Senior Joe Nagy (Apollo, PA) finished his career with a second place finish in the 200-yard breaststroke. Nagy was clocked at 2:05.16. Freshman Scott Etnyre (Cedar Rapids, IA) was the only other individual placer finishing sixth in the 200-yard butterfly with a time of 1:50.59.

Senior Brian Mortenson (Brooklyn Center) joined freshmen Jim Brzezinski (Burnsville), Etnyre and Jay Peterson (Bloomington) on the 400-yard freestyle relay team that finished sixth with a time of 3:04.35.

No Gophers qualified for the NCAA Championship Meet later this month in Milwaukee. Paul Stearns' squad finished the season with a dual record of 2-3 and 1-2 in the Big Ten.

INDOOR TRACK TEAM EIGHTH IN BIG TEN, GEBEKE MOVES ON TO NCAA CHAMPIONSHIP

The University of Minnesota men's indoor track team finished eighth in the 72nd Annual Big Ten Championship Meet at Indiana. The Gophers tallied 21 points, while Michigan topped the field with 104.

Mike Gebeke, a junior from White Bear Lake, qualified for the NCAA Championship Meet this weekend at the Pontiac Silverdome with a time of 2:09.94 in the 1000-yard run. Gebeke qualified in the mile two weeks ago the Illini Classic when he eclipsed Garry Bjorklund's 1970 mark by nearly three seconds to set a new varsity indoor record of 4:02.91. He finished third in the 1000, but failed to place in the mile at the conference meet.

At the Big Ten Championship Meet, sprinter Francis Ude (Enugu, Nigeria) followed Gebeke's lead with a third place finish in the 60 with a time of 6.34. In the three mile John Idstrom (Owatonna) edged teammate Dave Morrison to finish fourth. Idstrom was clocked at 13:11.35, Morrison followed with a time 13:11.70. Mike Moran (Cottage Grove) placed fifth in the 330, Tom Coles (Hutchinson) finished sixth in the 600 and Al Whitesell (Coon Rapids) was sixth in the pole vault.

Roy Griak's Gophers open the outdoor season on March 26 at the Louisiana State Invitational.

TENNIS TEAM IDLE DURING FINALS, HEADS TO CALIFORNIA OVER SPRING BREAK

Jerry Noyce's University of Minnesota men's tennis team is taking a break from competition during finals. Following exam week the team will travel to California for six dual matches during Spring Break.

The Gophers, 2-1 and 2-0 against Big Ten opposition, face Dartmouth, California-Irvine, Pepperdine, Southern California, the University of San Diego and Air Force in California.

Last week the team competed individually in a tournament in Minnetonka. Senior Hakan Almstrom (Stockholm, Sweden) won the tournament with a 6-1, 6-4 victory over area professional Ron York. Almstrom and doubles partner Ted Kauffmann (Toledo, OH) placed second losing to former Gophers Kent Helgeson and Mike Trautner. Both Helgeson and Trautner were members of the 1981 Big Ten Co-Championship team.

MINNESOTA ADVANCES IN NCAA CAGE MEET

Minnesota's Golden Gopher basketball team has gained a spot in the semi-finals of the NCAA Mideast tournament in Birmingham, Alabama's Jefferson Civic Center Thursday night where it will face red-hot Louisville of the Metro Conference.

Coach Jim Dutcher's Minnesota contingent earned the right to meet the Cardinals by edging upstart Tennessee-Chattanooga 62-61 in second round play of the 1982 tourney at Indianapolis, IND Sunday afternoon. Louisville moved ahead with an 81-56 triumph over Middle Tennessee.

Also gaining spots in the NCAA's Mideast region and slated to play in the "other" semi-final round clash Thursday are top-seeded Virginia which ousted Tennessee with a 54-51 verdict Sunday and Alabama-Birmingham which drilled Indiana 80-70 on Saturday.

Winners meet Saturday afternoon for the Mideast title and a berth in the Final Four slated for New Orleans the following week while the losers head for home. There is no longer any consolation play in the NCAA meet.

The Gophers are delighted with the opportunity to advance, and they know they dodged another bullet in nudging the Chattanooga Moccasins in their most recent outing this past weekend.

Randy Breuer, Minnesota's 7-3 junior center, had given Minnesota its margin of victory with just under a minute to play on a rebound basket. But Chattanooga had two more possessions in which to score only to see those efforts come up short.

One such attempt came from two feet away, and a relieved Coach Dutcher sighed after the game, "I thought it was in." But it wasn't, and the Gophers remained alive on the '82 Road To New Orleans.

Overall, it was not a good effort on Minnesota's part...certainly not on par with the regular-season finale against Ohio State. "We had an eight-day layoff," Dutcher analyzed, "and I think it wound up hurting us. We went down to Indianapolis on Friday, and after laying around the hotel for two days, our players got the feeling they had been there for a week. We were chomping at the bit at the start of the game, and our impatience really showed."

Dutcher hopes his cagers got the bad one out of their systems. "I think we will be better prepared to play, and in a better frame of mind to play on Thursday when we face Louisville," he said. "We'll have a better opportunity to prepare... (MORE) knowing from the start who our opponent is, and we won't go down there until the day before the game just like our normal Big Ten season routine."

There isn't any doubt, however, that Minnesota will be facing a much stronger opponent Thursday than it did last Sunday. In fact, media representatives from around the country have charged that Coach Denny Crum may have "too much talent" on his ball club.

"The Cardinals have great depth," Coach Dutcher pointed out as he looked over a roster that included such super-stars as Derek Smith (he got 17 against Middle Tennessee on Saturday) and Jerry Eaves as well as the McRay brother combination. "They have great size, jumping ability and quickness," Dutcher noted, and their pressure defense is excellent."

All of which spells trouble for Minnesota which had 12 turnovers against Chattanooga when the Moccasins clamped the Gophers with a full court press rated a notch below that of the upcoming Cardinals.

GOPHER TALES--Trent Tucker, senior co-captain and guard, led Minnesota against Chattanooga with a 20 point effort while Breuer chipped in with 17 and senior guard Darryl Mitchell had 16. Breuer also led the Gophers in rebounds with nine as Minnesota outrebounded the Moccasins 29-26.

Minnesota and Louisville have met twice in previous years. During the 1977-78 campaign, Mychal Thompson led the Gophers to a 72-71 triumph before a national television audience in Williams Arena. A year ago the Gophers triumphed 62-56 at Louisville.

Should the Gophers win Thursday and advance to the Mideast Region finals on Saturday and face Virginia, it would be the second such post-season meeting between those two clubs. Virginia nipped the Gophers 53-55 in the finals of the NIT in 1980. Minnesota and Alabama-Birmingham, however, have never met.

Breuer goes into Thursday's confrontation with the Cardinals ranked as Minnesota's leading scorer. In 28 games, he has 465 points for an average of 16.6 per outing. He's also the Gophers top rebounder with 195 for an average of 6.9 per assignment.

Career-wise Tucker leads the way. He has 1,423 points which puts him third on the U of M's all-time scoring list. Thompson remains on top with 1,992 while Kevin McHale is second with 1,704.

The Gophers now are 2-1 in NCAA post season play. They lost to Florida State in the opening round of the Mideast tourney in 1972 and then topped Marquette for consolation honors in their two previous starts.

Minnesota will headquarter at the Sheraton Mountain Brook motel....the same facility where the Gopher gridgers were housed when they played in the Hall of Fame Classic bowl game in 1977.

- First Round NCAA Mideast Regional, Indianapolis, IN

Minneapolis, MN—When the University of Minnesota's 1981-82 hockey season opened, not too much was expected.

But when the season ended, more than a few were surprised. I mean, how many teams nationally would right now accept a 22-12-2 season record. A lot!

The Gophers were picked to finish third in the strong Western Collegiate Hockey Association (WCHA). They did. Also, the Gophers were not expected to make the NCAA playoffs. They didn't.

It all came to an end last week when Minnesota lost its second round WCHA playoff series at Madison, WI, to the Badgers, 9-6. Minnesota won the first of the two-game, total-goal series 4-3. But UW rallied the next night to take a 6-2 decision even though the Gophers had risen from a 2-0 deficit to tie 2-2 and take a 6-5 lead in total goals during the second period.

But the combination of excellent play at both ends of the rink by Wisconsin, plus the wear and tear of four games in six nights for the Gophers spelled the difference. Minnesota simply ran out of gas in the late stages. The Gopher legs disappeared.

BUETOW ON '81-'82

"I have to say that this year's Minnesota team showed as much, if not more, determination, pure guts, and overcame more obstacles than any other team I have coached, Gopher head coach Brad Buetow said Monday.

That's a lot of praise coming from a coach whose last two teams finished second and first in the WCHA and both reached the NCAA playdowns.

"We opened the season with 12 new faces in our lineup, including reserves from last season and incoming freshmen," Buetow continued. "That led to a lot of inconsistency, a lot of mistakes. But that's what happens to inexperienced teams.

"I do not remember once really getting down, really discouraged. Oh sure, there were frustrating times, but we never gave up on each other. And that alone already makes me excited about next season.

"We lose some excellent seniors, eight of them. But we will be returning some excellent veterans next year, too. Now our job as coaches is to fill out the roster with top recruits. At this time we feel very positive about getting some of the top Minnesota high school seniors to join our program next fall.

"If we secure the right people, then 1982-83 could see Minnesota right back among the WCHA leaders in another tight title chase."

ERICKSON POINT CHAMP

Junior wing Butsy Erickson took Gopher scoring honors for the year by racking up 45 points on 25 goals and 20 assists in 35 games. Senior captain Kevin Hartzell and junior center Scott Bjugstad came up second with 43 points each while playing in all 36 games. Bjugstad led the Gophers in goals with 29 while Hartzell notched the most assists, 32.

Senior goalie Jim Jetland ended with the best goals allowed average, 3.02, while another senior, Paul Ostby, won half the Gopher victories with an 11-7-1 record and a 3.11 goals average. Jetland finished with a 7-4-1 record.

Only one individual record was set by a Gopher player this season. Senior wing Jeff Teal broke by one the longevity mark set by defenseman Bob Bergloff two years ago. Bergloff had played the most games in Gopher history, 154, but last week at Wisconsin Teal appeared in his 155th contest. No new team or individual single season records were established.

Besides the seniors mentioned—Jetland, Hartzell, Teal, Ostby—also missing next year for the Gophers will be defenseman Dave Dillon plus forwards Jeff Langevin, Brian Thoresen and John Muskat. As stated, Buetow has some large holes to fill, but strongly believes the horses will be there.

All that's left now is to echo the cry of the old Dodger fans: "Wait 'til next year."

GYMNASTS SEEK NCAA BERTH

With a statistical ranking of 272.75, the University of Minnesota men's gymnastics team appears to be in a strong position to qualify for a berth in the NCAA Championship field.

The ranking is determined by the average of the Gopher's top five team scores using no more than two home meets. The top ten Division I schools in the nation will compete for the national championship on April 1-3 at Nebraska.

The Gophers, who closed the regular season with their sixth Big Ten title in seven years, were ranked sixth entering the conference meet.

TENNIS TEAM IDLE DURING FINALS, HEADS TO CALIFORNIA OVER SPRING BREAK

Jerry Noyce's University of Minnesota men's tennis team is taking a break from competition during finals. Following exam week the team will travel to California for six dual matches during Spring Break.

The Gophers, 2-1 and 2-0 against Big Ten opposition, face Dartmouth, California-Irvine, Pepperdine, Southern California, the University of San Diego and Air Force in California. The matches begin on March 21 and continue through the 26th.

OUTDOOR TRACK OPENER AT LSU INVITATIONAL ON MARCH 26

Roy Griak's University of Minnesota men's track team opens its outdoor season Friday, March 26 at the Louisiana State Invitational.

Auburn, Brigham Young, Michigan, Missouri, Oklahoma, Tennessee and Wisconsin join the Gophers and the host Tigers in the nine-team field.

Last weekend at the NCAA Indoor Championships in the Pontiac Silverdome, junior miler Mike Gebeke missed the finals with a fourth place finish in his qualifying heat. Gebeke, the varsity indoor record holder, was timed at 4:07.62.

GOLF TEAM TO RELY ON TEAM PLAY

The 1932 University of Minnesota's men's team could be the strongest four-year coach Greg Harvey has fielded. While the team will be improved, Harvey will miss Big Ten runnerup Tom Lehman.

"We have five or six players of Big Ten first team caliber, but no one has made the move to replace Tom," Harvey said.

Led by co-captains Kirk Snider and Steve Oftelie, five seniors anchor the team. Both Snider and Oftelie have sound junior years and should be contenders this season. Rick Frieberg, Bill Folkes and Jay Swanson round out the group of seniors.

Sophomores Stu Oftelie and Jay Axelson have a year's experience and are expected to continue their development.

Other players who could see some varsity competition this season are juniors Jim Dolan, Scott Hoiseth, Paul Luchau and freshman Gordy Skaar.

Harvey believes that the key to team success will be in total team play.

"We will have to rely on solid scores from every player to win golf tournaments. Purdue did that last year and there is no reason why Minnesota can't show the same quality."

WRESTLERS FINISH 16TH AT THE NCAA CHAMPIONSHIP MEET

The University of Minnesota, represented by five wrestlers, finished 16th in the 52nd Annual NCAA Championship Meet at Iowa State last weekend. The Gophers scored 17.75 points, while Iowa took the team title for the fifth straight year with 123.75.

Senior Jim Martinez (Osseo), the only Gopher placer, finished third at 142 pounds. Seniors Gary Lefebvre (Elk River), 126; Dalen Wasmund (Worthington), 134; Craig Wiklund (Bloomington), 167; and freshman Ed Giese (Wood Dale, IL), 118, failed to place.

BASEBALL GOPHERS HEAD FOR TEXAS

Minneapolis, MN---This Saturday new University of Minnesota baseball coach John Anderson and 26 varsity players head for Texas and the annual Gopher spring trip. Minnesota has 14 games scheduled next week in the first outdoor action for the 1982 Gophers.

Minnesota plays doubleheaders on seven consecutive days opening Sunday against Texas Lutheran at Sequin (sa-GEEN), TX. Minnesota follows with games at the U. of Houston Monday, four games vs. Texas A&M at College Station Tuesday and Wednesday, two more at Lamar University in Huntsville Thursday, then four more in Huntsville Friday and Saturday against Sam Houston State.

Anderson said this week he will take a roster consisting of 11 pitchers, three catchers, seven infielders and five outfielders.

"To tell the truth I'll be surprised if we do not win at least half the games we play in Texas," the rookie head coach said this week. "I believe the potential is there for this club to be an outstanding baseball team.

"Of course winning down there against schools who have been playing outdoors since the first of the year is another matter. But if our men can play up to their potential right off the bat, we could raise a few eyebrows."

When asked if there was one certain area that is a vital key to the spring migration, Anderson answered quickly, "pitching!

"If we expect to become a factor in the Big Ten and on the national level, our pitching HAS to improve a great deal over last year. Would you believe we had a tremendous winning season last spring even though our combined pitching ERA stood at 5.21? It's hard to believe our 1981 team posted a 37-16 record.

"We've got to find more consistency from this year's staff. But with the combination of veterans and rookies we have in camp, I honestly believe it can be done.

"The hitting is there. We may have more power on this club than any past Minnesota baseball team. So offensively we are not all that concerned. But it's the pitching that still scares us.

"When I say we are looking for consistency from our throwers, I am only talking about two things. . .getting the ball over the plate with something on it. Last year we saw a parade of walks given to opponents that killed us. We've got to cut down on the free passes. Our defense set the highest fielding percentage (.969) in UM history and all but two starters are back. So we should again be solid here.

"During our fall and winter drills, we have seen continual progress by every man who wants to pitch for us. Now we'll find out if they can throw outdoors against foreign batters. This should be an awfully interesting trip for us.

"We firmly believe this team can be a solid winner if everybody does the job asked of him. And that starts with the men on the mound. If they come through, well, let's just say there are going to be some awfully great afternoons at Siebert Field this spring."

The Gopher home opener is scheduled for Tuesday, March 30, against Hamline University. Minnesota has scheduled 32 home games in 1982, including a pair of Big Ten doubleheaders against Northwestern and Iowa.

PITCHING ROTATION

Anderson said he will open with junior Mike Sherman (R, 0-1) in the first game Sunday against Texas Lutheran, and come back with sophomore transfer Bob Wolfe (L) in the second game.

On Monday at Houston, freshman Bill Cutshall (R) and sophomore Bill Thompson (R, 5-1) get the starting call with sophomore Jim Francour (R, 8-0) and junior Bob Meyer (R, 9-3) going Tuesday against Texas A&M. Anderson added that senior Jeff German (R, 4-4) will pitch Wednesday's opener at A&M, but a staff decision will be made to pick the next hurler.

Anderson said he will probably go with the following starting lineup in the opening game Sunday at Texas Lutheran (with last season's stats included, same as above for pitchers):

C - Jr. Gary Olson (BR-TR, .391)
2B - Sr. Gary Jost (R-R, .357)
SS - Jr. Bill Piwnica (PWIN-ih-ca) (R-R, .315)
3B - So. Terry Steinbach (STEIN-boch) (R-R, .342)
LF - Sr. Tom Baurle (BOW-er-lee) (R-R, .292)
CF - Sr. Ronn Van Krevelen (L-L, .243)
RF - Jr. Tom Steinbach (R-R, .376)
DH - Sr. Tim Steinbach (R-R, .268)

Jost, Olson, plus Tom and Terry Steinbach provided much of last year's batting strength. All but Terry Steinbach were named to the all-Big Ten first team. Terry was named to the third team.

In addition, Olson is expected to double at third base when Terry moves over to first base. Tim Steinbach plus freshman footballer Jack Schlichting (R-R) from Brooklyn Center will back up Olson behind the plate.

Besides Lundeen, Bowlin and Terry Steinbach sharing first base duties, Anderson says he has three more freshman infielders who are ready to step in. Included are Dan VanDehey (R-R) from Crystal at 2B, Doug Kampsen (L-R) from Roseville at SS, and Mike Person (L-R) from St. Peter at 3B.

"I would not hesitate one second to insert an all-freshman infield in any game this season," Anderson noted. "I can tell you true we would not be embarrassed. This foursome has great bat and fielding potential."

Anderson cited the extra hard work and progress during fall and winter drills made by two upperclassmen, Sherman and German. "Both these men have worked awfully hard to improve their talents and I believe the results will begin to show right from the start," Anderson says. "And boy do we need it. If they come through and the other veterans back from last season like Meyer, Francour and Thompson have the kind of season we expect, we could be in the thick of things.

"Also, I have to comment on the development of freshman Bill Cutshall from Rochester. We knew he could throw based on his high school career. In fact, he may right now be the hardest thrower on our squad. All he needs to do is improve on the fine points, control particularly with his breaking stuff, and he could break into the starting rotation. We see nothing but excellence for this young man during his time at Minnesota

"In addition, there are several other newcomers who could be a big help to us either as starters or relievers. I am speaking particularly about freshmen Gregg Mau (R-R) from Stillwater, and Jay Olson (R-R) from Coon Rapids.

"They may be a season away, but with continued hard work could help us this season. There are a few others, both pitchers and fielders, who could also come to the front if needed. So depth is not a problem for us at this point."

The Gophers plan to return home Sunday, March 28.

Minnesota saw its 1981-82 basketball season draw to a close last week when it dropped a 67-61 decision to Louisville in the NCAA Mideast Region tournament at Birmingham, AL.

Coach Jim Dutcher's Gophers had gained the Mideast affair after knocking off Tennessee-Chattanooga 62-61 in second-round action at Indianapolis, IND the previous week, but their bid for a berth in the Final Four came up short.

Louisville backed up its win over Minnesota with a 75-63 triumph over Alabama-Birmingham in the regional finals and now advances as the Mideast representative to the Final Four in New Orleans, LA beginning on Saturday.

Prior to the Minnesota-Louisville clash, it was projected that the Cardinals had "too much talent" and that proved to be the case. Louisville ran nine players at the Gophers, and its bench outscored Minnesota's 11-2. That was more than the difference.

Louisville has depth and balance," Dutcher said. "Their great strength is their ability to keep bringing in fresh people who have just as much talent as the starters. They just wore us down."

Quickness....on Louisville's part....also was a factor. Defensively the Cardinals put a full-court press on the bigger but slower Gophers and it paid off with 16 Minnesota turnovers.

Even in defeat, however, there were Minnesotans who distinguished themselves including senior guard and co-captain Trent Tucker who finished with 22 points, had three assists and three steals. Randy Breuer, Minnesota's 7-3 junior center and only starter returning for the 1982-83 campaign, also had 22 points as well as 12 rebounds and three blocked shots.

"Losing is never easy," Dutcher said after the game, "but I told our players to forget the loss and remember the good things that happened this year. We won 23 games, and we were the Big Ten champions. Those are things our players can be proud of."

GOPHER TALES--Jim Dutcher picked up a pair of honors last week. First he was named the District 11 Coach of the Year by the National Association of Basketball Coaches (NABC). That award makes Dutcher one of 15 district coaches gaining nomination for national coach of the year honors. In addition, Dutcher also was named the Big Ten Coach of the year in a poll of Big Ten writers and broadcasters.

The 1981-82 Gopher basketball team playing in Birmingham last week included five seniors. They were, in addition to Tucker, Darryl Mitchell, Gary Holmes, John Wiley and Andy Thompson.

"Those seniors made great contributions to our program," Dutcher said. "and they will be hard to replace. But we look ahead to next year with hope and optimism. Breuer will be one of the dominating centers in the country. Zebedee Howell will give us experience at forward, and we think Jim Petersen can step in and play. Tommy Davis and Barry Wohler will give us a good start at guard, and Bruce Kaupa will be back after redshirting this season. --UM--"

TENNIS TEAM IN CALIFORNIA FOR SPRING BREAK

The University of Minnesota men's tennis team is in California for six dual matches during Spring Break.

The Gophers faced Dartmouth Sunday in San Diego and California-Irvine on Monday. They meet Pepperdine on Tuesday, Southern California on Wednesday, The University of San Diego in Thursday and Air Force on Friday in San Diego.

Senior Hakan Almstrom (Stockholm, Sweden) is ranked 36th in the latest AMF/Head Intercollegiate Tennis Rankings. Almstrom established himself as the winningest singles player in Minnesota history in his first three years of competition. An all-Big Ten performer in 1981, he repeated as the conference's number four singles champion. Almstrom is now playing number one singles and teams with captain Ted Kauffmann (Toledo, OH) to give the Gophers one of the top doubles combinations in the country.

Brace Helgeson (St. Cloud), Mike Hoeger (Sioux Falls), Pete Kolaric (Wickliffe, OH) and Dave Morin (White Bear Lake) round out the Gopher squad.

TRACK TEAM OPENS OUTDOOR SEASON AT LSU INVITATIONAL

Roy Griak's University of Minnesota men's track team opens the outdoor season Friday at the Louisiana State Invitational.

Auburn, Brigham Young, Michigan, Missouri, Oklahoma, Tennessee and Wisconsin join the Gophers and the host Tigers in the nine-team field.

Last season the Gophers finished sixth at the Invitational.

GOLFERS IN TEXAS

The University of Minnesota men's golf team is competing at the Waterwood National Golf Course in Huntsville, Texas during Spring Break.

The 1982 team could be the strongest four-year coach Greg Harvey has fielded. While the team will be improved, Harvey will miss Big Ten runnerup Tom Lehman.

"We have five or six players of Big Ten first team caliber, but no one has made the move to replace Tom," Harvey said.

Led by co-captains Steve Oftelie (Waconia) and Kirk Snider (Hastings), five seniors anchor the team. Both Oftelie and Snider had sound junior years and should be contenders this season. Rick Frieburg (Alexandria), Bill Folkes (Coon Rapids) and Jay Swanson (Golden Valley) round out the group of seniors.

Sophomores Jay Axelson (Northfield) and Stu Oftelie (Waconia) have a year's experience and are expected to continue their development.

Other players who could see some varsity competition this season are juniors Jim Dolan (St. Paul), Scott Hoiseth (St. Paul), Paul Luchau (Rochester) and freshman Gordy Skaar (Bemidji).

Harvey believes the key to team success will be in total team play.

"We will have to rely on solid scores from every player to win tournaments. Purdue did that last year and there is no reason why Minnesota can't show the same quality."

GYMNASTS SEEK NCAA BERTH

With a statistical ranking of 272.75, the University of Minnesota men's gymnastics squad appears to be in a strong position to qualify for a berth in the NCAA Championship field.

The ranking is determined by the average of the Gopher's top five team scores using no more than two home meets. The top ten Division I schools in the nation will compete for the national championship on April 1-3 at Nebraska. The entries will not be determined until this weekend when the regular season concludes around the country.

The Gophers, who closed the season with their sixth Big Ten title in seven years, were ranked sixth entering the conference meet.

BSB AT ORAL ROBERTS

Minneapolis, MN—After completing a 3-6-1 record on its annual spring trip to Texas, the U. of Minnesota baseball Gophers head south again this weekend with three games scheduled Friday and Saturday against Oral Roberts University in Tulsa, OK.

The teams meet for a single game Friday evening, and then play two games Saturday afternoon.

Rookie head coach John Anderson says he will throw three veteran pitchers against Oral Roberts. Junior Bob Meyer will start things off Friday evening with sophomores Jim Francour and Bill Thompson throwing Saturday.

Anderson also said he is trying to schedule a single game with another team somewhere near Tulsa early Sunday before the Gophers return home.

With a key hit or two along the way, Anderson said Monday he believes his team could have turned its record around last week.

"That was the most disappointing part of our trip," the coach offered. "We simply did not hit well with men on base. In one doubleheader loss to Texas A&M, we left 19 men on base while losing 3-2 and 4-3. In both games A&M came from behind to win in the final inning.

"So overall I have mixed feelings about our trip. One positive point was that nobody blew us out. The teams we played had already completed more than 20 games, so they were ready. Considering it was our first times playing outdoors, well, I guess I can't be too down.

"But for us to be competitive in the Big Ten, we'll have to start hitting the ball with a lot more authority.

"But I am excited about our pitching performances. Overall it was better than expected. Also, our defense was solid from top to bottom.

"Our three top pitchers back from last season—junior Bob Meyer and sophomores Bill Thompson and Jim Francour—all pitched well. Thompson went all eight innings in a 2-2 tie with Houston and never gave up a fly ball to the outfield.

"In that same game junior shortstop Bill Pivnica (PWIN-ih-ca) handled 12 assists and made two putouts. Thompson was consistent with low strikes. The other two pitchers also threw the same way.

"Another pair of pitchers who threw well were freshman Bill Cutshall and junior Mike Sherman. Cutshall was 0-2, but in one game threw a 5-hitter. Sherman shut out one opponent for five innings before tiring in the sixth.

"So as far as the pitching goes, we could be all right if the men I mentioned continue to improve from their early performances.

"There were some other surprises, too. Freshman Jack Schlichting proved he is ready to play collegiate baseball. In fact he may have earned himself a starting berth in the outfield. For certain he will be at least platooned. He hit the ball with authority and played all other areas of the game in style.

"Two others who hit the ball well were sophomore infielder Terry Steinbach and center fielder Ronn VanKrevelen. Both were consistent at the plate even though VanKrevelen suffered a groin pull and we had to make him our designated hitter. In one game he banged out four hits.

"Another rookie who showed he may be ready to play is frosh Bryan Bowlin. At this time he is ahead of senior John Lundeen in the battle for the first base job. Bowlin also hit better than most of his teammates.

"I believe at this time our defensive lineup and batting order is close to being set. However, should anyone falter, then we'll have to take another look. I also believe some of our players were pressing at the plate. Once they settle down we can start getting some more those runners we stranded on the bases last week across the plate.

"I also believe games this weekend can help us a great deal. Oral Roberts is one of the ranked teams nationally. Last year we won two or three down there. I hope we can do as well this weekend, but I would really like to take all three.

"The potential is there for Minnesota to have an excellent team this year. So all we have to do is start coming through with some timely hits, continue to receive improved pitching, and keep the coaches out of the way. The latter may be the hardest of all."

Sophomore Joe Ray (Maine, IL) and freshman Tim Koopman (Bloomington) join Meeker in the all-around. Ray finished second and Koopman third in the conference to give the Gophers the first 1-2-3 all-around sweep ever.

Sophomore Jason Laks (Tucson, AZ) and freshman Pat Houde (Park Center) compete in multiple events, seniors Bob Harrison (Einsdale, IL) and Jeff Murray (Green Bay, WI) are pommel horse specialists, and sophomore Tom Groechel (Brookfield, WI) is a rings specialist.

The group finished second with a time of 3:16.90. Mike Gebeke (White Bear Lake) finished sixth in the 1500 meter run and John Kromer (Hudson, WI) was sixth in the steeplechase to round out the Gopher placers.

GOPHERS IN TOP RATED TENNIS MEET

When the University of Minnesota plays host to the University of Michigan at 7 p.m. in the 98th Street Racquet Club in Bloomington on Friday, the top two tennis teams in Northern United States will be going after each other.

"This will be a great challenge meet," Coach Jerry Noyce of Minnesota proclaimed. "Minnesota and Michigan tied for the Big Ten championship last spring, and both clubs are among the top ranked teams around right now. It looks like this will be the biggest collegiate tennis meet of the season in our part of the country."

Noyce also figures that the winner of Friday night's confrontation not only will get a leg up on the rest of the Big Ten Conference in the race for the 1982 crown but also could be earning an early berth to this year's NCAA tournament.

BSB SPLITS ROAD TRIP

Minneapolis, MN---A split in four games in the southern climes of Oklahoma and Missouri would be, for most coaches, not too bad considering the teams played.

But for Minnesota head baseball coach John Anderson, it wasn't good enough.

The Gophers lost two of three to number four ranked Oral Roberts, and then took a single victory from S. Missouri U. Sunday. Naturally, it's what could have been that troubles the Gopher coach.

Minnesota scored nine runs in the first inning of Friday's single contest only to lose the verdict 18-17. Minnesota outhit Oral Roberts 17-9, but saw its pitchers give up 11 walks while the defense committed four errors. Not even a pair of home runs by senior second baseman Gary Jost and five doubles by Jost and four teammates could top the four runs Oral Roberts scored in the eighth inning to win.

The next day sophomore Jim Francour hurled a five hitter as UM came from behind to win 4-1 in extra innings. Tom Steinbach slammed out his third home run of the season to tie matters in the seventh, and the Gophers went on to win with three more runs in the eighth. Francour is now 1-1 on the season.

Oral Roberts came back to win the next game 5-3.

On Sunday the Gophers took it to Southern Missouri U. 15-12, but again almost blew a large lead. Minnesota was up 15-4 at one stage before the home team rallied to make it close. Steinbach rapped his fourth home and outfielder Tom Baurle his first in the latter contest.

Freshman hurler Bill Cutshall took the win to even his season record at 2-2. He received relief help from frosh basketball player Barry Wohler.

ANDERSON ON THE GOPHERS

"I honestly believe we played better than the split would indicate," Anderson said Monday. "Except for an inning or two where we played poorly on defense, I thought our men did a pretty good job.

"We hit the ball all over the two parks we played in. In fact, the Oral Roberts coach said we are the best hitting team he has seen. That's not bad considering he had just retired from winning a tournament out west where Oral Roberts beat number two ranked Stanford in the final.

"I can say one thing for certain. . .our pitchers did not get any calls at all. It sometimes seemed the strike zone was about two inches square. Four of our pitchers threw well, including (Jim) Francour, (Bill) Cutshall, (Bill) Thompson and freshman (Doug) Kampsen.

"So what we have to do now is work awfully hard on execution both offensively and defensively the next couple of weeks.

"We have 16 non-conference games at home before our first Big Ten series here against Northwestern April 24-25. We hope to use these games to finalize our lineup and cover all the fine points needed if we are to become a contender for the West Division league championship. Without proper execution, you simply do not win in the Big Ten. The hitting and pitching is there, I believe. Now the rest has to fall in place."

Weather permitting the Gophers play eight games this week with double headers scheduled Tuesday, Wednesday, Friday and Saturday. All start at 1 p.m.

TENNIS TEAM HOSTS MICHIGAN AND MICHIGAN STATE

Jerry Noyce's University of Minnesota men's tennis team duals Big Ten rivals Michigan and Michigan State Friday and Saturday at the 98th Street Racquet Club in Bloomington. Minnesota faces Michigan Friday night at 7:00 p.m. then meets Michigan State Saturday afternoon at 1:00 p.m.

The Gophers raised their record to 7-3 overall and 4-0 in the Big Ten last weekend with road victories over conference foes Indiana and Ohio State. They routed the Hoosiers 3-1 Friday in Bloomington and downed the Buckeyes 6-3 Saturday in Columbus.

Friday night's match with Michigan will be the first time the two schools have competed since the Gophers tied the Wolverines for the Big Ten title last Spring. The title was Minnesota's first-ever and Michigan's 14th straight.

The Wolverines have compiled a record of 7-7 and 2-0 in the Big Ten with solid team performances and the outstanding individual play of Mike Leach and Mark Mees.

Michigan State, which faces Wisconsin on Friday, is 3-5 and 0-2. The Spartans consider Steve Yorimoto to be their top player.

TRACK TEAM AT IOWA STATE INVITATIONAL

Saturday's Iowa State Invitational is the next stop for Roy Griak's University of Minnesota men's track team as it tours the nation's collegiate circuit.

Following that trip to Ames, the Gophers will participate in the Kansas and Drake Relays. Earlier this year Minnesota ran at LSU and last weekend was part of the field at the Texas Relays.

The Gophers and the host Cyclones will be joined in the field by more than 25 region schools, weather permitting. Early this week the Iowa State Track was covered by three inches of snow.

The meet, with no team scores, is scheduled to begin at 9:25 a.m. with the 10,000 meter run, field events follow at 10:00 a.m. and the finals are set for 2:05 p.m.

The Gophers' distance medley team finished second at Texas with a time of 9:40.49, UTEP was first at 9:34.53. Junior John Keohen (Montgomery) finished 11th in the 5,000 meter run.

The University of Minnesota men's gymnastics team concluded its season last weekend with an eighth place finish at the NCAA Championships. The Gophers tallied 269.30 points, while host Nebraska won its fourth straight title with a score of 285.00.

Senior Nissen Award finalist Brian Meeker (Edina) was ninth in the all-around with a combined compulsory and optional score of 110.05. Meeker scored 9.60 to place sixth in the horizontal bar competition.

Sophomore Joe Ray (Maine, IL) finished 11th in the all-around with 109.40 points, while freshman Tim Koopman (Bloomington) was 20th with a score of 106.50.

Fred Roethlisberger's squad, which finished the regular season with a 4-3 overall and 3-1 Big Ten record, earlier highlighted the season with its sixth conference title in seven years.

BSB PLAYS 6 AT HOME

Minneapolis, MN---After eight home games were cancelled last week by cold, wet weather, U. of Minnesota baseball coach John Anderson said he believes "not playing at all is worse than losing games. At least if you are losing you are playing."

Anderson says he hopes to get in all scheduled six games this week. A pair has been rescheduled Tuesday against Wisconsin-River Falls. Then the Gophers meet Minnesota-Duluth Friday and St. Cloud State Sunday in more doubleheaders at Siebert Field.

Hopefully, Anderson added, another doubleheader can be scheduled Saturday against someone. . .anyone!

"Not playing hurts our pitchers more than anyone else," Anderson continued Monday. "Pitchers have to get into game situations with umpires against hitters other than their own teammates.

"We also have a few other players we want to have another look at before we open the Big Ten season in less than two weeks. Our lineup is pretty close to being set, but we are still not certain about a left-handed designated hitter.

"Another important area where bad weather robs us further is defensive assignments. We have a lot of situation plays to work on and you can't do that indoors. So if anyone has some connections with the weather maker, please put in a good word for us."

Anderson said he will start pitchers Jim Francour (2-1, 3.85) and Bob Meyer (0-1, 8.25) Tuesday against River Falls. But he also expects to use at least three pitchers in each game. This same pair will open Friday's games, too.

Then on Sunday Anderson will open with Jeff German (1-1, 2.83) and freshman Bill Cutshall (2-2, 6.50) before calling on additional pitchers to gain some valuable playing time. Anderson added that sophomore Bill Thompson (1-1, 2.50) will see duty Sunday providing tightness he has experienced in his pitching arm has improved.

The Gophers have two more non-conference doubleheaders scheduled Tuesday and Wednesday of next week, also at home, and then open defense of their Big Ten West Division title when Northwestern visits Siebert Field Friday and Saturday, April 24-25.

SALEM HOPES TO GET SPRING PRACTICE STARTED THIS WEEK

Already a week behind schedule, Coach Joe Salem hopes to get spring practice started at the University of Minnesota before the Gophers find themselves in a position of having to postpone things for an entire week.

"We want to conclude spring drills no later than May 3," Salem points out, "and we'll practice every day of the week in order to get our 20 days completed by then if we have to."

An uncooperative weatherman has played havoc with Salem's gridders.....as it has with all of Minnesota's spring sports.....and they were not able to get outdoors at all last week. Consequently, Salem decided to delay this year's opening day.

Assuming there is a change for the better, Salem will begin looking at his 1982 squad with hopes of building a club which can improve upon last year's record of six wins against five losses.

A total of 41 lettermen are expected to return, and only six starters off both the offensive and defensive units were lost through graduation. That, in itself, should give Salem a ray of optimism.

The departed starters include both offensive tackles, Captain Ken Dallafior and Wally Kersten as well as both starting wide receivers, record-setting Chester Cooper and Ron Weckbacker. Defensively Minnesota lost both its starting linebackers, Jim Fahnhorst and Glenn Howard.

Finding replacements for those stalwarts consequently becomes Salem's number one priority in spring drills. But in addition, he hopes to shore up some of the weak spots which plagued the Gophers last fall and come up with some depth on both his offensive and defensive platoons.

Position changes, or at least trials, will be part of things, and many of those will come on defense where Minnesota will attempt to get more speed and quickness into its lineup.

Newcomers also will get a good look from Salem in his 20 days of spring practice, and forming a major part of that picture will be a number of junior college transfers as well as a handful of redshirts from a year ago.

Included in the transfer department will be Darryl Castile, a wide receiver from Santa Monica, CA, Community College; Alan Reid, a runningback from Pierce, CA, Community College; Phil Sutton, a defensive back from Santa Monica, CA, Community College; Joe Vigil, a wide receiver from San Antonio, CA, Community College; and Craig White, a defensive back from Taft, CA, Community College.

Among the redshirts are Derek Stern, a junior-to-be wide receiver, and Dwayne McMullen, a sophomore-to-be wide receiver. Several freshmen who were held out of competition last fall and who now will still be classified as first-year players under the new NCAA rule are Peter Najarian, Joe Christopherson, Mark Pazo and Kevin Starks.

The Gophers originally werescheduled to work on the field each Monday, Wednesday and Thursday with a scrimmage on Saturday. With the weather delay, Salem may be sending his squad outdoors every afternoon prior to Saturday's controlled-scrimmage workout.

TRACK TEAM JOURNEYS TO KANSAS RELAYS

The University of Minnesota men's track team travels to Lawrence, Kansas this week for the University of Kansas Relays. The Friday-Saturday meet is recognized as one of the top American track events of the year.

The Gophers are led by their distance medley relay team which finished second two weeks ago at the Texas Relays. The four-man team is comprised of Mike Moran (Cottage Grove), Tom Coles (Hutchinson), Mike Gebeke (White Bear Lake) and Don Hurley (St. Paul).

Other Gopher strengths include: sprinter Francis Ude (Enugu, Nigeria), Coles in the 400-meter dash, John Idstrom (Owatonna) and Lloyd Ness (Rochester) in the 5,000-meter run, and John Keohen (Montgomery) and Dave Morrison (Lakeville) in the 10,000-meter run.

Roy Griak's squad has been idle for two weeks because of the cancellation of last weekend's Iowa State Invitational. Next week the Gophers are scheduled to compete at the Drake Relays, while the home opener is set for May 1 when they host the Minnesota Invitational at the Bierman Field Track.

GOLFERS OPEN AT KEPLER INVITATIONAL

Weather permitting, the University of Minnesota men's golf team will open the Spring season this weekend at Ohio State's Kepler Invitational. The three-day tournament, which begins on Friday, will be played on the Buckeye's Scarlet Course. The 7,102 yard, par 72 course is regarded as one of the finest collegiate courses in the country.

Coach Greg Harvey, whose team has not played outdoors since its Spring trip to Texas, will be pleased with a representative showing.

"Any kind of encouraging showing will make me happy, but they could surprise me. In order for us to do well we'll have to bear down and play smarter," Harvey said.

Led by co-captains Steve Oftelie (Waconia) and Kirk Snider (Hastings), five seniors anchor the team. Both Oftelie and Snider had sound junior years and should be contenders this season. Rick Frieberg (Alexandria), Bill Folkes (Coon Rapids) and Jay Swanson (Golden Valley) round out the group of seniors. Sophomore Stu Oftelie (Waconia) is the final member of the six-man squad.

Following the Kepler the Gophers will compete in the Michigan Invitational on April 23 and 24 at the University of Michigan.

TELLS TEAM ON THE ROAD FOR THREE MATCHES

Following its Tuesday afternoon home match with St. Olaf, Jerry Hoyce's University of Minnesota men's tennis team hits the road for three matches. The Gophers are at Purdue on Friday afternoon, Illinois Saturday afternoon and Southern Illinois-Edwardsville Sunday morning.

The Gophers, who entered the week with a 7-6 overall record and 3-1 Big Ten mark, have rearranged their doubles combinations following last weekend's heartbreaking loss to Michigan. The Gophers led 4-1 with one singles match to go and lost the match 5-4. Captain Ted Kauffmann (Toledo, OH) is paired with freshman Pete Kolaric (Wickliffe, OH) in the number one position, while senior Eakan Almstrom (Stockholm, Sweden) and Mike Hoeger (Sioux Falls, SD) man the number two position. At this time Hoyce has not decided on a number three team.

Hoyce, who feels the Gophers are capable of winning four singles matches against any opponent, appears to have set his singles lineup. Either Almstrom or Bruce Helgeson (St. Cloud) will play number one or two. Hoeger is at three, Kauffmann at four, junior Dave Morin (White Bear Lake) at five or six and Kolaric at the remaining position.

Purdue, 10-6 and 3-2 in the conference, is led by sophomore Adam Abele. The Boilermakers are on a four-match winning streak.

Illinois, which began the week at 3-0 and 2-2, hosts Wisconsin on Friday before meeting the Gophers. Tom Henderson is the Illini's top player.

Southern Illinois-Edwardsville entered the week at 6-3. The Cougar's, who consider Ken Flach to be their best player, have won four consecutive NCAA Division II National Championships.

Last weekend the Gophers bounced back from the loss to Michigan to beat Michigan State 7-2. The strongest performance of the season may have come Friday night against Michigan when Almstrom beat the Wolverine's Mike Leach 6-4, 6-4. Leach, the Big Ten's 1960 number one singles champion, is currently one of the highest ranked players in the nation.

April 16, 1932

from the University of Minnesota, Minneapolis, Minnesota 55455

A statement from University of Minnesota Men's Director of Athletics, Paul Giel, on the University Regents decision to move Gopher football games for the 1932 season to the Hubert H. Humphrey Metrodome in downtown Minneapolis.

"If it's at all possible to be elated and melancholy at the same time, that's exactly how I felt when the University Board of Regents announced their decision to allow us to schedule our football games at the Metrodome," says Paul Giel, director of the men's athletic department at the University of Minnesota.

"First off I am elated with their decision as I really believe the move will enhance our football program in numerous ways, and therefore benefit the entire men's athletic program.

"Secondly I, as many others, have fond memories of Memorial Stadium both as a player and as a fan. I, too, enjoyed walking down University Avenue seeing the decorations and hearing the band. But coming back to reality, it's a must for us to move for our program to grow and improve.

"I have received a minimum of letters from fans who wrote to complain about our intended move. Conversely, I have received tremendously positive verbal support from fans both in the Twin Cities and all across Minnesota.

"As far as starting times go, all I can say at this time is that we will play both afternoon and night games next fall. I have not had a chance to sit down with our staff members and work this out as yet.

"I can say I believe whenever we play night games it will be a bonus for the many, many people who work Saturdays and could not attend our games at Memorial Stadium. In that vein the pluses outweigh the minuses."

BASEBALL OPENS BIG TEN CHASE

Minneapolis, MN---A year ago next month the Minnesota baseball Gophers opened a new phase in in the Big Ten diamond game. The conference was split into East and West divisions. Minnesota captured its first West division title with a 13-3 record, but eventually lost to league champion Michigan in the playoffs.

This weekend Minnesota begins another quest for a division title when the Gophers play host to Northwestern University in doubleheaders Saturday and Sunday at Siebert Field in the Twin Cities. Action begins at 1 p.m. both days with Sunday designated as High School Day at Siebert Field.

Northwestern got an early jump on the Gophers by playing four league games last weekend. The Wildcats split the foursome against Wisconsin winning once each day.

"I'm really not certain how to approach the Northwestern series as they have a new coach this season and several new players on their roster," says rookie head coach John Anderson of Minnesota.

"But I am certain of one thing. We will have to play a lot better baseball than we exhibited last weekend if we expect to defend the division championship won by the Gophers last season."

What Anderson referred to was a split at home last Sunday against a fine St. Cloud State team at Siebert Field. In the opening contest Minnesota committed six errors in losing a 4-2 decision that lasted nine innings. However, Gopher bats loosened up in the nightcap as Minnesota took a 10-3 win by swatting out four home runs, two by all-Big Ten second baseman Gary Jost.

But even in winning Minnesota committed three more bobbles. Needless to say Anderson and his staff will spend extra hours concentrating on defense this week.

Minnesota is scheduled, weather permitting, to play four more games before Northwestern comes to town. St. Cloud State is due back at Siebert Field for two games Tuesday, with Minnesota-Morris coming in for another doubleheader on Wednesday. Minnesota, after losing 10 games to the weatherman in the last two weeks, carries an 11-9-1 record into this week's action.

"Having to spend so much time indoors and not getting that much chance to play games against outside opposition has hampered our development," Anderson continued. "A team can only stay so sharp working out indoors, or against each other in scrimmage games.

"We badly need the four games Tuesday and Wednesday, particularly our pitchers, to get ready to play Northwestern. Without those additional games I'm not certain we will be ready."

Because of so little chance to see his pitchers work against other teams, Anderson was hesitant Monday to say which men will be in his starting rotation Saturday and Sunday.

But a good guess would lead one to believe sophomores Jim Francour (R 3-1, 3.17) and Bill Thompson (R 1-1, 2.04) and junior Bob Meyer (R 1-2, 4.91) will get the call this weekend. The fourth starter could be either senior Jeff German (R 2-1, 4.33), junior Mike Sherman (R 1-1, 3.98), or possibly freshman Bill Cutshall (R 2-2, 6.50).

The rest of Anderson's lineup appears pretty close to being set and could go this way:

- C - Jr. Greg Olson (R .353)
- 1B - Fr. Bryan Bowlin (R .278)
- 2B - Sr. Gary Jost (R .306)
- 3B - So. Terry Steinbach (R .451)
- SS - Jr. Bill Piwnica (R .279)
- LF - Sr. Tom Baurle (R .229) or Fr. Jack Schlichting (R .372)
- CF - Sr. Ronn VanKrevelen (L .383)
- RF - Jr. Tom Steinbach (R .324)
- DH - Sr. Tim Steinbach (R .175) or Schlichting.

However, Anderson can make several changes depending on whether the opponent throws from the right or left side. Terry Steinbach can double at first base with either Tim Steinbach or Gary Olson moving to third. Tim Steinbach and Schlichting can also move in behind the plate and another left-handed hitter could take over as the designated hitter.

Terry Steinbach continued his torrid hit pace last weekend getting four hits in the two games against St. Cloud. He has hit safely in 15 of Minnesota's last 16 games to maintain his high .451 bat average. Included in his streak was at least one hit in 11 straight games. He also leads the Gophers in runs batted in with 25.

Co-Captain Gary Jost has also been hot of late with nine hits in the last six games raising his average from .269 to .306. He presently leads the Gophers on home runs with seven and is second in RBIs with 24. He tops the Gophers in total bases with 48 on his 22 hits. His slugging percentage stands at .458.

Tom Steinbach and Ronn VanKrevelen have also come alive recently. Steinbach has banged out 14 hits in the last 11 games raising his average from .265 to .324. Including in his streak are four home runs and 18 runs batted in.

VanKrevelen, who has battled injury problems the last two years, has knocked out four extra base hits in the last four games including a pair of homers.

Following the Northwestern set, Minnesota goes on the Big Ten road next weekend to Illinois. The Illini last weekend opened their conference play by taking four straight from Iowa. Last year Illinois finished second into Minnesota in the West division. This year that order could easily be reversed.

GOPHER GRIDDEES INTO SECOND WEEK OF SPRING DRILLS

Coach Joe Salem's University of Minnesota football team will wind up its second week of spring practice with another controlled scrimmage Saturday, and the Golden Gophers hope they can show the improvement their third-year tutor is looking for.

Minnesota, with the weatherman cooperating a little more than he had been, finally got through its first week of drills and concluded that spring work with a scrimmage last Saturday. And while it had its bright spots, Salem was not totally satisfied.

"It was a pretty good effort for our first scrimmage of the year," Salem analyzed, but we still have a lot of areas that need work. We need a lot more polish. Overall, it would have to be described as a typical first scrimmage of the season."

Among the bright spots would be the passing of four quarterbacks used by Salem in the two-hour session. That quartet of signal callers included....in the order that they worked....returning starter Mike Hohensee, Tim Salem, Todd Stout and Andy Hare.

In all the Minnesota quarterbacks threw a total of 51 passes in the scrimmage and notched 32 completions. That figures out to a .627 completion percentage, and Salem would welcome that figure 11 times next fall. There was only one interception thrown in the workout.

Hohensee was the yardage leader with 111 on a 9-of-12 performance. Salem was 6-of-12 for 54 yards, Stout was 5-of-12 (he had the lone interception) for 31 yards and Hare finished up with 12-of-17 for 105.

The Gophers accounted for only 29 running-plays in the scrimmage....but a closer examination showed that only 21 of those were by runningbacks, and those 21 efforts gained 76 yards. That's an average of 3.6 per carry.

Tony Hunter, sophomore letterman who ran with the first unit, led the way with 33 yards in six carries. Alan Reid, a junior college transfer who impressed bystanders Saturday, notched 27 in nine attempts.

Hunter also accounted for the only touchdown of the day scored by the offense, and that came on an eight yard scamper. Hohensee directed that 70-yard scoring drive in nine plays and during one stretch hit four straight passes to junior college transfer Joe Vigil good for 43 yards.

The only other touchdown last Saturday came from the defense when sophomore redshirt defensive tackle Craig Paulson intercepted a pass and scampered 33 yards to paydirt.

"We were pleased with the way Reid ran, and we like the way Vigil and (Darryl) Castile caught the ball," Salem said of the contributions made by some of Minnesota's new people in the workout.

But the fact remains Salem still is looking for improvement, and he told his squad to be ready for another hard week of practice. "You've got to come back ready to get at it," he said. "Your goal has to be to improve every week."

The Gophers will get their second test on Saturday.

MINNESOTA SIGNS FOUR CAGERS TO NATIONAL LETTERS OF INTENT

Four high school seniors signed basketball national letters of intent with the University of Minnesota last Wednesday (the first day of national signings) and will enroll as student-athletes next fall.

Coach Jim Dutcher seemed pleased with the first-day efforts. "We were able to sign four quality players," Dutcher said. "That initial group includes a center, a forward and two guards. We have one or two more players who will not make decisions until later but still are considering Minnesota, so overall it has to be regarded as a good group."

Among the Wednesday signees was Alonzo Skanes, a 6-3 guard from Dunbar High School in Chicago, IL. Skanes averaged 23 points, eight rebounds and seven assists as a senior and once this past season tossed in 46 points. He was an All-City selection.

"Skanes will be the quickest player I've had at Minnesota," Dutcher proclaims. "He has a great deal of talent and will become one of the outstanding guards in the Big Ten. We lost two All-Big Ten type guards through graduation, so Skanes will fit right in."

Marc Wilson, one of the nation's most sought-after high school guards, was another prep standout selecting Minnesota Wednesday. A 6-1 standout from Towsan Calvert High School in Baltimore, MD, Wilson averaged 19.5 points per game and shot 52% from the floor this season. He was the Baltimore area's prep player of the year."

"Marc is an outstanding prospect," Dutcher stated. He finished his career as the top scorer in Towsan Calvert history, and he led that team to a 34-0 record this year. He'll make a lasting impression in the Big Ten."

Also signing Wednesday was Dave Dahlke, 6-5 forward from Chaska, MN. Dahlke averaged 26 points and 11 rebounds a game for Chaska which had an outstanding season in Minnesota prep basketball circles.

"We're pleased that Dave will be attending Minnesota," Dutcher said. "He's a very competitive player who will continue to improve in college because of his great desire to excell."

The "big man" opting for Minnesota Wednesday was John Shasky, a 6-11 front-liner from Brother Rice High School in Birmingham, MI. Shasky, who averaged 20 points and 10 rebounds a game this year said, "I feel very good about coming to Minnesota. I am impressed with the Gopher coaches, and I look forward to spending four years at the University of Minnesota."

Dutcher was just as pleased with Shasky's decision. "John has excellent ability," he said. "He is improving with every game he plays. His best basketball is ahead of him. We look at him in the same light we viewed Kevin McHale as a high school senior, and we feel Shasky has the same ability to play both forward and center for us."

As Dutcher indicated, the four Wednesday signings could be followed by one or two more, and they'll be welcome additions since the Big Ten Champion Gophers graduate five seniors...Trent Tucker, Gary Holmes, Darryl Mitchell, John Wiley and Andy Thompson.

BUETOW SIGNS SIX TO TENDERS

Minneapolis, MN---University of Minnesota hockey coach Brad Buetow last week completed what some call the most successful recruiting campaign in Gopher hockey history.

Six outstanding Minnesota high school seniors inked national letters of intent to enroll at UM next fall and play hockey for the Gophers in 1982-83.

Those signing tenders include: Mike Anderson C-W, North St. Paul; Wally Chapman C-W, from the state champion Edina Hornets; Tony Kellin D, younger brother of three-year football starter Kevin from Grand Rapids; Scott Knutson C, Warroad; and two of the highest scoring centers in the state in Corey Millen from Cloquet, and Pat Micheletti from Hibbing. Micheletti is the third brother to play for Minnesota. Older brother Joe captained the 1976-77 Gopher varsity while another brother, Don, was UM captain in 1979-80. Joe is presently a defenseman for the NHL Los Angeles Kings.

But Buetow says he is still not done. A signed tender is expected to be returned shortly by mail from Frank Pietrangelo, a class goal tender from Niagara Falls, Ontario, Canada. According to some scouts, Pietrangelo, who lives in Port Washington, was one of the top Junior B goalies in Canada last season.

Buetow is still hopeful one more tender will be signed when another Minnesota prep standout returns from playing with the U.S. National Team at the World Cup Games in Europe. Phil Housley, possibly Minnesota highest rated high school star from South St. Paul, indicated before he left the country he would sign a Gopher tender upon his return.

"We are awfully pleased with the six young standouts who have chosen our University to continue their academic and hockey careers," Buetow said Monday. "Now it's up to us, the coaching staff, to make certain we do not mess them up with excess coaching.

"These men have, as a group, more natural talent than any previous bunch I have seen. So I would say we are more than just lucky. Extremely fortunate would be a better statement.

"We are also fortunate to be returning a solid nucleus of veterans next season. So it will be our job to blend in these outstanding rookies with the men who have already been through the wars. I wish the 1982-83 season opened tomorrow."

Ostby, who walked on to the University of Minnesota campus without a scholarship, became Minnesota's top goal tender during the past season starting 17 games in one stretch. The Elk River native played a reserve role the last three years prior to the recently completed season. He finished with an 11-7-1 won-lost-tie record and a 3.11 goals allowed average.

Erickson and Jensen, juniors from Roseau and Crystal, respectively, will lead next season's Gopher varsity. Erickson served as an alternate captain this year. He has earned two varsity letters and was UM's leading scorer in 1981-82 with 45 points (25-20). Jensen is a three-year regular at defense.

BSB TO UNDEFEATED ILLINOIS

Minneapolis, MN---After winning three of four at home from Northwestern last weekend, the Minnesota baseball Gophers begin to find out what the 1982 Big Ten West Division race is really all about Saturday and Sunday.

Minnesota travels to Champaign, IL, to meet the undefeated Fighting Illini in four games this weekend. Illinois is not only 8-0 in conference play thus far (Minnesota is 3-1), but Illini performances have bordered on sensational.

In eight league contests, Illinois pitchers have come up with no less than five shutouts. In another game they allowed but one run, and only two runs in another win. Only Iowa broke through for five runs in one inning, and that was also in a losing cause to Illinois.

Gopher rookie head coach John Anderson said tongue in cheek Monday, "The pitching and defense Illinois has exhibited so far should be the envy of some major league teams."

Figuring that following this weekend Illinois only has four league games left at Northwestern, May 8-9, and that Minnesota, also after this weekend, has eight games remaining (4 here vs. Iowa and 4 at Wisconsin), Minnesota, to stay in the race, can afford no less than a split this weekend.

"If we can gain at least two wins at Illinois we would be just one game behind them and would definitely be in the race," Anderson added. "We would then have our future in our own hands and have to play like the devil to catch Illinois. But I believe our men can do just that.

"We certainly didn't start out all that well against Northwestern last weekend. But I guess I have to be satisfied. Winning three of four games any weekend in the Big Ten is a solid accomplishment.

"I do believe a combination of poor weather which has cost us 10 home games already and a lack of quality competition, for the most part, hampered our efforts to get ready for last weekend.

"But when it was all over I believe the lessons our men learned will prove to be invaluable. For one thing our men learned HOW to win. For another we were forced to come from behind and win a game, something we had not done in any previous game this season. If those lessons are digested, then we should be all right.

"But doing and learning are two different items. In order to stay with Illinois we'll have to play much, much sharper defense and stop leaving so many runners on base, particularly those in scoring position.

"As to our pitching, well, that, too, must improve drastically. However, I'm not all that disappointed in the job turned in by our men. We received two complete games out of four starts, and that's not all bad.

"But because of a lack of time outdoors playing against other teams, our pitching staff has is still unable to show the sharpness needed to become consistent winners in the Big Ten. I guess we'll find out all about that at Illinois."

Anderson said the two men who turned in complete game wins against Northwestern, junior Bob Meyer (Richfield) (R 2-2, 3.94) and freshman Bill Cutshall (Rochester) (R 4-2, 5.40) should gain starting nods at Illinois.

In addition, sophomore Jim Francour (Marinette, WI) (R 4-2, 3.27), who lost Saturday but came back to throw in relief Sunday, will also be a starter. The fourth starter, says Anderson, will probably be either sophomore Bill Thompson (Bloomington) (R 1-1, 3.24) or senior Jeff German (Richfield) (R 3-1, 4.56).

A FRESHMAN WEEKEND

Freshmen played key roles in Minnesota winning three of four from Northwestern. Rookie hurler Cutshall, after a rough start which saw Northwestern's first three batters lash out hits for two runs, shut out the Wildcats on five singles the rest of the way in winning 13-2 in the last game Sunday. It marked his first Big Ten victory.

In the first contest that day, freshman outfielder Jack Schlichting (Brooklyn Center) slammed his first home run to tie the score 5-5 in the fifth inning, and then delivered a run-scoring single to again tie the score at 6-all in the final inning. With two men out he scored the winning run when junior shortstop Bill Piwnica (PWIN-ih-ca) (Minnetonka) singled sharply to center field.

A third rookie, pitcher-infielder Doug Kampfen (Roseville), pitched in relief both days. His second appearance gained him his first collegiate victory when Minnesota scored its dramatic 7-6 win in the final inning.

Meyer threw a five-hitter at Northwestern in winning 7-1 in the second game Saturday after Francour was hit hard early as the Gophers lost the series opener to the Wildcats 7-2.

Schlichting and Piwnica had two of the hottest bats for UM last weekend. Each stroked our seven hits in the four-game series. Schlichting knocked in four runs and each scored five times. Schlichting had 12 at bats, Piwnica 14.

Junior Terry Steinbach (New Ulm) went 6 for 13 and scored four times while Greg Olson (Edina) and Ronn VanKrevelen (Crystal) each got five hits. VanKrevelen and Tim Steinbach (New Ulm) each knocked in a team high five runs. Tim and a third Steinbach brother, Tom, matched Schlichting's home run total with one each.

Earlier this week the Gophers have six games scheduled. Minnesota plays two at home Tuesday vs. Milton College at 1 p.m., and pays a return visit to St. Cloud State for a twinight doubleheader Wednesday beginning at 6 p.m. Minnesota and St. Cloud split two games played earlier at Siebert Field.

MINNESOTA GRIDDERS HAVE TWO WEEKS OF DRILLS REMAINING

With just two weeks of spring practice remaining, Coach Joe Salem has emphasized the need for his University of Minnesota football team to become more consistent if it hopes to become a winner in 1932.

Salem expressed those thoughts last Saturday after his squad had completed a one-and-one-half hour scrimmage in Memorial Stadium where only two touchdowns were scored and mistakes outnumbered big plays.

"It was another case of our making too many errors," Salem lamented after the workout was concluded. "The defense did some good things, and there was some hard hitting, but overall we need more consistency, and we need to need to have our defense FORCE some turnovers. They have to make things happen."

In the criticism department, Salem said of his offense that "We had too many broken assignments, we put the ball on the ground far too often (there were four fumbles) and we had too many penalties (three for holding)."

So where does Salem hope to take his Gophers? "We have two weeks left before we wind up spring drills," he said. "We know what is wrong. We just have to be willing to work at it and in the process get better. Our goal has been to improve with every practice. Hopefully that is what will happen."

On the credit side of the ledger, Mike Hohensee stood out at quarterback for the Gophers in last weekend's scrimmage which saw the number one offense go against the number one defense for the initial time this spring.

Hohensee responded to the challenge by hitting 15 of 23 passing attempts for 167 yards. He had the best afternoon of any of the four signal callers used in the scrimmage by Coach Salem.

Among the receivers Hohensee found with the most consistency were Joe Vigil, a junior college transfer, who had four grabs for 61 yards, and holdover Lonnie Farrow who had three for 65.

In the running department, sophomore letterman Tony Hunter was the most productive with 43 yards in six carries. On top of that, Alan Reid drew Salem's praise after logging 39 yards in 10 attempts.

"Reid has been a real find for us," Salem said. "He's not as big as some people like their runningbacks, but he has good quickness and is extremely elusive. We feel that he is going to help our ground game a great deal."

Injuries still continue to hamper Minnesota's practice this spring. There were a total of 21 gridders held out of Saturday's workout, and trainer Jim Marshall saw a couple more players helped to the sidelines during the scrimmage. Hopefully that situation will improve before the spring game in Memorial Stadium on May 3.

Meanwhile, the Gopher coaching staff continues to move players around in a number of position changes designed to shore up the offensive line and to bolster a defense which lacked depth in 1931.

TENNIS TEAM FACES WISCONSIN IN BIG TEN DUAL TITLE SHOWDOWN

Jerry Noyce's University of Minnesota men's tennis team plays Wisconsin Friday night at 7:00 p.m. at the 93th Street Racquet and Swim Club in Bloomington. The Gophers can move into a tie for the Big Ten's dual championship with a victory over the first-place Badgers.

The Gophers, who entered the week with a 15-6 overall record and 7-1 Big Ten mark, have won nine consecutive matches and 12 of their last 13, losing only to Michigan. The team opened the week with matches against in-state rivals St. Thomas and Gustavus Adolphus on Monday and Tuesday.

Noyce's squad has beaten the Badgers twice this season by identical 7-2 scores. The last meeting was on February 23 at the Kohler-Wisconsin Quadrangular.

The Badgers began the week with records of 14-6 and 3-0. They upset fatigued Michigan the night after its marathon match with the Gophers.

The powerful Wolverines, 6-1, meet Iowa and Northwestern at home as the two quest for a share of the title.

Following last weekend's trouncing of Iowa and Northwestern, Noyce has apparently found the answer to the team's lineup worries. The Gophers lost only one match during the weekend as they shutout the Hawkeyes 2-0 on Friday and beat the Wildcats 3-1 on Saturday.

Junior Brace Helgeson (St. Cloud) leads the way at number one singles, senior Hakan Almstrom (Stockholm, Sweden) follows at number two and senior captain Ted Kauffmann (Toledo, OH) is in the number three spot. Kauffmann is unbeaten in eight conference matches.

Senior Mike Hoeger (Sioux Falls, SD), freshman Pete Kolaric (Wickliffe, OH) and junior Dave Morin (White Bear Lake) fill the four-five and six positions.

The doubles combinations of Morin-Kauffmann, Hoeger-Almstrom and Kolaric-Helgeson will remain intact. The team's weakness at the beginning of the season, doubles, is now considered to be a strength.

Friday night's match is the last before the Big Ten Tournament which is slated for May 7-9 at Wisconsin.

If it does not qualify for the NCAA Championships on May 15-22 at the University of Georgia, the team would be extended a bid to the first-ever National Invitational Tournament to be held on May 15-18 at Northeast Louisiana's Monroe campus. The NCAA and NIT are both 16-team tournaments.

#1	Brace Helgeson	13-3	6-2
#2	Hakan Almstrom	15-10	4-4
#3	Ted Kauffmann	17-3	3-0
#4	Mike Hoeger	14-9	7-1
#5	Pete Kolaric	13-9	7-1

Doubles

#1	Morin-Kauffmann	6-0	4-0
#2	Hoeger-Almstrom	6-0	5-0

Note: Singles records are for the individual only not the position. The doubles records are for both the individual combinations and the position.

SWEDES SIGN TENNIS TENDERS

Two Swedish standouts, coach Jerry Noyce announced Monday, have signed national letters of intent to attend the University of Minnesota. The recruits, Steffan Ericson of Vaxjo and Fredrik Pahlett of Ekoping, rank among the best incoming freshman in the nation.

Gopher senior Hakan Almstrom, a Stockholm native, was instrumental in bringing the duo to Minnesota. Almstrom, the Big Ten's number four singles champion the last two seasons, believes that the two will step right into the upper ranks of the Gopher lineup. Noyce loses four of his six regulars through graduation.

Ericson is the ninth ranked junior player in Sweden and is a part of the current Swedish Junior National championship doubles combination.

TRACK TEAM AT HOME FOR MINNESOTA INVITATIONAL

The University of Minnesota men's track team is home Saturday for its own Minnesota Invitational. The home-opener is scheduled to begin at 9:30 p.m. The open competition annually features the region's top performers.

The Invitational is the first of four consecutive home meets. Iowa duals the Gophers on May 8 in the Last Chance, the Maroon and Gold Classic follows on May 15 and the Big Ten Championship Meet is slated for the Bierman Track on Saturday and Sunday, May 22 and 23.

Last weekend a contingent of Gopher thinclads competed in the Drake Relays. Lloyd Ness (Rochester) and John Idstrom (Owatonna) finished fifth and sixth in the 10,000 meter run. Ness was clocked at 29:55.63, Idstrom's time was 30:04.12. Springer Francis Ude (Enugu, Nigeria) was ninth in the 100 meter dash and Mike Gebeke (White Bear Lake) was ninth in the 1,500 meter run. --UM--

GOLFERS AT IOWA FOR THE NORTHERN INTERCOLLEGIATE, SIGN TOP STATE PREP PLAYERS

The University of Minnesota men's golf team journeys to Iowa this weekend for the 54-hole Northern Intercollegiate. The tournament, featuring the entire Big Ten as well as other region schools, begins on Friday and continues through Sunday on the Hawkeye's par-72 Finkbine Field layout.

The Northern annually precedes the Big Ten tournament site rotation allowing the golfers and host school to prepare for the following year's conference meet.

The Gophers, under the direction of fourth-year coach Greg Harvey, are lead by senior co-captains Steve Oftelie (Waconia) and Kirk Snider (Hastings). Seniors Bill Folkes (Coon Rapids), Rick Frieberg (Alexandria), Jay Swanson (Golden Valley) and sophomore Stu Oftelie (Waconia) round out the six-man squad.

Last Friday at the University Course, the Gophers easily topped an 11-team field in their own Minnesota Invitational with a 27-hole team total of 445. Snider was the medalist with a four-over-par 110.

Harvey has signed what he believes are the top two high school players in Minnesota in Austin's Steve Barber and Blake's John Brellenthin. Barber is the defending state high school champion, while Brellenthin was last season's Minnesota Junior Player of the Year. The latter shot a 77 to win the high school division of last Friday's Invitational. --UM--

GYMNASTICS MEET AT WILLIAMS ARENA

The University of Minnesota's men's gymnastics team is hosting the Mid-East Regional Qualifying Meet for the National Team and the National Championships Friday and Saturday at Williams Arena.

The compulsory routines are scheduled to begin at 7:00 p.m. on Friday night, while the optional routines are slated for Saturday afternoon at 2:00 p.m. Admission is $2.50 for adults and $1.50 for students and children under 13.

Gymnasts from Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Michigan, Minnesota, Nebraska and Wisconsin will compete for a position on the National Team and a berth in the National Championship. The national meet will be held on June 3-5 in Syracuse, New York.

Contestants who score 112 points or more or who are among the top 24 nationally will move on to the national meet.

Gophers Brian Meeker (Edina), Joe Ray (Main, IL) and Tim Koopman (Bloomington) will take part in the meet. Meeker is a two-time National Team member, while Ray is seeking his second year on the squad.

BSB CLOSES HOME BIG-10 SKED

Minneapolis, MN---After dropping three of four at red-hot Illinois last weekend, the University of Minnesota baseball Gophers play their final home Big Ten series this weekend against their arch rival, the Iowa Hawkeyes.

Minnesota is now struggling to stay alive in the West Division conference race trailing Illinois. The Illini are 11-1 in Big Ten play with four games remaining, while the Gophers are 4-4 with eight games left. Next week Minnesota closes its campaign with four games at Wisconsin.

Minnesota saw its season record fall to 21-14-1 after last weekend, and also hopes of repeating as Big Ten West Division champion. Illinois needs but one victory in its final four games at Northwestern to clinch the crown.

The Illini would then play host for the Big Ten championship playoffs with two teams from the East division and one more from the West making up the field. Minnesota has a solid shot at being runner-up in the West.

The Gophers got off to a bad start in the first game Saturday at Illinois stranding nine runners while getting seven singles and one double, and also committing three costly errors. Starter Jim Francour (5-3) was not his sharpest of the season, either, in losing a 9-2 decision.

Bob Meyer (3-3) threw a solid game in the second encounter Saturday, but his teammates were stiffled on a four-hitter by Gene Filippo. Mayer gave up nine hits, but just three runs while striking out five.

Four Gopher pitchers gave up seven walks and 13 hits as Minnesota lost 6-4 in Sunday's first contest. Ronn VanKrevelen drilled the first Gopher home run of the weekend, and came back with another two-run round tripper in Minnesota's eight-run fifth inning as UM finally won with an 11-6 decision.

Freshman Doug Kampsen, who relieved another first year hurler, Bill Cutshall, in the fourth inning, gained his second Big Ten win.

Sophomore third baseman Terry Steinbach saw his torrid hitting streak come to an end in the second game Saturday. He had hit safely in 16 previous games, including the first game Saturday. Terry has now collected at least one safe blow in 30 of his last 32 games.

Before meeting Iowa Friday and Saturday, Minnesota plays a make-up double header Wednesday against Hamline at Siebert Field. The first game starts at 1 p.m.

GOPHERS TO WIND UP SPRING DRILLS ON SATURDAY

If Coach Joe Salem has enough players left who are healthy, the University of Minnesota will wind up its spring practice session with the annual Spring Game at 10:30 Saturday morning in Memorial Stadium.

Assuming that finale goes on as scheduled, there won't be any admission charge and the public is invited to get a look at the 1932 Golden Gophers free of charge in what is expected to be one of the last events in Memorial Stadium.

Next fall Minnesota will play its home games in the Hubert H. Humphrey Metrodome in downtown Minneapolis. The '32 home slate shows a September 11 opener against Ohio University followed by games with Washington State September 25, Illinois October 2, Indiana October 15, Iowa October 23 and Michigan State November 13. All games are ticketed for 7:00 p.m. except the Homecoming assignment against Indiana which is set for 1 p.m.

But that's next fall. This spring has Coach Salem scratching his head in wonder. "I've never seen so many players hurt," he said. "We haven't had a large number of severe injuries, but the number of nuisance injuries that keep people on the sidelines is unbelievable."

The situation became so severe last week that Salem ran his club through a light scrimmage on Wednesday, then put the reserves through an even lighter workout on Friday and called off the planned-for scrimmage Saturday.

"We've had 33 players who have missed one or more days of practice this spring because of hurts," Salem explained, "and it got so bad last week that we just did not have enough people to hold a major scrimmage."

Of even more concern to Salem than the actual number of players hurt is the fact that it has hampered progress. "We haven't accomplished what we set out to do," Salem said.

"A year ago we lacked some depth in certain areas," he recalled, "so this spring we planned to make a few position changes and bring along some of our younger people in hopes of shoring up those areas. But injuries have prevented us from getting that done. We have a very big senior class, so as we look to the future, we need to develop those younger people who could be in a position to help us next fall. So far they haven't gotten the work they need, and they haven't developed the way we had hoped."

With the Gophers now in their final week of drills, Salem hopes things will begin to fall into place and the Spring Game on Saturday gives the coaching staff an opportunity to accurately evaluate the current squad before it disperses for the summer.

"Our goal has been to improve with each practice, to get better every week," Salem maintains. "Last week's situation hurt. But all we can do is go forward and hope that our last week is a good one."

That, obviously, would include the Spring Game on Saturday. If Salem has enough players left who are healthy.

TENNIS TEAM AT THE 72ND ANNUAL BIG TEN CHAMPIONSHIPS

The University of Minnesota men's tennis team defends its first-ever Big Ten championship Friday, Saturday and Sunday at the 72nd Annual Big Ten meet at Wisconsin.

The tournament is being played in the University of Wisconsin's Nielson Tennis Stadium.

The Gophers, 18-6 overall and 3-1 in the Big Ten, closed the dual season with a 12 match winning streak. Losing only to Michigan, the team won 15 of its last 16 dual matches.

With a 7-2 victory over Wisconsin last Friday night the Gophers grabbed a share of the conference's dual meet crown. Minnesota, Michigan and Wisconsin tied for the Big Ten lead with identical 3-1 records.

The Badgers and Wolverines join the Gophers as the pre-tournament favorite. Last season the Gophers tied Michigan for the team championship.

Junior Brace Helgeson (St. Cloud) starts things off at number one singles, senior Hakan Almstrom (Stockholm, Sweden) follows at number two and senior captain Ted Kauffmann is in the number three spot. Kauffmann (Toledo, Ohio) is unbeaten in nine conference matches.

Senior Mike Hoeger (Sioux Falls, SD), freshman Pete Kolaric (Wickliffe, Ohio) and junior Dave Morin (White Bear Lake) fill the four-five and six positions.

The doubles combinations of Morin-Kauffmann, Hoeger-Almstrom and Kolaric-Helgeson, that anchored the team down the stretch, will remain intact.

If it does not qualify for the NCAA Championships on May 15-22 at the University of Georgia the team would be extended a bid to the first-ever National Invitational Tournament to be held on May 15-18 at Northeast Louisiana's Monroe campus. The NCAA and NIT are both 16-team tournaments. --UM--

TRACK TEAM HOSTS LAST CHANCE MEET ON SATURDAY

Roy Griak's University of Minnesota men's track team hosts the Last Chance meet this Saturday at the Bierman Field Track. Iowa and Iowa State join a field consisting of a number of state schools in the competition which is scheduled to begin at 9:30 a.m.

Next week the Gophers host the Maroon and Gold Classic and then on May 22-23 the Big Ten Championship meet will be held at the Bierman facility.

Last Saturday the Gophers opened the home season with the Minnesota Invitational. Sophomore sprinter Francis Ude (Enugu, Nigeria) led the Gophers with victories in the 100 and 200-yard dashes. Ude's times were 10.52 and 21.07.

Other Gopher champions were John Keohen (Montgomery) in the 10,000-meter run, Brian Halvorsen (Hudson, Wisconsin) in the 400-meter intermediate hurdles, Al Whitesell (Coon Rapids) in the pole vault and the 1,600-meter relay team.

Keohen's time was 29:50.13, setting a new track record, Halvorsen was clocked in 53.04, Whitesell cleared 16'1/4" and the relay team finished with a time of 3:13.08.

GOLFERS AT WISCONSIN ON SUNDAY AND MONDAY

The University of Minnesota men's golf team journeys to the University of Wisconsin Sunday and Monday for the 36-hole Wisconsin Invitational.

The tournament will be played on the 7,101 yard Cherokee Golf and Tennis Club layout. The site of the 1930 Big Ten Championships, the course has water hazards on 16 of the 18 holes.

Last weekend the Gophers finished in a tie for ninth place with 1,113 strokes at the 54-hole Northern Intercollegiate played at the University of Iowa.

Sophomore Stu Oftelie (Waconia) fired a five-over-par 218 to lead the Gophers.

On May 14-16 the Gophers will compete in the 72-hole Big Ten Championships at Purdue.

B-10 BSB FINISHES AT WIS.

Minneapolis, MN---A lot of cliches could be used while discussing the plight of the Minnesota baseball Gophers. But what the hey! Who needs it.

Minnesota is presently tied for second in the West Division of the Big Ten race. Minnesota has but four league games remaining. . .all at Wisconsin Thursday and Friday. Minnesota and Wisconsin are tied at 5-7.

To further complicate things, Iowa and Northwestern are also tied at 4-8 in the West. They play each other four times Saturday and Sunday. A sweep by either of the latter clubs could propel them into second place in the final standings.

Of the four clubs listed above, whoever ends up best joins West Division champion Illinois, 14-2, at Champaign May 21-23 against the top two teams from the East Division for the Big Ten championship playoffs.

A Gopher sweep at Madison would end matters. Of course, a Gopher sweep last weekend could have cleared the air, too.

Minnesota did nothing to aid its own cause last weekend by dropping three of four home games to Iowa. The Hawkeyes swept UM 8-1 and 10-6 Friday before the Gophers broke through with a 2-1 victory Saturday behind two freshmen pitchers.

However, the Hawks rallied to take a 4-2 decision in the fourth game with two runs in the final inning. Freshmen pitchers again worked the final game for Minnesota.

ANDERSON ON THE GOPHERS

"I guess I'm still a bit numb from what has happened this season," rookie head coach John Anderson said Sunday. "But I remain pretty much open-minded for anything to happen. Nothing would surprise me at this point.

"We simply have not done the job. We have possibly stranded a record number of baserunners in scoring position. And for the most part our pitchers have not been able to hold the opposition down, either.

"The big plays, the big hits, the key games we won last year with rallies are missing this season. On paper we appeared when the season opened to have a team ready to challenge anyone. On paper.

"But as wierd as everything seems, we are still alive and kicking in the Big Ten race. We can still reach the playoffs and challenge for the league championship. Until someone tells us differently, we will continue to play for all the marbles." (See, I told you we didn't need any cliches).

"I guess right now all we can do is hope that what happened to us last weekend against Iowa happens to Wisconsin this week," Anderson added.

Possibly Anderson's biggest worry lies with his pitching staff. As of Sunday he said it appears youth is the key.

"We had three freshman throw darned well for us against Iowa," Anderson continued. "Bill Cutshall (Rochester) got our lone win with a save by Doug Kampsen (Roseville) Saturday. In the next game Barry Wohler (Bird Island) pitched six strong innings and made only one really bad pitch. Their (Iowa) third baseman hit one a country mile with a man on base.

"But Wohler tired in the seventh and we called on Kampsen one time too many, I guess. He simply didn't have enough left and couldn't bail us out again.

"All three of those rookies will pitch in Madison this week. We will also start junior Bob Meyer (Richfield) and possibly use another upperclassman. At the same time we may have to move sophomore starter Jim Francour (Marinette, WI) to the bullpen. He has experienced some arm problems as of late.

"Then all we have to do is find a way to back our young pitchers with some lusty hitting. We've got to return to being aggressive at the plate. We've got to start attacking the ball again. The challenge is there. Now it's up to us to accept the challenge." (See, still no cliches!).

TRACK TEAM HOSTS MAROON AND GOLD CLASSIC ON SATURDAY

The University of Minnesota men's track and field team continues preparations for the upcoming Big Ten Championships this Saturday when it hosts the Maroon and Gold Classic. The Classic will begin at 1:00 p.m. at the Bierman Field Track, also the site of the Big Ten meet later this month.

Coach Roy Griak has received entries from Augustana of South Dakota, Bethel, Concordia College of Moorhead, Hamline, the University of Manitoba, North Dakota State, Northwestern, University of Osage, Iowa, South Dakota State, Wartburg College of Iowa and Wisconsin-Stout. Others may join the field during the week.

Last Saturday, at the Bierman Track, the team competed in its own Last Chance Invitational. Top Gopher performances came from sophomore sprinter Francis Ude (Enugu, Nigeria) who took the 100 and 200-meter dashes, Don Hurley (St. Paul) in the 3,000-meter steeplechase and quarter-milers Tom Coles (Hutchinson), Vince Rodrique (Plymouth) and Emmanuel Onyia (Enugu, Nigeria). Griak praised the performance of the 1,600-meter relay team which included the quarter-milers and Brian Halvorsen (Hudson, Wisconsin).

The 32nd Annual Big Ten Championship Meet is slated for May 22 and 23.

TENNIS TEAM EXTENDED BID TO THE NIT FOLLOWING SECOND-PLACE BIG TEN FINISH

Coach Jerry Noyce's University of Minnesota men's tennis team is expected to accept a bid to the first-ever National Invitational Tournament to be held Saturday through Tuesday, May 15-18 at Northeast Louisiana's Monroe campus.

The 16-team tournament includes a team dual competition and an individual championship. The Gophers enter the tournament with an 13-6 overall record. They were 8-1 in the Big Ten.

The team finished second at last weekend's Big Ten meet at Wisconsin. The Gophers managed 54 points, while Michigan captured its 15th consecutive title with 60.

Freshman Pete Kolaric (Wickliffe, Ohio) led the team with the number five singles championship and a share of the number three doubles title. Sophomore Dave Morin (White Bear Lake) won the number six singles title and Brace Helgeson (St. Cloud) teamed with Kolaric for the doubles crown.

Helgeson joins seniors Eakan Almstrom (Stockholm, Sweden), Mike Hoeger (Sioux Falls, SD) and Ted Kauffmann (Toledo, OH) on the 12-man all-Big Ten team. It was the third time Kauffmann, the team's captain, has been so honored and the second time for Almstrom.

GOLFERS AT 63RD ANNUAL BIG TEN CHAMPIONSHIP MEET

The University of Minnesota men's golf team travels to West Lafayette, Indiana for the 63rd Annual Big Ten Championship Meet this weekend at Purdue University.

The 72-hole event includes single rounds on Friday and Sunday and a double round on Saturday. Team scoring is based on the low five scores per round of the six participating team members. Individual scoring is determined by each player's 72-hole total.

The Boilermaker's South Course offers the competitors a hilly terrain with wooded, tight fairways and large greens. The par 71, 6,362-yard layout has a course rating of 70.1 and includes five par three holes.

Gopher coach Greg Harvey will use six of the following seven players: Jay Axelson (Northfield), Bill Folkes (Coon Rapids), Rick Frieberg (Alexandria), Steve Oftelie (Waconia), Stu Oftelie (Waconia), Kirk Snider (Hastings) and Jay Swanson (Golden Valley).

Ohio State is the tournament favorite, while Indiana could challenge. The Gophers and host Boilermakers are expected to finish in the upper division.

The team competed in the Wisconsin Invitational last Sunday and Monday.

82ND ANNUAL BIG TEN TRACK AND FIELD CHAMPIONSHIPS SET FOR SATURDAY AND SUNDAY AT THE BIERMAN FIELD TRACK

The University of Minnesota's Bierman Field Track is the site of this weekend's 82nd Annual Big Ten Track and Field Championships. The meet begins Saturday at 4:00 p.m. and continues Sunday morning at 11:45 p.m.

Admission will be $3.00 for adults and $2.00 for students and children under 18.

Gopher coach Roy Griak, in his 19th season at Minnesota, expects defending champion Michigan and powerful Indiana to battle for the team championship. Illinois, Michigan State and Wisconsin appear to be in the strongest position to follow the leaders in the first division.

The Wolverines, featuring depth at each event and a well-balanced lineup, return four individual champions including the conference's premier sprinter Edward Bruce.

The Hoosiers, on-the-other-hand, are blessed with quality rather than great quantity. Sunder Nix is the conference record holder in the 400 and may also run the 200, Jim Spivey is the favorite to defend his 5,000 and 10,000 titles, and David Volz is the top American pole vaulter consistently clearing 18 feet. Volz won last year's NCAA championship as a freshman.

Two world class shot putters, Illinois' Mike Lehmann and Ohio State's Kevin Aikins, may push the conference standard to nearly 70 feet. Lehmann set an all-time Big Ten mark last weekend with a put of 68'5½" and won the NCAA Indoor championship this year; Aikins best 'is 66'6½".

Michigan State's top performer is junior sprinter Elliot Tabron, while Wisconsin considers freshman sprinter Leroy Dixson to be their strongest individual. Both Tabron and Dixson are threats in the 100, 200 and 400 depending on what events their coaches choose to enter them.

The host Gophers are led by a group of talented distance runners and sophomore sprinter Francis Ude (Enugu, Nigeria).

Ude finished fifth in last year's conference meet and was third indoors this season. He enters the meet with times of 10.52 in the 100 and 21.02 in the 200.

The nucleus of Griak's cross country team last Fall, seniors Don Hurley (St. Paul), John Idstrom (Owatonna), Lloyd Ness (Rochester) and junior John Keohen (Montgomery) provide distance strength.

Keohen is the team leader in the 5,000 and 10,000 with bests of 14:08.85 and 29:50.13, while Hurley is the top Gopher in the 1,500 with a time of 3:46.94 and the 3,000 steeplechase with a time of 8:51.91.

Long sprinters Tom Coles (Hutchinson) and Mike Moran (Cottage Grove), hurdlers Brian Halvorsen (Hudson, WI) and Steve Hoff (Eau Claire, WI), and pole vaulter Al Whitesell (Coon Rapids) are expected to place in their events.

The team's relay teams are also likely scoring possibilities.

Anderson, the Gopher captain in 1924, is a former world record holder in the 110-meter high hurdles and finished fourth in the 1924 Paris Olympics. He retired in 1966 from the Northwestern Life Insurance Company of Minneapolis where he served as Senior Vice President and Medical Director. Anderson resides in Excelsior.

GOLFERS EIGHTH AT BIG TEN CHAMPIONSHIP MEET

The University of Minnesota men's golf team concluded the season with a disappointing eighth place finish at the 63rd Annual Big Ten Championship Meet played at Purdue.

The Gophers tallied a 72-hole total of 1510 strokes, while Ohio State captured its sixth title in seven years with 1452.

Individually, Illinois's Mike Chadwick fired an even-par 234 for the championship. Kirk Snider (Hastings) led the Gophers with 300, Stu Oftelie (Waconia) followed with a 304, Bill Folkes (Coon Rapids) and Steve Oftelie (Waconia) each recorded 307 and Rick Frieburg (Alexandria) and Jay Swanson (Golden Valley) both shot 311.

Of the six that competed in the conference championship, only Stu Oftelie will return next season. Stu is a sophomore, while the others are seniors.

Minneapolis, MN---Last Saturday when Iowa and Northwestern split a doubleheader at Iowa City, everyone connected with the U. of Minnesota baseball program heaved a collective sigh of relief.

The split mentioned guaranteed the Gophers a second place finish in the final Big Ten West Division standings and entry into the conference championship playoffs this weekend at Champaign, IL.

Minnesota completed its regular season schedule with a 29-18-1 record, and finished 8-8 in the Big Ten West. Had Iowa won its four games against Northwestern, the Hawkeyes would have tied the Gophers and, based on winning three of four from UM earlier, would have won the playoff berth themselves.

The Gophers meet East Division co-champion Ohio State (36-10-1) at 4 p.m. Friday in Champaign following the first game between Michigan (41-8) and West Division champion Illinois (48-20). The tournament format is double elimination. Last year Minnesota lost to Michigan 10-6 in the playoff final held in Ann Arbor.

GOPHERS TAKE 3 OF 4 AT WISCONSIN

Minnesota earned its way into the playoff picture by taking three of four games from Wisconsin at Madison last Thursday and Friday. The schools split the first day with Wisconsin winning 2-1 on a two-hitter, and UM coming from behind to take a 5-2 decision.

The Gophers captured both games Friday winning the opener 7-5 on Ronn VanKrevelen's two out, two-run homer in the eighth inning. In the nightcap Minnesota took a 5-0 decision behind the six-hit pitching of freshman Doug Kampsen (4-0) making his first Big Ten start. Kampsen had been used exclusively in relief.

On the hill besides Kampsen last weekend, another freshman, Bill Cutshall (6-2), won the second game Thursday with a save going to Jim Francour (6-4). Francour came back with six innings of relief pitching to win the first game Friday as the Gophers rallied from a 3-0 deficit to win 7-5 in extra innings.

For the series, VanKrevelen smacked out 7 hits in 15 at bats. He knocked in five runs and scored 5 times himself with two triples and his 11th home run of the season, the latter figure is tops on the Gopher varsity. Catcher Greg Olson also fattened his bat average by picking up 7 hits in 16 trips and he, too, scored five times, mostly on VanKrevelen's long blasts.

In final Big Ten statistics for the Gophers, Olson led the way for UM this season with a .379 league batting average. His seven hits last weekend matched his best previous output when the Gophers lost three of four at Illinois earlier. VanKrevelen batted .340 with six extra base hits, including three home runs.

ANDERSON ON THE GOPHERS

"Naturally we are all excited about the chance to win a Big Ten championship for our school," rookie head coach John Anderson said Monday. "At least now we can forget about struggling the past few weeks.

"The latter may be the biggest benefit of all. Several of our players did not reach their own goals, or even team goals, this season. Some of us were struggling and not coming through when needed. But now all that's past. It's a new season starting Friday and everyone is 0-0.

"Strange things can happen in a tournament of this type. But everyone gains a fresh start and every team is equal regardless of season records.

"We actually know very little about Ohio State except that the Buckeyes led the conference in hitting and can hit with a lot of power. Their pitching has also been sharp when needed, so we are in for a rugged battle.

"Unless I find something really different about their lineup, my belief right now is that we'll start junior pitcher Bob Meyer (R, 3-5) Friday.

"I'm pleased for our players that we finished the regular season on a high note winning three of four at Wisconsin. Our men began to get more aggressive at the plate and our pitching was solid all series. We only allowed Wisconsin four earned runs in the four games. And Meyer lost when we only came up with two hits in the first game. He gave up just five hits and two unearned runs in losing 2-1.

"The wins may have been costly for us, though. It appears we have lost junior right fielder Tom Steinbach for the remainder of the season. He suffered a knee injury Thursday and was to be checked out by our team physician today.

"But like I said, it's a brand new season. So let's get on with it."

1982-83 GOPHER BASKETBALL SCHEDULE RELEASED

Minneapolis, MN---The University of Minnesota Men's Athletic Department has released its basketball schedule for the 1982-83 season. In total the Gophers will play 28 games, including 18 league contests for the defending Big Ten champions.

The Gophers also play nine non-conference opponents, five at home, before the Big Ten opener here January 6 against Illinois. The remaining "outside" opponent is the University of Cincinnati here on Wednesday, February 16. As usual, Minnesota meets all nine Big Ten opponents home and home.

Visiting Williams Arena early in the season are North Dakota State, U.S. International, Marquette, Indiana State and Montana State. Road games in December include stops at Iowa State, Drake, Dayton and Jacksonville.

Head coach Jim Dutcher has posted a seven-year record of 131-67 at Minnesota, which includes two post season trips to the NIT prior to last year's entry into the NCAA Championships following UM's first Big Ten title in a decade. On the season Minnesota ended 23-6 last year. Its league championship record was 14-4.

82-83 HOCKEY SCHEDULE ANNOUNCED

Minneapolis, MN---The University of Minnesota has announced a 38-game schedule for its 1982-83 varsity hockey team. The Gophers will play an equal number of games, 19, home and away.

Minnesota opens the season October 15 at home against Northern Michigan of the Central Collegiate Hockey Association (CCHA). The same teams play again the next night in the Hall of Fame Game at Eveleth, MN, site of the U.S. Hockey Hall of Fame.

Following a home series the next week vs. the U. of Manitoba, Minnesota opens play in the Western Collegiate Hockey Association (WCHA) against Wisconsin at home. In all the Gophers play 26 league games, 12 at home and 14 on the road. UM plays six games vs. Wisconsin, Minnesota-Duluth and Denver, plus four each vs. Colorado College and North Dakota.

Wisconsin visits Williams Arena for two two-game series, while the Gophers travel to Minnesota-Duluth and Denver twice for four games at each site.

Other non-conference Minnesota guests at home, besides Northern Michigan, are Boston College, Northern Arizona and Yale University. The Gophers also travel to San Diego, CA, for a second visit to U.S. International University. Minnesota played there in 1980-81.

Brad Buetow will carry record of 81-39-2 into his fourth season as head coach of the Gopher ice program. Last season Minnesota finished 22-12-2 overall, and 13-11-2 good for third place in the WCHA.

GOPHER HAPPENINGS ON TAP:

5/28-29-30 -- (BB) at the NCAA Midwest Regional Championships, Stillwater, OK

GOPHERS WIN BIG TEN BSB, ON TO NCAA REGIONALS

Minneapolis, MN---The U. of Minnesota baseball Gophers went to the ball as ragamuffins, but they rode home in Cinderella's carriage with every glass slipper accounted for.

The "ball" was the Big Ten championships at Champaign, IL. Minnesota went there last weekend with the least impressive record among the four competitors, including host Big Ten West Division champion Illinois and East Division co-champions Ohio State and Michigan.

On Friday, Ohio State and Michigan won over the Gophers and Illinois, respectively, as expected. But Saturday began a full slate of surprises. Minnesota wiped out Illinois 8-3 under the double elimination format, and then boosted Michigan into season retirement with a 5-4 decision that afternoon. Michigan had lost earlier in the day to Ohio State.

That left it up to the Gophers and the then undefeated Buckeyes on Sunday. So the underdog again rose to the top as the Gophers took both games, 8-7 and 7-5, to win the school's first Big Ten diamond title since 1977.

So now it's on to Stillwater, OK, and the NCAA Midwest Regional Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Minnesota (32-20-1) meets host school Oklahoma State (53-14) in the first round Thursday, May 27, at 7:30 p.m. CDT. That afternoon Oral Roberts (49-11) tangles with Middle Tennessee (30-13) at 1:30 p.m. Losers play at 1:30 p.m. Friday with the loser of that game being eliminated, and Thursday's winners meet at 7:30 p.m. Friday. As in the Big Ten playoffs, a double elimination format is used.

All games will be played at Allie Reynolds Stadium named after the former Oklahoma native and New York Yankee pitching great. The stadium seats 3,000.

4 GOPHERS ON ALL-TOURNEY TEAM

Four members of Minnesota's Big Ten championship baseball team were named to the conference playoff honor team as selected following play last weekend on the U. of Illinois campus.

Named to the team from UM were Terry Steinbach at 3b, Gary Jost 2b, Bill Piwnica ss, and Tim Steinbach as dh. Terry Steinbach was also voted co-MVP.

Both Terry Steinbach and Jost went 10 for 23 at the plate for identical .435 batting averages. Steinbach drove in 7 runs with three doubles and a triple included in his base hits. Jost had two doubles and scored 5 runs.

Piwnica was unreal on defense handling 39 chances without making an error. He also collected the only home run hit by Minnesota in the playoffs, a three-run shot that helped beat Michigan 5-4. Tim Steinbach chipped in with 7 hits in 22 trips for a .318 bat mark.

Center fielder Ronn VanKrevelen also owned a hot bat going 7 for 17 (.412) and scored 5 times. He had four doubles in the five games UM played.

Although Minnesota did not receive a single complete game from its pitching corps, the Gopher hurlers were awfully tough in the clutch. Junior Bob Meyer lost the first outing to OSU, but came back to beat the Buckeyes in relief Sunday. Three freshmen, Bill Cutshall, Barry Wohler and Doug Kampsen, recorded the other Gopher victories. Cutshall and Wohler won as starters while Kampsen, after gaining a save Saturday, won in relief in the last game Sunday.

ANDERSON ON THE GOPHERS

"I guess I'm still kind of numb about the whole thing," rookie Gopher head coach John Anderson said from Champaign Monday. Minnesota could not make plane connections to fly home Sunday evening.

"But I do know an awful lot of pride went into what happened here this weekend," the coach continued. "We were relegated to a 'why are we here' status by the media and everyone else at the playoffs. So I guess that kind of fired up our men and they simply played over their heads from start to finish.

"We were a bit tight and lost a number of opportunities to win the first game. But from that point on everything we tried seemed to work. We got the breaks needed to win, and created a few of our own, too.

"We received great leadership from the upperclassmen, and every one of our rookies played over their heads. We defeated three damned good baseball teams. So this was no fluke. Our kids worked as hard as anyone else and simply made it happen. I could throw in a million more cliches, but I guess that's not needed.

"I can tell you, however, that we are proud champions. I would guess half the members of this team said to me during last week that there is one thing they wanted more than anything else, a Big Ten championship ring. Now they have it, and no one could be happier for them than myself.

"Some people might believe anything else that happens will be anticlimax. Well, you can forget that right now. We are the Big Ten representative going into the NCAA regionals. As of right now (early Monday) I do not know where we are going or who we will play. But I do know the members of this team realize the awesome responsibility of representing the Big Ten with honor and pride. And win or lose that's exactly what we will do."

Anderson declined to single out individuals for special praise wanting rather to hold onto the team concept of this championship. "Sure there were individuals who stood out for us," Anderson quickly inserted, "but it was the 22 players who were there and the reserves back home who all played a part in our winning. If I started naming names, I would have to name everyone who contributed, and we don't have the space."

One name that has to be mentioned is sophomore third baseman Terry Steinbach (New Ulm) who was named tournament co-MVP along with Ohio State catcher Jeff King. Steinbach broke out of a recent batting slump and drove in several runs with key extra base hits for the Gophers. He was 5 for 10 at the plate Sunday.

GOPHERS EARN TRIP TO JAPAN

Regardless of what transpires for the Gophers at the NCAA level, the University of Minnesota baseball team has already qualified for a tournament in Japan next August.

Although details have yet to be completed, it is known that champions from the Big Ten (Minnesota), the Pacific 10, Southwest and Western Athletic Conferences have been invited to meet four Japanese collegiate teams in tournament play. It will mark the first international competition for a Gopher baseball team.

RANDOM GOPHER NOTES:

The trip this week to Stillwater, OK, and the Midwest Regional marks the 14th appearance in the NCAA Tournament by a U. of Minnesota baseball team. Past Gopher clubs have been to the Midwest Regional on 11 previous occasions and have won the championship five times with a total record of 20-13.

Gopher teams of 1976 and 1981 also appeared in regional competition. The '76 club went to Tempe, AZ, for the Rocky Mountain Regional, while last year's Gopher nine played at Coral Gables, FL, in the Southern Region. Both teams were eliminated.

Minnesota has made five trips to the NCAA College World Series at Omaha, NE, and took national titles the first three times in 1956, 1960 and 1964. Minnesota's overall post season record stands at 39-24. Big Ten playoff results are not included in the latter figures.

IDSTROM AND NESS FINISH 1-2 IN THE 10,000 TO ADVANCE TO NATIONALS

Senior distance runners John Idstrom (Owatonna) and Lloyd Ness (Rochester) left the pack behind to finish first and second in the 10,000-meter competition of the 82nd Annual Big Ten Track and Field Championship held Saturday and Sunday at the University's Bierman Track.

Idstrom was awarded first place by one-hundredth of a second as the two crossed the finish line shoulder-to-shoulder.

Idstrom was timed in 29 minutes, 3.64 seconds---three-tenths of a second off the meet record. Ness was clocked at 29:03.65.

Both runners were well below the NCAA Qualifying time of 29:10 and now will compete in the national meet at Brigham Young University in Provo, Utah on June 3-5.

The team picked up 19 points in the 10,000 (Dave Morrison finished sixth) and totaled 54 to wind up sixth in the competition. Michigan won its third straight title with 115.

A group of Gophers will compete in the TFA/USA Championship in Wichita, Kansas this Friday and Saturday.

Fri. 6/4 -- (TR) at NCAA Outdoor Championships, Provo, UT

BASEBALL ENDS AT 33-22-1

Minneapolis, MN---It wasn't beautiful, but the final series at Stillwater, OK, last weekend capped a successful campaign for the 1932 University of Minnesota baseball Gophers.

Minnesota bowed out of the NCAA Midwest Regional with a 1-2 record. The Gophers dropped a two-day, rain-delayed game to host and eventual regional champ Oklahoma State 16-9, came back to eliminate Oral Roberts 9-0, then lost in a final bid for a trip to the College World Series by going down 7-1 to Middle Tennessee.

The final season log reads 33-22-1. But included in the record is the 13th Big Ten championship in UM diamond history.

Last week's trip to Stillwater also marked the 14th time a Gopher team had reached NCAA post season play. Minnesota's cumulative record for those years reads 40 wins against 26 losses.

The 1932 Gophers had to overcome a deep mid-season slump before rallying to first qualify for, and then win, the Big Ten playoffs.

This Gopher edition appeared to do everything the hard way. For instance, Minnesota played eight series consisting of three or more games. Would you believe the Gophers dropped the first game in every single one of those series? But you may still call them champions.

ABOUT THE PLAYOFFS

Among others, sophomore third baseman Terry Steinbach (New Ulm) and frosh pitcher Bill Cutshall (Rochester) were Minnesota's brightest performers down at Stillwater. Steinbach was a unanimous choice for the all-tournament team as UM's lone representative.

He batted an even .500 going 7 for 14 at the plate to lead all tournament batters. He also drove in six runs. Included in his safe blows were three doubles and a grand slam home run.

A week earlier he was named co-MVP of the Big Ten playoffs and also earned a spot on the All-Big Ten first team along with teammate Greg Olson, junior catcher from Edina.

Terry finished the season atop the Gopher batting charts with an impressive .402 batting average and in the process established three new single season career records: most at bats (194), most hits (73), and most runs batted in (65). The latter mark broke the standard of 64 RBIs set last year by older brother Tom.

Cutshall won his 3th straight game of the season by shutting down Oral Roberts 9-0 last Friday on six hits. The Mayo High School rookie lost his first two starts on the spring trip to Texas before going on to become Minnesota's winningest pitcher this season with an 8-2 record. He also led the Gopher staff in strikeouts with 51, was second in innings pitched with 62.1, and finished with an earned run average of 3.90.

Junior shortstop Bill Pivnica (Minnetonka) also had a good NCAA series getting 4 hits in 9 at bats and drove in five runs.

GOPHER MVP ANNOUNCED

In voting by the 1982 Minnesota baseball team, senior center fielder Ronn VanKrevelen of Crystal has been named the team's most valuable player by a unanimous vote of his teammates.

VanKrevelen came on with a great late season rush to, at times, almost carry the Gophers through some rough times when many of the squad members were in deep slumps.

In the final regular season series at Wisconsin, VanKrevelen won two of three Gopher victories with late inning extra base blows. In the Big Ten playoffs he was 7 for 17 and drove in three runs while slamming out four doubles. Last weekend at the NCAA playoffs he capped UM's lone win with a long two-run homer.

For the season Ronn was second in hitting only to team leader Terry Steinbach. VanKrevelen ended up batting .369 with 65 hits in 176 at bats. He set two school single season records for most doubles (19) and most total bases (123). He also led the Gophers in home runs with 12 and was second in runs batted in with 50.

VanKrevelen earned four varsity letters at Minnesota and finished his career with a cumulative batting average of .303 and 20 career home runs.

He was also named to the All-Big Ten second team as selected by the head coaches.

ANDERSON ON THE SEASON

"Well, about the best I can say is that nobody expected us to do too much this year and I guess our players fooled some people," first-year head coach John Anderson said after returning from the NCAA Regional.

"The last three weeks we played under constant pressure and our men really came through. We had to win at least three games in the final regular season series at Wisconsin, and we did.

"Then we dropped the first game of our Big Ten playoffs and were faced with winning four straight. We did that, too.

"I'm afraid we ran out of gas and emotion at the same time down in Stillwater, OK. The first game was a nightmare. Rain forced us to play two days to complete one game. Oklahoma State jumped all over us when the game was restarted and won going away.

"But when we bounced back an hour later to defeat Oral Roberts 9-0, I'm afraid it took out all we had left. We did not show any aggressiveness at the plate or in the field in our final loss.

"I am in no way disappointed with the efforts of our men. We went as far as we could and that's all any coach can ask.

"I'm certain that every man on our club will long remember the day we won the Big Ten championship at Champaign, Illinois. We weren't even supposed to be there, but our guys really played over their heads. I don't know what else a coach could ask.

"Now we are looking ahead to next season. Considering we started seven underclassmen in our final game, 1983 could hold some great possibilities for Gopher baseball. I wish the season started tomorrow."

IDSTROM AND NESS AT THE NCAA CHAMPIONSHIP MEET

Senior 10,000-meter runners John Idstrom (Owatonna) and Lloyd Ness (Rochester), who recently finished first and second in the Big Ten, will compete in this week's 61st NCAA Track and Field Championship Meet.

The 10,000 competition is slated for Friday at 7:05 p.m. (CDT) at Brigham Young University in Provo, Utah.

Idstrom, Minnesota's first conference champion since 1975, was clocked in 29 minutes, 3.64 seconds--three tenths of a second off the meet record. Ness' time was 29:03.65.

Both Idstrom and Ness, who competed with a group of Gophers at last Saturday's TFA/USA Championship in Wichita, Kansas, were well below the NCAA qualifying time of 29:13.

HONORS GIVEN AT M BANQUET

Minneapolis, MN---Numerous awards and honors were announced at the annual University of Minnesota M Banquet held Wednesday at the Leamington Hotel in Minneapolis.

The highest award any undergraduate student-athlete can receive went to senior gymnast Brian Meeker from Edina when he was named recipient of the University of Minnesota Conference Medal of Honor.

Each Big Ten Conference school presents this same award which signifies the one student-athlete who has demonstrated the highest degree of proficiency in scholarship and athletics. This award has been given annually since 1915.

Meeker earned All-American honors in gymnastics and won top honors as the Big Ten's all-around champion each of the last two years. He helped lead Minnesota to three conference championships in the last four seasons.

Last summer he earned national recognition by winning all-around honors as the top gymnast at the U.S. National Sports Festival in Syracuse, NY.

Unfortunately, Meeker was not able to attend Wednesday's awards banquet as he and Gopher head coach Fred Roethlisberger were again at Syracuse where Meeker is competing in the U.S. National Championships.

In addition to Meeker being honored as both the Conference Medal and top athlete on the year's U of M gymnastics team, all first year letter winners were inducted into the University's M Club, and the outstanding athlete in each men's varsity sport was singled out for recognition.

The latter group includes:

FOOTBALL TICKET SALE INCREASING AT U OF M

More fans are going to see the University of Minnesota play football in the Hubert H. Humphrey Metrodome this fall than watched the Golden Gophers perform in Memorial Stadium a year ago.

That hoped for acceleration in attendance now appears to be a reality as ticket sales in all categories continue to climb according to figures released early this week by U of M Athletic Ticket Manager Ken Buell.

"A year ago we sold a total of 19,044 season tickets," Buell pointed out. "That included 12,559 purchased by the general public, 4,134 by University of Minnesota students and 2,351 by U of M staff members."

As of June 1, the sale of season tickets to the general public was up 17 percent, compared to the same date a year ago. In addition, the sale of season tickets to students has increased 77 percent and the U of M staff members are 13 percent ahead of last year's sales at this time.

"We're pleased with the response," Buell admitted, "but we still have plenty of good season tickets available. We anticipate that the total number of season tickets sold will continue to rise."

The University of Minnesota will not officially open its single game ticket sale until August 1, but ticket order forms will be made available well before that time. Indications are that group promotions and a state-wide interest in bus trips to Golden Gopher games also will help increase attendance at the Metrodome in 1982.

Season tickets are priced at $72. Single game tickets will sell for $12 each. University of Minnesota student tickets are $27 for the six-game season and $7 for a single game while U of M staff tickets are $43 for the season.

Economy plan tickets also are available. Adult reserved seat tickets in that category are $54 for the season and $9 for a single game. Children's economy plan tickets are $36 for the season or $6 per game. Those tickets are located in the north endzone.

For additional information, contact the Athletic Ticket Office, Bierman Building, 516 15th Avenue SE, U of M, Minneapolis, MN 55455, or phone (612) 373-3181.

From Ken Buell, Minnesota's athletic ticket manager: "In response to heavy demand, our office (Bierman Building, 516 - 15th Ave. SE, Mpls. 55455, 612-373-3181) is now accepting paid orders for single game football tickets instead of waiting for our usual August 1 opening date. We are accepting both ticket orders by mail and over the counter for all home games.

"However, we are still accepting paid applications for season ticket orders. Overall we are about 30% ahead of last year at this date. That transcribes into an increase of between five- and six-thousand new season ticket orders.

"As usual, our strongest demand for tickets is the Iowa Game on October 23. We suggest Minnesota fans order early. Most of our requests to date have come from Iowa. We should have some kind of crowd that night."

. . . Every squad member of last year's Big Ten champion Minnesota basketball team, plus all five of this year's recruits, are playing in the Nike Summer League at Williams Arena on the Gopher campus. Six teams play Monday, Wednesday and Friday evenings with no admission charged. Mike Retica is the league director.

. . . Four-year regular Trent Tucker (Flint, MI) and sophomore-to-be Tommy Davis (Aberdeen, MD) lead the Nike Summer Basketball League in scoring on the Minnesota campus. Both are averaging better than 30 points per game.

. . . Minnesota freshman basketball recruit Marc Wilson (Towson, MD) recently attended the Hertz awards dinner in New York City where he received a trophy for being named the outstanding high school athlete from the State of Maryland for 1981-82. Wilson led Calvert Hall High School to an undefeated 33-0 season record and the state championship.

. . . Four members of last year's Big Ten champion Minnesota basketball team could see action with NBA teams next winter. Guard Trent Tucker (Flint, MI) was the second senior drafted nationally as the sixth pick on the first round by the New York Knicks. Others drafted included forward Gary Holmes (Miami, FL) by the Detroit Pistons, and guard Mark Hall (Springfield, MA) by the Atlanta Hawks. Guard Darryl Mitchell (West Palm Beach, FL) was offered a free agent contract by the Boston Celtics.

. . . Special home football "days" at the University of Minnesota this fall include:
Sept. 11, Ohio U. --- Cap Day and Rotary Day
Sept. 25, Washington State -- Industry Day
Oct. 16, Indiana -- Homecoming
Nov. 13, Michigan State -- American Legion Day and Parent's Day

. . . According to Minnesota wrestling coach Wally Johnson, 10 to 12 of his varsity wrestlers will attend an Olympic Training Camp in Colorado Springs, CO, July 13-31.

. . . Minnesota wrestlers Jim Martinez (Osseo) and Dalen Wasmund (Worthington) will try out for the U.S. Greco Roman Wrestling Team in early August at Colorado Springs, CO. Martinez, at 149 pounds, and Wasmund, at 136 pounds, will attempt to make the team and represent the U.S. in this year's World Games.

. . . The University of Minnesota recently hosted at Williams Arena a six-state U.S. Wrestling Federation (USWF) regional meet which saw more than 750 youngsters 14 years and under compete. The two-day meet was handled by the Minnesota Wrestling Federation. Gopher head coach Wally Johnson is a regional director.

. . . A total of 14 University of Minnesota hockey players, including members of last year's team and incoming freshmen, travel to Indianapolis, IN, to compete July 23-31 at the National Summer Sports Festival. A total of 76 players have been named to compete on four regional teams. It is believed that from this group will come candidates for the 1984 U.S. Olympic Hockey Team.

Representing the U. of Minnesota at the Sports Festival will be: Goalie-Paul Ostby (Elk River); Defensemen-Tom Hirsch (Minneapolis), Phil Housley (South St. Paul), Dave Jensen (Crystal), and Tony Kellin (Grand Rapids); Wings-Mike Anderson (North St. Paul), Wally Chapman (Edina), Bryan "Betsy" Erickson (Roseau), Steve Griffith (Roseville), Jim Malwitz (Grand Rapids), Dave Preuss (White Bear Lake), and Billy Ton (Roseau); Centers-Scott Bjugstad (New Brighton) and Rick Erdall (Minneapolis). Housley, Kellin, Anderson and Chapman are incoming freshmen. The rest all played for Minnesota last winter. Ostby is the only senior from 1981-82.

. . . Minnesota had two representatives at the Amateur Hockey Association of the U.S. (AAUUS) 1982 National Junior Camp held in Colorado Springs, CO, June 22-30. Attending were sophomore-to-be Kurt Larson (Moorhead) and incoming freshman Tony Kellin (Grand Rapids). Both are defensemen. Kellin will also represent the U. of M. at the National Sports Festival July 23-31 at Indianapolis, IN.

. . . About 15 members of the U. of Minnesota hockey team are competing this summer in an Olympic Development League held at Augsburg College in the Twin Cities. Games are played in the evenings Sunday through Thursday each week through August 12. In addition, two varsity team members are competing in the Roseville Junior Olympic League on Tuesday's, Thursday's and Sunday's through August 1.

Summer Gopher Notes - 3

. . .U. of Minnesota head hockey coach Brad Buetow is coaching more than 100 midget players at Augsburg College in the Twin Cities this week. Sponsored by the Amateur Hockey Association of the U.S. (AHAUS), this national invitational camp for players 15 years and younger has attracted 102 candidates from across the nation. Camp dates are July 11-15 as the players, divided into three groups, go through drills and exhibition games twice daily in the mornings and evenings.

. . .U. of Minnesota baseball coach John Anderson, who won the 1932 Big Ten championship in his rookie season at the Gopher helm, has been named Mid-East NCAA Division I Coach of the Year in balloting by fellow coaches. Anderson led the Gophers to a 33-22-1 season record, the Big Ten title in the tournament at Champaign, IL, and a trip to the NCAA Regional tourney at Stillwater, OK. Minnesota won once and lost twice in the latter outing.

. . .Minnesota's 1933 baseball hopes received a stiff blow when it was announced that senior-to-be and captain Greg Olson (Edina) has signed a contract with the New York Mets. Olson, who hit .363 and was named All-Big Ten first team and second team All-America, is considered a standout defensive catcher. He was drafted in the seventh round by the Mets this spring.

. . .Gopher catcher Greg Olson (Edina) and outfielder Tom Steinbach (New Ulm) recently played for the U.S. All-Stars who defeated the Japanese All-Stars in a tournament held in Los Angeles, CA. The U.S. squad won five of seven games. Olson caught in five of the outings going 6 for 15 at the plate. Steinbach, coming off a knee injury suffered late in the spring, saw limited duty. The series was sponsored by the U.S. Baseball Federation.

. . .Minnesota's Gopher Summer Baseball Team is 13-4 on the season having played amateur teams all over the state. The squad is made up of freshmen and sophomores from the 1932 Gopher varsity. Gregg Mau (Stillwater) is the team's leading pitcher with a 2-0 record and a perfect 0.00 ERA.

. . .When the U. of Minnesota football program recruited junior college transfer Joe Vigil (LaVerne, CA) from Mt. San Antonio C.C., it was known Vigil had more than one sport in mind. A wide receiver in the fall, Vigil doubles as a crack baseball player who was drafted by a professional team out of high school. This time of year Vigil is playing second base for the Gopher Summer Team, batting at a torrid .429 clip. His defensive play and speed on the bases has also been at the top level. He is expected to make a strong run at replacing Gary Jost (St. Paul) who has been Minnesota's all-star second baseman the last four years. But the 1932 football season comes first.

. . .Other members of the 1932 Gopher baseball team are enjoying fine summer action from Maine to Alaska. Senior-to-be shortstop Bill Piwnica (Minnetonka) and junior-to-be first baseman Terry Steinbach (New Ulm) are playing for Cotuit, ME in the Cape Cod League. In the first month of the season Piwnica hit .425 as the team's leadoff batter playing both SS & 2B. Steinbach is batting fourth and leads the team in home runs.

. . .Another pair of Gophers, outfielder-catcher Jack Schlichting (Brooklyn Center) and pitcher Bill Cutshall (Rochester) are playing for Peoria, IL, in the Illinois State Summer League. While their team was winning the first-half championship, Schlichting batted .420 with six home runs and Cutshall posted an 8-1 record on the mound. That equals Cutshall's record for the Gophers this past spring as a freshman hurler. Schlichting was also an '32 Gopher rookie who batted .285 for Minnesota.

. . . Junior-to-be pitcher Jim Francour (Marinette, WI) is the farthest from campus playing for the Palmer Miners in the Alaskan Summer League. To date Francour, who was 6-4 for the '32 Gophers, posted a 5-1 record with five saves as a reliever. He is living in the community of Palmer, AK, just north of Anchorage.

. . . Five members of Minnesota's 1932 varsity tennis team, plus assistant coach Greg Wicklund, are entered in the Northwest Open Sectional Championships scheduled July 22-25 at the 93th St. Racquet Club in Bloomington. Joining Wicklund will be Ted Kauffmann (Toledo, OH), Hakan Almstrom (Stockholm, Sweden), Mike Hoeger (Sioux Falls, SD), Brace Helgeson (St. Cloud), and Louis McKee (Wayzata). Head coach Jerry Noyce, resident professional at the Club, is the tournament director and will also compete. The tourney is open to professionals and amateurs from Minnesota, Wisconsin, and North and South Dakota.

. . . Two Big Ten champions on the 1932 Minnesota varsity tennis team are enjoying success playing on the U.S. National Amateur circuit this summer. Peter Kolaric (Wickliffe, OH) reached the quarter-finals in his first tournament held in Cleveland. Another Gopher, captain-elect Dave Morin (White Bear Lake), is also on the circuit. Kolaric was a freshman at Minnesota last spring.

. . . 1932 Gopher tennis captain Ted Kauffmann (Toledo, OH), who turned professional this summer, won his first tournament played in his hometown. He won another tourney last week in Aberdeen, SD, and in early July reached the finals of the Minnesota State Open.

. . . Assistant Minnesota tennis coach Greg Wicklund has gone undefeated in his last three tournaments playing as a professional. Wicklund captured the Minnesota Public Parks, Minnesota State Open and the Rochester Fro Tournaments this summer.

. . . U. of Minnesota senior football quarterback Mike Hohensee (Rowland Hgts., CA) could earn All-American honors in another area, says Gopher strength coach Bob Rohde. According to Rohde, Hohensee, who stands 6-foot-1 and weighs 192, recently benched pressed 350 pounds, hit 300 pounds on incline and clean, and hoisted an amazing 500 pounds in a squat lift. At this rate he could turn himself into an offensive or defensive lineman. "We have had a Minnesota player named to the All-American Strength team each of the last three years. Hohensee could be our fourth," Rohde commented.

Incidentally, Hohensee married his high school sweetheart, Denise Acosta, in Minneapolis last weekend.

. . . Minnesota's football Gophers will find improved practice conditions when the squad reports for the opening of 1932 drills August 23. A new artificial surface, similar to the playing field in the new Metrodome where Minnesota begins playing its home games this fall, is being installed on one of the three practice areas at Bierman Field on the main U. of M. campus. In addition, it is hoped the Gophers will, on occasion, be able to work out at the Metrodome during pre-fall and into the regular season. The new practice surfacing should be completed by mid-August.

. . . By moving Minnesota's home football games indoors at the Metrodome in downtown Minneapolis this fall, Purdue University is now the only Big Ten school playing its grid games on natural turf. Minnesota's Memorial Stadium also had a natural grass surface.

. . . The U. of Minnesota sponsors its annual Williams Fund Celebrity Golf Classic Monday, July 19, at Midland Hills Golf Course in Falcon Heights. This marks the 13th year of this event with proceeds going to the scholarship fund of the men's department of intercollegiate athletics.

Summer Gopher Notes - 5

. . . Brian Meeker (Edina), outstanding gymnast from the U. of Minnesota, and three incoming freshmen recruits will compete in their specialties August 28-29 at the National Summer Sports Festival in Indianapolis, IN. Meeker is the defending Festival all-around gymnastics champion having won last year's event at Syracuse, NY. He will be joined by David Menke (Bloomington), Bob Brown (Addison, IL), and Dan McCann (Encino, CA). The latter three are members of the U.S. Junior National Gymnastics Team.

. . . Fred Roethlisberger, head gymnastics coach at the University of Minnesota, will be one of three coaches at the U.S. Senior National Gymnastics Team training camp scheduled August 14-21 at Colorado Springs, CO.

IOWA FOOTBALL GAME SOLD OUT

Minnesota's football game with the University of Iowa at the Hubert H. Humphrey Metrodome at 7:00 p.m. on Saturday, October 23, already is classified as a sellout.

The sale of single game tickets at the University of Minnesota opened on Monday, August 2, and by the end of the day, more ticket applications than could be filled already had been received.

Ken Buell, athletic ticket manager for the U of M, stressed the fact that tickets for all other Gopher home games still are available including Ohio on September 11, Washington State September 25, Illinois October 2, Indiana October 16 and Michigan State November 13.

"Our ticket sale for 1982 is up in all categories," Buell said, "including the general public season tickets, student tickets and single game tickets. The Iowa game allotment went even faster than anticipated, and the sale of tickets for the Homecoming game against Indiana also is very brisk."

Season tickets still are on sale for all six home games (including the Iowa game) at $72.00 per ticket for the general public and $27.00 for University of Minnesota students. Single game tickets for the general public are $12.00 and are available for all games EXCEPT Iowa.

GOPHERS PICK BASKETBALL CAPTAINS

Randy Breuer and Zebedee Howell have been named captains of the 1982-83 University of Minnesota basketball team. Both will be seniors for the defending Big Ten Conference champion Golden Gophers.

Breuer, a 7-3 center, looms as Minnesota's best bet for post season honors and is being considered as a definite All-America candidate. He was a first-team All-Big Ten choice last year.

In three seasons with the U of M, Breuer has scored 1,184 points on the strength of 456 field goals and 272 free throws. He has shot .563 from the field as a Gopher and .710 from the free throw line. In the rebound department, Breuer had 209 last year and has 473 in three collegiate seasons. His best scoring effort at Minnesota was 32 points against Ohio State last year.

Howell is a three-year letterman who has been a part-time starter and clutch player since arriving at the U of M. He is .440 shooter from the floor and .533 shooter from the free throw line. In three years, he has tallied 268 points.

Howell has been an even more dependable rebounder for the Gophers and has 259 caroms in three campaigns in Gold Country. In addition, he's a tough defensive player and at Iowa last season registered a key steal in the closing seconds to help Minnesota gain its triple-overtime verdict.

Coach Jim Dutcher feels the choice of Breuer and Howell as co-captains is a good one. "Randy and Zeb both are dependable players," he said. "Both give us all they have, and both have fine leadership qualities. We think they will make excellent captains in their senior seasons."

ATTENTION MEMBERS OF THE MEDIA

The University of Minnesota will hold its annual football press day on Saturday, August 21, in the new Hubert H. Humphrey Metrodome beginning at 10:00 a.m.

Arrangements are being negotiated for you to park in the stadium lot during our press day activities.....BUT NO LATER THAN 1:30 p.m. You are asked to enter the Metrodome through the ramp entrance and go directly onto the playing field.

Coach Joe Salem, his staff and all members of the 1932 University of Minnesota football team will be available for pictures and interviews from 10:00 a.m. until 1:30 p.m.

Although we have not yet completed arrangements for a "social gathering" afterwards, we will do so. And if we are unable to do so at the dome, we will return to the Bierman Field Athletic Building and serve refreshments in the M room as has been the case in the past.

We hope you will join us. This day is planned for you, and Coach Salem will accomodate all reasonable requests.....of himself, his staff members or his players.....while the busy schedule ahead might not make that possible once practice is underway.

Please tear off the bottom of this sheet and return it to us as soon as possible so that we might make more accurate arrangements for our 1932 press day at the U of M.

Thanks.
Bob Peterson, SID

GOLDEN GOPHERS TO OPEN FALL FOOTBALL PRACTICE

Coach Joe Salem will whistle the start of fall football practice at the University of Minnesota next week as he begins preparations for his fourth season as head man of the Golden Gophers.

Salem will bring in 24 freshmen for their first on-the-field session Wednesday, Aug. 13. The yearlings will go through two-a-day workouts for three days, all without pads, before the veterans arrive.

"Those early sessions are good for the freshmen," Salem said. "It gives the new people a chance to get oriented.....to know each other, to know the coaches and to start learning our system.....before the rest of the squad comes in."

Once the veterans arrive, Salem will hold his annual Press Day on Saturday, Aug. 21 at 10:00 a.m. in the Hubert H. Humphrey Metrodome. Then the entire squad, vets and freshmen alike, will go to work "for real" on Monday, Aug. 23.

Salem anticipates running his charges through drills twice each day for the first two weeks before easing up the pace in preparation for the season opener against Ohio in the Metrodome on Sept. 11.

In all, Minnesota will have more than 100 grid hopefuls in camp for Press Day activities. That delegation will include 39 freshmen (the 24 newcomers and 15 redshirts), 20 sophomores, 26 juniors and 23 seniors.

Of those gridgers 39 are lettermen, and Salem anticipates that those players will form the nucleus for his 1982 contingent which hopes to improve upon last season's mark of 6-5.

"We have some experience," Salem admits, "and we feel we have a chance to improve our standing. On offense we must replace our two tackles and our two wide receivers. On defense we need to fill the holes left by our two graduating linebackers. But all of our other starters return, and we think we recruited an excellent group of newcomers .....including five junior college players who were in camp last spring."

The Gophers will play all six of their 1982 home games.....five starting at 7:00 p.m. and the Homecoming game with Indiana on October 16 at 1:00 p.m.....in the new Metrodome, and Salem is excited about that.

"We think the Dome will be a real asset for our program," Salem maintains. "Hopefully it will help us in our recruiting. It already has helped us increase our

GRID DRILLS IN HIGH GEAR AT MINNESOTA

Fall practice for Minnesota's Golden Gophers moved into high gear this week when the veterans joined the early-arriving freshman and Coach Joe Salem's preparations for the 1982 opener against Ohio University on September 11 increased in tempo.

Minnesota has just three weeks to get ready for the invading Bobcats, and Salem admits that he still has some question marks and some holes to fill if the Gophers are to improve upon last season's mark of 6-5.

Six starters are gone from the 1981 contingent including both linebackers (Jim Fahnhorst and Glenn Howard), both offensive tackles (Wally Kersten and Ken Dallafior) and both starting wide receivers (Ron Weckbacker and Chester Cooper).

Therefore one of Salem's top priorities in drills this week is to take a careful look at possible replacements for those stalwarts of a year ago, and the wide receiver spot is high on the agenda.

"We have a number of promising people at those positions," Salem says. "In fact, number-wise we have more receivers than we did a year ago. The question is do we have the quality we had last season? And can they get the job done even if they don't have the experience?"

The experience, or lack of it, sounds like Salem's biggest concern and rightfully so. Only one of a dozen candidates for the two wide receiver spots, Nick Davidson, is a letterman and Davidson remains a question mark after missing spring drills with a knee injury.

A junior, Davidson caught 17 passes for 219 yards and a pair of touchdowns last year. If he's healthy, he could be ready to help the Gophers in '82. Lonnie Farrow, another junior who has seen limited service in his earlier seasons with Minnesota, also hopes for playing time this season.

Darryl Castile, a junior college transfer who was with the Gophers in spring drills continues to battle for a spot with the Gophers as do holdover sophomores Adam Kelly and Fred Hartwig.

Dwayne McMullen, a redshirt sophomore, looms as another possible starter at one of the wide receiver spots while another redshirt (and junior college transfer a year ago) Derek Stern is getting a good look in practice this week.

Joe Vigil, a junior college transfer who arrived in time for practice last spring, ranks among the leading candidates for a starting role while two redshirt freshman, Doug Bailey and Lungen Howard are available.

Newcomers also are in the picture according to Salem and among the top new people is Greg McCoy, a speedster out of Sullivan High School in Chicago. "We also think Greg Eskridge from Huntington Beach, California and Grady Appleton from Park, Ill., are talented receivers and hopefully they will be ready to help us."

In an overall appraisal early in drills this week, Salem said "McMullen looks like the best of the bunch so far. If Davidson is healthy, it will be a bonus. And we still don't know about our junior college transfers. They were with us last spring, but we had so few opportunities to see them under game conditions, in scrimmages, that we really aren't sure."

Salem hopes to have a better idea by the end of the week. Maybe after Minnesota's first scrimmage of fall drills, and that's on tap Saturday afternoon. "We'll know more after that," he maintains.

GOPHER TAILS---Salem put his squad through a mile run earlier this week, and he demands that every player complete the tour in six minutes or under. The Gopher coaches were pleased with the results, since most players reported in excellent shape. Those that didn't are getting a chance to "practice" every day this week, and they'll hold another time trial on the weekend. "They'll keep doing it until they get it right," Salem proclaimed!

Minnesota held its annual "Press Day" in the new Hubert H. Humphrey Metrodome in downtown Minneapolis last Saturday, and the entire delegation registered its vote of approval for the spacious facility.

The members of the press who were getting their first look at the dome were very impressed. Minnesota's players fell in love with their new home, and Salem called it a "football palace." In his estimation, the Gophers will be playing in "The best facility in the Big Ten."

Demetrius Chism, a freshman runningback from East St. Louis, Mo, became the first casualty of fall drills when suffering a compound dislocated finger on his right hand in a passing drill last week. He'll be sore for a few days, Minnesota's trainers said, but he should be ready by next week...if not in Saturday's scrimmage.

The Minnesota squad worked in shorts and T-shirts for three days this week before donning pads for the first time on Thursday. Salem plans twice-a-day drills for the next couple of weeks.

The Gophers play six games in the Metrodome this fall, and five of them will get underway at 7 p.m. Minnesota's only afternoon game will be Homecoming against Indiana on Saturday, October 16. Kickoff for the Hoosier outing is 1 p.m.

Season and single game tickets still are available. Only the Iowa game is listed as a sellout thus far. Tickets for both the Ohio opener and the Indiana Homecoming outings also are going "At a brisk pace," according to U of M ticket manager Ken Buell. For ticket information, call (612) 373-3181.

GOPHER TENNIS

University of Minnesota tennis coach Jerry Noyce's standbut Swedish recruits, Fredrik Pahlett and Steffan Ericson, recently represented themselves well in Sweden's second largest men's event.

Pahlett won the singles title competing against Sweden's top players outside of the international circuit. The field included a number of players who played collegiate tennis in the United States.

In doubles play, the team joined forces for the first time and dropped a close three-set decision to the eventual champions in the semi-finals.

SECOND GRAND SLAM 10K ROAD RACE ON TAP

The second annual Golden Gopher Grand Slam 10K Road Race has been scheduled for Saturday, Sept. 11, at the University of Minnesota as part of the festivities centered around the opening of the 1962 collegiate football season.

Co-sponsored by the Men's Intercollegiate Athletic Department at the U of M and Munsingwear, INC., the meet will be a 10-kilometer run and will include a total of 14 competitive divisions.

Roy Griak, cross country and track coach at the U of M, will serve as race director, and he has indicated that this year's Grand Slam will be an open event with several international caliber runners invited to participate.

The competitive divisions, one for men and one for women in each category, are ages 12 and under, 13 through 17, 18 through 22, 23 through 29, 30 through 39, 40 through 49, 50 through 59 and 60 or over.

The race will get underway at 8:45 a.m. in Memorial Stadium on the U of M campus. Entry fee through Sept. 6 is $6 per participant. After that date, a late entry fee of $8 will be charged.

Division winners will be awarded trophies and Munsingwear Grand Slam shirts. All entries will receive a maroon and gold race T-shirt from Munsingwear. In addition, all participants will have the opportunity of purchasing $12 reserved seat tickets for the Minnesota football opener against Ohio at 7 o'clock that evening in the Hubert H. Humphrey Metrodome for $7.00.....a discount of $5 on each ticket purchased.

Fifty drawings for prizes, ranging from new shoes to pressure cookers to free meals also will be held, and all participants in the race will be eligible for those drawings.

Last year's first annual event attracted more than 1,200 runners, and the 1962 field could easily surpass that number. "Interest is excellent," Griak said, "and we hope to have at least 2,000 participants this year."

GOPHERS PLAN FINAL PRE-SEASON SCRIMMAGE SATURDAY

When Coach Joe Salem puts his 1982 University of Minnesota football team through its final pre-season scrimmage on Saturday, he hopes the results are better than they were last week.

"It was a typical first scrimmage," Salem complained. "It was ragged. There were too many mistakes. It showed us what we have to work on. We know what our job is and what we have to do. We just hope we can get it done this week."

While Minnesota's fourth-year mentor rapped his club for too many fumbles and too many interceptions, most of his criticism was directed towards the defensive unit for an "inadequate" afternoon.

"We really have to work on fundamentals," Salem said. "Our tackling was atrocious. The defense gave up way too many first downs and way too much yardage. Things will just have to get better."

On the credit side of the ledger, Salem did seem pleased with the offense's ability to run the ball, and he had some praise for his promising corps of running backs.

"Our backfield is much more solid than it was a year ago at this time," Salem proclaimed. "We have more quality backs returning than we've had in the past, and we haven't had much of a chance to see what our new people can do."

Manny Henry, who played a great deal last year as a freshman and wound up as Minnesota's second leading rusher, was the most productive of Salem's runners in last Saturday's scrimmage.

Henry carried the ball 10 times for a net of 78 yards. His longest effort was 37 yards. Bob Stroup carried six times for 43 yards while Tony Hunter had 21 in five and Alan Reid had nine in four. Reid also scored one of the scrimmage's three touchdowns.

But the real bright spot of the offense in the first scrimmage was the passing where Mike Hohensee and Tim Salem stole the show. "Our quarterbacks were sharp all week in practice," the Gopher coach said, "and they continued that same way in the scrimmage."

Tim was a perfect seven-for-seven in the 1½-hour workout and netted 62 yards. He threw 10 yards to Mike Curtis for a TD. Hohensee was 12 of 18 for 106 yards while

Andy Hare was three of five for 51, Todd Stout three of five for 27 and Jeff Noblin three of five for eight yards.

"We found out some good things in the scrimmage," Salem analyzed, "along with some bad things. But our people worked hard all week in practice, and we anticipate that they will do the same thing this week. We think we are finding out what our people can do, and we feel we can get the job done. We just hope we can stay healthy!"

In the health department, Salem figures the situation should be better this week when some of the people who had bumps and bruises in the first week of contact drills and were held out of the scrimmage now should be ready to go.

"We figure to get some people back this week," he said, "and it doesn't appear that we lost anyone in the scrimmage." Just the normal hurts, but nothing serious from early reports.

One thing that may be causing Salem some concern is his critical job of rebuilding Minnesota's offensive line where both starting tackles from a year ago...Wally Kersten and Ken Dallafior...are gone.

Todd Hallstrom and Mark Vonderhaar appear to have won those two jobs, and Captain Ed Olson is set at center as is Bill Humphries at one guard. But at the other guard spot, tentative starter Randy Rasmussen has suffered a stress fracture in his left leg and will be out of action for at least two more weeks.

Steve Bisch, a defensive tackle for his first three seasons at Minnesota, had been moved to offensive tackle in spring drills. But when Rasmussen went down, and backup Jon Lilleberg hurt a shoulder, Bisch made another position change and took over the starting guard spot.

And while that first unit seemed to hold up pretty well during the first scrimmage, the depth obviously was not there as indicated by the fact that the defense was able to record 11 sacks.

It makes Salem's wish to "stay healthy" all the more important!

GOPHER TALES---Saturday's scrimmage will be held in the Hubert H. Humphrey Metrodome in hopes of giving the Golden Gophers a little taste of what things will be like there when they open their 1982 season a week later against Ohio University at 7 p.m.

Salem was not satisfied with the kicking game last weekend. Paul Blanchard, the incumbent, booted five times for an average of 33.6. He had a couple of dandies, good for 42 yards and 47 yards, but one traveled only 14 yards, and he had two more in the middle 30's to bring the average down.

Tickets atill are available (both season and single game for all home assignments except Iowa), at the U of M athletic ticket office in the Bierman Building (373-3131). Ken Buell, athletic ticket manager, has indicated that the sale for the Ohio opener is over 50,000 and still climbing.

GRIAK EXPECTS 2,000 FOR ROAD RACE

from the University of Minnesota, Minneapolis, Minnesota 55455

Gopher cross country and track coach Roy Griak is expecting a field of over 2,000 for the second annual Golden Gopher Grand Slam 10K Road Race on Saturday, September 11. Participants in the race, which is scheduled to begin at 8:45 a.m. at Memorial Stadium, will be able to buy $12 reserved seat tickets for the Gopher football opener with Ohio that night for $7.

Note: Griak will manage the 1984 U.S. Track and Field Team.

LAST YEAR'S RECORD:

Minnesota 6-5-0 (4-5-0)

Ohio University 5-6-0 (5-4-0)

SERIES RECORD:

Minnesota has taken the last five meetings between the schools following a wild shootout back in 1969 when the teams first met. On that afternoon at Memorial Stadium, UM and OU duelled to a 35-35 standoff. The next year, 1970, UM gained its first win against the Bobcats, 49-7. The schools next played in 1975 when the Gophers prevailed 21-0. In 1979 this week's opposing coaches, UM's Joe Salem and OU's Brian Burke, made their sideline debuts. Salem's side won 24-10. Then the next year saw UM record a convincing 38-14 decision. But last year the Gophers had to come from behind to pull out a thriller 19-17 on a 66-yard bomb from Mike Hohensee to Chester Cooper with 4:04 left to play. So the present log reads 5-0-1 in Minnesota's favor.

ABOUT THE COACHES:

UM - "Smokey" Joe Salem
Career: 92-73-3 (17th year)

FIRST MEDIA LUNCHEON WEDNESDAY: The first media luncheon of the season is set for Wednesday in the Gold Room at Williams Arena. Media covering the Gophers are welcome to break bread and visit with coach Salem. OU SID Mike Ballweg will be present and a speaker phone interview with coach Burke is also on tap.

FRIDAY LUNCH WITH SALEM: Once again the GOPHER M CLUB hosts Friday noon luncheons with head coach Joe Salem at the Normandy Inn in downtown Minneapolis when the Gophers play home football. THE PUBLIC IS INVITED to attend for lunch and to hear comments from coach Salem, Gopher players, special guests and the visiting SID. Dave Sheehan from KMSP-TV will MC this year's kickoff luncheon. Refreshments are available beginning at 11:30 a.m. These luncheons are scheduled every Friday when the Golden Gophers play a home game on Saturdays.

GOPHER GRIDDERS KICK OFF NEW ERA

When the University of Minnesota opens its 1982 football season by hosting Ohio University at 7 p.m. in the Hubert H. Humphrey Metrodome on Saturday, a new era will be underway for the Golden Gophers.

The newness will be reflected in many ways. It will mark the beginning of Minnesota's second hundred years of intercollegiate football. The Gophers will be playing in a spacious new domed stadium. And they will be playing night football.

There still will be some familiarity involved, however, as fourth-year Coach Joe Salem again will be striving to get off to a good start while aiming for an improvement over last year's 6-5 record.

Prognosticators figure that a good start should not be a problem since Ohio of the Mid-America Conference dropped its '82 opener at Bowling Green 40-0 last weekend and shouldn't be able to match the strengths of Big Ten entry Minnesota.

But the truth of the matter is that Ohio has given the Gophers fits in recent confrontations....no matter what prognosticators said....and only last year pushed Minnesota to the closing moments before Mike Hohensee threw a 66-yard touchdown pass to Chester Cooper for a come-from-behind 19-17 Golden Gopher victory.

So is there a danger of Minnesota looking past Ohio and not being "up" for the invading Bobcats on Saturday night? Coach Salem doesn't think so. He figures his charges will be ready.

"All our players have to do is think back to a year ago to know that Ohio isn't about to roll over and play dead," he pointed out. "And on top of that, if playing in a tremendous new domed facility in front of 60,000 fans doesn't excite them, they don't belong in football."

All of which means Minnesota should be ready for the Ohio opener mentally. But will they be ready physically? The rash of injuries which has plagued the Gophers all through fall camp still seems to be a factor.

"Injuries may be our biggest problem right now," Salem admitted. "We have to heal this week. We kept a lot of people out of our final scrimmage last Saturday, and we hope they will be ready to play against Ohio."

Despite the fact that there were several regulars absent from that final tuneup last weekend, and despite Salem's plea for a special healing power, it would appear that a number of Gophers who are being counted upon very heavily as solid contributors in 1982 will not face the Bobcats.

Heading that list of "holdouts" are Fred Orgas and Mike Robb. Both seniors, Orgas and Robb have been key figures in Minnesota's defensive plans the past three seasons. Orgas is a defensive end who broke a bone in his wrist last spring, and it still is not fully mended. Robb has been plagued with knee problems since the early stages of the '81 campaign and had his third bit of surgery just a little under two weeks ago. When those two players will return remains an unknown commodity.

On top of that, Orgas' runningmate at defensive end, Jimmie James, also is sidelined with a shoulder injury and is not expected to see any action against Ohio. That gives a different look to Minnesota's defensive front four.

On the offensive side of things, two missing Gophers probably will be Randy Rasmussen, a junior and returning starter at guard, along with Steve Bisch, a senior converted from defense last spring who has been playing both tackle and guard. Rasmussen has a stress fracture in his left leg while Bisch has a shoulder problem.

Salem's only smile could be because his offensive backfield is healthy and that includes Mike Hohensee at quarterback. Hohensee re-wrote the Minnesota passing records last fall as a junior college transfer and has looked even more impressive in drills this fall.

Salem will attempt to balance his attack by using a host of runners against Ohio. Although Manny Henry may be held out with a sore shoulder, the Gophers will have Tony Hunter, Frank Jacobs and Valdez Baylor available along with Alan Reid and Bob Stroup.

While Jay Carroll and Mike Curtis will provide excellent pass receiving targets from the tight end spot which they will share, the wide receiver positions are the ones which have Coach Salem guessing.

Dwayne McMullen and Derek Stern, both redshirts, probably will share time with Joe Vigil at the flanker spot while Nick Davidson and Lonnie Farrow look like the leaders at split end. "We have quality and numbers there," Salem says, "but we lack experience."

Defensively Minnesota's concern this fall has been to improve its secondary and find a new set of linebackers. The secondary now looks sound with veterans Rick Witthus and Glenn Cardelli leading the way. Two new starters are transfers Phil Sutton and Craig White.

The linebackers will be Glen Cieslewicz, moved inside this year, and Pete Najarian while Mike Laliberte and Todd Peterson, slowed with injuries this fall, also are ticketed for duty. The outside backer post, where Robb remains an absentee, will be manned by Andre Gilbert and Joe Christopherson. Both have ability but both are untested.

Hopefully some of those new people will hold up under fire against Ohio Saturday night. And hopefully the injured will continue to heal so they will be ready a week later when Minnesota opens its Big Ten season at Purdue.

"We're now into our normal game week routine," Salem said. "No more two-a-days, and that should help our injury situation. We know we are improved from a year ago. We know we still have some areas that have to be tightened up, but we think our offense can be an explosive one. We just have to make the plays. We have to be ready to come out of the chute Saturday night."

GOPHER GRID NOTES:

--UM--

. . .Six U. of Minnesota varsity gridgers who started last year's game against Ohio University will be missing this Saturday having departed via the graduated route.

Included are the 1981 Gopher starting tackles, Ken Dallafior and Wally Kereten, both presently on rosters of NFL teams. Dallafior was this week placed on the Pittsburgh Steeler injured roster, while Kersten is lining up with the L.A. Rams.

Also missing from last year offensive unit is flanker Chester Cooper who set several pass catching Gopher records last fall. In fact, it was Cooper who scored Minnesota's fourth quarter winning TD against Ohio U. last season. He gathered in a 66-yard bomb from QB Mike Hohensee with 4:04 left in the fourth quarter to give UM a 19-17 decision.

His catching-mate on the other side, split end Ron Weckbacker, is also missing from this year's Gopher roster, as is tailback Marvell Ross. Weckbacker was a senior last fall, but Ross decided to leave Minnesota this season. He had one year of eligibility remaining.

. . .Defenders who starter the 1981 season opener and are now graduated include both linebackers, Jim Fahnhorst and Glenn Howard. In addition, Howard Davis, who opened at one cornerback, is also missing having dropped the fall sport.

. . .As mentioned in earlier portions of this release, several more of last year's starters will also be absent Saturday night. However, these departures are victims of "Old Man Injury."

. . .According to Gopher head trainer Jim Marshall, no less than 51 Minnesota football candidates have already be felled by injury during pre-fall camp. Marshall said he believes that figure is easily the highest he can remember since joining the Gopher staff more than 15 years ago.

. . .The predicted house of 58,500 for Saturday's 1982 season opener against Ohio University at the H.H.H. Metrodome, will be Minnesota's largest opening game crowd since 45,511 congregated at Memorial Stadium to see UM play Ohio State in 1974.

. . .In the OU game last fall, Gopher QB Mike Hohensee made his debut a successful one as he completed 14 of 24 passes for 229 yards and one TD. The latter item won the game when he hooked up with Chester Cooper on a 66-yard pass-run play to give UM a 19-17 decision. But it was only one of several exceptional afternoons for Hohensee in 1981.

The Series:

Purdue and Minnesota have met 40 times dating back to 1894 when the Gophers won 24-0 at old Northrup Field on the UM campus. Purdue's first series victory came the next year, a 16-4 decision on the Boilermaker campus. Strangely enough the schools, after playing four straight years from '94 thru '97, did not meet again until 1928. Some of the biggest series contests have come out in favor of the Boilers. UP spoiled a Gopher Rose Bowl bid in 1949 winning 13-7, and then became the only team to defeat the Gophers in 1960 when UM won a national championship. That year the Boilers triumphed 23-14. Both those UP victories came on Minnesota soil. Purdue's last win at Minnesota was a 29-3 decision in 1972. Last year the Gophers eeked out a 16-13 decision, also at home. Conversely, the last time UM won at Purdue was in 1974 when the Gophers took home a 24-20 decision. The Gophers have only appeared once in West Lafayette since that year losing 21-7 in 1980.

GOPHER TRAVEL PLANS: UM leaves the Twin Cities Friday a.m. via Ozark Airlines charter, arrives W. Lafayette 11:45 a.m. The team will work out that afternoon and be headquartered at at the Carson Inn. UM will return to the Twin Cities immediately after Saturday's game expecting to arrive at 7:20 p.m.

GOPHERS OPEN BIG TEN CAMPAIGN AT PURDUE SATURDAY

While it may seem early in the 1982 campaign to be talking about a crucial game, there isn't a better way to describe Minnesota's Big Ten Conference football assignment at Purdue on Saturday.

First of all it's the loop opener, and the outcome could help determine if Coach Joe Salem's Golden Gophers are going to be categorized among the contenders or with the also rans.

Second, with Minnesota then coming home to entertain Washington State and Illinois on successive weekends, a victory for the Gophers at Purdue would obviously enhance ticket sales at the Hubert H. Humphrey Metrodome.

And then there's the added prestige that goes with playing on television as CBS has selected the Minnesota-Purdue clash as one of its five regional games being televised on Saturday. Because of that TV designation, our kickoff has been moved back to 12:30 p.m.

The Gophers opened their '82 season last Saturday night in the Metrodome----the first collegiate football game ever played in that new facility....and posted a one-sided 57-3 triumph over the Ohio University Bobcats.

It was an explosive performance by Minnesota. Eight Gophers were among the rushers, 10 were among the pass receivers and all but 21 players (held out of the contest because of injuries) got a taste of action.

"We have to be pleased with the results because we did what we wanted to do," Coach Salem said. "For the first time in four years, we did what we were supposed to do and that was handle Ohio."

Gopher fans were even more impressed than Salem, and they remembered watching their favorites struggle with the invading Bobcats in recent assignments including a year ago when it took a closing minute 66-yard touchdown pass to eke out a two-point win.

"We got off to a rolling start," Salem explained. Sure, we made some mistakes and those things still have to be corrected, but in the process we learned some lessons which we hope will help us the rest of the way."

When Salem came to Minnesota four years ago, he brought with him a reputation for being a "big play" kind of coach. Against Ohio that philosophy really came to light as his offense registered touchdowns on single plays covering 26 yards, 64 yards, 65 yards and 67 yards.

"I've always been a believer in the big play," Salem admitted, "and against Ohio we demonstrated what can happen when you are able to make a big play. We got a lot of points on long gainers. You can break open a game when you get a couple of those, and that's just what we did."

Among the standouts in that department for Minnesota against the Bobcats was sophomore tailback Tony Hunter who rushed seven times for 124 yards. Hunter scored twice on runs of 26 and 65 yards and in the process set the Metrodome buzzing.

"We knew Hunter had that kind of ability," Salem admitted, "but a year ago he was sidelined so much of the time with injuries. He's so very quick, and now he's so very strong. He looked great, and we just hope we can keep him healthy."

But Hunter wasn't the only long-gainer. Dwayne McMullen, a red-shirted sophomore starting his first game as a wide receiver, scored on a 64-yard pass from Mike Hohensee. Then Derek Stern, a red-shirt junior wide receiver getting his first taste of action for the Gophers, scored on a 67-yard pass from Hohensee.

Other Minnesota points came on a 16-yard spurt from Alan Reid, on a four-yard blast by Bob Stroup, on a three-yard run by Frank Jacobs, from kicking specialist Jim Gallery....two field goals (14 & 28) and a perfect six-for-six PAT's....and from Joe Christopherson who nailed a Bobcat in the endzone for a safety.

What did all of that mean, besides an impressive opening night win? Two U of M modern day records were set. First the 57 points were the most scored since Minnesota beat Iowa with a 55-point outburst in 1949. And the 742 yards total offense surpassed the previous high of 577 registered against Indiana in 1979.

"We have said all fall that we throw and catch the ball well," Salem agreed, "and we demonstrated that against Ohio. I wasn't happy the way our offense got bogged down inside the 20 a couple of times, but overall I felt we played well."

All of that is in the past now, however, and Salem knows that it will be a different story this time out of the blocks when facing Big Ten foe Purdue on real grass at West Lafayette.

"We can't get any false impressions because of the final score in our opening game," Salem cautioned. "We have a right to be proud of our accomplishments and of the records, but we have to keep things in perspective. We have to remember that we were playing a team that was badly outmanned. It won't be like that at Purdue. It will be a heck of a lot tougher. We'll need another good week of practice and hope to be ready."

GOPIER TALES---Trainer Jim Marshall figures the Gophers will be ready....physically at least. And while all of Minnesota's gridders won't be able to go against Purdue, the injury report is a lot better this week than it was going into the Ohio clash.

Fred Orgas, senior defensive end who has been sidelined with a broken bone in his wrist, probably won't be ready, and outside linebacker Mike Robb who had surgery on his knee for the third time early in fall camp, remains on the shelf. Otherwise, all of the Gophers held out of the Bobcat clash should be available.

A year ago Hunter rushed for 66 yards in the first half against Purdue but was injured and did not play after the intermission. Yet the Gophs held on to their 16-13 halftime lead by blanking the Boilers in the final two quarters to register the win at Memorial Stadium.

In NCAA television games, Minnesota ranks 15-15 since 1953 when the program started. A year ago Salem's charges were 2-0....whipping Oregon State 42-12 at home and stunning Iowa 12-10 at Iowa City. --UM--

CROSS COUNTRY TEAM TO HOST GOPHER OPEN SATURDAY MORNING

Coach Roy Griak's University of Minnesota men's cross country team opens the 1932 season Saturday morning at the U of M Golf Course in the 3,000-meter Gopher Open. The meet scheduled for 10:30 a.m., is expected to feature many of the area's top teams and individuals in an open field.

Former Gopher John Idstrom, now running for the Chicago Track Club, captured the men's title of the second annual Golden Gopher Grand Slam 10K road race last Saturday morning. Idstrom, last season's Big Ten 10,000-meter champion, was clocked at 29:29.

Tina Gandy was the top woman with a time of 35:30.

The race which began and ended at Memorial Stadium attracted a field of 1,300 competitors including 1,100 men and 200 women. Awards were given in seven age groups in both the men's and women's divisions.

---U-I---

CROSS COUNTRY OUTLOOK

The 1932 University of Minnesota cross country team, head coach Roy Griak's 20th, again appears to be a force in the Big Ten's first division.

Senior captain John Keohen ranks as Griak's top returner as he attempts to replace all-America selection Lloyd Ness and standouts Don Hurley and John Idstrom.

Mike Gebeke joins Keohen as the squad's only seniors, John Kromer, Mike Moran, Dave Morrison and Dave Sharp are juniors, while Dallas Allaire and Dave Roach are sophomores.

Griak has recruited a talented group of incoming freshman that should contribute this season. They include: Michael Capra, Dave Casale, John Chatelaine, Dave Duvick, Tim Magnuson, Roger Roettger and Bryan Schmidt.

The 1932 Gopher cross country team is attempting to improve upon last season's strong showing. The team had a 2-1 dual record, finished third in the Big Ten, second in the NCAA District IV meet and was 12th in the NCAA Championship meet.

HOCKEY CANDIDATES REPORT

Minneapolis, MN---With the University of Minnesota's football season just one game old, it's hard to believe that about 65 candidates for the 1982-83 Gopher varsity hockey team reported today (Monday), and begin practice Tuesday.

But it's true. Reason for what is probably the earliest camp in UM hockey history is the Gophers have scheduled an exhibition game Wednesday, September 22, against a rather unusual opponent. . .the NHL Minnesota North Stars.

Tickets for the contest are on sale at both the Met Center, site of the 7:30 p.m. contest, and Bierman Building on the U. of M. campus. Prices are $10 for lower level reserved seats, and $7.50 for upper level seats. Upper level seats will be discounted to $5 for youth hockey groups through the Retinitis Pigmentosa Foundation ticket committee.

The RP Foundation and the Williams Fund of the U. of Minnesota's men's athletic department will each receive a portion of the game proceeds.

Although the Gopher regular season opener is not until October 15 when UM entertains Northern Michigan at Williams Arena, coach Brad Buetow will keep his candidates in camp following the North Star game.

Buetow, entering his fourth season at the Gopher helm with an 81-39-2 record and one WCHA championship to his credit (1981), found 15 lettermen back from last year's club which posted a 22-12-2 season log, and ended third in the WCHA with a 13-11-2 mark.

In addition, almost 20 varsity reserve players return from last year, and were joined Monday by eight tendered freshmen and about 20 walk-ons.

However, about eight varsity candidates will be skating on different ice this week. While the Gophers train at Augsburg Arena (2:30 p.m. varsity, 4:30 p.m. freshmen and walk-ons), the eight others will skate through Friday at the Met Center as invites to the North Star pre-season camp.

Buetow said Monday squad members will go through several scrimmage games this weekend, and that he will select his lineup for the North Star game next Monday.

Leading the returnees are a pair of senior captains, wing Bryan "Butsy" Erickson, last year's leading Gopher scorer with 45 points, and defenseman David Jensen. Both have earned three varsity letters at Minnesota.

In addition, last year's top goal scorer, junior center Scott Bjugstad, returns as the team's alternate captain.

Senior Paul Butters is the lone returning goal tender with any extended experience, but is expected to be pressed by sophomore John Colombo and rookie Frank Pietrangelo (Peter-AN-gelo).

Key returning forwards include senior Steve Griffith, juniors Jeff Larson and Tom Rothstein, plus sophomores Jim Malwitz, Rick Erdall, Billy Yon and Dave Preuss.

At the blueline along with Jensen are lettermen Brian Zins, a senior, plus sophomores Tom Hirsch, Mike Guentzel and Kurt Larson.

However, according to Buetow few if any positions are locked up. A battle for starting spots is expected to be hotly contested by returning reserves and this year's highly touted crop of recruited freshmen.

Included in the latter group are forwards Mike Anderson (N. St. Paul), Wally Chapman (Edina), Scott Knutson (Warroad), Pat Micheletti (Hibbing) and Corey Millen (Cloquet), plus defenders Tony Kellin (Grand Rapids) and Tom Ward (Richfield), in addition to goalie Pietrangelo.

"It is our plan at this time to end our camp with about 40 skaters and five goal tenders," Buetow said Monday. "But I can easily see the task of trimming our roster down to workable size will not be easy. I honestly believe we have more qualified candidates for this varsity squad than at any time in the past. I just hope it all comes together quickly. We have little time to spare."

Buetow expects to be aided by a new assistant coach this season. Dean Talafous, a native of Hastings, MN, who became an All-American at Wisconsin before enjoying a successful professional career with the former Atlanta Flames, the Minnesota North Stars and New York Rangers, has been recommended to replace John Perpich who resigned last spring. The recommendation must be approved by the U. of Minnesota Board of Regents.

Last Meeting:

1976 - at Minneapolis -- Minnesota 28, Washington State 14

Series Record:

Minnesota's win in '76 was its first over a WSU club. The record for UM stands 1-2 following 14-13 and 31-20 WSU victories in 1965 and 1971, respectively, and, of course, the UM win in '76.

Records Last Season:

Minnesota 6-5-0, 4-5-0, 6th place

Wash. St. 8-3-1, 5-2-1, 4th place

About The Coaches:

UM - "Smokey" Joe Salem
Career: 95-72-3 (17th year)
at UM: 17-17-1 (4th year)
vs. WS: 0-0-0

WS - Jim Walden
Career: 22-23-2 (5th year)
at WS: 22-23-2 (5th year)
vs. UM: 0-0-0

The Series:

Minnesota will be out to even up the series with Washington State this Saturday as past Cougar teams own a 2-1 against the local lads. Back in '65 when the schools first met in football, WSU overcame a 13-0 Minnesota lead with TDs in the third and fourth quarters to eek out a 14-13 decision. UM missed its second conversion attempt. In '71 UM played catch-up ball all afternoon. But after narrowing WSU's lead to 21-20, the Cougars got 10 late points to win 31-20. Then in '76 it was UM's turn. It seems WSU had a new QB by the name of Jack Thompson who threw for 2 TDs in a reserve role. But UM's Tony Dungy led the Gophers to 439 yards total offense, plus a 15-0 halftime lead. UM coasted home with a 28-14 victory. Paul Rogind booted 2 field goals and Dungy ran over from 51-yards out. FB Jim Perkins added the other two Gopher scores.

SALEM LUNCHEON FRIDAY:

Minnesota football fans, including the ladies, will gather at noon Friday in the Normandy Inn on 8th in beautiful Downtown Minneapolis to break bread and listen to Gopher head coach Joe Salem, a Minnesota player, the WSU sports information director, and guest MC Robb Leer from KSTP-TV sports. As always the public is invited, and refreshments are served beginning at 11:30 a.m. CDT.

GOPHERS SHOOT FOR THIRD WIN AGAINST WASHINGTON STATE

Off to an extremely impressive start, the University of Minnesota will be gunning for its third straight win Saturday when entertaining Washington State University.

That intersectional, non-conference football assignment is ticketed for a 7 p.m. kickoff, and Coach Joe Salem's Golden Gophers hope to keep their young 1982 winning string alive at the expense of the invading Cougars.

Minnesota notched its second straight verdict this past weekend when shocking the Boilermakers 36-10 at Purdue by combining an explosive offense with a stingy defense in the '82 Big Ten Conference opener.

"It was a great win for us," Salem proclaimed. "It was a game we had to win. In the past when we faced situations like that we would fail. But this time we didn't. In the past we've been a notoriously poor road team. At Purdue we were a good road team. There's no doubt that we have to earn everything we get, but by winning at Purdue, we've put ourselves in an excellent situation where we play four of our next five games at home. Our destiny is in our own hands. We just hope we can keep things rolling."

For the Gophers, that "rolling" will be difficult against the talented Cougars who a year ago posted an overall record of 8-2-1 and missed being the Pac 10's Rose Bowl representatives by the scantest of margins.

Coming into Saturday night's shootout, Washington State is 1-1 in non-conference action after whipping Idaho in the opener and then falling 12-0 to Colorado this past weekend.

"Washington State is a veteran offensive team," Salem said. "They have averaged over 4,000 yards in total offense the last six years. We know they will be hard to hold down. It will be another tough one for us. It will take another total effort on our part."

That total effort referred to by Salem was the total "team effort" which the Gophers came up with at Purdue last weekend when winning at West Lafayette for the first time since 1974 and for only the second time in history.

"When we were riding over to the stadium on the bus before the game," Salem admitted, "I was really nervous. I wasn't sure our players knew how tough it was to win at Purdue. I didn't know if our people realized how big a game it was for us."

But apparently the Gophers knew. Apparently they realized. And they turned in an excellent overall effort. "We really played well," Salem proclaimed. "Purdue is a talented football team. It took an exceptional performance on our part to win like we did."

There were times in last Saturday's confrontation, however, when Minnesota was not dominating things. "We had some problems in the first half, Salem explained, "but we made some defensive changes at the half. We felt we had to put more pressure on their passer, and that's what we did in the second half. That extra pressure would up getting us some good field position, and that really made the difference."

-2- For the second straight week, Minnesota used a lot of players in the game. "We're beginning to develop some depth," Salem acknowledged, "especially at defensive end where Fred Orgas and Jimmy James got a chance to play after sitting out the Ohio opener."

That depth might be a vital ingredient for the Gophers as they prepare for Washington State while keeping one eye on the training room and on Minnesota's list of injured players.

Glenn Cardelli, senior rover who had one of his finest afternoons as a college player against the Boilermakers, suffered a sprained ankle. Hopefully he'll be able to play Saturday, and hopefully junior cornerback Phil Sutton who hurt an ankle against Ohio and did not make the trip to Purdue, will return to action against the Cougars.

There's also plenty of concern over the condition of Tony Hunter's knee. The sophomore tailback who has been the ignitor in Minnesota's offense during the first two '82 contests, was limping badly early this week but maintains he'll be ready.

There were plenty of other bumps and bruises suffered at West Lafayette in what was visibly a physical confrontation. But Salem hopes most of those hurts will mend before Washington State soars into town.

GOPHER TALES--Washington State was stunned with Colorado's four field goal effort last weekend and saw its offense stutter when Jim Matthews, who scored five touchdowns in the '82 opener, played in only one series after injuring an ankle. His availability for the Gophers is uncertain.

Mike Hohensee, who passed for 254 yards (he was 18 of 26) and two touchdowns at Purdue, was named the CBS-TV player of the game for his efforts. It was the third time in two year's Hohensee has been singled out for that honor. He was ABC-TV's pick last year against Oregon State and against Iowa. Hohensee also was named the UPI Midwest Player of the Week for his efforts.

On the season, Hohensee now is 35 of 54 for a blistering .648 through the air. He's accumulated 576 yards passing, and in two games has tossed four touchdown passes. In his two years at Minnesota, Hohensee now has thrown 24 touchdown strikes, just one short of the UM career record of 25 set by Tony Dungy from 1973 through 1976

Minnesota, which led the nation in total offense last week, may have lost its top spot to Nebraska, a team which set a new NCAA record with 383 yards while humiliating New Mexico State 63-0 Saturday, still has some impressive totals. The Gophers stacked up 415 yards at Purdue and now have 1,157 in two games (578 average).

Despite that impressive showing, it was the defense which drew the most accolades in West Lafayette. The Gophers shut down the Boilermakers with just 49 yards total offense in the second half and only 31 net yards rushing for the entire game.

Peter Najarian, inside linebacker, led Minnesota with 20 hits....nine solo shots and 11 assists. And Joe Christopherson, outside linebacker, nailed a Boilermaker in the endzone to notch Minnesota's second safety in two games.

GOPHER SPORTSLINE PROVIDES INTERVIEWS WITH PLAYERS AND COACHES AT (612) 373-4211.

ICERS TAKE ON NORTH STARS WED.

Minneapolis, MN---"I'm not certain this is the right or best way to open a season, but we'll be there and give our opponents our best shot," says U. of Minnesota hockey coach Brad Buetow.

After only five days of practice last week, and two more days this week, Buetow will send his young charges into battle Wednesday evening at the Met Center when the Gophers and NHL Minnesota North Stars tangle in exhibition play.

It marks the first time since 1954 that the U. of M. has played an NHL club. In that year Minnesota lost at home to the Chicago Black Hawks 6-3.

Wednesday's game will be played for more than hockey practice. Both the Retentis Pigmentosa Foundation and the U. of M's Williams Fund will receive a portion of the game proceeds. Tickets are priced at $10 lower level and $7.50 upper level. Upper level seats are discounted to $5 for youth hockey groups through the RP Foundation ticket committee.

Although the Gophers scrimmaged hard at the Augsburg Arena last weekend, while the North Stars ran up a 1-1-1 mark in exhibition contests in Canada against rival NHL clubs, Buetow does not believe there is any way his lads can be ready to Wednesday's encounter.

"Five days of hard, hard practice will not prepare any hockey club for its first game," Buetow added Monday. "But there was simply no way we could have brought our players in any earlier.

"So like I said, we'll give it our best shot. We plan to dress about 25 players and that could give us the chance to change lines and defensive pairs more frequently to rest our skaters."

Buetow said he will probably use four goal tenders against the Stars. Senior Paul Butters will play the first period with freshman recruit Frank Pietrangelo (peter-AN-gelo) going the second 20 minutes. As of this time, sophomore John Colombo and junior Mike Vacanti will split the third period.

A total of eight defensemen will dress for the Gophers Wednesday. Leading the way will be a trio of seniors, co-captain David Jensen plus Gino Peluso and Brian Zins. Five sophomores complete the blueline corps, including Tom Hirsch, Mike Guentzel, Tom Parenteau, Kurt Larson and Steve Schoen.

As of Monday Buetow said he was only certain about his first three lines for Wednesday. He said junior Scott Bjugstad will center seniors Steve Griffith and co-captain Butsy Erickson, sophomore Rick Erdall will skate between junior Tom Rothstein and soph Jim Malwitz, while junior Jeff Larson goes between freshman Mike Anderson and soph Billy Yons.

The next two lines could see soph Pat Foley skating with soph Sean Campion and senior Mike Harrer, with junior Kurt Madryga centering soph Bob Samuel and freshman Pat Micheletti.

Injuries suffered last week in camp all but rival those suffered by Gopher grid coach Joe Salem's charges to date. Four UM candidates went down to injury, two of them while skating in the North Stars camp. The latter pair includes sophomore wing Dave Preuss (shoulder) and freshman wing Wally Chapman (knee).

However, Buetow said Monday there is an outside chance Preuss could skate Wednesday, but that Chapman is out for at least a month. Chapman underwent surgery last weekend for removal of knee cartilage.

Others expected to miss Wednesday's contest include freshmen defenseman Tony Kellin (groin pull) and frosh center Corey Millen (foot).

"Regardless of whether we are ready or not to meet the North Stars," Buetow closed, "this is a great opportunity for our young men to find out how the 'elite' play the game. We certainly appreciate the cooperation of the North Stars management in scheduling this contest. It's a bonus both for our players and our hockey program at the U. of Minnesota."

CROSS COUNTRY TEAM FACES DRAKE AND SOUTH DAKOTA STATE SATURDAY IN A TRIANGULAR MEET AT THE U OF M GOLF COURSE

The University of Minnesota men's cross country team entertains Drake and South Dakota State Saturday morning at 10:30 in a 8,000-meter triangular meet at the U of M Golf Course.

The Gophers opened the season last Saturday at the Golf Course with a strong showing in the 8,000-meter Gopher Open. Coach Roy Griak's squad captured six of the top nine spots in the open competition.

Former Gopher John Idstrom, a member of the Chicago Track Club, finished first with a time of 25:40.8. Junior Dave Morrison (Lakeville) was second at 25:51, junior Dave Sharp (Minneapolis) was third at 26:49, while freshman Dave Duvick (Eden Prairie) finished fifth with a time of 27:26. Freshmen Blaise Sweitzer (St. Paul) and Dave Casale (Coon Rapids) and sophomore Dan Roach (Minneapolis) finished seventh, eighth and ninth, respectively.

Next Saturday the team opens the Big Ten season against defending champion Wisconsin in a 10,000-meter dual in Madison.

GOLF TEAM AT ST. CLOUD, HOME FOR MATCH PLAY

Greg Harvey's University of Minnesota men's golf team travels to St. Cloud Thursday for the two-day St. Cloud Invitational then returns home for two matches. On Saturday the team will meet the Twin Cities Seniors at the U of M Golf Course and on Sunday they oppose a group of players from Somerset and Minikahda.

On Monday the team played a 36-hole qualifying round at the Golf Course to trim the roster to 15 players.

Last week they finished seventh in the twenty team Northern Iowa Classic. The Gophers 72-hole team total of 1216 was 30 shots off champion Southern Illinois-Edwardsville's pace.

Statement from Paul Giel
Director
Men's Intercollegiate Athletics

The University of Minnesota's application for permission to telecast its October 23 home football game against the University of Iowa has been approved by the NCAA under the NCAA Television Sellout Exception Rule.

Since October 23 is an ABC-TV control date, the NCAA first offered the opportunity for ABC affiliate KSTP-TV to negotiate with the University of Minnesota for the right to televise that game in this market.

We are pleased to announce that Tuesday afternoon an agreement was reached with KSTP-TV and we now will be able to provide Golden Gopher football fans who are unable to purchase tickets for that already sold out event an opportunity to see the game on local television.

GOPHERS HOST ILLINOIS IN KEY BIG TEN GAME SATURDAY

All the marbles will be on the line Saturday when the University of Minnesota plays host to the University of Illinois in a key Big Ten Conference shootout at the Hubert H. Humphrey Metrodome.

Kickoff for that crucial assignment is 7 p.m., and it will find Coach Joe Salem's explosive Golden Gophers gunning for their fourth straight win of the still young 1982 season.

Minnesota rolled to its second non-conference victory and third verdict of the current campaign 41-11 over Washington State University of the Pac-Ten conference at the Metrodome last Saturday night.

In the process the Gophers upped their season's point total to 134 for an impressive average of 44.6 per game. Defensively Minnesota now has allowed only 24 points in three outings for an average of 8.0 per start. Both figures are tops in the Big Ten.

Jim Walden, coach of the WSU Cougars who suffered through Minnesota's outburst this past weekend, said after the game that he didn't want to put any pressure on Salem, but "They can make a run for the Rose Bowl. We played several Rose Bowl teams in the past few years, and the Gophers can play with them."

That's mighty high praise, and it won't take long to find out if Walden is right because this time out of the blocks Salem's charges will be facing one of the pre-season picks for title honors in the Big Ten.

"Our opponents have gotten a little better, a little tougher, each week of the season," Salem lamented, "and this week is no exception. Illinois has to be the best we've seen so far."

A year ago Illinois hammered Minnesota 38-29 down in Champaign with a bewildering offensive display, and Salem figures the invading Illini will be even tougher to handle in 1982.

"They have one of the most highly publicized and highly rated quarterbacks in the nation in Tony Eason," Salem pointed out, "and their offense has made them a threat from anyplace on the field."

A week ago Illinois fell 20-3 to nationally ranked Pittsburgh when the Panther defense was able to stifle the Illini with five interceptions and nine quarterback sacks. That means that the invaders will come into the Metrodome with an overall 1982 record of 3-1 and a Big Ten log of 2-0.

Can the Gophers keep their machine rolling along in high gear against the talented Illini? "Our people have a right to be proud of themselves after the way they played against Washington State," Salem proclaimed, "but that's part of the past. Now we're back in the Big Ten (the Gophers are 1-0 in league play after downing Purdue 36-10 two weeks ago), and we know it will be a tough one Saturday."

How tough remains to be seen, but Salem can hope for continued improvement as has been the case through the initial three weeks of the season. "We had some trouble early against Washington State," Salem admitted, "but we were able to make some adjustments that helped us turn things our way. Defensively we gave up too much in the first part of the game, and offensively we made some mistakes. But once we got things straightened around we were able to control things the rest of the way."

So the question is: Can the Gophers take control against Illinois? Can they get things going their way again this weekend? "We're looking for a wild one," Salem predicted, "but this is the one we've been pointing for. We'll find out Saturday."

GOPHER TALES--If highly-touted Illinois isn't enough for Coach Salem to worry about as he prepared for his club's fourth start of the season, Minnesota's injury report is.

Tony Hunter, the talented sophomore tailback who is the Gophers' top rusher with 185 yards, suffered a shoulder muscle sprain in the second quarter of the WSU contest and an early diagnosis says he will be on the shelf for three or four weeks.

On top of that, starting offensive tackle Todd Hallstrom suffered a break in his foot....a bone chip actually....which could sideline him for two or three weeks. Hallstrom doesn't agree, however, and hopes to be back sooner than predicted.

Alan Reid, junior tailback who was held out of the WSU game, remains doubtful for the Illini which means that Bob Stroup, Frank Jacobs, Manny Henry and newcomer Valdez Baylor who scored twice against the Cougars last week will have to carry the load against Illinois on Saturday.

But the big gun offensively again is expected to be quarterback Mike Hohensee who, after throwing two touchdown passes against Washington State, now ranks as the all-time leader in TD strikes at the U of M with 26. Tony Dungy (1973-76) was the old record-holder with 25.

"In order to be successful in the passing game you need a lot of things," Salem analyzed. "In Hohensee we've got a great quarterback. He doesn't get the raves of an Eason or Dan Marino (Pittsburgh), but he can stand on the field with any of them. You've also got to give that quarterback time to throw, and our front line has given Mike excellent protection. Finally you need receivers who can catch the ball, and our people have done an outstanding job. They've made some really tough catches."

Dwayne McMullen continues to lead the Gophers in that receiving department with 12 grabs on the year for 220 yards and two touchdowns. Lonnie Farrow has nine for 164 while tight end Mike Curtis, getting his first start of the season, had five grabs against WSU and now has nine for 126.

Coach Bruce Vandersall's defense drew a lot of praise from Salem for another superb effort last weekend. Leading the way was defensive end Jimmie James who had five solo tackles and one assist for a total of six....including three for losses of 32 yards. His efforts earned him UPI's Midwest Defensive Player of the Week accolades.

ICERS LOSE CAMP GAME

Minneapolis, MN---University of Minnesota's hockey coaching staff have found little problem gaining the undivided attention of their players the last few days in practice.

The reason stems from a 13-3 exhibition loss suffered at the hand of the NHL Minnesota North Stars before more than 9,600 at the Met Center last Wednesday, Sept. 22.

"Because of the lopsided score, our players learned a great lesson in humility during the first period," Gopher ice boss Brad Buetow said Monday. The North Stars took a 7-0 lead in the first 20 minutes.

"But at the same time I believe our men experienced a confidence builder during the next two periods," Buetow continued. "We found that by doing what we are supposed to and not running around like crazy as we did in the first period, we can play somewhat closer to the 'big guys'. Man, those North Stars are something else.

"We still believe we have one of the speediest teams in college hockey, but they just blew us out in the first period. I've got to believe that coach Glen Sonmor has a championship contender out there this season.

"I only hope that we can continue this series possibly at a later date next year so our men have a little more time to get ready. It was evident our legs were simply not there. But it was a great, great experience for all of us. It's terrific to have such close, sound relations with the North Star organization."

5 INTRASQUAD GAMES ON TAP

The Gopher hockey varsity, some 46 players strong, will skate in five intrasquad games from October 2 through the 9th. Coach Buetow says he will divide his team up as evenly as possible to provide for maximum competition.

On Saturday, Oct. 2, the Gopher game is set for Cooke Arena in Coon Rapids. The contest was originally scheduled at the new Blaine Arena, but the latter ice plant will not be ready in time.

Then comes games Sunday (10/3) at the Mound Arena; Tuesday (10/5) in Eden Prairie; Thursday (10/7) at Roseville; and Saturday (10/9) in Anoka. All games list a 7 p.m. starting time.

Proceeds from each of these contests will be divided between the Gopher hockey program, and the youth hockey programs in the respective areas.

"This is an exceptional opportunity each year for us to take our show on the road and let fans in these areas get a preview of college hockey at its best," Buetow added. "The cooperation we receive from individuals and groups who runs the youth programs in these areas is exceptional. And we do our darndest to put on the best show possible."

With 46 candidates still in camp (8 lines, 2 spare forwards, 15 defencemen and 5 goalies), the competition for spots on the varsity is furious. Often these intrasquad games turn out to be the roughest contests Gophers akaters get involved in all season. There is little held back when players are battling for a spot on the UM varsity.

BACK TO WILLIAMS

The Gophers skated Monday for the first time on familiar ice at Williams Arena. The first week and a half of practice had been held in the Augsburg Arena. Daily practice sessions are scheduled for 2:30 p.m. (varsity) and 4:45 p.m. (varsity reserve).

INJURIES HEALING

Only one varsity candidate, freshman forward Wally Chapman from Edina, is missing from the Gopher camp. Chapman suffered a knee injury while skating in the North Stars camp and had to undergo surgery. He is not expected back on the ice until possibly November.

Only a few Gophere are still nursing previous injuries that keep them from going full speed. But Buetow says everyone is skating, and that's a positive factor with just three weeks left until the season opener Oct. 15 at Williams Arena against Northern Michigan.

SINGLE GAME TIX

GOLF TEAM AT CHICAGO'S BUTLER NATIONAL INTERCOLLEGIATE THIS WEEK

The Gopher men's golf team will compete in the 54-hole Butler National Intercollegiate this Thursday, Friday and Saturday in Chicago.

The second annual event, played on the par 72, 7,097-yard Butler National Golf Club course, features a strong 20-team field including the entire Big Ten conference. Minnesota finished eighth a year ago.

Fifth-year coach Greg Harvey's squad is led by junior co-captains Jay Axelson (Northfield) and Stu Oftelie (Waconia). Junior Jeff Richards (Stillwater), freshman Steve Barber (Austin) and either freshmen John Brellenthin (Edina) or Dave Nordeen (Bloomington) round out the team. Brellenthin and Nordeen played Monday to determine who would man the fifth and final spot this week.

This past Thursday and Friday Minnesota dominated the 27-hole St. Cloud Invitational. The Gold squad won the tourney with 790 strokes, while the Maroon squad finished second with 804. Barber and Nordeen tied for third with scores of 156.

The team is scheduled to play in the Wisconsin Open next Friday and Saturday.

CROSS COUNTRY TEAM DUALS WISCONSIN ON THE ROAD SATURDAY

Minnesota's men's cross country team travels to Wisconsin Saturday for a 10,000-meter dual with the defending Big Ten champion Badgers. The contest is scheduled to begin at 11:00 a.m. at the Yahara Hills Golf Course.

Last Saturday the Gopher's Dave Morrison and Dallas Allaire finished first and second, but South Dakota State took the next five places to capture the team title in an 8,000-meter triangular at the U of M Golf Course.

SDSU's winning total was 25, the Gophers tallied 33 and Drake followed with 72.

Morrison, a junior from Lakeville, was clocked at 24:54 and Allaire, a sophomore from Thunder Bay, Ontario, finished with a time of 25:20.

Wisconsin, led by defending Big Ten champion Tim Hacker, placed six runners in the top ten of last Saturday's Milwaukee Journal/Al McGuire Run which featured a field of over 17,500. Hacker won the five mile race with a time of 23:00.

Next Saturday the Gophers journey to Bloomington, Indiana for the 10,000-meter Indiana Invitational.

The University of Minnesota has expanded its efforts to make tickets available to the general public for the remainder of the 1982 Golden Gopher football season.

As has been traditional, tickets are being sold at the Athletic Ticket Office located in the Bierman Field Athletic Building, Monday through Friday, from 9 a.m. until 5 p.m.

In addition, tickets are available through all Dayton's Stores' ticket outlets daily and by telephone with the use of Visa or Master Charge through the U of M ticket office (612-373-3181).

Football tickets also are being sold this week at the Hubert H. Humphrey Metrodome through the Minnesota Twins ticket offices located on the Chicago Avenue side of the facility from 9 a.m. through 5 p.m. today through Friday.

Ken Buell, U of M ticket manager, also reminds Golden Gopher fans that tickets also will be available at the Metrodome on Saturday through the U of M ticket windows on the 5th Avenue side of the facility as well as in special sidewalk booths on the Chicago Avenue side of the facility beginning at 1 p.m.

"We're literally doubling our efforts to make it easier for fans to buy ticket Buell said, "and we're certainly doubling our game day ticket office staff to handle the late buyer at the Metrodome."

Early this week a crowd of 55,000 was projected for the Illinois game scheduled at 7 p.m. Saturday. The Gophers drew 56,168 fans for their opener with Ohio and then 50,653 for the assignment against Washington State University this past weekend.

MINNESOTA SAYS NO TO ABC-TV

The University of Minnesota, after considerable deliberation, turned down an invitation from ABC-TV to have Saturday's non-conference game against Washington State University included in this weekend's NCAA regional television package.

Paul Giel, Director of Men's Intercollegiate Athletics at the University of Minnesota, was first contacted by ABC-TV officials late Sunday at which time he was informed that the Gopher-Cougar game was "one of several being considered" for this Saturday's TV slate.

Then Monday morning the official invitation was extended by ABC but with the stipulation that the game's starting time be moved from the scheduled 7 p.m. kickoff to 11:30 a.m.

"We felt that it was asking too much of our fans to move the starting time by more than six hours for a non-conference game this early in the season," Giel explained. "We are attempting to make a commitment to night football at Minnesota, and in our opinion it would have been detrimental to our program to change the starting time from evening to morning."

Giel also admitted that saying no to the television offer was difficult and might not be possible the next time. "We need the exposure and the income," Giel explained, "and in the future we may not have the option of saying no. There are going to be times when we will be obliged to say yes in order for the other teams in the Big Ten to share in the television revenue just as we shared in those benefits last Saturday night when Michigan played Notre Dame on national TV."

GOPHERS HOST ILLINOIS IN KEY BIG TEN GAME SATURDAY

All the marbles will be on the line Saturday when the University of Minnesota plays host to the University of Illinois in a key Big Ten Conference shootout at the Hubert H. Humphrey Metrodome.

Kickoff for that crucial assignment is 7 p.m., and it will find Coach Joe Salem's explosive Golden Gophers gunning for their fourth straight win of the still young 1982 season.

Minnesota rolled to its second non-conference victory and third verdict of the current campaign 41-11 over Washington State University of the Pac-Ten conference at the Metrodome last Saturday night.

In the process the Gophers upped their season's point total to 134 for an impressive average of 44.6 per game. Defensively Minnesota now has allowed only 24 points in three outings for an average of 8.0 per start. Both figures are tops in the Big Ten.

Jim Walden, coach of the WSU Cougars who suffered through Minnesota's outburst this past weekend, said after the game that he didn't want to put any pressure on Salem, but "They can make a run for the Rose Bowl. We played several Rose Bowl teams in the past few years, and the Gophers can play with them."

That's mighty high praise, and it won't take long to find out if Walden is right because this time out of the blocks Salem's charges will be facing one of the pre-season picks for title honors in the Big Ten.

"Our opponents have gotten a little better, a little tougher, each week of the season," Salem lamented, "and this week is no exception. Illinois has to be the best we've seen so far."

A year ago Illinois hammered Minnesota 38-29 down in Champaign with a bewildering offensive display, and Salem figures the invading Illini will be even tougher to handle in 1982.

"They have one of the most highly publicized and highly rated quarterbacks in the nation in Tony Eason," Salem pointed out, "and their offense has made them a threat from anyplace on the field."

A week ago Illinois fell 20-3 to nationally ranked Pittsburgh when the Panther defense was able to stifle the Illini with five interceptions and nine quarterback sacks. That means that the invaders will come into the Metrodome with an overall 1982 record of 3-1 and a Big Ten log of 2-0.

Can the Gophers keep their machine rolling along in high gear against the talented Illini? "Our people have a right to be proud of themselves after the way they played against Washington State," Salem proclaimed, "but that's part of the past. Now we're back in the Big Ten (the Gophers are 1-0 in league play after downing Purdue 36-10 two weeks ago), and we know it will be a tough one Saturday."

How tough remains to be seen, but Salem can hope for continued improvement as has been the case through the initial three weeks of the season. "We had some trouble early against Washington State," Salem admitted, "but we were able to make some adjustments that helped us turn things our way. Defensively we gave up too much in the first part of the game, and offensively we made some mistakes. But once we got things straightened around we were able to control things the rest of the way."

So the question is: Can the Gophers take control against Illinois? Can they get things going their way again this weekend? "We're looking for a wild one," Salem predicted, "but this is the one we've been pointing for. We'll find out Saturday."

GOPHER TALES--If highly-touted Illinois isn't enough for Coach Salem to worry about as he prepared for his club's fourth start of the season, Minnesota's injury report is.

Tony Hunter, the talented sophomore tailback who is the Gophers' top rusher with 185 yards, suffered a shoulder muscle sprain in the second quarter of the WSU contest and an early diagnosis says he will be on the shelf for three or four weeks.

On top of that, starting offensive tackle Todd Hallstrom suffered a break in his foot....a bone chip actually....which could sideline him for two or three weeks. Hallstrom doesn't agree, however, and hopes to be back sooner than predicted.

Alan Reid, junior tailback who was held out of the WSU game, remains doubtful for the Illini which means that Bob Stroup, Frank Jacobs, Manny Henry and newcomer Valdez Baylor who scored twice against the Cougars last week will have to carry the load against Illinois on Saturday.

But the big gun offensively again is expected to be quarterback Mike Hohensee who, after throwing two touchdown passes against Washington State, now ranks as the all-time leader in TD strikes at the U of M with 26. Tony Dungy (1973-76) was the old record-holder with 25.

"In order to be successful in the passing game you need a lot of things," Salem analyzed. "In Hohensee we've got a great quarterback. He doesn't get the raves of an Eason or Dan Marino (Pittsburgh), but he can stand on the field with any of them. You've also got to give that quarterback time to throw, and our front line has given Mike excellent protection. Finally you need receivers who can catch the ball, and our people have done an outstanding job. They've made some really tough catches."

Dwayne McMullen continues to lead the Gophers in that receiving department with 12 grabs on the year for 220 yards and two touchdowns. Lonnie Farrow has nine for 164 while tight end Mike Curtis, getting his first start of the season, had five grabs against WSU and now has nine for 126.

Coach Bruce Vandersall's defense drew a lot of praise from Salem for another superb effort last weekend. Leading the way was defensive end Jimmie James who had five solo tackles and one assist for a total of six....including three for losses of 32 yards. His efforts earned him UPI's Midwest Defensive Player of the Week accolades.

ICERS LOSE CAMP GAME

Minneapolis, MN---University of Minnesota's hockey coaching staff have found little problem gaining the undivided attention of their players the last few days in practice.

The reason stems from a 13-3 exhibition loss suffered at the hand of the NHL Minnesota North Stars before more than 9,600 at the Met Center last Wednesday, Sept. 22.

"Because of the lopsided score, our players learned a great lesson in humility during the first period," Gopher ice boss Brad Buetow said Monday. The North Stars took a 7-0 lead in the first 20 minutes.

"But at the same time I believe our men experienced a confidence builder during the next two periods," Buetow continued. "We found that by doing what we are supposed to and not running around like crazy as we did in the first period, we can play somewhat closer to the 'big guys'. Man, those North Stars are something else.

"We still believe we have one of the speediest teams in college hockey, but they just blew us out in the first period. I've got to believe that coach Glen Sonmor has a championship contender out there this season.

"I only hope that we can continue this series possibly at a later date next year so our men have a little more time to get ready. It was evident our legs were simply not there. But it was a great, great experience for all of us. It's terrific to have such close, sound relations with the North Star organization."

5 INTRASQUAD GAMES ON TAP

The Gopher hockey varsity, some 46 players strong, will skate in five intrasquad games from October 2 through the 9th. Coach Buetow says he will divide his team up as evenly as possible to provide for maximum competition.

On Saturday, Oct. 2, the Gopher game is set for Cooke Arena in Coon Rapids. The contest was originally scheduled at the new Blaine Arena, but the latter ice plant will not be ready in time.

Then comes games Sunday (10/3) at the Mound Arena; Tuesday (10/5) in Eden Prairie; Thursday (10/7) at Roseville; and Saturday (10/9) in Anoka. All games list a 7 p.m. starting time.

Proceeds from each of these contests will be divided between the Gopher hockey program, and the youth hockey programs in the respective areas.

"This is an exceptional opportunity each year for us to take our show on the road and let fans in these areas get a preview of college hockey at its best," Buetow added. "The cooperation we receive from individuals and groups who runs the youth programs in these areas is exceptional. And we do our darndest to put on the best show possible."

With 46 candidates still in camp (8 lines, 2 spare forwards, 15 defenemen and 5 goalies), the competition for spots on the varsity is furious. Often these intrasquad games turn out to be the roughest contests Gophers akaters get involved in all season. There is little held back when players are battling for a spot on the UM varsity.

BACK TO WILLIAMS

The Gophers skated Monday for the first time on familiar ice at Williams Arena. The first week and a half of practice had been held in the Augsburg Arena. Daily practice sessions are scheduled for 2:30 p.m. (varsity) and 4:45 p.m. (varsity reserve).

INJURIES HEALING

Only one varsity candidate, freshman forward Wally Chapman from Edina, is missing from the Gopher camp. Chapman suffered a knee injury while skating in the North Stars camp and had to undergo surgery. He is not expected back on the ice until possibly November.

Only a few Gophere are still nursing previous injuries that keep them from going full speed. But Buetow says everyone is skating, and that's a positive factor with just three weeks left until the season opener Oct. 15 at Williams Arena against Northern Michigan.

SINGLE GAME TIX

GOLF TEAM AT CHICAGO'S BUTLER NATIONAL INTERCOLLEGIATE THIS WEEK

The Gopher men's golf team will compete in the 54-hole Butler National Intercollegiate this Thursday, Friday and Saturday in Chicago.

The second annual event, played on the par 72, 7,097-yard Butler National Golf Club course, features a strong 20-team field including the entire Big Ten conference. Minnesota finished eighth a year ago.

Fifth-year coach Greg Harvey's squad is led by junior co-captains Jay Axelson (Northfield) and Stu Oftelie (Waconia). Junior Jeff Richards (Stillwater), freshman Steve Barber (Austin) and either freshmen John Brellenthin (Edina) or Dave Nordeen (Bloomington) round out the team. Brellenthin and Nordeen played Monday to determine who would man the fifth and final spot this week.

This past Thursday and Friday Minnesota dominated the 27-hole St. Cloud Invitational. The Gold squad won the tourney with 790 strokes, while the Maroon squad finished second with 304. Barber and Nordeen tied for third with scores of 156.

CROSS COUNTRY TEAM DUALS WISCONSIN ON THE ROAD SATURDAY

Minnesota's men's cross country team travels to Wisconsin Saturday for a 10,000-meter dual with the defending Big Ten champion Badgers. The contest is scheduled to begin at 11:00 a.m. at the Yahara Hills Golf Course.

Last Saturday the Gopher's Dave Morrison and Dallas Allaire finished first and second, but South Dakota State took the next five places to capture the team title in an 8,000-meter triangular at the U of M Golf Course.

SDSU's winning total was 25, the Gophers tallied 33 and Drake followed with 72.

Morrison, a junior from Lakeville, was clocked at 24:54 and Allaire, a sophomore from Thunder Bay, Ontario, finished with a time of 25:20.

Wisconsin, led by defending Big Ten champion Tim Hacker, placed six runners in the top ten of last Saturday's Milwaukee Journal/Al McGuire Run which featured a field of over 17,500. Hacker won the five mile race with a time of 23:00.

Next Saturday the Gophers journey to Bloomington, Indiana for the 10,000-meter Indiana Invitational.

The Series:

Northwestern is one of Minnesota's oldest and most honored opponents. The school's first met in football back in 1892 when UM won 16-12. To date there have been 63 games with Minnesota owning a 39-20 win margin. There have been 4 series ties. Minnesota's largest margin of victory was a 72-6 decision in 1905, while the brightest day in the sun for the Wildcats was a 42-6 win in 1943. In fact, there have been numerous high scoring affairs in this series, like UM's 52-43 win in 1973, and a 35-29 decision the year before. NW wins of 34-22 in 1962, and 41-20 in 1971 further point out this happening. UM has won the last 7 decisions between the schools. NW's last victory was a 21-13 decision here in 1974. The last time UM lost at Dyche Stadium was in 1971.

GOPHER TRAVEL PLANS: The official Gopher party leaves the Twin Cities via Northwest-Orient Airlines Fl. #428 at 11:55 a.m. Friday arriving Chicago O'Hare 1 1 p.m. The team works out at Dyche Stadium 3-4 p.m., and will be lodged at the Hyatt Lincolnwood. The teams returns to the Twin Cities after the game arriving via Northwest Fl. #751 at 8:10 p.m.

GOPHERS HOPE TO REBOUND AT NORTHWESTERN SATURDAY

A bruised and battered University of Minnesota football team, bruised mentally as well as physically, takes to the road Saturday for a 1 p.m. Big Ten Conference assignment at Northwestern.

That confrontation has taken on more meaning and is causing more concern than might have been the case a couple of weeks ago when the Golden Gophers were rolling along in high gear.

Now, however, after Minnesota was blistered by the University of Illinois 42-24 in the Hubert H. Humphrey Metrodome this past weekend, speculation has developed over the Gophers' ability to overcome their tremendous mental letdown and bounce back against the Wildcats.

"We all are displeased at the outcome of the Illinois game," Coach Salem admitted. "I feel bad and the players feel bad. But one loss doesn't end our season. We can't look back. We've got to look ahead, and that includes looking hard at Northwestern."

Minnesota, now 3-1 overall and 1-1 in the Big Ten Conference, had breezed to three straight wins over Ohio, Purdue and Washington State and appeared ready for a big surge with the Illini at home.

But the Gophers couldn't pull it off as they committed more errors in last Saturday's game than they had in their previous three outings. They had, for example, seven fumbles. They only have five (and hadn't lost one of them!) in their first three games.

"We just didn't play well," Salem proclaimed, "and the most distressing part of our performance was the play of our special teams. We roughed the Illinois punter that prolonged a drive when we should have had the ball. Then we fumbled the punt on our eight yard line and gave them a score. We missed a field goal attempt we normally make. We gave up a touchdown (on a 46-yard run) on a punt return. We had a clipping penalty on a kickoff return, and we ran a kickoff out of our own endzone and only got to the 14 yard line. And we averaged only 32 yards on our own punting game."

As badly as the Gophers played, Salem told his squad they still had some good moments. "I was proud of our people for the way they hung in there," he said. "Despite all the adversity, we came back and had the lead 24-20 going into the fourth quarter. We were playing against a very good football team, and I still feel that we are a good football team. I just hope we can prove it at Northwestern."

Oddly enough the statistics from the Illinois contest show that the Gophers completely dominated their opponents. For example, Minnesota had 31 first downs while Illinois had only 11. Minnesota ran 96 offensive plays while Illinois had 59. The Gophers finished with 442 offensive yards compared with 345 for the visitors.

But the fact remains Illinois scored 22 unanswered points in the fourth quarter to win going away, and there are two statistics....seven sacks of quarterback Mike

Hohensee and 69 yards lost rushing by Minnesota....which told the story.

So now Salem's charges look to Evanston, IL and the Northwestern Wildcats in hopes of regaining their winning ways and getting back into the thick of things in the Big Ten Conference race.

The Wildcats did not figure to be a major test for the Gophers and will take an overall record of 1-4 and a Big Ten log of 0-3 into Saturday afternoon's shootout at Dyche Stadium.

But Northwestern, which ended a 34-game losing streak two weeks ago when upending Northern Illinois 31-6, has some talent and is expected to make a strong run at the Gophers. Prognosticators said before the season that "Northwestern is going to beat somebody in the Big Ten." Now, with the Gophers suffering through a deep depression, the time appears ripe for the Cats to strike.

"We all know that we didn't play well against Illinois, that it was a bad effort on our part," Coach Salem stressed. "But Illinois is a serious contender for the title. Now, if we want to stay in the race ourselves, we've got to get our group together again. We've got to be ready for Northwestern."

GOPHER TALES--Coach Salem gave the Gophers Monday off hoping that a little rest would help their battered bodies, and minds, mend a little bit before they begin preparing for the Cats. "It's that time of year when they need a little break," Salem said. "They have been going hard since late August."

Hohensee, despite Minnesota's inability to handle the Illinois blitz and the tremendous pressure put on him, threw for 344 yards against Illinois. In the process he established another U of M career record, and he now has 3,613 yards passing in 15 games as a Gopher. The old mark was 3,577 set by Tony Dungy from 1973 through 1976.

The senior quarterback now leads the Big Ten in total offense with 3,005 yards. He's second in passing efficiency with a 142.3 rating. He also ranks fifth in the nation in total offense.

Minnesota leads the Big Ten in all four offensive categories. It is tops in rushing with a 210.5 average, in passing with a 304.7 average, in total offense with a 515.2 mark and in scoring with a 39.5 figure. The Gophers also lead the Big Ten in overall defense with a 260.5 yards against average in four games.

Dwayne McMullen, Minnesota's sophomore wide receiver, had nine catches for 151 yards and a touchdown against Illinois and now has 21 grabs on the year for 371 yards, tops in the Big Ten, along with three tallies.

The Golden Gopher injury list continues to grow. John Kelly, sophomore center who handles all of Minnesota's long snaps, suffered a knee injury against Illinois and had surgery on Sunday. He's lost for the rest of the season. Defensive end Jimmie James injured a wrist and outside linebacker Joe Christopherson hyper-extended a knee.

Both James and Christopherson hope to be back for Northwestern, and there is a chance that offensive tackle Todd Hallstrom and fullback Alan Reid, both of whom missed the Illinois game, could be ready for the cats.

BUETOW PLEASED WITH SCRIMMAGE GAMES

Minneapolis, MN---"Our first two intrasquad scrimmage games may have been as good as any we have had since I have been with the Minnesota hockey program," Gopher head coach Brad Buetow said Monday.

"The total level of performance, plus intensity and enthusiasm, shown by just about every skater in our games Saturday at Coon Rapids Arena, and Sunday at Mound Arena, was all that a coach could ask. As of right now I'm more optimistic than at any time in pre-season camp."

On top of that Buetow gets three more chances to view his candidates in game action this week. The Gophers hold intrasquad games Tuesday at Eden Prairie, Thursday at Roseville and Saturday at Anoka. Proceeds from each of these outings are split between the Gopher ice program and the youth hockey programs in the respective areas.

KELLIN INJURED

However, Buetow's optimism was somewhat tempered Sunday when crack freshman recruit on defense, Tony Kellin from Grand Rapids, suffered stretched ligaments in his right knee. Kellin was to be examined today (Monday) and surgery could result if the injury proves more serious than originally diagnosed.

GOALIES SHINE

Two standouts in the intrasquad games to date have been senior goalie Paul Butters (Rochester) and freshman net minder Frank Pietrangelo (peter-AN-gelo) (Port Robinson, ONT). Each played four periods in the two games last weekend. Butters allowed just one goal while Pieterangelo did not allow a single score.

According to Buetow, it now appears the senior veteran and the rookie import will battle it out to see who starts the season opener Oct. 15 at Williams Arena against Northern Michigan. The same teams play the next night at Eveleth in the Annual Hall of Fame Game.

BATTLE FOR POSITIONS

Buetow said Monday one reason for top play in the intrasquad games is quality depth as almost every position. "The only place we have a qualified concern about at this time is on defense," the coach added. "However, that spot, too, could come fast if our men back there continue to improve."

Below is an early view of the top men vieing for starting berths. (Order of listing is alphabetically and does not reflect order of ranking).

LEFT WING: Fr. Mike Anderson (Maplewood), Sr. Steve Griffith (Roseville), So. Jim Malwitz (Grand Rapids), Jr. Tom Rothstein (Grand Rapids). Two others Buetow says could break through here are So. Sean Campion (Mpls. Roosevelt) and Fr. walk-on Roger Rowe (Roseville).

RIGHT WING: Sr. Butsy Erickson (Roseau), Fr. Pat Micheletti (Hibbing), So. Dave Preuss (White Bear Lake), and So. Billy Yon (Roseau). Another candidate for this spot is Fr. Eric Lempe (Grand Rapids).

CENTER: Sr. Scott Bjugstad (New Brighton), So. Rick Erdall (Minneapolis Washburn), Jr. Jeff Larson (White Bear lake), and Fr. Corey Millen (Cloquet). Another who has impressed here is Fr. walk-on Nick Holmes (Anoka).

DEFENSE: So. Mike Guentzel (Coleraine), So. Tom Hirsch (Minneapolis Henry), Sr. David Jensen (Crystal), So. Kurt Larson (Moorhead), and Sr. Brian Zins (Hoyt Lakes). Five more candidates who, according to Buetow, are all but dead even at this time include Jr. Ben Belde (St. Paul), So. Tom Parenteau (North St. Paul), Sr. Gino Peluso (Pengilly), So. Steve Schoen (New Hope), and Fr. Tom Ward (Richfield).

Another rookie candidate, center-wing Wally Chapman (Edina) is still recovering from knee surgery performed nearly three weeks ago. Chapman suffered his injury while participating with the NHL North Stars in their first week of training camp. However, it is believed he will be back at full skating force within the next two weeks.

Paid single game ticket applications are now being accepted by the U. of M. ticket office at Bierman Building along with orders for season tickets.

GOLF TEAM AT WISCONSIN OPEN ON FRIDAY AND SATURDAY

The Gopher men's golf team journeys to Madison Friday and Saturday for the 36-hole Wisconsin Open. The tournament, which will include a number of Big Ten teams, is being played on the par 72 Cherokee Golf and Tennis Club layout.

Coach Greg Harvey staged qualifying rounds early in the week to determine the six players who are representing Minnesota.

Last week the team finished 14th in the 18-team, 54-hole Butler National Intercollegiate in Oak Brook, Illinois. The Gophers tallied a score of 979, compared to Ohio State's winning total of 901. Freshmen John Brellenthin (Edina) and Jeff Richards (Stillwater) were the low Gophers with scores of 241 and 242, respectively.

CROSS COUNTRY TEAM AT INDIANA INVITATIONAL AND WILL STAGE THE GOLD COUNTRY CLASSIC AT HOME ON SATURDAY

Coach Roy Griak's University of Minnesota men's cross country team will compete in Saturday's Indiana Invitational in Bloomington. The 10,000-meter competition is slated for 10:30 a.m.

Indiana will host this season's NCAA Championships on November 22 and many of the nation's top teams have entered the meet looking for an opportunity to run on the course. At this time the field includes 42 teams.

Team members not participating at Indiana will compete in the University's Gold Country Open Classic Saturday morning at the Golf Course. The 8,000-meter run is open to the public and will feature many of the area's top individuals.

Last Saturday, Minnesota dropped its dual record to 1-2 with a 19-44 loss on the road to defending Big Ten champion Wisconsin. Gopher Dave Morrison (Lakeville) finished second to Wisconsin's Jim Brice covering the 10,000-meter Yahara Hills course in 30 minutes, 43 seconds, but the Badgers took the next six places enroute to the victory.

The team has next Saturday off then duals Iowa in Iowa City on October 23.

GOPHERS EXPAND TICKET SALE SERVICES

The University of Minnesota has expanded its efforts to make tickets available to the general public for the remainder of the 1982 Golden Gopher football season.

As has been traditional, tickets are being sold at the Athletic Ticket Office located in the Bierman Field Athletic Building, Monday through Friday, from 9 a.m. until 5 p.m.

In addition, tickets are available through all Dayton's Stores' ticket outlets daily and by telephone with the use of Visa or Master Charge through the U of M ticket office (612-373-3181).

Football tickets also are being sold this week at the Hubert H. Humphrey Metrodome through the Minnesota Twins ticket offices located on the Chicago Avenue side of the facility from 9 a.m. through 5 p.m. today through Friday.

Ken Buell, U of M ticket manager, also reminds Golden Gopher fans that tickets also will be available at the Metrodome on Saturday through the U of M ticket windows on the 5th Avenue side of the facility as well as in special sidewalk booths on the Chicago Avenue side of the facility beginning at 1 p.m.

"We're literally doubling our efforts to make it easier for fans to buy tickets," Buell said, "and we're certainly doubling our game day ticket office staff to handle the late buyer at the Metrodome."

Early this week a crowd of 55,000 was projected for the Illinois game scheduled at 7 p.m. Saturday. The Gophers drew 56,168 fans for their opener with Ohio and then 50,653 for the assignment against Washington State University this past weekend.

The Series:

Minnesota and Indiana first met in 1906 when the schools battled to a 6-6 tie. Last year Indiana prevailed at home in a tight 17-16 outcome by holding off a late Gopher surge that ended 18 inches away from a potentially winning score. But the last time IU visited the Twin Cities, Um scored a bit of an upset on regional TV as the Gophers triumphed 31-7. That means that Indiana's last win on this soil came in 1963 at old Memorial Stadium. It's almost the same thing for Minnesota in games at Indiana. UM's last win down at Bloomington came in 1968. The Hoosiers have not tasted a win in these parts in their last 8 tries. The closest they came was in 1978 when UM's Paul Rogind booted a 32-yard FG with just seconds remaining to give the home town lads a 32-31 come from behind decision. IU once led in that contest 24-0. Biggest series win for UM was a 34-0 decision in 1957, while IU's best day vs. UM was a lopsided 49-0 win in 1945.

SALEM LUNCHEON FRIDAY: Coach Joe Salem, a Gopher player, Indiana SID Tom Miller and guest MC Ralph Jon Fritz of WCCO-TV form the program for this week's Salem luncheon Friday at the Normandy Inn. A lot of grads will be on hand to kickoff Minnesota's annual Homecoming gala this weekend. The public is invited to break bread with Salem & Co. Refreshments begin at 11:30 a.m.

GOPHERS TO HOST INDIANA IN HOMECOMING SATURDAY

To say that the University of Minnesota must re-group its forces before playing host to Indiana University in a 1 p.m. Big Ten Conference football outing at the Hubert H. Humphrey Metrodome on Saturday is a vast understatement.

Coach Joe Salem's Gophers saw their gold become somewhat tarnished this past weekend when losing 31-21 at Northwestern and now must literally go back to the drawing board before taking on the Hoosiers in this year's Homecoming contest.

It will be difficult for Minnesota which now has lost two straight decisions in conference play and holds the dubious honor of being the team which enabled lowly Northwestern to snap a string of 38 consecutive setbacks in Big Ten play.

"Right now we are a bad football team," Coach Joe Salem admitted. "We are facing a situation where we must re-evaluate our goals. We are at a point where we must fight just to stay alive."

But staying alive, at least in the 1982 conference race, now may be an impossible assignment for the Gophers after that disheartening loss at Northwestern, a loss Salem called "The most embarrassing loss of my life."

That outcome dropped the Gophers to 3-2 on the season and 1-2 in Big Ten play while Indiana, which lost a heartbreaker 24-29 to Iowa is 2-3 overall and 1-2 against league opposition.

Before taking on the invading Hoosiers in their only afternoon game in the Metrodome this season, the Gophers must get themselves straightened around if they hope to halt their stunning skid.

"We've got problems," Salem admitted. "Against Northwestern we were ahead 21-3 and seemingly had things under control. But then a bad center snap on a punt gave them a touchdown just before the half, and then defensively we let them march 80 yards for a touchdown to start the second half. That broke us. From that point on we didn't block and we didn't tackle. We didn't do anything right."

So how does Minnesota come back from an experience like that? "It was very disheartening," Salem said, "no doubt about it. But now we'll just have to line up with the people who are able to play and who want to play. If we have any pride in ourselves, we'll come back against Indiana. We have to!"

As disheartened as Salem was after the loss at Northwestern, and as discouraged as he was about the way his team played, Salem still had praise for the Wildcats. "They came after us," he said. "They never gave up, even when they were behind 21-3. They came back and outscored us 28-0. We got beat by a better team. Last Saturday they were better than we were, and they deserved to win it."

Indiana also may have some problems re-grouping for Saturday's invasion of the Metrodome as their gutty rally in the fourth quarter against Iowa fell two yards short, and a Hoosier chance for victory died as the final seconds ticked off the clock.

"Those things come back to haunt you," Coach Salem recalled. "Indiana lost that game just the way it won against us a year ago. We were driving in for what we figured would be the winning touchdown, but on fourth down we completed a pass to Jay Carroll who was knocked out of bounds on the one yard line. We lost. This time Indiana used the same kind of play, and they completed a pass to their tight end who was stopped on the two. So they lost."

Indiana may also have some problems re-grouping for Saturday's invasion of the Metrodome as their gutty rally in the fourth quarter against Iowa fell just two yards short, and a Hoosier chance for victory died as the final seconds ticked off the clock.

To make matters even more difficult for Coach Salem, the physical condition of his squad is deteriorating as several players were injured against Northwestern and remain doubtful for Indiana.

At the top of that list is quarterback Mike Hohensee who suffered a wrist injury in the second half of the Wildcat duel and was replaced first by Todd Stout and later Tim Salem.....the latter a player Coach Salem had hoped to redshirt this year.

Hohensee returned home from Evanston with his wrist in a cast but X-rays did not reveal any broken bones. It was diagnosed as a bruise to his hand and wrist, and his availability this weekend is in doubt.

If he is not able to go, Salem (son Tim, not dad Joe) will get the nod at quarterback. It would be Tim's first starting assignment since his freshman season when he was the regular in all 11 Gophers games.

In addition, Glen Cieslewicz, inside linebacker, suffered a knee injury and was expected to undergo surgery this week. The Gophers lost long snapper John Kelly to a similar fate just one week ago. Both will be out for the remainder of the year.

Also injured at Northwestern were runningback Frank Jacobs (ankle), defensive back Kerry Glenn (ankle), defensive end Jimmie James (wrist) and tight end Jay Carroll (thigh bruise).

Several Gophers did not make the trip to Northwestern because of injuries suffered earlier, and their ability to come back this week remains in doubt. In that category are offensive tackle Todd Hallstrom, runningback Tony Hunter and outside linebacker Joe Christopherson.

Only time will tell if any of those gridders will be able to play against the Hoosiers. And only time will tell if Minnesota can regain the form which enabled it to reel off three straight triumphs at the beginning of the current campaign and climb into the nation's top 20.

"Sure we're banged up, Salem admitted. "But there isn't anything we can do about it. We'll just have to fill in the best we can. We'll go with the players who are ready.....mentally and physically.....and do the best we can. We hope that will be enough."

Those Minnesota alums and old grads returning for Homecoming hope so too!

ICERS OPEN FRIDAY

Minneapolis, MN---After combining a whole lot of summer waiting with the longest preseason camp ever, it's finally time for the University of Minnesota hockey Gophers to "get it on".

This Friday it's "Hockey Night At Williams Arena" when the Gophers entertain Northern Michigan University in an exhibition contest beginning at 7:30 p.m. Result of this game will not be included in the season record, and the game IS NOT a part of UM's season ticket package. Only single game ticket purchases are good for this solo contest.

Then Saturday the same teams bus north where they meet in the Annual Hall of Fame Game at Eveleth. And this one counts!

Gopher head coach Brad Buetow, beginning his 4th season with an 81-39-2 record, has seen preseason camp slowed by numerous injuries, the type that could keep a few starters sidelined this weekend.

"I guess you have to expect some injuries in camp each year," Buetow said Sunday, "but it kind of seems we have had more than our share this time."

At least the Gopher varsity candidates are finished banging away at each other for now. Saturday's intrasquad game at Anoka Arena marked the fifth such outing in eight days. However, playing those games, says Buetow, gave he and his staff a much better picture of who is going to play where for UM.

POSSIBLE STARTERS FRI.

GOAL: Buetow said Sunday he may open against NMU with junior transfer Mike Vacanti (Edina). He added that freshman Frank Pietrangelo (peter-AN-gelo) (Port Robinson, ONT) will open Saturday's contest in Eveleth.

"Out three top goalies, including Paul Butters (Rochester), have had fine camps," Buetow added, "but Butters is recovering from a severe groin pull and it does not appear now he will be ready. It will become much harder later on to choose between these three, unless one or two simply play themselves out of the picture. I believe we'll be all right in goal this season."

DEFENSE: Buetow Sunday named two starting pairs of defensemen. Senior co-captain David Jensen (Crystal) is set to skate with sophomore Mike Guentzel (Coleraine), while two more second-year players, Tom Hirsch (Mpls. Henry) and Kurt Larson (Moorhead), make up the second pair.

Freshmen Kevin Kellin (Grand Rapids) and another defenseman chosen from four or five candidates will make up the third pairing Friday.

"The battle for the top six spots on defense has been fierce from day one," Buetow added. "The results of this competition can, I now believe, make us stronger at the blueline this year."

LINE: Up front Buetow has pulled some surprises. Two position shifts are on tap for Friday, providing those involved are healthy.

"Jeff Larson has had a strong camp and deserves to see as much ice time as possible," Buetow commented. "If it works out he'll play a lot more than if we left him as our fourth center."

The other change may not occur Friday. Senior Steve Griffith (Roseville) has won three letters at LW for Minnesota, but as of this writing is penciled in as the fourth line center. However, Griffith recently had a staple removed from his knee, a result of surgery following last season, and may not be ready to go.

If not, Buetow said he will skate either freshman walkon Eric Lempe (Anoka) or senior Mike Harrer (Bloomington) at center between freshman Mike Anderson (N.St. Paul) on LW and soph David Preuss (White Bear Lake) at RW.

Second and third lines Friday have freshman Corey Millen (Cloquet) centering junior Tom Rothstein (Grand Rapids) on the left and senior co-captain Butsy Erickson (Roseau) at RW, plus last year's all-frosh unit of LW Jim Malwitz (Grand Rapids) and RW Billy Yon (Roseau) around C Rick Erdall (Mpls. Washburn).

"Both (Dave) Preuss and (Pat) Micheletti have been slowed by knee injuries," Buetow added, "but we believe they will be ready by Friday. "We also hope Griffith and possibly Butters will be ready, too. Regardless, we'll be up against a tough skating team in Northern Michigan. I just hope we are ready."

TENNIS TEAM PREPARES FOR SOUTHWESTERN LOUISIANA'S CLASSIC

The University of Minnesota's men's tennis team is preparing for the sixth annual Southwestern Louisiana Classic slated for Lafayette, Louisiana on October 21-24.

Coach Jerry Noyce is counting on a blend of veterans and newcomers to provide the Gophers with another strong team this season.

Noyce, in his tenth season as head coach, has recruited two highly rated Swedish players who combine with three returning Big Ten champions to strengthen the Gophers' lineup.

The Swedes, Fredrik Pahlett and Steffan Ericson, may rank as the two best players in the Big Ten according to Noyce.

Seniors Brace Helgeson (St. Cloud) and Dave Morin (White Bear Lake) join sophomore Pete Kolaric (Wickliffe, Ohio) as the team's top returning players. Kolaric won last season's Big Ten number five title, Morin was the conference champ at number six and Helgeson teamed with Kolaric to capture the league's number three doubles crown.

BASKETBALL PRESS DAY SCHEDULED WEDNESDAY

With the opening of basketball practice scheduled for Friday, October 15 at the University of Minnesota, Head Coach Jim Dutcher has announced that he will unveil his 1982-83 proteges for the news media on Wednesday, October 13.

The Golden Gophers will be on display for members of the press beginning at 3:00 p.m. in Williams Arena, and all members of area radio, television and newspaper staffs are invited to attend.

Players will be in uniform and available for photographs and interviews. Coach Dutcher and his staff also will be on hand for the picture-interview session.

Dutcher returns five lettermen from his team which won the 1982 Big Ten Conference title, and he has signed five new cagers, (one junior college transfer and four freshmen) to tenders. All of those players will be on hand.

Topping the list of returnees are Co-captains Randy Breuer, a 7-2 All-America center candidate, and Zebedee Howell, a 6-7 forward. Both are seniors this season. Other lettermen include Tommy Davis, Jim Petersen and Barry Wohler. Non-lettering holdovers are Kelly Scott, a senior, and Bruce Kaupa, a red-shirt junior who missed last season because of an injury.

Newcomers include 6-7 forward Roland Brooks, a transfer from the College of the Sequoias; Dave Dahlke, a 6-5 forward; John Shasky, a 6-11 center; Alonzo Skanes, a 6-2 guard; and Marc Wilson, a 6-1 guard.

MEDIA NOTE: All members of the press planning to attend this week's Wednesday luncheon at the Gold Room in Williams Arena with Football Coach Joe Salem are invited to remain after the luncheon for the basketball media day activities.

The Series:

Minnesota and Iowa have engaged in a great football rivalry every fall since 1931. Actually, it all started in 1891 when UM won 42-4. But the real history began in 1935 when the series became overheated. Players and fans alike neared the point of violence. But a friendly wager between the governors of the two states resulted in a bronze replica of a prize hog going to UM, the victor in 1935. Today that same prize, 15½" "Floyd Of Rosedale", has become one of the most prized trophies in all intercollegiate football. UM won 13-6 in '35 and the heavy fever subsided. Minnesota has taken possession of Floyd 31 times to 14 possessions by Iowa. In the entire series, UM's biggest win was 75-0 in 1903, while Iowa's biggest win was a 41-7 victory in 1921. Possibly the biggest clash ever involving UM & IA was in 1960 when the schools met in the Twin Cities ranked #1 (IA) and #2 (UM) in the nation. UM won 27-10, and a back-up QB named Joe Salem played a key passing role setting up UM's go ahead TD. Today Salem is 3-0 against Iowa and coach Haden Fry. This year's game was sold out back in August, and it may be hard to tell who is the home team Saturday night when Hawk fans invade the Metrodome.

GOPHERS SHOOT FOR FLOYD OF ROSEDALE SATURDAY

Floyd of Rosedale, that coveted bronze hog, will be at stake Saturday when the University of Iowa invades the Hubert H. Humphrey Metrodome for a 7 p.m. Big Ten Conference football assignment against Minnesota.

The visiting Hawkeyes, defending co-champions and Rose Bowl representatives of the Big Ten, will risk an overall record of 3-3 and a conference mark of 2-1 in Saturday night's shootout after falling 29-7 to Michigan last weekend.

Coach Joe Salem's Golden Gophers, who had jumped off to an impressive 3-0 start, now have dropped three consecutive decisions including a 40-21 setback to Indiana in the 1982 Homecoming extravaganza at the Metrodome last Saturday, also will risk a 3-3 overall record....but Minnesota is just 1-3 in Big Ten play.

Nobody was more upset over the loss to the Hoosiers than Salem. "I don't have any reasons for what has happened to us," Salem lamented. "Frankly, I don't know what to do. I don't know where we are at as a team. But I do know that we have to find out what is wrong and find out quickly. We have to get ready for Iowa."

In three seasons at Minnesota, Salem's Gophers have not lost to the Hawkeyes, and he is determined to keep that slate clean. And he told his squad so right after the Indiana game last weekend.

"There isn't a player on this squad who has ever been beaten by Iowa," Salem reminded them (Minnesota also won 22-20 in 1978 to make it four straight over the Hawks), "and I know that none of you want that to change Saturday."

But Salem knows that it will be a difficult assignment. And the Gophers know that two weeks ago the Hawkeyes beat Indiana 24-20, a score which tends to make the Hawkeyes a heavy favorite in this week's showdown.

"We know it will be a tough game," Salem admitted, "but we also believe that past performances don't mean a thing when Iowa and Minnesota meet. As far as I am concerned, you can throw out the records. It's us against them!"

To get "us" ready, however, Salem has his work cut out for him. He must find a way to get the Golden Gophers turned around and once again headed in the right direction.

"In order to win you must be able to make the plays," Salem explained, "to make BIG plays. No matter how hard those plays might be, you must be able to do it if you hope to win."

Unfortunately for Minnesota, in its last three assignments it has been the opposition that has made the big plays while the Gophers have come up empty handed both offensively and defensively.

Take last Saturday's game against Indiana. The defense gave up several "long" plays including scoring runs of 44 and 39 yards. It was called for roughing the kicker and roughing the passer, two penalties that kept Indiana scoring drives alive. And it was guilty of what Salem described as "lousy tackling."

Offensively it again was a self destruct unit as Minnesota had three passes intercepted and lost two fumbles as well as halting several of its own drives with delay of game and holding penalties.

"We were totally outplayed," Salem analyzed, "and I don't know why. We had a great week of practice getting ready for Indiana, and I thought we would play much better. I'm totally disappointed."

Once again, however, Salem has to urge his charges not to look back and instead look ahead to the invading Hawkeyes. "This is a big game for us," Salem proclaimed. "Now we'll find out how much character we really have. I just hope we have enough."

GOPHER TALES---Jim Marshall, Minnesota's veteran trainer, may have an AKA of Colonel Potter this week as his Golden Gopher training room begins to resemble the 4077 M*A*S*H unit of television fame.

First of all offensive center and long snapper John Kelly plus inside linebacker Glen Cieslewicz are done for the season after knee surgery. Tailback Tony Hunter, who missed three games with a shoulder injury, tried to play against the Hoosiers and aggravated that injury....and he also may be done for the year.

Joe Christopherson, outside linebacker who missed the Northwestern game with a knee injury, was another Gopher who "tried it" against Indiana and apparently did further damage to the same knee.

Other Gophers who suffered injuries in the Homecoming game....the extent of which won't be known until later this week....were: Andre Gilbert, ribs; Rene' Capo, knee and finger; Jimmie James, shoulder; Mark VonderHaar, shoulder; Ed Olson, knee; Anthony Davis, knee.

Floyd of Rosedale is a bronze replica statue of a prize hog used in a wager between the governors of Iowa and Minnesota back in 1935. While the overall Iowa-Minnesota series shows 75 games having been played (the Gophers lead 51-22-2), there have been 47 duels for the hog. Minnesota is tops in that series 31-14-2.

A year ago Minnesota beat the Hawkeyes 12-10 in Iowa City on an ABC-TV game of the week as Jim Gallery booted four field goals (of 52, 31, 33 and 27 yards). Despite that setback, Iowa went on to claim a share of the Big Ten title with Ohio State.

Although Mike Hohensee had three passes intercepted by Indiana last weekend, he managed to complete 34 of 50 attempts for 307 yards and one touchdown. In the process, Hohensee broke another Tony Dungy (1973-76) record. This one was for pass completions in a career. Dungy had 274, and Hohensee now has 303 completions in his two seasons at Minnesota.

The Iowa game is a complete sellout and will be televised locally by KSTP-TV under the NCAA television exception rule. Bob Bruce of that station will do the play-by-play while former Gopher Coach Cal Stoll will do the color commentary.

ICERS HOST U. OF MANITOBA

Minneapolis, MN---A pair of relatively easy wins--one counted, one didn't--over Northern Michigan served as a pleasant send off for coach Brad Buetow's fourth edition of Minnesota Gopher hockey last weekend.

So much for history. Now the Gophers return to non-league action at home this weekend meeting the University of Manitoba at 7:30 p.m. Friday, and 2 p.m. Saturday. Plenty of tickets remain for both Williams Arena games.

Last Friday UM defeated Northern 7-4 at home in an exhibition contest, the one that didn't count. The Gophers jumped off to a 4-0 first period lead, and the closest NMU got was 4-2, with two breakaway goals eight seconds apart in the final two minutes of action that period.

But sophomore wing Jim Malwitz scored his second goal early in the second period, to go with one assist for the evening, which turned out to be the game winner. But, like we said, none of the above is part of UM's season record.

On Saturday the Gophers again jumped to an early lead and coasted home to a 9-2 victory in the annual Hall of Fame Game played at Eveleth, MN. A five goal second period did the job for UM. Four of those scores came on the power play. So now the Gophers are 1-0 for the season.

Seniors Butsy Erickson and Scott Bjugstad, 1-2 in scoring for the Gophers last season, each scored twice for Minnesota Saturday. Erickson added two assists while running the power play from right point to lead all UM scorers in a chippy contest that saw each team collect 14 minor penalties.

One area that may have pleased Buetow even more than the win was his team connecting on five of seven power play chances. Last year's Gopher man advantage production did, for the most part, leave much to be desired.

BUETOW ON NMU WINS

"For this early in the season I was really impressed with the play of our men," Buetow said Sunday. "Now that is not to say we are ready to step into league action and be something else. We still have a lot of work ahead.

"But overall the play of our team against Northern Michigan was quite satisfying. We actually played much better Saturday than the first night, particularly on defense. And that may be the most pleasing point of all.

"Defense is always a concern of every coach. And I do not only mean the men at the blueline and the goalie. I refer to every man on the ice. Our forwards have a lot of defensive responsibility, too, and I believe they handled their assignments quite well.

"The performance of one of our newcomers on defense, Tony Kellin from Grand Rapids, was most heartening. With continued improvement and an awful lot of hard work, I believe he can provide us with the quality depth we need here.

"I was also happy to see freshman goalie Frank Pietrangelo (peter-AN-gelo) (Port Robinson, ONT) come through in his first performance Saturday. He wasn't tested all that much, but looked solid throughout.

"I was also pleased with the way senior Paul Butters (Rochester) and Mike Vacanti (Edina) played on Friday. It is our plan at this time to use all three goalies again this weekend. But we are not certain just how or when."

TRAINING ROOM REPORT

The only Gopher to come out of the Northern Michigan series banged up is senior defenseman Brian Zins (Hoyt-Lakes). Zins bruised some ribs in Saturday's contest and is now questionable for Manitoba.

Good news is that freshman forward Wally Chapman (Edina) has been given the green light to begin full skating with some contact thrown in. It is hoped that he will be ready for action by December.

Chapman suffered a knee injury while participating in the NHL North Stars pre-season camp and underwent surgery in mid-September.

"Our only worry about (Wally) Chapman now is that he tries to come back too hard, too soon and hurts himself again," Buetow added. "We want him to be ready as soon as possible, but not at the expense of hurting himself again by overdoing it. When ready we know he will battle for a position giving us even more depth up front."

TENNIS TEAM AT SOUTHWESTERN LOUISIANA'S CLASSIC

The University of Minnesota men's tennis team will compete in the sixth annual Southwestern Louisiana Classic beginning Thursday and concluding Sunday.

Six of the twelve teams entered in the tournament finished in the nation's top ten last season and ten numbered among the top 20.

Coach Jerry Noyce is counting on a blend of veterans and newcomers to provide the Gophers with another strong team this season.

Noyce, in his tenth season as head coach, has recruited two highly rated Swedish players who combine with three returning Big Ten champions to strengthen the Gopher lineup.

The Swedes, Fredrik Pahlett and Steffan Ericson, may rank as the top players in the Big Ten according to Noyce.

Seniors Brace Helgeson (St. Cloud) and Dave Morin (White Bear Lake) join sophomore Pete Kolaric (Wickliffe, Ohio) as the team's top returning players. Kolaric won last season's Big Ten number five title, Morin was the conference champ at number six and Helgeson teamed with Kolaric to capture the league's number three doubles crown.

The Gophers face Northwestern and Nebraska at the 98th Street Racquet and Swim Club on Friday, October 29 and Sunday, October 31.

CROSS COUNTRY TEAM AT IOWA ON SATURDAY

Coach Roy Griak's University of Minnesota men's cross country team journeys to Iowa Saturday for an 8,000-meter dual with the Hawkeyes. The contest is slated for 10:30 a.m. at the Finkbine Golf Course.

Minnesota enters the meet with a Big Ten record of 0 and 1 and is 1 and 2 overall. Dave Morrison, a junior from Lakeville, is the Gophers' top runner. He finished first among the 282 runners entered in last Saturday's Gopher classic covering the 3,000-meter U of M Golf Course trail in 25 minutes, 50 seconds.

Iowa is 1-0 in the Big Ten and 2-0 overall. Coach Ted Wheeler considers John Betz to be the top Hawkeye runner.

The Series:

The series, one of the most famous in all collegiate football, is played annually for the major prize of all. . the "Little Brown Jug". First meeting between the schools was in 1892 when Minnesota won 14-6. The actual "Jug" series did not officially begin until 1909, six years after Michigan left its water jug in the Twin Cities following a 6-6 standoff in 1903. Michigan asked that their jug be returned. Someone from Minnesota said, in a sense, "come and win it back." Thus, a rugged rivalry over an inexpensive piece of crockery was born. Michigan took first possession in 1909 with a 15-9 victory. Michigan leads the all-games series 47-23-3, and the "Jug" series 42-20-2. Minnesota has only had possession of the jug once since 1968 following the upset of the '70s when the Gophers won 16-0 in 1977 over the then ranked #1 Wolverines. Each school has put together a string of 9 consecutive wins in the entire series. . .Minnesota from 1934 thru 1942, and Michigan from 1968 thru 1976.

GOPHER TRAVEL PLANS: Depart Twin Cities Friday via Republic FL# 580 at 11:25 a.m., arrive Detroit Metro 1:45 p.m. EDT. Work out in Michigan Stadium 4:30-5:30, lodged Friday evening at Holiday Inn West Bank. The team returns home after the game arriving Saturday via Republic FL# 518 at 7:45 p.m. CDT. (OVER)

BATTERED GOPHERS HEAD FOR MICHIGAN

Bloody but unbowed, the University of Minnesota's Golden Gophers head for Ann Arbor, Michigan, Saturday and a 1:00 p.m. (EST) Big Ten Conference football assignment against the University of Michigan.

The Wolverines are in first place in the Big Ten with an unblemished 5-0 record after whipping Northwestern 49-14 last weekend. On the season Michigan is 5-2.

Invading Minnesota, meanwhile, fell 21-16 to Iowa at the Hubert H. Humphrey Metrodome last Saturday and now will take an overall record of 3-4 and a Big Ten log of 1-4 into the Michigan contest.

That setback to the Hawkeyes was the fourth straight of the season for Coach Joe Salem's Gophers in what everyone agrees was the most physical game of the 1982 campaign.

Jim Marshall, U of M trainer, had 14 more Minnesota players in his Metrodome training room receiving treatment for injuries against Iowa, the most serious of which seemed to be Fred Orgas who suffered a mild shoulder separation.

"It was a hard-hitting game," Salem said. "Right now we are a badly hurt football team. A lot of our top people were held out of the game because of injuries, and now we lost a bunch more. It is going to be very tough to get ready for Michigan in our condition. We were lining up with scout team players against Iowa, and it is impossible to guess who we will have ready this week."

All of which means the assignment at Ann Arbor may be the most difficult of the year for Salem. "We played as well and as hard as we could against Iowa," Salem explained, "and it wasn't enough. When you play like that and still lose, it is difficult to come back a week later. Now we've got to do that with a team that has been dominated by injuries and against a team that might be the best we'll face all season long."

Against Iowa, Minnesota lost possession of Floyd of Rosedale for the first time since 1977. And it was Salem's first loss to the Hawkeyes in four coaching tries. The game Saturday will find Minnesota going after the Little Brown Jug, a trophy the Gophers have not owned since 1977. And Salem has never beaten the Wolves since becoming Minnesota's coach in 1979.

Under Salem, Michigan has won over the Gophers 31-21, 37-14 and 34-13 a year ago in Memorial Stadium. The Gophers' last win over Michigan was 16-0 in 1977, and they haven't won at the Wolverines 104,000-seat stadium since 1962 when they notched a 17-0 verdict for Coach Murray Warmath. An assistant on Warmath's staff that year was Salem, Minnesota's current top man.

Can the Gophers snap their four-game losing string this week? "We had our same old turnover problems against Iowa," Salem admitted (four interceptions and a lost fumble). "We've got to overcome those things if we hope to beat anybody."

SWIMMING AND DIVING TEAM TO STAGE TIME TRIALS FRIDAY AND SATURDAY

The University of Minnesota men's swimming and diving team will compete against the clock this Friday and Saturday at Cooke Hall in the Time Trials. The competition is scheduled for 7:00 p.m. on Friday and 10:00 a.m. on Saturday.

Third-year coach Paul Stearn's Gopher squad again is relying on a youthful cast. Of the 15 returning lettermen, eight are sophomores, six juniors and only one is a senior.

The team, which will host defending Big Ten champion Iowa on November 19 and the Big Ten Relays on November 20, is attempting to better last season's dual mark and sixth place Big Ten finish. With Indiana and Iowa expected to battle for the conference title, the Gophers are looking for a first division finish and hope to place as high as third.

Stearns will miss the leadership and talents of Jeff Adamson, Brian Mortenson, Roger Mueller, Joe Nagy and Tom Walle, but has able replacements in captains Randy Lien (Glenwood Springs, CO), Mike Monfils (Appleton, WI) and Gerry Rupp (Hastings).

The talented sophomore class, which broke 13 freshman and five of the seven varsity records set last season, forms the nucleus of the squad. A great deal is expected from the group that is headed by Bob Barrett (Arlington Heights, IL), Scott Etnyre (Cedar Rapids, Iowa), Matias Lindholm (Oulu, Finland), Jay Peterson (Bloomington), Jeff Shea (Madison, WI) and Steve Soli (Grand Forks, ND).

Rupp, Scott Swisher (Aberdeen, SD), Petri Tiitola (Tampere, Finland) and Dave Wise (Faribault) are the team's top junior swimmers, Jeff Kennedy (Minneapolis) is the lone senior letterman and Scott Ruppert (Bloomington) and Jeff Tahti (Moundsview) are two highly-touted freshmen recruits.

Diving coach Craig Lincoln has only two athletes to work with following Adamson's graduation. Junior co-captain Lien and sophomore Flip Crummer (Omaha, NE) are expected to be consistent point scorers in the tough Big Ten diving ranks.

The schedule includes seven home contests and is highlighted by stops in Hawaii, Nebraska and Kansas on the way to the Big Ten and NCAA meets.

TENNIS TEAM ENTERTAINS NORTHWESTERN AND NEBRASKA FRIDAY AND SUNDAY

Coach Jerry Noyce's University of Minnesota men's tennis team will host its only home matches this fall on Friday and Saturday at the 98th Street Racquet and Swim Club in Bloomington.

Friday night's contest with Big Ten foe Northwestern is slated for 7:00 p.m., while Sunday's match with Nebraska is scheduled for 10:00 a.m.

Last week four Gophers competed in the 6th Annual Rider's-Rolax Southwestern Louisiana Classic in Lafayette, Louisiana. Sophomore Pete Kolaric (Wickliffe, OH) finished second in the consolation singles bracket. Freshmen Fredrik Pahlett (Vaxjo, Sweden) and Stefan Ericson (Widegatan Enkoping, Sweden) started off fast, but were slowed by a thigh injury to Pahlett. It is hoped that the injury will not spoil this weekend's planned Minnesota debut for the Swedish duo.

CROSS COUNTRY TEAM LOOKING AHEAD TO THE BIG TEN MEET

Preparing for the upcoming 68th Annual Big Ten Championship Meet, the University of Minnesota men's cross country team is idle this week. The 8,000-meter conference meet is slated for Saturday, November 6 at 11:00 a.m. at Iowa's Finkbine Golf Course.

Last Saturday at Iowa, coach Roy Griak's team defeated the Hawkeyes 21 to 37 in the two teams' 8,000-meter dual. The Gophers finished the dual season with a one and one mark in the Big Ten and a two and two overall record.

Junior Dave Morrison (Lakeville) finished first at Iowa with a time of 25 minutes, seven seconds. Junior John Kromer (Hudson, WI) was third and senior Mike Gebeke (White Bear Lake) finished fourth.

ICERS OPEN WCHA PLAY

Minneapolis, MN—OK. The non-conference stuff is done for awhile. Now the Minnesota hockey Gophers get down to the real stuff.

It all begins Friday night when the arch-rival Wisconsin Badgers invade Williams Arena in the WCHA opener for both schools. The teams also play here Saturday with both games starting at 7:30 p.m.

Last weekend the Gophers took a pair from the U. of Manitoba, 10-4 and 6-0, to run their season record to 3-0. Wisconsin is now 2-1-1 splitting last weekend with Dalhousie U. of Canada at home. UW lost 4-2 and won 13-4.

The Manitoba series was penalty-filled from start to finish. But the Gophers pounded home 10 power play goals in the two games to win easily.

On Saturday afternoon two UM goalies, senior Paul Butters and junior Mike Vacanti, shared the shutout. Butters went out early in the third period with a minor injury and Vacanti played the last 17 minutes. Together they only faced 20 enemy shots on goal.

Rookie Frank Pietrangelo (peter-AN-gelo) played Friday and stopped 23 enemy shots. According to coach Brad Buetow, Butters and Pietrangelo will split the series this weekend vs. Wisconsin, but did not say who would play which night.

BUETOW ON THE GOPHERS

"It was good to get two more wins on our side of the ledger," Buetow said Sunday, "but if I have any say that's the last time we play a Canadian school.

"I don't really believe they came down here to play hockey. Once we established superiority and they found they couldn't stay up with our speed, they turned to stopping us any way they could. And it wasn't pretty.

"As a result of a stupid play, one of our finest forwards, junior Tom Rothstein from Grand Rapids, may not play another game for us this year.

"Late in the third period Saturday with us leading 6-0 and the game totally out of reach for Manitoba, one of their players tripped Rothstein when Tom was going full speed. Tom tore up his knee and will be operated on Tuesday (tomorrow). All we can do now is hope he can return early next year, if at all this season.

"What hurts more than anything is that Rothstein was in great shape, had an excellent camp and was working his tail off from day one. He will really be missed.

"As for this weekend, well, what needs to be said when Wisconsin comes to town. This is what college rivalries are all about. You always see great, great hockey when we play each other. I expect more of the same.

"They, too, have had some injuries and will not be a full strength, either. But that matters little. Players from both schools seem to get a little bit higher for these series. Both of us want to start off the league season on the right foot, so our fans should be the real benefactors. They'll see some super hockey."

ROOKIES LEAD SCORING

Two first-year Gophers, forwards Pat Micheletti (Hibbing) and Corey Millen (Cloquet), are atop the Minnesota scoring parade following last weekend. Each has scored three goals and six assists in UM's three outings to date.

Last weekend vs. Manitoba, Micheletti racked up two goals and five assists while Millen was three and three. Millen had two power play scores while Micheletti had one, plus a shorthanded goal Friday.

Right behind are two veteran forwards with eight points each—sophomore Rick Erdall (Minneapolis) and senior Butsy Erickson (Roseau)—while senior Scott Bjugstad (New Brighton) leads all Gophers in goals scored with five. He also has one assist for six total points.

HIRSCH BACK, ANDERSON UP

Sophomore defenseman Tom Hirsch (Minneapolis) was forced to sit out last week's series against Manitoba with a pulled groin muscle. However, he is expected to be ready for the Wisconsin series. And Buetow said he will probably move freshman Mike Anderson (Maplewood) into Rothstein's spot on left wing.

FIRST BLUELINE LUNCHEON

Friday noon marks the first GOPHER BLUELINE CLUB luncheon of the year when Wisconsin comes in for a two-game series this weekend. The public is invited to attend each of these luncheons held at Jax Cafe on University Ave. NE in Minneapolis. These sessions are held each time the Gophers host a WCHA school. Refreshments begin at 11:30 a.m. with lunch served a little after noon. Coach Brad Buetow, Wisconsin coach Jeff Sauer and several others make up the informal program that follows. You DO NOT have to be a BlueLine Club member to attend.

The Series:

Last year Minnesota broke a 12-game win streak owned by Ohio State, the longest by any present opponent at the time. The Gophers won 35-31 in the Twin Cities via an outstanding passing performance from QB Mike Hohensee. Unfortunately, for the crippled Gophers, that is, Minnesota has to play AT Ohio State this year. . .next Saturday, to be exact. Ohio State owns a healthy 19-6 win margin over past Gopher teams. In fact, Minnesota has not won a game down at Ohio Stadium since 1949 when the Gophers derailed an undefeated Buckeye express 27-0. However, the Bucks went on to tie for the Big Ten title and defeat California 17-14 in the Rose Bowl. Prior to the UM victory in 1981, the last Minnesota win against Ohio State came in 1966 when UM won here 17-7. The whole thing started back in 1921 when OSU prevailed 27-0. Minnesota's first series victory was the next season, a 9-0 decision.

GOPHERS TO PLAY AT OHIO STATE ON SATURDAY

Another difficult road assignment is next in line for the University of Minnesota football team which now jumps from the frying pan into the fire by heading for Columbus, Ohio, and a 1:30 p.m. (EST) Saturday date with the Buckeyes.

Coach Joe Salem's Golden Gophers were on the road last week and dropped a decisive 52-14 decision to red-hot Michigan. That setback put Minnesota's overall season record at 3-5 and Big Ten Conference mark at 1-5.

But more important, it was the fifth straight loss for the injury-plagued Gophers who never were in the contest. Mighty Michigan literally breezed past the helpless visitors to retain possession of the Little Brown Jug.

"It was the worst performance I've ever seen from a Minnesota team," Salem bellowed after the game. "We didn't hit anybody. Defensively we played horribly. They came right through us. We didn't tackle anybody. We didn't even slow them down."

And if Salem was upset with the defensive effort put forth by Minnesota, he was nearly as livid about the way the Gophers did things offensively. "We moved the ball at the beginning," he pointed out, "but then it was back to the same old stuff. Penalties, fumbles and mental mistakes would stop us. We showed a complete lack of intensity."

The Gophers, Minnesota fans recall, started the season with three consecutive, and impressive victories over Ohio University, Purdue and Washington State. Then they led Illinois 24-20 going into the fourth quarter only to see the visiting Illini outscore the host club 22-0 in the final stanza at the Hubert H. Humphrey Metrodome to win going away.

As bad as that fourth quarter was against Illinois, things have gotten steadily worse for the Gophers since. The following week they lost at Northwestern, then to Indiana, then to Iowa and this past weekend to the Wolverines.

"Football is a game of mental preparation. That's the name of the game," Salem maintained, "and we weren't ready to play Michigan. I knew it Saturday morning. You could see it and feel it in the way our people were acting. And the problem is, it just gets tougher the rest of the way."

Obviously Salem is thinking about his injury-riddled football squad and the players who will....or won't....be ready for the three remaining games. And he's also thinking about what is going on in the minds of his Golden Gophers.

"We have to realize that there are three more Michigan games left for us," Salem said, "three more kickings just like that one if we don't get things straightened out. We have to get things together if we hope to change the situation which has been hanging over us for the past five weeks."

How does he hope to accomplish that monumental task? Before the Michigan game, Salem told his squad that to win it had to do three things: 1) the defense had to stop the opponent in three downs....for a punt....instead of letting it move down the (MORE) field and control the ball. It also had to force turnovers....interceptions and fumbles....to give Minnesota better field position. 2) The offense had to eliminate its own mistakes (fumbles, interceptions and penalties) so that it could move the ball with consistency and put points on the board. 3) The special teams had to control the kicking game and prevent any long returns of kickoffs or punts.

Against Michigan, the Gophers did some of those things. But they didn't do any of them with any great consistency, and they now know they MUST do so this week if they have any hope of improving their performance at Ohio State.

"I realize our team has been badly decimated by injuries," Salem admitted, "but right now we simply have to find the right people to line up against Ohio State. We have to find the people that WANT to play. Right now we need some leadership. We should be ashamed of our effort at Michigan, and we need some of our older players, our seniors, to take charge. They've got to come to the front and help us get our heads together. That's the only way we will be ready for Ohio State."

GOPHER TALES---Minnesota suffered three more casualties at Michigan. Steve Bisch, a senior offensive tackle, injured his shoulder and probably is lost for the rest of the season. Mike Curtis, senior tight end, suffered a concussion but should be ready for the Buckeyes. Peter Najarian, a freshman linebacker hurt an ankle, and his condition is questionable.

The Gophers were penalized nine times for 121 yards at Michigan. And as devastating as those infractions, and the ensuing yards, were to Minnesota, they didn't approach the U of M records....14 against Wisconsin in 1962 and 143 yards against Michigan State in 1977.

Mike Hohensee, Minnesota's outstanding senior quarterback who drew raves from Michigan Coach Bo Schembechler after last Saturday's contest, hit 27 of 39 passing attempts for 239 yards and a touchdown against the Wolves.

Already the holder of such Minnesota career records as most touchdown passes (31), most yards passing (4,620) and most completions (357), Hohensee now is within striking distance of one more mark....Tony Dungy's total offense record of 4,724. Going into the Ohio State clash on Saturday, Hohensee has 4,517 and needs 208 yards rushing and/or passing to surpass Dungy's standard.

Eric Johnson, freshman linebacker from Edina, saw the most extensive service of his young collegiate career at Michigan and responded with six solo tackles as well as two passes intercepted.

Ohio State had an easy time last weekend downing Purdue 38-6 and in the process stayed in the race for the 1982 Big Ten crown. The Buckeyes will bring an overall record of 5-3 and a Big Ten mark of 4-1 into Saturday afternoon's assignment.

A year ago Minnesota upset Ohio State 35-31 in Memorial Stadium as Hohensee completed 37 of 67 passing attempts for 444 yards and five touchdowns, three to Jay Carroll. But the Gophers have not won in Columbus since Bernie Bierman's contingent triumphed 27-0 in 1949.

ICERS AT DULUTH

Minneapolis, MN--A fact: you don't get to live very long with success in the Western Collegiate Hockey Association (WCHA).

Success came for the University of Minnesota hockey Gophers last weekend in the form of gaining three points against Wisconsin at home.

But that was quickly forgotten Monday morning when preparations started for the task ahead. . .facing Minnesota-Duluth in the Port City Friday and Saturday. The Bulldogs are presently the hottest team in all collegiate hockey.

Off to their best start ever at 7-0-1, the Bulldogs are relishing a pair of road victories at defending WCHA and NCAA champion North Dakota (4-3 and 3-2, the latter in overtime). Duluth leads the WCHA with a 4-0 record.

The Gophers are also undefeated at 4-0-1 overall and 1-0-1 in league play. Last weekend Minnesota gained one point Friday in a 4-4 standoff with Wisconsin, but came back to eek out a 9-8 decision Saturday, also in overtime. The latter victory was sealed when freshman forward Pat Micheletti lifted a short wrist shot into the top of the Wisconsin net 2:05 into the extra session.

BUETOW ON THE GOPHERS

"Anytime you can take three points from Wisconsin you must be doing something right," Gopher coach Brad Buetow commented Monday. "It was kind of a strange series in terms of a tight game Friday and an all-out scoring binge Saturday, but we are very, very happy to come out on top.

"We are still lacking the consistancy we are seeking. I do not believe we played anywhere near as well as we can. But at the same time our men bounced back when they needed it and stayed in both games. So like I said, who is to complain when you get three points on a league weekend.

"But for continued success we've got to shore up our team defense. It is always our goal to limit the opposition to three scores or less. We certainly didn't attain that goal last weekend. But in the long run I believe we are showing some improvement each week. It's just that we have so far to go, so much to put in before we can be considered a contender. But I guess we'll find out about that this weekend."

Asked if he is surprised about Duluth's early success, Buetow replied, "No, not really. We knew they had a good squad coming out, and the reports I have received say they (Duluth) are outworking everyone, really working their tails off. In addition they are receiving great goal tending from Bob Mason.

"I already know they must to on a real high winning twice at North Dakota. And there is never any question about Duluth being up to play us.

"Our series each year is one of the highlights for both schools. It just means a lot more to Duluth. They would rather beat us than any other school in the nation. You know, taking the 'big brother' to the cleaners and all that. It should be some wild kind of town when we get up there this weekend."

Buetow added that he again plans to split goal tending duties this weekend between senior Paul Butters and rookie Frank Pietrangelo (peter-AN-gelo). Butters played the first two periods last Friday, but became sick between periods and gave way to the freshman. Pietrangelo played the entire game Saturday.

GOPHER LEADERS

Two centers and a defenseman are atop the Gopher scoring parade after five games this season. Sophomore Rick Erdall and rookie Corey Millen, both centers, along with soph defenseman Kurt Larson have scored 12 points each Erdall and Millen have four goals and eight assists apiece, while Larson racked up seven assists last weekend vs. Wisconsin to give him 12 for the season.

Seniors Scott Bjugstad and Butsy Erickson, along with freshman Micheletti, are next in line with 11 points each. Bjugstad leads all Gopher scorers with eight goals. In fact, all eight scores have come on the power play.

The latter has found Minnesota converting 21 times in 47 attempts for a healthy .447 percent figure, while holding the opposition to four power play goals in 29 attempts (.138%).

CROSS COUNTRY TEAM AT BIG TEN CHAMPIONSHIP MEET

The University of Minnesota's men's cross country team will be at Iowa Saturday for the 68th Annual Big Ten Championship Meet. The 8,000-meter competition will begin at 11:00 a.m. at the Finkbine Golf Course.

Wisconsin is the defending champion and the favorite, while coach Roy Griak's Gophers finished third last season and are strong candidates for a first division finish.

The Gophers, who finished the dual season with a 1-1 mark in the Big Ten and 2-2 overall record, are led by Dave Morrison. A junior from Lakeville, Morrison finished first two weeks ago in the team's dual victory over Iowa on the Finkbine Golf Course with a time of 25 minutes, seven seconds.

Seniors Mike Gebeke (White Bear Lake) and John Keohen (Montgomery), juniors John Kromer (Hudson, WI) and Dave Sharp (Minneapolis) and freshman Dave Duvick (Eden Prairie) are other members of the squad. Injured sophomore Dallas Allaire (Thunder Bay, Ontario) may make the trip, but will likely be replaced by one of three freshmen.

Following the conference meet, the team will compete in the NCAA District IV Championships at Purdue on November 13. --UM--

GYMNASTICS TEAM MEETS ALUMNI FRIDAY AT KELLOGG HIGH SCHOOL

The University of Minnesota men's gymnastics team faces an alumni squad featuring Brian Meeker and Tim LaFleur Friday night at 7:30 p.m. at Kellogg High School. The team opens the season on November 12 and 13 when it competes in the Wisconsin Open.

Coach Fred Roethlisberger's defending Big Ten champion Gophers are looking for their seventh conference title in eight years during the current season.

Roethlisberger is faced with the task of replacing last season's Big Ten all-around champion Meeker, but has proven all-around strength in junior Joe Ray and sophomore Tim Koopman. Expected to continue Minnesota's strong all-around tradition, Ray was the runnerup in last season's Big Ten meet and Koopman was third.

Sophomore Pat Houde joins freshman Robert Brown, Dan McCann and Dave Menke to provide depth. In the 1982 National Junior Championships McCann was fourth, Brown sixth and Menke tenth.

Specialist will play an important role in the Gophers' plans. Juniors Tom Groechel and Tim Ryan are consistent scorers in the rings, senior Jeff Murray is the team leader in the pommel horse, junior Dave Dunleap adds depth in the parallel bars and senior transfer Dave Invie and sophomore Kevin Cochran are expected to contribute in a variety of events. --UM--

TENNIS TEAM AT SOUTHERN ILLINOIS-EDWARDSVILLE'S BELLEVILLE TOURNAMENT

Coach Jerry Noyce's University of Minnesota men's tennis team travels to Belleville, Illinois this week for a tournament hosted by Southern Illinois-Edwardsville. The two-day event is slated for Friday and Saturday.

Last weekend, the team split its only home matches this fall. Friday night it lost to Northwestern 5-4 and then Sunday morning it beat Nebraska 7-2.

Sophomore Pete Kolaric (Wickliffe, Ohio), playing at number three singles, led the Gophers with two victories. Senior Dave Morin (White Bear Lake), playing at number five singles, also swept his opponents. --UM--

NEXT SWIMMING AND DIVING MEETS ON NOVEMBER 19 AND 20

The next meets scheduled for the U of M swimming and diving team are Friday, November 19 against Iowa and Saturday, November 20 when it hosts the Big Ten Relays. The Cooke Hall Pool is the site of both meets.

Last weekend coach Paul Stearns held time trails. Multiple winners were Scott Swisher (Aberdeen, SD) in the 200 and 400-yard individual medleys and 200-yard breaststroke, Bob Barrett (Arlington Heights, IL) in the 100 and 200-yard butterflys and Gerry Rupp (Hastings) in the 100 and 200-yard backstrokes.

Former Gopher Art Griffith dominated the sprint freestyle events with victories at 50, 100 and 200-yards. Freshman Scott Ruppert (Bloomington) won the 500-yard freestyle and finished second to Griffith in the 50, 100 and 200. --UM--

The Series:

By winning the last five meetings between the schools, Michigan State has closed the gap in this series from a deficit to dead even. . . 11-11. Minnesota's last series victory was a 14-10 decision at East Lansing in 1976. The schools first met back in 1950, a year after MSU became the newest member of the Big Ten Conference. Minnesota took a 27-0 win that year, and won again 21-0 the next season. MSU's first series victory came in 1954, a 19-13 decision in Murray Warmath's first year as grid boss at UM. The first two meetings were between a pair of coaching giants: Bernie Bierman for Minnesota, and Clarence "Biggie" Munn, himself an All-American at Minnesota in the early 1930's.

Salem Luncheon: The final Coach Joe Salem luncheon of the season is set for Friday noon at the Normandy Inn. Bob Kurtz of WTCN-TV will be guest MC.

MINNESOTA CLOSES HOME SEASON AGAINST MICHIGAN STATE SATURDAY

Minnesota's battered but gallant football team closes its 1982 home season on Saturday when playing host to Michigan State University at 7 p.m. in a Big Ten Conference assignment at the Hubert H. Humphrey Metrodome.

Both the Golden Gophers and the Spartans suffered setbacks this past weekend, and both will come into Saturday's showdown with identical Big Ten records of 1-6. Minnesota is 3-6 overall while Michigan State is 1-8.

Last weekend, while Michigan State was falling 28-24 to the Northwestern Wildcats at East Lansing, Minnesota was suffering its sixth straight setback 35-10 to the Ohio State Buckeyes at Columbus.

"It was another disappointing day for us," Salem analyzed. "We played better than we did the previous week at Michigan, but we still made too many mistakes in key situations. It made the difference."

Especially upsetting to Salem was the fact that his Gophers have not learned their lessons. "What bugs me more than anything else," Salem said, "is that we make the same mistakes week after week. We have too many breakdowns in pure fundamentals."

Against Ohio State, Minnesota reversed offensive directions somewhat and had a fairly productive day on the ground. The Gophers finished with 180 yards rushing for their best effort in several weeks, and the big man in that attack was Alan Reid who had 95 yards in 14 carries for his best game as a Minnesotan. Reid also caught five passes for 54 yards and easily surfaced as the Gophers' top performer at OSU.

"We moved the ball well," Salem pointed out, "but once again we stopped ourselves with mistakes. We had too many breakdowns in key situations. Then, when we fell behind and had to throw more, it was tougher to keep things going with any consistency with their defensive people knowing we had to put the ball in the air."

Salem also had good things to say about Reid. "He had a productive day," Minnesota's fourth-year coach said, "but that didn't surprise us. We knew Alan was a good runner. He had some injury problems earlier, but now that he is healthy he's showing what he can do. Hopefully he will help us even more in our final two games of the year."

Offensively the major disappointment was Minnesota's inability to get its passing game in gear, but there were reasons for those problems. Mike Hohensee, the Gophers' superb quarterback, hit only 12 of 30 attempts for 99 yards and one touchdown. But he was faced with an overwhelming rush (he was sacked twice) all afternoon, and he was playing with a severely bruised right forearm after being hit early in the first period. And, as Salem pointed out, it was tough for Hohensee to pass with any consistency when the Ohio State defense knew the ball was going to be in the air. The injury-riddled defense, meanwhile, continued to have problems much to Salem's dismay. "We didn't execute fundamentally," he said. "We still didn't tackle the way we should, and we couldn't stop them when we had to. We couldn't come up with the big defensive play."

As upset as Salem was about giving up 35 points to OSU, Salem did find some bright spots for the Gophers. "We had a better effort than we did a week ago at Michigan, that's for sure," Salem said, "and our young people played decently. They hustled, and they played with enthusiasm. They came to hit somebody."

At the top of the list would be freshman linebacker Eric Johnson who, in his first collegiate starting assignment, was credited with 12 assisted tackles and four solo tackles for a total of 16 hits.

Not far behind was senior rover Glenn Cardelli who had 11 and two for 13 hits. He also had Minnesota's lone interception of the day. Rene' Capo chipped in with seven tackles including three for losses of 16 yards.

Apparently, however, Salem didn't figure all of his charges played up to their capabilities against the Bucks. "We still have some people who are feeling sorry for themselves," he said. "Until that stops, until every one of us is willing to block and tackle and execute, until we stop playing give away, we can't expect to win."

So where does that put the Gophers as they prepare for their final home appearance of the current campaign? "We hope to get some of our injured players back this week," Salem said. We'll tape 'em together and hope that we are ready to play. We had a lot of people who went into the Ohio State game thinking they could win, and now we all just have to ask ourselves what it really would have taken to win that game. And the same thing is true this week. We have to ask ourselves what it will take to beat Michigan State. If we come up with the right answer, we can get the job done."

GOPHER TALES---Minnesota's injury list was not as alarming after the OSU game as it had been at most times this year. Hohensee, Anthony Davis, Craig White, Kevin Taylor, Ivan Zubar and Jimmy James all received some attention from trainer Jim Marshall, but all were expected to be back for the invading Spartans.

The Gophers and Spartans will both have one very big incentive going for them Saturday....to escape the Big Ten Cellar. The last time Minnesota finished on the bottom of the conference standings was in 1959 when they wound up 1-6.

Although the Minnesota-Michigan State series is even at 11-11-0, the Spartans have been a thorn in the side of Coach Salem. Michigan State has beaten the Gophers five straight times, and those three most recent decisions have been at Salem's expense. A year ago it was MSU 43, UM 36 at East Lansing.

GOPHER CAGERS SET FINAL TUNEUP

One more tuneup is on tap for Coach Jim Dutcher and his 1982-83 University of Minnesota basketball team, and that event is slated next Tuesday (Nov. 16) at 8 p.m. in Lakeville.

The Golden Gophers, deep into preparations for defense of their Big Ten Conference championship, already have gone through scrimmages at Wayzata and Willmar, and the intra-squad affair slated next week will be the last such event before they tip off the upcoming campaign.

Minnesota is set to open the '82-'83 season on Saturday, November 27 against North Dakota State University of the North Central Conference. The Gophers play 15 games at Williams Arena this year including 10 shootouts against Big Ten foes beginning in January.

Next Tuesday's scrimmage is expected to find Dutcher taking a long look at some of his newcomers as he attempts to select his starting lineup for the rapidly-approaching opener against the Bison.

At the moment, Dutcher is using Co-captain Zebedee Howell, 6-7 senior, and Jim Petersen, 6-10 junior, at the top forward spots with Co-captain Randy Breuer, 7-3 senior, at center. The starting guards have been Tommy Davis and Barry Wohler. Davis is a 6-4 sophomore and Wohler a 6-2 sophomore.

Dutcher is quick to point out, however, that he is not ready to announce a starting lineup...and he's just as quick to indicate that several other cagers are strong contenders to win regular berths.

In that category are Roland Brooks, a junior who transferred to Minnesota from the College of the Sequoias, and Marc Wilson, a freshman. Brooks is a 6-7 forward and Wilson a 6-1 guard.

Other newcomers competing for regular status are 6-2 freshman guard Alonzo Skanes, 6-11 freshman center John Shasky and 6-5 freshman forward Dave Dahlke.

Holdovers getting a good look from Dutcher include 5-11 senior guard Kelly Scott and 6-1 junior guard (redshirted a year ago) Bruce Kaupa. Up from the junior varsity and giving it a shot are Mark Hussin and Larry LaPorte.

"We face a major rebuilding job this year," Dutcher says as he approaches the Tuesday night show at Lakeville (hometown of Breuer). "We've got to replace six seniors gone from a year ago, and we hope our blend of veterans and newcomers can get the job done."

CROSS COUNTRY TEAM IN NCAA DISTRICT IV MEET

Minnesota's cross country team, which finished third in last weekend's Big Ten Championship meet, travels to Purdue for Saturday's 10,000-meter NCAA District IV Championship Meet. The meet, the first-ever combined District IV men's and women's championship, is slated for 12:00 noon at the Purdue Golf Course.

Last season's Gopher squad also finished third in the Big Ten and went on to improve that by finishing second in the District.

Coach Roy Criak's top runner is junior Dave Morrison, of Lakeville, who finished eighth in the 10,000-meter Big Ten meet with a time of 24 minutes, 52 seconds.

In the Big Ten meet, Minnesota's point total was 100. Wisconsin was first with 29 and Michigan second with 62.

ICERS AT WISCONSIN

Minneapolis, MN---After only one week's time, Minnesota and Wisconsin face off again for another Western Collegiate Hockey Association (WCHA) series. Only this time the games take place in Dane County Coliseum at Madison, WI.

Two weekends ago, the Gophers and Badgers skated to a pair of overtime contests in Williams Arena. The first game ended in a 4-4 tie, while Minnesota won the second as freshman Pat Micheletti scored at 2:05 of the overtime period to give UM a 9-8 victory.

But last week, while the Gophers were splitting two at Duluth, Wisconsin got untracked with three consecutive home victories over Colorado College. The Badgers won 7-4, 9-1 and 5-1.

The Badgers are now in second place in the WCHA standings with a 3-1-1 league record good for seven points. The Gophers reside in fourth place at 2-1-1 and five points. Duluth leads the league at 5-1-0 and 10 points.

Up at Duluth, Minnesota handed the Bulldogs their first defeat of the season Friday with a 4-2 victory. Senior center Scott Bjugstad scored two of Minnesota's goals on long shots from center point. Sophomore wing Jim Malwitz and freshman center Corey Millen got the other two Gopher scores.

Senior Paul Butters authored the Gopher win in the UM nets. It was his first complete game of the year and he was steady from start to finish.

But on Saturday the Bulldogs returned the favor and handed Minnesota its first loss of the season by a 4-1 margin. Minnesota ran into a red-hot goalie in Bob Mason. Mason turned aside 42 of Minnesota's 43 shots on goal, many of them in a spectacular manner.

UM-Duluth jumped to a 2-0 lead after one period, and added a third tally late in the middle stanza. Freshman Micheletti got the lone Gopher score early in the third period, but that was the only time UM could dent Mason. The Bulldogs added their final tally into an empty net as coach Brad Buetow pulled goalie Frank Pietrangelo in the final two minutes.

BUETOW ON DULUTH-WISCONSIN

"I have mixed feelings about our series at Minnesota-Duluth," Buetow said Monday. "It's always frustrating when you have the chance to get four points and come up short. I actually believe we played better on Saturday when we lost.

"But Friday's victory was very important to us. It proved to our men we could win on the road and beat the best. We also showed good improvement in our team defense. We only allowed Duluth five shots on goal Friday in the third period while protecting our 4-2 lead.

"On Saturday their goalie, Bob Mason, played great. I guess we are going to have to learn to shoot better. We had 91 attempts, but only 43 were on goal. And we shot the puck right into the goalie on too many occasions. But he was really on his game and turned us away. You have to give Mason the credit.

"As for going to Wisconsin, well, first it's always a great challenge for our players to compete down there. They are always ready for us. And on top of that Wisconsin has found itself. They proved that last week.

"Some people sold Wisconsin short before the season started. Not me. I knew they would come out tough this year. So it's up to us to play our game and not play their style.

"We will go with (Paul) Butters in goal Friday, and probably come back with (Frank) Pietrangelo the next night. I don't foresee any line or defense changes from the group we skated last week.

"I said earlier we showed improvement in team defense last week. But we'll have to be a lot sharper to stop Wisconsin on their own ice. In addition, they have crack goalie Terry Kleisinger back, and that doubles our problems playing down there. But we've won there before. I hope we can again."

GYMNASTS OPEN SEASON AT WISCONSIN OPEN

The U of M men's gymnastics team opens its season Friday at the two-day Wisconsin Open in Madison.

Coach Fred Roethlisberger is entering the meet with an eye to the future. Following the meet, the team will participate in Chicago's Windy City Invitational on November 19 and 20. Roethlisberger considers the Wisconsin meet to be a good testing ground for the Chicago tourney which annually attracts the nation's top teams.

During the current season the Gophers are looking for their seventh Big Ten championship in eight years .

The team is faced with the task of replacing Brian Meeker., a two-time Big Ten all-around champion and National Team member, but has proven all-around strength in junior Joe Ray and sophomore Tim Koopman.

Expected to continue the proud Minnesota all-around tradition, Ray, a product of Maine, Illinois, is a National Team member and was the runnerup in last season's Big Ten all-around competition. Koopman, from Bloomington, made it three Gophers in a row when he finished third in the conference all-around.

Sophomore Pat Houde, of Bloomington, joins freshman Robert Brown, Dan McCann and Dave Menke to provide depth. In the 1982 National Junior Elite Championships McCann was fourth, Brown sixth and Menke tenth. Brown is from Chicago, McCann is from Encino, California and Menke is from Bloomington.

Specialist will play an important role in the Gophers' lineup. Juniors Tom Groechel, of Brookfield, Wisconsin, and Tim Ryan, of Green Bay, Wisconsin, are consistent scorers in the pommel horse, junior Dave Dunleap, of White Bear Lake, adds depth in the parallel bars and senior transfer Dave Invie, of New Hope, and sophomore Kevin Cochran, of Bloomington, are expected to contribute in a variety of events.

Last Friday at Kellogg High School the varsity lost to an alumni squad 173.0 to 168.7. Meeker won the all-around, while Ray was the top current Gopher. Roethlisberger was pleased with the performance of the three freshman.

WRESTLERS OPEN SEASON SATURDAY AT NORTH DAKOTA STATE'S BISON OPEN

Wally Johnson's U of M wrestling team opens its season Saturday at North Dakota State's Bison Open. Last season Minnesota captured five individual titles to dominate the field in that event.

Although there are nine returning lettermen on the roster, Johnson isn't sure of his team's ability.

"We're a club of unknown quality." Johnson said. "We have some potential and I believe that the people coming back can rise to the occasion, but they have yet to prove to me that they can handle big-time competition."

Johnson, in his 32nd year as coach of the Gophers is faced with replacing six regulars from last season's team that was the fifth-ranked dual team in the nation with a 17-2 record.

This season's troops are led by senior captain Jim Trudeau, a three-year letterman and 1981 167-pound Big Ten champion. The aggressive Inver Grove Heights native was red-shirted last year after an early season hand injury.

Other top returners are 118-pound Ed Giese, of Wood Dale, Illinois, and 158 or 167-pound Darrell Gholar, of Chicago.

Red-shirt sophomore Greg Evans, of Rockford, Illinois, and junior Steve Martinez of Osseo, will fight it out at 150 and may both find their way into the lineup. Senior Evan Bernstein, of Richardson, Texas, will dual freshman Mike Foy, of Markham Illinois, for the 190-pound position and could see utility work at heavyweight behind junior Al Jenson, of Foley.

On Saturday, November 20 the Gophers battle Iowa, Mankato State and Northern Iowa in the Gopher Quadrangular.

CHANDLER SELECTED TO U.S. WRESTLING TEAM

Four wrestlers and a coach from Minnesota have been selected to represent the United States in the upcoming Graeco-Roman Wrestling World Cup. Teams from Russia, Japan, Egypt, Western Europe and host Hungary join the US in the tournament that begins on November 22 in Budapest.

Three of the four wrestlers and the coach are former Gopher standouts. Tom Press, a native of East Lansing, Michigan and U of M assistant coach, leads the ex-Gophers and will wrestle at 180.5-pounds, Jim Andre, a product of Bloomington, is slated for 163 and Jim Martinez, of Osseo, is at 149.5. Robbinsdale native Mike Houck will compete at 198-pounds.

The team is being coached by part-time Gopher assistant Dan Chandler, a two-time Olympian from Anoka.

PAHLETT EXCELLS, NEXT TENNIS TOURNAMENT SCHEDULED FOR DECEMBER 3-5

The U of M men's tennis team's next tournament is the University of Michigan's Midwest Indoor Intercollegiate on December 3-5 in Ann Arbor.

Jerry Noyce's team finished fifth last weekend in Southern Illinois-Edwardsville's Belleville tournament with 18½ points. Arkansas and SIU-Edwardsville tied for the top spots with 38 points each.

Freshman Fredrik Pahlett, of Vaxjo, Sweden, won the number one singles title with straight set victories over two top rated players. On Friday Pahlett dumped Arkansas' Peter Doohan, the nation's top ranked player at the time, 6-2, 7-6. In Saturday's final he did it again beating SIU-Edwardsville's Ken Flach, the nation's fourth ranked player, 6-2, 6-2.

Pahlett's fellow Swede Stefan Ericsson, a freshman from Enkoping, Sweden, lost in the number two singles finals and sophomore Pete Kolaric, of Wickliffe, Ohio, won the number three consolation title.

The Series:

Minnesota and Wisconsin have played the longest, uninterrupted collegiate football series in the nation. It all began back in 1890 when the Gophers won 63-0. The schools have met to play football every fall since, except in 1906 when President Theodore Roosevelt called a one-year halt to all keen college rivalries in an attempt to stop excessive roughness. So UM and UW have played a football game in 91 of the last 92 years. In addition UM and UW have met in the last game of the season every year except one since 1933. The lone exception for UM came in 1943 when the final opponent was the Iowa Seahawks, a WWII training station team, coached by none other than the Grey Eagle, Bernie Bierman. UM owns a 49-34 edge in wins covering this long series, but Wisconsin has narrowed the gap recently by winning the last four meetings between the schools. The last time Um won in Madison was a 14-6 decision in 1972. (OVER)

GOPHERS END GRID SEASON AT WISCONSIN ON SATURDAY

It all comes to an end for the University of Minnesota football team on Saturday when Coach Joe Salem's Golden Gophers wind up their 1982 season at 1:00 p.m. against the University of Wisconsin in Madison.

For Minnesota, the finale may seem almost merciful as the conclusion to the current campaign will mark the end to one of the most frustrating and disappointing seasons ever recorded.

The Gophers, remember, jumped off to a brilliant 3-0 start in impressive fashion and gained a spot in the nation's Top 20 rankings. But then disaster struck and Minnesota has since lost seven straight decisions including last weekend's 26-7 setback to Michigan State in the Hubert H. Humphrey Metrodome.

Consequently Salem's contingent will take a 3-7 overall record and a Big Ten log of 1-7 into the finale at Wisconsin. Minnesota is doomed to record its poorest mark in more than two decades and wind up with no better than a share of the conference cellar.

What happened to the Gophers remains a mystery. Certainly they were decimated with injuries, and that was a major factor. But, as Salem pointed out, most of the team's early season starters were on hand this past weekend and still things went wrong.

"I can't believe what happened to us," Salem lamented. "I saw it and I still can't believe it. We felt that to win we had to get on top early....to take command. We did just that. We scored first and moved the ball well during the first part of the game. But then it was the same old thing, the same thing that has killed us for seven straight weeks. We beat ourselves with mistakes....fumbles, interceptions and penalties."

The fumbles....Minnesota had four and lost three of them....may have been the most costly of all those miscues. First the Gophers drove nearly 90 yards only to fumble into the Michigan State endzone. Later they drove the length of the field only to fumble at the Michigan State four. Two later drives were halted by interceptions (the Spartans intercepted three Gopher passes in all), as the Minnesota offense sputtered throughout the second half.

"We hurt ourselves on the kicking game, too," Salem pointed out. "Our punting wasn't as good as it has been, and then we compound matters with two roughing penalties on the end of them to give Michigan State good field position. And we get another bad snap from center on another punting attempt. It was just one more way we found to self destruct."

Overall, Salem admitted that the Gophers turned in a "pretty sorry" performance. "Sure we did some things well, especially early," he analyzed, "but you've got to finish off the good efforts. When you drive down the field, you have to finish it off, you have to score. No team can commit the errors we have and expect to win."

ICERS RETURN HOME FOR DU

Minneapolis, MN---Just like every other WCHA series last weekend, Minnesota split its pair and now owns a 6-2-1 season record and a 3-2-1 WCHA log. The Gophers remain in fourth place.

But what was probably more important for Minnesota is that it gained its series split at Wisconsin. . .one of the toughest places for visiting teams to win in the WCHA.

But to the present. For the first time in three weeks, the Gophers can enjoy the friendly confines of Williams Arena Friday and Saturday when they play host to third place Denver. Both games begin at 7:30 p.m. CST.

The Pioneers are fresh off a home split against first place Minnesota-Duluth. Denver lost a 6-5 overtime decision Friday, but came back to hand UM-D only its second defeat of the season, 3-2 Saturday. The Pioneers are 4-2-0 in league play and 4-4-0 for the entire season.

An excellent recruiting year plus a solid group of returning veterans key Denver's hopes this season. Coach Ralph Backstrom, now in his second year at DU, has his team playing disciplined hockey. The Pioneers are considered a darkhorse in this year's WCHA sweepstakes.

This weekend marks Denver's first full association road trip. The Pioneers have played five of their six games at home. The only road contest was a win at Colorado College two weeks ago.

BUETOW ON DU

"I have to believe that Denver may be the most improved team in the WCHA from last season," Gopher head coach Brad Buetow said Monday. "They are much quicker and have an excellent freshman class.

"In rookie center Craig Redmond Denver may have the best newcomer in the league. And when you get to talking about their goalie, it scares me to death.

"Pat Tierney hails from Edina, and is already playing excellent hockey. But when he comes home to our arena, he really gets jacked up and plays just that much better. For us to succeed against Denver we'll have to contend with Tierney, and that's a tall order.

"I believe our teams are somewhat similar in terms of using speed as a key ingredient. In that frame our fans should be in for some kind of skating weekend."

BUETOW ON UW SERIES

"This isn't sour grapes, but I actually believe we played well enough to win both games at Wisconsin. But give credit to the Badgers. On Friday they took advantage of key breaks to win a tight game.

"But Saturday we may have played our best road game in quite some time. Our checking was much tighter, we played more physically, and freshman goalie Frank Pietrangelo (peter-AN-gelo) was excellent.

"To gain five out of a possible eight points from Wisconsin in four games is very respectable. I still say everybody sold that team short before the season started. But I'll again say I didn't. They come to play. But then, so do we.

"I'm pleased with the way our men handled the tough loss in the first game and came out playing so well the next night. That's the kind of consistency we always look for. I just hope they maintain that pace this weekend."

GOPHER NOTES

Freshman Pat Micheletti may miss the Denver series, and possibly more. He was hit in the back of his left knee Saturday by a puck and suffered nerve damage. Only time will tell as to when he can return to duty.

Buetow said he will probably remain with his goalie rotation, but has not decided who will go Friday against Denver, Pietrangelo or senior Paul Butters.

If Micheletti can't go this weekend, Buetow said he will probably bring up freshman Mike Anderson, but didn't say what line the latter will skate with.

Soph defender Tom Hirsch led the Gophers in scoring against Wisconsin with two goals and an assist Saturday. He was the only Gopher with more than one goal on the weekend.

Soph center Rick Erdall leads the Gophers in scoring with 16 points on five goals and 11 assists. Both freshman center Corey Millen and Micheletti have scored 15 points in nine Gopher games.

PREP CAGER SIGNS TENDER WITH GOPHERS

Gerald Jackson, a 6-4, 190-pound guard from Flint Hill Prep School in Oakton, VA, has signed a national letter of intent to attend the University of Minnesota and play basketball for the Golden Gophers next year.

Jackson is the first prep cager to sign with Minnesota under the new early signing date (November 10 through 17) but, according to Coach Jim Dutcher, will hopefully be signed by one or two more.

Dutcher described Jackson as a second or shooting guard. "Gerald has excellent shooting ability," Dutcher said, "and he will be a real outside scoring threat for us next year with the three-point basket in the Big Ten."

A year ago for Flint Prep School which finished 24-3, Jackson averaged 15.2 points per game. He shot 53.5 percent from the field and 69.0 percent from the free throw line.

In the summer basketball league in his hometown of Alexandria, VA, Jackson averaged 23 points a game and now is being counted upon to take over as Flint Hill's top scorer in his senior season.

MINNESOTA CAGERS PREPARE FOR SEASON OPENER

After holding its final pre-season intra-squad scrimmage on Tuesday, the University of Minnesota basketball team has moved into the final stages of preparations for the 1982-83 opener next week.

Coach Jim Dutcher's Golden Gophers tip off this year's campaign a week from Saturday (Nov. 27) when playing host to the North Dakota State University Bison at 8:05 p.m. in Williams Arena.

"We've put most of the stuff in that we feel we need for a season opener," Dutcher explained this week. "Right now we are concerned with putting on a little polish and developing not only our timing but also our team concepts."

Although Minnesota lost six players from last year's roster through graduation, and although newcomers obviously will be important factors as the Gophers defend their Big Ten Conference championship laurels, Dutcher says his veterans will carry the load in the early going.

"We're using our experienced players right now," Dutcher said. "We have some talented new people, and they are going to be important factors for us. But when we open against North Dakota State, it will be our veterans who get the early looks."

That means that Randy Breuer, Minnesota's 7-3 senior center....he's a co-captain and All-America candidate in his final campaign with the Gophers....will be joined in the starting lineup by some familiar faces.

Zebedee Howell, 6-7 senior and a co-captain, is expected to start at one forward spot while Jim Petersen, 6-10 junior, will get the nod at the other. In the backcourt Dutcher will probably open with 6-2 Barry Wohler and 6-4 Tommy Davis. Both are sophomores.

"Roland Brooks is another player with experience, and he is sharing time at forward for us," Dutcher said. Brooks is a 6-7 junior who comes to Minnesota after two fine seasons at the College of the Sequoias in California.

"At guard we're also hoping for help from Bruce Kaupa who is another player with experience," Dutcher pointed out, "and his outside shooting ability could be a factor with the new three-point basket rule in the Big Ten."

Dutcher also indicated, however, that some of the new freshmen have been impressive and could break into the starting lineup for Minnesota before very long.

"Marc Wilson has been playing very well," Dutcher said, "and Alonzo Skanes gets better with every practice. The addition of those two guards is really good for us. We don't think of it as competition for a starting spot but instead feel that it is a situation which will give us excellent depth at that position."

WRESTLERS HOST GOPHER QUADRANGULAR SATURDAY AT 2:00 P.M.

Wally Johnson's University of Minnesota wrestling team opens its home season Saturday afternoon at 2:00 p.m. when Iowa, Northern Iowa and Mankato State invade Williams Arena for the Gopher Quadrangular. Iowa has won the last five national championships and Northern Iowa ranks among the nation's best.

Johnson, in his 32nd year as coach of the Gophers, lost six regulars from last season's Big Ten runnerup and fifth-ranked dual team in the nation, but has some talented holdovers and impressive newcomers.

The team leader is three-year letterman and 1981 Big Ten 167-pound champion Jim Trudeau (Inver Grove Heights). The team captain, he was red-shirted last season after an early-season hand injury.

Other top returners are 118-pound-Ed Giese (Wood Dale, Illinois), 150-pound Steve Martinez (Osseo) and 158 or 167-pound Darrell Gholar (Chicago, Illinois).

Last Saturday the team opened the season at North Dakota State's Bison Open. Giese and Martinez won their divisions, Gholar was second at 167 and heavyweight Al Jenson (Foley) finished fourth.

The team will be in Colorado Springs, Colorado next weekend for a dual with Air Force and the Academy's Falcon Invitational.

BUSY WEEKEND FOR SWIMMERS AND DIVERS

The U of M men's swimming and diving team dual Iowa Friday night at 7:30 and hosts the Big Ten Relays Saturday beginning at 11:30 a.m. at the Cooke Hall Pool.

The defending Big Ten champion Hawkeyes join coach Paul Stearns' Gophers, Iowa State, Wisconsin, Wisconsin-Stevens Point and Wisconsin-Eau Claire in the Relays.

GYMNASTICS TEAM AT WINDY CITY INVITATIONAL ON FRIDAY AND SATURDAY

The University of Minnesota men's gymnastics team will participate in Illinois-Chicago's Windy City Invitational Friday and Saturday. The meet annually attracts the nation's top teams and is a strong early-season test for the defending Big Ten champion Gophers.

Under the direction of 11th-year coach Fred Roethlisberger, the Gophers are led by junior all-arounder Joe Ray (Maine, Illinois). A two-time National Team member and the runnerup in last season Big Ten AA behind former teammate Brian Meeker, Ray captured the AA title in last weekend's Wisconsin Open with a score of 109.05.

The next home meet is Sunday, December 5 when the Japanese Collegiate All-Stars visit Williams Arena for a 7:30 p.m. exhibition. Tickets are priced at $4 for adults and $2 for children 18 and under and are available in advance at the Bierman Building Ticket Office. --UM--

MORRISON TO COMPETE IN MONDAY'S (NOV. 22) NCAA CROSS COUNTRY CHAMPIONSHIP

University of Minnesota cross country runner Dave Morrison, a junior from Lakeville, will compete in Monday's (Nov. 22) 44th NCAA Championship Meet at Indiana. The 10,000-meter event is slated for the Indiana Par Three Golf Course.

Morrison qualified for the meet last Saturday at Purdue with an 11th-place finish and a time of 30:12.4 in the District IV meet. Earlier this season, when Minnesota competed in the Indiana Invitational, he covered the championship course in 31:58.

Coach Roy Griak's squad finished sixth with a tally of 193. John Kromer (Hudson, Wisconsin) was 34th at 31:20.8, John Keohen (Montgomery) 36th at 31:23.7, Dallas Allaire (Thunder Bay, Ontario) 38th at 31:25.2 and Mike Gebeke (White Bear Lake) 74th with a time of 31:52.5.

SIX GOPHER HOCKEY GAMES SET FOR TELEVISION

Six University of Minnesota hockey games....two at home and four on the road ....will be televised this season on WFBT-TV according to a joint announcement made today by U of M Athletic Director Paul Giel and Jonathan Byrd, channel 29 president.

"The chance to have some of our games on television, especially those away from home, makes this an extremely attractive package for us," Giel said, "and we are very pleased to have WFBT-TV involved in our athletic program."

Byrd indicated that channel 29 was "Thrilled at the opportunity to work with the University of Minnesota. We look forward to this being the first of many cooperative ventures between WFBT-TV and the Golden Gophers."

Home games slated for television are January 29 vs. UM Duluth and February 19 vs. Wisconsin. Road games ticketed for TV are January 15 at UM Duluth, January 22 at Denver, February 5 at Denver and February 12 at North Dakota.

According to Byrd, WFBT-TV is one of the new UHF channels licensed in the Twin Cities. "Our concept includes every conceivable type of Christian and family programming," Byrd said, "and we will telecast with 1,800,000 watts of power into a television market which includes 1,094,200 homes."

That's good news for Coach Brad BUetow, the Golden Gopher hockey team and the University of Minnesota.

GOPHER CAGERS OPEN 1982-83 SEASON ON SATURDAY

Saturday finds the University of Minnesota basketball team tipping off the 1982-83 season by entertaining the North Dakota State University Bison in a non-conference assignment at 8:05 p.m. in Williams Arena.

Coach Jim Dutcher's Golden Gophers, defending Big Ten champions, are regarded as being in a rebuilding year, and nobody knows what to expect this season. And that includes Saturday night against the invading Bison.

"We lost six seniors off last year's team," Dutcher has pointed out, "so we have a lot of unknown factors. We have some new players, and we have some talented players, but only time will tell how good we really are."

Against North Dakota State, Dutcher has indicated that he will go with his veterans. "We'll start out with the people who were with us a year ago," he said, "and we'll work in the new people as time goes along."

That means that the Gophers will open with Randy Breuer, 7-3 senior center and co-captain as well as Minnesota's top candidate for post season honors, as their only returning starter.

Breuer will be joined by 6-10 junior Jim Petersen and 6-7 senior co-captain Zebedee Howell at the forward positions. The starting guards will be a pair of returning sophomores....6-2 Barry Wohler and 6-4 Tommy Davis.

Also expected to play against NDSU are transfer Roland Brooks, a 6-7 junior forward, and such freshmen as 6-5 Dave Dahlke at forward, 6-11 John Shasky at center, 6-1 Marc Wilson at guard and 6-2 Alonzo Skanes at guard.

Two additional guards remain in the picture. Bruce Kaupa, a 6-1 red shirt junior, returns after a year on the sidelines because of an injury, and Kelly Scott is a non-lettering holdover.

"I regard a college basketball season as a three-stage affair," Dutcher analyzed. "The first is the preparation, and that's what we have been going through since the 15th of October. Next is the non-conference schedule, and that's what we start Saturday night against North Dakota State. The third is the Big Ten season which does not open until January."

So how will the Gophers do in that three-pronged attack on the '82-'83 campaign? "We've got as much into our system as we need for this early in the year," Dutcher proclaimed. "Right now we need timing, polish and the team concept. We have decent shooters....not in the class of Trent Tucker or Darryl Mitchell....but we do have some shooters. That includes Breuer who is the best shooting big man in the nation."

And that could mean that Saturday night against the Bison Dutcher will instruct his cagers to get the ball to the big man. "In my seven years at Minnesota," Dutcher pointed out, "we have been led in scoring and rebounding by our post men (Mychal Thompson and Kevin McHale). We would expect that to be the case again this season."

GOPHER TALES---Coach Jim Dutcher goes into the 1982-83 season with an overall college coaching career record of 253 wins against 117 losses in 13 years. In seven years at Minnesota, Dutcher is 131-67.

Breuer was named first team All-Big Ten a year ago when he scored 16.6 points and 7.2 rebounds a game....tops for the Gophers. He's expected to reap similar honors this time around as a senior, and he also rates as a solid bet to gain All-America laurels.

This past weekend, Coach Dutcher had Co-captains Breuer and Howell in Chicago for the annual Big Ten Conference basketball press conference and tip-off luncheon. It was attended by media representatives from throughout the Big Ten's seven-state area.

Minnesota and North Dakota State have met 17 times on the hardwood, and the Gophers hold a 14-3 edge in the series going into Saturday night's contest. The last meeting was in 1980 in Williams Arena when Minnesota won 99-64.

ICERS AT COLORADO COLLEGE

Minneapolis, MN---With a eye on grabbing first place in the Western Collegiate Hockey Association (WCHA) standings, the U. of Minnesota hockey Gophers this weekend travel to Colorado College to face the last place Tigers Friday and Saturday. Both games will be aired locally by KKSS-AM radio at 8:30 p.m.

Minnesota jumped from fourth to second place in the league standings by sweeping the U. of Denver 8-3 and 11-7 at home last weekend. The Gophers did it by busting out to 5-0 and 4-0 first period leads in Williams Arena.

Some say those first period explosions exhibited the finest offensive showing by a Gopher sextet in some time at Williams Arena.

Seniors Butsy Erickson and Scott Bjugstad, plus freshman Corey Millen, all forwards, led the way for Minnesota. Both Erickson and Bjugstad scored eight points in the Denver series while Millen came up with four goals.

Erickson had three goals and five assists while Bjugstad went 1-7. Most of their points came on the power play as the Gophers connected on seven of 14 tries. Millen had two power play scores Saturday, and for his efforts was named WCHA Player of the Week.

Senior goalie Paul Butters pulled double duty against Denver, but not by assignment. Butters authored Friday's 8-3 win against Denver, but Frank Pietrangelo started Saturday's contest.

Just 5:17 into the first period, Pietrangelo took a shot above his goalie pads on his left knee and was forced out of action. So Butters came off the bench and gained his second win in as many days. He is now 4-1-0 on the season with a 3.58 goals allowed average. Pietrangelo is 4-1-1 and 3.38.

Bjugstad and Erickson are tied for the team lead in points scored with 22 each. Bjugstad has 11 goals and as many assists while Erickson's totals read 8-14. Millen and sophomore center Rick Erdall are next with 19 points.

But the problem now is to keep things rolling. And the Broadmoor World Arena, home rink for Colorado College, has not been the friendliest place for Minnesota teams in the past.

Colorado College has given favored Gopher teams fits on its home ice. So the fact that the Tigers are struggling to get started this season has nothing to do with the contests this week. Two weeks ago C.C. won its first game by defeating North Dakota at the Broadmoor.

BUETOW ON THE GOPHERS

"I was certainly pleased to gain four points against a good Denver team," head coach Brad Buetow offered Monday, "but I'm not about to say I'm completely satisfied. We played well in the early going each night, but there were some third period let downs that bothered me somewhat, too.

"Maybe this team doesn't have a killer instinct. After we went ahead 8-2 after two periods Saturday, the next time I looked at the scoreboard Denver has outscored us 4-1 and the score is 9-6.

"But to credit our men, they bounced back with two straight goals to put the final decision out of reach. So I guess they did go after it when they had to. But I still wasn't pleased with the way we played team defense after we got the lead. It's something we'll have to work on.

"As for playing at Colorado College, sure, we've had a few problems winning out there. But last year we won two of two, so I don't believe there is any jinx attached to playing on their ice.

"The only thing we have to remember is Colorado College is playing at home and is struggling to get things going in their direction. They would love dearly to beat Minnesota. So we can't be looking past them just because they are at this time in last place.

"I can guarantee you they will be ready for us. Conversely, we had be ready to meet the challenge. Their rink is much smaller than ours, so I hope we can use this to our advantage and try to bottle them up in their own end.

"The secret for us is concentration. I believe we lost some of that in the third period both games against Denver. If you lose that against teams like Colorado College, or any team playing at home, it can cost you dearly.

"But we seem to be playing well the last two weeks. Now it's up to all of us not to lose that edge. We have the opportunity to go into first place in the league standings. If we do not capitalize on that, we have only ourselves to blame. I hope we are ready."

Buetow added he will probably stay with the same lineup that skated against Denver. In goal, however, he is undecided as to who will play which night.

"We'll probably split the weekend with (Paul) Butters and (Frank) Pietrangelo, but I'm going to talk with them about the Friday-Saturday split. Some goalies like to play early, some like to wait. I'll see how these two men react to the split situation.

"I believe we are in good shape here regardless of who we play each night. Both men are playing well and not giving an inch to the other. It's a nice decision for a coach to have to make when you have two goal tenders playing that well."

WRESTLERS AT WISCONSIN'S NORTHERN OPEN ON SATURDAY

The University of Minnesota wrestling team will compete in Wisconsin's Northern Open Saturday in Madison. The tournament is scheduled to begin at 10:00 a.m. at the Camp Randall Memorial Sports Center.

GYMNASTS TO MEET JAPANESE COLLEGIATE ALL-STARS ON SUNDAY, DECEMBER 5

Coach Fred Roethlisberger's men's gymnastic team duals the Japanese Collegiate All-Stars on Sunday, December 5 at 7:30 p.m. in an exhibition contest at Williams Arena.

Tickets are priced at $4 for adults and $2 for children 18 and under and are available in advance at the Bierman Building Ticket Office.

A veteran of international competition as both a coach and gymnast, Roethlisberger is excited about the matchup.

"It is a highlight of our season," Roethlisberger said. "Some of our athletes also compete internationally, but this is a once-in-a-lifetime experience for those who do not. It is also a chance for local kids and their coaches to see an international meet."

Last weekend Joe Ray, a junior from Maine, Illinois, finished fourth in the all-around competition at Chicago's Windy City Invitational with a score of 110.85. He was third in the parallel bars with a 9.2. Robert Brown, a freshman from Chicago, tied two others for the horizontal bar title with a 9.6.

SWIMMERS AND DIVERS AT ILLINOIS INVITATIONAL ON DECEMBER 3-5

The next meet for the U of M men's swimming and diving team is the Illinois Invitational on December 3-5.

Last weekend's Cooke Hall action was productive for coach Paul Stearns' squad as it upset two-time defending Big Ten champ Iowa 60-53 on Friday night and then finished second in Saturday's Big Ten Relays. Iowa won the Relays with 112 points, the Gophers had 94, Wisconsin 90, Iowa State 86, UW-Stevens Point 26 and UW-Eau Claire 8.

Gopher winners against Iowa were the 400 medley relay team, Scott Ruppert (Bloomington) in the 200 freestyle, Randy Lien (Glenwood Springs, Colorado) in three-meter diving, Bob Barrett (Arlington Heights, Illinois) in the 200 butterfly, Cerry Rupp (Hastings) in the 200 backstroke, Dave Wise (Faribault) in the 200 breaststroke and the 400 freestyle relay team that broke a 53-53 tie with a victory in the meet's final event.

The team's 4 x 100 medley relay and three-meter diving combination placed first in the Relays.

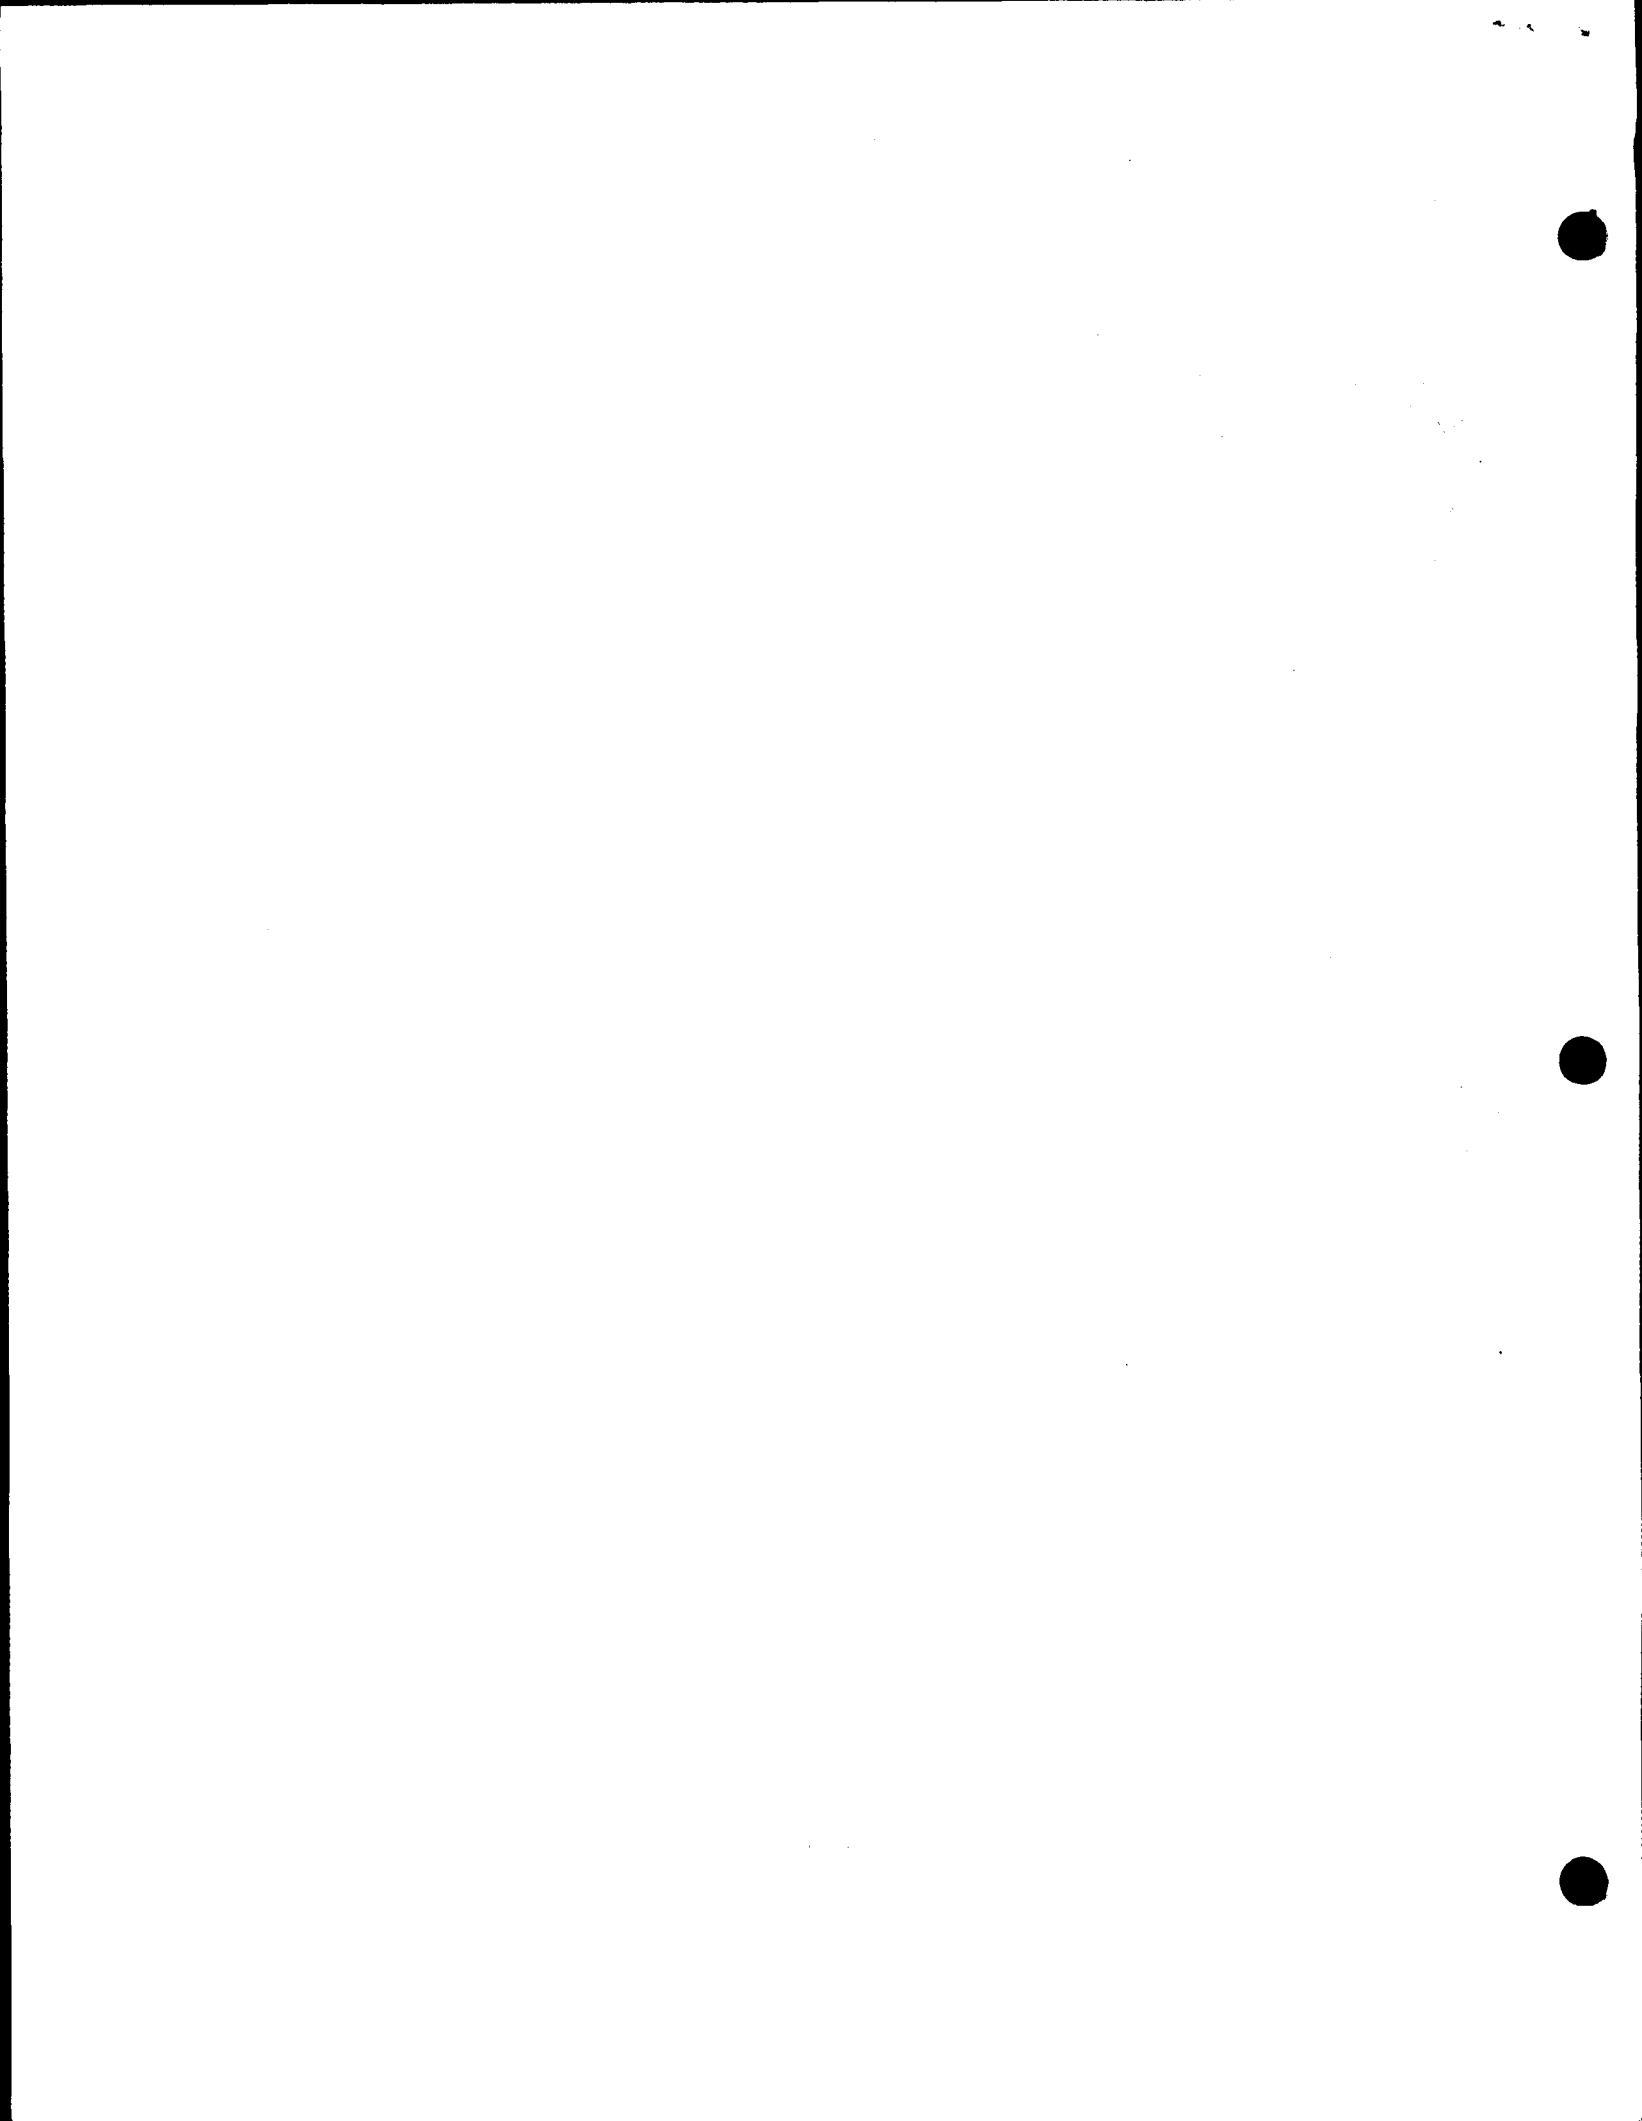

NOTES: Junior cross country runner Dave Morrison, of Lakeville, competed in the NCAA Championship meet at Indiana on Monday.

Next action for Jerry Noyce's Gopher tennis team is December 3-5 when a group of players represent the University at the Midwest Indoor Intercollegiate at Michigan. --UM--

FROM DUTCHER -- "Paul is another in a long line of outstanding big men from the State of Minnesota who have played for the Gophers. He will follow in the footsteps of Kevin McHale, Mark Olberding, Randy Breuer and Jim Peterson and become an excellent player for Minnesota. We believe that with the graduation of Breuer after this season, Van Den Einde will become a key player in our program."

FROM ROGER SCHROEDER, COACH AT WILLMAR HIGH -- "I believe Paul has great potential as a Big Ten player. He will gain more strength and endurance as he matures, and could become a dominating player. He has been an outstanding young man and student-athlete at Willmar, and we are confident he will be a true asset to the Golden Gopher basketball program"

FROM DUTCHER -- "Kevin is one of the top high school players in the country and should have an instant impact on our program. He has outstanding shooting and rebounding potential, the kind needed to become an all-Big Ten performer."

FROM JOHN JONES, COACH AT LANSING EVERETT-- "Skillwise, Kevin is the best kid I have ever coached. And he has excellent leadership to go with those skills, too. I right now believe he has the leadership abilities to make us a state tournament team. I can't tell you how relieved he is to have all that recruiting pressure out of the way. And I believe he made the wisest choice possible in selecting the University of Minnesota."

THREE GOPHER GRID COACHES TO LEAVE

In the wake of this year's disappointing 3-8 season and last place finish in the Big Ten Conference, appointments of three members of the University of Minnesota football staff will not be renewed.

Those coaches have been relieved of all duties and responsibilities, and their employment with the University of Minnesota will be terminated at the end of February.

Included are defensive coordinator Bruce Vandersall, defensive end coach Paul Olson and defensive backfield coach Bill Happel. A fourth member of the defensive staff, Mike Wynn, has been asked to remain at Minnesota.

"This was not an easy decision for me to make," Head Coach Joe Salem said. "However, we feel that a coaching change and a new look on defense will help our situation. I'll begin searching immediately for the best possible replacements."

Vandersall came to Minnesota as a member of Coach Cal Stoll's staff in 1973 and remained with the Gophers when Salem took over in 1978. Olson was a graduate assistant at Minnesota in 1973 and 1974, and he returned as a full time assistant under Stoll in 1977 and 1978 before entering private business in 1979. He joined Salem's staff in 1981. Happel came to Minnesota as the recruiting coordinator in 1980 and moved to an on-the-field coaching position in 1981.

Salem has been Minnesota's head coach for four seasons, and his overall record now stands at 18-25-1. His Gophers jumped off to an impressive 3-0 start this season but then, when decimated with injuries, lost their final eight games.

SIOUX INVADE WILLIAMS

Minneapolis, MN---When neighbors University of Minnesota and University of North Dakota meet in WCHA hockey, well, it's like a football match between Minnesota and Iowa, Michigan and Ohio State, Oklahoma and Nebraska. In other words, little love lost.

Only a minimum number of general admission tickets remain for the Friday and Saturday 7:30 p.m. CST faceoffs at Williams Arena. Both games will be carried on KISS-980 AM radio in the Twin Cities.

"It almost seems that every time we play North Dakota it's in a crucial situation," Minnesota head coach Brad Buetow said Monday. "It's easy to remember some classic hockey struggles between our schools.

"Back in 1979-80 (when Buetow was an assistant coach to Herb Brooks) we lost to North Dakota 4-2 in the final game of the regular season for the WCHA championship. Then three weeks later we beat them 4-3 for the NCAA championship.

"And whenever or wherever we play, it's always excellent hockey. Oh once in awhile there is a blowout, but seldom does one team win by more than a goal or two. Our fans gain the biggest bonus of all as our series always features swift skating and solid checking, not to mention excellent goal tending."

All the old cliches can be brought out this week, too. But mainly, right now it's offense vs. defense.

The Sioux have allowed only six enemy goals in their last four games. On the other hand, Minnesota has scored 40 goals in its last four outings. That, by itself, pretty well sets the stage for this weekend.

GOPHERS 1ST IN WCHA

By sweeping two games at Colorado College 12-3 and 9-4 last weekend, Minnesota moved ahead of Minnesota-Duluth and into first place in the WCHA standings. The Bulldogs played two non-conference games last weekend.

Minnesota now stands 7-2-1 in the WCHA for 15 points while UM-D is 6-2-0 for 12 points. North Dakota is tied for fourth place with Denver at 4-4-0 and eight points.

Butsy Erickson and Scott Bjugstad led the way for Minnesota with six points each. Erickson scored a personal high four goals in Friday's rout, while Bjugstad had three goals and as many assists on the weekend.

But there were some new heroes, too. Freshman Mike Anderson got his first collegiate goal Friday, and roared back with four goals in Saturday's win. The only other multiple goal scorer on the weekend was another rookie, Wally Chapman, who canned his first two collegiate scores Friday.

Bjugstad and Erickson are now tied for the lead in Gopher scoring with 28 points apiece, but Bjugstad owns a two-point buldge (22-20) atop the WCHA scoring race over his linemante.

Senior Steve Griffith tied a UM single game record for most assists when he totaled five in Friday contest at C.C. Dave Preuss and Jeff Larson each added four assists and a goal in the series.

MILLEN OUT

But the series sweep at Colorado College has proven costly. Freshman standout Corey Millen from Cloquet suffered ligament and cartilage damage to a knee in Friday's contest and is scheduled for surgery tomorrow (Tuesday). The swift skating rookie had scored 19 points in Minnesota's first 12 games this season and will be missed.

"That injury not only puts a tough delay on (Corey) Millen's development, but hurts our offensive plans, too." says Buetow. "Not only has he been one of our main scoring weapons, but Millen has also been a key part of our power play unit that has already converted 32 goals. He also kills penalties and has done everything we have asked of him. You bet it hurts losing him."

Millen has a slim chance of possibly returning to the Gophers at the end of February for the playoffs, but it's doubtful.

"I'm beginning to realize what our head football coach, Joe Salem, went through with the injuries his team suffered this fall," Buetow added. "Millen's departure makes three players lost to us because of knee injuries this season."

Earlier this year junior wing Tom Rothstein underwent knee surgery, and later freshman wing Pat Micheletti was sidelined when he suffered nerve damage to a knee. It is not known when or if either will return this season.

LINEUP CHANGES

Buetow said Monday he may reunite last year's freshman line of Jim Malwitz-Rick Erdall-Billy Yon, and make up a new line of Anderson-Jeff Larson-Dave Preuss. The top line of Griffith-Bjugstad-Erickson will remain intact.

Goalie rotation of senior Paul Butters and freshman Frank Pietrangelo will probably stay the same with Butters working Friday's contest.

"I believe (Frank) Pietrangelo's timing was off last Saturday as he only played five minutes in the last two weeks," Buetow said.

GOPHER CAGERS FACE TWO ROAD ASSIGNMENTS

With its 83-61 win over North Dakota State in the 1982-83 season opener safely tucked away, the University of Minnesota makes its first two road appearances of the current campaign this week in Iowa.

Coach Jim Dutcher's Golden Gophers are slated to take on the Cyclones of Iowa State University in Ames on Thursday before moving on to Des Moines Saturday for a duel with the Drake University Bulldogs. Both of those non-conference shootouts are set for 7:35 p.m.

"It will be a lot tougher for us this week," Coach Dutcher said. "Playing on the road is always a challenge, and the first road trip of the season is always a new experience. They have a lot of interest down there....a lot of tickets sold for our games. We'll have to be ready to meet the challenge."

The Gophers were ready for the challenge of a season opener last Saturday and had little trouble disposing of the North Dakota State University Bison. Minnesota jumped off to a big lead early in the contest, and Dutcher....as promised earlier....cleared his bench of Golden Gophers.

"It was a good opener for us," he analyzed. "Obviously you like to win the first one, and we were able to do that. But it also gave us an opportunity to look at a lot of players under game conditions. Hopefully that will help us as the season progresses."

Among the cagers Dutcher looked at were 7-3 senior center Randy Breuer who got the Gophers rolling with an early outburst that enabled him to finish as Minnesota's top scorer with 19 points. Breuer also finished with a team high 13 rebounds.

But Breuer was not the only U of M cager to finish in double figures as Tommy Davis notched 18 from his guard position while Roland Brooks and Marc Wilson came off the bench to score 14 and 10 respectively.

In all Dutcher used 12 players and nine of them scored. Minnesota outrebounded the smaller Bison 53-28, but its shooting, both from the field and the free throw line, was not as impressive as Dutcher would like.

"We'll have to play better against Iowa State and Drake this week if we hope to win," Dutcher said. "We won't face another team all year as small as North Dakota State, so our rebounding was not indicative of what will happen in the future."

Dutcher does not plan any shakeups in his starting lineup for the trek into Iowa, but promises that he again will go to his bench as often as possible....or perhaps necessary.

That means Breuer again will open at center with 6-10 Jim Petersen and 6-7 Zebedee Howell at the forwards. Davis (6-4) will be joined by 6-2 Barry Wohler at guard.

WRESTLERS HEAD WEST

Coach Wally Johnson's U of M wrestling team is in Arizona and Nevada this week for a busy grappling tour. On Wednesday the team duals Arizona State in Tempe before moving on to Las Vegas for a Friday dual with New Mexico and Saturday and Sunday's 28-team Caesars Palace Invitational.

The Gophers, who beat Arizona State 31-9 and New Mexico 32-17 last season, have competed in three open meets to date. They began the season at North Dakota State's Bison Open, came home for their own Gopher Quadrangular and traveled to Wisconsin for last Saturday's Northern Open.

Junior 178-pounder Darrell Gholar (Chicago, IL) finished second in the Northern Open losing to Iowa's defending national champion Jim Zalesky. Seniors Steve Martinez (Osseo), fourth at 150, and Jim Trudeau (Inver Grove Heights), sixth at 167, were the only other Gopher placers.

FIVE TENNIS PLAYERS AT MIDWEST INDOOR INTERCOLLEGIATES

Five University of Minnesota men's tennis players will compete in the Midwest Intercollegiates Friday, Saturday and Sunday at the University of Michigan.

The tournament is the NCAA District IV indoor championship and will determine the region's two representatives in February's National Indoor Intercollegiates at Princeton.

Coach Jerry Noyce is taking freshmen Fredrik Pahlett (Vaxjo, Sweden), Stefan Eriksson (Enkoping, Sweden), seniors Dave Morin (White Bear Lake) and Lou Mckee (Wayzata) and sophomore Pete Kolaric (Wickliffe, Ohio).

Noyce expects Pahlett to be seeded in the top four and Eriksson in the first eight of the 128 players competing for the two national spots.

SWIMMERS AND DIVERS AT ILLINOIS INVITATIONAL

The University of Minnesota men's swimming and diving team will compete in the Illinois Invitational Friday, Saturday and Sunday in Champaign. The meet is slated for the Illini's 2,000-seat Natorium and will begin at 11:00 a.m. each day.

Coach Paul Stearns' team, which finished fifth in last season's Illini Invitational, last competed on November 19 and 20 when it upset two-time defending Big Ten champion Iowa 60-53 and finished second in the Big Ten Relays.

MORRISON 13th IN NCAA CROSS COUNTRY

Dave Morrison, a junior from Lakeville, finished 13th among the 190 competitors in Monday, November 22's 10,000-meter NCAA cross country championship at Indiana. Morrison's time was 30 minutes, 34.9 seconds. He was the fifth American to finish and gained All-America honors.

THREE GOPHER GRID COACHES TO LEAVE

from the University of Minnesota, Minneapolis, Minnesota 55455

In the wake of this year's disappointing 3-8 season and last place finish in the Big Ten Conference, appointments of three members of the University of Minnesota football staff will not be renewed.

Those coaches have been relieved of all duties and responsibilities, and their employment with the University of Minnesota will be terminated at the end of February.

Included are defensive coordinator Bruce Vandersall, defensive end coach Paul Olson and defensive backfield coach Bill Happel. A fourth member of the defensive staff, Mike Wynn, has been asked to remain at Minnesota.

"This was not an easy decision for me to make," Head Coach Joe Salem said. "However, we feel that a coaching change and a new look on defense will help our situation. I'll begin searching immediately for the best possible replacements."

Vandersall came to Minnesota as a member of Coach Cal Stoll's staff in 1973 and remained with the Gophers when Salem took over in 1978. Olson was a graduate assistant at Minnesota in 1973 and 1974, and he returned as a full time assistant under Stoll in 1977 and 1978 before entering private business in 1979. He joined Salem's staff in 1981. Happel came to Minnesota as the recruiting coordinator in 1980 and moved to an on-the-field coaching position in 1981.

Salem has been Minnesota's head coach for four seasons, and his overall record now stands at 18-25-1. His Gophers jumped off to an impressive 3-0 start this season but then, when decimated with injuries, lost their final eight games.

GYMNASTS TO MEET JAPANESE TEAM ON SUNDAY

Coach Fred Roethlisberger's Golden Gopher men's gymnastic team duals the Japanese Collegiate All-Stars Sunday at 7:30 p.m. in an exhibition contest at Williams Arena.

Tickets are priced at $4 for adults and $2 for children 18 and under and are available in advance at the Bierman Building Ticket Office.

A veteran of international competition as both a coach and gymnast, Roethlisberger is excited about the matchup.

"It is a highlight of our season," Roethlisberger said. "Some of our athletes also compete internationally, but this is a once-in-a-lifetime experience for those who do not. It is also a chance for local kids and their coaches to see an international meet."

This is the third time that the Japanese have visited Williams Arena and could be the closest of the teams meetings. Two years ago the visitors topped the Gophers 284.1-268.35 and last year they prevailed by a count of 281.35-266.30.

Roethlisberger's team, defending Big Ten champion which is looking for its seventh conference title in eight years, will be strengthened by the addition of Brian Meeker. Meeker, a member of the National Team and two-time Big Ten all-around champion, is eligible for the meet under international rules which do not limit the years of eligibility as does the NCAA.

Pleased to have him back in a Gopher uniform for the meet, Roethlisberger believes that Meeker could make a difference in the outcome of the meet. Last season he tallied an all-around score of 57.00 to lead both teams. Performances of 9.8 in the high bar and 9.75 in the floor exercise were the meet's best in those events.

Besides Meeker, Minnesota has proven all-around strength in junior Joe Ray and sophomore Tim Koopman. Expected to continue the proud Gopher all-around tradition, Ray, a product of Maine, Illinois, is a National Team member and was the runnerup in last season's Big Ten all-around competition. Koopman, from Bloomington, was third in the Big Ten all-around as a freshman.

Specialists will play an important role in the Gophers' lineup. Juniors Tom Groechel, of Brookfield, Wisconsin, and Tim Ryan, of Green Bay, Wisconsin, are consistent scorers in the pommel horse, junior Dave Dunleap, of White Bear Lake, adds depth in the parallel bars and senior transfer Dave Invie, of New Hope, and sophomore Kevin Cochran, of Bloomington, are expected to contribute in a variety of events.

The Japanese, making their first of four stops on their American tour, qualified for the team by placing in the top eight of their collegiate championships and will also compete at Iowa, Iowa State and Oklahoma. Some of the Japanese were also on the country's World Championship team last season.

MINNESOTA'S GOLDEN GOPHERS END DISAPPOINTING FOOTBALL SEASON

Minnesota's 1982 football season ended in disappointment last weekend as Coach Joe Salem's Golden Gophers dropped their finale 24-0 to the Wisconsin Badgers in Madison.

"It was a tough afternoon for us," Coach Salem admitted, "and it has been an equally tough season for us. We're all taking it very hard, but I feel especially sorry for the seniors who have to go out like this."

Salem was referring to the fact that the 1982 final-year performers, a group of whom so much had been expected when they jumped off to a fast 3-0 start, found themselves suffering through eight consecutive losses.

All of which means that the Gophers finished 3-8 overall and 1-8 in the Big Ten Conference to wind up in the cellar. It was the poorest record and lowest finish for a UM aggregation since 1959.

"I told our underclassmen that now they know what it feels like," Salem said, "and now they know how far they have to go to be part of a winning program. We literally have to start over. We are back to square zero, and we will have to start putting the pieces together with the good group of recruits we brought in for this season and add to it by bringing in another solid class this year."

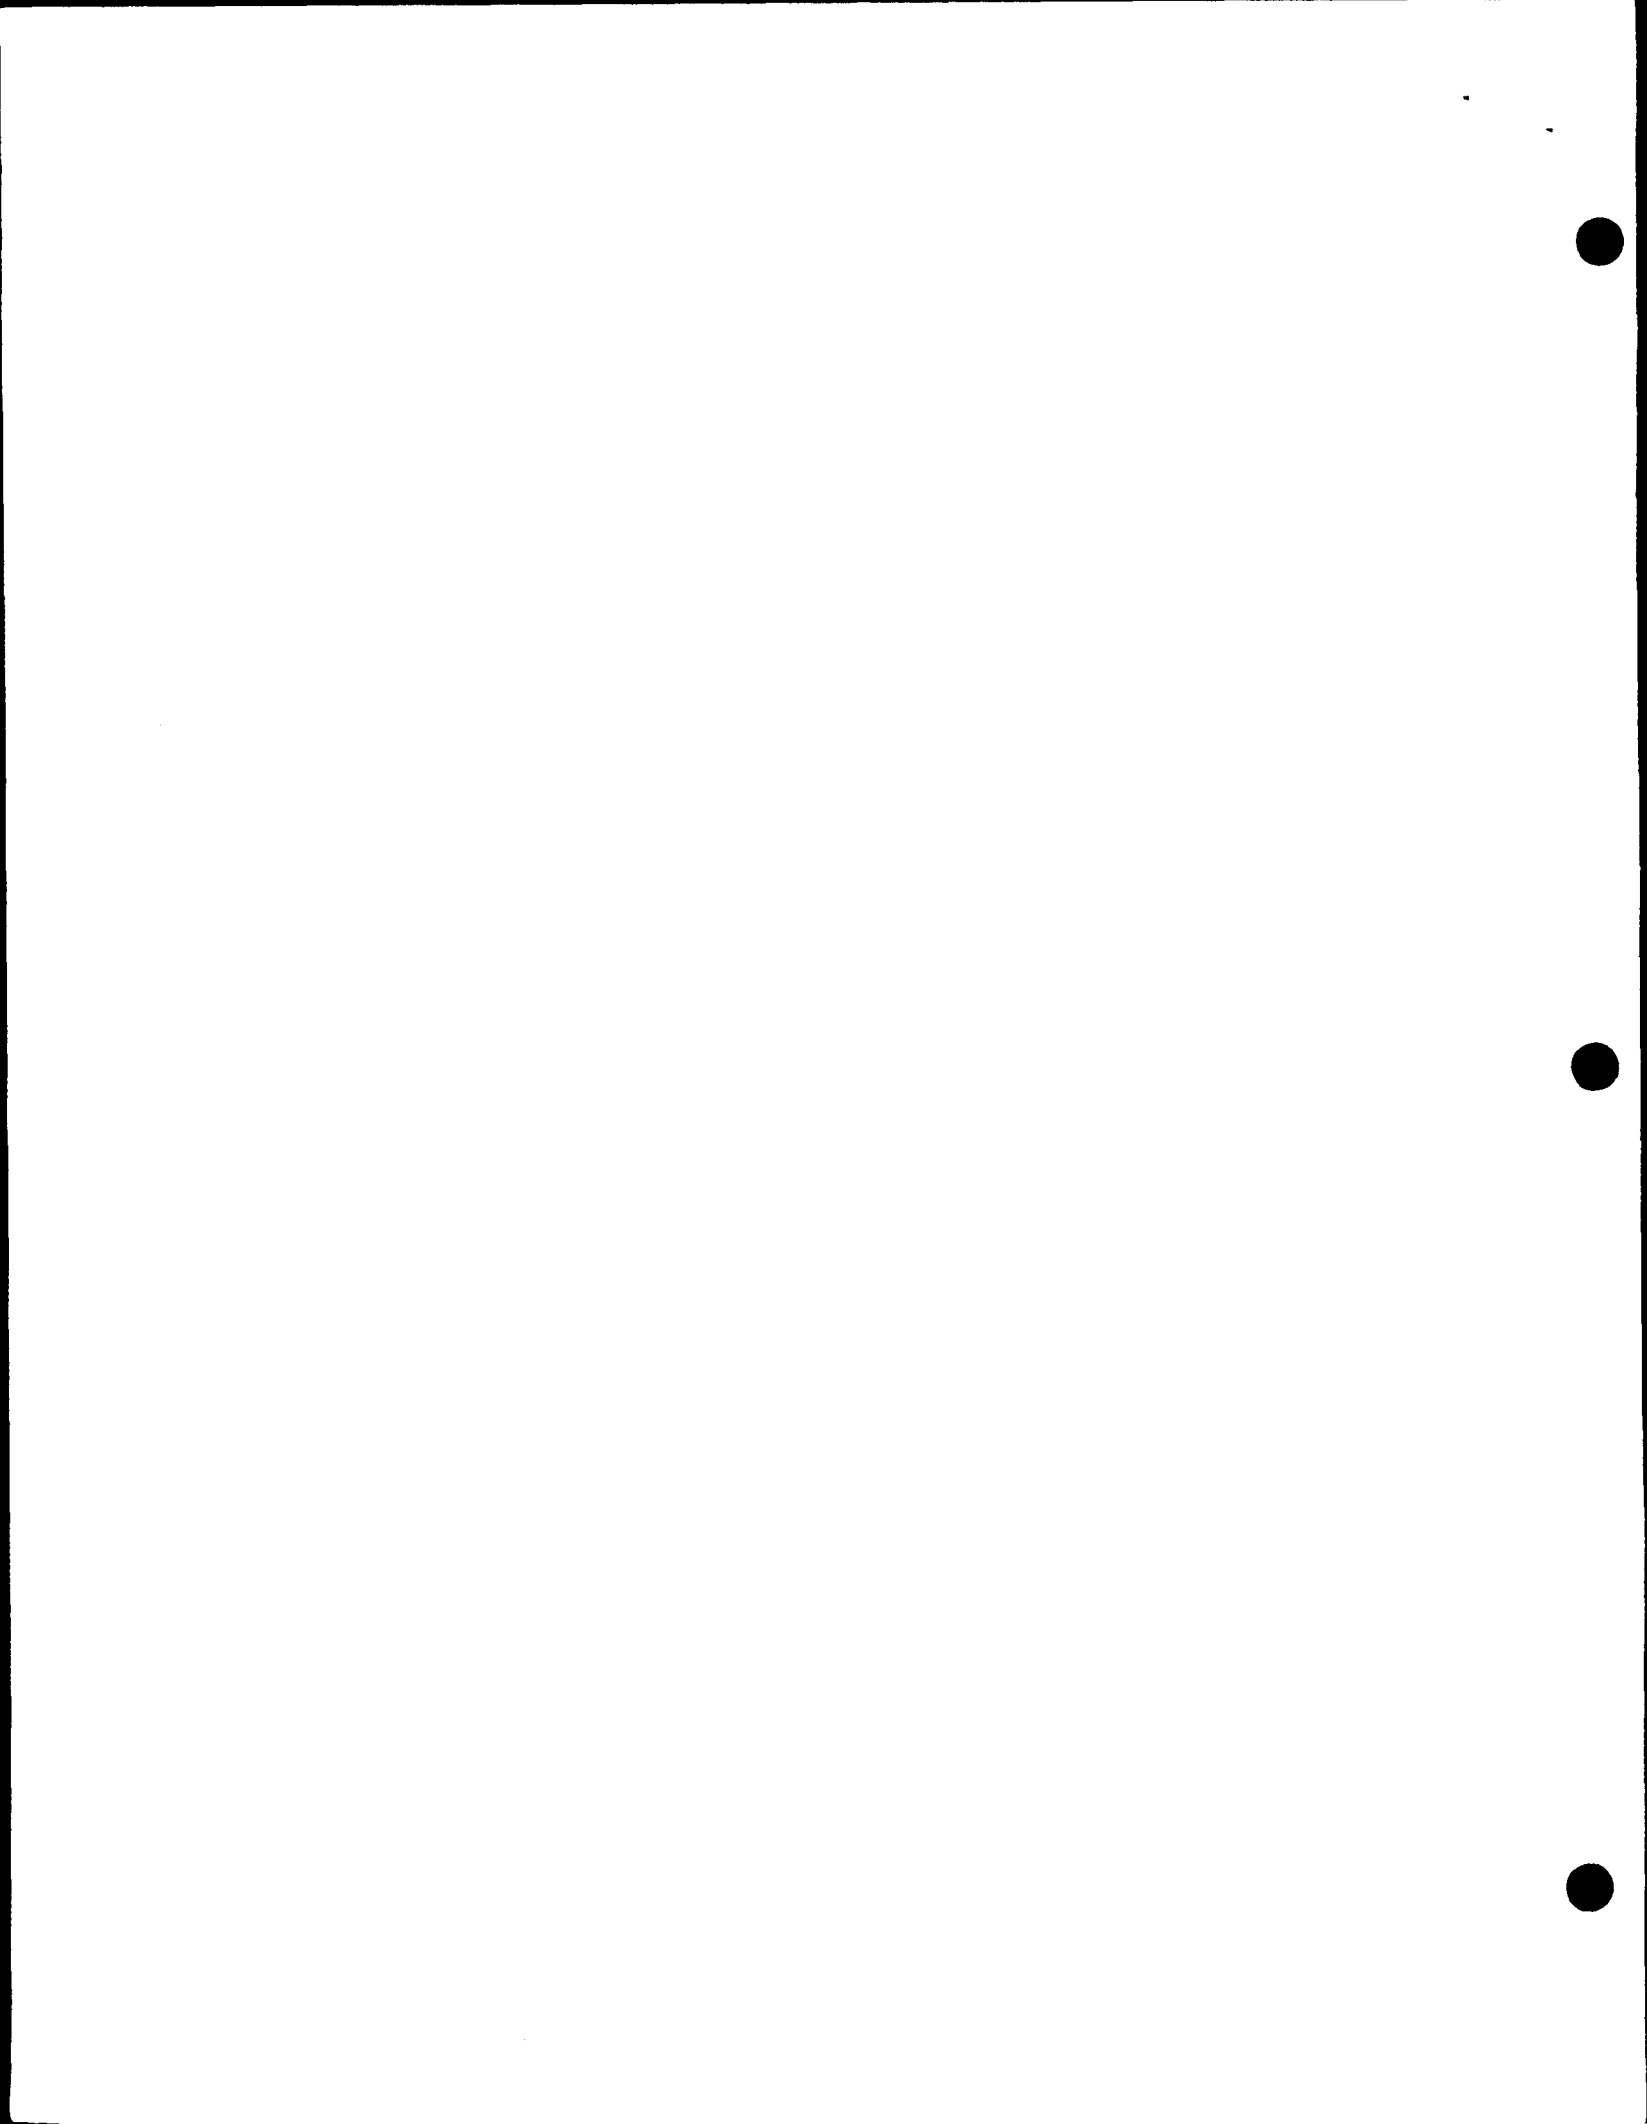

The loss at Wisconsin, the fifth straight for the Badgers over Minnesota was another total study in frustration for the Gophers who played well defensively, especially in the first half, and trailed only 3-0 at intermission.

"It looked like we were in good shape at the half," Salem analyzed. "In fact I thought we were going to win it at that point. But the biggest play of the game came at the start of the second half when we got off a poor kick. Normally with a gale like that blowing at our back, we would see the ball go up in the stands. But they fielded it at the 10, and to compound matters, they got a good return. So they have good field position, and we start thinking that something else will go wrong next. It did when we fumbled the punt and then let them go in and score. After that we were just hanging on."

Karl Mecklenburg was the lone Gopher Salem singled out for a top effort against the Badgers. "He's a first team All-Big Ten performer," Salem proclaimed. "In the first half he was all over the field. He's one player who never lost his level of intensity."

Offensively the Gophers sputtered. They moved the ball somewhat early, but again fumbles killed them. In all, Minnesota was able to muster only 167 total yards in offense.....134 rushing and only 33 through the air.

"We have a lot of work to do," Salem admitted. "It was a long day for us, but we've had to face adversity all year long. Now we just have to look to our young people for a fresh start."

FALL QUARTER EXAMS TAKE OVER SPOTLIGHT FOR GOPHERS

Fall term examinations take over the spotlight at the University of Minnesota this week and Coach Jim Dutcher's Golden Gophers get a break from their rigorous basketball routine to concentrate on their books.

Minnesota will return to action on Thursday, December 16, when invading Dayton for a non-conference assignment against the Flyers. Its next home contest will be on Monday, December 20, against invading Marquette.

The Gophers go into this week's exam period with an overall record of 3-1 after topping United States International 87-72 at Williams Arena Monday night. Last week Minnesota split overtime road decisions, losing 80-78 at Iowa State and winning 70-65 at Drake.

"We could have been 0-2 or 2-0 on that trip very easily," Dutcher admitted, "but we certainly deserved to win at Drake. We got off to a slow start, but we switched to a man-to-man defense and it helped. It was a great comeback win for us."

Dutcher was not as pleased about the loss at Iowa State where the Gophers blew a 40-29 halftime lead. "Down the stretch, when we could not afford to make any mistakes," he said, "we made a bundle. We made a series of bad errors. We made every fundamental error of basketball....forced shots, bad decisions and untimely fouls. We can't make that kind of mistake and win at this level of competition."

Against USIU, it was a case of the Gophers being too big for the visitors. Minnesota used that height advantage to record 11 slam dunks, dominate the boards and record 11 blocked shots. "We weren't very smooth, but it was a win," Dutcher said. "We still have a lot of work to do before we go to Dayton."

Overall, Dutcher isn't too unhappy with the progress of his "new look" and relatively young team. "We've been playing a lot of new people," Dutcher pointed out, "and it takes time. That loss at Iowa State really hurt. It was frustrating. But if it turns into a learning experience....if we realize that they didn't beat us and instead we beat ourselves....then it won't be fatal. We just have to learn."

And, while this week's learning puts the emphasis on the other segment of Minnesota's "student-athlete" the Gophers will hold a couple of regular practice sessions and then take a couple of complete days off.

"We wind up working out on an individual basis or when we can get most of our people together at the same time without a final exam conflict," Dutcher explained. "Sometimes that means we work out at night. But we'll get as much done as we can and hope that we will be ready for our trip to Dayton."

That assignment will be a tough one for the Gophers, as Dayton is off to an impressive start this season. And if that road trek won't be tough enough, then the return to Williams Arena against nationally-ranked Marquette, will be!

Randy Breuer, Minnesota's 7-3 senior center, continues to set the pace for Minnesota with 87 points for an average of 21.8 per assignment. "We need to depend even more on Randy," Dutcher maintains. "When you've got an All-American center, you better get the ball to him."

ICERS SPLIT, STILL 1ST, NOW EXAMS

Minneapolis, MN---Minnesota's hockey Gophers completed the first third of their 1982-83 season last weekend by gaining a wild and woolly split with North Dakota at home.

The second third, covering eight non-conference games over the holiday break, begins December 18-19 against U.S. International (USIU) at San Diego, CA, and continues until January 1-2 against Yale.

The final third then begins January 7-8 when the Gophers return to WCHA action at home against Colorado College.

But the main thing that has happened to date is the Gophers are still in first place in the WCHA. By winning last Saturday at home 5-2 against North Dakota, after losing 5-4 Friday, the Gophers now stand at 8-3-1 in league play for 17 points, three better than second place Minnesota-Duluth.

Overall the Gophers are off to an excellent start, despite a rash of injuries, and show an 11-3-1 record for all games.

Minnesota led North Dakota four times last Friday (1-0, 2-1, 3-2, 4-3), but couldn't hold on at the end. Outstanding defenseman James Patrick scored the game winner for UND with 1:59 left in the game.

But Saturday was a different story. After 36 minutes of scoreless action, Minnesota hit for three goals in 58 seconds early in the middle period, and upped its lead to 4-0 early in the final stanza en route to the 5-2 victory.

But for eight players, four from each team, the game proved costly. A genuine donnybrook broke out two minutes after Minnesota's three-goal outburst resulting in the eight players being banished from the game for extra curricular activities. All eight (Dave Preuss, Mike Anderson, Brian Zins, Jeff Larson for Minnesota) will miss the next game of their respective schools under NCAA rules.

That means the UM quartet is sidelined in the first contest at USIU Dec. 18.

BUETOW ON THE GOPHERS

"Seeing that we are in first place in the league and have only lost three games, I guess there isn't a whole lot more I could have asked of our men thus far," Gopher ice boss Brad Buetow said after last weekend.

"It's also nice to know that even though we are off from league play until January, we can return to the WCHA no lower than second place and, if that's the case, only by one point. A limited number of league games remain until January, so only Minnesota-Duluth can pass us by sweeping two from Denver.

"In addition, the fact that we have already played every other team in the league and have only lost three times is another bonus. We now know exactly what to expect from each club and will not enter the final third of the season blind.

"But possibly the best thing about the upcoming holiday break is twofold. . . a chance for us to get a look at several of our varsity reserve players in games against teams outside the WCHA, and maybe get some of our injured players healed and back in action.

"There is a chance freshman forward Pat Micheletti could be back with us later this month, and that senior defenseman David Jensen can let his bruised shoulder mend during the next three weeks.

ON THE INDIVIDUAL FRONT

Senior center Scott Bjugstad increased his team scoring leadership over teammate Butsy Erickson, a senior wing, to four points with a six-point weekend against North Dakota. Bjugstad hit two goals Saturday to go with four assists on the weekend and now has 34 points in 15 games on 16 goals and 18 assists.

Erickson is at 34 points on 14 goals and 18 assists followed by Rick Erdall at 24 (8-16) and the injured Corey Millen at 19 (9-10).

Bjugstad also owns a four-point buldge over Erickson for top individual scoring honors in the WCHA. Bjugstad and Erickson have both scored a league high 11 goals, but Scott has 17 assists, also a WCHA high, to 13 for Butsy.

SWIMMING AND DIVING TEAM AT HAWAII ON DECEMBER 24

Coach Paul Stearns' University of Minnesota men's swimming and diving team's next meet is December 24 when it duals Hawaii in Honolulu.

GOPHERS TO HOST MARQUETTE CAGERS MONDAY

After Wednesday's battle against the Dayton Flyers in Dayton, Minnesota returns home next Monday to entertain the Marquette University Warriors in Williams Arena at 7:05 p.m.

Coach Jim Dutcher figures invading Marquette could be the toughest non-conference opponent his Gophers will face this season as the invaders have been ranked among the nation's top 20 teams this year and are a solid bet for an NCAA post-season tournament berth.

"Marquette is a veteran, experienced team," Dutcher analyzed. "They have received a lot of pre-season attention, and with good reason. We regard Marquette as an outstanding basketball opponent."

The Gophers worked their way to a 3-1 record during the first two weeks of the 1982-83 season before taking about 10 days off for fall quarter exams. They were scheduled to face talented Dayton in their first assignment after that layoff on Wednesday, and that means Monday night's shootout will be the first appearance in Williams Arena for the Gophers since they stopped United States International University 87-72 early in December.

In the early going, Dutcher has used a lot of players in hopes of finding the people who can play under pressure as well as moulding a unit that can play well together under game conditions.

The break in action also found the Gophers taking a break from the practice schedule. "We worked out when we could," Dutcher explained, "but we took a couple of days off entirely. But now we're back in full swing. Hopefully we will be ready for Marquette."

Following Monday night's contest against the Warriors, Minnesota again hits the road for a single assignment in Florida against Jackson University on December 22. Then, following a short Christmas break, the Gophers return to Williams Arena to play host to Indiana State on December 29 and Montana State on January 3 before opening Big Ten play at home on January 6 against Illinois.

Dutcher started 7-3 Randy Breuer at center and 6-10 Jim Petersen and 6-7 Zebedee Howell at the forwards in Minnesota's assignment against USIU. The same could be true against Marquette. The starting guards are expected to be Tommy Davis and Marc Wilson.

ICERS HEAD WEST

Minneapolis, MN---Coach Brad Buetow and his Minnesota hockey Gophers, after nearly two weeks off from outside competition, travel west this weekend to face U.S. International for games Saturday and Sunday evenings in San Diego, CA.

The last time Minnesota went to USIU, December of 1980, Minnesota was ranked first nationally and were promptly dumped 6-4 by the host school. However, the local troupes of that year regrouped and won the next night, 10-4.

This week's situation is just about the same. The Gophers ended up tied for first place in the national collegiate hockey poll with Minnesota-Duluth. On top of that Minnesota, although idle last week, retained its 3-point lead in first place in the WCHA standings. So the scene this year remains constant.

After the two contests in San Diego, Minnesota returns home for six more non-conference games. The Gophers play host to Boston College, December 22-23, Northern Arizona University, December 26-27, and Yale University, January 1-2.

Minnesota does not return to WCHA action until January 7-8 when Colorado College visits Williams Arena. All home dates listed above have 7:30 p.m. CST starting times.

THE "NEW" TRAVEL ROSTER

Some new faces may dot the Gopher travel roster this week in San Diego. As of Monday, sophomore defenseman Tom Hirsch (Minneapolis Henry), freshman center/wing Corey Millen (Cloquet), and probably freshman wing Pat Micheletti (Hibbing) will miss this trip.

Hirsch is recovering from a double groin pull and only rest will heal this injury. In addition, Hirsch will also pass up a trip to Leningrad, USSR, with the U.S. Junior National Team over the holiday break.

Two more Gophers who were questionable Monday for this week are senior defenseman David Jensen (Crystal) and freshman defender Tony Kellin (Grand Rapids). Jensen suffered a shoulder injury in the last UM series vs. North Dakota, while Kellin suffered an injured hand in the same series. However, by the time the team leaves Friday, both the latter could be OK.

Sophomore Tom Parenteau (North St. Paul) will replace Hirsch on defense, and coach Buetow said Monday that if either Jensen or Kellin can't go, then senior Gino Peluso (Pengilly) is next up on the defense list.

Another change that could be made on the 4th line among the forwards, according to Buetow, could see sophomore Roger Bowe (Lauderdale) coming up from the varsity reserve team to replace junior Sean Campion (Minneapolis Roosevelt).

Buetow added he would continue his normal goalie rotation with senior Paul Butters (Rochester) and freshman Frank Pietrangelo (Port Robinson, ONT) working the Gopher nets Saturday and Sunday, respectively.

The rest of the Gopher lineup remains intact. However, when UM returns home to play B.C., NAU & Yale, Buetow plans on bringing up several varsity reserve players to see action in varsity games.

"This is our main opportunity to see these young, less experienced players in varsity action," Buetow commented. "It is their chance, at the same time, to show us they can play against top opposition.

"Down through the years we have had to often call on varsity reserve players to come up and replace varsity men who have been sidelined by injuries or sub-level play. We are fortunate to have a lot of young men with good collegiate hockey potential on our reserve squad. But we are never certain how they can perform against top clubs until we see them in varsity games."

Minnesota, 0-2 this season, completed last year's competition with a perfect 4-0 mark and will join host Northern Illinois, Augustana of Illinois, Chicago State, Kent State, Louisiana State, Southern Illinois-Edwardsville and Western Illinois in this year's event.

In its last outing the team finished 13th in Las Vegas' 34-team Caesars Palace Invitational.

GOLDEN GOPHERS NAME TO GRID AIDES

Two additions were made this week to the 1953 University of Minnesota football coaching staff, with both of those appointments subject to final approval of the U of M Board of Regents.

Named to Coach Joe Salem's Golden Gopher staff were Chuck Dickerson who will serve as the defensive coordinator and Jim Sherman who takes over as the Minnesota linebacker coach.

"We're extremely pleased to gain the services of two people with such outstanding backgrounds," Salem said. "Dickerson has worked under some of the top people in football, and Sherman has been successful in all of his previous coaching assignments."

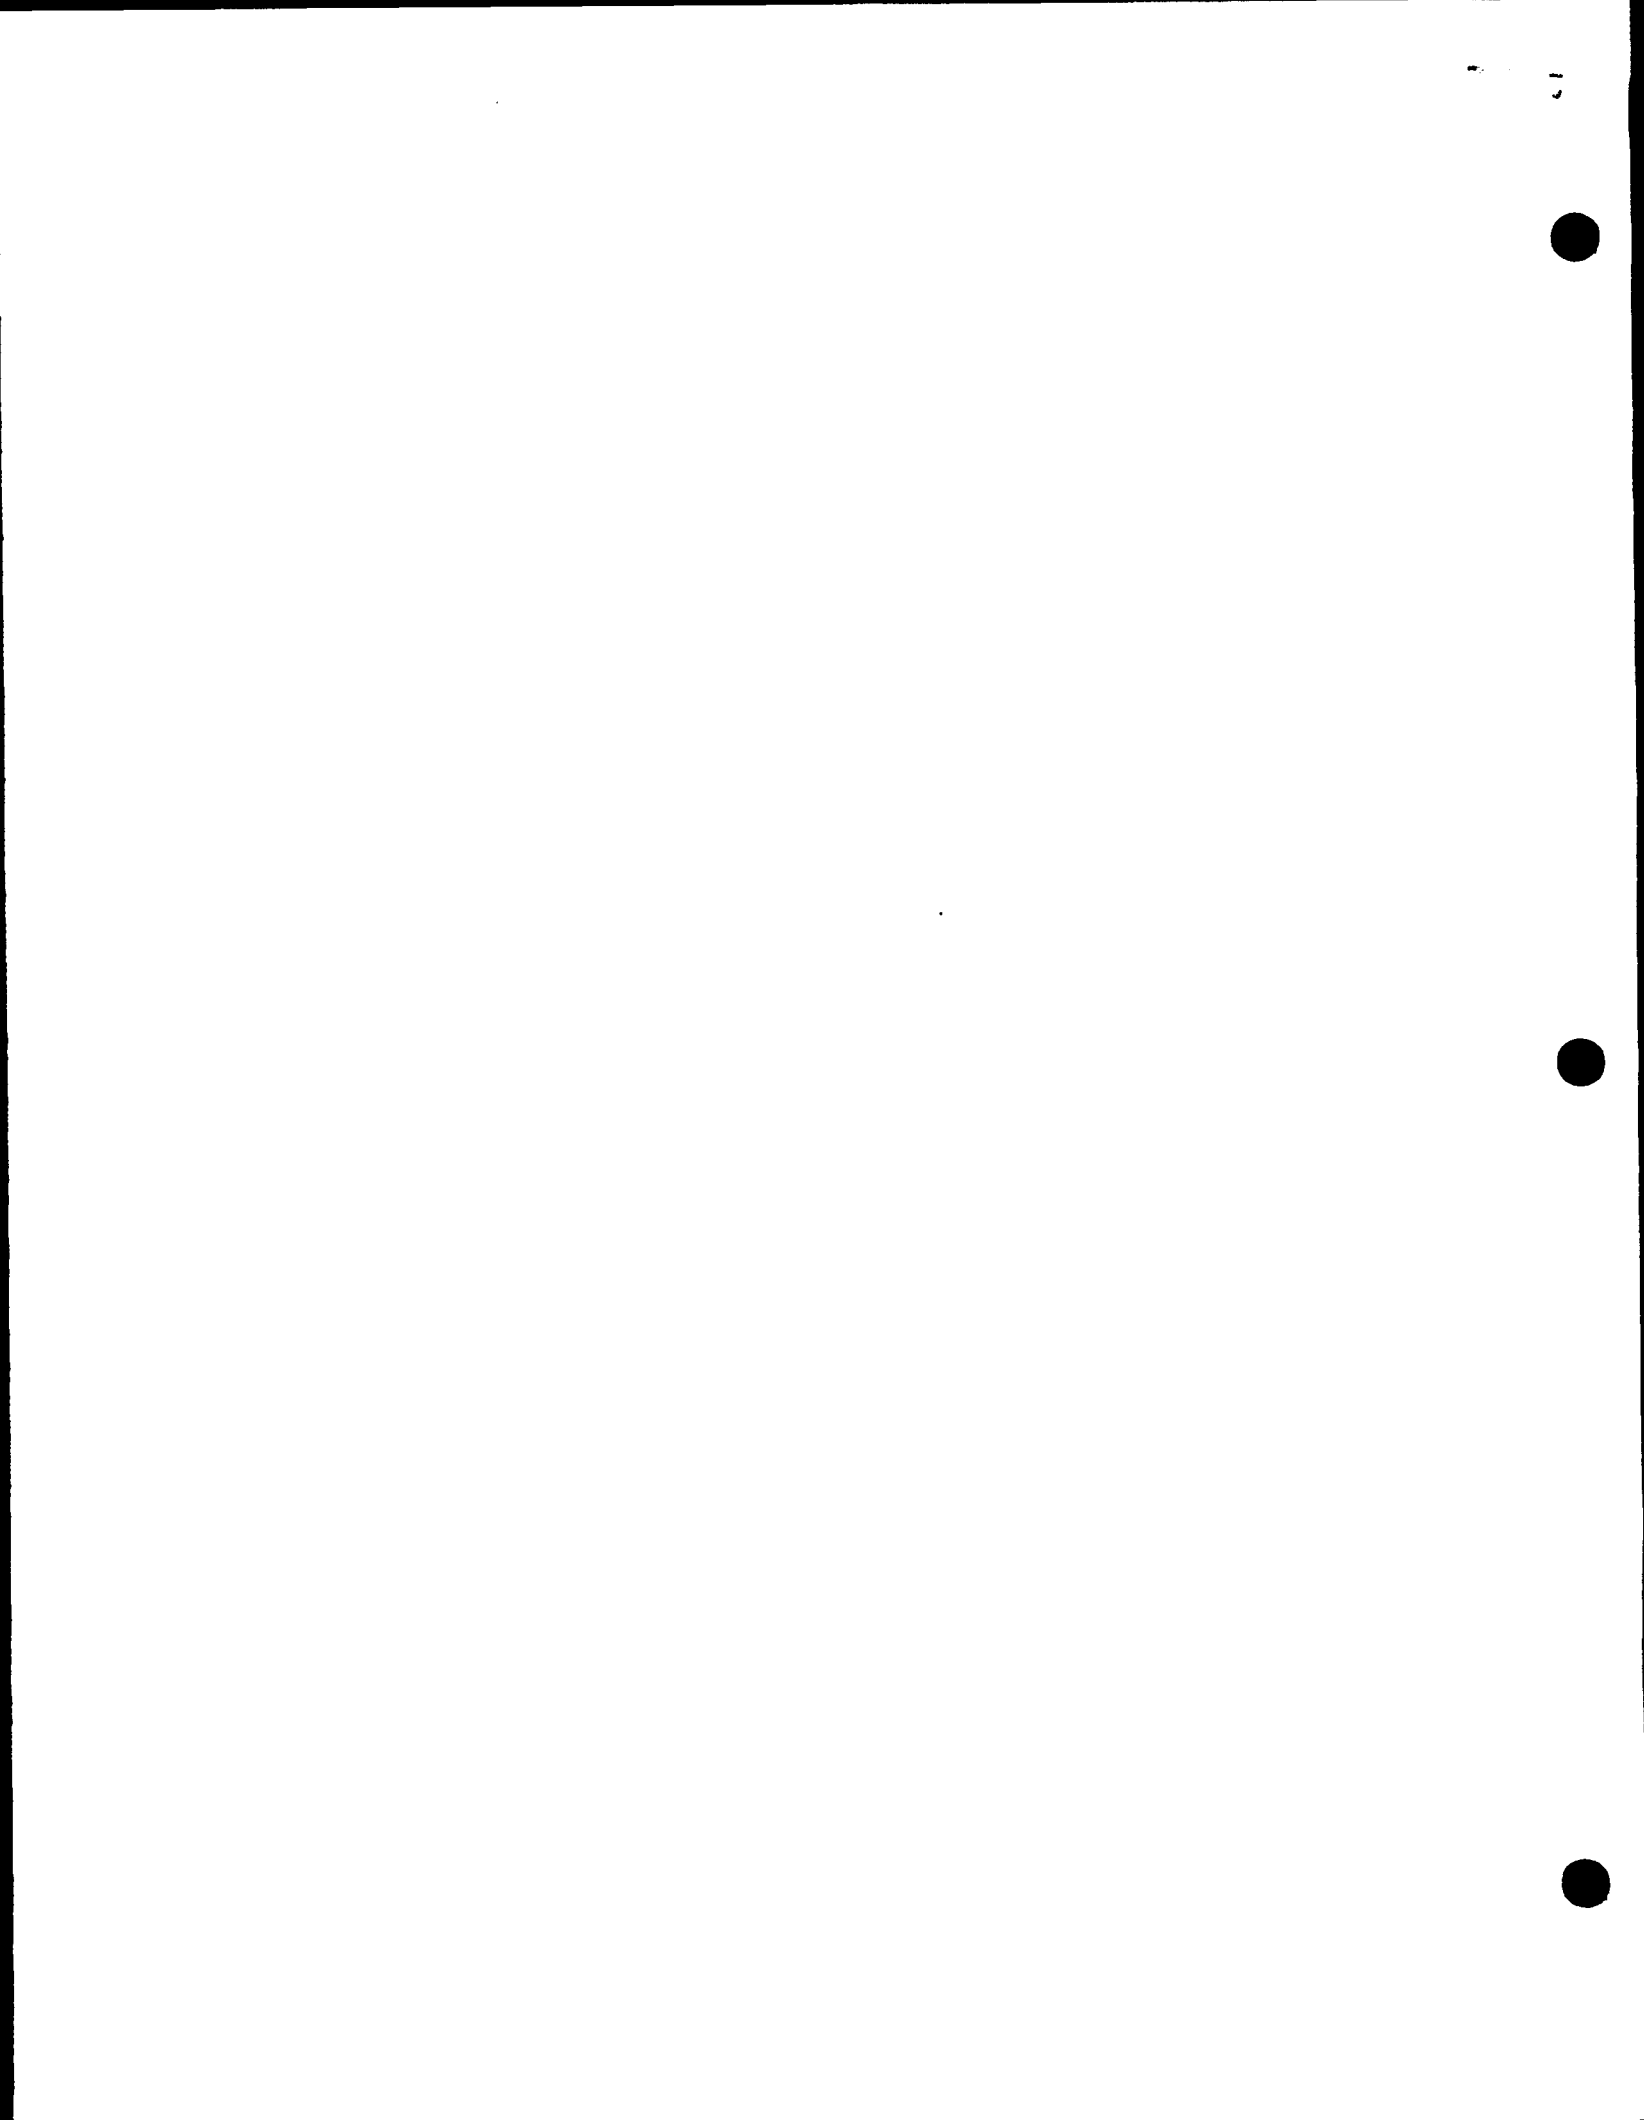

Both grid aides are expected to begin work immediately for the Golden Gophers, and Salem plans to send them on the recruiting trails before the end of the week."

Two positions still exist on Salem's staff.....one defensive post and one on the offensive side. "We hope to have the defensive staff completed before the end of the week," Salem explained, "and then name an offensive assistant before the end of next week."

Dickerson, 45, is a product of Roxana, IL, High school and comes to Minnesota from Eastern Illinois University. As a prepster, he was an All-State selection twice in football and won the Illinois heavyweight wrestling title and the discus championship in track and field.

He enrolled at the University of Florida and played there for two years before entering the U.S. Marines. Dickerson, following that hitch with Uncle Sam, enrolled at the University of Illinois in 1959 where he played for two years and was an All-Big Ten choice at defensive tackle.

Drafted by the Boston Patriots, Dickerson was traded immediately to the Buffalo Bills where he played in '62. He spent the 1963 and 1964 seasons with Montreal in the Canadian Football League before going to Toronto as a player-coach in 1965.

His coaching trail also included five years at the high school level in Indiana and Illinois (he was the Illinois prep Coach of the Year in both 1972 and 1973), at the professional level for eight years with Toronto and the Chicago Fire and at the collegiate level at Eastern Illinois.

As defensive coordinator at Eastern, Dickerson saw his teams lead the nation in interceptions (with 37) in 1980 when finishing as the NCAA Division II runner-up. That team also led the nation against the run and was fourth against the pass.

Married, Dickerson and his wife, Shirley, have a 20-year old son who now is attending the United States Naval Academy.

Sherman, 32, comes to the University of Minnesota from Arizona Western Community College where he has served as head coach for the past three seasons.

A graduate of Phoenix, AZ, High School, Sherman played two years of prep football before enrolling at the University of Arizona where he became the starting offensive center and played in the Sun Bowl.

Following one year of semi-professional football with the Phoenix Blazers, Sherman entered the coaching ranks and served as top man of the Amphitheater, AZ, High School team. He then took over as head freshman coach at Arizona and received his M.S. degree in 1973.

Sherman then accepted a post as defensive coordinator at Arizona Western and functioned in that capacity for two campaigns before taking over as the head coach.

Sherman is married and has two children.
