

Vol. IV No. 13
January 9, 1974

The Regents will hold their monthly committee and board meetings Jan. 10 and 11 in Morrill Hall. On the Executive Committee agenda is a discussion on developing a U mission statement. The idea was suggested to the board in a letter from the faculty chairmen of four U Senate committees.

Other agenda items include reports by VP Cashman on the alcohol policy and child care proposal, survey results and recommendations regarding civil service representation in governance, and a discussion on whether the U should hire architectural firms whose members include faculty from the U's School of Architecture. VP Kegler will present the 1974-75 budget plan and guidelines for the 1975 legislative request.

Certificates of appreciation will be awarded by the Regents at their Friday meeting to students who have served as representatives on Regents' committees.

Next Senate meeting is Jan. 17 at 3:15 in Nicholson Hall Auditorium. On the agenda for action: approval of 1974-75 U calendar, constitutional amendment on how alternate Senate representatives are selected, proposal to cut the size of the Senate in half.

Two reports will also be presented to the Senate: one by the Consultative Committee on progress toward selecting a U president, and one by the U Appeals Committee on Academic Freedom and Responsibility on policies, practices, and recommended changes relating to appeals procedures.

UMD has voted for an earlier start fall quarter 1975. One reason for the change: students wanted to finish spring classes earlier to compete better for summer jobs with students who attend nearby U of Wisconsin, Superior. UWS students usually finish by May 20. TC campus members of U Schedule Committee will survey TC students, faculty, and staff to determine calendar preferences. UMC already has an early start schedule and began classes Sept. 10 this year, two weeks ahead of rest of U.

Four candidates, including two incumbents, are seeking election to two positions on the board of directors of the Minnesota State Retirement System (MSRS). No candidate this year works at U. Ballots, biographical sketches are being sent to all MSRS members on U payroll (civil service staff). Ballots should be returned by Jan. 29 if using campus mail (TC campus), by Feb. 1 if using U.S. mail.

State law has added a procedural step, effective Jan. 1, in reporting employee injuries. In addition to reports sent to Insurance and Retirement, a copy of the employee's "First Report of Injury" must be sent directly to the Department of Environmental Health and Safety, University Health Service (TC campus), within 48 hours of the time the injury was reported. In cases of accidental death or multiple hospitalizations, report immediately to the department by phone. For more info, call 373-3167.

DULUTH--Ombudsman booth, "What's Happening: Doing the University," has had good response at UMD and will be continued spring quarter. Student Affairs personnel are staffing the booth in Kirby Student Center through Jan. 11 answering student questions about registration, cancel-add procedures, class conflicts, and other problems.

UMD Debate Team is available for audience debates for civic groups, service clubs, and others. National debate topic this year is "Resolved: That the Federal Government Should Control the Supply and Utilization of Energy." Contact Joyce Flory, 726-7570.

"Graphics '72, Japan," an exhibit of prints by 10 Japanese artists, is at UMD's Tweed Museum of Art Jan. 9-Feb. 3. Sadajiro Kubo--critic, collector, and historian--selected the artists and five works by each.

MORRIS--About 80% of UMM's new Humanities and Fine Arts Building is now occupied, mostly with office and classroom spaces for music, theatre, speech, art, and audio-visual facilities. Finishing touches are still being given to such special-purpose areas as theatres, recital hall, rehearsal room, and art gallery.

Nan Weiner, U compensation manager, visits UMM Jan. 10 to conduct a meeting for all UMM civil service employees about the new U pay plan.

TC campus administrators of Continuing Education and Extension are at UMM today (Jan. 9) to meet with UMM division chairmen, administrators, and faculty members and to discuss policy guidelines for UMM evening school.

Preliminary plans for the remodeling of UMM's Social Science Building were approved Jan. 3 by the Social Science Building Committee. Planning process was compressed into two and a half weeks by having architects live on campus.

TWIN CITIES--Under new special permit system, U vehicle parking areas have been designated to accommodate short-term parking needs of individuals engaged in U business. U passenger vehicles with state plates and private vehicles displaying official U vehicle permits will be required to park in the special parking areas. More information about the new system is available from the Police Department, 373-3550.

Lt. Donald Wiebe has been named director of the newly created Security Development Bureau, according to Police Chief Eugene Wilson. Wiebe will be responsible for planning and implementing crime prevention programs on the TC campus, and has been delegated the authority to make decisions relative to campus security and safety.

Regents' Professor of Economics Walter Heller has been named to an eight-member committee of economists and oil experts to review the country's petroleum estimates. William Simon, administrator of the Federal Energy Office, appointed the committee "to assure the most objective and meaningful assessment of the petroleum shortage."

Extension Classes has changed its schedule at some off-campus centers because of the energy shortage. Fall semester, winter quarter, and spring semester classes at St. Paul Harding High School have been moved to U campus. Classes at Richfield Senior High School have been moved to Richfield East Junior High School. Spring quarter classes at all centers remain as scheduled. For more information, call 373-3195.

Dr. Gary Gray, chemistry, has received a $91,700, three-year grant from the National Cancer Institute to determine the antitumor active components in a tuberculosis vaccine used experimentally to treat cancer. Gray will work in collaboration with Dr. Edgar Ribi, Rocky Mountain Laboratory of the National Institute of Allergy and Infectious Diseases, who helped discover that the vaccine walls cause established tumors to regress and immunity to spread from the tumor site throughout the body.

"Women in Politics," a course on the role of women in society from ancient to modern times, will be broadcast over KUOM radio (770 AM) beginning Jan. 14. The course may be taken for regular U credit, but a free listener's guide is available on request. The program will be broadcast Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays at 11:15 a.m. For credit and study guide info, contact Independent Study, 25 Westbrook, 373-3177.

Pianist David Porter plays selections by Erik Satie and Charles Ives in a free concert Jan. 14 at 8 p.m. in Scott Hall Auditorium.

Vol. IV No. 14
January 16, 1974

A weekly internal bulletin serving all campuses

The Board of Regents Friday (Jan. 11) gave final approval to their 1974 report to the Legislature. The report answers questions raised by legislators last session. Other report items: the impact of the 1973 appropriation on the 1974-75 budget and reports on Crookston and Waseca campuses and their missions.

Regents and administrators are beginning work now on the 1975 legislative request to develop long-term goals and determine what steps will have to be taken in 1975 to meet them. The process "reflects a belief that a realistic, phased, well-described series of decision packages will be evaluated responsibly by appropriate review bodies and the Legislature," VP Kegler said.

Budget cutting plan for 1974-75 was shown to Regents, who will review and act on total funding proposal during next two months. Budget base will be reduced by $1.4 million, including $686,388 from academic units and $749,812 from administrative and service units. Funds for salary and price level increases will be added.

U's reserve fund, usually kept to pay for emergency and unforeseen situations throughout the year, has been budgeted in advance for 1974-75 to aid some programs temporarily. VP Kegler said this means the U will be less flexible during the year and more dependent on a good 1975 legislative appropriation.

The Minnesota Legislature opened its 1974 session yesterday (Jan. 15).

The Regents' Student Concerns Committee heard progress reports on a proposed day-care center (TC campus) and a comprehensive U alcohol policy. The Child-Care Task Force proposed a facility for children of students, faculty, and staff at a cost to U of $65,000-$78,800 a year. The recommendation was countered by an administrative proposal to fund a pilot facility for the children of students at a cost to U of about $5,000.

VP Cashman reported several changes have been made in the alcohol policy passed by U Senate, requiring further consultation with the outstate campuses. A committee will be appointed to study the question of sale of alcohol on campus. Cashman suggested a target date of spring quarter for putting any comprehensive policy into effect.

The Regents went on record against a proposed consolidation of the Board of Regents, State College Board, State Community College Board, State Board of Education, and HECC. State Advisory Council on Vocational Education proposed that the educational boards be replaced by a single 17-member board.

Samuel Krislov, Senate Consultative Committee chairman, and William Flanigan, Senate Committee on Resources and Planning chairman, discussed with the Regents' Executive Committee procedures for writing a U mission statement. Krislov said "All of the state and the community should be involved" in determining the U mission. A five-member Regents' committee has been named to write a mission statement.

Regent L. J. Lee and Ralph Rapson, School of Architecture head, exchanged views on whether architecture faculty should receive contracts on U buildings. Faculty and administrators said U should not be denied expertise of firms hiring faculty members, and faculty should not be denied the practical experience; basis of appointment should be qualifications, not U position. Lee said ethics should be primary consideration.

Prepared for the Office of the President by the Department of University Relations and distributed through departmental offices

Personnel Director Roy Richardson told Regents that the Civil Service Council, as originally conceived, would probably be an unfair labor practice under state law. He said civil service employees now have three options if they wish to participate in U governance: form their own representative groups; join formal organizations, such as labor unions; or move for representation on the all-U Senate.

The Metropolitan Health Board, a subcommittee of the Metropolitan Council, voted Jan. 9 not to renew the U's certificate of need for the new Unit B/C building in the health sciences complex. The Human Resources Committee of the Council will review the decision Jan. 17. The Metropolitan Council will take action on the issue Jan. 24.

Senate meeting is tomorrow (Jan. 17) at 3:15 in Nicholson Hall Auditorium.

President Moos has sent a memo to deans and provosts announcing details of the 1974-75 Educational Development Program. A total of $250,000 is available to support projects aimed at instructional improvement at U. Grants will be awarded at college level only; due to budget limitations, there will be no all-U-level grants. More info from the Center for Educational Development, 317 Walter Library, 373-4537.

CROOKSTON--Gary McVey has been named agricultural division chairman at UMC, subject to Regents' approval. His appointment was effective Jan. 1.

The Minnesota Orchestra performs Jan. 24 at 8:30 p.m. in Crookston Central High School. The orchestra is brought to the area by UMC, in cooperation with the Minnesota State Arts Council. Tickets are available from U Relations, UMC, 281-6510, ext. 250.

DULUTH--Two faculty members, assisted by three students, will study dollar and employment impact of a partial or total closing of Reserve Mining Co. in Silver Bay. The study is funded by grants from Economic Development Administration, Arrowhead Regional Development Commission, and Lake Superior Basin Studies Center. Grants total $43,000.

M. King Hubbert, research geophysicist for U.S. Geological Survey, will speak at 8 p.m. Jan. 23 in Life Science 175. His topic is "The World's Energy Economy."

VP Stanley Wenberg will speak at the January meeting of the Twin Ports Press Club at 6 p.m. Jan. 23 in the UMD Campus Club.

MORRIS--Earl Joseph, Univac scientist and resident futurist at the Minnesota Museum of Art, St. Paul, will speak on futurism Jan. 22 at 2 p.m. in Edson Lounge.

Career Day, sponsored by UMM Alumni Association, will be Jan. 26 in the Food Service Center. UMM students and area high school seniors will be able to talk to UMM alumni who represent a cross section of the business, professional, and teaching fields.

UMM Alumni Association's quarterly meeting is Jan. 26. Key agenda item is discussion of a memorial for the late Herbert Croom, former UMM director of placement and alumni.

TWIN CITIES--Search and seizure laws will be the focus of a lecture series Jan. 22-24 at 4:15 p.m. each day in Mayo Auditorium. Stanford Law School Professor Anthony Amsterdam, perhaps best known for his recent success before the Supreme Court in ending the death penalty, will be the lecturer for the series.

Geophysicist M. King Hubbert will speak on "The World's Energy Economy" Jan. 24 at 3:30 p.m. in room 150 of the Physics building.

"No Time to Quit," a nine-week television series exploring the social aspects of growing old, will premiere at 6:30 p.m. Jan. 21 on KTCA-TV, channel 2.

WASECA--Leslie Westin, coordinator of community services and continuing education for HECC, visited UMW Jan. 10 to review possible Title I grant proposals from the college.

Vol. IV No. 15
January 23, 1974

A weekly internal bulletin serving all campuses

U officials will testify at Jan. 28 hearing of House Committee on Higher Education on bill authored by Rep. William Ojala of Aurora and aimed at prohibiting faculty members from testifying for private industry in cases involving public interest.

History Professor W. Donald Beatty, U faculty member for nearly 30 years and clerk of the Senate for seven years, has resigned from the U due to ill health. Marilee Ward, President's Office, is the acting clerk of the Senate.

U Senate approved Jan. 17 the 1974-75 U calendar, but voted down a proposal to cut the size of the Senate in half. U Appeals Committee on Academic Freedom and Responsibility presented its report on policies, practices, recommended changes relating to appeals procedures; hearings will be scheduled on UMD, UMM, and TC campuses for faculty, student, and staff response. Committee chairman is Fred Amram, Consolidated Help Center.

Samuel Krislov presented to the Senate the report of the presidential search subcommittee, which is headed by Warren Ibele. Krislov said the major portion of the committee's task to seek and appraise candidates was done, a primary list of candidates is substantially in hand, and the committee is ready to meet with the Regents.

Ernest Coleman, physics, has been given a six-month appointment as special assistant to Acting VP Harold Chase. Coleman will review U community service programs to determine what the U should be doing through its "communiversity" activities. "We want to know if we're doing as much as we can in terms of community service," Chase said.

The Human Resources Committee of the Metropolitan Council concurred with the Metropolitan Health Board's decision not to renew the U's certificate of need for the Unit B/C building in the health sciences complex. The issue goes to the Metropolitan Council tomorrow (Jan. 24) for action.

New student representatives have been appointed to Regents' committees. They are Mark English (TC), Stephen Hunt (UMM), Jeffrey Kantor (UMD), Douglas Kuehnast (TC), Barbara-Ann March (TC), Robert Muir (UMW), Rick Nelson (TC), Jane Noreen (TC), Rick Olivadoti (TC), Barbara Roster (UMM), Larry Rudolph (UMD), and Randy Soderstrom (UMC).

Ballots to elect two directors to the Minnesota State Retirement System (MSRS) board can be mailed up to Feb. 1 by U.S. mail, or up to Jan. 29 through campus mail.

Proposals submitted by faculty or faculty-student groups to the 1973-74 Small Grants Program of the Council on Liberal Education will be accepted until Feb. 19 by the Center for Educational Development. About $40,000 remains to support work that is to be done during the current academic year and that is aimed at improving undergraduate education at U. More info from the center, 317 Walter Library, 373-4537.

March 1 is the deadline for proposals from faculty or faculty-student groups to the Media Production Fund. Approximately $25,000 is available for professional production of media projects for educational use. Contact the Center for Educational Development.

DULUTH--Campus Assembly meets Jan. 29 at 2:30 in Life Science 185.

The $2.6 million UMD Performing Arts Building will be dedicated and opened to the public Feb. 3. The two-hour open house, including a special exhibition at Tweed Museum of Art, "The Artist and the Theatre," will begin at 3 p.m.

UMD will provide students, faculty, and staff members with bus service between UMD and the Lakeside area of Duluth, beginning Jan. 24. Pass for the remainder of winter quarter is $8. Complete schedules may be picked up at Kirby desk.

UMD Student Association is compiling a list of persons living in the same areas who wish to form carpools. Forms are available at Kirby desk and should be returned by Jan. 23. After receiving copies of the list, individuals must make their own carpool arrangements.

MORRIS--Ron Guilfoile, Twin City Area Urban Corps coordinator, will visit UMM Jan. 28. He will meet with faculty members and students in Edson Lounge, 1-3:15 p.m., to discuss the possibilities of establishing Urban Corps internships at UMM.

Response has been favorable at UMM to a request to recycle 1972-73 Student-Staff Directories. Directories are now being collected at six drop-off points on campus, and will be delivered to a Twin Cities recycling center by the UMM truck on one of its regular trips to the Twin Cities.

TWIN CITIES--Campus Assembly meets at 3:30 in Nicholson Hall. Up for action is proposed constitutional amendment comparable to one approved by U Senate last fall: amendments to the constitution may be approved by either two thirds of the voting members of the Assembly or by a majority of voting members at each of two consecutive meetings.

Dean Abrahamson, public affairs, has been named to the Consumer Committee, one of seven citizen advisory committees organized by William Simon, administrator of the Federal Energy Office. The committees were created to give Simon expert counsel and information in dealing with the nation's energy crisis.

Clarke Chambers, history, has been elected chairman of the new CLA Consultative Committee, composed of faculty, student, and civil service representatives. The committee will consult regularly with the dean on basic policy issues, and will meet at other times at the request of either the dean or the committee. The committee may also serve as liaison between the dean and CLA constituencies.

Dr. Joseph Westermeyer, psychiatry, starts the second year of a three-year project on alcoholism and drug abuse training. With a $115,323 federal grant, Westermeyer will direct his efforts toward design of a Medical School curriculum to train students in these fields. The third year, he will focus on training for residents, physicians in practice, and other health professionals.

Sunrise Semester courses on Logic and on Mass Communications and the News will be offered for U credit on WCCO-TV at 6:30 a.m. The 5-credit logic course will be shown Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays, starting Jan. 28. The 4-credit journalism course will be shown Tuesdays, Thursdays, and Saturdays, beginning Jan. 29. Register by mail or in person through Feb. 6. Contact Extension Classes, 101 Westbrook Hall, 373-3195.

WASECA--Harland Hasslen, UMW academic divisions chairman, was presented with the first Outstanding Educator Award by the South Central Education Association at its annual recognition banquet Jan. 14. VP Stanley Wenberg was the principal speaker at the event.

The Agricultural Business Advisory Committee met at UMW Jan. 16 and elected Gerald Dannheim chairman.

A four-part discussion series, "Man and the Land," will be held at UMW in February and March. Series will be funded by a $2,250 grant from the Minnesota Humanities Commission and is designed to examine the humanistic meaning of the land for modern man.

Vol. IV No. 16
January 30, 1974

A weekly internal bulletin serving all campuses

Debate continued over outpatient clinic portion of proposed new building (unit B/C) of health sciences complex. Metropolitan Council approved committee recommendation that certificate of need be denied. Issue next moves to State Board of Health, scheduled to meet Feb. 14. State Board's certificate of need committee will consider the matter at a meeting tomorrow (Jan. 31).

In state legislature, Education Division of House Appropriations Committee heard testimony from VPs French and Wenberg supporting need for unit B/C, then scheduled a tour of U outpatient clinics Feb. 5.

Feb. 4 (11 a.m.) is new date for hearing in House Committee on Higher Education on bill aimed at prohibiting faculty members from testifying for private industry in cases involving public interest. Hearing scheduled earlier this week was postponed.

A 45-minute videotape presentation of the new U civil service compensation plan has been prepared by Personnel as part of supervisory training program to be conducted on all U campuses Feb. 6-March 13. The tape specifically relates to the procedures for determining equalization increases. Compensation Manager Nan Weiner will be available to answer questions. Open sessions will also be held for interested employees. Times and places to be announced.

Cost-of-living increases in U civil service salaries will be determined by the rate of increase in cost of living between July 1, 1973, and April 1, 1974. U will have index figures by end of May; any increases will appear on July 1, 1974, payroll. Rate of increase in cost of living will also be monitored through Oct. 1, 1974. Any additional increases in salaries will appear on Jan. 1, 1975, payroll.

U Appeals Committee on Academic Freedom and Responsibility has scheduled hearings for faculty, student, and staff response to its recommended changes relating to appeals procedures. A hearing will be held Feb. 7 at 3:15 in 202 Folwell Hall. One will be scheduled for St. Paul. UMM's hearing will be Feb. 11, time and place to be announced. A hearing was held at UMD yesterday (Jan. 29). Fred Amram is committee chairman.

Faculty members are asked to inform students of the U's Hungarian Exchange Program. Selected students receive scholarships to study Hungarian language and culture, specific academic interests at the Institute of Cultural Relations, Budapest. Applications, to be returned by Feb. 18, are available in 409 Administration Building (UMD); 302 Nolte, 231 Coffman, 190 Coffey (TC); 209 Camden (UMM); or by contacting Jeanne Shobowale, Office of International Programs, 373-5123.

CROOKSTON--Regent David Utz visited UMC Jan. 29. He was accompanied by VP Paul Cashman who talked with student affairs staff members, particularly about the U alcohol policy.

DULUTH--A Foster Parent Certificate Program is being offered through Duluth Center of Continuing Education and Extension, in cooperation with the St. Louis County Welfare Department and UMD School of Social Work. First classes began this month in the 5-credit program that is intended to give foster parents additional skills for their work. The program is similar to one that has been offered in the Twin Cities by CEE.

MORRIS--A Federal Career Day, sponsored jointly by UMM's Career Planning and Placement Office and the local federal government coordinator, will be held Feb. 6, 9-3:30, in the Food Service Center. Robb Morin, UMM alumnus and employee in a Twin Cities government agency, will be available to talk about his work experiences. The federal service entrance exam will be given Feb. 9 at 8:30 a.m. in 130 Social Science Building.

UMM's new University Without Walls (UWW) program will hold general information sessions for prospective students Feb. 5-6, beginning at 7:30 p.m., on the second floor of the Engineering Building. The Morris UWW program is designed to serve the predominantly rural area of Regions 4 and 6W. Through UWW, people who have definite educational goals, but who have run into barriers, can pursue an alternate route to a BA or BS degree. The program starts March 1.

Feb. 4 marks the opening of the art gallery in UMM's new Fine Arts Building. The first exhibit, "Neo Realism in American Painting," opens that day with a talk at 4 p.m. explaining the show. The exhibit will remain through Feb. 28.

TWIN CITIES--Campus Assembly meets tomorrow (Jan. 31) at 3:30 in Nicholson Auditorium.

Pop artist Wayne Thiebaud will present a free slide lecture on his work and aesthetic philosophy at 8 p.m. tonight (Jan. 30) in 125 West Bank Auditorium Classroom Building. A panel discussion follows the lecture. An exhibition of Thiebaud's graphics is in the West Bank Gallery through Feb. 15.

"Communitube," a video magazine of student and community tapes, will be shown tonight (Jan. 30) at 9 on KTCA-TV (channel 2). The program was produced by the University Community Video Center, an enterprise of the MSA Telecommunications Project, with the cooperation of the Media Resources Center.

National and local experts will discuss, in a symposium on ethics in government, the standards of ethical conduct for government officials. The six lectures will be each Tuesday, beginning Feb. 5, at 4:30 in 125 WB Auditorium Classroom Building. First lecture topic is "Corruption, Bribery, and the Sale of Influence," by Political Science Professor Arnold Heidenheimer, Washington U. Register with Extension Classes, 138 Westbrook Hall, 373-4871. Cost is $15 ($5 for staff members and students).

CLA Dean Frank Sorauf is guest speaker at next Campus Club First Tuesday Luncheon. He speaks Feb. 5 at 12 noon in the East Wing. Members should make reservations.

Sterling Wortman, vice president for agriculture, Rockefeller Foundation, presents the first annual H.K. Hayes Memorial Lecture. He speaks on "World Needs for Plant Breeding" at 8 p.m. Feb. 5 in Palmer Classroom Building Auditorium. Hayes, a researcher, teacher, and author, was a U faculty member for 37 years and head of the Agronomy and Plant Genetics Department for 25 years until his retirement in 1952; he died in 1972. The Hayes Graduate Student Award will be presented that evening to William Kuhn.

Classics Professor John Coleman, Cornell U, presents an illustrated lecture on the excavations at Elean Pylos, Greece, at 8:30 p.m. Feb. 6 in the James Ford Bell Museum of Natural History Auditorium.

WASECA--All state legislators have been invited to visit UMW Thursday evening, Feb. 7, to see facilities and talk to students and faculty members.

Brian Hendricksen, former student representative to the Board of Regents, is the new president of the Waseca Student Association.

Thomas Olson, assistant director of the Office of Sponsored Programs, visited UMW Jan. 23 to explain how his office might be of assistance in writing and securing grants for UMW.

Vol. IV No. 17
February 6, 1974

A weekly internal bulletin serving all campuses

Rep. William Ojala asked the House Education Division to delay action on his bill aimed at prohibiting faculty members from consulting or testifying for private industry in cases involving public interest. The reason, he said, is that the U is making a "good faith effort" to solve potential conflict-of-interest problems. Discussion has been laid over until the report of an ad hoc committee on faculty consulting, chaired by John Darley, is completed.

The Board of Regents holds its monthly meetings Feb. 7-8 in Morrill Hall. Dean May Brodbeck will present a Graduate School program review and VP Chase will report on goals of the Institute of Technology and the Law School. On the agenda for action are curriculum proposals to establish a European studies program and a teaching major in social sciences at Morris, and an associate degree in dental hygiene, BA degree in interdisciplinary studies, and BA or BS degree minor in dance, all at Duluth.

VP Cashman will submit a comprehensive alcohol policy to the Regents for action. Alcoholic beverages would be allowed in U residence halls where authorized by the President and the respective hall councils. Use elsewhere would be allowed in areas designated by the President in consultation with the campus provost, committee on student affairs, and faculty affairs committee. Cashman will also present the administration's philosophy on the child-care program, seeking the Regents' views on the issue.

Professor William G. Shepherd, who served as academic administration VP for 10 years, receives the Regents' Award Feb. 7. The award, given to Shepherd by the Regents in recognition of exceptionally valuable service to the U, has been presented only 19 times in 17 years, the last in 1971.

Winter quarter enrollment at U increased by 122 students compared to last year at this time. Decreases occurred at Twin Cities and Morris campuses but were offset by increases at Crookston, Duluth, and Waseca campuses. Compared with fall quarter, all campuses except Waseca show declines--normal behavior, according to VP Stanley Kegler. Fall quarter enrollment usually drops 5% or 6% by winter quarter, he said.

Figures for the campuses show 38,902 students in the Twin Cities (down 110 from winter 1973), 728 at Crookston (up 54), 5,556 at Duluth (up 216), 1,572 at Morris (down 106), and 420 at Waseca (up 78). Fall quarter 1973 figures are 41,005 in the Twin Cities, 765 at Crookston, 5,632 at Duluth, 1,656 at Morris, and 406 at Waseca.

The Minnesota Medical Foundation is seeking nominees for Medical Student Achievement Awards. Awards are given for academic achievement, student leadership, and/or community service. Anyone--med students and student groups, faculty, or other persons and organizations associated with med students--may nominate undergraduates enrolled in the U's Twin Cities or Duluth Medical Schools. Nominating forms, to be returned by Feb. 28, are available from the Foundation, 5412 Powell Hall, or the deans' offices.

"Minnesota Pocket Data Book," a publication of facts and figures about Minnesota, is available from Documents Section, 140 Centennial Building, St. Paul. Cost is $3.

DULUTH--Marshall Performing Arts Center was dedicated Feb. 3. Name honors four Duluth women who made major contributions to cost of construction. Donors were Caroline Marshall, Julia Marshall, Jessica Marshall Spencer, and the late Marjorie Congdon Dudley. The experimental theater is named for Mrs. Dudley.

UMD Campus Assembly last week approved a major in earth science leading to a BA degree and minors in theater arts and anthropology.

Two UMD students have arranged for hourly bus service from campus, through East and Central Hillside, to downtown on Thursday nights. Single trips will be 25¢, all-night pass is 50¢. Route will be tried for one month and continued if successful.

MORRIS--UMM's Library addition, which more than doubles the floor space of present building, was determined essentially complete Jan. 29 when given a final inspection by U officials. Moving in takes place throughout this month.

Staff appointments to UMM's University Without Walls (UMM/UWW) program have been announced. Karla Klinger is serving as facilitator and Anita Finch is secretary. Russell May, Continuing Education and Regional Programs director, is UMM/UWW director.

UMM Campus Assembly meets at 4 p.m. Feb. 11 in the Science Auditorium.

A $2,500 grant from the U Media Production Fund has been awarded to the UMM Library staff for production of a videotape of the "Introduction to the Library" course, making it an unscheduled, self-instruction course.

TWIN CITIES--The Campus Assembly failed to pass a constitutional amendment that said amendments to the constitution may be approved by either two thirds of the voting members of the Assembly or by a majority of voting members at each of two consecutive meetings. Vote was 84-0; 117 affirmative votes were needed.

U Concert Band Ensemble, 67 students and Director Frank Bencriscutto, leaves in March for a three-week European tour. The group will perform in ten cities in five countries and will visit music conservatories and universities. To raise funds for expenses, the ensemble will play benefits around the state. Concerts are scheduled at the St. Paul Auditorium, 3 p.m., Feb. 10, and at Northrop Auditorium, 8 p.m., March 8. For ticket information, contact the Bands Office, 14 Northrop Auditorium, 373-3431.

Samuel Dickinson, Erie Mining Company supervisor of lands and forestry, will present a slide lecture on "Multiple Resource Management of Minerals, Timber, Recreation, Water, and Wildlife on Mining Lands." His talk is at 12:15 Feb. 7 in Nicholson Auditorium.

TC chapters of Mortar Board and Chimes, women's leadership/scholarship honoraries, are seeking recommendations for new members. Faculty, students, and staff may recommend for Mortar Board women students who will be seniors next year, have a 3.0 or better GPA, and are leaders in community activities. Nominees for Chimes should be juniors next year, have a 2.5 or better GPA, and also be active in community affairs. Send names to Sally Jo Power, Student Activities Center, 317-17th Ave. S.E., 373-5105.

The U is participating in a year-long Minnesota Centennial Ives Festival. Among the free events are a piano recital by Alan Mandel, who specializes in the music of Charles Ives and other American composers; an exhibit at U Gallery of works by composer/painter Carl Ruggles; and "The Mississippi Rag Festival." For more information, call the Music Department, 373-3547, for the monthly calendar of events listing times and places.

WASECA--R. Clark Mallam, Luther College, will be keynote speaker in the first "Man and the Land" humanities discussion program at UMW Feb. 7, 8 p.m., room 145. Other resource persons participating are Arthur Grove and Roy Meyer, Mankato State College. Title of the program is "Indians and the Land."

Vol. IV No. 18
February 13, 1974

A weekly internal bulletin serving all campuses

A list of 12 nominees for U president was submitted to the Regents Feb. 7 by the faculty-student presidential search subcommittee. "There's more research to be done by the Regents before we can offer the job to anyone," said Chairman Neil Sherburne, Regents' search committee. He did not know when the board would be ready to make an offer. He said the Regents were not obligated to choose from among the 12 names, but said they would not choose someone not on the list without consulting the subcommittee.

The Regents voted 7-3 to approve a policy governing the use of alcoholic beverages on campus. The policy, effective spring quarter, allows the U president to approve areas and functions at which alcoholic beverages may be served. In other action, the Regents approved in principle the concept of child care centers at U and asked the administration to prepare alternative plans to serve students, staff, and educational programs.

The U may exchange students with the Lenin Pedagogical Institute in the Soviet Union next fall under an agreement approved in principle by the Regents. U would send 13 students and two faculty members to Russia and host 10 Russian students and five faculty members. The U.S. State Department, which would provide some funds, considers an undergraduate exchange program an important educational breakthrough with the Soviets since no other U.S. university has such an arrangement.

The U will be closed Monday, Feb. 18, because it is President's Day and a U civil service floating holiday.

Employees affected by the new U civil service compensation plan will have a chance to see a 45-minute videotape presentation of the plan, followed by a question and answer session with Compensation Manager Nan Weiner. Showings in Minneapolis will be Feb. 15 and Feb. 22 (120 Burton), Feb. 28 and March 7 (30 Architecture); in St. Paul, Feb. 25, March 5, and March 19 (102 Agricultural Engineering). All sessions begin at 5 p.m.

Nan Weiner will also show the videotape at coordinate campuses and other units of the U. Showings will be held at Rosemount and Excelsior (Feb. 12), Duluth (Feb. 20), Morris (Feb. 21), Waseca (Feb. 26), Crookston (March 11-12), and Grand Rapids (March 14). Times and places will be announced by the respective units.

A six-week seminar will be held at the U of Michigan May 20-June 28 to prepare faculty women for significant administrative positions in colleges and universities by educating them in the policies and procedures of university governance. Participants must be nominated by their institutions. More information about the program will be announced by the President's Office.

U students, faculty, and staff members are eligible for spring travel programs offered by the International Study and Travel Center. Among the scheduled flights: New York, San Francisco, Phoenix, Miami, Nassau, Jamaica, and Acapulco. Summer trips are planned to London, Brussels, Japan, and South America. For more information, contact the center, 231 Coffman Memorial Union, 373-0180.

DULUTH--More than 200 junior and senior high school musicians are expected for band clinics Feb. 21 in Marshall Performing Arts Center and Kirby ballroom. UMD Concert Band will present a concert jointly with the high school group at 7:30 p.m. Among the numbers will be "Symphony for Band" by Music Prof. R. Dale Miller. The work was commissioned for the first band performance in the new Marshall Performing Arts Center.

"Hello Dolly!" will be first U Theater performance in UMD's Marshall Center. Play runs Feb. 15-17, 22-24. Performance times: 8:15 p.m. Fridays and Saturdays, 2 p.m. Sundays. Roger Schultz is director of the production.

Environmental Protection Agency announced funds for $100,000 transmission electron microscope for cooperative research by UMD and National Water Quality Lab. Microscope will be housed at National Water Quality Lab in Duluth; UMD scientists will use it on a time-sharing basis. Rep. Blatnik in his announcement of funds said purpose of the grant is to speed progress of asbestos research. Device is able to magnify particles 100,000 to 200,000 times.

MORRIS--Willard Thompson, TC campus director of Summer Session, visits UMM Feb. 19 to talk about UMM's summer programs, summer session priorities, and the future of summer session. He meets with division chairmen and administrators 10 a.m.-12 noon and with faculty members 2-4 p.m. in Behmler conference room.

First play to be performed in UMM's new experimental Black Box Theatre will be "The Serpent," presented Feb. 14-16, 21-23 at 8:15 p.m. The theatre is in UMM's newly constructed Fine Arts Center.

The Minnesota Department of Natural Resources' Division of Waters, Soils, and Minerals held a public hearing Feb. 11 at UMM to determine criteria used in establishing and improving drainage systems and wetlands.

TWIN CITIES--Minneapolis City Council voted Feb. 8 to support the U if and when it asks the state Legislature for $280,000 to finance a development study for the Twin Cities campus/Minneapolis. Transportation and space needs and resource conservation would be examined. The Legislature turned down similar requests in 1971 and 1973.

Minneapolis Mayor Albert Hofstede and President Moos signed an agreement Feb. 11 that U and city officials will both make decisions involving the use of city police on campus in times of crisis. The agreement calls for continued communication between the president and mayor as well as between U and city police departments. "The significant aspect of the agreement is that police activity will be under civilian authority while on campus," said U Police Chief Eugene Wilson.

"Communitube," a video magazine of student and community tapes, will be shown tonight (Feb. 13) at 9 on KTCA-TV (channel 2). The program, originally scheduled for Jan. 30, was preempted by President Nixon's State of the Union message.

Regents' Professor of Economics Walter Heller will speak at 12:15 Feb. 15 in Mayo Memorial Auditorium. His topic is "The Energy Crunch and the Economy."

C. L. Barber, professor of literature and fellow of Cowell College, U of California, speaks at 12:15 Feb. 20 in the Stoll Thrust Theatre, Rarig Center. His topic is "Such Different Issues": Polarization in King Lear. Barber will also speak at 3:30 Feb. 21 in Murphy Hall Auditorium. His lecture will be "I'll pour this pestilence into his ear": Othello as a Development from Hamlet.

Pianist Alan Mandel and violinist Nancy Mandel present a free concert, part of the Contemporary Music Recitals series, at 8 p.m. Feb. 20 in Scott Hall Auditorium. Alan Mandel offers a second program at 8 p.m. Feb. 21 in Scott Hall Auditorium.

WASECA--Snow Week is being observed this week at UMW and will culminate Feb. 16 when UMW enters a float in the annual Waseca Sleigh and Cutter Parade.

brief

A weekly internal bulletin serving all campuses

Vol. IV No. 19
February 23, 1974

U Senate meets Feb. 28 at 3:15 in Nicholson Auditorium. Up for action are constitutional amendments on how alternate Senate representatives are selected and on the eligibility of CEE students for election to the Senate. Also up for action: an agreement between the Institute of Agriculture and the Institut National Agronomique Tunis to establish scientific and educational cooperation, and a report on policy and procedure for animal care and usage.

Also on Senate agenda is a resolution designating 3:15-6 Thursdays as the principal meeting time for the Senate and its committees. Resolution also offers procedures for avoiding class schedule conflicts with meeting times for Senate business. Proposal suggests senators consider resigning if time conflicts exist.

The State Board of Health Feb. 14 voted 8-1 to return to the Metropolitan Health Board the U's request for a certificate of need to build unit B/C of health sciences complex. The city health board was asked to reconsider the request, including any modifications the U may offer to make the proposed clinic more acceptable. The plan would again be forwarded to the Metro Council and State Board of Health for action.

President Moos will discuss U goals in an address to the House Appropriations Committee Feb. 21.

Faculty members interested in attending a six-week (May 20-June 28) U of Michigan seminar intended to prepare women for administrative positions in colleges and universities may obtain application forms from Jean Schlemmer, 202 Morrill Hall. Applicants must submit a statement of endorsement from their unit administrators. U committee appointed by President Moos will select a U nominee. Filing deadline is March 4.

Wm M. Willey, academic administration VP from 1943-1963, died Feb. 12 in Maryville, Tenn. He joined U as professor of sociology in 1927, was named assistant to the president in 1932. He was instrumental in passing the U's first tenure code to prevent the firing of faculty members for what they said and wrote outside the classroom, and he helped establish the U Gallery and U Press.

William T. Middlebrook, former U comptroller and VP, died Feb. 16 in Florida. He became comptroller in 1933, was named business administration VP in 1943. He held that post until retirement in 1959. He was influential in the court case establishing the U as independent of legislative control, and in the U expansion to the West Bank.

CROOKSTON--President Moos is guest speaker at the Higher Education Day noon luncheon Feb. 22 in Bede Hall. His topic is "How the University Serves the State." A 10:30 a.m. seminar in Kiehle Auditorium will explore "The Place of Technical Education in Minnesota." All interested persons may attend both events. Cost of the luncheon is $1.75.

The House Subcommittee on Agricultural Shortages holds a public hearing Feb. 20 at UMC.

UH--A dozen microfilters that can remove asbestos-like fibers from drinking water have been installed at UMD. Filters are located at drinking fountains in residence halls and Kirby Student Center. The filter installations are temporary until a more permanent city filtration system is installed.

Dizzy Gillespie and his quintet will be at UMD Feb. 28. Gillespie will present a jazz workshop for students at 2 and a concert at 8:15 p.m. Both events will be in Marshall Performing Arts Center.

MORRIS--E. Louise Curtis, chairwoman of UMM's elementary education department, died Feb. 15 after a lengthy illness. She received her Ph.D. from the U and taught on the TC campus and at Macalester before coming to UMM in 1963.

Two UMM people have been appointed to the Citizens' Advisory Council to the Morris City Council. They are William Stewart, Minority Student Program director, and Steven Hunt, Morris Campus Student Association president.

"For Land's Sake!," a UMM convocation series about man's relationship to the land, will begin at 7 p.m. Feb. 25 in Edson lounge with a panel discussion on a local planning issue.

Judge Thomas Stahler, eighth judicial district, speaks Feb. 28 at 2 in Edson lounge.

TWIN CITIES--Jack Merwin, Education dean, leaves New York March 13 with 24 other educators for an eight-day tour of the People's Republic of China. Although the agenda is up to their hosts, Merwin thinks the group will probably visit schools, a higher education campus, a rural commune, and maybe an after-school center for young children.

A rally marking the anniversary of the Wounded Knee occupation will be held at 12:30 Feb. 27 in Coffman main ballroom. Speakers are Dennis Banks, American Indian Movement (AIM) leader; lawyer William Kunstler; John Trudell, AIM national chairman; and Paul Ortega, Indian folk-singer. At 10:30 a.m. and 3:30 p.m., video presentations filmed at Wounded Knee during the 1973 occupation will be shown in 110 Anderson Hall. Roger Buffalohead, American Indian studies chairman, speaks at both sessions.

The Native American Theatre Ensemble will offer a dramatic presentation at 2 p.m. Feb. 27 in Coffman Union main ballroom. One of the purposes of the day-long events Feb. 27 is to build support for the Wounded Knee defendants on trial in St. Paul.

The U.S. Supreme Court's recent ruling on obscenity, giving communities power to determine standards of obscenity, and its implication for libraries will be the topic of a forum at 2 p.m. Feb. 25 in 125 Science Classroom building.

see Conservator Peter Williams presents a lecture, "Unveiling the Past: An Introduction to Painting and Sculpture Restoration," at 3:15 Feb. 28 in Architecture 25. Williams will reline a painting and demonstrate different techniques of conservation.

Larry Gates, professional stage, film, and TV actor, plays the title role in U Theatre's "King Lear." The play, which opens Feb. 21 and runs through March 10, is the premiere performance in the Whiting Theatre and marks the grand opening of Rarig Center. Frank Whiting directs the production. Gates, a U alumnus, is currently a member of the Guthrie Theater company. For ticket information, call Rarig Center, 373-2337.

The U's symphony band ensemble and symphonic band will present two free concerts in Northrop Auditorium. The symphony band ensemble will offer a program of Russian music Feb. 24 at 3 p.m. At 8 p.m. Feb. 28, the symphonic band will perform a representative selection of American music. The Director's Brass Ensemble, a U alumnae brass sextet, will be featured during the band's intermission.

WASECA--Roberto Russo, agricultural official from Argentina, toured UMW Feb. 12. One of Russo's primary responsibilities is two-year agricultural education in his country.

The UMW Overall Advisory Committee meets Feb. 20. VP Wenberg addresses the group.

Library directors from all U campuses held a meeting at UMW Feb. 14. The group also toured the new Learning Resources Center.

Vol. IV No. 19
February 20, 1974

A weekly internal bulletin serving all campuses

U Senate meets Feb. 28 at 3:15 in Nicholson Auditorium. Up for action are constitutional amendments on how alternate Senate representatives are selected and on the eligibility of CEE students for election to the Senate. Also up for action: an agreement between the Institute of Agriculture and the Institut National Agronomique Tunis to establish scientific and educational cooperation, and a report on policy and procedure for animal care and usage

Also on Senate agenda is a resolution designating 3:15-6 Thursdays as the principal meeting time for the Senate and its committees. Resolution also offers procedures for avoiding class schedule conflicts with meeting times for Senate business. Proposal suggests senators consider resigning if time conflicts exist.

The State Board of Health Feb. 14 voted 8-1 to return to the Metropolitan Health Board the U's request for a certificate of need to build unit B/C of health sciences complex. The city health board was asked to reconsider the request, including any modifications the U may offer to make the proposed clinic more acceptable. The plan would again be forwarded to the Metro Council and State Board of Health for action.

President Moos will discuss U goals in an address to the House Appropriations Committee Feb. 21.

Faculty members interested in attending a six-week (May 20-June 28) U of Michigan seminar intended to prepare women for administrative positions in colleges and universities may obtain application forms from Jean Schlemmer, 202 Morrill Hall. Applicants must submit a statement of endorsement from their unit administrators. U committee appointed by President Moos will select a U nominee. Filing deadline is March 4.

Malcolm M. Willey, academic administration VP from 1943-1963, died Feb. 12 in Maryville, Tenn. He joined U as professor of sociology in 1927, was named assistant to the president in 1932. He was instrumental in passing the U's first tenure code to prevent the firing of faculty members for what they said and wrote outside the classroom, and he helped establish the U Gallery and U Press.

William T. Middlebrook, former U comptroller and VP, died Feb. 16 in Florida. He became comptroller in 1933, was named business administration VP in 1943. He held that post until retirement in 1959. He was influential in the court case establishing the U as independent of legislative control, and in the U expansion to the West Bank.

CROOKSTON--President Moos is guest speaker at the Higher Education Day noon luncheon Feb. 22 in Bede Hall. His topic is "How the University Serves the State." A 10:30 a.m. seminar in Kiehle Auditorium will explore "The Place of Technical Education in Minnesota." All interested persons may attend both events. Cost of the luncheon is $1.75.

The House Subcommittee on Agricultural Shortages holds a public hearing Feb. 20 at UMC.

DULUTH--A dozen microfilters that can remove asbestos-like fibers from drinking water have been installed at UMD. Filters are located at drinking fountains in residence halls and Kirby Student Center. The filter installations are temporary until a more permanent city filtration system is installed.

Dizzy Gillespie and his quintet will be at UMD Feb. 28. Gillespie will present a jazz workshop for students at 2 and a concert at 8:15 p.m. Both events will be in Marshall Performing Arts Center.

MORRIS--E. Louise Curtis, chairwoman of UMM's elementary education department, died Feb. 15 after a lengthy illness. She received her Ph.D. from the U and taught on the TC campus and at Macalester before coming to UMM in 1963.

Two UMM people have been appointed to the Citizens' Advisory Council to the Morris City Council. They are William Stewart, Minority Student Program director, and Steven Hunt, Morris Campus Student Association president.

"For Land's Sake!," a UMM convocation series about man's relationship to the land, will begin at 7 p.m. Feb. 25 in Edson lounge with a panel discussion on a local planning issue.

Judge Thomas Stahler, eighth judicial district, speaks Feb. 28 at 2 in Edson lounge.

TWIN CITIES--Jack Merwin, Education dean, leaves New York March 13 with 24 other educators for an eight-day tour of the People's Republic of China. Although the agenda is up to their hosts, Merwin thinks the group will probably visit schools, a higher education campus, a rural commune, and maybe an after-school center for young children.

A rally marking the anniversary of the Wounded Knee occupation will be held at 12:30 Feb. 27 in Coffman main ballroom. Speakers are Dennis Banks, American Indian Movement (AIM) leader; lawyer William Kunstler; John Trudell, AIM national chairman; and Paul Ortega, Indian folk-singer. At 10:30 a.m. and 3:30 p.m., video presentations filmed at Wounded Knee during the 1973 occupation will be shown in 110 Anderson Hall. Roger Buffalohead, American Indian studies chairman, speaks at both sessions.

The Native American Theatre Ensemble will offer a dramatic presentation at 2 p.m. Feb. 27 in Coffman Union main ballroom. One of the purposes of the day-long events Feb. 27 is to build support for the Wounded Knee defendants on trial in St. Paul.

The U.S. Supreme Court's recent ruling on obscenity, giving communities power to determine standards of obscenity, and its implication for libraries will be the topic of a forum at 2 p.m. Feb. 25 in 125 Science Classroom building.

Conservator Peter Williams presents a lecture, "Unveiling the Past: An Introduction to Painting and Sculpture Restoration," at 3:15 Feb. 28 in Architecture 25. Williams will reline a painting and demonstrate different techniques of conservation.

Larry Gates, professional stage, film, and TV actor, plays the title role in U Theatre's "King Lear." The play, which opens Feb. 21 and runs through March 10, is the premiere performance in the Whiting Theatre and marks the grand opening of Rarig Center. Frank Whiting directs the production. Gates, a U alumnus, is currently a member of the Guthrie Theater company. For ticket information, call Rarig Center, 373-2337.

The U's symphony band ensemble and symphonic band will present two free concerts in Northrop Auditorium. The symphony band ensemble will offer a program of Russian music Feb. 24 at 3 p.m. At 8 p.m. Feb. 28, the symphonic band will perform a representative selection of American music. The Director's Brass Ensemble, a U alumnae brass sextet, will be featured during the band's intermission.

WASECA--Roberto Russo, agricultural official from Argentina, toured UMW Feb. 12. One of Russo's primary responsibilities is two-year agricultural education in his country.

The UMW Overall Advisory Committee meets Feb. 20. VP Wenberg addresses the group.

Library directors from all U campuses held a meeting at UMW Feb. 14. The group also toured the new Learning Resources Center.

Vol. IV No. 20
 February 27, 1974

A weekly internal bulletin serving all campuses

U Senate meets Feb. 28 at 3:15 in Nicholson Hall Auditorium. Coordinate campuses will participate via telephone hookup.

President Moos spoke to the House Appropriations Committee Feb. 21 about the U's drive for excellence and the need for increased funding. "Now that the pressure of spiraling enrollments has eased," he said, "we have a genuine opportunity to concentrate on the quality." Moos said an academic program review is now in process to trim or change programs to improve the U's good, but not great, standing.

The Ad Hoc Committee on Faculty Accountability, chaired by John Darley, expects to send policy recommendations on faculty consulting to VP Harold Chase this Friday (March 1). The draft will also be submitted to U Senate committees on faculty affairs and educational policy and to the Consultative Committee. The proposals are expected to be taken to U Senate for information and discussion April 18.

Faculty salaries at U have risen in ranking with other Big Ten public schools and California. Nine-month salary for assistant professor ranks 7th, for other classifications 4th. Twelve-month salaries for assistant and associate professors are 5th, for professors 6th, for instructors 3rd. Average 9-month salary is $22,096 for professor, $15,942 for associate professor, $12,832 for assistant professor, $10,723 for instructor.

The Consultative Committee discussed Feb. 21 a tuition proposal for 1974-75 that provides for an average increase of 4%. The increased tuition would cover about 26.6% of the instructional cost. The committee also voted to draft a subcommittee report on student service fees into legislation for action by the TC Campus Assembly and the Regents. Open hearings will be held for faculty-student input prior to Assembly vote.

Graduate assistants from all U campuses and experiment stations will vote in an April election to decide whether or not they will be represented by a union. The bargaining unit, according to the State Bureau of Mediation Services, includes those who work more than 14 hours a week and more than 100 days a year; the election will be by mail ballot. Assistants will choose between representation by the Graduate Assistant Chapter of the University of Minnesota Federation of Teachers and no representation.

1973-74 college freshmen, according to The Chronicle of Higher Education, are 18 years old (74.7%), white (88.5%), and 1973 high school grads (93.1%). Nearly half (49%) said one reason for choosing their college was academic reputation. Students consider themselves middle-of-the-road (48.2%) or liberal (33.2%) politically, and feel it is essential to become authorities in their fields (67%), develop a philosophy of life (64.7%), and help others who are in difficulty (56%).

CROOKSTON--The UMC wrestling team won the Northern Division championship in the Minnesota Junior College Athletic Association and placed second in the state competition. Rod Mosher was elected coach of the year.

VP Stanley Kegler visits UMC March 6 to meet with faculty and students.

DULUTH--The Dental Hygiene Program will hold an open house 2:30-5, March 1, in its new clinic in the Classroom-Laboratory building.

UMD Student Association survey shows students do not like the idea of a calendar change that would start fall classes early in September. Results showed 38% "strongly disagreed" and 29% "disagreed" with change. Slightly more than 10% of UMD students were surveyed.

A debate on the proposition "Resolved: That the Women's Liberation Movement Has Failed" will be held at 6:30 p.m. March 5 in Kirby Lounge. Two UMD students will argue affirmatively and two students from Victoria U of Wellington, New Zealand, negatively.

MORRIS--Students, faculty, and staff will participate in a winter weekend outing of cross-country skiing, snow shoeing, and tobogganing at Lake Itasca March 2-3.

Sam Wollmann, representative from the Hutterite Big Stone Colony, will speak on "Hutterite Values and Land-Use Planning in Utopia" at 2 March 5 in the Food Service Center. The lecture is part of the "For Land's Sake!" series of convocations.

Quarterly meeting of U Relations staff from all campuses will be at UMM March 4-5.

TWIN CITIES--Beginning March 1, U phone information service will be open 7:30 a.m.-6:30 p.m., Monday-Friday, instead of round-the-clock, due to retrenchment and the energy crisis. Campus callers dialing 0 for emergency will get U police instead of an operator. Off-campus callers with a campus emergency should continue to dial 373-3550.

Clovis Maksoud, Arab political scientist, speaks on "The Middle East and the Energy Crisis" at 7:30 p.m. Feb. 28 in Coffman Union junior ballroom. Maksoud is special envoy to the U.S. for the League of Arab States.

Area premiere of American composer Charles Ives' cantata, "The Celestial Country," highlights free choral concert March 3 at 8 p.m. in Scott Hall Auditorium. The concert is part of the U's year-long Minnesota Centennial Ives Festival. Tickets may be picked up until March 1 in 5 Wulling Hall. Reservations may be made by calling 373-3444.

George Stocking, Jr., Hill Visiting Professor of the History of Anthropology, lectures on "Reflections on British Anthropology and Colonialism" at 3:15 March 4 in Murphy Auditorium.

Next Campus Club First Tuesday Luncheon is at noon March 5 in the East Wing. Speaker will be Pearl Rosenberg, assistant dean of student affairs, Medical School.

The Center for Early Education and Development is sponsoring a free film-discussion series for interested community members. Persons may view recent films focusing on current issues in early development and education and hear comments by specialists and researchers. Sessions, held at various Twin Cities locations, begin at 7 p.m. For a list of topics and locations, contact the center, 226 Child Development, 376-3229. Reservations are necessary for each session.

Women's Studies offers its first course through Extension spring quarter. The course, Women's Studies, is an economic analysis of the roles of women in American and other economies and focuses on such issues as child care, the family, the woman as worker, and abortion. Course meets Tuesdays at 6:20 p.m. in 340 Blegen Hall; cost is $56. Contact Extension Classes, 101 Westbrook Hall, 373-3195.

Two leading classical musicians from India, Ustad Hafeez Ahmed Khan and Sri Subhash Jauhari, will be featured during spring quarter in courses and programs sponsored by the departments of South Asian studies and music. For more information, call 373-7700.

WASECA--"Who Will Control Agriculture?" was the theme of a convocation at UMW Feb. 26. Speaker was Martin Christenson, agricultural economics, TC campus.

Rural Development Emphasis Week is March 4-8 at UMW. Highlight of the week's activities is a convocation March 5 by Eliot Janeway, New York economist and syndicated columnist. His speech on "Agri-Power" will be presented at 10 a.m. in the auditorium.

MAE
8 BM65

brief

Vol. IV No. 21
March 6, 1974

A weekly internal bulletin serving all campuses

The Board of Regents holds its monthly meetings March 7-8 in Morrill Hall. The executive committee will hear updates from VP Kegler on the Legislature and from VP French on the Health Sciences Unit B/C. Also on the agenda are curriculum proposals for the Duluth and TC campuses, establishment of a Metric Center, a report on U Health Service policies and programs, and nonresident tuition.

The Regents will also take action on the 1974-75 budget plan. Up for discussion are revised enrollment projections and proposals for a U Hospitals Governance Board and for intramural sports fields and supporting equipment for the TC campus/West Bank. Paul Quie, pediatrics, and James Houck, agricultural and applied economics, will speak to the board March 8 about their activities while on single-quarter leaves.

The Ad Hoc Committee on Faculty Accountability has recommended that prior approval by the administration and Board of Regents be required for a faculty member's recurring consulting activities, paid for or not. Also, faculty members speaking before public groups should make known if they represent U and identify any sponsoring groups. The policy encourages professors to engage in public service and hold public office, but seeks to balance that service with the U's primary obligations to teaching and research.

The U Senate, at its Feb. 28 meeting, approved a report on policy and procedures for animal care and usage at the U, and an agreement with the Institut National Tunis to establish scientific and educational cooperation.

Also approved by the Senate: the creation of a task force to develop principles and guidelines to establish and maintain an equitable system of academic salaries, and a proposal to designate 3:15-6 Thursdays as the principal meeting time for the Senate and its committees. The proposal offers procedures for avoiding class schedule conflicts with meeting times for Senate business.

VP Harold Chase discussed with U Senate questions raised about the program to pursue excellence in special areas. He said there would be widespread consultation with faculty members and students and said many questions will be phrased to invite debate. "No substantive decisions have been made yet," he said, adding that his office expects to keep no secrets in the discussions on priorities.

President Moos attends March 8-11 in Ditchley Park, England, a British legislators conference on "Responsibilities of Governments, Legislatures, and the Media Towards the Public in Regard to Government Policies and Actions." The conference topics will be discussed with reference to Britain and the United States.

Richard Sheehan, a public information consultant and U instructor in communications, has been appointed head of U News Service, effective March 1. He succeeds Nancy Pirsig, who will devote full time to her position as assistant director of U Relations. Sheehan, who has completed coursework toward a Ph.D. in American studies, may be reached at 373-7510.

CROOKSTON--High School Indian Students College Career Day will be March 14 at UMC. Indian high school students will tour the campus and attend information sessions.

DULUTH--Art by students from 10 Minnesota colleges and the U will go on display March 9 in Tweed Museum of Art. It is the first such show in the state and is sponsored by Tweed Museum and the Art Educators of Minnesota. Exhibition runs through March 31.

UMD School of Medicine has received $91,768 from the Public Health Service to assist the Preceptor Program. Program allows freshman and sophomore medical students to spend time with area family physicians in their offices, making hospital calls, and performing other duties.

UMD accounting students have been giving income tax assistance to elderly and low-income citizens in Duluth. Accounting Club is running service in cooperation with the Volunteer Income Tax Assistance program of the Internal Revenue Service.

An interdisciplinary team of UMD researchers is studying environmental effects of a bubbler system in the Duluth-Superior harbor. The project is funded by a $23,000 grant from the U.S. Corps of Engineers. The bubbler system has been proposed as a way of keeping the harbor open for year-round shipping.

The UMD Speech and Hearing Clinic holds an open house for faculty and staff 1-5 p.m. March 7 in 5 Home Economics building.

MORRIS--"Education in the Crisis of Change: New Learners" is the topic of a panel discussion at 1 p.m. March 8 in Edson Auditorium. Speakers are Robert Fox, dean of students, Metropolitan Community College; George Ayres, University Without Walls, Metropolitan State College; and John Jones, director, Street Academy. The speakers will also meet with education classes that day.

Peter Carroll, TC campus history professor and "psychohistorian," speaks at 1 p.m. March 11 in Camden lounge on "Cleo on the Couch."

George Stocking, Jr., Hill Visiting Professor of the History of Anthropology, lectures at UMM on "Reflections on British Anthropology and Colonialism" at 7:30 p.m. March 11 in Art History 2, Humanities building.

TWIN CITIES--There will be a construction detour on the Minneapolis campus for several weeks. NSP has torn up half of 4th St. S.E. between 16th and 17th Aves. S.E. and will soon tear up half of 17th Ave. S.E. north to the railroad tracks. At that time, 17th Ave. will be one way northbound. During the construction period, Pillsbury Drive on campus may be used to get to 15th Ave. northbound.

Traffic from lots C51 and 33 during the construction should use 18th Ave. to 4th St. or 19th Ave. to University Ave. Police will man the corners of 17th Ave. and 4th St., 17th Ave. and 5th St., and 18th Ave. and 4th St. during rush hours.

March 8 is the last day to apply for the TC campus spring quarter computerized car-pool service. Applications are available at all student unions, Morrill Hall information booth, and U Transit Office, 224 Northrop. To have a form mailed, call 373-0374.

A National Geographic film, "America's National Parks," will be shown free of charge at noon March 8 in the Bell Museum of Natural History auditorium.

The Women's Chorale and St. Paul Campus Chorus will present a concert of sacred choral music at 8 p.m. March 10 in the St. Paul Student Center North Star ballroom. At 8 p.m. March 13, the Symphonic Chorus will perform the world premiere of U Professor Paul Fetler's "Lamentations" in Northrop Auditorium. There is no charge for either concert.

African art, including wood masks, sculpture, and textiles, is on exhibit in U Gallery through March 22. The gallery is on the third floor of Northrop Auditorium.

WASECA--"Pots and Plants," a telelecture sponsored by UMW and the Agricultural Extension Service, will be broadcast live over Waseca cable television March 4 at 8 p.m.

Vol. IV No. 22
March 13, 1974

A weekly internal bulletin serving all campuses

Five-member committee of faculty and Regents will interview each of 12 preferred candidates for U president, if they consent. Two have turned down an interview so far. Interviewers are not always the same group except for Regents Sherburne and Andersen.

The Regents, at their March 8 meeting, approved a compromise worked out between U administrators and a Metropolitan Health Board committee regarding Unit B/C of the health sciences complex. U officials agreed that the proposed clinic will have 156 examining rooms rather than 228 and that the U will develop and support a health clinic off campus, increase support for the Community-University Health Care Center in Minneapolis, and create a citizens' advisory board on health care delivery in the metropolitan area.

The Unit B/C compromise will be forwarded to the Metropolitan Health Board, the Metropolitan Council, and the State Board of Health. Approval by the agencies (needed by April 1 to meet the deadline for federal construction money) means renewal of the U's certificate of need, which is necessary to begin work on the building.

VPs Cashman and Wenberg informed the Regents that the U will be $3.5 million short of estimated student aid need for next year. According to Wenberg, the U prepared its legislative requests for student aid increases in line with the Nixon administration's student aid program only to have the bills that contained the student aid vetoed.

VP Brinkerhoff told the Regents that despite the U's overall 10% reduction in energy consumption, the U will fall short about $1.2 million in its energy budget on the TC campus alone. "Our gas bill has increased 62%, oil 102%, electricity 43%, water 40%, and sewer bills 86% over the past 13 months," he said. The U has called this problem to the attention of the 1974 Legislature.

U officials spoke to education subcommittee of the Senate finance committee March 12 to request a special appropriation for a faculty cost-of-living plan. No such plan is currently available, although the amended 1973 request included one.

Robert Sheran, chief justice of the Minnesota Supreme Court, spoke in support of a new Law School building March 7 before a joint hearing of the Senate education subcommittee and the House education division. Representatives of several legal groups and law students testified in favor of the new building. State Senator Jack Davies continued to oppose the building, however, saying the U has not adequately studied alternatives.

Last U presentation to the 1974 Legislature is March 14. Crookston, Duluth, and Waseca provosts will speak to the education division of the House appropriations committee.

Volunteers and/or nominations are being sought for membership on the Senate task force created to develop principles and guidelines to establish and maintain an equitable system of academic salaries. Contact Samuel Krislov, consultative committee chairman, at Political Science Department, 1414 Social Sciences, TC campus, before March 31.

Eight Horace T. Morse-Amoco Foundation awards will be given to faculty members who have made outstanding contributions to undergraduate education. U colleges engaged in prebaccalaureate education will submit nominations to the Council on Liberal Education by April 26. College nominating committees should send forms to Gordon Kingston, 317 Walter Library, TC campus; Kingston will answer questions and assist nominating committees.

CROOKSTON--UMC's Office of Special Programs has received a grant from the Minnesota Humanities Commission to sponsor an American Indian Week April 1-5. Arnold Oliver, special programs director, Ervie Glick, General Education Division chairman, and Lynette Mullins, communication and humanities, are responsible for programming.

Crookston has been selected by the National Humanities Series: Midwest Center as one of two Minnesota communities to sponsor three two-day sessions on the topic "Rural Lifestyle in Changing America." First session is on the theme "Rural Lifestyle Past and Present" at 8 p.m. March 18, Crookston National Bank. UMC is the cooperating agency.

DULUTH--The Upper Great Lakes Regional Commission has awarded $15,558 to UMD to study the feasibility of converting the Horticulture Center into an Environmental Education and Research Center. A 10-member task force will study the facility and develop a master plan for presentation to the 1975 Legislature.

"Interior Design 1" will be televised on WDSE-TV, channel 8, at 9 p.m. Mondays, starting April 1. See Twin Cities section for more information.

MORRIS--A group from the U of Northern Iowa inspected UMM's new Humanities Fine Arts Center March 8. A similar facility may be constructed on their campus.

VP Stanley Kegler visits March 13 to confer with UMM's consultative and administrative committees and with the Morris Campus Student Association. An open meeting will also be held with faculty, staff, and students.

Information sessions on UMM's University Without Walls program will be conducted in Alexandria March 20 via television and newspaper interviews and a public meeting. Participating are Russell May, director of the program; Karla Klinger, facilitator; and Catherine Marienau, coordinator, TC campus.

TWIN CITIES--About 100 persons held a rally March 7 to support the idea of a child-care center on campus for the children of faculty, staff, and students. The rally was held outside Morrill Hall prior to a Regents committee meeting at which the issue was briefly discussed. U administrators will review alternative plans for a child-care center at a March 18 meeting. A recommendation based on the proposals is expected to be submitted to the Regents at their April meeting.

The VPs have recommended to the president approval of a 1974-75 interim student fees policy proposed by the Student Assembly. A student services fees committee--composed of students, faculty, administrators--would review budget requests from campus groups seeking student fees support; only student committee members would vote. Recommendations would go to the Student Assembly for final allocations and then to the president and Regents. The interim policy goes to the Regents for information in April.

U Gallery will give a minitour of the exhibit "New York Artists of the 1920s" at 12:30 March 14, third floor galleries, Northrop Auditorium. No reservations are necessary.

The first in a series of spring seminars on Women's Studies will be held at noon March 19 in 320 Coffman Union. The seminars will cover such topics as advantages and disadvantages of a Women's Studies program, how to reconcile multiple expectations for the program, and how to integrate faculty from a variety of disciplines into the program.

"Interior Design 1" will be offered on KTCA-TV, channel 2, at 9 p.m. Mondays, beginning April 1. Tuition for the 4-credit course is $58, including a study guide. Register by mail now or in person March 18-27. Viewers not interested in earning credit may buy a study guide for $6. For more info, contact Extension Classes, 101 Westbrook, 373-3195.

WASECA--UMW and the Southern Experiment Station host Livestock Industry Day at the college March 14.

Vol. IV No. 23
March 20, 1974

A weekly internal bulletin serving all campuses

May Brodbeck, Graduate School dean, becomes dean of the faculties and vice president for academic affairs at the U of Iowa July 1. She will have the academic title of Carver Professor of Philosophy as well as her administrative titles at Iowa, her alma mater.

VP Chase has created an Academic Policy Planning Group to advise him and to develop and implement a plan by which the "margin of excellence decision-packages" will be reviewed for the 1975-77 legislative request. Other tasks include assisting units in developing mission statements and planning goals, helping coordinate the academic planning effort with the legislative request, and preparing a long-term plan for academic planning.

Chase will also seek input from the Senate consultative committee and Senate committees on educational policy and resources and planning. Policies formulated by the Academic Policy Planning Group will be reviewed by the Council of Academic Officers, which selects proposals to be recommended for inclusion in the 1975-77 budget. The planning group will have a faculty member and a student as well as administrative representatives.

The Metropolitan Health Board voted 15-0 March 13 to endorse the Unit B/C compromise worked out by U administrators and a Metro Health Board committee. The human resources committee of the Metropolitan Council approved the plan March 14 and the full council votes on the issue March 21. The plan then goes to the State Board of Health.

President Moos will mail a letter to provosts and deans this week containing detailed instructions for preparing the 1974-75 budget.

The CDC 6600 computer in the U Computer Center will be shut down March 22 (not before 6 p.m.) and removed the next day to make room for the CYBER 74. It is hoped that users' jobs can again be accepted by March 28. User Services staff members will be on duty at Experimental Engineering and at Lauderdale beginning March 28. Information on the status of the CYBER 74 may be obtained after March 26 by calling 373-4940.

The metric system and how it affects the individual will be the theme of a University State Fair exhibit next August. Anyone with suggestions about what should be included is invited to call Nancy Pirsig, 373-2126.

The U has been awarded a grant of up to $200,000 by the Rockefeller Foundation for support of a graduate training and research program in economic demography and development. The money will be used over a three-year period for graduate fellowships, summer faculty salaries, workshops, research, and inter-university conferences.

The Center for Youth Development and Research has moved from Walter Library to 325 Haecker Hall, TC campus/St. Paul. Telephone number remains 376-7624.

CROOKSTON--Rep. Robert Bergland visits UMC March 22 to speak to the American Institutions class at 11 a.m. in Kiehle Auditorium. The public is invited.

DULUTH--The UMD Campus Assembly approved March 15 the establishment of a Center for the Study of Canadian Affairs. The center would increase contact with Canadian universities, hold a summer conference, and sponsor courses relating to Canadian affairs. Private funding will be sought for the first two years.

The UMD Assembly also modified the academic probation policy. Under the new plan, a check will be made each quarter instead of once yearly on a student's academic progress. Once on probation, a student now may continue on probation indefinitely as long as his work each quarter thereafter is satisfactory. Previously, a student could be dismissed if he did not begin to make up the deficiency.

Five Iron Range community college presidents and their wives will be guests at UMD March 22. The presidents will meet in the afternoon with administrators and faculty and student affairs representatives.

"Children's Literature for Parents," a course about children's books, will be offered spring quarter. It is open to UMD students and persons from the community. First meeting is at 4 April 1; class hours will be arranged after the first session.

MORRIS--Jooinn Lee, political science, has received a grant from the Minnesota Humanities Commission to conduct a series of seminars on "Small Towns in Minnesota" this spring and summer. Dates and locations of towns in which seminars will be held are now being set.

"Interior Design 1" will be televised on KWCM-TV, channel 10, beginning April 1. The program airs at 9 p.m. Mondays.

TWIN CITIES--Employees affected by the new U civil service compensation plan will have another chance to see the 45-minute videotape presentation of the plan. Showings on the TC campus will be every day, March 25-29, at 12:05 in 130 Blegen Hall, 120 Burton Hall, and 12 Palmer Classroom building. Employees should turn on the television sets in those rooms to channel 6.

Coached by Herb Brooks, the Gopher hockey team won the 1974 NCAA championship in Boston March 16, the first in Minnesota's history.

Requests for spring quarter renewal of U official business parking permits should be sent now to U Police; old permits expire April 1. The internal circulation committee, which reviews and issues permits according to need, accepts comments on the system. Temporary one-day permits are available from police headquarters for half-hour loading or unloading stops or for two-hour stops in official vehicle zones.

U tax-exempt passenger vehicles do not need business parking permits but should use official vehicle areas for their business. Parking is limited to two hours in those areas.

The University Religious Advisory Board has proposed a cooperative campus-community program that would focus on human issues and values. The program would provide experiences to increase awareness of value implications in various campus decision-making situations. Students would research specific causes and issues, evaluate U programs and the community, and discuss such topics as careers, lifestyles, human relationships, religion, and death. A 12-member board, including at least six students, would determine policy.

Continuing Education for Women offers "Conversational French," a spring-quarter course for students who have had even a smattering of French. The course will be taught 12:05-12:55 p.m. Tuesdays and Thursdays, April 2-May 2, in 98 Folwell Hall. Cost is $15; register through Continuing Education for Women, 200 Westbrook Hall, 373-9743.

A preview of new paintings by Marian Ortolf Bagley will be held 2-5 March 31 in the Lounge Gallery, St. Paul Campus Student Center. The works will be on exhibit through April 26.

WASECA--The Light Horse Advisory Committee meets at UMW March 22.

Vol. IV No. 24
April 3, 1974

A weekly internal bulletin serving all campuses

The state Legislature has allocated $400,000 in planning funds for the U's proposed new Law School building. The Legislature also granted the U $150,000 for Minneapolis campus planning and $30,000 in planning funds for a St. Paul campus library.

In other action, the Legislature appropriated: $403,935 to make up for the U's lost income in 1973-74 due to the Minnesota-Wisconsin tuition reciprocity agreement; $750,000 for a kidney dialysis unit at U Hospitals; $110,000 for Project Newgate; $15,000 for the summer juvenile justice institutes; and $62,000 for the Agricultural Extension Service. The U also received $35,000 for Dutch elm disease research.

The Board of Regents holds its monthly meetings April 4-5 in Morrill Hall. The executive committee will discuss the effect of the 1974 legislative session on the U and the progress made with Unit B/C. The Regents will also discuss the reorganization of the Duluth campus, the goals of the College of Education, the long-range goals of the College of Liberal Arts, and proposals for a child-care center on the Twin Cities campus.

The Minnesota hockey team, 1974 NCAA championship winners, will receive a citation at the April 5 Regents meeting.

A faculty activity analysis conducted fall quarter by Management Planning and Information Services shows that the average full-time U instructor spends some 60 hours a week on teaching and research. Faculty members spend 35.4 hours in direct teaching activities. Research and related duties are almost on an "overtime basis." The report also concludes that classroom contact hours do not fully measure time devoted to teaching and related activities. The analysis continues through the summer sessions.

The State Board of Health voted March 28 to grant the U a certificate of need necessary for building Unit B/C of the health sciences complex. The board acted in time for the U to submit its application for federal construction money by the April 1 deadline.

The Darley committee's draft report on faculty accountability will be printed in the Senate docket in the Minnesota Daily April 11 for the meeting April 18. Those wishing to see a copy before then should contact Academic Administration, 373-2033.

Enrollment of minority students at the U has remained stable the last two years. A fall-quarter count shows that 4.2% of the students identified themselves as American Indians, Afro-Americans, Asian-Americans, or Spanish-surnamed Americans. A count taken in fall 1972 showed that 4.1% identified themselves as minorities. In contrast, a recent national survey of higher education institutions shows that minority enrollments are on the decline elsewhere, from 7.2% in 1972 to 6.5% in 1973.

Enrollment by campus shows 7 minority students at Crookston, 140 at Duluth, 54 at Morris, none at Waseca, 1,867 at Twin Cities, and 9 at the Mayo Graduate School of Medicine, for a minority enrollment of 2,077. Total U enrollment is 49,735.

The Council on Liberal Education is accepting proposals for improvement of undergraduate curriculum and teaching under the Small Grants Program. Proposals, which may be submitted by individual faculty members, faculty groups, and faculty-student groups, should be sent to the Center for Educational Development, 317 Walter Library, by May 6.

The Consulting Group on Instructional Design will offer a seminar/workshop spring quarter for faculty members interested in developing new instructional designs and new approaches to the evaluation of learning and teaching in their courses. The seminar meets weekly for two hours; first meeting is the week of April 8. To register, call LaVonne Molde, 373-5352.

CROOKSTON--Business Division Chairman Ted Carr has resigned to enter private business. Provost Stanley Sahlstrom has appointed Robert Smith, business, acting chairman.

Speakers, American Indian artists, and discussion groups are part of American Indian Week '74 being held in Crookston this week. Sponsored by UMC and the Minnesota Humanities Commission, Indian Week is an attempt to bring together Indians and non-Indians to discuss and learn about significant contemporary issues that affect Indians.

UMC's Division of Home and Family Services will hold an open house and sponsor discussion groups in recognition of the national Week of the Young Child, March 31-April 6.

DULUTH--The elementary education department will give admission exams in April for students planning to enter the professional education sequence next fall. Testing dates and times are April 6, 13, UMD Home Economics 70, 9 a.m.-1:30 p.m.; April 13, Mesabi Community College, 9-1:30; and April 20, North Hennepin Community College, 9-1:30. For more information, contact Harry C. Johnson, 726-7134.

The Alumni Association will sponsor a wine and cheese party for alumni and friends at 7:30 p.m. April 6 at the Radisson South, Bloomington. For reservations, call Herb Lewis, St. Paul, 690-3347. Cost is $4 per person, with profits to the UMD emergency loan fund.

Freshman W. Daniel Schreck is the new editor of the Statesman. He replaces Judy Cavanaugh, who resigned at the end of winter quarter.

MORRIS--During quarter break, 37 UMM students participated in a week-long educational tour of New York City's theatrical district as part of the "Backstage on Broadway" course offered for credit by UMM's Theatre Arts and the Field Studies of New York.

"How Would You Like a Power Plant in Your Back Yard?" is the topic of a debate April 10 at 8 p.m. in Edson Lounge. Speakers are Robert Poppe, manager of NSP's environmental affairs department, and Carroll Nelson, VP of SAVE (Save America's Vital Energy). The program is part of the "For Land's Sake!" convocation series.

"Sexism and Communication on Campus" will be discussed by Julie Andrzejewski, speech instructor at St. Cloud State College, at 3 p.m. April 10 in Edson Lounge.

TWIN CITIES--"I Don't Think I Will Sing Any More Just Now," a documentary on the life of Pulitzer-Prize-winning poet John Berryman, will be shown at 9 p.m. today (April 3) on KTCA-TV, ch. 2. Berryman was a U Regents' professor at the time of his death in 1972. Carol Johnsen, formerly of U Relations, produced the film with the cooperation of Berryman's widow, Kate. U Media Resources cinematographer Paul Eide filmed the documentary.

The impact of social change on young people is the subject of a lecture and seminar April 8-9. Joseph Eaton, sociology professor at the U of Pittsburgh, speaks on "A Cross-Cultural View of Youth" April 8 at 3:30 in Mayo Auditorium. The seminar (reservations required) will be 9-11 a.m. in the Fireplace Room, McNeal Hall, April 9. To make reservations, call the Center for Youth Development and Research, 376-7624.

Sydney Ahlstrom, professor of American history and modern church history at Yale U, will give the sixth annual lecture in religious studies April 8 at 3:30 in Murphy Hall auditorium. He will speak on "Romanticism as a Religious Revolution."

WASECA--Information Day April 4 gives high school counselors and students a chance to come to UMW and look over the programs.

Vol. IV No. 25
April 10, 1974

A weekly internal bulletin serving all campuses

C. Peter Magrath, 40, president of the State U of New York at Binghamton, was named U president by the Regents April 8. A temporary president will be named from within the U to serve during the interim between President Moos' departure July 1 and Magrath's arrival sometime between September 15 and October 1. Magrath's salary will be $60,000--$48,000 in public money and the remainder from the University of Minnesota Foundation, which raises private money for the U.

"I am deeply honored and especially challenged by the opportunity to work with the Board of Regents, the faculty, staff, and students of the University and all of the people of the state of Minnesota in moving the University to a position of unequalled excellence," said Magrath, whose academic background is in political science. Magrath's appointment is effective for five years, with a review at the end of the fourth year to determine renewal for another five-year term. The limited term and review are at Magrath's request.

The U's constitutional autonomy from political control was discussed April 4 by the Regents, who questioned implementing an act of the state legislature requiring the U to report the sex and race of applicants to the U's professional schools. Regent Elmer Andersen said that gathering such data could lead to discrimination charges. Autonomy came up again in discussion of an act requiring the governor to name a three-member board to approve architects on all state building projects, including those at the U.

At the request of President Moos, the Senate consultative committee, at its April 4 meeting, took up the question of establishing a search committee for a new Graduate School dean. The committee voted to recommend to the president that such a committee be established. It is expected that Moos would not fill the post but would leave the appointment to the new president.

In other action, the consultative committee approved a report to be presented to the Senate on civil service representation in the Senate. The report recommends that, before action is taken, proponents of such representation secure statements from the recognized collective bargaining agents that they would not regard such inclusion in the U Senate an unfair practice, or some statement from the State Mediation Board, and that they develop a concrete proposal after careful study of the Senate structure.

Jean Schlemmer, administrative assistant to the president, has resigned to become administrative assistant to the president of Cedar-Riverside Associates, Inc. Her last day at the U is April 15.

U Compensation Manager Nan Weiner has moved. Her office is now in 317 Morrill Hall, telephone is 376-3176.

All faculty and staff members planning to retire by June 30 should inform the department of insurance and retirement immediately, if they have not already done so. The information is necessary for their inclusion in retirement ceremony activities.

CROOKSTON--Arnold Oliver, coordinator of special programs, has accepted a position with the Minnesota Council of Churches. A search committee is accepting applications for his replacement.

DULUTH--Local businessmen will host members of the UMD Business Administration Club at its annual banquet April 18 at the Hotel Duluth. On the program are presentations of the Outstanding Businessman Award and scholarships to business students.

The St. Paul Chamber Orchestra will make a two-day appearance in Duluth April 15-16. Small ensembles will perform Monday in Marshall Performing Arts Center, and members of the orchestra will hold clinics for UMD students on Tuesday in the center. The orchestra performs in concert at 8:30 p.m. Tuesday in the Duluth Auditorium.

MORRIS--"Americans and the Land: Past Perspectives" is the topic of a lecture by David Noble, history, Twin Cities campus. The talk, part of the "For Land's Sake!" convocation series, will be April 16 at 2 p.m. in Edson Lounge.

TWIN CITIES--The Regents have approved a tentative proposal that the administration seek to establish a child-care center as part of an academic program. The $141,000 proposal must go through regular academic channels, the U Senate, and the Higher Education Coordinating Commission before it is returned to the Regents for final consideration. The 75-child center would accommodate children of faculty, staff, and students. The U would provide $81,000 the first year of operation, with the remainder coming from users' fees.

Robert Poor, U art history professor who recently returned from the People's Republic of China, will give two free lectures. The first, "Everyday Life in China: A Peking Commune," is April 11 at 8 p.m. The second lecture, on Chinese art and archaeology, is April 18 at 8 p.m. Both lectures are in 175 West Bank Auditorium Classroom building.

A two-day conference at the U will explore how social, psychological, and educational issues affect black people and their survival. "Perspectives in Black Psychology: Issues and Insights" meets April 11-12 in Coffman Union. A $3 registration fee can be waived for those who cannot afford it. For more information or to preregister, contact Vanne Hays, 205 Coffman Union, 373-7600.

Editorial cartoons by Roy Justus and Scott Long are on exhibit in the Heggen room of Murphy Hall through April 12. Justus, cartoonist for the Minneapolis Star, and Long, cartoonist for the Minneapolis Tribune, speak at noon April 11 in Murphy Hall auditorium.

Women's Studies is sponsoring a series of spring seminars. A session on feminist perspectives in literature and arts will be presented by Toni McNaron, English, and Linda Jenkins, theatre, April 12 at 12:15 in 343-5 Coffman Union. A seminar on feminist perspectives in natural/behavioral sciences will be held with Dr. Margaret Horrobin, pediatrics, and Mary Jo Kingston, psychology, April 17 at 3:30 in the women's lounge, Coffman.

The College of Business Administration and Business Administration Alumni Association sponsor the first of a series of quarterly luncheons at 12:15 April 19 in the Marquette Inn ballroom. Harry Levinson, president of the Levinson Institute, is the speaker; his topic is "Dilemmas of Top Management: A Second Look." Interested persons should call 373-4494 by April 12 for reservations. Cost is $6.75.

China Week will be observed on the TC campus April 15-20 with films, forums, exhibits, speakers, an artcraft fair, and a six-course Chinese dinner. The week-long program is highlighted by guest speaker William Hinton, China expert and author. Hinton speaks on "The Cultural Revolution in China" April 17 at 7:30 p.m. in Coffman Union main ballroom. For information about the other events, call Sung, 331-2937 or 373-3673.

A six-session course on fly rod fishing will begin April 15 at 7 p.m. in the North Star ballroom, St. Paul Student Center. Cost is $10. Call 373-1051 for information.

Congressman Donald Fraser will hold an open coffee hour to discuss such issues as the economy, integrity in government, and energy and transportation problems at 2:30 April 17 in the Campus Club library, Coffman Memorial Union.

Vol. IV No. 26
April 17, 1974

A weekly internal bulletin serving all campuses

C. Peter Magrath, President Moos' successor, will meet with faculty, staff, and students April 19 in Coffman Union main lounge. The reception is 3-5 p.m., with an address by President Magrath at 4. His wife Sandra and daughter Valerie are expected to attend.

The Bush Foundation has awarded the Graduate School a four-year grant totaling $2 million for doctoral program fellowships. The grant, the largest single award to date by the foundation, will provide $600,000 a year to the U during 1974-75 and 1975-76, and smaller amounts the following two years. Individual stipends up to a maximum of $5,000 will be set by the Graduate School.

The U also received two grants for projects the Bush Foundation has supported in the past. A one-for-one matching grant of $25,000 will help fund the Institute of Technology's Peer Teaching Program in public junior and senior high schools in Minneapolis and St. Paul. The foundation also gave $5,550 to the University of Minnesota Foundation to publish the results of the Messenia archeological expedition in Greece.

"Pay for performance" salary increases for civil service staff go into effect June 1 for Schedule A (administrative and professional), July 1 for Schedule C (clerical and technical). Money is available to fund increases in full--4% for one-step increase and 8% for two-step increase. Departments can now tell staff members what increases they will receive. For more information, call Nan Weiner, 376-3176.

All civil service employees will receive cost-of-living increases July 1. Amount is still to be determined.

Central administrators have completed their review of requests for 1974-75 salary equity allotments submitted by academic units. A salary equity schedule was developed by Academic Administration and reviewed by the Senate consultative committee. Determinations were made, in large part, based on market competition factors. A report on equity recommendations now goes to the Senate task force working on long-term equity solutions.

The U Senate meets April 18 at 3:15 in Nicholson Hall auditorium. Senate members will elect a new vice chairman and hear reports from the ad hoc committee on faculty accountability, the Senate committee on faculty affairs, the U appeals committee on academic freedom and responsibility, and the Senate committee on educational policy.

Guidelines under which U areas or events may be designated for possession and consumption of alcoholic beverages have been developed by an ad hoc committee and approved by the president. Copies of the guidelines and applications for liquor use at an event are available at the president's office, provosts' offices, and student centers and unions.

Seventy percent of the people questioned in a Minneapolis Tribune poll taken in February have a favorable view of the U. In a 1972 poll, 67% were favorable; in 1970, 65%.

CROOKSTON--Rep. William Kelly, Grand Forks, is the guest speaker at UMC's annual honors dinner April 23 at 6:30 in the Trojan Inn.

DULUTH--Mezzo-soprano Nancy Williams, St. Paul Opera Association affiliate artist, is in Duluth this week presenting clinics, master classes, and performances. Included in her schedule is a concert April 19 at 8:15 p.m. in Marshall Performing Arts Center.

The first annual Elizabethan dinners will be April 23-25 at 6:30 in Kirby ballroom. The events feature a six-course meal, madrigal music, court jesters, and wandering minstrels. Call the UMD ticket office, 726-8561, for reservations; cost is $6.50.

An environmental quality photo contest will be held for Earth Days April 23-25. The contest is open to junior and senior high school and college students. Photos, black and white or color, must comment on the environment of northeastern Minnesota. Entry deadline is April 23. For information, call 726-8157. Prizes will be awarded.

Earth Days programs, sponsored by Students for Environmental Defense, will cover transportation April 23, "Doing It Yourself" April 24, and environmental careers April 25. Grant Merritt, director of the Pollution Control Agency, will be a speaker April 25.

Fifteen scholars speak at UMD at an international conference on Finnish emigration and Finnish-American cultural history. The conference, "The Finnish Experience in the Western Great Lakes Region: New Perspectives," is at Marshall Performing Arts Center April 25-27. All sessions are open to the public. For info, contact Michael Karni, Center for Immigration Studies, St. Paul, or Matti Kaups, 315 SS, UMD, 726-7255. Registration is $1.50.

Lake Superior and Minnesota sections of the American Chemical Society will hold their 17th annual undergraduate symposium in chemistry at UMD April 27. Students are invited to present papers. For more information, contact Robert Carlson, chemistry, 726-7231.

MORRIS--Well-known New York City composer and arranger Alice Parker will participate in a week-long "Artist in Residence" program at UMM April 19-26. Her stay will be highlighted by conducting performances with the UMM Chamber Choir April 21 and with the Festival Choir and Orchestra April 25. Both events are at 8:15 p.m. in Edson auditorium.

The Doshisha U Glee Club from Kyoto, Japan, will sing in a UMM Performing Arts Series event April 20 at 8:15 p.m. in Edson auditorium.

UMM's adult seminar series on "Small Towns in Minnesota" begins April 22 with a lecture on "The Small Town and the Philosophy of Growth" by John Diehl, philosophy. The speech will be at 8:30 p.m. in Starbuck High School.

"How Should Minnesota Plan the Use of Its Lands?" is the title of a discussion between Sen. Charles Berg, Chokio, and Sen. Robert Dunn, Princeton. The event, April 24 at 7:30 p.m. in Edson lounge, is part of the "For Land's Sake!" convocation series.

TWIN CITIES--TC campus students voted April 12 to adopt a new student government constitution that restructures student governance under the Twin Cities Student Assembly and abolishes the Minnesota Student Association. The new constitution, effective immediately after passage, was developed to streamline student government and eliminate overlapping duties. Seventy-four percent of the 1,985 students who voted approved the constitution.

Dr. Toni Mariani, laboratory medicine and pathology, has received a $100,000 Scholar Award from the Leukemia Society of America, Inc. Mariani will use the five-year award to further her investigation of the dynamics of viruses and the immune system in leukemia.

Minneapolis Mayor Albert Hofstede and the City Council have designated April 15-20 China Week and are encouraging people to attend week-long events at the U. Highlight is a lecture on the Chinese cultural revolution by William Hinton today (April 17) at 7:30 p.m. in Coffman Union main ballroom. A reception follows at 9:30 in the junior ballroom.

Reinhold Merkelbach, professor of Greek at the U of Cologne, Germany, will present an illustrated lecture on "The Girl in the Rose Bush, A Turkish Tale and Its Roots in Ancient Ritual" April 23 at 3:15 in 351 Coffman Memorial Union.

Vol. IV No. 27
April 24, 1974

A weekly internal bulletin serving all campuses

C. Peter Magrath, U president-designate, has called for the "pursuit of excellence" to be undertaken in part through a tough internal evaluation of U programs and priorities. "The means to excellence will include an assessment, an evaluation of our strengths, our weaknesses, and our potential," Magrath said during a visit April 19-20 to the TC campus. "It will require the setting of some tough internal priorities as we go down the road of evaluation and study."

Determining priorities "is a very delicate thing because you want to make sure that you're not destroying morale, that you're providing creative outlets for people in as many programs as possible," Magrath said. "But I'm absolutely convinced it has to be done." Magrath said his inclination is to make such evaluations public and open to discussion.

U Senate members April 18 discussed the proposed faculty consulting policy developed by the ad hoc committee on faculty accountability. Among changes recommended was the cutting down of the number of activities faculty members would be required to report. The committee will reconvene to draw up amendments to the proposed policy. A special Senate meeting will be held May 9 to go over the proposed amendments to the policy.

In other action, the Senate elected George Shapiro, speech-communication, TC campus, vice chairman of the Senate for 1974-75. His term begins July 1. The Senate also approved the report and recommendations, with minor amendments, of the U appeals committee on academic freedom and responsibility. Senators also approved the report of the Senate committee on educational policy, which supports international education at the U and establishes a U Council on International Education.

Two important changes have been made in civil service "pay for performance" plan since procedures manual was published. New provisions allow more flexibility in granting increases to part-time employees and administrative and professional employees hired after July 1, 1973. Watch for story in May 1 Report.

"The American Political System in Crisis" is the theme of the annual spring retreat offered through Continuing Education for Women. Leaders of seminar discussions are Joanne Arnaud, political science, TC campus, and Clarke Chambers, history, TC campus. Cost of the May 18-19 retreat at the St. Croix Heights Motel is $50 (including room, board, lectures). Men and women may attend. Call 373-9743 for more information.

CROOKSTON--Don Morgan, educational administration, TC campus, conducts a workshop, "Practicum---Administration and Articulation of Post-Secondary Career Education," at UMC April 27 for teachers in northwestern Minnesota.

An exhibition of works by composer/painter Carl Ruggles opens April 29 at the First National Bank community room. The exhibit was coordinated by UMC.

DULUTH--The seventh annual Patrons and Subscribers Geranium dinner will be May 1 at UMD's Tweed Museum of Art. Arnold Jolles, conservator at the Minneapolis Institute of Arts, will speak on "Conservation and Analysis of Works of Art." Reservations must be made by April 26; cost is $6.50. Write to the Tweed Museum or call 726-8222.

John Green, geology, and Allen Coyner, graduate student, will speak on "Basaltic Komatiites in the Vermilion District, Minnesota" and "Geology of the Copper-Cobalt Veins at Loon Lake, Minnesota" April 25 at 3:30 in 185 Life Science building.

The UMD sociology-anthropology department is sponsoring a series of award-winning films spring quarter. "The Yanomamo" and "Magical Death," which illustrate the lifeways of an Indian group in Brazil and their ritual use of hallucinogens, will be shown April 26 at noon in 345 A.B. Anderson Hall.

U Press director John Ervin, TC campus; will hold an open meeting May 2 at 1:30 in the Regents' room, Administration building, to talk about the U Press.

MORRIS--A "World Touch" festival May 2-6 highlights the year-long campus and community awareness program at UMM. Speakers include American Indian Movement leader Russell Means and Mark Lane, AIM co-defense lawyer (May 3, 7 p.m.); civil rights activist Dick Gregory (May 4, 7 p.m.); Chun-jo Liu, East Asian languages, TC campus (May 6, 1 p.m.); and St. Paul councilwoman Rosalie Butler (May 6, 7 p.m.). All talks will be held in Edson auditorium and are free and open to the public.

Palmer Eide, emeritus professor of art, speaks at a "For Land's Sake!" convocation program, "How to Build Ugly," April 30 at 2 p.m. in Edson lounge.

Jane Van Deusen, socialist candidate for governor, will talk on "Watergate and the Myth of American Democracy" May 1 at 2 p.m. in Edson lounge.

Sculpture show opens May 1 with a talk at 4 in UMM's Humanities Fine Arts Center gallery.

Haskell Fain, philosophy department chairman, U of Wisconsin-Madison, speaks on "Phenomenology of Tic Tac Toe" May 2 at 2 p.m. in the TV studio. He speaks on "What Political Philosophers Have Done and What They Ought To Be Doing" at 8 p.m. in the Science auditorium.

Dennis Holloway, architecture and landscape architecture, TC campus, speaks on "How to Build an Energy Self-Sufficient House" May 2 at 4 p.m. He talks about "Spaced-Out Housing" at 7:30 p.m. Both talks are in Edson lounge.

TWIN CITIES--The Campus Assembly meets April 25 at 3:30 in Nicholson Hall. Assembly members will elect a vice chairman for 1974-75 and vote on a proposed constitutional amendment that would change the number of votes required to amend the constitution.

Well-known Spanish playwright and film director Fernando Arrabal will present "Fernando Arrabal, In Person" April 25 at 4 p.m. in the Bell Museum of Natural History auditorium. His talk will be trilingual (Spanish, French, English) with the help of interpreters.

"How Women's Studies Can Serve Home Economics, Education, Nursing, Architecture, and IT," part of a Women's Studies spring quarter seminar series, will be presented April 26 at 12:15 in 307-9 Coffman Memorial Union.

The Kerlan Collection, Research Center for Children's Books, is celebrating its 25th anniversary with special events through October. Among the events are Walter Library exhibits (through October), an open house for the collection (April 26), dinner with children's books illustrator Roger Duvoisin (May 8), a 25th anniversary tea (May 9), and a Book Week banquet (October 22). For more information about events, call 373-9731.

The College of Veterinary Medicine will hold an open house 12-5 p.m. April 28. A tour includes exhibits and demonstrations, and animals from the Como Park Zoo will be on display. Free parking will be available near the college, which is on Commonwealth Ave., west of the State Fairgrounds in St. Paul.

E. Suárez-Galbán, critic and Spanish department chairman, Mount Holyoke College, will lecture in Spanish April 29 at 4:15 p.m. in 104 Folwell Hall. His topic is "La Vida de Torres-Villaroel: Literatura Antipicaresca, Autobiografía Burguesa."

Vol. IV No. 28
May 1, 1974

A weekly internal bulletin serving all campuses

A committee of ten faculty members and three students has been named to seek a Graduate School dean and an academic administration vice president. The group was named by President Moos after consultation with President-designate C. Peter Magrath. Moos asked the committee, chaired by George Shapiro, to submit a list of three to five names for each position by Sept. 15. Magrath will conduct personal interviews with the finalists. The resignation of Graduate School Dean May Brodbeck is effective July 1.

Graduate assistants from all U campuses voted in an April election against representation by a union. Of 1,788 eligible voters, 1,245 returned ballots. The vote was 827 for no representation and 409 in favor of representation by the Graduate Assistant Chapter of the University of Minnesota Federation of Teachers. There were 9 void ballots.

Beginning July 1, the U will contribute $10 a month toward the total cost of all dependent hospital-medical-surgical insurance then in force. The monthly cost to employees for dependent health insurance will be $27.52 for Group Health, $24.34 for Blue Cross-Blue Shield high option, and $8.66 for low option. Open enrollment in May gives employees a chance to purchase dependent insurance or change health carriers without showing insurability. See April letter from insurance and retirement for details.

U observance of the 1976 national bicentennial anniversary will be coordinated through U Relations offices on each campus (Campus Relations office at UMD). Those wishing to serve on a campus bicentennial committee should contact their U Relations office. TC campus and all-U coordinator is Kelley Godfrey, 373-2126. See story in May 1 Report.

A subcommittee on teacher evaluation, appointed by the Senate committee on educational policy, has completed its report on the role of evaluation of teaching at the U. The committee hopes to present the report and its recommendations to the Senate for action at its May meeting.

Information is now available on faculty Fulbright awards and on Fulbright grants for graduate study abroad. Application deadlines are July 1, 1974, for the faculty Fulbright awards and October 11, 1974, for the grants for study abroad. For information, contact the Graduate Fellowship Office, 309 Johnston Hall, TC campus, 373-2833.

Faculty members are asked to inform their students that "Internships in Population" are available. Students will carry out an action-oriented project related to population and may work with the state Legislature, health departments, or family planning agencies. For more information, contact Dr. Harry Foreman, Center for Population Studies, 4208 Powell Hall, TC campus, 373-9656.

DULUTH--The UMD Campus Assembly adopted a resolution last week that identifies an associate degree from a community or junior college as an alternative pattern for meeting UMD lower division requirements, providing the degree contains a minimum of 45 credits comparable to UMD liberal education courses.

The Assembly also reversed a previous decision and chose to begin the 1975-76 academic year at the same time as the Twin Cities campus. The body had adopted a resolution to begin classes in early September, 1975.

UMD residence hall rates will increase from 2% to 4% next year. The most popular choice, a double room and 20 meals, will go from $403 to $418 per quarter. Apartments will go up $5 per quarter, single rooms up $30.

Student elections are April 29-May 1. Students will fill 25 offices, including the presidencies of the UMD Student Association, the Kirby Program Board, and the senior class. Other offices include 18 seats in the Student Congress and 3 on the Board of Publications. A senior class vice president will also be elected.

Next in a spring quarter series of films featuring a variety of cultures from all over the world are "Soltero" and "Appeals to Santiago," which look at life in rural Mexico. The films will be shown May 3 at noon in 345 A.B. Anderson Hall.

MORRIS--Ralph Rapson, head of the School of Architecture and Landscape Architecture and architect for UMM's new Humanities Fine Arts Center, will speak on "The Ten Commandments for Architectural Design" May 7 at 7:30 p.m. in Edson lounge. The program is part of the "For Land's Sake!" convocation series.

Geri Joseph, contributing editor to the Minneapolis Tribune, will participate in a convocation lecture May 10 at 2 p.m. in Edson lounge.

TWIN CITIES--U and Minneapolis police officers will walk beats in teams as part of a new cooperative program that begins in early May. The program also includes the exchange of training facilities and community relations projects. U Police Chief Eugene Wilson said the team approach will better acquaint U patrol officers with the outside community and will give Minneapolis police officers a chance to learn about the TC campus/Minneapolis.

Regents' Professor of Economics Leonid Hurwicz was elected to the National Academy of Sciences April 23. Nationally, there are 1,077 living members in the academy.

Barbara-Ann March took first place in the TC campus primary race for student body president. She won 428 of 1,710 votes cast. Richard Evans was second with 277 votes and Patrick Pechacek was third with 272. The three candidates will be on the general election ballot May 7-8. CLA students will also vote for 16 senators in the May elections.

"Woman Power: Personal and Organizational," a workshop for U women, will be held May 4, 9 a.m.-4 p.m., women's lounge, Coffman Union. The one-day session is open to all women of the U community. Cost is $2 and includes lunch. For information, call 373-4160. Registration deadline is tomorrow (May 2).

"Power and Feminism," next in the Women's Studies seminar series, will be May 6 at 3:15 in 325-7 Coffman Union. Speakers will be May Brodbeck, Graduate School dean, and Anne Truax, Minnesota Women's Center director.

U Gallery presents an exhibit May 1-June 15 on "Greek Vases: Conservation and Connoisseurship." Focus is on sixth through fourth century vases, which have been the object of study by U students this year. Their research and restoration work will be illustrated, and the students will present a lecture series. The title lecture is May 1, "A Lost Legend or an Artist's Mistake?" is May 8, and "Dionysus: the Metamorphoses of a God" is May 15. All lectures are at 8 p.m. in Gallery 305-7, Northrop Auditorium.

WASECA--UMW observed Earth Week with a "Clean-Up Day" April 25. Student organizations were assigned responsibility for certain areas of the campus by the Student Senate. An ecology poster contest was won by the Horticulture Club. The events coincided with a "Clean-Up, Paint-Up, and Fix-Up Week" sponsored by the Waseca Chamber of Commerce.

New officers have been elected to the UMW Student Senate. Al Gleisner is president, Colleen Vandendriessche vice president, Janet Manthey secretary, and John Smits treasurer. Their terms of office begin May 1.

Vol. IV No. 29
May 8, 1974

A weekly internal bulletin serving all campuses

C. Peter Magrath, U President-designate, visits the TC campus May 19-24.

The Board of Regents holds its monthly meetings May 9-10 in Morrill Hall. On the agenda: update on doming of Memorial Stadium, proposed name changes for the Institute of Agriculture and horticultural science department, reports on the U's affirmative action and equal opportunity program and the Community-University Health Care Center, and proposed policies on the procedure for awarding U architectural contracts.

The U Senate meets May 9 at 3:15 in Nicholson Hall auditorium. On the agenda are the proposed faculty consulting policy, with revisions, and a report by the Senate committee on educational policy on evaluating teaching at the U.

The Senate Task Force on Academic Salaries will hold open hearings in May and invites members of the academic community to present information, opinions, position papers, and recommendations. The hearings are as follows: UMD May 8, room to be announced; UMM May 14, room to be announced; Minneapolis May 15, 170 BA, and May 29, Campus Club Dale Shephard Room; St. Paul May 20 and 30, 125 Coffey Hall. All sessions at 9:30 a.m.

Those wishing to participate in a task force hearing should contact one of the following persons to reserve a time: Larry Thompson (UMD), 726-7212, deadline May 6; Gordon Bopp (UMM), 589-3215, ext. 210, deadline May 14; David Giese (TC), 373-4104, deadline May 15 for May 16 and 20, May 28 for May 29 and 30. Additional hearings will be scheduled if necessary.

VPs James Brinkerhoff, Harold Chase, and Stanley Kegler, and Associate VP Albert Linck were in Binghamton, N.Y., May 3-6 to confer with U President-designate C. Peter Magrath. Discussions focused on the 1975-77 budget request, central administration organization, the coordinate campuses, and enrollment projections.

Hubert J. Sloan, acting deputy vice president for agriculture, forestry, and home economics and acting dean of the Institute of Agriculture, died May 1 at U Hospitals. Sloan retired in 1971 after 38 years as a faculty member, but came out of retirement in 1973 to become acting dean of the institute.

Staff and student members have been appointed to the search committee for a Graduate School dean and an academic administration vice president. Members are George Shapiro (chairman), Richard Caldecott, Ervie Glick (UMC), Leon Hurwicz, Walter Johnson, Patricia Knight (TC student), Theron Odlaug (UMD), Clyde Parker, Nancy Pirsig, Geneva Southall, Robert Stein, Julie White (TC student), Deon Stuthman, and one student yet to be named.

Elmer L. Andersen, chairman of the Board of Regents, has been elected to the 15-member board of directors for the Association of Governing Boards (AGB) of universities and colleges. AGB has a membership representing 610 boards and is the only organization of trustees and regents serving all types of higher education institutions.

U Personnel Director Roy Richardson is a major speaker at a conference May 9-10 of the eastern region of the American Compensation Association. Richardson's speech will deal with the relationship between level of work and fair pay.

The U ranked ninth in total enrollment among institutions of higher education with a fall 1973 enrollment of 65,237 (includes extension). State U of New York was first with 384,899. The U had the third largest campus with 41,476 in the Twin Cities. Ohio State U-Columbus was first with 47,268 and Michigan State U-East Lansing was second with 41,649.

The negotiated indirect cost rates for fiscal year 1975 are now available from the Office of Sponsored Programs, fourth floor, Johnston Hall, 373-3001. A complete listing of the new rates will be printed in the May 31 issue of the OSP newsletter.

The Office of International Programs is preparing a new edition of the Register of International Studies and Travel. Information for the register is being obtained by means of a questionnaire mailed to all faculty members. The forms should be returned as soon as possible to the Office of International Programs, 201 Nolte Center, TC campus.

DULUTH--"Humanities and the Computer" program will be held at UMD May 14. Everett Hafner, Hampshire College in Amherst, lectures on "Computers, Synthesizers, and the Physics of Music" at 10:30 in Education 90. Robert Bishop, U of Michigan, speaks on "Computer in Journalism and Freshman Composition" at 1:30 in Humanities 403.

The UMD home economics department will hold an open house May 10 from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Students, parents, and community members are invited.

Paul Bugbee, sophomore, is the new UMD Student Association president, and Bill Eberle, junior, is the new head of the Kirby Student Center Program Board. About 800 students voted in elections held April 29-May 1.

Bruce Rowell, U of Wisconsin-Superior, speaks on "Computers in Paleontology" May 9 at 3:30 in 185 Life Science building.

MORRIS--The Minn-Kota Conference Women's Track Meet will be held at UMM May 11 at 11 a.m. Six colleges and universities from Minnesota and North Dakota will participate.

TWIN CITIES--Due to increased labor, repair, and operational costs, campus parking rates will increase 10% for regular lot, ramp, and garage contract holders, and about 5¢ per day for daily rate facilities and special contract lots, effective July 1. Other rate categories--evening, special, and time-rate parking--will also be adjusted. The last rate increase was in January 1971.

Mark Schorer, biographer of Minnesota-born novelist Sinclair Lewis, delivers the 16th annual Joseph Warren Beach lecture May 9 at 8 p.m. in the Museum of Natural History auditorium. Schorer's topic is "Berryman Recovered," on the late poet John Berryman.

A new U student art gallery, established in memory of a student killed last February, will benefit from the second annual Beaux Arts Ball May 10 at 8 p.m. in the Old Firehouse, 1501 4th St. S., Minneapolis. The gallery in rooms 223 and 225 Johnston Hall will be named for Mary Schlais, an artist and summa cum laude graduate of the U. Undergraduate student art will be shown in the gallery. Admission to the masquerade ball is $3.

"Impeachment: Should History Be a Guide?" is the title of an informal debate between Paul Murphy, history, and Clyde Summers, Yale Law School visiting professor. Murphy will argue affirmatively, Summers negatively. The debate is May 13 at 7:30 p.m. in 175 Auditorium Classroom building, West Bank.

"Politics and Women's Studies," next in a series of women's studies seminars, will be May 14 at 12:15 in 320 Coffman Memorial Union.

WASECA--Douglas Moore, president of Mankato State College, met with UMW officials May 6, toured the UMW campus, and discussed cooperation between the two colleges.

Minnesota Senator Hubert Humphrey delivers the commencement address at UMW June 14. Approximately 100 students are expected to participate in the exercises.

Vol. IV No. 30
May 15, 1974

A weekly internal bulletin serving all campuses

E.W. Ziebarth, former CLA dean, was named interim president of the U May 10 by the Regents. Ziebarth, who begins his new duties in mid-June, will oversee the transition between outgoing Pres. Malcolm Moos and C. Peter Magrath, who becomes president in September.

President Moos, saying it was his final Regents' meeting, pointed to the rapid changes taking place in a new lifestyle that recognizes learning as a lifelong process. He quoted Thomas Jefferson: "The supreme delight is the quest for knowledge, not the mastery of knowledge."

Vice Presidents Paul Cashman, student affairs, and Stanley Wenberg, state and federal relations, announced May 10 their resignations as vice presidents. "The time comes for changes in leadership and I believe both the University of Minnesota and I will benefit from a change in my assignment," said Cashman. He will take a year's leave of absence and will continue in his position as a professor of speech-communication.

VP Wenberg said in a written statement: "With great regret I have concluded that after 30 years of administrative service to the University I must change my status." Wenberg, who worked as a lobbyist under three U presidents, will become a U consultant.

The Board of Regents May 10 approved name changes for the Institute of Agriculture to the Institute of Agriculture, Forestry, and Home Economics, and for the Department of Horticultural Science to the Department of Horticultural Science and Landscape Architecture. The Regents also adopted a policy for awarding architectural contracts. A review board of five non-U persons would recommend architects for projects over $250,000.

The U will not purchase head lettuce for its cafeterias and dormitories until a task force studies the boycott sponsored by the United Farm Workers (UFW), President Moos announced May 13 after a meeting with UFW supporters. The meeting had been set up after about 80 demonstrators disrupted the Regents' meeting May 10. Moos will name the task force in consultation with UFW members and their student supporters.

Senate members May 9 heard reports on the revised faculty consulting policy and on evaluating teaching at the U. Debate on the faculty consulting policy continues at an informal Senate meeting May 16 at 3:15 p.m. in Nicholson Hall auditorium. Action will be taken on both issues at the May 23 Senate meeting.

U students, staff, alumni, and others are invited to submit names of possible nominees for the positions of vice president for academic administration and dean of the Graduate School. Send names with resumes and any supporting information to George Shapiro, search committee, 216 Morrill Hall, TC campus.

CROOKSTON--The UMC student Regent is Harold Mickelson, and Student Senate president is Gary Meyer. Both are agriculture majors.

Regent Elmer Andersen is the commencement speaker at UMC May 17 at 2 p.m. on the mall. Regents Wenda Moore and L.J. Lee also will attend. A reception follows in Bede Hall.

DULUTH--The UMD Education building will be renamed Bohannon Hall at a 4 p.m. ceremony May 22 in Home Economics 80 auditorium. E.W. Bohannon was president of Duluth State Normal School and Duluth State Teachers College, UMD's predecessors, from 1902 to 1938.

Three new police officers, including UMD's first policewoman, were installed May 14 in a brief ceremony on campus.

Subir Banerjee, geology and geophysics, TC campus, speaks on "The Geomagnetic Record of Minnesota Lake Sediments: the Last 10-20,000 Years" May 16 at 3:30 in 185 Life Science.

MORRIS--The Minnesota Environmental Quality Council will hold a public hearing at UMM May 21 at 3 p.m. in the Science auditorium on the proposed rules and regulations of the 1973 Power Plant Siting Act. The hearing reconvenes at 7 p.m.

The second annual Poetry Festival, sponsored by UMM's Prairie Poets Association, will be highlighted by a poetry recitation by 10 Minnesota poets on the sanctity of the land and life. The recitation is May 22 at 8 p.m. in Edson Hall and includes well-known American poet Robert Bly. The event is part of the "For Land's Sake!" series.

American Indian Gerald Vizenor, free-lance writer covering the American Indian Movement trial for the Minneapolis Tribune, will speak on the Indian attitude toward the land May 23 at 1 p.m. in Edson lounge as part of the "For Land's Sake!" series.

The first woman president of UMM's Morris Campus Student Association (MCSA) was elected May 8 when Amy Cole, freshman, won on a write-in ballot. Tracy Mitchell, senior, ran on the same platform with Cole and was elected vice president in the spring elections.

TWIN CITIES--William G. Shepherd, former VP for academic administration, will become director of the Space Science Center July 1.

TC campus students will file a complaint this week charging large-scale sex discrimination in the U's intercollegiate athletics program. Student representatives will hold a news conference tomorrow (May 16) at 10 a.m. in B-12 Morrill Hall to discuss the complaint and document the alleged inequities. The students will ask that all federal funds to the U be suspended until an affirmative action plan for women students is established and that HEW investigate the program for criminal prosecution by the Justice Department.

The Regents heard a report from VP Brinkerhoff May 9 on converting Memorial Stadium into a U Recreational Center. The project to dome the stadium would be undertaken only if: it would provide needed facilities, no public funds would be involved, a major tenant such as the Vikings would help pay for it, the U would receive NCAA approval, the U would not compete with existing or prospective Twin Cities facilities, and the U would have community (Minneapolis and St. Paul) support for the $30-$35 million project.

Savings Bond campaign managers are reminded by Harold Bernard, Insurance and Retirement, to send in their orders for canvasser kits.

MPIRG and the Union Program Council will sponsor a two-day program on "Digging Up Minnesota: Mining the Wilderness" May 15-16, 12-2 p.m. The sessions will look at the environmental impact of iron, taconite, copper, and nickel mining. First-day speakers in Coffman Union Main Ballroom include state Rep. William Ojala and representatives from government and the mining industry. Second-day speakers in the Junior Ballroom include state planners, industry representatives, and a Sierra Club attorney.

International students at the U will hold an International Spring Festival May 16-18. International foods, films, fashions, arts, and crafts are among the attractions, most of which will be in the Auditorium Classroom building, West Bank. For more info, call Minnesota International Student Association, 373-5247 or 373-5385.

WASECA--The dedication of the light horse management facility will be held in conjunction with the first annual UMW Ruff Ryders WCSA-approved horse show May 22. The show will be at 10 a.m. and the dedication at noon.

Vol. IV No. 31
May 22, 1974

A weekly internal bulletin serving all campuses

Cost-of-living increases in U civil service salaries go into effect July 1. Increase is 6% for employees on schedule A, 30¢ an hour for those on schedules B and C. See the June issue of Report for more details.

President-elect C. Peter Magrath will announce at a 3 p.m. news conference tomorrow (May 23) his recommendations for U staff structure at the vice presidential level. He is on the TC campus this week conferring with staff members, faculty-student committees, alumni leaders, legislators, state officials, and representatives of the U of M Foundation and higher education in the state.

Mitchell Pearlstein, public information director at the State U of New York-Binghamton, will accompany Magrath to the U in the fall. Pearlstein will be a part-time speech-writer for Magrath while attending graduate school.

President Malcolm Moos will be the subject of an in-depth study by radio newsman Dan Carlson in "The Years of Malcolm Moos" May 29 at 6:30 p.m. on WCCO-FM 103. Carlson interviews Moos, examines his relationship with the faculty, talks to students, and discusses Moos' administrative style with Regent Elmer Andersen, Minnesota Senate education committee chairman Jerome Hughes, and state college systems chancellor G. Theodore Mitau.

The U Senate meets May 23 and 30 at 3:15 in Nicholson Hall auditorium. On the agenda are reports from several Senate committees, including reports on the proposed faculty consulting policy, evaluation of teaching at the U, and faculty affairs, and recommended changes in the constitution and bylaws. The Faculty Senate will take action on the consulting policy and faculty affairs recommendations at the May 30 meeting.

A reception for retiring faculty and staff members will be held May 23 at 3:30 p.m. in the Coffman Union main ballroom. President Moos, VP Harold Chase, and personnel director Roy Richardson will address the U retirees. Regent Loanne Thrane also will attend.

The search committee for an academic administration vice president and a Graduate School dean will begin active consideration of nominees May 28.

Spring 1974 enrollment at the U is 45,348, nearly 600 more students than in spring 1973. Figures for the campuses show 37,629 students in the Twin Cities (up 626 from a year ago), 598 at Crookston (up 57), 4,890 at Duluth (up 43), 1,475 at Morris (down 116), 353 at Waseca (up 52), and 403 at the Mayo Graduate School of Medicine (down 70).

CROOKSTON--Faculty in-service workshops will be held at UMC May 20-31. Workshop leaders include UMC faculty members, Thomas Olson, Office of Sponsored Programs, TC campus, and Robert Vikander, director of Admissions, UMM.

MORRIS--A joint labor-management conference dealing with the Public Employment Labor Relations Act will be held at the Morris Sunwood Inn May 29-30. The event is sponsored by the Industrial Relations Center, TC campus. Conference leaders are Mario Bognanno, center director, and Albert Schnauffer.

The annual UMM senior picnic for seniors, local alumni, and faculty members is May 30 at Pomme de Terre Park.

UMM's Outdoor Sports Club is sponsoring a three-day Memorial Day weekend canoe trip with faculty, staff, and students participating.

A concert of American choral music, including original arrangements created for the event, will be performed May 29 by the UMM Chamber Choir at 8:15 p.m. in the recital hall of the Humanities Fine Arts Center. To mark the centennial of American composer Charles Ives, three Ives pieces will be included. The free event is open to the public.

A 28-page report details specific findings of an employment study conducted in 1973 of all UMM alumni from the first graduating class in 1964 to that of 1972. The report shows that UMM graduates in traditional liberal arts and those with teacher training have low unemployment rates (2.5%) and are in professional, technical, or managerial positions (77%), and that a majority are in fields directly related to their majors.

DULUTH--The use of films, video tapes, and community television for social change is the topic of a two-day workshop May 23-24. Resource person is George Stoney, director of the Alternate Media Center at New York U. Sessions include discussions May 23 in Bohannon 90 from 12:30 to 3 p.m. and a workshop May 24 in the closed circuit TV studio from 9 a.m. to noon.

W. Daniel Schreck, freshman, was re-elected editor of the Statesman for the next academic year. David Dahlberg, junior, was elected business manager.

David Mickelson, U of Wisconsin-Madison, speaks on "Glacial Geology of Stagnant Ice Margins, Glacier Bay, Alaska" May 23 in 185 Life Science at 3:30 p.m.

TWIN CITIES--James Werntz has been named chairman of an ad hoc committee appointed by President Moos to review the Consolidated Fund Drive process on the Minneapolis campus. The organizations included in the drive and the method of solicitation and allocation were last reviewed 10 years ago.

"How the Women's Studies Program Differs from Other Teaching Units," next in the women's studies spring seminar series, will be today (May 22) at 3:15 in 320 Coffman Union.

The 1974 Minnesota World Trade Day conference is May 23 at the Minneapolis Sheraton-Ritz hotel. Special student-faculty tickets are available for $2 (seminars only, no meals). Sidney Jones, assistant commerce secretary for economic affairs, gives the keynote speech on "Perspectives on World Trade." Contact Bonnie Neubeck, 296-5012, for more information.

Zhores Medvedev, exiled Soviet scientist and civil libertarian, will discuss science and the citizen in the USSR May 24 in Mayo auditorium at noon.

New York poet Tony Towle will present a reading of his works May 29 in 370 Anderson Hall at 8 p.m. The event is free and open to the public.

Friends of the U Art Library will hold an open meeting for staff and faculty members May 29 at 8 p.m. in the Campus Club West Wing. Guest speaker is Anthony Welch, visiting art history lecturer, who will show examples of Islamic art from the collection of Prince Sadruddin Aga Khan. Make reservations by May 24; call H. Scherer, 373-2875.

The Board of Regents has approved the affiliation between the Center for Youth Development and Research and the College of Home Economics. The center, an interdisciplinary program stressing teaching, research, and innovative projects for youth, previously was part of the Center for Urban and Regional Affairs.

An exhibit of works by studio arts faculty members is on display in the West Bank Union gallery, Auditorium Classroom building. The exhibit runs through May 29.

WASECA--The Overall College Advisory committee met at UMW May 15.

Vol. IV No. 32
May 29, 1974

A weekly internal bulletin serving all campuses

C. Peter Magrath said he would like to continue the administration of the five U campuses as one unit when he becomes U president Sept. 1. He outlined his plans for the U's administrative structure in his first public meeting with the Regents' executive committee May 22. He said he plans to meet once a month with the provosts of the outstate campuses to avoid a "we-they psychology." Magrath will visit the Morris campus in mid-June and the Crookston campus the first week in August.

Magrath also proposed two new vice presidential positions to replace those for administration and state and federal relations. Administration VP Kegler would become institutional planning and relations VP, coordinating budget and legislative request planning and relations with state agencies and educational institutions. The position of administrative operations VP would be created to oversee U relations, personnel, affirmative action, administrative data processing, police, and coordinate campuses.

No candidates have been suggested for the new VP post but Magrath said he has someone in mind. A successor to student affairs VP Paul Cashman, who announced his resignation May 10, will be considered by a search committee whose membership will be one-half students. The three other VP positions will remain, with minor changes in responsibilities.

Magrath also asked the Regents to name Roberta Goffman as his administrative assistant. Goffman has worked at the State U of New York at Binghamton since 1965 and as Magrath's administrative assistant since 1972, when he became president of that institution.

Academic Administration has released the first draft of its 1975-77 budget recommendations. Figures for the health sciences and coordinate campuses are not included since the Academic Policy Planning Group has not completed its review of them. Each academic unit submitted a budget request to maintain program quality and a second figure to improve or create new and needed programs. Funds were allocated in one or both categories.

VP Lyle French, Associate VP Albert Linck, and associates met with the Senate committee on educational policy (SCEP) May 24 to review the preliminary requests for the 1975-77 legislative biennium. The committee meets again June 7 to continue its review with regard to educational policy issues of all-U scope, such as faculty instructional development and the educational development program.

The U Senate meets May 30 at 3:15 p.m. in Nicholson Hall auditorium. Action will be taken on the proposed faculty consulting policy, the policy on the evaluation of U teaching, and the recommendations of the faculty affairs committee.

The Minnesota Civil Liberties Union says it will file a suit against the U on behalf of Eileen Lach, a former U student recommended by the U for a Rhodes scholarship. Lach was turned down because Rhodes scholarships were awarded only to men. The suit seeks to prevent the U from participating in the Rhodes scholarship program. U attorney Joel Tierney said the U has not yet received official notice of the suit.

U faculty, staff, and students are eligible for summer charter flights to Brussels and for tours to the Soviet Union and Southeast Asia. Contact the International Study and Travel Center, 231 Coffman Union, TC campus, 373-0180, for more information.

CROOKSTON--The Minnesota Environmental Quality Council will hold a public hearing at UMC on the proposed rules relating to the Minnesota power plant act. The hearing will be May 29, 7-10 p.m., in the Agricultural Research Center.

Summer Session at UMC begins June 3 and ends August 23. Fall quarter starts Sept. 9

UMC will host members of the Northwest Minnesota Postsecondary Education Association May 29. Discussion will focus on a cooperative transfer program for students who might transfer from one-year to two- or four-year colleges.

MORRIS--Former New York coffeehouse singer Susan Martin will perform May 31 and June 1 in Edson lounge. The free events begin at 9 p.m.

William Ammentorp, educational administration, TC campus, will conduct a six-day graduate-level workshop for western Minnesota educators June 5-7 and 12-14.

UMM faculty and staff members will have a chance to see how a typical Minnesota farm is operated when Morris-area farmer Harold Anderson, in cooperation with U Relations, holds an afternoon open house June 9.

DULUTH--Regent Wenda Moore visited UMD May 22 and met with students, faculty members, and administrators.

The UMD sociology-anthropology department has published a study of northeastern Carlton county conducted as a 1972-73 class project. The study covers the major work and leisure activities and basic attitudes of the residents and characterizes the backgrounds and education of the population. Copies of the report are available; call 726-7552.

Three free public concerts will be held in UMD's Marshall Performing Arts Center this week. The UMD Concert Band performs May 30, the Jazz Ensemble and Swing Choir June 1, and the String Chamber Orchestra June 2. All programs will be at 8:15 p.m.

More than 400 works will be included in Tweed Museum of Art's annual UMD student exhibition, which opens at 8 p.m. May 31. The show continues through July 7.

TWIN CITIES--Charles Simkins, extension soils specialist, left the U.S. in early May to head a United Nations project to eradicate hashish production in Lebanon. Simkins will return to the U in seven months.

Agnes Nikov, U of New South Wales, Sydney, Australia, will speak on the connection between geometry and art May 29 at 4:15 p.m. in Vincent Hall auditorium.

"Emerging Research by Faculty and Students," last in the women's studies spring quarter seminar series, will be May 30 at 12:15 in 320 Coffman Memorial Union.

Heinz Kohut, Chicago Psychoanalytic Institute, will speak on "Scientific Empathy and Empathic Sciences: the Contributions of Psychoanalysis to the University of Tomorrow" at 8 p.m. May 30 in 2650 Health Sciences Unit A.

Robert Shaw conducts the U Symphonic Chorus and Symphony Orchestra in a free performance of Brahms' "Ein Deutes Requiem" May 31 at 8 p.m. in Northrop Auditorium.

A U Band Festival Concert and band alumni reunion will be held June 2 at 3 p.m. in Northrop Auditorium. Three former U Band directors will return, and Ray Christensen, WCCO radio, will be master of ceremonies for the old-time nostalgia concert. Admission is $2.50; tickets may be ordered from concerts and lectures, 373-2345.

WASECA--Second district DFL candidate Steve Babcock toured UMW May 21 and visited with Provost Edward Frederick, students, and staff.

Academic administration VP Harold Chase makes his first visit to UMW May 30.

Vol. IV No. 33
June 5, 1974

A weekly internal bulletin serving all campuses

President-elect C. Peter Magrath will visit the Morris campus June 28 and then make a civic appearance at Worthington before returning to the Twin Cities that evening.

Walter H. Bruning, assistant VP and director of the U of Nebraska computer network, was on the TC campus May 28 and 29 to meet with U administrators, Regents, and the U Senate consultative committee. Bruning, a candidate for the newly created position of VP for administrative operations, was an assistant to U President-elect C. Peter Magrath when Magrath was dean of faculties at Nebraska.

The search committee for a deputy vice president for agriculture, forestry, and home economics has submitted a list of candidates to President Malcolm Moos.

The U Senate May 30 approved a policy on the evaluation of teaching at the U. Colleges and other units are to develop a plan for evaluation of all undergraduate courses, beginning with the academic year 1975-76. The Senate also voted to receive the proposed faculty consulting policy and refer it and its pending amendments to a committee that includes Darley committee members and others. The committee will bring a new draft of the proposal to the Senate in the fall.

The Dec. 31, 1973, closing of the U was legal, according to a three-member panel that heard a class-action grievance brought against the personnel department by the American Federation of State, County, and Municipal Employees, local 1164. Thus, employees who were forced to take a vacation day, work overtime to make up the lost day, or take a leave without pay are not entitled to reinstatement of the day or reimbursement.

The panel also pointed out that many "exempt" employees--who do not come under the overtime provisions of the federal Fair Labor Standards Act--were treated the same as non-exempt employees, and therefore must be given a chance to change their options for the Dec. 31 closing. The personnel department was instructed to notify all employees of their exemption status, and to canvass the exempt as to their options for Dec. 31.

Amoco Foundation-Horace T. Morse awards, carrying a $500 grant, will be given to eight faculty members for their contributions to undergraduate education. Recipients are James Brutger, art, UMD; Bernice Lund, mathematics, UMM; Ronald Chastain, French; Roger Clemence, architecture; Forrest Harris, social studies; Donald Lawrence, botany; Arnett Mace, forest biology; and Gerhard Neubeck, family social science, all TC campus. The awards will be presented at campus commencement ceremonies June 14 and 15.

Five U medical researchers have received grants totaling more than $532,000 from the National Cancer Institute. The cancer study grants went to Dr. Lee Wattenberg, laboratory medicine and pathology, TC campus ($143,300); Dr. Wolfgang Baumann, Hormel Institute ($142,553); Dr. Irvin Liener, biochemistry, TC campus ($91,331); Dr. Theodor Grage, surgery, TC campus ($88,799); and Dr. Harald Schmid, Hormel Institute ($66,518).

DULUTH--The proposed student service fee goes from $34 to $37.25 in 1974-75, subject to Regent approval in June. Reasons for the increase include inflation and expanded program needs. A student-faculty committee has held hearings on the fee since last fall.

The UMD Campus Assembly meets June 7 at 2:30 in Life Science 175. On the agenda for action are nominations to campus committees, a proposal for the study of UMD liberal education requirements, and two proposals regarding student grades on transcripts.

Quentin Smith, assistant director of continuing dental education, TC campus, will be the commencement speaker at UMD June 14 at 8 p.m.

James Welsh, geology, speaks on "Petrology of an Archean Migmatitic Contact Zone, Northwest Sacred Heart Pluton, Minnesota River Valley" June 6 at 3:30 in Life Science 185.

Caroline Rose, sociology, TC campus, will teach two courses at UMD during the first term of Summer Session.

Timothy Kachinske, UMD teaching assistant in English, is one of three U students granted one-year fellowships for study in Hungary of Hungarian language, literature, and culture. Other students receiving the award are Keith Crane and Allen Terhaar, both graduate students in international relations, TC campus. The fellowships are awarded by the Hungarian Cultural Relations Institute through the Office of International Programs.

MORRIS--As a result of balloting by faculty members and graduating seniors, the speakers for UMM's commencement ceremony June 14 will be Connie Lewis, senior, and Merle Hirsh, chairman of UMM's division of science and mathematics.

The second Western Minnesota Art Exhibition will be at UMM June 30-July 19. The exhibit is one of four state regional shows leading to the annual State Fair exhibition in St. Paul. A series of workshops on such subjects as pottery, weaving, play-production, and puppetry will be held in conjunction with the exhibition. The event is co-sponsored by continuing education in arts, TC campus, and continuing education and regional programs, UMM.

TWIN CITIES--President Malcolm Moos is the commencement speaker at the TC campus ceremony June 15 at 7:30 p.m. in the Minnesota State Fairgrounds grandstand, St. Paul. The Board of Regents will make a presentation to President Moos during the event.

George King has resigned as chairman of the Afro-American studies department for personal reasons. CLA Dean Frank Sorauf has recommended Geneva Southall as King's replacement, effective June 15. King will retain his teaching position in the department.

Marcia Eaton, philosophy, has been appointed director of CLA's cross-disciplinary studies.

Construction has begun on the Large Animal Holding Building in St. Paul. Completion of the building is estimated for this fall. The facility is part of the more than $6 million Animal Science-Veterinary Medicine Phase I complex, scheduled to be ready by October 1975.

A free concert by the U Chamber Orchestra and the Chamber Singers will be given June 6 at 8 p.m. in Scott Hall auditorium. On the program are works by Stravinsky, Lasso, Tippett, Britten, Ives, Bach, and Webern.

The Guthrie Theater hosts an informal panel discussion June 9 at 4 p.m. on "King Lear," "Love's Labor's Lost," and "The Crucible," the first three productions of the Guthrie's 1974 season. The free event will be in the Walker Art Center auditorium. The panelists, all from the U, will be Roger Stuewer, physics and astronomy; Chadwick Hansen, English; Stacy Langton, mathematics; and, as moderator, Toni McNaron, English.

Healthline (331-8181) is a new service of the state health department. Anyone in the TC metro area can call and hear a short, timely health message 24 hours a day, seven days a week. Messages include such topics as heart attacks, high blood pressure, cancer, nutrition, and bicycle and water safety. Messages change about every two weeks.

Vol. IV No. 34
June 12, 1974

A weekly internal bulletin serving all campuses

The Board of Regents will hold its monthly meetings June 13-14 in Morrill Hall. On the agenda: final action on the 1974-75 budget, a public hearing on a proposal to place the U Technical College in Waseca under local city police authority, the TC campus child care center, a report from the office of affirmative action and equal opportunity, funding for Unit B/C of the health sciences complex, and foreign student problems and issues.

The Regents will also take action on student services fee proposals, including an administrative recommendation to reduce the Consolidated Athletic Building Fund fee from $2.75 to $.35. Money from the fund is used to pay for construction costs of the Bierman Field Athletic Building. The Twin Cities Student Assembly has recommended elimination of the Athletic Fund fee.

Three VPs met with the Senate committee on educational policy June 7 to discuss the preliminary 1975-77 legislative request. VP Kegler made a presentation of coordinate campus requests, VP Chase referred to changes in the TC campus and all-U requests, and VP French answered questions about the health sciences requests. Administrators will discuss the proposed request with the Senate consultative committee June 13.

VP Kegler presents a progress report on the 1975-77 legislative request to the Regents at their June meeting. They will receive a report for information in July and take action on the request in August.

A search committee for a student affairs vice president--composed of nine students, six faculty members, and two civil service staff members--has been appointed. Keith McFarland, home economics, and Dee Ann Norskog, TC campus student, are cochairmen. The committee will draw up an unranked list of three to five names to bring to President-elect C. Peter Magrath.

Three U administrators have been accepted by the Institute for Educational Management to attend the "Management Development Program for College and University Administrators" June 16-July 26 at Harvard U. The three are Academic Dean Gordon Bopp, Morris; Patricia Faunce, director of the Measurement Services Center, TC campus; and Dean Harold Miller, Continuing Education and Extension, TC campus.

Young people's attitudes toward work and values have undergone changes, according to a Chronicle of Higher Education report on a Daniel Yankelovich survey. Changes between the late 1960s and early 1970s include the rejection of campus rebellion and violence; a decrease in criticism of universities, the military, and American society; a stronger work ethic among college students, but not among noncollege youths; and adoption by non-college youths of social and moral norms college students held five years ago.

DULUTH--Three retiring faculty members will be honored guests at the June 14 UMD commencement ceremony. They are Francis Moore, chemistry, 22 years; Lewis Rickert, physical education, 25 years; and Dr. Samuel Boyer, medicine, 2 years.

UMD summer session registration for first term is June 17, 8:30-noon, in Kirby Student Center ballroom.

"Oikos," the UMD biology bus, will be on the road both summer terms this year. The first term course will be "Ecology of Minnesota"; second term courses will be "Flora of Minnesota" and "Ichthyology."

MORRIS--Loretta Blahna, speech, was elected parliamentarian of the Morris Campus Assembly by acclamation.

The West Minnesota Institute for Creative Study will be held at UMM June 17-28 and July 8-12. About 100 secondary school students will attend the event sponsored by UMM's continuing education and regional programs.

The second annual summer program of Native Americans Into Medicine (NAM) will be held at UMM in two sessions June 17-July 19 and July 22-August 23. High school and college students will participate in the program to help Indians enter medical professions.

TWIN CITIES--The U has received a $407,494 research grant from the National Cancer Institute in support of the Special Cancer Center for the study of advanced malignant diseases in the Masonic Memorial Hospital, TC campus. The grant is a supplement to an existing research grant supporting the center.

The Center for Immigration Studies has been awarded a three-year Rockefeller grant totaling $333,000. The funds will be used for general operating expenses as well as for such items as publishing a newsletter and providing grants for visiting scholars. Funds are also included to support research assistantships for graduate students working on degrees related to ethnic studies. The students will help process manuscript collections in the Immigrant Archives.

Two TC campus faculty members and a graduate student have been granted Fulbright awards for study abroad from the Council for International Exchange of Scholars. Frank Ungar, biochemistry, will lecture in Ireland; Donald Biggs, educational psychology, will lecture and conduct research in England; and Grace Rand Nelson, MA candidate in English as a second language, will lecture in Yugoslavia.

Woman's Day on the TC campus is June 19. Featured speaker for the event is Assistant VP Shirley Clark, academic administration. Clark speaks at 10 a.m. in Mayo auditorium on generational changes in the social and historical roles of women. Gunhild Bisztray, U of Chicago, talks at 10:45 on the life course of women in a changing society. Registration for the day's events is $6 and includes lunch and noon speakers. For more information or to register, contact continuing education for women, 200 Westbrook, 373-9743.

Continuing education for women is offering two noon-hour courses on the TC campus. Conversational French and Conversational Spanish will begin at 12:05, Tuesdays and Thursdays, June 18-July 23. The French course will be in S-135 Kolthoff Hall; fee is $15. The Spanish course will be in S-137 Kolthoff; cost is $25. Register by mail with continuing education for women, 200 Westbrook Hall. Call 373-9743 for more info.

The first stage of the $5.8 million phase I College of Home Economics complex is under way. The first stage involves renovation of the old Horticulture Building, which will be used for offices and teaching labs for the design department. Construction of a link between old Hort and McNeal Hall will start after bids go out in mid-summer. Renovation is also planned for the Food Science and Nutrition Building and the Dining Center.

The Brian Bru Irish Bagpipe Band performs on the St. Paul Student Center lawn June 18 at noon.

WASECA--Tom Hagedorn, Republican candidate for the second Congressional district, visited with students and staff and toured the UMW campus June 4.

More than 350 women are expected at UMW June 19-20 for the Craft Fun-Do, a craft program sponsored by the agricultural extension service.

Vol. IV No. 34
June 19, 1974

A weekly internal bulletin serving all campuses

The Board of Regents June 14 gave final approval to the appointments of C. Peter Magrath as U President and Walter Bruning as administrative operations VP. Magrath takes office Sept. 1; Bruning assumes his duties Aug. 1.

E.W. Ziebarth, former College of Liberal Arts dean, became U President June 17. He will serve until the arrival of Magrath.

In other action, the Regents approved William Hueg, Jr., as deputy VP for agriculture, forestry, and home economics and dean of the Institute, effective June 16. Hueg is an agronomy professor and director of the U's agricultural experiment stations.

Administration VP Stanley Kegler becomes institutional planning and relations VP Aug. 1. His assistant VP will be George Robb, former executive assistant to the state and federal relations VP. That office has been abolished under the new administrative structure. Robb begins his new duties July 1.

The Regents also approved candidates previously nominated by Magrath. Roberta Goffman will become Magrath's administrative assistant, starting Sept. 1. Mitchell Pearlstein will begin his part-time appointment as assistant to the President on July 16.

A progress report on the 1975-77 legislative request went to the Regents, showing a total of $286 million and not including an estimated $33-$35 million for pay increases. The Legislature appropriated $241 million for the 1973-75 biennium.

Final action on the 1974-75 budget was held over to the July Regents meeting in order to include final calculations for cost-of-living adjustments for civil service staff and to give the Regents time to study all the components of the budget. Current calculation of the budget totals shows $352.3 million for 1974-75, compared to $325.7 million for 1973-74.

Former President Malcolm Moos received a citation and gift from the Regents during the TC campus commencement ceremony June 15. The citation commended Moos for the growth of the U during the seven years of his administration, his concern for students, his national leadership in education, and his development of the commiversity concept. The Regents' gift was a scale model of the U mace.

Five TC campus faculty members were named Regents' Professors during the ceremony. A recipient of the U's highest faculty honor holds the title as long as he remains at the U, receives a sterling silver medallion, and is awarded a $5,000 gift annually from the University of Minnesota Foundation during his tenure. The new Regents' Professors are Wallace Armstrong, biochemistry; Edward Ney, physics and astronomy; John Turner, political science; Richard Varco, surgery; and Herbert Wright, geology and geophysics.

President-elect Magrath visits UMM and Worthington, Minn., June 28. In Worthington, Magrath will meet with agricultural extension agents and members of county extension committees. At 4 p.m. Magrath will participate with representatives of area agriculture, business, public schools, and government in a panel discussion at Worthington Community College. A community dinner, open to the public, is at 7 p.m., and an evening program will be held at 8 at the community college commons.

Brief begins its summer schedule of publication this week. Next issue is July 3, with publication every two weeks thereafter. Regular weekly publication resumes Sept. 25.

DULUTH--Artists from 16 northern Minnesota counties are eligible to enter the North-eastern Minnesota Art Exhibition to be held July 14-28 in Tweed Museum of Art. Entries are due June 22-23 at the museum. The show is sponsored by the Agricultural Extension Service, Continuing Education and Extension, the Minnesota State Fair, and Tweed Museum.

"Dying and Human Dignity" will be the topic of a 1 p.m. convocation June 25 in Kirby lounge. Speaker will be Rev. James Diamond, University Episcopal Center, Minneapolis.

More than 17 courses will be offered this summer by the Free Univer-City. The free, no-credit classes begin the week of June 24. Register in 121 Library building.

MORRIS--President-elect C. Peter Magrath visits UMM June 28. He will tour the campus and the West Central Experiment Station; meet faculty, staff, and students during an 11 a.m. coffee hour in the science auditorium lobby; and have lunch with area business, legislative, and alumni officials. He leaves UMM at 2 p.m. for a visit to Worthington.

Title I funds of $19,000 have been granted to UMM on behalf of the five cooperating institutions of higher education in the West Minnesota Consortium of region 4. Funding, announced by the Higher Education Coordinating Commission, will be used to continue and expand the Faculty/Student Problem Solving Involvement Project begun last year.

TWIN CITIES--Richard Skok, associate dean of the College of Forestry, becomes dean of the college July 1. He replaces retiring dean Frank Kaufert.

The Board of Regents June 14 adopted a TC campus child-care plan. The child care center will be under the supervision of the Institute of Child Development and will have 75 places for children of students, faculty, and staff members, beginning fall quarter.

The Regents also reduced the portion of the student services fee earmarked for payment of the loan on the Bierman athletic building from $2.75 to $2.35 per quarter.

Constance Barnhart, CLA senior, has received the silver medal of the Royal Society for the Encouragement of Arts, Manufactures, and Commerce of London. The award is given in recognition of distinguished scholarship and involvement in student activities. Barnhart majored in political science and Spanish and has a perfect 4.0 (straight A) average. She plans to study law and has been accepted at the law schools of Yale, Harvard, and Minnesota. She graduated summa cum laude June 15 and is a member of Phi Beta Kappa.

Chris Cavender, the first Minnesota-born Sioux Indian known to receive a Ph.D. degree from the U, was awarded the degree June 15 at the TC campus commencement ceremony. Cavender received his degree in educational administration.

Renewal letters for official U vehicle parking area permits and temporary loading permits should be brought to the police department, 2030 Univeristy Ave. S.E. Old permits expire July 1. New applications should be submitted by letter to the internal parking committee, c/o the police department.

Reminder to savings bonds campaign workers: reports were due at Insurance and Retirement June 14. If you have not yet submitted a report, please send it immediately.

Two free events will be held on the TC campus next week. "Spider" John Koerner presents a blues concert June 25 at 8 p.m. on the Northrop Auditorium plaza. In case of rain, the concert will be held in the auditorium. "The Ballet of Romeo and Juliet," a 1954 Bolshoi film, will be shown June 26 at 8 p.m. in Northrop Auditorium.

WASECA--Visitors' Day is June 25. Activities, a combined effort of UMW and the Southern Experiment Station, include Crops and Soils Field Day at the station and a women's program and open house at the college. Programs and tours start at 8:30 a.m., end at 3:30.

Vol. IV No. 36
July 3, 1974

President-elect C. Peter Magrath met June 27 with 20 student leaders from the five U campuses to discuss student problems and concerns. The topics that generated the most discussion were tuition increases, funding of higher education, and student input to legislators. Magrath also met with U administrators, community groups, and legislators.

Magrath visited the Morris campus and Worthington June 28. Commenting on administrative structure, he stressed that the U should not go the route of setting up a tier of system officers set apart from the operations of the campuses. He wants the President and VPs involved in the TC campus and, through the provosts, the four coordinate campuses.

On the subject of enrollment plateau, Magrath said a slowdown in enrollments of the 18-22 age group will provide more opportunity to serve part-time students of all ages. He cited a study showing the U.S. now has more part-time than full-time college students.

The Board of Regents holds its monthly meetings July 11-12 in Morrill Hall. On the agenda the 1974-75 budget, the 1975-77 legislative request, hospital governance, faculty early retirement, nonresident tuition, policies on international education and the use of human subjects in research, planning issues, and vocational education.

Roberta Goffman, previously announced as Magrath's administrative assistant, will not be able to accept the appointment due to personal circumstances. Gretchen Barbatsis, Shirley Clark, Susan Maricle, and Carl Poppe have been named to an internal search committee to identify two or three candidates for the position. Magrath is seeking someone from the present faculty or staff who knows the inner workings of the U in detail. The committee has been asked to submit its recommendations to VP Kegler by Aug. 1.

Central administration has approved a new salary policy for academic staff members with summer appointments. Salary increases related to summer appointments will be linked to the salary level approved for the coming academic year. The new rates for those with summer session appointments are effective the beginning of first summer session. For those with other summer contracts, the effective date is July 1.

The salary increase will not appear on payroll checks until late in the calendar year because of difficulties in programming the change at this time of year, a period of great appointments activity. Staff members who have reached the ceiling on summer school teaching rates will not benefit from the new policy. U administrators are seeking funds in the 1975-77 legislative request to raise the ceiling in the next biennium.

The Board of Regents has asked Academic Administration VP Chase to propose a grievance procedure for faculty members to resolve disputes regarding merit salary increases. The issue was raised at the June Regents' meeting by a faculty member who claims he received extraordinarily small salary increases in the past, and that no grievance procedure now exists. The proposal will be presented to the Regents at their August meeting.

U staff members who change their home or office addresses, phone numbers, titles, or any other information that appears with their names in the Student-Staff Directory should complete a new directory card and send it to University Relations, S-68 Morrill Hall, TC campus. Send the card as soon as the new information is known since Telephone Operations updates its list of U personnel twice a month.

Herbert Wright's recently awarded title of Regents' professor of geology and geophysics is being amended to Regents' professor of geology, ecology, and botany.

Civil service salary range schedules, usually printed around July 1, will be sent to departments the week of July 22.

DULUTH--A $10,000 grant from the National Science Foundation and a matching grant from the U will purchase electronic calculating equipment for economics classes.

The String Chamber Orchestra leaves July 6 for a three-week tour in Europe. The 19-member group will perform concerts in four countries with sightseeing stops in several others.

Tom Maurer, TC campus Program in Human Sexuality, will speak July 11 at 1 p.m. in Kirby lounge. His topic is "Homosexual Behavior...Accept, Except."

UMD's Marshall W. Alworth Planetarium will present free public programs at 2 p.m. Sundays. "The Moon: Man's Attempts To Explore It" is the subject for July, and "Our Sun and Its Neighbors" is the program for August.

MORRIS--Early Childhood Career Development Programs will be conducted at UMM July 22-Aug. 22 and Aug. 12-23. Headstart and Homestart personnel, as well as parents, will take courses leading to a 24-credit certificate in the area of child development.

Thirty western Minnesota artists have been selected as award winners in the Western Minnesota Art Exhibition in progress now through July 19 in UMM's Gallery, Humanities Fine Arts Center. Among the winners are three UMM art faculty members: John Ingle, Meredith Jack, and Fred Peterson. The winners advance to the State Fair competition.

TWIN CITIES--The budget for intercollegiate athletics for women on the TC campus has received an increase of $47,000 from reallocated U funds, bringing the total budget to $97,000. The increase is for the 1974-75 academic year, with no guarantee of future increases. $10,600 is allocated to maintenance, the remainder is for the program.

M.A.R. Barker, South Asian studies chairman and director of the Center for South Asian Language and Area Studies, has received a $64,289 grant from the U.S. Office of Education for the production of a reader of advanced Urdu poetry. Urdu is spoken in India and Pakistan by over 50 million people and possesses a rich and varied literature.

Telephone Operations has a conference line that can be used for local (Minneapolis, St. Paul, TC campus) and long-distance calls. For information, call Carol Ostrow, 373-2159.

The Minnesota International Center is recruiting families for its annual Summer Homestay Program Aug. 16-Sept. 13. Families are asked to provide a foreign student with a room and morning and evening meals. Weekdays, the student commutes to the Minneapolis campus to attend orientation and English language programs. For more information, contact the center, 711 East River Road, Minneapolis, or phone 373-3200.

The Freshwater Biological Institute, a facility of the College of Biological Sciences, officially opened July 1. The laboratory on Lake Minnetonka, Navarre, will enable faculty members, visiting researchers, and graduate students to study fresh water ecology.

Two free events will be held on the TC campus next week. Bill Price and His New Yorkers Jazz Band will perform July 9 at 8 p.m. on the Northrop Auditorium plaza. The Minnesota Orchestra presents a concert July 10 at 12:15 p.m. on Northrop mall. In case of rain, both concerts will be held in Northrop Auditorium.

The St. Paul Student Center is sponsoring a free series of noon film classics. Upcoming films in the Student Center ballroom are "Superman," "You Bet Your Life," and "Ozzie and Harriet," July 9; "The Great Train Robbery" and "Robin Hood," July 11; "Dracula," July 16; and "Seven Chances," July 18. "The Phantom of the Opera" will be shown July 10 at 8:30 p.m.

Vol. IV No. 37
July 17, 1974

A weekly internal bulletin serving all campuses

President-elect C. Peter Magrath will visit UMC and Crookston community Aug. 6-7 with Mrs. Magrath, newly appointed VP Walter Bruning, and VP Stanley Kegler.

$355 million budget for 1974-75 was approved by Regents Friday. Regent Yngve said budget will represent a cutback in services because increase is below inflation rate. Budget for 1973-74 was $326 million.

Tuition increases totaling more than $1 million were also approved. By approving increases, Regents reaffirmed policy of moving toward requiring students to pay 26.5% of instructional costs. Students in such fields as liberal arts now pay more and others in such high-cost areas as medicine pay less.

Highest tuition hike will be felt by students in law, pharmacy, and mortuary science, with a 9.6% increase from $260 to $285. Tuition will increase from $182 to $189 (3.8%) for CLA, GC, U College, dental hygiene, and Morris campus students.

Regents will devote entire meeting Aug. 9 to discussions of proposed legislative requests. Final action is not expected until September. At meetings last week, they discussed proposal that they seek $330 million in state appropriations from 1975 Legislature for 1975-77 biennium, an increase of about 37% over 1973-75 appropriations.

Regents also discussed the possibility of seeking about $81.8 million for improvements in physical facilities. Building request would include $12.3 million for new law building, $18 million for proposed music building, and $11.5 million for second phase of veterinary medicine building in St. Paul.

Regent Andersen spoke in favor of asking legislative support for intercollegiate athletics. He said such sports as track, rowing, soccer, and golf involve many students and "add a fine dimension to their collegiate experience" but can no longer be supported by football, basketball, and hockey. Support for other sports would lessen the must-win pressure on football and basketball, he said.

Progress report on search for academic VP and dean of Graduate School was made to Regents by search committee chairman George Shapiro. He said list of nominees has been narrowed down to about 30 for each position (from an initial list of some 250). Hope is to submit slates of 3-6 names to President Magrath by Sept. 30.

Applications or nominations are invited for position of VP for student affairs. Resumes and supportive materials should be forwarded no later than Sept. 1 to the Search Committee for Vice President for Student Affairs, 200 Morrill Hall, Twin Cities campus.

C. Peter Magrath was named one of "200 Rising Leaders" in the U.S. in July 15 Time.

CROOKSTON--Magrath party will arrive in late afternoon Aug. 6 and attend a public reception at 6:30 and a private dinner at 8 with legislators and local leaders. Magrath will have breakfast with UMC Administrative Council Aug. 7 and spend the morning touring campus and talking with division personnel. He will meet with faculty and staff at lunch and in the afternoon will visit Northwest Experiment Station.

Stephen Kraatz is new director of Continuing Education, Community Services, and Resource Development at UMC. Herschel Lysaker has been promoted to the position of special assistant to the provost, and Deryl Ramey has been named to replace Lysaker as athletic director. Flo Wiger is new director of American Indian Program.

DULUTH--In recent survey, UMD Placement Office ranked second in overall quality among midwestern public colleges and universities with enrollment of less than 10,000. Survey of employers' recruiters was conducted by Midwest College Placement Association.

Several graduate-level courses in education will be taught at Mesabi Community College in Virginia by UMD faculty during second summer term. Courses are part of a pilot program sponsored by Northeast Minnesota Higher Education Council.

UMD is among a dozen Upper Midwest colleges participating in U.S. Army's Cooperative Education program. As a "home" college, UMD will maintain a credit bank for student soldiers who earn college credit in courses taken while on active duty.

Two paintings by Jean Millet will be loaned by Tweed Museum of Art to an international exhibition in Paris and London next year.

MORRIS--A Resource Personnel Workshop funded by NSF will be conducted on UMM campus July 28-Aug. 23. Training sessions will be offered in five curriculum projects geared to improvement of high school education in anthropology, geography, and sociology.

A $60,000 grant to provide services to senior citizens in Grant, Stevens, and Traverse counties has been awarded to Continuing Education and Regional Programs (CERP) at UMM. Three major thrusts of the project will be to further develop senior citizen activities centers, to develop a transportation system, and to establish a homemakers' aide program.

TWIN CITIES--Board of Governors for U Hospitals, with a consumer majority, was approved by Regents. The 21-member board will be responsible for managing the $47 million annual budget and will oversee medical staff operation and patient care.

Regents approved plan to construct underground building behind Folwell Hall to house bookstore and Admissions and Records. Construction is scheduled to begin next March.

Legislator James Swanson of Richfield told Regents that lab facilities in vocational and technical education at U are below standard and unsafe. He said department has 100% placement of its graduates but "there is not a high school in the state that does not have better equipment" than U.

U police officers are going without traditional police caps this summer to see what effect it will have on people's attitude toward police.

"A President Retires," a filmed retrospective of President Malcolm Moos' nearly seven years in office, will be broadcast at 9 tonight (July 17) on KTCA-TV (ch. 2).

F. Stuart Chapin, U professor emeritus, died July 7. Chapin, who retired from U in 1953 after more than 30 years on faculty, was former director of School of Social Work. Memorials to University of Minnesota Memorial Fund are preferred.

Minnesota Dance Theatre and Minnesota Orchestra present a free concert tonight (July 17) at 8 in Northrop.

Harold Swanson, head of information and agricultural journalism for 26 years, resigned his administrative duties effective June 30. He will teach agricultural journalism and work with county and campus-based faculty on communications problems.

WASECA--Regent David Utz will visit Waseca July 24. U Relations office at UMW will coordinate plan for his visit.

U Archives

UNIVERSITY OF MINNESOTA

briief

Vol. IV No. 38
July 31, 1974

A weekly internal bulletin serving all campuses

Next Regents meeting will be at the Freshwater Biological Institute on Lake Minnetonka Aug. 9. There will be no committee sessions the day before the full board meeting. During the coming academic year, the Regents plan to hold at least half their meetings at various coordinate campus locations.

Federal funding of $7.9 million has been approved for constructing Unit B/C of the U's health sciences complex, according to Minnesota Rep. Ancher Nelsen. Official notification is expected this week. The funds are in addition to $14 million appropriated by the state Legislature last year. Construction of the building will begin in the fall.

The U also asked for $5.6 million in federal funds to build Unit F, a new building for the College of Pharmacy. It received $1 million toward the total estimated cost of $17 million.

Walter Bruning, VP for administrative operations, and Mitchell Pearlstein, assistant to the President, will visit the Waseca campus Aug. 29-30.

Civil service employees interested in working on U committees may submit their names and resumes to the civil service committee, which is frequently asked to recommend people for committee service. State what committees you are interested in or what your general interests are and send the information to Roger Moe, 338 Morrill Hall.

The Board of Regents, at their July meeting, extended to June 30, 1976, the present age 62-64 early retirement option for faculty members.

A survey conducted by Student Life Studies shows that the U interim alcohol policy is considered a success by residence hall students. The policy went into effect fall 1973 and allowed alcoholic beverage consumption in dorms. Interviews were held with 49 TC campus resident students who lived in a dorm before and after the policy went into effect. 84% were satisfied with the policy and 82% felt it protected the rights of both drinkers and nondrinkers. No one thought the policy had a negative effect on his grades.

A mailed survey was also sent to 496 TC campus students to learn their perceptions of alcohol policy issues; 402 responded. Most students believed the U needs a drinking policy and that students should help formulate it. Most favored some restrictions on drinking on all campus locations except the Campus Club and dorm rooms and lounges. A majority believed that student drinking restrictions should also apply to faculty and staff. And about half felt the U should provide alcohol education and treatment programs.

CROOKSTON--Allen Croone, director of University Relations, leaves UMC Aug. 12 to become a high school principal in New London, Minnesota.

DULUTH--First class of 24 students in the UMD School of Medicine completed their two-year basic sciences programs July 18. Eight students will enter the family practice rural physicians associate program, others transfer to the TC campus Medical School.

Gilford Remington, director of General Extension Division Evening Classes in Duluth from 1953 to 1970, died July 22. He retired in 1970 after nearly 22 years with the U.

George Himango, a UMD graduate, has been hired as Indian Community Program assistant in Student Affairs. He will aid in development and improvement of services to make effective educational opportunities available to American Indian students. His office will be in 184 Administration building; telephone is 726-7167.

"Innovations in Indian Education" will be the topic for two programs at 9:30 a.m. in Kirby ballroom and at 7:30 p.m. in Home Economics 70 auditorium today (July 31).

Freshman orientation sessions will be Aug. 8-9, 15-16, and Sept. 16-17. Parents are invited to attend special series of programs for them while their son or daughter attends orientation.

MORRIS--About 30 civil service employees from state agencies in Morris and throughout West Central Minnesota are expected for a workshop, "Dealing With the Public," Aug. 7 at UMM. The workshop, sponsored and conducted by the State Department of Personnel, is intended for those civil service workers who regularly come in close contact with the public while performing their duties.

Funding of $7,500 has been renewed for the West Central Minnesota Historical Research Center located on the UMM campus. The funds constitute a joint grant from the Minnesota Historical Society and UMM, and will allow the center to continue its involvement of undergraduate history students in the collection and preservation of historical materials from West Central Minnesota.

Former UMM women's athletic coach Connie Edlund is the new admissions counselor at UMM. She replaces Irene Kovala, who resigned to pursue graduate studies.

TWIN CITIES--U Police will begin impounding bicycles parked on handicap ramps. Chaining bikes on the ramps is a safety hazard and renders the ramps inaccessible to the handicapped. Under the new policy, parked bikes will be impounded at handicap ramps bearing the sign, "Handicap Ramp, Parked Bikes Impounded." Such signs are now in place on ramps at Unit A.

TC campus Admissions and Records offices will be closed Aug. 5 in order that the staff may attend an in-service training program designed to more fully acquaint Admissions and Records personnel with current policies and procedures. Offices will be staffed to provide for emergencies only.

Support Services has opened a scientific apparatus satellite shop in 21 Biological Sciences Center. A full range of shop services is now offered to St. Paul campus staff: scientific apparatus in room 21, 376-4587; electronic instruments in room 25, 373-1588; and glass technology liaison in room 25, 373-1589 (Tuesdays only).

Wesley Simonton became director of the Library School July 1, succeeding David Berninghausen, who was school director since 1953 and now becomes a full-time faculty member.

Four free, public concerts will be held on the TC campus next week. They are: Johnny Shines, blues concert, 8 p.m., Aug. 5, Northrop Plaza; Hall Brothers New Orleans Jazz Band, 8 p.m., Aug. 6, Northrop Plaza; Minnesota Orchestra, 12:15 p.m., Aug. 7, Northrop Mall; and Leon Redbone, blues concert, 8 p.m., Aug. 7, Northrop Plaza.

Extension entomologist John Lofgren will devote full time this coming academic year to a pilot project with the Environmental Protection Agency. The project includes a study of methods to organize and conduct educational programs for pesticide applicators. The program will enroll and teach farmers in several different areas of the state.

Dr. Joseph Westermeyer, psychiatry, will provide consultative services for patients with alcoholism and drug abuse problems at U Hospitals for the next three months. At the end of that period, the services will be evaluated to see if they are needed. For routine consultations, write to Box 393, U Hospitals. Urgent consultations may be obtained by calling 373-8859.

Vol. IV No. 39
August 14, 1974

A weekly internal bulletin serving all campuses

The Regents Aug. 9 approved a $326 million request to the 1975 Legislature to help finance U operations for the 1975-77 biennium. It compares with an appropriation of $241 million for 1973-75, and would be an increase of 26.5% the first year and 7.4% the second year. Still to be added to the request is an amount for Civil Service salary increases.

Regents L. J. Lee and Fred Cina criticized the request because no major programs had been cut in order to fund the margin of excellence proposals. Chairman Elmer Andersen defended the request, saying every program had been carefully scrutinized and that it just doesn't seem possible to divest the University of programs for which there is a need and a demand from the people of the state.

Regent Neil Sherburne reported on the cost of the search for President-elect C. Peter Magrath. Cost was $13,719 and included $9,146 in travel and lodging, more than $1,000 in long-distance phone calls. Other expenses included advertising, supplies, postage, and receptions. The search committee spent nearly 18,000 man-hours on the search.

Walter Bruning, VP for administrative operations, and Mitchell Pearlstein, assistant to the President, visit the coordinate campuses Aug. 26-30 to meet with provosts, staff, and community leaders. They arrive in Duluth Aug. 26, Crookston Aug. 27, Morris Aug. 28, and Waseca Aug. 29. They return to the Twin Cities Aug. 30.

VP Paul Cashman, student affairs, will remain in office until Jan. 1 at the request of President-elect Magrath. Cashman had planned to resign effective Sept. 16 to return to teaching in the speech-communication department. The search committee for a new VP is not expected to have a list of candidates before October.

U Regents have filed suit in Ramsey County District Court to challenge the application of the Designers Selection Board's jurisdiction to the U. The state board is empowered to choose the designers for state buildings costing more than $250,000. The lawsuit contends that the board's authority is not applicable to the U because, under the Minnesota constitution, the Regents have the authority to select designers.

President's Form 17, which monitors all academic appointments, has been revised, according to the Office of Equal Opportunity. Departments should order new forms from the Storehouse. The old form will not be accepted by the office after Sept. 1.

Staff listings for the Student-Staff Directory have been computerized and will now be maintained by Development Services, 190 Printing and Graphic Arts, TC campus. Call Janet Grieder, 373-2358, if there are questions.

All U staff members have been mailed postcards containing their directory information as it is now on computer. Correct the information if necessary and return; return the postcard even if no corrections are made. New staff members or those who did not receive a postcard should fill out completely a new staff directory card and return it by Sept. 16 to Development Services, 190 Printing and Graphic Arts, TC campus.

"Going Metric" is the theme of the U exhibit at the State Fair Aug. 23-Sept. 2. The exhibit will be in the Education building, along with Morris campus and combined Waseca/Crookston displays.

The wages of U employees, as a result of recent state legislation, are now subject to garnishment procedures. The garnishment summons will be honored only if served upon the President or a member of his immediate office staff. A summons served upon other U departments should be returned to the sender with the above information.

A checkless payday system will be available to U employees (except students) about Jan. 1. Under the system, a participating employee's check would be automatically deposited in his checking account, if his bank participates in the program. The employee would receive a pay slip showing earnings, deductions, and amount credited to the account.

The state of Minnesota will pay Wisconsin $1.3 million under a reciprocity agreement allowing students to attend college in either state and pay resident tuition. During the 1973-74 academic year, 1,800 Minnesotans attended Wisconsin colleges and 900 Wisconsin residents attended Minnesota schools. Fall quarter figures show 518 Wisconsin students enrolled at U's TC campus, 83 at UMD, 1 each at UMC and UMW, and none at UMM.

DULUTH--The Regents, at their Aug. 9 meeting, approved negotiations to purchase Duluth radio station WDTH-FM for expansion of UMD's KUMD-FM. The Regents had approved a purchase plan last December, but the bid on the 100,000-watt station was not accepted at that time. HEW and foundation funds will be sought to supplement U funds for the purchase, which is subject to approval by the Federal Communications Commission.

First summer term enrollment was up more than 11 percent. There were 1,473 students on campus compared to 1,326 a year ago. Figure includes 1,226 undergrads, 142 graduate students, 48 in the School of Medicine, and 57 in the School of Social Work.

Sigurd Olson--author, conservationist, and wilderness authority--will speak at the UMD summer commencement Aug. 23 at 4 p.m. in the Marshall Performing Arts Center.

The first master of education degrees to be awarded at UMD will be presented to nine students at commencement. The M.Ed. program was approved two years ago.

Kazuo Seki, president of the Society for College Relations International, Tokyo, visits UMD Aug. 26. He will discuss the Laurel Scholarship program, through which 150 American colleges and universities provide one year's tuition for qualified foreign students.

MORRIS--The UMM Admissions Office will hold briefing sessions Aug. 14, 15, 16, and 19 with various campus units to give them an opportunity to express their concept of UMM and how the campus can best be represented to prospective students.

Russell May, director of Continuing Education and Regional Programs at UMM, will become director of the U's Rochester Continuing Education and Extension Center Sept. 3.

The UMM alumni board of directors meets Aug. 24 in the Behmler Hall conference room to discuss upcoming vacancies on the board and homecoming events.

TWIN CITIES--U police officers will go without traditional police caps in the summer from now on. An experiment begun July 2 shows that hatless police officers put people more at ease and are more approachable.

The family practice and community health department has received more than $1 million from HEW to support postgraduate residency training programs, allied health workers in family practice centers, research projects in health care delivery, and the undergraduate education program.

WASECA--Horticulture Days will be held at UMW Aug. 18 and 20. A public open house will be held in the horticulture areas Aug. 18, and an open house for the horticulture industry and prospective students will be Aug. 20.

Regent Kathryn Vander Kooi and her husband Benjamin visit UMW Aug. 30. They will tour the campus and the Southern Experiment Station.

Vol. IV No. 40
August 28, 1974

A weekly internal bulletin serving all campuses

C. Peter Magrath officially assumes office as U President Sept. 1. He will be inaugurated Nov. 26 at 2 p.m. in Northrop Auditorium, TC campus. A five-person advisory committee, composed of students, faculty, and civil service staff members, will advise the U Relations department in planning the inaugural event.

Magrath completes his tour of outstate campuses with visits to Duluth on Sept. 18 and to Waseca on Sept. 23.

Jeanne Lupton will become administrative assistant to President-elect Magrath if the Board of Regents approves the appointment in September. Lupton is director of student services for the College of Biological Sciences. She has been with that college since 1966, when she was named assistant to the dean. She holds a Ph.D. in history and has taught in the social studies division in General College.

Ralph Berdie, U coordinator of admissions, registration, and student records, died Aug. 21. He joined the U faculty in 1939 as a psychology teaching assistant, and later served as counseling bureau director and student life studies director.

VP Stanley Kegler and other central administrators meet with appropriate Senate, Twin Cities, and coordinate campus committee members all this week to discuss the proposed faculty salary request to be presented to the 1975 Legislature.

The U received $20.4 million in private support in 1972-73, putting it in 17th place among American colleges and universities. The U was in 19th place in 1971-72, the first time it had been in the top 20.

Minnesota ranked eighth among higher education institutions receiving federal funds in fiscal year 1973, with a total of $57.5 million. The list was headed by the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, followed by the U of Wisconsin-Madison.

New commencements and special events coordinator in U Relations, TC campus, is Claudia Wallace. She replaces Kelley Godfrey, who is moving to Aspen, Colo., to become administrative assistant to the president of a property development corporation. A farewell reception for Godfrey will be held this afternoon (Aug. 28), 3-4:30 p.m., in the news conference room, B-12 Morrill hall, TC campus.

Two TV courses will be offered for U credit in the fall: Sociology of Death (Soc 5956) and Psychology of Drug Abuse (PsyF 5176). The first will be broadcast Mondays, 9-10 p.m., beginning Sept. 23; cost is $60 for 4 credits. The second will be shown Tuesdays, 7:30-8 p.m., starting Sept. 24; cost is $50 for 3 credits. The courses will be on channels 2 (Twin Cities), 8 (Duluth), 10 (Appleton), and 13 (Moorhead). Register with Extension Classes, 101 Westbrook hall, TC campus.

CROOKSTON--UMC has met requirements to continue its accreditation as an associate degree-granting institution. An accreditation team for the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools visited the campus last spring. UMC was previously accredited in conjunction with its affiliation with the U. Recent accreditation is based upon UMC's own merits as a technical college.

MORRIS--The coordinating committee of the University Without Walls (UWW)-Morris Learning Center will meet Sept. 10 to consider the preliminary evaluation report of the center.

TWIN CITIES--A package containing 14 applications for a World Leisure and Recreation Association scholarship was delivered to the wrong campus department and subsequently misplaced. The package was addressed to Gordon Starr (registered mail #869). If anyone received the parcel by accident, please call U Police, 373-3550, who will pick it up.

The last day to apply for the fall quarter computerized car-pool service is Sept. 5. Application forms have been distributed to faculty and staff members with August pay checks. Completed forms can be deposited in the special car-pool containers located at the information counters in Coffman Union, West Bank Union, St. Paul Student Center, and Morrill hall, or they can be sent to the U Transit Services Office, 224 Northrop Auditorium. Extra application forms are available at all of these locations.

A $1,000 Loving Care Scholarship grant has been given to Continuing Education for Women by Clairol, Inc. The award is to encourage women over 35 to continue undergraduate degree programs, full or part time, on the TC campus. Funds will be awarded to one or more eligible students and will be administered through the Louise Roff Scholarship committee. For more information, call 373-9743 or Fran Van Slyke, 376-4500.

Master glassblower Jim Merritt, glass technology services, leaves the U Aug. 29 to join the UCLA staff. An open house for Merritt will be held all day Aug. 29 in S-146 Kolthoff hall. All are welcome for coffee and refreshments.

Ninety-five percent of the students accepted into this fall's entering class at the TC campus Medical School are Minnesota residents. Of the 1,898 applicants for 239 openings, 834 were Minnesotans. Those accepted include 199 men and 40 women; 16 students are members of minority groups. Most of the students received their premedical education at the U (90) or at one of the private colleges in the state (89).

Bruce Brown resigns Aug. 31 after 14 years as director of the Cloquet Forestry Center. He will devote full time to teaching and research at the center.

Continuing Education for Women will offer 16 Lifelong Learning courses to students over 60 this fall at the MacPhail Center and the Yorktown Senior Citizens Center. All are daytime courses, tuition is $7.50. Call 373-9743 for a course bulletin.

Dr. Mirdza Kaufmanis, U instructor of operative dentistry since 1966, died Aug. 13. Survivors include husband Karlis Kaufmanis, U professor of physics and astronomy.

A two-day workshop, "The Message and the Medium," will be held Sept. 16-17 on the TC campus for people involved in producing publicity, newsletters, and announcements. First day includes writing, editing, visuals, news releases, and special promotions. Second day includes small workshops. Fee is $20 for the first day only, $35 for both days. For more info or to register, contact Continuing Education for Women, 200 Westbrook hall, 373-9743.

A new supply of compost manure will be available Sept. 3 on the St. Paul campus. Costs range from $2.50 a carload to $6 a ton. The manure must be picked up on the day of purchase; buyers should bring shovels and containers. Payment is made to the General Service and Maintenance department, 101 Agronomy.

Vol. IV No. 41
September 11, 1974

A weekly internal bulletin serving all campuses

Several U faculty members have called for the resignation of Regent L.J. Lee, who allegedly brought religious beliefs question into the selection of a U president last spring. Lee and other Regents denied that anti-Semitism was involved in their selection of C. Peter Magrath over David Saxon. Lee said his objection to Saxon was not because he was Jewish, but because he was not active in any religious group. Lee said that was a minor consideration and his greatest concern centered on Saxon's views regarding agriculture and the coordinate campuses.

Lee's resignation was requested by state Sen. Allan Spear and state Rep. Phyllis Kahn, who said there must be no religious test in choosing the president of a state university. Representatives from the University of Minnesota Federation of Teachers called for Lee's resignation, and the executive committee of the TC campus chapter of AAUP will meet Sept. 13 to determine whether to begin an investigation of the incident. Everyone who called for investigation or resignation expressed support for Magrath.

Board chairman Elmer Andersen issued a statement affirming the Regents' policy to promote equal employment opportunity without discrimination. He said the board would investigate the presidential selection process to examine recent allegations and would issue a public report. If improper procedures are proved, the Regents will take the necessary actions, including the establishment of any procedures needed to assure compliance with Regents' policy and state and federal law.

The Board of Regents holds its monthly meetings Sept. 12-13 in Morrill Hall. Among the agenda items is a discussion of the proposed building request to the 1975 Legislature.

Letters explaining the correct procedure for updating listings in the departments section of the 1974-75 Student-Staff Directory have been sent to all U departments. Listings are due Sept. 16. Those who did not receive a letter or who need more info should contact Sharon Huhn, U Relations, S-68 Morrill Hall, TC campus. Phone is (612) 373-7505.

Staff members are reminded that postcards sent to them for correction of staff directory info are due Sept. 16. New staff members or those who did not receive a postcard should fill out completely a new staff directory card and return it to Development Services, 190 Printing and Graphic Arts, TC campus. If there are questions, call (612) 373-2358.

Jeanne Lupton has been identified previously as administrative assistant to President Magrath. Her correct title is assistant to the President.

U departments that have not had their Business Procedures Manuals updated for 1974-75 should contact the Training Division, 404 Johnston Hall, TC campus, (612) 373-4366.

The Central Officers Group, formerly the Senior Officers Group, has been reorganized. Formal membership of COG includes President Magrath and his immediate staff; VPs, the academic administration associate VP, and the deputy VP for agriculture; directors of Personnel, Alumni Relations, Development, U Relations, Equal Opportunity Office, and Office of Management Planning; the U attorney; and Board of Regents secretary.

CROOKSTON--Fall quarter classes at UMC began Sept. 9 and the Provost's Convocation was held this morning in Kiehle Auditorium.

A Parenting Workshop will be held Sept. 21 at UMC. Three experts in early childhood education will speak on such topics as the care and needs of infants and toddlers and cognitive development in preschoolers. For more information, contact the Home and Family Services Division, Selvig Hall, 281-6510, extension 274. Cost is $13.75.

DULUTH--John Skelton succeeds John Gergen as director of the UMD Computer Center. Skelton comes to UMD from the U of Denver, where he was a research associate in mathematics while studying for his Ph.D. Gergen, who recently resigned, is traveling in Europe.

The Child Care Center provides service for children of UMD students. The center is open 8 a.m.-4:30 p.m. each day UMD classes are in session. Fees are 35¢ an hour for one child, 50¢ for two, 65¢ for three. Parents are asked to work in the center one hour for every four their children attend. For more info, call 726-7163 or 724-3226.

The UMD School of Medicine freshman class numbers 36 students this year and includes 7 women and 29 men. Other freshman-class statistics show 32 Minnesotans, 2 students from Wisconsin, and 1 each from Michigan and North Dakota. Two students are American Indians and 26 are from towns with populations under 13,000. Classes began Sept. 3.

UMD and the Duluth Center of CEE will offer four classes at neighborhood locations during daytime hours this fall. The classes, taught by UMD faculty members, will meet once a week for several hours and earn credit. For information, call 726-8113.

MORRIS--Planning is under way for UMM's tenth homecoming celebration Oct. 19. Events will include special recognition of the class of 1964, the first graduating class. Other events are a revival of the homecoming parade and a barbecue luncheon.

TWIN CITIES--A sherry and cheese reception for incoming graduate students, faculty members, and administrators will be held from 3:30 to 5:30 p.m. Sept. 20 in the Campus Club, Coffman Union. The reception, which gives guests a chance to meet each other informally, is the last event in a week-long program for graduate students.

"Our Bodies, Ourselves" is a noon-hour class especially for U personnel, but open to anyone. The course deals with health, reproduction, and women's attitudes in living with themselves and others. Dr. Elizabeth Reed, geneticist, is instructor. Class meets Wednesdays at 12:05 in Chemical Engineering 40. Fee is $10. Register with Continuing Education for Women, 200 Wesbrook Hall. For more information, call 373-9743.

Continuing Education for Women also offers "Let's Read a Book." The Great Gatsby and Sons and Lovers will be discussed. Class meets 12:05 Mondays, Commonwealth Community Center, 1250 Gibbs Ave., St. Paul campus. Fee: $7.50. Register at 200 Wesbrook Hall.

The International Student Adviser's Office will be closed Sept. 19 for a one-day orientation retreat for new foreign students. For information about the retreat, call Martha Lutman or Robert Moran, 373-4096.

Extension Classes offers a program that allows persons to attend lectures from a variety of classes for $1 each. U faculty will present the special lectures as part of regular evening classes. Topics include "Intellectual Unrest in the USSR," "The Composer's Process," and "Mysteries of the Human Soul." Call 373-5166 for a complete list.

Jean Shearn, editor and former proofroom supervisor at Printing and Graphic Arts, died Aug. 29 after a lengthy illness.

The Minneapolis Consolidated Fund Drive is providing tours of various city agencies for captains and solicitors. Next tours are Sept. 17 to the Society for the Blind and Sept. 25 to the Opportunity Workshop. Buses leave Coffman Union at 11:30. Participants may buy lunch for $1 or bring their own. For info, call Jean Parmelee, 373-2042.

WASECA--Welcome Week activities at UMW Sept. 21-27 include a get-acquainted party, continental breakfast, movies, football game, and dance.

Vol. V      No. 1
September 25, 1974

A weekly internal bulletin serving all campuses

Salary increases for present U faculty and staff will be given priority over new positions in the U's 1975 legislative request. The Regents had approved the $326 million request at their August meeting, but President Magrath asked for flexibility to change priorities. Magrath, at the Regents' request, also trimmed $17.9 million from the proposed $70 million request for capital improvements and buildings.

Defending changes in the budget, Magrath said there is a relationship between reasonably well-paid faculty and program excellence. Further cuts, he said, could come from "specials," line items appropriated by the Legislature for specific purposes. Magrath also proposed an increase in the request in regard to expenses and supplies.

Two committees will investigate whether questions of religious affiliation influenced the Regents' decision to hire President Magrath last April. The Regents have established a six-member presidential selection review committee; four members will be named by Minnesota Chief Justice Robert Sheran, one by the U Senate consultative committee. The sixth member is Mark English, chairman, student consultative committee.

State Senate education committee chairman Jerome Hughes named a five-member subcommittee to conduct its own investigation into the presidential search. State Sen. Robert Lewis is chairman.

Harold Chase, acting academic administration VP, has resigned. He will take a leave of absence to conduct research and return to teaching political science next spring. Albert Linck and Shirley Clark retain their current positions as acting associate VP and acting assistant VP, respectively. The VP search committee hopes to make recommendations by late October.

A Sept. 20 story in the St. Paul Pioneer Press contains an error in reporting President Magrath's speech to the Minnesota Press Club. Magrath had said U faculty salaries are less than those at other major American universities. The reporter said Magrath blamed the disparity in part on years of retrenchment when the U saved money by restricting salaries and cutting programs. In fact, salaries were not restricted during retrenchment. Legislative funds appropriated for salaries may not be used in other ways.

The Office of Sponsored Programs (OSP) and the Research Accounting Office have been reorganized and most operations of the units merged into the Office of Research Administration. Physical locations remain as they are until renovations in the Bruce building are complete. Tony Potami is director of the newly created office. The former OSP will be reorganized as the Graduate School Research Development Center. Final plans for the center will be completed when a new Graduate School dean is appointed.

Faculty members and graduate students interested in information and application deadline dates for available fellowships should contact the Graduate Fellowship Office, 309 Johnston Hall, TC campus, (612) 373-2833. Fellowships include grants from the Rockefeller Foundation, NATO, NSF; exchange programs; and dissertation awards for women.

DULUTH--Political prankster Dick Tuck will speak Oct. 3 at 1:30 p.m. in Kirby ballroom. His topic is "Watergate Wasn't All My Fault, or, 23 Years With Richard Nixon."

UMD's Students' College is seeking persons to teach Free Univer-City classes this fall. Courses meet once a week for 10 weeks, beginning in October. Courses may be on any topic, and are offered for no credit and no tuition. Call 726-8524 for information.

MORRIS--William Scarborough has been named vice chairman of UMM's Education Division. He will continue as coordinator of student teaching.

The first annual Upper Midwest Philosophy Colloquium will be at UMM. Robert Ammerman, U of Wisconsin-Madison, is the first of eight speakers scheduled throughout the year to present papers on the history of philosophy. He speaks Oct. 1 at 3 p.m. in the blue TV room and at 8 p.m. in the recital hall, Humanities Fine Arts Center.

TWIN CITIES--E. W. Ziebarth, former CLA dean and president of the U during summer 1974, has been unanimously elected vice president of the Corporation for Twin City Area Educational Television. The corporation operates KTCA and KTCI and provides network service to the Midwest Educational Television network.

The Solicitors' Kickoff Coffee, for solicitors and captains of the Minneapolis Consolidated Fund Drive, will be Oct. 1 at 10 a.m. in Coffman Union main ballroom. Solicitors will pick up their packets at the event, which includes a program and refreshments. (If main ballroom renovations are not complete, the meeting will be in the junior ballroom.)

Dr. Paul Quie--pediatrics, laboratory medicine, and pathology--has been named American Legion Memorial Heart Research Professor, succeeding Dr. Robert Good.

The Minnesota International Student Association holds its annual welcome party Sept. 27, 8 p.m.-1 a.m., at Luther Hall, 1813 Univ. Ave. S.E., Minneapolis. The program includes entertainment and refreshments. The party is free and open to all.

The Kaufert Laboratory of Forest Products and Wood Science was dedicated Sept. 13. The building is named after Frank Kaufert, former dean of the College of Forestry.

Prize-winning art works from throughout Minnesota are on display at the St. Paul Student Center through Oct. 3. The paintings, sculpture, jewelry, and photographs represent the best entries from regional shows held earlier this year.

The Nigerian Students Association, Minnesota chapter, is planning a week-long celebration of the 14th anniversary of Nigerian independence. Activities begin Sept. 29 with a soccer match at 4 p.m. at Northrop Field. Other events include an exhibit of Nigerian arts and crafts, dinner, and symposium. For more info, call 374-5814 or 646-8301.

A TC campus festival, "The Art and Mind of Victorian England," will be held Sept. 29-Nov. 8. Highlight of the event is a major U Gallery exhibit of Victorian paintings, furniture, and decorative arts. Coordinated activities include music, theatre, and a film series. American and Canadian authorities on various Victorian topics will deliver a series of evening lectures. For a complete schedule of events, call 373-3424.

Kathy Kelly, Experimental College senior and former TC campus student body president, has been elected president of the National Student Association. She will live in Washington, D.C., for the year she holds office.

A film series of interest to health science students, faculty, and personnel will be held the first Tuesday and Wednesday of each month during the coming year. Films will be shown continuously Tuesdays, 12-5 p.m., Health Sciences A2-690, and Wednesdays, 2-6 p.m., A2-620. First films: Oct. 1-2. A complete listing of films will be available (one week prior to showing) at the CHIP Office, 3330 Powell Hall; phone is 373-8969.

The Center for Early Education and Development is sponsoring two October film discussion programs. Phillip Salapatak presents "Child Watchers" Oct. 3, 7:30-9 p.m., Sons of Jacob Synagogue, 1466 Portland, St. Paul. Richard Weinberg offers "What Do You Think?" Oct. 22, 7:30-9:30 p.m., Beth El Aleph School, 26th St. at Hwy. 100, St. Louis Park.

Vol. V No. 2
October 2, 1974

A weekly internal bulletin serving all campuses

Minnesota Chief Justice Robert Sheran has named four persons to the Regents' presidential selection review committee. They are former state Sen. Gordon Rosenmeier, temporary chairman; Amos Heilicher, president of Pickwick International; Verne Johnson, General Mills VP; and Annette Whiting, Minnesota Press Council. Rutherford Aris, chemical engineering and materials science, and Mark English, student, both on the consultative committee, are the other members of the committee, which meets the week of Oct. 15.

Civil service employees may volunteer to serve as panel members on the Grievance Review Board, which hears appeals at the third step of the grievance procedure. The panel is appointed once a year. To volunteer, contact Roger Moe, 338 Morrill Hall, TC campus.

The Senate Task Force on Academic Salaries has presented a progress report to the consultative committee chairman, and task force members hope to have a joint meeting with the consultative committee and the committee on faculty affairs by mid-October.

Student Affairs VP Paul Cashman has organized a 12-member search committee--composed of students, faculty, and admissions and records staff--to find a successor to Ralph Berdie, U coordinator of admissions, registration, and student records, who died Aug. 21. Chairing the committee are Valerie Johnson, student member of the consultative committee, and G. Gordon Kingsley, student personnel head in General College.

Anne Truax, Minnesota Women's Center director, is chairperson of the U Task Force on Intercollegiate Athletics. The task force will respond to HEW on proposed Title IX guidelines, assess athletic programs on all U campuses, and draw up a plan for U compliance with final guidelines covering admissions, recruitment, programs and employment.

U administrators will attend the Oct. 3 inauguration of Douglas Moore, president of Mankato State College. Participating in the academic procession are President Magrath; Jeanne Lupton, assistant to the President; Herschel Lysaker, special assistant to the provost (UMC); Thomas Thielen, vice provost for student affairs (UMD); Provost John Imholte (UMM); and Provost Edward Frederick (UMW).

U faculty, staff, and students are eligible for study and travel opportunities sponsored by the International Study and Travel Center. Fall/winter charter flights include trips to Europe, Russia, Greece, Chicago, Vail, New York, and New Orleans. For information, contact the center, 231 Coffman Union, TC campus, (612) 373-0180.

The U.S. Office of Education predicts that college and university enrollment will be greater this fall than last, while the number of students in elementary schools will show a sharp decline. The report predicts an increase of 110,000 students in college degree programs (to a total of 8,600,000) and a drop of 730,000 in primary schools. The 1975 high school graduating class is expected to be the largest ever.

CROOKSTON--Edward Stoyanoff has been named U Relations director, subject to Regents' approval. Stoyanoff had been assistant to the dean of community services, conference coordinator, and English and journalism teacher at Rock Valley College, Rockford, Ill.

Stuart Seligson has been appointed chairman of the Hotel, Restaurant, and Institutional Management division at UMC. He had been coordinator and department chairman of food services and hospitality education at the Atlanta Area Technical School, Atlanta, Ga.

UMC Provost Stanley Sahlstrom received the American Cancer Society National Division Award at their annual membership meeting Sept. 27 in Minneapolis. Sahlstrom, immediate past president of the Minnesota division of the society, was cited for outstanding contributions to the control of cancer.

DULUTH--Applications for Rhodes scholarships can be made through the UMD Office of Special Programs, 409 Administration Building. Deadline for applications to state committees is Oct. 31 for the 1975-76 academic year.

Art shows opening Oct. 6 at Tweed Museum of Art include oil and acrylic paintings by Dorothea Smith, paintings by P.J.O. Nordfeldt, and Indian quilts by Ida Campagna, a UMD student. The shows run to Nov. 6.

MORRIS--Homecoming is Oct. 18-19, and the emphasis is on UMM's first graduating class, the class of 1964. Highlights are a homecoming parade, dedication of the Rodney Briggs Library, and a special remembrance room filled with memorabilia from UMM's earlier years.

"Enter-ACT," a new procedure that facilitates admission to UMM for qualified high school students, has been adopted for fall 1975. Students who take the ACT test and who list UMM as their first choice automatically receive tentative admission decisions without having to file additional applications. The ACT contains such comprehensive information that further application is unnecessary in most instances.

TWIN CITIES--"European Origins and American Experience," a two-session Sunday night seminar, will be offered through Continuing Education for Women Oct. 13 and 27 in the faculty dining room, St. Paul Student Center. Fee of $17.50 includes tuition and two suppers. For more information, call 373-9743. Men and women invited.

The Center for Youth Development and Research and the Law School are cosponsoring an interdisciplinary seminar, "Making Sense on the Rights of Youth," Oct. 7 at 3:30 p.m. in the Campus Club east wing, Coffman Union. Patricia Wald (lawyer, educator, author) is guest speaker. For more information, contact the center, 325 Haecker Hall, 376-7624.

The St. Paul Student Center holds an open house Oct. 9; theme is "Now and Then." Student organizations will present booths and displays, and activities include free bowling, billiards, and music. A movie at 7:30 p.m., "The Owl and the Pussycat," is $1.

President Magrath will address the extension (Agricultural Extension Service) field staff conference Oct. 8 in Brainerd. William Hueg, deputy VP for agriculture, forestry, and home economics, speaks at a breakfast meeting Oct. 9.

The Audio Visual Library Service, 3300 Univ. Ave. S.E., holds an open house Oct. 10 2-4 p.m. Staff members will acquaint members of the U community with available services and answer questions about films and equipment. Free parking is near building.

The Minnesota University Forum is sponsoring a series of afternoon lectures. First talk is "The Place of Freedom in the Political Philosophy of Herbert Marcuse" by Gerald Erickson, classics, Oct. 10 at 3:15 p.m. in 210 Anderson Hall (West Bank).

The Center for Early Education and Development will hold an open house Oct. 11, 3-5 p.m., in 226 Child Development. Staff, students, and community members who are interested in early childhood education are invited to learn about proposed activities for the 1974-75 academic year. Committee chairpersons will be present.

WASECA-- legislative agricultural education group toured UMW Oct. 1.

Vol. V No. 3
October 9, 1974

A weekly internal bulletin serving all campuses

The Board of Regents holds its monthly meetings Oct. 10 in Morrill Hall and Oct. 11 at the Waseca campus. On the agenda: a rap session with students at UMW, a discussion of the Regents' role in presenting the U's request to the 1975 Legislature, the administrative reorganization of the Duluth campus, and plans to develop a U mission statement.

Regents' Chairman Elmer Andersen and Regent Neil Sherburne, chairman of the Regents' presidential search committee, testified Oct. 3 at the first meeting of a state Senate subcommittee investigating the U's selection process. Regent Andersen said President Magrath was chosen over David Saxon because of Saxon's comments about the U coordinate campuses and not because of his religion. Andersen said both men were fully qualified.

The subcommittee next meets Oct. 15 at 7 p.m. in room 118 at the Capitol. Invited to speak are Regents Lauris Krenik, L.J. Lee, Lester Malkerson, Wenda Moore, George Rauenhorst, Loanne Thrane, and Kathryn Vander Kooi, and faculty members Walter Heller and Samuel Krislov, who participated in the presidential search.

Deans will present their views of the proposed U mission statement to President Magrath in a series of meetings next week. Magrath will meet with each dean, and with faculty members and students the dean designates, to discuss what should be in college and U mission statements. The president will meet with the provosts from the coordinate campuses during the following two weeks.

A moratorium on the purchase of lettuce and grapes by the U ended Oct. 4. The moratorium began in May after a demonstration by United Farm Workers (UFW) supporters, and a committee was appointed to study the issue of a U boycott of non-UFW produce. President Magrath said the committee has finished its work and was unable to reach a consensus.

Magrath said he realized his decision to have the U buy lettuce and grapes at the best market price available will disappoint some people. He said concern over the health and dignity of migrant workers is legitimate, and that the U can best serve society by improving what it does best--educating people and serving them in related ways. UFW supporters criticized Magrath's decision and called for a noon rally Oct. 11 on Northrop plaza, TC campus, to urge the U to support the boycott.

A workshop will be held Oct. 17 at Macalester College, St. Paul, for all faculty members interested in Title I Higher Education Act (HEA) Community Service programs. The $3 registration fee includes lunch at the 9 a.m.-4:30 p.m. session. If interested, call the Center for Urban and Regional Affairs, (612) 373-7833, by Oct. 15.

CROOKSTON--Six students have been elected senators to the Crookston Student Senate. They are Vicky Beckstrom, Krista Boen, Marilee Davidson, Curt Lovitz, Gary Swanson, and Kathy Tangeman. Each senator represents 150 students.

The Red River Valley Natural History Area at UMC will be dedicated Oct. 12 at 1:30 p.m. Speakers include Walter Bruning, VP for administrative operations; William Hueg, deputy VP for agriculture, forestry, and home economics; and Robert Kimball, executive director of the Minnesota Environmental Education Council. The 85-acre tract of land has been set aside for conservation purposes.

UMC had the greatest participation in the recent savings bond drive on the U campuses. Fifty percent of the staff (60 percent of the faculty) enrolled in the savings bond program. Provost Stanley Sahlstrom received an award on behalf of UMC.

DULUTH--Ralph Oxman and his wife Mary will present a cello and piano recital Oct. 12 at 8 p.m. in Marshall Performing Arts Center. Oxman held the solo cello chair in the Columbia Broadcasting Symphony from 1943 until his retirement this year.

"Harvest Moon, Hunter's Moon, and Sacktime Moon" is the October program at UMD's Marshall W. Alworth Planetarium. Presentations are at 2 p.m. Sundays; admission is free.

MORRIS--The All-U Council on Environmental Quality will sponsor a panel discussion, "Electrical Transmission and the Environment," Oct. 14 at 8 p.m. in the Science Auditorium. The topic is of interest because of a proposal to build high-voltage transmission lines to bring Canadian power to the Twin Cities through a corridor in western and central Minnesota. The discussion is open to the public.

Former UMM Provost Rodney Briggs will be present Oct. 19 at the dedication ceremony for the Rodney Briggs Library. The 11 a.m. event at the library will include remarks by state Rep. Delbert Anderson, state Sen. Charles Berg, and UMM Provost John Imholte.

A general information session on UMM's University Without Walls program will be held Oct. 15 at 7:30 p.m. in the Learning Center, Community Services Building.

TWIN CITIES--Consolidated Fund Drives are under way on the Minneapolis and St. Paul campuses. James Werntz, Center for Educational Development director, is voluntary chairman of the Oct. 2-23 Minneapolis drive, and Deane Turner, College of Agriculture placement director, is heading the Oct. 7-25 drive in St. Paul. First report meeting for captains of the Minneapolis drive is Oct. 9, 2:30 p.m., Regents' room, Morrill Hall.

The U Symphonic Chorus is preparing its 1974-75 performance schedule and accepting auditions for new members. U faculty and staff members interested in joining the group should call the choral office, 373-3444, for an audition. The rehearsal schedule is Tuesdays, 7-9:30 p.m., in 325 Science Classroom Building, Minneapolis.

Professor Cecil Wood, German and Scandinavian languages, died Sept. 16. Wood, a faculty member since 1960, was a specialist in computer-aided instruction and past president of the Society for the Advancement of Scandinavian Studies.

Bernhard Weiser, music, presents a piano recital Oct. 11 at 8 p.m. in Northrop Auditorium. Admission is free.

The history department presents a lecture, "The Metropolitan Connection: London and the Culture of Victorian Cities," Oct. 14 at 3:15 p.m. in 230 Anderson Hall. Speaker is H.J. Dyos, professor of urban history, University of Leicester, England.

Britain's Open U is the subject of a talk Oct. 15 at 1:30 in 310 Anderson Hall. Speaker is John Ferguson, dean and director of Studies in Arts, Open U. The Open U offers degree programs using lessons broadcast on BBC TV and radio, special correspondence materials, residential summer schools, and 250 study centers throughout the country. The talk coincides with an exhibit of Open U materials at Media Resources, 540 Rarig Center.

President Magrath will greet new faculty of the Institute of Agriculture, Forestry, and Home Economics at a reception Oct. 17, 7 p.m., Classroom Office Building.

The College of Agriculture is holding a fall roundup Oct. 19 in the Classroom Office Building. "Food Energy Decisions: Risks--Benefits" is the topic of the day's events, which include talks and discussion groups. Willard Cochrane, agricultural and applied economics, is keynote speaker; President Magrath and Deputy VP William Hueg also participate. For more information, contact the college, 277 Coffey Hall, 373-0921.

Vol. V No. 4
October 16, 1974

A weekly internal bulletin serving all campuses

The Regents at their Oct. 11 meeting approved a revised 1975-77 legislative request of $329 million. The number of new positions asked was reduced by about 200 and the amount for programs in the "state specials" category was cut, for a total cut of about $11 million. That amount was applied to the request for higher faculty salaries--16% the first year and 6% the second--and higher amounts for general price-level increases--15% the first year and 6% the second.

Current U operations income for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1974, totaled $349,533,074 for all campuses and stations, up over $34 million from the previous year. Of this, the state provided 33.8%, according to a U report. Although the U budget increased by $34.2 million in 1974 dollars, this was a decline of $3 million in 1968 dollars. $179,431,274 was spent in 1974 on student instruction, related activities, and departmental research, up from $163.4 million in 1973. Student aid was $7,811,455, exclusive of federal loans.

The U calendar lists Oct. 28 as Veterans' Day, a holiday. Oct. 28 is a day of no classes for students, but a regular work day for faculty and civil service staff.

Student enrollment at the U this quarter is the highest ever--51,834 on all campuses. The figure is a 3.8% increase over last year's 49,935. The previous high total enrollment was 51,449 in fall 1971. The Twin Cities campus enrollment shows a 4.8% increase over last year with a total of 42,970 students. The all-time high for the TC campus was 43,061 in 1971. President Magrath attributes the TC campus increase to returning second, third, and fourth year students and an increasing number of older students.

Figures for the coordinate campuses show 851 students at Crookston (up 86 students from fall 1973 or 11.2%), 5,578 at Duluth (down 54 or 1%), 1,559 at Morris (down 97 or 5.9%), and 536 at Waseca (up 130 or 32%). Largest U program increases were for post-M.D. medical fellows (100%), Duluth social work (32.4%), dental hygiene (31.3%), biological sciences (25.5%), Duluth medicine (25%), business (21.6%), and agriculture (15.1%). Largest collegiate unit, TC liberal arts, was up 401 to 16,558, an increase of 2.5%.

The Measurement Services Center, TC campus, will offer an introductory 8-hour workshop on the design and use of questionnaires Nov. 2. The workshop is intended for U faculty and staff members. Interested persons should call the center, (612) 373-2263. Cost is $15 and includes materials and lunch.

Research support under the small-grants program, Office of International Programs, is available for faculty members. Grants are made for research in specific subject areas or geographical subject areas. Research proposals must give promise of strengthening overall competence of the U in the international field. Applications must be received by Feb. 1, 1975. Awards will be announced by April 1.

CROOKSTON--An Antishoplifting Clinic will be held at UMC Oct. 22-23. The first-day session is for managers, the second-day session is for their employees. Cost for both meetings is $25. For more info, contact the Business Division, 281-6510, ext. 210.

Gov. Wendell Anderson visits Crookston and UMC Oct. 24.

DULUTH--The Regents Oct. 11 approved a reorganization plan for UMD that creates two colleges (letters and sciences, education), four schools (social development, fine arts, business and economics, medicine), and a special program in dental hygiene. The reorganization gives the new academic units autonomy in establishing admissions and grading policies and in developing programs. Vice Provost David Vose said the plan will be implemented as soon as orderly change will permit.

Augsburg College and UMD debators will argue "Resolved: That the Mass Media Have Sacrificed Truth on the Altar of Entertainment." The debate is at noon Oct. 21 in Kirby lounge.

MORRIS--The Herbert Croom Memorial Scholarship Fund drive has begun at UMM and in the Morris community. Croom, who died in 1973, had been UMM alumni and placement director and a long-time Morris resident. Contributors may contact the UMM U Relations office, Behmler Hall, 589-4322.

Betty Ann Johnson has been named coordinator of a three-county older Americans program at UMM. A $60,000 grant from the Region IV Area Agency on Aging will help develop senior citizen centers, transportation plans, a homemaker aide program, adult education programs, and a referral service. For more information, call 589-2482.

TWIN CITIES--The Twin Cities campus assembly meets Oct. 24 at 3:15 p.m. in Nicholson Hall auditorium. On the agenda: a proposed constitutional amendment that would change the number of votes required to amend the constitution, and a proposed amendment to the bylaws to provide for a new assembly committee, the committee on academic standing.

Next in a series of lectures sponsored by the Minnesota University Forum is "Subjectivity and Science" by Grover Maxwell Oct. 17 at 3:15 p.m. in 210 Anderson Hall.

The Minnesota Membrane Unit, an interdisciplinary group of U researchers, has received a grant of more than $1 million from the National Cancer Institute. The grant finances further exploration into cell membrane changes that may transform normal cells into malignant cells. Unit director is Dr. Nelson Goldberg, pharmacology.

Two events will be held on campus this week as part of the Victorian festival. George Landow, Brown U, gives a free lecture on "Art Criticism and Eminent Victorians" Oct. 17 at 8 p.m. in 125 Auditorium Classroom Building (West Bank). "Victoria Palace: A Night at the British Music Hall" will recreate authentic popular entertainment of the Victorian era Oct. 19 at 8 p.m. in Scott Hall auditorium; tickets are $1.50 at the door only.

A reading of Victorian popular fiction will be presented by Chester Anderson, English, Oct. 27 at 3:30 in Wilson Library. Reservations must be made by Oct. 24; call 373-2897.

Cyril Harris, Columbia U, speaks on "Architectural Acoustics: Science, Engineering, or Black Magic?" Oct. 22 at 4 p.m. in 150 Physics.

Doris Hays, pianist and composer, presents a free concert Oct. 24 at 8 p.m. in Scott Hall auditorium.

The ninth annual Minnesota Symposium on Child Psychology will be held Oct. 24-26 in Murphy Hall auditorium. Anyone may attend the event to hear Leo Ganz (11 a.m.-1 p.m., Oct. 24), Alfred Steinschneider (8-10 p.m., Oct. 24), Lois Bloom (2-4 p.m., Oct. 25), Aletha Stein (8-10 p.m., Oct. 25), Thomas Trabasso (10 a.m.-noon, Oct. 26), and James Youniss (1:30-3:30 p.m., Oct. 26). All are faculty members at U.S. universities.

WASECA--Students may gain control over the $30 quarterly student fees at UMW. The suggestion was made during an informal discussion with a Regents' committee Oct. 11. Regent David Utz and President Magrath suggested that the UMW committee that controls student fees be dominated by students, which is the practice on the Twin Cities campus. UMW students also said their campus shares with other U campuses such problems as space shortages, crowded facilities, and parking and transportation problems.

Vol. V No. 5
October 23, 1974

A weekly internal bulletin serving all campuses

Regent L.J. Lee testified Oct. 15 before a Senate subcommittee that religion did not play a part in the final selection of a U president last spring. Lee said David Saxon was not hired because of his view that the coordinate campuses should be subordinate to the Twin Cities campus. Lee said asking about religious affiliation was a "way of opening up a person to find out what kind of man he is." Next subcommittee meeting is Nov. 4.

Student Affairs VP Paul Cashman is one of six candidates for the presidency of Western Washington State College. He resigned as VP effective Sept. 16, but was asked by President Magrath to remain in office until Jan. 1. Cashman will visit the Washington college in November. The U search committee for a new student affairs VP hopes to present a slate of candidates to President Magrath by the end of fall quarter.

Proposed guidelines for search committee procedures have been drafted by Valerie Johnson, student member of the Senate consultative committee. Johnson said she wrote the guidelines to ensure democratic procedures in U administrative search and appointment decisions. Johnson and committee chairman Leon Reisman met this week with VP Walter Bruning, who is also working on such guidelines for a report to the Regents.

The ad hoc committee on faculty accountability has worked on the proposed faculty consulting policy through the summer and will be reporting to the U Senate Nov. 21.

The historical significance of U buildings was the subject of a resolution passed by the Regents, pledging reasonable measures to preserve the original appearance of Pillsbury, Folwell, and Burton Halls and calling for procedures to evaluate other buildings in the U system.

Invitations for faculty single-quarter leave applications have been distributed. Applications are due in provosts' and deans' offices by Nov. 22.

Faculty and faculty-student proposals for support from the Media Production Fund must be submitted by Nov. 8 to U Media Resources. The program supports professional production of media projects for educational use. A round of applications will also be held later in the academic year. Info is available from provosts and deans or from the Center for Educational Development, 317 Walter Library, (612) 373-4537.

Nov. 11 is the deadline for proposals from faculty or faculty-student groups to the 1974-75 Small Grants Program, Council on Liberal Education. The program supports work to improve undergraduate education at the U. With limited funds ($12,000) for distribution, this is expected to be the only round of applications this academic year. If funds are secured in advance for 1975-76, a round will be announced spring quarter. Info is available from deans, department heads, and the Center for Educational Development.

CROOKSTON--A Consumer Problems Workshop will be held at UMC Nov. 1, 1-9 p.m. William Kuretsky, assistant state attorney, and Marilyn Krueger, investigator for the Office of Consumer Services, will participate. Fee for the workshop is $15 and includes dinner. For more information, contact the Business Division, 281-6510, ext. 210.

Leo Oxman, employment manager and staff psychologist, Univac Corp., speaks on "Observations of the Industrial Scene" at the Northwest Counselors Association meeting Oct. 24.

DULUTH--Students and faculty in UMD's School of Social Development have called on President Magrath to reinstate the U moratorium on purchasing lettuce and grapes not picked by the United Farm Workers. The petition was signed by 73 students (90%) and 12 of the 15 faculty members in the school. Signers say they will boycott U cafeteria salads and grapes and urge others to do the same.

Other student groups are also opposed to a two-bowl salad system and are calling for a student referendum binding on the U administration. Students plan to give the petitions to President Magrath Oct. 25 when he is at UMD for an Oct. 25-26 legislative workshop. Other Oct. 25 events are a picket of U cafeterias and a film, "Why We Boycott," shown continuously 9 a.m.-3:30 p.m. in Kirby corridor.

UMD faculty and students will conduct a survey in November of citizens' attitudes toward Duluth. The survey is sponsored by the city of Duluth and the U Center for Urban and Regional Affairs, in cooperation with the Chamber of Commerce and the Central Labor Union.

MORRIS--UMM sophomore Roger Fellows has been named to President Ford's Citizens' Action Committee to Fight Inflation. He is one of two youths in the nation, and the only Minnesotan, named to the committee. The group will try to develop public understanding and participation in a nationwide effort to control inflation and save energy.

In his Oct. 15 speech on the economy, President Ford referred to a letter written to him by part-time UMM English instructor Dorothy Barber. Her letter suggested a nationwide program for recycling cans and bottles in an effort to lower food prices.

TWIN CITIES--The TC Campus assembly meets Oct. 24 at 3:15 in Nicholson Hall auditorium.

TC campus student Roberto Acosta, son of Texas migrant workers, began a protest fast Oct. 11 that he says will continue until U officials determine campus opinion on the purchase of lettuce and grapes. Acosta seeks a referendum of students, faculty, and staff to decide whether the U should boycott produce not picked by the United Farm Workers.

Paul Reynolds, sociology, speaks on "Sociology and Objectivity: A Critique of the Gouldner Thesis" Oct. 24 at 3:15 p.m. in 210 Anderson Hall.

Phoebe Stanton, Johns Hopkins U, speaks on "Victorian Architecture" Oct. 24 at 8 p.m. in 125 Auditorium Classroom Building (West Bank).

A Theatre of the Word production, "Victorian Voices," will be presented Oct. 29-30 at 8 p.m. in the Stoll Thrust Theatre, Rarig Center. The program of readings from poetry, documents, and diaries of the period is free to the public.

"Larkin," a 30-minute documentary on U design professor Eugene Larkin, will be aired over KTCA-TV, channel 2, Oct. 30 at 9:30 p.m.

The St. Paul Student Center is sponsoring a ski swap, a rummage sale for ski equipment. Sellers set the sale price and pay a 10-percent commission if the item sells. Bring equipment to be sold to the center Oct. 30, 9 a.m.-9 p.m., and Oct. 31, 9 a.m.-noon. The sale is Oct. 31, 5-10 p.m., and Nov. 1, 10 a.m.-3 p.m.

The fall supply of compost manure on the St. Paul campus has been sold. A new supply will be available fall 1975.

WASECA--Patricia Thrash, North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools, was at UMW Oct. 18 to discuss accreditation procedures. A meeting with the academic staff was held in the afternoon.

The annual open house at UMW and the dedication of the Learning Resources Center will be held Nov. 24. The public is invited.

Vol. V No. 6
October 30, 1974

A weekly internal bulletin serving all campuses

The U's 1975-77 legislative request for faculty salaries asks for cost-of-living, merit, and equity increases for both years. First year increases sought are 10% for cost of living, 5% for merit, and 1% for equity to permit adjustments where obvious inequities exist. For the second year, the U seeks a cost-of-living escalator formula similar to that in effect for state and U civil service employees, 5% for merit, and 1% for equity.

At an Oct. 28 meeting with central administrators, the American Association of University Professors (AAUP), TC chapter, recommended changes in the U's faculty salaries request. For 1975-76, the AAUP proposal asks for a 6.5% emergency cost-of-living adjustment, 8% recurring cost-of-living increase, 4% merit increase, and 1% for equity. For 1976-77, AAUP recommends an 8% cost-of-living increase and a 3.5% merit raise. The AAUP proposed that the state cost-of-living formula be adopted for faculty salaries.

C. Peter Magrath will be inaugurated as the eleventh president of the U Nov. 26 at 2 p.m. in Northrop Auditorium, TC campus. Magrath has asked for a "simple, low-cost, low-key" inaugural ceremony. There will be no banquets, luncheons, or other events. After an inaugural procession from Walter Library to Northrop, the ceremony will include remarks by Regents' Chairman Elmer Andersen, presentation of the U mace to Magrath by Gov. Wendell Anderson, and a major address by Magrath. The public is invited.

Faculty members who have questions or issues they wish to raise before the U Senate at its Nov. 21 meeting should submit them in writing by Nov. 7 to Leon Reisman, consultative committee chairman, 200 Nicholson Hall, TC campus.

The Regents' presidential selection review committee held its first meeting Oct. 24. Committee chairman Gordon Rosenmeier said it is unlikely they will hear many witnesses in person; the group will rely heavily on transcripts from the hearings of a state Senate subcommittee that is investigating the presidential selection last spring.

The committee was in substantial agreement that while it could make findings relative to the charges of possible discrimination in the recent presidential search, it probably could not make detailed recommendations to guide future presidential selections.

Roberto Acosta, TC campus student, ended his 12-day fast Oct. 24 with an announcement that an all-U survey of students, staff, and faculty members on the use of lettuce and grapes will be conducted during winter quarter registration. The survey will be prepared by Acosta, student affairs VP Paul Cashman, and Robert Gardner, chairman and student member of the U task force on migrant worker issues. Acosta began his protest when President Magrath ended the moratorium on the purchase of lettuce and grapes.

The World Congress on Dyslexia will be held in Rochester Nov. 7-10. International authorities on dyslexia, a specific language disability in children, will participate. For information, write to World Congress on Dyslexia, Box 1136, Rochester, Mn. 55901, or call (507) 289-1532.

CROOKSTON--Ervie Glick, general education, gives a slide presentation today (Oct. 30) on the United Kingdom Reciprocal Exchange Program between UMC and five similar colleges in England and Scotland. Glick visited the schools in September, and the exchange will begin in fall 1975. Students and faculty members will participate in the program.

A faculty, staff, and student Bicentennial committee is being formed at UMC, and a committee member will represent Crookston on the all-U Bicentennial committee. The UMC committee hopes to draw up plans and write a proposal to commemorate simultaneously the 200th anniversary of the nation, the 125th of the U, and the 10th of UMC.

DULUTH--Robert Carter has announced his resignation as dean of the UMD Medical School. In a letter to Provost Raymond Darland Oct. 25, he asked to be released from administrative responsibilities no later than June 30, 1975. Carter, who came to UMD in July 1970 to help establish the school, said he believes the program will be stronger in its next phase with a new administrator. He will remain as a member of the school's faculty.

The departments of physics and music will jointly sponsor appearances by Everett Hafner, a specialist in cosmic rays and astrophysics and a composer-performer of electronic music. Hafner will present a concert Nov. 5 at 8 p.m. in Bohannon Hall 90 and lecture to physics and music classes later in the week.

MORRIS--Health Sciences Careers Day will be held at UMM Nov. 9 to give campus and area high school students a chance to investigate the educational opportunities in the health sciences. Keynote speaker is Dr. John Verby, director of the rural physician associate program, TC campus Medical School. Students will be able to meet representatives of the U's health professional schools.

TWIN CITIES--The Twin Cities campus assembly voted Oct. 24 to change the number of votes required to amend the constitution. The amendment was passed 130-0. Also approved was the creation of two committees: the assembly committee on academic standing and the campus committee on transportation and parking.

Marguerite Schaefer, former dean of nursing, U of Pittsburgh, speaks Oct. 31 at 2 p.m. in 2-690 Health Sciences Unit A. Her talk, "Nursing: The Sleeping Giant," will focus on nursing leadership and the influence of women's rights on the nursing profession.

Terence Ball, political science, speaks on "Rousseau: Neither Democrat nor Totalitarian" Oct. 31 at 3:15 p.m. in 210 Anderson Hall.

Jazz pianist Roy Meriwether and his trio will perform Oct. 31 at 8 p.m. at the Whole Coffeehouse, Coffman Union. The event is free and open to the public. Tickets, limited to two per person, are available at the MSA bookstore in Coffman Union.

Robert Langbaum, U of Virginia, lectures on "Victorian Literature as Art" Oct. 31 at 8 p.m. in 125 Auditorium Classroom Building (West Bank).

David LaBerge, psychology, has received a five-year, $172,490 grant from the National Institute of Mental Health to study the way people learn to perceive visual patterns and the relations among these patterns.

The Minnesota International Center, 711 East River Road, will hold an open house each Friday, 7-12 p.m., beginning Nov. 1. The center will be open as a drop-in meeting place for international and American students, faculty, and community members who wish to meet in an informal setting.

The Punchinello Players begin their 60th year of production with "Angel Street," a Victorian murder mystery. The play, part of the campus-wide Victorian festival, will be presented Nov. 1, 2, 7, 8, and 9 at 8 p.m. in the Punchinello Theatre, North Hall, St. Paul campus. Tickets may be purchased at the door or reserved by calling 373-1570.

WASECA--Agricultural production student Brian Martens received the top National Dairy Farmer award during the recent Future Farmers of America (FFA) national convention in Kansas City. The FFA's highest honor, the American Farmer Degree, was awarded to Jan Lust and Douglas Anderson, former UMW students. The degree is presented to FFA members who have demonstrated exceptional agricultural and leadership abilities.

Vol. V No. 7
November 6, 1974

A weekly internal bulletin serving all campuses

The Board of Regents holds its monthly meetings Nov. 7 in Morrill Hall and Nov. 8 at the Duluth campus. On the agenda is a meeting between the board's student concerns committee and UMD students.

Other Regents' agenda items include discussions of search committee procedures, bylaws for U Health Service hospital, and minor revisions of the student conduct code. The health sciences committee is expected to name a board of governors for U hospitals, and President Magrath, Regents' Chairman Elmer Andersen, and interested Regents will meet with members of the American Institute of Mining, Metallurgical, and Petroleum Engineers to discuss the future of mining research at the U.

Associate VP Albert Linck, academic administration, meets again with faculty representatives today (Nov. 6) to discuss adjustments in the U's 1975-77 legislative request for faculty salaries. Linck and other U representatives met with representatives of various faculty groups last week to discuss the compensation plan. President Magrath will present the U salary recommendations to the Regents Nov. 7.

The Senate task force on academic salaries met with the faculty affairs committee Oct. 30 and the consultative committee Oct. 31 to discuss task force proposals. Recommendations include departmental budget planning with faculty input, a peer group reward system, and clearly defined expectations of performance and rewards for performance.

The search committee for a chief administrative officer of Admissions and Records is inviting applications and nominations. Send information to chairpersons Valerie Johnson and Gordon Kingsley, 9 Morrill Hall, TC campus. Deadline is Dec. 1.

Faculty members from all campuses of the U will participate in President Magrath's inauguration Nov. 26. Mace bearer will be from Duluth, faculty marshals from the remaining coordinate campuses. The invocator will be from St. Paul. Regents' Professors and faculty from all campuses have been invited to march in the academic procession.

CROOKSTON--Hotel, Restaurant, and Institutional Management students will open a restaurant to the public for two days. Dinner will be served 6-11 p.m. Nov. 9 and 2-8 p.m. Nov. 10 in the Trojan Inn, UMC campus. Cost: $5.25-8.50.

A rural community development conference will be held at UMC Nov. 13-14. The conference is for community leaders, who will learn how to identify community development opportunities. About 25 representatives from towns and Indian reservations will attend.

UMC holds a legislative workshop Nov. 14-15. State legislators, President Magrath, and Regent L.J. Lee will attend. Magrath speaks at a convocation Nov. 15 at 9:30 a.m. in Kiehle Auditorium. Concurrent meetings will be held at 10:30 a.m. between legislators and students and between legislators and the UMC faculty association.

The annual Faculty Frolics will be Nov. 15-16, 8 p.m., Kiehle Auditorium. Cost is $1 in advance, $1.50 at the door. Proceeds go to UMC women's scholarships.

DULUTH--A faculty-student group from the School of Social Development has issued a statement asking Regent L.J. Lee to resign. The group criticizes Lee's alleged use of religion as a criterion in selecting a U president and says it violates constitutional principles of freedom of religion and separation of church and state. The group says the statement represents their personal convictions, not official action of the school.

The Board of Regents meets at UMD Nov. 8. A reception for the Regents, President Magrath and administrators will be held in Tweed Museum of Art, 9-10 a.m. The reception is open to students, faculty, and staff members.

Michael Lesy, author of Wisconsin Death Trip, speaks Nov. 7 at 7:30 p.m. in Home Ec 80. His lecture, "Snapshot Evidence," uses pictures to tell of the psychological relationships among people in a family in San Francisco.

The UMD Art Guild holds its annual student art auction Nov. 11, 7:30 p.m., Tweed Museum. The works will be on display in the museum throughout the day for advance viewing.

Michael Riley, Minnesota Opera Company resident, performs Nov. 10 at 2 p.m. in Bohannon Hall 90. A reception will be held after the concert in Tweed Museum of Art.

MORRIS--An exhibition of paintings by B.J.O. Nordveldt and Lawrence Calgano will open Nov. 11 at 4 p.m. in the UMM Humanities Fine Arts Gallery.

The Patrick McGinnis Memorial Room of the Rodney A. Briggs Library will be dedicated Nov. 17 at 2 p.m. McGinnis was a UMM English professor until his death in 1966.

TWIN CITIES--Mulford Sibley, political science, speaks on "Technology: Master or Servant?" Nov. 7 at 3:15 p.m. in 210 Anderson Hall.

A seminar on contemporary issues in maternal and child health will be held Nov. 7, 3:15-5 p.m., Campus Club east wing, Coffman Union. Speaker is Dr. Vince Hutchins, director of the Office of Clinical Service, Public Health Service, Rockville, Md..

David DeLaura, U of Pennsylvania, speaks on "Victorian Literature as Mind" Nov. 7 at 8 p.m. in 125 Auditorium Classroom Building (West Bank).

Bernadette Devlin, Northern Ireland civil rights activist, will speak Nov. 9 at 8 p.m. in 175 Auditorium Classroom Building. Her topic is "The Struggle in Northern Ireland."

Karlis Kaufmanis, astronomy, presents his "Star of Bethlehem" lecture Nov. 11 at noon in the North Star ballroom, St. Paul Student Center.

A workshop on air pollution's effects on plants, sponsored by the U and the Environmental Protection Agency, will be held Nov. 12-13 at the Radisson Hotel, Minneapolis. Registration is $10 and may be made through the Office of Special Programs, 405 Coffey Hall.

The Campus Club hosts a champagne dinner and style show Nov. 13. Men and women are invited. Call 373-3535 for reservations.

Scholarships to study at universities in Berlin, SE Asia, Nigeria, Morocco, Norway, and Uruguay are offered in the 1974-75 International Student Exchange Program. Applications and info available from the International Study and Travel Office, 231 Coffman Union West Bank Union; and 190 Coffey Hall. Application deadline is Nov. 15.

WASECA--Four new senators have been elected to the Student Senate at UMW. They are Loren Mackey, Tom Hayes, Mike Hagen, and Karen Wahlstrom.

Gov. Wendell Anderson toured UMW and visited with students and staff Oct. 30.

UMW's Overall Advisory Committee meets Nov. 13.

Vol. V No. 8
November 13, 1974

A weekly internal bulletin serving all campuses

The Regents, meeting Nov. 8 in Duluth, heard an appeal from the American Institute of Mining, Metallurgical, and Petroleum Engineers for stepped-up efforts at the U in training mineral engineers. Among suggestions offered was the establishment of a three-year program at UMD, with students finishing their fourth year on the TC campus.

In other action, the Regents established a 21-member board of governors to oversee U Hospitals. Fifteen members from the public and six ex officio voting members from the U will manage the $55 million annual budget of the 750-bed hospitals.

President Magrath presented to the Regents a legislative request of over $37 million for increases in faculty salaries during the 1975-77 biennium. The 16.5% proposed for the first year would include 12% cost-of-living raises, 3.5% merit, and 1% for internal equity situations. Magrath proposed 6% in increases plus a cost-of-living adjustment for the second year of the biennium. The salary proposal is still being discussed by the people involved.

U officials also announced at the meeting that Arthur Aufderheide will become acting dean of the UMD School of Medicine. He replaces Robert Carter, who resigned last month. Aufderheide is head of the UMD pathology department and chief of pathology at St. Mary's Hospital. A search committee to recommend a new dean has been formed.

Representatives from the U and the U of Nebraska are negotiating an agreement to allow Nebraska students to study veterinary medicine at the U. President Magrath said Nebraska has asked for admission of up to 20 students a year, with full reimbursement to U for facilities and operating costs. Magrath said talks with Nebraska would continue through this year toward possible admission of five students in fall 1975 and ten students each year thereafter, with open negotiations at the end of this academic year.

An agreement allowing 60 Wisconsin students per year to enter veterinary medicine at the U, with full cost reimbursement to the U, will be discussed by Wisconsin and Minnesota Regents Nov. 22. Present policy is that 17 Wisconsin students may enter each year; the number will increase if the U expands facilities and becomes a regional college of veterinary medicine. If Wisconsin decides to build a college of veterinary medicine, the U could increase the number of Nebraska students in vet med in direct relation to the decline in Wisconsin students.

The U Senate meets Nov. 21 at 3:15 p.m. in Nicholson Hall auditorium. On the agenda for action are the report from the Ad Hoc Committee on Faculty Accountability and a constitutional amendment to remove senators who do not attend meetings.

Departments wishing to increase or decrease the quantities of Brief they are now receiving should contact U Relations, S-68 Morrill Hall, TC campus, (612) 373-2126.

CROOKSTON--UMC's Advisory Committee from Business and Industry meets Nov. 21.

DULUTH--The UMD Campus Assembly voted Nov. 5 to set Dec. 16 as the effective date for establishment of the College of Education, College of Letters and Science, School of Fine Arts, and School of Business and Economics. The new units are part of UMD's academic reorganization. Started three years ago were the School of Medicine, School of Social Development, and Dental Hygiene Program.

The UMD assembly also approved a new major in early child care and development and master's degrees in industrial safety, business administration, and community and regional studies. The new major and degrees are subject to approval by the Regents after review by the Minnesota Higher Education Coordinating Commission.

The Regents Nov. 8 approved a resolution to use funds left to the U by the late James DuFresne, Duluth, to build a concourse linking Griggs, Vermilion, Burntside, and Lake Superior Halls to the Residence Hall Dining Center. The concourse will be named the Sophie DuFresne Concourse in honor of DuFresne's mother. Estimated cost is $200,000.

The Regents also moved to send plans for the UMD Health Sciences Library addition to the state Senate Finance and House Appropriations Committees for review prior to developing working drawings and advertising for bids on the structure. The Legislature appropriated $1.9 million for the building in the 1973 session.

James Olney, Northwestern U, speaks on private rights and public needs in respect to mental health Nov. 14 at 7:30 p.m. in Home Economics 80.

Some 250 high school seniors and their parents will attend the annual Campus Preview Nov. 16. The UMD Alumni Association program will give students a chance to learn about academic majors and job opportunities. Parents will hear presentations on admissions, financial aids and other student services. Sessions begin at 12:45 p.m. in Life Science auditorium.

MORRIS--A concert by UMM faculty and students, "The Music of Beethoven," will be presented Nov. 19 at 8:15 p.m. in the Humanities Fine Arts Center recital hall.

George Fosgate, theatre arts, is a regional adjudicator for the Region 7 American College Theatre Festival. Region 7 includes Minnesota, North Dakota and South Dakota.

TWIN CITIES--TC campus Bicentennial Advisory Committee held its first meeting last week, but membership is still open to any interested faculty or staff member or student. (Contact Nancy Pirsig, U Relations, 373-2126.) First tasks will be to select an executive committee, compile a list of current Bicentennial projects under way on campus, and solicit ideas and proposals for additional projects.

Nominations of candidates for the Steering Committee of the Twin Cities Campus Assembly are invited. Steering Committee members also serve on the Senate Consultative Committee. Send nominations in writing by Nov. 27 to Eleanor Fenton, 150 Wesbrook Hall.

Carl Auerbach, Law School dean, speaks on "Affirmative Action and Justice" Nov. 14 at 3:15 p.m. in 210 Anderson Hall.

Josef Altholz, history, speaks on "Victorian Religion: The Warfare of Conscience with Theology" Nov. 14 at 8 p.m. in 125 Auditorium Classroom Building (West Bank).

All black employees--faculty and staff--are being invited to a conference Nov. 23 in Coffman Union. Purposes of the meeting: to allow black employees to get to know one another, to discuss common interests and issues, to form an ongoing organization. Any black employee who does not receive an invitation is urged to contact Ethel Rasmussen, 373-7509.

An exhibit of drawings and watercolors of birds and mammals, by Geri Arnold, is at the Jaques Gallery, Bell Museum of Natural History. The show runs through Nov. 30.

U Gallery holds an opening Nov. 21, 6-8 p.m., of "Paintings from Midwestern University Collections: 17-20th Centuries," Artists include Tiepolo, Delacroix, Ingres, Sargent, Braque, Matisse, Feininger, Picasso, and O'Keeffe. The Gallery is in Northrop Auditorium.

Richard Weatherman, educational administration and psychoeducational studies, has been awarded federal funds of $200,000 for three projects, including a program to train personnel serving mentally retarded citizens and a program to develop a training model for administrators of special needs services at the local education agency level.

Vol. V No. 9
November 20, 1974

A weekly internal bulletin serving all campuses

Staff of the Minnesota Higher Education Coordinating Commission (HECC) and the North Dakota Board of Higher Education have held preliminary discussions of a possible higher education reciprocity agreement between Minnesota and North Dakota. HECC has sent materials to the U, and staff and Regents will review the proposals.

Students, faculty, and alumni commented on the U intercollegiate athletics program at a Nov. 12 public hearing on the TC campus held by the U Task Force on Intercollegiate Athletics. The task force will make recommendations to President Magrath on ways to modify U athletic policies to conform to federal guidelines prohibiting discrimination based on sex in educational programs and activities receiving or benefiting from federal funds.

Speakers at the hearing said varsity athletes seem to receive preferential treatment in facilities scheduling. Directors Paul Giel, intercollegiate athletics (men), and Belmar Gunderson, intercollegiate athletics (women), agreed that facilities are crowded, but denied preferential treatment. Giel said money cannot come from men's programs to support women's programs because the self-supporting men's athletic department is facing financial problems. He told of cuts in nonrevenue-producing sports to stay within the budget.

Task force representatives from the coordinate campuses are holding hearings on their respective campuses.

The U Senate meets Nov. 21 at 3:15 p.m. in Nicholson Hall auditorium.

The Search Committee for a School of Nursing dean is seeking nominations of candidates for the position. Dean Isabel Harris will resign June 30 and return to teaching. The committee has nine members, seven of whom are in the health sciences. Send nominations by Jan. 1 to Committee Chairman L. David Schuelke, Box 501 Mayo, TC campus.

The Senate Committee on Educational Policy, at its Nov. 12 meeting, approved a resolution calling on the U to use the metric system of measurement as extensively as is practical in educational and scholarly activities. The proposal will be on the docket for the Senate's Dec. 5 meeting.

Nominations are being sought for the position of chairman, Departments of Music and Music Education, TC campus. The search committee is looking for a nationally recognized musician with demonstrated ability in higher education administration. Send nominations in writing by Dec. 20 to Eleanor Fenton, 150 Wesbrook Hall, TC campus.

A $100,000 grant from the McKnight Foundation will aid minority medical students attending the U. The McKnight grant is the first response to a plea from President Magrath to local foundations for aid to medical students. The financial aid will be spread over several years and will go to students already in school.

CROOKSTON--A Professional Improvement Seminar, sponsored by the General Education Division, will be held Nov. 22 at 10 a.m. in Dowell 204-205 for education faculty members. A film, "The Personalized System of Instruction: A New Idea in Education," will be followed by a discussion period.

DULUTH--KUMD radio (89.1 on the FM dial) will carry the inauguration of President Magrath Nov. 26 at 2 p.m. The broadcast includes the ceremony and the President's address.

John Vickery, U of California-Riverside, speaks at UMD on "Scapegoats and Their Role in Society" Nov. 21 at 7:30 p.m. in Home Economics 80.

A competency-based program preparing educators to meet state requirements for certification as school administrators will be offered beginning winter quarter at UMD.

MORRIS--Two concerts, free and open to the public, will be presented in Edson auditorium next week. The UMM Choir, Orchestra, and Men's Chorus will perform Nov. 24 at 3 p.m., and the UMM Concert and Stage Bands will present a concert Nov. 26 at 8:15 p.m.

TWIN CITIES--Poet Thomas McGrath will present a reading of his works today (Nov. 20) at 8 p.m. in Murphy Hall auditorium.

Students and staff wishing to attend President Magrath's inauguration Nov. 26 should be permitted to do so. Students may be excused from classes and allowed to make up missed work. Faculty who attend should arrange to allow students to do work equivalent to what is missed by cancelled classes. Civil service staff should be granted time off with pay, if their departments can function effectively in their absence. Civil service staff are expected to return to work after the 2 p.m. ceremony in Northrop.

David Cooperman, sociology, speaks on "Ideology and Theory: An Essay in the Sociology of Knowledge" Nov. 21 at 3:15 p.m. in 210 Anderson Hall.

John Robson, U of Toronto, speaks on "Victorian Social and Political Thought" Nov. 21 at 8 p.m. in 125 Auditorium Classroom Building (West Bank).

The American Studies Colloquium series presents "Traditional Jazz: the 1920s and 1930s," a discussion by John Perhonis and Carroll Norling, with musical illustrations from recordings. The event will be Nov. 22 at 8 p.m. in Coffman Union women's lounge.

Commonwealth Terrace Cooperative, which provides student family housing, holds an open house Nov. 23, 2-5 p.m., at 1250 Fifield Ave., St. Paul. Purpose is to let community people see the new community center, which has day-care facilities, meeting rooms, and administrative offices. Commonwealth Terrace also has 102 new housing units.

The newly formed U String Quartet will perform for the first time Nov. 23 at 8 p.m. in Scott Hall auditorium. The quartet, composed of U music faculty members, will present works by Haydn, Bartok, and Brahms. The concert is free and open to the public.

"Population Growth and World Food Supply: The Deepening Crisis" is a public conference sponsored by Hamline U and the U's Center for Population Studies. World experts and Hamline and U faculty members will be speakers/panelists at the Nov. 25 meeting in the Bush Student Center, Hamline U. For more info, call Hamline's International Studies Center, 641-2245. There is no registration or fee for participation in the conference.

Anne Tyng, architect and professor, U of Pennsylvania, speaks on "Geometric Extensions of Consciousness" Nov. 27 in the Architecture Building. Her talks are at 2:30 p.m. in room 25 and at 8 p.m. in room 125.

The Drug Information and Education Program and the Health Professionals Drug Abuse Education Project will sponsor a training workshop, "Critical Issues for the Health Professional: The Abuse of Social, Prescription, and Illicit Drugs," for health sciences students and faculty Dec. 12-14 in Maple Lake. The workshop is designed to help improve the diagnostic and referral skills of health professionals. For info, call 373-9813.

WASECA--Jack Dahl (painter, printmaker, and draftsman) is at UMW for three weeks as artist-in-residence. During his stay, Dahl will create five agriculture-related paintings, depicting life at UMW, for the college.

Parents Day at UMW is Dec. 6, and all parents of students are invited to attend. The annual business meeting of the Parents Association will also be held during the day.

Vol. V No. 10
November 27, 1974

A weekly internal bulletin serving all campuses

Cost-of-living increases in U civil service salaries go into effect Jan. 1. Increase is 4.4% for employees on schedule A, 22¢ an hour for those on schedules B and C. Increases are for all employees except police officers, sergeants, and lieutenants.

U President C. Peter Magrath said in his Nov. 26 inaugural speech that the future of Minnesota and its university are tied together. Magrath called on Minnesotans to set aside petty differences and make our geographic, economic, and social diversity a source of strength in a unified pursuit of a better life and improved educational opportunities. Magrath also called for the open exchange of ideas at universities. The very nature of the academic process, he said, is one of questioning, criticism, and disputation.

Minnesota is fortunate, Magrath said, to have only one state university so the resources of the state are not spent on duplication. "Minnesota has a unique opportunity to capitalize in the best possible fashion on its university," he said. Magrath said he hopes to continue the land-grant tradition of the U as a federation of schools devoted to practical concerns, higher principles, and an attitude of investigation.

President Magrath and a team of administrators meet with Gov. Wendell Anderson's staff and other state officials today (Nov. 27) to report details of the U's request to the state Legislature for 1975-77 operating funds. In its current form, the request totals $328 million and calls for a 26% increase for the first year of the biennium and 7.3% for the second year. The Governor will make his recommendations for U appropriations later when he presents his state budget message to the Legislature.

The U Senate returns to the business on the Nov. 21 docket, including action on the proposed faculty consulting policy, Dec. 5 at 3:15 p.m. in Nicholson Hall auditorium. A meeting is also scheduled for Dec. 12 at 2:15 p.m. in Mayo auditorium.

U and Wisconsin Regents met Nov. 22-23 to discuss a regional cooperative program that would permit 50-60 Wisconsin students per year to begin veterinary medicine studies at the U. Problem areas under discussion include payment of instructional and facilities costs by Wisconsin and research/instructional roles of Minnesota and Wisconsin faculties. President Magrath said that research should remain strong at the U. Minnesota and Wisconsin officials agree that duplicate programs should be avoided.

U crops judging teams won top awards in national and international competitions held last week. The team from the TC campus placed first in the Chicago Intercollegiate Crops Contest and first or second in the three categories of the American Royal Intercollegiate Crops Contest in Kansas City. The Crookston campus team placed second in Chicago and third in Kansas City. UMC was the only two-year institution entered in the competitions.

Ideas are being sought for the U's State Fair display for 1975. Send ideas and suggestions to Nancy Pirsig, U Relations, S-68 Morrill Hall, TC campus.

U faculty, staff, and students are eligible for a charter flight to Miami leaving Dec. 22, returning Jan. 4. Contact the International Study and Travel Center, 231 Coffman Union, TC campus, (612) 373-0180.

No Brief next week. Thanksgiving holiday comes during normal news-gathering time.

DULUTH--The TC campus Training Division and Payroll Department have scheduled training sessions for payroll and document preparation Dec. 3-5 at 1 p.m. in Kirby Student Center 355-357. Karen Beron, Duluth, is coordinator.

UMD researchers will study the potential effect of organic residuals and heavy metals in Lake Superior fish and the potential effect on humans who might eat the fish. The project is funded by $64,400 from the Environmental Protection Agency and the International Joint Commission on the Great Lakes and $3,553 from the U. The study will be conducted by the UMD School of Medicine and the UMD Lake Superior Basin Studies Center.

Harry Johnson, elementary education head, will be honored at a retirement party Dec. 3, 1-3:30 p.m., in Home Economics 111. Johnson has headed the department since 1948; he retires at the end of fall quarter.

MORRIS--President Magrath makes his second visit to UMM Dec. 6-7 to attend a two-day Legislative workshop. He will be accompanied by VPs James Brinkerhoff, Walter Bruning, Paul Cashman, and Stanley Kegler, Assoc. VP Albert Linck, and Asst. VP George Robb.

The UMM Chamber Choir will present a free concert, "Music for the Christmas Season," Dec. 2 at 8:15 p.m. in the Humanities Fine Arts Center recital hall.

TWIN CITIES--Ridership on express buses to the TC campus this fall is up 44% from a year ago. The 10 bus routes in the program have designated stops throughout the TC area and then continue nonstop to the U.

Dec. 11 is the last day to apply for the TC campus free computerized car pool service for winter quarter. Application forms are available at the information counters in Coffman Union, the West Bank Union, Morrill Hall, and the St. Paul Student Center, and in 224 Northrop Auditorium.

The Audio Visual Library Service no longer borrows 16mm films from the Minneapolis and St. Paul public libraries; the libraries currently have policies designed for individual rather than institutional use. Instructors who will be using the public library collection should register personally. AVLS will continue to provide film rental service from any college library or distributor in the U.S. Contact AVLS if there are questions (373-5259) or to schedule films (373-3810).

UNICEF Christmas cards will be sold Dec. 2-4 in Coffman Memorial Union basement and Dec. 7-11 in 131 CMU.

The Research Committee, Center for Early Education and Development, is sponsoring an informal coffee-discussion hour, "Perceptual Motor Development in Young Children, or To Train or Not to Train: That is the Question," Dec. 3 at 8:30 a.m. in 108 Child Development. The meeting is open to all interested persons.

Next session of the monthly Health Sciences Film Preview Series will be Dec. 3-4. Dec. 3 films will be in Health Sciences A2-690, noon-5 p.m.; Dec. 4 films will be in A2-650, 2-6 p.m. For a program listing films and times, call the CHIP Office, 373-8969.

Leonard Wilson, history of medicine, speaks on "Victorian Science" Dec. 5 at 8 p.m. in 125 Auditorium Classroom Building (West Bank).

Next seminar in a series of interdisciplinary seminars on the rights of youth will be held Dec. 10 at 11:30 a.m. in the Campus Club.

WASECA--The Southern Experiment Station and the Agricultural Extension Service begin their winter series of special days with Beef Day Dec. 9. The day's program begins at 9:30 a.m. in the UMW auditorium. The public is invited.

The Minnesota Humanities Commission has awarded a grant to UMW to fund a series of programs entitled "Private Land: A Vanishing Species?"

Vol. V No. 11
December 11, 1974

A weekly internal bulletin serving all campuses

Henry Koffler, head of the biological sciences department at Purdue U, will be recommended by President Magrath to become academic affairs VP. Magrath will take Koffler's nomination to the Regents Dec. 13. If the Regents approve the appointment, Koffler will move to Minnesota sometime before July 1. Magrath said Koffler was instrumental in building the Purdue biological sciences into an internationally acclaimed program.

Koffler, a native of Vienna, Austria, became a U.S. citizen in 1945. He would be the first permanent person in the VP position since William Shepherd resigned in March 1973. Harold Chase served as acting VP until this fall. Acting Associate VP Al Linck will continue to perform the duties of the office until Koffler moves to Minnesota.

The Board of Regents holds its monthly meetings Dec. 12 in Morrill Hall and Dec. 13 in Green Hall. On the agenda: a rap session with St. Paul students, discussions of Minnesota's needs in veterinary medicine and a proposed reciprocity agreement with North Dakota, a report on the affirmative action program, and consideration of the faculty salary proposal, which will be part of the U's 1975 legislative request.

The Regents, at a Dec. 12 luncheon meeting, will honor VP Paul Cashman and former VP Stanley Wenberg for their contributions and service to the U as VPs. Earlier in the day, the Regents will present a citation to the U's women's rowing team honoring them for their achievement in winning the Women's National Lightweight Regatta and placing third in both the Royal Canadian Henley Regatta and the Head of the Charles Regatta.

Holiday message from President Magrath: "Mrs. Magrath and I plan on making a contribution to a charitable organization this holiday season in lieu of a mutual exchange of cards with University staff. We hope that other University members will agree that this is an appropriate way to celebrate the holiday spirit. Sandra and I extend our warmest season's greetings to all. We sincerely hope that you enjoy a pleasant and restful holiday season with your family and friends."

The average full-time U faculty member works about 60 hours per week, according to a study done by Management Planning and Information Services (MPIS). "Contrary to the popularly held image of the inaccessible research-oriented professor, 59% of their time (35.6 hours average) is devoted to instruction or instructionally related activity, such as teaching, student advising and curriculum development," the report says.

According to the study, the average faculty member devotes about 22% of the 60-hour total to research, scholarly, and creative activities, with about 19% going to such other activities as administrative committees and public service. MPIS director David Berg said that the results match very well with those of previous surveys, both at Minnesota and elsewhere.

U Libraries staff members will be working with the faculty to reduce the number of current periodical subscriptions. Although the subscription list has been reduced about 20% since 1970-71, periodicals will require about 50% of the book budget this year, up from 21% in 1967-68. First efforts will be to eliminate less-used titles.

The U Senate, at its Dec. 5 meeting, approved a resolution asking that the President reconsider a 45% reduction made in the proposed legislative request for book funds, and that efforts be made to restore the purchasing power of the book budget to its 1969-70 level.

In other action, the Senate continued discussion of the proposed faculty consulting policy. Next meeting is Jan. 9 (changed from Dec. 12) at 3:15 in Nicholson auditorium.

The search committee for a dean of the newly formed UMD College of Letters and Science invites applications and nominations. Committee chairman Klaus Jankofsky must receive recommendations by Jan. 24. His address is 437 Humanities Building, UMD, Duluth 55812.

1974-75 Student-Staff Directories are available in all U bookstores (except the medical bookstore), TC campus. Coupons, to be exchanged for free directories, have been sent to departments. Departments that have not received coupons should call 373-2126. Staff members who want a personal copy for home use may purchase it at the bookstores for $2. Distribution on the coordinate campuses is being handled by the provosts' offices.

The U's experimental solar home, Ouroboros, will be open for public tours Dec. 11 through the first week of January. Tours will be conducted Mondays, Wednesdays, Fridays, and Sundays; make reservations by calling Beverly Schmidt, (612) 373-5147. The house, located in Rosemount, features a solar energy collector for heat, a windmill for electricity, and a sod roof and radical design to aid insulation in winter and summer.

CROOKSTON--Beef Cattle Day is Dec. 13 at the Northwest Experiment Station. Faculty members will report on new techniques in raising beef cattle and experts will review a proposed new beef grading system for the industry. The event is open to the public.

The annual Faculty Frolics, held in November, netted a record $1,200 for scholarships.

DULUTH--"The Ascent of Man" TV series on the role of science in the history of man will be offered for credit on WDSE (ch. 8). Three credits will be provided through the Duluth Center of Continuing Education and Extension. The course will be aired at 10 a.m. Tuesdays, starting Jan. 7. It will be rebroadcast at 7 p.m. Thursdays, starting Jan. 9.

The UMD Campus Assembly discussed matters relating to reorganization at its Dec. 5 meeting. Approved were amendments to the present UMD constitution to facilitate reorganization, and clarification of situations in which students seek additional majors outside of their schools or colleges.

The Assembly referred back to the Curriculum Committee an item dealing with degrees that involve more than one collegiate unit and a resolution on basic degree requirements.

TWIN CITIES--An open community meeting with President Magrath and residents of the U area will be held Dec. 19 to discuss U-community concerns. The meeting will be at 7:30 p.m. in Hope Lutheran Church, 601-13th Ave. SE, Minneapolis.

Energy conservation on the TC campus during the past year resulted in a 13.6% reduction in the use of heat and electrical energy, exceeding the 12% goal. Estimates are that the consumption level can be reduced another 3%. The campus Energy Conservation Committee would appreciate recommendations and suggestions; send them to Warren Soderberg, 200 ShopsB. Continued cooperation in the energy conservation program is requested.

Excavation has begun for construction of Health Sciences Unit B/C, located behind the new Health Sciences Unit A. Construction will begin in July 1975; completion is expected by May 1977. The building will include outpatient clinics, Medical School classrooms, a learning resources center, departmental offices, and research areas.

The Brown Bag School will offer five courses winter quarter. Minneapolis campus: "You and Your Creative Potential," starting Jan. 15; "Three Novels: Woolf, Lessing, Drabble," starting Jan. 16; "FIXIT" (home repairs), starting Jan. 28; and "Spanish for Fun and Travel," starting Feb. 10. St. Paul: "Metrics in Home, Store, and Office," starting Feb. 5. Classes meet 12:05-12:50; students may bring lunches. For info, call 373-9743.

The Soroptimist Foundations are offering $1,000 training awards to qualify deserving women for employment or to enable women to move to higher-level skilled jobs. Awards are for part- or full-time study based on financial need, ultimate goal, and potential value to the community. For info, contact Caroline Barron, 3548 Dupont Ave. S, Minneapolis 55408.

Vol. V No. 12
December 18, 1974

A weekly internal bulletin serving all campuses

Henry Koffler and Frank Wilderson were named U VPs by the Board of Regents Dec. 13. Koffler, head of the biological sciences department at Purdue U, will become academic affairs VP around July 1, and Wilderson, assistant dean of the U's College of Education, will become student affairs VP on Jan. 1.

During a news conference, Koffler and Wilderson said inflation is hurting the U. Despite inflation, Koffler said he would try selective improvement of parts of the U. The way to improve is to build on the institution's strengths, improving one unit at a time, he said. Wilderson said that studying the impact of inflation on the student's buying power will be an important priority when he assumes office.

The Regents, at their Dec. 13 meeting, expressed concern that Minnesota young people may be barred from certain educational opportunities because of increasing university and college tuition. The Regents approved a resolution asking that interested officials give special attention to tuition policy. Currently, students pay, on the average, 26.5% of the U's instructional costs in tuition. Each time legislative appropriations for the U increase, student tuition increases proportionally.

The U's legislative request for 1975-77 is $328 million, an increase of $77 million over the current biennium. Proposed tuition increases would yield an additional $19-20 million. President Magrath expressed concern about the increasing tuition, but added that the U's increasing operating costs due to inflation make it difficult to hold the line on tuition. Regent John Yngve said the resolution would bring out into the open the need for an examination of the 26.5% policy.

The Regents also approved the inclusion of a $37 million faculty pay increase in the legislative request. First year increases sought are 12% for cost-of-living, 3.5% for merit, and 1% for equalization of salary inequities. Some 6% plus a cost-of-living raise was proposed for the second year of the biennium. President Magrath said the U's ranking has dropped from seventh in 1971 to tenth this year for professors' salaries in U's competitive market. Beginning instructors' pay has dropped from fourth to ninth place.

The Immigration and Naturalization Service's new, tougher policy on granting summer work permits to foreign students is having an adverse effect on many of the 2,000 foreign students attending the U. The policy change is a result of fears by the U.S. Labor Department that foreign students are working while unemployment is high among low-income minority group members and Vietnam veterans.

A U survey of 10,360 foreign students at 36 colleges and universities, however, shows that off-campus employment accounts for only 10% of foreign student resources. It was found that the off-campus jobs were either supplemental to the student's education and could be classified as practical training or were jobs with high turnover rates, such as janitorial and food service work. See story in Jan. 1 Report.

An HEW review team was on the TC campus last week to investigate whether there is discrimination in hiring practices at the U. The Council for University Women's Progress has a complaint on file with HEW charging the U with sex discrimination.

No Brief Dec. 25 and Jan. 1 because of Christmas and New Year holidays.

CROOKSTON--Freshman Gary Strodtman, fullback on UMC's football team, was the nation's top scorer, according to National Junior College Athletic Association statistics. Strodtman earned 84 points with 14 touchdowns in 9 games this season. The team was ranked 4th in the country in passing and 8th in total team offense. The 11th ranked pass receiver is UMC's Mike Spiva. UMC ended its season with a 7-1-1 record.

DULUTH--Six appointments related to UMD's academic reorganization were approved Dec. 13 by the Regents. The new administrators are Frederick Witzig, acting dean, College of Letters and Science; Theron Odlaug, acting assistant dean, CLS; Arthur Smith, acting dean, School of Fine Arts; Hyung Kon Kim, acting dean, School of Business and Economics; Alvin Ollenburger, acting dean, College of Education. John Jones' title and unit were changed from director, Graduate School of Social Work, to dean, School of Social Development.

The Regents also approved the purchase of 100,000-watt radio station WDTN-FM for $95,000. President Magrath said a review will be made at the "highest level" by the U and representatives of Minnesota Public Radio to avoid duplication and competition between KUMD-FM and a new MPR station being constructed at the College of St. Scholastica. The purchase is subject to approval by the Federal Communications Commission. KUMD has been a 512-watt station. It will continue to be largely student operated.

The extent and causes of red clay problems in waters of western Lake Superior are the subject of a study to be conducted by Michael Sydor, physics. The project received $48,100 from the Environmental Protection Agency and $2,900 from the U.

MORRIS--Clyde Johnson, music, has been named chairperson of the Umm Bicentennial Committee. The committee will coordinate and publicize UMM's part in the Bicentennial, disseminate information on outside funding sources for Bicentennial projects, and solicit project proposals from faculty, staff, and students.

A first-aid seminar for civil service staff will be held Dec. 16-20. Subjects covered include resuscitation, bandaging, treatment of shock, eye injuries, and bleeding. Although the seminar is filled, the class will be repeated winter and spring quarters.

The Provost's Christmas party is Dec. 19 at 3:30 p.m. in the Food Service. All UMM personnel--faculty, staff, and work-study students still on campus--are invited.

TWIN CITIES--Regents' Professor Walter Heller makes his tenth appearance on "Meet the Press" Dec. 22 at 11:30 a.m. The show is broadcast on KSTP-TV (channel 5).

The CLA psychology department continues to enroll more junior and senior majors than any other CLA department--642 students this fall. Among departments with the largest number of junior and senior majors, principal changes have been in studio arts (up to 272 students this fall from 118 in 1967), child psych (up to 224 from 41), history (down to 284 from 312), journalism (up to 465 from 204; second-largest in CLA), psych (up to 642 from 425), and social welfare (down to 240 from 334 since establishment in 1969).

U Gallery has scheduled tours of its current exhibition, "Paintings from Midwestern University Collections." The tours are "Visions of Reality: 17th-19th Centuries" (Jan. 5 at 3, Jan. 8 at 12:30) and "Artistic Alternatives in the 20th Century" (Jan. 10 at 12:30, Jan. 12 at 3). All tours in third floor galleries, Northrop Auditorium.

"The Threatened American Family," a conference sponsored by the U, the American Home Economics Association, and J.C. Penney's, will be held Jan. 5-7. State legislators from throughout the U.S. are expected to attend; Sen. Walter Mondale delivers the keynote address. For info, contact Office of Special Programs, 405 Coffey Hall, 373-0725.

The U sponsors a conference Jan. 21 on "The Importance of Agriculture to an Urbanizing Minnesota." Speakers include William Hueg, deputy VP for agriculture, forestry and home economics; Howard Conklin, Cornell U; and Gregory Gustafson, USDA.