

Common Visual Design Elements of Weblogs

Comments

The alt tags of this image-heavy piece are useless. The purpose of these tags is to allow the visually-impaired equal access to information.

Posted by: a concerned reader at July 5, 2004 10:44 AM

I agree with you about the alt tags. Unfortunately, authors didn't do their own HTML markup for the collection - the editors had it done.

Posted by: Elijah Wright at July 7, 2004 12:17 PM

I didn't do these alt tags, but if you want to send me descriptions for each of the images, Elijah, I'll put your alt text in.

Posted by: Clancy at July 7, 2004 12:44 PM

Your topics attract thousand people. Free knowledge of world and life. And more!!!-freandship without borders.

Posted by: Nataly Marshak at August 7, 2005 04:52 AM

There are many interesting means.

Posted by: Helen Mrown at October 11, 2005 08:26 AM

There are many interesting means.

Posted by: Helen Mrown at October 11, 2005 08:26 AM

This is the travel of means.Thank you for the good time.

Posted by: Natasha Naumova at November 19, 2005 07:49 AM

This is the travel of means.Thank you for the good time.

Posted by: Natasha Naumova at November 19, 2005 07:50 AM

I think this is a Interesting and useful study. I wish to see more studies like this, hopefully with larger sample size and complemented with some qualitative analysis (e.g. interview or survey as mentioned by the authors). Good work.

Posted by: Hyowon Lee at January 19, 2006 05:20 AM

Definately an interesting read. While I did not read the whole thing, I did find it quite interesting to say the least.

Posted by: Clark at September 20, 2006 03:26 AM

Very nice study of blogging! Its a pity blogs themselves aging fast. As time goes new forms for living sociality (kinda RSS) become more important than other, on next level. For adult design blog we try to dig all that, especially in the field of adult design. Good job!

Posted by: blueflyadult at October 26, 2006 07:08 AM

Posting Policies

As with any scholarly publication, healthy, robust discussions are encouraged. However, we ask that you refrain from ad hominem attacks and profanity. The editors reserve the right to edit or delete any comment or trackback that violates these rules. In addition, we do not pass emails along to authors.

Comments and essays are the property of their authors. All other content ©Into the Blogosphere 2004.

Contributors agree by posting that any original content, including comments, copyright owned by them, unless otherwise stated, is licensed under the Creative Commons Attribution- NonCommercial-NoDerivs 2.0 license for others to use.