A WORD ABOUT THE WEEKLY.

The Board of Directors of the General Alumni Association appreciating the importance and value of the Alumni Weekly has decided to advance the interests of the Weekly in every way possible and make it the direct, trustworthy means of communication between the University and its alumni friends.

Mr. Johnson will edit and manage the Weekly in accordance with the aims and policy of the Board of Directors, who hope that this publication will soon become the official organ of the General Alumni Association in every sense of the word.

If the University is to be an efficient institution—one productive of the highest returns to the state and country—its alumni and friends must give expression to their loyalty thru an active interest in all matters of vital importance to the institution as a whole. Such an interest is based upon open inquiry, frank expression of opinion and true presentation of facts. Nothing is so well adapted to foster and spread these conditions as the Alumni Weekly.

Whether the Weekly shall enter upon a larger service for our Alma Mater and give greater satisfaction and pleasure to its readers depends upon the alumni.

Are you ready to do your part? Subscribe now and at least to that extent help to make the University of Minnesota worthy of the generous support of every loyal citizen.

Sincerely yours for service,
The Board of Directors.

If the alumni will only co-operate, this year will be the best year the Weekly has ever known. Send in items about your own doings or the doings of others. Your friends will be glad to hear from you in this way, though you may not be able to notify each one personally.

Subscribe for the Weekly and get others to do the same. Read the appeal made by the Board of Directors of the General Alumni Association, and then act on that appeal. The Weekly never has been and will not be for some time a money-making institution, but the three years of its existence have proven its right to exist and its undoubted value in keeping the alumni in touch with each other and Alma Mater.

EDITORIAL.

This year is to be one of unusual interest. The legislature is to meet and the whole question of the control of the University is to come up, and every alumnus should keep in touch with what is going on and be ready to lend a hand when necessary. In no other way can the alumni accomplish this so well as through the medium of the Weekly. The columns of the Weekly are open to every alumnus or friend of the University and it is to be hoped that the alumni and other friends will make use of this opportunity.

SIX DAYS RECITATIONS.

For the first time in the history of University a six day system is in use in the college of science, literature and the arts. It is as yet too early to make any observations on the same that would be of value. The system is elastic and allows for a better distribution of work over the whole week and it must be said also allows for a greater bunching of work into half of the week. Something like a half-dozen students have taken advantage of this possibility and have arranged their work so as to require them to come to the University but three days in the week, while a great many have so arranged their work as to require but a single recitation on three days of the week, thus bunching the major portion of their work in the three remaining days. The college is fairly committed to the system of six days work and while there may be adjustments required to make the system work to the best advantage, the system has undoubtedly come to stay.

ENTRANCE ENGLISH.

The examination in English, required of all students entering the University this fall was given to a section of about two hundred freshmen last Monday, with the result that sixty out of the two hundred failed to pass. These students will be required to drop one of the subjects for which they are already registered, and pursue a special course in English to be provided for them. If the percentage for the remainder of the class keeps about the same it will mean that instruction will have to be provided for something like four hundred students. The set of questions used will be printed in a later issue of the Weekly. A second grist is going through the mill today.

ANDERSON'S NEW BOOK.

Professor Frank M. Anderson has just issued, through the H. W. Wilson Company, a volume of some 670 pages entitled "Constitutions and Select Documents Illustrative of the History of France, 1789-1901." The volume is designed, primarily, to meet the needs of college and university classes engaged in the study of recent French history. It consists in the main of constitutions, treaties, laws, manifestoes, and similar documents; two hundred eighty-one in all. It has been the aim of the editor to furnish in an English translation of convenient form and low price, materials for carrying on "source study" by one or all of the three generally approved methods. The texts of the constitutions will afford an opportunity for the study of a single topic thruout the entire period; the groups of documents bearing upon important episodes will make possible the intensive study of a few selected topics; the remaining documents will serve to vitalize the study of the whole field.

The volume is timely and promises to meet a real need. The work has been done with great thoroughness and will prove a valuable and most welcome addition to the literature of the period in question. Professor Anderson is to be congratulated upon the successful completion of a task of such magnitude. The volume will not only be found useful for college classes, but will be found helpful as a reference book and is suited to the needs of high schools, enabling such schools to carry on source study in a methodical and profitable manner.

ALUMNI ASSOCIATION.

To the Editor of the Weekly:

I have to report the following additions to the life membership roll of the General Alumni Association, received during the summer:

Kent Nelson, 1st Lieut. and Asst. Surgeon, U. S. A.; Wm. Hamilton Lawrence, Manila, P. I.; Arthur H. Kennedy, Manila, P. I.; Dr. G. A. Newman, New London, Minn.; Dr. Chas. L. Green, St. Paul; Dr. Parks Richle, St. Paul; Dr. Frank Wright, Minneapolis; Dr. Louis A. Nippert, Minneapolis; Dr. James E. Moore, Minneapolis; Prof. F. L. Washburn, Minneapolis.

Charles F. Keyes.
Secretary-Treasurer.

POLITICS.

The Alumni are active in politics this fall and not a few are seeking for office on the various city tickets. First among the number is D. Percy Jones of the class of '83. Mr. Jones served as mayor for several months during the latter part of the administration of the notorious Ames gang and made such a record that his nomination seems almost like a foregone conclusion. Still Mr. Jones needs and will appreciate the support of his fellow alumni.

This year the University furnishes three of the five republican aspirants for the congressional nomination in this district, and the nomination of any one of the gentlemen would reflect honor on the party. The candidates are William T. Coe, '94, Law, '96, Harrison E. Fryberger '90, Law '92, and Albert H. Hall, a former student. Fred Snyder, '81, Frank Healey, '82 and Horace D. Dickinson, Law, '90, are seeking the nomination for the district bench. Albert Graber, '88, is seeking the nomination for county surveyor and it is to be hoped that he will win out, as he easily can, if his friends come to know that he seeks that office. Doubtless there are numerous other aspirants for office and the Weekly would be pleased to make a mention of all candidates and will gladly give space if the candidates or their friends will send in the information.

EDUCATIONAL BOARD OF CONTROL.

The proposed new educational board of control plan has taken form and a bill has been drawn embodying the features which friends of the plan hope to see incorporated in such a bill. The plan is to create a salaried board of three members to have charge of the interests now looked after by the board of regents, the high school board, the normal school board, the board of control and possibly the other "charitable" institutions located at Faribault and Owatonna. So far as the plan is known it has nothing in it to commend itself to any friend of the University, and if the plan is to have the backing which it apparently has, it will mean that the friends of the University are to have a big fight on their hands, if the University is to come through unharmed. It behooves every friend of the University to see to it that the men who are sent to the legislature are pledged to oppose any such plan, and likewise pledged to do all in their power to have the University removed from the present plan of partial control by each of two boards, with its divided responsibility which is satisfactory to neither board and which can not but be an injury to the University.

FOOTBALL FACTS.

Football interest is growing every day and every day brings out new stores of developing talent which is later to delight the lovers of gridiron sport. The squad, which number upward of thirty, spent ten days at Waconia in preliminary training. Upon the taking up of active training on the campus the squad increased to about fifty, including a goodly number of heroes of former gridiron battles and much new and very promising material. No early season of recent years has been marked by greater promise than the present. Dr. Williams is back from his summer trip to Europe and is busily engaged in putting the boys through their try-out. Doble is assisting.

It is too early as yet to even hint as to who will probably make the team. Captain Strathern has spent the summer on the farm and looks as fit as a fiddle. The wealth of new material promises great things and will make it positive that none of the old men will feel sure of their positions until they have again demonstrated their superiority by a dogged fight to defend their positions.

The preliminary practice shows that the members of the squad realize that they have their work cut out for them and that each man must do his best if he expects to come near enough the training table to even get a smell of the juicy beef which is served to those who make good.

The first chance to get a line on the team will come when the annual high school game is played. It will be remembered that last year the high school team scored first and gave the Varsity rooters a bad half-hour, during which time it looked as though the high school team had the game cinched. This year's team will try to do as well and an interesting game is sure to be played.

IN THE HAMILTON LEAGUE.

Minnesota is just admitted to a new league, the Hamilton Club of Chicago. Cash prizes of $100 and $50 are awarded to the men who win first and second places. All expenses of the Minnesota orator will be assumed by Mr. Manuel, the popular head of the School Education Company.

The subject for the oration must be "Hamilton, or his contemporaries or the events with which he had to do."

This contest is open to all departments of the University.

MARRIAGES.

The past summer has been replete with weddings of interest to alumni, and the following have been noted. If any reader of the Weekly knows of others he will confer a favor on all readers of the Weekly by reporting the same.

Dr. Lewis E. Tuck, Dent, '03, was married to Miss Inez Farrington of this city. They will reside at Melrose, Minn.

Kelsey S. Chase, Law '03, and Ruth Law Cole, a former student, were married on the 22nd of June in this city. Mr. and Mrs. Chase will make their home at Chamberlain, S. D.

The same evening Dr. Edward E. Munns, Dent, '02 was married to Miss Marion Drew. Dr. and Mrs. Munns will make their home in this city.

Miss N. Clara Reid, '01, and Dr. Louis Haas were married June 22. Dr. and Mrs. Haas will be at home to friends on Ninth Street, South.

Miss Flora E. Wood, for so many years assistant in the registrar's office was married June 15, to Herbert P. Leach of Faribault, Minn. Mr. and Mrs. Leach are at home to friends at Faribault.

Miss Mildred W. Mitchell, '96, who has been a member of the faculty of St. Timothy's, a girls' school at Waterbury, Conn., was married June 8, to Mr. Edmund B. Smith of Los Angeles, Calif. Mr. and Mrs. Smith will reside at Los Angeles.

Miss Olive Marshall, '03, and Paul Adams, '00, were married July 27. Mr. and Mrs. Adams will be at home to friends at Cold Springs, Minn.

Miss Achsa Burgess, '03, and Mr. Frank H. Snure, of Caledonia, Minn. were married August 17. Mr. and Mrs. Snure will reside at Caledonia, Minn.

Miss Mary E. Hawley, '96 and Dr. Edward Hawkes, were recently married in this city. Dr. and Mrs. Hawkes will be at home after November 1, at 40 James St., Newark, N. J.

Miss Roberta Pratt, '94 and Cassius M. Locke, '85, were married recently. They will make their home in this city.

Miss Ellen A. Lamoreau, '01, and Mr. J. A. Burger, '01, were married during the summer and will make their home at Staples Minn. Mr. Burger is superintendent of city schools at that place.

Mr. George T. Webb, Law '02, and Miss Flora McDonald were married Sept. 7. Mr. and Mrs. Webb will make their home at Ellendale, N. D. Mr. Webb is county attorney for Dickey county.

Hans Dalaker, '03, instructor in mathematics, and Miss Mattie Aker of Decorah, Iowa, were married June 22. Mr. and Mrs. Dalaker will be at home in Minneapolis after October first.

Owen P. McElmeel, Law, '04, and Bonnetta Cornish '01, were married Aug. 7, at Mankato.

Mr. McElmeel was associate editor of the Daily in '01 and business manager in '02. He won great fame in inter-collegiate debates and is now an instructor in debate and oratory.

Miss Cornish was woman editor of the Daily in '02 and was well known for her literary work on University publications. Since graduating she has been teaching history in the Mankato high school.

Dr. Harold J. Nelson, Dent, '00, of Glencoe, was married on July 29 to Miss Flo Lord, also of Glencoe.

The alumni will not forget that Judge Jaggard, of the law faculty is a candidate for the supreme bench of the state.

PERSONAL NOTES

Laurel Lewis, Acad. '04, is teaching at Anoka.

Miss Clara Christopherson, '04, is teaching History at Hutchinson, Minn.

Roy R. Ireland, '02, Eng. '03, visited in the city during the latter part of August.

Mr. Arthur M. Johnson, Academic '04, is teaching Science in St. Cloud High School.

Miss Elizabeth McLaughlin, '04, is teaching history and economics in St. Cloud High School.

Mrs. Andrew M. Soule, nee Lillie Porter, '88, is to be addressed hereafter at Blacksburg, Virginia.

Laura Gould, Acad. '04, will teach Latin in the Lake City High School this year. She was a campus visitor last week.

A. R. Rose, Chem. '04, is to teach chemistry this year in the State College of Agriculture and Engineering at Durham, N. H.

Dr. Frederick A. Dunsmoor, gave the opening lecture before the students and faculty of the college of medicine and surgery.

F. B. Guthrie, '03, writes from Africa that his hair is getting kinky. A fuller report of his work will be made in a later issue of the Weekly.

Dr. Samuel G. Smith, professor of sociology, was elected president of the national conference of charities and correction at the meeting of that conference June 20th.

Guy H. Roberts, '99, received his Ph.D. from Harvard last June. He has made a brilliant record in his graduate work at Harvard and expects to follow teaching as a profession.

Mr. Richard Lavell, Acad '04, managing editor of last years' Magazine, left this week, Sept. 6, to take up post graduate work in Library Science in Western Reserve University at Cleveland, Ohio.

Charles Pehoushek, Academic '04, was about the campus Saturday. He has been conducting a band at Jackson during the summer. He will teach German and algebra at the Red Wing high school this winter.

Frank O'Hara, '99, recently received his doctor's degree, magna cum laude, from Berlin. Mr. O'Hara made economics his major, and the magna cum laude reflects no small credit upon alma mater, as well as Mr. O'Hara himself.

Perry O. Hanson, '99, writes from China. He is enthusiastic over the news which he has just read in a big bunch of Weeklies which recently reached him. A fuller report of his letter will be made in a later issue of the Weekly.

An announcement made in the last issue of the Weekly regarding Mr. Hiram A. Simons, Law '97, was incorrect. Mr. Simmons is still in the law business at Northome, Minn. He represents the Northome Townsite Co., and is a United States Commissioner.

Cyrus P. Barnum, '04, writes from Manila that he has had a delightful trip and that he will be back about the last of this month. He visited Honolulu on the way out to the Philippines and will land in San Francisco on his return trip about the 15th. He will return home by way of the N. P. Ry., stopping at Portland, Seattle and Helena.

Dr. Thomas G. Lee, professor of histology and embryology, has been elected secretary of the division of embryology of the international congress of science, which is to meet in St. Louis this month. This is a well-deserved honor, for Dr. Lee has earned an enviable reputation for his work along this line. Minnesota is the first western institution to have a professor thus honored.

Mr. and Mrs. B. O. Luebner visited in the city this summer for the first time in several years. They still think that there is no place like Minneapolis, and were enthusiastic over the improvements in the campus which last few years have brought forth. Mr. Luebner was a member of the pharmacy class of '99 and for several years an instructor in that college. Mrs. Luebner, nee Elizabeth Luce, was a member of '97.

Charles W. Olson, '00, who will be remembered as the mainstay of the basketball team when he was in college, writes from Minot, N. D., to ask to have the Weekly sent to him there. It will be remembered that Mr. Olson was appointed teacher for the Philippines. He served his full three years and is home on a visit. He reports that he is far from dissatisfied with that country and that he may return in the not distant future. He enjoyed most excellent health and likewise enjoyed his work.

DIED.

Dr. H. W. Hanscom, Med '89, died during the summer. Dr. Hanscom was a member of the first medical class graduating from the "U." He had won an enviable reputation as a skillful physician. He is survived by his wife and two sisters.

BACK FROM FAIR.

Dr. Eddy and Prof's. Shepardson and Flather have been attending the meeting of the Society for the Promotion of Engineering Education, in St. Louis the past week.

Professor W. R. Hoag of the civil engineering department, left the city last week, for the St. Louis Exposition, where he will serve as a juror in the department devoted to instruments of precision.

FACULTY NOTES.

Dean Downey has found little time for recreation this summer as he conducted classes during the session of the university summer school.

Dean Jones has spent the summer at Minnetonka Beach, sailing in a boat which he built entirely himself. The boat is a very unusual one, its bottom being made of thin copper plate.

It was a successful departure from the usual type and one of the fastest on the lake.

Miss Ada Comstock of the Rhetoric department has returned to the campus after a year's leave of absence which she has spent in Europe.

Alois P. Kovarik, Academic '04, has been elected an instructor in the Physics department.

Dr. Hall, of the Minneapolis Academy, has presented to the Department of Geology interesting specimens of fossil leaves, which he discovered during his summer vacation, imbedded in volcanic rock in the Yellowstone Park.

Under the leadership of the English department, a rousing reception is being prepared for Dr. Burton. It is planned to have the students assembled in chapel this morning so that the ovation may be given Dr. Burton at the third hour. Few of the students have seen the genial professor since he spoke in chapel during his short visit last year and an enthusiastic welcome will be given him.

Martha Harris will take the place of Le Roy Arnold in the rhetoric department. Le Roy Arnold has gone to Harvard to continue his studies.

ALUMNI CANDIDATES.

The following is as complete a list of Republican alumni candidates for office in this city and county as we have been able to compile:

For Judge of the District Court.

Frank Healey, '82.

Andrew Holt, '80.

Fred E. Snyder, '82.

John Day Smith, of the law faculty.

Howard B. Chamberlain, Law, '99.

Byron B. Timberlake, '91.

H. Leslie Wildey, a student, law.

George W. Armstrong, Law, '98.

Manley L. Fosseen, Law, '95.

George E. Young, Law, '95.

Charles E. Bond, Law, '90.

Charles R. Fowler, Law, '90.

Winfield W. Bardwell, Law, '90.

Arthur L. Helliwell, '95, Law, '95.

Arthur W. Selover, '93, Law, '97.

Clarence A. Webber, Law, '93.

George C. Merrill, Law, '95.

For County Attorney.

Al. J. Smith, Law, '90.

For County Surveyor.

Albert Graber, '88.

For County Coroner.

Charles D. Whipple, Med. '03.

Olof A. Olson, Med. '02.

For County Superintendent of Schools.

William H. A. Rutherford, '90.

J. Edward Meyers, Law, '98.

William J. Warren, '78.

For Library Director.

Henry Deutsch, Law, '94.

For Mayor.

David Percy Jones, '83.

Henry S. Nelson, Med. '93.

Ulysses G. Williams, Med. '89.

On the Democratic Ticket

Elijah Barton '94, is candidate for district bench; Albert Christello, Law,

'95, for court commissioner; Fred E. Hobbs, '88, is candidate for Library director and Frank N. Stacy, '88 is candidate for city comptroller.

On the Prohibition Ticket.

Mrs. Bessie Laythe Scovell is candidate for school director.

Al. J. Smith for County Attorney.

In view of the fact that Al. J. Smith is the only alumnus who is candidate for this important office, the Weekly is able to speak more unreservedly concerning the matter. Mr. Smith is an ideal candidate for the position which he seeks, and which it may be fairly said is seeking him. His record during the early trial of the Ames gang, when the whole matter was practically in his charge, ought to secure his nomination. A more clean cut record of victory never attended the prosecution of rogues, who deserved their fate, than followed his prosecution of these cases. But Mr. Smith does not need to depend alone upon his record in these cases, he has a history of many years of faithful and efficient service in various legal capacities, which mark him as well fitted for county attorney.

NOT BACK YET

On account of illness Dr. James was not able to meet his classes during last week.

Dr. McVey will not return to the "U" for two weeks and in the meantime Mr. Churchill will have charge of his classes.

MARRIED FIFTY YEARS.

Professor Jabez Brooks Celebrates Wedding Anniversary.

Tuesday was the golden wedding of Professor Jabez Brooks.

The event was the cause of many congratulations and presents from members of the faculty both in the city and from away.

TALK TO LAWYERS.

Dean Pattee addressed the members of the day law classes Tuesday afternoon.

He said in part:

"A general impression exists that moral ideals play a small part in the practice of law, or in the field of practical politics. Such, however, is not the fact.

"No more exacting demands for ideal behavior are made by any class of people than are made by judges, lawyers and litigants in their dealings with one another. The worthy judge frowns upon the slightest dishonesty of counsel, the worthy lawyer demands the most scrupulous fairness upon the part of the court, the litigant denounces without mercy the court or counsel, who through ignorance, negligence, or corruption, deprives him of his legal rights, and the false witness is an object of severest condemnation by court, counsel and jury; so, in general, judges, lawyers, jurors and witnesses all have their ideals of justice, honesty and fairness, which they apply most rigorously to one another in the administration of justice. Safety is found alone in truth. The "path of righteousness" in law, as elsewhere, is the only path that leads to "peace and joy."

"In politics the same is true. The party that fails to keep its promises, or attempts to over-ride the constitution, or neglects to secure equality of legal rights for all, is judged unsafe by its opponent, whose ideals demand that promises should be kept. Political candidates, from President of the United States down to municipal officers, are subjected to relentless criticism by their opponents. The ideal in the mind of the critic is the test. If one's opponent has a bad record, or lacks proper qualification for the office, or fails in any respect to come up to the requirements of the ideal moral standard then the critic warns the people to reject him. So, that any young man, looking forward to a political career, will find a faultless and clean personal record his safest passport to honorable distinction, to worthy political preferment and to an abiding fame."

In the evening the Dean repeated his remarks to the night men.

LAW NOTES.

The large incoming class of day laws listened to its first regular lecture Wednesday at 10:00 o'clock, Prof. H. J. Fletcher officiating.

The Middle class have Prof. James Paige, and Judge A. C. Hickman instructs the Seniors.

Prof. H. E. Willis has the Junior night class and Judge A. C. Hickman is instructing the Middle and Senior nights.

NORTHROP FIELD.

Northrop Field, after the improvements this summer, has now reached the height of perfection. Towards this end the whole board, especially Mr. Schrader, have been working during the entire vacation.

The baseball diamond was removed from the gridiron, and a new one laid out in the northern part of the field. This new diamond was entirely sodded, except for a skinned infield.

The running track has been constantly worked over, until it is now almost perfect. The straightaway is also completed.

It was intended to put up a club house in the southeast corner of the field, but the tennis enthusiasts may win out, and get the coveted spot.

As Minnesota is always republican on president it is likely that the democrats will organize a Johnson club whose purpose it will be to secure proselytes for John A. Johnson, democratic candidate for governor.

HOMEOPATHS BEGIN.

The College of Homeopathic Medicine was opened last evening when Dr. O. K. Richardson, of Minneapolis, addressed the students at the Dispensary, 1808 Washington avenue, on "Our School of Practice is Permanent: Shall We Stand By It?" The registration is expected to be a little heavier than last year.

ANTIQUE ARTILLERY.

An antique cannon that saw a century's use under the Spanish regime in the Philippines arrived this summer and was presented to the military department by Major Morgan. It is at present doing duty as bric-a-brac in the commandant's office.

The shooting iron was captured by Major Morgan himself, in the late war. He appropriated it as a souvenir and brought it over.

While the cannon is interesting as a curio it is not imposing. It looks more like a yard of battered four-inch gas pipe than any instrument of death. It is made of cast iron, weighs 250 pounds, and is mounted on a crude carriage with wheels of the same material. It is fired by the simple method of fuse and touch hole.

Buck, the janitor, takes great pride in the relic and has devised the following motto for it, which he is willing to have published:

"Load me well and swab me clean, I'll throw a ball to New Orleans."

REGISTRATION.

It is too early to make any prediction concerning figures on registration as yet. But it is probable the registration will be not far from that of last year. From various causes the registration of the first week was decidedly under that of last year but last week was over that of last year and the total number is not far from that of last year. Total receipts from fees, to date, crowds the $50,000 mark.

GREEKS DOINGS.

Theta Delta Chi are building a big new house on the river bank near Pleasant Ave.

Phi Delta Theta are moving to 1312 7th St. S. E.

Kappa Alpha Theta have rented and furnished a big house on the corner of 15 ave. and 7th St. S. E.

Phi Gamma Delta are negotiating for a lot on University Ave. between 16th and 17th sts. opposite the Armory. They will stay this year at 812 University ave.

Sigma Chi has moved out on Fifteenth avenue, beyond Sixth street.

CHANGES IN ENGINEERING*BUILDING

Very extensive alterations are being hurried to completion in the Engineering building. The dark winding stair has given place to one which is light and straight and which greatly lessens the danger in case of fire.

One of the hallways on the first floor has been removed and Prof. Haynes' room enlarged thereby.

Prof. Hoag's office has been dispensed with in order that his room might be made larger.

The drawing rooms on the third floor are much increased in floor space and better lighted.

A considerable addition is being made in the rear. It will be utilized for the Engineers' Library and for the offices of the faculty.

The Civil Engineers' drawing room has been turned into an instrument room and a new drawing room is being built.

Work on the building has been pressed for the past month and the entire building will be ready for occupancy about October 1.

With the rush and hurry of registration well over, the Literary societies are getting in line for the year's work.

PREXY'S PREACHMENT.

The unexpected is always heard when "Prexy" speaks, and his anticipated advice to Freshies proved no exception to the rule. The chapel was crowded long before the time for the exercises and the arrival of each faculty member was greeted with cheering and clapping of hands. All rose with one accord as the president entered.

His ready appreciation of the intelligence which less keen observers fail to perceive in the freshmen won their hearty applause and their delight was further evidenced when he invited the home-sick into his office to be cheered.

His remarks proved to be an indirect attack upon the failings and frailties of the upper classmen.

Prexy's advice to the Freshies was "keep up your end and don't waste time for life is very short. The average man lives but three-score years and ten; if he lives longer he'll have trouble."

Y. M. C. A.

Through the agency of the Y. M. C. A., many of the wants of both old and new students have been filled, during the past week.

Employment has been found for about fifty men, while many more could have been supplied with work. The list of rooming places, far exceeded the demand.

Y. W. C. A.

The year has opened very auspiciously for the Y. W. C. A. They will occupy the same quarters as last year, altho the parlor has been refitted and looks very neat and homelike.

The meetings are to be held but once a week this year and the society will concentrate all of its efforts to make these meetings doubly helpful.

The Noon Rest will be a novel undertaking of the year. On two days in the week the Association will serve tea and cocoa at noon in the parlors. All girls will be invited to come and bring their lunch and enjoy an informal, social noon hour.

The opening reception to students and faculty will take place on the seventeenth of September

CO-ED ATHLETICS.

The girls' basket ball club has not yet organized and it is rumored that they will not do so until November.

In addition to the old players, all of whom are back except Emily Johnston, several new stars will join the team.

NOTES ON NEIGHBORS.

Reports from surrounding colleges indicate that all the western football teams are hard at work.

The Wisconsin team, under assistant Cochems, is at Lake Monona working up a squad of a dozen men, many of whom are vets. Coach Curtis reports that the material on hand is to be relied upon and new material is only awaiting the transfer of operations to Madison.

Coach Stagg announces that his two heaviest weights, Ed. Parry and Robt. Maxwell, will be on hand to assist in working over new material. Western coaches are expecting to see a heavier team than Chicago has put in the field for some time represent the maroon. The fact that the new material is heavier than usual means that Chicago is on a firmer basis than she has been since 1901.

STEWART RETURNS.

F. Alex Stewart, Acad. '04, after three months on a tobacco plantation in Mexico returns to the University, to praise the climate of our southern neighbor. A leaking bamboo hut, during a rainstorm proved his downfall.

ENCOURAGING PRACTICE.

More men reported for practice Friday than have been out before this fall. Four teams were formed from the candidates and under the direction of Doc Williams and his assistants some fast signal work was done. Assistant Coach Dobie, second assistant Evans and "Hunky" Davies took charge of the second, third and fourth teams.

Fifty thousand dollars has been raised for the new Y. M. C. A. Building at the University of Wisconsin. The "W" men at Wisconsin have begun to form an organization to promote clean athletics at their university, and also to act as a medium to bring all the athletes together socially. This building is the result of efforts which G. Sydney Phelps, '99, put forth as secretary of the Y. M. C. A. at that institution.

BETTER BAND.

All admirers of the University band will be pleased to learn that this organization will be bigger and better than ever this year. There is a wealth of good material in the Freshman class and the contest for places will be very keen. Chief musician Pehousik will not be here this year, but Aaker, the baritone player, and many of the old men are back.

FOR COUNTY SURVEYOR

Albert Graber, '88

Mr. Graber is unusually well qualified for the position of county surveyor. His years of experience in the office of the city engineer and his service in railroad work has fitted him for the work. He seeks the nomination for the office on the Republican ticket and his many friends among the alumni and former students will be glad of an opportunity to give him their support.

"The Arrow" is the name of a new paper printed at Carlisle, which takes the place of the "Red Man and Helper." It reports the arrival of Ed. Rogers, who is busy preparing for the fall campaign.

FOOTBALL "DOPE."

Dr. Williams said, when interviewed last week that there are some fine, husky fellows among the candidates but that the majority are green and will need a great deal of training to put them in form.

The Outlook

Last year Minnesota undoubtedly had the best foot-ball team in the West. This year, from all indications, it would appear that she is going to have a team which will in every way equal that of 1903. The large number of old men who have failed to return will be a handicap which will be difficult to overcome.

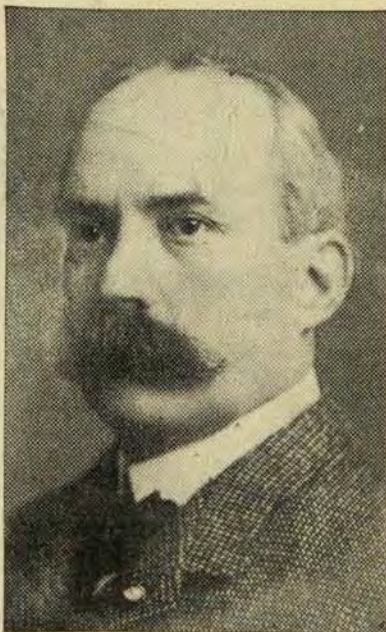

But with all due respect to Minnesota's departed veterans, we cannot say that the loss is irreparable. There are new men in abundance to take their places, and though these men are not as experienced, report has it that they are a heavier lot than ever before rallied under the gopher ensign.

It must also be remembered that new men work harder, are more enthusiastic, and are apt to keep training rules more conscientiously than old players. In fact, nearly all of Minnesota's most successful teams have been ones which were made up quite largely of new material. The 1900 and 1903 teams are good examples of this.

Loyal rooters, therefore, need not lose heart because five of Minnesota's last year's stars are missing. To take their places we have a long list of ambitious substitutes and new men in every way qualified to succeed their illustrious predecessors.

Republican candidate for mayor.

D. P. Jones, candidate for the nomination for mayor on the republican ticket is in every sense of the word a Minneapolis man, having been born in this city, where he always resided. He is enterprising and public spirited and has done much to advance the interests of Minneapolis both commercially and educationally. He was educated in our public schools and is a graduate of the State University. For the past six years he has represented the Fifth ward in the city council, of which body he is now president, and was acting mayor for six months, during the Adams regime. Mr. Jones is in every way qualified to fulfil the duties of the important office of mayor, and if nominated and elected will undoubtedly give the city a clean-cut, business administration.

ALL YOU CAN EAT at the COLLEGE INN for $2.10 Per Week.

Huska, Colburn, Weisel, Wildey, Little Smith, Varco, and Fred Hunter.

Most of these men have been out at Waconia, a short distance the other side of Lake Minnetonka, putting in a few days of light training, preparatory to beginning active practice with the opening of school.

In addition to these men a wealth of new material is expected to put in an appearance today.

New Men

Among these are the following players, many of whom have had experience on high school teams throughout the state: Bly, Mowery, Lambert, Dutton, Linehan, Andree, Lang, Brush, Tschabold, Case, Erickson, Itner, Drake, Clark, Murphy, Blondline, Clemens, Prngle, O'Leary, Larkin, Wyman, Ostrand, Rugner, Fergusson, Newell, Morrill, Blackburn, Warfe, Hannon, Nutting, Porter, Vita, Rogers and Nunson.

Lack of space prevents individual description of these men, but the rooters will soon be able to size them up themselves. We can only say that there are some embryo stars of the first magnitude included in the list, and some of them will make the old players hustle to keep their positions.

The football boys all of whom are kept from the evil influence of quick lunch at the training table are a highly pleased lot. Mr. Spencer, the chief in charge, is a hygiene specialist, and a visit paid his department by the Daily puts in mind of the exhibit kitchens at the St. Louis Fair.

Mr. Spencer keeps the dishes like a Sapolio ad. Every article of food is personally inspected by the chief. Just now when the boys come in so tired from first season paces, their hunger is kept at bay and they are only given the less hearty vegetables and fruits with very little meat. Our model cook has made this little hotel at Minnesota one that is copied by all our western athletic departments.

The Third Annual Report of the Minnesota High School Debating League is out, prepared by Prof. McDermott and Robert Pratt. It is a very interesting little magazine containing much of interest to debaters. There are many cuts of the High School debaters as well as the U. of M. debaters. Likewise the final debate of the High School League. Fergus Falls vs. St. Paul Central is published in full as well as the proposition for the High School debate this year and the bibliography connected with it.

The High Schools will debate this year on the subject, "Resolved, That the policy of reducing further immigration to the United States to a minimum is practicable and should be adopted."

EDITORIAL.

LET US HOPE.

It is to be hoped that Messrs. Timberlake and Chamberlain may be chosen as the candidates to represent the University legislative district. Both are graduates of the University and both are well fitted to represent the district as well as to be special representatives of the University in the house next winter.

With eight candidates in the field and the consequent scattering of votes it is a decided question whether both will win out.

ENROLLMENT AND FEES.

The total enrollment in the college of science, literature and the arts last Friday morning was 1215. The total enrollment for the same college last year was 1252. For the colleges of engineering, and agriculture and the schools of mines and chemistry, the total enrollment to the same to date is 555. The total enrollment for the same colleges and schools last year was 581. This means that the enrollment at the end of the second week this year is within 63 of the total enrollment of last year in the same colleges.

The statement of registration for the medical colleges and for law cannot be given accurately at the present time, but the approximate figures are as follows: law, 425; medical department, 420.

The total amount received in fees, to date, is over $57,000.

The total registration for the year 1903-04 was as follows: 3846—men, 2715, women, 1131, distributed as follows—graduate students, 117; college of science, literature and the arts, 1-252; the school of chemistry, 36; the college of engineering and the mechanic arts, 397; the school of mines, 118; the college of law, 535; the department of agriculture, 705; the department of medicine, 485; summer school, University section, less duplicates, 212.

AN ALUMNI DIRECTORY.

The Regents have approved and the Board of Control has consented to an expenditure sufficient to issue a new edition of the alumni directory. Work will be begun upon the same at an early date, in the meantime, any readers of the Weekly will confer a real favor upon those who will have charge of compiling and issuing such a directory, by sending in the names and addresses of any alumni, who have moved within the past two years, and who might otherwise be missed.

The alumni now number upwards of 5000 and it is no light task to collect the necessary information to make the directory of real value. As the directory is issued solely in the interest of the alumni it becomes the duty of every alumnus to co-operate in making it of the highest value. Will you do your part and do it promptly?

ENTRANCE ENGLISH

The second examination in entrance English showed that the average number of those falling below the passing grade, kept at about the same general average. This clearly demonstrates the necessity of such an examination.

The practical difficulties of enforcing the regulation in the way originally planned by the faculty, has proved so great that a modification has been adopted for the present year. Freshmen falling below grade in the examination are given an opportunity to pursue a special course in English, in addition to their regular work if they desire, or they may cancel one of their regular subjects and take up this special work. All students entering the University this fall will be required to work off their condition in this subject before taking up the work of the sophomore year and hereafter all students will be required to take this examination before being allowed to register, and in case they fail to pass will be required to register for this subject and carry a correspondingly smaller amount of University work. This plan can be enforced without creating any confusion and will be followed hereafter.

ALUMNI PIN.

The proposition to adopt an alumni pin comes from Miss Georgia L. Nichols, '99, who is teaching in the high school at Miles City, Mont. Miss Nichols will be asked to submit her ideas upon the subject to the readers of the Week ly.

 ing the year abroad in travel and study.

A. G. Liedloff, Med., '02, has located at Mankato, Minn., for the practice of his profession.

G. N. Davis, M. E. '04, is now in the employ of the Northern Pacific Railroad, in distant Montana.

Mable Case, '01, who has been teaching at St. Cloud, will be at her old home, St. Peter, this year.

Dr. H. P. Bennion, Med., '02, who has been at Windsor, Minn., has located at 394 Prior Ave., Merriam Park.

Mrs. F. D. Calkins, Acad. '93, of Welsh, Louisiana, sister of Miss Emily
 Bonwell, was seen on the campus
 Thursday.

Selmer L. Peterson, '02, has removed from Bissell to Deer Park, Wash. Mr.
 Peterson is to be the principal of the high school at that place.

Malcolm Wyer, a graduate of Minnesota in 1900, and librarian last year at Colburn College, Colorado, is now librarian of the University of Iowa.

Frank Monty, ex. '00, now connected with the Anaconda and Butte railroad a Rockfellar road, was on the campus last week renewing old acquaintances.

Capt. Wm. Folwell of the regular army, accompanied by a lieutenant from Ft. Snelling recently made a visit to the armory and drill headquarters.

Max West, '90, who, last year, was in the treasury department at Porto Rico, has returned to the "states" and is employed in the bureau of corporations at Washington, D. C.

Alice Eva Thompson, '03, who last year taught at Appleton, Minn., will teach English* in the high school at Elbow Lake, this year. She has been elected principal of the high school.

Halsten O. Eggen, '99, who has been principal of schools at Lake Benton has gone to Berkely, Calif. His address is 2318 Bancroft Way. Mr. Eg-gen is doing graduate work at the University of California.

Arthur C. Murray, ex. '05, sends in his dollar for the Weekly, thus showing that his interest in alma mater is as strong as ever. His address is Wadena, Minn., and he is engaged in the land business.

Roy V. Wright, Eng., '98, who has been in the employ of the P. & L. E.
 Ry. Co. at Pittsburg, Pa., has removed to 285 North 20th St., East Orange, N. J. He is engaged in editorial work upon an engineering magazine.

Maria R. McCollock, '00, will spend another year in the schools at Fullerton, California. She writes in her usual cheery mood and sends best wishes for the success of the University with special mention of the football team.

J. J. McManamy, Law, '04, has associated himself with J. E. Messerschmidt under the firm name Messerschmidt and McManamy, for the practice of law. The new firm has an office opposite the Park hotel, Madison, Wis.

Dr. "Mike" Bockman, captain '02 ad '30 track team, will practice medicine at Thief River Falls this year. He was on the campus last Saturday.

On account of an injury sustained at Milwaukee while training for the Olympic Games, he was unable to take part in the World's athletic tournament at the St. Louis Exposition.

Wm. S. Kienholz, '04, who last year taught football and some other subsidiary subjects at Galesburg, Ill, has gone to Raleigh, N. C. to take a similar position in the Agricultural and Mechanical College. This college is a government institution with an enrollment of over 1,000 young men. Last year Mr. Kienholz turned out a "hummer" of a team and with the increased advantages which will be his this year ought to sweep things clean in his "neck of the woods."

MINERVA BEGINS WORK.

The Minerva Literary Society has just entered upon what promises to be one of its most successful years. At the first meeting, last Tuesday evening, every active member was present, and an extemporaneous program was given.

The plan of work for the winter is much the same as that of last year, including original research, extemporaneous work, and debate.

"FROM AFRIC'S SUNNY STRANDS."

S. E. Moon, Academic '00, with his bride of a few weeks, has departed for a missionary post on the Congo, in Africa.

Since completing his course here, he has graduated at the University of Chicago, and been ordained as a Baptist minister.

Mr. Moon has always shown a deep interest in missionary work and his success is assured.

Frank B. Guthrie, '03, writes from Etat Kamerun, West Africa:

"Your paper brings a pleasant breath of the U. of M. every time it appears in this neck of the forest.

"Life in tropical Africa is far from the unpleasant lot which it is so often pictured, and I am having a very pleasant and interesting time endeavoring to uphold the honor of my alma mater here.

"In trying to keep about 200 ebony figures at work when out of school, and in the charge of our farm of 136 acres, the care of old and the erection of new buildings and the study of the Bulu language, I find employment for my spare time. When you take a trip around our little sphere do not fail to call, and we will have some viands, at least, of which the College Inn can never boast.

"In following the doings of the good old U. of M. this year, my pride in her continues to grow. May she ever continue to bless her children and vanquish her enemies."

Sincerely yours,

F. B. Guthrie, '03.

Dr. James E. Manchester, who graduated from this college in 1884 and who received his doctor's degree at Fribinger, Germany, has been added to the list of mathematical instructors.

FOOTBALL FACTS.

Dr. H. L. Williams is not ready to confirm all the glowing accounts of the progress of the football team which have been placed in circulation by the sporting page string fiends.

In a recent interview he said:

Only Two Back.

"In the first place only two, or possibly three, of last year's star team will be able to play this year, and the new material is far greener than any we have had for years past.

Behind.

"In the second place, the team is not playing as a whole nearly such an advanced type of football as the teams of last year and the year before were at this time.

"Only the simplest and easiest plays of straight football have been tried thus far, and the crudeness with which they are executed shows that an enormous amount of before the team will be in anywhere near championship form. At present the coaches are all bending every effort to get a team of green men whipped into some sort of shape for the Nebraska game."

Over Estimated.

A large number of people have become possessed of the idea that the football squad at Minnesota is starting out this year with prospects whose brilliancy has not been equalled for many seasons past. That the team has never before been developed so highly this early in the season, and that the individual men are far ahead in experience and general ability of the material which usually turns up in the fall.

All of which means that the coach is sounding a note of warning against overconfidence. There is an abundance of most excellent material, but the material is green and needs no end of training to get it into championship form.

On the Other Hand.

The first team as it lined up Tuesday night answered as follows:

Strathern, center; Smith and Rick-er, guards; Brush and Tschabold, tackles; Marshall and Luce, ends; Burgan and Irsfield, halves; Hunter, quarter-back and Kremer full-back.

After the scrimmage work Coach Williams took some eighteen of the supposedly picked men of the squad back under the grand-stand where they were put through some secret work.

Players Developing.

The practice Wednesday night was fast and furious. The Varsity scored six touchdowns on the scrubs after the usual punting and signal practice.

Hunter, the fast little quarter on the first team distinguished himself several times by breaking away from his opponents for big gains. Luce and Brush carried the ball well. The boys seem to be getting onto the game as work progresses.

Some Ragged Work.

However, some very ragged work was done by several men, especially in the manner of handling punts. They fumbled and threshed around after the ball clumsily as though they had never seen a gridiron before. It will take a deal of hard, persistent work to remedy this fault so prevalent among the first team men.

Are Showing Form.

Even at that it can't be denied that for a line made up of so many new men the boys show good form. Brush, at tackle, is doing fair work, although he will have to keep plugging to get there.

Case, in yesterday's scrimmage, did some good work at the other tackle position. Neither man can feel that he has his position cinched.

Luce, at end and likewise Bobby Marshall, have things to learn, and nothing but hard, heady work will do it.

Dan Smith is always getting there. Ricker, at left guard, is slowly forgetting some of his faults, and if he continues to dig will be a factor in the big games.

Spirit is Good.

Every man in the squad seems to go at things in a good spirit. Several men on last night's second team are comers and may be relied upon to give the Varsity a hard run for places. Kjelland is doing good work at end. Oech at tackle and Neussle at half are good men and will have to be reckoned with before the season is over. Varco as quarter on the scrub eleven continues to do fast, sensational stunts.

Scrubs Play Well.

Last night the scrubs played especially well. They held the big fellows down to one measly touchdown and that was secured early in the scrimmage before they were fairly settled.

No man in either lineup, outside of two veterans, has a place cinched as yet. And the way things are going now, players for several of the positions are as likely to be picked from one bunch as the other.

THURSDAY EVENING.

The Varsity scored three touchdowns on the scrubs Thursday afternoon, in a very few minutes of play.

But that's not saying, but what the gentlemen who class second in the squad, put up a plucky game, nor that the first team showed anything like Varsity form.

The first and last touch-downs were made as the result of a series of line bucks, Irsfield and Burgan doing especially good work in this department of the game. The second touch-down was secured by Hunter, who made a sensational run of 65 yards.

"SIG" HARRIS.

Harris declares that it is out of the question for him to enter the game this fall, and those who know Harris best, know that he usually means what he says. It has been many a year since Minnesota has had such a quarterback as Harris has been and his determination to keep off the grid-iron this fall is the most serious fact the football coach has to face. A good quarter, like a good poet, is born, not made, and "Sig" was certainly born a quarter.

GIRLS ATHLETIC AFFAIRS.

A great many new candidates for honors in the field of University Girls' Athletics have made their entrance with the Freshman class.

There are two of Central's basketball stars and a host of players from all over the state, who are anxious to have practice begin at once. The serious work will hardly begin, however, till after Thanksgiving or at least until the weather is much cooler.

All but one of the last year's team are back again and if the new girls turn out, as strong as they promise to be, there will be a first and second team both able to do the University credit.

This year's second team will possibly play with some of the high school teams of the two cities.

The plans for the Girls' Field Day, which has been thought of for a long time, are undergoing their annual discussion. The affair would lend much interest to the gymnasium work and the girls all seem anxious to attempt it.

The advanced physical culture class is larger this year than ever before, and a great many new plans and some new apparatus will make the work very interesting.

The tennis girls have been working all summer with really surprising results. Bessie Cox held her own till the semi-finals, in the tournament at Minnetonka, last week; and Mabel Smith of 1906, won the consolation singles.

As Miss Johnson, the girls' champion, has left college, some matches will probably be held later to decide first place, between Miss Frank and Miss Cox.

Invitations will be out this week for the opening reception of the Woman's League which is to be held in the Armory a week from Saturday, September 25th.

This is the first social event of the year for the League members and as usual the reception is to be an open one to all the university girls.

Registration.

During the week following the opening reception there will be a Registration table in the rotunda of the Library and it is hoped that all the girls will hand in their names as members of this organization.

The same social plans will be pursued as last year, consisting of a series of Saturday receptions at the Armory where the girls will have the opportunity of meeting each other and also the members of the faculty.

Finances.

The League is starting the year under most favorable auspices, from a financial standpoint. Aside from the treasury fund of $85 there is on deposit in the Farmers and Mechanics bank a lump sum of $843.71.

The League owes a debt of thanks to the class of 1903. The class found themselves at their reunion last May, $56.05 on the favorable side of 0, and decided to contribute the money to the League.

The Woman's League is hard at work preparing to add to the thousand dollars netted on the Woman's Mag and the Spring Carnival. The first enterprize to receive its attention will be the football program contract let to the League last spring by the board of control.

DEBATING EVENTS

Prof. McDermott says that prospects in debate and oratory were never brighter. True, our two big inter-collegiate debates are away from home, the Central League at Chicago Jan. 13, the Iowa at Iowa City, Feb. 10.

Tried and True.

Among the "tried and true," Raymond P. Chase is prominent. He has won from Iowa and Wisconsin, and although he lost to Northwestern, he proved that the best debater of the six can be on the losing side.

Benjamin Drake won from Chicago, Michigan and Wisconsin. He is still eligible for Iowa, but it is not certain that he will enter.

Willis Norton has victories from Michigan and Chicago, but he is more likely to enter oratory than debate this year.

Jesse G. Steenson will be remembered for his gallant fight on the losing side against Michigan last year. He will probably try for the Iowa team.

John P. DeVaney's splendid debating against Iowa last spring is still fresh in our minds. He will probably go after a place on the Central League team.

Irwin Churchill will be in the University, but is not likely to try for a place this year.

I. W. Choate, who won from Iowa last spring, will be in the city and may possibly take night law, in which event he is likely to try for a position on one of the teams.

Philip Carlson will be back, but is more likely to try for one of the oratorical prizes than for debate.

Warren Williams and Leslie Wildey, both on the Iowa team two years ago, are back, but they will probably go after the Pillsbury or Hamilton Club prizes.

Local Lights.

Other men prominent in local debate who have yet to win a place in the collegiate class are: Robinson, Pratt, McManigal, O'Brien, Christianson, Aygarn, Achtson, Benson, Sinclair, Nebbergal, Barnes, Wistrand, Stratton, Strand, Phillips, Thompson, Hanson, Joss, Swinlan, Schull, Remele, Schuck, Dibble, Robinson, Swimmer, Cary and C. A. Johnson.

All of these are strong men and liable to try for places on the inter-collegiate teams this year.

DRAMATIC DOINGS.

The Dramatic Club at its first meeting yesterday decided to put on the play entitled "A Pair of Spectacles," by Sidney Grunoy.

Dr. Burton has consented to take one of the leading parts and the play will be given in town sometime before the first of November.

The Club is at present figuring on presenting the plays at the Metropolitan or at the new Orphean Theater, and the work of getting the piece in shape will soon commence.

The time for entrance trials was set for next Tuesday, and at two o'clock all people wishing to enter the club must meet the enrollment committee in Dr. McClumpha's room.

The new applicants are requested to give selections which are best adapted to their own personalities.

"Baby" pieces, a woman taking a man's part or vice versa will be prohibited. Three minutes time given each.

The enrollment will be earlier than usual this year, as the members are very enthusiastic and anxious to begin work at once.

Miss Florence Hofflin was elected official Dramatic Club reporter, and the vacancies caused on the enrollment committee by the absence of Miss Burbridge, and Miss Brazie were filled by the appointments of Misses Ruth Haynes and Cornelia Hollingshead.

PHILIPPINE POSITIONS.

President Northrop is in receipt of a letter from Major Gen. Allen of the Philippine constabulary. The letter offers 300 positions ranging from 3rd lieutenant to colonel, to graduates of the universities of the United States, who are desirous of entering the service.

The letter further states that chances of promotion are exceptionally good in the Philippine service. The government needs young men of ability and energy and especially those who have aptitude for the management of men. Full details will be given any graduate or student, if he will call at the president's office.

BURTON BACK.

Whether intended or not both hymn and scripture reading were remarkably appropriate on the occasion of Dr. Burton's reappearance.

Dr. Burton addressed, or more correctly talked, to the students in his unique fashion after the chapel exercises were concluded.

He expressed regret that some of the faces he knew so well were absent; "But the university is the same still. The idea is here if the faces are changed."

Dr. Burton extended a most cordial invitation to all his old student friends to visit him in Dr. Chimpha's office, saying: "If there's ever a time when a man appreciates the 'glad hand' its when he comes back as I do."

MAG BOARD MEETS

At the meeting of the Minnesota Magazine board yesterday afternoon, the board unanimously elected Arthur H. Upson as literary editor, as the successor of Roy H. Smith. A. T. Lagerstrom was elected secretary.

As yet no definite line of work for the year has been outlined.

THE SWITCH.

The promoters of the proposed comic periodical are laboring under difficulties. "The Switch" is writhing in the clutches of the advertising trust, and it is doubtful whether the project can be launched as a distinct and separate enterprise. Overtures have been made to the "Switch" board by the "Mag." management and it is possible that the comic periodical may materialize as a supplementary feature of the Minnesota Magazine.

It is uncertain whether the interest of the student body would warrant the separate existence of such a publication as the comic periodical promoters have designed.

FOR JELLEY.

W. C. Leary, captain of the '91 and '92 football teams is looking after the University interests of C. S. Jelley, candidate for the Republican nomination for county attorney.

Y. M. C. A. PLANS.

Several new features are to be inaugurated in the Y. M. C. A. The orchestra will not be reorganized, but as last year, a quartette will be chosen from the University Glee Club.

Another distinct and regular feature will be the mid-week devotional service on Wednesday evenings, the first of these was held last evening.

Mrs. Potter of the University English department, Ex-Mayor Jones, Ex-Mayor Gray, Dean Wulling and Prof. Nachtrieb have consented to speak at future meetings.

Those who will address Sunday meetings are: Chas. D. Huney, of New York; Willis R. Hotchkiss, the famous African missionary, Bishop McDowell, of the Methodist Church, and Dean Bosworth, of Oberlin College.

Mary Louise Thornton, '03, is teaching at the high school at Staples, Minn.

JOHN A. SCHLENER.

Republican Candidate for Mayor.

Mr. Schlener is of German parentage; has been a resident of Minneapolis since 1857; for the past thirty-eight years has resided on Nicollet Island. He was educated in the public schools. He first worked as toll collector on the old suspension bridge; and later in a hardware store and a saw mill. In 1875 he began working for Wister, Wales & Co., books and stationers on Nicollet avenue, and since 1884 has been in the same line of business for himself. Elected a member of the Board of Education in 1896, re-elected in 1902 and now president of that Board, the most important of any in the city. Mr. Schlener has always been a republican.

Mr. Schlener is a man of high standing among business men; has a well earned reputation for broad-mindedness, honesty and fine executive ability.

Mr. Schlener's services in the cause of education are such as entitle him the support of all who are receiving or have received the benefits of our great educational system.

Many "U" graduates are taking an active interest in Mr. Schlener's candidacy, and his campaign has been directed by University alumni.

OF GENERAL INTEREST.

The Engineers' Society has begun to get busy again and the prospects for a busy, useful year are bright.

Dr. Burton spoke to the Y. M. C. A. yesterday. As usual he had a real message and he drove it home in a way of which he alone is the master.

Last Wednesday evening Mrs. Potter spoke before the young men's meeting upon the "Psalms—their content and purpose."

The reception given by the Young Men's and Young Women's Christian Associations last Saturday evening was an unqualified success. This annual reception is an exceedingly useful institution and the associations which have the matter in charge are rendering a real service to the University by their efforts to keep the standard up to the highest point of usefulness and enjoyableness.

Students in the department of Sociology are going to conduct an organized and thorough investigation into the sociological conditions in Minneapolis and throughout the state. The investigation is to take place at the direction of Dr. Smith and during his absence to attend the International Congress of Arts and Sciences at St. Louis.

Dr. Smith has divided his classes into committees, each with its specific part to do in the investigation. Upon his return he will unify the reports and put the compilation of facts into such shape as will make it of permanent value.

On Sept. 22 Dr. Smith will preside over the Congress and on Sept. 28 he is on the program with Lombroso of Italy to address the Congress on "The Factors in Crime."

Marshall ....Right end....	Stevenson
Currant .....Full back.....	Gleason
Burgan .....Right half.....	Kremer

It was found necessary to go to press before the game was over last Saturday and so no report could be made of the result.

Dr. Williams Talks.

After a half hour of running signals Dr. Williams gathered the regulars at the east end of the field, and for fifteen minutes lectured them on the possibilities of the game.

After this some more signal work, coupled with further instructions, was indulged in, and the evening's work ended with a run around the track.

Three Weeks of Training.

Friday night closed over three weeks of preliminary training for the squad, over a week at Coney Island, and two weeks on Northrop Field.

DAVID P. JONES

The following is a reprint of an editorial which appeared in the Weekly, November 10, 1902.

David P. Jones, '83, alderman from the fifth ward and at present acting mayor, has brought great honor to his alma mater by the statesman-like manner in which he has risen to the occasion which made him acting mayor of the largest city of the Northwest. Taking up the reins of government when things were in about as bad a shape as it was possible for them to be, his fearless honesty and business-like methods soon brought order out of chaos, and he has given a practical demonstration of how a large city may be well governed. It is not putting it too strong to say that this city has never had a mayor who possessed to a larger degree the confidence of all parties, nor one who has been able to accomplish more in the way of cleaning up the city and putting its government upon a strictly business basis. We are sorry that Mr. Jones could not be prevailed upon to become a candidate for election to the office which he has filled with such distinguished ability.

Now that Mr. Jones has become an active candidate for this office, all lovers of good government, regardless of party lines, have an opportunity to support an ideal candidate for an important position.—Ed.

APPLIED ECONOMICS.

A practical application of Economics to the facts with which we are familiar is being made by the students of Dr. McVey's class in the Elements of Economics. They are examining into the growth and development of population in Minnesota and into the correspondence or variations of industrial progress during the same period. Some valuable information is being collected on the subject.

DEMOCRATIC DOINGS.

The upper class democrats are busy and smoke rises from the Democratic camp. A mass meeting and caucus is announced for Monday at 3 o'clock in the chapel, and candidates for office in the new organization are putting on their running shoes.

H. L. Brady who seconded the nomination of John A. Johnson at the state convention, a senior law and splendid party pusher is willing to take the chair and help get his party sympathizers in line for the ticket.

The Freshman free-for-all was held in Prof. Maria Sanford's room Tuesday afternoon, and a large number of the Freshmen took advantage of the opportunity.

Rose of Michigan, according to a Chicago dispatch, wants to go at Jim Jeffries. These Michigan athletes are such gentlemanly amateurs.

ALBERT H. HALL

Albert H. Hall, son of the venerable and well-known physician, Levi Hall of this city, and brother of Dr. P. M. Hall, Health Commissioner, was born in Ohio. He is in his vigorous prime and has made his growth and development and received his education in Minneapolis. He is a man who has risen by his own industry to an honored position at the Bar. For twenty years he has been in active and general practice throughout the northwest and is a success. His work in the County Attorney's office has justly earned for him a high reputation. In every campaign for the past twenty-five years he has been an advocate of Republican principles and a worker and counselor in the party organization. He has made a vigorous campaign for the congressional nomination and is conceded by all fair-minded judgment to be the best qualified man in the race for Congress. His nomination will strengthen the party ticket and his election will be sure.

The whole saddle is richly decorated with heavy gold work, while the seat is done in expensive lacquered ware. Somewhat unusual in appearance are the heavy, ungainly stirrups and the broad bands of red which are used as reins.

The projections beneath the stirrups are embroidered in gold and give a fair sample of Japanese art with birds scattered over it and the base representing waves.

The saddle was presented to the late Hon. Eugene M. Wilson by Gen. Alexander C. Jones, the U. S. Consul General at Nagasaki.

Professor Shepardson, who acted on the electrical jury at the World's Fair, returned from St. Louis last week.

During his absence, the classes in electrical engineering were in charge of Professor Springer.

On the jury of which Professor Shepardson was a member, were many distinguished electricians from all parts of the world, with one of whom, Prof. Grassi of Turin, Italy, he was especially associated. Many are the tales of twentieth century science which the professor will have to tell his classes. An enormous increase in the number of graduates from the electrical department has been made this year. The class of '05 is 60 per cent. larger than that of last year, while there are over twice as many Juniors.

REMEMBER THE "MAIN."

That is all there is left for us now. The students who have used the old building of late years and have contrasted its antiquated architecture and dark corridors with the other and more modern buildings of the campus greatly to the detriment of the old "Main," can hardly appreciate the feeling of real affection with which the older alumni look back to the old building, which held the whole University as they knew it.

Its destruction, while it will cause great confusion and some real loss in the efficiency of the year's work will no doubt in the end prove a real benefit to the Institution as a whole.

The erection of a more modern building, fire proof and better suited to the needs of the University will follow as a matter of course.

It has been suggested that the erection of an administration building, including administration offices, an assembly hall and class rooms, giving up the present library building wholly to the library and the departments needing to make most use of the library would be a most excellent plan.

The faculty held a meeting at 9:30 Saturday morning and appointed a committee with power to make arrangements for continuing the work of all departments formerly housed in the main building. This committee put in a strenuous day and as a result the program was arranged and printed and placed in the hands of the students Monday morning and work will go on as though nothing had happened.

PORTRAIT OF PRESIDENT NORTHROP.

During the summer, a very fine, nearly full-length portrait of President Northrop, painted by W. W. Churchill of Boston, was hung in the office, and has attracted widespread notice and very favorable comment. The portrait shows the president in his robes as doctor of laws, and is a wonderfully good portrait of the president. Photographs of the President seldom do him justice, but the artist has placed on record the man as we have learned to know and love him.

The portrait is to be presented to the University by the Honorable Greenleaf Clark, president of the Board of Regents. The formal presentation will be made at a later date.

Beside the portrait of the president hangs a portrait of Judge Greenleaf Clark, by the same artist. The portrait is a most excellent likeness of the noble judge, who has the distinction of having served the University most faithfully during thirty years of continuous membership on the Board of Regents.

RECEPTION TO PRESIDENT NORTHROP.

A reception will be given to President and Mrs. Northrop by the faculties and alumni of the various colleges and schools of the University Friday evening, Sept. 30, from eight to ten, in the Armory.

The occasion is the celebration of the 70th birthday anniversary of the President, a wedding celebration and the beginning of the 3d decade of his administration as president.

Every friend of the university is invited as it is desired to make the occasion one that shall show the President what a place he holds in the affections of the great body of students and alumni.

PRESENTS FROM COUNT.

The Count of Lumburg-Sterum, German commissioner at the World's Fair has sent Doctor Folwell four splendid volumes discussing the universities of the German empire.

The exhibits of these universities at St. Louis are simply magnificent. College boards and faculties get many valuable ideas from the study of them.

The Count of Lumburg was a colleague of Dr. Folwell on the international jury of higher education.

POEM BY MISS BLITZ.

Annie Blitz, whose "Ode to Michael Angelo," appeared in the Woman's edition of the Magazine last spring, will contribute to the September Mag a sonnet entitled, "On the Portrait of Vittonia Colonna."

NEW ACTORS CHOSEN.

Although there was an unusually large number of vacancies this year, there were comparatively few trials.

The girls chosen are: Miss Frances Chamberlain; Miss Neel Stanford; Miss Perry Jones; Miss Kate Waterworth; Miss Goodrich; Miss Baier; Miss Marion Barber; Miss Katherine De Vane; Miss Sarah Swenson; Miss Bjertson; Miss Vance; Miss Louise Magnuson.

FOR HIGH SCHOOL DEBATE.

It will be of interest to all old high school debaters to note that arrangements are being made with the Minnesota State Public Library Commission to furnish debating material to the high schools which are entering the Debating League.

The commission has charge of the circulating library and it proposes to send debating material on this year's question to the various districts and then let it circulate back and forth among the districts. There has always been great difficulty in obtaining material in the small towns and this will doubtless prove of valuable assistance to the competitors for forensic honors.

President Northrop was out of the city most of last week. During his absence he spoke at the seventy-fifth anniversary celebration of the founding of Illinois College at Jacksonville, Ill., visited the exposition at St. Louis and took in a meeting of the Congregationists at Des Moines, Iowa.

"Jimmy" Irsfield, he of the smiling countenance, the hero of many football battles, will not wear a Minnesota uniform this fall. So says the faculty committee on athletics.

The loss of the great half-back will be sorely felt by the varsity. Irsfield forgot to comply with some of the registration rules, and as a result, he will coach the central high school team.

Bruce F. Harris '02, was at the University last Friday with his bride, nee Miss Raj Wilkinson, of Crookston. The wedding took place Wednesday the 21st, and Mr. and Mrs. Harris will make their home in Crookston after a short wedding trip. The Weekly extends best wishes.

Frank E. Green, '94 writes from Manila to express his appreciation of the news which the Weekly brings to him. Mr. Green is doing well in the Philippines. His address is 99 Plaza Santa Cruz, Manila, P. I. If any of his friends need to reach him in a hurry, his cable address is "Effigy."

Mr. Neal McDonald, Med. '03, was seen about the campus recently. Since graduation he has been employed on the U. S. battleship Glacier, as physician and surgeon.

He recently won out in a competitive examination against Yale, Columbian and Harvard aspirants.

He will be stationed at Washington, D. C.

NEW BUILDING NEEDED.

Friends of Perry O. Hanson will be pleased to learn of the movement set on foot by the friends of Mr. Hanson and his wife, to assist them in building a new church for their mission at Tai Au Fu. The present quarters are exceedingly cramped, and frequently will not hold the crowds applying for admission. Anyone interested in this matter who would like to assist in such an enterprise may send their money to Mrs. H. A. Ewing, Iola, Kas. We wish that space would allow us to give Mr. Hanson's letter in full, we can simply say that the letter is an exceedingly earnest statement of their situation and shows that the mission is in great need of such a building.

The following personal letter has just been received from George G. Tunell, '92. There are so many things in it of interest to the alumni, that it is given in full:

My dear E. B.: The first number of the Alumni Weekly came last week, and I can assure you that it was very welcome. I enjoy it more than any other paper I receive.

Well! How about the football team? Are we to have a winner? I hope it will be worth while to come up to the Wisconsin game.

You may be interested to know that I have been appointed secretary to the Transportation Section of the Internal Congress of Arts and Science at the Universal Exposition at St. Louis. Mr. J. J. Hill of the Great Northern is chairman of this section. I go down tomorrow night and hope to see some of the U. of M. men then.

A few nights ago, Mr. and Mrs. Sikes invited Elon Huntington of the U. S.

N. and me to dine with them and we had a fine time. Huntington expects Mrs. H. from New York very soon. Mrs. Tunell has been in Oklahoma City for three weeks, but comes back tomorrow. I hope that you will have a good year.

Yours sincerely,

George G. Tunell.

ALUMNI IN POLITICS

On the City and County Tickets.

The following named alumni won out in the primaries held last Tuesday in this city. For mayor, David P. Jones, '83; for city comptroller, Frank N. Stacy, '88; for school director, Fred B. Chute, Law '95; for library director, Fred E. Hobbs, '88; for the district bench, Horace D. Dickinson, Law '90; Andrew Holt, '86, Elijah Barton, Law '94; for register of deeds, George C. Merrill, Law '95; for county attorney, Al. J. Smith, Law '90; for the legislature, Howard B. Chamberlain, Law '99; Byron H. Timberlake, '91; S. S. Smith, Law '99; W. W. Bardell, Law, '90; M. L. Fosseen, Law '95; Carleton L. Wallace, Law '97; George W. Armstrong, Law '98. Dr. U. G. Williams, who pressed D. Percy Jones so closely for the first place on the city ticket graduated from the medical department of the University with the class of '89. One of the greatest disappointments is the fact that Arthur L. Helliwell '95, Law '96, was defeated as a candidate for the legislature. Mr. Helliwell was one of the most useful members of the last legislature not only in looking out for the interests of the University, but as a broad-minded representative of the interests of the city and the state.

OUT IN THE STATE.

The names of the following alumni have been reported in the daily papers as having won the nomination for the various offices specified. If any reader of the Weekly can add any names to this list he will have the hearty thanks of the editor and the readers of the Weekly. The Anoka county returns show Albert F. Pratt, '93, Law '95, for county attorney and Arthur E. Giddins, '89, Law '92, was nominated for district judge.

In Dakota county, P. H. O'Keefe, Law, is the democratic candidate for county attorney. In Faribault county, F. A. Mathwig, Law '93, is candidate for the district bench and O. K. Dahle, Law '94, secured the nomination for county attorney in Houston county. Godfrey G. Goodwin '95, Law '96, for county attorney of Isanti county while George H. Otterness secured the same honor for Kandiyohi county. A. J. Edgerton, Law '98, was nominated for county attorney of Le Sueur county and C. G. Odquist secured the same prize in McLeod. Nels T. Moen, Law '93, drew the same sort of a card for Norman county. O. M. Haugan, '96, varied the monotony by securing the nomination for coroner of Otter Tail county. James H. Maybury, Law '99, fell in the line and secured the nomination for county attorney of Polk county. In Red Lake county, Thomas Germe, Law '90, won the nomination for county attorney, Dr. F. J. Bickford, Med. '82, was nominated for coroner of Redwood county, E. H. Gipson, Law '01, was named for county attorney of Rice county and in Todd county, J. U. Hemmey, '98, received the same distinction. George H. Spear, '93, Law '99, won a brilliant victory over former state senator C. C. McCarthy in a hotly contested fight for the position of county attorney.

Would-be Solons.

The following named alumni will strive for the honor of representing their constituents and the "U" in the legislature, the coming winter:

- George H. Hammond '87, 3rd district.
 G. W. W. Harden, Law '91, 6th district.
 Elias Rachie, '6, '97, Ph. D. '01, Law '02 18th district.
 A. J. Rockne, Law '94, 29th district.
 Walter T. Lemon, Law '99, 33rd district.
 E. O. Wergedahl Law '99, 34th district.
 J. R. Hickey, Law '94, 36th district.
 Thos. C. Fulton, Med. '02, 37th district.
 Elmer E. Adams, '84, 59th district.
 L. C. Simons, Law '95, 61st district.
 Henry Bjorge, Law '98, 60th district.

SIGHT READING LATIN CLASS.

Dr. Savage is about to organize a class for reading at sight selections from the epigrams of Martial. The class will meet once a week during the semester, and the course is open to any students of the Latin department who have completed the Freshman Latin.

SCANDINAVIANS ENTERTAIN.

The University Scandinavian Association has issued invitations to its sixth annual reception to new students to be given Monday evening, Sept. 26th at 8 o'clock in Mrs. Noble's Hall, 321, 14th Ave, S. E.

U. C. A. Reception.

The University Catholic Association held their opening reception Saturday evening in the Y. M. C. A. parlors.

Alex Janes, '03, stopped over for a day, on his way to Harvard, to take in the fire. He will finish his law course this year.

DEATH OF C. L. HERRICK.

Word has been received from Dr. W. G. Tight, president of the University of New Mexico, by Professor N. H. Winchell, of the death of Dr. C. L. Herrick of Socorro.

Dr. Herrick was one of the most prominent of the alumni of the University of Minnesota. He was born in Minneapolis, his father having been a prominent Baptist clergyman and his grandfather one of the pioneers of Minnesota. He was once an assistant on the geological and natural history survey of the state, and several of his reports are now regarded as high authority on the subjects of which they treat. He occupied a professorship at Denison University, Ohio, for several years, and by his energy and zeal he inaugurated in that institution a series of scientific courses which, under his younger brother's charge, have brought that institution to the front in scientific rank.

In failing health he went to New Mexico, where his ability was recognized by his election to the presidency of the territorial university. After several years, his health not improving, he resigned and took his residence at Socorro, where he has latterly acted in a private capacity as expert geologist and engineer to various mining and irrigation enterprises. He was a ready and voluminous writer. He established at Denison the Journal of Neurology, and was for several years an editor of the American Geologist. He received the degree of Ph. D. from the University of Minnesota after he went to New Mexico.

His family consists of a widow and three children, one, a son who is likely to follow in his father's footsteps, being already known as a promising geologist.

The Greek Club met Friday evening at Professor Hutchinson's home.

HISTORY OF OLD MAIN

How and When the First Building on the Campus Was Constructed.

The following is the history of the "Old Main" as given by Registrar E. B. Johnson in the Magazine for June, 1904:

"In 1858 the regents undertook the erection of that portion of the Main Building which is in the rear of the stairway leading to the third floor, and included the stairway. At the time the contract for this portion of the building was let the regents did not have any money in sight save $15,000 of money borrowed and secured on the site which had been purchased on such advantageous terms. There is no doubt but that the regents would have been able to carry the building thru to a successful completion and have instituted a course of instruction had it not been for the terrible financial panic of the two following years. Before the site and building were finally paid for they had cost the state about $125,000 a major portion of this being for interest items.

For a number of years the regents allowed various persons to use this building which was standing idle for the purpose of carrying on private schools but all these schools were short lived and for many years this building stood with the east end closed up with rough boards giving it a decidedly barn like appearance, a sorry monument to mistaken judgment. In 1864 the legislature realized that something must be done and they appointed a board of three regents giving them power to sell certain specified university lands and stumpage to pay the debts of the university. This board consisted of the Hon. John F. Pillsbury, "Father of the University," the Hon. O. C. Merriman and Hon. John Nichols. So faithfully and efficiently did they do their work that when the legislature met in 1867 they were able to report that the debt of the university had been practically wiped out and a considerable portion of the lands placed at their disposal to satisfy the creditors of the university remained unsold.

The legislature of that year voted $15,000 for the repair of the building and the commencing of a course of instruction. This act reorganizing the university was signed by the governor February, 1868, and is counted the real charter day of the university. On September 15, 1869, the university was formally opened by the calling of the first classes. The total enrollment for that year including preparatory students was 212, divided as follows; 138 men and 74 women. Preparatory school had been carried on for two years prior to this day, but the beginning of the real college work is dated September 15, 1869.

The "Old Main Building" was completed in the year 1876, by the building on of that part which housed the Latin department, the department of rhetoric and the ladies parlor. This building has since been thru two fires, the last resulting in the loss of the cupola, which, perhaps more than any one thing is missed most by the alumni of early days, when they come back to visit their Alma Mater.

Mr. Arthur M. Johnson, Academic '04, is teaching Science in St. Cloud High School.

The Democratic Club have finally organized and elected their officers and expect to take active interest in the fall campaign.

The Democratic Club has organized and elected officers and expect to take an active interest in the fall campaign.

IMPORTANT LOSSES.*Many Departments and Faculty Members Lose Heavily.

Some of the losses of the individual departments are estimated as follows: The German department is the heaviest loser. Its Library of 1800 volumes being entirely destroyed. This library was one of the best of its kind in the West and was worth in the neighborhood of $3000.00

The next heaviest loss was that of the English department. Maria L. Sanford, head of this department, alone suffered a loss of over $800.00.

The Y. W. C. A. lost $100 worth of furniture and a new piano worth $400. This piano had not all been paid for yet but the girls were rejoicing over the fact that it would be paid for by January. The girls had no insurance of their own but may be entitled to a share from the general insurance fund.

The Mathematics department also had a considerable loss but is unable as yet to determine its amount.

MAIL SAVED.*Student Guides Firemen to Postoffice. Postmaster Has Mail in Registrar's Office.

The mail in the University postoffice was rescued by three firemen, guided by Oscar E. Warman of 639 Andrus building, a medical student, who broke through the glass door and removed as much mail as possible. There are about 2,000 postoffice boxes there, and as rapid work as possible was made in cleaning them out. Nothing was left in the faculty boxes, and the amount of mail lost was comparatively small under the circumstances.

The rescued mail is now in the hands of the postmaster who has opened a stand in the registrar's office

LOSS TOTAL.

$125,000 on Building and $62,000 on Contents.

The Main building and its contents were valued at $187,000, divided as follows; building $125,000 and contents $62,000.

The loss was a total one.

The insurance amounts to $67,000; $60,500 on the structure and $6,500 on its contents.

STORY OF THE FIRE.*Detailed Account of the Destruction of the Main Building.

Fire which destroyed the Main building broke out at five o'clock Saturday morning. Nearly the whole fire department was called, but before they started operations the fire was beyond control, and in two hours the building was a ruin, being completely gutted with part of the walls caved in.

Captain Guld and his family, who resided in the rear section of the building lost everything and narrowly escaped with their lives. They were awakened by the University teamster and discovered the building full of smoke.

They had hardly left the building before the central part of the structure burst into flames which found a passage up the middle staircase and spread to the rest of the building.

The flames burst through the upper story windows lighting up the campus with a lurid glare which attracted a large number of students from the surrounding neighborhood to the spot.

The fire evidently originated in the basement, but its cause is not known unless some defect in the heating plant is responsible.

The central stairway acting as a flue sucked the flames to the roof where they burst out on both sides of the middle part of the building. The interior of the old building was as inflammable as matchwood and the fire spread rapidly through the halls in no time and soon was raging in every part of the building. An explosion in the rear further aided to spread the flames.

About six o'clock the roof and floors fell with successive crashes and a little later the interior of other parts of the building also collapsed. By this time the old main was transformed into a blast furnace. Powerful streams of water and chemicals which played on every side had absolutely no effect. The efforts of the firemen were directed to protecting the library and other buildings to the eastward in which direction the sparks were being carried.

The walls of the central part which were of a concrete structure were not able to withstand the fury of the rush of flames and crumbled into the ruins. The stone wall of the rear part of the building also collapsed and several spectators barely escaped being crushed by the falling debris.

PUBLICATIONS SUFFER.

Copy and Records Perish in Disastrous Fire.

The offices of the various college publications were completely destroyed in the fire, aggregating a loss which while its financial side will be hard to calculate will be keenly felt by the editorial staff.

The loss is as follows:

The Minnesota Daily office is gutted but the desks with their contents are unhurt save by water. The old files of the Daily and Ariel, together with the pictures of former boards are of course ruined.

The Minnesota Magazine lost considerable furniture, and all its old files. Fortunately most of the copy was in the hands of the printer. $4.00 in cash was also lost.

The Prehistoric Gopher Hole was completely demolished with all its furniture. The board reports no copy lost. Most of the loss was suffered by the members individually in books, etc. About $10 worth of advertising and subscription blanks was also lost.

THE DEPARTMENT LOSSES.

Prof. Hutchinson estimates the loss of the Greek seminar room containing the Greek library at $10,000 or over. Besides this there were many Greek statues and busts with a small amount of very valuable manuscripts which are a dead loss. About $300 worth of Prof. Hutchinson's private library which he had in his office were also lost.

Mr. Oscar Firkins, of the rhetoric department, lost $100 worth of books which were even more valuable because of his personal notes.

Prof. Benton has lost a library which he has spent thirty years in collecting.

Not only the regular Scandinavian library but also all the Scandinavian books belonging to the main library were lost.

THE SWITCH BOARD.

Negotiations have been in process between the "Switch" and the Minnesota Magazine and the Daily, but for the present at least they have decided to remain an independent organization.

Hindered by the matter of advertising their plans are now at a standstill, but it is confidently expected that the Board will be able to overcome all difficulties and appear in print before many moons.

Miss Elizabeth Taylor, the new state secretary of the Y. W. C. A. visited the University last week.

FIRST GAME OF SEASON.

A Touch Down Every Two Minutes.

Averaging Two and One-Half Points for Each Minute of Playing.

The game with the Minneapolis and St. Paul Central High Schools, which was the opening game of the present season, was the most encouraging exhibition of football ever put up by a team representing Minnesota in the first game of the season. During the first half the second team was lined up against St. Paul Central High School, and succeeded in securing a score of 32 to 0. While it is true that the St. Paul boys are simply high school boys, and not supposed to be in the same class with the University team, the fact remains that they put up a plucky fight and did not quit during the whole twenty minutes of the game. The second team made a remarkably good showing for a game so early in the season, and while their playing showed many faults, it also showed many encouraging features.

Varco's run for a touchdown from the kick-off was the feature of this half.

During the second half the first team was lined up against the Minneapolis Central High. The high school boys were fighters all through the game and were up every time after a scrimmage ready for the next, taking out almost no time. The game was a remarkably swift game for a first season's game. The first team went into the game with the distinct purpose of bettering the score made by the second team. They did not only do this but doubled the score and added 11 for good measure. A score of 75, even against a high school team, is a remarkable showing for twenty minutes of play. The boys showed a very commendable spirit in the way they went into the game, every man for all there was in it, and while results showed that they were not up in all the fine points of the game, they did put up a remarkably good game.

Those who have watched the team for years will remember many of the games with the Minneapolis Central High School, in previous years. Some of them have been absolutely distressing to watch, on account of the poor showing made by the Varsity team, and although last Saturday's game was very one-sided, it was exceedingly interesting to watch since it was played with snap on both sides, and the whole thing went off like clock-work without any unnecessary delay.

The features of the second half were the two long runs of Hunter, making a touch-down from the kick-off. Hunter is a whirlwind, and bids fair to be the fastest man ever on a Varsity team.

While nothing but things that are complimentary can be said of the showing of the boys in the first game of the season it must not be taken to mean that the champions of 1904 have "arrived." They have a long, weary road yet to travel before they can claim any such title, but while this is true, it is also true that they have made a very commendable start in the race for the championship of 1904.

MINNESOTA 77, SOUTH DAKOTA 0.

These figures tell the story of Saturday's game. In spite of threatening weather and the excitement of a big fire the crowd was large and the game was thoroughly enjoyed.

NORTHRUP WINS IN TENNIS.

Louis Northrup, '05, who was the University champion for two years was winner in the singles in the York state tennis tournament at Yonkers, N. Y. He was runner-up in the singles.

BURTON TO COACH.

Dr. Richard Burton will take the leading part in the play, "A Pair of Spectacles," to be presented by the Dramatic Club at the Lyceum theater, some time next month.

The Play.

The play is a comedy, written in a clean-cut, artistic style, and has held the stage as a great favorite during the fourteen years since its first presentation.

Several years ago Dr. Burton saw the English comedian Joliee Hare in the leading role, of which he was, in fact, the creator.

When, last year, the Footlights club, of Walpole, New Hampshire, Dr. Burton's home, decided to put on a "Pair of Spectacles," he was chosen to fill the leading part.

The second leading role was played by Harry Leon Wilson, author of "The Spenders," and his wife well known as the illustrator, O'Neil Latham, played opposite Dr. Burton as the heroine of the piece.

After two presentations in Walpole, the club received numerous propositions to put the play on in neighboring towns, but through unfavorable circumstances, were unable to do so.

The Cast.

There are twelve characters in the cast; two old men who are brothers; their two sons; the wife of one of them; two cobblers; an ingenue part; an inconspicuous maid's part; and a travelling gentleman, a friend of the family.

There are three acts and a "set" representing an English breakfast room, and later the drawing room.

Dr. Burton will have entire charge of the coaching and producing of the play, and he is very optimistic as regards the filling of the parts from the Dramatic Club, and final production of the play.

WILLIAM'S WORDS.

"The work of the team considering the first game was very encouraging. While exceedingly crude in all departments, we have reason to hope that with earnest, hard and consistent work, we may again have a team, which will be a worthy representative of the "U of M." Any laxity will be sure to bring about a poor product.

—Dr Henry L. Williams.

FACULTY TENNIS COURT.

Divers members of the faculty have been seen of late hard at work on their cherished tennis court, the promising beginning of which is to be seen behind the Histology building.

PROSPECTS FOR GYM TEAM.

When seen by a reporter recently Dr. Cook said the prospects for a first-class gymnasium team were very bright this year. Four of the old men are back, and there is a wealth of good material on hand that only needs a little training to make it "as good as them make 'em."

Y. W. C. A. LUNCHEON.

Chocolate was served to thirty girls Wednesday noon in the Y. W. C. A. rooms. After luncheon, sixty more girls came to hear a talk by Miss Taylor, on the work of the state committee. She also explained about the state convention to be held in October at Winona, Minn.

The remarkably successful meeting marked the inauguration of the new plan of one meeting a week, to be held in the Y. W. C. A. parlors, Wednesdays, at one fifteen.

Y. M. C. A. PLAN ORCHESTRA.

Believing that there is enough material for a good University orchestra here, the Y. M. C. A., has again undertaken to organize one.

Mr. E. A. Rose, leader of the Band has been secured as director, which in itself insures success.

IN TRAINING.

Basket Ball Girls Getting Ready for Winter's Work.

Evidently the basket ball girls mean business and don't intend to let any time go to waste, for though they will not start their regular practices till some time in November, the whole squad has enrolled in the sixth hour physical culture class and evidently is using this means of preparing for the more strenuous effort to come.

THETA EPSILON ELECTS.

At the first meeting of Theta Epsilon this year the following officers were elected: President, Pearl Buell, vice president, Margaret West, secretary, Margaret Bullard and treasurer, Perree Jones.

OF GENERAL INTEREST

The Woman's League held their first reception in the Armory last Saturday afternoon. It proved a very enjoyable affair. The young women of the League are planning for a year of unusual activity.

The Debating Board is getting busy and are planning for the Inter-collegiate forensic contest of the year. The prospects are exceedingly bright for a year of unusual interest in debating circles.

The Gopher Board is seriously considering increasing the price of next year's annual to $2.00. This action is to be taken, if taken at all, on account of the increased price charged for printing and engraving.

Mr. Hurrey the student secretary of the International Committee of the Y. M. C. A. spoke at the University Sunday afternoon. Mr. Hurrey is always a welcome visitor at the University, and this visit was no exception to the general rule.

Major Morgan has returned to the University after having spent two weeks with the regular army on the historical battle field of Bull Run. The Major acted on the staff of umpires, and reports the campaign very much like the real thing.

The Forensic Honor League, which was established last spring just before the close of the college year, is seriously considering the advisability of expanding its organization so as to include other colleges in a manner similar to other honorary societies such as the Phi Beta Kappa.

HOMEOPATHIC OPENING.

The College of Homeopathic medicine and surgery opened most auspiciously with an address by Oscar K. Richardson, '90, Med. '93. A fuller notice of this meeting was prepared for the first issue of the Weekly, but in some way was accidentally side-tracked.

A chapter of Phi Beta Kappa has been installed at Leland Stanford University, a charter having been granted at the recent triennial convention.

IDENT

Friday evening witnessed one of the most informal, hearty and spontaneous outbursts of expression of devotion and fealty that was ever accorded to a citizen of the state of Minnesota. For over two hours the Armory was thronged with a great crowd who had come to pay their respects to the honored president of the University. Over four thousand friends of President Northrop stood patiently in line waiting for an opportunity to grasp his hand and to express their devotion and to wish him many more years of health and happiness. It was a notable occasion and was one that was tended to impress upon the president the fact that he holds no small place in the affection of the thousands with whom his duties bring him in contact.

Thus auspiciously was celebrated the seventieth anniversary of President Northrop's birthday, the forty-third anniversary of his wedding and the beginning of the twenty-first year of his administration as president. Mrs. Northrop, who stood by the president the whole evening, added much to the joy of the occasion by her charming graciousness.

In behalf of the alumni, thousands of whom would have been glad to have been present and presented their congratulations in person, the Weekly extends to President Northrop its congratulations and heartiest good wishes for many more years of useful service as head of the University of Minnesota. The history of the University, for the twenty years just past, constitutes a record of which any man might well be proud. But the demonstration of last Friday night, which showed so clearly the universal esteem in which our president is held, was an honor that comes to few men and never comes to one not worthy.

TALKS OF OXFORD.

Miss Spaulding, an instructor in a prominent collegiate training school in London, was a visitor in the history department Thursday.

She gave a very interesting and instructive talk to the third hour class in English Constitutional History.

Miss Spaulding is a graduate of Oxford, and told many things of interest to the American student about that famous institution.

MODERN INDUSTRIALISM.

Dr. McVey's new book on Modern Industrialism, published by the Appleton Co., New York City, will appear on October 15th.

MISS BARBOUR LEAVES.

Miss Barbour, who has been assistant physical director of the 'Varsity girls for a number of years, has resigned her position here.

She goes to Manhattan, Kansas, where she will be physical director of the young women in the Agricultural College.

Miss Barbour has always been a prime favorite with the girls of the University, and she will be sorely missed.

EDITORIAL.

For many years the University was governed by a board of regents appointed by the governor, and confirmed by the senate of the state, and during the years of such rule the University prospered, and not a word of criticism could be passed upon the financial management of the institution. The record of those years of administration are an open book, which all may read and know. The history of how the board of control came to be placed in charge of the finances of the University, is such recent history, that it is probably familiar to every reader of the Weekly. Lest some should not have the matter clearly in mind, the following condensed statement is made. The board of control bill was before the legislature, a University alumnus was its special champion and defender. There came a moment when the enemies of the bill were determined to defeat the bill at all hazards. As a last resort they determined to make the bill odious by bringing under its provisions the educational institutions of the state. The man who offered this amendment had no other thought in mind, and for a moment it seemed as though they had won, but the gentleman who most closely represented the University interests, as well as being a special champion of the board of control bill, met the opposition according to the demands and allowing the educational institutions of the state to be brought under the provisions of the bill. The bill in its amended form passed. It was believed by the friends of the University that the bill, in the form in which it was passed, was unconstitutional, since the title of the bill was not amended to include the educational institutions. The governor signed the bill with that understanding in mind, and for something over a year the board of regents continued in full exercise of their complete authority over the affairs of the institution. The normal school board voluntarily waived what they considered their right and placed themselves under the charge of the board of control. Within a few weeks friction arose and there was trouble between the two boards concerning the division of authority, and the normal school board attempted to withdraw from the position in which they had voluntarily placed themselves. This attempt was resisted in the courts and the matter was brought before the supreme court of the state, and the court decreed that educational institutions of the state were included in the title of the bill under the provision for the care of "charitable" institutions. Such a decision, of course, had to stand, although including the educational institutions with the "charitable" institutions is undoubtedly repugnant to the sensibilities of all right thinking people. The regents were allowed to continue in exercise of full authority of matters relating to the University, and when the legislature met, the matter was brought to them and a special attempt made by the friends of the institutions located at Faribault and Owatonna, to secure the release of those institutions by using the University and normal schools as a whip. A bill passed the house removing all of the institutions from the provisions of the board of control bill, but was defeated in senate. Another bill originated in the house, removing simply the Faribault institutions, the normal schools and the University passed the house, but was defeated in senate. A third bill removing simply the University and the normal schools from the provisions of the bill originated in the senate, passed that body, but was defeated in the house. Friends of the other institutions grasping at the last straw that seemed to offer any hope of their ever being released from the board of control, turned against the University and secured the defeat of the bill. The legislature adjourned and it seemed to the regents that since the legislature had had the question fairly before it, and not removed the University from the provisions of the bill, the proper thing for them to do was to accept the will of the people, as expressed through the legislature, and overtures were made to the board of control and an attempt made to come to some agreement concerning the powers of each board. A modus vivendi was established, and the board of control is now in its second year of the financial management of the institution. The year and a half during which the two bodies have had each partial control of the institution, has determined beyond a doubt that such control is not for the good of the institution. The board of control put itself on record as opposed to such control, before assuming the financial charge of the University, and more recently in a preliminary statement of their forthcoming report given to the press, has again committed itself as opposed to such control. The Regents have put themselves on record as opposed to such control; Governor Van Sant has urged such relief and the departments of the University are a unit in their belief that the present system is both cumbersome and inefficient and opposed to the true interests of the University.

Now the University is threatened with a new, and it is believed by most friends of the University, a still greater peril in the form of an educational board of control. Friends of this idea propose to use the present unfortunate condition of affairs as a whip to force through the new educational board of control bill. It therefore becomes the duty of every alumnus of the University, and its other friends, to do all in their power to prevent the consummation of this unfortunate plan. Every member of the legislature soliciting the support of the friends of the University should be made to pledge himself absolutely to work and vote for the repeal of the present law so far as it relates to the University, and further pledge himself to work and vote against the proposed new bill. The peril is a real one and the friends of the University should rally to its support. It is an exceedingly distressing state of affairs when friends of one institution of a state can use the greatest educational institution in the state, as a whip, to secure their own ends. The affairs of the University should be considered on their own merits, and absolutely independent of all other considerations, save the good of the state as a whole, and the interests of the University and the interests of the state are one.

No friend of the University will object to any act of the legislature intended to secure economy and carefulness in the determining of what expenditures shall be made and any act which the people of the state feel is necessary to secure this end, and yet not hamper the institution in its development, will be welcomed by the friends of the University, but there is no question that a bill giving partial control of the institution to each of two boards amounts to neither board being able to control it. All expenditures must be the result of compromise and such compromises cannot but result in a loss of efficiency in the work of an institution of such a kind. It is hoped that every friend of the University may come to see and appreciate the full force of the situation as it exists today, and be alert to assist in removing the University from the present situation and placing it in a position where it will again stand unhampered in its work for the good of the state.

A letter from Robert Keyes, who is now at Alpine, Calif., says the former manager of the dramatic club is in the best of health and doing nicely on 180 avoirdupois. Bob will return to Minneapolis after the winter is past and will probably finish his work at the "U" next year.

STRONG IN PSYCHOLOGY.

In an article in Science for Sept. 2, Dr. James Burt Miner discusses the present position of psychology in American universities.

Among other facts he notes the number of students taking elementary courses in the subject. Last year Minnesota ranked fifth in this respect, the figures being: Columbia (including Teachers' College and Barnard), 435; Harvard, 300; Princeton, 250; Nebraska, 225; Minnesota, 175.

This year Minnesota promises to take third place with an enrollment of 275 in elementary psychology alone.

The large enrollment at Columbia is due to the fact that psychology is a required subject in the three colleges comprised in the University.

AFTER THE HIGH DEGREES

Owing to the fire the committee on graduate studies and higher degrees will have its headquarters in Dr. McClumpha's room.

Forty students have already applied for graduate studies of which number 32 are applying for master of arts degree and five for the degree of Doctor of philosophy.

Besides the students of our own university, there are representatives from the universities of Michigan, Chicago, California, Kansas, Iowa and Wisconsin; also Gustavus Adolphus, St. Olaf, Wittenburg and other neighboring institutions.

The number of applications for graduate work received this year is twice as large as was received last year to a corresponding date.

Do Honor to President Northrop

Thousands of Loyal Minnesotans Congratulate Our President on the Anniversary of His Birthday, Wedding and the Completion of His Second Decade at the University

Surrounded by their many friends President and Mrs. Northrop received the hearty congratulations of faculty, student body, and alumni at the reception tendered in their honor in the Armory last Friday night.

The occasion was one worthy of the event it was planned to celebrate. The birthday, wedding anniversary, and the commemoration of President Northrop's entrance upon the third decade of his work at the University, is an epoch-making event, and the large number who gathered at the Armory Friday night seemed to realize the fact.

The decorations were in keeping with the surroundings. A vast expanse of white shielded the rafters from view. The walls were hung with autumn leaves, while the national colors lent dignity to the occasion.

The University Band appeared in full for the first time this year, and graced the evening with music.

Eight frappe bowls, each presided over by four girls and two boys from each class, were the source of the refreshments provided for the multitude.

Twelve cadets in full uniform proved excellent ushers, and ably assisted the reception committee, which consisted of the Board of Regents, Hon. Greenleaf Clarke, Gov. Van Sant, Hon. J. W. Olson, Hon. Stephen Mahoney, Hon. O. C. Strickler, Hon. J. S. Wyman, Hon. E. E. Adams, Hon. W. M. Liggett, Hon. A. E. Rice, Hon. E. W. Randall and their wives, and the deans of the various colleges: John F. Downey, Fred S. Jones, William R. Appleby, William S. Pattee, Parks Ritchie, Eugene L. Mann, William P. Dickinson, and Frederick J. Wulling, and their wives.

The following is the text of a letter written by President Theodore Roosevelt in reply to a letter inviting him to attend the reception given Friday night in honor of President Northrop:

I wish it were in my power to be present with you on September 30, when you celebrate at the same time President Northrop's birthday, the anniversary of his wedding and the completion of his twentieth year of administration of the institution.

President Northrop has been one of the men who have reflected honor upon American scholarship; one of those men who have united wide learning as to the past with clear judgment as to the future; and to whom it has been given, therefore, not only to do much for the cause of education here in the United States, not only to add to the record of American scholarship, but also to show by practical example how the scholar, the student, the man of letters, the head of a great university, can be a power in the ceaseless efforts for civic and social betterment.

Thru you I wish to convey to him the expression of my hearty regard and admiration.

Faithfully Yours,

county in the recent primaries. Having no opposition his election is assured.

A. M. Kvello, Law '01, was married on July 27th last at Redwood Falls, Minn., to Miss Myrtle Cooper. Mr. Kvello is States Attorney for Ransom county, North Dakota, and will be re-elected at the fall elections.

Dr. James Burt Miner, '97, formerly assistant in psychology at this University, has been appointed instructor in philosophy at the University of Iowa. He was last year instructor in psychology at the University of Illinois.

Frank A. Fernald, Eng. '04, has been located at Staples during the summer and in charge of a piece of railroad construction between that point and Wadena. As the work is practically completed he expects to be transferred very soon to some other point.

Dan Smith, of football fame, has at last expressed his willingness to lead the second year men, provided they are as unanimous in their support of him at the ballot as they are in their expressions of approval at the present time.

Dr. E. R. Barton, ex-'96, shows his continued interest in the "U" by renewing his subscription to the Weekly and sending in several important news items. Dr. Barton has recently been appointed local surgeon of the N. P. Ry. at Frazee, Minn., where he is located.

W. C. T. Adams, M. A. '04, has just been elected dean of the normal college and professor of pedagogy of Upper Iowa University at Fayette, Iowa. Mr. Adams has recently received his Ph.D., from Taylor University. He says that he enjoys the work of his new position and pledges himself to stand by the Weekly.

John Keohane, '04, Arthur W. Fowler, '04, M. W. Moore, '03, and S. D. Adams, '01, were admitted to practice before the North Dakota Supreme Court at the late September term, after passing the required examinations. Mr. Keohane is located at Gakes, Fowler at Fargo, Moore at Rugby and Adams at Lisbon, as a member of the firm of Rourke, Kvello and Adams.

John B. Hawley, '87, consulting engineer and city engineer of Fort Worth, Texas, writes for catalog, and says that he has several promising candidates in line for U. of M., and adds:

"Please convey my respects and kindest regards to Mr. President. (Sorry that you folks feel it necessary to live up in Greenland, when you might as well be in sunshine and flowers the year around.")

It is reported through Washington that 1st Lieut. (Assistant Surgeon) Thos. Devereux, Acad. '97, died in Manila, P. I., Sept. 24th, 1904, of acute tuberculosis. Lieut. Devereux was a member of Zeta Psi and was appointed assistant surgeon in the army from Minnesota in June, 1902. He was on duty on board Transport Sheridan and had been all over the world in the two years he had seen service.

Luke K. Sexton, Law '02, writes from Eden Valley, Minn., as follows:

"I desire to be remembered with gratitude to my many friends connected with the management of the University of the state of Minnesota and especially to the professors of the law department thereof, and my class associates. I am in the very best of health and enjoying sufficient patronage to warrant a prosperous livelihood."

Ingvold A. Rosok, Eng. '03, who has been with the General Electric Company at Schenectady, N. Y., has this summer been traveling in Norway and Sweden. While in Norway he met Mr.

C. O. Rosendahl, '01, who has spent his vacation traveling in northern Europe.

On his return he was appointed to the position of Electrical Engineer in the United States War Department, and is now stationed at Fort Russell, Wyoming.

Miss Irene McKeehan, '03, writes

My dear Mr. Johnson: Will you please send my Alumni Weekly to the address given below? I am here as principal of a small, but flourishing high school and am enjoying my work and the good air of the "Range" very much. However, there is a dearth of Minnesota people here and I am longing for University news. Our superintendent is a Michigan man and the other high school teachers are from Cornell and Lawrence. I have to go twelve miles over to Biwabik to see Miss MacFarlane, who is teaching there, before I can talk over old times, the dear old "U" and the class of Naughty-Three.

One thing that we talked over regretfully at our last meeting together was your resignation. We both agreed that nothing more disastrous could have happened to the University and especially to the Alumni. I am sincerely sorry that it had to be.

Cordially yours,

Irene P. McKeehan,

LEAVE OF ABSENCE.

Miss Guthrie, assistant librarian, is to take an indefinite vacation on account of ill health. During her absence her place in the library will be filled by Miss Anna Hawley of Minneapolis.

Miss Anna Hawley graduated from the University in '98 and since that time has taught in the Anoka high school.

She is a sister of Miss Elizabeth Hawley, one of the present assistants in the library.

FIRE AFTERMATH.

At a meeting between President Northrop, Judge Clark, president of the board of Regents, and the Board of Control, it was decided that plans for a new building should be immediately drawn up, showing what rooms will be needed for the general comfort and the approximate size of the building required.

The scheme will then be submitted to an architect, who will draw up specific plans and a front elevation.

Nothing definite in regard to the erection of the building can be done until the matter has been brought up before the legislature.

Dr. Brooks of the Greek department finds that about three fourths of his Archaeology books, which were recovered, may be repaired and rebound for use.

The chimney that towered high above the ruins of Old Main, and which has been threatening to fall ever since the fire, collapsed Friday noon.

Fortunately it fell inward toward the pile of debris, and no one was hurt.

The loss of the Departmental libraries and the manuscripts belonging to several members of the faculty, is almost the severest misfortune that could have befallen the University.

Professor Hutchinson says, "I estimate the loss of the Greek library alone at $10,000. About $250 worth of my own private library which I kept in my office is also gone." A great many of the Greek books, however, were saved, being slightly damaged by water.

A large part of the German library was let down in bushel baskets, many of the books being practically uninjured.

Dr. Bauer feels very badly over the loss of his Solid Analytical Geometry.

He says, "I am sorry to lose the manuscript, as I have been working on it for two years, but I think in time I shall be able to duplicate it as I have most of the formulæ in my head."

The report that Dean Downey recovered his cabinet with manuscripts, is untrue. Unfortunately, the only manuscript saved was his class book.

Prof. Sanford has been able to save a large portion of her valuable library, which was in the little office back of her room. A great many of the priceless volumes, including some of her own writings, were in her desk and as this was totally destroyed, the loss will be a great one, but from the point of numbers, if not of value, the major portion of the library was recovered. Many of the books that were saved were, however, damaged more or less by the smoke and water. She carried $900 insurance on the library.

The work of tearing down the walls of the old Main that are still standing is to begin at once.

This is the result of the advice given by the city building inspector, who was on the campus yesterday, examining the remains of the structure.

He pronounced the whole structure to be in Danger of Collapsing at any moment, and especially if a storm should arise.

Capt. Guild will set a corps of men at work immediately to tear down the west wall of the middle portion, and all the walls will be taken down as soon as possible.

One important fact revealed by the fire, or rather brought to the notice of the students, is that the "Old Main" building was constructed without fire escapes.

The awful loss of life which must have resulted had the fire occurred during class hours is appalling, and the University is to be congratulated that the fire occurred when it did.

The emergency program has been working successfully and will probably be made permanent with but very few changes.

The most official and also most historic souvenirs of the "Old Main" are the post-office box doors. Monday morning the front of the ruins, on the ground floor was crowded with students anxious to rescue the doors which were nearly all decorated with initials or other marks of art.

Everybody tried to get his own box and the more charred and watersoaked the wood was, the luckier the owner considered himself.

Capt. Guild was seen digging energetically among the ruins, but he did not succeed in recovering much that was of value.

CORRECTED LIST.

The girls chosen were: Miss Frances Chamberlain; Miss Neel Stanford; Miss Perry Jones; Miss Kate Waterworth; Miss Goodrich; Miss Baier; Miss Marion Barber; Miss Katherine De Veau; Miss Sarah Swenson; Miss Bjertson; Miss Vance; Miss Sadie Preston.

WOMEN'S LEAGUE.

Registration for the Women's league is growing rapidly and will at least equal, if not exceed that of last year.

Social Plans.

for this year include two large receptions at the Armory. In addition to this there will be a number of "specials." Among the latter there will be a big sunlight dance and, from time to time, one-act plays by the league members of the Dramatic Club. Some musical treats are also planned.

JAP ARTIST AT WORK.

Skilled Oriental Painting Birds and Fish in Pillsbury Hall.

Kako Morita, a Japanese artist of note, is at work in Pillsbury Hall on a series of water color paintings of fish which will be used in the report of the state zoological commission.

The artist will also make several bird pictures to be used in the same report.

Kako Morita is a graduate of the University of Tokio and is a member of the Japanese society of art. He is the brother of a Japanese army officer and comes from a family of rank.

He has been in this country but two months, coming to Minneapolis from Leland Stanford University.

Dr. Smith of the Department of Sociology rejoined his classes recently after a week's absence at the World's Fair.

While there he gave an address before the International Congress of Science and Arts, his subject being "Factors in Crime." There were present 200 scholars representing all parts of Europe.

This congress is regarded as one of the most important ever held. Dr. Smith was the only representative from Minnesota who made an address.

Y. M. C. A. CLASSES.

The number of students who have entrance conditions this year is not nearly so large as last year. The difference is in higher algebra and solid geometry in which studies there are not so many who are deficient. The number conditioned in other classes is about the same as usual.

These conditions are made up in the Y. M. C. A. Educational department which has become a distinct feature of association work. At a small expense students who have conditions may make them up in these classes, which meet twice a week at the noon hour.

LITERARY UNION BUSY.

The Literary Union is beginning active work for the year and expects to have a more successful year than ever before. The Union holds four meetings each year in which the genius and talent from every literary society is represented.

The different societies have elected their members on the program committee and a program will soon be forthcoming.

Mr. Phillips, the newly elected president, is very enthusiastic over prospects for the coming year, and Miss Kelsey, secretary and treasurer, promises that the best talent of the Minervas shall be represented at each meeting.

CADETS SEPARATED.

Owing to the conflict of classes in the engineering department with the Tuesday drill, Major Morgan has put the engineers and academics in separate battalions, the engineers to drill two hours on Thursday to make up for the Tuesday drill.

TOO YOUNG.

Girl in Mining Building.—"My, there are a lot of nice boys here."

Senior Coed.—"Yes, but they're all minors."

MINERVAS GIVE SPREAD.

The Minervas held a spread last evening at the home of Miss Iris Newkirk in honor of Mrs. O. P. McElmeel, nee Cornish. Mrs. McElmeel was one of the founders of the Minerva Literary Society and intends to do active work in the society this year. After a most pleasant time spent in games and music, the spread was held and Mrs. McElmeel presented with a couple of pieces of statuary, one of Minerva.

Following this, many of the girls responded to toasts. Miss McIntyre, Presentation Speech. Acceptance, Mrs. McElmeel. Relations of Minervas and Shaks, Miss Belle Dredge. Our Goddess, Miss Mary Weed.

NEW POST OFFICE.

The students will not have to get in line for their mail much longer.

Arrangements have been completed for a new post-office which will be located in the lobby of the Library building. The post-office boxes will surround three sides of the quadrangle formed by the four pillars in the rotunda. The opening will be on the fourth side, where the post-office desk and the desk of the business manager of the Daily will be situated.

There will be regular post-office boxes as there were before, and in order to do away with the present inconvenience, matters will be rushed as hard as possible.

A few Juniors got together and held a meeting to organize a Junior Ball Association. No notice was given save to the elect few until the announcement was given to the press of the consummation of the organization. The members of the Junior class who had not been consulted were filled with wrath at the nerve of the few who had dared to appropriate to themselves the complete control of an important Junior function. This wrath knew no bounds when it was learned that the president of the association was not even a member of the Junior class.

Giving every Minnesota rooter a fright lest the goal line should be crossed, and then proving easy victims for the Varsity players, the soldiers from Shattuck were finally counted losers to tune of 75 to 0.

In the first half Dr. Williams sent in a very

under the leadership of Weisel at quarterback.

Shattuck kicked off at 4:15, and after getting the ball on a fumble, began a march for Minnesota's goal. At the fifteen yard line a trial was made at a goal kick, which went wide.

After that Shattuck never had a chance to score. At the end of the first half the score stood Minnesota 5, Shattuck 0.

the line-up made a different showing, most of the regular men putting in an appearance.

After a short period of play, Current was pushed over for the first touch-down of the second half. After that Minnesota did the Parade Act.

Every Minnesota player figured in plays ranging from five to one hundred yards, the latter being a spectacular after he had caught the ball from the kick-off.

A feature of the game was a gain of 25 yards by Varco, who then fumbled to Luce who made 5 yards, then fumbling to Kremer who in turn made 15 yards before he was finally downed.

Hunter and Varco were the

of the day, with Smith, Brush, Luce, Current and Kremer all doing good work. Strathern played his usual game at center.

The Fire Extra of the Daily was an exceedingly creditable production and the students will cherish the number as a memorial of the "Main."

UNIVERSITY 65—CARLETON 0.

Last Saturday's game was so one-sided and was marred by so many injuries to the visiting team that it was really a distressing exhibition of football. The Carleton men were game and fought to the very end, but could make no headway against Minnesota's line and but once did they get by the end for any considerable gain and that was on a trick play when Minnesota was caught napping.

The game was the first of the season to give anything like a comparison with last year's team. It is generally acknowledged that Carleton's team is stronger this year than last and yet Minnesota doubled the score and added seven for good measure.

The game was marked by but few spectacular plays, two by Marshall and some half dozen by Hunter, one especially in which he shook off three Carleton men who tackled him and broke away for a touchdown.

Toward the latter part of the game Minnesota let up somewhat and at intervals played a "sloppy" game. One fumble gave a Carleton man a clear field for a touchdown and it was only due to the fact that the man who picked up the ball was too exhausted to take advantage of the good fortune which chance threw in his way, that Minnesota's record was not tarnished by being scored against by a weak team.

Hunter, as usual, carried off the honors of the day, though he was close pressed by Marshall and Case. All of the men did their duty and the only real criticism to be made was, as noted above, a tendency to let up which is apt to result disastrously in a game even against a weak team and is sure to foster habits which will weaken the team when it goes up against the real thing.

Carleton won the admiration of the crowd for the plucky fight they put up.

The men were quick and knew not a little of football and tackled members of the opposing team fiercely and with a reckless disregard of consequences which showed real football spirit.

The officials were very strict with Minnesota and called offside and holding so many times that the total penalties amounted to more than the full length of the field. This is as it should be and will show its good results when the big games begin to come on.

The score of 65 to 0 was most satisfactory when the fierce game put up by Carleton is taken into consideration.

Up to date, Minnesota has played four games, a total of 150 minutes and has made a total score of 324 to opponents' zero, a trifle over two points a minute.

N. B.—ALUMNI TEACHERS.

About twenty teachers, mostly from the class of 1902, had applied for endorsement of their teachers certificates. These applications were destroyed with the Main Building and there is no record of the names. If those to whom this applies will send their applications again to the Registrar's office the matter will be attended to without delay.

STANFORD FIRE PROTECTION.

A fire system has been organized at the Stanford University. A two-story fire house has been built and arranged like the regular city fire stations. The nucleus of the department will consist of six men who will live in the house, five of whom will be university students, and the other a man in the employ of the university. The firemen will have the free use of the living rooms. The preference for firemen will be given to students who are earning their way through school and who are physically fitted for the position.

The Glee and Mandolin Clubs are taking on new life and planning for another year's work.

A CHANGE IN PLANS

Early last August word was received from the Board of Control allowing the printing of an alumni directory for the present year, and plans have been going forward with that understanding up to the present time. Last Wednesday, at a meeting of the executive committee of the Board of Regents, it was decided in view of all the facts of the case, and in view of the special notice just received from the Board of Control, to cut out the appropriation of $450 which had been made for this purpose. This means, of course, that the registrar will not be able to issue, for the University, an alumni directory. It has seemed to the editor of the Weekly that such a directory ought to be issued at the present time, and the Weekly has determined to undertake the issuing of such a directory as a special number of the Weekly to be gotten out early in December. This can only be done by the hearty co-operation of the alumni. The editor of the Weekly must assume the full financial responsibility, and has done this in the belief that the alumni will stand by the undertaking. In order to insure the success of the undertaking the Weekly makes the following proposition to the alumni. Those who are not already subscribers of the Weekly, and who will subscribe for same at the regular rate of $1.00, will receive a copy of the special number of the Weekly containing the directory. Those who are already subscribers and who pay their subscription by December 1st, will receive a copy, and those who do not care to subscribe for the Weekly, but would like a copy of the directory will be able to secure one by the payment of fifty cents, to bear the expense of issuing such a directory. This is a small matter to any single alumnus, we believe that such a directory is needed at the present time. Another factor which enters into consideration is the fact that the present registrar, perhaps better than any one else, is in a position to issue such a directory and make it of the highest value, will not be available for such work another year. It is to be hoped that the alumni will take hold of this matter and each one be willing to do his or her part to make the undertaking a success. Each subscriber of the Weekly will confer a great favor upon those who have undertaken the responsibility of putting this thing through to a successful completion, by bringing the matter to the attention of the other alumni.

HONORABLE ROBERT C. DUNN

Republican Candidate for Governor

The friends of the University of Minnesota may feel satisfied that with Mr. Dunn as governor of the state the needs and wants of the University will receive every consideration. With a Republican governor and a Republican legislature all measures which may be brought before the legislative body will receive greater attention than they possibly could if one of the branches of state government was controlled by the Democrats. There need be no fear that with Mr. Dunn in the governor's chair any legislation intended to hamper the University or the scope of its work will receive any consideration at his hands.

BUSINESS STATEMENT

Owing to a new ruling in regard to mailing second class matter, the Weekly's mailing list had to be re-arranged. In the re-arrangement a number of errors have crept in and it may take some time to eliminate the same. Will subscribers kindly notify the Weekly in case anything is wrong with their name and address as it appears upon the wrapper.

A PERMANENT TESTIMONIAL.

A committee representing all of the various colleges of the University, composed mainly of the deans of the colleges, has decided definitely to do something to commemorate the closing of the twenty years of the administration of President Northrop, and to establish at the University, in some place to be hereafter designated, some fitting testimonial of the universal esteem in which President Northrop is held. It has been further definitely decided that this memorial shall take the form of a bust or statue, either in bronze or marble. This is to be erected from the free-will offerings of the faculty, students, alumni and friends of the University. The committee will not decide upon just what form the memorial will take until they have in their hands whatever the friends of the President may freely offer for the purpose. Notices will be sent to the alumni, and the faculty, and students and friends of the President will be given an opportunity to give, whatever they are willing to give freely, for such purpose. The committee has gone at the thing with the commendable purpose of closing up the matter in the briefest possible period of time and to make the memorial, the expression of as hearty and spontaneous an outburst of good feeling, as was the reception given in President Northrop's honor one week ago last Friday night.

A NEW BOOK.

The alumni will be interested in the announcement that Mary Frances Sanford, '02, general secretary of the University Y. W. C. A., has a book of poems in press. For the main part the book is to be a collection of poems that have already been published. Those who have read and enjoyed the all too few poems, that have come from Miss Sanford's pen, will be glad of an opportunity to possess in book form, a collection of such rare beauty and evincing real poetic insight and inspiration.

JOHN A. JOHNSON'S SPEECH.

Extract from the speech of John A. Johnson, the Democratic candidate for governor delivered in Minneapolis, Saturday, September 24th.

The management of our state institutions is properly an issue in this campaign. Two policies have been pursued at different times. For years they were managed by separate boards of management, but more recently by a board of control. Mr. Dunn was one of the early advocates of the present system and as state auditor urged the adoption of the present plan by the legislature. As a member of the state senate I resisted the innovation as far as it lay within my power. Hoping to defeat the measure I favored an amendment including the educational institutions, as to their financial management, this amendment being offered by myself.

I have no apology for that action now. It was not an action prompted in any way by any unfriendliness to the State University, the normal schools or any other educational institution, but was prompted by a thought of the best interests of the state and those institutions operated by the state and with the belief that the board of control would become partizan and be used to further political ends of those in power.

I believe that the past has to some extent borne out that view of the question. There must always be a difference of opinion as to the best method, but the state is practically agreed that it is the duty of society to care for its unfortunates, and undertaking that duty, it becomes the further duty to perform it to the best advantage of those coming within the scope of paternal care.

The board of control has doubtless made some saving in some of the departments of its work, but often this has been done at the expense of the comfort of the unfortunate wards of the state. However, it is manifestly unfair to unduly criticize the system without being in possession of the facts.

Contracts are made in secret and the business of the public is withheld from the public itself. Freedom should prevail and suspicion might be removed by having public business transacted in the light of day. As our nominee for governor stated in the last campaign, the important question is not in the saving per capita, but whether the state receives adequate return for every dollar of the money expended in the care of the state wards. The system is comparatively new and is entitled to a fair trial; it should be removed as far as possible from the machinery and spirit of partizan politics, and while altruism should obtain in the management of the penal and charitable institutions of the state, there should always be kept in sight the one cardinal doctrine of honesty in public affairs and honesty in the expenditures of the money which is taken from a heavily taxed people.

Would Not Handicap University.

As to the State University and the normal schools, I want to say that it was never intended that the board of control should have more than financial jurisdiction over them. The educational institutions should not be restricted in any way in the good work they are doing, and the educational policy and methods should lie wholly within the authority of those in charge, and to that end I believe there should be no change in the law as it now exists. I do not and would not favor any change to a board of control for the University.

Our great University, which stands among the great educational institutions of the world, is the pride of all our people; he would be untrue to the state and its youth who would do aught to hinder or hamper it in even the slightest degree in the fruition of its purpose and the endeavor of those carrying on the great work. The state is great in its people and its wealth, generosity should be and is extended towards education, but the generosity so extended should not encourage prodigality.

Every dollar devoted to education should be honestly applied to education and not be diverted to the political advantage of anyone. No one has a higher regard for our educators than myself and far be it from me, a citizen or a public official, to say or to do aught to lower the standard. Our citizenship is due to education and if elected governor of this state I shall do all within my power to promote and encourage it. Without fear of the motive being misunderstood I say; God speed to the splendid president of our University and every other teacher in the state, from that magnificent institution to the humblest of our public schools.

The people who generously give of their earnings are not less interested than those in authority, and that every means be employed to the upbuilding of our system for learning, let it be understood now and forever that those in authority will do nothing to lessen the desire of the people to continue the generosity and loyalty.

I hold that every man that holds a public trust must be held to the strictest account for good and efficient service and that he must abide by the law of the people in whose service he may be. There must be conscience in the public service or the state will decline. Whatever may have been done in the past I take this position now, that there should be no change in our board of control system so far as it applies to education.

Let educators manage educational institutions; let only men known for their strength of character, their ability and worth, be appointed on the board of regents and other boards and let our schools be divorced entirely from partizan politics. A separate board of control for the educational institutions, would, it seems to me, work no good for society; it would reach to the high school, the college of the common people, and might endanger the well-being of our educational system. In other words, let us let well enough alone.

"A GREAT LOSS."

Mary Mills West, '90 (Mrs. Max West) in September Lippincott's.

"Excuse me," she said to the girl at the ribbon counter, "but did you see anything of a parcel? I have lost one somewhere and I think I must have left it here. You haven't found any? I was sure you would have seen it. You say you would if I had left it here? Well, then I must have lost it somewhere else. The floorwalker? Oh, yes. Oh, see here, please, Mr. Floorwalker, I have lost a package somewhere in the store. What was it? Why, I don't know, I'm sure. Why should I I only know that I had something that I haven't now. What is that, madam? You would like to get up to the counter? Well, I am sorry I can't move, but I have lost a package and I shall have to stay here until they find it for me. What counters have I been too? Let me see. I went to the handkerchief place first, but those handkerchiefs that were advertised at 19 cents were nothing like as nice as those you can get at Moneymaker's for 17 cents, so I took only three dozen. Oh, no, I had them sent; I couldn't think of waiting for them with that crowd of women elbowing me and stepping on my toes. Then I bought some new ice cream plates at a simply ruinous price—I shall never be able to look my husband in the face when I tell him what I paid for them. And—let me see—I ordered some red flannel to make petticoats for my cook's cousin's children; there are eight of them, and all with the measles. Then I bought a new tea-kettle for the kitchen; perhaps you think I lost that? What is that? You are too busy to wait any longer? Well, why don't you go then? You can send a superintendent to me, if you prefer. What is that you say? You think that by this time my parcel has been reported to the lost and found desk? Very well, I will go there; but I don't see why you couldn't have told me so before I wore myself out trying to recall all my purchases. Am I certain I had another package? To be sure I am; I had four things altogether. There was my purse, that's one; my umbrella, that's two; this small package, that's three, and I can't think of the fourth. I don't know whether it was large or small, or round or square; I think it was rather heavy, but I really can't remember anything about it. Let me see—there was my purse, my umbrella, this small package, and—oh, how stupid of me! The fourth was my skirt. Very sorry to have troubled you, I am sure! Good morning."

WHO WASHES THE DISHES?

A young lady, a graduate of the University, recently attempted to prove to Professor Clark, from the Bible, that in the hereafter the men would have to wash dishes, and quoted the following:

"And I will wipe Jerusalem as a man wipeth a dish, wiping it and turning it upside down."

Professor Clark responded by saying that if the men had to wash dishes in the hereafter, he would wait until the hereafter came for his dish-washing.

"And," he added, "even so I think the men will have the better of the women; for, if they have to wash dishes, they will surely be where there is water. So you see, they will not be so badly off, after all."

It is said that the young lady made a reply, and if we can ever persuade Professor Clarke to tell us what she said we shall publish it.

PROFESSOR MOORE "FUSSED."

In a recent faculty meeting, held to make provisions for classes made homeless by the fire, there was a division of opinion as to whether it was best to put Professor Moore or Professor Clark on the committee to take the place made vacant by the absence of Professor Hall. The matter was settled by electing Professor Clark. One who has favored the election of Professor Moore then nominated him as a fourth member of the committee. Dean Downey called attention to the fact that the committee was "full" and that the motion was out of order, and added: "Three are better than more," whereat the faculty roared and Professor Moore blushed.

FROM THE "WHIP."

"We certainly will Gopher them in our Brush with Wisconsin; they'll have a Case on their hands when they kick the ball and then they try to Hunter up. Because of our Luce end work they think they'll have a snap, our Smithy will shooch them down the field, and a Marshall will arrest the whole bunch time and again. It will be a Cutting sight to see so much Current Jelly. (Apologies to Strathern, Ricker, Kremer and Varco."

COACH KIENHOLZ

A clipping recently received from a Raleigh, N. C., newspaper speaks of the A. and M. team "galloping away" with their opponents and piling up a score of 59 to 0 on a hot day. Evidently Mr. Kienholz is infusing new life into football as it is played in that part of the country.

MINNESOTA MAGAZINE

The "feature" of this number is a poem by

Dr. Richard Burton.

His subject, the "Free Lodgers' Lane," although not very familiar to us is a well known and pathetic sight in all the larger cities. Dr. Burton, in the simplest and most picturesque manner, shows the wonderful contrast between the faultlessly dressed theatre crowd and a group of "the battered and spent, the waifs of the town."

An unsigned article entitled Bernard Shaw and contemporary English Drama, shows both strength and depth and will be especially interesting to students making a study of the Drama.

Two stories, "A Kindergarten Puzzle," and "Mrs. Witterspoon's Tramp" are exceptionally bright and interesting, and show distinct signs of humor.

Frances B. Potter has written a little "thought" poem called "Irreconcilable," which seems meant more to awaken feeling in the reader than to express the writer's feeling.

"Concerning Ibsen"

is a masterly summary of the forces in the great artist's plays which are ably compared with those of Sudermann. The author is Charles Hensel.

"When the Yellow Flowers Come" is a very pretty

by Prudence Pratt.

The article by Arthur Upson called "What make you from Wittenburg, Horatio?" seems to be a picture of what Shakespeare thought an ideal college friendship.

Miss Annie Blitz, of '04, contributes a very beautiful and forceful poem "On a Portrait of Vittoria Colonna."

"Digressions," a department which somewhat resembles the "Sketch" department of last year's Mag contains many good things, doubly good in their brevity.

In the main, the contributions are humorous. One, however, strikes a more serious note. It is "The Face Builders," an essay signed Dansingberg.

one in salutation, and one concerning President Northrop and his recent birthday celebration, are both brightly bright and interesting.

LITERARY UNION.

The following program for the Literary Union Society will be given Nov. 5th:

Opening speech, President Phillips; instrumental music, W. Coapman and A. Johnson; original story, Mary Weed; reading, O. B. Flinders; debate, Resolved that the Republican party by its platform offers more inducements for the welfare of the U. S. than the Democratic party. Affirmative, J. Swinland and H. P. Peterson, Negative, M. H. Aygarn and Stanley Houck; vocal music, H. A. Hanson; critic's report, Mrs. McElmeel.

The program committee has adopted the following dates for the meetings of the Literary Union during the coming year:

November 5th, '04, Dec. 9th, '04, March 3rd, '05 and April 21st, '05.

BIG BUILDING.

Pending the convening of the state legislature, Dean Downey is making rough plans, and getting together ideas for the "New Main Building."

The building will be thoroughly modern in every respect. Every classroom will have an office connection with it, and each department will have ample provision for the seminars.

The post-office will be located in the basement. All the University publications will be suitably cared for.

MANY MEDALS

Sunday some one entered the ruins of the Twin City Municipal exhibit, of which Dr. F. L. McVey of the University was the director, received great honor, being the only exhibit in the municipal section to receive the grand prize for scope, comprehensiveness and excellence of installation.

Dr. McVey was awarded a silver medal for a series of charts showing the municipal organization of Minneapolis.

In the educational department the University received a gold medal for its general exhibits and a bronze medal for special exhibits of drawing.

SINGLE TAXER SPEAKS.

James Bellangee, the treasurer and special representative of the "Single Tax Colony" in Fairhope, Alabama, spoke to Dr. McVey's third hour economics class recently on the economic problems which are there met with, and on the methods which are used by this community to solve them.

DEAN PATTEE HONORED.

Dean Pattee, of the Law School, has been chosen Moderator for the coming year of the Congregational Association of Minnesota at the annual meeting which is being held in Duluth.

LITERARY LOSS.

Among the manuscripts lost by Dean Downey was a half completed volume entitled "Through England, Ireland and Scotland on a Wheel."

This was a record of his personal experience during three summers spent in those countries.

VANDALISM.

Sunday some one entered the ruins of the Main building and proceeded to overhaul the contents of Prof. Sanford's desk and by so doing destroyed much material which was valuable to the Professor alone.

Some one likewise forced open with a hatchet the cabinet which contained the lantern slides used in her art courses. The cabinet had previously been swollen and glued shut from the fire and water, but the intruders succeeded in playing great havoc.

PHYSICAL CULTURE INSTRUCTOR

The vacancy in the physical culture department caused by the resignation of Miss Barbour will be filled by Miss Jessie Matson.

Miss Matson has taken two years work in the department of physical training here and has also studied theory in the medical school. In addition to this she has taken the summer course at Harvard.

REST ROOM IN THE ARMORY

No more inviting spot is to be found on the campus and many of the girls are showing their appreciation by making pillows of all shapes and sizes for the divans.

The room is finished in green with Flemish oak furnishings. There is a large center table, dozens of chairs and two large new couches.

FRESH AIR FOR THE FACULTY

Athletically inclined members of the faculty have been obtaining a great deal of enjoyment lately from their private basketball grounds back of the chemistry building. Almost every afternoon a bare-armed detachment of these worthies can be seen disporting themselves at the gentle game. A small but appreciative audience is always in attendance.

DR. WILSON LEAVES.

Dr. Wilson, assistant professor of bacteriology, will leave the University to accept a position as laboratory superintendent with the Mayos of Rochester, Minnesota.

Dr. Wilson has been an instructor in the medical department for the past ten years, and during that time has earned a wide reputation on account of his bacteriological discoveries.

Perhaps his most important discovery was that of the germ which causes the awful "spotted fever" of our western plains. This germ was proved by the doctor to be a blood parasite which is communicated to human beings by the bite of a certain kind of wood-tick.

As a token of appreciation the Regents at their last meeting made him assistant professor of bacteriology.

WOMEN'S WAYS

The Woman's League registration is practically complete and the number of new members exceeds last year's list of 300, by about a score. With such a start Miss Kendell, the president, ably assisted by the other officers and members, intends to bring the realization of the new Woman's Building on the Campus a big step nearer.

The undertaking with which they are at present busying themselves is the preparation of the football programs for the big games. One thousand of these will be sold at the Nebraska game, October 27, and two thousand at the game with Wisconsin, November 15.

College Dorcas.

A sewing society has been organized by the women of the University of California which has for its object the helping of students through college.

TO LIFT, OR NOT TO LIFT

The men of the University may refuse to raise their hats according to the usages of polite society when they speak to the co-eds on the campus.

There is a movement on foot to organize an

"Anti Hat-Lifting Society."

The men are tired of lifting their hats. They claim it is a nuisance to have to expose their heads to the weather at least a dozen times while passing from one building to another.

Often a man will take off his hat at least a dozen times during one day to the same girl.

to the fairer sex is intended.

The plan as at present proposed is to include only upper classmen, it being deemed unwise for the Freshmen and sophomores to be allowed to disrespect custom.

"LIFT HAT OR DON'T SPEAK."

To say that the University girls are astounded at the action taken by some of the men in college in forming an association whose members refuse to lift their hats when spoken to is to use a mild word, indeed to express the popular feeling.

As throwing some light on the much mooted hat lifting question, we present to our readers the following communication which appeared in the "Daily" last week.

Students come to the University to gain knowledge, not to improve their manners. Thinking girls have decided that too much by dropping a chain of serious thought to smile upon young men. Consider also the sheer absurdity of smiling on the same young man a dozen times in one day, as a girl is frequently compelled by politeness to do.

This

Cold weather is coming on apace, and with the thermometer 30 degrees below zero a girl, no matter how healthy she is, cannot afford to waste heat by bestowing upon young men so many as a simple nod of the head suffices to indicate recognition.

There are, however, some people who hold to the old-fogy idea that a girl unable to attend an expensive college for women is, even as a co-ed, able to maintain a high standard of courtesy and womanliness, and some few even dare to say that daily contact with the high-minded and ambitious young men of the University tends to make her more, not less of a lady.

The idea that education, in its truest sense, means the development of a strong, gentle and noble character is antiquated, and we must, if we are to be thoroughly up to date, discard it for the new idea which has of late been embodied in co-education—brains with out manners.

A Co-Ed.

It is hardly necessary to say that the movement has died "a bornin'."

NEARLY FINISHED.

The work on the engineering building annex is rapidly progressing and the workmen are beginning to lay the slate roof.

The installing of plumbing, and heating apparatus will take some time, but it is expected that the building will be finished and ready for use within six weeks.

The seniors, juniors and sophomores of the miners' society will give a reception to all freshmen miners October 15th at the Alpha Delta Phi house.

DIED.

Dr. L. P. Hatch, author of the Bird Book, of the Geological and Natural History Survey of the State, who will be remembered so pleasantly by many of the older residents of this city, died in Los Angeles, Calif., May 22, 1904. He was a prominent physician twenty-five years ago and left the city nearly 18 years ago. He died at the age of 81, his son Louis was at one time a student at the university.

John C. Knox, '00, was drowned at Winnipeg, Man., last June. No further particulars have been reported. Mr. Knox was a brilliant young man with bright prospects of an honorable and useful career.

ATTENDANCE

The attendance at the University at the present date is about as follows:

College of science, literature and the arts, 1240.

Colleges of engineering and agriculture and schools of mines, 572.

There are over 460 law students in attendance and about 450 medical students, making a total enrollment of something like 2,725, not including the school of agriculture, the summer school, or graduate students. This would seem to indicate that the attendance of the present year will probably exceed that of last year.

Last week the school of agriculture opened. The total enrollment will not be known for some time, but the prospects are good for a large attendance this year. Last year the attendance was 705 in this department, and probably the number will be increased this year.

Columbia University is making great preparations for the celebration of the 150th anniversary of the founding of King's College.

REGENTS' MEETING.

The University Board of Regents met Thursday afternoon in the president's office for the regular quarterly session.

The meeting was continued after lunch until late in the afternoon.

The matter of the new building was referred to the committee on buildings which is to report at the December meeting.

Several changes were made in the faculty roll, and the course in Dentistry was made a three year course instead of four year, as formerly.

Assistant Prof. W. A. Schaper was elected Professor of Political Science; Dr. J. E. Moore was elected Prof. of Surgery in place of Dr. J. H. Moore, deceased; and Prof. Schadle was elected to the chair of Nose and Throat diseases in place of Dr. Laton, resigned.

Graduates in Dentistry having the degree of Doctor of Dental Medicine can receive the degree of Dental Surgery now given to graduates, on payment of a fee covering the cost of the diploma.

BACTERIOLOGICAL LABORATORY

Plans for the new hundred thousand dollar medical laboratory, authorized by the last legislature, will soon be completed, and if everything goes well the foundation will be laid this fall.

A design for the building has not been finally settled on as yet, but it is probable that it will be two stories high with a basement, and its dimensions will be about 150 feet long by 75 feet wide. The chief difficulties met with in designing the building are to get a structure which will be fireproof, and abundantly supplied with light, and at the same time of great solidity and massiveness. This latter requirement is necessary on account of the extremely delicate experiments which will have to be carried on there.

The Regents have not finally settled upon the location, but the last time the matter was considered a majority of them were in favor of a site upon the river bank, next to the State Board of Health building.

If this location is decided upon the building will have an entrance on both the river-bank and campus sides, and will face directly toward the present bacteriological laboratory. In appearance it will much resemble the Physics building and it will be about the same size.

DAILY ENLARGED

Beginning with last Tuesday morning, the "Minnesota Daily" changed its form to five columns instead of four columns as heretofore. With the increase in the space comes a corresponding increase in the amount of news given.

BARNUM BACK

Cyrus Barnum, '04, formerly assistant in the registrar's office, has returned from a trip to Manila. His trip did him a world of good and he is the picture of health. He was away three months. He expects to settle down soon and go into business with his father.

BAND INFORMAL

The first informal of a series of dances to be given by the band this winter took place Friday night in the Armory and was a success in every way.

The crowd that turned out was not as large as at many which were given last season by the band, but considering the bad weather, was all that could be expected and the boys are satisfied.

"Johnnie" Campbell has again consented to take the position of King of the Rooters. We are safe.

PERSONALS

Laurel Lewis, '04, is teaching in the high school at Anoka.

Elizabeth Foss, '99, is teaching botany in the north side high school of this city.

Esther Friedlander, '92, is teaching Latin in the south side high school of this city.

Grace Chadwick, '03, is teaching at Lake Crystal this year. Last year she taught in the high school at Bird Island.

Geo. B. Otte, '01, of football fame, is superintendent of schools at Shakopee, Minn., visited the University about ten days ago.

Oscar Lovell Triggs, '89, is field secretary of the American League for Industrial Education. His official address is 1714 Ry. Exchange Building, Chicago, Ill.

Frances Eggleston Pond, '03, and Dr. William Titus, Med. '04, were married last week in this city. After a wedding trip Dr. and Mrs. Titus will be at home to friends at Mora, Minn.

Lucien Merritt, Min. '04, and Grace Benham, were married in this city last week. Mr. and Mrs. Merritt will be at home at Duluth, Minn., after December 1st. Mrs. Merritt is a graduate of Hamline University.

Martin B. Davidson, Law '91, visited the University last week. Mr. Davidson is engaged in the practice of law at Joplin, Mo., and reports that the world is using him well. He will be remembered as one of the stand-bys of football in the early days, and, if he could be prevailed upon to come back for a course in "birdsnesting" he would make the team.

BASKET BALL

Basketball prospects for the coming season are especially bright at the present time.

Altho Hugh Leach, Pierce, and Kiefer have left college, there still remains as a foundation for a team, Tuck, Varco, Helon Leach and McRae, all of last year's team and many substitutes.

Several New Men

are expected to try for the team, among them being Luce, Uzzell, Robb, Martin and Mitchell, who played on high school teams before coming to college.

Dr. Cooke gave out that the team would probably start training about and wants all men who have had experience to try for the many vacant places.

PUBLICITY CURE

A "Society for Prevention of Crime" in the Library has just been organized by Professor Anderson's class in history.

The penalty for removing books unlawfully from the history reserve shelves, is that the offender shall have his or her name posted in large type on a sheet hung for that purpose in the front of the Library.

The cadets are rejoicing over the fact that they have no drill on Saturday. Major Morgan said they had decided to let the cadets off on Saturdays during football season.

MINNESOTA 47—ST. THOMAS 0.

As was expected, St. Thomas put up a good game against the 'Varsity Wednesday afternoon.

This was no doubt to a great extent due to the fact that Dr. Williams had changed the line-up of the first team.

In Different Positions

than those to which they have been accustomed.

Ricker played left tackle and Sanborn took his place at left guard, Case was switched over to left end, where he played a good game until he was taken out after his sixty-yard run.

Kremer played at full-back with Larkin in at right half. Gleason substituted for Kremer in the second half, and made a dodging run of 40 yards.

For St. Thomas

Conney proved the star of the day, making long gains on quarterback runs. He also did some excellent punting, booting the oval from 30 to 50 yards whenever called upon.

was three times in danger of being crossed. Once Conney broke through the line and had a clear field with the exception of Cutting, who downed him after a gain of 20 yards.

Two trials for a goal kick from the 25 yard line by Conney, one in the first and the other in the second half, went wide, and all of St. Thomas chances to score were past.

Coach Mueller

of St. Thomas, was not entirely satisfied with the work of his team, saying that he expected St. Thomas to hold the 'Varsity under forty points.

First Half.

St. Thomas won the toss and chose the west goal. Marshall kicked off for Minnesota to St. Thomas' 10 yard line.

AMES 'AS 'OPES.*Alumni Weekly:

If the U. of M. foot-ball team has been having a number of practice games, their practice work will certainly end when the Ames team arrives there a week from Saturday. They have had over 100 men out trying for the 'varsity and have splendid material to pick from.

The team is getting in excellent condition as you may know when you consider that the Iowa University team which beat Cornell 88-0, beat Coe College 16-0, and the Coe College team was beaten by the Ames team 22-0, showing our team to be considerably stronger than that of the University of Iowa.

I have no doubt but that the U. of M. team will defeat the Ames men but they will have to be up and coming if they run up a very large score.

Sincerely yours,

C. J. Zintheo.

Piano Construction

Is an art and a science. Many firms have fine factories and unlimited capital but still do not build a "real piano," for knowledge of piano building is not learned in a day. Experience which comes thru years of thoughtful work counts for more than anything else, and when coupled with proper facilities, will result in an instrument on which you can rely.

Here are some records:

STEINWAY PIANOS were awarded first prize in 1862.
KNABE PIANOS established in 1837.
GABLER PIANOS created by Gabler in 1854.
EMERSON PIANOS first on the market in 1849.
METROPOLITAN MUSIC CO., established 25 years.

Such figures assure you a reliable piano if you buy it at the "Met."

"DOPE"

A representative of the Chicago Tribune was in Minneapolis last week and saw the Gopher team at practice and evidently went back to Chicago with a favorable impression of our team for he says:

"Minnesota seems determined to win", "Minnesota snowed under Carleton" and in an earlier article says, "Minnesota university: Insufficient bulletins as yet, but outlook by no means discouraging. Reports also conflicting. Material said to be light and at the same time reported to weigh on an average 190 pounds. One recent consignment of 230 pounds for the position of left guard has helped to make the general feeling more optimistic."

The Chicago Chronicle gives us credit for being

Weaker at the ends,

and then says that "new ends are being developed" in Minneapolis.

The Record-Herald says:

"Minnesota seems bound to break all records for total points and Saturday ran up 65 on Carleton."

The Inter Ocean has the most extensive article saying:

"At Minnesota, Williams has the usual outlay of big men and many of these seem this year, as last, to have the added virtue of speed. The big scores made by the Gophers so far seem to promise a wonderful team, but these scores, it should be remembered, have all been made against teams that were lamentably weak. Williams's men

Have had no try-out

as yet. The backs are great men individually, but they are not showing even a glimmer of team work. To size up all of the teams in the west in a word as they stand today would be to say that Michigan, Minnesota and Wisconsin look out best and are on a par among themselves. Chicago and Northwestern look pretty evenly matched, but in a class below the other two."

INSPECT THE BIG KITCHEN at the COLLEGE INN.

"PRETTY POOR"

Minnesota 35—North Dakota 0.

"Pretty poor." This is the most frequent comment made on last Saturday's game. There seemed to be a total lack of football sense and team work in the playing of the Minnesota men. North Dakota repeatedly broke through and tackled the man with the ball, behind the line. Fumbling was frequent and worst of all three times Minnesota took the ball down inside the five yard line only to loose it on downs. It reminded the old timers of the games when Minnesota used to be "down in her luck."

It was absolutely distressing to see the lack of vim that the men (we cannot say team, for there was no team work) displayed. North Dakota, though putting up a strong defense and playing an uphill and plucky game throughout, could make no headway against Minnesota's line, only once or twice during the whole game did they make a first down.

For the first time this season was the word "rotten" hurled at members of the team. Nothing shows better how far we have come and how much our ideals of football have advanced than the fact that a score of 35 to 0 is considered most disappointing. A few years ago such a score against such a team would have been hailed with shouts of extravagant joy and the men would have been hailed as heroes, now they are told that they played a "rotten" game.

In explanation it is to be said that the team lacked several good men of being the first team—Strathern, Hunter and Case were not in the line-up. We can forgive the team for this off day, but for pity's sake, don't let it happen again.

Wisconsin has prospects of another winning team this year and beat the Fort Sheridan soldiers 45 to 0 while the much talked of Northwestern beat the 18-0, so it looks at present as if the Cardinals were to have a superior team to the Purple and have a great set of backs who will be assisted at end circling by the fast ends.

Iowa,

The score of 88 to 0 of Iowa against Cornell college has brought them to the notice of western critics and it looks as if they would also give us a hard rub on Thanksgiving Day.

HONORABLE ROBERT C. DUNN
Republican Candidate for Governor

The friends of the University of Minnesota may feel satisfied that with Mr. Dunn as governor of the state the needs and wants of the University will receive every consideration. With a Republican governor and a Republican legislature all measures which may be will receive greater attention than they brought before the legislative body possibly could if one of the branches of state government was controlled by the Democrats. There need be no fear that with Mr. Dunn in the governor's chair any legislation intended to hamper the University or the scope of its work will receive any consideration at his hands.

A recent number of the Daily Cardinal, the official organ of the University of Wisconsin, comes out and in very plain language states the conditions concerning athletics as they exist in that institution today, and as they have existed in previous years. The whole tone of the article is very commendable and shows a determination to do away with conditions that have existed and to create better conditions. It is probable that the statement, made by the Cardinal, concerning conditions that exist in other institutions is more or less well grounded. At any rate the Cardinal shows great courage in taking up the fight against questionable practices of its own athletic teams, and we hope that they may make such a success of it that other institutions may be induced to follow their example, and clean up athletics.

While we believe the condition in the University of Minnesota is far from being as bad as in some of the other institutions, there is no question but that conditions, as they exist today, are capable of many changes for the better.

While upon this subject it might be well to state that a recent investigation into the status of the members of the team, of the present year, shows a far better condition than ever existed on any previous team, where the same sort of an investigation was made. The majority of the members of the team are in perfectly good standing, and all are regularly registered and attending classes. Those who have been found not up to the standard are being looked after by the faculty committees, and it is promised that these men shall be made to come up to at least a respectable grade of scholarship in order to retain their standing on the team.

McVEY'S NEW BOOK.

"Modern Industrialism," by Professor Frank L. McVey, has just come from the press of D. Appleton and Co. The book is in excellent dress and is an exceedingly interesting and valuable text upon that phase of political science. We hope to give a fuller statement next week.

BUILDING PLANS.

Plans for a new main building are taking on more definite shape each day. At present the general preference seems to be for a building covering a very large amount of ground, not over two or three stories high, including the basement. It is probable that the building will be located on 15th Avenue, opposite the new physics building. This seems to be the most central point on the campus, and as this building will house more students than any other building on the campus it is thought best to have it in as central a location as possible. Furthermore, placing a building in this location it will be possible to give the building four entrances. A building accommodating such a large number of students should have as many entrances and exits as possible, so as to avoid the congested condition of the halls, that existed in the old main building for so many years.

In regard to the old main building there are several propositions. The walls of the front part are in good condition. It is proposed to take off the top story and put the building in first class shape for the department of animal biology, with the understanding that when an appropriation is secured from the legislature a museum will be built on the back part of the building, to occupy the space formerly occupied by the part of the building totally destroyed by fire. Another proposition is to take down the walls entirely and to erect a woman's building on the spot. This proposition has many adherents, and is one of the possibilities that may be realized.

U. C. A. MEETING.

Rev. James C. Byrnes opened his series upon the theory of evolution by a discussion of Darwinism, Sunday afternoon at 3:45.

REMEMBER

(1) That D. Percy Jones, '83, is a candidate for the position of mayor of Minneapolis.

(2) That he was mayor for a few months.

(3) That his administration was one of the cleanest and best ever enjoyed by the city.

(4) He stands for all that is best in city government.

(5) The enemies he has made entitle him to the support of those who stand for the enforcement of law, with justice for all, and special favors for none.

During the last day or two workmen have been busy tearing down the back part of the Old Main Building.

This action has been delayed for a while owing to the fact that the insurance men had to judge the amount of loss.

WOMAN'S WAYS.*SPOKE FOR LEAGUE.

At the convention of the Minnesota Federation of Womens Clubs, held in Fergus Falls, an address was given by Miss Ada Comstock.

She described the conditions of the girls' life here and urged that the Federation assist the Woman's League to secure a Woman's Building on the campus.

Mr. Elmer Adams, '84, Fergus Falls, a University Regent, also spoke on this subject. He said that this need was recognized by the regents and that an appropriation will be asked for. He suggested that donations be made by Minnesota Women to help out the cause, and advised the pledging of candidates for the legislature before election.

Arrangements will at once be made with one of the large cap and gown houses and as soon as possible the Senior Co-eds will appear in their uniform of superiority.

LETTER FROM MISS MORRISON

A long and interesting letter has just been received from Miss Theresa Morrison, U. of M., '02, who is now the Y. W. C. A. Secretary at the Women's University of Tokio, Japan. This letter which was addressed to the Association girls was read at the meeting Wednesday noon.

STATE Y. W. C. A.

A large delegation is going from Hamline, Carleton and Macalester colleges, and the local association expects to outdo them all. Besides many young women who are planning to go, the following are sure to go:

Madge Bogart, '07; Mildred Gans, '07; Anna Norris, '05; Florence Jones, '08; Pearl Smith, '06; Marie Higbee,

'07; Madge Reiney, '08; Mrs. Berg; May MacGregor, '07; Ethel Huyck, '06; Katharine Barnes, '07; Emma Whitney, '06.

MINERVA.

The Minerva Literary Society has been busily at work culling out desirable members for its society, and has elected the following new members: Leah Fligelman, Emma D. Ripley, Rose Crossman, Agnes Tennyson and Jessie Allen. The names of Louise Boutelle and Mrs. Bonnie McElmeel have also been transferred from the honorary roll to the active list.

BIBLE STUDY PLAN

The initial impetus for this year's course was given at the Bible study tea last Saturday, where an address was given by Mrs. Potter on the need of Bible Study by college women.

The membership of the Y. W. C. A. last spring was 95, but this year's freshman class is rapidly increasing the number.

As is generally known the classes are held 1 hour a week. The girls are classified in small groups according to the time they can give to the work. Four courses in the work are offered. I, Life of Christ; II, Acts and Epistles, III, Old Testament Characters; IV, Studies in John. The hours are arranged to suit the students.

This year a Sunday School Teachers' class has been organized in which the international lessons will be studied. This class will be held at noon hour and Miss Mary Sanford will have charge.

The teachers in Bible Study classes are Pearl Smith, president; Verene Stephen, Eunice Peabody, Marian Cole, Winifred Thompson, Mary Sanford.

Mrs. J. B. Gilfillan will continue her interesting course in Old Testament characters.

MILITARY MATTERS

The recent orders from the government requiring a minimum of five hours of drill per week at Minnesota is now causing considerable excitement among the cadets.

When the orders came last spring requiring four hours per week, the soldier boys thought their cup of woe was full; now it is overflowing.

If the new regulation is enforced, extra credit will be demanded by the men. One officer stated this morning to a Daily representative that he would not drill without pay for at least one of the extra hours.

Major Morgan, however, anticipating some misunderstanding on the part of the government as to the conditions here at the University, has written to the authorities explaining the situation, and expects a definite reply in a very short time.

In the meantime drill will go on the same as usual.

Major Morgan stated that, should five hours of drill a week, excluding weekly inspection and other ceremonies, be finally required, in his opinion the department should be made a college.

This would give those who desire to take a greater amount of military science, an opportunity to do so, and would prove less burdensome to those who wish to take no more than is required.

Nothing will be done in regard to the matter until the military department of the government is heard from in reply to Major Morgan's letter.

The members of both battalions who appeared in full uniform yesterday were given their side arms.

Guns will also be assigned to uniformed men first so that those who have not arranged for their suits will be placed at a slight disadvantage.

DRILL GOOD THING.

Seth Low, ex-president of Columbia University, and ex-mayor of New York, addressed the students of the University of Iowa yesterday.

He contrasted eastern and western schools to the advantage of the latter, pointing out that the spirit of the instruction was broader, deeper, more liberal and aggressive.

He was tendered a military reception by the cadet battalion and band, and spoke of military instruction in western schools in the following manner: "The aim of military instruction does not find its end in war. Rather does it desire to inculcate in the hearts of the cadets the sterling principles of military foresight and self-reliance that will aid materially in all the affairs of commercial life."

LIKES OUR METHODS.*Dr. Fischer Investigating Educational Conditions in Minnesota.

Dr. Karl T. Fischer, professor of physics in the Munchen Technical School, Bavaria, is at the university studying American educational methods at the instigation of the German government.

Dr. Fischer conducted a similar investigation in England several years ago and says that the methods there are superior to those of either Germany or America although they lack organization.

He says that his country and ours are two extremes in educational methods, the one being entirely theoretical while the other is practical.

He says that we give too much time to drawing and manual work and too little time to study in the secondary schools. He thinks that the American student has a much easier time than the German student and was surprised at the complete organization which existed here in the schools.

PRESIDENT ABSENT

President Northrop left Tuesday morning for Grinnell, Iowa, to deliver an address before the student body of Grinnell College.

Des Moines will also be visited before his return and it is possible that St. Louis may be included in the itinerary.

The President has been planning a visit to the Exposition for some time, and if not included in the present journey, it will undoubtedly be made the object of a later trip.

President Northrop is the head of the American Missionary Board and will deliver several addresses in that capacity.

GOLD MEDAL

The University of Minnesota has been awarded a gold medal by the International Jury on Higher Education for its educational exhibit.

The medal would have been a silver medal were it not for the circumstance that a foreign member of the jury discovered a set of reports by the Geological Survey of this state and immediately called the attention of the jury to these seven splendid volumes.

It was then agreed that a gold medal should be awarded.

A prominent member of the jury has made the statement that these reports by Prof. N. H. Winchell, former professor of geology of this institution, have given the University of Minnesota a better foreign reputation than it has ever before enjoyed.

D. D. Greer, Law '04, a former member of the board of athletic control, was seen about the campus recently. Mr. Greer intends to hang out his shingle at Portland, Ore. His specialty will be collections.

BURTON'S PLAY.

Dr. Richard Burton has just completed, what might be termed the first draft of his new play, "Rahab of Jericho."

The drama is an exceedingly strong one and has been most enthusiastically complimented by all who have seen it.

It is a Biblical play of three acts, written in blank verse.

Dr. Burton has written the play for an eastern actress whom he hopes will star in the part of the heroine, Rahab.

Whether the play is staged or not, it will be published in book form some time next month.

Play writing is not an absolutely new departure on Dr. Burton's part, as a little one act comedy which he wrote last year is now being staged in Boston. Its name is "The Tramp and the Lady." George W. Wilson, who has done such splendid character work in "Shore Acres" and "Old Homestead," will play the leading part.

The first appearance will take place this month as a number of the vaudeville at Keith's theatre.

Dr. Burton will recite "Rahab of Jericho" for the first time publicly to the Thalian tonight.

GOATS GET GAY

There were "things doing" Saturday night as was proved by the number of new students who wore pins Monday.

One night last week the police force was called to quell the fears of an excited woman, who mistook the yells of an initiate for those of a man being murdered.

The Greeks who initiated Saturday night were: Phi Kappa Psi, Beta Theta Pi, Zeta Psi, Phi Gamma Delta, Kappa Sigma, Kappa Kappa Gamma, Kappa Alpha Theta and Alpha Phi.

DOINGS OF DEBATERS

The contest for choosing men for the Iowa and Central League debating teams will be held on October 28th.

Each contestant is required to hand the question, and also a list of the works which he has read, stating the attitude of the authors in regard to the subject.

A large number of the old debaters are still in the field and the large amount of excellent material is going to make the selection a very difficult matter.

Bernard Robinson

will try for the Central League. He is a Shakopean and distinguished himself on the Shaks' winning team last year.

Mr. Loevinger, who did such admirable work for the S. L. C. last year, will also try for a place on the Central League. He was the founder of the S. L. C. and has otherwise been prominently associated in debating circles.

has never tried for an inter-collegiate team yet, but has won an enviable reputation as a debater in class and also has received prizes in oratory.

De Vaney,

who has been prominent in public debating ever since entering college and helped to defeat Iowa last year will try for a place on the Central League this year.

Likewise, Robert Pratt who has so many times assisted the Shaks in defeating the enemy, will exert his energy towards obtaining a place on the league.

Mr. Stenson and R. P. Chase, will no doubt easily make the Iowa team in the coming preliminaries.

Others who will try are Mr. Costello and Mr. Flinders. Mr. Costello is a freshman and his zeal in entering such a contest against old and experienced men is to be highly commended.

FRESHMEN DEBATERS

Yesterday morning the Freshmen interested in debate held a meeting to organize the Freshman Debating League and officers were elected.

All Freshmen who contemplate doing work in debate or who are especially interested in that line of work are eligible to membership.

PROHIBITION POLITICS

The first meeting of the Prohibition Club was held in the Y. M. C. A. building Thursday noon. The following officers were elected: President, J. R. Chase; vice-president, H. Hare; secretary, Hill; treasurer, J. W. Ash.

The primary object of this club is to effect a permanent organization for the college. The immediate object is the booming of the present campaign, especially in regard to W. G. Calderwood, the East Side candidate for representative.

WATCH US GROW.

The Senior Engineers will be glad to hear that Edgar F. D. Wilcox, ex-'05, E. E., is head of a family of three. A bouncing baby girl is the new arrival. He has a prominent position with the Mexican Central Railroad, and resides at Chihorahua, Mexico. Congratulations are in order.

U. A. A. C. TO MEET

The University Amateur Athletic Club will meet tonight at the gymnasium in the armory for regular work.

The object of the club is to promote and stimulate interest in special indoor sports, and to hold at different times public exhibitions and tournaments.

Emma L. Truax, '03, of Hastings, visited the University Saturday, Oct. 7th.

Miss Elizabeth Ames, '04, is teaching mathematics in the high school at Fosston, Minn.

W. A. Alexander, '02, has entered upon his third year as principal of the Herman schools.

Emma Zwingsl, '84, is teaching near St. Peter, Minn. Her address is St. Peter, R. R. 3.

Dr. H. V. Magnusson, '03, who has been practicing at Chisago City, has removed to Clinton.

Rev. Alfred Bergin, Ph.D., '04, of Cambridge, Minn., goes to Lindborg, Kansas, about Dec. 1st.

Alta M. Wayne is teaching in the high school at Fergus Falls. Her address is 619 Union Ave.

Katherine Goetzinger, '04, is teaching Latin and pedagogy in the Northwestern College at Fergus Falls, Minn.

Alfred C. Whitney, Eng. '03, is employed by the G. N. Railroad with headquarters at Spokane, Wash.

Mrs. Chas. T. Conger, '90, (nee Laura Countryman) is teaching in the high school at Ontario, Calif.

George E. Bray, Eng. '04, is located at Wilmette, Ills., as director in the new Trier Township high school.

Dr. Albert C. Nelson, '04, is practicing dentistry at Litchfield, Minn. He is in partnership with Dr. E. B. Weeks.

Victor E. Goodwin, Eng. '04, is with the General Electric Company, of Schenectady, N. Y. His address is 764 State Street.

Ursula James, '93, who has been teaching in the high school at Jamestown, N. D., is at her home sick with typhoid fever.

Lloyd P. Austin, '96, educational director of the Y. M. C. A., St. Paul, conducted a very successful "boys' camp" at Lake Pokegama last summer.

Miss Mabel E. B. Hodder, '99, is studying history in Berlin as the holder of the fellowship of the Collegiate Alumnae Association of the U. S.

Hugh J. MacCleary, Law, '03, of oratorical fame, is a member of the law firm of Reynolds and MacCleary, with offices in the Torrey Building, Duluth.

Henry Lovett, ex-'02, and Miss Grace Brearley were married in this city last Wednesday evening. Mr. Lovett is connected with the Cree-Dickinson Co., of this city.

Guy H. Roberts, '99, who received his doctor's degree from Harvard last spring, has been elected assistant professor of history at Bowdoin and is in charge of the department.

The cards sent in for the alumni directory shows that Miss Bertha C. As-selu, '00, is now Mrs. Oskar L. Bertlesen. Dr. Bertlesen is a graduate of the "U" of the class of '00.

Miss Grace N. Elliott, '02, who has been principal of schools at Paynesville for the past two years, will rest at home this year. Her address is 372 Prior Ave., Merriam Park.

Cara May Adams, 01, who is teaching in the high school at Fargo, N. D., reports that she is having a most enjoyable year in charge of the history department of that high school.

Dr. Rose A. Bebb, '91, Med. '99, who has been assistant bacteriologist in the University and Bellevue hospital medical college in New York, has located at Auburn, Wash., for the practice of her profession.

Charles M. McConn, '03, M. A. '04, is teaching in the preparatory department of the University of Illinois. He reports that he is enjoying his work very thoroughly. His address is 917 W. Green Street, Urbana, Ill.

M. J. Luby, '98, Law '02, credit man for the Marshall-Wells Hardware Co., Duluth, writes to convey his best wishes for the Weekly, "our paper," and to express his unflinching interest in everything connected with the University.

The advancement of H. J. Horn, who was a member of the class of 1886 and subsequently went to the Boston Technological School, has been about as rapid as that of any railroad man in the country. Eleven years ago he started as bridge inspector on the Fergus Falls branch of the Northern Pacific and the present year finds him general manager of the entire system and one of the strongest operating men in the country.

H. B. Smith, 97, of Des Moines, Ia., Henderson graded schools, writes:

"We had a $1,200 position go begging down here at W. D. H. We wanted a good coach and athletic man, and couldn't find any. I am quite sure the place will be open next year, if any of the boys would like to have it, or isn't that enough salary to induce them to move into Iowa? We have the biggest school in the state and a good gym, so it is a dandy field."

J. H. Lewis, '78, of Hastings, Minn., and family will move to Ontario, Cal., on the 15th of this month. Mr. Lewis has been connected with the schools of Hastings for so many years that his going away is considered little less than a public calamity. He is one of the best known educators of the state and wherever he is known he is honored and loved. Although he had already given up his position as superintendent of schools, and was definitely out of school work, his going will be a distinct loss to the educational forces of the state. Hundreds who have known him personally and through his services as superintendent of public instruction, will regret his departure. The best wishes of hosts of friends will go with Mr. Lewis and his family.

Do You Know

the addresses of any of the following? Cards were sent to their last known address but have been returned "not found." Anyone who can give any information concerning their present address will confer a favor upon the persons named as well as the University, by sending in the information.

Ervin R. Frissell, Gustav O. Peterson, Thomas P. Ferry, Marcant R. Birnberg, Marie T. Severance, Fred J. Gilfillan, Frank H. Hosmer, J. Frederick Austen, Julius H. Johnson, Mrs. J. H. Johnson.

W. G. CALDERWOOD.

Prohibitionist Candidate for Legislature, 39th District.

(2nd and 9th Wards, and Town of St. Anthony.)

Mr. Calderwood has lived in this district for over ten years and has always taken a keen interest in all problems of public polity, national, state, and local.

The platform on which he stands declares that:

The home is the fundamental unit of society, and its protection the chief concern of government.

Ignorance is a public peril. Liberality toward the school-district, high, and collegiate—is a public economy.

Government of the people and for the people should be by the people. To this end direct vote and veto on vital measures, and the largest practical application of home rule are essential. (Mr. Calderwood holds that the government of other institutions of differing character and environments, is out of harmony with this principle, and is vicious and unsafe in practice.)

The maggot of mis-rule is burrowing in the vitals of our cities. That criminal classes enjoy immunity from the penalties of the law is evidence conclusive of corruption. Adequate and speedy remedies for official treachery, cowardice, incompetence and graft should be placed in the hands of the citizens.

Pledging himself upon his honor and his record to stand faithfully by these principles, and to conscientiously seek to serve the best interests of his constituents, he solicits the support of all who are of like mind, regardless of national or state political affiliations.

FACULTY ATHLETES

The faculty athletes are going to have a crack basketball team this year. Of the old men there: Bauer, Sanford, Willis, Sardeson and Freeman, while among the list of new candidates are found Swenson, Erickson, Johnston, Kovarik, Dalaker, Brooke, Pierce and Hanson are all out practicing.

The team has not been organized yet but will be in the near future. Sanford, Willis, Sardeson, Freeman and Pierce are the most likely looking candidates.

AFTER "U" VOTES.

D. P. Jones, Republican candidate for mayor, has decided to wage a vigorous campaign in the university between now and Nov. 8. J. H. Corcoran, senior law, and E. C. O'Brien, senior academic, have been selected to look after his interests among the students.

MISS PADDOCK WEDNESDAY.

Miss Stella Paddock will speak to all University students Wednesday night in Dr. McClumpha's room. This will be Miss Paddock's last appearance at the University for some time, as she has just lately been appointed to go to China.

She is the traveling secretary for the Student Volunteer Movement, and will be a guest of the Y. W. C. A. for two days only.

ALUMNI ORGANIZE.

The business and professional men of Little Falls, who matriculated at the University, have formed an alumni association. Articles of incorporation have been filed and everyone residing in Little Falls who has ever matriculated at the "U" is invited to join.

Barry Dibble, E. E., '03, was a visitor at the "U" Saturday. He is at present employed by the Albion and Battle Creek Electric Traction Co.

PAN-HELLENIC PARTY

A meeting of the Junior Ball Association was held Saturday, at chapel time in Professor McClumpha's class room.

The business of the meeting was therefore to decide on a new name for the time-honored Junior Ball, in order that it might in no way be identified with the Junior Class party which will be given soon.

The association will henceforward be known as Junior

SAW THE RESEMBLANCE

Little four-year old Ralph was walking in the park with his father a few days since. He saw a bird sailing, and he said: "That little birdie up there has got a coaster-brake. He stopped flopping his wings and just flied." His brother and sister have recently had coaster-brakes put on their wheels and he saw the resemblance.

DECIDE ON DIRECTOR

A committee was appointed to look up a professional manager for the clubs and Senor Perera, who has been associated with high school glee club work in the twin cities for some time, was elected director of the mandolin club.

PRESS CLUB PLANS

The University Press Club held the first meeting of the year last Saturday evening at the Court Chamber Cafe. After an excellent Dutch supper had been discussed the club proceeded to the business of the evening.

The most important action taken by the meeting was the decision to give a Press Club Ball the night before the Nebraska game.

The secretary was next instructed to write to the club's old friend and supporter, Dr. Frederick Beckman, and express to him the good wishes of its members and their hopes for his success.

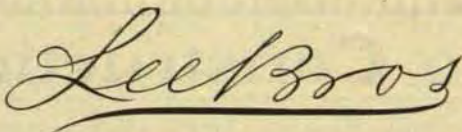

Raymond P. Chase, Acad, '03, Law, '06, has been pledged to Alpha Delta Phi.

ERRATIC

Minnesota 32—Ames 0.

Not all the strongest men out.
Showing Satisfactory.

Saturday's score was satisfactory and though much of the playing was of the same grade there were a few yellow streaks that were distressing. Once, after carrying the ball for a long distance it was lost inside the five yard line on the most inexcusable sort of playing.

The game opened by Minnesota's taking the ball from Ames' kick-off and carrying it by whirlwind rushes, line-smashes and end runs straight down for a touchdown, and required less than two minutes to do it. Then followed a fierce and stubborn fight, during the course of which the ball changed hands many times and not a few times through fumbles and the yellowest sort of flukes. The team at times putting up the fiercest sort of fight and carrying the ball by seemingly irresistible rushes for long distances, in championship form, only to lose it in a manner most exasperating to the spectators. The one touchdown was all that Minnesota could earn during the first half, but another four points were added by one of the prettiest place kicks ever seen on the field.

The ball had been worked down the field close to the goal and then a penalty put it out of the range of probability of making a touchdown, when Davies made a place-kick, putting the ball fairly between the goal posts. This was the feature of the game. The line held magnificently, the passing and placing of the ball was faultless, the whole play went off like clock work.

The ball seesawed back and forth a little longer and then time was called.

The line up for the second half remained unchanged but the boys put new vim into their playing and the results were visible in an added score of 22 points. The team put up a strong fight and again and again smashed through the strong Ames line for from five to twenty yards at a clip. Some magnificent work was shown and Marshall's long run and several runs, but a trifle less long on the part of Fred Hunter, helped to make the distance come easy.

Ames put up a good, strong, consistent fight, but found Minnesota's line well nigh impregnable, nor could they run the ends. The third down always found the Ames men drawing back for a kick. It was the hardest opposition Minnesota has met this year and for the first time Minnesota had a real test, only once did an Ames man get

Piano Construction

Is an art and a science. Many firms have fine factories and unlimited capital but still do not build a "real piano," for knowledge of piano building is not learned in a day. Experience which comes thru years of thoughtful work counts for more than anything else, and when coupled with proper facilities, will result in an instrument on which you can rely.

Here are some records:

STEINWAY PIANOS were awarded first prize in 1862.
KNABE PIANOS established in 1837.
GABLER PIANOS created by Gabler in 1854.
EMERSON PIANOS first on the market in 1849.
METROPOLITAN MUSIC CO., established 25 years.

Such figures assure you a reliable piano if you buy it at the "Met."

Our prices are always right, and our terms easy. You can have a piano today if you wish.

through the line and then for but a short gain.

The men, individually, played in good form and at times got together and put up a championship article of football, altogether the game was encouraging as showing what Minnesota's team practically built up de novo could do against a team of ten veterans, for the Ames line up, with the exception of one man, was the same as it was last year.

Return to the Fold.

O'Brien is back on the field but it is to be doubted whether he will get back on the team; he will probably spend his time helping to coach the quarter.

"Sunny" Thorpe is back at the "U" and it is said that he intends to join the squad. He played for a few minutes in Saturday's game.

Usher L. Burdick is also back and will doubtless join the squad at once.

The coming of these men has caused Minnesota football stock to go up several points in the minds of the rooters.

WINS SCHURMEIER PRIZE

Nathaniel F. Soderberg, '04, assistant in the department of political science has been announced winner of the Schurmeier prize in Sociology.

The subject of his essay was "Sociology in the making of Emerson" and the prize amounted to $25.

He will prepare a monograph on social legislation in Minnesota to be published by Carnegie institute of Washington, D. C.

VARIETY to suit YOUR PLATES.—PRICES to suit YOUR POCKETBOOKS at the INN.

WYMAN PRIZE

Subject for essays will be chosen soon, $25 Award.

The subject of the Wyman prize will be announced in a few days.

This prize is offered by Hon. J. T. Wyman, member of the board of regents for the best essay on some economic subject.

The contest is open to all undergraduate students in the department of political science.

MAG. AMONG MINERS

The Minnesota Magazine, one of the many unfortunates that lost their happy home in the recent fire, has at last found a new domicile and will be found at the Mining building.

They have secured a very nice room and will be in shape to receive visitors in a short time.

CHEMICAL CHART

Mr. Charles D. Poore, an assistant in the Chemistry department and a member of the Senior class has invented a chart to aid students in finding the formulae and names of the more common chemical compounds. It is a small chart tabulated with the names of about 35 elements on one side and some that form compounds with them along the top, and by its use the student can easily find the compound wished.

When seen yesterday afternoon, Professor Fankforter said that the value of the chart could not be determined until it had been in use for some time. He said that it looked to him as if it might be a helpful thing to the students, although nothing apparently wonderful. He expected a few of the students would secure them and time will show what they are.

DIRECTORS MEET

The Y. M. C. A. directors were called together Friday and the future outlook of the association discussed.

Under General Secretary Hanson the movement has received great impetus and for the first time in its history the Y. M. C. A. has a resource,—the financial report showing most encouraging assets.

John F. Barnum and Dr. S. M. White of the College of Medicine, were honored with directorships. Both these men have been intimately connected with the university movement and their direct assistance will mean much to the Minnesota organization.

Because of the lack of interest of the students, Director Rose has decided to give up the University Orchestra. Several of last year's members have decided to try to keep up the organization and they hope to make a success of it.

HONORABLE ROBERT C. DUNN
 Republican Candidate for Governor

The friends of the University of Minnesota may feel satisfied that with Mr. Dunn as governor of the state the needs and wants of the University will receive every consideration. With a Republican governor and a Republican legislature all measures which may be brought before the legislative body will receive greater attention than they possibly could if one of the branches of state government was controlled by the Democrats. There need be no fear that with Mr. Dunn in the governor's chair any legislation intended to hamper the University or the scope of its work will receive any consideration at his hands.

A QUESTION OF LOCATION

The consideration of a location for the new main building is bringing out many ideas concerning the matter. Some are strongly in favor of erecting it as suggested in last week's issue of the Weekly. Others are very strongly opposed to this idea, and want that part of the campus kept open. In a recent conversation with a member of the park board, also a graduate of the University, it was suggested that the University authorities never seemed to realize the possibilities of the river bank. It is made a dumping place for rubbish instead of one of the most beautiful features of the campus, and it was further suggested that the new main building could be made to face both the river and the campus. This idea seems to meet with considerable favor, and it is possible that this plan may be actualized. The possibilities of such a location are certainly unequalled, and it is to be hoped that whether the building is located there or not, the University authorities may come to realize that this part of the campus has greater possibilities than any other part, and may take steps to develop its beauty.

Whatever is done, the building should be provided with a thorough system of ventilation. There is no building on the campus that is properly ventilated, and the Library building which has been built within the past few years, and which should have had a good system of ventilation, is perhaps the poorest ventilated of them all. A person cannot spend an evening in chapel without running the danger of smothering in the foul air or contracting pneumonia from the draughts from the open windows. It is a serious matter, and one that should receive careful attention on the part of those who have the planning of the new building.

TWO GOOD MEN

For the first time in the history of the University a party has nominated for the legislature, from the University district, two men directly representing University interests. The two men who are thus seeking a place in the legislature are Byron H. Timberlake, of the class of '90 and Howard B. Chamberlain, Law, '99. These two men are both unusually well qualified for the office to which they aspire, and will represent not only the University and its interests, but the interests of the district and state. We sincerely hope that both may be elected and bespeak for them the hearty support of the friends of the University.

FOR THE SUPREME BENCH

Judge Charles E. Elliott, Ph. D., '88, is a candidate for the supreme bench of the state of Minnesota. He is one of the best qualified men that ever sought this office, and has an international reputation as a writer on law subjects, and as authority on the subjects which he handles. He is opposed to present Justice Lovely. Justice Lovely, as will be remembered, is the one who wrote the decision in the board of control case, classing educational institutions of the state as "charitable" institutions. Judge Elliott has made an enviable reputation as judge on the district bench, and his advancement to the supreme bench would be hailed with delight by his many friends and admirers.

NO POST-SEASON GAME

The recent newspaper talk concerning a post season game between Minnesota and Michigan seems to be without any good foundation. Michigan refused to play Minnesota when the matter was proposed last fall, and there seems to be no good reason why Minnesota should entertain such a proposal at this time. The fact that the western championship may remain undecided if no game is played, really has no bearing on the question. Putting the case very mildly football already occupies as large a portion of the student's time as it should, and to entertain the thought of a post season game would simply mean to devote so much more time to athletics to no good end. We believe that the season is long enough without a post-season game.

SICK BENEFIT PLAN

The sick benefit plan is again being discussed. This plan was thoroughly talked over last spring, and was finally brought to the attention of the board of regents. The board of regents passed the matter over, laying it on the table for some convenient season. This will probably end the matter until it is again brought to their attention by the student body. It seems probable that such an action will be taken and the matter placed before the regents, at their next meeting, with more emphasis than it was placed there before.

LET THERE BE NO PROTEST

In view of the talk that is going on in the newspapers concerning the eligibility of players on the Nebraska team, the Weekly desires to sound a word of protest before it is too late. Minnesota does not want to put herself in the position she did three years ago in protesting Williams of Iowa. Our football team should be ready to meet any team sent from Nebraska, whether it contains men whose amateur standing is questioned or not. Protesting is sure to react unfavorably on Minnesota and injure Minnesota more than would losing a game, or any number of games. Nothing has been done at the University, for years, that so injured Minnesota in the eyes of all true sportmen as the protesting of Williams, and it is to be hoped that such history will never be repeated.

OPPOSES EDUCATIONAL BOARD OF CONTROL

In an address made at Des Moines, last Tuesday, President Northrop discussed the board of control idea, and spoke very strongly opposing the proposed educational board of control, placing himself on record as preferring the present plan to the proposed plan, and further as preferring the old plan of government by the board of regents to the present plan. Among other things, he stated that the board of control had taught the University regents some things concerning the business management of the University, that they would probably have learned in time themselves, that were valuable; but that, control by two boards, even under the most favorable circumstances, could not possibly be for the good of the University.

MISS GRATIA COUNTRYMAN.

The meeting this year of the American Librarians' association was broadened into an international conference on account of the Louisiana Purchase Exposition. This conference was held last week in St. Louis.

One of the principal papers was given by Miss Gratia Countryman, 87, head of the Minneapolis public library. This paper on "State Aid to Libraries" is to form the basis for a hand-book on public libraries to be issued by state library commissions. A meeting of representatives of the state commissions will be held in St. Louis to consider the formation of a national league of commissions to carry on as much work as possible in co-operation in order to avoid duplication of labors. The proposed hand-book will be prepared for the use of all the commissions.

State aid, Miss Countryman showed, has accomplished such important results that it has become fully established as a principle and has been adopted by twenty-two states. The two chief methods of fostering free libraries are by direct gift of money or books and by loan of books by the traveling library system. Direct aid has been found to meet eastern conditions well and the Massachusetts plan is the model for that section; in the west where towns are comparatively new and heavy drains for improvements make the levy of a sufficient library tax impossible, the traveling library found its field. Many states combine these methods in varying ratio. Wisconsin was the pioneer in library extension work in the west, and its methods are the model for this section. No direct aid is given in Wisconsin, and even traveling libraries are subordinate, altho important parts of its plan, whose chief feature is missionary work carried on thru field workers who make personal visits stirring up interest and giving advice and instruction.

State aid has been given in Minnesota for five years, and is expended on traveling libraries and in supporting a library commission to advise and aid libraries. In that period, free libraries have increased from thirty-four to seventy-four and library buildings from five to thirty-two.

DINNER TO DR. WILLIAMSON.

The following is clipped from the Pacific Coast Journal of Homoeopathy. For many years Dr. Williamson was dean of the University College of Homoeopathic Medicine and Surgery, and is a graduate of the College of Law:

"A number of the professional friends of Dr. A. P. Williamson, the Superintendent of the State Hospital at Patton, desiring to show him some recognition and honor, banqueted him on his recent visit to San Francisco on his way to his new field of work.

The banquet was held in the "red room" of the Bohemian Club, and the room and table were tastefully decorated. Dr. William Simpson acted as toast master of the occasion and welcomed Dr. Williamson to our ranks and to our State. Each one present was then called upon to say a few words which in the majority of cases took the form of renewed greetings and welcome. Afterwards the guest was called upon and spoke for several minutes, partly upon his work and also in answer to some of the other speeches. Besides the toast to the guest of the evening there was also a unanimous toast to the State Commission of Lunacy for its fairness and justice to the homeopathic school in their desire and endeavor to appoint a homeopath to the superintendency and one who was acceptable to the school.

Allen R. Benham, '00, has been fellow in Yale for the past three years. He is joint editor with Professor A. S. Cook of "Specimen Letters."

WEDDINGS

Fred U. Davis, Med. '03, was married June 15th, to Miss Allie G. Beagle at Spring Valley, Minn. Dr. Davis is located at Adams, Minn., where he has been ever since his graduation.

J. Waldo Smith, Med., '02, and Blanche Leonard LaRue were married last Wednesday evening in this city. Dr. and Mrs. Smith will be at home to friends after December 1st, at Madison, Minn.

Miss Georgia M. Swett, '03, and Carl Albert Herrick of the same class, were married Wednesday evening in this city. After a wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Herrick will be at home at 1400 Spruce Place.

Walter A. Plymat, '99, Law, '01, who is practicing law at Mankato, was married to Miss Ida Robel, of the same city, on the 20th of last month.

Dr. Paul F. Barney, Dent. '04, and Miss Henrietta R. Gilmore of Mapleton, Minn., were married June 22. Dr. and Mrs. Barney are at home to friends at Mankato.

BIRTHS

Charles H. Gould, Law '91, and wife, (nee Viola Cauvet) are rejoicing over the advent of a new boy.

Dr. W. H. Ball, Dent., '01, of Chatfield, Minn., reports that he has a little nine-months old co-ed in his home.

PERSONALS

M. Louise Ray, '03, is teaching in the high school at Orrock, Minn.

Augusta Baker, '03, is teaching in the high school at Wheaton, Minn.

William D. Willard, '88, was at the University a short time last Thursday.

Hattie E. Wentworth, '03, is assistant in Latin in the high school at Great Falls, Mont.

Nels A. Cleven, ex. '03, now residing at Sisseton, So. Dak., is the Republican nominee for register of deeds.

Gertrude H. Gould, '97, is principal of the Breckenridge high school. This is her third year in that high school.

W. Neill McDonell, Med., '03, is assistant surgeon U. S. N., is stationed at the naval museum of hygiene, Washington, D. C.

John M. Bradford, Law '97, is a member of the firm of Murphy, Ewin and Bradford, with offices in the Manhattan Building, St. Paul.

Mrs. Fred J. Kopplin (nee Lydia E. Leslin, '00) resides at Iron River, where Mr. Kopplin is engaged in the real estate business.

Herbert C. Hamilton, Chem. '97, with the Parke-Davis Co., of Detroit, Mich., devotes his whole time to experimental work in the lines of pharmacy and pharmacology.

Instructor A. L. Parsons has gone to the southern part of the state, where he has located several clay deposits of great promise, both in quality and quantity.

Cora E. Marlow, '00, reporter for supreme court of Minnesota has just returned from a three-months trip in the far West. Miss Marlowe is the picture of health and reports a most enjoyable time.

Gesena W. Koch, '99, has been spending the past year at Los Angeles, Cal. She went there in search of health, and her year's stay has done her a world of good. She expects to spend another year at the same place.

Kelsey Chase, Law '02, writes, "The longer I am away from the old University, the more keen am I to see and read the news and doings around the old school." Mr. Chase is practicing law at Chamberlain, S. D.

Dr. J. E. E. King, '86, and wife (nee Ada L. Kiehle, '86), have removed from Salt Lake City to Portland, Oregon.

Their new address is 498 Mill Street, and Dr. King's office is in the Mohawk Building.

T. A. Wollan, '94, who has been county superintendent of Pope county, has given up that office to accept a position as instructor in science and mathematics in the Park Region Luther College at Fergus Falls, Minn.

Johnston B. Campbell, Law '90, is practicing his profession at Spokane. His address is 1320 Summit Blvd. He has built a residence and has settled down to make Spokane his home. He is reported to be doing very well in his law business.

The Philadelphia Press in an article about the football game between Carlisle and Lebanon Valley at Philadelphia, says: "Head Coach Rogers and Frank Hudson, deserve credit for placing in the field the best eleven that has ever opened a season here."

The Minnesota Magazine is planning on securing alumni contributions for later issues of the magazine this year. Among those who have been solicited are Oscar Lovell Triggs, '89, John Lind, Chester Firkins, now with the Denver Post, Albert H. Hall and John Goodnow.

Frank N. Stacy, '88, is the Democratic candidate for city comptroller. He was a candidate for this office two years ago and missed the election by a very small number of votes. He hopes to overcome the small plurality and to come through a winner. The Weekly wishes him success.

The many friends of Mrs. O. A. Lende, (nee Hannah J. Kjosness, '01), who have been distressed over the reports of her serious illness, will be rejoiced to learn that she has recovered from a siege of tuberculosis of the bowels, and is well on the road to recovery.

President Northrop returned from his trip last Friday.

FERGUS FALLS FELLOWSHIP

The following is clipped from a letter received from Miss Catherine Goetzing, '04, of Fergus Falls, Minn.:

"I am teaching in Northwestern College, of Fergus Falls. This an academy (College is merely its high-sounding name) with academic, normal and commercial courses. My work is teaching Latin and Pedagogy, besides some side-issues. The students intend to become business men or teachers and are therefore earnest workers. They are more mature than high school students, and I enjoy working with them. It might interest some of the former Pedagogy students to know that one of the text books I teach is McMurry.

"There are eight University alumni teaching in Fergus Falls: Paul Burrill, '03; Ned Huff, '03; Jennie McGregor, '02; Ruth Hutchinson, '03; Louise Peck, '03; and Maud Hyser, '04; teach in the high school; Alta Wayne, '04, in the seventh grade; and I am in Northwestern College.

"We have a beautiful river in our city, which makes the joys of 'river-banking' a possibility to us, even though we are not at the University. We all tramped about three miles up the river one fine afternoon, to a very charming sequestered spot, where we had supper.

"We are hoping to organize and do something definite during the year, to keep alive the interests of the University in this part of the state, and for our own enjoyment.

'04 PARTY AND REUNION.

The class of 1904 will get together Friday evening, Nov. 11, and renew the joyous fellowship of college days. A banquet will be served at Donaldson's at 7 p. m., followed by an informal party at the Armory. Secure your plate for the banquet by addressing Ruth Rosholt, secretary, 1925 Penn Ave., S.

AN APPRECIATION.

A great deal of credit is due Professor McDermot for the high standard of debate which the University now claims. Through his efforts, Minnesota now belongs to the Hamilton Oratorical League of Chicago, Northwestern Debating League, the Iowa League, and the Northern Oratorical League.

He has been tireless in his efforts to raise the standard of debate in the University, and should Minnesota win first place in the Northwestern League, as we all hope, it will be a just reward for his unceasing efforts in behalf of his Alma Mater.

Since the organization of the High School Debating League, the standard of University debate has risen wonderfully. The number of students who enter debating contests has increased greatly, and many are as well prepared now in their Freshman year as they were in the Senior year before the High School League was in vogue.

Now many debaters who come forward as Freshmen have already had three or four years training in the high school. The high schools in the League give a great deal of attention to the training of men.

The interest in the contests is as great as that in football. Even many schools which are not in the League have developed fine material and have sent strong debaters to college.

The increase in the membership of literary societies is marked. Some societies even follow the example of the Greek letter fraternities, and bid strong men while they are still in the high school.

The credit for this pleasing state of affairs belongs largely to Professor McDermot.

The foregoing, clipped from the "Daily" is so good and so true that the Weekly desires to say "Amen!"

DEBATE ENTHUSIASM

The upper classmen held a rousing meeting last week in the interests of debate and oratory, and organized the "Varsity Forensic League."

Any student of the University of any department is eligible to membership. The constitution as adopted compels every member to attend every contest in debate and oratory if possible.

MINISTERIAL MATTERS

One of the phases of the Y. M. C. A. work is to get men to go into the Christian work. There are a number of men in the University who are looking forward to the Christian ministry as a life work. Secretary Hanson called together a number of these young men Wednesday, and an organization was effected with Howard Hare, president, and George Lawton, secretary.

The object of the club will be social fellowship and study for mutual benefit, and also to maintain an interest in the Christian ministry as a life work.

JEWS ORGANIZE

A meeting of Jewish students was held Wednesday noon in the room used by Professor Smith's Psychology classes. The meeting elected Mr. Bank temporary chairman and Mr. Bennan temporary secretary. Further business was deferred to the next meeting, as the attendance was not sufficiently representative of the Jewish students in the University, men and women, and those present did not think it fair to get ahead on business until all the students had a fair opportunity to appear.

ALUMNI AID

During the past week the alumni have exhibited their loyalty by turning out and helping to coach the football team. Among those in evidence were "Pudge" Heffelfinger, who has assisted in the making of every Minnesota team for the past ten or fifteen years.

MRS. CONANT HONORED

Mrs. Edna M. Conant, Law, '94, of Wells, Minn., was unexpectedly called to preside over a meeting of the Minnesota Federation of Women's Clubs at the Fergus Falls convention. Mrs. Conant, owing to the absence of the president was called upon almost without warning, and she filled the position most acceptably, winning the admiration and esteem of all those with whom she was brought in contact.

PLANS

Plans for the New Main are at last assuming definite proportions. The heads of the various departments were required to make their respective demands known at the faculty meeting on last Thursday.

These suggestions have gone to the architect who will weave the diffused matter into the design of the new building, which will be completed by January, in order to inform the Legislature of the exact appropriation needed.

It has been definitely decided that the departments of Philosophy and Sociology will occupy the New Main, but the Economics department will remain in the Library building.

CIRCUS COMING

At a meeting of the Amateur Athletic Club last night in the Armory, it was decided that active measures be taken to start the circus movement. Definite plans are being made and, from all the particulars than can be gleaned from the club members, the probability of a circus next spring is absolutely assured.

COMEDY OR TRAGEDY.

Some members of the club are anxious to give a popular comedy, such as "The Private Secretary," "My Friend

From India," or "Because She Loved Him So," while others wish to put on something heavier and more in the line of a drama.

NO MORE WORRY.

Final examinations in the law school may become a thing of the past. The faculty is at present trying a system of examinations at the completion of each subject which will take the place of the old commencement week tests.

Dean Pattee, when interviewed by a Daily reporter, said:

"The change in the system of final examinations in the Law School is simply that the examinations taken at the end of each subject with the Seniors this year will be their final examinations in these subjects."

The plan, if successful, will be extended to the other classes of the school.

The change will be welcome to the laws, as it does away with uncertainty during the last few days before commencement.

BIBLE STUDY

Interest in Bible Study is increasing. 216 are already enrolled in the Y. M. C. A. classes and new names are coming in daily. The announcement in the Daily a few days ago brought a great many men to the association.

Prof. Wilde's class in the "Old Testament Characters" meets in room, 2, Y. M. C. A. Sunday morning at 9:15.

Prof. Johnston of the Psychology department will have a class in "The teachings of Jesus," which will meet Tuesday noon at 1:10 to 1:50 in room 18 Library.

Professor Hutchinson's' class will meet Thursday noon from 1:10 to 1:50 in Room 2 Y. M. C. A. building, beginning October 27th.

GRADUATE CLUB.

Last Monday afternoon, after much skirmishing to get a quorum together, the Graduate Club finally managed to elect its officers.

Mr. Wm. H. Lippold was elected president and Mr. Alois Kovarik, after having resigned from the presidency for the third time, was made a member of the Executive Committee in place of Miss Bernice Cannon.

The first department meeting of the year will be a public meeting and will be held in the department of anatomy. Dr. Irdmann, professor of anatomy, will lecture on "Man's Place in Nature," giving anatomical facts to illustrate the theory of evolution. After the lecture the building and museum will be open to inspection by the public. The exact date for this meeting will be announced later.

Owing to the large number of graduate students who have registered this year the club is anticipating a prosperous year.

NEW PLAY BY "DICKY."

Dr. Richard Burton read his new play "Rahab of Jericho" for the first time Monday night to the Thalian society.

Everyone present was deeply impressed by the strength of the plot and strenuous emotional side of the play.

The scene is laid in Jericho, 1500 B. C., just before the fall of the city. The characters are all Biblical and the play is written in blank verse.

On Dr. Burton's return to Boston he will read the play to an eastern actress who, he hopes, will create the role of "Rahab."

BIG AFFAIRS

It will take twenty-six acres to provide for the seven new buildings of Harvard College of Medicine. The cost will be $2,000,000, half of which was given by J. P. Morgan.

YALE WANTS GAME

Yale wants a basketball game with Minnesota.

Manager Reed has received a communication from the eastern college asking for a chance to play the 'Varsity five sometime this winter. Negotiations are now being carried on and the date will be announced later.

The Minnesota quintette played Yale two years ago and won.

Last year Old Eli was very bashful about a game and backed out after all arrangements had been made.

TOO EARLY YET.

The managers of the Fort Shaw Indian Girls Basket Ball Team have been trying to arrange a game with the University team, but the Minnesota squad has decided it is no go.

The team from Butte, Mon., has been at the St. Louis Fair all summer and calculated to leave there the last of October and return home by way of Minneapolis, playing here Nov. 2, but as the girls have not started practice yet, they could not get into training without having at least four practices a week and this would mean a great deal of strenuous work and exertion.

Then, if the 'Varsity team was chosen so early in the year there would be no competition and the first team might not have material enough to practice against.

Under all these circumstances, manager Leach has called off all plans for the game.

A PROPER PROVISION

By a recent act of the faculty athletic committee of the University of Pennsylvania, all special students will be roled out of athletics, no matter how many hours of work they take each week. This will keep from playing about 25 per cent of the men who make up the teams.

REVIEWS STRONG BOOK.

In the October number of the Journal of Philosophy, Psychology and Scientific Methods, Prof. Norman Wilde has given a very able review of the new book of Strong on, "Why the Mind Has A Body." He presents the problem of the book as set by the author as the relation of mind and body. He shows that the author in his discussion is not entirely free from the empirical facts, although he does finally adopt the metaphysical method.

Prof. Wilde definitely outlines the nature and scope of the book and briefly follows out the author's line of argument with some very apt criticisms.

McVEY'S BOOK

"Modern Industrialism, as seen in the History of the Industry of England, the United States and Germany," is the title of a new book by Dr. McVey.

Believing that in the present industrial society are to be found all the essentials of the future state, the author aims to bring larger understanding of this society and its problems as indicative of the future.

The volume comprises, within

an exposition of the evolution and character of industrialism and of the problems that arise from its complex organization. To facilitate this treatment the book is in three parts, viz: History, Industry, Administration.

After a survey of present growth and advancement part one treats of the English industrial revolution, and subsequent progress toward the world market. Following is a description of the United States and of Germany.

Part II

discusses such problems as forestry, monopoly control, and the struggle between civilization and the law of diminishing returns. Transportation, industrial organizations and commercial institutions are also described.

The last part deals with the problem of the states' attitude toward industrial organization. The author

Opposes Socialism.

Trade unionism, he says, drifts toward the democratic program; the workingman's party toward socialism. If modern industrial conditions produce an increase of low grade workers the general peoples party is not likely to be democratic, but socialistic.

For the social-industrial problem no complete solution can ever be attained by the state, but some position is necessary either of occasional interference, systematic regulation or government ownership of public utilities.

FAVOR WOMAN'S BUILDING.

Miss Comstock, who returned recently from Fergus Falls, where she attended the convention of Federated Women's Clubs, has expressed her surprise at the great enthusiasm being shown throughout the state in favor of the erection of the Woman's building.

She says that the idea has been proposed so many times and left hanging in the air that only a continuation of the present enthusiasm will assure its success.

At one time the greatest drawback was the securing of a site, but now no trouble of that nature is anticipated.

Private donations, together with the result of the girls' labors, are expected in time to be sufficient, but in case of failure from that quarter the legislature will be consulted and it is expected that the desired sixty or one hundred thousand dollars will be forthcoming.

At any rate, says Miss Comstock, the whole matter rests upon the amount of college spirit which is shown, as the outside help will undoubtedly be withdrawn if the girls here slacken in their interest.

NEXT SATURDAY

The Daily Nebraskan says, "Minnesota evidently considers the Nebraska game her biggest one this year. It is certainly our biggest one."

Nebraska is concentrating her energies on the Minnesota game, and her team and rooters will come here determined to win.

The club proposes to

This, with the provision that when completed the structure shall contain a the plan, which is already being seriously agitated.

Miss Rita Kendall, president of the Women's League said yesterday: "The plan of the Women's building has included an auditorium and rostrum and this could very well be used by the Dramatic club, tho not exclusively. I think the plan good."

It is suggested that in case it is not possible to combine with the Women's League an arrangement might be made with the Literary Societies in their recent building scheme. The idea of a campus theatre is new and popular as it should be.

A large delegation of young women, representing the University, attended the Y. W. C. A. convention at Winona, last week.

CONSISTENT WORK

Minnesota 146—Grinnell 0.

As last week's game was characterized by erratic playing, last Saturday's game was characterized, with one or two slight exceptions, by straightforward, consistent work by the team. A few fumbles and off-sides were the only features which marred Minnesota's series of steady marches for Grinnell's goal, and this distance was measured off in from 5 to 50 yard lots; scarcely a dozen times during the game was Minnesota obliged to try a second time for five yards. Usually when the signal was given the whole machine started and plowed through the Grinnell line like a gang plow thru a stubble field. Taking into account the weakness of Grinnell even, it was wonderfully good work, and showed better than any game this season that Minnesota's championship team is on the way and is developing fast. But far more than the record-breaking score, the Minnesota partisans felt encouraged by the evidenced of developing and already developed team work and the consistent work of the Minnesota team throughout. Every man was in every play from the time it started until the whistle blew a down.

The work of the day was, of course, almost wholly offensive, very few times was the defense tested, but it was uniformly found good, and the Grinnell men would go up against the

Piano Construction

Is an art and a science. Many firms have fine factories and unlimited capital but still do not build a "real piano," for knowledge of piano building is not learned in a day. Experience which comes thru years of thoughtful work counts for more than anything else, and when coupled with proper facilities, will result in an instrument on which you can rely.

Here are some records:

STEINWAY PIANOS were awarded first prize in 1862.
KNABE PIANOS established in 1837.
GABLER PIANOS created by Gabler in 1854.
EMERSON PIANOS first on the market in 1849.

line and pile up in a heap as though they had struck a stone wall, or better, had run into a steam engine which was steadily, but surely sweeping them back toward their own goal. Not once did the visitors make a first down and almost invariably the third down found them with ten or more yards to make.

Although so decisively outclassed the Grinnell men were not quitters but after each down were up and at it and played with the same dash and vim as though they expected to win instead of merely trying to keep the score below 200.

Usually such a one-sided game is unpleasant to watch on account of the injuries to the weaker team and the consequent slowness of the game through time thus taken out. Not a man was compelled to leave the game through injuries and very little time was taken out on any account. The Grinnell men were in the pink of physical condition and as fearless in tackling and as reckless in the abandon with which they went into every play, during the last five minutes as during the first.

It was a sight to stir enthusiasm to see the way in which the Grinnell men would go after their big opponents and it was equally stirring to see the way in which the man carrying the ball would brush off the clinging tacklers, like so many flies and continue his run toward the goal line. It was a case of sheer pluck and energy opposing the irresistible, and as pluck did not seem to be seriously punished for its recklessness it was a sight to rejoice the heart of the lover of true sport.

The men, one and all, acquitted themselves in a manner to win the admiration of their backers and this statement applies to the line-men who did their share even though they had less chance to distinguish themselves by carrying the ball.

Brush, Burgan, Vita, Thorpe, Ittner, Davies, vied with each other in tearing up the line and carrying the ball by great line smashes. Burdick and Marshall at the ends covered ground whenever called upon. Marshall has shown himself to be one of the surest ground gainers on the team and his distance is usually measured by the 5-yard white chalk lines rather than by yards. Gleason and Kremer did most excellent work.

Perhaps the most noticeable feature of the game was the playing of Larkin, at quarter. For reasons not stated, Hunter was not in the line up, but Larkin's work was such to assure Minnesota the service of two quarters of high order. He not only ran the team with rare judgment snap, and precision, but he could be counted upon to carry the ball for good gains.

The score was a record-breaker, the highest previous score being Michigan's 121 to 0 and it bettered the score which Michigan made last Saturday, of 130 to West Virginia's 0. It was 100 points better than Nebraska did against the same team. The score was made by an even 73 in each half.

The line-up:

Position	Minnesota
Left End .....	Marshall-Luce
Left Tackle .....	Vita
Left Guard .....	Oech-Sanborn
Center .....	Strathern
Right Guard .....	Thorpe, Ricker
Right Tackle .....	Brush-Ittner
Right End.....	Burdick-Marshall
Quarterback .....	Larkin
Left Half .....	Davies-Gleason
Right Half ...	Burgan-Nuessle-Weisel
Fullback .....	Current, Kremer

Touchdowns— Thorpe, 2; Burgan, Vita, 4; Brush, 2; Davies, 4; Burdick, Marshall, 4; Kremer, 2; Ittner, 3; Gleason, 2; Luce. Goals from touchdown—Marshall 13; Davies, 3. Referee—Force; Umpire—Burkland. Time of Halves—25 minutes.

A letter just received from Joseph E. Guthrie, '00, of the State College, Ames, Iowa, says that reports at Ames, as a result of the game one week ago, is that Minnesota has a bunch of star players but not a star team. He further adds that the statement that Ames has a team of veterans is untrue; that six of last years' team are not in college and that the team that met Minnesota had but three of four of the old men in line.

JUDGE ELLIOTT

Nominee for Justice of the Supreme Court

Charles B. Elliott, senior Judge of the District Court at Minneapolis, is one of the nominees on the Republican ticket for Justice of the Supreme Court of Minnesota. Judge Elliott, by reason of his attainments and his natural qualifications is eminently fitted for this position. Pre-eminently of a judicial temperament, he has, by long years of painstaking and careful study of law from a theoretical standpoint as well as its practical application to the daily affairs of life, attained an enviable reputation among the jurists of the country for high learning and ability. He is a man of literary tastes and has found time, despite his arduous judicial duties, to write a number of well known legal treatises as well as articles for the law and literary magazines.

Judge Elliott's candidacy, however, appeals especially to the Alumni of the University for the reason that, from the organization of the College of Law down to 1898, he acted as lecturer on the subjects of International law, Corporations, Evidence and Insurance. The comprehensive grasp of the subjects displayed by him, and his marked ability to impart knowledge to others endeared him to the student body of those days. But aside from this, the friends of the University have cause for congratulation that this especial friend of the University should have received the nomination for the position, rather than Judge Lovely, who wrote the opinion holding that the University of Minnesota was a charitable institution.

HONORABLE ROBERT C. DUNN
Republican Candidate for Governor

The friends of the University of Minnesota may feel satisfied that with Mr. Dunn as governor of the state the needs and wants of the University will receive every consideration. With a Republican governor and a Republican legislature all measures which may be brought before the legislative body will receive greater attention than they possibly could if one of the branches of state government was controlled by the Democrats. There need be no fear that with Mr. Dunn in the governor's chair any legislation intended to hamper the University or the scope of its work will receive any consideration at his hands.

E. B. JOHNSON, '88, - - - Editor
Frank S. Lyon, '07, Advertising Mgr.

Last Saturday evening a fire of unknown origin was discovered in the Mechanic Arts building. An alarm was turned in and the fire companies responded promptly and by some good work, extinguished the fire, confining its ravages mainly in the laboratory room in which it started. The damage will amount to several thousand dollars but is covered by insurance. While the fire will seriously inconvenience the departments located in that building it will not stop classes nor delay work.

Frank N. Stacy, '88, candidate for city comptroller came within six hundred votes of being elected to that office two years ago. He has done an immense amount of good in the agitation which he has effected and the consequent change in the system of city bookkeeping. For this and other reforms he is largely responsible.

Simply upon the ground of what he has done for the city he might appeal to the residents of the city for election; but when in addition it is considered that he is an ideal candidate for this particular position it is to be hoped that he may win out by a rousing majority.

Oscar Lovell Triggs, '89, has again instituted a movement which has given him no little newspaper notoriety. In a recent interview he sharply criticised the Chicago University spirit and motive and outlined a proposed industrial school, which he intends to found in the immediate future. In this school he expects to bring arts and industry together on a harmonious plan. The curriculum will include only farming, wood-working, iron working and other industrial arts. Higher mathematics, history, geography and other subjects, which Professor Triggs denounces as useless, will find no place in this school. The basis of the school is to be work and unity. He scores football and says there will be none of it in the new institution. He is going to some small village, away from the distracting and debasing influence of the city and expects to make his school self-supporting. It will not depend upon millionaires as the University of Chicago and a great many other educational institutions are doing. He expects to study science only so far as it will aid in the industries. He predicts that his institution will prove a blessing to mankind. We might venture some predictions in this matter ourselves, but prefer to leave that to our readers.

A WORD TO NEW SUBSCRIBERS

When the first numbers of the Weekly were printed this fall, the plan for issuing the directory which has since been adopted was entirely unthought of, so there were but few extra copies of the first numbers of the Weekly printed. The increase in the subscription list, due to the change of plans in issuing the directory, soon consumed all of these extra copies. Now there are no extra copies available of the first five numbers of the Weekly. We regret this matter exceedingly, and shall try to make the matter good as far as possible by including in a short article the main items of news of the present college year, and to all new subscribers we expect to send an equivalent number of the Weekly for the year 1904-5 containing reports of matters of special University interest. We hope that this plan may meet the approval of new subscribers.

MAIN ITEMS OF THE YEAR

One item which will perhaps interest new subscribers more than any other is the burning of the old main building on the morning of Sept. 24th. The building was totally destroyed. Classes that had been housed in this building were scattered around through the other buildings on the campus, and work proceeded with but a single day's loss of time.

The educational board of control, which has been talked of this fall has met opposition from every one connected in any way with the University. The proposition is to create a board of three members who will have general supervision of all educational institutions in the state. It seems probable that this will not be carried through. Those who are in the best position to know the real merits of the case, prefer the present arrangement of the board of control to the proposed new arrangement, and all friends of the University prefer the old plan of government by a board of regents.

Dr. Burton, who will be remembered by so many of the alumni, has been giving a course of sixty-four lectures, which will close on the 8th of November. The lectures cover three distinct portions of English literature. A course of twenty-four lectures is being given upon American literature, another course of twenty-four upon Shakespere and another course of six lectures open to outsiders as well as students, upon Modern English Poets. It is hardly necessary to say that these lectures are being warmly received. Dr. Burton has lost none of his old cunning in winning the hearts of the students. It is to be regretted that we cannot have him with us always.

The reception which was given to President Northrop in commemoration of the completion of twenty years' service as President of the University; his seventieth birthday, and forty-third wedding anniversary, was held in the armory on the evening of October 1st. More than four thousand people called to pay their respects to President Northrop and his wife. It was an occasion which was calculated to show the President the great esteem in which he is universally held.

In this connection a word concerning the proposition to raise money to commemorate this event by some permanent memorial will not be out of place. The proposition is to place a bust, or statue, of bronze or of marble, somewhere on the campus, as a testimonial of the great love in which President Northrop is held.

The prospects of a winning team are unusually good this fall. So far the scores have been as follows:

Central High Schools.....	107 to 0
South Dakota .....	77 to 0
Shattuck .....	75 to 0
Carleton .....	65 to 0
St. Thomas .....	47 to 0

North Dakota .....	35 to 0
Ames .....	32 to 0
Grinnell .....	146 to 0

Starting in the fall with practically all new material, only two of the old veterans being back, but with an abundance of promising new material, the team has shown a steady advancement from the beginning to the present time. The scores have been of a record-breaking nature, and they have shown a spirit of playing-up-to-the-limit, even against weak opponents. This is an exceedingly hard thing to do, and the fact that the team has accomplished this shows that the material and the team developed from this material, is first class.

UNIVERSITY MEDICAL SOCIETY

Doctor Wilcox delivered a lecture to the Society on "Going Abroad to Study Medicine," Friday, October 28th,

BURTON ON TOLSTOI.

A meeting of the University Liberal Association will be held Monday, Oct. 31, at 8 p. m. Professor McClumpha's room.

Dr. Burton will speak on "Tolstol." The following Saturday a talk will be given by Professor Wilde.

MARRIED.

Mr. C. H. Lewis, Academic '04, and Louisa B. Knight, ex-Academic '07, were united in the bonds of matrimony on Oct. 22d.

After a short honeymoon they will be at home after Nov. 15th at 116 Willow street.

U. C. A. Meeting.

Fr. Moynihan addressed the University Catholic Association, Sunday October 28th in Room 11 of the Library building on "The Structure of the New Testament."

PERSONALS

For some of the most interesting personal items of this issue we are indebted to M. J. Luby and C. W. Eutz. They are the sort of subscribers to make an editors life seem one long picnic.

Henry S. Morris, '91, a banker at Sisseton, S. D., is one of the presidential electors on the Republican ticket of that state.

Frank E. Moody, Dent. '96, who is practicing in this city, is a member of the state board of dental examiners, and vice-president of the national board of dental examiners.

James H. Nicol, '90, formerly general secretary of the University Y. M. C. A., and now pastor of a Presbyterian church at Thief River Falls, Minn., expects to go to China as a missionary next August.

Egbert N. Parmelee, '00, who was prominent in Y. M. C. A. affairs during his college course, and who has been acting as general secretary of the Y. M. C. A. of the University of Washington, holds a similar position at Northwestern University this year.

Louis D. Davis, '01, Law '03, and Miss Gertrude Miller, were married October 18th. Mr. and Mrs. Davis have already settled down in their home at Eveleth, Minn. Mr. Davis is a member of the firm of Davis & Ferry which is doing a thriving business. The Weekly extends best wishes to Mr. Davis and his bride and wishes them many years of happiness and prosperity.

W. N. Palmer, Dent. '02, who is practicing his profession at Valley City, N. D., was at the University last Saturday, with Mrs. Palmer (nee Eleanor Lees, ex-'03) to take in the Nebraska game. Dr. and Mrs. Palmer expect to visit the fair at St. Louis and on their homeward bound trip stop over to take in the Wisconsin game.

R. R. Ferris, Law '03, is located at North Yakima, Wash.

Allan R. Brown, '03, expects to enter an eastern law school within a few weeks.

Thomas Dignan, Law '02, is a member of the firm of Hurd and Dignan of Glasgow, Mont.

Dr. Edward A. Borchardt, '93, died last February. Nothing but the bare fact stated above was reported.

And. A. Tone, '98, Law '02, is an independent candidate for the position of county commissioner of the first district of Itasca county.

Dr. Charlotte Campbell, Med. '00, was married to Wm. J. Pratt on the 4th of last August. Mr. and Mrs. Pratt have made their home at Gardner, N. D.

Fred U. Davis, '98, Med. '02, who is practicing his profession at St. Clair, Minn., writes: "If I can possibly get away from the sick people I will attend the Wisconsin game."

Jessie T. Morgan, Law '01, who was for many years librarian of the New York Life Law Library, is now assistant in the State Library in St. Paul. She lives at "The Ashland."

Edward Rogers, Law '04, coach of the Carlisle Indian team, writes: "My material is very light, but spirited. The season so far has been very satisfactory and I hope to turn out a good team. Regards to all inquiring friends."

Arthur N. Collins, '02, is studying medicine at Harvard and Alex Janes, '02, is taking law at the same place. Joseph Beach, '00, and M. LeRoy Arnold, '04, are pursuing graduate work in the same institution.

Albert S. Larson, Law '98, a member of the firm of Wallrich, Dillett and Larson, of Shawano, Wis. The firm has an excellent practice and frequently represents tribes of Indians before the Department of Interior and Congress.

Ethelyn F. Wilcox, '98, is teaching drawing and painting in the Spokane (Wash.) high school. There are over eight hundred students enrolled in the high schools at that place.

Ernest A. Bumester, '03, is assistant cashier of the First National Bank at Wells, Minn. Mr. Bumester came up to help the team defeat Grinnell and stayed over to see the slaughter of Nebraska. He is taking his vacation at a time when football is ripe.

Henry A. Scandrett, '98, Law '00, who was exceedingly prominent in football in his day, is practicing law at Topeka, Kansas, and is a member of the firm of Loomis, Blair and Scandrett, attorneys for the Union Pacific Railroad.

W. S. Kienholz, '04, is still "pushing on the lines" and his team defeated the Virginia Military School team, the West Point of the South, on their own grounds, by a score of 6 to 0. The people down in his country think he is IT and are ready to place their money on his men.

Edith E. Putnam, '04, is teaching at Eyota, Minn., and reports that she is enjoying her work. Mr. Aygarn, '04, is the principal of the same school. Together they have instituted a literary society which is a new departure for that school and which is proving itself as enjoyable as profitable to the students.

Chas. E. Guthrie, '91, Med. '01, who used to "star" in football when men weighing less than 200 pounds had a chance, and who is now practicing medicine at Columbia, Wash., writes, "I look for great doings on the football field this fall and hope to see Wisconsin snowed deep down."

"This Puget Sound country is a constant delight and nothing could induce me to again brave forty below or one hundred in the shade."

Kendrick Charles Babcock, '89, president and professor of history of the University of Arizona, writes to wish the Weekly and the new directory god-speed.

Geo. V. McLaughlin, Law '02, has an office at 931 Lumber Exchange in this city.

Wm. C. Deering, ex-04, has a good position in the offices of the Hennepin Lumber Company of this city.

Otto A. Poirer, Law '02, who is permanently located at Virginia, Minn., is city attorney and U. S. Commissioner, still has an unbroken interest in everything connected with the University.

Dr. Joseph A. Gates, Med. '95, who was a delegate to the national Republican Convention from the third Congressional district, has been nominated for the legislature from the First Representative District in Goodhue county.

F. M. Madden, Eng. '02, who is connected with the United States Coast and Geodetic Survey at Belle Fouche, S. D., writes, "I am glad that the football team is showing up so strong and trust they will be victorious the entire season. I read the description in the newspapers, but always place more reliance on the descriptions given in the Weekly and anxiously await its coming every week.

Frank H. Hosmer, '02, a member of the faculty of the Memorial University, writes from Mason City, Ia., "I am down here with one of the best men the Minnesota Agricultural School ever had, Frederick D. Tucker, now President of the Memorial University. We also have here W. J. Wojta, who took post-graduate work at Minnesota, making three representatives from Minnesota. * * We were all much grieved to hear of this disastrous fire."

Fred N. Furber, Law '04, is with the American Surety Company, of New York, with an office in the Minnesota Loan and Trust Company Building.

It is reported that Edmund Burke, Law '94, who was engaged in the editorial department of the Keefe-Davidson Co., of St. Paul, died some time ago.

Mrs. J. E. MacBrady, nee Lena G. Whitten, '99, is living at 92 Thomas Street, Oak Park, Ill.

Wm. B. McPherson, Eng. '02, is living at 218 South 3rd St., Stillwater.

C. F. Grass, '01, is running a general store at DeLamere, N. D.

Miss Jeanie M. Jackson is living at Lincoln, Kansas, and expects to teach after the holidays. The note in the Weekly, several weeks ago, giving a different address was incorrect.

Agnes Campbell, '81, is special agent for the Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York, with an office at Duluth, Minn.

Rockwell C. Osborn, Law '97, is treasurer of the Colonial Elevator Company, limited, of Winnipeg, Man. His home address is 387 Carlton St. Alvin K. Godfrey of the same college and class is secretary of the Canadian Elevator Company, limited, of the same city.

Fred Glover, who made a great reputation as end on the teams of 1897-98, is engaged in sheep raising a few miles from the town of Glover, N. D. He is as popular among his neighbors as he used to be with the rooters and his mates on the team. It is said that if he should run for president of the United States he would get every vote in his county.

C. O. Rosendahl, '01, is just entering upon his second year at the University of Berlin, having spent the summer in travelling in northern Germany, Denmark, Sweden, Norway and England. Geo. W. Stein, '02, is the only other U. of M. alumnus studying in Berlin. He is taking a course in engineering at the Polytechnic Institute of Charlottenberg, Berlin. Mr. Rosendahl says, "The Weekly is a very welcome visitor. Its record of alumni news as well as review of college events and athletic doings come like a breath from a real, living college.

Robert W. Washburn, Agr. '00, is acting professor of dairy husbandry in the Missouri State University at Columbia, Mo.

D. Cuyler Washburn, Eng. '93, is located at Aberdeen, as city engineer, and has a private practice as civil and sanitary engineering.

Alfred Dresser, Law '99, of Minnewaukan, N. D., has been appointed County Judge for Benson county, North Dakota, and bears his new honors with great dignity. He is giving entire satisfaction to the bar. He is the Republican nominee for re-election and has no opposition.

Dr. William E. Leonard, '76, is president of the "Native Sons of Minnesota," an organization which aims to bring together all natives over thirty seven years of age, for social purposes, and to preserve records and places of historical interest of the earlier days of our great commonwealth. Dr. Leonard arranged and carried out successfully the first historical excursion, the beginning of a series of trips to places of historical interest. The first trip was made to Mendota and the Minnesota valley. Next summer the society plans to celebrate the centennial of the first acquisition of land from the Indians by the United States government, September 23, 1805, at Fort Snelling.

C. W. Buttz, Law '00, who has been located at Minnewaukan, N. D., since his graduation, has formed a law partnership with Mr. O. D. Comstock, formerly attorney general of North Dakota, and the new firm will continue the practice of law at that place under the firm name of Comstock & Buttz.

W. J. Bruchman, Acad., is now the principal of schools at Enderlin, N. D. He has nine teachers under him, and one of the best high schools in the state is forging ahead under his direction.

G. L. Whittimore, of Rugby, N. D., Law, '00, is the republican nominee of Pierce county, N. D., for county attorney and will be elected.

W. M. Anderson, Law '96, located at Devils Lake, N. D., is completing his second term as county attorney of Ramsey county, N. D., and will be re-elected again this fall.

H. J. Bessessen, Law '02, of Harvey, N. D., is the republican nominee for county attorney of Wells county, N. D., and will be elected without opposition.

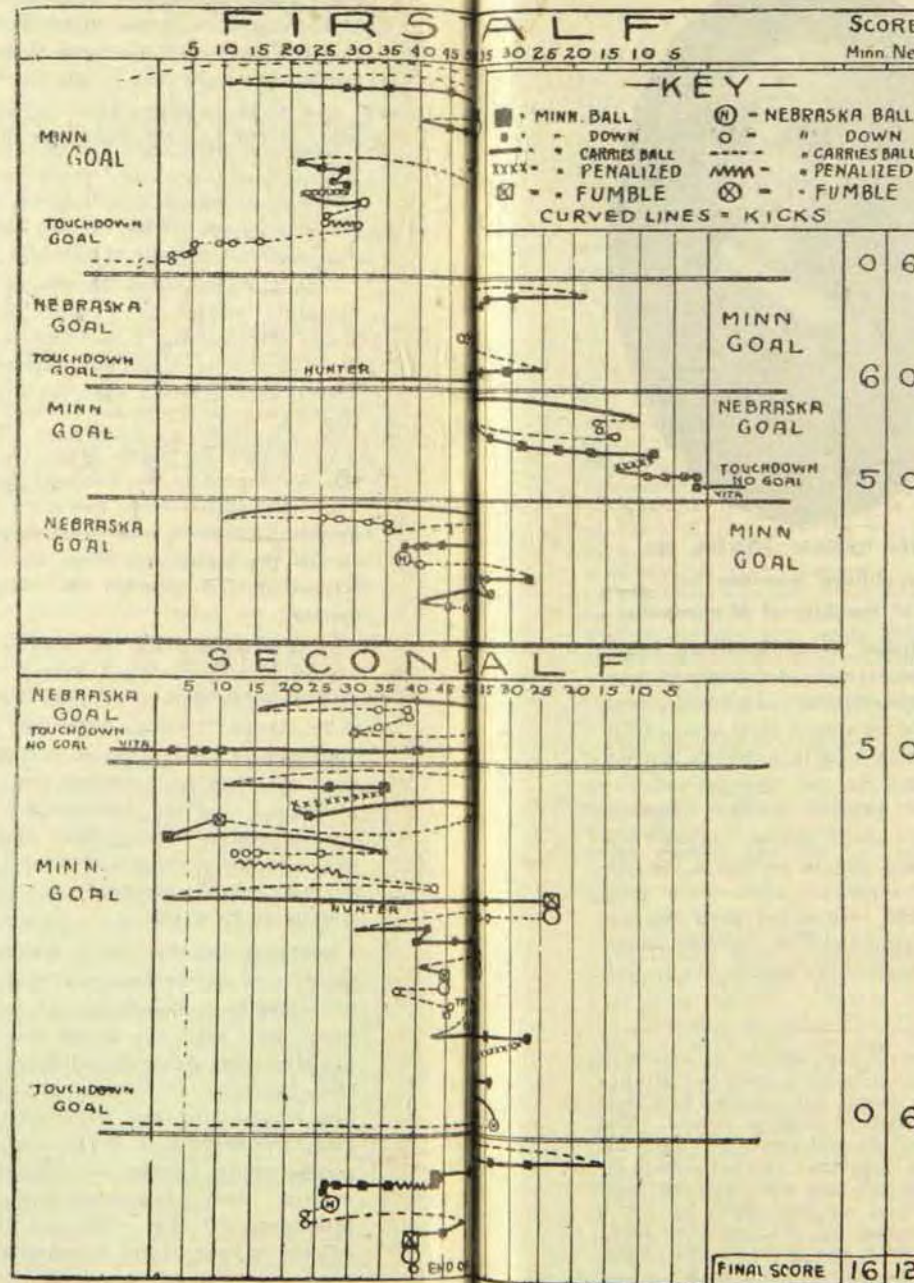

Siver Serungard, a member of one of the early law classes and a graduate of the academic department, and whose residence is Devils Lake, N. D., is the democratic nominee for attorney general of North Dakota. Siver has a fine law practice and is accumulating there.

THE DRAMATIC CLUB PLAY

Next Friday evening at the Lyceum Theatre the University dramatic club is to give "A Pair of Spectacle." Dr. Richard Burton is to take the leading role and this fact alone would insure a large and enthusiastic audience.

The play itself is one of the most popular of modern comedies and the club, which contains some of the best material ever at the University, has been working faithfully, under the tutelage of Dr. Burton to make the event the unqualified success which it promises to be. The play is one which is calculated to bring out Dr. Burton's well-known abilities in this line and as it will be the last chance for a Minneapolis audience to hear its favorite, "Dicky" Burton, this year, a large crowd is expected.

Seats on sale today at the Lyceum box office. Secure seats early if you want a chance to chose the best.

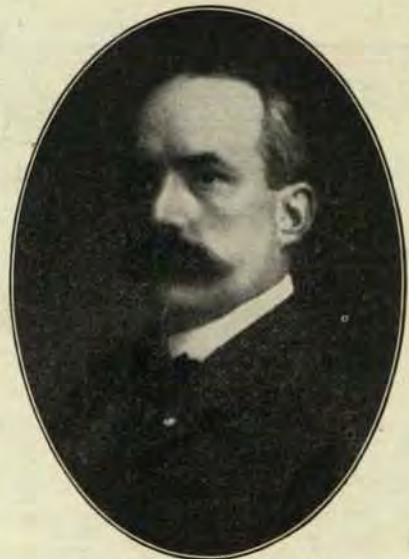

JOHN A. JOHNSON

Democratic candidate for Governor

Speaking of the Board of Control, says:

"Contracts are made in secret and the business of the public is withheld from the public itself. Freedom should prevail and suspicion might be removed by having public business transacted in the light of day. As our nominee for governor stated in the last campaign, the important question is not in the saving per capita, but whether the state receives adequate return for every dollar of the money expended in the care of the state wards."—Adv.

DAVID PERCY JONES, '83.

Republican Nominee for

Mayor of the City of Minneapolis.

Percy Jones, '83, candidate for mayor is a cool, level-headed business man. His administration, as mayor, was marked by an almost ideal state of affairs. He is held in universal esteem by all who are not directly and unfavorably affected by his fearless stand for a clean, honest, business administration. He is receiving the enthusiastic support of all lovers of good government. He needs such support and his friends should not stop working for him till the ballots are in and counted.

MINNESOTA 16—NEBRASKA—12.

It was a fiercely fought and hard won victory. Nebraska scored first and when the score board read—not a few thought of two years ago and feared that history was about to repeat itself. The crowd began to gather at noon and by the time the game was called the grand stand and bleachers were full of shouting partisans of the maroon and gold, with Nebraska colors not greatly in evidence. A few minutes after two the Minnesota men came out on the field and were greeted by rousing cheers. The men looked fit and ready for the fray. A minute later the Nebraska men also trotted out, and were greeted most cordially and as they lined up for a little warming up practice they looked every whit the peers of the champions of the maroon and gold.

Nebraska won the toss and elected to kick off. The ball was sent far over the Minnesota goal line, but was recalled, Nebraska being off-side; on the next kick-off Hunter got the ball and made fifteen yards. Davies, Thorpe and Brush made some great gains when the ball was fumbled to Nebraska on Minnesota's 38 yard line. Nebraska could not gain and was forced to kick. After a few short gains Minnesota, on third down tried a fake kick and lost ten yards, and the ball. Nebraska was penalized and failed to make distance and punted to Hunter who was downed in his tracks. Vita and Thorpe made big gains and then Minnesota was penalized and forced to punt. Hunter punted high and for short distance and the ball was Nebraska's on Minnesota 30 yard line. Nebraska then took the ball and by heavy line smashes and a fifteen yard end run made the first touchdown and kicked a goal, and the few Nebraskans went wild with delight over first blood for their men.

Up to the time of the loss of the ball on their 30 yard line the playing had been all in Minnesota's favor and Minnesotans were hugging themselves with joy and figuring out a large score as the result of the game. When the first touchdown was made gloom displaced smiles and while no Minnesotan would admit defeat, not a few felt a curious sinking sensation about the heart.

The Minnesota men then went into the game to win and smashed Nebraska's line and run her ends for long gains until Nebraska's team was forced back to its own fifty yard line, when Hunter took the ball and by a marvellous run, in which he dodged nearly every man on the Nebraska team, he crossed her goal and placed the ball fairly between the goal posts. Then it was that pandemonium broke loose and the Minnesota crowd went wild with delight. Smiles displaced the erstwhile gloom. But the game was not over and the fight was far from all taken out of the Nebraska team, but from this point on the game was fairly Minnesota's and though the playing was marred by many fumbles and some very loose playing, on the whole, Minnesota was able to make distance usually in two downs though at the times the ground was covered in ten or fifteen yard stretches and never again did the Nebraska offence succeed in making consistent and long continued gains against Minnesota's defence.

The next touchdown came mainly through heavy line smashes and the goal was missed and the score stood 11 to 6 at the end of the half, neither side being able to make continuous progress against the opposing team during the remainder of the half.

The line up for the second half remained unchanged, though many of the members of the team were worse for the punishment they had received. The next touchdown came as the result of a 30 yard run followed by some fierce line plunging by the back field. An easy goal was missed and the score stood 16 to 6 in favor of Minnesota.

Then followed the sensation of the game. Minnesota ran back Nebraska's kick-off and made 25 yards when a 15 yard penalty compelled her to kick. Nebraska could not gain and kicked back to Minnesota who returned the ball 10 yards and fumbled and recovered it again almost under her own goal posts and was forced to kick. The Nebraskans played like fiends, hoping that they could repeat the trick of the opening of the game. After gaining 25 yards, she lost 15 on a penalty and fifteen more in an attempted end run and was forced to punt. Hunter got the ball and ran it back seventy yards through the whole Nebraska team, shaking off man after man and with a clear field before him a touchdown seemed certain, but his long run had tired him and he was overhauled by a Nebraskan and in the second play a long gain was made but the ball was fumbled, going to Nebraska. Nebraska made 15 yards and was forced to punt. Then Minnesota took the ball and started a series of heavy line smashes which made good every time and a touchdown seemed assured when another fumble spoiled the chance. Nebraska could not gain and punted and Minnesota fumbled and Nebraska unable to gain tried a place kick which was blocked and Thorpe made 35 yards before being brought to the ground. Then a long gain and a short gain and with but two yards to make the team seemed to lose nerve and after an exhibition of indecision which was most painful to the spectators, finally decided to try a place kick. This was blocked, Bender secured the ball, and guarded by two of his team mates, ran eighty yards for a touchdown. The goal was kicked and the score was getting too close for comfort. Again Minnesota made tremendous gains and was carrying the ball by the fiercest kind of fighting when a fumble spoiled her last chance for a score. And time was called much to the relief of many a rooter, with the ball in Nebraska's possession on her own 35 yard line.

Nebraska fairly divided the honors of the day with Minnesota and were it not for, what appeared to many in the grand stand to be several pieces of dirty playing on the part of one or two members of that team, the team would have carried with them the unqualified admiration of the crowd.

Loose work on the part of Minnesota accounts for the fact that Nebraska ever got near enough the Minnesota goal line to force the ball over and the same sort of work was responsible for the loss of the ball on the part of Minnesota, who repeatedly pounded the Nebraska line for long gains only to lose the ball on a fumble or failure to make a yard on the third down. When only a yard is lacking and the third down is called, the team ought to play as though it had ten yards to make, and this it failed to do not once but six or eight times in Saturday's game. This and the fumbling were the two faults which marred an otherwise wonderful exhibition of foot ball.

But looked at from any point, the Minnesota men met a team worthy of its steel and was fortunate to come out with a balance on the right side of the score card. It was a battle of giants and we doubt very much whether any team in the west could have bettered the showing made by the Nebraska team against Minnesota, last Saturday. Nebraska used substitutes freely and Minnesota could have followed her example in this respect to good advantage. While Hunter is a wonderful player and his two long, dodging runs were by all odds the finest work done in last Saturday's game he was "all in" long before he left the field and O'Brien who took his place is not the field general that Larkin has shown himself to be and though he did some wonderfully clever individual work he used very poor judgment in two or three instances which cost Minnesota dearly.

Mose Strathern was also barely able to stand when the game was over and several other members of the team were in decidedly a "groggy" condition. Davies was so severely injured that he had to be carried from the field. When the game was over the team was in a worse condition than it was when the Michigan game was over last year.

The Wisconsin game comes two weeks from last Saturday and if Minnesota is to win that game there must be some hard work done and the men will have to play the game of their lives every minute if they would come out with flying colors and above all must cease to fumble.

The Men

The Minnesota men played great football. Fred Hunter ran the team in grand style and his great runs of 45 and 70 yards were the features of the game. His defensive play was also strong.

Henry O'Brien replaced Hunter late in the second half and the famous quarterback played a sensational game. At every try he tore off from 3 to 7 yards but he used poor judgment twice in his choice of plays. Marshall did excellent work but his defensive work was hardly up to the standard, though one long run helped materially to add six points to Minnesota's score.

Burdick also did splendid work, his defensive play being of a high order while he came in for some good gains while carrying the ball.

Vita at tackle was a wonder on the offense and went through the left side of the line for good gains on almost every smash. Case replaced Vita in the second half and played with his usual dash. He stood the work well on defense and made good in carrying the ball.

At the other tackle Brush did fair work on the defense and his line smashing was good, but did not show up so well as in some previous games. He had to retire in the second half on account of an injured knee and Itner took his place, but had little chance to distinguish himself.

At the guards Thorpe and Smith were strong. A number of gains were made through Smith but the opposition did not look upon him as a weak spot in the team. Captain Strathern played a strong game. Borg went after the Gopher captain hard and after the game Strathern was in bad condition. Though as usual he clearly outplayed his opponent, Borg, who was ruled out for rough play.

Davies and Kremer at the halves, were stars in their positions. Davies never played harder in any game and had to be carried from the field before the contest was over. He played a fierce offensive game and backed up the line on the defence. Kremer's fault was his tendency to fumble.

Burgan succeeded Davies but had hardly time to warm up and was unable to show any of his old-time speed at carrying the ball. Current played the same faithful, hard plunging game for which he is justly famed, and his defensive work was most excellent.

Pertinent Points.

Minnesota made six fumbles at critical points which undoubtedly cost her three or four touchdowns beside making it possible for Nebraska to get within striking distance and make her one touchdown on straight football.

The play of the playing, which deserves a careful study, shows that for sixty-five of the seventy minutes of the playing Minnesota was pushing her opponent and for not more than five minutes was she on the defensive.

Piano Construction

Is an art and a science. Many firms have fine factories and unlimited capital but still do not build a "real piano," for knowledge of piano building is not learned in a day. Experience which comes thru years of thoughtful work counts for more than anything else, and when coupled with proper facilities, will result in an instrument on which you can rely.

Here are some records:

STEINWAY PIANOS were awarded first prize in 1862.
KNABE PIANOS established in 1837.
GABLER PIANOS created by Gabler in 1854.
EMERSON PIANOS first on the market in 1849.
METROPOLITAN MUSIC CO., established 25 years.

Such figures assure you a reliable piano if you buy it at the "Met."

FIRST SOCIAL EVENT

The Press Club Ball at the Armory Friday night was by far the most delightful informal ever given at the University.

The floor was comfortably crowded with the dancers, while the balcony fairly groaned with the numbers who came to view the "stunts."

GIRLS' TRACK MEET.

Plans are being made among the girls of athletic persuasion for a woman's track meet, which is scheduled for sometime next March.

The meet will be conducted upon much the same lines as that of the men, and will include for the most part the same events. Miss Butner has charge of the work.

WILL GATHER AGAIN

A meeting of the Junior class has been called for Thursday next week after the fourth hour in Professor Frankforter's lecture room, to bring to final conclusion and satisfactory settlement, the Junior ball situation.

BICEPS BULGE

Over in the gym, men of brawn are getting ready for a strong men's contest which is being planned for next spring.

Gold medals will be awarded the five strongest men in the contest, while bronze medals will be given to the forty-five next strongest.

If you wish to secure a position to teach, write to James F. McCullough, Railway Exchange Building, Chicago.

WATER USED in Cooking, at the COLLEGE INN, STERILIZED and ABSOLUTELY PURE.

BACK FROM WINONA.

The girls who attended the Y. W. C. A. state convention at Winona, returned recently.

They all say that the convention was one of the best in the history of the state. The people of Winona proved themselves royal entertainers and the girls had a great old time.

PURDUE MEMORIAL.

President Stone of Purdue received a check Monday for $15,000 from the Big Four. This was the amount that the railroad agreed to pay towards the Purdue wreck memorial. The fund to date is $35,000 and the college authorities have agreed to duplicate the amount when it has reached $50,000, thus making the memorial cost $100,000.

AGGIES PLAY ALUMNI.

The annual football game between the School of Agriculture and the Alumni was played on the School campus Monday afternoon and resulted in a victory for the School, 6 to 0. The game was the first of the season at the farm school.

The eligibility rule at Harvard has been changed so that now it will be a more difficult matter for any student to enter Harvard athletics whose former career has in any way been tainted with professionalism.

AT WISCONSIN.

The Daily Cardinal, of the University of Wisconsin, has printed four football songs from a large number submitted. One of them, to the tune of "I'm tired of living alone," is as follows:

We'd rather lick Staggle than Yost,
We're going to do both—it's no boast;
And Prof. Williams, too, we will wallop a few.

And then take a trip to the coast.

EQUITY.

Dean Pattee has commenced a series of lectures to the Junior Laws on Equity. The course will continue for several weeks.

GRINNELL SPIRIT.

"The Scarlet and Black," Grinnell's semi-weekly newspaper, recently appeared with a long account of the game with Minnesota. Grinnell's opinion of our men is well expressed in the following extract:

"Minnesota played with the same earnestness she would take into a game with Chicago or Wisconsin, and Grinnell left the field with all the disappointment of overwhelming defeat buried under a profound admiration for the strength of her opponents. Two hundred pound men of respectable speed are ordinarily few and far between, but U. of M. seems to possess plenty of them."

FRANCIS N. STACY,
Nominee for City Comptroller.

Francis N. Stacy, "U. of M." '88, has been known for his work in statistical research for financial investigations ever since the days when he made economics his specialty under Dr. W. W. Folwell here at the "U." and was known as the "statistical fiend" of the institution. Last year, when the city was short in its funds, the City employed him to check the funds, examine the accounts and outline a remedy. He discovered a shortage of $500,000 not accounted for by the books of the City Comptroller, and after visiting New York, Boston, Buffalo, Detroit and Chicago, he recommended to the city the installation of a complete new system of accounts, which was done on January 1. Although a democrat, he was employed by a republican city council, endorsed by a republican daily press and business men, and supported in his work of accounting reform by a unanimous public, regardless of party. It is now held by leading business men that the best advertisement the city could make would be to clean house at the City Hall by electing Frank Stacy as comptroller, instead of perpetuating existing conditions, by electing his opponent who is an incumbent of the office and politically indebted to those responsible for the bad accounts and the resultant high rate of taxation. The University ward, of which he has been a resident for years, will give him a rousing support, regardless of party.

HON. HORACE D. DICKINSON

Republican Candidate for Judge of the District Court.

Judge Dickinson demonstrated his strength with the plain people by leading all the candidates in the campaign for nomination, and there is every reason to believe he will do equally as well at the election next Tuesday. Judge Dickinson has served the city for eight years in an able and faithful manner, and deserves the promotion to the district bench. As city attorney and as judge of the municipal court, he has shown that he possesses the knowledge of law and the judicial temperament necessary for a successful judge, and that he is absolutely fair and unblased in his decisions.

Judge Dickinson is a graduate of the college of law, class of '20. Those who know him best are his most enthusiastic supporters, as they know and appreciate the many sterling qualities which have aided in his advancement.

E. B. JOHNSON, '88, - - Editor
Frank S. Lyon, '07, Advertising Mgr.

The announcement that Professor McDermott has become an active candidate for state superintendent of public instruction, is one that will bring both pleasure and regret to the friends of the University. Pleasure in the thought of the probable personal advancement of Professor McDermott, and regret that the University, through such advancement, may lose his valuable services. Professor McDermott is a tireless worker for every interest of the University. Of course, being especially interested in debate, his work in that line is brought into greater prominence than his work in any other line; but in this particular line he has done untold service not only for the University, but for the educational interests of the state. He would make a most excellent officer, and would fill the position for which he is a candidate most acceptably to all concerned. We hope that Professor McDermott may be successful in securing the position he seeks, but we could not feel it in our hearts to mourn very deeply, if he failed to secure the position and continued his services as professor of elocution in the University.

It will be of interest to all alumni to know that the next class which will be numbered among its ranks, includes one hundred twenty-five who have expressed their intention to teach. Only eighty-five of last year's class expressed the same intention at the corresponding time last year.

Some misunderstanding seems to exist concerning the testimonial for President Northrop. Contributions for this purpose will be received, although the committee having the matter in charge have determined to close the matter up at an early date, there will be an opportunity for others to have a part in this good work. Those who desire to have a part in this project should send in their contributions soon, the earlier received the more acceptable such contributions will be.

Dr. Richard Burton completed his course of lectures at the University last week. He will spend the winter delivering lectures at Chicago and in some of the other important western universities. It is probable that arrangements may be made so that this course of lectures by Dr. Burton will become an annual event. All those who have had the advantage of Dr. Burton's inspiring instruction earnestly hope that this may be the case.

POLITICAL POT POURI.

The Weekly attempts in this article to mention the names of alumni who are candidates for office. Of course this list is far from complete but is as complete as we have been able to make it.

For congress, Christian H. Kohler, Med. '98, on the democratic ticket. Dr. Kohler is making a vigorous canvas and it is certain that he will be well up with the leaders on his ticket.

For the Supreme Bench, Judge C. B. Elliott, Ph. D., '88. Judge Elliott was the first person to receive the degree of doctor of philosophy from the University and is a candidate of the Republican party. His election seems assured. A fuller statement concerning the popular judge and his candidacy was made in the preceding issue of the Weekly.

Although not a graduate of the University, Judge Jaggard has been so long connected with the law department of the University, that he is entitled to favorable mention in this place. Judge Jaggard's hosts of University friends have been working for him faithfully and there is no reason to doubt that he can read his title clear.

For Mayor of Minneapolis, David P. Jones, '83, on the republican ticket. The Weekly has so many times expressed its hearty support of Mr. Jones that little is left to be said save to emphasize all the good things that have already been said. He is an ideal candidate and he is governed by ideals which can be worked out in practice as was shown by his administration as acting mayor. Minneapolis has a chance to redeem and honor itself by electing Percy Jones mayor and his University friends, to a man, are backing him.

For City Comptroller, Francis N. Stacy, '88, on the democratic ticket. Mr. Stacy has good reasons to expect to carry the election and it is certain that if elected he will prove himself an able and faithful officer and will be in position to render a real and much-needed service to the city.

For County Attorney of Hennepin County, Al. J. Smith, Law '90, made a most enviable reputation as assistant county attorney, and with full sway in that office, for his election seems a foregone conclusion, his friends look for "something doing."

For School Directors, Bessie Laythe Scovell, '89, on the prohibition ticket, and Fred E. Chute, Law '95, on the republican ticket. Both are well qualified for the position. Mrs. Scovell has had experience as a teacher and her years of service in the interests of the State W. C. T. U. have fitted her to do most excellent service on the board.

For Library Director, Fred E. Hoobs, '88, Law '92. Mr. Hobbs is unusually well qualified for this position and should he be elected would render faithful and efficient service to the city. As he is on the democratic ticket he will need, what he will doubtless receive, the hearty support of his many republican friends.

For the District Bench, Horace Danforth Dickinson, Law '90, at present municipal judge, seems to be sure of the election. Judge Dickinson led all of his republican rivals for the nomination and his great popularity and genuine qualifications for the position, would elect him even were he on the ticket which under normal conditions does not win in this city. On the same ticket will be found the name of Andrew Holt, '80, who has served his term as municipal judge and who earned, in that position, a reputation which won for him the nomination at the recent primaries. Elijah Barton, Law '99, is a candidate for the same office on the democratic ticket. Mr. Barton is undoubtedly one of the best qualified men who ever sought this position and will receive the warmest support of those who are not of the same political persuasion. Should he be elected he will honor the position and will prove a just and fearless judge.

For Register of Deeds, George C. Merrill, Law '95, who is the present occupant of the position, rests in the assurance that "one good term deserves another," and that he is likely to get what he deserves.

For the State Legislature, the following named graduates all seem to be in the lead and should they all land in the coveted berths, would form a group of friends of the "U" who could be depended upon to work tooth and nail for the interests of the University, especially to see that that it is removed from the present anomalous position of dual (observe that we do not say dual) control.

The University district, for the first time in history, seems likely to be represented by two graduates of the University, Messrs. Byron H. Timberlake, '91, and Howard B. Chamberlain, Law '99. These men are active friends of the University and at the same time, men who will represent their district and the State with honor to themselves and credit to the State. Among the other candidates in Hennepin county are, W. W. Bardwell, Law '90; M. L. Fosseen, Law '95; Carlton L. Wallace, Law '98; all good men and all qualified to fill the positions to which they aspire with honor to themselves, Alma Mater and the commonwealth.

OUT IN THE STATE.

The following is likely far from being a complete list but it shows that the "U" is sending out men who take an interest in public affairs, and if each of the men here mentioned is elected to office, the Weekly ventures to predict that he will be found doing valliant service in the place to which he may be called.

For County Attorney, Dakota, P. H. O'Keefe, Law Houston, O. K. Dahl, Law '94; Isanti, Godfrey G. Goodwin, '95, Law '96; Kandiyohi, Geo. H. Otterness, Law; Le Sueur, A. J. Edgerton, '98; McLeod, C. J. Odquist, Law; Norman, Nels T. Moen, Law '93; Polk, James H. Maybury, Law '99; Red Lake, Thomas Germo, Law '90; Rice, E. H. Gipson, Law '01; Todd, J. U. Hemmy, Law '98; Grand Rapids, Geo. H. Spear, '93, Law '99; Anoka, Albert F. Pratt, '93, Law '95.

For this district bench, Arthur E. Giddings, '89, Law '92, Anoka, and F. A. Matwig, Law '93, for Faribault county, received nominations.

For Coroners—Drs. O. M. Haugen, '96, and F. J. Bickford, Med. '02, received nominations.

For the State Legislature—George H. Hammond, '87, third district; G. W. W. Harden, Law '91, sixth district; Elias Rachie, '97, law, '02, eighteenth district; A. J. Rockne, Law '99, thirty-third district; E. O. Wergedahl, Law, '99, thirty-fourth district; J. R. Hickey, Law '94, thirty-sixth district; Thomas C. Fulton, Med '02, thirty-seventh district; Elmer E. Adams, '84, fifty-ninth district; L. C. Simons, Law '95, sixty-first district; Henry Bjorge, Law '98, sixtieth district.

Edmund H. Krelwitz, Law '98, writes—"I enjoy the Weekly with its ever interesting news about the Alumni away from the "U," as well as items in reference to everyday occurrences there. Am married and settled down and have a big baby boy and am prospering. Received the republican nomination for county attorney this fall without opposition. This is my second term."

PERSONALS.

J. R. Truscott, Med. '01, is practicing medicine at Binford, N. D.

Miss Agnes Rueth, '04, is teaching in the Jefferson School in St. Paul.

A. J. Bonhus, Law '02, is practicing his profession at Twin Valley, Minn.

Nellie Cashman, ex-'05, is a candidate for the county superintendency of Swift county.

Charles P. Warren, Law '01, is state attorney for Kingsbury county, and lives at DeSmet, S. D.

John A. Hummel, '99, and wife are rejoicing over the advent of a little girl, born October 2nd.

Chas. E. Stangeland, M.A., '01, has removed to New York City and is living at 306 W. 123rd Street.

Richard S. Beardsley, '00, of 646 W. 62nd street, Chicago, is principal of the Englewood High School of that city.

Martha H. Sjoberg, '02, is teaching in the normal school at Madison, Minn., as professor of English. She is also preceptress of the girl's dormitory.

Mrs. E. M. Hoover, nee Jane Redfield, '98, who has been residing at Little Falls, Minnesota, has removed to Boise, Idaho. Her address is 1019 State St.

Miss Mary May Gillis, '03, was married to Claude G. Burnham, of Chicago, a few weeks since. Mr. and Mrs. Burnham will reside at 117 Leland avenue, Chicago.

Coates P. Bull, Ag. '01, and Miss Lotta May Tryon of Minneapolis, were married October 12th. They will be at home to friends after December 1st, at St. Anthony Park.

Dr. Leo W. Chilton, '04, has decided to locate at Canyon, Oregon. Canyon and John Day are about two miles apart and he will make his headquarters at Canyon.

Dr. Frank E. Larsen, Med. '02, who has been residing at Winthrop, Minn., expects to spend the winter in California. He has not decided just where he will be, but will report later when he is settled.

Mrs. Andrew M. Soule, nee Lillie Porter, '88, has removed from Tennessee to Blackburg, Va. Her husband, Andrew M. Soule, is dean of the agricultural department of the Virginia Polytechnic Institute.

The Weekly received a report that Dr. J. E. Palmquist, Med. '96, died at Holdrege, Nebraska, nearly two years ago. Nothing but the bare facts in the case, as stated above, have been received.

Herman Chapman, '96, who has had charge of the North East Experimental Station, is in the employ of the bureau of forestry at Washington, D. C., as forest assistant. He was married December 29th, 1903, to Miss Alberta Pineo of Duluth, Minn.

Albert M. Webster, '92, med. '04, calls attention of the Weekly to the fact that the date of the first burning of the old main building was 1892 instead of 1893. Dr. Webster has located at Alma, Wis., and has a most excellent practice already established.

John Wicks, Eng. '04, has removed from Chicago, and is now living at 1835 Bernard Park, Los Angeles, Cal. He is employed by the Automatic Electrical Company as installer of automatic telephone exchanges at Los Angeles and other places in southern California.

Hortense Smith, '04, who is teaching in the high school at Red Wing, visited the University and took in the Nebraska game one week ago. She reports that Mr. and Mrs. George R. Horton, '97 (Mrs. Horton, nee Mable Smith, '98), have a little girl, one month old, at their home.

Marce Liberma, '00, who for a number of years was assistant in the French department of this institution, is assistant professor of romance languages in the University of Cincinnati. He still remains interested in his alma mater and hopes for her success in football as well as other intercollegiate events.

John M. Harrison, Law '99, who will be remembered as one of the prominent football men of earlier days, is special agent in charge of the western department of the Connecticut Fire Insurance Co., with offices in the Columbia building at Louisville, Ky. He expresses his best wishes for the success of the football team.

Mr. L. R. Nostdal, Law, '03, writes from Rugby, N. D., saying the woods are full of alumni who are planning to attend the Wisconsin game on the 12th. They are anxiously awaiting the railroad announcements concerning rates for the game, and if satisfactory rates can be obtained, at least twenty alumni from that section will attend the game.

The Weekly is just in receipt of an attractive pamphlet "The Young Men of the Sunrise Kingdom." The pamphlet comes from Mr. George S. Phelps, '99, who is engaged in association work in the interests of the International Committee at Kyoto, Japan. The report shows that Mr. Phelps has a field which will tax his best efforts to manage; but those who know him best will expect him to rise to the occasion and likewise expect wonderful things from him in his work in the sunrise kingdom.

Charles W. Olsen, '01, who has spent three years in the Philippines in government service as a teacher, visited the University last week and took in the Nebraska game. Mr. Olsen will be remembered as one of the strong members of the basket-ball team during his college days, and his interest in all university matters remains unabated. He reports that he enjoyed his work in the Philippines and may possibly return in the near future, but probably will not continue in school work. He will be at the University again to take in the Wisconsin game next Saturday.

Mrs. F. Gates, nee Helen Waters, '89, writes—"Our residence here is but temporary. It is very pleasant, however with the Delaware River just in front of the house. The yard is unusually full of ships just now. There are the "Denver," a small cruiser, the monitor "Florida," which is an extremely queer looking craft, and the battleships "Alabama" and "Massachusetts," two of the most powerful ships now in commission in the navy, but neither of them so large nor so heavily armored as the new "Minnesota," now building at Newport News, and which I hope all Minnesotans may have the good fortune to see.

I was so grieved to hear of the destruction of the Main Building. It makes me feel like a stranger in what was formerly my home.

With kindest regards believe me

Most sincerely yours,

—HELEN WATERS GATES.

MECHANIC ARTS FIRE

The origin of the fire in the Mechanics Arts building remains as great a mystery as ever. The more it is investigated, the more serious it looks. It seems almost impossible for it to have started in any other way than by the agency of an incendiary. This brings up again the origin of the fire in the old main building and gives that fire a more serious aspect than before. The fire was started in some waste that was piled in a corner near the most expensive apparatus in the building—instruments of precision and standardized instruments of measure, weights, etc. These instruments are a total loss. The loss will be fully $6,000.00, and may easily reach a higher figure. Had the fire reached the hall nothing on earth could have saved the building, as it was the damage was confined wholly to the one room.

SOLDIERS' MONUMENT FUND

Professor Haynes reports on the soldiers' monument fund an appropriation of $300 by the Board of Regents, which will probably receive the sanction of the board of control. There is lacking but $800 to complete the soldiers' monument, and it should not be a very serious matter to raise this amount among the alumni and friends of the University. Anyone interested may contribute and help out a good cause.

JUDGE ELLIOTT

We regret that through an oversight it was not stated that Judge Elliott was a graduate of the University. He was the first man to receive the degree of Doctor of Philosophy from this institution. He received the degree in '88, in recognition of a treatise on the United States and Northern Eastern Fishing question. The treatise won not only the warmest commendation, but had its influence in the settlement of that disturbing question. Judge Elliott is an ideal candidate for the position which he seeks, and it is to be hoped that he may secure the election by a comfortable majority, as seems probable at the present time.

THE WISCONSIN GAME

The past week has been given to preparation for the game with Wisconsin. "Sig" Harris saw the game between Wisconsin and Michigan a week ago last Saturday and is to play quarter for the University. This assures the University of a first class punter, a department of the game in which the varsity team has been lamentably weak during the present season. Hunter is said to be out of the game for the remainder of the year.

OF GENERAL INTEREST

The graduate club meets tonight for work and a social time.

Dr. Wilde addressed the U. L. A. Saturday evening upon the problem of religious education.

The advance sale of seats for the Wisconsin game promises a record breaking attendance for next Saturday's game.

Dr. Samuel G. Smith of the department of sociology, held a reception for his students last Saturday evening at the Commercial Club in St. Paul.

The Y. W. C. A. gave their annual recognition spread for new members last Saturday afternoon in the Armory. A most enjoyable time was had.

The Dramatic Club is still considering plans for its own theater and the project which was mentioned several days ago which was to join forces with the Woman's League, has fallen through.

The juniors have settled the dispute over the use of the name "Junior" by a self constituted body of men, some not juniors, for the purpose of carrying out plans for a ball. The class decided to get together for a "frolic," wholly informal and therefore more calculated to be a "U" function.

The fraternities are getting busy and football enthusiasm is at its height. Numerous games are scheduled between the different fraternities, and all are striving for the championship of the University.

DR. BURTON IN DRAMA

The dramatic club play, "A Pair of Spectacles," which was given at the Lyceum last Friday night was an unqualified success from every point of view except the size of the audience.

Dr. Burton, as Benjamin Goldfinch, took the part in a way to satisfy completely every one who saw him in the part; and those who turned out to see him were expecting great things. Had Dr. Burton taken to the stage instead of following literature as a profession "Dicky" Burton would have been a household word with the play-loving public the world over. As Goldfinch, with his own spectacles, Dr. Burton simply had to be himself and it seemed as though the writer of the play must have created the part for him. While taking the part of Goldfinch, wearing his brother's spectacles and seeing everything through green glasses, he played the part to perfection.

George Walker, as Uncle Gregory, took the part in a manner, second only to Dr. Burton's way of playing the leading role, and a close second at that. He was the "villain" in the play and had to win the admiration of the audience by sheer good work, and this he did. His "I know that man," would make the fortune of a professional. His acting throughout was superb.

The others in the cast all took their parts in a manner wholly creditable. When it is remembered that the parts were taken by amateurs it can be truthfully said that there was not a weak spot in the whole cast.

The whole event was most enjoyable and will be long remembered as one of the most successful plays ever put on the boards by the University Dramatic Club.

THE WISCONSIN GAME

Next Saturday's game is likely to be far from a cinch for Minnesota. Although defeated by Michigan by a score of 28 to 0, the fight is not yet taken out of the Wisconsin team by any means and Wisconsin can be depended upon to put up a harder game against Minnesota than any other of her opponents.

The game with Lawrence last Saturday being significant of nothing, is not reported in this issue of the Weekly which goes to press while the game is on.

JOHN A. JOHNSON

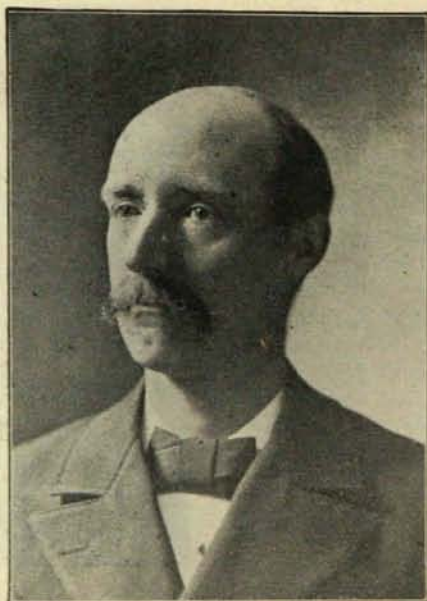

Democratic candidate for Governor

Speaking of the Board of Control, says:

"Contracts are made in secret and the business of the public is withheld from the public itself. Freedom should prevail and suspicion might be removed by having public business transacted in the light of day. As our nominee for governor stated in the last campaign, the important question is not in the saving per capita, but whether the state receives adequate return for every dollar of the money expended in the care of the state wards."—Adv.

The engineers have inaugurated an anti-chapel crusade, the control of which has been vested in a sort of vigilance committee, lately appointed. The duty and delight of this committee is to way-lay any and all engineers who have disobeyed the official mandate and sneaked off to chapel. Several of the faithful were soundly whaled recently for their adherence to devotions and are proposing to vigorously protest against the outrage done their persons.

R. C. DUNN,

Republican Candidate for Governor

SENATOR KNUTE NELSON'S OPIONION OF R. C. DUNN:

"Mr. Dunn has not only been an efficient and vigilant administrative officer, but has also brought his energy and knowledge of the interests of the state to bear on the legislative department to secure the laws that were necessary for the public good and the welfare of our state. The state has had no listless or indifferent drone in office in him. He was ever alert and vigilant on behalf of the state and its interests both as a legislator and auditor."—From a speech by Senator Knute Nelson at Madison, Minn., October, 1904.

WHAT HON. H. W. CHILDS SAYS OF THE REPUBLICAN CANDIDATE:

"I have seen too many instances of his sterling manhood to fear the result of any test to which he might be put as between public and private interests. He is a man who will fearlessly perform his duty at all times, in all places and under all circumstances. If any man ever earned the gratitude of the people of this State, it is Mr. Dunn."—From an interview given by Hon. H. W. Childs at St. Paul, January 28th, 1904. —Adv.

The Hon. Loren Fletcher, candidate for Congress on the Republican ticket is this year sure of election. The people of Hennepin County know much more at the present time than they did two years ago, they have found out that a Democrat can not represent the district successfully in a republican congress. This is too large and important a district to be represented by a minority congressman.

HON. LOREN FLETCHER.

Republican Candidate for Congress.

This district needs too many things in special legislation and improvements to waste valuable time by having a Democrat represent us, who can do nothing in a Republican House. During Mr. Fletcher's term in congress, at the end of every session he came back to us with all kinds of money for government improvements in our locality, and the thanks of hundreds of old soldiers and widows who had received pensions through his efforts, and each individual in this district, had received his share of the influence which Mr. Fletcher enjoyed in Washington; and that in itself is not an insignificant matter. When men like Uncle Joe Cannon, Speaker of the House, and W. P. Hepburn of Iowa, Chairman of the Committee of Interstate and Foreign Commerce, came here, as they did this fall, to pay homage to the worth of their old friend, Loren Fletcher, and stand on the rostrums of our city, assuring the people of this district that, never has it been so well represented as when Mr. Fletcher was there looking out for our interest, it is time that we recognize his worth and return him to the place where he ought to have remained, instead of the present incumbent, who, although a bright and good man, yet has done nothing.—Adv.

AN APPRECIATION.

Major Morgan is seeking to increase the interest taken in the military department by the formation of a "crack company."

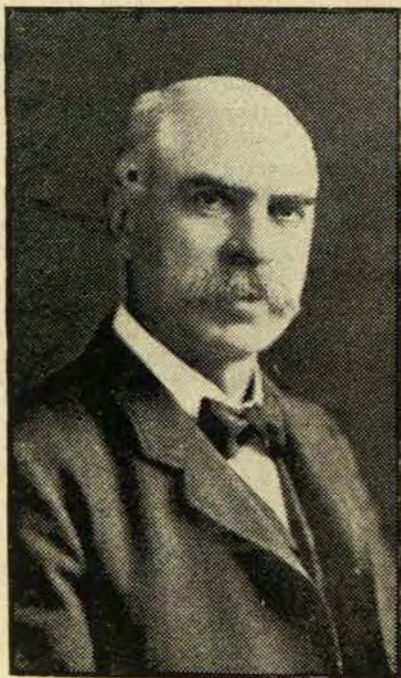

The innovation is a good one, is in use at other colleges, and will probably do more than anything else to improve the conditions of the cadet corps here.

Major Morgan, since he came here, has been steadily doing his best to raise the standard of military work. He has met with many discouragements in his work, but through it all he has carried himself like the gentleman and the soldier that he is.

INCREASED SEATING CAPACITY.

The Board of Athletic Control has decided to increase the seating capacity of Northrop Field for the Wisconsin game and the capacity of the north stand will be increased by one section.

See WYVELL-HARRINGTON CO., for City and Suburban Realty.

J. C. HAYNES' RECORD AS MAYOR IN A NUTSHELL

Placed the Board of Corrections and Charities on a business basis resulting in a saving of $10,000 per year.

Paid $11,000 of an old $14,000 deficit in the police department.

First year's police record under Haynes: Arrest and conviction of 216 criminals to 125 under Ames and Jones.

Cleaned out the East Side "red light district."

Closed up and kept closed the so-called "candy stores" thriving under Ames and Jones.

Secured appropriation for hospital for incurables.

Worked hand in hand with the Humane Society for the protection of the young and for that purpose closed several saloons.

Protected labor and business interests alike during labor controversies.

Unearthed and took prompt and effective measures to crush out the Chinese peril.

A clean, safe, efficient, money-saving business administration by sheer merit entitled to the endorsement of all who have the best interests of Minneapolis at heart.—Adv.

Dr. C. H. Kohler, the Democratic nominee for congress was born in Hennepin County. He was educated in the public schools and the university of Minnesota, and has been a resident of the state all his life. He is a practicing physician, has never been a candidate for office but has been identified in the work of his party for the past fifteen years.

Dr. C. H. Kohler.

1st.—I believe in an immediate revision of the tariff, and revision downward.

2d.—I believe in the removal of tariff from trust-made goods.

3rd.—I stand for reciprocity with Canada.—Adv.

All good Republicans and all good citizens should vote for Howard B. Chamberlain and Byron H. Timberlake, the two Republican candidates for the legislature, at the polls next Tuesday. Both are strong University men.

Both have refused to be interfered with in any way by the Retail Liquor Dealer's Association. Both are keenly interested in the welfare of the district, and both are wide awake advocates of whatever tends to progress. Both men have the united support of the Republicans of the entire district, and both are entitled to it.

B. H. Timberlake.

Mr. Timberlake is a graduate of the class of '91, academic, and has always been closely identified with the University's best interests. He is a self-made man, winning his own way by force of his own energy and character.

H. B. Chamberlain.

Mr. Chamberlain is a graduate of the law class of '99, and has always been a warm admirer of the University. He took his degree while supporting his family, and worked night and day to accomplish that result.

MINNESOTA MAGAZINE

The Minnesota Magazine for November will be out Thursday of next week.

The number is a big one with some exceptionally fine articles and short stories.

The leading article is an account of a summer visit to the wonderful grotto of Loindes by C. F. McClumpha. Professor Mc. Clumpha spent some time there in company with a French priest in 1903, and has vividly described his experiences. Those who have read Zola's "Loindes" will be particularly interested in the article.

Of equal importance is Mr. Firkins' fine poem. It was written for the presentation of the steering wheel of a dismantled Civil War frigate to the Minnesota Historical Society.

In a lighter vein, there are several short stories; a Hallowe'en Idyl and a big department of Digressions.

There are also reviews by Mrs. Potter, Dr. Schafer and Dr. Burton, and Miss Rita Kendall writes of the prospects of a Woman's Building.

MORE POETRY.

A small volume of poems by Mary Frances Sanford, '02, will make its appearance on the campus next week. There are fifteen in all, twelve lyrics and three sonnets.

Most of these poems have been printed in eastern periodicals. Two, "Unfulfillment" and "Autumn," appeared in the Minnesota Magazine of 1902.

The volume, issued by Hahn and Harman, is printed on heavy cream paper, in sepia and dull red with a stunning cover design by Miss Helen Harrington.

Dr. Burton has written a complete review of the verses, which will appear in the November issue of the Minnesota Magazine.

A limited number of extra copies will be sold for thirty-five cents

In about three weeks the stately Senior girls will walk forth in cap and gown. The campus will be a scene of beauty as has often been remarked in the Daily.

SCHAPER HONORED.

Dr. Wm. A. Schaper, Professor of Political Science of Minnesota University, has been invited to speak before the State Association for Charities and Correction, which meets at Faribault November 16, 17 and 18.

This association consists of those interested in the management of penal, charitable and corrective institutions in Minnesota. Many of its members have for years been interested in Social, Political and Economic questions.

Dr. Schaper will speak on the new "American Political Science Association."

This was organized last winter in New Orleans by the Political Science instructors of American Colleges and Universities. Its purpose is to improve the study of government, to mark it off more clearly from History and Economics, and to do for political science what the American Historical and Economic Associations are doing in their respective fields of work.

The University of Northwestern shortly before a big game bought 5,000 one-dollar pennants, and by buying so great a number was enabled to sell them at 50 cents apiece. At the game the bleachers were a sea of purple.

Classes will not meet on Tuesday next and opportunity will be given the University students to mingle in the election day excitement. Many of the students will make practical use of the holiday and serve their favorite candidates at the polls. The primaries of some few weeks ago proved to be a source of revenue to the student body in that many university men were employed at good wages to distribute election cards and to perform other duties incident to the campaign finale.

Definite plans for the maintenance of the sick benefit movement will be made by the Regents at the next meeting on Dec. 4th.

Administration of City Affairs

His record as mayor is one of which his friends are justly proud. Taking the government as it was left by the previous administration, in as rotten a condition as city government could possibly be, he wrought a peaceful revolution and turned the city over to his successor a model, so far as it was in the power of the mayor to make it so, of what city government ought to be. His ideals are practicable and he is himself, a gentleman in the truest and best sense of the word. With Percy Jones as mayor of the city it is certain that no one will ever have occasion to blush for the city's good name, and his election will do much to redeem the city from the disgrace which attaches to it from the wholesale corruption which has stained the fair name of Minneapolis. It is certain that Percy Jones will not have the support of those who represent the forces which have disgraced the city; he should have the vote of everyone who desires to see that element relegated to the background.

My Dear Mr. Johnson

I am sending you two photos. I think these are the earliest photos of the University foot ball teams. These were taken in the fall of 1887. The board fence in the unmounted picture is the old ball park. Picture taken on the day we played the Alumni from the Eastern colleges living in St. Paul and Minneapolis. You will probably recognize all the fellows.

Thought possibly the Alumni Weekly might care to run one of the pictures. Please take care of them return.

E. B. JOHNSON, '88, - - Editor
Frank S. Lyon, 07, Advertising Mgr.

All of the alumni mentioned in last week's Weekly as being candidates for office on the republican ticket were elected, and those on the opposing ticket were defeated. We hope to give a full statement of names and offices a little later.

The election of D. Percy Jones, '83, as mayor of Minneapolis is one of the things that will please the readers of the Weekly. The people of the city of Minneapolis honored themselves in honoring Mr. Jones, by electing him to the mayorship. We are heartily glad to be able to make this announcement, for we are sure that Mr. Jones will bear himself in this position with honor, and reflect honor upon himself, the city and alma mater.

We are glad to say that the University district is to be represented by two University men, men who will prove worthy representatives of the institution, in the legislature, and who will serve the University well.

E. H. Timebriake and Howard B. Chamberlain were elected to the state legislature. The prohibitionists and democrats each made a strong fight for their candidates and while Mr. Calderwood never had any particular chance of being elected, it looked as though, at one time, he might succeed in defeating Mr. Timberlake or Mr. Chamberlain and electing one of their opponents.

The election of John A. Johnson, as Governor of the State removes all danger of the passing of the proposed educational board of control bill. Mr. Johnson has placed himself squarely on record as utterly opposed to such a bill, and should such a bill by any chance pass the legislature, he would surely veto it. Mr. Johnson also pledged himself, in a recent campaign speech, to do everything possible to have the University removed from its present embarrassing position. The alumni should devote every possible effort to see that their representatives in the state legislature are impressed with the great importance of relieving the University from its present embarrassing position, of control by two boards, with neither board having real control.

The class of '04 held their re-union Friday evening at Dayton's tea rooms. Ernest Pierce acted as toastmaster. The class play was re-enacted and a most enjoyable time was had. The arrangements were made by a committee consisting of Messrs. Kovarik and Ernest Pierce and Misses Garrow and Roscoe.

After nine everyone came over to the Armory, where they were joined by a large number of class members who had just arrived from the surrounding smaller towns.

The dancing lasted till midnight and was interspersed with short scenes and specialties reproduced from the '04 class play.

SOME CONSOLATION

For the benefit of the alumni who attempted to secure election on the Democratic ticket this fall, the Weekly desires to repeat a story which appeared in the Minneapolis Journal some ten days ago. "A teacher in the public schools at Winona was giving a lesson in civics. To impress upon her pupils the lesson, she had been giving her class, she asked the boys how many of them would like to be president of the United States. She requested all those who would like to be president, to rise in their seats. With one exception, every boy arose. Thinking this boy had misunderstood her question she asked, "Johnny, wouldn't you like to be president of the United States?" The answer came as quick as a flash, "Naw! I'm a Democrat."

In compliance with the request of the Minnesota Health League the Weekly calls attention to the fact that at the last session of the legislature a law was passed amending the compulsory vaccination law, so that unless both the health board and the school board, in a particular district, jointly declare an epidemic to exist, the children attending the public schools are not compelled to be vaccinated. Furthermore, any child securing a certificate from a physician showing that vaccination would be harmful to the child's health, the child may be exempt, even in a case where both the health and school board declare an epidemic to exist.

DIED

Ursula James, '03, died last Sunday morning at her home in this city, of typhoid fever. Miss James had been teaching at Jamestown, N. D., and was taken ill several weeks ago, but it was not thought that her condition was serious until the very last, when her death came as a great shock to her many friends. She was an unusually strong and able student and possessed the esteem and admiration of all with whom she was brought in contact.

Whereas: She was a faithful and diligent student and a highly esteemed member of the Greek Club

MINNESOTA MAGAZINE

The November "Mag" is a big, fine number, a most promising effort of the '05 board.

Mr. O. W. Firkins

has written for it a stirring poem full of beauty and high patriotism on the presentation of the steering gear of the old Frigate "Minnesota," to the Minnesota Historical Society.

The frigate Minnesota, built in the year 1854, took part during the Civil War in successful attacks on Hatteras Island and Fort Fisher, and was a close spectator of the famous conflict between the Monitor and the Merrimac.

When, in 1901, what remained of the boat was sold to a mercantile company, the frigate's steering gear was presented to the Minnesota Historical Society.

Another remarkably fine contribution is a description by

of a summer visit to the wonderful grottoes of Lourdes in France.

The conversation and vivid word pictures of the article make it exceptionally entertaining.

Amy Oliver has written a charming Hallowe'en Idyl that is a little classic in its way.

A sonnet called "My Friend" by Catharine MacParlin has unusual quality.

Dr. O. L. Triggs, '89,

well known as instructor in the University of Chicago, has written a very comprehensive "Note on William Morris."

Two more sonnets, both strong and picturesque, are contributed by Maud Steward.

"A Rise of Sporting Blood," an exciting description of an episode on the race course, is written by Milton S. Davis.

A capital story is "Sammy's Banjo," a southern plantation tale by Elsie Shadewald.

"Dedicated to Manly Strife," by W. A. Monten, ex. '04, and now at Harvard is an article of particular interest just now. It tells of the splendid loyalty and which the Eastern schools show at the foot ball games. Every loyal Minnesota rooter would do well to read the article thoroughly and thoughtfully.

There are three interesting reviews by Mrs. Potter, Dr. Shaper, and Dr. Richard Burton.

Rita Kendall, president of the Woman's League gives a good straight talk about the Woman's building.

In

are three really fine sketches by Alice Daly, A., and Dansingberg. The latter particularly is interesting for its queer thoughtfulness and originality.

In editorials the regents are offered some valuable suggestions for the location of the new Main. The ideas, however, are quite sound and it is hoped that they will be seriously considered.

WORLD'S WEEK OF PRAYER

This week will be observed by the local Y. W. C. A. in conjunction with all the associations in the world, as the "Worlds Week of Prayer." In addition to the regular Wednesday meeting, which will be of especial interest, a half hour meeting will be held from 1:00 to 1:30 p. m. on Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday, for the consideration of the work in other lands.

The oldest college in the world is the Mohammedan college, Cairo, which was a thousand years old when Oxford was founded. It has 11,000 students.

MISS SANFORD RETURNS.

Miss Mary Sanford, Secretary of the Y. W. C. A., returned Saturday after two weeks spent in visiting eastern colleges, noting the conditions and the work of the association there.

Some of the institutions that she visited were Wells College, Syracuse, Chicago and Wisconsin Universities. Miss Sanford says, "We have every reason to feel encouraged, as our work here is carried on with a spirit and enthusiasm not to be surpassed in any of the colleges that I visited. But one point in which we fall behind is that we have no adequate accommodation for the University women. We need a building. All other colleges of this size have either buildings or dormitories. Until the Woman's Building becomes a reality the best results can not be obtained."

SERIES OF LECTURES

The Y. M. C. A. is arranging for a series of lectures the dates of which will be announced later.

These lectures will be given on Friday evenings and will be of the same nature as those which are given on Tuesdays at the present time.

The popularity of the Tuesday evening talks warrants the officers in taking up this broader work.

Dr. G. S. Robbins of the Park Ave Congregational church will give a lecture on the Negro question in the youth. Dr. Robbins is a southerner by birth and is the man that answered Tillman's charges last year. He is regarded as an authority on the subject.

Prof. F. M. Anderson will discuss the Mormon problem.

Father Cleary of the St. Charles Catholic Church will give a lecture on the Liquor problem.

President Wallace of Macalaster will lecture on the "Principles which underlie foreign effort in missionary lines."

MORE PLANS

Friday at its weekly meeting the dramatic club discussed the play which will be put on the road at Christmas time.

Besides "The Private Secretary," "Esmeralda" and "One Night Only," which have been previously considered, the comedys "Pinaro's Magistrate," and "My Friend from India," were also suggested.

The route for the trip was talked over and will probably include the following towns: Rochester, Litchfield, Stillwater, St. Cloud, Grand Forks, Fargo and Alexandria.

Dr. Richard Burton, who helped the club out by taking the leading part in "A Pair of Spectacles," was made an honorary member of the club and will be given a substantial vote of thanks in the form of a dramatic club pin, some time in the near future.

WERE WINNERS

David P. Jones, '83, was elected mayor of Minneapolis, by the Republicans, receiving a majority of 245.

Judge C. B. Elliott, Ph. D., '88, at present senior district judge in Minneapolis, was elected to the State Supreme Bench altho his plurality has not yet been determined owing to the number of country towns that are late in reporting.

Al J. Smith, '90, at present U. S. District Attorney, was elected county attorney for Hennepin county.

Geo. C. Merrill, Law '95, was made Register of Deeds by a big plurality.

Judges Dickinson, '90, and Holt, '80, were elected to the District bench in Minneapolis.

Byron H. Timberlake, '91, and Howard B. Chamberlain, '99, were both elected to the state legislature from the 39th district.

Delta Gamma gave an informal dance at the University Hall last Wednesday evening.

Saturday the insurance commission investigated the damage which was done on the machinery by the Engineer fire.

The damage on the building had been estimated several days ago but the amount had not been made public.

The first meeting of the Literary Union was held Saturday night in the Y. M. C. A. Building. About seventy were present and a very pleasant time was had.

Preceding the program an informal reception was held and after the program refreshments were served.

The meeting wound up with games and college songs, which lasted close to Sunday morning.

Vassar is conducting a mock presidential campaign for practice in civil government. Over 900 students have registered.

The discontinuation of the "Wrinkle," Michigan's funny sheet, has been followed by the announcement that the "Jester," a similar paper at Columbia, has suspended publication for the same reason as that advanced at Michigan, insufficient support. "Jester" was one of the pioneers in this branch of college literary effort.

FRESHMEN CHOOSE

Preparations for the Freshman-Sophomore debate will go merrily on from this time until the teams meet in the chapel the last of January. The Sophomores submitted the question:

Resolved: That President Roosevelt's Panama Canal Policy is to be condemned,

And in spite of "Teddy's" sweeping victory at the polls, the '08 men have decided to uphold the affirmative.

SOCIAL SOCIOLOGISTS

Dr. S. G. Smith, Professor of Sociology, gave a reception to that department last Saturday evening. The reception was held at the rooms of the St. Paul Commercial Club.

A large number of the students availed themselves of Dr. Smith's hospitality.

After a delightful musical program, refreshments were served and informal dancing was indulged in.

Jumping from a moving train, the Social Pathology class, returning from Stillwater, Friday morning, scaled the bank on fourteenth and broke for the University.

Seventeen members of the class, together with Dr. Smith, made up the party which went to the prison city to inspect the state penitentiary. They were received by deputy-warden Glennon and were treated magnificently by all the prison officials.

Enthusiasm reached a high pitch Friday night as the flames from the gigantic bonfire on the drill ground gained height and crackled to the tune of the football songs.

Cornell has tried an experiment this year in the way of providing a training table for the Freshman football squad. The plan, up to this time, has proved a decided success.

SOCIAL SMOKE

Saturday, November fifth, under the auspices of Professor Nachtrieb, the fraternity men and their alumni held a smoker at the Armory. The object of the meeting was to have the fraternity men become acquainted with each other and to instil a better spirit.

During the evening Professor Nachtrieb introduced several men who spoke on the possibilities of such an organization.

"Pudge" Heffelfinger, who was the first speaker, talked of making athletics clean at this and all other universities. He was heartily applauded many times by his audience, who felt that the sentiment he voiced was entirely right.

Judge Jaggard followed with an eloquent speech on fraternal feeling and elaborated on all that was best in fraternity life.

He was followed by David P. Jones, who spoke shortly saying he was very glad to see such a movement started here.

Professor Haynes spoke for the soldiers' memorial monument.

Other speakers of the evening were Col. F. M. Joyce, who advocated clean athletics and good treatment of opponents, and Dr. Litzenberg, who gave a short address.

After the speeches the floor was cleared and two fast and furious boxing matches followed and Von Williams contributed a clog dance.

"Pudge" Heffelfinger in his address before the Pan-Hellenic smoker advised more open and less secret practice.

That the suggestion is one which meets the approval of the student body is certain; and it seems one that should be beneficial to the work of the team as well.

The men of Minnesota would surely be more deeply interested in a team whose work and development they could watch from day to day than in one which they see only once a week, and then for a paid admission. And, furthermore, the men themselves would work harder and practice harder if they knew they were being watched by a large body of enthusiastic and critical fellow students.

The tendency of the sport throughout the country is towards professionalism, and football teams are becoming less and less representative of the students. They are coming to stand for paid coaches, not for Universities. Every movement which counteracts this influence is of itself good and such would be the effect if at least a partial abolition of secret practice were obtained.

LIBRETTIST

Joseph Blethen, '91, of Seattle, is writing the first of five contract librettos to be along entirely new lines. The music has already been arranged for. The producer is well known but conceals his identity. Mr. Blethen has completed the first story and is at work on the lyrics, which will not be mere interpolations but will help carry out the plot.

Mr. Blethen was in Minneapolis recently, and in discussion of the matter said:

"Of course the first production may not be a success. Perhaps they will all fail, but I hope not. I cannot say when the first opera will be produced, but production this season will be out of the question. It will be my first libretto and I am naturally rather apprehensive about the reception it will get. I will probably put the finishing touches on it in Europe as I am going abroad in January.

Mr. and Mrs. Blethen are returning from St. Louis. They are accompanied by Mrs. Blethen's sister, Mrs. H. L. Darwin.

MINNESOTA'S WORK ABOVE REPROACH

Saturday's game proved a surprise even to Minnesota's most sanguine backers. The fact that Michigan beat Wisconsin by exactly the same score, it was thought would make the champions of the cardinal fight more desperately to retrieve that disaster, and it would not have been surprising had Minnesota been held to two touch-downs. Not a few were ready to wager good money that Wisconsin would score. The outcome showed that while Wisconsin did put up a game fight and put forth every effort to prevent Minnesota from gaining, or to gain, when in possession of the ball, they were completely outplayed in every department of the game.

They could not withstand the terrific onslaughts made by Minnesota nor could they make headway against Minnesota's line nor run her ends. This was considered one of Minnesota's weak points, as Burgan was playing end for the first time in a big game but not a gain was made around him. Marshall guarded his end equally well. Wisconsin made first down but three or four times during the game and the third down almost invariably found their full-back drawn back for a punt. Once they made a first down in one try, coming through the line, and once again they put a man through the line with the ball and only "Sig" Harris stood between him and Minnesota's goal, but "Sig" was there and the runner came to the ground with a thump that made him see stars. This run came just before the final call of time and was the result of loose work on the part of the Minnesota men who had grown careless.

Twice during the game did Wisconsin attempt a drop kick but both went wide of the mark. Once on the kick-off "Sig" Harris picked up the ball almost on the goal line and was downed in his tracks, dangerously near a safety for Wisconsin. Aside from these three times Wisconsin was at no time dangerous.

The team work put up by the Minnesota men was a very high grade. The whole team played as one man and time and again tore big holes through the Wisconsin line and put a man through for ten or more yards gain. Again and again was Wisconsin's line hurdled for good gains and her ends run for big gains and had it not been for a few bad fumbles the score would have gone even higher. Minnesota was held for downs very few times during the course of the game but in at least two of the cases it was apparently inexcusable and with but a small distance to gain.

Minnesota was penalized again and again and during the course of the game lost fifty-five yards and at least one touch-down through this cause—not a single penalty was inflicted on Wisconsin.

In general, however, the game was

PHARMACY ALUMNI NOTES

Charles John O'Connel, Pharm. '01, (Ph.M., '02.), is in the experimental laboratory of Messrs Parke Davis & Co. Detroit, Mich., where he is filling a responsible position, utilizing to the full his knowledge of pharmaceutical chemistry. He writes that others claim the laboratory in which he is employed to be one of the most modern in this country.

Arthur Kuhn, '02, formerly with F. M. Parker of St. Paul, is now with R. F. Bryant, St. Cloud, Minn.

Chas. F. Rutherford, '02, is the prosperous proprietor of the pharmacy on 4th and St. Peter Sts., St. Paul. He has just returned from an extended visit to the St. Louis Fair, studying especially the pharmaceutical and the chemical exhibits.

Henry J. Dreis, '00, and Walter F. Dreis, '02, have re-arranged and largely improved their St. Paul pharmacy.

Miss Helen Barnes, '04, is now with S. Gjesdahl on Cedar Avenue, Minneapolis.

Chas. F. Clough, '02, has just taken unto himself, Miss Helen Adams, a University young woman, as wife. They have just returned from an extended wedding trip. Mr. Clough is back at his old stand with S. H. Reeves, Seven Corners, St. Paul.

O. S. Gifford, '03, is assistant manager of Goodrich and Jennings' pharmacy at Lake & Nicollet, Minneapolis.

R. P. Pepple, '95, of Worthington, has taken a responsible position in a drug store at Luverne, Minn.

John M. Bell, '00, took the civil service examination in June, at St. Paul to enable him to enter the U. S. Navy as pharmacist. He has received his appointment, but before beginning his new duties he is spending some time at the fair at St. Louis.

Wm. Hoscheid, '96, is the new pharmacist in Hanson's store at Hector, Minn.

Wm. Chernausek, '01, assisted in the Christlieb store at Hutchinson during Mr. Christlieb's absence in the East.

W. S. Passer, '04, has resigned his position at Stillwater to accept a position with M. Aune at 1100 Hennepin Ave., Minneapolis.

Thomas M. Gash, '04, is one of the chemists with the International Stock Food Co., Minneapolis.

Paul H. Kelly, '04, is studying medicine at Hamline.

F. J. Noer, '04, is managing his father's pharmacy at Colfax, Wis.

Herbert M. Cutler, '04, is managing the drug store at Park Rapids, Minn.

Miss Alice M. Todd, '04, is taking the post graduate course in the College of Pharmacy.

Fred J. Harms, '04, is first clerk in Brede & Erkle's pharmacy, Northeast Minneapolis.

WANTED—Industrious man or woman as permanent representative of big manufacturing company to look after its business in this county and adjoining territory. Business successful and established. Salary $20.00 per week and expenses. Salary paid weekly from home office. Expense money advanced. Experience not essential. Enclose self-addressed envelope. General Manager, Como Block, Chicago.

Linn Bradley, '04, has invented a rapid filtering machine for which he intends to take a patent. The device is full of promise and undoubtedly will be successful. Mr. Bradley is with the Randall Drug Co., Great Falls, Mont., where he is doing considerable original research work. Among his discoveries is a preparation that readily clarifies the turbid waters of Montana.

Edwin W. Mead, '04, has had the misfortune of being ill with chronic rheumatism since shortly after graduating. His many friends are glad to learn that he is rapidly recovering.

Miss May Nisbit, '00, and Charles E. Peterson, '00, are both with Mr. John Nielson at Ortonville, Minn.

PERSONALS

Charles H. Kendall, '96, who was assistant in the department of civil engineering during the years 1895-'96, visited the University last week. Mr. Kendall is located at Manila and is railroad engineer in the United States Department of the bureau of engineering. He is doing exceedingly well, and is in the states for a short visit. He expects to be back in Manila by holiday time.

A recent copy of the Church News, from Harwood, N. D., shows that Robert T. Elwell, '95, who is pastor of the church, is pastor of a very wide awake and up to date church.

Eliel F. Wilson, Eng. '02, who is in charge of the Apple River Power Co., at Somerset, Wis., visited the University some ten days ago for the purpose of making arrangements for the senior electrical engineers to visit the plant.

A. C. Pratt, Eng. '99, who is in charge of the Missouri River Power Company at Canyon Ferry, Mont., visited the University a few days ago.

O. G. F. Markhus, '97, visited the electrical engineering department about ten days ago. He reports things doing up in his part of the country.

Russel Moer Law, '01, is engaged in the hardware business in partnership with his brothers, at Wimbleton, N. D. They have an excellent business. Mr. Moer was recently married, and has just returned from his wedding trip.

George E. Young, Law '93, is practicing law at Valley City, N. D. He was a candidate for state senator on the republican ticket. It was reported before election that his chance were most excellent.

W. W. Wedge, is located at Balfour, N. D., as assistant cashier in the German American State Bank.

Ralph Wedge, '02, is Cashier of the German American State Bank at Granville, N. D. This bank is doing a very large business.

S. H. Wolf, '98, is superintendent of schools at Minot, N. D. He has been in this position for four years and is extremely successful. He is said to have the finest high school band in the state. Mr. Wolf will be remembered as one of the prominent men in the University band during his college days.

N. R. Nostdal, ex-'02, is practicing law at Rugby, N. D. He expects to attend the Wisconsin game coming to the city in his automobile. He is doing a large land and law business, and mixing somewhat in politics.

For Safe Investments see Wyvell-Harrington Co., 401-403 Andrus Bldg., M'p'ls.

Guy Whittemore, Law '01, was republican candidate for state attorney at Rugby, N. D. There seemed to be little doubt but that he would win by a comfortable majority.

Charles Ireys, '00, has headquarters at Minot, N. D. He is looking after the Ireys' line of elevators along the Soo.

Doctors Sweet and Sholberg, graduates of the dental college, are practicing in partnership at Minot, N. D.

Alfred Blaisdell, '98, Law '00, and John Bird, Law '02, are practicing law in partnership at Balfour, N. D.

Roy R. Ferris, who was mentioned in the Weekly, two or three weeks ago, as a graduate of the college of law is a graduate of the school of agriculture and not law. He is nevertheless an enthusiastic alumnus of the University of Minnesota and is interested in all matters pertaining to alma mater.

J. G. Vigen, Med., '94, has been taking a special course on the stomach and intestines in a medical college at Berlin. He reports that he finds Berlin a very interesting place. He expects to return home, to Fergus Falls, Minn., early in the present month.

Rev. William H. Klose, '99, has accepted a call to the pastorate of the church at Fayette, Iowa, and has taken up his work there.

William P. Lee, Med., '94, of Fairfax, Minn., writes that he expects to bring at least a dozen down to the Wisconsin game. Among them are D. Grussendorf, superintendent of schools, Miss Hokanson, '02, and Frank Hopkins, Law '03.

R. S. McIntosh, Ag. '02, is professor of horticulture and state horticulturist of the Alabama Polytechnic Institute. He reports that he is glad to see Minnesota playing football this year, and watches the morning papers anxiously for reports of the previous day. He says that they have a Yale coach at their Institute this year, and their boys put up a good article of football and are winning their games. He refers regretfully to the old main and sends his best wishes to all inquiring friends.

Clarence C. Dinehart, '99, of Slayton, Minn., is doing graduate work at Harvard University. His address is 304 Cragie Hall, Cambridge.

FROM "THE WHIP."

Since the Whip began publication the University has been steadily reforming. It is hard to find anything to knock. We never did see such a lot of virtuous mediocrity before and we hope that we may never see it again. The work of the team last Saturday, while below praise, was above roasting. Wisconsin has acted on the square. The board of control, athletic, has not done anything noticeably rotten. Peace reigns in the junior class. With a few silly exceptions the student body is comporting itself with proper modesty and decorum. Either we are due for war, pestilence or famine or else some germ of degeneracy has gotten into the water tanks.

MINNESOTA 28—WISCONSIN 0

a much cleaner game and far more free from flukes and rough playing than the game with Nebraska two weeks ago.

Wisconsin men were "all in" long before the game was over and during the second half substitutes were used so freely that fully 20 men took part in the play for Wisconsin during the progress of the game, but the old Wisconsin spirit, which always insures a big fight and which is dangerous until the final call of time, was in evidence throughout. It was a stubbornly contested battle and one that will be long remembered by those who were privileged to see it.

Minnesota won the toss and taking the ball on Wisconsin's kick-off carried it straight down the field, mainly by heavy line smashes, making the first touch-down in less than three minutes.

The second touch-down was long in coming and it was only after the ball had changed hands many times, Minnesota losing it on fumbles and Wisconsin on downs that Minnesota let Davis loose with the ball and sent him on a long run which placed the ball forty-five yards nearer Wisconsin's goal. Some heavy line smashing followed which ended in a touch-down. This ended the scoring of the first half.

The third score was made soon after the opening of the second half and followed a steady march down the field and over the line. The fourth and fifth scores come the same way. Steady line plunges varied by short end runs.

The "features" of the game were few. It was mostly by steady consecutive gains that Minnesota piled up the score. Davis' run for forty-five yards and the double pass which enabled him to make twenty yards around end were the most spectacular plays.

Once Wisconsin lined up with the ball at the side of the field, The center stood four feet from his nearest mate and passed the ball back to a man in the bunch lined up at one side. It was a desperate chance and looked dangerous but proved to be disastrous for Wisconsin for ten yards were lost on the play.

Twice during the game Sig called a man back from the line and whispered to him, the man going back to his former position but falling slightly back as though to take the ball for a run around left end. The Wisconsin men disposed themselves to guard against such a play; then "Sig" passed the ball to a man on his right and with two men to back him pushed the ball through the unprotected right wing of Wisconsin for a big gain. It was "foxy" work and delighted the rooters.

"Sig" Harris ran the team like the veteran he is and to the entire satisfaction of the rooters. He never showed up to better advantage in any game and never once did he show poor judgment in choosing plays, and several times he formed his men in a way which was calculated to fool his opponents and which did completely catch them off guard and netted big gains through unprotected spots. It was magnificent work and raised him in the estimation of his many admirers.

Burgan who played end for the first time in a big game made good and not a single gain was made around him and he was good to make ground every time he was called upon for that purpose and some of the best gains of the day were due to his work.

It is, however, the chief glory of every man on the team, not that the individual played a great game—which is true—but that eleven men played as one. And this is likewise the secret of the final score.

Summary—Touch-downs, Kremer 3, Davies 2 goals from touch-down, Harris 3 out of 4 trials; referee Ralph Hamil, of Chicago; umpire, Clyde Williams, of Iowa; headlineman, A. W. Ristine, of Harvard; time of halves, 35 minutes; attendance, 18,000.

The plot of the playing given on the back cover is worthy of careful study. It tells the tale for better than columns of description would. The game was remarkably free from the spectacular and there is very little that can be said without repeating commonplaces. The plot is a reproduction of one which appeared in the Sunday Tribune.

Advance by scrimmage	641 yds 52 yds
By punts .....	278 yds 316 yds
Aver. length of punts	39.7 yds 31.6 yds
By kick-off .....	91 yds 222 yds
Tried drop kick .....	1 3
Running back kick-offs	77 yds 28 yds
Running back punts ..	76 yds 75 yds
Lost by penalties ....	55 yds 0 yds

The 1,183 yards gained by Minnesota is a great record. No former team within the big nine has ever made that amount of distance against a team that was in its class or one that was supposed to have a show of winning, as Wisconsin was before the game started.

MACHINE NEEDS OILING.

Last Saturday Michigan and Chicago met in battle and the score card reads: Michigan, 22; Chicago, 12. This is a heavy blow to the hopes of the maize and blue for recognition as champions of the West.

Minnesota has been scored on by but one team and has defeated every opponent decisively, breaking the world's record for high season's score and for largest score in a single game.

Michigan has been scored against by Chicago—the same score that Nebraska made against Minnesota. Both Drake and Ohio State also scored against her. Something must be wrong with Yost's machine.

As things stand to-day, Minnesota's claim is good. Iowa and Northwestern are yet to be vanquished.

MORE FRAT FOOTBALL.

The series of fraternity football games will be continued Tuesday, Nov. 15, when the Delta Kappa Epsilons will play the Alpha Delta Phi men at Northrop Field.

There has been some talk of a Psi Upsilon team, but the members have not yet arrived at a decision.

The Beta Theta Pi men have been practicing more or less all fall and they may put up a team also.

Nothing has been heard from any of the other fraternities, except the Delta Upsilon, who may also contest for gridiron honors.

Theta Delta Chi is reported to be organizing a team.

The Phi Delta Phis have decided to form a team also.

It has been finally agreed that the Minnesota-Iowa game shall be played in Cedar Rapids and the Iowa management is now working with that end in view.

ENCOURAGEMENT

The thorn of the rose for the moment gives pain,
But it's beauty and fragrance sweet mem'ries remain.
From the slime of the pond the white lillies rise;
Each blessing of God comes a sweet, glad surprise.

E'en the blackest storm-cloud sometimes shows a rift
Through which may be seen, if the eyes are uplift,
Some patch of blue sky, or radiant and clear,
The stars shining brightly some sad heart to cheer.

The longest night giveth 'way to the morn,
And with the new day is a new courage born.
The harder the way is, the sweeter the rest;
And "hope springs eternal" in each human breast.

Sorrow is transient, while abiding is joy,
And gold is more precious in contrast with alloy.
The shadows prove naught but the nearness of light,
While God sendeth rest under cover of night.

E. B. JOHNSON, '88, - - Editor
Frank S. Lyon, '07, Advertising Mgr.

The suggestion which was made in the last number of the Minnesota Magazine concerning a unique memorial is one that is being received with favorable comment in University circles. The suggestion is to leave one corner of the wall of the old main building standing and train ivy and woodbine over it making it as picturesque as possible.

The book of "Verses" by Miss Mary F. Sanford, '02, is out, and already the first edition has been sold and a second issued. The booklet is in very attractive dress of a sober brown shade of art paper cover, with a beautiful design, printed in two colors.

The "Verses" are characterized by real poetic insight, that appeals at once to the heart as well as the head. This little volume of verse will inspire many pleasant and ennobling thoughts and will be treasured for its own intrinsic worth.

Of these poems Dr. Burton says—"These lyrics need no apology: they are the honest expression of a poetic instinct which by virtue of the labor that is behind any genuinely artistic result, has produced something sound and sweet. . . This slender sheaf of song fulfills the mission of poetry: it does good, it gives pleasure. It is, therefore, worthy and welcome."

It is to be regretted that certain newspaper correspondents seem to take delight in trying to stir up unfriendly feelings between institutions, which are, and ought to be, on friendly terms of rivalry. Report sent out from Wisconsin concerning rough play on the part of Minnesota is without foundation and was promptly repudiated by the Wisconsin coach and yet this report has been sent around and published by the newspapers. There are always people who like to criticize, and make the most of these reports, and who will pay no attention to the fact that they have been repudiated and are without foundation. Wisconsin always puts up a fierce game of foot ball, and Minnesota has never yet won victory over her that did not call for the putting forth of every effort to win. Although the score was so one sided last Saturday, Wisconsin was not outclassed, nor did she show any signs of quitting, through the seventy minutes of play. We of Minnesota, always look to Wisconsin as "our dearest foe," and while we correspondingly rejoice when victory comes to us, we have the heartiest respect for our opponent.

Last week the Michigan Daily came out with a special issue claiming the western championship, not even mentioning the fact that Minnesota also has a claim on the same title. The report was characteristic of all the reports that have been sent out from Michigan, during the past two years, and will deceive none, save those who desire to be deceived. Michigan undoubtedly has a strong team this year, but her claim to western championship is decidedly dubious. Minnesota could claim the same title, with better grace. Of course, the game to be played with Iowa, may make some difference in Minnesota's claim, but it is not probable. Minnesota has only been scored upon by one team this year, while Michigan has been scored upon by three teams. Furthermore Michigan has steadfastly refused to play Minnesota. After being turned down last fall, Minnesota has made no effort during the present year to secure a game and Minnesota does not need to go around begging other institutions to play football with her. In view of the facts in the case, we cannot see what claim Michigan has on the western championship after refusing to meet the team which she knew would be her strongest rival for this honor. She certainly cannot have a clear claim on such a title even if Minnesota should be scored upon in the two remaining games of the year.

Chicago papers have assumed an unfriendly attitude toward Minnesota and have practically read Minnesota out of the championship race and award the first honors to Michigan. Some have even gone so far as to put Chicago in the second place. Still the western championship is nothing but a myth anyway, and foot ball to be really worth anything to a college is worth just as much without the championship as it is with it. Yet it is irritating to have Minnesota's claims so very shabbily treated by the western press.

A DEFENSE OF TRIGGS.

The following letter has been received from Dr. Albert Schneider, connected with the department of pharmacy in the University of California. In regard to the comment to which Dr. Schneider refers, the Weekly desires to say that there was no intention of casting any reflections upon Mr. Triggs and his proposed school. Whatever Mr. Triggs may be, he is certainly very much in earnest in all his work, and deserves all the encouragement which true earnest work always deserves. The comment was inspired by the thought of Mr. Triggs' proposition to do away with all forms of athletics in his institution. While athletics undoubtedly play far too important a part in the college of today, we doubt very much whether the effort Mr. Triggs' arraignment of the condition of affairs at the University of Chicago, may have its effect in calling attention to the fact that athletics have to a considerable extent, "gone mad," and occupy far too prominent a part in the life of the college of to-day. If Mr. Triggs' institution should accomplish simply this one thing alone, it would be worth while for it to exist. We are glad that Dr. Schneider has taken up the defence of his friend and we are glad to give the space to his communication.

My Dear Mr. Johnson,

With reference to your editorial, anent to the industrial school to be founded by Oscar L. Triggs, I wish to say a few words in behalf of my friend, Oscar L. Triggs and I were classmates at the U. of M. in 1892-'03. I have kept in touch with him more or less since. I know he is a "crank" and I know he would not deny the charge. You see, without cranks there would be no progress. Those very cautious, politic individuals who either have no minds of their own or who having them, are too cowardly to exercise them are of no consequence in human affairs. The world would, in fact, never miss them. They follow in the paths laid out for them, become portly and bald; when laid to rest, there is no loud wailing, neither is there gnashing of teeth. They were just so, so citizens. They made the world neither better nor worse. My friend, Oscar L. Triggs, does not belong to this class. He is essentially a reformer, in the true sense of the term. He is for progress, for betterment of the human race, and to these ends he lends all of his energies. When he shall have been laid to rest it will be said that the world is better for his having lived. Now I am not sufficiently familiar with his plans, but this I know: His motives are entirely altruistic and he has entered into the undertaking after having considered everything carefully. It would illy benefit us, who know so little about the scheme, to even hint at anything disparaging, either as to motive or to final outcome. As far as I am concerned I wish all success to the undertaking and to Professor Oscar L. Triggs. Any university may well be proud of such a man.

As far as newspaper notoriety is concerned, I certainly do not believe that any University graduate, especially a graduate of the University of Minnesota is so narrow minded as to condemn anyone on newspaper reports. If we were to do this we could secure "evidence" to hang every political candidate that ever ran for office.

Very Sincerely,

Albert Schneider.

LECTURES ON IDEALS.

Dean Pattee delivered an interesting address on "Ideals and their Power in Shaping the Lives and Securing the Success of Future Men," Sunday evening at the First Congregational Church.

THE USUAL STORY

The Michigan Daily publishes the following characteristic piece of misinformation in its editorial column:

"The members of the Wisconsin football team are very sore at the treatment received by them at Minnesota Saturday, according to newspaper reports. They allege that Minnesota played dirty football and slugged from start to finish. Also the field was in a wet and muddy condition, which gave the heavy Gophers a tremendous advantage and they think that this condition could have easily been avoided had Minnesota cared to see to it. Coach Arthur Curtis and Captain Bush remarked that the conduct of the Minnesota men was in striking contrast to that of Michigan's team, and stated that in their opinion Michigan outclassed Minnesota."

The only trouble with this is that it is false, malicious and misleading from the first paragraph indented to the final period, and published with a deliberate intent of creating an erroneous impression.

We very much doubt whether the rocky-ridden amateurs who run that parody called the Michigan Daily are fair enough and game enough to print the following from the Daily Cardinal:

"As much as the Cardinal team hated to lose to Minnesota, there is no getting around the fact that Dr. Williams has a strong team; one of the best in the west and fully the equal of Michigan. The gopher team played rings around Wisconsin and after the first three minutes of play it was only a question how big the score would be. The Minnesota team wanted to score more than Yost's machine had done, but the final score 28 to 0, was exactly the same. It would have been larger had it not been for some fumbles which resulted unfavorable for Minnesota."—Minnesota Daily.

OF GENERAL INTEREST

Thursday, Friday, and Saturday of this week will be "off days" for the entire University.

The Dramatic Club have chosen a play for their winter tour, but the name of the play has not yet been announced.

Saturday afternoon the Woman's league gave a "sunlight dance" to which only women of the University were admitted.

Last Thursday evening the Shakopean Literary Society held its preliminary debate for the purpose of trying out candidates for the team which is to meet Hamline in the near future.

The Forensic Honor League was entertained at the home of Prof. and Mrs. McDermott Tuesday evening. Members of the faculty and former University orators, besides the present active men, were present.

Railroads centering in Minneapolis started a railroad war which has resulted in the price of $3.00 for a round trip to Chicago. A large number of University students attended the game in the windy city to cheer their champions on to victory.

Last Thursday was Womans League day at the Exhibition of Fine Arts in the Public Library. Entertainment for the afternoon and evening was furnished by University women, and a most enjoyable afternoon and evening was spent examining the works of art.

Dr. Simmons, pastor of the First Unitarian church of this city spoke before the University Liberal Association last Saturday evening upon "Prometheus and the Greek Myth." The subject was handled in Mr. Simmons' clear and forcible style, and the address was thoroughly enjoyed by all who heard it.

Major Morgan is stirring up renewed interest in all matters military. He has a number of the members of the various military companies stirred up to a lively competition for leadership. Since Major Morgan has taken hold of the department there has been a most decided change in the condition of things, and from a thoroughly disorganized state of affairs he has brought out an exceedingly efficient and able corps of cadets.

Basket ball prospects are somewhat of an unknown quantity this year in view of the fact that Dr. Cooke refuses to coach the team. The prospects are not as bright as they have been in some previous years, although there seems to be as much good material available, the fact remains there is no one like Dr. Cooke for a basket ball coach. Ever since he has had to do with basket ball Minnesota has had a championship team, and it is to be regretted that he feels unable to take charge of the team this year. A Yale game is in prospect, but it is not yet settled.

Mr. C. T. Christianson is the winner of the University Hamilton Club contest. The paper has been forwarded to the Hamilton Club of Chicago for grading. The result of this contest will be looked forward to, very eagerly by those interested in forensic matters. There are eight colleges in the league and eight papers submitted. Only four of this number will be chosen to be given before the Hamilton club. Minnesota's chances this year are not particularly good, since she was admitted to the contest last spring, too late to get word to the students who would have been likely to enter the competition. All preparation for the contest has had to be made since the opening of the college year this fall.

"One of My Relations" has been chosen by the play committee of the Dramatic Club to tour the wilds of the Northwest during the Christmas vacation, and the work of preparation has been started. The club expects to give from ten to fifteen performances on its swing through the woods and if "One of My Relations" is as successful as "One Night Only" it will not only be a decided financial success, but will give the actors a pleasant Christmas vacation.

"Dame Fire-Fly," the operetta to be given at the Lyceum Dec. 2d, is rapidly rounding into form under the diligent supervision of Miss Sarah Cundiff, director.

Miss Cundiff comes here direct from Canada, where she put on the same opera with phenomenal success.

The story tells of Vetta Vhey, a little Swedish princess who tired of home and school, runs away into the great forest. She loses the path and at last, completely tired out, falls asleep on the ground.

She awakes to find herself surrounded by dancing and singing fairies who then immediately vanish into the woods.

Running after them she stumbles into a dreadful old witch, Dame Fire-Fly, who, however, promises to lead her to fairyland.

The witch summons a beautiful flower carriage to take Vetta to the home of the fairies. Here, hidden away, she watches with wonder the dazzling beauties around her; the fairies, the Great Good Spirit, the dancing flowers, and the moon and the evening star.

Suddenly the Imps enter, led by their king, Giant Long Tooth, who discovers her presence and is just about to devour her, when the Good Fairy comes and takes the little princess in a fairy skiff, back again to her now longed for home.

The play abounds in catchy songs, pretty costumes, clever dialogue and brilliant electrical effects.

Trials for parts took place last Wednesday and Thursday, and 150 children and 35 University boys and girls are already hard at work on their parts.

The children are to be the imps and the fairies.

The affair has been taken up by the club and society women of the Twin Cities and they have expressed themselves as being heartily in sympathy with the league's efforts to have a woman's building erected on the campus.

The Fourth District Federation of Women's Clubs, embracing St. Paul and Stillwater, has ordered two boxes and a number of parquet seats, and the Fifth District Federation is expected to do even better. Box parties are also being arranged for by the students and the financial success of the play seems assured.

PERSONALS

Lucy L. Chapman, '99, is teaching drawing in Tarkio College and in the public schools of Tarkio, Mo.

Allan R. Brown, '03, is junior clerk in the law office of Everit Brown, 27 Williams Street, New York City.

Ora M. Featherstone, '99, is not teaching this year, but is enjoying a vacation at her home in Red Wing, Minn.

Cyril Brackenbury, Mines '98, is connected with the Consolidated African Copper Trust, limited, at Bulawayo, Rhodesia, South Africa.

John M. Bell, Pharm., '04, has accepted the position of pharmacist of the Public Health and Marine Hospital Service with headquarters at St. Louis, Mo.

Miss Frances Fritzsche, '00, of Fargo, N. D., and W. Brainerd Carman, of Detroit, Minn., were married at Fargo last Thursday. Mr. and Mrs. Carman will make their home at Detroit, Minn.

M. E. Anderson, Eng. '01, gave a lecture before the engineering society upon the Louisiana purchase exposition. The lecture was illustrated by lantern slides, and was an exceedingly interesting and valuable one for the engineering students.

B. T. Emerson, '03, was married on June 17th, to Miss Harriet Roth at her home near Alexandria, Minn. The wedding was a very quiet affair, being attended by a few relatives only. Mr. and Mrs. Emerson are now residing at Owatonna, where Mr. Emerson is teaching science in the high school.

George G. Pinney, '03, is principal of the high school at Hiawatha, Kans. He is teaching mathematics himself and enjoys his work very much. He looks after the football team, and as soon as football season is over he expects to get his students interested in debate which is an entirely new departure for that school.

MINNESOTA 17---NORTHWESTERN 0

Last Saturday's game was one of the most fiercely contested games of the season. The protesting of Strathern, which came at the last minute, like a thunder clap out of a clear sky, took the edge off of Minnesota's offense, and the absence of the captain was seen in the lack of vim put into the playing during the first half of the game and was evidenced by the lack of that clock like precision which characterized the work of the team in the Wisconsin game. While it seems probable that Strathern is ineligible according to the technical terms of the conference rules, the fact remains that not a man on the Minnesota team, or any other team in the country, represents the highest class of football man—clean, sportsmanlike and faithful in every duty—better than "Mose" Strathern. He represents football in its ideal form, and is the idol of his men and the college followers of the game. He has always stood for a clean, hard game, and has always been as steady as a clock in all his work. With the highest of ideals of what a football team ought to be, he has used his influence to make Minnesota's team measure up to that ideal and he has done much to bring up the standard of football in the University.

As to the eleventh hour protest, the worst thing we can wish for Northwestern is that they may feel as ashamed of this action, as all good Minnesotans feel over the protest made in the case of Clyde Williams of Iowa.

Eleventh hour protests, on technicalities, are unsportsmanlike, and in plain English, mean; and this regardless of whether the protest is made by Minnesota men in charge of athletic affairs or by men in some other college.

The game was one of the most fiercely fought and hardly contested in which a Minnesota team ever took part. The Northwestern team put up a great fight and Minnesota found it harder to win the game than any game of the present season, not even excepting the Wisconsin game.

During the first twenty minutes of the game Minnesota was unable to make consistent or long-continued gains, and while Northwestern, during the first half did not threaten Minnesota's goal her defense was well nigh impregnable.

One of the most thrilling series of plays during the first half was when Marshall blocked an attempted place kick and carried the ball to Minnesota's fifty yard line. Minnesota unable to make distance kicked to Northwestern's thirty-yard line, the Northwestern man fumbled the ball and Current got it and carried it over the line for a touchdown, which was not allowed as Marshall was offside.

After about twenty minutes of play the Minnesota men seemed to wake up to the necessity of doing something and taking the ball on her own twenty-five yard line she carried it straight down the field, mainly by heavy line smashes, in which Smith, Case, and Brush figured, and with the help of a twenty-three yard end run by Davies, brought the ball to Northwestern's five yard line, when "big" Smith was called upon twice in succession, and, backed by the whole team, he smashed through the center for the coveted distance and touchdown.

The second touchdown came as the result of fierce work in which distance was measured off in larger pieces, and without once losing the ball it was again put over the goal line, the whole team headed by "big" Smith, going through Northwestern's line for the second score. After the next kickoff Minnesota took the ball and was going straight for a third touchdown when time was called.

During the interim between the halves, the bands, Minnesota's and Northwestern's, vied with each other for the musical honors of the day. Northwestern came onto the field in the second half and put an even fiercer game than during the first half and their fine work, aided by lucky chance enabled them to twice come within Minnesota's ten yard line, but both times Minnesota's defense made good and the ball came her way on downs. But Minnesota seemed not to be able to make ground against Northwestern's strong defense and was obliged to resort to a punting game; finally, on a blocked kick, carried the ball to within striking distance and Ittner was soon pushed over for the third and last touchdown of the game.

Taking the ball on Northwestern's kickoff Minnesota carried it straight down the field for eighty-eight yards and it seemed as if nothing could stop her irresistible rushes, when within ten yards of Northwestern's goal, an over zealous Minnesota player was responsible for a fifteen yard penalty and Harris fell back for a drop kick, the ball fell short and it was Northwestern's ball on her own two yard line. It was then so dark that it was seen that the game could not be finished and the two captains agreed to have the game called, on account of darkness, and this was done with eight minutes left to play.

The game was much like the Wisconsin game in that there were few sensational plays, most of the ground-gaining came through heavy line plunging varied by short gains around ends. The game was a disappointment in that it was so slow. This was due no doubt to the disorganized state of Minnesota's team due to the absence of Captain Strathern. The plot of the playing is worthy of careful study and tells more of the real merits of the game than columns of description.

It is said that five thousand of the faithful friends of Minnesota journeyed to the windy city and were present to cheer the gophers on to victory.

The team will not return to the University until after Iowa game which will be played next Thursday. In view of the fact that Illinois defeated Iowa last Saturday, by a score of 29 to 0, Minnesota ought not to find the game such a hard proposition.

"Northwestern was outplayed and fairly beaten. She has no ground for complaint. Minnesota has a great team and I should like to see her meet Michigan."

DARBY, Referee.

"The game was fought hard and the best team won. I liked the spirit of the players and the clean game they put up is unparalleled. Minnesota would give Michigan the game of their lives should it be played. Am sorry that Strathern could not participate in the contest."

NEW COURSE IN BIBLE STUDY

The interest in Bible Study continues. 262 men are now enrolled in the Y. M. C. A. classes. This growing interest has led to the starting of a new course under Edward Sanford, on the "Literary Form of the Bible."

If you wish to secure a position to teach, write to James F. McCullough, Railway Exchange Building, Chicago.

EDITED BY McCLUMPHA

Dr. C. F. McClumpha who is active in the literary world aside from his profession of teaching, has just completed a new edition of Macauley's Essay on Addison.

It will appear in the Gateway Series, published by the American Book Company and will shortly be forthcoming from the press.

GRADUATE CLUB MEETING

The next meeting of the Graduate Club will be held Monday evening, Nov. 21, at 8 o'clock in the auditorium of the Medical main building. This is the first department meeting of the year and will be given by the department of anatomy. Dr. Erdman and Dr. Hare of the department will both speak on the subject, "Man's Place in Nature." Each will attempt to show why man is the highest expression of living substance, but from a somewhat different point of view. Both lectures will be illustrated.

The graduate club held a well attended social meeting Monday evening at which the work and purposes of the organization were informally discussed.

Those present generally agreed that the University should have a much larger number of graduate students and that the requirements of graduates are at present too rigid, tending to routine work. A distinct and well organized department with a Dean at its head was talked of.

PRIZES PRESENTED.

In Dr. McClumpha's room at chapel time Monday, Prof. McDermott presented the winners of the Freshman and Sophomore preliminaries with the prizes secured for them thru the efforts of Professor Sanford. The Freshmen received six sets of Shakespeare's works, Temple edition, and the Sophomores received six sets of George Eliot's works.

Prof. McDermott addressed the students briefly, congratulating them on their success and hoping that they would not only read, but re-read the works which they were to receive. Mr. Sanford responded for the Freshmen, and Messrs. Bodger and Arnsten for the Sophomores. It was announced that the Freshman-Sophomore debate would be held before the Christmas holidays, instead of after.

MADE MUCH MONEY

Twenty thousand people witnessed the football game last Saturday.

These 20,000 people paid into the coffers of the Minnesota and Wisconsin athletic associations the sum of $25,000 to enjoy the game of the year.

Twenty thousand people were handled as a crowd has never before been handled by the management. Over fifty policemen and a great number of firemen and student guards were on hand to assist in seeing that the multitude was well taken care of.

People were on hand as early as ten o'clock in the morning and all had not left the grounds until after six, and in this time not one accident occurred.

Delta Kappa Epsilon won the interfraternity football game with the Alpha Delta Phi's one afternoon last week by a score of 10 to 0.

The game was played on Northrop Field before a comparatively large and enthusiastic crowd of spectators.

One-half of the field was covered with a deep layer of straw, which made the playing difficult, but an exciting game was put up by both teams.

Several good plays were made by individual members of both teams.

A great deal of entertaining was done for the visiting girls and boys from Wisconsin and innumerable good times were crowded into their short two day's stay.

Beta Theta Pi gave a dance for the six members of their Wisconsin chapter Saturday evening.

Delta Gamma received informally Sunday afternoon and evening.

Eight visiting Chi Psi's made the Chi Psi lodge their headquarters until Tuesday morning, when they returned to Madison.

Phi Gamma Delta entertained six fraternity brothers.

Dean Gregg entertained Monday eve for Miss Joyce Hunter, a Wisconsin Delta Gamma, who spent last week with the Minnesota chapter.

MINERVAS MIND

The Minervas are to enter the Inter-Society Debates this year and are going in with the expectation and determination to win from the Shaks the coveted cup which they have held for the past two years.

The rule is that whoever holds the cup three years in succession retains it permanently and it will be a fight to the bitter end to keep the cup from the clutches of the Shaks.

SPANIARDS ORGANIZE.

Earle Constantine was elected president of a new Spanish Club yesterday afternoon, with Harold Elwell vice-president and Helen J. Fish secretary and treasurer.

The object of the club is to promote the study of the Spanish language among its members, and at the same time to allow its members to become better acquainted socially.

THAT PROTEST.

The facts seem to be so stated in the last issue of the Weekly. Strathern played, as a substitute in three games in the season of 1900. And while the Weekly has had no opportunity so far to secure a statement from Mr. Strathern, there is no doubt that he construed the rule bearing upon the case as it seems to be pretty generally understood, to apply only to colleges in the conference. While the rule, as it reads would undoubtedly debar Strathern, there is no question in the mind of anyone who knows him, that he was strictly honest in signing the blank certifying to his eligibility to play. It is to be regretted that this matter came up and yet as Minnesota has subscribed to the rules, she should live up to them, no matter even if their strict enforcement debars a man like Strathern who is in every moral and just sense, strictly entitled to represent the University of Minnesota on the football team.

As to the case of Hunter, who was protested at the same time as Strathern, but concerning whose disbarment the papers have been curiously silent, the rule seems to apply clearly and it would seem that Minnesota has no defense of any kind in his case, as it certainly must have been known that he played upon another college team last year. The rule by which he is cut out may be a bad one, but so long as it is the rule, let it be enforced, no matter who is shut out.

The Weekly has just received a copy of the Fairmont Sentinel, in which it is stated that P. P. Kennedy, has become a candidate for the position of superintendent of public instruction. Mr. Kennedy is an ideal man for this position, and has the good will of everyone who knows him, and few educators in the state are better known. The people of Fairmont, where he has been for the past ten years, are for him to a man. It is certain that Governor Johnson might go much further and make a choice that would not meet with one-half the favor that would be sure to greet the announcement of Mr. Kennedy's selection for this position.

The Weekly hopes that the rumor may prove to be well-founded and that Mr. Kennedy may be chosen for the position. If Mr. Kennedy should be selected for this position, it would be the second time in the history of the State that a University man has been chosen to fill this important position, and curiously enough, the other graduate who filled the position, John H. Lewis, '78, was also appointed by a democratic governor.

PERSONALS

H. E. McKibben, Med. '04, has located at Hector Minn.

P. H. Irish, Med. '00, is building a hospital at Ackley, Minn.

R. E. Lees, Med. '01, has removed from White, N. D. and is located at Pipestone, Minn.

Olaf Halvorson, '02, has removed from Reef to Clifton, Arizona and is principal of the high school at that place.

Roy V. Wright, Eng. '98, is associate editor of the American and Railroad Journal with business headquarters at 140 Nassau Street, New York City.

Miss Mary Cressy, '03, is teaching Latin in one of the high schools at Sioux Falls, S. D. Her home address is 610 South Duluth Ave., Sioux Falls.

Albert Graber, '88, has recently received an appointment from the United States Government as engineer, and is stationed at Fort Lincoln, Bismarck, N. D., as civil engineer and superintendent in the quartermaster's department.

James H. Gill, Eng. '92, who is professor of mechanical engineering at the James Milliken University, at Decatur, Ill., writes that a fine boy arrived at his home on November 14th. He says the boy can almost give the old Minnesota Yell, and is going to make a good engineer.

Dewey S. Squyer, Min. '04, is located at 625 N. Main Street, Butte, Mont. He writes that he sees "Johannie" Flynn occasionally and also Sam Cohen, Min. '03. Both are located at Butte. Mr. Flynn is associated with the geology department of the Amalgamated Copper Company of that city.

Joan T. Peterson, '95, is now Mrs. Bjorn B. Gislason. Mr. and Mrs. Gislason are living at Minneota, Minn. Mr. Gislason was elected county attorney of Lyon county this fall. He was pitted against Thomas E. Davis, who desired to retain that office. The competition was exceedingly lively and Mr. Gislason, although a democrat, was elected over Mr. Davis, the republican nominee in a county nominally republican. Mr. Gislason is now in the same class as Governor-elect John A. Johnson.

Mrs. Gislason writes that Professor Sanford lectured in Minneota a short time ago and was their guest while in town.

In a recent copy of the Madison, (Wis.) Democrat there is a description given of the Bacteriological Laboratory of the Wisconsin University. Wm. D. Frost, '93, is in charge of this department and occupies a suite of nine rooms in this new laboratory. The laboratory is strictly up to date in every respect, and Professor Frost has a great opportunity to develop his department. We congratulate Professor Frost on his new building and facilities which he has for doing his work under the best conditions possible. He has made a decided reputation for himself in the line of bacteriology and he deserves his good fortune.

We have received a letter from Geo. R. Horton, '97, enclosing a clipping from a recent issue of the Chicago American which contains a statement concerning the comparative merits of Michigan's and Minnesota's claims for the western championship. The article was written by a Northwestern man, and is probably as unprejudiced a statement of the case as is likely to appear. In this article it is stated that at that time, prior to the game with Northwestern, Minnesota's claim for championship was rather better than the claim of Michigan. It is certain that the Northwestern game has not injured Minnesota's standing in this respect in any way.

R. J. Phelan, Med. '03, is located at Chaska, Minn.

B. S. Nickerson, '99, has located at Glencoe, Minn.

Adolph E. Voges, Med. '04, is located at Good Thunder, Minn.

W. H. Hanscom, Med. '89, died July 16th, 1904, in this city.

C. F. Brigham, Med. '02, is doing graduate work in Chicago.

Fred Schacht, Med. '02, has located at Seattle, for the practice of his profession.

Dr. A. T. Mann, '88, returned last August from a four month's trip in Europe.

L. W. Meckstroth, Dent. '91, Med. '93, has spent the summer in the east in special study.

Josephine L. Lindstrom, Med. '03, has resumed the practice of her profession at Oberon, N. D.

George D. Head, '92, Med. '95, is secretary of the Medical Faculty at the University of Minnesota.

C. E. Gray, Med. '04, is located at Kellogg, Minn. Dr. Gray took a bride with him to his new field.

A. E. Ahlstrom, Med. '00, who was practicing medicine at Cokato, Minn., died July 3rd of heart disease.

R. H. Beek, Med. '94, and A. A. Westeen, Med. '92, are officers of the Grand Forks, N. D. Medical Society.

A. E. Benjamin, Med. '92, is president of the Alumni association of the College of Medicine and Surgery.

A. M. Webster, Med. '04, is practicing medicine at Alma, Wis., having purchased the practice of Dr. Ehlmann.

H. V. Magnusson, Med. '03, has removed from Chisago City and is practicing his profession at Chnton, Minn.

W. W. Johnston, Med. '02, was married last July to Miss Laura Jones of Geneva, Minn., where Dr. Jones is practicing his profession.

Anders E. Johnson, Med. '03, who is practicing medicine at Madison, Minn., was married last June to Miss Dina Rindal of Fruitport, Mich.

L. Q. Greeley, Med. '96, who is practicing medicine at Duluth, was married during the month of July. The report does not give the name of the bride.

F. E. Burch, Med. '97, who has been practicing medicine at Glencoe, is spending the winter in Europe in special study. Most of his time will be spent in Edinburg.

S. H. Olson, Med. '01, has been appointed marine hospital surgeon for the port of Duluth. He will have charge of the examination of all immigrants landing at that port.

John J. Catlin, Med. '03, who has spent a year in the Northern Pacific Hospital at Missoula, Mont., has returned to Delano, Minn., for the practice of his profession.

E. A. Eberlin, Med. '01, who is practicing his profession at Glenwood, Minn., spent some time in the hospital at Starbuck on account of blood poison resulting from an operation.

C. F. Ewing, Med. '01, of Anoka, Minn., has sold his practice to George K. Hagaman, Med., '03. Dr. Ewing spent some time in the east doing graduate work. He has located at Wheaton, Minn.

The officers of the Minneapolis Medical Club are largely University men. Wm. M. Chowning, Med. '01, is president, W. H. Aurand, '01, is secretary, and Drs. Litzenberg and Erb are on the committee on censors.

John E. Manley, Law '99, was married recently to Miss Rose Henriot of Tacoma, Wash. Dr. J. M. McNerthney, Med. '02, was best man. Mr. and Mrs. Manley left immediately after the wedding for Portland, Oregon, for a short wedding trip. Mr. Manley is secretary and treasurer of the Lucas Lumber Co. of Tacoma.

F. O. Ilstrup, Med. '94, has removed from Brahan to Graston.

John C. Koch, Med. '02, is practicing his profession at Tenstrike.

Dr. Lars P. Solsness, '95, has removed from Carver, to Madison, Minn.

Dr. M. Boeckmann, Med. '03, is practicing medicine at Thief River Falls.

G. E. Thomas, Med. '04, has located at Moose Lake, Minn., for the practice of medicine.

W. M. Brown, Med. '02, has located at Belgrade, Minn., for the practice of his profession.

J. A. Matson, Med. '04, has located at Carver, Minn., for the practice of his profession.

The Adams Hospital of Nashua has reopened and is in charge of J. L. Shellman, Med. '03.

H. W. Olds, Med. '03, is assistant of Dr. Knauff, Med. '95, in the hospital at Two Harbors, Minn.

Homer T. Peirson, '91, of Austin, Minn., is treasurer of the Mower County Medical Society.

Hans Johnson, Med. '04, has located in a new town about twenty-five miles north of Thief River Falls.

J. W. Priesenger, Med. '04, has opened an office for the practice of his profession at Renville, Minn.

Adolph Stierle, jr., Med. '01, who has been an assistant in the Two Harbor's Hospital has located at Floodwood.

E. S. Muir, Med. '04, who is practicing medicine at Winona is president of the Winona County Medical Society.

P. H. Bennion, Med. '02, has removed from Windom, Minnesota, to Merriam Park, where he is practicing medicine.

C. W. Meckstroth, Med. '95, of Brandon, Minn., is vice-president of the Park Regions District Medical Society.

W. A. Brand, '04, has had charge of the practice of Dr. George R. Reese, of Redwood Falls, during the summer.

O. W. Kankel, Med. '00, who has been connected with the Tower hospital, for the past two years has located at Fertile, Minn.

Frank W. Rulien, Med. '97, who has been practicing at Currie, Minn., recently disposed of his practice to Dr. C. C. Walker.

P. J. Wyrens, Med. '00, who is practicing medicine at Ivanhoe, Minn., was married to Miss Fannie Hackl of New Ulm last July.

Axel C. Baker, '97, who is practicing medicine at Fergus Falls, Minn., was married to Miss Kathryn Hodgson, of Elbow Lake, last August.

M. A. Stewart, Med. '02, who is practicing medicine at Omemee, N. D., was married last July to Miss Grace Holmes of Bay Center, N. D.

Charlotte P. Campbell, Med. '00, who has been practicing medicine at Gardner, N. D., was married to Mr. W. J. Pratt of the same place last July.

Charles A. Dawson, Med. '03, who is practicing medicine at Glyndon, Minn., was married last September to Miss Bernice I. Potter of the same place.

Stella L. Wilkinson, Med. '03, is practicing medicine at Duluth, with offices at 318 Central Avenue. She spent one year as interne in a San Francisco Hospital.

Emil S. Giest, Med. '00, has been studying orthopedic surgery in Europe, during the past three years. He has returned to St. Paul for the practice of his profession.

Thomas L. Devereaux, '97, who died several weeks ago, was one of three out of sixty-six who passed the government examination for the appointment of surgeon in the Philippines.

Frederick A. Kiehle, '94, Med. '01, who is practicing medicine at West Jordan, Utah, was married early in the summer to Miss Rose E. Stevens of St. Louis, Mo. Dr. and Mrs. Kiehle are at home to friends at West Jordan.

Merton Field, Med. '02, has located at Minnesota Lake.

Arthur Movius, Med. '04, is house physician at the Asbury hospital of this city.

Wm. F. Baillie, Med. '03, has taken the practice of Dr. Critchfield, of Hunter, N. D.

E. B. Daugherty, Med. '04, has been appointed a member of the staff of the Fabiola hospital of Eveleth, Minn.

Henry R. Richard, Med. '00, of Little Falls, Minn., has moved to Bolster, Wash., having received an appointment as physician and surgeon for a mining company at that place.

Miss Helen Adams, '04, and Charles F. Clough, Pharm. '02, were married October 5th, 1904. Mr. and Mrs. Clough are at home to friends at 263 Cliff St., St. Paul, Minn.

Frank W. O'Neill, '02, who is studying medicine in Chicago, writes that he saw the game with Northwestern and that his enthusiasm reached the pitch that it used to in "the good old days at the U."

F. E. Larson, Med. '02, has settled down at Pasadena, California, for the winter. His friends can address him care of general delivery. Dr. Larson says that he frequently meets Minnesota men out in that part of the country.

Charles E. Houston, '01, whose heroic and self sacrificing work in the epidemic of diphtheria last winter at Grand Marais, almost cost him his life has been in Minneapolis for some time for the benefit of his health. Dr. Houston has honored the profession of medicine and his alma mater by his heroic self sacrificing work at the time of the epidemic.

Miss Julia C. McDonough, '02, who has charge of the normal work in the Tracy, Minn., high school, visited the University last Wednesday on her way to the St. Louis Exposition. Miss Vesta Cornish, who is teaching in the Normal School at River Falls, Wis., visited the University last week and in company with Miss McDonough took in the St. Louis Exposition.

THE ROOTER KING.

To Johnny Campbell belongs a large share of the credit for our victory.

Under the inspiring leadership of this veteran yell captain the languid cheering of the rooting section became a veritable storm of Ski-U-Mahs.

Even the Chicagoans and down town people caught much of his enthusiasm.

MAROON AS HOSTS.

The Courtesy and hospitality of the men of Chicago University will long be remembered by the Minnesotans who followed their team to Marshall Field.

The hospitality of the Maroons left nothing to wish for, save the privilege of soon acting as their hosts and attempting to repay at least a part of their kindness.

EXCURSIONISTS ENTERTAINED.

Many parties and entertainments were given in honor of the Minnesota excursionists at Evanston and Chicago during their stay there. Every fraternity and sorority on the campus had from four to fourteen members on the excursion and they spent their spare time visiting at their chapters at Northwestern and Chicago.

The entire Minnesota delegation was royally entertained and report a very enjoyable time.

DAME FIREFLY

The practice for the operetta, "Dame Firefly," is progressing rapidly under the direction of Miss Cundiff. The children are enthusiastic and unusually quick in learning their parts. The older members of the cast are showing much interest in the work of rehearsal and are faithfully helping Miss Cundiff by their diligent practice.

A CONSOLIDATION

It has been announced that an agreement has been made whereby Harvard University and the Massachusetts Institute of Technology are to be united. Under this arrangement neither institute would sacrifice independence. Separate faculties and administrations would prevail. The practical difference would be that all industrial sciences would fall to Technology, while liberal arts and pure sciences would still be at Harvard.

INTEND TO SUE

The Board of Athletic Control has taken official notice of the assault on half-back Davies at the Illinois Central depot on Sunday evening, last, and it has been practically decided to bring suit against the company.

The Board feels that the insult offered to a member of the team and to the University of Minnesota is too great a one to be ignored, offered, as it was, without provocation and under circumstances which made the indignity doubly great, it is certain that a strong case can be made out against the Illinois Central company.

The matter will be pushed at once.

WORKING ON 'XMAS "MAG."

Plans are already being made for the Xmas number of the Magazine, which will be issued sometime before the Xmas holidays. The coming number will be distinctly a Xmas number and several artistic sketches portraying Yuletide doings and Xmas festivals in foreign countries have been secured.

1904 FOOTBALL SQUAD

HEN PARTY

The Sunlight Dance given Saturday afternoon at the Armory was one of the most delightful parties ever given by the Woman's League. The affair was a formal dance, the first ever given at the University from which men were barred.

The programs were printed in maroon on old-gold art paper and tied with maroon pencils. The ices were most delicious.

Returns of the game were given at frequent intervals during the afternoon and aroused much excitement.

Twelve numbers and five extras were danced. Just after the "Home Sweet Home," the final score of the game was announced and the girls gathered in the middle of the floor to give three rousing cheers for the 'Varsity team.

BUILDING PLANS

Dean Downey had a final conference Monday afternoon with the architect who has submitted the designs for the new main and it has practically been settled that the new main will be located back of the Physics building on University avenue and will be a three story building with a recommendation from the regents that it be constructed of pressed brick with granite trimmings.

The building will have four entrances, the main ones being on University avenue and facing the campus.

Fire Escape.

The building will be highly modern and will be amply provided with fire escapes and other ordinary facilities sadly lacking in the old building. In size it will be some three hundred feet long and will vary from fifty to 100 feet in width.

The matter is now settled as far as the board of regents is concerned and will be brought up for final settlement before the Board of Control on Dec. 7th at their next meeting.

INTER-SOCIETY DEBATES.

The Debating Board met last night and made the following arrangements for inter-society debates:

Forum-Minerva, Feb. 5. Forums to submit Dec. 9; Minervas to accept Dec. 16.

Castalian-Law Lit., March 5. Law Lit's to submit Dec. 9; Castallians to accept, Dec. 16.

Shakopean-victor of Forum-Minerva. Submission of question and by whom not known till after Forum-Minerva contest.

FAULTY FOOTBALL.

Minnesota 11—Iowa 0.

While few Minnesotans looked for a large score, in view of the disorganized state of the team, the announcement of the above score came as a decided frost. When it was known that Iowa had succeeded in preventing Minnesota from scoring during the first half, in spite of the fact that Minnesota once had the ball within one yard of Iowa's goal, Minnesota stock took a decided tumble. The playing of the first half seems to have been in Minnesota's favor and yet it was not championship form. It was a consolation to Minnesota enthusiasts that Minnesota came through the game without a score tallied against her, and satisfaction in this fact goes far toward removing the feeling of disappointment over the size of the score. Last week Illinois piled up a score of 29 points against Iowa, and in view of this fact it was thought that Minnesota, even with its demoralized team, would make a better showing than it did.

The team as it lined up against Iowa, last Thursday, lacked several familiar faces. Captain Strathern was out, and Marshall and Brush were on the sidelines. Cutting was ruled out for rough work and his place was taken by Luce. All things considered, Minnesota was fortunate in coming out ahead when time was called. Few will regret that the season of 1904 is over. The closing games and the incidents surrounding them have shown that there is need of a change in football and that the spirit of rivalry between colleges is not on the high plane of friendly competition which should give the game the zest of true amateur sport, but that it has degenerated into a spirit of anything to win. It is hardly too strong a putting of the case to say that football has ceased to be the sport of amateurs and has become professional. In a later issue we expect to point out a few of the more undesirable features of the sport as it is conducted today and to sound a friendly note of warning.

THE GAME.

With repeated chances to score in the first half, Minnesota failed time and again to make her offense effective and only in the second half when desperate at the thought of a tie with a weaker eleven, did the Gopher players show anything like true form, finally succeeding in crossing the Iowa goal twice by the stiffest kind of line bucking play.

Twice in the second period of play the ball was worked up the field by slow gains. Smith making the first touchdown from Iowa's one yard line, on a straight buck, while Davies scored the second by a brilliant run of twenty-five yards, when but a minute of time was left.

Iowa, expecting to be run over by the Minnesota eleven, came to the field determined to make desperate resistance.

That they were prepared for the Minnesota offense was apparent from the start, they seemed to understand all of Minnesota's formations and her shifts.

Before a Gopher play started, the Iowa linemen and backfield players had shifted to meet it, and the hardest of linebacks by the heaviest Minnesota men produced but a few yards at a time, and when Minnesota had worked the ball to a point within the Iowa 5 yard line the defense gave magnificent exhibition of foot ball by holding the opposing offense for downs.

Without a score in the first half, Minnesota kept battering at the Iowa tackles with Smith, Ittner, Case, Kremen, Current and Davies carrying the ball. Gains continued to come slowly but the Minnesota offense was sure and the awful rushes of Smith especially could not be stopped without some approach toward the Iowa goal.

The Hawkeye players grew weaker with each play but they continued to fight gamely with the hopes of another half without a touchdown.

After the first touchdown, Harris having failed at goal and the score standing 5 to 0, the Iowa men played desperately, hoping for a lucky run and a touchdown, with a goal that might win the game. But while Minnesota offense did not improve greatly, her defense continued strong at all times and at no time in either half could the Iowa players force the ball to within striking distance of the Minnesota goal.

Only in the last few seconds of play did the Iowa offense show at all to advantage and this was when Minnesota had grown careless at the thought of a game that was nearly ended. After Minnesota made her second touchdown, Hunter kicked off to the Iowa 5 yard line and the ball was returned to Iowa's 30 yard line by Jordan before a Gopher player downed him. Then with an offense that was phenomenally speedy for this period of the game, Jordan broke through the Minnesota line for a clear field run of twenty yards with no one but Harris between himself and the Minnesota goal. The Minnesota quarter downed Jordan in about the middle of the field and Iowa's only chance for a score was unsuccessful.

The day was an ideal one for football. A clear sky and cool, bracing atmosphere made it possible for both teams to exert themselves to the limits of their physical strength, while the spectators were enabled to enjoy the game without discomfort. The field was in good condition and without a touch of frost in the ground.

Iowa had the great part of the crowd of 5,000 enthusiasts, for the Hawkeye institution is but thirty miles from Cedar Rapids. The Minnesota band and rooters numbering about 500 in all, were intensely loyal in the heart of an enemy's country and rooted continually.

The Hawkeye rooters were busy, too, for their team was making a surprising stand against the champions of the west and when the first half ended without a score, their joy could not be contained. With their band at their head, they zig-zagged around the gridiron between the halves and yelled themselves hoarse while they flaunted the old gold of Iowa defiantly in front of the Minnesota sections in the stand.

When the game was over, with a decisive defeat staring them in the face, these same rooters surrounded their routed gridiron warriors and cheered them as heartily as if they had won the game and the championship laurels which belong to the Minnesota eleven.

They escorted them off the field and rushed down town in a body, parading through the streets with their band, and singing their Iowa songs in token of what they considered their greatest football achievement of the year.

Three times during the first half Minnesota worked the ball down the field only to be stopped at the last ditch. Once she was held for downs with the Iowa goal but twenty yards away and Harris tried at a drop kick which failed. Again she took the ball to within fifteen yards of the opposing line when a fumble gave it to Iowa. The third time the Gopher rushes landed the ball on the Iowa five-yard line then on the one-yard line, a third down failed to gain and Iowa immediately punted out of danger.

All through this half the defense was magnificent while the Minnesota offense did not show anything like the form which it is known to possess.

Team work was conspicuous by its absence and the best work of the day was done by individuals, as individuals rather than as members of a team. Smith was the most effectual ground gainer in both the first and second halves and seemed to be the only man behind whom the Gophers could rally for a hard run into the line. Hurdles and cross bucks were the big guard's stock in trade and which were always good for a gain.

The First Touchdown.

Minnesota finally secured the ball on her own fifty-yard line. Hunky Davies shot around one end while Kremer went into the opposite tackle. Smith was called upon time and time again. Current made a few yards thru the center and Iowa was steadily forced to her thirty-yard line.

Dan Smith, Kremer and Davies pounded the Iowa line for short, but steady gains. Past the Iowa fifteen yard line the Gophers went for ever decreasing gains. Minnesota finally had a first down with the Hawkeye goal but four yards away.

Davies made it second down with one to gain, and then Dan Smith scored the first touchdown by a beautiful buck straight thru the center of the Iowa line.

The Second Touchdown.

Minnesota secured the ball on her own forty yard line. The time keepers had given the warning of "Five minutes left to play" some time before, and the Minnesota players knew that they had less than three minutes in which to score.

Harris first sent Davies on an attempt at left end which netted ten yards. Ittner shot through right tackle for ten more and the Minnesota men lined up quickly as they saw a chance for a second touchdown. Hard line bucking took the ball to Iowa's twenty-five yard line before the Iowa men could make their stand and here Harris executed his best move of the day resulting in a play that gave the Hawkeye rooters a touch of Minnesota true football form.

Lining up rapidly after the preceding play Harris gave Davies the ball for a run around left end. A perfect wall of interference formed instantly with Current, Kremer and Burgan in the play and the opposing Iowa men were bowled over as they tried to stop the speedy half back.

In an instant Davies had a clear field with only Kent defending the goal and the Gopher runner dodged this man cleverly, planting the ball directly behind the goal posts after a run of twenty-five yards. Harris kicked goal and the final score remained at 11 to 0.

Two Bright Stars

Smith and Davies were the Minnesota stars although to Harris is due great credit for the way in which he struggled to put life into Minnesota's offense. Without a bit of dash of former games, the little quarter knew that he must rely on linebacks and he kept at the line hammering process until he had finally pounded out a victory.

Minnesota's defense was magnificent both forwards and the second line men doing the same kind of work as evinced in the Wisconsin and Northwestern games.

COMPARATIVE SCORES

Last Thursdays scores show how absolutely unreliable are comparative scores. On the basis of a comparison of the scores made in the games with Michigan, Chicago should have shut Wisconsin out entirely and have won by a score of at least two touchdowns. As it was the score stood Chicago 18, Wisconsin 11.

Minnesota defeated Iowa by a score of 11 to 0 while Illinois defeated the same team by a score of 29 to 0. Yet Illinois was defeated by Northwestern and Northwestern was defeated by Minnesota. Likewise Illinois was defeated by Nebraska and Nebraska was defeated by Minnesota.

Comparative scores mean little and yet, owing to Michigan's "cold feet," this is the only means left of comparing the merits of the two teams.

STATEMENTS OF COACHES:

"I attribute the low score to a slump by the Minnesota team. With some of our best ground gainers out of the contest the team fell far amiss from showing its true form. White of Iowa played a hard, fast game."

DR. H. L. WILLIAMS,
Coach Minnesota Team.

"The game demonstrated that Iowa can play football if her men will fight with the right spirit. The boys played a grand game and it is great credit to them to have held Minnesota to such a low score."

—CHALMERS, Coach Iowa Team.

AN APPRECIATION

The Minnesota School of Agriculture has many interested and appreciative visitors, but none has gone farther in his appreciation and expression of it than Professor Sabsovich, superintendent of the Baron de Hirsch Agricultural and Industrial school of New Jersey. Professor Sabsovich visited the school for two days and gave a brief talk at chapel in which he gave his estimate of the school as he saw it.

The conclusion reached by Professor Sabsovich is that the Minnesota institution is unequalled in the world in its adaptation to the needs of an agricultural community and in the way it is realizing its aim of teaching practical agriculture.

He said:

"Europe, with its forty years of effort to raise the standard of agricultural conditions, has nowhere such results to show as have been achieved in Minnesota thru the influence of this school in seventeen years. The Minnesota farmer's lot should be the happiest on earth. If any one wants proof that the farmer's occupation is the ideal one, let him come to Minnesota and visit its agricultural school, as we have done."

The view of Professor Sabsovich is that of an expert, as he has had the most thoro training in the Polytechnical schools of Europe and has studied agricultural conditions in his native country, Russia, and other European countries. He has spent thirteen years in this country as a student and teacher of agriculture. He has been for several years one of the leaders in the movement to prepare the Russian Jewish immigrants for agricultural life as a remedy for the evils of overcrowding the cities by such colonies.

The work of his school is largely experimental and its results have not been fully satisfactory. A reorganization has been planned, and in order to get all the help possible from the experience of others, Professor Sabsovich has been making a special study of secondary schools of agriculture.

The conclusion reached by Professor Sabsovich is that the Minnesota institution is unequalled in the world in its adaptation to the needs of an agricultural community and in the way it is realizing its aim of teaching practical agriculture.

SENIORS TRAVEL.

The Senior Electrics took a jaunt yesterday afternoon to the car barns of the street railway company at thirty-first street, the object being a lesson on the electrical transportation situation.

A very fine series of outside trips have been planned for this year's class and the advantage of a great many practical lessons are being enjoyed. The best water power stations of the state are included in the route.

NUGET FOR PARSONS.

Professor Parsons has recently received some beautiful specimens of crystalized silver, platinum, placer iridosmine and gold nuggets.

These specimens are from the new Alaskan fields. They were presented to Prof. Parsons by F. J. Kraemer, Mines '08.
