WHEREAS, the John S. Pillsbury homestead on Tenth Avenue and Fifth Street, Southeast, Minneapolis, was on April 1, 1911, leased by the Heirs of John S. Pillsbury, deceased, to the University of Minnesota, for a period of ten (10) years as a residence for the President of the University of Minnesota, on the following terms, to-wit:

"there being no money rent or consideration asked or required by said lessors for this lease other than the promises and agreements of said lessee herein contained, said lessee will at all times during said term keep and maintain the buildings and grounds hereby leased in first class appearance, condition, and repair, ordinary wear and tear, however, being excepted, and will maintain at its sole expense fire insurance thereon for the benefit of said lessors and their interest therein to the amount of at least ten thousand dollars ($10,000), and will pay all general taxes, if any, hereafter assessed upon said premises, or any part thereof, including water rent and special assessments for street sprinkling, but not including any special assessments for special improvements enhancing the permanent value of the property;"

Whereas, the President of the University has contributed approximately Five Thousand Dollars ($5,000.00) to remodeling and repairing the interior of the buildings on the premises, and has submitted to the Board of Regents a proposal to hereafter pay rent at the rate of One Thousand Dollars ($1,000.00) per year for the premises; and

Whereas, it was the intent and purpose of the Pillsbury Heirs in making the lease that the premises should be furnished to the University of Minnesota rent free, except as above stated, as a residence for the President of the University of Minnesota;

Therefore, it is voted that George E. Vincent, President of the University of Minnesota, during the life of said lease shall be and he is hereby given the use of the John S. Pillsbury homestead as his place of residence free from rent, but upon the condition that he will make all improvements and repairs on the interior of the buildings suitable and necessary. The University of Minnesota on its part will keep and perform all other terms and provisions of the aforesaid lease binding upon the lessee.
