COMMENCEMENT WEEK PROGRAM.

The class play will probably come off Friday, June 5th.

Saturday, June 6th, president's reception to seniors.

Sunday, June 7th, baccalaureate sermon by the Rev. H. P. Dewey of the Plymouth Congregational church of this city.

Monday, June 8th, will be class day with class exercises.

Tuesday, June 9th, Phi Beta Kappa address by Dean E. A. Birge, of Wisconsin. Senior Promenade the same evening.

Wednesday, June 10th, Alumni day. Annual picnic at 12 m. and class reunions in the afternoon and evening.

The regents will meet either Tuesday or Wednesday, possibly both days.

Thursday, June 11th, commencement, with address by F. L. Seeley, editor of the Atlanta Georgian.

THE LIFE MEMBERSHIP CAMPAIGN.

The life membership campaign is progressing. The alumni of Seattle have gone to work with characteristic vigor and under the direction of Lewis Schwager, president and C. J. Zintheo, secretary, are likely to secure results that shall mean something. Henry Johnson, president of the New York association, is to appoint a committee who will take personal charge of the matter with the members of the New York association.

The cards which were sent to all of the subscribers to the Weekly who are not life members, are beginning to come back and the number of new life memberships received from this source is already 50. There ought to be at least 500 come in from this source. We have faith to believe that they will come. The outlook is encouraging.

PRESIDENT NORTHROP BACK.

President Northrop was given an enthusiastic reception by the student body Tuesday morning at chapel time. After an absence of several weeks he returns in greatly improved health from an extended trip in the south.

The three weeks spent at Sea Breeze, Florida, failed to help the throat trouble which was the cause of his southern trip, but on starting back for the north, it left him, and, it is hoped, will not return.

The president spent four days in St. Augustine and two days in and about Atlanta College and Atlanta, Georgia.

During a two-day stay in Nashville, he delivered an address at Vanderbilt University and visited "The Hermitage," Andrew Jackson's old home.

In a short talk, after commenting sympathetically upon the death of Regent Daniel R. Noyes, President Northrop spoke briefly of his trip and announced that he had secured F. L. Seeley, editor of the "Atlanta Georgian," to deliver the commencement address. Rev. H. P. Dewey of the Plymouth Congregational church will give the baccalaureate sermon.

The president mentioned the revival of smoking on the campus and deprecated in pronounced terms the spirit which prompts the infringement of an established Minnesota tradition.

THE Y. M. C. A. BANQUET.

Two hundred and thirty men sat at the tables in Dayton's tea rooms, Friday evening, April 10th, on the occasion of the annual Y. M. C. A. banquet. The spirit of the evening was all that could be asked. A jolly yet earnest crowd listened to the speakers, who spoke right from the heart in a way to make their words tell. Dr. Bushnell, the first speaker struck a key-note of high order and the others followed his lead. Governor Van Sant, who presided as toast master, furnished the fun to sandwich in between the more serious efforts of the other speakers. David P. Jones, '83, pointed out some of the great opportunities of college men for service to the world. Sears Thompson, the newly elected president of the association, talked earnestly of the work before the association; John Sinclair, the secretary, made a telling speech that called for advance all along the line for the future work of the association. Professor Hutchinson, fairly outdid himself, in telling of the relation of the faculty to the work of the Y. M. C. A. and urged the students to make the most of their opportunity to go to the members of the faculty for advice and help when they felt the need of counsel. As Governor Van Sant remarked at the close of Professor Hutchinson's speech, "A man that can make such a speech as that don't need to tell funny stories."

REGENT NOYES DEAD.

Daniel R. Noyes, regent of the University, died at his home in St. Paul, last Monday morning at 1:30 o'clock, after a brief illness. He had been ill from the previous Thursday, and it was not thought his condition was particularly alarming until near the end. The immediate cause of death was heart failure following a sinking spell.

Mr. Noyes was appointed regent December 12th, 1904, in place of Greenleaf Clark, deceased. His term would have expired March, 1910. He was born November 10, 1836, at Lyme, Conn. He served as volunteer soldier during the civil war and settled at St. Paul after the war, founding the present business house of Noyes Brothers & Cutler in 1869. He was connected with the active management of the wholesale drug business conducted by this house to the day of his death. He was very active in the life of the community in which he lived, and was a member of numerous commercial and public bodies. For thirty-two years he was a trustee of Carleton College, Northfield, Minn. He was vice-moderator of the Presbyterian assembly of 1902, and a member of the committee for the revision of the creed. He was vice-president of the American Sunday School Union; member of the Society of colonial wars; Sons of the American Revolution; American social science association; American historical association; the National geographical society.

As a regent of the University he served on its most important committee, the executive, and was faithful in his attendance upon the meetings of the committee and board and in the discharge of all duties involved in his membership on the board.

DEATH OF JOHN T. BARNUM.

John T. Barnum, a member of the Y. M. C. A. advisory board and father of Cyrus Barnum, of the class of 1904, died last Saturday morning in this city, after a few days' illness, from pneumonia. Mr. Barnum will be sorely missed by many. He was a man of large sympathies, ever ready to lend a hand to anyone needing anything he had it in his power to give. Those associated with him on the Y. M. C. A. board will feel his death as a personal loss.

The members of the Board of Directors of the University of Minnesota Young Men's Christian Association wish to express the deep sense of loss which they feel in the sudden and unexpected departure of Mr. John T. Barnum, for five years past a most valued member of our Board.

To the general public we wish to express our appreciation of him as a Christian gentleman and fellow-worker; and to the members of the sorrowing family we extend our sincerest sympathies.

COMMITTEE.

NOTE—The following paper by the secretary of the General Alumni Association was read before the Faculty Dining Club at its meeting held April 4th. It is printed in the Weekly because several members of the faculty have expressed a desire to have it placed before all of the members of the faculty.

SOME URGENT UNIVERSITY NEEDS.

There are many things the University needs; I shall mention but three which seem to me vital and for which we need wait no longer.

First in this list I place the need of a University ideal to control the future expansion and growth of the University so that all departments and colleges shall be developed along definite and well-considered lines, that a harmonious whole may be produced. Such an ideal or plan of development would encourage a University spirit and would bring all colleges and all departments in every college, into one united endeavor for the good of all. Every step in the development and expansion of the University should be in accordance with comprehensive plans that take into consideration the fact that we are not building for a day but for all time, and should never be the result of advance merely along the line of least resistance.

It is perfectly natural that such an ideal should not have been greatly emphasized in the past. The University authorities have had to face problems to tax their utmost powers to merely provide, on a hand-to-mouth basis, for the ever-increasing flood of students who have clamored for admission. There has been little opportunity to consider whether other provision might not have been made in the place of the make-shift that has sometimes been used; provision has had to be made for hundreds of students more than could properly be cared for. It has been necessary to trim with ruthless hand, and if, as we look back, we can see that it has always been done where it would do the least harm, we must remember that perspective gives us advantages not possessed by those who had to make the decision under stress of adverse conditions.

However, conditions are changing. There is abundant evidence that the people of the state are going to pursue more liberal policies toward the University than in the past. Hereafter it is going to be possible to plan for a great and noble future with some degree of assurance that such plans will some day be something more than mere lines on paper.

Heir to millions in its own right and backed by one of the richest states of the Union, it will be largely the fault of those who have the planning of the future of the University, if its future is not as glorious as it should be. If broad and statesmanlike plans are made and the people of the state taken into confidence, means will be provided for realizing those plans, even while the University is waiting to come into its inheritance. We may, if we will, have a great University worthy of the great state whose name she bears.

The second thing of which I wish to speak lies very close to the first, and with the first moving along lines of highest efficiency, the second will naturally mend itself. While the various members of the various college faculties are naturally responsible first for their own departments and their own colleges, all are alike responsible for the welfare of the University. It should ever be kept in mind that anything that adds to the glory of the University and makes it more useful to the state, adds to the glory of every department of the University.

It is right that every department should fight, if need be, for its own best good, provided that good is not purchased at the expense of justice to others. Any good purchased at such price is not worth having and will not, in the end bring lasting advance to the department that pays the price. Every department is part of a great whole and no department can fall behind without affecting every other department unfavorably. Pride in any department should be, at least partly, because it is a worthy part of a noble whole.

Perfection in one respect will never make up for deformity elsewhere in the same body. Strong arms will never make up for feeble legs, nor keenness of vision for the lack of power to hear. To remedy this second great need there is need of a greater spirit of coöperation among the various colleges and departments of the University. Let it be truly said of us that we stand together as one man and it may be truly said of us that we have a University that stands for the highest ideals and one that is serving well its day and generation.

The last of the three is one that is entirely within the control of the individual members of the faculty. The problem is a great one and the fact that our classes are generally too large has made it greater, but it is one-whose solution is vital to the whole future of the men and women who pass through the doors of the University, and who are to control, in large measure, the future of Minnesota. I refer to the fact that there are an ever-increasing number of students passing through the University without coming into personal touch with a single instructor, and many more drop out before they are fairly within its doors, because they do not find it possible to come into such personal con-fact with their instructors, as they enjoyed in their high school days.

I have always felt, and this feeling has been strengthened with years, that no sacrifice is too great to be made that will enable the instructor to get a personal hold of every man and woman in his classes. Such contact with the instructor is worth more to the student than anything he will get from textbook, lecture or laboratory. The man is worth more than the subject he teaches. Such work takes time but it is time that is well spent, for the man himself, as well as for his students.

This is a real need of the University today. It impresses others even as it has me. It is a hard problem, but the harder the problem the greater the satisfaction in its solution.

I have spoken thus frankly of a few great needs of the University. I have told you of things that have impressed me. With no desire or intention of finding fault, with no thought of their application to any individual, I have set forth my honest convictions with a sole view to the good of the University.

NATIONAL FEDERATION OF UNIVERSITY CATHOLIC ASSOCIATIONS.

Representatives of all the various college Catholic associations of the United States, met last week at Purdue University, Lafayette, Ind., for the purpose of forming a national federation of such organizations. Delegates from fifteen universities were present and M. J. Doherty, Minnesota's representative, was chosen a member of the national executive council. The name of the new organization is The Catholic Students' Organization of America.

DINEHART'S ADDRESS IN DEMAND.

A week ago last Sunday evening, State treasurer C. C. Dinehart, '99, made an address before the Men's Club of the First Congregational church in this city, upon The citizen and the nation. There has been such a demand for copies of this address that the club women of Minnesota have taken steps to have a large number printed for general distribution among the school children of the state.

FOUR NOTED SPEAKERS.

A week ago today, Dean Russell of the Teachers' College of Columbia University, gave an address at the University upon "Education, east and west." The address delighted those who heard it and the opportunity to see and hear a man who is doing so much for education was much appreciated.

Last Tuesday night, in chapel, Dr. H. A. Kruger, who is visiting the United States in the capacity of exchange professor, and who is connected with the department of German literature in the Royal Technological School of Hanover, spoke upon "Goethe and Romanticism." The lecture was in German. Dr. Kruger has published a number of novels and critical studies. He is making a collection of photographs for lantern slides and expects to prepare an illustrated lecture for German audiences upon educational institutions in America.

Last Thursday evening John G. Wood, C. E., of London, England, talked to the engineering students on the advantages of the American over the English student of engineering. Mr. Wood is a graduate of Cambridge and King's College and has a long and varied experience as an engineer in many lands.

Last Friday afternoon Dr. William Morgan of Hartford, Conn., Chief Medical Examiner of the Phoenix Mutual Life Insurance Co., spoke upon "Medical selection."

Dr. Morgan is conceded by all insurance men to be the highest authority on the question discussed and is an excellent speaker as well.

SCIENTIFIC SUNDAY LECTURES.

The Olivet Baptist church is enjoying a series of four lectures upon scientific topics, given by professors in the University. A week ago last Sunday, Professor Anthony Zeleny lectured upon Matter and our relation to it; last Sunday Dr. Sardeson talked upon The extinct life of the earth, the succession of life forms as represented by fossils, and the manner in which the same are studied and interpreted; next Sunday Dr. Sigerfoos will talk upon Earliest life and activities; and the following Sunday Professor Nachtrieb will talk upon The mechanism and activities of life forms and activities; and the following Sunday Professor Nachtrieb will talk upon The mechanism and activities of higher animals.

MINNESOTA FORTUNATE.

Announcement was made last week that Captain Sigerfoos has been detailed for another year's service at the University. Minnesota has been exceedingly fortunate in the men who have been detailed for military duty at the University, and it is safe to say that none have held higher place in the regard of the student body than Captain Sigerfoos. The cadets under his leadership have reached a high degree of efficiency and the spirit which permeates the men is most admirable.

COMPANY G WINS COLORS.

Hal Deering's company won the colors at the competitive drill held at the University a week ago last Saturday. The inspection was under the direction of Lieutenant Macey, of St. Thomas, and he gave company G 115 points to 111 for D and 103 for I.

CONSTITUTION TO BE CONSIDERED.

The draft of the constitution of the Minnesota Union is finished. The status of the Y. M. C. A. and all the student organizations has at last been settled.

Wednesday, the 22d, a meeting of representatives will be called. Each member present will be given a completed copy of the constitution and the convention will take up and pass upon each clause.

As soon as the work of organization is complete, a big booster committee, made up of the best fitted men in college, will be selected to start the "Down town" campaign.

FRYE—RHODES' SCHOLAR.

Lucius Arnold Frye, '07, was elected to the Rhodes Scholarship, at Oxford University at the meeting held in President Northrop's office last week. The electing committee was composed of the presidents of Minnesota, Hamline, Macalaster, Carleton and Gustavus Adolphus.

Mr. Frye is receiving the congratulations of his many friends. He is at present taking graduate work in political economy in which department he is an assistant. He was valedictorian of his class at St. Paul Central and has taken many honors at the University. Last year he was elected to Phi Beta Kappa. He has always been interested in oratory and debate, is a member of the Shakopean Literary society and has been very prominent in Y. M. C. A. work. He is Lieutenant-Colonel of the University cadet corps and played a prominent part in the dramatic club's production of Esmeralda, given this spring.

JUNIOR MINERS WILL JOURNEY.

The Junior Class of the School of Mines leave on their annual spring tour about the first of May. They first go to Columbia Heights, where they survey above ground for about three weeks. They then leave for the Iron range, where they will take under-ground surveying in the mines of Ely.

About the first week in June the class leaves for Colorado, where they study Metallurgy in the mines there. The students then divide up into parties of two or three and separate, working for the rest of the summer.

CHAPTERS ARE MERGED.

The Minnesota Tau Chapter and the Hamline Theta Chapter of the Phi Sigma Rho Fraternity were united at a banquet held at the West Hotel last Thursday evening.

As Hamline Medical College will be consolidated with the University, this change seemed for the best. The membership of the fraternity will now number between seventy-five and one hundred.

INTERCOLLEGIATE CHESS TOURNAMENT PLANNED.

Minnesota, Chicago and Wisconsin have established a chess league and a tournament will in all probability, be held next fall at Madison during the Chicago-Wisconsin football game. The representative teams will consist of five men chosen by competitive try-outs next fall.

The finals in the chess tournament at the University will begin May 1st.

BASEBALL SEASON OPENS.

The baseball season opened in earnest a week ago last Saturday when the alumni were defeated by a score of 14 to 10. The next game with the east high school was won by a score of 11 to 1. Then the 'Varsity nearly dropped a game to Concordia, but pulled out ahead by a score of two to one. Saturday the game with Illinois resulted in a score of 2 to 1 for Minnesota.

Schedule for the Season.

April 11, Alumni; April 15, Shattuck; April 18, Illinois; April 21, St. Olaf; April 22, Macalaster, St. Paul; April 29, North Dakota; May 1, Iowa; May 2, Iowa; May 6, Macalaster; May 7, Nebraska; May 8, Winnipeg; May 11, Lawrence; May 13, Ames; May 14, Iowa; May 15, Luther; May 16, Wisconsin; May 21, Chicago; May 22, unsettled; May 23, Illinois; May 25, Luther College; May 27, Fargo College; June 6, Wisconsin.

TO EXPLOIT COMPOSERS.

A concert of original music will be given May 8th, in the University chapel. The music has been written by Louise Leavenworth, Gertrude Hull and Frank Bibb, members of Prof. Scott's Composition class. It consists of piano, violin, flute and vocal solos which will be interpreted by local talent.

"O HANU SAN" MAY FIRST.

May 1st is the date decided upon by the Euterpean Club for the presentation of their operetta "O Hanu San." It will be given on Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock so that every one will get a chance to see it. Mr. Scott will take care of the music part of it and Miss Grace Gerrish has been engaged to coach the girls in the acting and for the dances.

THE ALCANTARA

CAST CHOSEN.

The Doctor of Alcantara opera will be given in the Armory about May 20th. The cast has been chosen and practice has been begun. Mr. B. A. Rose will be director. The cast follows:

Señor Balthazar Arthur Carlson
 Carlos Ralph Canterbury
 Perez George Hyser
 Sancho Edward Cosgrove
 Don Pomposo Paul Pettigrew
 Donna Lucrezia Constance Day
 Isabella Louise Leavenworth
 Inez Lee Clough

Sopranos: Bess Breen, Margaret Trimble, Hazel Pennington, Luella Woodke, Mabelle Hudson, Portia Deming.

Basses and Baritones: R. P. Crane, N. E. Wharton, Elmer Bunce, Perry Hudson, P. F. Pettigrew, Arthur E. Allen, F. H. Cox, F. M. Totten.

THEATRICAL COMPANY AT THE UNIVERSITY.

Two performances of Donald Robertson and his company from Chicago will be given at the State University during the week of May 9. "The Triumph of Youth" will be given at the matinee and "Blot on the 'Scutcheon'" at the evening performance.

FORMER UNIVERSITY STUDENT WRITES PLAY.

George Ward, of Alexandria and formerly a student in the University, has written a play which has been accepted by William Owen, the actor.

Mr. Owen will put on the play at Easton, Pa., on Easter Monday. It is entitled "The Lumber Thief," and deals with political life in Minnesota and was suggested by incidents in the first Johnson campaign.

It belongs to the class of plays of "The Lion and the Mouse" and "The Man of the Hour." William Owen who will appear as the star, represents a millionaire lumberman and politician.

COMMUNICATIONS.

Many names have been suggested for the position of Director of the New Theater that will soon be opened in New York. Some of the men are masters in the field while others are diletanti. Those who are masters are for the most part foreigners who have nothing in common with American ideals and life. The most promising of the candidates is Granville Barker, an Englishman, with an honorable record to recommend him.

The point to be considered is that native material should have the preference. We have within our borders a man who fills every need. He knows the theater practically; he knows its demands and its limitations. He has learned what he knows, not wholly from books. In addition he recognizes the appeal for a better theater, one truly interpreting our ideals and our life. We, of Minnesota, know the man and love him, because he has awakened in us the love for the finer art of the theater. In Richard Burton, the nation has an ideal Director for the New Theater. We can only present a favorite son; we can not dictate his election. Only a small section of the outside world knows him. We who know him intimately can vouch for the statement that there is no man in the United States today who has that necessary blend of practical knowledge of the stage and a love for good drama better fitted to fill the post of Director of the New Theater than Richard Burton, because of a profitable life spent as a student, newspaper man, poet, professor, and lecturer on dramatic and theatrical subjects, he has been fitting himself—unconsciously—for the post.

Is there any man more typically American in his make-up than Richard Burton, bred in New England, doing his life work in the Mississippi valley state, Minnesota, and being to all intents and purposes a citizen of the entire country? Is an Englishman or German more likely to foster and make possible a national theater than Richard Burton?

For the future the nation must look for its leaders "from the breast of the unexhausted West." The trustees of the New Theater, which is to be nothing if not national, will start the theater on the right road by selecting Richard Burton, who by breeding, temperament and experience is the man most fit for the position of Director of the New Theater.

Jacob Wilk, '07.

Ed.—We have not much sympathy with the foregoing. We have a good man in Dr. Burton and are free to confess that we are selfish enough to want to keep him, despite the fact that there are doubtless many other places he would fill as acceptably as he does his place in this institution.

PERSONALS.

YALE COMES TO MINNESOTA.

For some time it has been rumored that Dean Fred S. Jones, of the college of engineering was considering an offer to go to Yale as dean of the academic college of that university. Last week it was announced that the offer had been made to Dean Jones by the faculty, and that he would accept the offer, subject to confirmation by the corporation of that institution; as such confirmation is practically assured, it may be taken for granted that Dean Jones will take up the work of his new position not later than the fall of 1909.

We are heartily sorry that the University is to lose Dean Jones. He has been one of the strong men of the faculty and made his department one of the strongest in the University and has gathered about him a corps of helpers that would be hard to duplicate anywhere. Though his training was classical rather than engineering, he has been a complete success in the position of dean of the college of engineering. Under his administration the college has forged ahead in a marvelous manner. The time was ripe for a forward movement when he took hold and he proved to be the man for the time. He is said to have conditioned his acceptance of the Yale offer upon his being allowed to continue here another year so as to get the question of the new engineering building settled and under construction so as to leave the college in the best possible condition for the future and also to allow the Regents time to secure a successor.

While we regret that Minnesota is to lose so efficient a dean of its engineering college, we are glad for the recognition that it means to Dean Jones, personally, and also for the recognition which the east thus gives the west, for Dean Jones, despite his college training at Yale, is essentially a product of the west and has the characteristics which we associate with the rugged strength of western civilization.

THE WEEKLY FORMALLY TURNED OVER.

When the present secretary was employed by the Board of Directors of the General Alumni Association, he voluntarily agreed to turn the Weekly over to the Association at the end of the period of two years. It was further agreed that in case the secretary should not continue in the work of the association that the Weekly should be appraised and the secretary be paid the sum that might be agreed upon. In case the secretary did continue with the association it should become the absolute property of the association without further obligation on the part of the association. At a special meeting, held not long since, the Directors received the following letter:

Gentlemen: In accordance with the terms of the agreement entered into with you some two years since, I hereby turn over to you, as representing the General Alumni Association, the Minnesota Alumni Weekly, and do hereby relinquish all personal right and title in the same to the said Association, and further I bind myself never to make any claim, of any sort, against the Association or its representatives, in consideration of my action in this matter.

Very truly yours,

E. B. JOHNSON.

The Board of Directors then passed the following resolution:

"Resolved that the Board of Directors accept the offer made by Mr. Johnson and take over the Minnesota Alumni Weekly, assuming the ownership of the same in accordance with the terms of the said offer."

A new contract has been made with the secretary covering one year only. During the two years just past, the income from the Weekly has gone to the support of the work of the Association; the amount so contributed being $700 for the first year and $700 or more for the second year. Under the new contract, the secretary guarantees the Weekly to pay $900 toward the work of the Association, and, under certain conditions, $1,200 toward the same.

The Weekly is now technically, what it has been virtually, for the past two years, the property of the General Alumni Association and is guaranteed to bring into the association an income equal to $15,000 invested at six per cent, and under certain conditions, which are likely to be met this year, $20,000 at the same rate.

ORIGINAL MUSICAL COMPOSITION RECITAL.

The program announced by Professor Carlyle Scott, for the members of his class in musical composition, is a matter of more than ordinary significance. Professor Scott has been working hard and faithfully during the few years he has been at the University and is building up, slowly, but nevertheless surely, an excellent foundation for a musical course that shall be all that such a course ought to be and might well be made at the University with proper encouragement. Music plays a much larger part in human economics than a majority of the other subjects that are recognized in the curriculum and there seems to be no good reason for discriminating against work in this line. We hope that day will soon come when the University will restore the course in design that was abolished a few years ago and develop and strengthen work in that line and at the same time place music upon the same sort of footing that other subjects of the University curriculum enjoy.

The program is to be given in chapel on the afternoon of May 15th and the room should be packed. The program of compositions which have been written by Louise Leavenworth, Gertrude Hull, Ella Hopkins and Frank Bibb, includes piano, violin and several songs and will be well worth listening to. There will be no admission fee charged. The program represents the results of months of hard conscientious toil on the part of those who will appear. Turn out and enjoy the program and help to create a demand for that which is best in University life. Here is a chance for the alumni to render a real service to the University.

University chapel, 4 P. M., May 15th.

SENIORS ARE WISE.

The academic seniors decided at their meeting last Thursday to leave as their memorial as large a number of life memberships in the General Alumni Association as possible. They feel that the association is doing work for the University that means much for the future of the University and so they are going to break all previous records in this respect and set a pace that future classes will find it hard to equal. A committee of ten members will make a personal canvass of the class for this purpose.

ADDITIONAL GIFT FOR THE WOMAN'S DORMITORY.

Mr. G. H. Warren, of this city, has given $1,250 toward a dormitory for the women at the University. This and the Dunwoody gift of $5,000 makes the total to date.

CIGAR STORE GAMBLING.

Since the University has grown in size sufficient to support cigar stores, the shaking of dice and other games of chance have been very much in evidence in these stores. Several years ago, under the administration of Mayor Jones, these devices were cleaned out. Gradually they have been creeping back into use until it has been possible for a student to lose his month's allowance before breakfast, as has been done within the past few months. Last week President Northrop talked to the students in chapel about the evils of gambling, which he described as rotten and a thing that would rot the character of those who indulged in it. He said that if the stores near the campus did not voluntarily close out their gambling devices the law would be invoked to close them out.

As a result it is reported that there is not a game of chance of any kind going on in any of these stores near the campus. It is to be hoped that the lid will fit tight and stay on for all time. The cigar store is a nuisance in itself, at least it ought to have no place near a college campus, but since they seem to be here to stay, they should be kept strictly within a strict construction of the laws made for the purpose of promoting the public good.

PRESIDENT TAKES ACTION.

Last week President Northrop visited both the cigar stores near the campus and talked to the proprietors and the boys he found at these places about the evils of gambling, and asked the boys to refrain from gambling and told the proprietors that unless they voluntarily did away with gambling devices of every kind he would invoke the law to that end.

THE N. P. TRACK QUESTION.

The railroads and the city are getting together on a scheme for track raising to do away with the deadly grade crossings. It is said that the N. P. tracks through the University campus are the first that are slated for such treatment. This means, if it is carried through, that the plans of the University for eventually covering the tracks will have to be abandoned or greatly modified. The raise will not affect the tracks much before they reach State street, but by the time they reach Harvard street they will be four feet above the present grade and at Oak street they will be eight feet above the present grade. Regent Nelson, chairman of the executive committee, was before the council committee last week to protest against such action and, in the course of his remarks, said that the University campus would eventually extend to Oak street, and that raising the tracks, as proposed, would make it impossible to develop a campus that would be what the University campus should be. He argued for a lowering of the tracks rather than raising them.

GOVERNOR LIND TELLS OF MINNESOTA'S FUTURE.

At a recent meeting of the South Side Commercial club, Governor Lind was called upon to make a speech. In the course of his speech he told of the wonderful resources of the state and spoke of the future greatness of the Twin Cities as the metropolis of the great northwest. All of this was said for the purpose of emphasizing the necessity of preparing the University for a development along lines broad enough to keep pace with the vast material development that is to be expected. He said that he expected to live to see the time when Minnesota would have more money than Rockefeller would ever give to Chicago and said that the University of the future is to be the greatest power for reform in the state, except the church. To secure the development that is ideal requires more than the people's money; it needs their personal care and encouragement to keep the grade of work up to a standard that should be maintained, and to keep ever before it ideals that shall make it of the greatest possible good to the state.

SPOKANE ALUMNI MEETING.

The alumni of Spokane held their first banquet on the evening of April 11th. There were about forty alumni present at the meeting and everyone voted it a success. The committee, headed by Earl Constantine, '05, had secured the best hall in the city and a fine dinner was served. An effort is to be made to make arrangements for a monthly Saturday Dutch treat luncheon.

The tables were set in the form of an M and the flowers used for decorations carried out the scheme of University colors—maroon and gold. The walls were decked with Minnesota pennants. The program of toasts, was supervised by J. B. Campbell, as toastmaster. B. A. Horton responded to "Older days;" J. D. Campbell, to "Prexy;" J. W. Graves, to "The maroon and gold;" Dr. Mary McMillan, to "The new Minnesota" and Earle G. Constantine, to "Our alumni association."

Officers were elected, as follows: President, James H. Evans; vice-president, Dr. Nathan M. Baker; secretary, Earle G. Constantine; treasurer, Dr. Mary McMillan.

A telegram of greeting was sent to President Northrop.

PRIZES OPEN TO ALUMNI COMPETITION.

Professor J. Laurence Laughlin, of the University of Chicago, is chairman of a committee of prominent professors and business men who have the charge of the administration of five large cash prizes for papers upon economic topics. Three of the prizes are open to alumni or former students, one of $600, one of $500 and one of $300. Subjects for competition are specified, but it is stated that any one who wishes to compete and desires to take another subject along lines similar to any of those specified may do so after securing the consent of the committee. Any alumnus who is interested should write to Professor Laughlin, care of the University of Chicago, for circular containing full information concerning the competition. The offer is a liberal one, and there ought to be a number among our alumni who will compete for the honor as well as the cash involved.

THE DEPARTMENT OF GEOGRAPHY.

The department of geography has received new impetus this year by the election of Dr. Lehnerts, formerly of the Winona Normal School, to take charge of the work. For years Professor Hall has been trying to get work started along this line, and published his excellent book, Geography of Minnesota. At the present time Dr. Lehnerts and Professor Hall have in process of preparation the Minnesota section, 36 pages, of the Dodge geography. This work will soon appear. Dr. Lehnerts has been and is one of the leaders in his line in the country. In 1900 he established and became the editor of the Bulletin of the American Bureau of Geography. This was published for two years and then became the American Journal of Geography. Dr. Lehnerts was in charge of the business management of this publication until two years ago when he sold his interest to the Teachers' College of New York City. Dr. Lehnerts still remains as one of the editors of this Journal, and J. Paul Goode, '89, of the University of Chicago, is also connected with it in the same capacity. The third editor is Mr. Dodge, editor of the well-known series of geographies which bear his name. At the present time Mr. Goode is in Washington preparing material for a commercial geography.

NEW AND VALUABLE WORK.

Dr. Schaper, of the department of political science, has been conducting a seminar through the present year in Comparative Legislation. The seminar which includes eleven men doing advance graduate work, has been making a study of the most important questions that are expected to come up at the next session of the legislature. Each student has been assigned a special field and has been busy collecting material bearing upon his particular question from all over the world. This material is then classified and indexed so as to be instantly available. Each man also is to draft a model bill covering the subject which he has been investigating. The work done is along the line, which in Wisconsin has been recognized by the establishment of the legislative reference bureau, which is in effect, the official lobbyist for the state of Wisconsin. Such a bill was presented to the legislature at the last session and only by an oversight and complication of events did it miss passage. Such a bill is sure to become a law at the next session. In the meantime, Dr. Schaper is doing this work, the results of which will be available for the next session of the legislature. The bill, as it was put in final shape at the last session, was practically the bill drafted by the University department and has been pronounced by Mr. McCarthy, head of the Wisconsin bureau, to be the best bill covering the subject in the United States.

Aside from the practical value of such work to the state, its value to the student is not to be underestimated. These students feel that they are at work on something that is of more than a mere academic investigation of stock questions. They realize that their work may some day form the basis for laws to be enacted by the legislature and consequently have a more vital interest in their work.

ROOSEVELT APPOINTS PURDY

President Roosevelt has appointed Milton D. Purdy, '91, Law '92, to the position on the federal bench made vacant by the resignation of Judge Lochren. It has been known all along that President Roosevelt desired to appoint Purdy, but has been holding back on account of the opposition on the part of Senator Nelson. The appointment was sent in last Thursday and what the senate will do about confirming the appointment is not known. Purdy is a young man and has decidedly made good wherever he has been put and the appointment is directly in the nature of reward for able services in the attorney general's office.

SUPERINTENDENT STANLEY REJOICES.

Supt. Charles P. Stanley, Ed. '07, of Olivia, is rejoicing over the gift of $500 from Mrs. Russell Sage to establish a manual training department in the Olivia High School. Olivia was named in honor of Mrs. Sage in 1878. Mr. Stanley thought that Mrs. Sage would be willing to do something for the town which bore her name and wrote to her asking if she would not give $500 to help start a manual training department in the high school. Mrs. Sage sent the check as requested and expressed her interest in the town which bore her name.

JAMES GRAY, '85, EX-MAYOR, TO TALK.

James Gray will lecture at the Auditorium Wednesday evening of this week for the benefit of the University Y. W. C. A. The lecture is to be a hummer, if Mr. Gray's advance agents are to be believed. It is to be an educational lecture in two parts. This arrangement is made so that any of the audience who feel that they have had their money's worth after the first part may either leave or go to the door and pay the price of admission a second time. President Northrop will introduce Mr. Gray and the Rev. G. L. Morrill will preside at the organ. Wing will send some of his characteristic drawings of the lecturer for exhibition so that patrons may know that they are getting the real thing and not being cheated by an imposter.

It is said that Mr. Gray expects to do more along this line of work, for which he is so well fitted, in the future, and this lecture is a sort of "coming-out-air" for him. Mr. Gray makes a ten-strike usually at whatever he does and this is not likely to prove any exception to the rule. The object, too, is one that should help to draw a crowd, for the young women deserve every possible encouragement in the good work they are doing so effectively and unostentatiously.

DR. COOKE PRESIDENT.

Dr. L. J. Cooke, director of the gymnasium was elected president of the Western Intercollegiate Gymnastic Association at its recent meeting. Minnesota has taken part in the meetings of the association but three times and has captured first place twice and third once. The next meet will be held in the University Armory next year and Dr. Cooke is already planning to win the meet. Wrestling will be made more prominent in future meets.

FOLWELL AND HALL.

In the Minneapolis Journal of March 10th there appeared an article from the pens of Dr. Folwell and Professor Hall, upon Minnesota parks for Minnesota people. The article has been reprinted in pamphlet form and is a very careful discussion of the question of parks for the State. It proposes the setting aside of 1,000 sections of land, 640,000 acres, distributed at 18 different points in the state, the size of the parks varying from one section to five hundred sections, at the head waters of the Mississippi.

In the Sunday Journal of April 19th, Dr. Folwell had an article upon the University as a business concern, in which he sets forth some startling statistics concerning the institution considered merely as a business concern. In this article it appears that there have been spent on and by the students in securing an education at the University of Minnesota, something like $30,000,000, during the forty years of its existence. The state has furnished less than seven million and has property to represent at least half of this sum for the future use of the University.

LAW SCHOOL BOOMING.

This is the twentieth year of the law school and the dean says it is the best year. The senior class is said to be one of the best prepared ever turned out from the department and the other classes are doing most excellent work all along the line. In addition to the regular class and lecture work of the resident professors and lecturers, the increased appropriations for the college has made possible the securing of many courses of lectures of high grade, including lectures by Senator Clapp, Congressman Nye, Frank B. Kellogg, John W. Willis, Senator Durment, Daniel Fish, Judge McGee, Judge Elliott, Attorney-general Young and others are to follow. A. B. Jackson is now delivering a course of lectures and will be followed by T. D. O'Brien, Judge Lancaster, C. D. O'Brien, and C. W. Bunn. It is expected that Milton D. Purdy, assistant attorney-general of the United States will give the address at the law alumni banquet in June.

SIGMA XI BANQUET.

The Sigma Xis held their initiation and banquet last Wednesday evening. Professor Harry Snyder conducted the initiation exercises and acted as toastmaster at the banquet that followed. Louis McKeehan responded for the incomers and other toasts were responded to as follows: Professors John J. Flather, Head, Kovarik, Nachtrieb, Hall, Frary, and Mrs. Jessie Stevens Hickok, who responded for the women alumni. Professor Snyder made an address upon "Science" that is said to have been a masterpiece.

TWO SCHOLARSHIPS FOR WOMEN.

Mention has previously been made of the fact that the College Woman's Club of this city was planning to give a scholarship of $150 for the coming year. It is now announced that in addition to this scholarship the Puritan Colony Society of New England Women have decided to offer another scholarship of $100 open to the women of the University of Minnesota, under conditions somewhat similar to those that govern in the case of the scholarship established by the local association.

MILITARY BALL A SUCCESS.

The military ball of 1908 will pass into history as one of the most enjoyable and brilliant of the annual series. The whole affair was conducted with military pomp and splendor and the crack squad gave an exhibition that was heartily and deservedly applauded. Supper was served in military tents according to military regulations.

SENIOR CLASS PLAY.

The senior class play will this year come on the Friday before commencement. The class met last Thursday for its first reading and though its members refuse to divulge the nature of the play, it is given out that it was up to expectations and that it will keep the standard of 1908 up to or above that of any other class.

NURSES' SCHOOL TO BE ESTABLISHED.

A committee of the medical faculty are making plans for the establishment of a school of nurses at the University.

ENDS THE INSURANCE COURSE.

Wednesday afternoon, Honorable T. D. O'Brien, formerly superintendent of insurance in this state, closes the series of insurance lectures with a lecture upon "State Supervision of Life Insurance." As Mr. O'Brien is recognized as an authority on this subject, his talk will be a fitting close to a series which has been most successful. The department of political science has rendered a real service to the state in organizing and maintaining such a course of lectures.

LECTURE ON ART.

Last Tuesday afternoon Professor Clopath gave an illustrated lecture upon modern art—showing a large number of views of notable pictures and commenting on the same and telling incidentally what constitutes good art. She traced the development of modern art from various sources. The attendance was large and everyone present was delighted with the lecture.

O'BRIEN BEGINS COURSE OF LECTURES.

Last Tuesday afternoon Honorable T. D. O'Brien of St. Paul, commenced a series of lectures before the senior laws. His subject is "The regulation of public service corporations by the state." Mr. O'Brien is well fitted to deliver lectures on this subject as he was counsel for and with Attorney-general Young in presenting the state's side of the rate case recently before the United States Supreme Court.

MR. CLAUSEN LECTURES.

Last Friday afternoon Mr. L. R. Clausen, of Milwaukee, superintendent of the C. M. & St. P. Ry., lectured before the engineers upon "Railway signalling." Mr. Clausen's lecture was very interesting both on account of his subject and the way in which he handled it. He is an authority upon this specialty.

MINISTRY AS A LIFE WORK.

Last Friday afternoon and evening the University Y. M. C. A. held a conference devoted to the Christian ministry as a life work. The afternoon session was addressed by three students—A. S. Dowdall, on "What led me to decide to enter the ministry"; T. H. Uzzell, "Why I have not decided to enter the ministry"; A. N. Gilbertson, "How the ministry looks to a college man." Following the addresses were open discussion of the questions brought up. The evening session was devoted to addresses by outside ministers—Rev. H. E. Swearingen, pastor of the House of Hope Presbyterian church of St. Paul, upon "The motives and ideals of the ministry"; and Rev. R. M. West, pastor of the First Baptist church, St. Paul, "The actual work of the ministry."

NEW VENTURE

IN JOURNALISM.

The Young Men's Christian Association of the University have decided to undertake to issue, monthly, a Minnesota edition of the "Intercollegian" the organ of the college branch International Committee of the Y. M. C. A. Each member of the association will receive a copy each month, which will contain, in addition to the usual matter of the Intercollegian, a section devoted to news notes about the work of the Minnesota association, with announcements of plans and events to be looked forward to.

INTERFRATERNITY BASEBALL

A league of fraternities has been formed, rules have been adopted and schedules made for the spring. There will be opportunity to see baseball games every day in the week for the rest of the college year.

PROFESSIONAL GREEKS

ORGANIZE BALL LEAGUE

The Greeks of the professional departments have organized a baseball league and will begin the series as soon as schedule can be arranged.

DATE CHANGED.

The date for the presentation of the Japanese opera O Hanu San has been changed and it will be given in the University chapel on the evening of May 6th. Rehearsals are going on with vigor and a most complete production is assured.

SENIOR LAWS WAX MERRY.

The senior law class held their annual banquet last Saturday night at the West. Judge Jaggard was toastmaster. Toasts were responded to as follows:

Dean W. S. Pattee, "In Loco Parentis;" Professor James Paige, "Cui Bono;" Professor Fletcher, "A hypothetical Case;" Judge Hickman, "The Em-

President Eenkema, Captain Sigerfoos, L. S. Sigmond, and other prominent members of the class responded temporarily to toasts.

MINERVAS IN COMEDY.

The Minervas presented a comedy entitled "At the Eleventh Hour," by Edith Brander Matthews, last Friday evening, in Shevlin Hall. The cast of characters follows:

Mrs. Alfred Dale.....Virginia Allen
 Mr. Alfred Dale.....Gertrude Kline
 Miss Eleanor Dale...Beatrice Williams
 Bridesmaids:
 Miss Alice Schuyler.....Clara Ryan
 Miss Corinne Beaugard...Grace Phillips
 Miss Kate MacCormack..Ruth Crawford
 Miss Dorothy Park.....Anna French

GEOLOGISTS' EXCURSION.

The students and professors of the departments of geology and mineralogy went to Hastings last Saturday to do field work in connection with topics being studied in class.

TWO BOOK THIEVES CAUGHT.

The Northwestern School Supply company caught two book thieves last week and they proved to be in no way connected with the University. The boys were locked up over night and then allowed to go.

MONTEVIDEO CHAMPION OF THE STATE LEAGUE.

Montevideo has been declared state champions in the debating league and will have possession of the Journal cup for one year. The North high school which appealed from the result of its debate with Virginia, and Virginia both agreed to settle the dispute by withdrawing from the contest leaving Montevideo with no one to dispute her title.

SNELL-BENNION WEDDING.

Last Monday evening at the Olivet Congregational church in Merriam Park, Miss Edith Jane Snell, '01, and Dr. Percival Hale Bennion, Med. '02, were married. A large number of alumni of the University friends of the bride and groom had part in the wedding as attendants. The reception which followed at the house was a brilliant affair. Dr. and Mrs. Bennion will be at home to friends after May 1st, at 463 Fairview avenue, Merriam Park. Dr. Bennion has already established his practice at Merriam Park. The bride has been instructor in mathematics in the School of Agriculture for several years past.

PERSONALS.

The following named alumni have recently opened offices in the new Donaldson building at the corner of seventh and Nicollet. Fred L. Adair, '08; Emil Geist, Med. '00; Arthur T. Mann, '88; M. R. Wilcox.

Geo. L. Borrowman, Chem. '05, has just been made adjunct professor of chemistry at the University of Nebraska.

A recent copy of St. Paul's Guide, published by St. Paul's church of Winona, Minn., of which Edward Borncamp, '93, is pastor, shows that church to be in excellent condition in every way. On the fourth Sunday in Lent, Mr. Borncamp, at the earnest request of over fifty prominent citizens of Winona, repeated a sermon on the Prodigal son. The largest audience ever assembled in that church were present on this occasion.

W. A. Chowen, Eng. '91, passed through this city a few weeks ago on his way back from an eastern trip. In a personal letter to the editor Mr. Chowen expresses his sorrow at the death of Professor McDermott and the hope that whatever form the proposed memorial to Professor McDermott may take that contributions be taken from others beside those in his classes. Mr. Chowen also speaks of the "Dutch" luncheons that the alumni of San Francisco have instituted. The alumni have appointed a place where all of the alumni who are able to make proper arrangements lunch together once each month.

The plan seems to be working well and those who are able to attend find it a most pleasant way of spending the lunch hour once each month.

Theodore Clark, '94, is an architect and is practicing his profession at San Antonio, Texas. His office is at 302 Book building. He expects to stay in San Antonio permanently. In a recent letter to the editor he expresses his continued interest in the welfare of Alma Mater and his classmates.

Alice E. Craig, '99, is living at 55 North Euclid avenue, Pasadena, Calif.

William Dawson, '06, who has been studying in France during the past two years to prepare himself for work in the consular service has just been appointed vice-consul to St. Petersburg at a salary of $4,000.

Theodore L. Duncan, '99, is practicing as land attorney at Northome, Minn. Northome is on the Minnesota International extension running from Brainerd to the Canadian boundary. The other alumni living in Northome are Campbell L. Bailey, '02, who is in the real estate business and Aad Tone, '99, Law '02, who is also in the law and real estate business.

Andrew F. Hilyer, '82, of the United States treasury department has been on duty at Jamestown exposition for a larger part of the time during the past eighteen months. He is back again at his desk at 304 Treasury department, Washington, D. C.

T. A. Hoverstad, Ag. '94, superintendent of the North Dakota Farmers' Institutes, was at the University one day last week. Mr. Hoverstad's headquarters are at Fargo.

Luella Huelster, '06, was at the University one day last week. Miss Huelster was under appointment to go to China as missionary last fall when she was taken ill and has been laid up for practically ten months. She has been with her sister in Pittsburgh, Pa. Miss Huelster has undertaken the work of organizing missionary societies among the young women of the Methodist church Dagmar C. Jensen, '04, is doing graduate work at Leland Stanford Junior University this semester.

Michael A. Kiefer, '01, Med. '04, is practicing medicine at Sleepy Eye, Minn.

Hugh E. Leach, '04, Law '06, visited the University last Wednesday. He is engaged in the practice of law at Alexandria, Minn., and finds that he has all the work he can handle and is consequently happy and hopeful for the future.

Fred M. Mann, Eng. '92, professor of architecture at Washington University, St. Louis, Mo., will submit plans for the development of the new campus in the competition instituted by the regents.

Lowell A. Lamoreaux, '87, and Edwin H. Hewett, '96 both architects living in this city will also submit plans in the same competition. So far as we are aware these are the only alumni to enter the contest. In a recent letter Professor Mann says that Washington University has been fortunate in having a complete scheme of buildings conceived without the presence of old buildings to interfere in anyway with the ideal.

A concert will be given Monday evening, April 27, 1908, at the Auditorium Annex by Mr. George F. Meader, Law '07, and Miss Frances Vincent. Mr. Meader has a rare tenor voice. In a short time he expects to go abroad to study music and this is in the nature of a farewell entertainment.

Marie F. Moreland, '06, who last year taught at Centralia, Wash., is now teaching at Ellsworth, Wis.

Walter H. Murfin, '02, has located at Hillsboro, N. D. for the practice of law.

Mr. Murfin has purchased the practice of the late J. F. Selby of that place and has opened his office.

William Olander, Law '98, of whose wedding mention was made in the Weekly some time ago, is located at Beeville, Texas, and not Reville, as stated at that time. In a recent letter to Dean Pattee he says that he has been engaged in land business since he went to Texas three years ago and that he has been fortunate in business. He expects to again take up the practice of law and yet not drop all his land deals.

News comes from the Staits Settlements that Misses Minnie Rank and Jessie Brooks, both of 1905, are busy with the work of their chosen field. Miss Rank has charge of a boarding school of about sixty girls, Chinese, Tamils, Eurasians and one Malay. They have a vernacular school, Malay, of about thirty in the home and the remainder go out to a Methodist girls' school, which is conducted in English. Miss Rank also has charge of the Missionaries' Home; at CAMPUS COMPETITION PLANS IN.

Last Thursday was the last day for receiving plans for the campus competition. When the office closed that evening there were twenty sets stored away in the vaults of the purchasing agent. It is of course not known what competitors are represented in the twenty as there were fifty-six who signified their intention of sending in plans. The committee has one month in which to consider these plans and make report on their findings which will then be reviewed by the Board of Regents.

LOSE TWO PROFESSORS IN ONE WEEK.

Minnesota has lost two professors during the past week. Professor Westerman, of the department of history, has accepted an offer to go to Wisconsin, and the better library facilities for his line, at that institution, has caused him to accept. This is Professor Westerman's second year at the University. He came to the University from Missouri and has proved to be a popular and able instructor. His place has not yet been filled.

Dr. Arthur W. Meyer, who came to the University last fall as assistant professor of anatomy, has accepted a position as head of the department of microscopic and gross anatomy and embryology of the medical department of Northwestern University. Dr. Meyer has won special distinction through his special research work. He is a graduate of Johns Hopkins and was an assistant there for two years after graduation. Aside from strictly scientific papers, dealing with his original investigations, Dr. Meyer has published two papers, one dealing with the Physician and Surgeon in Shakspeare and Some Characteristics of the Medicine in Shakspeare. His going will be a distinct loss to the University. It is said that he will receive a salary more than two and one-half times as large as he is receiving at the University.

DISTRIBUTION OF ALUMNI.

Perhaps not half a dozen of the alumni realize the fact that down to and including the class of 1890, the number of degrees granted was only 495; this represented 477 persons, 18 having received a second degree. For only two years of this period had the registration surpassed the number of graduates up to 1890, the registration for that year being 1,002. From 1891 to 1900, inclusive, ten years, the number of degrees granted was 2813; the number of duplicates for this period are not easily obtained. The average size of the graduating class being 281.3. The attendance increased during this period from 1002 to 3,226, an average increase of 222.4 per year. The number of degrees granted since 1900, seven years, has been 3,377, an average of 482 plus. The attendance during the same period increasing from 3,226 to 4,145, an average yearly increase of 131 plus. This means that less than half of the graduates of the University of Minnesota have been out of college more than seven years. Every year, now, the University is graduating more men and women than received degrees during the first seventeen years of its history and more than the total enrollment for any year up to and including 1888. These facts tell in most emphatic way the fact that, as a University, we are young,—very young.

MINNESOTA ALUMNI OUT IN OREGON.

Dr. Fred A. Kiehle, '94, Med. '01, of Portland, Oregon, has undertaken to get the alumni of Oregon, as far as possible, together for a reunion about the first of June, at the time of the great Rose Festival that is to be held in Portland, June 1st to 6th. At his call, a few of the alumni got together recently and constituted themselves a push committee. Dr. A. M. Webster was elected president and Dr. Kiehle, secretary. This week they will get together a still larger gathering and make their plans for the big reunion in June. All alumni or former students of the University who can arrange it to be in Portland at that time are urged to communicate with the committee. If you know of others who may possibly be missed, you will confer a favor upon them and the committee by sending in their names. Dr. Kiehle is to be addressed at the Corbett building, Portland, Ore.

1903 REUNION.

All '03's are hereby notified that there will be a 5th year reunion of the class on the evening of June 9th, 1908 at Alice Shevlin Hall. This beautiful hall is to be open to the class and we can talk or dance as we choose and drink frappé, if it's hot. All '03's are expected to come but if anything prevents you from coming, the committee asks for a personal letter which may be read to those present.

Lewis, after many years of faithful and effective service in educational lines, has gone to California and is raising fruit; his address is Ontario; Mary Anna Maes is now Mrs. W. S. Crandall and lives at 1719 Fourth street southeast, in this city; Thomas R. Newton has for many years been in the money order branch of the Minneapolis post office; Evan Roland Pritchard is a Presbyterian minister and is living at 200 West 4th street, Aberdeen, Wash.; Mary W. Robinson is now Mrs. William Wolford and lives at 87 Tenth street south in this city; Myron De Vere Taylor is now judge of the seventh judicial district in this state with his home at St. Cloud; William J. Warren is practicing medicine in St. Paul and is living at 1433 West Lake street in this city; Daniel Williams is another Presbyterian minister and lives at Storm Lake, Ia.; George A. Wood is a merchant and lives at Milbank, S. D. Two members of the class have disappeared and we have not been able to locate them for many years—Judson Torry Howell and Harvey J. Smith. Any information concerning these two men would be thankfully received by the editor of the Weekly.

THEIR THIRTY-FIFTH ANNIVERSARY.

The youth of our University, as an institution, is shown in the fact that its first class will celebrate its thirty-fifth anniversary this spring, and the further fact that both members of the class are still living and doing their share in the world's work. Dr. Warren Clark Eustis is practicing medicine in Owatonna, Minn., and Henry Martyn Williamson is editing and publishing a newspaper, The Oregon Agriculturist, at Portland, Ore.

MINNESOTA AT THE N. O. L. CONTEST.

Clarence Harter represented Minnesota at the annual contest of the Northern Oratorical League held at Iowa City, last Friday evening. There were seven states represented and Mr. Harter received sixth place with his oration "The necessary struggle." In this oration Mr. Harter discusses the rapid rise of the socialist party in the United States. He sees in the coming struggle for supremacy the failure of the socialist party to fasten its control upon the country, and in the struggle to throw off such control, he sees the "supreme tribute to American independence." The oration is a well written and convincing argument, having a definite end in view and going straight to that end with clear and earnest straightforwardness.

LIND AND HOVLAND AT THE UNIVERSITY.

Regents Lind and Hovland spent most of last Thursday at the University, appearing at the chapel exercises. Mr. Hovland was in the city for three days but has gone back to Duluth. He will be at the University again this week to attend the meeting of the Regents on the 7th.

FOR A GREATER UNIVERSITY OF MINNESOTA.

Last Sunday saw the publication of the first of a series of three articles upon a greater University. The articles are being prepared under the direction of two gentlemen who are much interested in the University, one of them an alumnus, and are being written by Milton O. Nelson.

The first article appeared in The Minneapolis Journal, Tribune, St. Paul Pioneer Press and the Dispatch. The articles are the same but are illustrated by different views. They are well prepared and are sure to arouse great interest in the University among many who have never been particularly interested before.

FIRE INSURANCE LECTURES.

The program for the course of lectures on fire insurance, provided by the department of economics and politics, is as follows:

May 1, Mr. Jacob Stone, Origin, history and development of fire insurance; May 8, Mr. W. I. Fisher, Distribution of losses and scientific rating; May 15, Mr. W. C. Burleigh, Adjustment of losses; May 22, Mr. M. H. Boutelle, Insurance contracts, laws and regulations; May 29, Mr. G. F. H. Howarth, Causes of fire, and fire protection.

These lectures are given at 4 o'clock, on the days set, in room 13 of the Library building. Open to the alumni and all others who are interested.

EMINENT ALIENIST AT THE UNIVERSITY.

Dr. Tomlinson, of the State Hospital for the Insane at St. Peter, talked to the junior and senior medics one afternoon last week. Dr. Tomlinson took as his topic, "What are the criteria for adjudging people insane."

BURTON AT THE 6 O'CLOCK CLUB.

Professor Richard Burton will deliver a lecture to the members of the Six o'clock Club at Donaldson's tea-rooms, May 4. The subject of the lecture will be "The Theatre," which he will consider in its relation to state and municipal control.

DR. FRANKFORTER MUCH BETTER.

Dr. George B. Frankforter, who has been very seriously ill with gastritis, has taken advantage of the "one chance in ten" which the doctors gave him and is now rapidly recovering. He expects to be out within the next two weeks.

GUIDE TO SPRING FLOWERS OF MINNESOTA.

The department of botany has just issued a new publication in the series of the reports of the geological and natural history survey of the state, entitled "Guide to the spring flowers of Minnesota." This is the first in the new series of publications projected by the department as distinguished from Minnesota Botanical Studies, which have been published in the past and which will continue as in the past, to be devoted largely to the technical and research work of the department. This new series is intended for teachers and students of botany and for all plant-lovers within the state. It is intended not only to make it possible for the layman to be able to determine the names of the various flowers of the state but to really become acquainted with the plants themselves and with their habits in their natural surroundings. The text will be simple and non-technical and yet accurate. This number is prepared by Professor Clements, Rosendahl and Butters and is for free distribution.

CHANGE IN SUMMER SCHOOL FACULTY.

Professor William H. Kirchner has been appointed in the University summer school to the work in trigonometry and solid geometry which Professor Brooke has given up on account of his proposed trip to Germany. Superintendent E. C. Higbie, Ed. '07, of Canby, who was appointed for work in plane geometry, has been released in order to accept another position, and his work will fall to Superintendent C. P. Stanley, Ed. '07, of Olivia. Leonard H. Pryor, '02, of Fairmont, will also give instruction in mathematics.

SCHOLARSHIP AWARDED.

Ellen Burk, 1909, has been awarded the scholarship established at the University by the College Woman's club. This announcement was made at the meeting of the club held Saturday, April 25, at Donaldson's tea rooms.

About fifty-five college women were present. Mrs. Frederick Barney, president, presided over the informal program of talks after luncheon. Miss Margaret Evans spoke of "College Women," and Miss Ina Firkins, '88, on "University of Minnesota Life."

WOMAN'S MAGAZINE OUT TODAY.

The Woman's Magazine which appears today is full of things of interest. It is well illustrated and the following statement shows that it will be well worth the price—15c.

"The question of a dormitory" by Dean Comstock has an illustration of a desirable building. This is followed by a poem on "Spenser" by Miss Peck, and a poem on "Sidney" by Mrs. Potter, both illustrated by Emma Brock.

Edith Thompson kindly contributed two delightful poems, "To Market in May" and "A Riddle."

For lovers of adventure there is the story "Rosella, the girl detective" by Mary Lucas. There is a story of romance "Le Nid-de-Merle" by Alta Churchill; a ghost story "Doringham in the mist" by Kate Finkle; a humorous story, "When tragedy puts on the soc," by Florence Godley; a May-time story, "Little girl," by Winifred Turner; and "The apostate" by Alden Hewitt. Two sonnets by Helen Painter, and Bertha Trask, and articles and editorials by Josephine Schain, Miss Firkins, Georgiana Sterling, and Elsa Ueland complete the contents of this number.

JAPANESE OPERETTA.

Work on the Japanese operetta, to be put on May 6, is approaching a finish. Rehearsals are being held every day. The girls are working hard on the decorations; the chapel windows are to be covered with heavy-black cloth so as to shut out all possible light that might spoil the effect. A pretty scene will be the birthday fête in the second act, in which the part of the "Mikado" will be taken by Mr. Morigushi, one of Minnesota's Japanese students.

HAMILTON CLUB CONTEST ABANDONED.

Information comes from Chicago that the Board of Directors of the Hamilton Club of Chicago have decided to discontinue the oratorical contests in which they have given a prize of one hundred dollars every year for the last five years.

Wisconsin is at the head of the universities in the league, having won three victories in the five contests. Michigan and Knox have won once.

"AS YOU LIKE IT" GOING WELL.

Rehearsals for As You Like It have begun and those in the inside promise a better production than last spring's Twelfth Night. The play will be given on the campus.

DONALD ROBERTSON ENGAGEMENT.

Donald Robertson, who will present Dr. Burton's "Rahab" next fall will be at the University May 14th to give a play both afternoon and evening. Dr. Burton, in speaking of Mr. Robertson, says—

"I consider Donald Robertson one of the strongest and most interesting personalities in the theatrical field today. He has been playing in Chicago for nearly a year, and the Record-Herald recently said that in six months he had given more plays that are worth while than any other manager has produced in six years. His indomitable energy and perseverance in his high standards in the face of heart-breaking discouragement have been marvelous, and he has at last won out by the force of sheer merit."

1907 IN THE PROFESSIONAL CLASS.

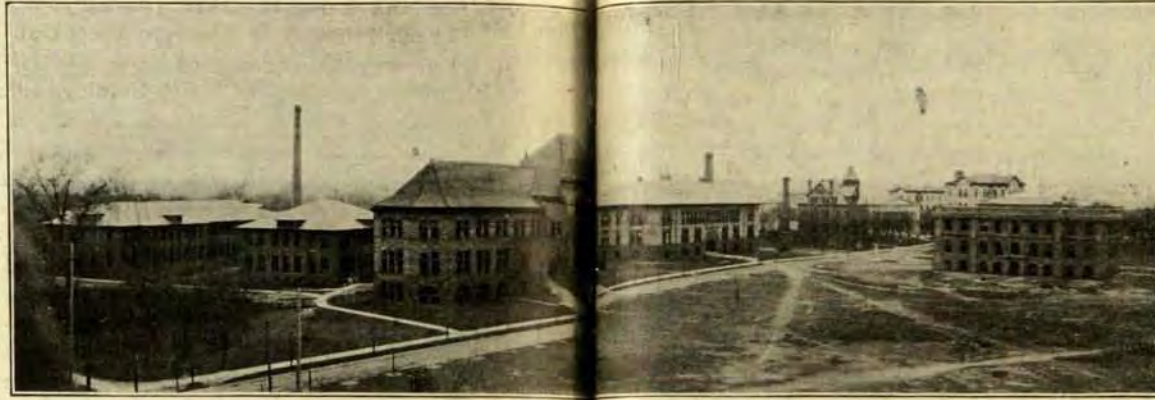

The class play of the class of 1907 has been sold to a Chicago Company which is producing it under the name of "Hicks in College."

SENIOR PROM.

Plans are under way for the great social event of the senior year. A special effort is being made this year to bring the alumni into closer touch with the graduating class, and with that end in view the Prom. will be held on Tuesday evening, June 9th, the night before Alumni Day, so that visiting alumni will have a chance to attend. The place will be the Masonic Temple, the Armory having been given up on account of the great expense of decorating and the condition of the floor.

LISTENERS DELIGHTED.

Miss Elizabeth Walsingham of the Minneapolis School of Oratory gave a delightful presentation of Long's "Madame Butterfly" in Dr. Burton's American literature class Wednesday morning. Miss Walsingham's voice and manner were well fitted to present the appealing pathos of the little classic.

BIRD'S EYE VIEW OF CAMPUS

BIG MEET MAY 9TH.

The All-University meet set for May 9th is arousing much interest about the University. Conditions have been none too favorable for outdoor practice, but many interesting events are assured. The board has been very liberal in its offer of prizes which is likely to stimulate still greater interest.

NORTHROP—OWEN—BOSS.

Last Tuesday President Northrop, Hon. Sidney M. Owen, member of the board of regents, and Professor Andrew Boss, of the department of agriculture, talked to the members of the Publicity club gathered for their noon-day luncheon at the West. Professor Boss spoke of the possibility of increased crop production and its relation to the development of the northwest; Mr. Owen, of the Farm, Stock and Home, told the club what the cities owed to the agriculturist. President Northrop spoke of the fact that Minneapolis is a delightful place to live because of the character of its citizens. He said: "Minneapolis makes good, the University makes good, but it is absolutely necessary that the state should be filled with the right kind of citizens."

He will spend the time in Göttingen, where he will be able to finish three semesters' work with some of the most famous mathematicians of the world. He will return to the University for the college year 1909-10.

Professor and Mrs. Brooke will leave about the first of June for a year abroad. Dr. Bauer and Professor Brooke expect to spend August together touring France.

Professor Erikson, '96, will spend the year in England doing graduate work in physics. Mrs. Erikson will accompany Professor Erikson.

COACHED BY MISS HOLTZ.

"The Elopement of Ellen," will be presented on the evening of May 6th in the lecture-room of the Church of the Redeemer, 2nd ave. So. and 8th street, under the direction of Miss Eleanor Holtz, '96. The cast includes the following persons:—Mr. Ralph Watson, Miss Charlotte Lilienthal, Mr. Frank Wiestenburg, Miss Fannie Kilbourne, Mr. Elwood J. Way, Miss Justina Rhea, Mr. Chas. B. Beery.

The play is being given for the joint benefit of the Y. P. C. U. and the Flower Mission. The music will be furnished by The Central High School Orchestra.

FRATERNITY BANQUETS.

Saturday, April 25th, Nu Sigma Nu, held a banquet at the Minnesota Club in St. Paul.

Dr. C. A. Erdman acted as chairman and the following members of the medical profession responded to toasts: Dr. A. S. Gillette, Dean F. F. Wesbrook, of the medical department, Dr. F. A. Dunsmoor, Dr. C. E. Riggs, Dr. J. F. Fulton, Dr. G. D. Head, Dr. C. J. Bloom, Dr. E. R. Hare and Dr. J. T. Christianson.

MANCHESTER HAS NARROW ESCAPE.

Professor J. E. Manchester, '84, had a narrow escape from death last Tuesday morning at the deadly Oak street grade crossing. He was walking to the University and finding the gates up did not look for a train. When near the middle of the track he heard the engine of the fast passenger whistle and made a jump just in time to avoid being run down. He did not, however, entirely escape, for the pilot of the engine struck his arm, breaking it and sending his books flying. When the train had passed he picked up his books and started for the University. He soon discovered that his glasses were gone and went back and found them, then went to his class as usual. He soon found that the injury to his arm and the nervous shock were too much for him and he was obliged to give up and go home. He was able to be out again the last part of the week to meet his classes.

DR. BAUER HAS GONE TO EUROPE.

Dr. and Mrs. George N. Bauer, '94, have gone to Göttingen, Germany, for fifteen months' work in mathematics.

ence C. Dinehart, '99, state treasurer, was master of ceremonies. The following program of toasts was responded to—

"Delta U in Hawaii," George DeS. Canavarro, Minn. '08; "Delta U in Business," Luman C. Simons, Minn. '95; vocal solo, Walter Mallory, Minn. '08; "Delta U in College," Chester Wilson, Minn. '08; "Tainted Money," Newton P. Stewart, Minn. '96; piano solo, Frank L. Bibb, Minn. '09; "Delta U makes good," James H. Harris, Mich. '91; "Spasm," Mark D. Hawkins, Minn. '06; "Sprouts," Frank Reese, Minn. '11; "Delta U in Journalism," Ralph H. Mitchell, Minn. '05.

PERSONALS.

The following named alumni have also gone into the new Donaldson building for the practice of medicine: Drs. Jennings C. Litzenberg, '06, Med. '99; O. K. Richardson, '90; Hom. '93; George B. Hamlin, Hom. '96. Frank C. Todd, Dent. '91, Med. '92, will soon move into new offices which are now being prepared for him in the same building.

J. Paul Goode, '89, who has been in Washington for some time past is now at Crookston, Minn.

James Gray, '85, who made his debut as a public humorous lecturer, last Wednesday night, delighted his hearers with his talk. He was introduced by President Northrop who referred to the welcome which Mr. Gray, as the representative of the student body, gave him at the time of his inauguration as president.

George S. Grimes, '81, has announced that he is a candidate for the republican aldermanic nomination from the 13th ward. Mr. Grimes comes out with a flat-footed statement of his stand on the important questions before the people of the city today. He is a man who deserves the support which he will doubtless receive.

Claude Haney, '03, Med. '06, is practicing medicine at Duluth, 1930 West Superior street.

Frank T. Howes, Eng. '06, who has been in the city for some time past, has again taken up work with the N. P. Ry., at Drummond, Mont. His address is as above care of F. Beckwith, assistant principal engineer.

Joseph O. Jorgens, '91, who has been principal of the Jackson school for the past nine years was recently promoted to the principalship of the South Side high school, by the Board of Education of this city. The promotion comes directly as a reward for past services and is deserved.

Rita Kendall, '04, who has been teaching in the high school at Eveleth, Minn., has been re-elected for another year. Miss Kendall recently spent a day on the campus.

Nels B. Nelson, Eng. '04, who has been in San Francisco in the interests of the Minneapolis Steel and Machinery Company, has returned to this city and is now to be found at his old post at the company's plant in South Minneapolis.

Dr. O. C. Nelson, Dent. '09, of Morris, Minn., was at the University last Friday. Dr. Nelson has been located at Morris since graduation but has decided to go to Wahpeton, N. D., some time during the coming summer. Dr. Nelson is the holder of the University track record for 440-yard dash, which he made in 1897 in 50½ seconds, duplicating his feat again the following year.

Ed Purdy, ex-'03, is with the Erickson Artificial Limb Company, 12 Washington avenue north, city.

Sara Preston, '07, is teaching in the high school at Glenwood, Wis. Miss Preston has had the training of her school's candidate for the district declamatory contest which was recently held at River Falls. Miss Preston's protégé won second place in a field of eight candidates.

The recent death of the Hon. Swan Nelson and the removal of W. I. Nolan, representative from the 42nd district, has brought out two new candidates for the positions, S. Louis Solem, Law '02, and E. C. A. Lundeen, of debating fame, who did not complete his university course. These men are both good men and will not only serve their constituents well in the legislature but will be valuable additions to the growing alumni representation in the legislature.

Dr. Lars P. Solsness, '95, has recently moved from Philadelphia to New York for the practice of his profession. His address for the present will be General Delivery, Brooklyn, N. Y.

OF GENERAL INTEREST.

Professor Schlenker's class in advanced conversation gave another German play last Friday at the 4th hour in Professor Moore's room.

A Taft club has been organized at the University and "Pudge" Heffelfinger attended its first meeting last Wednesday evening and gave the students a talk on the duty of the student to take an active interest in politics.

The University Equal Suffrage association held its last meeting for the year last Thursday, at which an address was given by Dr. Phelan upon Democracy. Dr. Phelan spoke of the world-wide movement for political equality as one phase of democracy. "Real democracy," he said, "is the free opportunity for every man and woman to make the best of himself or herself and to contribute to the general welfare."

The senior promenade will be held in Masonic Temple on the evening of June 9th. The committee of the class are making a special effort to get out as many alumni as possible to this affair.

T. D. O'Brien, who finished his course of lectures to the law students last Friday, spoke Thursday upon the recent supreme court decision in the Great Northern rate case, giving a history of the case and discussing the law involved in the decision.

The Athletic Board of Control, at a recent meeting, authorized the employment of an assistant track coach. An effort is being made to secure Glenn Greaves, who was track captain of the 1906 team and winner of the half-mile run in the western conference meet of 1905.

Dean Downey left last Saturday for a few days' visit to Chicago and other institutions to interview certain candidates for places on the academic faculty.

was close throughout and had an exciting finish.

Saturday the same teams again clashed and Minnesota came out ahead with a score of 6 to 4. This game was closely contested all the way through and was won by the better team.

Minnesota has a good team this year and has yet to meet a better team, which is a pleasant surprise to the fans who had figured out a weak team for the season.

INTERESTING MEETING ASSURED.

On the evening of May 15th the Graduate Club and Sigma Xi will hold a joint meeting in the Amphitheatre of the Institute of Public Health and Pathology building. The meeting will be of unusual interest from the fact that Dean Westbrook will address the meeting upon the subject of rabies. Opportunity will be given to inspect the state laboratory devoted to this subject, which is located in this building.

FIVE-YEAR COURSE FOR ENGINEERS.

The schedule for the five-year engineering course was submitted to Registrar Pierce late yesterday afternoon.

The chief innovation is an increasing preponderance toward the study of the languages. The main changes are these: for first year, which is the same for all civil, mechanical, and electrical engineers the changes are; three hours shop-work will be substituted for Chemistry I. Three credit hours will be required in some modern language, German I or IV, or French I, III or IV. Qualitative chemistry will be taught in the second year.

The remaining four years will be practically the same as the present course.

"DUTCH TREAT" LUNCHEONS.

One of the recent developments of life among the alumni far from Alma Mater, is the "Dutch treat" luncheon. The alumni designate a place and agree to lunch at that place as often as possible one Saturday each month. This always brings a number of the alumni together who thus have opportunity to spend an hour pleasantly. The idea takes well where it has been tried and promises to become even more popular as time goes on. Last week, a Minneapolis alumnus, Washington Yale, Jr., Law '98, suggested that such a plan might prove to be very acceptable to the alumni of Minneapolis and might lead to the establishment of a University club, which so many University men would like to see in this city. There seems to be no good reason why such a plan might not prove to be very attractive to alumni living in this city and we should be glad to hear from any of the alumni who are interested in the matter. If there is any general interest exhibited in the proposition something along the line suggested will be undertaken.

QUESTION OF REGENT.

When a vacancy occurred in the Board of Regents, through the death of Regent Noyes, the Board of Directors of the General Alumni Association sent Governor Johnson a list of names of eight men, any one of whom would be acceptable to the alumni to succeed Regent Noyes. Last week Monday this list was given out from the governor's office to the daily press. Accompanying this list the daily papers stated that as the governor had often listened to the alumni in the past, he was likely to do so this time, and that the choice would probably fall upon one of the gentlemen named in the list. The list follows: W. D. Willard, Mankato; O. A. Lende, Marshall; W. H. Hoyt, Duluth; C. A. Smith, D. P. Jones and L. S. Gillette, Minneapolis; J. W. Willis and Charles L. Sommers, St. Paul.

It was expected that Governor Johnson would choose a man before the meeting of the board, last Thursday. But no announcement has yet been made.

THE ALUMNI CAN HELP.

The action of the regents at their meeting last Thursday opens a way for the Minneapolis alumni to do something to help the University. The question of lowering the Northern Pacific tracks is one that is to be settled by the city council, probably very soon, and it is up to the alumni living in Minneapolis to get busy and use their influence with their own aldermen to get them to stand for lowering these tracks. The question is a serious one and its proper decision means much to the future of the University. The campus is now divided by three railway systems running through it and when it is extended further toward Oak street, as it will undoubtedly be some day, the raising of the N. P. tracks would simply aggravate an already intolerable condition. Do what you can about this matter and do it soon for the time is short.

THE NEXT LEGISLATURE.

The members of the senate hold over and that body is as fair-minded toward all matters affecting the University, as any friend of the University could ask. The House is to come up again for election. Now is the time when the alumni can serve the state well by helping to secure the nomination of men who will keep open and fair minds on all questions, affecting not only the University, but all other matters that may come up. It is not a matter to be desired that every member of the legislature be a backer of the University, but there should be no enemies of the University, or any other state institution, there. All that friends of the University can fairly ask or desire is that the members elected to that body shall be fair-minded men, ready to listen to the facts presented and to act intelligently in the light of such facts. If the University cannot win what is needed by such tactics, we prefer to see it fail to get all that we feel that it really needs.

The alumni should also be ready, at the call of duty, to serve the state in the legislature. No honest man, who has any business at all, can serve the state as a member of the legislature save at an actual money loss. But the man who really desires to render service to the state, and who is willing to make the sacrifice of time and money necessary, can do it here as well or better than in almost any other position. There has been an increasing number of alumni each year in the legislature; we hope that this year may prove to be no exception to the rule. The state needs the men who have received their training in the University.

Take time to learn how your own representatives stood last year and then, if they desire to be returned, take time to find out how they stand now and how they will stand provided they are re-elected. Candidates can be much more easily persuaded before than after election. Let them know of your interest in the University and try to place before them the real facts concerning the University and what it means to the state to have such an institution within its borders.

THE ALUMNI PICNIC.

The alumni picnic will be held as usual on alumni day, June 10th. This is one of the best opportunities of the year to meet and greet old friends. Send word to those you want to meet especially and ask them to meet you on the campus on the day set. You will enjoy it yourself and you will help others to have a good time. Plan to be present. It is hoped to have the young women of the University do as they did last year, furnish coffee and sandwiches to those desiring such refreshment. This will make it possible for everyone to be provided for even though they do not live in the city. Remember the date—June 10th—Noon.

THE CARNEGIE PENSION.

The action of the Regents in requesting the Legislature to make application to have the University admitted to share the benefits of the Carnegie Foundation, was expected and is gratifying. The matter will be up to the legislature when it meets and the alumni should be ready to stand behind the proposition for it means much to the future of the University.

MATHEMATICS MAY BE DROPPED.

It is said that mathematics, as a required freshman subject in the college of science, literature and the arts, may be dropped. There has been considerable pressure along this line for many years and the matter has been discussed by the faculty at a recent meeting and will come up for final settlement soon.

ORIGINAL MUSICAL COMPOSITION CONCERT.

The class in original composition will be assisted in their concert which takes place May 15 by Mrs. Agnes Griswold Kinnard, soprano; Mr. Augustus Milner, barytone; Mr. Arthur E. Allen, barytone; Mr. Theodore Dahl, flutist, and Mr. Harvey Samuels, cellist.

The members of the class who have composed the music are Gertrude Hull, Louise Leavenworth, Ella Hopkins and Frank Bibb.

UNIVERSITY BAND IN CONCERT.

Next Wednesday evening, May 13, the members of the University Business Men's Association are to entertain the University students and the whole of Southeast Minneapolis with a grand band concert, and have hired the University band to furnish the music.

DONALD ROBERTSON, May 14th.

The coming of Donald Robertson is going to be one of the great events of the present University year. The plays will both be given in the University chapel. Pailleron's "Triumph of Youth" will be given in the afternoon and in the evening, Browning's "Blot on the Scutcheon." The Daily Maroon of Chicago University, in commenting on Mr. Robertson's work, is very enthusiastic. The sale of seats is going rapidly, one-third going the first day of the sale.

DEBATERS CHOSEN FOR NEXT YEAR.

Last Tuesday evening the trials for choosing debaters for the next college year were held. There were eighteen candidates tried out and the contest was the best preliminary ever held at the University. The judges were obliged to reject much material that they would have been glad to give a chance on the teams. The result was as follows: C. E. Carlson, Harold Deering, Clarence Harter, Max Lowenthal, Zenas Potter and John Sinclair were chosen for the teams and Messrs. Houck and Johnson were chosen alternates. Deering and Potter are the only men who have been in intercollegiate debate before. The teams were made up by placing Carlson, Deering and Harter on the team that is to meet Illinois at Champaign and Lowenthal, Potter and Sinclair will meet

Iowa in the University chapel. Houck was put on as an alternate for the team to go to Illinois and Johnson for the team to stay at home. This insures two strong teams to uphold Minnesota in the field of debate for the coming college year.

DEAN WULLING IN DEMAND.

Dean Wulling gave an address before the Minnesota Academy of Sciences last Monday evening upon "The opsonic theory of the new hygiene"; he also lectured at Mankato on the evening of May 6th upon "Ethical pharmacy and medicine"; the following evening he repeated the same address at St. Peter. The dean has been invited to deliver addresses at the state meeting of pharmacists at Alexandria, June 17th, at the New York State meeting at Catskill, June 23d, and at the New Jersey meeting at Trenton, June 29th. He will deliver an address before the American Pharmaceutical Association at Hot Springs, Arkansas, next September and has been obliged to decline an invitation to deliver the commencement address of the Columbia University College of Pharmacy.

Dean Wulling has been re-elected, for three years, to the council of the American Pharmaceutical Association and also as one of the five members constituting the executive committee of the American Conference of Pharmaceutical Faculties. The fact that Dean Wulling holds membership in the most important committees of these bodies places Minnesota well to the fore among the colleges of pharmacy in this country.

The increased standard for admission which is soon to go into effect in the college of pharmacy will have little or no effect on the college, for of the fifty-eight new men entering the college this year, fifty could have qualified under the new requirement of a full high-school course.

REGENTS MEETING.

Last Thursday the Board of Regents put in a long day's session on business for the University. There were present Regents Northrop, Olsen, Owen, Wilson, Nelson, Rice, Lind and Hovland.

A standing committee of five members was raised to consider all matters connected with the college of engineering and the school of mines. New committees were appointed by President Lind. The new salary committee consists of Regents Wilson, Northrop and Owen and to this committee was referred all requests for increases of salary and the committee will meet May 20th.

Professor Anderson, of the history department, was given a leave of absence for the second semester of next year.

Professor E. K. Slater was made assistant professor of dairy husbandry at a salary of $2,400 to commence work January 1st, 1909. J. P. Stewart was made assistant professor of engineering and physics, in the department of agriculture at a salary of $2,400. Robert C. Lansing was made assistant professor of English in the department of agriculture at a salary of $1,500. H. B. Roe, formerly a student of the University, was made instructor in mathematics in the school of agriculture.

A resolution was passed asking the city council to order the Northern Pacific tracks lowered where they pass through the campus.

Another resolution asked to have improvements on Washington avenue postponed until such time as plans for the greater campus have been settled.

It was voted to recommend to the legislature that it ask the Carnegie Foundation trustees to admit the University to share the benefits of that Foundation.

A committee consisting of Regents Lind, Wilson and Nelson was raised to consider and report upon an age limit for retiring professors in the University.

It was voted to ask the police department to provide better policing of the campus, especially on Sundays.

A resolution was passed assuring several professors who are in line to receive promotions this year, and who cannot be granted such raises, due to the lack of funds, that their cases will receive attention at the earliest possible moment.

The question of swimming pool and running track was referred to the executive committee with power to act.

Two candidates were considered for the position made vacant by the death of Professor McDermott,—Mr. Holliday, of the University of Illinois and Mr. Rarig, of Northwestern. The matter was referred to Regents Lind and Northrop with power to act.

The question of maintaining or abolishing the college of homeopathic medicine and surgery was referred to the committee on that college to consider and report at the next meeting.

It was voted to retain Mr. Reep, instructor in sociology. Mr. Reep came to the University this semester as a temporary assistant.

The question of appointing a new man in the department of political science, to have charge of a new course in accounting, was laid over to the June meeting. John L. Coulter, of the University of Wisconsin, was made instructor in that department. The department was also allowed $300 for a stenographer.

Mr. Charles Williams, of the department of German, was given a year's leave of absence, without pay.

Professor Sanford was voted $600 for extra work during the current year.

Frederick H. Scott, of the University Hospital College, of London, was elected assistant professor of physiology, at a salary of $1,800.

Elting H. Comstock, of the department of mathematics of the school of mines, was made assistant professor.

The request of Dean Comstock for the appointment of an assistant in physical training for young women, to have charge of basketball and such sports, was referred to the executive committee with power to act.

Dr. Green was made instructor in operative dentistry.

The name of the department of sociology was changed to sociology and anthropology.

Professor Butters of the department of pharmacy was transferred to the department of botany.

The request of the Minnesota Union for an approval of the constitution, recently adopted, and the location of the proposed building upon the campus, was referred to the committee on grounds and buildings with the understanding that the Board doubted its powers to make the $4 annual fee for membership compulsory.

Resolutions on the death of Regent Noyes were adopted.

The proposal to establish a course in journalism was referred to the committee on science, literature and the arts, to consider and recommend.

Mr. Gerould, the librarian, was given a leave of absence for July, August and September.

The East high school was given the use of the Armory for their commencement June 3d.

It was voted that the University cadet corps be required to take part in the Memorial Day parade.

Dr. H. M. Reid was given a year's leave of absence without pay.

A recommendation of the University Council concerning entrance requirements was approved. We shall give space to this matter next week.

OF GENERAL INTEREST.

The Crack Squad played an afternoon and evening engagement at the Orpheum last Saturday.

The men's annual tennis tournament begins today.

The University Forestry club dined at the Nicollet last Tuesday evening.

The final concert of the University Glee and Mandolin clubs last Monday evening was a success.

Minne-ha-ha appeared last Thursday.

A Bryan club has been organized at the University.

The senior medics will visit the state school for the feeble-minded at Faribault, May 16th. They go at the invitation of Dr. Rogers, the superintendent and while there will visit the other state institutions located in that city.

The freshmen and sophomore engineers are discussing, rather forcibly, the propriety of the freshmen donning and wearing the new caps which the class have bought.

The Donald Robertson engagement will be played in chapel and will come on the afternoon and evening of May 14th. The first day's sale of seats was very encouraging.

One half of the zinc etchings used in the last number of Minnehaha were made by Mr. Frary's class in engraving.

Dean Frankforter is back on the campus. He has been laid up for several weeks by serious illness and is still unable to do much more than to show himself to his friends to let them know he is recovering.

W. I. Fisher, secretary of the Minnesota and North Dakota Underwriters' association, spoke to the students last Friday afternoon on the subject, "Distribution of loss and scientific rating."

The Delta Kappa Epsilon fraternity held a reunion of the active chapter and the Northwestern Alumni Association at their chapter house last Wednesday evening.

The Graduate Club and the Sigma Xi fraternity will have a joint meeting May 15 in the Institute of Public Health and Pathology. The subject of rabies will be discussed by members of the faculty.

The Delta Sigma Delta dental fraternity held its annual banquet at the West Hotel, Monday evening, May 11. Alumni from several states were present.

W. T. Dacy and Wilbur Joyce were the delegates from the Minnesota chapter of Phi Delta Phi to the national convention of the fraternity held at Iowa City, May 2. National officers for the year were elected and it was decided to hold next year's convention in Cincinnati.

CROSS BATS WITH NEBRASKA.

Last Thursday afternoon the Minnesota team crossed bats with Nebraska and had the game well in hand when the team went to pieces and allowed the Nebraskans to tie the score, 4 to 4. Then neither team could score and in the eleventh inning the manager of the Nebraska team called his men off on account of a ruling of the umpire. The ruling did look rather bad but the ruling just immediately preceding the one complained of was clearly as much against Minnesota as this was against Nebraska and the two evened up matters. The game was given to Minnesota by default.

THE MINNESOTA UNION FORMED.

The final draft of the constitution for the proposed Minnesota Union was finished by the general committee May 1st and was submitted to the men of the University last Tuesday for ratification. There were about one hundred fifty men out to attend the constitutional convention. There was a lively discussion over many of the provisions and several amendments were made. The first thing to arouse discussion was the provision for a compulsory fee to be paid by all men. This was voted down, and later in the meeting was taken up and restored so as to require such a fee. The other matter which aroused much discussion was that of making permanent provision for the Y. M. C. A. in the building. This discussion waxed hot but it was soon discovered that the vote would stand two to one in favor of making such a provision. The convention finally voted to ratify the constitution with this provision in it.

A committee was appointed to present the constitution to the Board of Regents and ask for an approval of the constitution or a statement as to what the board would approve. The regents referred the matter to a committee with the understanding that the board doubted its power to enforce the proposed required fee. Here the matter rests.

In regard to the permanent provision for the Young Men's Christian Association, it is to be said, that that association had plans well under way to secure a building of their own and when this proposition for a men's building came up, the Y. M. C. A. was approached and asked to drop its own project and go into the larger movement, with the understanding that the association should be provided for liberally and permanently in the new building. This was done and the facts show that the Y. M. C. A. men subscribed about two-thirds of the $30,000 raised by the students and furnished two-thirds of the workers in that campaign. The provision asked for was the very least that they could accept and do their work at all.

The building is supposed to make provision for all men's organizations about the University and to unite all men of the University in every movement for the betterment of the University.

The following paragraphs from the constitution are the main ones of interest to the alumni.

CONSTITUTION OF THE MINNESOTA UNION.

ARTICLE I.

Name.

Section 1.—The name of the association shall be the Minnesota Union.

ARTICLE II.

Purpose.

Section 1.—The purpose of this association shall be to promote the best interests and welfare of the University of Minnesota, and comradeship among its members and to erect and maintain a suitable club house for such purposes.

ANDERSON AS A REVIEWER.

Professor Frank M. Anderson, '94, appears as a reviewer in the April number of the American Historical Review. He reviews Hanotaux's "Contemporary France," Vol. 3, and also "Court Life of the Second French Empire," by Le Petit Homme Rouge. This number of the Review contains an epitome of the paper read by Professor Anderson at the last annual meeting of the American Historical Association, held last winter at Madison, Wis. This paper dealt with the Virginia and Kentucky Resolutions from the standpoint of Western history.

The same number of the Review contains a very favorable mention of Professor Allin's new book of which mention was recently made in these columns.

Professor Anderson expects to spend most of the time granted him in his leave of absence during the second semester of next year in France. He will spend much of the time in the libraries of Paris and with the men who are the leading authorities on modern history. He will spend some time in Italy and England and Germany also.

ALUMNI PHARMACY NOTES.

The State Board of Pharmacy held its quarterly examination at the college of pharmacy from April 20th to 29th inclusive. The following graduates and senior students of the college took the examination and were successful: H. G. Egbert, B. A. Deterling, E. S. Erckenbrack, G. A. Holmgren, C. A. Thomson, and E. P. Kennedy.

Henry F. Hubbard, '04, who was with Smetana of Hopkins for several years, is now head clerk in the Eureka Drug Store of Dr. Harrah of Minneapolis.

Paul C. Fuller, '02, is the senior member of the firm, Fuller and Britzius, of Rochester, Minn. The firm has recently enlarged its establishment by the addition of considerable furniture.

Charles W. Wulling, '08, has enlarged his already handsome pharmacy at Little Falls, Minn.

Alex. H. Fjelstad, '95, of the firm, Olson and Fjelstad of Blooming Prairie, has been re-elected recorder of his town for the fourth consecutive term.

E. P. Kennedy, '06, who has just passed the state examinations, is with Persall's Pharmacy, 20th Avenue North and Dupont, Minneapolis.

B. A. Deterling, '07, is now a full registered pharmacist in the employ of Allen Brothers, Nicollet Avenue and 17th Street, Minneapolis.

C. H. Allen, '07, is now in the pharmaceutical manufacturing laboratory of Messrs. Noyes Brothers and Cutler, of St. Paul.

PERSONALS.

past few weeks in California. Mrs. Eggleston was accompanied by her children and has just returned home.

Deutsch, Allen and Breeding is the name of a new law firm composed of University law graduates. The members of the firm are Henry Deutsch, Law, '94, formerly of the firm of Nye & Deutsch; Edward P. Allen, Law '07, who was a student in the academic department in the early nineties, a member of the last legislature and president of the Mercantile Adjustment Company; A. M. Breeding, Law '06, who has been connected with the same company. The new firm will have offices in the new Palace building which is being erected at corner of Nicollet and 4th street. Until that building is completed, about June 1st, they will transact business at 610 New York Life building or 340 Temple Court. The collection department of the new firm will continue to be under the charge of the Mercantile Adjustment Company.

Mrs. Clifford Ward, (Jeannette Baier, '06) has been travelling through the south during the winter as special agent expert to investigate the condition of women and child labor in the cotton industries. She travelled through the Carolinas, Georgia, Alabama and Mississippi. Mrs. Ward made it a point to visit the educational institutions of the various points which she visited and found nothing to wean her from Minnesota. She is making her headquarters in Boston, Mass., while finishing her assignment in New England. She will spend the summer in Maine or Canada.

William B. Bebb, Law '92, is a member of the firm of Flueck & Bebb, with offices in the Mutual building, Seattle, Wash.

Edna B. Bowler, '07, who has been high school assistant in Brown's Valley, Minnesota, will hold a similar position in Springfield next year.

George A. Clark, '91, secretary of Stanford University, expects to spend commencement week at the University. He has not been at the University since graduating in 1891.

Elizabeth P. Fairfield, '07, who has been principal in Brown's Valley this year, will go to Springfield, as principal next year.

Mr. and Mrs. Hallett W. Hill announce the engagement of their daughter, Agnes Mary, to Dr. Henry William Goehrs, Med. '05. The wedding will take place June 3.

Ernest E. Hemmingway, '03, is pursuing his medical work and will graduate this spring. He is connected with the Asbury hospital.

Dr. A. G. Hovde, Med. '03, expects soon to remove his office from Biwabik and locate in Superior, Wis.

F. T. Howes, Min. '06, has just been promoted to be resident engineer of the N. P., at Frenchtown, Mont.

Nora Koehler, '04, is teaching in Minot, N. D.

John Mitchell, ex-'07, is working in the city engineer's office, St. Paul.

Clara Edith Morley, '01, formerly of Jordan, Minn., is now living in Springfield, Vermont.

Hannah O'Gordon, '03, who is given in the alumni directory as living at Devil's Lake, N. D., is living in this city at 808 10th avenue southeast.

Horace Reed, ex-'06, was at the University last week. He has just completed his course at the University of Chicago and in about two months he will leave there with a party sent out by that institution to make investigations in the Orient. The party will be gone for over a year and will go first to England, then will begin its actual work at Constantinople; will go then through Syria, then to India and will spend some time there and then go to China, where five months will be spent. The purpose of the expedition is broadly educational and will include an investigation of the life of the peoples of the countries visited, including religion, education, sociological conditions, economic conditions, and anything that will throw light upon the life of the people. Mr. Reed will be the business manager of the expedition and will have an opportunity to get a training that will be most valuable to him.

J. Homer Reed, '02, is in the Chase National Bank of New York City.

Mrs. Louise Robinson Rhodes, '92, spent a week recently in Colorado, where she was the guest of a club of girls in the Colorado university at Boulder, who have petitioned for a chapter in the Delta Delta Delta sorority, of which Mrs. Rhodes is grand vice-president. She attended a number of functions given in her honor in both Boulder and Denver. From Colorado Mrs. Rhodes goes to California where she will be the guest of the girls of Leland Stanford at Palo Alto who have also petitioned for a local chapter in Tri-Delta. She will visit the active chapter of the University of California, at Berkeley, where she will be the guest during the commencement week of the alumnae. A number of elaborate receptions have been planned for Mrs. Rhodes by the California girls. On her way west, Mrs. Rhodes spent a day with the Tri-Deltas at the University of Nebraska in Lincoln, where the national convention of the sorority is to be held in June.

SPECIAL BACCALAUREATE MUSIC.

Professor Scott is making elaborate plans for something especially fine in the music line for the baccalaureate services. Both the Men's and the Woman's Glee clubs will participate. Prof. Scott will call practices as soon as he has definitely assigned the different numbers.

THE ALUMNI PICNIC.

Remember the alumni picnic. It is going to be held Wednesday noon, June 10th. Every alumnus and every former student is invited. Bring your husband or your wife and enjoy yourself. This is the most informal occasion of the year and the most enjoyable meeting of the alumni. Write to your friends and ask them to meet you on the campus at that time. There will be an opportunity to procure coffee, sandwiches, ice cream and cake on the ground. The University Y. W. C. A. will serve lunch at reasonable prices.

This is the third time the alumni of this institution have been together for a picnic and both the former occasions have been most enjoyable. Plan your class reunions so that you can be together at this time.

Remember that the picnic is to come off rain or shine. If it should rain the picnic will be held in the Armory, as it was last year.

A FINE IDEA—WHY NOT HERE?

News comes from Seattle, Wash., that the college faculty of the University of Washington, recently held a reception and smoker for college men living in that city. There are estimated to be about four or five thousand college men living in that city. There were about twelve hundred out. Minnesota had twenty-five representatives present, there being about one hundred U. of M. men in that city. The various college groups vied with each other in giving their college yells and singing their college songs. One of the features of the evening was an in-door baseball game between picked men representing the alumni of the various colleges. Minnesota was represented by C. P. Harris, C. Costello, H. D. Lackore, T. F. Courtney, L. K. Sowle, J. H. Kane, J. R. Getty, C. Glass, and Horace Wilson. This team first met Nebraska and defeated them 3 to 0. In the second try-out met Wisconsin and defeated them 0 to 0. In the third try-out beat Yale 0 to 0. Then Purdue fell victim 3 to 0. When it came to the finals the team beat Washington 6 to 4 and won the championship. It is said that the boys put up a fine game and deservedly won.

There were sixteen teams in the series.

Why should not the faculty of the University do this in this city? It would arouse unbounded interest in the University and would give us the good will of many who are now uninterested or indifferent.

CLASS REUNIONS.

The following named classes have planned for reunions this year:

1883 will celebrate its 25th anniversary.

1888 will celebrate its twentieth anniversary by a reunion at the picnic and with a banquet the same evening.

1890 will hold its reunion at the home of E. P. Allen, 2016 Harriet Ave., Wednesday evening, June 10th.

1893 are also planning a big time.

1894 will meet at Mr. and Mrs. Bisbee's, at 418 5th Street Southeast.

1898 are planning to get together with Miss Harris, at 2401 Park Ave.

1903 have a committee planning for a reunion, at Alice Shevlin Hall on the evening of June 9th.

1905 will meet at the picnic and the same evening at the home of Helen Fish, 2301 3d Avenue south.

If other classes are planning reunions please notify the Weekly so that an announcement can be made next week.

CLASS OF 1890 IN LINE.

The class of 1890 will hold a reunion at the home of E. P. Allen, 2016 Harriet Avenue, on the evening of June 10. All members and ex-members of the class are invited.

1898 WILL CELEBRATE TENTH ANNIVERSARY.

The members of the class of 1898 will celebrate their tenth anniversary by getting together at the alumni picnic on the 10th of June, and the same evening will have their special reunion at the home of Mary Cone Harris, 2401 Park Ave. The committee in charge consists of Dr. Adair, Misses Harris and Marvin, and Messrs. Stevens and Swenson. A good attendance is expected and a jolly good time is assured for those who can turn out.

1901 NIGHT LAWS.

The night law class of 1901 held their annual banquet at Crombie's, in Minneapolis, April 29th. A most enjoyable time is reported by those present.

CLASS OF 1905 PLANS REUNION

One evening last week about twenty-five members of the class of 1905 met at the home of Miss Bessie Plummer, 740 East 16th St., to talk over plans for a big reunion during commencement week. The reunion will take place on the evening of June 10th at the home of Miss Helen Fish, 2301 3d Avenue South. Plans are being made for a gay time and something out of the ordinary is promised for those who turn out. The members of the class are also planning to turn out in force for the alumni picnic Wednesday noon of commencement week. If any member of the class is missed by the notices which the class are sending out it is to be understood that it is because their address is not known. Every member of the class is wanted.

TO ALUMNI OF WASHINGTON AND OREGON.

If you have not yet been in communication with the officers of either the Washington or Oregon associations, make yourself known to them at the earliest possible moment. If you know of any other alumni or former students who are likely to be missed, send in their names also. Lewis Schwager, of Seattle, is president of the Seattle Association and is to be addressed at the Lumber Exchange; if you live near Spokane, communicate with James H. Evans, the president, or with Earl Constantine; Dr. Fred A. Kiehle, Corbett building, Portland, Ore., is head push for the association in Portland, and the alumni who live in Oregon or who can reach Portland easier than either Seattle or Spokane, are urged to communicate with him. All alumni who are to be in Portland during the Rose week festival are urged to make it a point to be present at the meeting of the alumni which will be held during that week. You will miss the chance of enjoying many pleasant meetings if you neglect this matter.

The same statement is true of alumni living in other parts of the country. Identify yourselves with the local association.

MEETING OF ALUMNI IN OREGON.

The Minnesota alumni living in Oregon are planning a big reunion for the week beginning June 1st, the time of the great Portland Rose Festival. There will be special rates from all western points and it is hoped that many alumni from points in Washington may be present. Every alumnus who expects to be in that part of the country at that time is urged to communicate with Dr. Fred A. Kiehle, Corbett building, Portland, Ore.

ORIGINAL MUSICAL COMPOSITIONS.

*Omitted on account of illness of Miss Hull.

There are very few colleges in the country where such work is done more effectively than here at Minnesota. Professor Scott is an enthusiast and with too little encouragement he is doing a work that deserves the hearty backing of all lovers of the best in music.

The crowd, which nearly filled the chapel, showed its appreciation of the various numbers on the program. Owing to illness, Miss Hull was unable to appear and so two numbers which had been prepared by her were omitted.

The Weekly desires to congratulate Professor Scott and each member of the class. The program showed that the work that is being done by them is highly creditable to the University, as well as to those who had part in the program.

MINNESOTA MEN CALLED ON.

P. Blakiston, Son & Company will issue, in July, a new text book on Operative Dentistry, edited by C. N. Johnson, editor of the Dental Review. The various chapters have each been prepared by a specialist who is recognized as at the head of the profession in his particular line. Dean Alfred Owre, of the college of dentistry, has furnished the chapter on Filling materials, their characteristics, indications for their use and methods of manipulation. The chapter on Orthodontia was written by Herbert A. Pullen, Dent. '97, who is making a specialty of orthodontia and who is president of the American Society of Orthodontists. Dr. Pullen is recognized as a leading authority on this subject and is practicing his profession in Buffalo, N. Y. It is a matter of pride to Minnesotans that two graduates of our college of dentistry should have been asked to participate in the preparation of such a work.

LAST FACULTY DINING MEETING.

The last meeting of the Faculty Dining club will be held at Donaldson's tea rooms, Friday evening, May 22nd, at 6:15 o'clock. Married members of the faculty are expected to bring their wives. President Northrop, Governor Lind and other members of the board of regents will speak. It is expected that the meeting will be of unusual interest.

A GOOD MOVEMENT.

The athletic board of control has appointed a committee to look up the records of past track meets and to make arrangements for keeping future records of such events. These records have never been preserved in the past and they can only be secured from an investigation of copies of the city dailies and some of the early numbers of the Gophers.

THE ROBERTSON ENGAGEMENT SUCCESSFUL.

Donald Robertson and his company who played "The Triumph of Youth" and "The Blo; on the 'Scutcheon" at the University last Thursday afternoon and evening made a decided hit with the audiences which comfortably filled the chapel. The stage accessories were almost wholly lacking and the actors had no aid that proper surroundings give, but they made good. Everyone unites in the praise of Miss Bradley who had the leading rôle in the evening performance.

DRAMATISTS MEET.

Last Friday the Dramatic club held a meeting to promote the proposition of a University theatre.

MISS HICOX READS DAVIS.

Miss Hicox of Stanley Hall gave a pleasing interpretation of Richard Harding Davis' little masterpiece, "Her First Appearance," in Dr. Burton's American Literature class yesterday morning. The heart-appeal was presented in all its force.

CONCERT FOR Y. W. C. A.

The Ladies' Thursday Musical will give a concert of vocal and instrumental music in chapel next Wednesday at 4 o'clock. Some of the prominent vocal and violin soloists of the city will participate.

WOMEN ELIGIBLE.

The magazine board has started a new departure by nominating a number of young women as eligible for places on the board as their successors. The list of candidates is a good one and the subscribers can not go wrong in making a selection from the list.

MISS FINKLE, PROBATION OFFICER.

Kate Finkle, '05, at present a graduate student, recently received appointment as probation officer for the juvenile court of Minneapolis. She received her appointment from Judge Smith.

NEW SECRETARY FOR Y. W. C. A.

The advisory council of the Young Women's Christian Association at its meeting Monday appointed Leila Albrecht, ex-'08, general secretary of the University association for next year.

Miss Albrecht was prominent in association work while attending the University. This year she has been Y. W. C. A. secretary at the Normal School at Kirksville, Missouri.

Miss Margaret Burton, the present secretary, leaves in July on an extensive world-tour with her parents, Professor and Mrs. Ernest D. Burton of the University of Chicago.

CRESSEY WINS HIS CASE.

C. R. Cressey, a senior in the school of chemistry, was employed by the city last year to inspect the creosoting work being done by the company which furnishes the creosoted blocks for street paving in this city. Cressey labored under the idea that he was sent to inspect the work and see that the city received just what it was supposed to receive. According to the testimony which came out during the trial, Cressey was hindered in every way possible by the employes of the company and was not backed by his superiors in the city engineer's department, no attention being paid to his reports which showed that the blocks were not up to the standard called for by contract.

Last fall Mr. Cressey had Mr. Gilmore, an employe of the Creosoting Company arrested for assault and battery and the man was fined $25. But Cressey lost his position because he was too faithful, and when he could not get action in any other way, he brought suit for $10,000 damages against the company. This is the case which ended last Thursday with a verdict of $600 for Mr. Cressey. His case was handled by Messrs. Leonard and DeVaney, both University graduates. An appeal will doubtless be taken.

ACCOUNTING LECTURE.

The second of the lectures on "Accounting" was delivered in Dr. Burton's room last week. Mr. Herbert J. Freeman was the lecturer and his subject was "The Accounts of Saw Mills and Lumber Yards."

BASEBALL TEAM'S ANABASIS.

The baseball team is away on its annual trip. The first game of the season to be lost was taken by Ames. The second game on the trip was with Iowa and was won easily; Wisconsin won from Minnesota and in a game with Luther College the score stood 1 to 1 at the end of the 15th inning.

JUNIOR MINERS ON TRIP.

The junior class of the school of mines, numbering fifteen men, is now surveying on Columbia Heights. After they have finished their surface surveying, the class will leave for the Vermilion range, where they will do underground work. Later they will go to Denver and study methods of mining. After six weeks of this kind of study, they will be taken on the pay roll of the mines and put to real work.

ACACIA BANQUETS.

The Acacia fraternity held its annual banquet at the West Saturday evening, about fifty active and alumni members being present.

CATHOLIC ASSOCIATION PICNIC.

The University Catholic association held a picnic last Saturday afternoon and evening at Como Park, St. Paul.

PRIZES FOR TARIFF REFORM WORK.

The Tariff Reform committee, 42 Broadway, New York City, are offering two monthly prizes of $25 each, for each of six months. One prize will be awarded each month for the best article or editorial on the subject and one prize each month for the best cartoon on the subject. Full particulars of competition can be obtained by writing to the committee mentioned above.

DR. BEARD INJURED.

Dr. Richard O. Beard, professor of physiology, was seriously injured by being run down by a carriage on Nicollet avenue, last Thursday evening. Dr. Beard was knocked down and both wheels of the carriage passed over his body. He was picked up unconscious and taken to his home in an automobile where it was found that his injuries were confined to a severe nervous shock and some painful but not serious bruises.

DALAKER AND BURKHARD TO RETURN.

Professor Hans Dalaker, of the department of mathematics, and Professor Oscar C. Burkhard, of the department of German, will return to the University next fall. Professor Burkhard has been spending the two years in Germany, doing advanced work and Professor Dalaker has been at Cornell, doing advanced work and giving instruction.

MAY LOSE ANOTHER PRO- FESSOR.

It is rumored that Professor Lehnerts of the department of geography, may be chosen to fill the position of president of the La Crosse (Wis.) Normal School.

"BILL" LEARY FOR JUDGE.

William C. Leary, '92, Law '94, is a candidate for the third special municipal judgeship which will be established in Hennepin county next year. Leary is now attorney for the county commissioners and has hosts of friends who will be glad to have a chance to help him along. The older alumni will remember "Bill" Leary as one of the famous football men of the early nineties. He was captain of the 1891 team, and as a law student was a member of the famous football class of 1894.

DAHL A CANDIDATE.

John A. Dahl, '92, Law '93, is a candidate for the nomination for the legislature from the forty-second district. Two other University men are also out for the nomination: Louis Solem and E. C. A. Lundeen. Two other candidates, not University men, are also out for the same places. Three of the five must be disappointed. We regret this for the three men mentioned above are all good men and would make able legislators and be good friends of the University.

PROFESSOR SAVAGE ISSUES A BOOK.

Professor Savage presented for his thesis for the degree of doctor of philosophy at Johns Hopkins University, about seventy-five pages of typewritten matter, in which he discussed the Athenian family. When he finally decided to publish the thesis he began to revise and enlarge until the book, as it now appears, fills over one hundred and forty pages.

The title of the book, "The Athenian Family, a Sociological and Legal Study," indicates its scope. Dr. Savage has based his book upon the works of the Attic orators, especially Isaeus, Demosthenes and Lysias. He has found much valuable material in other lines of Greek literature, particularly in the dramatic poets, in Xenophon and the philosophers. Such a method gives, as Dr.

Savage shows, a reasonably clear and satisfactory idea of Athenian private life, in its formal and legal aspects. In the various chapters Dr. Savage discusses—The religious feeling in Athenian private life; the attitude of the state toward the family and the religious cult; the position of Athenian women during the period of the Attic orators; the Athenian marriage; the relations of parents and children; the adopted son and his relations to his adoptive father; the leading aspects of the Athenian inheritance system and a chapter devoted to conclusions based on the foregoing.

The book represents many years of study and investigation of the subject; and contains much that is of interest to the sociologist and student of law as well as to the student of Greek.

The book is issued from the Lord Baltimore Press and is well printed and neatly bound and presents an attractive appearance.

DR. PHELAN'S BOOK IN DEMAND.

The editor of the University publications at the State University of Wisconsin says of Dr. Phelan's work on "Taxation in Wisconsin":

"I might mention too that there has been an especial demand for copies of your bulletin since it was published, not only from all parts of Wisconsin, but from other states as well. People who are especially interested in the public finances of this state tell me that they find it very interesting and instructive."

SPECIAL ASSIGNMENTS FOR SIKES AND GOODE.

Mr. George C. Sikes, '92, formerly secretary of the Voter's League, Chicago, has been appointed an expert on the Chicago Harbor Commission, to report on the attitude of shippers toward the question of land and water shipment, and toward the general problem of improving the harbor for Chicago.

Dr. Paul Goode, '89, has been appointed an expert on the Chicago Harbor Commission to make a study of the great ports of Europe, with special reference to their commercial aspects and harbors and with special instruction to show the effect of improvements on the amount of the business done in the chief harbors of the world. He has been given a leave of absence for the summer and will make a study of the harbors of Liverpool, Manchester, Glasgow, the Tyne ports, Antwerp, Hamburg, Genoa and Marseilles.

PARKER AND TOMHAVE TO THE ORIENT.

E. C. Parker, Ag. '05, assistant agriculturist at the Minnesota experiment station, will sail for the Orient June 30 to become expert adviser to the government officials of Manchuria. With W. H. Tomhave, Ag. '07, now connected with the University of Pennsylvania, Mr. Parker will be employed in instituting modern methods of agriculture in Manchuria.

The Chinese government is behind the scheme to place Manchuria on a basis where it can compete with Korea in agricultural lines. German experts are now employed in Korea along similar lines.

Both Mr. Parker and Mr. Tomhave are graduates of the Minnesota college of agriculture. Mr. Parker has been connected with the experimental station at St. Anthony Park for eight years. Mr. Tomhave is a Fergus Falls man and for some time has been in the faculty of the University of Pennsylvania agricultural department, specializing in livestock work.

DEATH OF DR. GEORGE FREE.

The friends of Mrs. Margaret Stevens Free, ex-'08, regret to learn of the death of her husband, Dr. George G. Free. Dr. Free died at their home in Hontzdale, Pa., on April 7th, after a short illness of two weeks. Physicians pronounced the immediate cause of death, a brain tumor, brought on by too close application to his practice. Dr. Free was a graduate of the University of Pennsylvania, class '01, and was considered a successful and promising practitioner. He was married to Miss Margaret Stevens in August, '04, and was devoted to his home and work. Their brief married life was an exceptionally happy one. Mrs. Free has sold her home in Pennsylvania and after settling her affairs will return to Minneapolis and make her home with her sister, Mrs. Harvey M. Hickok, '96.

SHEPARDSON TO TALK.

Professor George D. Shepardson of the University of Minnesota will address Chapter No. 76, I. C. S., Fraternity of the World, on "Some of the Effects of the Electrical Developments," Wednesday evening, May 20, at the clubrooms, 243 Nicollet avenue.

PERSONALS.

Harry W. Aldrich, '05, formerly of Anamoose, S. D., is now with the Citizens Lumber Company of Irvine, Alberta, Canada.

Emily L. Bonwell, '05, who has been spending the winter with her sisters in Alabama and Texas, has returned to her old home at Blue Earth.

Alice E. Craig, '99, who is living in Pasadena, Calif., is managing a California lecture course and training players. She expects to have Dr. Burton give a course of lectures in Los Angeles, in July.

Marion Craig Wentworth, '94, dramatic reader, is now living at 8 Carpenter street, Salem, Mass.

A. V. Dahlberg, Chem. '05, formerly of Iowa City, Ia., is now living in this city at 301 3d avenue southeast.

James C. Dow, Eng. '00, of Faribault, is spending some time in Mankato, making tests on the local gas and electric light plant with a view to improving the Edith Foulk, '03, who is teaching at Delano, will next year teach in a private school for girls in St. Paul.

Emil Geist, Med. '00, has just returned from a nine weeks' trip to Germany, where he went to attend the congress of orthopedists and to get the very latest in the line of his specialty. Dr. Geist is occupying his new offices in the Donaldson building.

Hervey Gulick, Eng. '05, is now in Butte, Mont., instead of Anaconda, where he has been for some time previous.

Luella Huelster, '06, who is travelling through Minnesota and the Dakotas in the interests of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society, will make her headquarters in St. Paul and her address will be 601 East 5th street.

Robert L. Kelly, '02, who has just completed his theological course at Chicago, is spending the summer in Minneapolis supplying the pulpit of the Immanuel Baptist church. In September he will take charge of a church of his own at Washington Park, Chicago. Mr. Kelly talked to the Y. M. C. A. men last Friday noon.

Dr. and Mrs. Klæber will spend the summer in Germany.

Harry Koren is a mining operator with headquarters in Los Angeles, Calif.

Laurel Lewis, '04, who is teaching civics and history in the Stillwater high school, visited the University last week.

J. Raymond Lindgren, Law '06, is representing the West Publishing Company in Tennessee and has his headquarters at Memphis at the present time.

George F. Wiesel, Eng., is manager of the Mann Lumber Company at Henderson, Mont.

E. K. Wennerlund, Eng. '99, has recently been promoted from the position of standardizing engineer of the Montreal works of the American Locomotive Company, to that of general inspector in charge of piece work and shop systems, on the staff of the vice president of the same company, in New York City.

ENGAGEMENTS ANNOUNCED.

The engagement of John A. Handy, Phm. '06, instructor in chemistry, and Miss Georgia York, a sophomore in the University, has been announced.

The engagement of William A. McManigal, Jr., '04, Law '06, member of the Twin City Adjustment Company, and Miss Harriet Bird Furlong, of St. Paul, has been announced. The wedding will take place about the middle of June.

MEETING OF WASHINGTON ALUMNI.

The Washington Alumni of the University gave a reception Wednesday night at Rauscher's in honor of the Minnesota delegates to the White House conference on the Conservation of National Resources.

It was a brilliant and notable affair and one that will be long remembered by the Minnesota colony in Washington.

The guests of honor were President Northrop, Governor Johnson, Hon. Frank B. Lynch, of St. Paul, and President James J. Hill, of the Great Northern Railway, who was one of five distinguished citizens invited by President Roosevelt from the United States at large.

There were about 125 persons in attendance, including present and former residents of Minnesota and alumni. The Minnesota delegation in Congress was represented by Hon. Frederick Stevens and Mrs. Stevens, Hon. James A. Tawney, Chairman of the Committee on Appropriations, House of Representatives, Hon. Winfield S. Hammond and Miss Hammond, Hon. Charles R. Davis, Hon. Frank M. Nye, Hon. J. Adam Bede and Mrs. Bede and Hon. Halvor Steenerson.

The great executive departments were represented by Professor Willet M. Hays, Assistant Secretary of Agriculture and Mrs. Hays, the Assistant to the Attorney General and Mrs. Milton D. Purdy, Assistant Postmaster General James T. McCleary and Mrs. McCleary, Civil Service Commissioner E. F. Greene, Rear Admiral Charles D. Sigsbee, U. S. N., retired, Dr. Max West of the Bureau of Corporations and Mrs. West, Mr. C. S. Scofield of the Department of Agriculture and Mrs. Scofield, Mr. LeGrand Powers of the Bureau of the Census and Mrs. Powers and many others.

A reception committee composed of Mrs. Willet M. Hays, Mrs. Frederick C. Stevens, Mrs. Charles J. Brand and Mrs. J. Adam Bede welcomed the guests upon their arrival. Every effort was made to have all of those present meet each of the guests of honor and every one appeared to enjoy visiting with the home people. After an hour or more spent in renewing old friendships and making new ones, the speaking which had been arranged for began. Mr. Charles J. Brand, President of the local association, presided.

Governor Johnson, who was the first speaker of the evening was given an ovation. He told about the State and the University and especially of his friendship for and interest in the University, as evidenced by his recent appointment of alumni upon the Board of Regents. President Northrop, the second speaker, told of past and present conditions at the University and of future hopes and plans. At the close of his address he was greeted with a rousing "Ski-U-Mah." President James J. Hill, the next speaker, made one of the hits of the evening by his humorous defense of the small colleges. He also spoke upon the development of the great Northwest, bearing especially upon the agriculture of Minnesota.

The other speakers of the evening to be filled with clippings, dance programs, invitations, etc.

College Jewelry

A piece of fine solid gold or silver

Some of the new Handicraft Jewelry which is now so very popular, and which comes with an "M" cleverly wrought in the article itself.

One of the magnificent new U. of M. View Books which contains 24 of the latest photographs of the University campus, buildings, etc.

The above are only a few of the things which we have secured specially for graduation and which we hope you will look over before purchasing any souvenirs.

Visiting alumni should look over our prices before purchasing.

LAST REGULAR ISSUE FOR THE YEAR.

This is the 36th and last regular issue of the Weekly for the present college year. There will be a special commencement issue which will be sent to all subscribers and to members of the graduating class, a few days after commencement.

COMING EVENTS.

May 26th, at the Orpheum, The Doctor of Alcantara. May 29th, As You Like It, afternoon and evening, on the campus. May 30th, Greek club picnic. On the evening of Memorial day at the home of Professor J. C. Hutchinson, 3806 Blaisdell avenue. Alumni are specially invited. The class play will come Friday, June 5th. Saturday, June 6th, President's reception to seniors. Sunday, June 7th, baccalaureate sermon by the Rev. H. P. Dewey of the Plymouth Congregational church of this city. Monday, June 8th, will be class day with class exercises. Tuesday, June 9th, Phi Beta Kappa address by Dean E. A. Birge, of Wisconsin. Senior Promenade the same evening at Masonic Temple. Wednesday, June 10th, Alumni day. Annual picnic at 12 m. and class re-unions in the afternoon and evening. The regents will meet either Tuesday or Wednesday, possibly both days. Thursday, June 11, commencement, with address by F. L. Seely, editor of the Atlanta Georgian.

ACADEMICS ATTENTION!

Mr. Fred B. Snyder, president of the alumni association of the college of science, literature and the arts, has called a meeting of that association for 11:30 in the University library building, room 13, Dr. Burton's room. There will be an election of officers and representatives to the General Alumni Association. Plans for a big meeting next fall will be considered at that time. Please be prompt so that business can be finished before the hour set for the alumni picnic.

LAW ALUMNI ASSOCIATION.

The law alumni will hold their meeting on the evening of the 10th of June and probably at Donaldson's. M. D. Purdy, assistant attorney general of the United States will be the speaker. The law alumni will join the others in the picnic at noon the same day.

MEDICAL ALUMNI ASSOCIATION.

June 10th will be celebrated by the medical alumni who will have clinics all day, according to a program to be announced later. The business meeting will be held on the evening of the same day at Donaldson's at 6:30, the banquet coming an hour later at the same place. The medical alumni will join the others at the alumni picnic at noon.

THE HOMEOPATHIC MEDICAL ALUMNI.

This association held its meeting last week in connection with the annual state meeting of homeopathic physicians. See report elsewhere. These alumni will be with the others at the picnic at noon, June 10th.

THE DENTAL ALUMNI ASSOCIATION.

This association will hold its business meeting at the college at 3 o'clock on the afternoon of the 10th of June.

THE PHARMACY ALUMNI.

The alumni of the college of pharmacy will hold their business meeting at the college on the afternoon of the 10th at 3 p. m. Their banquet will be held the same evening at the West hotel. The members of this association will join the other departments at the picnic at noon.

SCHOOL OF CHEMISTRY.

The alumni of the school of chemistry will get together at the picnic, June 10th, and spend the balance of the day together.

CLASS REUNIONS.

The following named classes will hold their reunions as stated below:

1883 The members of this class will meet at the picnic at noon, June 10th. At 4 p. m. trolley will be taken to Breezy Point, Lake Minnetonka, to the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. P. Jones. After a 6 o'clock dinner a steamboat will be taken for a trip of the lake.

1888 will join with other classes in the alumni picnic.

1890 will meet with E. P. Allen, 2016 Harriet avenue, on the evening of June 10th, and will be at the picnic at noon of the same day.

1891 will picnic at the home of Dr. and Mrs. F. C. Todd, on the afternoon of June 11th at Orono, Lake Minnetonka. Special announcement to be sent out by class secretary.

1802 will get together at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George K. Belden, Deephaven, Minnetonka, June 11th. Hour to be announced later. Since graduation this class has kept up a class letter and an annual reunion.

1893 will meet with the other classes at the picnic at noon on the 10th and will afterward take a trolley to the lake where they will be the guests of Mrs. Emily Ruth Harris Bell. They will enjoy a trip on the lake and later a country dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Bell, at Gideon's bay. Special invitations will be sent to some of the old professors to join with the class.

1894 will meet on the evening of June 10th at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Bisbee, 418 5th street southeast. They will join the others at the picnic at noon of the same day.

1895 will meet at the time of the picnic for an informal reunion.

1898 will meet with the others at the picnic and will spend the evening at the home of Miss Mary C. Harris, 2401 Park avenue.

1898 law class will hold their reunion and banquet at the Nicollet on the evening of the 10th.

1903 will meet at Shevlin Hall on the evening of the 9th and will get together the next day at the picnic.

1904 will be at the picnic and celebrate during the afternoon.

1905 will meet at the picnic and spend the evening of the same day at the home of Miss Helen Fish, 2301 3d avenue south.

A SUGGESTION FOR REUNIONS

All classes holding reunions are urged to perfect a permanent organization with officers, including a class secretary who shall be responsible to the class for seeing that news items concerning members of the class are reported to the Alumni Weekly, once a month at least. The Weekly reaches nearly half of the alumni and any item concerning any member of your class will reach many who will be interested.

In making a report to the Weekly concerning your class reunion, be sure and turn in the report not later than the day following the reunion. If this is done it will be possible to get the report in the special commencement issue of the Weekly, and the report will thus reach many members of the class who cannot be present.

THE ALUMNI PICNIC.

The alumni picnic will be held Wednesday noon, June 10th. On the campus in front of Shevlin Hall, if it is fair weather—in the Armory if it rains. The Young Women's Christian Association will provide coffee and sandwiches, ice cream and strawberries for those who desire them. Some special stunts will be provided for the afternoon and there will be an opportunity for classes to get together for informal reunions. For the alumni this is the big event of the week.

OREGON ALUMNI AT PORTLAND.

June 4th has been set as the date for the meeting of the Minnesota alumni living in Oregon. The meeting will be at the rooms of the new Commercial club and plates will be $2 each. The Rose festival which takes up the week will bring in many and an attendance of from forty to fifty is expected.

THE NEW REGENT.

The fact that Governor Johnson chose the successor to Mr. Noyes from a list submitted to him by the alumni, is exceedingly gratifying to the alumni generally. The appointment of Mr. Smith meets with the hearty approval of the alumni and others who know him. While Mr. Smith is not a graduate of the University he was a student at the University in the early days and has shown his deep interest in the work which the alumni are trying to do for the University by subscribing generously to the support of the work.

It is gratifying, too, to know that a man whose time is taken up with the management of such vast enterprises is willing to take time to devote to the duties of regent of the University.

AN APPRECIATION.

Don't fail to read the report of the Young Men's Christian Association which appears in another column. It is a remarkable record for a year of volunteer endeavor. The association's primary object is religious and that part of the work has been emphasized and cared for by devoted men. It is a work, the results of which cannot be tabulated or told in figures but it is vital.

The association, while not neglecting the religious, has done a remarkable year's work for the comfort, help and encouragement of the men of the University. Read over the list of things that have been done and then think, for a moment, what each one of these things means for the life of the men of the University. Though we have been in touch with the work, more or less closely all the year, the summing up in this report was completely astounding to us.

The credit for the work is due first of all to the energy and devotion of its general secretary. Mr. Sinclair has made good decidedly. Hardly second to his work has been that of Mr. Robb, president of the association and the corps of chairmen of committees and the volunteer helpers. We doubt very much whether there is to be found in any college, or elsewhere, in this country today a band of men more single in purpose and loyalty to the duty before them than the men who have made this work such a success this year.

These men have not made much fuss about their work; the newspapers have devoted less space to their work than to an insignificant class scrap, yet these men and their work are more truly characteristic of student life. The motto, printed on the Association letter heads, is no dead letter, it stands for "The Best in College."

LEND A HAND.

The Young Women's Christian Association of the University has been doing its usual good work this year. The offices in Shevlin Hall have changed its problems, and, to some extent, its methods of work. Two secretaries have been employed, Miss Burton, to have charge of the Bible study and religious work, and Miss Katherine Barnes, office secretary, to look after the no less necessary work of the association. Both of these young women have been doing faithful work and they have had the hearty co-operation of a large number of the young women. The secretary's report for the year is not ready and so we shall have to reserve that for the special commencement issue of the Weekly and content ourselves with the above general statement that the work has been worth doing and has been well done.

The association needs the help of the alumni financially as well as their good will and advice. We want to say to the alumni, men and women, that if you can spare a dollar, or several of them, for the work, they will be used where they will count for the good of the young women of the University. A little help from any considerable number of the alumni will put the association in a position where the work for the coming year can be planned for with confidence of even greater results than the present year has shown.

AS YOU LIKE IT, May 29th.

As You Like It will be given on the afternoon and evening of May 29th on the University campus. The work is going along very well and Mr. Holt, who has charge of training the players, is pleased with the progress being made.

ANNUAL INSPECTION A SUCCESS.

Last Wednesday the University classes were dismissed and the whole day was spent in the inspection of the University cadet corps by the army officer detailed for the duty. The cadets made a fine showing and the whole corps received hearty commendation from Captain Lenihan, who specially commended the crack squad and the band.

ENGINEERS' YEAR BOOK REVIEWED.

By Prof. Geo. D. Shepardson.

The Yearbook of the Engineers' Society, which appeared recently, sets a new mark, being unquestionably the best one yet issued. Both in content and in mechanical make-up, it is a credit to the University. This volume is the first to be copyrighted. The book contains sixteen articles of high order, contributed for the most part by alumni members of the society. It is strictly up-to-date, from the frontispiece showing the Panama Canal in February, 1908, to Dean Jones' discussion of the new five-year engineering courses and to the proposal of the editors to change the Yearbook to a Quarterly.

The articles cover a wide range of topics, which are treated in such a way as to be of interest to the general reader as well as to the engineer. E. P. Burch, '02, contributes a meaty paper on "Characteristics of Steam Locomotives," summarizing an immense amount of work in gathering and analyzing data from many actual tests. In an interesting account of personal observation of industrial conditions in labor's Utopia, New Zealand, Professor Flather throws new light on the practical working of the attempts of the government to prevent friction between labor and capital. Mr. A. S. Cutler, '05, outlines the methods and worth of the work of the Minnesota Railroad and Warehouse Commission in valuing railway property. Mr. A. D. Williams tells of the opportunities in technical journalism, and incidentally argues for the new five-year course. W. C. Weeks, '95, B. E. Smith, '06, and R. S. Carter, '08, discuss the opportunities for technical men in various sections of the country.

E. J. Cheney, '04, tells how the graduate schools conducted by the large manufacturing companies are of mutual value to the companies and to the men, illustrating how the standard of excellence for an annual output of $50,000,000 by one company is attained and maintained by technical men.

The descriptive articles are of considerable interest, including an account of actual present work at the Panama Canal by O. G. Tubby, '07, hydro-electric developments for the electrical transmission of energy in Colorado and in northern Minnesota, described by L. E. Ashbaugh, '00, and by A. C. Ringsred, '06; a cement factory, by R. H. Rawson, '07; the use of concrete piles, by S. G. Collins, '04; recent developments in gas engines, by H. D. Frary, '08.

The Yearbook fittingly closes with a directory showing where and how the engineer graduates are making good.

SENIOR PROM.—JUNE 9th.

The '08 Prom. will be the finest yet seen by the oldest "grad," if there is any virtue in an ideal place, beautiful decorations, and perfect music, not to mention the presence of the most illustrious class ever graduated. (N. B. This means your class.) The interior of the Masonic Temple will be completely covered by an entirely new scheme of decorations, with palms, ferns, and class and university colors. Lambert's orchestra will provide the music, and a rare June evening, with full moon in connection, has been ordered from the weather man. Three sections of the program are set apart for refreshments, which will be served in the dining room. Any impressions that the Prom. is an exclusively senior affair are entirely unfounded. The class will welcome most cordially all students and friends of the university, and especially the alumni who return for reunions the next day, the Prom. being on Tuesday, June 9th, the day before Alumni Day. Tickets will be only $3.00 this year, and may be secured through any member of the Senior Class or from Walter J. Gessell, Box 2084, University.

—By the Committee.

SENIOR AFFAIRS.

The senior class play will be given Friday afternoon and evening. As usual the class members are very reticent about giving out any of the features of the play, but they promise that the THINKOLODEON will keep up the class reputation of making good. The senior promenade will be given at Masonic Temple and no effort will be spared to make it the event of the year. A special effort is being made to get out a large number of the alumni for this event.

COMMUNICATION.

To Minnesota's Faculty and Alumni, Greeting:

I am hot—red to the collar—all on account of a notice in the "Weekly" headed "Mathematics may be dropped" as a required freshman subject for the college of S. L. & A. As an alumnus I wish to raise a protest. Where is Dean Downey? Has Jones as Engineering Dean lost interest and grip on the all that makes for scholarship?

Professor Moore of the U. of C. taught me that calculus should be brought nearer to the hearts of the people by introducing it into the up-to-date high school. My experience as a high school teacher in three states tells me that Professor Moore is right. As a teacher of physics for three years in the U. of W., I have become conscious of the vagueness of thought due to lack of training in mental precision. During the past year at Columbia the experiences of the past have been reinforced. At its worst, mathematical thinking hurts no one while unmathematical thinking leads to careless thought processes.

I cannot think from what source "pressure" is forcing such folly upon the faculty. The plain man, unless sophisticated, will take off his hat and hand out his dollar for exact knowledge any day. If the pressure be from classicists, philosophers and theologians I hope I may be pardoned if I call attention to a number of lectures by a Columbia man on the contribution of mathematics to even twentieth century theology.

There might possibly be some wisdom in abolishing all required subjects but to single out and put under the ban one of the greatest disciplines which the college course possesses is chimerical. To arms, ye men who still have faith in the exact sciences.

Thoughtfully submitted,

Reinhard A. Wetzel, '01.

Still studying at Columbia.

REPORT OF THE YOUNG MEN'S CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION.

John F. Sinclair, '06, general secretary of the University Y. M. C. A., submitted his report last week, covering the year's work. The essential features of the report are—

The building—$625 was spent by the University in putting the building in repair, making it more attractive than ever before.

Preliminary work—Securing rooms for 1000 students; finding roommates for thirty-two students; 2500 handbooks issued; 200 letters of inquiry answered; 400 letters of invitation to prospective students sent out.

Fall work—Forty old men on hand at opening of year to assist in caring for the incoming freshmen and make them feel at home; a remarkable record for any association, which has had a tremendous effect on the work of the year.

Membership—Two years ago it was 266; last year 541; this year 686, will be 700 before commencement, paid memberships.

Employment—324 men have been given work; one-half of this number permanent work for the year; about $11,000 has been earned by these students. 100 men have been found work for the summer by the association.

Educational classes—Eighty students enrolled in classes to make up entrance conditions.

Social work—Four socials, average attendance 500; the annual banquet was attended by 250, the largest in the history of the association.

Lecture course—A $1,200 lecture course including LaFollette, Bangs, Smith and Gunsaulus, and the "Messiah," was provided in partnership with the Minnesota Daily. $100 was netted from this course, which was of great benefit to the University. A similar course is planned for next year.

Religious work—This, the main work of the association, has been cared for in a way to make it most helpful. The average attendance at the weekly meetings has been over sixty; the strongest speakers of the twin cities have been present at these meetings; Mr. Elliott was here three days; Mr. Mott addressed three meetings, one with an attendance of 1200 in chapel; Rev. LaFlamme was here two days for personal conferences with the men.

Bible study—246 men have been enrolled and at work during the year. Classes have been led by professors, ministers and upper classmen; twenty-one men have been in the personal workers band.

Budget—Expenses have been $3,200, $1,500 made up at the University, $1,700, among the business men and alumni.

Conclusion—This report does not give a complete idea of what the association work has been at Minnesota this year; but it does give a faint conception of the possibilities of this great movement. The general secretary has been kept very busy with conferences, personal conversations with men and with personal calls upon men in their rooms. An average of two hundred men a day have used the building. Large delegations have been sent to the state convention and to the Geneva conference. The president and the general secretary attended the International Y. M. C. A. convention at Washington in November.

Looking forward—Many big things are being planned for the coming year—the biggest being the proposition to secure, through the cooperation of the churches, a man to act as the religious or Bible secretary of both the Y. M. and Y. W. C. A. The prospects seem to be that such a man is likely to be secured and the man who is being talked of is assistant pastor of one of the most prominent churches in the country and has already made a record for himself as an organizer of Bible study work in his own church.

The Geneva conference—A strong effort is being made to secure a large attendance of men and at least five professors to attend this meeting for ten days.

The report closes with words of appreciation, on the part of Mr. Sinclair, for the loyal support of the men of the association, and the spirit of cooperation which has prevailed among all who have had anything to do with the work of the year.

Mr. Sinclair did not mention the fact that the men's building movement was largely the result of the work of the Y. M. C. A., and that more than half of the work done toward securing the $30,000 in pledges for this purpose was done by members of the Y. M. C. A.

REGENT CHARLES A. SMITH.

Last Monday Governor Johnson announced the appointment of Chas. A. Smith, of Minneapolis to fill out the unexpired term of Daniel A. Noyes the term ending March 1910. Mr. Smith was on the list submitted to Governor Johnson by the board of directors of the General Alumni Association.

Mr. Smith was born in Sweden in 1852 and came to America in 1867 and located in Minneapolis. He attended the University for one year, 1872-73. He supported himself from the time he was fourteen years old. He engaged in handling wheat, lumber and farm machinery in western Minnesota, 1878 to 1884, being associated with John S. Pillsbury; he returned to Minneapolis in 1884 and began investing in timber and manufacturing it into lumber in hired mills. He bought and erected mills and now is the owner of the largest lumber mill in the world and has vast lumber interests in the northwest and on the Pacific coast, employing over 1500 men. He is president of the C. A. Smith Lumber company, the C. A. Smith Timber company, the Northwestern Compo Board company; a director in the Swedish American National bank; treasurer of the Northern Pine Manufacturers' Association; delegate to the reciprocity convention, Washington, D. C., 1901; McKinley elector in 1896. He married Miss Johanna Anderson, of Minneapolis, February 14th, 1878. He is a member of the Minneapolis, Commercial and Odin clubs. His business office is in the Andrus building.

MINNESOTA MAN MAKES GOOD.

Bror E. Dahlgren, Dent '01, is head of the department of preparation of the Natural History Museum of New York City. He is devoting half his time to the work of reconstructing the whole museum and has eleven assistants under his direction. Dr. Dahlgren, is said to be doing the finest models in wax that are being produced in the world today. He worked for months on a model of the New Jersey mosquito, reproducing the results of a microscopic study of the insect in a wax model. Harvard wanted a duplicate of the model and it cost $5,000 to produce the duplicate. In his mounting of animals he first models the animal in clay and has it cast in plaster of paris and then pastes the skin on the plaster model, thus reproducing the animal in form as near like the living animal as possible. Dr. Dahlgren enjoys the rare reputation of being able to do this work better than any other man and is paid the maximum salary for half his time. The balance of his time he devotes to his work as a specialist in orthodontia.

JOHN L. COULTER, IN ECONOMICS.

Mr. John L. Coulter, who is the new instructor in economics, was awarded the degree of master of arts, at North Dakota University in 1905. The same year he was awarded a fellowship at Wisconsin and spent the year 1905-06 at Wisconsin studying economics. The following year he was awarded an honorary fellowship but gave that up and took a position as assistant, teaching one class in economics and pursuing his advanced studies. In February 1907 he went to Iowa State College to teach and study the agriculture of that state. This year Mr. Coulter is teaching one class at Wisconsin and assisting Dr. Taylor in agriculture.

The past four summers have been spent mainly in travel and study. Mr. Coulter's thesis is to be upon the development of the Red River Valley and he will receive his Ph. D., July 28th. He has been making a specialty of economic problems in agriculture.

MORE CANDIDATES.

G. A. Petri, '90, Law '93, and J. A. Nordin, Law '98, are avowed candidates for the special municipal judgeship that is to be available next year. The bar association of Minneapolis are trying to reduce the number of candidates for this office by submitting the names of those who are out for the office to the members of the Minneapolis bar for selection of a single candidate.

Charles L. Alexander, '02, Law '03, of Pelican Rapids, will be a candidate for re-election to the legislature.

ANDERSON ON SOCIALISM.

Rev. Frank L. Anderson, '96, pastor of the Normal Park Baptist church of Chicago, read an article before the Outlook Conference, late in February, upon The attitude of the Christian toward socialism from the church point of view. In an article published a short time before, in the Christian Socialist, Mr. Anderson discussed The socialistic movement from the minister's point of view. Mr. Anderson finds much to commend in the principles of socialism. He cautions those who consider it to remember that the representatives of a cause are as a rule inferior to the cause itself. He says of socialism—"It is a humble servant and helper of our kind, raised up for such a time as this * * * It is but one of the many servants of the kingdom of God." His conclusion is that the church and socialism are based upon the same fundamental principle, and need each other, and are coming to recognize their mutual dependence each upon the other.

STOMBERG TO SPEAK.

Professor A. A. Stomberg, of the department of Scandinavian will speak at Watertown, S. D., May 30; Worcester, Mass., June 6; Philadelphia, June 8; Carvey, Minn. June 23, at the fiftieth anniversary of the organization of the city.

NEW NATIONAL DENTAL ASSOCIATION.

Dean Owre of the college of dentistry, is interested in a movement which it is hoped will result in the establishment of a new national association of dental colleges. The present association includes fifty-four colleges, fifty of which are private schools and but four backed by being connected with state universities. There are two of these private schools that have endowments that make them practically as independent in their work as the state colleges and it is proposed to unite these state schools and the two endowed institutions, to the end of raising the standard of dental education in this country.

PALACE MEDAL GOES TO FARM SCHOOL.

The drill for the Palace Medal, offered for the best drilled private in the University cadet corps, resulted in the choice of Arne G. Tolaas of Company I. Agricultural cadets won the first three places.

NEW MAGAZINE BOARD.

The outgoing Minnesota Magazine Board has announced the following editorial and business staff for the ensuing year.

Thos. H. Uzzell, managing editor; Camelia Waite, literary editor; Maurice Jenness, business manager; Mary Toomey, Alta Churchill, women associates; Zenas Potter, Allen Stork, Ray Sleeper, James Beals, men associates.

PSI U'S BREAK GROUND.

Work has already started on the new Psi Upsilon fraternity house at 1721 University avenue. The house is to cost $20,000, and will be a great addition to fraternity row on University.

LAWS HAD GAY TIME.

Dean and Mrs. Pattee's reception to the senior Laws Saturday evening, May 16th proved to be one of the social events of the season about the campus. The company was entertained by a number of original stunts, and the dean's hospitality was something beyond the ordinary.

Prof. Willis of Central high school appeared in some clever impersonations, and K. A. Machetanz did things with coins which are seldom seen off the professional stage.

PHARMACISTS ADDRESSED.

On Tuesday, May 19, Messrs. A. D. Thompson and Thomas Voegeli, two prominent Minneapolis pharmacists, addressed the students of the College of Pharmacy on topics relating to the professional activities of pharmacists, and on Thursday, May 21, Mr. Julian N. Kirby of the wholesale drug firm of Noyes Brothers & Cutler addressed the students on subjects relating to the commercial aspect of the pharmacist's vocation.

KOMENSKY.

The Bohemian Club is raising a fund of $500 with which to purchase books to be presented to the Library.

The collection will include the best works on history, literature and science. Altho only about one year in existence, the club which includes almost every Bohemian student in the University has made great progress and the plans for raising the library fund is a good evidence of the organization's activities.

DRAWING.

Drawing should be of major consideration in all education, because of its exceeding value in the liberation and disciplining of the mind, which makes for what is broadly termed culture. Moreover its relation to efficiency is so immediate, that the demand for teachers, who aside from their general academic training are able to give instruction in drawing and design, is very great.

All art has charm; it demands what Rossetti called fundamental brain work. It is the result of man's attempt to express himself adequately, with intelligence, with power and with charm.

There is a vital relation between education and efficiency in the cultural arts. A genuine education necessarily increases the efficiency as well as the intelligence of the individual.

Schools should prepare for economic efficiency. This being recognized, Manual Training and the Arts are made a part of our public school systems.

The great need of Trade Schools in this country has been sufficiently emphasized by many educators. A system of art training, drawing, and design are fundamental subjects for all the trades. The efficiency of such courses of training depends upon the preparation of the teachers who pursue them, and the burden of responsibility rests finally with the University itself.

The University offers excellent courses in Drawing and Design,—having a two-fold practical aim, to help the students who need drawing for scientific work, and to train those who wish to prepare for teaching drawing. The work in these courses under Miss Clopath has been greatly appreciated as is evidenced by a large enrollment, and, by the large number of special teachers of drawing who have received their training here.

The Board of Regents have very generously given the department of drawing and design, the house situated on the corner of Beacon and Prospect Streets. With this pleasant and commodious new home, it will be possible for the department to be of added service to the University in the future.

—Jessie F. Lockman.

PERSONALS.

Nathan B. Blackburn, '07, expects to spend commencement week at the University. He has been teaching in the Pingry school at Elizabeth, N. J.

Mr. Allen B. Brooks, ex (?) a graduate from Houghton School of mines, has gone to Tlacolulu, Oaxaca, Mexico to accept the position of Mill Superintendent of the Boston & Oaxaca Mines near that place.

Elizabeth S. Brown, '03, is engaged to an English clergyman, Mr. Fitch, an honor graduate of Cambridge University.

Miss Clopath, head of the drawing department will leave soon for Europe where she will spend the summer in travel and study. She expects to visit educational institutions and to confer with prominent art educators in France and England, spending also some time in picturesque Brittany. She will return for the opening of the University in September.

Dr. D. C. Cowles, Med. '01, was recently run down by a switch engine while crossing the tracks in an automobile. He escaped death by a narrow margin but the automobile was smashed into kindling wood.

Mr. and Mrs. Barry Dibble are rejoicing over a little daughter born May 11th. Mrs. Dibble was Mary Belle Butler and both were members of 1903.

Mrs. A. H. Muedeking, (Luella E. Gould, '97) and C. N. Gould, '96, were recently called to Napa, California, by the illness and subsequent death of their father.

Mrs. G. D. D. Kirkpatrick, (Grace Grygla, '06) of Santa Fe, N. M., is spending a month in Minneapolis.

From the Anaconda Standard we learn that Hervery Gulick, Min. '05, who recently located at Anaconda, left recently for Gatico, Chili. Mr. Gulick will be accompanied by Mr. Gore, a chemist. Together they have been working in the mines and smelters of Butte and Anaconda and are now recognized as experts in their profession. Mr. Gulick will have charge of some copper mines about three miles from Gatico, Chili, South America. Letters addressed to Mr. Gulick should also bear the inscription, "care Cia de Minera de Gatico."

Dr. Leon W. Hyde, formerly enrolled in the medical department of the University, is located in Portland, Ore.

Your committee beg to submit the following plan for the management of the University Faculty Dining club for the ensuing year.

The management shall be placed in the hands of an executive committee of seven, of which the president and secretary shall be ex-officio members. It shall be the duty of this committee to transact all of the routine business pertaining to the club. It shall be the further duty of this committee to duly consider all questions which may be presented to it. The committee shall have the power to appoint any permanent sub-committees or special committees that may be needed, provided that the chairman of each permanent sub-committee shall be a member of the executive committee.

The committee begs leave to present the following nominations for an executive committee for the ensuing year:

President, John H. Gray; secretary, F. E. Clements; J. J. Flather, C. P. Sigerfoos; Harry Snider; E. F. Westbrook, Carl Schlenker.

It is further recommended that this executive committee organize before the close of the present school year and present plans for definite consideration at a September meeting of the club. (Signed)

TWO IMPORTANT CHANGES.

The academic faculty, last Saturday, adopted a revised course of study for the freshman year, the essential feature of which is the omission of mathematics as a required study. This is the first time in the history of the University when this college has waived this as an absolutely required study for all freshmen. The requirement, as modified, is that those who have completed solid geometry and higher algebra in the high schools shall not be required to pursue mathematics in the freshman year.

The other change is one concerning the entrance requirement and will affect the academic college almost exclusively. The requirement is that students coming from accredited high schools shall not be admitted to the University upon their certificates of graduation from the high school even though they may have completed all of work required for entrance to the University, but shall be conditioned in all subjects in which they do not have a record of something better than a mere passing mark. This requirement, it is thought, will cut out a great many students who do not enter the University with a serious intention of doing faithful work. Whether it will work in this way or not is a serious question. We believe that the tendency of the times is not in this direction, but rather toward a greater freedom of admission and a greater strictness after admission. The tendency will be for the high schools to grade higher so as to allow those who have completed their high school work to go to the University if they so desire. The regulation leaves the whole matter in the hands of the high schools and does not place authority where the University authorities can see to its strict enforcement. The end sought to be attained is desirable, and if this regulation secures the end sought, it will be all that could be asked.

ALUMNI LISTS SWELLED.

The graduating class numbered 529, which includes 207 bachelors of arts; 7 bachelors of science; 11 bachelors of arts in education; 21 masters of arts; 2 masters of science; 3 doctors of philosophy; 28 civil engineers; 16 mechanical engineers; 25 electrical engineers; 5 bachelors of science in engineering; 13 engineers of mines; 7 bachelors of science in chemistry; 4 bachelors of science in agriculture;

2 bachelors of science in home economics; 1 bachelor of science in forestry; 6 masters of law; 82 bachelors of law; 35 doctors of medicine; 40 doctors of dental surgery; 18 bachelors of pharmacy. The class included three hundred sixty-four men and one hundred sixty-five women. 151 of the women who received degrees this year, received the B. A. from the college of science, literature and the arts. In this college the women of the graduating class outnumbered the men three to one.

STATE INSTITUTIONS FUND.

Under the state law of 1865 certain swamp lands were set aside to be sold for the benefit of state institutions. The state constitutional amendment which was adopted in 1881 acted to repeal the law of 1865 and the law of 1907 was passed to make effective the plain intent of the constitutional amendment of 1881. The fund from the sale of this land had grown to be $780,556.25 at the end of the fiscal year 1906. This fund must be kept intact and only its income apportioned for the benefit of the state institutions. One-half of the interest, which now amounts to $62,145, goes to the common school fund and the balance to state institutions pro rata on the basis of the cost of maintenance. This brings into the University fund $16,542.92. Hereafter the interest will be apportioned annually upon the same basis. This will reduce the amount which the University has overrun its income, during the past year, about one-half.

TWO IMPORTANT CHANGES.

The University council recently took action in regard to two matters of great importance. The first was the recommendation that the action regarding the changed entrance requirement, calling for a mark of good or better in every subject completed for admission, was made to apply only to the college of science, literature and the arts. The second was the recommendation that the accredited schools be divided into two classes—One whose diploma should admit to any course in the University, save those requiring one or more years of college work for admission, and a second list of those schools whose diploma shall admit to the college of science, literature and arts, only.

THE ALUMNI WEEKLY GOLD MEDAL

The Alumni Weekly Gold Medal for this year was awarded to Stanley B. Houck, of the senior night law class. Mr. Houck has been one of the strong men in debate developed at Minnesota. He has done his share to help to bring victory to Minnesota in this field of endeavor and has, through faithful and persistent work won the medal which is awarded to "that student who has made the best record in forensics during his college course." The Weekly congratulates Mr. Houck upon having deservedly won this honor. Mr. Houck will remain in the employ of Keefe-Davidson company for some time, and then take up the practice of law. He is chairman of the Delta Sigma Rho committee on memorial for Professor McDermott.

AS YOU LIKE IT.

The rains of May 29th were a sore disappointment to the members of the University dramatic club and their friends. The plans for an outdoor production of the play had to be abandoned and the play was put on in the chapel. Aside from the mere setting of the play nothing could have been asked by those who witnessed the production. It would have done credit to any professional troupe. Every part was presented with spirit and understanding. Special mention might be made of the work of Mary Heritage, as Rosalind; Norman Nelson, as Orlando; William Simmons, as Touchstone; Marion Barber, as Celia; and while taking but a small part, Ralph Hoffman made the character of William, the country lout, notable. Frank Bibb who presented two parts, those of Le Beau and Silvius, did it with his usual success. Mr. Milner was also a life-like Jaques, and his seven ages of man was given in a way to delight the audience. Louise Leavenworth, as page, delighted the crowd with her rendering of the beautiful song, "In the spring time."

The play was repeated on the afternoon and evening of commencement day under most favorable circumstances. The result being a complete artistic success.

AS USUAL THE REPORT IS OFF.

The story, which appeared in a city paper recently, concerning the refusal of the cadets who marched in the Memorial Day parade, to pay their fares on the return trip, is entirely off. The facts are that all of the cadets marched all the way home and did not disband until the Armory was reached. In going over town, they had five special cars and paid their fares just as other passengers. The boys in one of the cars found the conductor of the "red-headed" variety and began to "josh" him. But they paid their fares as he demanded them. When the car got to Central avenue the conductor feared that some of the boys would get off before he had finished collecting their fares and so had his car switched off on a side track near the car barn until he had finished collecting their fares. It is stated by those who know, that the boys did not ask or expect anyone else to pay their fares and so far from rebelling from the order of the Board of Regents, they marched cheerfully as other good patriots. The attempt to throw discredit upon their patriotism is disgusting.

F. M. RARIG CHOSEN TO SUCCEED McDERMOTT.

President Northrop and Governor Lind recently settled the matter referred to them by selecting F. M. Rarig, of Northwestern University, to fill the position left vacant by the death of Professor McDermott. The other candidate for the position was Professor Holliday, of Illinois.

PROFESSOR RASTALL.

Professor B. M. Rastall, Ph. D., of Olivet College was elected assistant professor in economics. Dr. Rastall went to Olivet College under an arrangement by which he teaches alternate years only. The other years he spends in practical business life as a preparation for teaching business subjects. The present year he has been employed in statistical work for the State Department of Labor of New York.

Dr. Rastall has recently published a volume on The Colorado labor troubles of the last fifteen years.

Among the subjects taught by Dr. Rastall next year will be: The Theory and History of Statistics, Insurance, Accounting and Investment and Speculation. The appointment of Dr. Rastall puts the courses in these subjects heretofore taught by volunteers on a permanent and systematic basis and lays the foundation for a thorough course of training for business at the University.

DUNNE SHOOTS HIMSELF.

Ney Dunne, captain-elect of the 1908 football team, shot himself on June 12 at Jackson, Minn. The deed is supposed to have been the result of jealousy of a rival in a love affair. He died Sunday.

TO ELIMINATE THE TRACKS.

Members of the civic improvement committee of the Commercial club, George E. Bertrand, chairman, recently inspected the right-of-way of the Northern Pacific road thru the University of Minnesota grounds. The committee is seeking to evolve some plan by which the tracks can be eliminated from the greater campus, which, under the present arrangement, would be bisected by the tracks. Among those in the party were Rev. J. M. Cleary, J. W. Christie, A. N. Bessessen, J. S. McLain, W. F. Decker, C. J. Rockwood, L. E. Chute, H. Hudson, R. B. Fanning.

EIGHT SENIORS SORE: THEIR FRIENDS LIKEWISE.

Eight members of the senior class failed to satisfy the new requirement that

In order to graduate you must have an average of good in half the work of your course, an excellent balancing a pass. These seniors completed the required work of the course but failing to secure the required average were not granted their degrees. Their names were printed on the program and it is not impossible that when the regents have the matter brought to their attention, they may be voted their degrees. The regulation does not seem to be a popular one with outsiders and students, who fall to see why a person who has passed in the work required for a degree should not receive the degree.

THE SOLDIER DEAD NOT FORGOTTEN.

Following his usual custom, Professor Haynes sent a University pennant and a small United States flag to decorate the graves of each of the student soldiers who died in service. Since the close of the war this faithful friend of the soldier boys has not failed to so remember those who died in the service.

THE MINNESOTA MAGAZINE.

The first number of the Minnesota Magazine, under its new editorial board, has just been issued. The number is not up to the standard of previous issues from a typographical or artistic standpoint and hardly up to the standard from a literary point of view, but there are reasons for all of these things. It does, however, exhibit greater signs of life than for many moons past. There is a field for the Minnesota Magazine and we believe that there should be five times as many names on its subscription list as it has ever had before.

Good luck to the new board and may it deserve and find better support than any previous board has ever had and may it set a standard that will be hard to surpass.

TO SHORTEN COLLEGE YEAR.

The movement in favor of shortening the college year, which has met the approval of several of the colleges, will probably fail to pass. It is understood that the opposition has scored against the movement.

THE NEW REQUIREMENTS FOR FRESHMEN.

Editor Minnesota Alumni Weekly:

Mr. Reinhard A. Wetzel, of '01, whose letter appeared in the last issue of the Weekly, and many others have drawn quite erroneous inferences regarding the requirements for freshmen, all on account of the faulty way in which the Weekly, the Daily and the city papers announced the changes. For the information of all who are interested the requirements are here given.

Besides physical culture or drill and gymnasium, there are two absolute requirements, viz., English for those who pass part two of the entrance examination in English or rhetoric for those who do not, and mathematics, five times per week, for those who have not credits in both first part higher algebra and solid geometry.

Those who are required to take mathematics must select from the groups below three subjects if the language chosen is three times per week, and two subjects if the language chosen is five times per week. When two subjects are elected, they must be in different groups; but when three are elected, two may be from one group.

Those not required to take mathematics, by virtue of having credits in both first part higher algebra and solid geometry, must select one subject from each of the groups below and one additional subject from one of the groups.

Group I, German, French, Latin, Scandinavian.

Group II, Animal biology, Botany, Chemistry.

Group III, Greek, History, Mathematics.

By our former arrangement while rhetoric and mathematics were required of all freshman, the other subjects were selected at the will of the student, as they were given in a miscellaneous list, and he could avoid, and often did avoid, whole classes of subjects, often selecting what was easier for him and not what was best for him. By the present arrangement he must take work in several different departments, thus laying a broader foundation upon which to build.

It is thus seen that the announcement, "mathematics may be dropped," is quite misleading. Those who have credits for less than three years of mathematics in the high school must take mathematics through the freshman year and the others (except the few who take Greek) must take either mathematics or history.

Very truly,
JOHN F. DOWNEY.

WILSON WINS WORDS OF PRAISE.

H. W. Wilson, ex-'92, who is known all over the country as the head of the company publishing the best book and magazine indexes, will issue a daily during the session of the national meeting of librarians at Minnetonka, this summer. Two numbers have been issued and sent out to arouse interest in the meeting and the letters that are received are extremely complimentary. A member of the state library commission of Wisconsin wrote, saying—"Probably the reason you cannot get second class mail privileges for the publication is the fact that the publication is so evidently first class."

NOTABLE APPOINTMENT FOR A 1908 MEMBER.

Fay N. Seaton, '08, who has been a scholar in economics during the past year, has been appointed private secretary to Dr. Milo R. Maltbie of the Public Service Commission of New York City and also librarian of the Reform Club, a position held for more than ten years by Mr. Maltbie himself.

The position pays well, from a money point of view, but what is more important it gives Mr. Seaton one of the best opportunities imaginable for the full exercise of the particular training Mr. Seaton has already enjoyed.

REGENTS' MEETING.

The Regents put in a busy day last Wednesday. Much routine business was transacted and much time spent in discussing the campus plans. Among the more important items of business transacted, was the making of provision for a new man as assistant professor of English for the college of engineering. The salary was fixed at $1500 and the selection of a man was left to President Northrop.

The president of the University and the deans of the various colleges were made a special permanent committee on catalogue and bulletins.

It was voted that graduate students may be allowed to visit classes for which they are not registered.

It was voted to appropriate $750 for the issuing of an Alumni Directory, this amount covering the cost of postage and printing, the alumni agreeing to bear the balance of the expense.

Dr. Rastall was made professor of insurance and accounting at a salary of $1800. Professor John S. Clark was made associate professor of Latin thus making Professor Pike head of the department. G. H. Hauschild was made instructor in German to fill the place made temporarily vacant by the leave of absence granted Mr. Williams, of the department.

Mr. Gerould, the Librarian, was made a member of the University council. Dr. J. C. Litzenberg resigned his position as assistant physical director. Dr. Wallace Notestein was elected instructor in history in place of Dr. Westermann, resigned. Dr. Notestein is a graduate of Wooster university, and has had several years of graduate work, spending last year at Yale.

Several scholars and assistants were also appointed, including Keiven Burns, in astronomy; Maud Steward, who has been spending the past year in New York, in drawing; Harold Deering, R. S. Saby and V. N. Valgren, in economics and politics; Alice Pope, in history; Ingebrigt Lillehei, in philosophy; Mr. Sveegren and Anna H. Helmholtz, in rhetoric; A. N. Gilbertson, in anthropology.

Salaries were raised in a few instances. Several that were cut a few years ago being restored to the former figure.

The main part of the day's work was spent on the campus plans. The prizes were awarded as recommended by the committee, first to Cass Gilbert and second to Dillon & Beadle of New York. The regents did not decide on any plans for the future development of the campus. A committee was appointed, consisting of Regents Lind, Rice, Butler, Nelson and Hovland, to make a study of the prize winners and also the plan of Mr. Hewett, which was ranked third among the plans submitted, and to recommend a plan which may include some of the good features of all these plans. This committee was empowered to employ an architect to make a drawing or re-study of the whole plan, if found desirable, in order to get a workable plan for future development. The location of buildings was left until this committee is ready to report. The engineering faculty are to have their plans ready by the time this committee is ready.

THE CLASS PLAY.

The class play, which this year was given at the Metropolitan on the Friday afternoon and evening before commencement, was fully up to the standard of such productions. The plot of the play was consistent throughout and was so framed as to bring in quite naturally the specialties, which were acknowledged generally to be unusually good. The play deals with life at an institution where "grind" is the word all the time. A student from Minnesota tells these poor benighted children how it is done at Minnesota and Edison Westinghouse Tinkerton, a bright youth with limitations, invents a machine, the Thinkolodeon, which gives the play its name, which machine has the power to extract from any book all its knowledge and to pack the same within the cranium of any desired individual within the space of a few seconds. This makes it possible to dispense with the "grind" and have time for the things that are really worth while in college life. The specialties embraced Grinders' specialty; River Bank specialty; Kollege Kid specialty; Shevlin Bread Line specialty; Jubilation specialty; Freshman specialty.

CLASS DAY.

Monday was class day for the academic section. The program was planned to run through the whole day and it was carried out despite a drizzling rain which fell most of the day. The class met in chapel and had their president's address and class history and presentation of their memorial, sixty life memberships from the academic section. The balance of the day's program consisted of farewells to the various buildings, and various other "stunts."

SENIOR PROMENADE.

The senior promenade was all that its projectors had predicted for it, one of the most enjoyable and notable events in the great series which began with the class of 1888. The decorating was unusual and beautiful. Masonic Temple never looked better and the hundreds who thronged the rooms were surprised and delighted at every turn by the provision made for their enjoyment. It has passed into history as one of the best ever.

FACULTY WIN GAME.

The faculty-senior baseball game, on alumni day, was won by the faculty with a score of 10 to 0. It was an interesting game and was played with spirit on both sides, the faculty displaying the most science and deservedly won.

DR. DEWEY DELIVERS ADDRESS.

Baccalaureate Sunday opened with threatening weather and just about the time services should begin a shower came up which kept many away. However, the Armory was comfortably filled with members of the graduating classes and their friends. Dr. Dewey opened his remarks by saying that the closing days of a college career, while full of pleasure, are, nevertheless, days of thoughtfulness. The severing of ties that are dear and thoughts of the unknown future and the inevitable thought that we are growing older and about to assume the responsibilities of our share in the world's work, all tend to give the days a serious meaning.

The one great thing is to have a purpose in life. If one is not already possessed, it should be found at once. This purpose should be to make life count in whatever sphere may be chosen. The only success worth having is that which is purchased by independent thought and effort. Sigh not for a windfall but seize every opportunity that comes in our way. Your diploma, which represents results achieved will mean nothing unless it is an earnest of yet greater things to be done. While you strive to do great things, forget not the insignificant, uninteresting and even irksome things that must be done to bring real success. There is no bargain counter in the great exchange of life.

Culture is necessary too; the culture that makes a man a gentleman and a woman a lady. Culture which has its roots in principles such as actuated the Divine Master.

Above all, honor is the greatest element in a well-spent life. There is need of great men, but a greater need of men who are inflexibly faithful to truth and loyal to the dictates of conscience. Conscience is the oracle of God; worthiness, the key to all real knowledge and success.

In addressing the class, he said—"If you do not perform any of the great things of life, I hope you will at least keep your honor unstained and your faith in God unshaken. I hope you will have a personality strong and winsome, and that you will make your model of Him who gathered about Him twelve men and laid upon them all, but one, the stamp of His own life."

REPORT OF DEAN BIRGE'S ADDRESS.

The address of Dean Birge on, "The Life of the College," dealt with the important changes in the inner spirit of college education during the last forty years. He sketched the life of the college of the early '70's, without elective studies, without laboratories or other modern facilities for teaching. Classics, mathematics and philosophy were the backbone of the course. The college life had little connection with the life that was to follow it, either in further study or in the business world. The aim of the college was primarily moral. It sought to live the intellectual life in an ethical spirit. In this purpose it succeeded and thus exerted a powerful influence on its students.

This life has been altered, or rather, completely changed by three factors; 1. the curriculum has been greatly enlarged by the addition of the sciences, modern languages and the "new humanities." This change has made necessary the elective system and has also brought the thought of the college into closer contact with that of the outer world. 2. The growth of the spirit of research has changed the professor's view of his duties and has given the college a purpose primarily intellectual instead of ethical. 3. The rapid increase of the number of students, attracted by the new courses and the new spirit of the college, has still further modified the temper of the institution and has brought about increased attention to practical affairs.

These changes have been in the line of progress, but there have been losses accompanying the gains; and attention was directed to these losses and to the way in which they are to be made good. In adding so much to its curriculum the college has lost the sense of mastery over that which it teaches, which the older college felt toward its simpler material. The college has been experimenting so long with new studies that the experimental habit has been formed and the college has lost definite aim. Its purpose is neither positively ethical nor purely intellectual. It does not know whether to prepare its students for research, or for the professions, or whether it should follow the older and traditional purpose of making college graduates. It lacks the courage to select certain purposes and to adjust its courses of study so as to reach them. Thus its work suffers from incoherence and hesitation. The increase of connections with the outer world, while tending to added efficiency in college education, has caused the ethical spirit to decline from the standard of the older college.

The remedy for these evils will not come from any specific remedy directed toward a cure, but from further growth and from enlargement of views both on the part of faculty and of students. Growth will bring to the college a renewed mastery of its materials and will clarify its purposes. The student will not cease to ask for practical results from the college but he will enlarge his ideas of practicality. He will find it practical to prepare for living as well as for work. The teacher will come to place a higher value on culture as compared with research. The ethical spirit will be renewed with a wider knowledge and with broader intellectual sympathies than those of the older college.

SEELY IS LIKED.

Seldom if ever has a University audience expressed greater satisfaction over a commencement address than was heard on all sides after the close of the exercises last Thursday. Mr. Seely is the editor and publisher of the Atlanta Georgian and is a young man thirty-seven years old. He says that his education was received in the school of hard knocks and that his message to the graduating class was the product of his own experiences in the school of the world. The following is a nearly complete report of the address, omitting the preliminary introductory remarks.

"Mr. President—Ladies and Gentlemen: "However perfunctory it may sound, I cannot feel at ease until I express to you my appreciation of the honor your invitation to address you bestows upon me.

"I have seen that most people like to be entertained on such occasions as this. Smooth words and pleasing compliments are the things too often demanded. If you look for this kind of entertainment to-day you will be disappointed, for I am here devoid of any attempt at pleasing oratory, and have only a plain message for you.

"I have not come to bring you bunkum; this is not an age when bunkum is needed; it is an age when men with messages are needed, and I come with a message—an old message—one that Homer gave us, and it comes to us with as much meaning to-day as it had centuries ago; it reads:

"For this end he sent me forth to teach thee all these things—to be a speaker of words and a doer of deeds."

"To-day there will walk out of this university a company of lives with their work here completed; the doors will swing quietly to behind you, and some turn East, some West, some North, some South, looking into the distant future that gives you no answer as you ask 'which way?'"

"You will go just where your characters lead you—to success or to disappointment, and you will go to success and happiness in-so-far as you have minds of your own and a fearless determination to be speakers of words and doers of deeds.

"There are many speakers to-day; we are all speaking, but how many of us speak words that weigh? The parrot speaks, but he only speaks; he has no thought or knowledge of what he says; he says what he is told to say.

"The trouble with young people, to-day, and old ones, too, for that matter, is that they have not the courage to speak words and do deeds of their own, but they say the thing they think will please for the moment rather than speak the truth if it disagree with a friend.

"The truth is what we want; not mere words.

"There are over fifty thousand words in the English language and some of us might use them all and not say anything worth the saying. You may use many words and fail to convey truth, and love and character, unless your heart is with what you say.

"You may learn the use of ten thousand words, but what can you do in life that will help if your words do not represent convictions.

"It is frankness, plain honesty, earnestness and love that the world needs. Men want love today—they want it for other men, for their work and for humanity and life will not be a success without it. Frankness I have put first because it really takes in honesty and everything—a person cannot be frank or just one's plain self without being honest and earnest and loving, and how many young people do we meet today who are frank? Very few. How many of you here are perfectly frank with yourselves, who are beautiful in your simplicity and who honestly have no little false emotions that you perform automatically because you feel that someone is looking and you must act a little? How many young women do you know who can get up and walk across the floor naturally, just as God taught her to do, or who can sit down at a piano without some special frill that is thrown in for looks? Some even need William Morris's admonition that though we make simplicity as beautiful as we can or will, be sure 'tis done for beauty, not for show.

"You cannot be frank and honest with the world if you are not with yourself. So we go a little back of even the fancy touches just mentioned and ask you if you are honest with yourselves—if you give your mind and being the messages of others and do not live and think your own thoughts and decide the right and wrong for yourself. No one can do your thinking and deciding for you. Frankness with yourselves is really the very starting point. Admit to yourselves when you are wrong. When you make mistakes and admit frankly to your God when you are in error, you will find it easy to be frank with the world; deceive yourself and you will deceive others. You will lack character and will be mere speakers of words, empty words—rattle brains.

Emerson says: "It is easy in the world to live after the world's opinions—it is easy in solitude to live after one's own, but great is he who in the midst of the throng keeps with perfect sweetness and independence his own true self."

"All our acts are controlled by the mental, everything originates in thought, that invisible beginning, that spirit force. Every calling must begin with the man—the human being. Then wherein does one being differ from another, and why are not all equally successful? Because of the errors of omission and the errors of commission. When if a young man be held back because of things he does that are wrong, there is a division in all he does that may be classified as the positives and negatives of his character. Every man represents 100 per cent. of the qualities that go to make lives. Love is classified as a positive and hatred as a negative; strength a positive, weakness a negative; morality a positive, immorality a negative; ambition a positive, laziness a negative. A given man's character may have sixty per cent. love and forty per cent. hate, forty per cent. morality, sixty per cent. immorality; fifty per cent. ambition, and so on—a hypothetical question, of course, as to amount, but what may he do when he reaches a point that he feels he must progress—simply decide to turn the negatives into positives. Center your thoughts on your will power for instance; some one owes you five dollars, borrowed long ago; you need it but have not had the courage to ask for it. Reason it out, it is yours; there are no reasons why you should refrain from asking for it; you simply lack courage; turn that negative of fear into a positive of courage, and go at once and ask the return of your money. Continue to do so every time your negative of fear holds you back, and you will have begun to rule your will and to be a success; continue to be ruled by fear of any kind—by hate—by immorality, and you are an undying failure.

"My message to you is, BE SOMETHING, DO SOMETHING; be ambitious for right and truth; be not proud of soft hands with polished nails. God help the woman who spends her time at the manicure's table, and the man who would do it is beyond God's help. If I were a young woman I would never waste an hour on any young man whose hands had never known a callous, I would never take but one whiff of a man whose clothes were saturated with cigarette smoke, and I wouldn't even let a man who drinks come near me. Loving men and marrying them to reform them has been tried all too often, and it does not work.

"What deeds shall we do? What can I do, one after another asks. What can you do? The first thing many of us will have to do, will be to quit our laziness and be willing to do SOMETHING. John Lentz has well said, 'God help the children of the rich, the poor can work,' and Stevenson says, 'Little do ye know your own blessedness; for to travel hopefully is a better thing than to arrive and the true success is to labor.' How many of us know from one day to the next what our material condition will be. Men are rich today and poor tomorrow; children born in the lap of luxury and reared with no knowledge of self-help find themselves suddenly bereft of home and property and finally the pinch of poverty robs their rosy cheeks because they are lost to turn to self support.

"How many young women spend their time around the card table when they should be making their own clothing; how many more sit and gossip when they should be reading a good book or a newspaper? Is my wife the less refined because she sews for her four children? Is the fact that your fathers can afford to support you a good reason why you can afford it? No, a thousand time no.

"Many of us were born into poverty, but who would be ashamed of it, or who is the young man or young woman that would be ashamed of his or her parents' plainness or lack of polish? Many parents deny themselves the comforts of life to give their children such magnificent advantages as this institution has given to you, and unless your hearts are filled with gratitude and humility for it you are a failure already."

OREGON ALUMNI ORGANIZE.

The Minnesota alumni in Oregon got together for a banquet June 4th, at Portland. There were thirty-two present. The week was that of the great rose festival and naturally the decorations were largely roses, though U. of M. pennants and ribbons were much in evidence. Souvenir post cards showing a birdseye-view of the campus were distributed to those present. A telegram of greeting was sent to "Prexy." The following list of toasts were proposed by Helmus W. Thompson, '88, who presided in his usual happy vein.

ACADEMIC ALUMNI MEETING.

The academic alumni held a "sure enough" meeting last Wednesday. The meeting though not largely attended gave evidences of future life and activity and plans were made for a reunion next fall or winter. President Snyder was elected to succeed himself and Miss Guthrie was re-elected secretary. Messrs. Snyder and Nachtrieb were elected to the board of directors of the General Alumni Association. The reunion banquet, or whatever may be decided upon, is likely to be held next fall during the football season when a large number of alumni will be in town.

LAW ALUMNI HEAR PURDY.

The law alumni, 140 strong, met at Donaldson's to listen to Milton D. Purdy, '91, Law '92, who talked upon industrial combinations and monopolies and their regulation and control by the federal government. Mr. Purdy gave a rapid review of the rise of such combinations and told what has been done to control them. He also outlined some additional regulations which he deemed desirable for the same purpose. The address was well received and Mr. Purdy was given a rising vote of thanks. The Dean told of the growth of the school and predicted for it a greater future.

Preceding the banquet, a business meeting was held, at which the following officers were elected; President, W. T. Coe; vice-president, E. O. Wergedahl; secretary, E. St. J. Condon; treasurer, S. W. Burr; representatives to the General University Alumni Association, H. V. Mercer, and W. N. Carroll.

A resolution presented indorsing the appointment of Mr. Purdy to the federal judgeship was warmly debated, not on the merits of the appointment, but upon the propriety of introducing a matter of politics into the meeting of an association organized for social and professional purposes. Upon the vote of the question, the resolution won by a practically unanimous vote.

COLLEGE OF EDUCATION.

The alumni of the college of education met Wednesday afternoon and adopted a constitution. The following officers were elected:—C. G. Selvig, '07, president; E. C. Higbie, '07, vice-president; Ethel Bush, '08, secretary; and F. E. Reed, '07, treasurer. C. G. Selvig and L. W. Rapier were elected representatives of the college of education on the board of directors of the General Alumni Association.

A committee consisting of C. P. Stanley, '07, W. T. Newton, '08, was appointed to arrange for an alumni dinner during the annual session of the Minnesota Educational Association.

CHEMISTS HOLD MEETING.

The chemical graduates held an informal all-day session on Alumni day, the principal business being the taking in of the present graduating class. The officers of the association were elected some time ago and Levi B. Pease is president and Frank F. Grout, secretary and treasurer.

MEDICAL ALUMNI MEETING.

The medical alumni met Wednesday evening at Donaldson's tea rooms and transacted business by electing Judd Goodrich, of St. Paul, president; Walter H. Vallentine, Tracy, vice-president; Mary P. Hopkins, White Bear, second vice-president; Herbert W. Jones, Minneapolis, secretary-treasurer. There were about fifty out to the business meeting and banquet.

HOMEOPATHIC MEDICAL ALUMNI.

The alumni of the college of homeopathic medicine and surgery met at the time of the state meeting of homeopathic physicians. Dr. O. K. Richardson and A. E. Booth were re-elected to the board of directors of the General Alumni Association. Dr. J. F. Beck was made president of the college association; Dr. C. W. Wilkowske, vice-president; and Dr. Anna Hurd, secretary-treasurer. The University committee was elected as follows; Dr. Beck, chairman; and Drs. C. A. Dawson and Ida MacKeen members. The alumni, to the number of fifty, banqueted at Dayton's. Dean Wulling, of the college of pharmacy, spoke upon Oponic theory and the new hygiene and Dean Mann upon Medical education.

George G. Balcom, Hom. '96, of Lake Wilson, was elected president of the State Homeopathic association and Edwin H. Smith, Hom. '99, of Bemidji, was elected vice-president.

DENTAL ALUMNI MEET.

The dental alumni held a short business meeting Wednesday afternoon and re-elected their former officers, including E. F. Wanous, president; Frank E. Moody, vice-president; Benjamin Sandy, secretary-treasurer. They also re-elected their present representatives to the board of directors of the General Alumni Association.

PHARMACY ALUMNI HELD BANQUET

The alumni of the college of pharmacy followed their usual custom and elected their officers largely from the graduating class. R. H. Puhl was made president, George Holmgren, vice-president, A. G. Erkel, treasurer, and A. E. Lovdahl, secretary. Mr. Bachman, whose term on the board of directors of the General Alumni Association has expired was succeeded by Oscar Blosmo, '07. The business meeting was held Wednesday afternoon at the college and the banquet the same evening at the West. About twenty-five were present at the banquet and a good time was enjoyed.

1883's HAVE DELIGHTFUL TIME.

A delightful reunion was held by the class of '83, University of Minnesota, at the lake home of Mr. and Mrs. David P. Jones, Attorney General and Mrs. evening, in celebration of its twenty-fifth anniversary. Graduate and non-graduate members and their husbands and wives to the number of nineteen were present. The class originally numbered twenty-six, but three of the members have died. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. David P. Jones, Attorney General and Mrs. E. T. Young, St. Paul; Mrs. John M. Cochran, Grand Forks, N. D.; Mrs. F. A. Scheuber, Livingstone, Mont.; Mrs. Louise E. Hollister, Evanston, Ill.; Dr. and Mrs. Douglas Ayres, Fort Plains, N. Y.; Messrs. and Mmes. A. H. Hall, Edson S. Gaylord and C. M. Locke, Professor C. F. Siderer, Sumner F. Trussell, Miss Alice West, H. S. Rowell, Minneapolis. Letters were read from several absent members. After the picnic on the campus the party went out by trolley and steamer, and after an informal social hour enjoyed a piazza supper, followed by songs and reminiscences.

1888 GET TOGETHER.

Twenty-three members and adopted members of the class got together for their twentieth anniversary celebration at the picnic. After lunching together the members of the class spent the afternoon in visiting with each other and with other alumni of the earlier days. The occasion was voted a most enjoyable one by all present. No formal organization was thought best but it is possible that the class will attempt to get together again later in the summer for a class picnic. Mr. and Mrs. John Morris and their son came all the way from Chicago to be present.

ALLEN ENTERTAINS 1890.

The class of 1890 met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Allen, 2016 Harriet avenue. There were present Mr. and Mrs. O. K. Richardson, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert G. Richardson, Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Sommers, Mr. and Mrs. William H. Hoyt of Duluth, Professor and Mrs. Pike, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Anderson, Captain J. Colfax Grant, Walter E. Winslow, Misses Catherine Comfort and Mary Weber.

Mr. Hoyt was elected president, Mr. Sommers, vice-president; Miss Comfort, secretary and Mr. Winslow, treasurer.

Mr. Winslow reported that there were $1,013 in the fellowship fund and Mrs. Hoyt, Mr. Winslow and Miss Comfort were appointed a committee to devise ways and means of both increasing and spending the fund for the purpose for which it was created. An effort is to be made to get hold of the members of the class who did not graduate. Letters were received and read from a number of members of the class who could not be present. Lunch was served and a social time was indulged in which lasted till the wee small hours.

1891 SETS GOOD EXAMPLE.

Members of the class of 1891, University of Minnesota went on record at the annual reunion of the alumni Wednesday by pledging themselves to take out life memberships in the University of Minnesota Alumni Association. It was recommended that every other member of the class do the same. The reunion was held in the afternoon and evening at the summer home of Dr. and Mrs. Frank C. Todd, Orono, Lake Minnetonka. During the business meeting the recommendation was passed and letters from the following absent members were read: Dr. Theodore G. Soares of Chicago university; B. P. Chappell, instructor of the North Dakota state school for the blind; Ed. Sias, of Harborview, Florida; Henry S. Morris, of Sisseton, S. D.; Walter Chowin, of San Francisco; F. S. Smith, Spokane; Victor Steans, Duluth; Theodore M. Knappen, of Chicago; Joseph Blethen of the Seattle Times, and Mrs. E. A. Nickerson, of Berkeley, Calif. The members of the class went to Excelsior on an early afternoon car and enjoyed a steamer trip to the Todd home, where luncheon was served. The class is noted for the marriages among its members and the list of these includes Mr. and Mrs. Charles Chase, Dr. and Mrs. J. Grove Cross, Dr. and Mrs. Theodore G. Soares, Mr. and Mrs. Milton D. Purdy and Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Knappen, Mr. and Mrs. Timberlake, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Nickerson, all of whom belonged to '91. Present at the meeting were the hosts, Dr. and Mrs. Todd, Messrs. and Mmes. Chase, Norton Cross, Grove Cross, Mrs. Theodore Knappen, George A. Clark, secretary to Dr. David Starr Jordan, president of Leland Stanford university, Palo Alto, Cal., Joseph Jorgens, Asa J. Hammond, B. H. Timberlake, Miss Anna Guthrie, Miss Nora Frye and Arthur B. Church of Long Prairie.

Joseph Jorgens was elected president, Arthur B. Church was made secretary.

It was voted to send a mimeographed copy of all letters received to all members of the class.

1892 WITH THE BELDENS AT THE LAKE.

The class of 1892 enjoys the unique reputation of never having missed a reunion date in its history of sixteen years. This year the members of the class met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. K. Belden at Deephaven. There were present beside the host and hostess, Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Zeleny, Mr. and Mrs. Kraft, Mr. and Mrs. Walker (Eveline Sammis), Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Selover, Dr. and Mrs. Cross, and Messrs. Kirk, Hale, John Zeleny and Mrs. Rocheford (Effie Ames), Misses Cheney, Friedlander and Rose, and Mr. and Mrs. Rhodes.

At the business meeting the secretary was instructed to get blanks and send to the members of the class and try to get every member to become a life member of the General Alumni association. A committee was appointed to try to locate the knife which used to be passed down from class to class. Letters were read from absent members and all present were called upon to report in person concerning their fortunes. This class elects officers but once in five years, the officers being: President, Mary Cheney, secretary-treasurer, Esther Friedlander. The members of the class reached Deephaven in a drenching rain and had dinner with the Beldens and after a social time were sent to their train by boat, enjoying a moonlight ride on the lake, minus the moonlight—the moon shining but one minute during the trip. As usual, the members present had the time of their lives.

1893 OUT IN FORCE.

Twenty-four members of the class of 1893 gathered on the University campus for their fifteenth class reunion on Wednesday, and when the Deephaven car was taken at four o'clock for Lake Minnetonka, this number was considerably augmented by the addition of some of the professors at the University, who had been invited to "reune" with us at the home of Mrs. J. E. Bell on Gideon's Bay, Lake Minnetonka, and the "allied members of 1893" acquired since graduation by marriage.

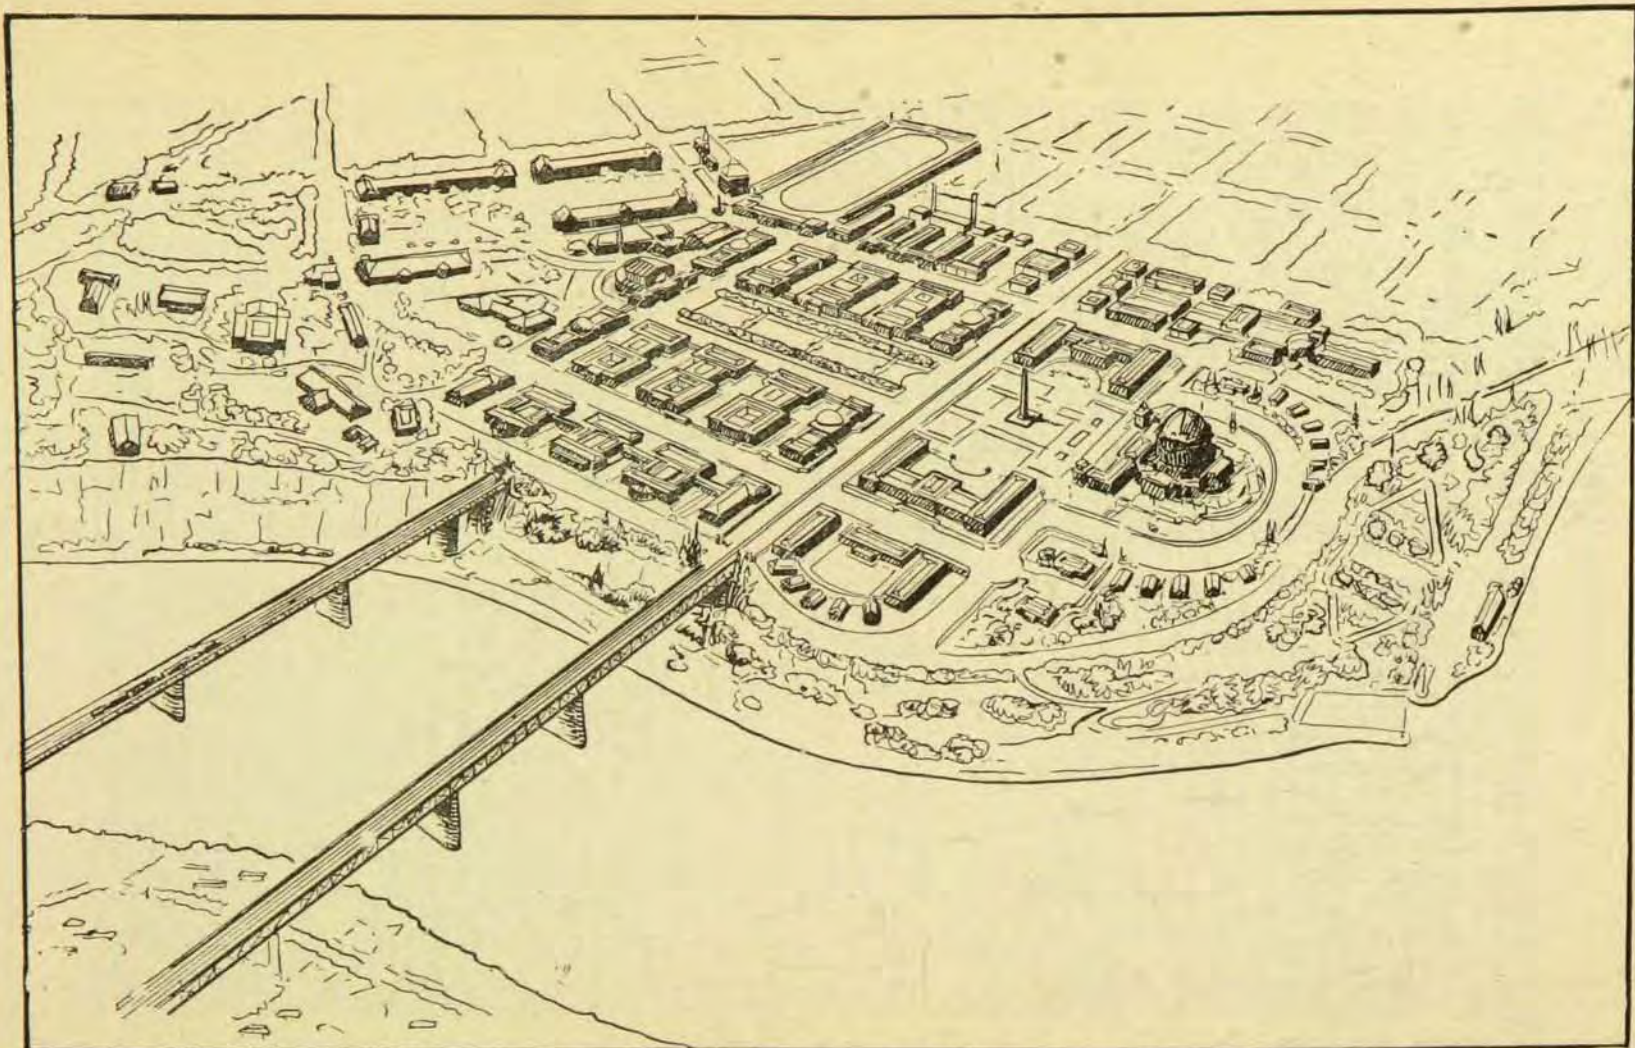

For the rest of the afternoon we were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Bell, and more royal hosts we could not have had, for after a tour of the lower lake we were bidden to a delicious feast at their home near Excelsior.

With appetites sharpened by our voyage, all did full justice to the meal and then the greetings of absent members of the class were read, and Professor Hutchinson spoke on behalf of the faculty telling us how much they had enjoyed being with some of their girls and boys again.

The whole occasion was most enjoyable, and all who were present felt much indebted to the committee who had the matter in charge, and especially to Mr. and Mrs. Bell, whose genial and generous hospitality made it possible to hold the reunion under such favorable auspices.

University and class spirit seems to be at flood tide with members of 1893.

802 Franklin avenue W., Minneapolis, Minn., was elected permanent secretary of the class, and it was voted to hold an annual reunion from this year on.

1894 ENTHUSIASTIC.

The class of 1894 met with Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Bisbee, at 418 Fifth street southeast. There were twenty-two members present and letters and a telegram from seven others. The roll-call was made and every one responded. A number of notable speeches were made, including one by Captain Green, who has just returned from the Philippines. The members of the class spent half an hour asking him questions about various phases of life in the Philippines. Mr. Hovland was also called upon to report what the regents had up their sleeves. W. T. Coe came in late, from the law alumni banquet, where he had just been elected president. He was asked what the law alumni were doing for the University. Walter Poehler, from Duluth, was asked what he had done, since graduation, that was bad and he said the worst was that he had never attended a reunion before, and promised to reform by attending every year hereafter. A very interesting letter from Mr. Cutler, superintendent of the largest mine in Nevada, was received and read. Malvern H. Manuel was elected president and Georgia Burgess, secretary. Regent Hovland was made keeper of the purse. Mr. and Mrs. Coe invited the class to meet at their house for a reunion next year. The class are planning a big time for their fifteenth annual reunion next June. A letter was received from Laura Frankenhof, who is to be a member of Louis James' Company next year, and who is to have an important part in the play Peer Gynt. The company will be in Minneapolis next winter, thus giving her old friends a chance to hear her.

1898 WITH MISS HARRIS.

The class of 1898 celebrated its tenth anniversary by a reunion at the home of Miss Mary Harris, 2401 Park avenue, on the evening of alumni day. There were twenty present. The Twin city members of the class were particularly happy to greet Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Stanford of Moorhead, Miss Mary Horrick of Little Falls, and Mrs. Isabel Davis Poehler of Duluth, all of whom made special effort to be in the city for the reunion.

Acting upon Secretary Johnson's suggestion, the class took steps toward a permanent class organization. A secretary was elected for the ensuing year, and the chairman of the meeting, Mr. Hugh Allen, was directed to appoint a committee to arrange for class organization and the next reunion. This committee will be reported later.

The evening was spent in pleasant chat about old times and present fortunes, letters were read from absent classmates, and Mr. Perley Davis added greatly to the pleasure of the evening with songs.

In addition to the out-of-town members named above, the following were present: Mrs. Stella Gray Whitman, Geo. B. Caldwell, Henry Sommers, all from St. Paul, Professor D. F. Swenson, Dr. and Mrs. McVey, Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Davis, Hugh N. Allen, Dr. F. L. Adair, Mrs. Grace Mitchell Groat, Misses Hattie Holtz, Lillian Marvin, May Fowler, Ethel Graves, Mary C. Harris, Secretary.

THE LAWS OF 1898.

The law class of 1898 held its first reunion celebration last week at the W. Co. There were present Messrs. Henderso, Hoidale, Yale, Armstrong, Moorhead, Well, Powell and Thompson, from this city; Messrs. Finehout and Krooks, of St. Paul; and from out of the city, C. A. Albright, of Brainerd; Don Cameron, of Little Falls; George W. Champlin, of Benson; A. B. Childress, of Faribault; Charles Elmquist, of Rush City; E. H. Krelwitz, of Aitkin; N. I. Johnson, of Moorhead. All of the members from outside the city, save Mr. Johnson, are county attorneys of their respective counties. Mr. Elmquist is also a candidate for the Railroad and Warehouse commission on the republican ticket. The class voted to have another reunion five years hence, and elected Mr. Hoidale president and Mr. Henderson, secretary. The class adjourned about one o'clock after hearing a report from every member present and reading letters from many who could not be present. E. S. Wright of the class, whose address is given in the alumni directory as Lodi, La., is living at Escanaba, Mich. Mr. Henderson acted as toastmaster and every one of the seventeen present were heard from.

1900's AT THE NICOLLET.

Of the class of 1900, twenty-two were present at an informal dinner at the Nicollet House Wednesday evening. Letters were received from several members and reports of personal interest from these present. A circular letter from Mr. E. B. Johnson urging class organization met with hearty approval.

Especial enthusiasm was expressed regarding the next meeting in 1910 which will be the tenth anniversary.

The obituary committee reported the death of four of the class: George Cole, Morris Stratton, Dorothy Dahl and John Knox, but no formal action was taken because of the length of time which had elapsed.

Miss Cohen urged greater interest in the Woman's Collegiate Association, both for the sake of the alumni and to increase the scholarship for worthy students. Mr. Klein expressed deep appreciation of the value of college friends and acquaintances from a business standpoint and of the importance of concerted alumni action for anything tending toward good government.

Waldron Jerome and Bertha Belle Warner were elected President and Secretary and Treasurer for the ensuing two years. They will particularly appreciate receiving news for the Weekly or any message of interest for the roll-call in 1910.

1903 REUNION.

Tuesday evening, June 9th, "1903" had its fifth-year reunion in Alice Shevlin hall. Dr. Ray R. Knight, as chairman of the reunion committee, had sent return mailing-cards to the class some weeks before, and though there were but twenty-six members present, the cards which were passed around during the evening, brought news from nearly everyone.

Those who were present were Mr. and Mrs. George Wheaton (Alice Jackson); Mr. and Mrs. Seavy Bailey (Flora Edwards); Mr. and Mrs. George McLaughlin (Mary Louise Thornton); Mrs. Martin Hyde (Susan Hannemann); Mrs. Harris Newkirk (Ruth Spear), Laura Robb, Louise Ray, Mary Longbrake, Lenora Mann, Alice Thompson, Helen Hendrix, Grace Chadwick, Gertrude Ballard, Benjamin Drake, Ray Knight, Mac Martin, Dana McMillan, Edward Williams, Harry Grow, Kelvin Burns, Avery Crouse, Harry Goodwin and Helmer Feroc.

After a very informal reception, a few of the specialties of the class play, "A Sovereign and a Copper," were revived. Grace Chadwick gave her inimitable "Nobody's Looking but the Owl and the Moon;" and the Breakfast Food Song, "We are His Six Little Cooks," was sung by the assembled multitude, since only two of the original "cooks" were there. Paul Gieslain, ex-'09, played for the dancing which was indulged in, intermittently, all the evening.

At supper which was served at ten o'clock, our Life-President, Benjamin Drake, was master of ceremonies, calling on everyone for an account of the five years' experiences. The responses formed the most interesting "toaster" ever heard, I am sure, for they told what everyone wanted to hear and were most individual and fine. Dr. Knight gave interesting statistics showing the occupations, of the class.

We have at least three members in foreign lands—one in Burmah, one in Turkey, and another in China. "Govie" Iver wrote a long and most characteristic letter from Salt Lake City where he is engaged in newspaper work. Mr. Drake read a very welcome message from Mr. E. B. Johnson, and in accordance with its suggestion, the secretary was instructed to send a report of the reunion to the "Alumni Weekly." It was also decided that we should make a greater effort to co-operate with the Editor of the "Weekly," and the secretary was asked to send a report to him every month, if there was one to send; We who were present wish to urge all the members of the class to see that the Weekly knows of their whereabouts so that the class records may be accurate.

The reunion finally ended with our class song "Oh, Ski-U-Mah, farewell" and the Minnesota song. We hope that a larger number will enjoy our tenth reunion, though it cannot be more successful than this was, for as of yore, we had "the time of our lives."

Gertrude E. Ballard, Secretary, '03.

NIGHT LAWS OF 1904.

The members of the night law class of 1904 of the University of Minnesota were entertained Tuesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James E. Mehan, 3417 Park avenue.

1904 AT THE PICNIC.

The class of 1904 got together at the picnic this year and confined its efforts to having a pleasant time while lunching together. Next year it is expected that a special effort will be made to get together for a big time to celebrate the fifth anniversary of graduation.

1905'S MET WITH MISS HELEN FISH.

The class of 1905 of the University of Minnesota held their class reunion last Wednesday night at the home of Miss Helen Fish, 2301 Third avenue south. The house was artistically decorated with snowballs and ferns while the University pennants were also used.

The evening was spent in games and music, of which Lois Tennant gave several selections. The guests sang the class song and several parts of the class play were given. During the evening each guest wrote a limerick from several words which were assigned on small cards.

There were 40 guests. The committee in charge of the arrangements was Miss Bessie Plummer, Murray Davenport and Charles P. Schouten.

1906 NIGHT LAWS.

This class is one of the best organized and most enthusiastic bunches among the alumni. They get together each year and this year dined together at the Kaiserhoff on the evening of June 9th. Of the forty-one members of the class, twenty-one were present. C. Rosenmeier acted as toastmaster and toasts were responded to as follows: G. W. Allen, Sham and Frivolous; W. L. Norton, The Lid; D. L. Stine, Incompetent, Irrelevant and Immaterial; D. R. Frost, Maxims of Equity; J. A. O. Preuss, The Senate; D. F. Lyons, The Perfect Law; C. J. Wold, Gentlemen of the Jury.

1907 LOYAL.

The class of 1907 had a tent erected on the campus where all members of the class were expected to register. Fifty-four names appeared on the class roll, and forty-seven sat down to dinner in Alice Shevlin hall. Dr. Folwell, who calls himself a member of the class of '07, was the guest of honor and made a little informal talk. Half a dozen members of the class, representing various professions, talked and a delightful time was had. After the dinner and speeches, the class adjourned to Northrop Field where field-day stunts were run off. A final farewell meeting was held in Shevlin hall at 5:30; there were thirty-five members of the class together at that hour. It was voted to do that same next year. Claud Randall was re-elected president and Irene Dunn, secretary. Arnold Frye was chairman of the committee on arrangements.

MINNESOTA GETS VIKING SHIP MODEL.

Dr. Gisle Bothne recently lectured at Eau Claire, Wis., upon the poet Wergeland. He brought back to the University the model of the Viking ship which will find place in the museum of the department.

STRONG DELEGATION TO GENEVA.

The University will be represented this year at the Geneva conference of the college branch of the Y. M. C. A., by twenty-eight men, the pick of the University. The prospects are that it will be one of the largest and most important delegations at the conference. Last year Minnesota was a powerful factor in the conference and this year she is bound to be even a greater factor. The reflex influence on the work of the association in college next year is bound to tell for great things.

NEBRASKA WINS TRACK MEET.

Minnesota track team went to Nebraska, May 30th, and lost the track meet to cornhuskers by a score of 28 to 84. Only two firsts were taken by the gophers, the half mile run and the pole vault.

BASEBALL RECORD GOOD.

Minnesota has an equal claim with Illinois to the western college championship in baseball. The final game with Wisconsin was won by a score of 4 to 0. One game was lost to Illinois and one won from the same team. One game was lost to Wisconsin by a score of 3 to 2. One was lost to Ames and one tied with Luther. In the game with Luther, at the end of fifteen innings the score stood 1 to 1 and was finally called by consent of both teams. The record has been the best ever made by a Minnesota team, at least in recent years, all other games on the schedule being won by a good margin.

AMERICAN UNIVERSITIES CLUB OF LONDON.

The establishment of the Cecil Rhodes scholarships has naturally aroused an interest in the establishment of a club for college men living or visiting in England. Such a club has been organized and effort is being made to place it on a sound basis so as to make it of the greatest possible use to American college men who may be at any time in England. The membership fee is $10 annually. Anyone interested in the matter can secure further information by addressing the club at Carlton House, Regent Street, London, Eng.

THE 1909 GOPHER.

The 1909 Gopher was issued May 23d. It is a fair representative of the species and from a typographical point of view is rather above the average. India tint paper is used throughout and the whole appearance of the book is attractive.

BARGAIN DAY IN FOUNTAIN PENS.

A bold had burglar helped the Northwestern School Supply company to dispose of fifty-two cases of fountain pens one night not long since. The thieves were evidently experts at the business. Three years ago the same thing occurred, at that time the Wilson Company also lost their stock of pens. The Northwestern carried burglary insurance on their stock and so the loss is not so heavy as it would otherwise have been.

HARTZELL IN DEMAND.

Dr. Thos. B. Hartzell, Dent. '93, Med. '94 professor of therapeutics, pathology and oral surgery in the college of dentistry, recently read a paper before the Jubilee meeting of the Indiana State Dental Association. This meeting called together representatives of the dental profession from all over the country, and lasted for three days, June 6th to 8th, Dr. Hartzell was called upon to give a clinic and read a paper upon the surgical treatment of loosening teeth. Dr. Hartzell has been carrying on research work for several years into the causes of the trouble. The State Association of Wisconsin and the National Association, which is to meet in Boston, have both asked Dr. Hartzell to present a paper and give a clinic upon the same line of work.

DENTAL FACULTY HONOR REID.

Members of the faculty of the college of dentistry at the University of Minnesota gave a dinner at the Commercial club, ten days ago, in honor of Dr. H. M. Reid. Dr. Reid has decided to give up his active practice, and he will take up his residence in New Jersey. He has been connected with the dental department of the University for several years. He has been secretary and treasurer of the Minnesota Dental Society for the last twenty-five years. At the dinner covers were laid for eighteen.

TWO ALUMNI CANDIDATES.

Leslie Ogden, Law '04, deputy county auditor, has announced his candidacy for the office of county commissioner from the east district. Mr. Ogden has had more or less to do with politics for some years; he enjoys the good will of all who know him and is likely to make it interesting for anyone else seeking the nomination for the same office. He is the only alumnus of the University who has announced himself for the office and will naturally have the support of the alumni living in his district.

Charles D. Gould, Law '91, has filed for the office of alderman from the Fourth ward. Two years ago Mr. Gould was a candidate for the nomination against Mr. Merrill, now president of the council, and the change of eighty-five votes would have given him the nomination over one of the strongest men in the present council. This year he enters the field against the present incumbent, Mr. Starkweather, and the wise ones say that he has the nomination as good as cinched.

ROBINSON'S NEW BOOK.

Dr. E. V. Robinson, professor of economics, an associate editor of the Journal of Geography, will issue this summer, through Rand, McNally & Company, a text book on economic geography. Owing to the fact that he needed to be in Chicago part of the time, to supervise the issuing of his new book, Dr. Robinson accepted the offer of the University of Chicago, to take charge of the work offered in the summer session in commercial geography. Dr. Robinson's family will spend the summer in Michigan at a point where Dr. Robinson will be able to be with them part of the time each week.

GLEASON WINS IN SUPREME COURT.

John L. Gleason, who sued the Board of Regents for right to register, after having been dropped for poor scholarship and afterward refused registration on the grounds of insubordination, has won his contention in the supreme court, the court refusing to throw the case out on the technicality that the Regents represented the state of Minnesota and so could not be sued. The case will now go to trial in the district court and a jury will decide on the merits of the evidence submitted at the trial.

Later—Gleason's attorneys, Leonard and Devaney, and Mr. Jelly, representing the attorney-general, and Professor Paige held a consultation last Wednesday at the University. President Lind, of the Board of Regents was called in, and, while nothing definite has been given out, the suit had been postponed and there is a general feeling that Gleason will be allowed to come back next fall.

BOOK BY PROFESSOR PECKHAM.

Professor S. F. Peckham, who was professor of chemistry here from 1874 to 1880, and who is now chemist to the commissioner of account of the city of New York, has just issued a book upon Solid Bitumens, which represents the result of forty years' work. The book includes a consideration of the chemical and physical qualities of solid bitumens, together with chemical analyses, and a treatise upon the chemical technology of bituminous pavements. Professor Peckham has always taken special interest in this line of experimentation and the result of his long years of investigation and he has embraced in this work not only his own deductions from his own investigations, but the results which have been established by the investigations of others in the same field. The result is said to be a treatise on solid bitumens that is scientific, exhaustive and authoritative, and is said to be one of the most notable contributions to practical chemical technology of recent years.

BENNETT'S NEW BOOK.

President Theodore Roosevelt is viewed from a new standpoint in a book, "Roosevelt and the Republic," just issued by John W. Bennett, an alumnus of the U. of M. Mr. Bennett has spent much of his life in newspaper work, a portion as editorial writer and Washington correspondent. He says that he has been watching Roosevelt since the president became Civil Service Commissioner. For the past year or more, Mr. Bennett says, he has devoted all of his leisure time to a systematic study of Roosevelt's books, articles, speeches and State papers, and an examination of his public acts. This book is the result.

It is a neat volume of more than 400 pages, attractive in typographical make-up and bearing a cover portrait of the president. Roosevelt's public career is set forth in detail and his policies discussed at some length. The struggle between democracy and centralization in the Republic is traced from the constitutional convention of 1787 to the present time. Theodore Roosevelt is pronounced the greatest modern champion of centralization, and it is charged that he is attempting to make the government of the Republic a centralized bureaucracy.

In tone, the book is drastic although the language is always parliamentary. The author justifies himself in an introduction of copious quotations from Roosevelt's writings, showing Historian Roosevelt's unsparing criticism of public men. "I have but applied the Roosevelt historical method to Roosevelt," says the author. At all events the scapel is used mercilessly, and sometimes the bludgeon of criticism. Here is his final summary of Roosevelt's place in history as well as his influence upon the Republic:—

"As we view it, his future size will depend upon the future course of the Republic. This none but a prophet can foresee. Centuries are but years in the nation's life. A presidential term but the episode of a fortnight. What it may have accomplished no man can say in advance. But the seed for the future harvest may be sown in a day. More than that, the death germ may be planted in a moment. What moment is beyond our ken. Seeds of the white death lie dormant in many a robust bosom for years. It took Rome fourteen hundred years to disintegrate after the beginning of the end.

"If this nation should become a great imperialistic power, inspiring admiration by its splendor and fear of its momentary strength; if after a hectic, feverish course of apparent brilliancy, should ensue the palsied inefficiency of bureaucracy, with the inevitable death and disintegration, some future Gibbon, telling some future people lusty in the strength of young manhood, the story of the rise and fall, would designate the time of the Spanish war as the day upon which the seeds of the white death had been sown.

Theodore Roosevelt would be written down as the president who had seen to it that these seeds had taken root. And Roosevelt would be remembered."

"On the other hand should the bright sunlight and pure air of life-giving freedom throw off the menace of this white death,—destroy this cankerous germ which imperial ambition has planted in the nation's bosom; if defying time, our Republic should live a democratic sanctuary through the ages, then the period of Roosevelt will be but a feverish, unsubstantial dream. He shall then be counted as one of the evanescent, inconsequential incidents of our national life."

Students of Roosevelt and his policies will find in this book a distinctly new view of the popular president.

STATE DENTAL ASSOCIATION.

The state dental association held an election last week at which a number of University men were honored by being chosen officers. Dr. F. B. Kremer, formerly a professor in the dental college, was made president; Dr. J. W. Gallagher, '97, of Winona, vice-president; F. E. Cobb, '95, Minneapolis, secretary.

DR. GLOYD DEAD.

Readers of the Weekly will remember, that last fall, Dr. William S. Gloyd accidentally shot and killed his brother-in-law, while on a hunting trip, and that he afterward disappeared mysteriously from his home, driven, it being supposed, to temporary dementia through his grief over the awful accident. Last week a body was found in the river below St. Paul, which has been positively identified as that of Dr. Gloyd. The funeral was held at his former home last Saturday and the interment took place at Northfield.

IN PROHIBITION RANKS.

Dr. George D. Haggard, Med. '95, was recently chosen by the state prohibitionists, to head their state ticket as candidate for governor; F. F. Lindsay, Law '91, was nominated for the state warehouse and railroad commissioner, Mrs. Bessie Laythe Scovell, '84, and Dr. Haggard, were named as delegates to the national prohibition convention to be held at Columbus, Ohio, in July. Mr. Lindsay was named as alternate. Rev. A. B. Gould, '87, of Mazeppa, was made a member of the state committee.

assistant sergeant-at-arms for the republican national convention which is to meet in Chicago, June 16th.

C. E. Austin, '03, of New Prague, Minn., spent June 2nd at the University. Mr. Austin was on his way to Dakota on business. He is connected with a milling firm of New Prague.

Madame Bertin, of the French department, will spend the summer with her nieces in southern California.

Marjorie Bullard, '06, who has been teaching at Morton, will be at home in St. Paul the coming year.

GRADUATION DAYS

are days of pleasure.

The memories of those days will linger for years to come. You surely wish to carry away from your Alma Mater something which will remind you of the happy days at dear old U. of M.

Hugh N. Allen, '98, Law '01, deputy county auditor, has been appointed as an

Dr. Frederick P. Burgan, Dent. '05, who has coached the star north high football teams for the past two years, will coach the Hamline team next fall. Dr. Burgan has been a wonder as a football coach turning out two of the best high school teams that have ever represented a city school.

The alumni of Madison, S. D., took advantage of the fact of Miss Katherine Bailey's visit to get together for a mass meeting. It is reported that the five young ladies who constituted the meeting made up with enthusiasm what they lacked in numbers, and gave the University yell with a right good will. There were present, Misses Frances D. Chamberlain, '07, Katherine Bailey, Florence D. Hofflin, '07, Dean and Gregg.

George A. Clark, '91, secretary of Leland Stanford University, was at the University to attend the reunion of his class and to take in the alumni picnic. Mr. Clark has not been at the University for the past eleven years and was delighted to see the evidences of such progress and growth in the University. He expects to be in Minnesota for a few weeks before returning to California. He enjoys life in California and while loyal to the new has not forgotten his love for the old. Mrs. Clark was Miss Corrigan, sister of Frank Corrigan, Law, '91. They have five children, four boys and one girl.

Bret Cooley, '99, who has been superintendent of schools at Osakis for a number of years, will take charge of the schools at Long Prairie next year.

Governor Johnson recently appointed Montgomery L. Cormany, Law '95, lawyer and editor of the Princeton News, judge of probate of Mille Lacs county. Judge Cormany will take office the 20th of June.

Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Delamere, both of

'04. (Mrs. Delamere was Rita Clancy) are living at Cyr, Mont., where Mr. Delamere has charge of the construction of a spur of the N. P. They are living in a ranch house and enjoying the frontier life of the West to the full.

A. P. Dunn, Eng. '66, has completed his apprenticeship course with the General Electric Company of Schenectady, N. Y., and is now with the General Electric Company of this city.

John T. Dunn, Med. '04, who is practicing at Wycoff, Minn., was in the city recently.

Mrs. Lenora Easton Cassidy, '04, is visiting in the city for a short time. Mr. Cassidy was called to this city on business, and Mrs. Cassidy accompanied him to her old home. They live in Spokane, Wash.

William D. Frost, '93, associate professor of bacteriology, in the University of Wisconsin, and Mrs. Frost, (Jessie H. C. Elwell) of the same class spent commencement week at the University. Mr. Frost finds his work at Wisconsin very congenial but enjoys being back at Alma Mater again.

Rudolph Geiser, '00, who has been superintendent of schools at Frazee, will hold a similar position in North St. Paul, next year.

Frank E. Green, '94, who has been in the Philippines for the past ten years has returned to this city to visit his mother and sister and take in the exercises of commencement week. Mr. Green went to the Philippines as Captain of a Montana Regiment in the war of 1898 and returned there after the mustering out of his regiment. While he has not fully settled upon his future moves he is likely to locate on the Pacific coast.

Laura Gould, '04, and her mother will spend the summer in Maine and New York City.

William H. Hale, Min. '04, visited the University June 6th. Mr. Hale has just returned to his home in this city from Pueblo, Colo. He will take up engineering work with the Kettle River Sandstone Company, at Sandstone, Minn.

Peter Hanson, '01, has given up his position as secretary of the Y. M. C. A., at Beloit, Wis., to accept a similar position with the Y. M. C. A., at Long Beach, Cal.

Mrs. C. H. Hinton, wife of Professor Hinton, formerly of the University, ended her life, May 28th, in Washington, D. C., by inhaling illuminating gas. Mrs. Hinton leaves four sons, the youngest a senior at Princeton.

John R. Hitchings, '97, of Winnipeg, came down to see his brother and sister, of the present senior class, graduate. Mrs. Jennie Hitchings Eacher, '03, of Marshall, Minn., also came to the University for the same purpose. Mr. Hitchings says that he still likes Winnipeg and is prospering in business.

Stanley E. Houck, '08, will remain with the Keefe-Davidson company for some time to come. He expects eventually to take up the practice of law and make a specialty of semi-constitutional phases of corporation control.

Robert T. Hubbard, Eng. '06, is now with the General Electric Company of this city. He was formerly with the Tri-State Telephone Company. Mr. Hubbard completed his apprentice course with the Westinghouse Company.

J. P. Jensen, '03, who has been superintendent of schools at Eagle Bend, will hold a similar position in the schools at Fertile next year.

Emily Johnston, '04, who has been teaching in Spokane during the past year will not return another year but will probably be in this city.

Lewis A. Jones, Eng. '07, is located at Mitchell, S. D. He is with the city and county engineer at that place.

Charles A. Lang, Eng. '06, formerly of Confidence, Cal., is now with the Consolidated Milling Company of this city.

He has recently designed a new power house for this company.

Louise Leavenworth, '08, will supervise music and drawing in the high school at Sparta, Minn., next year.

Dr. Laura Linton, '79, is assistant physician at the State hospital for the insane at Rochester.

Horace Lowry, '00, was recently made superintendent of the Minneapolis division of the Twin City Rapid Transit Company.

Julia G. McDonough, '02, is visiting Mrs. McElmeel in this city. Miss McDonough has been teaching in the Tracy, Minn., high school since graduation with the exception of one year and she will go back again next year. She has charge of the work in English.

G. Atherton Marr, '05, has been a wanderer much of the time since graduation. He expects to finish his law course during the coming year, either at Minnesota or in Washington, D. C.

Olive V. Marsh, '99, has returned from Seattle, Wash., where she has been spending the winter. Her address is 611 6th Street southeast.

Sumner W. Matteson, '88, has been appointed by President Roosevelt to travel about the world with the fleet as official photographer. Mr. Matteson has won an enviable reputation in his specialty and the recognition which he thus receives is a deserved one.

Shirley Miller, '05, of South Dakota Agricultural college, has been given a leave of absence for a year and will spend the year in Germany.

Day I. Oakes, Eng. '08, has been promoted from the position of major to that of lieutenant colonel in the University cadet corps.

Bernard A. Ober, '07, is treasurer of the Associated Hotel Employees of America. The home office of this association is in the National Bank of Commerce building of this city.

Monday, June 1st, Professor O. W. Oestlund addressed the Minnesota Academy of Natural Science upon the Gollath Beetle of Africa.

Dean Owre and Professor Joseph Beach will travel through the Lake region of England together during the early summer. Dean Owre is to return early so as to be back for the meeting of the national association of dental colleges late in July.

Pensions for Teachers and other people

One you have built for yourself will give you satisfaction.

Do you want the pension to continue to your family, if you should not live to enjoy it very long?

Suppose you die before your "years of service" are completed:

Would you like to leave an income to your family? How would you like this for them or for yourself if you live to age 60:

	$2,140 y'rly for 5 years, guaranteed, totaling $10,700
or 1,000	" " 12 " " " 12,000
or 680	" " 20 " " " 13,600
or 600	" " 20 " " " and for life
or	Cash in One Sum at death or maturity, 10,000

The above options open to Insured and also to Beneficiaries in case of death.

Cost of the above--25-year Endowment--Age 35

Minimum cost—one premium	$ 343.30
Maximum cost—25 premiums	8,580.50
Annual premium on 20-Payment Life Plan	300.00

Other amounts in ratio. Policies to fit every age and condition.
