LIFE MEMBERSHIP CAMPAIGN.

Full paid life memberships.....	845
Partly paid life memberships....	77
Pledges	463
Discount same 43 net.....	420
Total pledged and paid memberships	1342
Total received on life membership fund to date—September 7, 1908,	$8,801.50.

Of these pledges, 223 are made in form so that they bring in the usual annual income while they are being paid, which means $111.50 a year, while they are being paid.

THE RAILROAD TRACK QUESTION.

Governor Lind and Mr. B. F. Nelson, of the Board of Regents, have been struggling with the railroad committee of the city council most of the summer, trying to reach a satisfactory solution of the problem presented by the presence of the Northern Pacific railroad tracks thru the campus. Numerous meetings have been held and every possible solution of the problem has been considered. At a meeting held two weeks ago the committee was ready to vote to order the tracks raised, thus making it forever impossible to carry out the proposed campus improvement plans, which called for a covering of the tracks. Mr. Nelson secured a delay of two weeks and the committee met again last Wednesday afternoon at the city hall. There were present at this meeting, besides the members of the committee, Governor Lind, President Northrop and Mr. Nelson, representing the regents and about ninety members of the older alumni and a fair representation of the University faculty.

Mr. Nelson, President Northrop and Governor Lind, all spoke in favor of lowering the tracks and told of the damage which raising the tracks would do for the University. Governor Lind more than hinted that if the campus was made a railroad yard by the Northern Pacific, the University would find a location elsewhere.

Mr. C. J. Rockwood, speaking for the alumni, said in substance—The right solution is the only one that should be considered.

Temporary expedients should be discarded entirely.

The only right solution is the removal of the tracks.

The state has the power to take the land occupied by the roads for its own use, under condemnation proceedings.

While lowering the tracks would be less objectionable than raising them, it would not solve the problem.

The estimated cost of moving the tracks, $2,000,000, is merely an estimate and probably far too high.

The actual loss in time of the students and faculty, through interruptions in class room work, would pay the interest on a large investment for making the change.

qualified to properly represent the University district in the legislature.

He has the good will of the people of the district and deservedly enjoys the reputation of being absolutely square and as standing for the things that are best in civic life. The representative from the Second ward, the University ward, is always looked upon as a special representative of the University in the legislature, and Mr. Decker is a man who will worthily fill the position.

Two alumni of the University have also filed for nomination from the 39th district, Mr. Gustaf Frykman, '02, editor of the Minneapolis Veckobladet, and Mr. Hugh N. Allen, '98, Law '01, who has been deputy county auditor for a number of years. Both men are loyal alumni.

Mr. M. C. Bowler, Law '03, is a candidate for the same position on the democratic ticket, and will undoubtedly receive the loyal support of University men who vote that ticket. While the district is strongly republican, it has been known to go democratic and if it should chance to go that way this year Mr. Bowler is a good man to represent the University.

ASSOCIATION OF UNIVERSITY DENTAL SCHOOLS.

Dean Owre assisted in launching this new national dental association last August, and was made chairman of the committee on constitution and by-laws. The following named universities were represented at the meeting called to form a temporary organization—Minnesota, Michigan, Iowa, California, Harvard and Pennsylvania. There was absolute unanimity of opinion among the delegates as to the desirability of forming such an organization to secure the ends sought—To raise the standard of dental education, first, by unifying the entrance requirements; second, by unifying the curriculum of the colleges composing the association; third, by advancing the entrance requirements to include one or more years of a regular college course. Admission to the association is limited to bona fide universities.

Dean Owre reports that at the meeting of the national association there was manifest a decided feeling that the time had come for the dental association to take an advance step in the line of trying to secure greater culture in the dental profession. The address of President Eliot of Harvard, struck this keynote which was strengthened and reinforced by the address of President Hamilton of Tufts college. This association took steps looking toward the establishment of a high class technical journal devoted to elevating the standards and to advancing the interests of the dental profession. The meeting, throughout, showed many signs pointing toward higher standards for the profession.

ELECTRICIANS WANT NIGHT SCHOOL.

The Minneapolis Electric club, at its meeting, July 11th, voted to ask the Board of Regents to establish a night school at the University for the purpose of providing for those who can not otherwise secure such knowledge, an advanced theoretical knowledge of the science of electricity. This course would provide practical workers in electrical engineering lines an opportunity to keep up with the rapidly changing and widening field of knowledge concerning electricity.

Such a course would not necessarily involve any great outlay beyond what might be provided for by a moderate fee for registration and it would certainly bring the University nearer to the people who need it and demonstrate the fact that it exists for all the people.

SUMMER SCHOOL IN FORESTRY.

The first session of the summer school in forestry opened July 1st in Itasca Park. There were eighteen students in attendance, including several graduates of the University. The daily program followed included three forenoons each week in surveying and three in land and timber measurements. Four afternoons each week were devoted to silviculture and six hours per week for each of two weeks were devoted to entomology, zoology and geology.

Professor Samuel B. Green was at the head of the school and the other members of the faculty were Professors E. M. Freeman, botany; John T. Stewart, surveying; E. G. Chenevansurment; S. B. Detwiler, silviculture; Dr. H. J. Franklin, entomology; W. L. Oswald, zoology; Professor C. W. Hall, geology and Deitrich Lange, of the St. Paul schools, was present for a portion of the time.

The course proved very profitable and enjoyable for all who attended and will be repeated another year, such changes and improvements being made as have been suggested by the experience of the present season.

THE MODEL SCHOOL.

The University model school will open September 14th and will be located in a boarding house located on Beacon street, formerly known as The Cambridge. Dr. Alice Mott, '99, will be in charge of the school as principal. The school will, of course, be under the direction of the department of education and Professor Rankin will have special direction of the work. The enrolment will be limited to ten pupils for each of the grades and ten for the first year of high school work. Courses in manual training, cooking, sewing, and drawing will also be offered. Text books are free and no tuition is required.

COURSE IN ARCHITECTURE WANTED.

The Western Architect for July makes a strong plea for the establishment of a course in architecture at the University. The demand for such a course is no new one as is evidenced by the fact that the course in architecture was one of the very first of the engineering courses to be established at the University. The reasons for dropping the course, at the close of the year 1892-93, doubtless seemed sufficient to the Board of Regents at that time, but there can be little question that there is a real demand for work along this line at the present time and we hope that the day may soon come when the course shall be restored.

THE SUMMER SCHOOL.

The University summer school opened June 22nd and closed July 31. There were 1218 in attendance. Of this number, 86 were college graduates; 117 graduates of normal schools and 614 graduates of high schools. The registration in the University section was 418.

The school showed a decided advance in several respects—first, in attendance and then in the character of work offered and pursued. There were a larger number of advanced students than ever before and fewer students were in attendance because they were required to take the work to satisfy their county superintendents. The work elected was chosen with definite ends in view and was pursued with diligence because of this fact.

The University faculty was largely represented on the teaching force of the school. There were several prominent normal school men and prominent high school superintendents from over the state included in the faculty. The lectures were strictly first class and were well attended and the finances of the school were left in satisfactory shape.

Few people realize that one-half of the work required for the degree of bachelor of arts was offered for election by the students of the summer school. It is also a noteworthy fact that there is an ever-increasing number of students who are pursuing summer school courses with the definite end in view of eventually completing the whole University course in this way, or of completing enough of the required work so that they can finish the work by a year's attendance at the University.

SOME FACULTY CHANGES.

There are a number of changes in the faculty for the present year. Professor F. M. Rarig, of Northwestern University, comes to the University to fill the place left vacant by the death of Professor McDermott. Professor Rastall, of Olivet College, comes to the University as assistant professor of economics and is to have special charge of business courses that have been provided. Professor E. K. Slater, of the state dairy and food commission, will begin work, January 1st, as assistant professor of dairy husbandry. Robert C. Lansing will take up his work as assistant professor of English in the department of agriculture, with the opening of the college year. H. B. Roe, formerly a student in the University, has been made instructor in mathematics in the school of agriculture to succeed Miss Edith Snell who was married last spring. Mr. Reep, who came to the University last year as a temporary assistant in sociology, has been retained in that department. John L. Coulter, of the University of Wisconsin, comes into the department of political science as an instructor. Mr. Williams, of the department of German, is away on a year's leave of absence and his place has been filled by the selection of Richard Wischkamper. Miss Frieda Stamm, '07, who was scholar in the department last year, has been retained for another year and a new scholarship also authorized. Professor Burkhard, of the department, who has been absent studying in Germany for two years, takes up his work again this fall, having recently returned from abroad. Professor Dalaker, who has been doing graduate work and giving instruction in mathematics at Cornell, comes back to take up his work in the department of mathematics. Dr. Bauer, Professors Brooke and Erikson, are spending the year abroad in study. Frederick H. Scott, of the University Hospital College of London, takes up his work in the medical department as assistant professor of physiology, this fall. Elting H. Comstock, of the school of mines, has been promoted to be assistant professor of mathematics. Miss Helen Cummings has been made an assistant in the department of physical culture.

Alice J. Mott, Ph. D., '99, has been appointed principal of the training school connected with the department of education, and has already taken up her work. Mrs. Kendall will have charge of the instruction in public school music in this school, and Mrs. Jean Sherwood Rankin, '04, will give instruction in English. William W. Norton will be scholar in psychology and Dr. Disen, demonstrator in anatomy. Mr. A. J. McGuire, Ag. '04, superintendent of the Northeast experiment station at Grand Rapids, who was offered an increase of 100 per cent in his salary to take up another line of work, was given a 50 per cent increase by the Regents and decided to stick by Minnesota.

The place of Miss Mary McIntyre, librarian of the school of agriculture, who resigned her position last spring to get married, has been filled by the selection of Miss Anna M. Smith. Miss Smith has had a varied experience and three years' work in library lines; she spent last year in Japan cataloging the library of a large school for girls in that country.

Professor C. M. Scott, who has been in charge of the department of music, has had his title changed from assistant professor to professor of music. Professor Wallace Nottesstein, of Yale, takes up his work in the department of history, succeeding Professor Westermann, resigned. H. D. Frary, '08, is assistant in engineering mathematics. L. M. McKeehan, is a new assistant in physics; Franz Aust, '08, is also an assistant in the same department.

Other scholars and assistants for the college of science, literature and the arts, include—Keiven Burns, in astronomy; Harold Deering, Rasmus Saby and V. N. Valgren, in political science; G. W. Hunschild, German; Alice Pope, history; Ingebright Lillehei, philosophy; A. N. Gilbertson, sociology.

Professor J. P. Stewart takes up his work this fall as professor of agricultural engineering and physics. George P. Grout, a graduate of the school of agriculture, has already begun his service as assistant bacteriologist of the experiment station. Dr. Franklin, of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, was employed to give instruction in entomology during the summer in the school of forestry.

ALUMNI BARKISES.

The following named alumni are candidates for nomination at the primaries in Hennepin county, which are to be held tomorrow:

County attorney, Al J. Smith, Law '90, present republican incumbent, only candidate on the republican ticket; Fred H. Ayers, Law '93, democrat, is the only candidate on his ticket for the same office.

For judge of probate, George R. Smith, Law '93, republican, is the only candidate on both tickets.

For sheriff, L. A. Lydiard, Law '92, is one of four candidates.

For coroner, three alumni seek the nomination on the republican ticket, Charles D. Harrington, Med. '95, Gilbert Seashore, Med. '02, and Clarence D. Whipple, Med. '03. Richard J. Phelan, Med. '03, seeks the same nomination on the democratic ticket and has no opposition.

For county surveyor, Albert Graber, '88, republican, is the only alumnus who is a candidate on that ticket; Walter B. Hobart, Eng. '07, is in similar position on the democratic ticket.

For court commissioner, W. E. Bates, Law '97, seeks renomination on the republican ticket.

For commissioner from the 1st district, Leslie Ogden, Law '04, and W. B. Henderson, Law '98, are asking for the nomination on the republican ticket.

For the legislature, from the 39th district, Gustaf Frykman, '02, and Hugh N. Allen, '08, Law '01, are candidates on the republican ticket; M. C. Bowler, Law '03, seeks the nomination on the democratic ticket. Mr. Wilbur F. Decker, formerly an instructor in the University, is also a candidate on the republican ticket.

From the 41st district, Charles L. Sawyer, Law '97, seeks renomination on the republican ticket.

From the 42nd district, Louis Solem, Law '02, John A. Nordin, Law '98, Ernest Lundeen, ex-Law, David R. Thomas, Law '06, and Julius E. Miner, '75, are all candidates on the republican ticket, and only two places to fill.

From the 43d district, Carl L. Wallace, Law '97, who was in the legislature several years ago, asks to be sent back by the republicans; and W. J. Warren, '78, is the prohibition candidate from this district.

From the 44th district, C. O. Alexius Olson, '95, Law '96, is a candidate on the republican ticket; A. S. Dowdal, Law '04, is a democratic candidate for the same place.

Dr. U. G. Williams, Med. '80, is a republican candidate for mayor.

G. A. Petri, '90, Law '93, and William C. Leary, '93, Law '94, are candidates for the position of associate municipal judge on the republican ticket; Anthony Grotte would serve the city in the same capacity but seeks the nomination on the democratic ticket.

Charles W. Drew, Law '94 and H. Stanley Hanson, Law '04, would serve as members on the school board and are candidates on the republican ticket; Bessie Laythe Scovell, '84, is candidate on the prohibition ticket and Harlow Gale, formerly of the department of psychology, is a candidate on the public ownership ticket.

Edward C. Gale, formerly a student in the University, is a candidate for the republican nomination on the library board; Henry Deutsch, Law '94, is the only candidate for the unexpired term on this board.

E. W. Hawley, Law '93, is candidate for alderman, 2nd ward, on the republican ticket; C. D. Gould, Law '91, is a candidate in the 4th ward; Frank H. Castner, democrat, Law '93, is a candidate for renomination in the 9th ward; Thomas H. Salmon, Law '94, is candidate for the republican nomination in the 10th ward; George S. Grimes, '81, is a republican candidate from the 13th ward; Arthur W. Selover, '93, Law '94, is republican candidate from the 5th ward.

Dr. George D. Haggard, Med. '95, of this city, is the prohibition candidate for governor. F. F. Lindsay, Law '91, of this city, is a candidate for railroad and warehouse commissioner, on the same ticket. Both are good men and would fill the positions for which they are candidates, with credit to themselves and the state.

Clarence B. Miller, '95, Law '00, of Duluth, is after the seat now occupied in Congress by J. Adam Bede, and it is said that he stands a most excellent chance of winning. He is receiving the loyal support of the alumni living in his district and is making a campaign that is making him hosts of friends.

Paul A. Ewert, Law '96, assistant U. S. district attorney, is a candidate for the republican nomination for Congress from the second district. He is making his fight to win over former Congressman McCleary.

LAMBERT MAKES CHANGE.

Bernard N. Lambert, '01, has recently come to this city and associated himself with the Johnson School of Music, Oratory and Dramatic Art as director of the department of expression. After graduating at the University, Mr. Lambert completed the course of the Emerson College of Oratory. While in the east he had practical training on the stage appearing in Clayton Gilbert's companies at the Colonial Theatre of Boston as lead. Later he was in charge of the department of expression of Western Iowa College and for the past year Mr. Lambert has been in charge of expression in the Duluth high school and might have retained his position there indefinitely had he so desired. While in the Duluth schools, Mr. Lambert organized and had direction of the Public Speakers Club and the Dramatic Club and put several plays on the boards which made decided hits. He has done considerable work in the line of dramatic reading. The Johnson school has opened a studio in University hall, 315 14th ave. S.E. on Mondays and will have it open all the time if the support warrants such provision. The school is located at 1025 Nicollet avenue.

BURTON'S PLAY A SUCCESS.

Dr. Richard Burton's play, "Rahab," was put on for the first time in Chicago, last Wednesday night. The play was well-staged and well-rendered and the small but select audience gave it a very hearty reception. The play was given at the Ravinia theatre and Dr. Burton was not present, being at the time in the valley of the Yosemite.

DR. ANNA HELMHOLTZ PHELAN.

Among the new instructors at the University is Dr. Anna Helmholtz Phelan, bride of Dr. Raymond Phelan of the economics department. Dr. Anna Phelan, who is the author of "The Indebtedness of Coleridge to Schlegel" and of "The Social Ideals of William Morris," both of which works have received the high praise of scholars, comes to Minnesota from the University of Wisconsin.

WEDDINGS.

The summer has been notable for the great number of weddings among the alumni and faculty members. We presume that many have been overlooked and shall appreciate it if any of our subscribers will report any additional weddings.

The Weekly extends to each and every one of the couples whose weddings are recorded below, hearty good wishes for a long and happy wedded life.

Edith Hermann, '02, and Allen P. Asher, Law '07, were married early in July. Mr. and Mrs. Asher will make their home at Sandpoint, Idaho, where Mr. Asher has already established himself in a legal practice as a partner of J. W. Marshall, '98, Law '03.

Geo. R. Barnes, Eng. '07, of Duluth and Miss Marian Morgan, of Zumbrota, formerly a student of the University, were married September 7th. Mr. and Mrs. Barnes will make their home at Duluth.

Augusta Baker, '03, and Rev. F. C. Lovett, were married early in August. Mr. and Mrs. Lovett will make their home in Grant's Pass, Oregon.

Richard S. Beardsley, '00, and Miss Maude Mitchell, of Buchanan, Mich., were married July 30th. Mr. Beardsley is teacher of mathematics in the Englewood, Ill., high school.

Antoinette Belden, '05, and C. Earl Varco, were married August 5th, at Austin, Minn. Mr. and Mrs. Varco will make their home at Sidney, Mont. Their wedding trip took them through Yellowstone Park.

Helen Berkman, formerly a student in the University, and Edson Starr Judd, Med. '02, junior surgeon at St. Mary's (The Mayos') hospital, Rochester, Minn., were married September 12th. Dr. and Mrs. Judd will make their home in Rochester.

Emily Learned Bonwell, '05, and Robert R. McKaig, were married June 16th, 1908, at Blue Earth, Minn. Mr. and Mrs. McKaig will make their home at Lake Preston, S. D. Since graduating Miss Bonwell has taught two years and spent last year with her sisters in Alabama and Texas.

Van Rensselaer Chase, '06, of this city and Miss Hallie Sullivan, of Sheffield, Iowa, were married early in July. Mr. and Mrs. Chase will make their home in this city.

Ethel Case, '05, and Dr. John E. Hoyt, ex-'05, were married at the home of the bride in this city, August 5th. Dr. Hoyt completed his medical course at Northwestern in 1905 and has been located at Kendrick, Idaho for two years, where they will make their future home.

Dr. James Trent Christison, Med. '01, and Miss Margaret Edgerton, both of St. Paul, were married July 11th. Dr. and Mrs. Christison will make their home in St. Paul.

Dr. Louis J. Cooke, director of the University gymnasium, and Miss Maude Alice Gilbert, of New York City, were married September 1st.

Dr. and Mrs. Cooke will be at home after October 1st, at 909 Sixth street southeast.

Kathleen Watterworth, formerly a student at the University, and Sumner W. Covey, '05, were married at Duluth, September 2nd. Mr. and Mrs. Covey will make their home in Minneapolis.

Louise Ray, '03, and Avery F. Crouse, Eng. '03, were married August 24th. For a wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Crouse went to the northern part of the state to camp out in the woods. They will be at home after October 1st, at 114 N Snelling avenue, St. Paul.

Miss Adeline R. Marvin, '06, and David Davis, Law '07, were married July 12th, at Pine Island, Minn., the home of the bride. Mr. and Mrs. Davis will make their home at Lewiston, Mont., where Mr. Davis has established himself for the practice of law.

Ira C. Doane, Law '07, and Theodora Pickett, were married August 26th, in this city. Mr. and Mrs. Doane will make their home at Hillsboro, N. D., where Mr. Doane is established in the practice of law as the partner of Walter H. Murfin, '02, and Law '07.

The wedding of Rev. Paul Faude, '00, and Miss Claire M. Schayer, of Washington, D. C., took place early in August. Mr. and Mrs. Faude will make their home in Lafayette, Ind., where Mr. Faude has charge of a church.

Edith Garbett, '04, and Edward K. Pickett were married September 9th, at the home of the bride's parents in this city. Mr. and Mrs. Pickett will make their home in Rockford, Ill.

Bessie May Tucker, '06, and Haldor B. Gislason, '00, of the department of rhetoric, were married June 24th.

Nicholas Gilman, Eng. '07, and Miss Elizabeth McIlvaine, of St. Cloud, were married June 17. Mr. and Mrs. Gilman will make their home at North Yakima. Mr. Gilman is engineer for the North Yakima Transportation Company.

Paul W. Guilford, '97, Law '00, and Miss Ellen May Griswold, both of this city, were married July 20th. Mr. and Mrs. Guilford spent their honeymoon on the Pacific coast.

Georgia M. York, '10, and John A. Handy, Ph. '06, were married June 30th, at Gethsemane Church in this city. Mr. and Mrs. Handy spent the summer travelling but will make their home in this city. Mr. Handy is an instructor in chemistry in the University.

Fred J. Harms, Ph. '04, and Miss Agnes G. Lavelle, were married June 23d. Mr. and Mrs. Harms will make their home in St. Anthony Park, where Mr. Harms has charge of a drug store.

John N. Holmberg, a graduate of the school of agriculture, class of 1902, the only graduate of that school to become a member of the legislature, was married June 3d, to Miss Hilda Peterson of Sacred Heart. Mr. and Mrs. Holmberg will make their home at Renville. Mr. Holmberg was a most effective worker for the University in the last legislature.

Ina F. Hurd and Cecil E. Warner, both of the class of 1904, were married June 24th. Mr. and Mrs. Warner will make their home in Circleville, Ohio.

Johannes C. Jacobs, Med. '05, of Spicer, and Mattie A. Lien, of Willmar were married June 17th.

Edith E. Jones, formerly a student at the University, and Chester Puffer, of Faribault, were married August 4th, in this city. Mr. and Mrs. Puffer will make their home in Faribault.

George P. Jones, Law '04, "Jones of Rock," and Miss Lydia Richardson, of Hutchinson, Minn., were married June 19th. Mr. and Mrs. Jones will make their home at Edgerly, N. D., where Mr. Jones is engaged in the practice of law.

Mr. Orrin M. Keller, Min. '05, of Harrison, Mont., and Adelaide Crosby, of this city, were married June 24th.

Earl Wallace Kelly, Eng. '07, and Miss Alice Jean Stewart, both of Duluth, were married June 18th.

Marc Leager, Ag. '06, and Elizabeth A. Loye, both of this city, were married September 9th. After a wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Leager will be at home to friends at 511 Ridge-wood ave.

Napoleon A. L'Herault, Law '07, and Miss Della G. Gorman, both of this city were married August 5th. Mr. and Mrs. L'Herault will be at home to friends at 1706 Twenty-third avenue northeast, after September 15th.

Prudence E. Pratt, '05, and Charles M. McConn, '03, were married June 24th, in this city. Mr. McConn is principal of the academy of the University of Illinois. Mr. and Mrs. McConn spent a part of the summer at Mille Lacs and the remainder in Chicago. They will make their home in Urbana Ill.

Henry T. McGuigan, Med. '01, of Mazeppa, and Miss Catherine Zender, of Austin, were married June 17th.

Linda H. Maley, '01, and Frank O'Hara, '00, were married August 25th, in this city. After spending a short time at the lake, Mr. and Mrs. O'Hara went to their future home in Kenilworth, Ill. Mrs. O'Hara has been connected with the department of rhetoric since graduation and Mr. O'Hara is instructor in history in the township high school at Kenilworth.

Walter L. Mayo, Law '00, and Sarah H. Joslin, formerly a student at the University, were married June 23d. Mr. Mayo is practicing law in St. Paul.

Wilhelm Michelet, Law '03, and Miss Hilda Melbye, of Black River Falls, Wis., were married June 17th. Mr. and Mrs. Michelet will make their home at Thief River Falls, Minn., where Mr. Michelet is engaged in the practice of law.

Roy E. Mitchell, Hom. '01, and Emily Dean Judson, were married at Middletown, N. Y., Wednesday, September 2nd. Dr. and Mrs. Mitchell spent their honeymoon in Minneapolis. They will make their home at Middletown, N. Y., Dr. Mitchell being the assistant superintendent of the hospital for the insane at that place.

Jessie L. Schulten, of the department of rhetoric, and Dr. James Burt Miner, '07, Law '99, assistant professor of psychology, were married June 30th, in this city. Dr. and Mrs. Miner spent two months travelling in the east, making the trip east by way of the great lakes. They will make their home at 428 Walnut street southeast.

Dr. Raymond V. Phelan, of the department of political science and Dr. Anna A. Helmholz, of the University of Wisconsin, were married August 10th, at the home of the bride's parents in Chicago. Mrs. Phelan has been connected with the department of English of the University of Wisconsin where she received the degree of doctor of philosophy last June.

John E. Ransom, Law '07, of Albert Lea, Minn., and Miss Richards, of Duluth, were married June 17th. They will make their home in Albert Lea.

Dr. A. N. Rice, Dent. '04, and Miss Mary Griffin, were married June 28th, at Rochester, Minn. Dr. and Mrs. Rice will make their home at Adrian where Dr. Rice has been practicing his profession since graduation.

Alice A. Rockwell, '04, of Duluth, and Frank M. Warren, Min. '99, of this city were married July 7th. Mr. and Mrs. Warren will make their home in this city.

Mabelle Stocking, '06, and DeKoven Hunter, formerly a student in the University, were married last June.

Ruby Pauline Zehnter, '02, and Dr. Geo. E. Thomas, '01, Med. '04, were married at the home of the bride's parents in this city, June 25. After a short wedding trip Dr. and Mrs. Thomas returned to this city and are at home to friends at 3304 3d ave. south.

Florence May Tucker, '04, and Job Thorp, both of New London, Conn., were married September 6th. Mrs. Thorp went east two years ago to accepted a position in a girls' school in New London.

Harriet G. Watson, '04, and Edwin G. Allen, ex-'04, were married at Sauk Rapids, Minn., August 28th.

Arthur E. Powell, ex-Eng. '07, who is engaged in the printing business at Egan, S. D., was at the University for a short visit during the summer.

W. H. Pryor, Law '07, is a member of the Union Abstract Company, of Duluth and is also practicing law. Mrs. Pryor was Gertrude Munns, Ex-'07.

Janet Priest Robb, '09, is playing the leading part in "School Days Company," now in Philadelphia. Her permanent headquarters are in New York.

Elias Rachie, '96, Law '02, Ph. D. '01, of Willmar, Minn., has issued a 96-pp booklet, dealing with the Temperance Crusade, through the Holter Publishing Company, of this city. The booklet sets forth the question; treats it from a historical point of view and then deals with temperance organizations; the attitude of the churches; the economic point of view; the prohibition party; the anti-saloon league; personal liberty; and conclusion. Mr. Rachie has treated the question from the point of view of a friend of the movement and finds much to encourage the belief that the days of the saloon are numbered.

W. C. Rowell, '88, the vice-president and eastern representative of the H. W. Wilson Company, came west to attend the convention of librarians at Lake Minnetonka, early in July. Mr. Rowell spent several weeks in this city and then went back to New York visiting libraries down the lakes from Duluth to New York City.

Roscoe F. Sanford, '05, who is to spend the next three years in South America helping to plat the prominent stars of the south hemisphere, visited the University about the last of July. Mr. Sanford does not yet know exactly where the expedition will locate but is looking forward to the trip and the work ahead with eager expectation.

Gustav Scholle, Law '03, chairman of the state highway commission, addressed the Goodhue county good roads association, June 19th, upon the value of good roads to the state.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Schroeder, of Detroit, are the happy parents of twin boys who were born last May. Mr. Schroeder was Law 1903.

Stella B. Stearns, '92, of Duluth, who has been doing graduate work at Columbia University, was in the city for a portion of the summer as the guest of her aunt, Mrs. F. L. Washburn.

R. A. Vickery, '06, '07, who has been assisting in the department of entomology of the department of agriculture, has recently been appointed field agent and expert in the bureau of entomology of the U. S. department of agriculture, with permanent headquarters at Washington, D. C.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward O. Wergedahl, of St. Paul, are rejoicing over the arrival of Ruth Hope, who came to their home June 12th. Mr. Wergedahl, was Law '99, and Mrs. Wergedahl, Wilhelmina Beyer, '06. The proud papa says he is already looking forward to the day when Ruth will get her sheepskin from the "greatest institution of learning in this glorious country."

Dr. A. P. Williamson, Law '94, formerly dean of the college of homeopathic medicine and surgery, who has been in charge of the Southern California State Hospital since leaving Minnesota, has recently given up that position and is now established in a private practice at Santa Monica, Calif.

Jennie G. Craven, '08, who had expected to take up work in the schools of Cando, N. D., has been obliged to give up on account of illness. She is at her home at Faribault, R. F. D. No. 10.

Elias Rachie, '06, Law '02, of Willmar, reports the arrival of a nine pound boy, Cyrus, September 5th. Mrs. Rachie and the boy are doing well.

Howard H. Hare and Donald C. Babcock, both of '07, left last Thursday night for Boston, Mass., where they are to pursue a course of theology in the Theological School of Boston University, a Methodist institution.

Nellie M. Elliott, '06, who has been teaching in the high school at Madelia takes up her work this fall as principal of the high school at Peliccar Rapids.

A recent letter from Dr. H. A. Erikson, of the department of physics, brings the news that he and Mrs. Erikson are pleasantly settled at Cambridge, England, and that he has begun his year's work abroad under most favorable conditions. He sends greetings to his University friends. Mr. and Mrs. Erikson will be located at 11 Bateman st., Cambridge, England.

DEATHS.

S. Thayer Bass, Min. '04, and William D. Harris, who attended the University for a year, were drowned at Cass Lake, August 20th. Mr. Bass, together with Mr. and Mrs. Seavey Bailey, and Miss Hart of this city, had been on a canoeing trip of three weeks. Mr. and Mrs. Bailey and Miss Hart had returned to the city and Mr. Harris had gone to meet Mr. Bass for a week's fishing trip. They started out in their canoe soon after dinner, and ran into a severe wind storm which overturned their canoe. Mr. Harris was a strong swimmer but was drowned trying to save Mr. Bass.

Mr. Bass was engaged in the real estate business in St. Paul, and Mr. Harris, son of W. L. Harris, of the New England Co., was superintendent of sales for that company.

Lucy B. Dunham, '97, died June 2d at Anoka, of consumption.

Ralph I. Johnson, Min. '03, was drowned in the Inganaca river, B. C., early in August. His companion, who was with him when the accident occurred, tramped through the woods three hundred miles to reach a telegraph station to send word to his parents, who reside in this city.

Frank Montgomery, a student at the University in the early days, was drowned at Michigan City, Ind., early in July. Dr. Montgomery was a brother of Louise Montgomery, '90, and Mrs. J. G. Cross, (Frances Montgomery, '91).

Arthur Upson, '05, was drowned in Lake Bemidji, sometime between Sunday and Wednesday of the week of August 16th. He was spending his vacation at Bemidji and was in the best of spirits when last seen on Sunday. As our readers know, Mr. Upson had won unusual fame as a writer and his death will be regretted by a great many people who knew him only through his writings.

Among his published works are, The City, Westwind Songs, Octaves in an Oxford Garden, The Tides of Spring. He had just finished a play which was to have been staged this fall. Mr. Upson had hosts of friends at home and abroad who mourn his untimely death.

Dr. J. O. Wells, Dent. '99, died August 26th, of pneumonia.

Professor Wells was graduated from the Dental college of the University in 1899, and the next year became connected with the University teaching staff. He was 37 years old. He is survived by a wife and child, and his brother and sister, Dr. Amos Wells and Mrs. C. L. Trabert.

Frederick L. Wheeler, '01, Med. '04, died June 14th, on the first anniversary of his wedding, in this city. The cause of his death is said to be over-work. He had been practicing at International Falls.

Arthur Eugene Covell, '92, of Los Angeles, Calif., died September 6th. Mr. Covell was an expert accountant and had been located in Los Angeles for the past six years. He was born in Minneapolis and lived here until he went to California.

Football "dope" is so likely to be mostly guess work at this time of the year, that the Weekly is not going to indulge in any predictions as to the makeup of the team or its prospects. Suffice it to say that Dr. Williams is going to have change of the bunch and that he will doubtless succeed in turning out a team for which loyal wearers of the maroon and gold will not need to apologize. Lots of good material will be missing this fall, but, as it has always proved in former years, there will be new material just as good to take its place.

UNIVERSITY PEOPLE AT CHISHOLM.

John M. Lowe, Chem. '08, passed through the city last Saturday on his way to take a position with a sugar refinery at Brush, Colo. Mr. Lowe was at Chisholm through the fire which wiped that city off the face of the earth. The school houses, a few churches and a very few dwelling houses were saved from the flames. Edward Freeman, Law '03, municipal judge, took most of his clothing and valuables to the court house which was supposed to be fire proof, but which burned, his house was saved. J. E. Austin, Law '03, lost everything. Cleon T. Knapp, Law '07, lost everything. He had considerable holdings in timber lands. At the very hour the fire was destroying his home and property he was attending a dinner given in his honor in St. Paul, and was receiving congratulations on his unusual success in business. Dr. Walter Schmidt, Med. '03, lost everything. Miss Kate Greeley, '08, who had just gone to Chisholm to teach, lost everything she had with her.

Doubtless other alumni in neighboring towns lost heavily but no reports have been received.

The New U. of M. View Book

We have received orders for this view book from every part of the globe where there are University of Minnesota graduates. One man sent for one and later on sent for sixteen. He said that he could not think of a finer present to give to his friends and he felt that he helped the University by showing them what a splendid institution we have.

A little cheap, printed book of half tones will not give any one the correct idea of the University and its surroundings. This book has

including a panoramic photograph 20 inches long of the Chicago-Minnesota football game showing a magnificent grand stand filled with 30,000 people. Each picture could not be bought for less than 25 cents.

We have comparatively few left and they will be sold out before long.

For the present we shall send a View Book PREPAID for $1.00. The View Book may be returned to us at our expense and the money will be refunded if it is not in every way up to your expectations.

COMING EVENTS AND THEIR SHADOWS.

Reception for new students, old students, faculty and alumni, at the armory, Saturday, September 26th, at 8. p. m.

October 3d, Lawrence University on Northrop Field.

October 8th, Woman's League high class vaudeville in chapel.

EXCELLENT LECTURE COURSE.

November 23d, Senator J. P. Dolliver, of Iowa, on either "A Poor Man's Government and a Poor Boy's Country" or "Public Virtue as a Question of Politics."

December 17th, Leland Powers, the great impersonator, will read either "David Copperfield" or "A Christmas Carol."

January 15th, Rev. Russell H. Conwell, president of Temple University, of Philadelphia, will lecture upon a subject to be announced. Mr. Conwell is one of the country's most brilliant and fascinating speakers.

The last lecture of the course, to be given upon a date and topic to be announced later, will be given by Governor Folk, of Missouri.

Tickets for the course $2 for outsiders and $1.50 for students.

THE VOTERS' LEAGUE.

Minneapolis has a voters' league which is of special interest to the alumni since it has among its most prominent workers and on its executive committee three University men—Governor John Lind, Professor Frank M. Anderson, '94, on whose shoulders a large part of the shaping of its reports is thrown, and John N. Berg, '96, Law '99. The league sent out three reports this fall. The first dealt with the issues of the campaign and urged the voters to put the issue up to the various candidates. The second dealt with candidates for the office of county commissioner and two of its candidates were elected, the third falling short but 48 votes. The third dealt with candidates for aldermen and only three candidates who were opposed by the league won the nomination despite their opposition.

The league confines itself to candidates for county commissioner and for alderman and make a most thorough investigation of conditions and candidates before making its reports. The task is a thankless one but it is telling for civic improvement and the league deserves the hearty thanks of all good citizens.

UNIVERSITY MEN IN THE CITY COUNCIL.

The chances are good for the election of the five University graduates who were named for the city council at the primaries last Tuesday. If they are elected there will be six alumni in the city council who can be depended upon to stand for all that is best in civic administration and will be a power to help secure a proper solution of the railroad track question when it comes up again. Mr. Wendell Hertig, Law '95, who is at present a member of the council and who holds over, has proven himself to be one of its best members. We regret that Mr. Frank H. Castner, Law '93, was defeated for re-nomination. Mr. Castner did such service as to win the hearty indorsement of the voters' league.

MINNESOTA LEADS.

According to Dr. N. Zuntz, of the University of Berlin, German scientists, who, for many years have been considered as the leading authorities of the world on the science of animal nutrition, have been obliged to submit to correction by Professor T. L. Haecker, of the Experiment Station. Dr. Zuntz is engaged in writing a book on animal nutrition, and paid the Dairy Division a visit on August 13th to make a study of the experiments that have been conducted by Professor Haecker—Farm Students Review.

ADDITIONAL NEW INSTRUCTORS AND PROFESSORS.

Rupert Eichholzer, '07, M. A. '08, has been appointed instructor in German and will have charge of the students pursuing the agricultural courses.

Three new men have been added to the dental faculty—Drs. Orton, of St. Paul, an ex-member of the board of dental examiners; C. A. Griffith, '07, formerly of Hector, Minn., and H. C. Lawton, '08.

Mr. Clure comes to the department of rhetoric from Lawrence University, taking the place left vacant by the resignation of Mrs. O'Hara.

The college of medicine and surgery gets several new men who were formerly connected with Hamline University medical department. The list includes Doctors H. B. Sweetser, J. Frank Corbett, Med. '96, Geo. C. Barton, Chas. H. Bradley, Chas. F. Dight, Chas. Disen, Chas. N. Spratt, '97, and J. A. Watson.

Maud H. Steward, '03, '05, who spent her last year in New York City, studying art and design, will assist Miss Clopath in the department of drawing.

THE FRATERNITY QUESTION.

Last Friday's Daily contained an editorial, addressed to new men, on the fraternity question. It was a most sensible statement of facts which face the new man and ought to be heeded by every freshman in the University.

THE MINNESOTA MAGAZINE.

The Minnesota Magazine starts out the year with a promise of being better than ever before. For some reason college literary magazines in the west are not prosperous. Last year the Inlander, published at the University of Michigan, was obliged to suspend. For a time it looked as though the same fate awaited the Minnesota Magazine. Just before commencement, however, the board was reorganized and several young women were elected editors. The editor-in-chief has faith in the magazine and has started out to make it indispensable to every college man.

The Magazine deals with a side of University life which the Weekly can merely touch and alumni who want to keep in close touch with the University cannot do better than to include an extra seventy-five cents when remitting for the Weekly and have the magazine sent to them for a year. You will get seventy-five cents worth of pleasure out of the ten numbers and you will be helping to support an enterprise that is well worth supporting.

REAL ESTATE BOARD TO HELP.

The Minnesota real estate board, at its first fall meeting, took up the matter of tracks through the University campus and adopted a resolution calling for their removal and pledging the aid of the board to help secure that end.

The public affairs committee of the Commercial club has also put itself on record in favor of such a solution of the problem.

James Gray, '86, in his column "Coffee and Rolls" in the Minneapolis Journal, recently devoted a whole column to a discussion of the question of the removal of the Northern Pacific tracks from the campus.

1891-ERS UP TO DATE.

At the annual reunion of the class of 1891 it was voted to contribute fifty cents each so that the letters received from absent members and a full report of the meeting could be printed and sent to all members of the class. This was done and early in July, "Joe" Jorgens, the secretary, sent out the printed pamphlet. The class voted unanimously to make an effort to get every member enrolled as life members of the General Alumni Association, those present pledging themselves to take out their memberships.

It will be remembered that the class met at the home of Dr. Frank Todd, at Minnetonka and the official report shows that all previous glorious times were surpassed. It was a great occasion and one that will not soon be forgotten by those who were present or any of those who were not who get the report.

1892-ERS LINE UP.

The class of 1892, which shares with, or divides with, 1891, the honor of being the most loyal class ever graduated from the University, never having missed an annual reunion, have gone at it in a systematic manner to get every member enrolled as life members in the General Alumni Association. The secretary, Miss Friedlander, has written a personal letter to every member and results are beginning to show the effect of the campaign.

EVENING BUSINESS COURSES.

In order to meet a growing demand, the department of political science will offer the following evening courses, this year. Classes will meet Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays, throughout the year, at the hours specified—Room 16 Library Building.

Assistant Professor Rastall will give a course in Elementary accounting the first semester at 8:00 p. m. The second semester he will give a course in Corporation accounts, at 7:30 and a course on the Theory and practice of insurance, (life, fire, etc.) at 8:30.

These courses are regular undergraduate courses counting for the bachelor's degree. They are open also to persons not otherwise connected with the University who are not less than twenty-one years of age and who are prepared to profit by the work. If such persons meet all the requirements for admission to the college of science, literature, and the arts, they will receive credit toward a degree for the work. Otherwise, they will receive a certificate of the amount and character of the work done.

A fee of five dollars ($5.00) per course for each semester, payable in advance, is charged for this work, to all those not otherwise connected with the University.

ADVANCE IN ECONOMIC AND POLITICAL SCIENCE DE- PARTMENT.

The department of economics and political science has been greatly strengthened since the close of the academic year to meet the needs and growing demand for a more practical business course and the demand made by faculties other than that of the college of science, literature and arts, for instruction in this field of study.

To meet the demands, two additional men have been appointed on the teaching force, Professor B. M. Rastall, devoting his time mainly to the business course, and Dr. John L. Coulter, to assist in the general work and meet the demands of the other faculties. Dr. Coulter is a specialist in agriculture and forestry. Professor Rastall comes direct from the State Labor Department of New York and Dr. Coulter from the University of Wisconsin.

The following entirely new courses will be offered the current semester:

Professor Robinson, history of economic thought; Professor Rastall, statistics; investments; theory and practice of accounting; Dr. Phelan, economic theories and reforms; Dr. Coulter, forestry; Professor Schaper, political parties.

PREXY'S OPENING TALK.

President Northrop gave his usual opening talk to students last Tuesday at chapel time. He spent most of his time in giving fatherly advice to the freshmen, telling them that the University was equipped to give them a good education, that it rested with themselves whether they would make the most of it.

TWO IMPORTANT ADDRESSES.

Dr. Coulter, of the department of political science, will give an address before the American Society of Equity, next Tuesday, September 22nd, at the state capitol, St. Paul. He will speak on "Co-operation among farmers."

Dr. John H. Gray, of the same department, will make an address at the opening of the school of commerce of Northwestern University, October 5th.

OPENING LAW LECTURE.

Dean Pattee delivered the opening lecture to the law students last Tuesday afternoon, taking for his topic the life of Justice Story, drawing therefrom material for firing the ambition and elevating the ideals of the law students.

The early registration of freshmen was fully double that of any previous year at the same date. Probably this is due to the announcement that hereafter a year of college work will be required for admission to this college.

A large addition of library books has been added during the summer.

DEAN OWRE'S OPENING AD- DRESS.

In his opening address to the dental college, Dean Owre, spoke of the great loss which that college has sustained in the retirement of Dr. H. M. Reid, who has given up his practice and retires to a quiet country life, and the loss of Dr. Wells, through death. After speaking of his sense of personal loss and the high regard in which Dr. Wells was held by the faculty and students, Dr. Owre continued—"Professor Wells was born February 13th, 1871, in Newberry, S. C., where he lived for the greater part of his life. He was educated there and received his bachelor's degree from Newberry college in 1892. He was fond of the classics and pursued also courses in the humanities, receiving his master's degree in 1894. For the next two years he taught in secondary schools. With this extraordinary preparation added to his mechanical genius, he turned toward a technical calling and decided upon dentistry. Few men have entered the profession with better preliminary preparation in science, culture and mechanics and even in pedagogics. He graduated with honor in 1899 and was immediately appointed an instructor. In 1902 he was made professor of crown and bridge work and held this chair until his death. He had a clear and definite idea of what University work means and conducted his work accordingly. He was not content with good teaching only, he investigated and added to the world's knowledge. He impressed us with his well-defined scheme of life, his idealism and the results he attained. * * * He was an indefatigable worker * * * courageous * * * never waited for others to take the initiative * * * never postponed when vigorous action was necessary * * * of cool judgment and conservative when it was wise."

BIBLE STUDY COURSES.

The Young Men's Christian Association has started out the year by making a special effort to get a large number of men enlisted in Bible study. The following interesting courses have been provided:

A normal course in the life of Christ, text, Bosworth, taught by Professor Rowland Haynes; a second normal course, in the teaching of Jesus and His Apostles, text, Bosworth, taught by the secretary, John F. Sinclair.

Other courses will include one in the life of Christ, according to the four gospels, especially for freshmen; another course in the teaching of Jesus and His Apostles; Professor Hugh Willis will have a class in the Social significance of the teaching of Jesus; Professor David F. Swenson will have a class in Old Testament prophets; there will be another class in Problems of young men.

East side churches have made special provision for University students. The Olivet Baptist church will have a class led by the pastor, Mr. Wiltbank, studying the Christian religion in the light of modern knowledge. The First Methodist church class will be led by Dr. E. R. Hare, Med. '00. The Como Ave. Congregational church has a class taught by the pastor, Mr. Painter, and both the First Congregational and Andrew Presbyterian churches have classes especially for University young men and women.

MUSICAL MENTION.

W. W. Norton, of the senior class, who trained the chorus for the Messiah last year, organized a University orchestra for Chautauqua work last summer. This orchestra attended thirty-five Chautauquas and travelled in six states. They have had twenty-eight requests for return dates.

Professor Scott's music classes will meet in University Hall, 315 14th Ave. S. E., this year.

Mrs. N. H. Kendall has been employed by the University to give courses in public school music in the college of education. Mrs. Kendall will organize a University chorus and have charge of the University choir, which it is hoped to have to lead the music in chapel.

MILLER BESTS BEDE.

Clarence B. Miller, '95, Law '00, won the republican nomination for congress over his opponent, J. Adam Bede, the present incumbent, by a vote of practically two to one. It was a brilliant victory and indicates the high regard in which Mr. Miller is held in his district. The campaign was very bitter toward the end, his opponent making a vicious personal attack on Mr. Miller, which fortunately re-acted against himself and won votes for Miller. This is the first time that a graduate of the University has represented a district in congress, for Mr. Miller's election is assured, as the district is safely republican and Mr. Miller is likely to run ahead, rather than behind, his ticket. The Weekly congratulates Mr. Miller upon his brilliant victory.

BURTON IN THE WEST.

Dr. Richard Burton, of the department of English, gave the commencement address at the University of Washington. The alumni who were privileged to hear him are enthusiastic over the address in which he discussed education as a symmetrical development of the body, mind and heart.

The Seattle alumni, about forty strong, gave a dinner in his honor at Hotel Perry, June 16th. Fred H. Gilman, Eng. '91, was the toastmaster and Dr. Burton talked on the "New University"; Dean Priest and Dr. Padelford, of the University of Washington, were also called upon for speeches. Miss Ada Hillman of Tacoma and J. P. Kane of Seattle spoke for the alumni.

A few days later Dr. Burton read "Monsieur Beaucaire," at Portland, Ore. The newspapers of that city were enthusiastic over the reading and the reader. Still later, Dr. Burton was heard at Los Angeles, Calif., where he appeared under the auspices of Miss Alice E. Craig, '99, who is managing a lecture bureau.

THE MALARIAL MOSQUITO.

Our readers will remember that last spring mention was made of the remarkable work being done by Dr. B. E. Dahlgren, Dent. '01, for the American Museum of Natural History. Our attention was recently called to a report sent out by that Museum, from the pen of Dr. Dahlgren, upon the Malarial mosquito. This report fills 48 pages and is illustrated by half tones made from the models constructed by Dr. Dahlgren. The report is said to represent one of the most remarkable pieces of recent scientific research. As was mentioned in the report last spring, Dr. Dahlgren has no rival in his special field of making models of various organisms for museum purposes.

CAPRON NOT CAPTAIN.

George Capron, the great drop-kicker, was not elected captain of the Minnesota team, as has been widely advertised in the daily papers. The committee on eligibility has decided that he cannot play this fall on the team. Capron is a marvellous drop-kicker but is not a man who readily works into a team play. While his loss will be greatly felt, we believe that team work can be developed to make up for the loss of his brilliant kicking.

IN FAR AWAY LAND.

Dr. Martha Sheldon '83, and Miss E. C. Brown, who are missionaries stationed far up in the Himalayas not far from Tibet, are reducing to writing for the first time the language of the Bhotiyas, among whom they are teaching the gospel. The first literature to be scattered in the region will be the New Testament which these women pioneers are translating into the Bhotiyan. As these border peoples by hereditary right hold a monopoly of the trade between Tibet and the outside world from India way, and are the only folk of that region having free access to the so-called forbidden land, the missionaries are hoping that they will be the means of first introducing the printed Scriptures to the Tibetans.

VARSAITY MEN AS COACHES.

John Schucknecht, '08, is coaching the North High team; George B. Webster, Ex-'02, coaches the Central team and Joseph Kjelland, Dent. '08, coaches the South High football team.

ALUMNI ON COMMITTEE.

Dr. F. A. Knights, president of the Hennepin County Medical Society, recently appointed a committee to advise with the board of education concerning the sanitary condition of the public school buildings of this city. The committee is largely made up of University alumni, including J. F. Corbett, Med. '96, Herman Bouman, Med. '97, S. P. Rees, '95, Med. '97, E. R. Hare, Med. '00, O. K. Richardson, '90, Hom. '93, and Ida McKeen, Hom. '04.

DR. ROBINSON EDITOR.

Professor Edward V. Robinson, of the department of political science, is the editor of the department of economic notes in the Journal of Geography. Dr. Robinson was chairman of a committee of the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary schools, to which was committed the defining of units of work in business subjects offered in secondary schools and accepted by colleges for admission. The report of the committee, which was accepted and adopted, appears in the proceedings of the association, pages 62-68.

ROMAN ARCHAEOLOGY AND PUBLIC LIFE.

Dr. Granrud will offer this one-hour course the first semester this year in place of the second. It will consist of lectures with lantern views on the city of Rome and its neighborhood, Roman architecture, the forums of Rome, the temples, basilicas and arches, the theaters, and painting, Roman government, the national characteristics of the Romans and Roman influence on western civilization.

MANY FELL BY THE WAYSIDE.

Last week we published a list of alumni living in Minneapolis who were candidates for nomination at the primaries last Tuesday. Below we give the names of those who pulled through. We wish that this list were longer. On the city ticket, William C. Leary, '93, Law '94, won the nomination for special judge of the municipal court by a handsome majority. Edward C. Gale, formerly a student at the University, received the nomination for the city library board. Henry Deutsch, Law '94, received the nomination for the short term.

For aldermen, the following named alumni won—2nd ward, E. W. Hawley, Law '93; 4th ward, Charles D. Gould, Law '91; 5th ward, Arthur Selover, '93, Law '94; 10th ward, Thomas H. Salmon, Law '94; 13th ward, George S. Grimes, '81.

George R. Smith, Law '93, had no opposition and succeeds himself.

Walter B. Hobart, Eng '07, received the democratic nomination for county surveyor.

Al J. Smith, Law '99, and Fred H. Ayers, Law '93, both received their nomination for county attorney, on opposing tickets, without opposition from their own parties. Dr. Gilbert Seashore, Med. '02, won the nomination for coroner.

For the legislature—39th district, the University district, Hugh N. Allen, '98, Law '01, received the republican nomination. 41st district, Charles L. Sawyer, Law '97, won the nomination. In the 43rd district, Carl L. Wallace, Law '97, was prize winner. In the 44th district, A. S. Dowdall, Law '04, received the nomination on the Democratic ticket. W. J. Warren, '78, is a prohibition candidate for the legislature from the 44th district.

For school director, Bessie Laythe Scovell, '84, received the prohibition endorsement.

Over in Ramsey county the following alumni won out at the primaries—on the republican ticket, Oscar F. Christensen, Ex-Law '02, and John F. Selb, Ex-Law '02, for the legislature. On the democratic ticket, Richard D. O'Brien, Law '00, was named to succeed himself as county attorney and Arthur W. Miller, Med. '97, as coroner, Louis Nash, Law '02, for county commissioner.

Dr. Miller's fate still pursues him—twice he has had another Miller opposed to him in his own party at the primaries and now the opposing party puts up a Miller, hoping to trade on the Doctor's reputation to get into office.

Clarence Miller's plurality over Bede was more than 7,000, the party might as well have made it unanimous while they were about it. Miller will have no opposition worth mentioning and has a sure cinch on the election.

PERSONALS.

Dr. W. Alrick of dental class, '07, is taking a postgraduate course in a dental college in England, after which he will continue practicing in one of the British Colonies.

Don C. Anderson, Law '05, has removed from this city to Bemidji to practice law.

Charlotte Stevens, '07, has removed from Eagle Bend to Alexandria, Minn.

"Mose" Strathern, '04, Med. '07, of football fame, has been spending the past few months in Germany and France. He has gone to London, England, where he will spend until next February in the leading hospitals.

Oliver G. Tubby, Eng. '07, who has been at work down in the Canal Zone, is to be at the University soon.

Lydia Vallentyne is entering upon her second year's work in the high school at Red Lodge, Mont.

Herman Winterer, Ex-'83, is practicing law at Valley City, N. D.

WEDDINGS.

The marriage of Lucy Hutchinson, '08, and R. E. Edquist, Law '08, came as a surprise to their friends. They were married in January but no announcement was made until July.

Roy J. Moulton, '07, who last year taught at Boyd, Minn., will be located at Pierpont, S. D., this year. Mr. Moulton was married, in August, to Miss Bessie Sturges, of Buffalo, Minn.

Allan B. Calhoun, Min. '05, was at the University last Wednesday. Mr. Calhoun has been in the city for the past week and was married last Wednesday evening to Miss Alice H. Nelson, of this city. Mr. and Mrs. Calhoun will take a short trip and then be in the city for a few days before going to their future home in Rossland, B. C. Mr. Calhoun is with the Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company.

Last Wednesday Ethel B. Spooner, '07, became the bride of Thomas E. Skeith of White Bear Lake. After a short wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Skeith will be at home to friends at White Bear Lake. In November they will visit Mr. Skeith's parents in Canada.

A. R. Fairchild, Eng. '07, and Miss Ethel P. Chapman, formerly of this city, but now living in Spokane, were married September 9th. Mr. and Mrs. Fairchild will make their home in Spokane, Wash.

A wedding of interest to alumni took place in Billings, Mont., Wednesday, Sept. 16, when Miss Iva Cliff of Minneapolis, became the bride of Dr. Theodore J. Benson, Med. '04, of Fromberg, Mont.

OF GENERAL INTEREST.

Dr. W. W. Folwell was seriously injured in an automobile accident near Franklin, Minn., a few weeks ago. He is recovering slowly.

The registration in the college of agriculture is larger than ever before. The total registration in the college is expected to reach or pass 150.

The chemistry building was thoroughly overhauled during the summer. Electric lights have been provided and the whole interior painted and repaired.

Forty-three former Hamline medical students have enrolled in the University.

Two of the debaters chosen last spring have decided that they cannot go on with their work this year and trials will be held soon to fill their places.

A swimming pool is now assured and will be finished ready for use about the first of the year. The pool will be located under the north end of the Armory.

Professor Charles M. Holt, '04, will have charge of classes in voice culture in the college of education.

The Young Men's Christian Association held a reception for new men last Saturday evening. Professor A. D. Hall, '95, gave a short illustrated talk on Yellowstone Park.

The Young Woman's Christian Association hold their first reception for new girls tomorrow afternoon.

Dr. John H. Gray, head of the department of political science, has bought himself a home at 420 Walnut street southeast.

Captain A. J. Lienihan, who inspected the University cadet corps last spring, has made a report in which he speaks very highly of the work done by the cadets, which amounts to a very high compliment to Captain Sigerfoos, the commandant.

The Woman's League began its year's activity by an affair for the new women at the Armory last Saturday afternoon.

Don't Make This Mistake

Don't imagine that all Piano-players are Pianolas and are "pretty much alike."

Do you realize that the chief beauty of a musical composition lies in the way it is interpreted?

You are justified in expecting that the Piano-player you buy will furnish you with an adequate guide to interpretation.

As a matter of fact the Pianola is the only Piano-player made which furnishes such a guide.

See the Pianola and Pianolo Piano.

To the University of Minnesota Alumni:

If you were part owners in an enterprise you would do everything in your power to further its interests. Would you not?

As owners of The Alumni Weekly you ought to be interested in its progress and development.

It is possible to make The Weekly one of the best alumni publications in the country, but to do this we need the support of every alumnus.

How can you help?

1st. By advertising in the "Weekly." It is a first class medium brings results.

2nd. By patronizing our advertisers. Because you get value received.

3d. By advertising The Weekly. Mention it to the advertisers and talk about it to your friends among the alumni.

Results:

More patronizing, more advertising.

More advertising means a larger and better Weekly, and

More interest in the University and that should be the aim of every loyal alumnus.

Yours for co-operation,

JACOB WILK,

Advertising manager.

COMING EVENTS.

Reception for students, faculty and alumni, October 3d in the Armory. Postponed from September 26th.

October 3d, on Northrop Field, Lawrence University vs. Minnesota.

October 6th, in University chapel, vaudeville entertainment by Woman's League.

The University Catholic Association reception to new students, October 2nd, in Shevlin Hall.

REGISTRATION FIGURES.

The total enrollment of last year was 4523, of which number 102 were duplicates, leaving the net total 4421.

The enrollment for the present year promises to surpass that of last year. The enrollment to date is about 4,300.

THE UNIVERSITY AND THE STATE.

We have heard it more than hinted that the alumni of the University, in their zeal to help the University, do not take into account the needs of other state institutions. Possibly there are some alumni who have taken that attitude, but such is not the attitude of the alumni as a whole. We are first citizens of the Nation and the State and as such we are loyal to the Nation and the State desiring only what will secure their welfare.

The loyalty of our alumni to the Nation was shown by the number who enlisted and served in the army in the recent war with Spain.

We should be careful to so act that no one can justly say that we hold our love for the University above our loyalty for the State. The University is a creation of the State for the good of the State. It can claim support only in proportion as it continues to serve the needs of the citizens of the State. What will tend to make the University of greater use to the people of the State will justify any reasonable expenditure. We want nothing of the State for the University that will not stand this test. We had far better lose anything we ask for, at any particular session of the legislature, than to lose the confidence of the people of the State. We believe in economy, but we believe also that there is a false economy that "withholds more than is meted?"

The alumni will stand for nothing that will not stand the test of the greatest publicity and justify itself when the welfare of the State as a whole, is taken into account.

Let us remember at all times and act upon the principle, that—

As loyal citizens of Minnesota, desiring only the best good of the State, we believe in the University as the servant of the State. We do not ask the expenditure of a single cent which cannot be justified, in the minds of all fair-minded citizens, by a full and frank consideration of its merits; taking into consideration other needs of the State and the fact that the University exists solely for the sake of the service it can render the citizens of the State and the Nation.

THE PRACTICAL AND IMPRACTICAL IN EDUCATION.

Those who clamor for the "practical" in education sometimes forget that the most practical things of life are the result of, or made possible by, results obtained in the pursuit of the so-called "impracticable." One of the best examples of this is found in the invention of Dr. Anthony Zeleny, of the University department of physics. To the uninitiated, some of the tables and diagrams worked out by Dr. Zeleny in his experiments, are the height of the impractical, and yet the result of one of his experiments is made practical use of by elevator men all over the world today.

In the course of his experiments, Dr. Zeleny discovered that the thermo-electric couple could be read at an indefinite distance, with proper arrangement of wires to conduct the electricity which indicated the variations in temperature. He immediately saw the vast possibilities of this discovery in a commercial way and devised his thermo-electric thermometer for use in grain elevators.

Previous to this discovery, the only way to determine the temperature of grain in the middle of a great body stored in an elevator was to move the grain, at great expense, or to allow it to heat until it made itself manifest in the destruction of vast quantities of grain. Now, with Dr.

Zeleny's thermometer in use, the manager of a system of elevators can sit at his desk and by manipulating a simple switch, read the temperature of the grain in any particular part of any particular elevator in the system. The loss of grain by heating is thus prevented and the cost of moving the grain occasionally for fear of damage is saved. This single simple invention, the direct result of "impractical" experiments, has saved the country hundreds of thousands of dollars and will keep on effecting such a saving for all time so far as we can now see.

This is but one practical use made of this simple device, the possibility of its practical applications are almost limitless. Dr. Zeleny has made similar practical use of other discoveries made in the pursuit of the impractical and we have no doubt that he, and others, will make practical application of still other discoveries made in pursuit of what some are pleased to designate the impractical.

LIFE MEMBERSHIPS AND THE WEEKLY.

Occasionally a life member is found who thinks that the fact of life membership entitles him or her to the Alumni Weekly free. Such is not the fact. The life membership fund is invested and its income is used to help meet the general expenses of the association. The average income from a life membership fee is sixty cents a year. It actually costs seventy cents a year to print and circulate the Weekly, not taking into account at all the editorial cost. The life membership fee would not produce enough to cover the actual cost of the mechanical work of producing the Weekly.

For those who desire to take advantage of the offer, the association has provided that a life subscription to the Weekly may be had for $15. This is entirely independent of the regular life membership fee. While on this question, it may not be out of place to state that the Minnesota Alumni Weekly is the lowest priced weekly alumni publication in existence, the prevailing price for alumni weekly publications being $3 a year. We sincerely hope that it may not be necessary to raise the price of the Weekly. One thousand more subscribers would place the Weekly on a paying basis, that is, would make it pay the cost of the mechanical work of producing it and pay a fair compensation for the work of editing the same. It is only due to the fact that the secretary is employed to give his whole time to the work and edits the Weekly as a part of his general duties to the association, that the Weekly can be carried on as it has been the past two years.

APPROVED BOARDING HOUSE LISTS.

Last spring Dean Comstock visited a large number of boarding house keepers, in the vicinity of the University, and asked those who were prepared to properly care for young women boarders to agree to certain provisions in regard to taking women students for boarders and roomers. The list of those who would agree to the very simple and very sensible provisions proposed had their names published on a special list, which had the approval of Dean Comstock. The agreement simply included the provision of taking only young women into their houses and the providing of a reception room where and when alone the young women may receive callers.

A considerable number of people were glad to co-operate with Dean Comstock to this extent, and the experiment is being made. It is to be hoped that the first year's experience may prove it to be pleasant and profitable both to the young women and those who are co-operating with Dean Comstock in the manner of running their boarding houses. It certainly deserves every encouragement from all who have the well-being of the young women of the University at heart.

THE MINNESOTA MAGAZINE.

The Weekly does not feel called upon to give a review of the Minnesota Magazine. Our subscribers, who are interested in the publication, can get it for 75 cents a year, with the Weekly, and a review of its contents would be of little interest to those not interested.

The first number of the new year has set a pace which it is going to be hard to keep up, but the editors have faith to believe that they can keep it up and we have faith in the editors.

The leading article, by President Northrop, on what a college education should do for a man, is at the President's best, and we all know that his best is very good. We may have occasion to quote the same at some length in a later issue. The whole magazine from cover to cover and all between the covers, is worth while.

LEGISLATOR VISITS THE UNI- VERSITY.

Mr. L. W. Andrist, "Dodge county's hustler," a brother of Professor Charles M. Andrist, visited the University last Tuesday. Mr. Andrist is a candidate for the legislature on the prohibition ticket and stands a most excellent chance of winning the election. Two years ago Mr. Andrist was nominated and did absolutely nothing to secure the election but came within fifty votes of securing it. This time he is out to win and he usually gets what he goes after.

SMOKE ORDINANCEEXTENDED.

The University smoke ordinance which was first promulgated several years ago and which has been in force with greater or less exception (Captain Guild being the greatest exception) since that date, has been re-announced by the President for the present year. The new feature of the ordinance this year is that the President has found it necessary to specifically include members of the faculty in the prohibition of smoking on the campus.

Now if the ordinance could only be made to include the University heating plant everyone would be happy.

The University is supposed to teach future engineers how to run heating plants properly, yet there is not, in the City of Minneapolis, a worse offender than the University, in respect to the smoke nuisance.

INTERESTING AND VALUABLE ORIGINAL INVESTIGATIONS.

A few months since, there appeared in the Physical Review, a paper by Dr. John Zeleny, upon the discharge of electricity from pointed conductors. This paper is along the line of a paper previously mentioned in the Weekly but goes deeper into the subject and develops the law for such discharges in dry atmosphere. The law, while quite unintelligible to the layman, is most important and will be used as a basis for further investigations that may prove to be of great everyday importance, for instance, in connection with the weather service. A second paper, by Dr. Zeleny, discusses the influence of humidity upon such discharges and the variations caused by the same.

Mention was made some months ago of a paper in the Physical Review by Dr. Anthony Zeleny, upon the capacity for mica condensers. Dr. Zeleny has been continuing his investigations along that line, assisted by Mr. A. P. Andrews, '99, into the question of paper condensers. The methods used previous to Dr. Zeleny's paper, which reduced the error to a negligible quantity, admitted of a variation from 76 per cent. to over 281 per cent. In the paper which appeared in the August number of the Physical Review, Dr. Zeleny gives a scientific discussion of the matter. In the same number there appears another article upon a Galvonometer scale for direct reading of temperatures with thermo-electric couples. This is an elaboration of Dr. Zeleny's practical device which is in use the world over for commercial purposes, and is intended to furnish a basis for the most accurate laboratory experiments.

MISS CLOPATH IN EUROPE.

Miss Clopath, instructor in drawing, spent the summer in Europe making a special study of school art work, visiting schools and exhibitions both in the United States, England and France, meeting many prominent educators. Among the schools visited were the famous Hanon school near London; the Sorbonne, where she was privileged to attend art lectures and attended a banquet given to instructors in drawing in Paris schools and was entertained at a dinner given in her honor by the president of the association. She was asked to contribute a series of articles on the teaching of drawing for "Moniteur du dessin," and the first article will appear in the October number. She visited the Paris salon, the Louvre, and had the pleasure of meeting Raffaelli, one of the masters of modern impressionism, who presented Miss Clopath with an illustrated copy of one of his recent art books. The latter part of the summer was spent in Brittany, at Concarneau, in Fin-istere, an interesting old walled city on the Atlantic coast. Here she made many sketches under most favorable conditions and brought home a few finished pictures and materials for a lecture on Brittany which she will give later on in the year.

THE Y. W. C. A.

This association starts out the year with great enthusiasm and prospects of a very successful year. Lella Albrecht, the new secretary, was a student at the University several years and last year she spent as secretary of the Y. W. C. A. of the normal school at Kirksville, Mo. She was born in Japan where her parents were stationed as missionaries.

The association aims to have three-fourths of the young women in the University enrolled as members. An attempt will be made to get twenty-five pledged to attend the summer conference at Lake Geneva next summer. The social side of the work is not to be neglected while special emphasis will be placed upon the spiritual work.

Among the early events have been the vesper tea for Miss Robinson, the new state secretary; the freshman party for the new students which included general get-acquainted features, games and a play; a special meeting with reports by those who attended the Geneva conference.

WOMAN'S LEAGUE RECEPTION

A week ago last Saturday the Woman's League gave a reception to the young women of the University at which over 400 were present. The affair was held in the Armory. A talk by Dean Comstock, a reception and dancing filled the afternoon with delightful experiences for the old and new students.

LECTURES FOR WOMEN.

The young women of the University are being given a chance to attend a very interesting course of lectures. The course includes the following:

Dr. Erdmann: Respiratory organs.

Dr. Beard: Foods and their values, The digestion of foods, Function of nervous system.

Prof. A. E. Jenks: Anthropometry.

Dr. Jane Kennedy: Pelvic anatomy and hygiene.

Dr. Sedgwick: The child and school—vision and hearing.

Dr. Geist: Faulty postures.

Dean Comstock: The college woman.

THOUGHTFULNESS

APPRECIATED.

Mr. Arthur E. Haynes,
University of Minnesota,
Minneapolis, Minn.

My dear Sir:

Referring to your letter of May 23, 1908, the receipt of the U. S. flag and University pennant for the grave of the late First Lieutenant Olaf H. Rask, who is buried at Bacoar, P. I., is respectfully acknowledged.

The decorations were properly placed on the grave on July 4th, by the Commanding Officer, Cavite, (Captain James W. Broatch) himself, and three volleys fired over the grave by a detail of sixteen (16) men and taps sounded. The Commanding officer, Cavite, reports the grave in excellent condition.

Steps have been taken to have the remains of Lieutenant Rask disinterred and removed from Bacoar to the Naval Cemetery at the Naval Hospital, Canacao, P. I., and when this end has been accomplished, you will be advised accordingly.

The patriotic spirit shown by "Alma Mater" in remembering the graves of its soldier-students must be a happy thought to their relatives and friends, and it is hoped that the widow of Lieutenant Rask will be informed of the contents of this letter.

The Brigade Commander directs me to thank you for your thoughtfulness and kindness.

I am, with best wishes,

L. J. MAGILL,

Major, Brigade Adjutant and Inspector.

WORDS OF PRAISE FOR SIGERFOOS.

The following letter to Captain Sigerfoos was called to our attention by Dean Pattee—Ed.

My dear Sir:

I have received through the courtesy of Messrs. Putnam & Co., publishers, a copy of the October number of the Military Service Institution containing your article on the question of whether persons in the military service are entitled to a trial by jury. I examined with great pleasure your interesting and erudite discussion of this complex question and congratulate you upon your presentation of it. I incline to the belief that trial by jury under our Constitution is becoming less of a fundamental right and more and more tending to be considered by our Courts as a mere method of procedure. I enclose you an article in the Yale Law Review written some time ago in which the question was discussed generally but without particular reference to persons in the military service. Thanking you for your timely presentation of this important topic, I remain,

Yours very truly,

FREDERICK R. COUDERT.

DR. BURTON'S NEW BOOK OUT.

Little, Brown & Company have just issued Dr. Burton's new novel, "Three of a Kind," a story of three poor friends, an old musician, a street waif and a spaniel. The book was put on sale last Saturday and a fuller notice will be made next week.

BOOK BY BENSON.

Owing to the fact that we have not been able to secure a copy of Ramsey Benson's (Percy R. Benson, '88) book, we are unable to say anything about it this week, beyond the fact that the book is entitled "A Lord of Lands" and that competent critics say that it is away above the average book that comes from the press these days.

MILLER MAY HAVE

OPPONENT.

It is rumored that the democrats of the 8th district are feeling sorry to think they did not nominate any candidate for Congress and that the committee which has power to fill vacancies are seriously considering placing Andrew Nelson, '92, in nomination for the place. Mr. Nelson is a prominent and successful lawyer of Duluth and was at one time assistant superintendent of public instruction in this state. He was secretary of the last democratic state convention.

A later report says Mr. Nelson has declined to become a candidate.

GLEASON GIVES UP SUIT.

Last Monday John L. Gleason, who was dropped from the rolls of the University by the regents and who sued for re-instatement, appeared in court and asked for a dismissal of the case which was granted. The attorney-general, acting for the regents, denied the right of Gleason to sue the regents in their capacity as state officers. The matter went to the supreme court which decided that Gleason should have a right to a jury trial. After winning his case in the supreme court Gleason asked for a dismissal of the same, as stated above.

DIED.

Edward Corydon Jones, 46 years old, died Monday, Sept. 21st, at his home 315 Fifteenth street west. The interment was at Lakewood. Mr. Jones was a graduate of the University of Minnesota, in the class of 1883, and lived thereafter for a good many years at Duluth. He has been a resident of Minneapolis for the past 10 years, and was in the office of the Minnesota Loan and Trust company during the last five years of his life. He leaves a widow and three children. He was the eldest son of the late C. C. Jones, an old time resident of the East Side, and formerly associated with W. S. King in the management of the street railway company.

PERSONAL.

Sara Alexander, '05, formerly of Annandale, is now living at Lake City, Minn.

Herbert D. Alton, Eng. '07, has recently moved from Spokane to Spirit Lake, Idaho.

Walter G. Amundson, Law '07, is manager of the bonding department of the Manley-McLennan agency of Duluth. His office is in the Torry building.

Bonnie Andrews, '05, of Sisseton, S. D., has returned to the University to take a master's degree in English and Latin. She will go to Italy at the end of the first semester.

Mary Armstrong, '08, will leave soon to teach high school work in Tyler.

Isabella McH. Austin, '95, has begun her work as supervisor of primary work in the schools of Tacoma, Wash. Her address for the year will be The St. Helena, Tacoma, Wash.

Clara Poucher, who used to be the university postmistress.

Alma M. Lundgren, '01, is teaching in the Sanger, Calif., high school.

Gene Lundgren, '05, is teaching again at Clinton, Minn.

Thomas J. Maloney, Med. '01, of St. Paul, expects to go to Europe next month.

Jessie M. Marsh, '08, is teaching in the high school at Blue Earth. She has the work in English.

Hilda Miller, '08, is teaching German and English in Osakis high school.

Mabel F. Millie, '08, is spending the year with relatives in Denver, Colo. Her address for the year will be 2500 Boulevard.

Shirley P. Miller, M. Ag., '04, of the South Dakota Agricultural College, is spending the year in Germany. He is working under the direction of the embryologist, Hertwig, at the University of Berlin. His address is 22 Karlstrasse N. W., Berlin, Germany.

Harriet D. Moore, '08, is living at 619 W. Cherokee avenue, Enid, Oklahoma. She is teaching in the Enid high school.

Marie Oberg, '05, is teaching in the high school at Browns Valley, Minn.

Dr. John W. Olson, Med. '00, has gone back to Troy, Idaho, where he practiced for several years before locating in Minneapolis, some two and a half years ago.

Gertrude O'Neill, formerly a student at the University, who has been teaching in the high school at Hibbing for a number of years, will spend the year somewhere in the west.

William G. Owens, Law '00, formerly of Walnut Grove, Minn., has moved to Redwood Falls for the practice of his profession.

Andrew Palmer, '08, has been awarded a fellowship in philosophy at Harvard University and will spend the year doing graduate work in his chosen line at that institution.

The following just received from G. S. Phelps, '99—"We sail for home on the S. S. Minnesota, October 19th, due in Seattle, November 6th. We go direct to 85 Fayette street, Hillsdale, Mich., via Denver. We shall surely see our Minneapolis friends next spring." Mr. and Mrs. Phelps and the children spent the summer near Mts. Asma and Hanare. Mrs. Phelps was Mary Ward, '97.

Alice Pope, '08, assisted Prof. Anderson in the history department during summer school.

Dr. C. A. Reed, '95, Med. '98, has moved his office from the Andrus to the Pillsbury building.

Lee Sanford, '08, is working for the Woodworth Lumber Co.

Henry S. Saunderson, Min. '01, is U. S. deputy mineral surveyor for Nevada and Colorado and has his office in the Empire building, Denver, Colo.

S. F. Saunderson, Pharm. '95, is living in Denver, Colo., at 827 E. 5th st.

Mina Schaezel, '08, visited college Wednesday.

Lydia Schroedel, '08, of Macalester, is doing graduate work in the University.

C. G. Selvig, Ed. '07, says that Stevens Seminary, the Glencoe high school, will probably have an agricultural high school started next fall. What is now the University department of agriculture was first located at Glencoe and the endowment of land which Stevens Seminary has is a relic of that location. The endowment is now sufficient to pay the salary of the superintendent and leave a little balance each year.

Eleanor Sheldon, '04, of the English department, spent the summer in Canada and the eastern states.

Will Simmons, '08, is back, taking law.

Artie Skoog, '04, who has been teaching for several years past in the Redwood high school, will teach at Waseca this year.

Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Stenger have a little son who was born commencement day. Mr. Stenger was engineer '06, and Mrs. Stenger, Effie Dahlberg, was a member of the class of '07. Their boy, Vernon Arthur, was born on commencement day the year following his mother's graduation. They reside at 400 Oak street S. E.

Oliver Sweningson, '08, Electrical engineer, is engaged with the Craig Shipbuilding Company at Long Beach, Cal.

Abbie Switzer, '08, is teaching German in Princeton high school, of which Grace Dickenson, '07, is principal.

R. W. Terry, Law '02, of Slayton, Minn., recently received the republican nomination for county attorney of Murray county. Shortly before the nomination came to him a young man arrived at his house. The boy has been christened Alfred Nelson Terry.

Martin E. Tew, Law '00, who is practicing law at Willmar, varies the program occasionally by delivering public lectures upon various topics of general interest.

L. C. Tomlinson, Eng. '04, will spend the year doing advanced work in electricity at the University. He was recently located at Edmonton, B. C.

Conrad A. Tressman, '06, formerly principal of the high school at Waverly, Minn., has resigned his position and gone to Germany for two or possibly three years' work in philology and German. He will pursue his work in the University of Berlin and his temporary mail address will be care of the American Express Company, Berlin.

An article written by Arthur Upson on the "Singing Girls of Jena," has been published in the October number of the St. Nicholas.

Walter Wheeler, '06, will help in the construction of a flat building which his father is putting up in Minneapolis.

Beatrice Williams, '08, is teaching at Princeton, Minn.

Amelia Wier, '04, is principal of the Blue Earth high school.

Alice Winter, '08, is teaching primary work in Glasgo, Montana.

O. F. Woodard, Law '00, of Marshall, Minn., was recently nominated to succeed himself as judge of probate on the republican ticket.

Luella Woodke, '08, is teaching in the high school at Preston, Minn., this year. She was at the University Saturday, September 19th.

Peggy Woodrich, '08, is city engineer at Austin.

Louis P. Zimmerman, Eng. '08, is located in Seattle, Wash., at 102 Valley street. He is enthusiastic over the west.

ENGAGEMENTS AND WEDDINGS.

The engagement of Arthur N. Collins, '02, to Florence Edna Johnson, has been announced. The wedding will take place late in October. Miss Johnson is a graduate of Smith College and afterward pursued graduate work at the University. Dr. Collins is associated with the Mayos of Rochester.

The engagement of Gustav von Schlegell formerly a student at the University, and Miss Alice Anderson, has been announced. The wedding will take place after the holidays.

Mr. von Schlegell has left for St. Louis, Mo., where he has accepted a position in a school of fine arts. It was announced in the daily papers a short time ago that Mr. von Schlegell had been secured to paint the panels of the new dining room of the Minneapolis Club's new building and that he would paint scenes from the Mississippi on the various panels about the room.

Bessie Dockstader, ex-'06, was married September 12 to Walter Francis, of Chicago.

The marriage of A. Allan Twitchell, Delta Kappa Epsilon, ex-'01, to Miss Abigail Dill, of Prescott, took place Thursday evening.

Elizabeth Skartum, ex-'10, will be married to Mr. Richard Diamond, October 14.

Katherine Skinner, '07, will be married to Mr. Blinks in October.

Helen Weld, ex-'09, and Rev. Mr. Finney will be married early in October.

The engagement of Florence Buck, ex-'10, to W. J. Morris of St. Paul was announced recently, the marriage to take place early in October.

Grace Wenzel, ex-'11, will be married to George Storer, '08, October 10.

L. W. Eddy, Eng. '07, was married Sept. 23 to Miss Ida May Miller of Chicago. Mr. and Mrs. Eddy will be at home after Nov. 1st at 989 Millard Avenue, Chicago.

Dr. Joseph T. Ahlstrom, Dent. '03, of Cokato, and Miss Selma Eckman of the same place were married last week.

FOOTBALL NEWS.

Football news is still in the stage of the speculative and the game with Lawrence only one week away. The item of greatest interest the past week was the fact that Safford joined the squad and will help to make the team a winner.

It is said that the team will probably line up for the first game with the following men: Grant, L. E.; Young, L. T.; Mohlstadt, L. G.; Safford, C.; Rosenwald, R. G.; Ostrand, R. T.; Rademacher, R. E.; Atkinson,

Mr. W. N. Smith, Engineer with the Westinghouse, Church & Kerr Company, addressed the senior electrical engineers at the University on Saturday morning, September 19, upon "The electric railway in perspective."

Lucius Frye, '07, the Minnesota Rhodes Fellow, has gone to England and will study at Oxford University, making a specialty of jurisprudence and the classics.

John Schuknecht and George Case, of last year's team, will assist Dr. Williams in turning out a winning team.

The grandstands of the football field have been repaired and strengthened at an expense of $3,000.

The musical clubs are planning a big Christmas vacation trip to the western coast, ending up with Salt Lake City on their return trip.

The Minneapolis Commercial Club public affairs committee has decided to take a hand in the removal of the tracks for the University campus and will use the influence of the club to secure that end.

Dr. J. E. Granrud, of the department of Latin, was recently re-elected for the seventh time to the board of regents of the United Church. The board has charge of St. Olaf College, at Northfield, the U. C. Seminary, at St. Anthony Park, and the Normal school at Madison, Minn.

John Sinclair, general secretary of the University Y. M. C. A., will spend three days in October, stumping in North Dakota for Bryan.

President Northrop has decreed that hereafter all cane rushes must be held on Northrop Field and not on the open campus.

The sight of a student seated on the head of the students' memorial statue, taking snap-shots of the cane rush was not calculated to inspire respect for University ideals and traditions.

President Northrop dismissed classes for two hours last Tuesday while the freshmen and sophomore were trying conclusions upon the campus. The sophomores won the rush, taking all but two of the events.

Professor James T. Gerould, librarian, is in Europe on leave of absence. He will return about the 10th of October. While in Europe he will make some purchases of books for the University library.

Edward Anderson, Walter Badger, and C. R. Cressy of the department of chemistry, are assisting in the laboratories and studying for their master's degrees.

Mabel Cooper and Anne Benton, both '08, of Wellesley, and Dorothy Derickson, '08, of Wells, are pursuing graduate work at Minnesota.

Dr. Folwell is almost entirely recovered from his injuries sustained in the automobile accident. He is able to walk about now.

The medical department cane rush resulted in a close victory for the sophomores. The rush was held last Friday afternoon.

Don't Make This Mistake

Don't imagine that all Piano-players are Pianolas and are "pretty much alike."

Do you realize that the chief beauty of a musical composition lies in the way it is interpreted?

You are justified in expecting that the Piano-player you buy will furnish you with an adequate guide to interpretation.

As a matter of fact the Pianola is the only Piano-player made which furnishes such a guide.

RECOMMENDATIONS TO BOARD OF REGENTS.

Last spring the Board of Directors of the General Alumni Association appointed a committee to consider the needs of the University and to submit to the board a statement of recommendations to be made to the Board of Regents. The members of the committee have had the matter in mind during the summer and recently got together and formulated a statement of their findings. This report was submitted to the Board of Directors at its last meeting, a week ago tonight, and was by that board modified and adopted as follows: To the Honorable Board of Regents of the University of Minnesota, Gentlemen:

The Board of Directors of the General Alumni Association of the University of Minnesota, after a careful consideration of present University conditions, respectfully submits the following statement for the consideration of the Board of Regents:

1) We heartily endorse the action already taken by the Board of Regents in asking the consent of the Governor and the Legislature for authority to make formal application to have the University admitted to share in the benefits of the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Learning.

2) We believe that the present standing tax levy of .23 of a mill should be increased to at least .5 of a mill, in lieu of the .23 of a mill tax and the standing appropriation of $165,000 annually.

In support of this we submit the accompanying figures taken from official sources, mainly U. S. government reports.

On Basis of Actual Valuation.

Minnesota receives 11/100 mills, Michigan receives 19/100 mills, Wisconsin receives 22/100 mills, Illinois receives 7/100 mills.

On Basis of Assessed Valuation.

Minnesota receives 40/100 (23/100 plus $165,000 = 40/100) of a mill tax for general current expense, or $380,000 annually.

Michigan receives 38/100, or $650,000 annually. This does not take into account the Agricultural college nor the School of Mines, both of which are supported by the state. If these were taken into account the rate would be 29/100, or $780,000, annually. Michigan is supposed to save something out of this sum for buildings.

Wisconsin receives 29/100, or $622,000, for current expense.

Illinois receives 55/100, or $622,500.

On the basis of what is now being received from the 23/100 mill tax, Minnesota would receive $446,750, an increase of $86,750 annually.

3) We rejoice in what has been done toward enlarging the campus and take this opportunity of reasserting our belief in the importance and wisdom of acquiring at as early a date as possible the land involved in the original plan;—viz.—the land between the river and Harvard Street.

4) We respectfully request the Board of Regents, before finally adopting permanent plans for campus improvement, to have the proposed plans placed on exhibition, so that interested parties may have a chance to inspect the same, and that anyone desiring to make suggestions be allowed to do so in writing, the same to be submitted to a committee of the Board for careful consideration before final action is taken.

5) We most earnestly urge the Board of Regents to use its utmost endeavor to secure the removal of the Northern Pacific Railroad tracks from their present right of way thru the University campus, and if that should be found to be impossible, to prevail upon the city council not to adopt any plan that will result in raising the tracks.

We take this occasion to assure the Board of our hearty support to secure the necessary legislation to insure the carrying out of any plans and suggestions looking toward the enlargement of the usefulness of the University.

Respectfully submitted,
THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS OF THE GENERAL ALUMNI ASSOCIATION.

PROVISION FOR THE ALUMNI.

Paste in your hat.

The athletic board of control has made very liberal provision for the alumni to secure football tickets this year. A section is to be reserved for the alumni, one of the best in the field, and alumni can purchase season tickets entitling them to a reserved seat in this section for the season for eight dollars.

Alumni desiring to purchase tickets for any particular game may make reservations in this section up to as late as Wednesday prior to the game. All other sections go on sale to the general public on the preceding Monday.

The athletic board of control took this action in response to a feeling, expressed by many of the alumni that such provision would enable the alumni to get together so as to be able to meet a large number of other alumni. This liberal provision should be used to the full so as to show our appreciation of this action of the board and also for the purpose of getting the alumni together.

Get in your orders early and don't blame the athletic board of control if you fail to get what you want when your order is delayed beyond the date set.

Also remember that Mr. Helon Leach is the manager of football and that all communications concerning tickets should be addressed directly to him. He will do the very best possible for you.

DR. MONTELIUS AT THE UNIVERSITY.

On the 4th or 5th of November, Dr. Montelius, one of the most distinguished archaeologists of the world, will lecture at the University, probably upon "Sweden in the time of the Vikings." Dr. Montelius is in the country to deliver lectures at Lowell Institute, Harvard University, the University of Pennsylvania and the University of Minnesota.

Dr. Montelius is the curator of the national museum of Sweden, at Stockholm. He is a very prolific writer on historical topics, writing with equal felicity in either the Swedish, German, French or English. One of his most notable lectures is upon the History of the Cross, in which he traces the history of the use of the cross as a symbol in the Greek and Roman churches. While in the city he will deliver one lecture in Swedish to his countrymen.

He has been secured for the University through the efforts of Dr. Stomberg, of the department of Scandinavian.

MINNESOTA MAKES GOOD.

"Other schools make the noise, but the Minnesota Agricultural college gets the results," said President J. H. Connell of the Oklahoma State college recently, expressing his opinion of Minnesota's standing among agricultural colleges.

President Connell and E. H. White, president of the Oklahoma state board of agriculture, have been visiting at the Minnesota institution at St. Anthony Park to get ideas for the agricultural high schools to be established in five districts in Oklahoma. They are paying particular attention to the dormitory life, the management of the dining hall and the general provisions for making student life interesting and comfortable. They have visited several other institutions, and they say Minnesota leads them all.

PRESIDENT NORTHROP'S BIRTHDAY.

Last Wednesday President Northrop was seventy-four years old. It was also the forty-seventh anniversary of his wedding day. The students contributed to a fund for the purpose and presented him with a beautiful Japanese ink stand suitably engraved. He received the congratulations of hosts of friends during the day.

Last evening he left for a two weeks' eastern trip. He will first attend the inauguration of President James R. Garfield, of Williams College at Williamstown, Mass., and then visit his old home in Connecticut. Before returning he will attend the meeting of the American Board in Brooklyn, N. Y.

"DUTCH TREAT" LUNCHEONS.

A definite attempt will be made to establish this custom in this city within the next few weeks and an announcement of the date of the first of the series will be made in the next issue of the Weekly.

SEATTLE ALMUNI.

A letter recently received from Fred H. Gilman, Eng. '90, manager of the Pacific Coast department of the American Lumbermen, tells of the enthusiasm among the Seattle alumni over the visit of Dr. Burton early last summer. He says that Dr. Burton gave them a heart to heart talk, not a lecture or an address but talk telling those present of conditions back at the old U. of M. "It was just like a long news letter, telling just the things one wanted to know."

BOOKS ON HISTORY.

Last week the first copies of Professor White's new book "The Making of the English Constitution" were received. The issuing of this book by a man of Professor White's standing is of great interest to historians generally. We shall publish an appreciation of the book in the next issue of the Weekly.

Professor Anderson's book, "Constitutions and Documents Illustrative of the History of France" has proved so popular that the first edition has been exhausted in three years and a new edition is about to come from the press of the H. W. Wilson Company. This new edition is thoroughly revised and enlarged. The enlargement consisting of the addition of many documents covering the later period and illustrating the growth of the socialist party and the division of church and state. The book is also brought down to 1907, the previous edition coming down only to 1901. This book had an unusually friendly reception, and large sale for such a book, which naturally appeals to comparatively few.

THE REGENTS' MEETING.

The Board of Regents met last Thursday and put in a busy all-day session. A great many things came up for consideration, but comparatively little business was finally transacted. All members, except Governor Johnson and Mr. Smith, were present.

Harry S. Mitchell, '05, who has just completed his work under the Rhodes Fellowship appointment, was made quiz master in the college of law.

E. T. Lies was made lecturer upon taxation and kindred subjects, in the department of political science, no salary being attached to the position.

A request for the establishment of an experiment station at Duluth was not acted upon.

A resolution was adopted by the board accepting the residue of the estate of the late John D. Ludden, in lieu of a definite provision of a definite amount of cash.

J. P. Wentling was made assistant in forestry in the place of Mr. Detwiler resigned.

Another carpenter and another plumber, at $75 a month each, were authorized.

The request of the Minneapolis electric club for a course of evening instruction in electricity was granted, the fees to be paid in to balance any cost of providing for same.

Professor Harry Snyder, of the department of agricultural chemistry, stated to the board that he had had an offer from the Russell-Miller Milling Company, at better salary and with opportunity to do more work in the line he specially desired to follow, and asked to be allowed to continue as nominal head of the department and have charge of the work in soil investigations and that an associate professor of chemistry be appointed to take charge of the balance of the work of the station and school. This was referred to the committee on agriculture with power to act.

J. V. Martenis, instructor in mechanical engineering, was made assistant professor in the same department.

Degrees were granted to Rena Brainerd and Henry Dorr, of the college of science, literature and the arts, and to Herman C. Remele and Clarence Broderson, of the college of dentistry.

The statement of the alumni, which appears in another column, was presented and read and no action was taken. The members of the board were given copies which they took home for consideration.

A large committee of pharmacists appeared before the board and urged them to ask for a building for that department. The committee was assured that the board would do all in its power to care for the needs of that department along with other departments with pressing needs.

Representatives of the two telephone companies appeared before the board and were told that the University wanted its own interior telephone service with connection with both telephone companies over town. At first they were inclined to balk at the proposition, but later concluded to consider the matter which was referred to a committee consisting of Regents Nelson, Hovland, Lind, Owen and Butler.

Cass Gilbert appeared before the board and made certain recommendations concerning the new campus. The whole matter was referred to the original committee which was appointed at the previous meeting.

It was voted to add another story to the anatomy building and to begin work on the same at once, the money to be taken from the fund appropriated for an animal building and which has not been used.

UPSON'S LAST GREAT WORK LOST.

The following poem was found in the boat in which Arthur Upson was rowing just before he was drowned.

Huge lumber mills across the lake
Glitter with lights—the night shift's on.
Tollers for me strange beauty make,
Betwixt these twilights wan.

Gray sky above, gray lake below—
Even the west tonight is gray.
But there the great mill windows glow
And make the dull night gay.

Oh, if I may not share your toils,
Ye men whose patient strength is gold,
From lands of dreams, some fairy spoil,
I'd bring, your hearts to hold!

The complete work, "Gauvaine of the Retz" to which this poem refers has not been found.

The following appeared in the Minneapolis Journal of September 20th, and is from the pen of Professor Joseph Beach, '00, of the University department of English.

A few days ago there appeared in the Minneapolis and Bemidji papers an advertisement of reward for the recovery of a lost manuscript. This manuscript contained the unique copy of a dramatic poem by Arthur Upson. There has perhaps never occurred in the annals of English poetry, a more distressing accident than the loss of this poem. When Shelley was drowned, there remained the fragments of his great unfinished poem, "The Triumph of Life." No trace whatever has been found of Arthur Upson's beautiful completed drama, "Gauvaine of the Retz."

For several years the poet had been planning a drama dealing with the woman who gave the name to Browning's "Gold Hair." One summer he had spent afoot in Brittany, acquainting himself with the district in which his play was to be set. Before leaving Minneapolis, he had written a large part of it; and those who had the privilege of hearing the poem read regarded it as at once the most mature, the most exquisitely fashioned, the most engaging of all his poems. One aim in his going to Cass Lake was to complete the work, and this he accomplished before leaving for Lake Bemidji. The drama was finished on Thursday, the 13th of August. On the night of Friday, the 14th, the poet was drowned.

In Browning's "Gold Hair" we are told how when the coffin of a certain saintly lady was opened in the church of Pornic, a great heap of gold pieces was discovered wound up in the meshes of her golden hair. The natural inference is drawn by the poet that the lady, so long revered for a saint, was really a wretched miser, who could not part from her gold even in death. Arthur Upson, in his drama, has presented an entirely different interpretation of the strange fact; and he makes it the starting point merely of a study of human nature in women. Various types of women are brought into striking contrast with one another. "Gold Hair" is the Lady Audile, plighted from infancy to Sir Gauvaine, the bluff and valiant warrior. At the opening of the play, she finds herself in love with her betrothed. But her maiden's heart indulges in all the subtle casuistries of the passion; and she is little content with the plain, straight-forward sentiment offered by Sir Gauvaine. Another type of love is represented by the Lady Moan, an abandoned character, who has been a lover of Gauvaine's father; but who proves capable of nobility, and devotes herself entirely to the well-being of the young knight she loves. On some occasion, however, in a moment of disgust, Gauvaine has flung her a purse of gold in reproach of her wantonness. Lady Moan thereupon hangs the golden burden about her neck, and wears it from that time forth as a symbol of humiliation. The great scene of the play is in the public square before the church, when Moan returns from the war with the dead body of Gauvaine upon her horse. She is met by the Lady Audile; and a dialogue ensues in which the two women set forth each her theory of love. In the end, Audile confesses that her rival has displayed a nobler type of love than that of the sentimentalizing ingenué; and she demands the shameful purse as her proper portion. She hangs it now about her own neck; and when she dies, the gold is buried with her.

Other characters and episodes, give to the poem the fulness and variety of life. Most lovely of all are the fairy scenes. Especially winning is the scene between the fairy Gouez and Audile, when the Christian maiden explains how love is sin, and the unhappy pagan shows in his own person that for a fairy to love a mortal is death. This fairy element gives the touch of supernatural indispensable to a poem on a Celtic subject. And the play is thruout splendid in medieval pageantry.

There is nothing to indicate that Arthur Upson was dissatisfied with his drama. Always the most exacting critic of his own work, he had expressed himself before leaving Minneapolis as pleased with his new production. And the last verses ever written by him are taken by his friends to contain an allusion to the play. These verses, without title, were inscribed on a sheet of paper found in the boat from which the poet was drowned. They were almost certainly written on the day of his death, perhaps on the very evening. The lighted saw-mills across the lake set him thinking on his own work, and how, though he could not toil with his hands, he might mint his imagination for the service of men. He seems to have been thinking with content of his poetic accomplishment. His Gauvaine, as the last and best, would stand as representative of all his poems; and the "fairy spoils" and "lands of dreams" of the last stanza seem particularly applicable to that poem of medieval dreams and Breton fays. It is pleasing to think of the poet as thus occupied on the last day; but it only sharpens the poignancy of our regret for the loss of his most beautiful poem.

The foreword of the drama is in existence. It was sent by Mr. Upson to his friend, Mr. Edmund Brooks, of this city, and fortunately preserved.

OF GENERAL INTEREST.

The forestry club held its first meeting Monday evening, September 28th. Among the interesting talks given by members was one on lumbering in Oregon, given by Ray Orr.

Last week the three upper classes of the college of agriculture, gave a reception to the freshmen, to initiate them into the good fellowship of the association.

Minne-ha-ha is out again. The first issue of the year came from the press last Tuesday. The form has been changed so as to make it the same size as Life. The most striking feature of the issue is the stand which the paper takes in favor of Bryan. It comes out squarely for the great "Commoner." In general make up and appearance it is much improved. The "stuff" it contains is fair in quality and liberal in quantity.

The University Catholic Association held its opening reception for students last Friday evening in Alice Shevlin Hall.

The Young Men's and Young Women's Christian Associations held their opening reception for new students in the Armory last Saturday evening.

Elsa Ueland has been appointed captain of the girl's basket-ball team. The usual inter-class tournament will be held later in the year.

The University dramatic club held a social meeting in Alice Shevlin Hall one evening last week.

The athletic board of control has made very liberal provision for the students of the University to secure tickets to the football games of the season.

The junior miners have presented the dean with a petition, signed by every member of the class, complaining of the length of the lessons in mechanics.

Great interest has been shown in the newly organized law oratory class. About 125 men have enrolled and Professor Rarig says that there will probably be no less than 100 regular members.

MR. HOLT ORGANIZES TWO NEW CLASSES.

Professor Holt has formed two new classes this fall. One is devoted to voice culture and the other is given over to the study of English classics. Only those in the pedagogical department will receive credit for their work, but any student who is interested may join the class.

ENGINEERS' SOCIETY.

A mass meeting of engineering students was held last Friday at two o'clock, all classes being dismissed for the purpose of allowing all engineers to attend the meeting which was called to arouse interest in the Engineers' Society.

The objects and plans of the society were presented. The society aims to make this year a record one. An attractive program of speakers for the annual lecture course is be-

ALFRED HARRIS DEAD.

Alfred J. Harris, Law '90, died last week in Fessenden, N. D. He leaves a sister, Miss May Harris, a brother Charles Harris and his mother. Funeral services were held from the Church of the Immaculate Conception, interment at St. Mary's cemetery.

MORE WEDDINGS.

Dr. Julius Newgord, Med. '03, of Roslyn, Wash., and Miss Edith Corbett, of Seattle, were married last week. Dr. and Mrs. Newgord will make their home in Roslyn.

Dr. Ralph E. McIntyre, Dent. '05, and Miss Ruby I. Blackburn, of Milwaukee, Wis., were married September 29th, at the bride's home in Milwaukee. Dr. and Mrs. McIntyre will be at home after October 15th, at Greenwood, Wis., where Dr. McIntyre has established himself for the practice of his profession.

MINNESOTA 6, LAWRENCE 0.

This does not look much like the scores of previous years when Minnesota met the Methodists from Wisconsin. In those days the scores used to run from 46 to 79, but last Saturday Minnesota was thankful to come out with the score, low as it was, on the right side of the score board.

In the first half Lawrence clearly outplayed Minnesota, the latter carrying the ball but ten yards in Lawrence territory during the whole half. Lawrence had a finished team and what football they knew they knew thoroughly. They had the forward pass and the double pass attachment down to a point where it was usually good for a gain and with their end runs and forward passes threatened Minnesota's goal. During this half the Minnesota men, though willing, seemed not to be able to get together and never once did they look dangerous to Lawrence. The half closed with a fine fifteen-yard return of a Lawrence punt to center of the field.

The second half, with but few changes in the line up, the Minnesota boys pulled themselves together and made a determined effort to score. It was Lawrence's kick off and after a few plays Minnesota had the ball on Lawrence's 30-yard line, then followed some fierce playing, Minnesota carrying the ball straight down the field to Lawrence's 20-yard line and tried a drop kick which went wild. After a few more plays in which honors were easy, Minnesota had the ball on her own 48-yard line. On a return of Lawrence's punt it was carried back to her 15-yard line, a few short gains and a first down placed the ball on Lawrence's 8-yard line. Three downs failed to make it and Lawrence had the ball on her own goal line, with not a foot to spare. On the punt which Lawrence immediately made Minnesota got the ball on the 35-yard line but failed to make any return. A forward pass to Coughlin was good for five points in the corner of the field. On the kick out the ball was heeled just before the goal and an easy goal added another point.

It was Lawrence's kick-off again and Pettijohn got the ball on Minnesota's 5-yard line and carried it back to the 50-yard line. On an attempted forward pass Minnesota lost 12 yards, and was forced to kick. Helped by a penalty, some good playing and end runs, Lawrence made 45 yards, before she was obliged to yield the pig skin to Minnesota. After a few short gains Minnesota lost to Lawrence on a forward pass, and the penalty put the ball on Lawrence's 30-yard line, when it was fumbled to Minnesota. Minnesota could not gain and had to try a drop kick, or thought so, which amounted to the same thing. No ground was made or lost on the kick, Minnesota retaining the ball. Again was the same play tried but went wild and on the free kick out Minnesota got the ball, ran it back well, made two short gains and then punted, when the game was called.

The game gave the rooters their first line on the team and while there were many disappointed, most of them felt that the showing was about all that could be expected. The greatest criticism that is to be made on the work of the team was McGovern's slowness in getting off his drop kicks and punts, three times he was blocked, and the tendency of the team to rely on a drop kick when it should have tried to make the distance on the ground.

The game showed some rising stars that are likely to be as famous as some they displace. McGovern was a whirlwind advancing the ball and got his plays off well, putting plenty of ginger into the team. Safford had his old place at center and was in the game all the time. Pettijohn, at left end, was in every play and Rademacher was never downed until the whole team was piled on top of him. Plankers did some great line plunging and Atkinson was fleet of foot and a beautiful dodger. Coughlin turned the forward pass into a touchdown in a way to delight the heart of every rooter. Every man in the bunch did his duty and did it to the best of his ability. Not one soldiered at any time and while the team work was ragged and the men evidently green, their spirit was good and they have plenty of come-out in them to meet the tasks that are before them.

ATTENTION.

Particular attention is called to the letter of Clarence B. Miller, '95, law '00, of Duluth, to Governor Lind, president of the board of regents. The matter is one of live interest to all alumni and to other citizens of the state. The alumni have already put themselves on record in regard to the proposition by adopting the following resolution at their annual meeting, February 18th, 1907.

"We desire to place ourselves on record as being in sympathy with the movement for the enlargement of the usefulness of the college of education and believe that its proper development will be a positive gain to our whole educational system."

BIBLE STUDY IN AMERICAN EDUCATIONAL INSTITUTIONS.

The figures dealing with this phase of work are almost unbelievable. In 1877, there were but five institutions in the country in which such work was offered. In 1900 this number had grown to 335 and in 1908 it has grown to 619. In 1890 there were 2,161 students enrolled in such classes, in 1900 the number had grown to 11,782 and in 1908 the number is 48,882.

It means much that there are 48,882 students who are sufficiently interested in the Bible to be willing to devote time to a systematic study of it as they are doing today. This has grown to be one of the great features of association work in colleges and the effort expended in this direction is certainly well spent.

THE MINNESOTA INTERCOLLEGIAN.

The first number of the Minnesota Intercollegian was distributed last week. The publication is, as is probably known, the regular issue of the Intercollegian, with an 8-page section devoted to Minnesota association news. The first number is full of matters of interest to college men and promises to fill a big place in the work of the association for the year.

The leading article is a reprint of a letter which appeared in the Yale Alumni Weekly last year, entitled "A Father to His Son." It is one of the most sensible things we have ever read.

A NEW UNIVERSITY PUBLICATION.

The Engineer's Society have decided to publish their year book as a quarterly hereafter, the quarterly issues appearing in November, January, March and May. The publication has been named "The Minnesota Engineer," and it will be devoted to the interests of the College and Society of Engineers and the alumni of that college and will be a technical, scientific engineering journal of high class. The subscription price will be $1 a year. A board of editors has been elected and will send out circulars to all engineering alumni within a short time. The advisory board consists of the dean of the college and the heads of the three main divisions, civil, mechanical and electrical engineering.

There is undoubtedly a field for such a publication and we believe that the new publication will worthily fill its field.

NEW BOOKS BY ALUMNI.

The following named alumni have issued books during the current year. Fuller information will be given later.

Katherine Jewell Everts, '94, "The Speaking Voice," published by Harper & Brothers.

Max West, '90, a 2nd revised edition of his book, "The Inheritance Tax," and a new volume upon "The Principles of Taxation." Both issued by Macmillan.

Mrs. Antoinette Abernethy Lamoreaux, '90, "Unfolding Life," being a study of the development of child life with reference to religious training. Issued from the press of Revell.

ZELNY AND ERICKSON'S BOOK.

The Northwestern School Supply Company has just issued a new and revised and greatly improved edition of Zeleny and Erickson's "Manual of Physical Measurements." The book is well gotten up and presents an attractive appearance.

DR. WHITE'S NEW HISTORY.

The preparation of a text book for the use of history classes in colleges and universities is a task which puts to a searching test both the scholarship and the pedagogical ability of its author. Even moderate success in such an undertaking is a considerable and somewhat rare achievement. A double measure of congratulation, I think, is therefore due to Professor Albert Beebe White upon his "Making of the English Constitution," which has just been published by Putnam, for it possesses qualities which are almost certain to secure for it prompt recognition and high value among college and university text books upon history.

As the title implies the book deals only with the formative period of the English constitution. It is a study of the development of the institutions by which England is governed down to the time when these institutions had acquired their permanent form. That date Professor White holds is to be found at the close of the fifteenth century. After that England's constitutional history was merged in its political history.

Probably the most distinctive feature of the volume is its freedom from conventional notions as regards proportions and the method of handling the subject. Less than seventy-five pages are devoted to the Anglo-Saxon period; nearly a third of the book is given to formation of the law courts, their mode of operation, and the law which they administered. Details, however interesting and important in themselves, have everywhere been omitted unless required for a proper understanding of the main theme. The literary style is remarkably compact, but is always lucid and effective.

Locally the book should excite considerable interest on account of its future connection with History II, in which course it will hereafter replace Taswell-Langmead—a book which has left an abiding recollection with several generations of University graduates. History II has borne and probably deserved the reputation of being a difficult course. Much of the difficulty lies in the nature of the subject itself and is the very thing which gives the course its greatest value. The subject is one which requires close and careful application of the reasoning faculties. Professor White's book will not enable the careless or indifferent student to find an easy road to success with History II. It will, however, do much to remove the difficulties which do not spring from the nature of the subject and which have hitherto made the course harder than need be. At other universities the book will do much, I believe, to convince professors of history that Minnesota has been working along the right line in insisting that English constitutional history is not beyond the comprehension of freshmen and sophomores.

FRANK MALOY ANDERSON.

BENSON'S BOOK.

Two weeks ago we made mention of a new book from the pen of Ramsey Benson (Percy R. Benson, '88). The book is really a sociological study of a vital problem of the world today. It is, however, an intensely interesting story, and the writer manages to weave his sociology about the doings and thinkings of the chief character, Fitzpatrick, who tells the story in a way to avoid all preaching at the reader. It is an unusual story and while it may never be classed with the best sellers it has a place to fill in the world of books and it will worthily fill its place.

"A Lord of Lands," is the story of a man who is set to thinking about the future, first by the reading of a report concerning a doctor's dissertation, and then by the birth of his fifth child. The doctor's dissertation told the alarming fact that three out of every ten persons in London never know what it is to have enough to eat.

With a family of seven and a salary of $50 per month, and the possibility of an increased family, layoffs and a decreased earning capacity, the man determines to make his way to the country and be more independent. The story tells how he managed to get the consent of his wife and then how he interested fifteen neighbor's families in the same project; how they got their land and how they succeeded. The main character, Fitzpatrick, makes you his friend before he finishes the first page and when you close the book you feel that you know a man who has the stuff of a man in every fibre of his make-up.

The Irishman's loquacity is sufficient excuse to bring in many a telling bit of combined sense and humor. In summing up their experiences, Fitzpatrick says—"We are not rich, but we esteem ourselves well off. We are not pattern farmers, but we get a great deal of joy out of living, and no man is the sadder for our joy. We have our ups and our downs, but if we had nothing but ups, we should soon lose the sense of them, and then they would be no comfort to us. * * * And so I have this much more to say to you, my friend, that the country is the place for a poor man. Old earth is the mother of us all, and we cannot do better, when we are hard beset, than fly to her sympathetic bosom. * * *

"My message is for my people, that vast majority of mankind who have it not in them ever to be rich, who are bound, as by an inexorable fate, to be forever poor, and now the burden of it is that there's a better place to be poor in than the city, a place where poverty does not necessarily spell misery and may be made to spell something very like comfort."

The book is distinctly worth while. We congratulate the author on having put a real message in a form that must carry conviction. In the flood of trash that is coming from the press these days it is a genuine pleasure to get hold of a book that deals with the lives of the common people in a way to give them a dignity and besides an interest to even their common-place doings.

THREE TIMES AND OUT.

Last Monday night the Anatomy building went up in smoke. This is the third time the building has been subjected to the test by fire and it is not probable that it will be thought wise to try to restore it again. The fire has undoubtedly weakened the walls and it will hardly be safe to rebuild.

Save for the walls, the building is a total loss, the contents likewise. The building was erected in 1900 at a cost of $15,000, and, together with its contents, represented an investment of not less than $25,000.

Dr. Erdmann, professor of anatomy, was the heaviest individual loser, many of his instruments and specimens being stored in the building. The cause of the fire is unknown. The building was partly destroyed by fire, January 29th, 1902, the fire starting about 2 p. m. The next fire occurred on the night of July 25th, 1905. In both these cases the loss was fully covered by insurance.

The building was entirely inadequate for its purposes and it would seem that the wise thing to do would be to get along as well as possible this year and ask for money enough to erect a larger and fire-proof building in its place.

MILLER'S LETTER.

Duluth, Minn., Sept. 30, 1908.

Hon. John Lind,

Minneapolis, Minn.

Dear Sir:—

I am writing you in your capacity as regent of the State University. Having been somewhat intimately associated with University life for a period of many years I am very much interested in all that pertains to the welfare of that institution. After leaving the University I spent some years as superintendent of schools in one of the villages of the state, and therefore secured some practical experience in educational work. When I was a member of the state legislature two years ago, among the matters that came up for consideration was one relating to a new building and equipment for the College of Education.

Personally I was at once attracted to this cause. It seemed to be just the thing the general educational work in this state at present needs. Such a building and equipment of ample proportions will return to the state a measureless return upon the investment. My practical experience in school work, together with the observations since made, convince me that the greatest need of the state at the present time, outside of certain rural school matters, is a better trained corps of teachers in the high schools. It has well been said that the high schools are the people's colleges, and yet they are not one-half as much so at the present time as they would become in the event of more efficiently trained and capable teachers. The design of the College of Education is to furnish to the high schools of the state just such a class of scientifically trained instructors. I further believe the educational thinkers of this state are united on the importance of this item.

I might be permitted to state that the members of the last legislature were very generally in sympathy with the movement to secure such a complete equipment. In fact, I stated at the time when, as a member of the Educational Committee, we were discussing various pending measures, that this would be the easiest bill of all to put through into a law. The members from the rural communities in particular appeared to see in it a direct benefit to themselves, and whenever the purpose of the bill was explained it met with immediate approval.

Judging from the sentiment which prevailed in the last legislature, I believe the bill at the next session could be put through with united enthusiasm. Perhaps it will be necessary to add that the reason this bill was sidetracked, perhaps largely at my own request, was because we did not want anything to arise that would militate against the passage of those bills designed to secure larger campus, increase in salary, and buildings for the engineering department.

While a great many were disappointed over the failure of the Educational College Bill, yet I think they all recognized the character of the situation and they certainly acquiesced in the course we adopted and did so with a genuineness that can but make additional friends for the measure they are immediately interested in.

One other item that perhaps is worthy of some consideration, especially to those greatly interested in the University, is that such a trained corps of instructors going from the University to various high schools in the state will build up a strong sentiment everywhere over the state favorable to the University and make of all the growing young men and women enthusiastic supporters of our great state institution.

I trust you will pardon me for writing so much at length in respect to this measure, but it is one that I am deeply interested in and one I sincerely hope the Board of Regents will recommend and urge, as I know it is one that can be passed with enthusiasm, and when passed the people of the villages and rural districts will alike feel that the legislature has performed an act directly beneficial to themselves.

With sincere regards, I am,

Very sincerely yours,

C. B. MILLER.

OF GENERAL INTEREST.

Plans are being talked over for the organization of the senior class on a truly university basis, that is representing every department and college in one organization. Such a movement has great possibilities and we should like to see it tried.

Norman A. Houck and Lambert Prigge were chosen to fill the vacancies on the debating teams. Both are hard workers and will do their share to help make the year memorable in debating circles.

A woman's orchestra has been started at the University. About fifteen young women got together and determined to organize for this purpose.

W. W. Norton, of musical fame, was elected president of the academic senior class after a close and exciting contest.

Safford, all-western center of two years ago, was the unanimous choice of the football men for captain.

Technicalities of the rules kept Safford out of the game last year. The choice of the team meets the approval of everybody about the University.

The senior medics have decided to maintain their own independent class organization, leaving the Hamline students to do the same. The seniors, juniors and sophomore medical students, who were formerly enrolled in the Hamline medical department, are still considered Hamline students and will receive their degrees from Hamline University. Hence the decision of the class.

Under the direction of members of the political science faculty, students are making a study of the expenses of students. Minnesota is the third institution to take up this study in a systematic manner, Harvard and Wisconsin having previously carried on such investigations.

Al Dretchko is rooter king with all the autocratic power which such a position commands during the football season.

The students of the department of agriculture are busy with football and promise to turn out a winning team.

The twilight vaudeville given in chapel last Tuesday under the auspices of the Woman's League was an unqualified success from every point of view. We regret that lack of space makes mention of individuals impossible.

The Woman's League will hold a hallowe'en party in Alice Shevlin hall and will receive reports from the Chicago game.

The Y. W.'s are making great preparations for the state conference to be held at Northfield, October 23d to 26th.

The men for the crack squad have been chosen and have already begun to work to make this year's aggregation better than ever before.

The sociological museum has just received a new lot of charts, hand-made copies of originals reposing in the social science museum of Harvard.

Last Friday, Mr. Zupfe, Wis. '07, who has been in charge of investigations on the iron ores of the new Cuyuna iron range, in Minnesota, addressed the students of the department of geology, upon the subject "The prospecting and opening of iron mines."

Professor J. T. Gerould, librarian, returned from Europe last Saturday. He has been away for a three-month's trip, mainly in the interests of the library.

Nelson, of last year's team, has been elected captain of the gym squad.

Dean Wulling has been re-elected to the executive committee of the American Conference of Pharmaceutical Faculties. This committee consists of three members and is the most important and powerful body in the association.

DR. YEAGER RESIGNS.

Dr. Fred S. Yeager, Dent. '03, resigned last week, his position as instructor in crown and bridge work. Dr. Yeager has held this position since graduation and has proven to be a most efficient and popular instructor. He gives up his work so as to be able to devote his entire time to his own growing private practice in St. Paul.

HOMEOPATHIC BANQUET.

The college of homeopathic medicine and surgery celebrated the opening of the new college year with a banquet at Donaldson's. Dr. Bailey, of Lincoln, was the guest of honor of the occasion and there were about two hundred present and much enthusiasm was shown.

DR. MOTT'S ADDRESS.

Dr. Alice Mott, '99, of the University model school, made an address before the state meeting of the Woman's Federation at St. Cloud, last week. She took for her subject, "The Meddlesome Adult."

REYNOLD'S STAND APPROVED.

A good many pleasant things have been said about the paper read before the tuberculosis congress by Dr. M. H. Reynolds of the St. Anthony Park experiment station, on "The problem of bovine tuberculosis control." One of the prominent members of the congress said that it was by far the most valuable paper presented during the veterinary meetings of the congress. The paper states the size and character of the problem of tuberculosis in cattle and outlines a plan for taking this work up as a state project. On the whole, Dr. Reynolds outlines a slow, evolutionary plan, avoiding expensive or harsh methods to begin with. The work as it is being done in Minnesota was outlined in detail and was commended, as was also the work being done in Massachusetts and Wisconsin, these being pioneer states in the effort to control tuberculosis in cattle. The paper fills thirty-eight large pages closely typewritten.

ANNUAL BANQUET OF THE 1904 LAW CLASS.

This class has never missed a year since graduation and this year is to be no exception. The banquet will be held on the evening before the Wisconsin game, at 8 o'clock, at the West Hotel. The class will attend the game the next day in a body and help to win over the badgers.

The class is fortunate in having such a loyal bunch of fellows here in the city to make arrangements for such meetings and to see that all members of the class are duly stirred up to the proper degree of enthusiasm.

The committee includes Messrs. Nichols, Frissel, Smith and Dredge, of this city, and W. B. Carman, of Detroit and P. J. Ryan and W. H. Oppenheimer, of St. Paul.

The class always has a royal good time and no one misses it if he can beg, borrow or steal the wherewithal to be present.

MINNESOTA, 15; AMES, 10.

(See plat of playing on front cover.)

Ames had Minnesota going at the beginning and it looked serious when a few minutes after the opening of the game when Ames kicked from the center of the field and the ball was fumbled by Minnesota on her own twenty-five yard line and a forward pass was good for the balance of the distance, while a goal made the total of six points against Minnesota. This twenty-five yards was the result of a beautiful piece of dodging through a broken field.

It was then Minnesota's kick-off and Ames made a long return and then followed an exchange of kicks with neither side making much distance on the ground. Finally the ball went to Ames on her own fifteen-yard line on Minnesota's forward pass. Ames failed to gain and kicked to Minnesota on her thirty-five yard line and it was carried down the field by excellent work for a touchdown in the corner of the field. The goal was lost, due to heavy wind.

On the next kick-off Minnesota had the ball on her own fifteen-yard line, but failed to make any return. On the next play a penalty against Ames placed the ball on the thirty-two yard line, nine more came easily, then eight more, through the line, then five more by the same route and the ball was on the center of the field. On the next play McGovern was let loose for a fifty-five yard run for a touch-down. Twice he was tackled but slippery as an eel he shook off the Ames men and planted the ball between the goal posts. The goal was again lost, but Minnesota had four points to the good.

In the few minutes left of the first half Ames failed twice on attempted forward pass.

At the opening of the second half Minnesota had the kick-off. Ames got the ball on her fifteen-yard line, and ran it back a short distance and then kicked to Minnesota's forty-five yard line, without waiting for a down. Minnesota fumbled and it was Ames' ball. A loss of five yards was followed by a forward pass which gave Ames a first down. A place kick netted four points. The kicker stood on the center of the field and the ball struck the cross-bar and bounded over.

Minnesota kicked off and Ames returned the ball thirty yards to Minnesota's forty-yard line. Eight plays, including some foxy forward passes, gave them the ball on Minnesota's thirty-two yard line. A place kick was tried which failed. The next few minutes were marked by some fierce playing and many penalties which finally resulted in Minnesota's having the ball on Ames' thirty-five yard line. Then followed the best work of the day: Minnesota smashed through Ames' line straight down the field for a touch down and five more points, the last five of the game.

On the next kick off Ames kicked over the goal line and Minnesota had a free kick, the ball struck the ground and rolled to Ames' thirty-five yard line. Ames tried an on-side kick and Minnesota had the ball in the center of the field. Two good gains gave Minnesota the ball on Ames' thirty-eight yard line when time was called.

Several things are evident: Minnesota won and won on merits of superior playing.

Minnesota has not yet learned the new game. Ames had it all over Minnesota on the forward pass and foxy plays that were usually good for distance. Minnesota gained practically nothing on the forward pass. In this department they were outclassed by Ames' team.

When the Minnesota bunch gets waked up they can tear a strong line to pieces and make distance.

Minnesota failed to solve Ames' trick plays and forward passes, she has got to come a long ways before it will be safe to meet such a team as Chicago.

Minnesota is weak in goal kicking and simply not in it on place kicking or drop kicking, but what is encouraging, there was abundant evidence that the men recognized this weakness last Saturday and did not try for distance by the air line.

Minnesota has the making of a great team.

There is not a quitter in the bunch and they can get together at critical points and make things hum.

The change in line-up has greatly improved team work.

They have made progress since last week, but they must hustle to win from Nebraska next Saturday.

Nina T. Updyke, '98, who has been teaching in the high school at Loveland, Colo., is now teaching in the Los Angeles, Calif., high school and living at 2361 Scarff street.

Robert P. Updyke, Dent. '99, who has been dental surgeon in the U. S. A., has taken up private practice and is now located in the Union Trust building, of Los Angeles, Calif.

Stephen G. Updyke, '97, is a mine operator and has moved from Compton to Los Angeles, Calif. His residence is 2361 Scarff street.

OLSEN A WINNING ORATOR.

M. N. Olsen, '08, who is doing graduate work this year, recipient of the Albert H. Howard Scholarship, took first honors and a prize of fifty dollars at the W. C. T. U. Collegiate oratorical contest at Marshall, last week. The contest was an important one, and Olsen's victory reflects peculiar honor on the University. "It was a brilliant oration," was Professor Sanford's remark.

WEDDINGS AND ANNOUNCEMENTS.

Dr. Joseph T. Ahlstrom, Dent. '03, and Miss Selma Eckman, both of Cokato, were married September 20. Dr. and Mrs. Ahlstrom will make their home in Cokato.

Invitations are out for the wedding of Grace Wheaton, '02, and Tresham D. Gregg, Eng. '05. The wedding will take place at the home of the bride's parents in this city, October 17th.

The engagement of Dr. Alex. Barclay, Med. '07, and Miss Agnes Gedney has been announced. The date for the wedding has been set for November 6th.

Edwin M. Grime, Eng. '00, and Miss Grace C. Horton, of Seattle, Wash., were married September 16th, in Seattle. Mr. and Mrs. Grime made a short trip in British Columbia and some of the western coast cities and spent a few days with his mother in this city. They will go to Muskoda, Minn., where Mr. Grime has charge of some construction for the railroad. Miss Florence Grime, '08, attended the wedding of her brother at Seattle. Her home is in this city, 70 Seymour avenue southeast.

"DUTCH TREAT" LUNCHEON

ABSOLUTELY INFORMAL

Everyone orders his own luncheon and pays for what he gets. We simply lunch together instead of by ourselves.

It is for men—Alumni, Former Students and Faculty are invited.

A ROOM RESERVED FOR US

The purpose is simply to get the Alumni together to enjoy a social hour.

There will be no program of speechmaking, tho it is hoped that President Northrop will be present and say a few words of greeting.

eight years he had devoted a large share of his time to the institution and had given freely of his best to serve the University. Few men could or would have done what he did for a public institution.

Many and many a time since that day has his wise counsel and unflinching devotion been missed. Yet the institution has grown and prospered, which is but another illustration of the truth of the old saying—"God buries his workmen but his work goes on."

That the work has gone on so well is due in no small degree to the foundations which he helped to lay in the early days of disaster and discouragement.

THE DUTCH TREAT LUNCHEON.

The alumni of various colleges all over the country have been holding what have been called "Dutch-treat" luncheons, during the past year or so. The alumni appoint some central place as their rendezvous, and try to gather there once a month for the noonday lunch. Each man orders what he wants and pays for his own lunch. The whole purpose of the plan is to get the alumni together for a social hour instead of each man's dining by himself. The plan has proved to be very enjoyable, and some of the Minneapolis alumni have asked that such a movement be stated here. In response to this request, arrangements have been made to meet at Donaldson's tea rooms, next Friday at 12:30 p. m.

A room has been set aside for the use of the alumni, (male alumni), and it is to be hoped that a goodly number may find it convenient to lunch there at that time. There is to be nothing formal about the affair, the alumni will simply get together for their lunch hour instead of each man's going by himself. There will be no speech making, unless possibly President Northrop may be induced to say a few words.

No one has anything "up his sleeve" to "spring" on the crowd when it is brought together. All that is wanted is to have the alumni get together and have a good time. It will take no longer than an ordinary lunch at the same place and you can come or go when you choose.

It will be much pleasanter if we could all be there promptly at 12:30, but if you cannot get there then come as soon as you can.

DEAN JONES IMPROVING.

Dean Fred S. Jones, of the college of engineering, has been spending the past ten days in the Northwestern Hospital for the purpose of undergoing a surgical operation. He is progressing so well that he expects to be able to be out this week.

BIBLICAL SOCIOLOGY.

Our attention has been called to the fact that the department of sociology is offering a course in Biblical sociology. The course is an application of sociological methods to the study of Old Testament history and the development of the philosophy of Hebrew institutions. In offering this course Minnesota leads all other colleges, for never before has such a course been offered.

MR. GEROULD BACK.

Mr. Gerould, University librarian, who returned a week ago from a three month's trip in Europe, reports a most enjoyable trip. Mrs. Gerould accompanied him and they spent two weeks in London and another week in the country near London, visiting at Oxford for several days. Three weeks were spent in Paris, one week in cities on the Rhine, ten days at Leipsic, the largest and most important book center in the world, and two weeks in Berlin, then home. Mr. Gerould went primarily for rest and recreation, but naturally kept his eyes open for things of special interest to him as librarian. He met Professor Brooke by chance on the streets of Coblenz, he had been in town but two hours and Professor Brooke an hour, when they met. Minneapolis people were met almost everywhere on the trip. Mr. Gerould did some buying for the library.

ON SUPER-HEATED STEAM.

The September number of the Journal of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers, contains a paper by Dr. Eddy, upon the properties of super-heated steam. The paper was read originally at the National meeting of mechanical engineers. Dr. Eddy is now preparing an extension of the paper for the first number of the new Minnesota Engineer.

There have been two notable studies of the subject made, one by Thomas and another by Knoblauch and Jakob, but the plating of the results of their experiments seems not to have been the best possible to be made and so Dr. Eddy re-platted the experiments of Thomas and succeeded in making a chart far more practical and useful than that originally published by Thomas. Dr. Eddy is now making a re-study and re-plate of the Knoblauch-Jakob experiments and will include his finding in his new paper.

The subject is one of vital and ever-increasing interest on account of the application of super-heated steam to use in turbines. Dr. Eddy finds that super-heated steam follows the laws of perfect gases under similar conditions.

ST. PAUL TEACHERS' COURSES.

Three University professors will deliver courses of lectures in the St. Paul Teachers' course this winter. Dr. Jenks will lecture on ethnology; Professor Potter, upon American literature; and Dr. James, upon school administration.

PROFESSOR POTTER ON POLITICAL EQUALITY.

Professor Frances Potter, of the department of English, left last Thursday night for Buffalo, N. Y., where she went to attend the collegiate section of the national suffrage convention. She made an address last Saturday evening upon "Equal Suffrage."

WHERE IS ROSTAD?

Friends of J. Edward Rostad, Law '03, who has not been heard from for several years, are very anxious to communicate with him. If any reader of the Weekly can give any information that will lead to locating him they will be conferring a great favor on his friends.

TWO MINNESOTA MEN IN REGULAR ARMY.

The War department recently announced that two former officers in the University cadet corps have been appointed as second lieutenants in the regular army. Elbe A. Lathrop, lieutenant-colonel of the corps at the school of agriculture, and C. W. Elliott, of the University corps. Both took their examination last July at Fort Leavenworth, Kansas.

THE BUSINESS MANAGER'S VIEW.

A former business manager of the magazine recently wrote to the present advertising manager of the Weekly, as follows:

"I sure was surprised to see you hang out your shingle as advertising manager of our noble little Weekly. I'm wondering if you like it any better, or, if it agrees with you any better, than being business manager of the Mag agreed with me. Why, on the square, Jake, the men who said politics and war were hell, never had tried advertising in Minneapolis for a college publication. He was hardly cognizant of real trouble unless he'd been up against the stone-wall of advertising difficulties."

Y. M. C. A.-DAILY LECTURE COURSE.

November 23d—Senator J. P. Dooliver, "A Poor Man's Government and a Poor Boy's Country."

December 17th—Leland Powers, "David Copperfield."

January 15th—President Russell H. Conwell, "Acres of Diamonds."

April 15th—Governor Joseph W. Folk, "People's Interests."

The price of course tickets to students is $1.50, and to others, $2.

The mere statement of the names of those who take part in the course is high enough praise for the course. It is strictly a high grade collection.

COURSE OF CATHOLIC LECTURES.

All Catholic students are offered a chance to attend a course of lectures to be given under the auspices of the U. C. A. at the Y. M. C. A. building. Rev. Daniel Hughes, of St. Paul's Seminary, spoke Sunday, October 11th. The course includes:

Oct. 18—Very Rev. H. Moynihan, D. D., President of St. Thomas College.

Nov. 15—Professor Walter Harrington, A. B., of St. Thomas College.

Dec. 6 or 13—Rev. J. Harrington, Ascension Church, Minneapolis.

On Oct. 25, Rev. Jas. C. Byrnes will commence a series of lectures on educational topics and will continue them on Nov. 1, 22, 29, Dec. 6 and Jan. 10.

Meetings are held every Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

OF GENERAL INTEREST.

The young women who are backing the woman's dormitory proposition, recently visited James J. Hill and found him very much interested in their plans and promised them his aid. He was of the opinion, however, that the legislature should appropriate the necessary funds.

Yale Smiley, of last year's team, was recently elected captain of the track team.

The first cross-country run was held last Tuesday. Hare and hounds will be a feature of the work of the club.

The dramatic club has been holding trials during the past week to choose twenty-five members out of a group of one hundred applicants for admission to the club.

The junior ball association has been organized. It is a non-fraternity organization this year, every man in the class being eligible.

Owen McElmeel and Ben Drake addressed the Shakopean literary society last week.

It becomes more and more evident every day that the lunch room of Alice Shevlin Hall is entirely inadequate to meet the needs of the young women who desire to get their daily luncheons at the University.

Mass-meeting was held last Friday at four o'clock to stir up enthusiasm for the Nebraska game.

The students of the school of chemistry have decided to organize a new chemical society.

The University press club has been revived.

The senior medics have reconsidered their former action and have decided to admit the Hamline students to the fellowship of their class organization.

The first regular meeting of the Engineers' Society was held last Wednesday evening at the Phi Psi house. Professor Bass spoke interestingly on "Municipal engineering." The talk was illustrated with fine

SCANDINAVIANS ORGANIZE.

A club for those interested in Scandinavian art and literature, will be formed soon under the auspices of the Scandinavian department. It will consist of two branches, one Norwegian and one Swedish. A play may possibly be staged in Scandinavian some time during the year.

An excellent library is being collected as rapidly as possible by the department.

Twelve men tried out for a place on the freshman debating team last Thursday. One man, Gregg Sinclair, had been chosen for the first team at a previous tryout. The other men making the team were Eloi Bauers and Harry Brill.

Sinclair is a graduate of East High and debated against North High two years ago. Bauers was on last year's championship North High team. Goodman was on the East High team last year.

A second team, of three men, was chosen to work against the first team, and to furnish reserve from which to draw in case any first team man is unable to serve. The second team men are Vollum, Goodman and Coffin.

The freshman team will go up against the sophomore team of Rodden, Gutterson, and McKeen for the Dunwoody-Peavey prize of seventy-five dollars. The debate will come off in a couple of months.

LAW ITEMS.

The largest class of graduate students in the law school's history assembled on October 13th. Nineteen men commenced work for the LL. M. degree. The registration is not yet complete and more are expected.

The first course, "The philosophical basis of jurisprudence," is being given by Dean Pattee. The next course, "Political science as shown in doctrine of the state," will be given by Dr. Folwell. Other courses to follow are "Political economy," "Comparative jurisprudence," and "Roman law."

A special class in forensics for the benefit of the senior laws has been started. The seniors, realizing the need of this course and the short time during which they will have the opportunity of getting this work, asked that such a class be organized separately from that of the middle and junior laws. This petition was granted, and Professor Rarig commenced his labors with the class last week.

"Quiz classes," an innovation this year in the college of law, bid fair to become a regular feature of the course.

Owing to the large number in the various classes it has always been very difficult for the instructor to reach the individual student as really should be done, and furthermore, it was not always feasible to spend so much time on any particular student and therefore many questions which would naturally arise used to go unasked and unanswered.

This new system which divides the class into small sections which meet at different times, allows the quiz-master to devote the required time to each individual. Harry S. Mitchell, '05, is quiz-master.

A MEDICAL SORORITY.

A chapter of Alpha Epsilon Iota was established in the medical department in 1901 and ever since then an active chapter has been maintained. Owing to the small number of girls studying medicine, the chapter has never been large, and at present there are only five active members. There is an alumnae chapter in the city.

Though the society was organized seven years ago, no public announcement of its existence was ever made until last week.

TWO AFFAIRS FOR WOMEN.

A Thanksgiving dinner will be given to all the out-of-town girls and entertainment provided for the evening. This custom was instituted last year and was a great success.

On October 31 the Woman's League will dance in Shevlin Hall. This is the first of the dances for League girls alone.

PERSONAL ITEMS.

Helen J. Aldrich, '04, who has been an assistant in the department of Romance languages in the University of Colorado for several years past, has recently accepted an instructorship in the same line in the University of Arizona, Tucson, Ariz.

Arthur B. Allen, Dent, '02, who moved to Los Angeles, Calif., about two years ago, has his office in the Chamber of Commerce building in that city.

Theodore Duncan, '99, is still pushing his land and real estate business at Northome, Minn.

Ralph E. Dyar, '07, formerly of Plains, Mont., has gone to Spokane, Wash., to live and is the publicity man of the Spokesman-Review, a journal of 23,000 subscribers and the Twice a Week Spokesman-Review, with 43,000 subscribers.

Mrs. Leora Easton Casidy, '04, has a little daughter born last week.

Murlen Fellows '08, is teaching at Ortonville, Minn.

O. J. Finstad, Law '03, is practicing law at Windom, Minn.

Kate Firmin, '08, is attending the library school at Albany, N. Y. Her Albany address is 48 Lancaster St.

John G. Flynn, Min. '03. ("Little Johnnie" Flynn, of football fame) is now located at Rawhide, Nevada. It is reported that he has recently struck it rich.

Edith Foulke, '02, is teaching in Miss Loomis' private school in St. Paul.

Nora Frye, '01, who has been teaching in the Stillwater high school for a number of years past, declined re-election and has gone to Spokane to teach in the high school there. Her city address is 911 5th Ave. W.

Gertrude Gee, '07, who is teaching her second year in the high school at Jordan, was at the University one day recently. She is teaching Latin and English and enjoying her work.

Mary C. Goff, '06, is teaching in the high school at Hopkins this year.

Chester N. Gould, '96, instructor in German at Dartmouth, has just resigned to accept a position in the same department at the University of Chicago. He began his work at Chicago last Monday. His work is in both German and Icelandic. The Dartmouth student paper says that he takes with him the good will of the student body of Dartmouth.

Dr. John H. Gray, of the department of political science, returned last week from a trip to Chicago and Toronto. At Chicago he made the principal address at the opening of the school of commerce and finance of Northwestern University. At Toronto he participated in the open discussion of the meeting of the International Tax Commission. Dr. Gray's Northwestern address was received with enthusiasm.

Dick Griggs, '07, has spent a strenuous summer burning up automobile tires and captaining the local baseball nine of Athens, Penn. He expects to go to Tarpon Springs, Fla., a little later for the winter.

Florence Grime, '08, is enjoying a visit in Seattle, Wash., where she went to attend her brother's wedding.

D. A. Grusendorf, '97, is superintendent of the Jordan schools this year. Last year he held a similar position in the schools of Fairfax.

Jennie I. Hiscock, '05, is teaching French and German at Norwood, Mass., again this year.

MINNESOTA — NEBRASKA

MINNESOTA, 0—NEBRASKA, 0.

It was a tie score, but it was Minnesota's game all through.

This is evidenced by the plot of the playing. It was known that this was to be the critical game of the season and that Minnesota came through with a virtual victory over Nebraska's team of seasoned veterans is all that could be asked. Once was the game lost through poor generalship when the ball was inside Nebraska's 5-yard line, the last time within a minute of the end of the game. Once a touchdown was actually made by Young on an 8-yard smash through the line. But the referee ruled that the ball was down after but three yards of progress. Minnesota made little protest on the decision, preferring to make the gain in another play, but could not repeat the trick.

The second touchdown was lost by trying three plays in one place with practically no gains the result of any one of the three.

Outweighed by a team of old players, Minnesota's green bunch won sufficient honor by holding to a tie score. An examination of the plot tells the story better than it can be told in words. Near the opening of the game, after three exchanges of punts, Minnesota was penalized 25 yards for failure to make forward pass work. On the next play a run through Nebraska's center netted 34 yards. A moment later she was forced to kick, then came the one time in the game when Nebraska made consistent consecutive gains, though several times luck aided in making distance that could not be earned. One beautiful forward pass which netted the cornhuskers 35 yards, this, and an end run near the end of the game, constituted practically all of the offensive playing that was at all dangerous.

On the other hand, Minnesota made consistent gains of 50 yards, and 40 yards, and again 50 yards, in the first half.

In the second half the ball was in Minnesota territory but three times and then was sent there by kicks, the 30-yard line being the nearest it was to Minnesota's goal. In this half Minnesota gained 75 yards consecutively after running back the kick-off five yards.

Nebraska, by some good work, aided by the rankest sort of good luck, made about 45 yards in succession at one time, and another time by fierce playing, made 25 yards. Just at the end of the game, by a recovered punt and an end run the ball was carried back 45 yards. But the three downs that followed netted a loss when the game was called. Minnesota made 45 yards by fierce playing against Nebraska's line. Later 15 yards more came by a forward pass and then Minnesota fell down, with less than ten yards to make and three down to make it in, she failed to make a touchdown. Nebraska kicked out to the 35-yard line and again Minnesota made 30 yards on two plays and then failed to make five yards necessary for a touchdown on the next three plays. It was disappointing work, but all things considered, the rooters did not feel much like kicking. The plat shows how desperate was the attack and how bitter the defense during the second half of the game. The playing was clean throughout, not a single unnecessarily rough play being noted.

This puts Minnesota right to the front with the best in the west and when the Chicago game comes, October 31st, there will be something doing in the windy city and Minnesota stock will be at par.

The work of the men was all of high order, Pettijohn's end run of 30 yards was perhaps the feature of the game. Safford was a tower of strength on defense and on the attack he was often through leading the interference or close on the man catching the punt. Atkinson, at quarter, was heady and chose his plays with excellent judgment and kept the team on the jump. Young distinguished himself by plowing through for 22 yards at one time, and by making the touchdown which was not allowed. Plankers and McGovern were in the game every minute and every man played up to the limit all the time.

The most encouraging part of the work was the tackling of the men. Never was fiercer or surer tackling seen on Northrop field and honors went to the men of both teams in this respect. Minnesota's team work was far better than a week ago and the interference given the man with the ball was at times of championship form.

The game was undoubtedly the greatest played in the west last Saturday. It will rank as one of the great games of the season. Nebraska was here to win and odds in betting favored them 7 to 10. Chicago's score of 11 to Illinois' 6 must have been a severe jolt to the wearers of the maroon, for Illinois has not been looked upon as dangerous. Wisconsin won a clean-cut victory over Indiana, and on the face of the showing made so far must be conceded to be in the lead of western teams.

But Minnesota is making progress—the season is yet young—the game of the season most feared is past—safely past—Minnesota has a great bunch and the rooters are back of the bunch—champions or not, as the fortunes of the season may show—they are worthy representatives of Minnesota—and that's enough.

SUMMARY OF THE PLAYING.

Kick-off—Minnesota, 37 yards; Nebraska, 40 yards. Punts, Minnesota 10, averaging 28 yards; Nebraska 11, averaging 28 yards. Running back punts and kick-offs—Minnesota 88 yards; Nebraska 86 yards. Gained on forward passes—Minnesota 35 yards; Nebraska 92 yards. Gained on recovered punts—Minnesota 25 yards; Nebraska 47 yards. Gained from other than forward pass plays from snap back—Minnesota 273 yards; Nebraska 125 yards.

Minnesota lost forty yards on attempted forward passes which did not work and twenty yards on a poor pass. Nebraska was penalized three times, five yards each time, for off-side plays.

An Open Letter to Alumni

WE want to interest you in our University View Book. It can't fail to interest you if you have a warm spot in your heart for your Alma Mater.

We offer you a series of large, magnificent, platinum pictures of scenes at the University. These fine pictures comprise pictures about the Campus and an extraordinary panoramic view of the Great Chicago-Minnesota foot ball game of 1907. This alone, showing the stands filled with thousands of enthusiastic spectators watching the teams struggle for the championship of the west, is worth the price we ask for the whole series. The pictures are bound in book form. The price is $1.00 post paid. Don't wait till tomorrow, tomorrow never comes. Write us today. The edition will soon be exhausted.

DUTCH-TREAT LUNCHEON.

Friday, the 23d a mascot, not a hoodoo.

The first "Dutch-treat" luncheon of the Minneapolis alumni was held at Donaldson's tea rooms last Friday noon. There were fifty persons to sit down at the tables and five came in during the progress of the meal, making the total attendance 55, which was very satisfactory for such a rainy day.

President Northrop was called upon for a word of greeting and responded in his usual happy way. Charles S. Albert, Law '94, brought up the matter referred to elsewhere in this issue, regarding the unsportsmanlike conduct of some of the students toward visitors, urging the alumni to use every possible effort to get the students to drop such tactics.

The affair was voted a complete success and that another meeting of the same sort should be held on the Friday noon before the Carlisle game.

November 20, at the same place.

The whole credit for the affair belongs to Washington Yale, Law '98, who kept after the secretary until the meeting was arranged.

THE TREATMENT ACCORDED NEBRASKA.

Last Thursday's Daily contained a letter from C. S. Albert, Law '94, in which he scored the unsportsmanlike attempts of Minnesota rooters to drown the signals of the opposing teams. The incident which he cites is certainly to be condemned. It cannot be too severely condemned. He appeals for the display of a spirit of true sportsmanship which calls for courteous treatment of any and every opposing team.

There have been times in the past when efforts to drown the signals of opposing teams have been very pronounced. Indeed the cheering has at times been so continuous as to make it necessary for the captains of both teams to ask for a temporary relief from the babel of sound so as to make their signals intelligible.

We are of the opinion, however, that the thing for which Mr. Albert pleads is coming, that real progress in that direction has been made. Indeed, one of the professors who chanced to drop into the Weekly office immediately after the game, remarked upon the fact that much good spirit was shown toward the visitors, who were repeatedly cheered.

We regret, more than we can say, that anything unsportsmanlike was shown in the treatment of the visitors and we know Minnesota spirit well enough to know that it does not represent the character of any considerable number of the student body.

Unfortunately the "mucker" is always represented in large bodies and though they may be few in numbers they manage to give a false impression concerning those with whom they are associated.

LAW QUIZ SYSTEM.

The statement made in the last issue of the Weekly concerning quizzes in the law department, while not incorrect, was very incomplete. Mr. Mitchell, who is devoting all his time to the work, has the freshman day class for quiz purposes. The juniors are under the charge of Fred E. Hobbs, '88, Law '92, who is giving them a thorough quiz, dividing the class into small sections. The senior class is also to be given the same line of work but the one who will have charge has not been chosen.

Another new departure, of great importance to the college, is the dividing of the night students into three classes, making the middle and senior classes entirely independent of each other. Heretofore the seniors and middle students have been reciting and hearing lectures together, the subjects being changed alternate years. This adds greatly to the work of the teaching but it is giving the men better instruction.

There are one hundred more students in the law school today than a year ago today. This is probably due to the fact that students entering next fall must present evidence of at least one year of college work in order to be admitted.

Howard Abbott, '85, began work with the middle law class last week, taking up the subject of private corporations. It will be remembered that Mr. Abbott is the author of an authoritative work, in two volumes, upon this subject. Later he will give a course upon municipal corporations.

NEW TRACK COACH.

Dr. Richard Grant of the Harvard class of 1903, winner of the Paris 25-mile Marathon in 1900, champion long distance runner of Canada from 1900 to 1907, and at the present time holder of several unbroken records in the East, has been selected as track coach at the University of Minnesota. He started work last week, when he took two squads of men on cross-country runs.

Dr. Grant is Canadian-born and comes from a family of runners. He entered the University of Toronto, where he broke all the records from one to five mile distances. He held the Canadian five-mile record until last year, when it was broken by Tom Longboat. After entering Harvard, he ran on the track team three years. He holds at the present time the Harvard  $\frac{3}{4}$ -mile in three minutes, 33 seconds, the Harvard-Yale record for one mile in 4 minutes, 26 1-5 seconds, and the New England 3-mile run in 15 minutes, 17 seconds. His time for two miles is 9 minutes and 46 seconds. Grant has been pronounced one of the greatest long distance runners America has ever produced. He has been in more fast races than any other man on the track at the present time.

Track athletics have never been of much importance at the University. Fall practice has been of a desultory character because there has been no one to take the men in charge and make them work along consistent lines. With Dr. Grant to take charge and with the wealth of material that Minnesota has to draw from, there is no reason why Minnesota should not be among the leaders in this line as well as in football and basketball.

Dr. Grant knows his business and is an enthusiast for track athletics and we believe that he will arouse boundless enthusiasm among the students for this line of athletics.

We wish him every success in his new work.

FOOTBALL DOPE.

Since the game with Nebraska, Dr. Williams and the team have been sawing wood and saying nothing. Not a word will these sphinxes say for publication and very little that is not for publication. It is safe to say, however, that the team is making progress and that the faults are being eliminated and strong points made stronger and more invincible.

Whatever may be the outcome of the game with Chicago, no one need fear that Minnesota will not be in the game till the final call of time. The wolf stories from Chicago and Madison are taken with a big grain of salt and no one is being fooled in the least by stories of how the men on both those teams are completely demoralized.

No one is deceived and no one injured by such stories so far as we can see and they furnish the newspapers "stuff" to fill their pages.

Minnesota has more than an even chance to win from Chicago, on the showing already made. We have no doubt that she will be ready to meet Wisconsin on an equal basis a week after the Chicago game.

Chicago critics have been very generous in their notices of the work which Minnesota did in the Nebraska game and the Nebraska men owned up that they had had enough.

CUT RATES TO CHICAGO.

The Great Western road was the first to make a special rate to Chicago for the Minnesota-Chicago game, the rate being cut to $8, berths $1 extra. It is expected that this rate will be met or bettered by some of the other roads and if this is the case, there will be a great crowd of Minnesotans to cheer their champions on to victory on the 31st.

Later—The M. & St. L. road cut this rate to $6 and the Great Western met the cut. It is quite possible that even lower rates may be secured.

THE DAIRY SCHOOL.

The next session of the Dairy school will open November 16th. Beside the regular members of the department who will give instruction, special helpers have been appointed as follows: Dr. H. L. Russell, lecturer on dairy bacteriology; I. O. Dybevic, instruction in creamery work; H. T. Sondergaard, judge of dairy products; M. P. Mortenson, instructor in cultures and starters; A. W. Parkin, instructor in cheese making; G. H. Schandel, assistant in cultures and starters.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE MEETING.

The executive committee, at its meeting last Wednesday, passed upon considerable routine business and some matters of general interest. Instructors were appointed for the dairy school, see list elsewhere. Dr. Erdmann's estimates for material for his department, to replace that destroyed in the recent fire, was allowed. Dr. Lee was allowed three assistants, one at $600 and two at $300 each. Two of these men to be named later, to include an assistant demonstrator in histology and a general assistant. James W. Papez was appointed to the position as demonstrator in neurology.

Edla Berger, '07, was made scholar in mathematics.

O. B. Nelson, Eng. '05, assistant in engineering.

W. E. Heddy was given the work heretofore carried by Dr. Yager, who recently resigned from the college of dentistry, in addition to the work he is carrying at present.

It was decided not to try to repair the Anatomy building, but to ask the legislature for an appropriation to build a more commodious building in its place.

A NEW $500 PRIZE FUND.

The State Horticultural society recently gave the University $500 to be invested and the income therefrom to be used for prizes in horticulture. The prize will be known as the Gideon prize. Mr. Gideon had charge of the University experimental farm at Minnetonka for years and was the originator of the Wealthy apple. Mrs. Florence Gideon Webster, '88, is a daughter of Peter Gideon, in whose honor this prize is named.

WILL WRITE UP THE UNIVERSITY.

Edward E. Slosson, special magazine correspondent, has written to President Northrop of the University of Minnesota stating that he will come to the University next week and will spend the entire week on the campus to secure material for an article on Minnesota which will appear in the Independent.

The article will be one of a series written by Mr. Slosson on the leading state universities of the country.

MINNESOTA PRAISED.

President David R. Boyd and a member of the Board of Regents of the University of Oklahoma visited all the principal institutions of learning in the country, to see the buildings, with the view of getting suggestions for buildings they are about to erect. After returning to Oklahoma, President Boyd wrote to Dean Downey: "In all our course of travels we did not see a better equipped edifice for the purpose of educational advancement than Folwell Hall at the University of Minnesota."

DR. MONTELIUS, NOVEMBER 10th AND 12th.

The dates for Dr. Montelius' lectures have been set definitely for November 10th and 12th. Both lectures will be illustrated and will be given in the University chapel. The first will be upon "The Cross." In this he will give the history of the Greek and Roman use of the cross and the cross as a symbol of religion. Dr. Montelius is probably better informed about this subject than any other living man.

The second lecture will be upon "Sweden and the British Isles in ancient times." This deals mainly with the Viking age, of whose history Dr. Montelius is the acknowledged master.

It is a matter of more than passing interest that the best collection of Anglo-Saxon coins is in the Swedish national museum at Stockholm, which is under the charge of Dr. Montelius. These coins were found in Sweden, showing the very intimate relation of the two peoples during the early days of the two countries.

NOTED FRENCHMAN MAY COME.

Negotiations are on between the French department and the French Alliance, by which it is hoped that M. Marcel Poete, inspector of public works and head of the Parisian library, may be induced to deliver a lecture before the students of the University some time this winter. M. Poete will travel in the United States this winter under the auspices of the French Alliance. It is to be hoped that the department may be successful in securing him.

PROFESSOR BASS ON WATER SUPPLY FOR MINNEAPOLIS.

Last week Professor Bass addressed the engineers' club of the city upon a pure water supply for the Twin Cities. He discussed both artesian wells and sand filtration and the cost of securing an adequate supply of pure water.

His example of the terrible danger lurking in the present supply, and its far reaching effects, constituted a warning that should not be allowed to go unheeded.

RABBI DEINARD, '05, LECTURES.

Rabbi Samuel N. Deinard, Ph. D. '05, of the Reformed Hebrew church of this city, lectured before the Travelers' club last week at the Y. M. C. A. building. Dr. Deinard visited Palestine last summer and he told of the changes since the Jews have been moving back to their native land. Dr. Deinard was born in Jaffa.

SWIMMING POOL AND RUNNING TRACK ASSURED.

At last, after many delays, the construction of a swimming pool and running track is assured. The athletic board of control has appropriated $5,000 for the purpose. The University appropriated $2,000 toward it last year and at the last meeting the executive committee voted the last $981.81 to meet the figures of the lowest bidder.

Work will be begun almost immediately and will be pushed to completion as rapidly as possible.

BURTON PRIZE AWARDED.

Some time ago Dr. Burton offered a prize for the best original old English poem, to be contested for by the members of his Outline of English literature class. Eight students entered the contest and the high quality of most of the poems made a judgment very difficult. In Dr. Burton's opinion, "The Storm," by Mary Bohn, '12, and "An Autumnal Day," by Pearl Davies, '11, were equally deserving of first place. In the drawing which was resorted to, the sophomore won out over the freshman. The prize was his book, "Dumb in June."

WOMAN'S SOCIAL AFFAIRS.

Many social gatherings are being planned by the Woman's League for this year. The program as planned is as follows:

- Oct. 31st—Hallowe'en party.
- Nov. 26th—Thanksgiving dinner party.
- Dec. 12th—A party.
- Feb. 13th—Valentine party.
- Feb. 19th—Entertainment.
- April 19th—A party.
- May 1st—Entertainment.
- May 15th—A party.
- June 9th—Alumni reception.

CHICAGO ALUMNI TO GET TOGETHER.

As the biennial Chicago-Minnesota game approaches the Chicago alumni are stirred to get together to form a permanent alumni association. George Horton is the moving spirit and there are others who are only waiting for someone to take the initiative to get behind and push. Chicago is such a big place and the alumni are so scattered it is something like getting a whole state together. It is hoped, however, that something definite may be done this time as the game is one that will arouse the most lethargic alumnus and fire with double energy the enthusiasm of the most loyal.

The plan is to get together a few of the most active at a noonday luncheon soon and then get them to work on the others and try to round up a good crowd for an evening affair of some kind.

CHERNAUSEK AT PENNSYLVANIA.

Samuel Chernausek, '03, who completed part of his medical course at this University, has transferred to the University of Pennsylvania. In a letter to a paper in his home town, he says many things of interest to the alumni. In speaking of matters relating to the University directly, he says: "I am the only man to enter Pennsylvania for advanced standing who does not have to take examinations, so far. Men from all other schools are examined, but a U of M man has a very good standing here, and if a fellow has good letters he can make it. * * * As I am getting acquainted, more and more I hear good words for the U of M. It is really surprising. On every hand you hear the expression 'They have a fine school there.' It makes one feel proud to have such an institution back of him. I have never, in all my life, been so proud of my alma mater as I am today. I am willing to tip my hat to U of M with greater reverence than ever before."

AN UPSON MEMORIAL.

The October number of the Minnesota Magazine is a memorial issue for Arthur Upson. The leading article is an appreciation of Mr. Upson by Dr. Burton. Professor Beach gives his impressions of Arthur Upson. Two contributed paragraphs and an editorial tell of personal touch with him. Several poems, and fragments from his poems, are given. The number is artistically gotten up and worthily commemorates the life and works of a poet of rare merit.

WEDDINGS AND ENGAGEMENTS.

John E. Hodgson, '95, and Miss Eva Stevens, both of Spokane, Wash., were married July 25th. Dr. Hodgson is practicing osteopathy and has an office in the Hyde block.

J. J. Rezab, Eng. '07, and Miss Gertrude Hill, of Homer, Minn., were married at LeGrand, Ore., October 8th. Mr. and Mrs. Rezab will make their home in Joseph, Oregon.

Marie Harholdt, '04, and N. A. Borstad, of this city were married last summer. Mr. and Mrs. Borstad are making their home at 717 Erie St. S. E.

Grace Wheaton, '02, of this city and Tresham D. Gregg, Eng. '05, of Chicago, were married Saturday, October 17th. Mr. and Mrs. Gregg will make their home in Chicago.

C. R. Wright, '05, Law '07, and Miss Florence McLean, ex-'05, of Duluth, were married during the past summer. Mr. and Mrs. Wright are making their home in Fergus Falls.

George Dredge, Law '04, and Miss Elizabeth B. Smith, both of this city, were married last week. Owing to the recent death of the bride's father the wedding was a very quiet affair. Mr. and Mrs. Dredge will make their home at 3309 South Irving Ave. Mr. Dredge is the secretary-treasurer of the Sulfow-Dredge Company.

Florence Johnson, M. A., '07, and Dr. Arthur N. Collins, '02, were married last Saturday. Dr. and Mrs. Collins will make their home in Austin, Minn.

Ray Graham, formerly a student in the college of law, was recently married to Miss Beatrice Struble, of Riverside, Wash. Mr. and Mrs. Graham will make their home at Ritzville, Wash., where Mr. Graham is engaged in the practice of law.

Helen Weld, ex-'09, and Rev. H. G. Finney will be married October 28th.

Arthur Reamy Joyce, '05, and Miss Carrie A. Watkins, of Highland Park, Chicago, are to be married November 28th.

THE ALUMNI DIRECTORY.

The issue of the directory has been delayed so as to allow of securing sufficient advertising to cover the difference in cost between what the regents allowed and the actual cost of printing. The directory will be issued and mailed to subscribers some time in November. Work will be begun upon putting it into type within a very few days.

Any subscriber to the Weekly who may chance to know the present address of any of the following named persons, will confer a favor upon them and us by reporting same at once. The information cannot be used unless it comes in very promptly.

W. H. Burtis, '92, manager of the Electric Light company at Decorah, Iowa, was a recent visitor.

Richard T. Burke, Pharm. '05, is located at Langdon, N. D. He has charge of the telephone system of that place as well as dealing in drugs.

The Weekly has recently received a copy of the thirty-seventh annual report of the N. Y., N. H. & H. Ry., of which Timothy E. Byrnes, '79, is the vice-president. The gross income of this road for the past year was something like $57,000,000. In common with many other roads, this road faces the problem of how to make fixed cost of maintenance decrease at the same rate that the gross income decreases in a year of hard times. It is said that Mr. Byrnes is in line for promotion to the presidency of the Boston & Maine road.

Mabel Case, '01, of St. Peter, has gone to California to live. She has just received her teachers' certificate to teach in California, the same being one of the three recently granted by the board. Miss Case is living at 825 Park Ave., South Pasadena, Calif. She expects to teach later.

Leo W. Chilton, Med. '03, has recently changed his location and is now practicing at Idaho Falls, Idaho.

Earl Constantine, '06, is teaching Spanish and French in the Spokane high school. He spent part of the summer in Minnesota visiting about the University several times.

Mary R. Cressey, '03, has gone to Ninghipo, China, as a missionary.

Dr. James Curtin, Dent. '05, is practicing his profession at Arlington, Minn.

H. C. Cutler, Min. '94, is consulting engineer with Nixon & Wingfield, of Goldfield, Nevada. This company operates sixteen mines.

Dr. Henry Dahleen, '08, is practicing in Mound's Park Sanitarium, St. Paul.

William Dawson, '06, recently vice-consul at St. Petersburg, has been transferred to a similar position at Barcelona, Spain. He stopped over in Berlin for a few days to visit with John W. Dye, '04, who is in the American consular service at that place.

Irene Dunn, '07, was at the University to attend the Minnesota-Nebraska game. She is teaching in the high school at St. Cloud.

John W. Dye, '04, of the American consular service at Berlin, has been granted a sixty days leave of absence in this country. He left Berlin October 6th and sailed for America October 11th on the Grosser Kurfurst. He will make his headquarters at his old home in Winona. He says he has arranged his schedule so as to take in the Chicago and Carlisle games of football.

Rose W. Eaton, '95, is teaching in Rochester, Minn.

Albert Edwardus, Law '93, formerly of Estherville, Ia., is now practicing in this city. He has an office in Temple Court.

Dr. F. A. Engstrom, '08, is at the Swedish hospital in this city.

Dr. J. D. Esser, '08, is at Bethesda hospital, St. Paul.

Mrs. A. C. Rudd, (Pauline H. Finke, '02), was at the University about ten days ago. Mrs. Rudd is in the city visiting her parents. Her home is in Dawson, Minn., where Mr. Rudd is the editor of the Dawson Sentinel.

Lillian Bird Garrow, '04, is teaching the children in the state hospital for crippled and deformed children, connected with the C. and C. hospital, in St. Paul. Miss Garrow finds her work with the children intensely interesting and enjoyable. Contrary to one's expectations, they are a very happy lot. Most of them are receiving such care as they have not previously known and they are much interested in their work. Miss Garrow has all grades of work from the primary to the high school.

Mildred B. Gaus, '07, is teaching in the high school at Delano, this year. Last year she taught in the high school at Elbow Lake.

Walter J. Gessell, '08, is with the Hall Company, bankers, grain, lumber and real estate dealers, of Hanley, Sask., Canada.

"Dad" Gleason will leave for Jamestown, N. D., on the 19th to commence a three-weeks' Bryan stumping tour.

H. O. Grangaard, Med. '08, has recently moved from Stillwater to Newark, Ill., where he is located for the practice of medicine.

Harry Harmon, Dent. '08, is practicing in St. Paul.

Corinne Heffner, '07, who last year taught at Farmington, Minn., has returned to this city and is living at 3455 2nd St. N. E.

Marie Higbee, '07, is assisting the supervisor of drawing in the Minneapolis schools this year.

George R. Horton, '97, who is president of the Intercollegiate Conference Athletic Association, of Chicago, is trying to get the Chicago alumni together for a luncheon with the idea of getting them to organize and have occasional meetings for the purpose of reviving the memories of old times. Mr. and Mrs. Horton have recently changed their Chicago address and are now at 203 5th Ave. Mrs. Horton was Mabel Smith, '98.

Inez Hovey, '08, teaches at Wells, Minn.

H. B. Humphrey, '99, has been appointed assistant professor of botany in the Washington State College, at Pullman, Wash., and has already taken up his work at that institution. Professor Humphrey was formerly connected with the same department at Stanford University and was given a leave of absence for the purpose of editing the life of Luther Burbank. He also holds the title of assistant botanist of the experiment station. Mrs. Humphrey was Olive Mealey, of the same class; she was formerly assistant curator of the herbarium of Stanford University.

Roy R. Ireland, '01, Eng. '03, is with the Western Electric company of Chicago.

Margaret R. Kelly, '01, has returned home after more than a year's absence traveling in the south. Miss Kelly lives at 403 E. Nicollet Ave., Aberdeen, S. D.

Alfred King, Eng. '08, has a position with the Minneapolis Electric Machinery Co.

Theodore M. Knappen, '91, is now making his headquarters in this city, though he still maintains a Chicago office. He is engaged in the land business, dealing largely in Canadian lands. It will be remembered that he was in charge of Governor Johnson's press bureau when the latter was a candidate for the presidential nomination. Mr. and Mrs. Knappen reside at 2217 S. Fremont Ave. Mrs. Knappen was Nellie M. Cross, '91.

Dr. E. J. Lawrence, '08, has an appointment at St. Luke's hospital, St. Paul.

E. A. Lee, Eng. '07, consulting engineer, has recently changed his Denver, Colo., city address, and is now to be found at 444 Cook St.

William P. Lee, Med. '04, is practicing at Fairfax, Minn., where he has been located for many years past.

Lucretia L. Lewis, '06, formerly of Cannon Falls, Minn., is now living at Benson, Minn. She is principal of the high school at that place.

Daniel J. Lothrop, '99, is head of the department of history of the Lincoln high school, of Seattle, Wash. There are six instructors in the department, including Clara Christopherson, '04.

Mary A. Lucas, '08, is attending Radcliffe College, Cambridge, Mass., this year.

Mary A. McMillan, Med. '07, has opened offices in the Fernwell building in Spokane, Wash. She has been in her new offices about six weeks and says that she is meeting with better success than she had anticipated.

Irving W. Matthews, Eng. '84, president of the class of 1884, is proprietor of the Douglas county abstract company, at Waterville, Wash.

Carol Michener, '07, visited the University last week.

Willis T. Newton, '08, has entered Harvard University. His address is 41 Conant Hall, Cambridge, Mass.

Florence M. Perry, '03, is still teaching in the St. Paul schools. The note concerning her transfer to Litchfield schools was a mistake due to the fact that another Florence Perry was elected to a position in the Litchfield schools.

John H. Ray, Jr., '08, is attending Harvard University and living at 56 Perkins Hall, Cambridge, Mass.

Emma D. Ripley, '06, is teaching history in the high school at Fond du Lac, Wis.

George N. Salisbury, '83, has recently changed his Seattle, Wash., city address and is now living at 916 19th Ave. Mr. Salisbury was in this city for a short time last summer.

Edward S. Savage, Eng. '07, has changed his Rochester, N. Y., city address and is now at 40 Wellington Ave.

John McKinnon has been chosen to a place on the debating team which is to meet Iowa in December. Mr. Prigge, who had been previously chosen, was obliged to resign to fill an engagement to stump this state for Bryan.

The first practice debate for the year was held Friday night. Both teams are working hard and will make a fight to win both their debates this year.

Virgil B. Hinshaw, Law '09, is in Chicago attending the meeting of the National association of college prohibitionists, an organization of which he is the president. After he has finished the law course, which he expects to be able to do by November, he will make a tour of the colleges of the country speaking in the interests of the prohibition movement. Mr. Hinshaw is recognized as one of the ablest backers of the prohibition movement in the country today.

The woman's suffrage association met last week to receive reports from the Buffalo convention. Mrs. Potter was given a place on the press committee and Mrs. Phelan on the publication committee of the national association of college women interested in this movement.

Last Saturday evening the forestry students held a big camp-fire meeting for the freshmen of the agricultural department. Apples, peanuts, doughnuts, and cookies were furnished. Wrestling and boxing matches were held and a good time generally indulged in.

A University Agricultural Society was recently organized and officers for the year elected.

The Forum had the negative of the question. The vote of the judges was two to one for the negative.

The Minnesota Daily defeated the Gopher-Magazine crowd at football, last Thursday afternoon, by a score of 5 to 0. The score was made on a sensational run of sixty yards, by Frank Totton the Daily center who blocked a punt and got away with the ball for the only touchdown of the game.

THE NEW HONORARY SOCIETY.

Minnesota has again taken the lead in the organization of an honorary society, that bids, in time, to become national in its scope. The society was organized last spring by members of the University faculty whose work is in the line of the languages. The purpose of the organization is to lay emphasis upon the culture side of education as distinct from the purely practical or utilitarian side. In the furthering of this end these professors propose to bring to the University men of national and international reputation to lecture. Dr. Montelius, who is to be here next week, comes under the auspices of this organization. They also propose to cooperate with each other in the prosecution of original research and to encourage in every way possible such work in their departments.

At present the chapter of the Lambda Alpha Psi, for such is the name of the new fraternity, of which this is the first public notice, is purely local, but the organizers have received assurances that similar chapters will be organized in other central western institutions with the expectation of organizing an inter-collegiate fraternity.

The membership of the society will be elected annually from honor students of the senior class who have made a specialty in language work, the election being based strictly upon accomplishment in scholarship in the line prescribed. Professor Carl Schlenker, of the German department, is the president of the society, and Professor Charles M. Andrist, of the French department, is the secretary.

We heartily welcome this new organization to the University. We are proud that Minnesota professors have shown their recognition of such a real need and have had the gumption to make the first start. The tendency to make everything bend to utilitarian ends has been allowed to exist too long without protest. This society will have no quarrel with those who desire the "practical" in educational lines, but will stand for that no less necessary element of all true education—true and broad culture, through the study of language for the sake of the culture to be thus obtained. May a long, prosperous and useful career be the fate of the organization and the men who are behind it.

SLOSSON AT THE UNIVERSITY.

Edwin E. Slosson, editorial writer on the Independent, has been at the University during the past week gathering material for a write-up of the institution for that publication. Mr. Slosson has in mind to get hold of the spirit that permeates the institution and controls its activities rather than a historical statement of its past and a catalog of its material equipment of today. It will be interesting to know what sort of an impression the spirit of the institution has made upon an outsider who has given the matter so much conscientious study, as Mr. Slosson has.

A MINNESOTA CREW.

Last week, the Minnesota Daily came out with a long and strong editorial calling for the organization of a University crew. Now, no one can doubt that such a move would add greatly to the interest of student life and affairs, but there are serious difficulties in the way which should be carefully considered before such a step is taken. Reference is made to the fame which the Columbia crew brings to the University of Columbia, all of which is doubtless true, but we have been following the Columbia Spectator, the student's daily, and learn that their crew is burdened with a debt of something over $5,000 and that their president has decreed that the crew shall not be again organized until this debt is paid. The students are making frantic efforts to raise the sum and the money is not coming in as freely as might be desired. It is easy enough to say let us go ahead and the finances will take care of themselves, but the wise thing to do is to know just how the finances are to be cared for before a beginning is made.

NORMAL MEN AND THE UNIVERSITY.

The president of the state normal schools and the men in the University department of education, met at the West Hotel, Saturday evening, October 24, for the conference upon the relations of the University and the normal schools. The best of good feeling was manifested by all and an amicable understanding of the respective fields to be occupied by the University and the normal school was reached.

A ALUMNI, who have not already done so, are urged to pay their subscriptions to the WEEKLY, at once, and thus make unnecessary the extra labor and expense of sending out a second notice.

It was mutually agreed that the University should confine itself to the training of men and women for positions of superintendence and high school work and that the normal schools should be left in full possession of the preparation of teachers for the grades.

The normal school men also asked that the college of education give their graduates more credit for their work in the normal schools and it was agreed (formal ratification by the faculty will be necessary to make it effective) that one and one-third year's credit should be allowed. This provision will make it possible for normal graduates to enter the college of education and graduate in two years, if they attend two summer schools and secure the maximum of credit allowed to be received for such work.

It was also agreed to establish an organization to include normal men and members of the faculty of the college of education, for the purpose of furthering their mutual interests.

PRESIDENT NORTHPROP IN THE WEST.

President Northrop will leave Minneapolis November 13th for Walla Walla, Wash., to speak at a big educational meeting to be held there about the 17th. He will pass through Spokane and it is more than probable that the alumni of that place will plan a banquet in his honor. The alumni of Seattle will surely insist upon his coming to that city when he is so near them and the Portland alumni are quite likely to feel themselves entitled to a visit at this time. They all want him and it is probable that he will accept their invitations if he feels himself equal to the extra trips and the feasting which will be offered in his honor.

FIRST FACULTY CLUB MEETING.

The Faculty Club, (N. B., the "Dining" part has been officially omitted) met at Donaldson's tea rooms Saturday evening, October 24th. The committee on organization reported and their report was accepted and adopted.

President Northrop read a paper of about forty minutes length, upon the present status of the University. Among the many telling points made in his paper, were the following:

The great need of the present day is men who can think, and one of the chief aims of the University is to teach men to do their own thinking.

The University needs many things in the way of equipment. I could name things needed which would call for the expenditure of $6,000,000 immediately. Let us not think too much of the things which we do not have and will not get at once, and try to do the best we can with what we have. Let us not contrast what we have with what we wish we had, but with what we once had.

I wish that every teacher would look at his work, not with reference to himself, but with reference to his pupils. The students should get from the professor what cannot be gotten from any text book, influence that will last long after the things learned have been forgotten.

The great object of a University is to teach men and women to become good citizens.

He also congratulated the faculty upon what had been done in the way of original research and expressed the hope that the time would come when some members of the faculty could be allowed to devote their whole time to such work.

He spoke in the highest terms of the dental college, declaring it to be the best in the country.

He said that he should like to see more alumni on the board of regents as he did not like to see so many members on the board protecting the state against the University.

The purpose of the re-organized club is to promote research and investigation in the University of Minnesota; to make a comparative study of working methods in this and other universities, particularly state institutions; and to bring about a closer relationship between the University and the commonwealth in all matters relating to the public good.

The club will meet at Donaldson's one Saturday evening each month during the college year.

A STUDY OF SOILS.

Crop rotation and the laws of soil fertility form the dual subject of a bulletin recently issued from the agricultural experiment station of the state agricultural college, in which are shown the results of experimental study by Professors W. M. Hays, Andrew Boss and A. D. Wilson.

The observations upon which the bulletin is based have extended over ten years and have included chemical, physical and biological studies of the soil and experiments to determine how crops yield under varying conditions, the subject of crop rotation being taken up in detail.

As one of the positive results of these experiments it is asserted in the bulletin that "any system of cropping that has provided for the maintenance of a supply of vegetable matter in the soil, either by manuring or by growing pasture or meadow crops, has given profitable returns."

It is asserted that the best rotations in these experiments have yielded a product worth from $4 to $6 an acre more than is obtained on the average farm throughout the state. The bulletin also says that many Minnesota farmers would profit were they to practice systems of cropping which include the alternation of grain crops, grass crops—as clover and timothy sown together—and cultivated crops arranged in any rotation scheme best suited to their conditions. The experimental evidence offered shows that the use of manure and clover adds to the nitrogen and that manure, also timothy and clover, add fresh vegetable matter to the soil.

It has been found that the plots which have grown cultivated crops, such as corn, potatoes and mangels, continuously without manure, have given poorer returns than have the plots which have grown grain continuously without manure. This is believed to be due to the fact that the intertillage given these crops has caused a more rapid depletion of vegetable matter than has taken place in the fields sown to grain continuously.

The experiments emphasize most forcibly the fact that the application of fresh vegetable matter in the form of barn manure and clover-top residues are a necessity to keep up the productivity of the soil for cultivated and grain crops. The bulletin says:

"The essentials for keeping the average soil in good physical condition are, to avoid an excess of water—by drainage if necessary—and to maintain a reasonable supply of vegetable matter. Heavy soils need vegetable matter to open them up and allow the air to circulate, and light soils need vegetable matter to hold the moisture and to check leaching; and all soils need vegetable matter as a source of easily available plant food. Vegetable matter is rapidly used up in a soil on which grain or cultivated crops are grown, and it is most easily added to the soil by applying barnyard manure and growing grass crops."

A NEW MUSICAL FRATERNITY.

Mu Phi Delta, a musical fraternity, has taken its place among the Greek letter societies at Minnesota. The fraternity was founded last summer by students and alumni of the University and consists of both men and women.

The charter members are: Professor and Mrs. Carlyle Scott, Augustus Milner, Gertrude Hull, Louise Leavenworth, Anne Louise Woodcock, Maurice Salisbury, and Frank Bibb.

The fraternity made its debut into University life at its first initiation and banquet held last week at the home of Frank Bibb. The house was decorated in green, gold and black, the fraternity colors.

At the banquet Professor Scott was toastmaster and responses were made by Grace Golden, Augustus Milner, and Maurice Salisbury.

The initiates were Richard Glycer, Grace Golden, Agnes Griswold Kinnard and Eugene Bibb.

The fraternity is planning on giving several concerts during the year.

SCANDINAVIAN SOCIETY ORGANIZED.

Mention was made, some time ago, of a proposition to unite the Scandinavians of the University into a society for the promotion of interest in and study of Scandinavian history, language, literature and art. Formal steps have been taken to organize what is to be known as a University Scandinavian Union. It is expected that the Union will include several hundred members and a most profitable and enjoyable year's work is expected.

THE PURITY BANQUET.

The athletic board of control has decided to hold a purity banquet the night before the Wisconsin game. The banquet will be held in the University Armory, Friday evening, November 6th. The price of plates will be 50 or 75 cents and all alumni are invited to attend.

MINNE-HA-HA IS OUT.

The second number of Minne-ha-ha came from the press last Friday. In general appearance and make-up it is by all odds the best that has been issued. The editorial on the governorship is a hot one—the students and alumni being strongly advised to vote for the present incumbent.

ENGINEERS ENTERTAIN.

The first of the semi-annual banquets given by the Engineers' society, took place at Dayton's tea rooms Saturday, Oct. 24th. The affair was attended by all the classes of the different departments of engineering, about seventy students being present.

Dr. B. L. Newkirk acted as toastmaster. The response to the toast of the evening was made by Professor Constant who spoke on "Riverbanking." Others who made addresses were Professor R. A. Kavanaugh who spoke on "Common Sense," Professor George D. Shepardson, Professor Bass, George Shepard and L. H. Gadsby, President W. S. Williams, of the Engineers' society, responded to the toast on "Civility."

PATTEE TO TALK.

Dean Pattee has accepted an invitation to address the South Dakota State Bar Association during their annual convention at Pierre in the early part of December.

Mock court cases in justice court practice for the senior laws began last week. These "mock trials" will continue until the latter part of November.

F. E. Hobbs, '88, will be the justice of the peace and J. L. Brin, clerk of court.

RASTALL'S BOOK REVIEWED.

The Economic Bulletin, published by the American Economic Association, devotes nearly three pages of its latest number to a review of "The Labor History of the Cripple Creek District." This book is really a study in industrial evolution and was printed as bulletin 198 of the University of Wisconsin series. The review is very favorable to the book. At the time Dr. Rastall wrote the book he was economic expert of the New York State department of labor.

MINNESOTA ALUMNI IN COLORADO.

Mr. William B. Newhall, Eng. '00, who has recently moved from Colorado Springs to Denver, Colo., has agreed to try to get the alumni of that state together at some time in the not distant future for a reunion. Alumni living in that state are urged to communicate with Mr. Newhall and to cooperate with him in this very desirable undertaking. Mr. Newhall's address is Room 423 Y. M. C. A. building and his business address is 528 Majestic building. He is engaged in engineering work along the lines of mechanics, hydraulics and electricity.

WEDDINGS AND ENGAGEMENTS.

Walter Verge, Ex-Law, was married July 11th last, to Miss Margaret Wallace, of Alabama. Mr. Verge is practicing law at Great Falls, Mont., and has a suite of offices in the Conrad block.

Fred E. Wiesner, Eng. '06, of Minot, N. D., and Ethel S. Sanborn, of Tracy, Minn., were married October 22nd, at Tracy, Minn. Mr. and Mrs. Wiesner will make their home at Minot, N. D., where Mr. Wiesner is connected with the engineering department of the G. N. Ry.

Edith June Sjoberg, '04, and Edwin C. Ruble, Law '04, were married October 20th, in St. Paul, Minn. Mr. and Mrs. Ruble will be at home after December 1st, at Driscoll, N. D., where Mr. Ruble is engaged in the practice of law. Mrs. Driscoll has been principal of the high school at Renville since graduation.

Albert H. Bates, Eng. '05, of Muskegon, Mich., and Miss Mabelle Lamb, of Waterloo Ia., were married last week. Mr. and Mrs. Bates will make their home in Muskegon, Mich., where Mr. Bates is engaged in engineering work.

The engagement of Mina Schaezel, '08, and William S. Hitchings, Med. '08, has been announced. The wedding will take place in November. Dr. Hitchings has established himself at Belgrade, Minn., for the practice of his profession.

Harry H. Mowry, Ag. '07, and Mary Lucretia Crosby were married August 18th. There was quite a chapter of the unexpected that happened in connection with the wedding. Mr. Mowry and his bride-to-be wanted to have their wedding without the help of their numerous friends and so the thing was planned very quietly. In asking for the license Mr. Mowry, in the excitement gave the name of the young lady's sister-in-law, their middle names alone being different. This mistake was not discovered until they were before the minister. It took another day to have the license changed and then it was found that the minister had left town and the couple had to seek another in another town. The knot was tied and the bride and groom are as happy as though all had gone as merry as the traditional marriage bells. Mr. and Mrs. Mowry are making their home in Washington, D. C. Mr. Mowry is private secretary to assistant secretary of Agriculture, W. M. Hays.

KNAPPEN GETS BUSY.

Theodore M. Knappen, '91, has sent out a personal letter to every alumnus of the University living in the state of Minnesota, in which he calls attention to the past records of the two leading candidates for the governorship, in matters relating to the University.

HISTORY REPEATS ITSELF.

The Score of 1899 Duplicated.

Chicago 29—Minnesota 0.

Seasoned Veterans Against New Men.

The New Game Triumphs Over the Old.

Not since 1899, when Chicago, on her own field, dealt Minnesota the same sort of defeat, has Minnesota received such a drubbing. For the second time since he came to Minnesota has Dr. Williams' team been out-classed. The other defeat was in 1901 when Wisconsin won by a score of 18 to 0. In 1903, when Michigan won by a score of 23 to 6, Minnesota was decisively defeated but not so slaughtered as last Saturday.

The plat tells the tale of successive marches across Minnesota goal line by the whirlwind Chicago team.

During a large part of the first half the ball was in Chicago territory and several times Minnesota threatened her goal line, once having the ball on Chicago's 5-yard line on a first down but could not make the distance. Just at the opening of the second half Minnesota braced for a few minutes but could not keep up the pace. When the third touchdown came the men seemed to lose all hope and the next two were made by Chicago as the result of a few long gains, one a fifty-yard run.

The men battled desperately but ineffectually to withstand Chicago's end runs and forward passes. Steffens was the whole thing and he played a most wonderful game. He is easily the greatest star in the football constellation to day (or tonight, as you please).

Chicago's line, which was supposed to be weak, proved to be strong and their team was also, at times, able to make distance straight through the Minnesota line, tearing off from ten to twenty yards in this manner.

Time and again Minnesota tried the forward pass in her own territory and several times dangerously near her own goal line. In one rally Minnesota carried the ball more than two-thirds the length of the field only to lose it when within striking distance.

What little luck there was favored Chicago, but this was not sufficient to account for more than possibly one score. The touchdown from a fumble after a run of ninety yards was magnificent work.

The game of football consists in ability to take advantage of every chance that comes along and in this respect, veterans like the Chicago men have an immense advantage over green men, such as made up most of Minnesota's team.

Minnesota succeeded in making the forward pass work four times and gained 58 yards in this way, one gain being 30 yards, the longest gain made thus in the game. Chicago succeeded with the forward pass ten times and gained 124 yards in this way, the longest gain being 23 yards. Many of Minnesota's attempted forward passes resulted in the ball going to Chicago.

Atkinson was in as quarterback during the opening half of the game and played a strong heady game. He was replaced by Coughlin in the second half and Coughlin made some wonderful gains in quarterback plays, but was weak in handling punts. There is nothing to complain of in the work of the individuals. They all played ball to the limit of their ability, but pitted against veterans as they were, they suffered from their lack of experience.

There are two more games left to play this season and it is possible for Minnesota to regain much of the prestige which was lost in last Saturday's game by winning these games. It can be done. We have good material and they have had their "baptism of fire" and will not come up to the coming games as their first big game. The men are game and we look to see them come out next Saturday determined to wipe the earth with Wisconsin. On past showing, outside of yesterday's game, Wisconsin is fully as strong as Chicago and the Minnesota men must fight to win.

The rooters are game and the men on the team are likewise, and we have no doubt that they will acquit themselves in a way to make us all proud of them. They went down doing their best last Saturday and have no cause to feel disheartened over the defeat.

All Minnesota men should stand by the men and show them that we have faith in their ability to win the next two games.

PERSONALS.

Herbert D. Alton, Eng. '07, is an engineer and contractor at Spirit Lake, Idaho.

A. N. Andersen, Law '01, of La ly-smith, Wis., was recently given the nomination for district attorney over his opponent by four votes. The fight was a strenuous one and his opponent has come out as an independent but the prospects for Mr. Andersen's success seem bright. Mr. Andersen recently associated himself with S. J. Leahy, of Wisconsin University, '05, under the firm name of Andersen & Leahy.

Mrs. James S. Willmarth (May L. Barber, '00), is now with her husband in Peru, South America, doing missionary work. They were sent out a year ago on a five-year appointment. Their address is Casilla, 123 Callao, Peru.

Fred W. Bedford, '00, who is head of the chemistry department of Sprague, Warner & Co., of Chicago, still retains his old interest in athletics. Last summer he managed a baseball team, local, and is president of two athletic clubs, in the suburbs of Chicago. Bedford has a Wisconsin graduate in his laboratory, but he has agreed to fire him if by any chance Minnesota should fall before the prowess of her ancient enemy. Mr. and Mrs. Bedford have two children, Josephine and Buell. Mrs. Bedford was Mary Emma Buell, '02.

Joseph Chapman, Jr., Law '97, vice-president of the Northwestern National Bank of this city, will give lectures on practical banking in the Y. M. C. A. evening course this winter. Mr. Chapman's bank was recently consolidated with the National Bank of Commerce, making the bank the largest and most important in the northwest. Their deposits run over $24,000,000.

Fred Cleator, who took the civil service examination last spring while he was yet a junior of the University forest school, is now a forest assistant on the Wenatchee National forest. Cleator has been terribly busy this summer fighting forest fires and looking up homesteaders' claims, and incidentally doing the kind of stunts which Stewart Edward White likes to write about.

W. H. Crawford, '08, formerly of Hampton, Ia., is now living at 905 W. 18th St., Des Moines, Ia.

Horace F. Curtis, Law '06, is with the Kimball-Gable Piano Company of this city.

Edwin H. Davin, Law '06, is teaching commercial law in a business college at Beloit, Wis.

F. C. Devereux, Min. '04, formerly of this city, is now with the Guadalupe mine, Inde Dgo, Mexico.

Otto Folin, '02, has been made full professor in Harvard medical school. His line is physiological chemistry, in which line he has made a very enviable reputation.

Bernice Frye, '07, is teaching in the high school of Yarmond, Ore.

Amos J. Gaumnitz, '08, spent several days at the Station late in August. Mr. Gaumnitz is assistant in chemistry at the California Experiment Station.

H. Wade Hibbard, formerly assistant professor of mechanical engineering in the University, and now for many years professor of railway mechanical engineering at Cornell, has resigned his position to accept the head of the department in the University of Missouri. He takes up the duties of his new office about Feb. 1st.

William L. Hoffman, Med. '04, is practicing medicine at Cresbard, S. D.

A recent letter from Luella Huelster, '06, written on board S. S. Minnesota, tells of a delightful voyage to the Orient. Miss Huelster went out with fifty other missionaries. The boat stopped so as to give them four days each at Yokohama and Kobe, Japan, giving them a chance to "do" the famous schools, temples, shops and parks of some of the most interesting of Japan's cities. They were to stop at Nagasaki for a day and then re-embark for Shanghai. Two days more would bring them to their journey's end, Nanking, the great literary center of China, where Miss Huelster is to engage in missionary work for the Methodist church.

Ruth S. Hutchinson, '00, is doing graduate work at Columbia University this year, making her major in the department of English. She was given a year's leave of absence from the normal school at Moorhead.

Homer B. Lattimer, '07, has had a very flattering offer from the U. S. bureau of fisheries to take a place on the S. S. Albatross, the bureau's special ship, for an extended cruise in the Philippines in the interests of the bureau's investigations of the fisheries of the Philippines. It is not known whether he will accept. He is now professor of biology in Charles City College, Ia.

Mrs. Fred Boyce (May Lenox, '01) is living in this city at 2120 S. Girard Ave.

A. J. McGuire, Ag. '97, was assistant superintendent of cattle in charge of dairy cattle at the state fair.

Elwood McKusick, Eng. '99, is with the Western Pacific railroad at Oroville, Calif.

Clarence B. Miller, '95, Law '00, of Duluth, candidate for Congress, was in Minneapolis a week ago Saturday night and made a rousing republican address at Elk's Hall.

George Morgan, '05, is with Davis, Kellogg & Severance, in the Merchants' National Bank building, in St. Paul.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Paulson have a little son born the latter part of September. He has been named Allan Barr. Mrs. Paulson was Marjorie Cole, '04.

Clifford V. Pierce, '04, is teaching at Minot, N. D., this year.

Mary N. Powers is teaching in the Renville high school.

Edith E. Putnam, '04, is at home this year doing private tutoring. Her address is 3105 Garfield Ave.

A. C. Ringsred, Eng. '06, of Duluth, was at the University October 24th. Mr. Ringsred is connected with the G. N. Development Company which is engaged in promoting water power plants. He spent three months last summer in Europe, traveling in England, France, Germany and other countries but spending most of his time in Norway.

Guy H. Roberts, '99, who has been in the history department of Bowdoin, has gone to the University of California where he has a position in the department of political science.

Frank I. Rockwell, Ag. '06, is at present engaged in making a study of the wood-using industries and markets for forest products and making tests of the strength of various woods produced in Oregon, Washington, Alaska, Idaho and Montana. He is located at Seattle now and is working in cooperation with the University of Washington. After the first of the year he will be in the general offices of the U. S. Forestry service at Portland. Mr. Rockwell ranks as forest assistant.

W. A. Rose, Min. '06, is with the Oliver Iron Mining Company, of Hibbing, Minn.

Quentin J. Rowley, '81, formerly of Downey, Calif., is now living in Los Angeles. He has a residence at 2071 La Salle St., and his office is in the Grosse building. Dr. Rowley has an excellent practice. He has also been very fortunate in real estate investment at Rodonda Beach. His brother, Loron T. Rowley, ex-'83, is in the ranching business about thirty or forty miles out of Los Angeles.

Caroline Salisbury, '04, is studying domestic science in Boston.

Thomas D. Schall, Law '02, of this city, has nearly lost the use of his eyes through an electric shock received several years ago. Mrs. Schall (Marguerite Huntley, '02) has been assisting him in his practice by reading to him. This fall she decided to enter the University law school as a night student in order to be able to George C. Sikes, '92, is dividing his time between the Chicago Harbors Commission and the editorial columns of the Daily News. On the side, he is giving a course of lectures upon municipal government in the Chicago School of Civics and Philanthropy.

Simon Solie, '07, is at Sedan, Minn., this year.

Stella B. Stearns, '92, who has been living in New York City for several years past is now connected with the National Park Seminary at Forest Glen, Md.

Karl P. Swensen, Min. '06, is spending a month in the city on his vacation. Incidentally he is completing a small amount of work lacking for a second degree. He has been all over the mining regions of the west since graduation. He is employed by a consulting engineer and is sent to inspect various plants and to report to his chief upon the same. He likes the west and his work but is glad to be back within reach of the University once more and where he can see how Minnesota is playing football.

Edward F. Swenson, '07, is teaching a Y. M. C. A. evening class in economics and banking. Mr. Swenson was student assistant in that department while in the University. The course will include lectures by men engaged in the banking business in this city.

His new church is located within a few blocks of Clark University.

Martin E. Tew, Law '00, is practicing law at Willmar, Minn.

Maud F. Tubbs, '07, who taught at Tower, Minn., last year, is now living at 3316 Portland Ave., in this city.

John E. Upson, Law '03, is practicing law at Billings, Mont.

Mrs. G. C. Sikes, (Madeleine Wallin, '92) is President of the Chicago Association of Collegiate Alumnae. Mrs. Sikes and Rev. T. G. will include a banquet, a comic opera in which men alone will have part as actor, and a county fair.

The co-ed rooters, sixty-four strong, went to Chicago in a special car chaperoned by the mothers of some of the young women.

Dissecting, which has previously been done in the Anatomy building which was recently destroyed by fire, will be done in the brick block at 319-321 Washington Ave. S. E. Some of the nearby residents are objecting strenuously to this arrangement, which brings so many "undesirable" residents into their immediate neighborhood.

The chemical club meets November 4th to hear the report of the constitutional committee.

The University Research association held its first meeting last Saturday evening in the Public Health and Pathology building. The subject for discussion was reports from the recent international tuberculosis congress held in Washington, D. C. The meeting was addressed by University men who attended that meeting.

Under the inspiration of Dr. Grant's enthusiasm for track work, the men are getting into the cross-country runs with unusual interest. With the completion of the running track so that indoor work can be kept up there is sure to be a continued and growing interest in such work.

PUBLICATION OF GRADUATE THESES.

The graduate faculty at its meeting last May provided for the appointment of a committee to consider the question of the publication of theses of candidates for the degrees of Ph. D., and Sc. D. The members of that committee are announced as follows: Eddy, Frankforter, Gray, Lee and Snyder.

This subject is one which the 9th Annual Conference of the Association of American Universities held at Ann Arbor, Mich., Jan. 9 and 10 this year, considered at length on the basis of replies to a circular letter of inquiry addressed to heads of departments in the universities constituting the association. The substance of these replies and other considerations germane to this subject appeared in the Journal of the Association, of which a copy may be found in the University library, as well as in the hands of the undersigned.
