Dollar-Saving Protein

(0:15)

(612) 373-0710

University of Minnesota extension nutritionists will discuss ways to stretch your protein dollar on the "Food Sense" series at 9:30 p.m. Thursday (March 14) on Minnesota educational television stations.

The "Food Sense" series is also aired at 7:30 a.m. Saturdays on WTCN, Channel 11, in the Twin Cities.

Garden Sales

(0:30)

Garden supply retailers will ring up record sales this year. That's the report from magazine editor Emmet Hoffman.

He says seed sales should pattern last year's experience, which was a "sellout." Particularly in large demand are vegetable seeds with an even greater number of homemakers planning to plant vegetables as food prices continue to climb.

Hoffman edits "Home and Garden Supply Merchandiser." He spoke recently at the Garden Store Operators short course on the University of Minnesota's St. Paul Campus.
