A weekly internal bulletin serving all campuses

President Magrath, who has been carrying out many of his administrative duties from a hospital bed, will be returning home today (Jan. 7) for a "carefully monitored convalescent period," his doctor said Monday. He has been hospitalized since Dec. 12 with a mild case of Guillain-Barre syndrome.

Magrath's doctor, neurologist Joseph Resch, said Magrath will make a complete recovery from the illness, which is confined to the nerves in his limbs and has not affected the central nervous system. Magrath has been allowed to read, use the dictaphone, and meet with people in his room at U Hospitals and will now conduct business from his home.

President Magrath thanks the many members of the U community who have sent him get-well messages. He reports that if one must be sick, it's best to be sick at U Hospitals.

Magrath will participate in the Regents' meeting this week through a telephone hookup between his home and the campus. Budgets, legislative requests, and another briefing on NCAA rule violations are on the agenda.

New student representatives to Regents' committees will be introduced. From Crookston: Curtis Lovitz. Duluth: Paul Bugbee and Jeffery Nelson. Morris: Amy Cole and Arnold Wheeler. Twin Cities: Maria Baltierra, Tom Carlson, Harold H. K. Edgerton, Beth Lutze, Roxanne Goertz, Michael Unger. Waseca: Kenneth Rosenbaum.

Incumbent Carolyn Anderson is seeking reelection to Minnesota State Retirement System (MSRS) board of directors. She is the only U staff member among 6 candidates for 2 slots. Ballots will be distributed with paychecks later this month and are due back by Feb. 2. Campus mail deadline on the TC campus is Jan. 29.

Proposed salary grade system to replace classification system for civil service staff members has been discussed with most major departments. Conclusions are that the same advantages can be gained by consolidating existing ranges and that the proposed establishment of only 20 separate salary ranges would be inadequate.

Revised civil service salary proposal will be prepared by the end of March. Earliest possible implementation date would be July 1. Details in Dec. 22 memo from Thomas Hestwood.

Interested staff people are invited to volunteer for appointment to a vacancy on the 5-member Civil Service Committee. Volunteers should be familiar with all areas of the U and may hold either civil service or academic appointments. To volunteer, send letter and resume to Elizabeth Petrangelo, News Service, S-68 Morrill Hall.

Civil service staff members may volunteer to serve as panel members on the Grievance Review Board, which hears appeals at the third step of the grievance procedure. The panel is appointed once a year, and former members are welcome to volunteer again. To volunteer, send letter to Elizabeth Petrangelo, News Service, S-68 Morrill Hall.

Minnesota SPAN Association is seeking adviser applications and country suggestions for the summer of 1977. Adviser responsibilities include guidance during a year of preparation, a minimum 8-week stay abroad with students, and grading research projects. Salary is about $3,100. Deadline for applications is Jan. 31. Contact Kirsten Ingerson, 103 Nolte, Minneapolis. Phone: (612) 373-3793.

Application deadline is Feb. 1 for the 1976-77 Small Grants Research Program, which awards funds to faculty members for research projects that promise to strengthen overall competence of the U in the international field. Information and application forms have been sent to all departments. Additional forms are available from the Office of International Programs, 201 Nolte. Phone: (612) 373-3793.

CROOKSTON--Traveling exhibit of 22 paintings by B.J.O. Nordfeldt, arranged by UMC Bicentennial Committee, is on display at the Crookston National Bank through Jan. 17.

DULUTH--Number of microfilters to remove asbestos-like fibers from drinking water on campus was almost tripled during holiday break. All water is now filtered in food preparation areas and at major vending locations. Filtered drinking fountains are all over campus, with 2 faucet locations for staff to fill water containers for home use.

Lecture: "General Background in Self-Measurement for Rhythms" by Andrew Ahlgren, associate director of Center for Educational Development; Jan. 9, 2:30 p.m., Life Science 185.

MORRIS--UMM Alumni Association, in cooperation with the Office of Continuing Education, is surveying about 3,500 alumni to determine their needs for and interests in further education. Goal is to ascertain interest in graduate, undergraduate, and noncredit courses that might be offered on the Morris campus.

TWIN CITIES--Faculty organization formerly called University of Minnesota Federation of Teachers (UMFT) has shifted affiliation and is now University of Minnesota Education Association (UMEA). President Gerald Erickson, classics, announced shift at news conference Monday and said UMEA will begin a membership drive on TC campus this month.

Nobel prize-winner Norman Borlaug will deliver the third annual H. K. Hayes Memorial Lecture Jan. 20 at 8 p.m. in the St. Paul Student Center North Star Ballroom.

Astronaut Donald "Deke" Slayton, commander of the Apollo-Soyuz space mission, was keynote speaker at the Alumni Club President's Seminar Jan. 6. He is a 1949 U graduate.

Six Fulbright-Hays scholars from foreign countries are now lecturing and conducting research at the U in the areas of language and literature, mathematics and statistics, animal and plant sciences, and medical sciences. For information call the Office of International Programs at 373-3793.

Graduate Student Information Program will conduct a grad student orientation program Jan. 10 in 320 Coffman. Call 373-4404 for more information.

Laboratory safety courses in biohazard control, general safety, animal care, and radiation protection are being offered to all lab personnel winter quarter by the Department of Environmental Health and Safety. Courses supplement training requirements of Nuclear Regulatory Commission and Occupational Safety and Health Act. Call 373-3199 to register.

Convocation: "Flying Saucers ARE Real" by Stanton Friedman, nuclear physicist; Jan. 12, 7:30 p.m., St. Paul Student Center North Star Ballroom.

WASECA--UMW has received a Minnesota Humanities Commission grant for a public discussion series on "Working in America" as part of the Bicentennial American Issues Forum. Series will be conducted in cooperation with the LeSueur-Waseca Regional Library and the Waseca Community Education Program Jan. 15, 22, and 29 and Feb. 5.

Distribution of faculty salary increase funds for 1976-77 will be discussed at open meeting Jan. 27, 3-5, in 238 Morrill Hall. Total of 5% is available for merit, cost-of-living, and equity increases. VP Koffler will lead discussion, with President Magrath participating through a telephone hookup from his home.

No official statement can yet be made by the U on specifics of NCAA rule violations, VP Kegler told the Regents Friday. Copyrighted story in Friday's Minnesota Daily included information from report of the Assembly Committee on Intercollegiate Athletics (ACIA).

Strong faculty control is needed over intercollegiate athletics, according to the ACIA report as quoted in the Daily. Subcommittee of Consultative Committee (CC) has been formed to review the ACIA document and report to next CC meeting (Jan. 29 in Duluth).

Football coach Cal Stoll has been given a new 3-year contract. In recommending the contract renewal to the Regents, President Magrath said Stoll is the kind of coach-educator that the U should have in its coaching positions. Magrath said coaches should not be evaluated simply on won-lost records.

Budget principles approved by the Regents include 5% tuition increase for 1976-77. With partial tuition freeze, tuition will pay for 23-24% of instructional costs.

Legislative building request of $59.2 million was approved. Earlier plan to request $5.8 million for social science building on Duluth campus has been changed. Plan now is to seek $2.5 million for a building to house only the School of Business and Economics.

More student housing space is needed on all campuses except Morris, Regents were told. Report cited need for 200 additional residence hall spaces in St. Paul.

Regents heard reports from several faculty members: John M. Wood on Freshwater Biological Institute, Bert Ahern from UMM on sabbatical research on racism, Regents' Prof. Edward Ney on consultantship with NSF, Gary Gray on chemical research leading to development of element BCG used to treat some kinds of cancer, and James Moller, George Biltz, and Russell Burris on use of computer-assisted instruction in training medical students in diagnosis.

Administrative reassignments were announced to the Regents by President Magrath (speaking by telephone from his home). VP Brinkerhoff is now VP for finance and development; alumni and development offices will report to him. U Relations will report directly to Magrath. Intercollegiate Athletics will report to VP Bruning. VP Kegler will continue to handle the NCAA investigation until its completion.

J. Paul Blake is the new assistant director of U Relations, replacing Nancy Pirsig.

Frank Bentz from Western Michigan U has joined development office as senior development officer.

CROOKSTON--VP Bruning will be at UMC Jan. 15 to review 1977-79 biennial request.

UMC's livestock judging team will be in Denver Jan. 13-19 for the Junior Collegiate Livestock Judging Contest.

DULUTH--WDSE-TV, Duluth-Superior educational station, will construct a building on campus, following approval of land lease agreement by the Regents Friday. Building site is near intersection of Junction Ave. and University Circle. Building will include studios, control rooms, offices, and work rooms.

"Brown Bag School," sponsored by Duluth Center of CEE, will offer classes on "How To Have Happy House Plants" and "American Landscapes" beginning next week on campus. Cost is $7 for 4 meetings. For more information call 726-8113.

UMD Speech and Hearing Clinic is offering free classes for stutterers and people with hearing difficulties Thursdays, 7-9, beginning Jan. 15. For information call 726-7274.

Joan Steffend from UMD Theatre production of "Oklahoma!" has been nominated for regional Irene Ryan Award in American College Theatre Festival competition. She will participate in finals at U of South Dakota Jan. 15. Regional award is $750 scholarship and chance to compete nationally for a $2,000 scholarship.

MORRIS--A series of convocations entitled "Exploration in Human Consciousness" will be held winter and spring quarters. Speakers and films will cover ESP, meditation, hypnosis, and Eastern mysticism.

West Central Regional Development Commission will meet at UMM Jan. 27 for goal-setting session on manpower planning for Region IV.

Newly elected members of UMM Alumni Board of Directors will assume office at winter quarter board meeting Jan. 31. Key agenda items are appointment of representatives to West Central Educational Development Association and formation of budget committee to plan for 1976-77 fiscal year.

TWIN CITIES--Assembly Committee on Educational Policy has asked President Magrath to appoint a special Task Force on Grading Practices. Charge would be to investigate causes of "grade inflation," evaluate fairness of present grading system, investigate effect of S-N and dual transcript systems, and determine how grades have affected the ability of U graduates to get jobs and acceptance into graduate or professional schools.

Both Minneapolis and St. Paul campuses met United Way quotas. C. Arthur Williams, voluntary chairman of Consolidated Fund Drive in Minneapolis, reported $120,043 for United Way, $33,772 for American Cancer, $27,547 for Minnesota Heart, and $26,731 for Student Aid. John Hall, voluntary chairman for St. Paul, reported $33,177 for United Way and $5,746 for Student Aid. Combined total: $247,018.

Regents approved B.S. program in nurse anesthesia.

Audio Visual Library Service invites faculty members to preview films on political change Jan. 20 at 140 Nolte Center. Films are "Imaginerio" (8:45), "Nigeria: Biafra" (9:45), "Calcutta" (10:15), "If Elected" (1:00), "Battle of the Ten Million" (2:00), and "Blood of the Condor" (3:00). For more information call 373-5259.

Six "Brown Bag" classes have been scheduled on TC campus for winter quarter. Classes in Minneapolis are "Assertiveness I," "Hatha Yoga," and "Contemporary Literature." In St. Paul: "Time Management," "Assertiveness I," and "Sylvia Plath and Anne Sexton." All classes are held over the noon hour. For information about dates and costs, call Continuing Education for Women at 373-9743.

"Angles of Vision," a series of lectures, films, and discussions on the American experience, began at Coffman Union last week and will continue through February. Oriental influences on American literature as seen by mystical poet Pierre Delattre will be discussed at noon Jan. 20. Minnesota women's history will be discussed Feb. 3.

WASECA--First discussion program in the humanities series "The American Work Ethic" will be Jan. 15 at 8 p.m. in the Dining Hall.

Kenneth Keller, representing Senate Consultative Committee, has been named chairman of interim Committee on Biennial Request and Budget Review. Other members are Fred Lukermann from SCRAP, Pat Swan from SCEP, Leonid Hurwicz and Thomas Boman (UMD) from Faculty Affairs, and students Norman Dailey (UMM), Thomas Fairbanks, and Frank Seidel.

Edwin Haislet, executive director of Alumni Association for 27 years, has announced plan to retire about Sept. 1. President Magrath praised him as "a veteran both in terms of service and in his loyalty and dedication to the University of Minnesota and our state." Screening committee to recommend a successor will be headed by Deputy VP William Hueg.

Funds totaling $400,000 are available through the U-wide Educational Development Program (EDP) to support educational development efforts undertaken by faculty members and faculty-student groups during 1976-77. Of this amount, $300,000 will support projects proposed and evaluated through individual colleges. The remaining $100,000 will support projects submitted at the all-U level.

College EDP committees must forward top-ranked proposals to the Center for Educational Development (CED) by March 8; dates on which these committees must receive proposals vary by college. Proposals for consideration at the all-U level will be accepted at CED until April 15. Info is available from CED, 317 Walter Library, (612) 373-4537.

Faculty and staff covered by Blue Cross-Blue Shield are reminded that major medical coverage includes services of a physician, services of a licensed nurse, prescribed drugs, blood and blood plasma, rental of a wheelchair or a hospital-type bed, artificial limbs or eyes, and services of a psychiatrist or other therapist with an M.D. or Ph.D. degree. Claim forms are available from Employee Benefits at 2642 University Ave. in St. Paul.

Items not covered by major medical are routine medical examinations, eyeglasses, and dental care (except oral surgery necessitated by an accident). Lifetime maximum is set at $250,000. Except for $50 deductible each year, Blue Shield pays 80% of the first $5,000 of the participant's medical expenses and 100% of the next $245,000.

CROOKSTON--U central administration has provided partial funding for purchase of a used bus to transport commuting UMC students.

Institutional motto for UMC has been selected by a panel of 3 judges. It is "Meeting tomorrow's demands/with today's programs."

DULUTH--Senate Consultative Committee will meet Jan. 29 at UMD. Afternoon session, from 1:30 to 3:30, will be in Regents' Room (5th floor, Administration Building) and open to UMD faculty who wish to attend.

UMD Department of Educational Media will be providing previews of 6 new films on political change from TC campus Audio Visual Library Service. Showings will be 8 a.m.-4 p.m. on Jan. 23 and 8 a.m.-noon on Jan. 27. For more information call 726-8151.

MORRIS--Educational opportunities through University Without Walls program and UMM will be discussed in an informational session Jan. 31 at 9:30 a.m., 2nd floor, Community Services Building.

TWIN CITIES--Massive study of grades from 1955 to 1974 found that "grade inflation" began in the late 1960's, with some "deflation" (not yet statistically significant) in the last 2 years. Gary Engstrand, graduate student and administrative assistant to VP Bruning, compared winter-quarter grades over 20-year period.

Similar pattern of grade inflation was found across colleges. Percentage of A's and B's awarded in GC increased from 29% in 1955 to 60% in 1974 (counting ABCDF grades only), but GC still gave fewer high grades than any other college. Highest percentage was in College of Education: up from 79% to 89%. Percentage in CLA rose from 51% to 75%. Number of C's dropped dramatically across campus, and the grade of D almost disappeared from transcripts.

Percentage of students taking courses on P/N basis now averages 10% (down from high of 18%). Study also revealed an increase in the number of students taking incompletes. Incompletes accounted for 6% of all grades in CLA in 1955 and 14% in 1974. "It seems as though students have decided they will get a good grade or no grade at all," Engstrand said.

Temporary restraining order will allow Michael Thompson, top scorer and rebounder on Gopher basketball team, to play until Jan. 28, when a hearing is scheduled. Thompson had been declared ineligible for violating an NCAA rule against selling complimentary tickets for more than their face value.

Construction of a sports stadium in the Industry Square area west of the West Bank was supported last week in a statement by VP Kegler to the Select Joint Senate-House Subcommittee on Sports Facilities. Although not officially committing the U to the stadium, Kegler said it would be "realistic to envision the Gopher football team playing there."

Bicentennial is "no celebration" for American Indians, Phillip Deere, a Creek medicine man and spiritual leader of AIM, told an audience of about 200 on campus last week. "I cannot go along with that celebration until they give me the same freedom they (the white men) were looking for when they landed here," Deere said.

In-person registration for spring semester extension classes will be Jan. 26-Feb. 4 at 101 Wesbrook and at MacPhail Center. U staff members who will enroll in nonlimited enrollment classes with Regents' scholarships must register in person during these dates. Those enrolling in limited enrollment classes must wait until the first week of classes. No refunds will be given to students wishing to apply Regents' scholarships toward limited enrollment classes for which they have already registered and paid fees.

"An Evening With the Professor" will be Sunday Supper seminar series in February, sponsored by Continuing Education for Women. Chester Anderson, Gisela Konopka, Ellen Stekert, and Mahmoud Riaz will discuss books and ideas, outside their regular disciplines, that have influenced their lives. St. Paul Student Center, 5-8:30, Feb. 8-29. Cost, including suppers, is $40. Call 373-9743.

Campus Club First Tuesday luncheon speaker Feb. 3 will be John Parker of James Ford Bell Library. Topic: "Books from the American Revolution."

Office for Special Learning Opportunities (OSLO) offers chance to study for 10 months at U of Costa Rica at San Jose and live with local families. Program starts in February. Cost is approximately $2,100 plus airfare and personal expenses. Contact Prof. Ruth Jones, 319 Folwell Hall, 373-5876, or OSLO, 201a Wesbrook Hall, 373-7550.

WASECA--Jim Hill of the Minnesota Agri-Growth Council will visit with Student Senate Jan. 22 to discuss MPIRG.

"The Labor Force," second discussion in "American Work Ethic" humanities series, will be Jan. 22 at 8 p.m. in the Dining Hall.

Agricultural extension staff development workshop will be Jan. 28 and 29 at UMW.

Winter enrollment is at an all-time high of 52,321 students, 3.8% more than last year. TC campus enrollment of 42,626 is also a winter-quarter record. Fall-to-winter attrition rate returned to normal, with about 2,700 fewer students in winter than in fall. Traditional 5% decline did not occur last year.

Survey of student opinion on MPIRG found 75% approval of present fee collection method. More than 80% of the students surveyed showed awareness that the fee is optional and refundable. Student Life Studies conducted poll of 642 students on TC, Duluth, and Morris campuses. Survey was requested by Regents.

Fire destroyed a building at the Rosemount Research Center Jan. 26. Damage was estimated at $1 million. Building, leased to Fluidyne Engineering Corporation, supplied electricity to all of the buildings and some of the homes at the center. Electricity was restored by 5 a.m. Jan. 27. Agricultural Experiment Station at Rosemount was not affected.

Chicano student population made the greatest gain as the number of minority-group students at the U increased from 2,606 in fall 1974 to 2,783 in fall 1975. Minority students continue to be 5% of total enrollment. Black student enrollment is now 1,076, Asian-American 883, American Indian 519, and Chicano 305 (up from 241). VP Wilderson attributed increase among Chicanos to "vigorous recruiting effort."

Fall minority enrollment by campus: Twin Cities 2,422 (up 156), Duluth 225 (up 8), Morris 64 (up 6), Crookston 38 (up 7), Waseca 20 (up 2), Mayo 14 (down 2).

Major increases in the number of Chicano students were reported in the health sciences, with 26 now enrolled in Medical School, an increase of 13. Another 12 Chicano students have joined the 5 Chicanos already in medical technology, mortuary science, nursing, public health, dentistry, and pharmacy.

General College gained 95 minority-group students, including 51 American Indian students.

VP Wilderson said he was pleased to see an increase in the number of minority-group students in the junior and senior classes. "It would disturb me if the increases were just in new admissions," he said.

Educational Development Program (EDP) proposals submitted for consideration at the all-U level must be sent to Center for Educational Development by April 5. Last week's Brief gave deadline incorrectly as April 15.

Horace T. Morse-Amoco Foundation Awards for Outstanding Contributions to Undergraduate Education will be given to 8 faculty members at spring commencement ceremonies. College nominees may be suggested by individual students or faculty, by departments, or by student organizations. College nominations will be sent to Council on Liberal Education by April 12. For info contact Gordon Kingston, 217 Walter Library, (612) 373-4537.

Annual reports on faculty retirement plan will be mailed to faculty members Feb. 2.

CROOKSTON--UMW student government leaders are meeting with those at UMC Jan. 27-29 to discuss common problems and develop positions. Topics include MPIRG, campus security, food service, minority program development, and commuter transportation.

First annual Ag-Arama will be held Jan. 30 by the Agriculture Division at UMC.

High school students will attend Agriculture Activity Day Jan. 31 and Business Activity Day Feb. 4 at UMC. Students will be exposed to college-level areas of study and compete in contests in various fields.

Study of word-processing methods and systems at UMC will be conducted by distributive education students from U of North Dakota. They will evaluate status of record-keeping, procedures for processing information, and communication flow.

Stress Workshops will be cosponsored by UMC and Northwestern Mental Health Center Feb. 2, 1-5 p.m., in ARC 114 and Feb. 3, 6-10 p.m., in 204-205 Dowell.

DULUTH--UMD Campus Assembly will meet at 2:30 p.m. Feb. 3 in Life Science 185.

"State of the Campus" meeting for UMD faculty, administrators, and professional staff will be Feb. 6 at 2:30 p.m. in the Marshall Performing Arts Center. Meeting will be followed by a wine and cheese party in the Campus Club.

Students for Environmental Defense have initiated two pickup points for recyclable materials: Griggs Hall receiving room and Village Apartments Service Center. If interest is good, program will be expanded to other campus locations. For more info on what is recyclable, call the Duluth Recycling Services Center at 727-2510.

Feminist consultant and psychologist Jennifer Macleod will present seminars Jan. 29 on "Sexism in Business" at 9:30 a.m. in Kirby 250 and "Sexism in Our Society: A Definition" at 1:30 p.m. in the Kirby Rafters.

Dr. Leon Singer from medical and dental schools on TC campus will give 2 lectures on fluoridation Feb. 4 at UMD. Scientific lecture will be at 4 p.m. in 200 Old Main. Sigma Xi lecture on "Fluoridation: Its Past and Present Effects" will be at 8 p.m. in 175 Life Science. Open to the public.

MORRIS--Women's Center is now open on 2nd floor of the Music Building. It will operate as a clearinghouse and is seeking information of interest to women for its research files.

Basic first-aid course, open to all academic and civil service staff, will be offered Tuesdays, 6-9 p.m., Feb. 3-March 16 at West Central Experiment Station office. If interested, contact Peter Orr, ext. 292.

TWIN CITIES--Charge of discrimination in hiring of Gopher basketball coach will go to hearing March 29. William Wilson, Minnesota commissioner of human rights, said conciliation talks that began last October have broken down.

Plan to have students own and operate a commercial but nonprofit FM radio station has been endorsed by student-faculty task force chaired by student Mike Unger. Task-force findings will be submitted to Regents in February.

Regent Robert Latz will be the first speaker in a series of "Fireside Chats" at fraternities and sororities beginning Feb. 2. Latz will present "A Regent's Report" at 8 p.m. at Delta Gamma Sorority, 1026 5th St. S.E. Open to the public.

Lectures: "Robert Nozick and the Philosophy of the Minimal State" by Samuel Krislov; Jan. 28, 3:15 p.m., 10 Blegen Hall. "The Influence of Walter Gropius on Architecture and Architectural Education" by G. Holmes Perkins (with film); Jan. 29, 8 p.m., Architecture court. "Food Consumption and World Hunger" by Robert Touchberry and William Hueg; Feb. 3, 12:15 p.m., North Star Lounge of St. Paul Student Center.

WASECA--"Women at Work," third discussion in "American Work Ethic" humanities series, will be Jan. 29 at 8 p.m. in the Dining Hall.

brief

Vol. VI No. 5
February 4, 1976

A weekly internal bulletin serving all campuses

President Magrath said last week he has "no fundamental objections" to plan for Minnesota Higher Education Coordinating Board (HECB) to review budget requests of U, state universities, and community colleges and make recommendations to Legislature in a unified presentation. Asst. VP George Robb read statement to Senate Education Committee for Magrath.

One reservation Magrath expressed was that the bill does not specifically permit the systems to present their own cases when they disagree with HECB recommendations.

Faculty groups presented plans for distributing 1976-77 salary increase money at meeting Jan. 27. Total of $3 million (or 5%) is available. Bulk of the increase would go for cost-of-living increases under most of the plans. No administration plan was submitted. President Magrath said another meeting will be called when proposals have been studied.

SCFA proposal is that 60% of the total go for cost-of-living raises, with the adjustment tipped toward the lower income levels, and that 30% go for merit increases and 10% for removal of inequities.

UMEA plan is that all but $400,000 of the raise go for cost-of-living increases, with those on the low end of the pay scale receiving the largest proportional raise, and that most of the $400,000 go toward equity. TC chapter of AAUP did not propose a numerical formula for allocating the increase. Craig Swan, speaking for the chapter, said there is a legitimate need for some of the money to be used for retention cases.

Morris chapter of AAUP proposed that 80% of the increase go for cost-of-living and the rest for equalization of salaries. Duluth AAUP called for equalizing pay between Duluth and TC campuses (see Duluth section for details).

International agreements with Southern University of Chile and University of Besancon in France were presented to SCEP for discussion Feb. 3. Proposed agreement with Chilean university includes statement of commitment to "unfettered exercise of academic freedom."

Credential examination fees will be assessed under a U-wide policy beginning with applications received from students applying for admission for fall 1976. Details in Jan. 26 memo to provosts, deans, and department heads from VPs Bruning, French, and Koffler.

CROOKSTON--Office Education Association Regional Conference for high school students will be held at UMC Feb. 7. Business Division faculty will grade contest in office areas and division chairman Larry Christiansen will be a panel member.

Flo Wiger will give the second faculty lecture, sponsored by Concerts and Lectures, on the role of women in modern American society Feb. 11 at 8 p.m. in Kiehle Auditorium.

DULUTH--UMD Library has received 150 books during the last 2 years from the Canadian Consulate. Dealing mostly with literary subjects, books were given to encourage scholarly interest in Canada.

Plans to remodel Torrance Hall were announced last week. Building will house 94 students. Work will include new windows, roofing, remodeling rooms, new furnishings. UMD officials are also looking into private housing projects to meet increased need for student housing.

Members of UMD chapter of AAUP have voted to call for a collective bargaining election on the UMD campus. Cards will be circulated beginning the last week of February and must be signed by 30% of the faculty for a certification election to be held.

At a news conference announcing AAUP plans, spokesmen said salary differences between UMD faculty and faculty elsewhere in U system have widened in last 2 years. They said full professors have fallen back an average of $976 per person, associate professors $594, assistant professors $592.

UMD programs to prepare elementary and secondary teachers at the bachelor's and master's degree levels have been granted 10-year accreditation by the National Council for Accreditation of Teacher Education. Also given 10-year accreditation was master's degree program in school counseling. Master's level program for school principals was given initial 5-year accreditation.

MORRIS--Campus Assembly meeting has been postponed until Feb. 23.

First annual Speech Festival will be Feb. 5, 3-6 p.m., in the Humanities Fine Arts building. Faculty and students will participate on a noncompetitive basis.

Two personal growth workshops, focusing on transactional analysis for personal development and improvement of interpersonal relationships, will be Feb. 14 and March 6, 9 a.m.-5 p.m. Tuition is $8 for students, $12 for nonstudents. To register, call 589-2929.

TWIN CITIES--Campus Assembly will meet Feb. 5 at 3:15 p.m. in Nicholson. Assembly Committee on Intercollegiate Athletics will report on ticket prices, NCAA investigation.

Nominating committee for Assembly Steering Committee will present names of Willard Hartup, Fred Morrison, Betty Robinett, and Mahmood Zaidi; others may be nominated from the floor. Two members of Steering Committee, who are also TC members of Senate Consultative Committee, will be elected by mail ballot. Terms of Paul Murphy and Leon Reisman expire this year.

CLA admissions standards have been raised this month in an effort to slow enrollment increases that have stretched the college's resources. Change will return CLA to traditional standard of admitting freshmen from top half of high school classes. Due to a quirk in admissions tests, CLA admitted students last year who were below this standard.

Congressmen Richard Nolan and James Oberstar and former Congressman John Blatnik will be among guests Feb. 6 on VIP tour of NSP greenhouse at Becker. The $600,000 greenhouse is joint project of U, NSP, and EPA. Purpose is to determine feasibility of substituting power-plant cooling water for natural gas and oil to heat greenhouses.

International Study and Travel Center is sponsoring International Study-Travel Expo Feb. 11, 10-4, in Great Hall of Coffman. Representatives from local and regional colleges and universities will have information booths on opportunities for study and travel abroad. International entertainment is scheduled from 11:15 to 1:15. Open to all.

Lecture: "Meaning and Form: Literature and the Other Arts" by Martin Steinmann, Jr.; Feb. 11, 3:15 p.m., 10 Blegen Hall.

Mailing Services is the new name of the central mailing service, formerly Addressing and Mailing. Department provides services in 4 major divisions: Addressing and Mailing, Central Mail List Services, Campus Mail, and Coffman Post Office.

WASECA--"The Fruits of Labor," final discussion in the humanities series, will be Feb. 5 at 8 p.m. in the Dining Hall.

Overall advisory committee will meet Feb. 11.

Telelecture on dairy breeding will be Feb. 10 at 1:30 p.m. in the auditorium.

Hotel, Restaurant, and Institutional Management students will open a restaurant to the public Feb. 13 and 14, 6-11 p.m., in the Trojan Inn. Theme is Liberty Inn.

DULUTH--Campus Assembly voted down proposal to abolish optional P-N grading, after almost an hour of spirited debate. Members of Educational Policy Committee, which made the proposal, argued that P-N system has not met expectations, that attendance by P-N students is poor, and that P-N students don't do their best. Student Association President Paul Bugbee and other students and faculty argued that P-N grading allows opportunity for broadened education. Proposal did not cover courses that are mandatory P-N classes.

Assembly also voted down a proposal to allow a change in a letter grade only if there had been a computational error in reporting.

UMD calendar for 1976-77 was approved by the Assembly. Fall-quarter registration will begin Sept. 16 and classes Sept. 23. Fall exams will end Dec. 15.

Vol. VI No. 8
February 25, 1976

A weekly internal bulletin serving all campuses

Faculty salaries were discussed at open meeting Tuesday (Feb. 24), after Brief went to press. President Magrath proposed a 3% cost-of-living increase and 2% for merit and promotion increases. Cost-of-living increase would be distributed across the board; some faculty groups have advocated skewing in favor of lower-salaried faculty.

Letter containing penalties proposed by NCAA has arrived. Because of questions about one proposed penalty, the U is unlikely to release documents this week, VP Kegler said.

U Senate will meet Thursday, March 4, 3:15 p.m., Nicholson Hall auditorium. One constitutional amendment and two amendments to the bylaws are included on the agenda.

Consultative Committee heard preliminary report from Asst. VP Shirley Clark on "E" classification (between faculty and civil service). She said 56 staff members are already in this category, and there have been no written policies on their benefits and rights.

"No wholesale moves" to "E" classification are expected, Clark said, and no staff member who now has faculty status and is on a tenure track would be moved except by choice.

VP Wilderson met with Consultative Committee to discuss report on professional college admissions. Report recommends that procedures be explicit, that assignments rotate so that no faculty member will "carve out a career as a member of an admissions committee," and that any attempt at pressure should be referred to the President.

"Essential health" of the colleges' procedures impressed the committee, Wilderson said, and the report does not spell out what methods or criteria should be used. He said the Regents may want to toughen some of the recommendations.

Judge Patrick Fitzgerald, Hennepin County, has ruled that the U is not immune from civil suits for damages. The ruling resulted from a $2 million malpractice suit against U Hospitals and others. The decision will be appealed.

CROOKSTON--Higher Education Day seminar will be Feb. 27. Morning seminar features Hazel Reinhardt, first State Planning Agency demographer. Hiram Drache, history professor at Concordia College, will speak at noon on "Pioneer Education in the Red River Valley."

Bids are now being sought for apartment-style student housing.

UMC has purchased a used 29-passenger bus to provide commuter service to and from campus. A shelter for the downtown bus stop is under construction.

DULUTH--Student-organized "Horizons '76: A Walk for Educational Benefits" is planned for May 22. Planners hope to have at least 3,000 students and townspeople walk from Spirit Mountain to campus (about 15 miles) to establish a Bicentennial endowment for scholarships and financial aids.

Two UMD researchers say they have developed a statistical tool to measure direct and indirect impact of industry on Northeastern Minnesota. Study of interindustry effect of Reserve Mining on the Arrowhead Region was conducted by Wayne Jesswein and Richard Lichty. They say that for every $1 in output by Reserve and other mining firms, an additional $.35 in direct and indirect sales was created for the region.

MORRIS--Design project by TC campus architecture students, aimed at helping Minnesota communities approach energy and food self-sufficiency, is on display in the Humanities Fine Arts gallery through March 15. Gallery hours are 9 a.m.-8 p.m. Mon.-Fri.

Renovations on Social Science Building are nearly complete. Groups of up to 180 can now be accommodated and an elevator provides better access to facilities for handicapped students.

Workshop on infant and childhood nutrition will be March 2 and 4, 7-9:30 p.m., in Edson Hall. Free and open to the public.

TWIN CITIES--Construction contracts totaling $27.6 million have been let for Unit B/C of the Health Sciences Center. Construction will begin about March 1, with completion scheduled for fall 1977. The unit will house most of U Hospitals' outpatient clinics, an ambulatory surgery center, and related laboratories and services.

Property crimes on campus increased 30% during 1975, with personal property losses totaling $138,084, according to Police Chief Eugene Wilson. U losses totaled $71,315. Wilson said the assigning of officers to "power shifts," use of plainclothes officers, and a greater effort toward educating people on protecting their valuables are among plans to combat larcenies. Crimes against individuals declined by 22%.

School of Journalism and Mass Communication has established restrictions on undergraduate admissions for next fall. Expected effect is to reduce the number of majors by about 18%.

"Life-Death Decisions: Ecological, Moral, Legal" will be the topic of a panel discussion at annual Cross-Disciplinary Studies forum Feb. 26, 4:15 p.m., Murphy auditorium. Participants include Eville Gorham, Allen Buchanan, and Barry Feld.

Leukemia Research Fund will be the beneficiary of a marathon dive into the waters of Lake Calhoun Sunday, Feb. 29. To pledge contributions for each minute the divers stay under water, call 371-6111 Feb. 29.

Faculty, staff, students, and others are invited to a conversation March 1 with Frank Sorauf, Dean, College of Liberal Arts, on "Liberal Arts in Today's University." Phi Sigma Kappa Fraternity, 317 18th Ave. S.E., 8 p.m.

Lectures: "Minnesota Women" by Gretchen Kreuter Feb. 25 and "Singelust--Minnesota's Musical Gift" by Johannes Riedel Mar. 3, both at 8 p.m., 370 Anderson Hall ("Exploring Minnesota" series). "The Problem of Adoption: An Anthropological View" by Robert Spencer Feb. 25 and "Sir Henry Maine and the Idea of Universal Citizenship" by E. Adamson Hoebel March 3, both at 3:15 p.m., 10 Blegen Hall.

Congressman Donald Fraser will discuss "Political Communications: An Intimate Perspective" Feb. 27, 12:15 p.m., Murphy auditorium, sponsored by Undergraduate Speech Association.

U.S. Post Office representatives will discuss postal rate changes March 4, 10 a.m.-noon, 133 Physics. Call Training Division, 3-4366, for additional information.

WASECA--Provost Frederick presented UMW's capital improvement request to the Education Division of the House Appropriations Committee Feb. 18.

Dean Curtiss of the Minnesota Farm Bureau was elected chairperson of the UMW Overall Advisory Committee and Bob Rupp of The Farmer magazine was elected vice chairperson.

Student Services Fee Committee is currently holding meetings each Thursday to review allocation of the $30 student services fee.

Fifth Annual Rural Development Emphasis Week, March 1-5, will include a regional development conference March 1, a state planning meeting March 2, and a rural art show.

UMD Provost Raymond Darland has announced his resignation. See UMD section for details.

Senate docket for March 4 includes search committee guidelines, public radio, committee on biennial request and budget review, revised policy on use of human subjects in research, performance of faculty retirement funds, other faculty benefits. 3:15 p.m., Nicholson auditorium, TC; 520 Administration, UMD; 13 Camden Hall, UMM; Auditorium, UMW.

New draft of the Civil Service Rulebook, prepared by the Civil Service Committee, will appear in the March 10 Minnesota Daily. Draft incorporates changes made as a result of testimony given during hearings last fall. Extra copies will be mailed to the provosts' offices on the coordinate campuses and will be sent to all experiment stations.

U building request was trimmed from $60.2 million to $16.9 million by the building subcommittee of the Senate Finance Committee last week. Among the casualties: Health Sciences Unit F, expansion of McNeal Hall, UMD School of Business and Economics building. Items that were approved include $4.2 million for expansion of St. Paul library, $1.4 million for basic science building at Duluth, $1.2 million for Learning Resources Center at Crookston. Recommendations will go to full Senate Finance Committee later this week. No recommendations have yet been made in the House.

Faculty salaries have climbed in Big 10 rankings. Average salaries for professors and associate professors on 9-month contracts have moved from 6th to 3rd, assistant professors from 8th to 6th, instructors from 6th to 4th. Story coming in March 15 Report.

Average cash salary for 9-month professors is $24,799. Average is $18,063 for associate professors, $14,623 for assistant professors, $12,115 for instructors. For those on 12-month contracts, average is $29,785 for professors, $23,952 for associate professors, $20,680 for assistant professors, $16,424 for instructors.

"Self-Evaluation Review" for TC campus has been sent to the North Central Association. Accreditation team will visit campus April 21-23. Rochester medical programs will also be reviewed by the NCA. TC report is available at reference desks in Wilson, Walter (Education), Biomedical, and St. Paul libraries and at the libraries and learning resource centers of the coordinate campuses. Report will be distributed this week to Regents, deans, directors, Senate committee chairpersons, dorm presidents.

Financial problems of major research universities are being discussed by representatives of several national foundations and 15 major private and public universities, including President Magrath. Among concerns are libraries, graduate education, research needs.

President Magrath is also meeting with representatives of urban public universities to explore possibilities of extending the educational role of these universities to the surrounding communities. Federal support may be sought.

Carolyn Anderson of the U was top vote-getter (with 5,052 votes) in election for MSRS Board of Directors. Robert Blanck also was reelected, with 3,950 votes.

Adult Education Week is Feb. 29-March 6, by proclamation of Gov. Anderson.

CROOKSTON--Staff members of Minnesota State Arts Board were on UMC campus March 2, seeking opinions on funding guidelines from educators and general public.

UMC administration approved student fees of $32.50 for students carrying 6 credits or more, plus $6 for yearbook. Recommendation will now go to central officers and Regents.

DULUTH--Raymond Darland, UMD provost for 23 years, announced his resignation effective June 30. He said he wants to "cut back a little and unwind" and complete some UMD projects that would be difficult to accomplish if he remained in the top post.

President Magrath, on UMD campus Feb. 26, said he has accepted Darland's resignation with regret and will be appointing a search committee soon. Magrath said Darland will be assigned half time to VP Brinkerhoff's office to work on fund-raising programs, especially for UMD. Darland will maintain an office at UMD and remain in the Duluth area.

Four-person team from U of Wisconsin-Stout explain that campus's Learning Resources Center March 5 in presentations at 12:30 in Kirby 250 and 2:30 in Humanities 403. Open to all.

UMD women's skiing team and 2 members of men's team have qualified for NCAA championship competition March 5-7 in Livingston, Me.

MORRIS--Campus Assembly approved women's intercollegiate swimming and tennis as a step toward "achieving equality for women to participate in all aspects of athletics." Emergency approval procedures for curricular offerings were also passed.

Remaining agenda items will be discussed when Assembly reconvenes March 8 at 4 p.m. in Science auditorium. Items include appointment of an ad hoc committee on teaching evaluation and clarification of policy on student activities and organizations.

TWIN CITIES--A "due process" hearing for Gopher basketball star Michael Thompson has been set for March 11, 5 days after the close of Minnesota's basketball season. Thompson will appear before the Campus Committee on Student Behavior, which is part of the ACIA.

Irwin Friend of the U of Pennsylvania Financial Research Center will be on campus March 11-12 to consult with SCFA, its ad hoc committee on the performance of faculty retirement funds, and members of the faculty and administration about investment policies. Noon meeting in the east wing of the Campus Club March 12 will be open to all.

Study of 1975 College of Education graduates found 72% employed as teachers, 56% full time. Success varied widely by fields, with 47% of the social studies graduates and 100% of the vocational-industrial education graduates finding teaching jobs. Story in March 1 Report.

Convention to organize a new national association of college and university students is scheduled for March 25-27 in Minneapolis. Gary Engstrand, convention chairman for the TC Student Assembly, said the convention will seek to set up an alternative to the National Student Association (NSA). New organization would concentrate on educational issues instead of "divisive" political, racial, and social questions, Engstrand said.

U has been placed on probation for 3 years by the NCAA for violating rules governing the conduct of the Gopher basketball program from 1972 to July 1975. U will not appeal.

During the first 2 years, beginning March 4, grants-in-aid may be given to only 3 players per year, rather than 6, and the Gopher basketball team may not participate in post-season play or televised NCAA contests. During the third year, U will be under "special scrutiny" and subject to more severe penalties if additional violations occur.

Assistant basketball coach Jimmy Williams is prohibited from engaging in recruiting activities during the first 2 years of the probationary period. Possible penalties for present Gopher basketball players are still to be determined in hearing process.

Renewal of MPIRG contract will be among agenda items when Regents meet this week. Also: appointment of Dr. Konald Prem as head of OB-GYN, recommended abstentions from voting stock, and appeal of Robert Miller, a pharmacy faculty member who was terminated.

President Magrath recommended Monday that the "negative checkoff" method of collecting fees for MPIRG be continued and that Prem be named to head OB-GYN.

Civil service hearings on Civil Service Committee draft of new rule book are set for April 1, 11 a.m.-1 p.m., in 110 Peters Hall, and April 5, 11 a.m.-1 p.m., in Mayo auditorium. Those who cannot attend, especially those on coordinate campuses and at experiment stations, are encouraged to send written testimony to Civil Service Committee, S-68 Morrill Hall, TC campus. Rules appear in March 10 Daily. Extra copies will be sent to provosts' offices and to experiment stations.

U Senate approved establishment of faculty-student committee to participate in planning budgets and legislative requests. Senate also adopted a statement endorsing the report of the Governor's Task Force on Public and Educational Radio.

Faculty salary rankings reported in last Brief were based on total compensation, including fringe benefits. Taking cash salaries alone, 9-month professors and associate professors moved from 8th to 5th and instructors from 7th to 5th, while assistant professors remained in 8th place among Big 10 public universities and U of California.

CROOKSTON--In celebration of its 10-year anniversary, UMC is sponsoring a concert by the Minnesota Orchestra March 15 at 8 p.m. in the Crookston Central High School gymnasium. Concert is made possible by grants from the Minnesota State Arts Board and the U.

DULUTH--More than 40% of UMD students now come from outside 7-county region of North-eastern Minnesota. Percentage has risen from 13% in 1965 and 28.9% in 1971. Students from Arrowhead planning region now represent 56.6% of enrollment, with 22.5% from Minneapolis-St. Paul metropolitan area and 5.9% from states other than Minnesota.

KUMD has changed call letters, frequency, power. Station became WDTN March 8 and now has 100,000 watts power and broadcasts at 103 mhz on FM dial. KUMD had only 512 watts power and 20-mile broadcast radius; new power will give 100-mile broadcast radius.

Team from U of Wisconsin-Stout will discuss their Learning Resources Center at 12:30 p.m. in Kirby 250 and 2:30 p.m. in Humanities 403 on April 9. Sessions last week were postponed because of weather.

MORRIS--Civil service quarterly meeting will be March 16 at 2 p.m. in Social Science auditorium. Agenda topics include reports from the constitution revision and travel committees, proposed variety show next fall, and status of civil service rules. Featured speaker is Roger McCann on "Lifelong Learning."

Bicentennial activities spring quarter continue with related course offerings, theater productions of "Yankee Doodle" and "Happy Birthday, Wanda June," a gallery show on vernacular architecture, and a UMM Chamber Choir concert of American music.

TWIN CITIES--CLA Dean Frank Sorauf spoke of limits on admissions and new programs in his first formal "state of the college" address last week. Constraints on admissions for next fall have already been introduced, and additional limits for 1977 are being explored.

New programs will not be readily added to the CLA curriculum in the future, Sorauf said. "The truth is that we have already taken on too many obligations for our resources. It can no longer be enough for proponents of a new program to argue that other universities have one. We must reconcile ourselves to the fact that we cannot do everything," he said.

Deadline for applying for free computerized car pool service for spring quarter is 12:30 p.m. March 12. Application forms are available at the information centers at Coffman Union, West Bank Union (110 Anderson), Morrill Hall, St. Paul Student Center, and Transit Services Office (2818 Como Ave. SE). Or call 373-0374. Computer print-out sheets listing potential car-poolers will be mailed about March 19.

MPIRG leaders voted to accept 1-year contract extension but expressed anger about what they consider a breach of faith by the Regents. "We played straight with the Regents in the last year and they didn't come through," said Chuck Leer, MPIRG administrative director. Regents voted 6-5 to amend contract from 2 years to 1 and then voted 7-4 for contract renewal. President Magrath gave strong support to 2-year contract.

Dr. Konald Prem was approved without dissent as head of OB-GYN. Supporters and opponents carried signs to applaud or protest his views on abortion.

Regents agreed to abstain from voting stock in 10 corporations, in order to focus attention on political activities and employment policies of the corporations.

James Tammen, professor at Pennsylvania State U, has been named dean of the College of Agriculture. He succeeds Albert Linck, associate VP for academic affairs. Acting Dean John Goodding will return to assistant dean post when Tammen takes office July 1.

Closer identification of technical colleges at Crookston and Waseca with Office of Deputy VP for Agriculture, Forestry, and Home Economics (William Hueg) was approved by Regents. UMC and UMW will continue as coordinate campuses. Provosts will be responsible to Hueg on day-to-day matters but will still report formally (and have access) to President Magrath.

Tuition may increase $11 per quarter for each student at the U next year. Tuition hike, which is projected to raise an additional $3.7 million, was included in budget plan prepared by central administration. Final budget must be approved by Regents in July. Budget plan projects an enrollment increase from 55,079 last fall to 57,293 next fall.

Faculty salary increases totaling 5% are also included in the budget plan, which proposes to allocate 3% for cost-of-living raises and 2% for merit and promotion increases.

Regents promised decision within a month after hearing testimony in appeal of Robert Miller, tenured faculty member in pharmacy who was terminated.

Regents heard reports from Robert ten Bensel on the development of instructional materials on historical aspects of child abuse and neglect and from Don Myrvik on cooperative education opportunities in which students alternately work a quarter, study a quarter.

Senate Committee on Faculty Affairs has reaffirmed its support of Social Security coverage for part-time (nonstudent) faculty. Issue will come to U Senate for vote April 15.

Retirement benefits for faculty whose service began before 1963 were discussed at open faculty meeting March 12 and SCFA meeting March 15. Minimum level guaranteed for full professor is $7,000 (exclusive of Social Security, but with no survivor's benefits for spouse); minimum has not been changed since 1968. Question was raised: how much would faculty be willing to give up in order to ensure cost-of-living escalator?

Civil service hearing on proposed rule book is scheduled for April 7 (not April 1) at 11 a.m. in 110 Peters Hall. Mayo auditorium hearing is April 5, as announced.

New policy on effort certification of academic and civil service staff engaged in federally sponsored programs will be disseminated in late March. Office of Research Administration has been holding meetings with departments to discuss policy. Departments that have not been contacted and want to discuss policy should call (612) 376-7614.

CROOKSTON--Deputy VP William Hueg will meet informally with faculty and staff on UMC's administrative realignment March 19. Coffee hour will be 3-4 p.m. at the Trojan Inn.

Limited number of copies of the UMC self-evaluation report are available from the Provost's Office.

DULUTH--John F. Jones has resigned as dean of the UMD School of Social Development. He will continue as professor of social work.

Invitation is out for teachers in Free Univer-City spring quarter. Wanted: teachers in arts and crafts, furniture refinishing, macrame, crocheting, fishing skills, edible wild plants, first aid, other subjects. Call 726-8524 for more information.

"Swedish Heritage in the Upper Midwest" conference, April 1-3 in Marshall Performing Arts Center, will include presentations by 7 Swedish and 14 American scholars. Conference will trace roles and influence of Swedish immigrants to the Midwest.

MORRIS--Copies of The Graduates, a publication showing occupational levels and fields of employment of UMM grads, are available from U Relations at UMM. Story in March 15 Report.

Special 5-week mini-courses have been developed in response to needs of adults taking evening classes. Five of 7 noncredit courses offered spring quarter will be mini-courses; total of 16 evening classes will be offered.

TWIN CITIES--Calendar Committee headed by V.B. Cardwell is exploring ways to end spring term by mid-May. Proposals include 3 50-day quarters and 2 75-day semesters. Possibilities might be: fall Sept. 6-Nov. 19, winter Nov. 29-Feb. 25 (split by 2-week Christmas break), spring March 2-May 20; and fall Aug. 24-Dec. 18, spring Jan. 3-April 29. Committee welcomes other suggestions and invites input by June 1.

Institute of Technology constitution was approved by Regents.

Women (aged 12-17, 25-33, and 50-65) are needed for a year-long study of breast cancer. Intensive, free medical exams and testing will be provided, and volunteers will be taught to monitor their own health as their hormones, blood pressure, and temperature vary over the day, month, season, and year. These factors have been implicated in cancers by U chronobiologists. Call 373-2916 or 373-2920 for more information.

Training Division and Business Office offer 3 sessions on budget preparation: March 29, 9-11, 555 Diehl Hall, and 1:30-3:30, 5 Architecture; March 30, 9-11, 125 Coffey Hall.

Proposed constitutional amendment to eliminate U's autonomy, sponsored by Rep. Gordon Voss, DFL-Blaine, was passed by House Rules Committee on 11-5 vote Monday after failing twice last week. Proposal now goes to House and Senate floors for debate.

VP Bruning appointed Ann Pflaum to chair a Policy Review Committee for Title IX Compliance. Due by July 21, committee's report will be kept on file for review by HEW.

National organization for students at land-grant colleges and state universities was established by student leaders from 31 schools in 21 states at a convention in Minneapolis last weekend. Convention was called to consider an alternative to NSA.

President Magrath told the convention that students have the power to play a larger role in shaping educational policy at the national level. Magrath admitted that there will always be areas of disagreement between administrators and students, but he said an expanded role for students "is not only possible, but very much desirable."

Consultative Committee will discuss biennial legislative request with President Magrath and VP Kegler April 1. Also on agenda: Student Bill of Rights and Guidelines for Evaluation of Administrative Personnel.

$26.4 million in contributions was received by U in 1974-75 academic year, according to Council for Financial Aid to Education. U moved up from 8th to 6th place.

Series E Savings Bonds will become available to U employees through payroll deduction during an April campaign. (See April 1 Report.)

All-University Council on Aging has published a student guide to courses in aging. The publication is the result of work by Stephen Wellington and Shirley Clark and can be obtained by calling Beverly Hubbard at 373-5964.

CROOKSTON--Deputy VP Hueg will meet with Agricultural Advisory Committee April 1. UMC U Relations has been authorized to proceed with a progress report on advancements and historical developments of UMC's first decade.

Committee has been formed to study methods of offering selected continuing education courses for credit.

Bicentennial Film Series of 11 documentaries focusing on the historical development of the Minnesota Territory and settlement of pioneers in the Red River Valley has begun. Designed for use by UMC history students, the series will also be available to the public and to high school social science departments.

House-Senate conference committee approved $21.3 million for U buildings. U had requested $60.2 million, House bill had recommended $34.5 million, Senate bill had recommended $17 million. Among items approved: $4.9 million for remodeling of Jackson, Owre, and Millard; $4.9 million for St. Paul Learning Resources Center; $1.4 million for UMD basic science medical building; $1.4 million for completion of McNeal Hall in St. Paul; $1.1 million for Crookston Learning Resources Center. Health Sciences Unit F was dropped.

Three championship teams (hockey, gymnastics, and crops-judging) will be honored at Friday Regents' meeting. VP Kegler will report on 1976 Legislature and on new enrollment projections and their implications. Other agenda items: proposed student-run FM radio station, proposed student legal services plan, and 1976-77 student services fees.

Student Regent bill, requiring one at-large member of the Regents to be a student or recent graduate, was signed by Gov. Anderson April 2. Amendment to the bill makes formal the tradition that 8 congressional districts each have a resident on the board.

President Magrath and VP Kegler discussed 1977-79 legislative request with the Senate Consultative Committee (SCC) April 1. First step has been to look at salary increases and price-level increases, they reported. "We can increase $30 million just by standing still," Magrath said. "I don't believe there's a lot in the base to be jiggled with."

Proposed Student Bill of Rights was also discussed by SCC. Proposal calls for 50% student membership in the Senate and on all Senate committees, but student Rick Marsden said a 60-40 split in favor of faculty would be an acceptable compromise.

Student access to faculty letters of recommendation was another issue. Leon Reisman said he has found that letters that come without waiver of rights are so bland as to be meaningless. Barbara-Ann March said that if waiver is allowed, all students will be effectively forced to waive rights. George Shapiro said a big problem in the past has been faculty tendency to write negative comments in letters without ever having confronted students at the time undesirable behavior was noted.

Selection of 33 staff members to serve on Civil Service Grievance Review Board was announced last month by Elizabeth Petrangelo, chairman of Civil Service Committee. List will be published in April 15 Report.

Faculty members or faculty-student groups with ideas for improvement of undergraduate education have until May 3 to submit proposals to 1976-77 Small Grants Program of all-U Council on Liberal Education. About $60,000 of the $80,000 available for 1976-77 will be awarded in this round; the remainder will be granted in a round to be announced in September. Information: Center for Educational Development, 317 Walter Library, 373-4537.

Hungarian scholarship program between the U and the Institute of Cultural Relations in Budapest is now taking applications. Contact Marth Lampland, 102 Nolte, 373-3793.

CROOKSTON--Agriculture Division judging teams placed 2nd overall in the nation among 2-year colleges at competition in Canyon, Tex. The crops-judging team placed 1st.

Hotel, Restaurant, and Institutional Management Day for vocational and high school students will be April 9 at UMC. Guest speakers will give demonstration-lecture sessions on such topics as dietetics, Minnesota's resort industry, and meat-cutting.

Commencement committee has recommended that UMC purchase commencement costumes for faculty instead of renting them.

DULUTH--In a statement last week, the heads of UMD, College of St. Scholastica, and U of Wisconsin-Superior said they will recommend a consortium arrangement to their governing bodies as the best way to generate support for cooperative programs among the colleges. They endorsed a recommendation that an advisory council be set up to encourage program development. A task force has studied models for merger, confederation, and consortium.

AAUP will begin April 7 to circulate authorization cards for a collective bargaining election on the UMD campus.

Eight northern Minnesota community college presidents will meet with UMD staff and administrators April 9 to discuss curricula, transfer policy, other topics.

Education faculty from Lakehead U, Thunder Bay, Ontario, will meet with UMD education faculty April 9 to explore possible areas of cooperation, including exchanges and other programs.

Free Univer-City will offer 13 classes beginning week of April 12. All are free for no credit. Registration and more information at 121 Library.

Correction: This is 18th consecutive year UMD has received NSF summer undergraduate research grant. Last week's Brief said it was 6th year. NSF has notified chemistry department that it will fund similar undergraduate research in summers of 1977 and 1978.

MORRIS--Annual Spring Bulb Show open house will be April 11, 1-5 p.m., in the UMM conservatory. Some plants will be on sale, and refreshments will be served. Open to public.

Convocation: "Insects: Variety Is the Spice of Life," April 13, 7 p.m., Edson Hall; featured speaker, Tom Maurer.

TWIN CITIES--Health-career "hotline" has been set up by Health Sciences Student Personnel Office to provide info on career alternatives and course requirements, especially for adults planning career change or new career. Coordinator Judith Atlee said anyone may call (612) 376-1449 collect, 9 a.m.-4:30 p.m., about courses at the U, community colleges, area vocational-technical schools, state universities, private colleges, hospitals.

Minnesota's graduate program in chemical engineering was ranked 1st in nation in study by Provost William Gill at SUNY-Buffalo. Mechanical engineering program was ranked 5th and aerospace engineering tied for 7th. Gill cautioned that study was not comprehensive.

Women volunteers between 18 and 35 and of proven fertility are needed for OB-GYN study to test safety, efficacy, and side effects of once-a-week oral contraceptive. Volunteers will have thorough exam and extensive testing. Costs covered by project include parking and baby-sitting. Call Dr. Harry Foreman, 373-9656, for more information.

Legislature adjourned last week without acting on proposed constitutional amendment to take away U's autonomy. Also, bill to give HECB the authority to approve, disapprove, or modify U budgets was passed by both houses but never reported out of conference committee. Building bill including $21.3 million for U buildings was approved (see last week's Brief).

Enrollment limits and funding supplements to offset expected growth may be needed over next 15 years, VP Kegler told Regents Friday. He spoke of the irony of dramatic enrollment increases at a time when "educational journals and the popular press are replete with almost daily warnings of the precipitous declines in enrollments just around the corner."

Kegler said U enrollment is now "roughly 4,500 students above our own anticipations." He said TC campus enrollment is likely to peak at 55,500 in about 1980, then show a slow decline to about 48,800. Projection for UMD is peak of 7,900 and then a decline to about 6,000 in 1990. UMM is the only U campus not expected to show sharp "enrollment bulge."

Simple raising of admissions standards is not the answer, Kegler said. "We do not think we should become any more elitist than we are." He said TC campus should continue to emphasize unique agricultural, graduate, and professional programs.

Faculty members who spoke to Regents last week were Julie Carson on improving the teaching of writing, Darrell Lewis on teacher training for TAs in economics, Stephen Gasiorowicz on theoretical and high-energy physics, and Norton Hintz on physics research.

Proposed student-run FM radio station was criticized by representatives of Minnesota Broadcasters Association and Twin Cities Broadcasters. Letter was read from MBA president Stanley Hubbard, who said existing stations already offer learning opportunities for students in broadcasting. He asked if the U would open a department store or a bank in order to give students experience. Regents did not take action on the proposal.

Early retirement program for faculty has been recommended for 3-year extension by central administration. Regents are expected to vote on extension next month. Faculty members between 62 and 64 with service prior to 1963 would be eligible on a voluntary basis. Cost would be partially borne from the salary line item that the faculty member vacates.

U Senate will meet April 15 at 3:15 p.m. in Nicholson auditorium and at locations on all coordinate campuses. Extension of OASDA coverage for all nonstudent academic staff and progress report on SCFA ad hoc committee on faculty retirement funds are on the docket.

Student Bill of Rights, guidelines for evaluation of administrative personnel, academic personnel record procedures and policies, and effort certification procedures are on the agenda for Senate Consultative Committee (SCC) meeting April 15.

Betty Robinett and Mahmood Zaidi are new faculty members of SCC for 1976-77. Paul Murphy and Leon Reisman will leave committee at end of year.

Revised form for performance appraisals of civil service staff will allow wider range of performance ratings. New form will be used beginning July 16. See April 15 Report.

CROOKSTON--Legislature approved UMC's 2 top-priority building items: $1.1 million for Learning Resources Center addition and $100,000 in planning money for food service building.

Search committee headed by Herschel Lysaker has been formed to find a new football coach to replace Deryl Ramey, who resigned as head coach and athletic director.

Study of UMC's word-processing methods has been completed by U of North Dakota distributive education students. Report to faculty and staff will be April 19 at 3 p.m. in 204 Dowell.

DULUTH--Lt. Gov. Rudy Perpich is expected to take part in May 22 "Horizon '76: A Walk for Educational Benefits." Perpich will present a bicentennial flag to UMD, then join students, faculty, and staff in walk from Spirit Mountain to UMD to raise funds for scholarships.

U.S. District Court Judge Miles Lord will speak April 19 at 7:30 p.m. in Kirby ballroom.

TWIN CITIES--Campus Assembly will meet April 22 at 3:15 p.m. in Nicholson. Agenda includes proposal from Campus Committee on Honors Programs that degrees granted "with honors" or in "cum laude" series be reserved for students who have been in full honors programs (such as CLA program). Use of GPA alone is suggested for granting of degrees "with distinction."

Gopher basketball players Michael Thompson, Phil Saunders, and Dave Winey were not properly informed of NCAA rules by the U, according to reports from the Campus Committee on Student Behavior. Committee findings are being forwarded to Assembly Committee on Intercollegiate Athletics, which must make rulings on the players' eligibility.

Freshman admissions for fall 1976 are up 10%, according to Leo Abbott, assistant director of admissions and records. About half of the expected 7,000 freshmen have already been formally accepted. Abbott said colleges on St. Paul campus have accounted for a larger share of the increase than would have been expected. U officials now expect enrollment to top 47,000 next fall, an increase of 1,770 from fall 1975.

College of Business Administration's Business Week, a student-organized series of seminars, begins April 16. W.T. Beebe, president of Delta Airlines, will be keynoter.

Lectures: "Sexuality: How Religious" by Herbert Richardson; April 19, 3:15 p.m., Murphy auditorium. President Magrath will meet with community leaders, visit a farm, and speak at an evening program in Wadena May 6. U Band will give evening concert. Event is 1st of 2 "University Nights" planned this spring. Second is May 18 at Brainerd.

Barbara-Ann March defeated George Shapiro by 80-69 vote and is new vice chairman of U Senate. Resolution commended Shapiro for his service as vice chairman during past 2 years. All action items on Senate docket were approved without controversy.

North Central Association Accreditation Review Team will make its site visit to TC campus and Mayo April 21-23. Academic Affairs is coordinating the schedule. Team will meet with Consultative Committee and Facilitative Committee (chairs of all Senate committees).

Study Group on U Outreach will make recommendations to President Magrath on the directions the U should take in fulfilling its outreach mission and meeting the needs of the state.

Magrath appointed the Study Group in response to proposals in the 1975 Mission Statement and the 1975 Report of the U Committee on Extension and Community Programs. F.T. Benson will serve as full-time staff assistant for the group during spring and summer 1976 and through 1976-77. First meeting: April 27, 10 a.m., Dale Shepherd Room, Campus Club.

Monthly certification of effort distribution is now required of all academic and professional civil service staff engaged in federally sponsored projects. Nonprofessional staff will be required to maintain monthly time cards to record hours worked on federal projects effective May 1. Details in April 15 memo from VPs Brinkerhoff, Koffler, French.

U should resist demands for effort certification, Dennis Watson said at Consultative Committee meeting April 15. "As long as we continue to accept these bureaucratic dictums, we're going to be plagued with them," he said.

Accumulated unused sick leave or vacation may not be granted to a civil service staff member during a leave of absence without pay, personnel director Bill Thomas said in April 12 memo. He said this policy has been violated on occasions in the past.

James Lewis Morrill Hall is the name of the 1st building at Ohio State U regional campus in Marion. Name honors Marion native J. L. Morrill, former VP at Ohio State and 8th president of U of Minnesota.

Faculty-salary request for 1977-79 will be discussed at an open meeting chaired by President Magrath April 29, 4-6 p.m., in 238 Morrill Hall. Oral or written testimony is invited. Central administrative staff members will have met with economists from several U departments to discuss the economic trends they are now able to identify.

Central administrators will draw up a proposed salary plan following the meeting. This draft will be circulated prior to a second meeting, now scheduled for May 19, 3-5 p.m.

Enrollment continues at record levels, with spring enrollment at 49,085, up 3% from last spring. Enrollment by campus: Twin Cities 40,269 (up about 650), Duluth 5,547 (up 600), Morris 1,486 (down 7), Crookston 704 (up 70), Waseca 603 (up 100), Mayo 476 (up 50).

Severe funding problems for 1976-77 have resulted from unanticipated enrollment increases, President Magrath said in April 12 memo. Magrath issued a moratorium on the allocation of nonrecurring funds for the remainder of this fiscal year and said that many activities currently funded centrally from nonrecurring funds will not be continued.

In Wadena area May 6 for University Night, President Magrath will review the successful application of U research on irrigation at the Charles Olson farm in Verndale. Olson, who received a master's degree in agricultural economics from the U, is one of the first to apply irrigation techniques in central Minnesota. He is raising and marketing potatoes and onions, crops that are relatively new to the area.

Portrait of Malcolm Moos in academic robes was unveiled April 21 at the Alumni Club in Minneapolis. Painting of the former U president by Barbara Brewer Peet was a gift to the U from the class of 1925. Work will be hung in Northrop "until such time as a building is named for you," Regent Lester Malkerson quipped.

Moos said at the unveiling ceremony that he would like to be remembered "as an educator who said that education must become involved in the affairs of the world, concerned with the needs of the community, and committed to caring."

CROOKSTON--Forum on Minnesota's future, sponsored by the Governor's Commission on Minnesota, the Northwest Regional Development Commission, and the Conference on Rural America, will be May 1, 9:30 a.m.-3:45 p.m., in Bede Hall.

Lt. Gov. Rudy Perpich will present a bicentennial flag to UMC at a flag-raising ceremony May 5 at 2:45 p.m. on the campus mall. UMC veterans' club will present a Bennington flag.

DULUTH--Thomas Moran, a junior from Superior, Wis., was elected Student Association president in election last week.

Senate Committee on Faculty Affairs will meet at UMD May 3. Morning business meeting will be followed by open luncheon meeting for faculty, 12-2, in Campus Club board room. Topics: faculty retirement plans, OASDI benefits for part-time faculty.

Ralph Nader headlines "Corporate Responsibility and the North Country" symposium May 1 at Washington Junior High School in Duluth. Symposium, sponsored by MPIRG and UMD groups, will include other speakers from industry and environmental organizations.

"Women Helping Women" conference at UMD 10 a.m.-6:30 p.m. May 4 in Kirby Rafters, will be conducted by Anne Wilson Schaefer of U of Colorado. Cost is $5 for no credit, $15 for 1 credit. Schaefer will also give public convocation, "Help! I'm Falling Off My Pedestal," at 1:30 p.m. in Kirby ballroom. Sponsors: CEE Duluth Center and Kirby Program Board.

William R. Miner, director of U.S. Office of Urban Development, AID, will keynote Workshop on Development Strategies for the Urban Poor, May 6-7, in Kirby Student Center. Sponsors: CEE Duluth Center and UMD School of Social Development.

MORRIS--Campus Assembly meets May 3 at 4 p.m. in the Science auditorium. Agenda items include elections, policy recommendations on special methods of instruction, and the intercollegiate athletics long-range planning document.

Native American activists Vernon and Clyde Bellecourt will speak on current issues facing Native Americans in their struggle for survival April 30 at 7 p.m. in Edson.

Convocation: "ESP and the Laws of Magic" by Isaac Bonewits; May 4, 4 p.m., Edson Hall.

TWIN CITIES--Karen Olsen, sophomore in dental hygiene who ran on the United University Coalition ticket, has been elected student body president. She defeated Pete Wagner, Tupperware Party candidate and former Daily cartoonist who once pledged to leave town if elected. Referendum on new constitution for student government passed.

Campus Assembly voted last week to stagger class times in Minneapolis and St. Paul. St. Paul classes would begin at 5 minutes before the hour, with Minneapolis classes retaining the starting time of 15 minutes after the hour. Idea is to allow students to take back-to-back classes on the 2 campuses. Proposal now goes to administration and Regents.

Recent efforts to improve the educational offerings of the U will be discussed in a series of informal bag-lunch seminars on the 4 Thursdays in May. First seminar, on programs aimed at improving teaching skills of graduate-student instructors or faculty members, will be May 6, 12:15-2 p.m., in 110 Business Administration. For info, call 373-4537.

Measurement Services Center will offer 3 workshops during spring quarter: Introductory Questionnaire Workshop May 1, Study Design and Response Rate May 6, Question Format and Phrasing May 13. Call 373-2263 for information.

Two groups of 14 persons each will be formed early in May for a once-a-week, 6-session workshop (2½ hours each session) on self-awareness, self-confidence, and assertive communication skills important to productive behaviors on the job. Lee Colby will lead one group on Wednesday mornings and another on Wednesday afternoons beginning May 26. Civil service staff members may call the Training Division, 373-4366, to indicate interest.

Lectures: "Northern Nigeria: Tradition and Communication as Obstacles to Development" by Earl Scott; April 28, 3:15 p.m., 10 Blegen Hall. "James Hillman's Re-Visioning of Psychology" by Richard Palmer; May 3, 11:15 a.m., 111 Owre Hall. Talk by poet-historian Meridel LeSueur; May 4, 12:30 p.m., Coffman Union. "Power Technologies in 1800" by Donald Cardwell; May 4, 3:15 p.m., 102 Mechanical Engineering. Panel on "Food, Fact and Fiction"; May 4, noon, 337 Coffman, and May 5, noon, St. Paul Student Center. "Economics Between Utopia and the Status Quo" by Leonid Hurwicz; May 5, 3:15 p.m., 10 Blegen Hall. "Submerged Groins in Alluvial Channels" by S. Dhamotharan; May 6, 3:30 p.m., St. Anthony Falls Hydraulic Laboratory. U Sampler series: "How (Or How Not) To Choose a Counseling, Therapy, or Growth Group" by Sherwood Ann Wilson, May 3, 6:20 p.m.; and "Why People Buy: The Hidden Persuaders in Advertising" by Robert L. Jones, May 5, 7:30 p.m. (call 373-3039 to register).

WASECA--Student Senate officers elected April 22 are Greg Corcoran, president; Gary Skogsberg, VP; Warren Farr, secretary; and Sandra McGowan, treasurer.

Ten UMW students have been selected for Who's Who in American Junior Colleges.

Mike Unger, CLA junior and student-government leader, has been named by Gov. Anderson to replace St. Paul mayor-elect George Latimer on the Board of Regents. Governor fills vacancies on the board by naming temporary replacements who serve until the next legislative session. Last Legislature passed a law requiring one at-large member of the Regents to be a student or recent graduate; Unger will serve as Regent from the 4th District.

President Magrath called Unger "a person of exceptional talents who is vigorously committed to public higher education and the University of Minnesota" and "a person of integrity who will bring insightful perspectives to his service on the Board."

Regent Latimer's resignation is effective June 1, when he takes office as mayor. Magrath called Latimer "a man of great intellect, warmth, and humanity" and one who has contributed significantly to the U in his "all-too-short tenure" on the Board of Regents.

Special appropriation to improve retirement benefits for older faculty should be a high-priority item in the next legislative request, several faculty members said at a meeting with administrators last week. Craig Swan of AAUP said combination of inflation and inadequate pre-1963 retirement plan has resulted in "ominous implications" for the retirement incomes of older faculty. President Magrath called the problem "serious and complex."

Cost-of-living escalator in faculty salary proposal was favored by several faculty. Thomas Boman of UMD said U should request an increase large enough to leave room for negotiation with the Legislature. Second meeting on salary requests is scheduled for May 19.

Report from accreditation team that visited TC campus April 21-23 is expected within 6 weeks of the visit. President Magrath said he was "very pleased with the thoroughness of the NCA team" and said "one of the institutional virtues of such a visit is that it forces you to ask some very probing questions about yourself."

Enrollment limitations, effort certification, academic personnel record procedures and policies, Student Bill of Rights, UMD student representation on the Senate, and Senate budget will be topics at Consultative Committee meeting May 6.

CROOKSTON--Pat Martyn from Gov. Anderson's staff will be at UMC May 10-12 to talk with minority program personnel, plant services supervisors, division chairpersons, assistant provosts, and the provost.

Committee of faculty, administrators, and civil service employees has been formed to implement procedures for a word-processing center at UMC.

New padded seating to be installed in Kiehle auditorium balcony has arrived.

Public lecture on hyperactive children will be sponsored by the Northeast Association of Child Care May 8, 9 a.m.-noon, in the Children's Center.

DULUTH--Kirby Student Center's 20th anniversary will be celebrated May 12, with open house from 10:30 a.m. to 8 p.m. Free birthday cake will be offered to all guests. A tree will be planted at 2 p.m. in memory of Edwin Siggelkow, first director of the center; reception will follow.

U Press Committee will be at UMD May 6-7. Members of committee will meet Thursday afternoon with faculty who have publications in process. Agenda also includes meetings with academic departments and College of Letters and Science Research Committee.

William E. Colby, former CIA director, will present Dalton LeMasurier Memorial Lecture at 3 p.m. Sunday, May 9, in Physical Education Building. Free tickets are available at Kirby desk and KDAL studios. Lecture honors founder of KDAL radio/TV in Duluth.

MORRIS--UMM Civil Service Association spring meeting will be May 6 at 3 p.m. in the Social Science auditorium.

Convocation: "Abortion: A Woman's Right To Decide," May 11, 7 p.m., Edson.

"Consciousness and the Environment" will be examined in a videotape series May 10 and 11 at 3 p.m. in the Science auditorium. Topics include wind generators and solar energy.

TWIN CITIES--Dormitory rates will increase by $90 for 1976-77, the 2nd year in a row. Announcement of increase was made this week to 4,200 dormitory residents. Average rates per quarter will be $497 for double room and $559 for single room. U officials say costs are about equal to expenses of living in off-campus apartments.

Special Assembly meeting on implications of the NCAA investigation will be May 27, 3:30 p.m.

Phase I of Animal Science-Veterinary Medicine building will be dedicated May 7 at 2 p.m. in Auditorium 125 of the new building. Ribbon-cutting ceremony at main entrance will follow brief program. On the program: President Magrath, Regent Peterson, Deputy VP Hueg, Dean Ewing, Prof. Robert Touchberry. Refreshments will be served; everyone is welcome.

College of Veterinary Medicine will hold annual open house May 9, 1-5 p.m.

Coffman Memorial Union will be rededicated May 10. Ceremonies begin at 11:30 a.m. On the program: VP Brinkerhoff, VP Wilderson, Rufus Simmons, Leland Hansen, Robert Mickelson. Specials and reduced rates will be offered on many items. All within the campus community are invited. Watch for schedule in Daily.

Retiring faculty and staff members will be honored at 29th annual retirement reception May 12 at 2 p.m. in Great Hall of Coffman. President Magrath, VP Koffler, and personnel director Bill Thomas will speak and make presentations.

Office of Emergency Preparedness will conduct a Tornado Information Seminar May 6, 2-4 p.m., in 15 Owre. Representatives from all U departments are invited.

Seminar on "Improving Teaching Skills" will be May 6, 12:15-2 p.m., 110 Business Administration. Speakers: William Becker and Michael Salemi of Center for Economic Education, James Connolly of rhetoric, Heather Huyck of history, and Roberta Koffman of U College.

Lectures: "Cultural-Historical Perspectives of Chicano Experience" by Jose Villarreal; May 6, noon and 8 p.m., Coffman Union. "Estimating the Returns to R & D Investments: Problems and Some New Evidence" by Zvi Griliches; May 6, 3:30 p.m., 230 Anderson Hall (Jacob Schmookler Memorial Lecture). "University of Mid-America: The Challenge of 'Teaching at a Distance'" by Joseph Lipson; May 10, 3:15 p.m., 5 Architecture. "Folk Arts of Norwegians in America" by Marion John Nelson; May 11, 1:15 p.m., Coffman Union. "Know Your Rights," a panel on tenants' rights, legal aid, and conciliation courts; May 11, noon, 337 Coffman, and May 12, noon, St. Paul Student Center. "How Dinosaurs Became Extinct" by Robert E. Sloan; May 11, 6:20 p.m. (U Sampler series, cost $1; call 373-3039 to register)

WASECA--Annual awards banquet will be May 11. Provost's list awards and awards for various activities and athletics will be presented to students.

Overall Advisory Committee will meet May 12.

Student representation on the Board of Regents will be discussed at monthly board meetings May 13-14 on the Morris campus. Some Regents reportedly feel that the appointment of Mike Unger, a student, to a voting membership on the board changes the situation under which the board allowed students to sit in a nonvoting capacity on its committees.

Peace treaty and new partnership are needed between the nation's colleges and universities and the federal government, President Magrath said May 9 at commencement ceremonies at U of North Dakota. Academic community must recognize the importance of the reforms intended by federal laws, Magrath said, and the government should simplify compliance procedures.

Increased costs of compliance "invariably show up in increased tuition rates," Magrath said, and universities must communicate this "undeniable fact" more forcefully. He said compliance nationally may run as high as $2 billion this year, an amount equivalent to "the total amount of voluntary donations our colleges and universities will attract."

Information-gathering from all campuses for Title IX compliance report is on schedule and the study will be completed by July 21, according to coordinator Ann Pflaum.

Senate Consultative Committee (SCC) voted to oppose effort certification that is now required of all faculty and staff members engaged in federally sponsored projects. SCC asked for a report on how administrators have fought the requirement. Institutional protest might be effective, SCC members said, but individual noncompliance would not be.

Enrollment limits will be subject of special meeting of Facilitative Committee (chairs of all Senate committees) May 13. At SCC meeting, Ken Keller said limits should be based on educational considerations, not set arbitrarily. Keller expressed fear that seeking temporary appropriations for time of enrollment bulge would mean "mortgaging something we're not going to be able to pay."

SCC voted opposition to the use of hearsay evidence in decisions on faculty hiring, promotions, and tenure. Wendell Glick proposed that a written record be kept of all who are given access to a faculty member's file.

President Magrath and other U officials will meet with citizens of Brainerd and surrounding communities May 18. Event is 2nd of 2 University Nights this spring.

Former Regent Kathryn Vander Kooi has been named to State Board of Community Colleges.

Dr. Herb Huffington, U Regent from 1967 to 1973, died April 30 at his home in Waterville.

CROOKSTON--Reception to introduce Deputy VP Hueg to northwestern Minnesotans will be May 17, 5-7 p.m., Elks Country Club. It will be sponsored by the Northwest Educational Improvement Association and hosted by Provost and Mrs. Sahlstrom. Open to the public.

Workshop on migrant education will be held by the State Department of Education May 15 to provide training and guidance for education personnel who will be working with migrants. Sponsored by the UMC Office of Community Services.

DULUTH--UMD Provost Search Committee will hold 3 forums this month for community and campus persons to voice their thoughts on criteria for the position. Off-campus forums will be May 18 at 7 p.m. in English 1 room of Duluth Central High School and May 24 at 7 p.m. at Mesabi Community College in Virginia.

On-campus forum will be May 18 in Marshall W. Alworth Hall 195. Times: 1 p.m. for faculty, staff; 2 p.m. for students; 3 p.m. for alumni; 4 p.m. for additional faculty, students, staff, alumni. Forums intended to discuss criteria, not suggest candidates.

On-campus housing rates for 1976-77 will be $96 higher for dorms and $66 more for apartments. Quarterly costs at new rates will be $492 for double dorm room and 20 meals per week and $296 per student for apartment. Because of record number of requests for on-campus housing, UMD has renewed arrangements to house students at 2 Duluth hotels and may consider using dormitory space at U of Wisconsin-Superior.

Speakers will discuss chemical dependency, status of Native American, corrections, and role of women during Anishinabe Days May 13 and 14. Opening ceremonies will be at 9 a.m. each day in Kirby lounge; pow-wow is scheduled for 6 p.m. Friday in lounge.

MORRIS--Ted Schmidt, junior in political science, was elected president of Morris Campus Student Association and Rick Stotts was elected VP. Elected to All-U Student Senate were Bradford Dominick, Monica Wilmes, and Todd Johnson.

Intercultural Emphasis Week is May 17-21. Events include films, an intercultural-communication simulation game, talk on higher education in Germany, folk-dancing, and an international festival presented by the Morris Minnesota International Students Association.

Campus Assembly approved credit for women's intercollegiate tennis and swimming programs and a statement of principles and policy recommendations on special methods instruction. Policy is in response to state recommendation that special methods courses be taught by faculty in the discipline in which the student is majoring rather than being incorporated into senior-year student-teaching experience.

TWIN CITIES--Special Assembly meeting on athletic situation has been moved to June 3.

ACIA ruled that Gopher basketball players Phil Saunders, Michael Thompson, and David Winey are eligible to play next season. No official reaction has been heard yet from NCAA.

New Programs Committee of U College voted to deny budget request of Experimental College (EC). If U College Assembly agrees at meeting May 13, it is expected that a phase-out budget would be approved and no new students accepted into the program. EC representatives announced plan to demonstrate in front of UC offices May 12.

Theater performances by a Native American company, a talk by a leading Native American scholar, and a poetry reading are highlights of American Indian Week this week.

Seminar on "Uses of Media in U Instruction" May 13, 12:15-2 p.m., Studio E, Rarig Center. Speakers: Robert ten Bensel and Trude Turnquist, Luther Gerlach, Robert Holloway, Irving Fang. Media Fair with more displays and demonstrations will precede and follow seminar.

Preview showing of "Nova" and "Ascent of Man" films will be May 17, 12:30-4:30, 140 Nolte.

Lectures: "The Role of Tradition in Contemporary Indian Life" by Al Ortiz; May 12, 7:30 p.m., 230 Anderson Hall. "Folk Arts of Norwegians in America" by Marion Nelson; May 13, 1:15 p.m., Coffman. "Television Journalism as the Presidential Nominating Process" by Michael Robinson; May 13, 2:30 p.m., 131 Physics. "The Poetry of John Milton" by William Kerrigan; May 13, 3:30 p.m., 305 Lind Hall. "Building a Theory of the Agenda-Setting Influence of the Press" by Maxwell McCombs; May 19, 2:15 p.m., 402 Folwell. "Institutional Counterproductivity: Medicine Without Health" by Ivan Illich; May 19, 2:15 p.m., 210 Anderson. "Franz Kafka's 'The Trial'" by Wolfgang Taraba; May 19, 3:15 p.m., 303 Blegen. U Sampler series (cost $1; call 373-3039): "Bach's B-Minor Mass" by Lee Humphries, May 13, 6:20 p.m., and "The AFL-CIO and the Democratic Party" by George O'Connell, May 18, 7 p.m.

Faculty salary request proposed by President Magrath calls for increases of 11% next year (5% merit, 0.5% equity, 5.5% cost-of-living) and 8% for 1978-79 (3.5% merit, 0.5% equity, 4% cost-of-living). Discussion at open meeting May 19, 3 p.m., 238 Morrill Hall.

Tuition grants will be offered to women in intercollegiate sports next fall, VP Bruning told the Regents at meeting in Morris. Female athletes will not be recruited, but aid will be available beginning in sophomore year. Next year, $20,000 will be used for up to 25 grants of $800 each.

Legal services program for students on the TC campus was approved by the Regents. Students will be served by a staff of 4 attorneys and several paralegal assistants. Program will receive $1 of the student fees paid by every full-time TC student.

Ad hoc committee formed by the Regents will study the system in which 2 student representatives sit as nonvoting members on each of the Regents' committees.

Robert Heller will become acting provost of UMD July 1, succeeding Raymond Darland.

John Imholte was appointed to another 7-year term as provost of UMM, following a review of his work as required by the UMM campus constitution.

Erwin Schaffer has resigned as dean of the School of Dentistry. He will continue as dean until a successor is named and will remain on the faculty after he steps down as dean.

Faculty members who made presentations to the Regents were Wilbert Ahern and Ted Underwood on the West Central Minnesota Historical Research Center, Eric Klinger on 2 sabbatical leaves, Theodore Uehling on the Upper Midwest Philosophy Colloquium, Peter French on student-faculty research in philosophy, and Ernest Kemble on teaching and research in psychology (all from UMM), and Robert Powless on American Indian Studies at UMD.

Regents voted to uphold the administrative "termination for cause" of Robert H. Miller, a member of the College of Pharmacy faculty who was fired by his department last year.

Holiday schedule for civil service staff in 1976-77: July 5 (in lieu of Independence Day), Sept. 6 (Labor Day), Nov. 25 (Thanksgiving), Nov. 26 (Friday after Thanksgiving), Dec. 24 (in lieu of Christmas Day), Dec. 27 (Monday after Christmas), Dec. 31 (in lieu of New Year's Day), Feb. 21 (Presidents' Day), and May 30 (Memorial Day).

University Senate will meet May 20 at 3:15 p.m. in Nicholson auditorium and at locations on all 4 coordinate campuses.

CROOKSTON--Spring commencement will be May 21 at 2 p.m. on the mall, weather permitting. VP Bruning will speak on the international food crisis.

New head basketball coach is Jim Sutherland from Newcastle, Wyo. Appointment, effective Aug. 15, must be approved by the Regents.

DULUTH--Regents approved a new UMD constitution, which restructures Campus Assembly representation according to collegiate units. For the first time, constitution sets terms for administrative officers and provides for review process. Some professional staff members (nonfaculty) will have representation in the Assembly for the first time.

"State of the Campus" faculty meeting will be May 24, 3 p.m., at Marshall Center.

VP Walter Bruning and assistant personnel director Harold Bernard will explain faculty retirement program May 25, 2 p.m., in Life Science 185.

Recognition dinner for Provost Darland will be May 27, 6:30 p.m., in Kirby ballroom.

"Horizon '76: A Walk for Educational Benefits" will be May 22 at 9 a.m. Lt. Gov. Rudy Perpich will present bicentennial flag to UMD at opening session at Spirit Mountain. Students will walk 15 miles to campus to raise money for student scholarships.

MORRIS--UMM is participating in a National Science Foundation study on the relationship between education and jobs. Alumni who graduated between July 1, 1973, and June 30, 1975, will be studied to determine the types of jobs they are finding, the extent to which jobs are related to their college majors, unemployment rates by field of study, and the number of grads continuing their education.

A business and industry advisory committee has been formed to give input and guidance to UMM's continuing education, community development, and outreach programs.

Annual picnic for graduating seniors will be held by the UMM Alumni Association and Alumni Office on May 26 at Pomme de Terre Park.

TWIN CITIES--Americana Festival on the St. Paul campus May 22-29 will include an old-fashioned county fair, campus tours, an old-time country auction, an arts-and-crafts fair, square-dancing on the mall, free jazz concerts, agricultural exhibits, and more.

Ross Smith of Concerts and Lectures presented a proposal to the Regents for an open-air rock concert, featuring the Beach Boys and the Eagles, in Memorial Stadium in August.

Institute of Child Development Nursery School will celebrate its 50th anniversary May 23. About 160 children a year are enrolled in the school, a center for experimentation with early-childhood education that is one of only 5 or 6 of its kind in the nation.

Special lecture: "The Useful Arts and the Liberal Tradition" by Dean Earl Cheit of School of Business Administration, U of California; May 24, 3:15 p.m., 125 Auditorium-Classroom Building. Commentary by VP Koffler, Deans Sorauf and Swalin, and student Rob Winthrop.

Conference on "Historical Interaction Between Hinduism and Islam in South Asia" will be May 21-22 at Nolte Center. For information call 373-0212 or 373-9834.

Bag-lunch seminar on "Beyond the Classroom" May 20, 12:15-2 p.m., 110 Business Administration. Speakers: Michael Patton, Josef Mestenhauser, Don Myrvik, and Meg Campbell.

Job market should not rule the nation's colleges and universities, President Magrath said Sunday at commencement ceremonies at the U of New Hampshire. He noted that it "is still very much the case" that college education leads to better jobs, but he said the purpose of a university is to provide "learning for a lifetime," not just for a career.

Waning commitment to higher education could mean closing of college doors to the poor and members of minority groups, Magrath warned. Magrath was awarded an honorary degree, his first. He and his wife, Sandra, received bachelor's degrees from New Hampshire in 1955.

Food production could become a powerful political weapon, VP Bruning told UMC graduates May 21. Bruning said the U.S. must be careful and humane in its use of food as a weapon but said that "if the oil-rich countries start mumbling about an oil embargo, they could find themselves drowning in oil" with not enough food to eat.

UMC graduates, most of whom will be in the middle of their careers in the year 2000, "may be witnessing some pretty awful things happening in a world with too many people and too little food," Bruning said. He said the nation will face some tough decisions. "America, and virtually America alone, will be a nation of plenty in a world of shortages."

Cost-of-living increase effective July 1 will be 1.72% for civil service staff whose jobs are assigned to Schedule A or the Management Salary Plan and 9¢ an hour for those in Schedules B and C. Implementation memo will be issued by Personnel as soon as possible.

Increase is substantially lower than the January increase because the Minneapolis/St. Paul consumer price index has recently been rising at a slower rate than in 1975 and because the index change was measured for 6 additional months instead of 9.

Presidential Scholars for 1976 will be named at a luncheon May 28. The 57 Minnesota high school seniors, in the top 5% of their classes, have registered at TC, Duluth, or Morris campus. Presidential Scholars designation is honorary and provides no financial aid. Seminars are held throughout the year for the scholars.

U Senate passed a motion allowing the Senate Judicial Committee to release its findings if the parties to a dispute give permission and their identities are not revealed. Purpose is to give faculty members access to past cases to help them in formulating complaints.

Rewritten policy on U-sponsored educational materials, with some substantive changes, was also passed by the Senate.

Program on Human Issues and Values (PHIV), under the Office of Student Affairs, is starting a Values-in-Education Awards Program. Awards will provide limited financial support to faculty and staff for the design of values-oriented curricular activities or for research on the effects of values on student development. Deadline for proposals is June 21. Students who wish to initiate projects may apply for PHIV internships. For info, contact Jeffry Penwarden at 376-7236 (324 Walter Library).

U Archives will clear all requests for publications or papers directly or indirectly published by the U. Departments should send copies of all printed, mimeographed, and other publications to Archives, 10 Walter Library, TC campus, immediately upon publication.

Application deadline is July 1 for 1977-78 University Lecturing and Advanced Research Abroad under the Fulbright-Hays Act. Annual competition for Grants for Graduate Study Abroad (student Fulbrights) is now open, with early fall deadline. Info: Graduate School Fellowship Office, 407 Johnston (373-2833).

CROOKSTON--All-U Council on Environmental Quality meets at UMC May 26 at 9:30 a.m.

DULUTH--Provost Darland will be the speaker at 8 p.m. commencement ceremonies June 11. His topic: "The Spirit of '76."

Students, administration, faculty, and staff took part in a "Clean Up UMD" session May 25 to pick up winter debris and rubbish.

MORRIS--Commencement ceremony will be June 11 at 8 p.m. Speakers will be graduating senior Jay Fier of New Ulm and Richard Ilkka, assistant professor of speech.

Major in liberal arts for the human services was approved by the Regents. Program stresses a firm liberal arts basis for understanding human behavior in its social context.

Morris Sun-Tribune received the 1975 Outside Contributor Award from the Minnesota Association of Continuing Adult Education. Award is given to an organization outside education that promotes educational programs and informs people.

TWIN CITIES--Building dedication and name-changing ceremony are planned for 2 St. Paul campus buildings May 27. Faculty, staff, students, public invited.

Hodson Hall (formerly Entomology, Fisheries, and Wildlife) will be named at 10:30 a.m., with Regent Thrane, Associate VP Linck, Deputy VP Hueg, and Prof. Milton Weller speaking. Ceremony will be outdoors, weather permitting. Alexander C. Hodson joined the U staff as a TA in zoology in 1928 and retired 46 years later as professor and head of the Department of Entomology, Fisheries, and Wildlife.

Classroom-Office Building between Coffey Hall and the St. Paul Campus Library will be dedicated at 1:30 p.m. in ceremony in auditorium B-45. Sen. John Olson, Regent Krenik, VP Koffler, and Deputy VP Hueg will speak.

Faculty, staff, students, and others are invited to see "Reaching Out," a new 20-minute film about the U, at one of these showings: June 2, noon, Coffman Great Hall; June 2, noon, St. Paul Student Center ballroom; June 3, 1 p.m., Bell Museum auditorium; June 4, 2:30 p.m., 125 Auditorium-Classroom Building (WB); June 7, 11 a.m., 2-650 Health Sciences Unit A.

CLA Placement Office study shows increase in the percentage of senior women willing to "go where the jobs are": from 55.7% willing to be mobile in 1969-70 to 66.2% in 1974-75. Study found no dramatic shift away from job preferences in traditionally female-dominated fields.

Bag-lunch seminar on "Improving Reading-Writing Skills" May 27, 12:15-2 p.m., 110 Business Administration. Speakers: Julie Carson, Patricia Fergus, Vernelle Kurak.

Special seminar: Robert ten Bensel on "Parent/Child Relationships: A Historical Review," a multimedia presentation focusing on child abuse and neglect; May 27, 3:15-5 p.m., 2-530 Health Sciences Unit A. Open to the public.

WASECA--Farmer-in-Residence proposal and pilot program in compensatory education were approved for funding by the Educational Development Program.

New representatives to U Senate are faculty member Roger Walker and students Michael Meyers and Alane Orr.

Presentation on activities scheduled for Farm Fest '76 at Lake Crystal Sept. 13-19 will be given at a convocation June 1 at 10 a.m.

Speakers for the driving/walking tour of UMW campus will be installed before May 29. Units are located at both entrances to campus, near the light horse management facility, and near the Horticulture building, and there are 3 in the horticultural gardens.

Intercollegiate athletics will be the subject of a special TC Assembly meeting June 3, 3:15 p.m., in Nicholson Hall auditorium, with hook-ups to coordinate campuses. The informational meeting, called by the Consultative Committee, is open to all.

Kenneth Keller, chemical engineering and materials science, TC campus, was elected chairman of the Senate Consultative Committee. Wendell Glick, English, UMD, is the associate chairman.

Salary-range consolidation of civil service positions is completed and will go into effect July 16. No individual salary changes will result from consolidation except when an employee's salary falls below the new range minimum.

Schedule A was reduced from 64 to 22 salary ranges and Schedule C from 39 to 21 ranges. Details in May 14 memo to provosts, deans, and department heads from T.M. Hestwood.

New performance-appraisal form will also be used beginning July 16. The form (B.A. 439) is stocked by General Storehouse under #S-91990. New guidelines for salary actions based on performance outlined in May 17 memo from Hestwood.

Horace T. Morse-Amoco Foundation Awards will be presented in June to 8 faculty members for "outstanding contributions to undergraduate education." Coordinate campus winners are Hollie L. Collins, biology, and Joseph A. Gallian, mathematics, both of UMD; and James B. Togeas, chemistry, UMM. TC campus winners are Julie A. Carson, English; Patricia M. Fergus, English; Magnus Olson, zoology; Michael Q. Patton, sociology; and Vera M. Schletzer, CEE and psychology.

First commencement of Mayo Medical School took place May 29 in Rochester. Former U President Malcolm Moos was speaker, and M.D. degrees were awarded to 33 men and 6 women.

CROOKSTON--Provost Stanley Sahlstrom has been elected president of the Minnesota Association of Community and Junior Colleges.

DULUTH--Housing Office has asked community for listings of apartments and sleeping rooms for students. Alternate arrangements have been made for overflow of students contracting for on-campus housing, but need is foreseen for off-campus housing for approximately 300 students.

Campus Assembly meets June 3, 2:30 p.m., in Life Science 185. Agenda items include policy on grade changes, revised student-behavior code, and report of study on Lake Superior Association of Colleges and Universities.

MORRIS--"Studies in the History of Philosophy," volume 1 of the newly founded Midwest Studies in Philosophy journal, has been published by UMM. It includes papers delivered by visiting philosophers at the first Annual Midwest Philosophy Colloquium held at UMM last year. Plans for publishing volumes 2 and 3 are under way.

PE Annex swimming pool is ready for community use. Scheduling will be handled by the Morris Community Education Program, which with the Kiwanis Club helped raise the funds needed to repair and renovate the pool.

TWIN CITIES--Parking rates will increase Sept. 27 for all contract and transient lots, ramps, garages, and meters. Notices have been sent to all contract holders. More information is available from the Parking Services office.

TC Student Assembly voted May 27 to spend $7,500 to hire a consulting firm to help the U establish student legal services program approved by the Regents.

Introductory Marxism course was approved for permanent status by the CLA Social Science Divisional Council last week.

More than 4,800 degrees will be awarded in June commencement ceremonies by individual colleges and schools on TC campus. June 3: Agriculture, 5:30 p.m., St. Paul campus mall. June 4: Medical School, 2:30 p.m., Northrop Auditorium; Pharmacy, 7 p.m., Auditorium-Classroom Building; Dentistry, 7:30 p.m., Northrop Auditorium; and Home Economics, 8 p.m., Northstar Ballroom, St. Paul Student Center. June 5: Veterinary Medicine, 2 p.m., Northrop Auditorium; Forestry, 3 p.m., south lawn of Green Hall greenhouse; and Liberal Arts, 7:30 p.m., Northrop Auditorium. June 6: Nursing, 2 p.m., Auditorium-Classroom Building; and Biological Sciences, 3 p.m., Northstar Ballroom, St. Paul Student Center. June 8: Education, 7:30 p.m., Northrop Auditorium. June 10: General College, 3 p.m., Great Hall, Coffman Union. June 11: Law, 7:30 p.m., Northrop Auditorium. June 12: U College, 2 p.m., Northstar Ballroom, St. Paul Student Center; and Graduate School, 7 p.m., Northrop Auditorium. June 13: Business Administration, 2 p.m., Auditorium-Classroom Building.

The Minnesota International Center is recruiting families for its Summer Homestay Program Aug. 13-Sept. 17. Foreign students who plan to enroll at the U this fall will attend orientation and English sessions at the U this summer. The homestay program allows the students to live with American families during that time. For more information, contact the center, 711 E. River Rd., 373-3200.

Roy Wilkins, executive director of the NAACP, will be awarded an honorary doctor of laws degree at Graduate School commencement ceremonies June 12. A 1923 graduate of the U, Wilkins majored in sociology and was editor of the Minnesota Daily.

Regents will discuss mutual concerns with the faculty-student Senate Consultative Committee at a luncheon meeting June 10. Student Michael Unger will be sworn in as a Regent before the luncheon. Agenda for the regular monthly Regents' meeting June 11 includes the 1976-77 budget and the annual report from the U Hospitals board of governors.

Martin Snoke, assistant VP for student affairs, will leave central administration this fall, take a 2-quarter leave, then return to College of Education. He'll also continue as consultant to VP Wilderson in special areas such as career development.

Athletic department accountability will be studied by a faculty-student task force. Plan for forming the task force was approved during an open discussion by faculty and students last week on the role of sports within the U. Task force will consider the role of the Assembly Committee on Intercollegiate Athletics.

Several faculty members expressed concern that not enough steps have been taken to prevent future NCAA rule violations. Paul Giel, director of intercollegiate athletics, said he has faith in the present coaching staff when they tell him they are not violating any NCAA or Big 10 rules.

Senate Consultative Committee will meet June 10. On the agenda: Task Force on Student Access, Duluth student representation in the Senate, Title IX review, and procedures for review of central administrators.

Film grants are available to students interested in studying the history, criticism, or aesthetics of film. Applications are available from Continuing Education in the Arts, 320 Wesbrook, TC campus. Deadline is June 15. Grants normally do not exceed $1,000 and are not available to pay for film-production expenses.

Savings bond campaign on TC and coordinate campuses was a success, according to VP Brinkerhoff, voluntary chairman of the drive. Number of bond buyers increased from 623 to 1,544, and total amount of new bond business (for one year) is $314,789.

CROOKSTON--James Sims, Thief River Falls, has been named head football coach and instructor in health, physical education, and recreation, pending Regents' approval.

DULUTH--Campus Assembly last week approved continued activity in Lake Superior Association of Colleges and Universities. Report of committee to study LSACU participation recommended that executive director routinely appear before Assembly and strengthen communication with academic departments. Assembly also urged faculty to avail themselves of LSACU opportunities.

Assembly revised procedure for changing course grades, approved a revised Student Behavior Code, and formalized membership on committees for next year.

UMD Air Force ROTC detachment will commission 8 students at 10 a.m. June 12 in Kirby ballroom. Guest speaker will be Brig. Gen. George C. Cannon, Jr., commander of the 23rd Air Division, Aerospace Defense Command, at Duluth.

Among 875 students receiving master's and bachelor's degrees at commencement June 11 will be 5 Native American students, the largest such group to graduate at a single ceremony at UMD.

MORRIS--About 220 degrees will be awarded in commencement exercises June 11 on the campus mall. Ceremony will bring to 2,614 the number of degrees conferred in 13 years of commencements at UMM. Senior Jay Fier will speak on "The Responsibility of the Individual" and faculty member Richard Ilkka on "Socrates Died for Our Sins."

UMM will host some 2,000 visitors during the week of June 20, including 1,200 state volunteer fire-fighters and their spouses. Other highlights: 3rd annual West Central Institute for Creative Studies, 62nd annual Homemakers Workshop, and Little Miss pageant.

TWIN CITIES--U Symphony Band Ensemble conducted by Frank Bencriscutto will be among musical groups representing the state at Minnesota Days in Philadelphia and Washington, D.C., this month. Band will perform in Philadelphia June 19, at Kennedy Center in Washington June 21, and at Capitol and Lincoln Memorial June 22.

Women on corporate boards and women in folk songs will be among topics discussed during "A Woman's Day on Campus" June 16. Speakers include Geri Joseph, contributing editor to the Minneapolis Tribune, and folklorist Ellen Stekert. Cost is $4 for morning program and $8 including lunch. Call 373-9743 for information.

The first independent study program in the country for mental-health administrators has been established by the U's program in hospital and health-care administration. Two-week sessions on campus will introduce each of 3 year-long courses, and a 1-week session on campus will conclude each course. Program will give practicing mental-health administrators an alternative to full-time on-campus study.

Plant disease mobile clinic sponsored by the Department of Plant Pathology will begin this summer's travels to shopping centers with stop at Northtown June 9-10. Coming up: Brookdale June 16-17, Ridgedale June 24-25, Southdale July 1-2. Visits to St. Cloud, Duluth, and Rochester are planned for July, with additional TC stops through September.

WASECA--About 200 students will receive associate in applied science degrees at commencement exercises June 11 at 2 p.m.

Regents approved 1976-77 budget of $460 million, compared to current $426 million, on the condition it would not restrict their position on CIA and GC enrollment ceilings. At Regents' meeting last week, VP Kegler said 1975 legislative appropriations will not allow enrollment expansion beyond the 17,900 projected for CIA next year. Those appropriations were based on projected TC campus enrollment of 44,425, but projection later increased to 47,000 because of unexpected demand. Enrollment limitations are under study by Regents.

Tuition increase of $11 per quarter was also approved. A tuition-payment proposal that would allow students to pay monthly rather than quarterly was criticized by Regents, who said it might cause cash-flow problems for the U. They will vote on it in the fall.

Energy requirements and environmental consequences of future U buildings should be studied by Regents, according to Regent Rauenhorst. An ad hoc committee will be named in July to study the subject and seek advice from independent consultants.

Building construction has been getting worse instead of better, Rauenhorst said. Regent Goldfine defended the administration's presentations of building proposals and said the basic question is a financial one. VP Brinkerhoff said the study would be a good opportunity for U to review its methods of developing building specifications.

Michael Unger, first student member of Board of Regents, was sworn in Thursday. His appointment became subject of much discussion about faculty-student representation on board.

Faculty members expressed concern that students are becoming overrepresented in U's governance while there is no parallel faculty input. Student representatives to Regents' committees fear Unger's presence will lead Regents to cut number of student reps, decreasing student influence, and they feel it is impossible for one person to represent all students on all campuses.

Charles H. McLaughlin, TC professor of political science, is first faculty member to receive Regents' Award before retirement. The award, given "in recognition of contributions to the growth and development of the U," was presented June 11.

Faculty members who made presentations to Regents were Andrew Ahlgren and Nancy Mosier on precollege programs associated with the U and Louis Tobian on hypertension research.

Student-access task force, chaired by VP Wilderson, recommends priority admission for qualified low-income and minority-group students. Task force feels traditional admission methods are biased for many cultural/economic groups, admission should be based on probable success, and qualified applicants below cut-off for automatic admission should form a pool from which 50% of freshman class is selected. Regents hear report in July.

Raymond W. Darland, who will retire as provost of UMD on June 30, was named provost emeritus and senior development officer by Regents, effective July 1.

Late payroll checks are concern of committee established by VP Brinkerhoff. Committee will review and establish procedures to insure employees receive salary checks on time.

Submitting appointment documents and payroll sheets must be high-priority to insure timely payments. Suggestions for speedier processing are in June 1 memo from Brinkerhoff.

Brief begins its summer schedule of publication this week. Next issue is June 30, with publication every 2 weeks thereafter. Regular weekly publication resumes Sept. 22.

CROOKSTON--UMC received tentative approval from the Highway Department of 2 sites for "Welcome to Crookston" billboards. Third site has not been chosen.

DULUTH--Groundbreaking for $8 million basic sciences building will be at 11 a.m. Saturday at site near Chemistry Building on new campus. Eighth-District Congressman James Oberstar will join other legislators and UMD and local officials at brief ceremony.

Sixty biology teachers from Sweden, Norway, and Denmark will attend a seminar this week at UMD on "Environmental Focus: Sweden and Northern Minnesota" and tour the North Shore with UMD biology professors as guides.

MORRIS--Defensive-driving workshop for civil service personnel who drive U vehicles will be June 28-30. To register call Peter Orr, ext. 292.

Nearly 150 outstanding junior and senior high students will be at UMM for the West Central Institute for Creative Study this month. Program is sponsored by Continuing Education and Regional Programs with aid from State Department of Education and State Arts Board.

Annual Homemakers Workshop will be June 23-24 with sessions on crafts, gardening, nutrition, and personal enrichment. Keynote speakers are Helen Kelly, assistant attorney general, State Department of Commerce consumer affairs division, and Evelyn Quesenberry, director, Ag Extension home economics programs.

Workshops on primitive pottery, June 21-23, and Raku pottery, June 24-30, will be offered for graduate credit. For more information, call 589-2482.

TWIN CITIES--Ten faculty members and area businessmen will tour the People's Republic of China this summer. Delegation members, led by E.W. Ziebarth, will study their fields of interest in 5 Chinese cities. Other U participants are John Turner, political science; Robert Beck, education; Robert Holloway, business administration; Richard Mather, East-Asian languages; Robert Spencer, anthropology; and Henry Taylor, physiological hygiene.

Representatives to serve on Student Legal Services Program board of directors are being sought from following offices and groups: the President, VP for student affairs, Law School dean, Twin Cities Faculty Assembly, Twin Cities Student Assembly, Bar Associations of Hennepin and Ramsey counties and Minnesota, Council of Graduate Students, Law School Council, and four students at large. Contact Hillary Mankin, 373-1234, for info on selection process.

Lectures: First Annual Lectureship of Bell Institute of Pathology: "The Massachusetts General Hospital and the Clinico-Pathological Conference: A Bicentennial Reflection" by Benjamin Castleman; June 22, 3:30 p.m., Mayo auditorium. "America's Impact on the Arts: Dance" by Walter Terry, dance critic for Saturday Review; June 24, 12:15 p.m., mall bandstand (Museum of Natural History auditorium in case of rain).

WASECA--Construction of a student housing complex, with 15 apartment-style units for 4 persons each, will begin in mid-July. Regents authorized borrowing money to finance the project. Units will be located within 2 blocks of main campus facilities.

Regents may cut the number of student reps from 12 to 8 (4 from the coordinate campuses and 4 from the TC campus). Ad hoc committee on student representation, chaired by Regent Utz, made the recommendation at meeting at the Mayo Clinic in Rochester June 23.

No Regents advocated the total elimination of student representation, and some favored keeping the present system (6 student reps from coordinate campuses and 6 from TC campus). Student representation will be on the agenda when the Regents meet July 8-9.

Enrollment controls and the 1977-79 legislative request are also on the July Regents' docket. Other items: discussion of tenure with presentations by VP Koffler and others, and Regent Rauenhorst's proposal to investigate energy requirements and environmental consequences of U buildings.

August meeting of the Regents will be a one-day meeting Aug. 9 with a single-item agenda on the budget. September meeting will be at the Hormel Institute in Austin Sept. 9-10.

Seven U officials headed by President Magrath will meet with officials of the National Collegiate Athletic Association July 1 to discuss relations between the U and that body. Meeting, requested by Magrath, will be at NCAA headquarters in Shawnee Mission, Kansas.

President Magrath's North Dakota commencement speech urging a peace treaty between the nation's colleges and universities and the federal government will be published in a forthcoming Chronicle of Higher Education, probably the July 5 issue.

Center for Educational Development and College of Education are preparing a brochure on pre-college activities of the U. U people conducting programs for secondary, elementary, or preschool children should call Andrew Ahlgren (373-4537) if they haven't been contacted.

Compensation division of the Personnel Department will be establishing several small advisory committees within the next few weeks to examine the pay-for-performance approach to salary administration for civil service staff. Anyone who is interested should send a note to Thomas Hestwood, 320 Morrill Hall. Number of openings is limited.

CROOKSTON--Construction of the new UMC-UMW state fair exhibit has begun at Crookston. Theme of the exhibit is hands-on learning.

Committee is currently soliciting suggestions for uses of the new addition to the Learning Resources Center to be built later this year.

DULUTH--Robert L. Heller will become acting provost of UMD July 1. Raymond W. Darland will become provost emeritus and senior development officer.

AAUP chapter has announced that authorization cards signed by 69% of UMD faculty were filed June 15 with state Bureau of Mediation Services. Spokesmen anticipate a collective bargaining election before the end of the 1976-77 academic year.

V.M. Shostakovsky, chemist at the Zelinsky Research Institute of Organic Chemistry in Moscow, will spend 3 months at UMD beginning in July. He will conduct research with UMD chemistry professors Ronald Caple and Robert Carlson.

MORRIS--Human relations workshop will be offered July 6-19, 8 a.m.-12:30 p.m., M-F, and can be taken for 1-6 graduate credits. Workshop will include supervised practice in basic human relations skills, emphasizing individual cultural and ethnic differences. For further information, call 589-2482.

Rodney Briggs Library received the commemorative volume, Between Friends/Entre Amis, as a gift from the Canadian people to the people of the U.S. during the bicentennial year.

West Central School alumni banquet will be July 11 at 6 p.m. in Food Service. Registration is at 2 p.m., followed by tours of the West Central Experiment Station and UMM campus.

TWIN CITIES--Some 60% of this June's graduating class from the Medical School will continue their medical training in the state. Out of 232 graduating seniors, 140 have accepted post-graduate residencies at hospitals in the Twin Cities, Rochester and Duluth.

University Without Walls (UWW) has received a grant of $98,000 from the Fund for the Improvement of Post-Secondary Education for a Faculty Development in Individualized Education Project. Jeffrey Johnson will direct the project, which aims to assess past and present levels of faculty involvement in individualized education and design and test different models of recruiting faculty who work with students on an individualized basis.

UWW has received $1,200 from the Small Grants Program of the Council on Liberal Education to develop a seminar on process education. Purpose will be to guide students in integrating prior and present learning experiences. Seminar will be developed by Marilou Eldred this summer, with the pilot seminar in fall and winter quarters 1976-77.

Healthy volunteers are needed for a study of breast cancer, the number one cancer killer of women. Volunteers should be 19-year-old women or women who passed menopause 1-10 years ago. Volunteers will receive free health care. Call Dr. Lee Anne Wallach at 373-2916 or 373-2920 for more information and to volunteer.

Lectures: "America's Impact on the Arts: Architecture," bicentennial lecture by William Marlin, July 7. "Lester and Oscar: Two Late Greats Who Walked Through the Streets of Our City," jazz lecture by John Lucas, July 14. Both on the bandstand on the mall at 12:15 p.m. (Scott Hall auditorium in case of rain).

WASECA--Continued consideration of a proposed constitution for UMW is expected to be the main agenda topic for the Campus Assembly meeting July 2.

Prof. Thomas Benson, representing a study group on U outreach, will discuss that topic with UMW officials on July 1.

Annual Southern School of Agriculture alumni reunion will be July 11 at 1 p.m. at the picnic grounds of the Southern Experiment Station.

Regents reduced the number of student reps from 12 to 8. Regent Unger cast the only dissenting vote. Change will go into effect in the fall, when new student reps are named.

Enrollment restrictions incorporated into proposed legislative request were opposed by several Regents. Regents told administration to redo its proposed budget to show how much it would cost to operate under present admissions policies for CLA, GC, and UMD.

Cost savings from enrollment controls have been estimated at $7 million. Regent Latz said the Regents should not "make the throat-slitting gesture ourselves" but should present the Legislature with both options.

Present request, which proposes limiting enrollments to 60,599 for 1978-79, includes at least 388 new faculty positions and 280 civil service positions, VP Kegler said. President Magrath said the number of additional positions requested, though fully justified, is "very likely the upper limit" that can be expected from the Legislature.

Committee chaired by Regent Thrane will study the proposed enrollment limits. Regents are expected to take final action on the legislative request at their Aug. 9 meeting.

Regents approved a motion urging the administration to continue energy and environmental statement requirements as an integral part of building design and construction.

Two buildings cited by Regent Rauenhorst as inadequate for energy conservation--UMM humanities and fine arts building and remodeled Coffman Union--were designed before current practices were in effect, Asst. VP Clint Hewitt said. What is "really important and critical" is that the same mistakes not be made today and in the future, Hewitt said.

Faculty tenure was the subject of wide-ranging discussion led by VP Koffler, with faculty members Charles McLaughlin and Paul Murphy as resource persons. Between now and 1990, 610 faculty members will be retiring, Koffler told Regents. With at least 20% turnover in 14 years, he said, "we're not completely locked in."

Royal Society of Arts Silver Medal for 1976 was presented by President Magrath to Theodore Muelhaupt, a 1976 graduate of IT. He is the 5th U student to receive the award.

"Reaching Out," a 22-minute color film about the U, has won top honors in a national competition. Russ Tall, director of U Relations, will accept the Grand Award at the Council for the Advancement and Support of Education (CASE) Annual Assembly in Washington, D.C., July 14. Film is available for group showings at no charge. Distributors are Audio Visual Library Service and Alumni Relations on TC campus and U Relations offices on all 4 coordinate campuses. Film was produced by Wilson-Griak, Inc.

President Magrath and his wife Sandra are in Japan this week for 6th annual Asian-U.S. Educators Conference in Sapporo and Tokyo. Sponsor is Ford Foundation.

CROOKSTON--Projected enrollment for fall quarter is 975, with 575 already enrolled. Enrollment in fall 1975 was 936.

Conference on rural America will be on UMC campus July 15-17. Speakers, panel discussions, and workshops will cover such topics as rural futures; people, land, and water; rural health; housing; taxation; and energy.

DULUTH--UMD School of Social Development has received a $16,157 Title I allocation from MHECB to offer a training program in administration and management skills for staff members of Native-American organizations.

Minnesota Medical Foundation, meeting in Duluth July 7, approved 16 grants for UMD School of Medicine educational equipment and faculty research. Total grants approached $100,000. Individual grants ranged from $9,800 to $450.

Regents last week approved appointment of C. David Hollister as acting dean of the School of Social Development.

MORRIS--Members of the UMM chamber choir, alumni, and area residents will combine as the Minnesota Vocal Arts Ensemble, directed by Kenneth Nafziger, for a 3-week concert tour of Poland. The group leaves July 29 on invitation of the Polish government.

TWIN CITIES--School of Nursing has received a $221,000 grant from the National Cancer Institute to provide home care for dying children. Ida Martinson is research director.

Two assistant deans have been named: Hugh Kabat in pharmacy, Signe Betsinger in home ec.

COPS (Chief's Optimum Prevention Squad) is being created as a special unit of U Police. At least 6 patrol officers will be on duty from 6 p.m. to 2 a.m., the time when most calls for assistance occur. Training will include investigation of sex crimes and techniques for dealing with barricaded suspects/hostages and potential suicides.

Elementary education class on teaching foreign languages will host international festival July 15 between 10 and 11 a.m. on lawn behind Peik Hall. Included in the plans: an Israeli dance, breaking of a pinata, songs, games, baked goods, helium balloons.

Lectures: "Exporting the Technological Revolution" by Robert Gilpin, July 15; "The Politics of Jazz" by August Nimtz, Jr., July 22; "Freedom and Order in the New Orleans Jazz Band" by Butch Thompson, July 27; all at 12:15 on the bandstand on the mall (Scott Hall auditorium in case of rain). Also: noon musical programs July 16, 19, 20, 21, 28.

Continuing Education for Women is offering 2 Brown Bag noncredit classes on the Minneapolis campus this summer: Assertiveness Training II, 6 Mondays beginning July 19, and Sylvia Plath and Anne Sexton, 6 sessions on Mondays and Thursdays beginning July 19. Call 373-9743.

New films acquired by Audio Visual Library Service will be shown July 22 at 11 Owre (1 p.m. "Bighorn," 2 p.m. "Man Blong Custom," 3 p.m. "Lost World of the Maya," 3:40 p.m. "The Shopping Bag Lady," 4:02 p.m. "Brown Wolf"). Call 373-5259 for information.

Research lab at U Hospitals needs blood donors for various research projects. Prospective donors who are in good health and are not taking any medication can call 376-4287 for an appointment. Payment of $5 will be made for donation of 11 cc every 2 weeks.

U Foundation is offering 12 cemetery lots at bargain rates to U staff and faculty. A gift to the U, the lots are located in Sunset Memorial Park in St. Anthony Village. Similar lots are now selling for $500. Anyone who is interested may call Judy Kirk at 373-9934.

Phased compliance with Title IX regulations will bring women's athletic programs into equity with men's by 1984-85, according to a report released this week by the U's Title IX Policy Review Committee. Full compliance by the July 1978 deadline set by HEW is "simply impossible," the report says.

Primary barrier to complete compliance was said to be the "practical constraints" on the amount of money the U can expect from the Legislature. Budget for women's athletics on the TC campus was $250,000 in 1975-76, the report says, and budget of $873,600 would have been needed for Title IX compliance.

Regents' committee met July 23 to discuss the administration's proposed enrollment limits. VP Kegler said failure to "make the tough decision" to limit enrollment would damage the U's credibility with the Legislature and would invite control by a "superboard."

Political context in which the issue will be debated is that many legislators feel the TC campus is already too big, Kegler said. He said community colleges in the metro area could accommodate students turned away by the U and could do it at a lower cost.

Low enrollment at Southwest State University (SSU) at Marshall "colors everything else that goes on in higher education," Kegler said. Funds for classroom facilities for the hotel-restaurant-institutional management curriculum at Crookston were denied by the Legislature because a similar building is not used to capacity at SSU, he said.

Contingency plans are being developed in case the U is asked to merge with SSU, as some have proposed, Kegler said. He said there are no plans that he could comment on publicly.

Regents Latz and Lee challenged some of Kegler's assumptions. Latz said the present U administration has gone a long way toward restoring credibility with the Legislature. Lee said the proposed legislative request gives inadequate emphasis to agriculture and the Crookston campus. Committee will meet again Aug. 3. Final action is expected Aug. 9.

Donald R. Browne, professor of speech-communication, has been named interim associate to the academic VP, Office of International Programs. He succeeds William E. Wright, who resigned effective June 30. Browne is a specialist in international mass communication.

Fiscal tightness continues at the U, President Magrath said in a July 9 memo. Contingency (Regents' Reserve) funds for 1976-77 will be only $500,000, slightly more than 0.1% of the estimated budget--"obviously a very thin margin," he said.

New Staff Directory cards are now in stock at General Storehouse. New format requests the employee to complete only the upper portion of the card and the employee's department to complete the lower portion. Completion of both sections is needed to assure listing in the Directory and delivery of campus mail.

CROOKSTON--Groundbreaking ceremony for the 12-unit student housing annex to Skyberg Hall was July 26. The apartment-style facility will house 48 persons and is scheduled for completion Sept. 1.

DULUTH--"Dolls from Norway" and "Our Maritime Heritage," 2 of 3 new shows opening Aug. 8 at Tweed Museum of Art, will coincide with the visit of the Norwegian sailing vessel the Christian Radich to Duluth. Shows will continue through mid-August.

Thirty mathematicians from throughout the U.S. will attend an Aug. 16-20 conference on "Factorizations in Local Subgroups of Finite Groups" at UMD, supported by an NSF grant.

MORRIS--Robinson Abbott will be acting chairman of the Division of Science and Mathematics effective Sept. 1. Merle Hirsh, current chairman, will spend the next academic year at Ecole Superieure d'Electricite in Paris doing research on basic physics and practical application of corona discharges.

Area residents Elsie Mohr and Joe Merrill, who appeared in the U film "Reaching Out," were special guests at a reception and showing of the film.

TWIN CITIES--President Urho Kaleva Kekkonen of Finland will be in Minneapolis Aug. 5 to receive the Regents' Distinguished International Service Award, the first of its kind to be given. President Magrath and Regent Sherburne will make the presentation at a 2:15 p.m. ceremony in the Campus Club.

CLA Office for Special Learning Opportunities (OSLO) has received $90,000 from the federal ACTION agency for a University Year for Action (UYA) program, which has received additional support from CURA. UYA will place 30 students in 12 community agencies to work on solutions to problems stemming from poverty. Coordinator: Yvette Oldendorf.

OSLO has also received $28,000 from the U.S. Office of Education to develop a cooperative education program for liberal arts students. Academic work will be articulated with field work under conditions of regular employment. Coordinators: Meg Campbell, Carole Wojciak.

TC Admissions and Records offices will be closed all day Thursday, Aug. 5, while staff attend a day-long training and information session.

Lectures: "America's Impact on the Arts: Music" by Henry Pleasants, July 29; "America's Impact on the Arts: Literature" by William Hugh Kenner, Aug. 3; "Broadcast Jazz: Peaks and Troughs" by Leigh Kamman, Aug. 5; all at 12:15 on mall bandstand (Scott Hall auditorium in case of rain). Music: July 30, Aug. 4, 6, 11.

Volunteers who have had one heart attack during the last 3 years are sought for a national cholesterol study. Volunteers should be between 30 and 60, free of diabetes and high blood pressure, and not greatly overweight. Call 376-4494.

WASECA--Provost Frederick was elected president of the National Association of Colleges and Teachers of Agriculture at its annual meeting at Texas Tech U.

Governor's Rural Development Council awarded $15,000 to UMW to continue the rural outreach program, which offers agriculture classes to persons beyond commuting distance and on campus in concentrated blocks of time.

Overall Advisory Committee will meet at UMW Aug. 11.

Legislative request of $411 million was approved by the Regents on a 10-2 vote. Request represents an increase of 30.9% and calls for 887 new positions in 1977-79. Regents reserved the right to discuss a proposed 25% tuition increase at their September meeting.

Controlled-growth plan to limit expansion of undergraduate enrollment in CLA, GC, and UMD is incorporated into the request. Enrollment peak of 61,300 is projected for 1981. President Magrath said he will have a proposal by October or November on which prospective students to turn away and how to divert them to other state institutions.

Vincent Bilotta, associate director of U of Kansas alumni association, was named executive director of Minnesota Alumni Association and director of alumni relations.

Equal opportunity for women in athletics does not necessarily mean equal expenditure of money, Vivian Barfield said at a July 28 news conference. Barfield will begin Sept. 1 as director of women's athletics on the TC campus. President Magrath said the U has made "significant progress" in women's athletic programs from a "disgraceful budget" of $7,000 in 1971 to a budget next year of $330,000.

President Magrath has joined with 19 other urban university and college presidents in calling for an urban grant system to apply academic resources to the problems of cities. The 20 presidents have formed the Committee of Urban Public Universities (CUPU).

Senate Consultative Committee (SCC) met Aug. 5. Report from Marilee Ward showed that only 50% of faculty members of U Senate attended all 4 meetings last year, found replacements, or notified her that they would not attend. Plans are to send attendance records to unit heads, notes to delinquents. SCC chairman Kenneth Keller said election to the Senate is "essentially a blind process" and poor attendance "is one of the consequences."

Intercollegiate athletics will be one major issue for SCC in 1976-77. Others: extension graduate education, overload teaching, enrollment limits, "E" appointments, admissions and access, faculty-student role in presentations to Legislature.

President Magrath, wife Sandra, and daughter Valerie will join Minnesota Alumni Association group on a "Scandinavian Escapade" Sept. 12-21.

CROOKSTON--VP Brinkerhoff will meet with the planning committees for the Kiehle Library addition and the new Food Service building Aug. 13.

Administration has approved a change in 1977-78 priorities for UMC's 10-year plan. Renovation of physical education facilities is now second priority instead of third, and improvement of animal science facilities has been dropped to third.

Because a speaker for a recent workshop at UMC suffered fatal heart attack, administration is checking into possibility of obtaining emergency oxygen-supply equipment.

DULUTH--Regents approved the appointment of Phillip H. Coffman as dean of the School of Fine Arts. He succeeds Arthur E. Smith, who has served as acting dean since the school was organized. Coffman has been associate professor and head of the Department of Music since he joined the UMD faculty in 1971.

Small grants ranging from $600 to $4,000 have been awarded to 27 UMD faculty by Council on Liberal Education, Educational Development Program, and Media Production Fund. Grants will be used to develop materials and methods to enhance or improve undergraduate courses.

Architectural Resources, Inc., Duluth, will receive an Honor Award for overall design for work on the UMD Stadium Apartments. Award, to be presented at fall meeting of the Minnesota Society of Architects, is among 4 to be given this year (out of 80 entries).

As many as 700 freshmen are expected at UMD orientation sessions Aug. 16-17 and 19-20 and Sept. 16-17. Concurrent programs are planned for parents at each session.

MORRIS--Papers of Alfred "A.I." Johnson of Benson have been donated to the West Central Minnesota Historical Research Center at UMM. Johnson, a lifelong resident of Swift County, served in the Minnesota House of Representatives from 1941 to 1959, was speaker for the 1955 and 1957 sessions, and was a U Regent from 1959 to 1965.

"Curriculum Implementation in Elementary School Reading" workshop will be Aug. 12, 13, and 16-19 for 3 graduate credits. Call Continuing Education and Regional Programs, 589-2482.

TWIN CITIES--U Hospitals employees were awarded salary increases by a 3-member arbitration panel last week. Schedule C employees received raises of $25 a month and Schedule B employees raises of $.55 an hour (retroactive to July 1975, when negotiations began).

Two-day orientation and registration sessions began Aug. 9 for the first group of nearly 7,000 freshmen and transfer students, with concurrent information sessions for parents.

Bike thefts during May and June were down 32% from a year ago and the downward trend has continued through the summer, according to U Police Chief Eugene Wilson. Wilson attributed the decline to efforts of the U Police bike patrol and to increased surveillance by people working in areas near bike racks. He noted that 99% of those apprehended are juveniles.

Two major grants have been received by health researchers: $297,208 to Dr. Henry Balfour to study the role of viruses in kidney transplant patients and $220,000 to Dr. John Kersey to study the incidence of cancer in people who have immune deficiency diseases.

Five young Russians will stay on Minnesota farms Aug. 13-30 under a 4-H international exchange. They are in a group of 15 who attended an agricultural seminar on the St. Paul campus Aug. 1-10. The other 10 will visit Iowa and North Dakota farms.

Consolidated HELP Center has received a 4-year, $40,000 grant to help adult female students complete their education. Students must "have minor children and be in difficult financial circumstances (although not on welfare)." Call Fred Amram or Jean Montzka at 373-0120.

Minnesota International Center urgently needs volunteer host families for annual Summer Homestay Program. Foreign students attending orientation and English programs need homes for 4-week period beginning Aug. 13 and 3-week period beginning Aug. 20. Call 373-3200.

Lectures: "Lafayette, We Are Here--Good and Hard" by Richard Longworth, Aug. 12; "Jazz Piano" by Frank Gillis, Aug. 16; talk by Carroll Smith-Rosenberg, Aug. 17; "Jazz Around the World" by William Rogers, Aug. 19; all at 12:15 on mall bandstand (Scott Hall auditorium in case of rain). Music: Aug. 13 and 20.

WASECA--Regent Michael Unger will visit campus Aug. 11.

Series of training sessions on management by objectives will begin Aug. 12 with a meeting for all staff. Meeting for all supervisors will be Aug. 19. UMW implemented the program campus-wide a year ago.

Horticulture Day will be Aug. 22, with walking tours of the indoor and outdoor horticulture labs and an information tent featuring horticultural technology faculty and students. Special guest will be Jim Ozburn, new chairman of the Department of Horticultural Science and Landscape Architecture on the TC campus.

Summer enrollment has apparently stabilized this year after reaching a record last year. Number of fees paid at the end of the first session totaled 14,518, compared to 15,689 for the same period last year. Fees paid at the end of the second week of the second session totaled 11,357, compared to 12,231 a year ago.

Other colleges across the country have found summer enrollment to be less than expected, according to Summer Session director Willard Thompson. "Two thirds of our summer session students also attend during the regular academic year," he said. "The dollar doesn't go quite as far and those students need to rebuild their finances for the school year. Jobs seem to be more available, so those students are working."

Enrollment figures are somewhat complicated by new reporting procedures. To make summer figures comparable to those of other quarters, enrollment was also recorded on the basis of registrations at the end of the second week of classes. Result was nearly 3,000 more registrations than fees paid for the first session and 2,000 more for the second session.

Enrollment by campus for both summer sessions (with first session listed first): Crookston 151/16, Duluth, 1,419/730, Mayo 368/366, Morris 96/41, Twin Cities 12,107/9,737; Waseca's summer quarter 467. Only Waseca and Mayo are up from last year.

Twin Cities campus is in compliance with Title IX regulations prohibiting sex bias in such areas as admissions, educational programs, housing, financial assistance, and employment, according to a self-evaluation report released this month. Athletic programs were evaluated in an earlier report. A third report will deal with the coordinate campuses.

Committee report says that the U began efforts to eliminate sex discrimination long before Title IX went into effect. It cites the Minnesota Women's Center, established in 1960, and the Regents' Policy Statement of 1969, which committed the U to nondiscrimination.

Enrollment of women in law, medicine, agriculture, forestry, public health, business, and veterinary medicine has increased dramatically in the past 5 years, according to the report. Women in Graduate School increased from 28% in 1971 to 36% in 1975.

Effort certification for nonprofessional civil service staff paid under federal contracts and grants will follow the system currently in effect for academic and professional civil service staff. See Aug. 17 memo from A. R. Potami.

Department listings for the 1976-77 Student-Staff Directory were due at U Relations, S-68 Morrill Hall, TC campus, on Aug. 23. Departments that have not yet returned updated listings should do so immediately, or call 373-7505 to make special arrangements.

CROOKSTON--Faculty Workshop will be Sept. 1-10, with tours and special sessions for new faculty. Film "Reaching Out" will be shown. Speakers will include L. David Schuelke, head of the Department of Rhetoric, College of Agriculture, and Howard Sidney, dean of instruction at SUNY Agricultural and Technical College at Cobleskill, N.Y. Deputy VP William Hueg will speak at a dinner Sept. 7 for professional staff and spouses.

Education committee of Crookston Chamber of Commerce will sponsor a dinner for UMC professional staff and faculty Sept. 8.

Provost Sahlstrom will host a reception for parents and new students Sept. 9, the first day of registration for new students.

DULUTH--Two new parking lots are expected to be available by fall quarter: a 240-car lot at Junction Ave. between College and Niagara Streets and a 100-car lot north of St. Marie St.

New parking rates go into effect fall quarter. General parking permits will be $10 per quarter, reserve permits $15, designated reserve spaces $20, rates for the 2 new lots $6. A 25-cent "Pay-Enter" system will be used at Lot E at St. Marie St. and Oakland Ave.

"Duluth: A Painterly Essay," 31 paintings of the city by Bela Petheo, chairman of the art department at St. John's U, has been purchased by 11 Duluth art patrons and given to Tweed Museum of Art. The collection--watercolors, oils, and acrylics--is available for exhibition in the city, state, and region.

MORRIS--Hailstorm that ravaged campus Aug. 10 caused an estimated $16,000-$18,000 damage. The storm stripped most leaves off trees on campus, ripped off about a third of the Heating Plant roof, twisted fences, broke windows, and toppled a small storage building near the softball field.

TWIN CITIES--State Fair exhibit will ask the visitor to "Guess Who's Been Living Next Door" and try to show that the U has been a good neighbor in its 125 years. In storefront windows along "Main Street" of the exhibit will be photographs, mementoes, and artifacts from the U's past and present. Award-winning U film "Reaching Out" will be shown. Last year's exhibit was viewed by 100,000 people. Fair runs Aug. 26-Sept. 6.

Rock concert scheduled for Northrop last Saturday night was cancelled and others booked for the coming months will be reconsidered following extensive vandalism last Wednesday night at a Johnny and Edgar Winter concert. Appearance of the Average White Band Saturday was moved to the Minneapolis Auditorium.

Work crews spent last Thursday cleaning up Northrop. U Police set the damage estimate at $2,000, and preliminary clean-up cost was estimated at an additional $3,000. Windows and doors were broken, carpeting and seats damaged, restroom drains plugged, aisles and hallways littered with beer cans. Regents' policy in effect for the past 2 years has allowed rock concerts under special scrutiny. Rock concerts had been banned following a disturbance in 1971.

Carl Nelson, director of the West Bank Union, will be recommended to the Regents next month as the new director of Student Activities/Minnesota Union. Nationwide search for a director began 9 months ago after the death of Edwin Siggelkow.

Ralph Miller, who recently retired as director of student personnel for the College of Home Economics, has agreed to serve as the U's Loaned Executive for this year's United Way of Minneapolis Area Campaign. Dean Hal Miller of Continuing Education and Extension is the voluntary campus chairperson.

Deadline for applying for free computerized car pool service for fall quarter is Sept. 10. Service is for those who want to be drivers or passengers or both. Application forms will be distributed with Aug. 31 paychecks to those who didn't receive them with Aug. 13 checks. Additional forms are available at the information centers in Coffman Union, West Bank Union (110 Anderson), Morrill Hall, St. Paul Student Center, Housing Offices, and Transit Services Office (2818 Como Ave. S.E. across from Como lot). Or call 373-0374 to apply.

Robert Beck was named Regents' professor of education at Regents' meeting last week.

Financial aid to students from middle-income families who may be hurt by tuition increases will be given a high priority in the 1977 legislative request. Without changing the total amount of the $411 million request for 1977-79, the Regents voted to increase the amount of student aid by $2 million. Tuition increases of 25% are projected over 2-year period

Regents reduced the amount the U will seek for increases in a number of other areas, including equipment replacement and maintenance and various service facilities.

Regents endorsed efforts by HECB to increase the funds available for state scholarship and grant-in-aid programs and voted to support efforts under way in Congress to broaden the definition of "need" to include more middle-income students.

Rock concerts will be allowed again in Northrop Auditorium, but the Regents approved policy changes to reduce the chances of vandalism. Among them: reserved seating to avoid early arrival of large groups of people and disappointment when tickets sell out, adequate planning time, "better intelligence" on the kinds of audiences anticipated for each rock group, booking of attractions that appeal primarily to the U community.

Action was delayed on resolution that would encourage the Public Service Commission to allow public utilities to include charitable contributions in corporate expenses.

Regents heard presentations on educational development at the U by James Werntz, director of the Center for Educational Development, and Albert Yonas of child development.

Regents met at Austin, toured Hormel Institute, were dinner guests of Hormel Foundation, and presented Outstanding Achievement Award to former Hormel director Walter Lundberg.

President Magrath and officials from 5 other land-grant schools are at Farmfest '76 today (Sept. 15), the day set aside to honor the contribution of land-grant colleges and universities to American agriculture. Ceremony will include talks by Magrath and Deputy VP William Hueg and a dramatization of President Lincoln signing the Morrill Act.

Health insurance premium changes will be effective Oct. 1. Increases have resulted from increased utilization and more sophisticated medical procedures as well as inflation. The U will continue to pay the full premium ($38.96/month) to provide health and life insurance for employee and will contribute up to $30/month for dependent health insurance.

New monthly rates will be $56.86 for Blue Cross/Blue Shield dependent high option (cost to employee: $26.86) and $40.74 for Group Health (cost to employee: $10.74). The U will pay full $26.58 for Blue Cross/Blue Shield low option.

CROOKSTON--Provost Sahlstrom is in the British Isles Sept. 9-24 visiting 7 technical institutions as part of the United Kingdom Reciprocal Exchange program.

Sabbatical leave policy proposed by VP Koffler is under review by administration and faculty groups and may go to Regents in November. Pattern of granting a leave at half salary after 6 years of service is unchanged, but new flexibility would allow shorter or less frequent leaves at higher pay. For example: plan would allow 2-quarter leave at full pay after 24 quarters of service, 3-quarter leave at full pay after 36 quarters.

Half salary is often inadequate to support faculty member and family, and supplementary fellowships and grants are becoming increasingly difficult to obtain, Koffler said in memo. At present, relatively few faculty members take the leaves they have earned.

Revised policy, if approved, will become official policy the quarter following Regents' action. Leaves may be granted only if the faculty member's unit is able to arrange for performance of his or her regular duties without additional resources from central funds.

Agricultural research has made possible the dramatic increases in the productivity of American agriculture over the past century, President Magrath said Sept. 15 at Farmfest. As an example, Magrath cited the development of Era wheat at the U. Era cost $300,000 to develop, he said, and the return since 1973 in Minnesota alone has been about $120 million in additional income to farmers and others in related services and industries.

Deputy VP William Hueg is one of 7 persons named by President Ford to the National Science Board, governing body of the National Science Foundation. Term will expire in 1982.

Title I preliminary proposals by faculty on all campuses for fiscal 1977 funding for continuing education and community service projects are due Nov. 12 at the Center for Urban and Regional Affairs, 311 Walter Library, Minneapolis 55455. Title I workshop for interested faculty, sponsored by HECB, will be Oct. 8 at Hamline. For info about the funding applications and the workshop, call CURA at (612) 376-3039 or 373-7833.

Job applicants or present employees will no longer be referred for a job that is marked "Do Not Recruit" or "D.N.R." as requested by the interviewing department. New procedures, effective immediately, are outlined in Sept. 9 memo from personnel director W.C. Thomas.

Yom Kippur is Oct. 4. Faculty members are asked to excuse those students who wish to observe this holiday and help them with arrangements for making up work.

CROOKSTON--Faculty and students will demonstrate 17 different learning activities at 2nd Annual Parents and Community Day Oct. 9.

Continuing Education telelecture course "Farm Estate Planning," a 10-session short course, began Sept. 28; registrations are still being accepted. Course discusses economic, legal, and accounting aspects of estate planning for farmers.

DULUTH--Bids have been called for an estimated $211,000 addition to Tweed Museum of Art. Addition, to be built with private funds, will include display space, offices, auditorium.

Bicentennial Exhibition of Minnesota Art and Architecture will be at Tweed Museum of Art Oct. 8-18. Ellen Stekert will give lecture-recital of "Lumberjack Songs" at 7 p.m. opening Oct. 8. Lauren Soth of Carleton College will speak on "Duluth Architecture in National Perspective" Oct. 10 at 2 p.m.

Conference on "The Yugoslavian Heritage in the Upper Midwest" has been set for April 21-22 at UMD and April 23 at Chisholm. Sponsored by Duluth Center of CEE.

Free classes for stutterers and lip-readers will begin Sept. 30 at 7 p.m. in the UMD Speech and Hearing Clinic. Additional information: 726-7274.

MORRIS--First Campus Assembly meeting of the year will be Oct. 4. On the agenda: committee memberships for the coming year.

Follow-up study on occupational history and postbaccalaureate education of the class of 1975 has been completed. Study director Gary Donovan says results are similar to those of 3 previous studies and show that Morris grads continue to have unemployment rates lower than both state and national rates.

Opening lectures in the 3rd Annual Midwest Philosophy Colloquium are scheduled for Oct. 6. David Gauthier, U of Toronto, will give public lecture on "Sex and the Single Society" at 8 p.m. in the Humanities Fine Arts recital hall. Discussion groups will follow.

TWIN CITIES--The U will appeal the latest ruling of the NCAA Committee on Infractions regarding the fate of 3 Gopher basketball players. VP Bruning, who announced the decision to appeal, said he is not permitted to comment on the contents of the NCAA report. Appeal will be made to the NCAA Council at its next meeting Oct. 12 in New Orleans.

First homecoming parade in 8 years and selection of the first homecoming queen since 1970 will highlight festivities of Homecoming-1976 next week.

School of Dentistry dedicated its new facilities in Health Sciences Unit A Sept. 24.

Broadcast-magazine TV program featuring topics related to the U will premiere tonight (Sept. 29) at 7 p.m. on Channel 2. "Wednesday Edition" will be aired the last Wednesday of every month. Segments on first program will be on Dutch elm disease, women's athletics, and amniocentesis as a means of discovering genetic disorders and determining a fetus's sex.

Regents will discuss ways to impose enrollment limits Friday (Oct. 8). Limits, which would go into effect in 1977, will be discussed by committee of the whole at 8:30 a.m. Any action will be subject to approval at regular board meeting at 10 a.m.

Busy afternoon of committee meetings is planned for Thursday. Among agenda items are proposed building request to the 1977 Legislature, policy statement on environmental health and safety, United Way petition to allow public utilities to count charitable contributions in their business expenses, proposed student-run FM radio station, student financial aid, discussion of tenure, some proposed changes in the faculty early retirement plan.

Accrediting review team from North Central Association of Colleges and Schools has decided--as expected--to continue to accredit graduate programs on the TC campus. Team cited a number of areas needing improvement, including libraries, senior faculty salaries, some facilities, and a "ponderous" committee complex. See TC campus section.

Magrath administration was praised by faculty, staff, and students, who remarked to the accrediting team on "the leadership and tone of the new administration, its vigor and imagination, its atmosphere of openness, of accessibility."

Continued charter autonomy of the U was urged in the report, which said a university that lost constitutional autonomy might be in a much weaker position than a university that had never had constitutional protection and had developed its autonomy through other channels.

Faculty members or faculty-student groups have until Nov. 1 to submit proposals to the Small Grants Program of the Council on Liberal Education. Program supports work to improve undergraduate curriculum and teaching. About $26,000 is expected to be distributed in November. Information: Center for Educational Development, 317 Walter Library, TC campus, (612) 373-4537.

CED staff members will explain the Small Grants Program and its uses in improvement of undergrad education at a workshop Oct. 14, 3:15-4:30, 50 Architecture, TC campus.

CROOKSTON--Polk County Auditor's office will conduct voter registration drive for UMC people Oct. 7, 9 a.m.-3 p.m., at the Trojan Inn.

Administrative committee approved guidelines clarifying responsibilities for photographic and design services. Guidelines will help faculty know which department to contact for help with different kinds of graphics projects.

Legislative request will seek $6,000 for women's athletic program at UMC.

DULUTH--Quarterly "State of the Campus" faculty meeting will be Oct. 15, 2:30 p.m., in the Marshall Performing Arts Center.

Enrollment growth in CLA, GC, and UMD will be controlled through "fine tuning" of current admissions policies as a result of Regents' action Friday on a recommendation of President Magrath. Major technique will be April 15 application deadline (moved up from July 15).

Early application deadline combined with publicity on enrollment pressures should be enough to reduce the number of applicants, Magrath said. If not, the next step would be to discourage community college students from transferring to the U until after their second year. If more is needed, the U would begin scrutinizing applications of students who have dropped out and are applying to return.

Preliminary evidence suggests that publicity on proposed enrollment controls may already have had an impact on enrollment, Magrath said. Pattern may be similar to that in 1968, when enrollment controls were proposed and the publicity resulted in enough of a decline in applications that controls were not needed, he said.

$2 million gift from John Cowles, retired chairman of the Minneapolis Star and Tribune Co., was accepted by the Regents. The gift, one of the largest in the U's history, will be used to strengthen the U's role in journalism and journalism education.

Regents accepted a $2.2 million federal grant to build a system to convert coal to gas in the heating plant for the Duluth campus. Warren Soderberg, Physical Plant, was praised for his role in securing the grant.

Regents voted to support United Way petition to Public Service Commission to allow Northern States Power Co. to count its charitable contributions in operating expenses.

Regents heard President Magrath's recommendation for a less expensive student-owned FM radio station than was proposed, agreed to investigate purchasing procedures in light of a protest by a company whose low bid for room dividers was rejected, heard a preliminary report by a consultant hired to study the feasibility of a major fund-raising campaign.

Important issues that have not been agenda items at regular meetings will be discussed at Regents' retreat Oct. 13-14. Among topics: U charter autonomy and recent challenges to it, future of financing higher education, implication of enrollment limits on Wisconsin reciprocity agreement, continuing education, ways to become a better Regent.

Consultative Committee agenda for Oct. 14 includes athletic task force, determination of jurisdiction between Judicial Committee and Committee on Academic Freedom and Responsibility, extension concerns, sabbatical leave policy, NCA accreditation report, more.

Faculty members will discuss recent efforts to improve educational programs at informal bag-lunch seminars Oct. 21 and 28 and Nov. 4, 12:15-2, 110 Business Administration, TC campus. Marjorie Mathison, Jack Moran, and James Olson (UMM) will speak Oct. 21 on "Programs for the Underprepared Student." Sponsor: Center for Educational Development.

CROOKSTON--Homecoming game Oct. 16 will be against Northland Community College, Thief River Falls. Class of '68, first class to graduate from UMC, will be special guest alums. Week of student activities precedes homecoming.

All-College Advisory Committee meeting at UMC will be Oct. 14. On the agenda: enrollment, housing, legislative requests, curriculum development, international exchange program.

Swine flu shots will be given to UMC students and staff Oct. 20, 9-noon, in Kiehle.

Minnesota Department of Agriculture will hold public hearing on the family farm security program Oct. 14 at 7:30 p.m. in ARC auditorium.

DULUTH--Ground was broken Oct. 12 for the $1.9 million Health Sciences Library to be constructed north of the present Library on the upper campus.

Regents approved additional administrative duties for 2 UMD faculty members. Roy Hoover is now assistant to the provost and Robert Evans is assistant dean for student affairs in the College of Letters and Science.

"Brown Bag" classes begin next week, will meet during noon hour once a week for 4 weeks. "Human Genetics: The New Morality" starts Oct. 19 and "Introduction to Assertiveness Training" starts Oct. 20. Call CEE at 726-8113 for more information or to register.

James Brinkerhoff, VP for finance and development, will become VP and chief financial officer at the U of Michigan Dec. 1. He left the Ann Arbor campus in 1971 to take his Minnesota post and returns to succeed his former boss. President Magrath said he is sorry Brinkerhoff is leaving but understands his feelings about returning to his alma mater.

Donald Brown, assistant VP for finance and administration, will serve as acting VP for finance until a replacement for Brinkerhoff is found. VP Walter Bruning will have interim responsibility for administrative coordination of the development and alumni offices.

Revised Civil Service Rulebook will appear in Oct. 21 Daily. Among changes is President Magrath's recommendation for extending benefits to employees with 50% appointments after 3 years of service. Copies of the Daily insert will be sent to the coordinate campuses. Extras are available from Elizabeth Petrangelo, S-68 Morrill Hall, TC campus.

Wisconsin's failure to decide whether to develop its own vet med program or continue to use Minnesota's College of Veterinary Medicine is holding up improvement of facilities at the U, Regent Peterson said at an informal Regents' meeting last week. Regents will inform Wisconsin Regents of their concern and will consider options at Nov. 12 meeting.

William Nunn Lipscomb, former U faculty member now at Harvard, has won the 1976 Nobel Prize in chemistry "for his studies of boranes, illuminating problems of chemical bonding." The work that won him the prize began while he was at Minnesota from 1946 to 1959.

Liberalized sabbatical policy has run into snags, VP Koffler and Assoc. VP Linck told Senate Consultative Committee (SCC). Deans have warned of severe financial burden if all eligible faculty apply for leave at full pay. SCC member Mahmood Zaidi said that "unless there is good will on the part of the faculty and the administration, no plan will work."

Possible mechanisms for phasing in a liberalized policy are still under discussion. Proposal to set pay limit at 75% or 80% is also under study. SCC voted to support in principle the idea of liberalized sabbaticals.

Heavy teaching load at UMD tends to prevent research except on sabbatical, Wendell Glick said. He raised question about requiring research for promotion and tenure, awarding sabbaticals to a favored few, then penalizing those left to "mind the store."

SCC authorized chairman Ken Keller to draw up counter to administration proposal for athletic task force. Keller said group should be mostly from campus and should address philosophical issues. Among his questions: Is athletics part of the curriculum (and should tuition be charged)? Is it extracurricular (and should student fees support it)?

Overload teaching policy is needed, SCC members agreed. Issues are quality of teaching, both in regular and extension classes, and right of faculty to earn added income. Deans Ibele (Grad School) and Miller (CEE) will be invited to present different views to SCC.

Review team is now being formed to evaluate performance of VP Lyle French. Review will be first under new guidelines calling for regular review of central administrators.

Single-quarter leave applications for 1977-78 are due from faculty to deans by Nov. 5.

Direct deposit payroll service is available to all U staff at all locations, except temporary part-time staff. Most banks in 9th Federal Reserve District are participating. Department payroll clerks have information.

CROOKSTON--9th Annual Sunflower Bowl will be Oct. 30 against Golden Valley. Bowl is in recognition of the sunflower industry of the area. Winner of Miss Sunflower Bowl contest (chosen from 15 high school seniors) will be announced at half-time.

DULUTH--Allen Myers, professor of special education at Eastern Michigan U, has accepted appointment as dean of the UMD College of Education. His appointment will go before the Regents in November for final approval.

Thomas B. Thielen, vice provost for student affairs, will become vice president for student affairs at Iowa State U effective Jan. 1.

Cathy Ward, a member of the New York-based Erick Hawkins modern dance company, is "artist in residence" at UMD and U of Wisconsin-Superior Oct. 18-22. She will teach classes in technique, composition, rhythms, and dance history.

Legal battle with the NCAA began Oct. 26 as the case was filed in federal district court. The U is seeking a court order to prevent the NCAA from enforcing its "indefinite probation" on all men's sports on the TC campus. The NCAA said the penalty was imposed because of the U's refusal to declare 3 basketball players ineligible.

President Magrath was sharply critical of NCAA and said the U would not engage in "life-boat ethics" by "throwing 3 students overboard" to keep Gopher teams in good standing. He launched "Fairness Fund" with $75,000 goal. Address: Fairness Fund, Morrill Hall.

Record fall enrollment of 55,761 is up more than 1,000 students from a year ago but short of predictions made earlier by U officials. Enrollment by campus: Crookston 992 (up from 930), Duluth 6,561 (up from 6,210), Morris 1,569 (down from 1,593), Waseca 851 (up from 705), Twin Cities 45,788 (up from 45,289). Number of women increased in all colleges, even those showing total enrollment decline.

Public hearing on proposal to phase out all but 2 programs of U College is set for Oct. 27, 2-5 p.m., in 375 Science Classroom Building, TC campus. Committee has recommended that Experimental College, U Without Walls, Student's College, Foreign Studies Degree Program, and U Scholars Program be ended. Morris Learning Center and Intercollege Program would be retained. Final recommendations will go to U Senate and Regents.

Regents are seeking views on proposed student-owned FM radio station. Hearing will be Nov. 11, 11 a.m., 238 Morrill Hall. Deadline for letters or requests to testify: Nov. 3.

Saul Bellow, Nobel Prize winner in literature, taught at the U in general studies (now humanities) in 1946-49 and in interdisciplinary studies and English for short periods later. Another former U faculty member, chemist William Lipscomb, also won a 1976 Nobel.

Graduate School efforts to recruit minorities and women are outlined in Oct. 18 memo from Dean Ibele. Departments are asked to reserve some assistantships for new minority or disadvantaged students and for women in programs where they are under-represented. Special assistant to the dean for recruitment is now being sought, and 20 Opportunity Fellowships per year will be available on a competitive basis for minority and disadvantaged students.

Section of Civil Service Rulebook covering Regents' Scholarships and educational leave was inadvertently omitted from the copy printed in last week's Daily.

About $50,000 will be distributed in current round of 1976-77 Media Production Fund. Proposals are due at Media Resources Dec. 6. Expansion plan for the College of Veterinary Medicine (CVM) was approved by the Regents. Size of the entering class would increase from 80 to 120. Proposed $17.7 million building, which will be sought from the 1977 Legislature, is tied to the plan.

Full cost recovery for education of Wisconsin students in CVM will be sought as new agreement is negotiated with Wisconsin officials. Wisconsin has been paying only $1,485 per student while North Dakota and Nebraska have paid full cost of $11,400 a year. Minnesota and Wisconsin Regents will meet Friday evening at UW President John Weaver's home.

Veterinary building is the largest item in the legislative building request. Others: $2.8 million for School of Business and Economics building at UMD, $2.6 million for food service facility at Crookston, $2.5 million for classroom-laboratory building at Waseca, $1.8 million for remodeling of Nicholson Hall, and $3.2 million for pollution control and heating plant expansion on TC campus. Request for pharmacy and nursing facilities has been left open pending completion of a study that is expected in February.

Task force on Chicano concerns has been established by President Magrath, who told the Regents that the 16-member committee will "look into how we can better meet the needs of the Chicano-Latino community." Student Maria Baltierra and GC Dean Richard Bailey are heading the task force, which has been asked for a preliminary report by March 1, 1977.

Personnel director Bill Thomas reported to the Regents on possible court action to challenge the ruling by an arbitration panel that the U must pay retroactive salary increases and career bonuses to persons no longer employed by U Hospitals.

Regents heard presentations by 2 faculty members on their research grants: Herbert Pick on NIH grant for research on human perception and John Redhorse on Office of Human Development grant for study of child abuse and neglect among Native Americans.

Regents approved U membership in the University of Mid-America, a nonprofit corporation that has been formed for research and experimentation in adult education. UMA also includes U of Iowa, Iowa State, U of Kansas, Kansas State, U of Missouri, U of Nebraska.

Small group of feminists demonstrated in front of Morrill Hall in protest against the closing of the U's abortion clinic earlier this year.

Fairness Fund to support court case against NCAA has reached $59,500, including $8,200 collected at Ohio State game. Development Office is coordinating fund. U attorneys have given assurances that gifts are tax-deductible. Address: Fairness Fund, Morrill Hall.

New enrollment figures are being evaluated and the U is considering changes in its biennial legislative request, President Magrath said at Nov. 18 hearing with state Finance Department. Fall enrollment fell short of projections that had been made by U officials.

How to monitor progress of veterans attending U continues to be point of conflict with State Approving Agency, which wants certification that seemingly would require taking of attendance. Resolution passed last week by association of land-grant institutions supports U position, calling for continued autonomy of each college or university in matters of satisfactory progress, grading procedures, and attendance requirements.

University Senate amended constitution to ensure that UMD student representation will be based on the same formula as TC campus; constitutional quirk had led UMD students to believe their representation could be doubled.

Senate Committee on Educational Policy is establishing a subcommittee to examine the question of how the U should be organized for purposes of experimental education. Hope is that proposed guidelines will be ready for presentation to Senate at winter meeting.

Senate Committee on Faculty Affairs will forward philosophical statement on faculty compensation to President Magrath. Chairman Mahmood Zaidi told Senate that SCFA is willing to bring the document back to Senate after administration has reviewed it.

Extension graduate programs will be the primary focus of the next Senate Consultative Committee meeting (Dec. 9), with Deans Ibele (Grad School) and Miller (CEE) as guests.

Suggestions may be given to any member.

Unspent academic salaries in 1976-77 will be allocated in this way: 70% available for redistribution by deans and provosts, 30% to Regents Reserve. Policy is the same as last year, except that amount for Regents Reserve has been increased from 20% to 30% to help fund the income shortfall resulting from tuition and temporary investment income that is now expected to be less than amount budgeted. Details in Nov. 5 memo from VP Brinkerhoff.

Federal agencies gave $4.5 billion to institutions of higher education in fiscal 1975, according to NSF report released this month. Level of support is about the same as the previous year but represents an 8% decline when converted to constant (1972) dollars. U ranked 5th in the nation in federal support.

Researchers in the life sciences received more than half of all federal funds for research and development, both nationally and at the U. For more on federal research funds, watch for story in Dec. 1 Report.

No Brief week of Nov. 29. Thanksgiving holiday comes during news-gathering time.

CROOKSTON--UMC has been asked to present a paper on its international education program at the North Central Association conference next March in Chicago.

Modified legislative request will be presented to the Regents this week. Other items: proposed student-run FM radio station, civil service rules. Student concerns committee will discuss concerns of students on the St. Paul campus at special meeting Dec. 9 at 10 a.m. in room 202-206 of St. Paul Student Center.

Regents will participate in ceremonies Thursday evening during which the U will be presented the deed to the Freshwater Biological Institute on Lake Minnetonka, which was funded and built by Minnetonka businessmen. Governor-designate Rudy Perpich, Congressman-elect Bruce Vento, and Attorney General Warren Spannaus are expected to attend.

Temporary injunction against the NCAA's imposition of indefinite probation on all men's sports teams on TC campus was issued Dec. 2 by U.S. District Court Judge Edward Devitt.

President Magrath said he was "obviously very pleased" with the ruling. "I feel very, very strongly that there is a fundamental issue of due process and fair play involved. The preliminary injunction sets the groundwork for a trial on the merits of the case."

Cost-of-living increases Jan. 1 for civil service staff members will be 2.26% for staff on Schedule A and Management Salary Plan and $.12 an hour for staff on Schedules B and C.

Famine Prevention and Freedom from Hunger amendment (Title XII) gives land-grant universities "a far stronger voice than we have had in effectively shaping our nation's international self-help food activities," President Magrath said Nov. 29 at the annual meeting of the Minnesota Association of Soil and Water Conservation Districts. He said international agricultural research could help improve American agriculture.

Use of irrigation in Minnesota has tripled over the past 5 years, Magrath said, through "the efforts of many--certainly not just those at the University of Minnesota." Parched fields tell of the need for more irrigation, but "even with a serious and disheartening drought in America's heartland, there is no concern whatsoever about having enough to eat."

Current personnel policies on vacation, sick leave, and holiday pay for civil service staff are outlined in Nov. 22 Strictly Personnel bulletin from Bill Thomas. Among items: Terminating employee will be paid for any unused vacation balance in a lump sum without accruing any additional vacation and without being paid for a holiday occurring after the last date of employment. Holiday pay (not sick pay) will be paid when a holiday falls during a period of approved paid sick leave.

Holiday message from President Magrath: "As in past years, Mrs. Magrath and I plan to contribute to our favorite charity this holiday season in lieu of an exchange of cards with University staff. Sandra and I extend our warmest season's greetings to all."

CROOKSTON--Ad hoc committee will be formed to make recommendation to Provost Sahlstrom on name for new dormitory building now referred to as Skyberg Annex.

Donald Browne, director of International Programs, and assistant Virginia Rengel will be at UMC Dec. 9 to discuss strengthening of international exchange of students and faculty.

DULUTH--Two of 4 final candidates for provost were on campus last week for interviews with search committee, other groups. Two others will be on campus this week. President Magrath, at a news conference in Duluth Dec. 4, said he hopes selection process will be completed some time in January.

President Magrath and other central administrators were on campus Dec. 3-4 for legislative workshop with campus administrators, faculty, staff, and students.

Campus Assembly last week sent the major portion of a proposed 1977-78 academic calendar back to committee. Accepted were Sept. 19, 20, 21 as registration dates for fall 1977 and Sept. 22 as first day of fall classes.

Department of Industrial and Technical Studies is field-testing a competency-based program for training vocational teachers. UMD is among 25 institutions in the nation to use the program developed by the National Institute for Performance-Based Vocational Teacher Education at Ohio State.

MORRIS--Memorial Fund has been established to honor Mary E. Martelle, long-time UMM staff member who died last summer. Fund will be used for an annual award to be presented at each spring commencement to a civil service employee who best exemplifies commitment to the U and consistent contribution to the quality of campus life.

Legislative request has been trimmed by $8.6 million from the total of $411 million that had been announced earlier. Bulk of the cut, $6.7 million, is related to a reduction in predicted workload because enrollment increases are not expected to be as large as original projections indicated, President Magrath told the Regents last week.

Regents delayed action on proposed $1.3 million nonprofit commercial radio station that would be managed by students on the TC campus. President Magrath's support for a full-power station was announced at a Regents' committee meeting Thursday. Magrath tied his support to elimination of student-fee support for a TV learning center. Regent L. J. Lee objected to dropping of support for the video center and increasing student fees by $.50 or $.60. Regents will discuss issue again at Jan. 14 meeting.

New Civil Service Rules were approved by the Regents. Among changes: extension of vacation and sick leave benefits to employees with 50% continuing appointments after 3 calendar years of service (retroactive to July 1), dropping of probationary requirement for incumbents in reclassified positions, removal of limit on number of vacation days that can be accrued in a month. Details coming in January Report.

Retroactive raises totaling $150,000 will be paid to hospital employees who have left the U. Regents rejected administration proposal for court challenge of binding arbitration.

Temporary agreement may have been worked out with the Veterans Administration (VA) on certification requirements, VP Wilderson told the Regents. He said he does not see any danger of veterans' benefits being cut off before mid-January, when U officials meet with the VA again. John Heuback, president of the Veterans Coalition, said he hopes the U will support student veterans' efforts to be allowed to continue to receive benefits without extra requirements. Veterans will have a rally on the TC campus Jan. 19.

VP French told Regents the U is seeking funds from federal job programs for construction of proposed nursing/pharmacy building, which was not approved by the 1976 Legislature. List of 13 alternatives to the proposed building is also being prepared for presentation to the 1977 Legislature.

John T. Shepherd, professor of physiology in the Mayo Medical School, will become dean of the Mayo Medical School in Rochester Feb. 1.

Procedures for reporting land purchases to the chairmen of the appropriation committees in the Minnesota House and Senate need to be discussed, VP Kegler told the Regents. Kegler said the 2 chairmen objected to land purchases by the U in St. Paul and Duluth.

Regents voted to require that 1 of the 4 TC campus student reps to Regents' committees be chosen from the St. Paul campus. During 1977 an alternate student rep from St. Paul will sit with the student concerns committee.

Twin Cities Student Assembly is considering a textbook selection and usage policy for presentation to the U Senate, TCSA speaker William Werb told the Regents.

Significant gains in the enrollment of women have been made by several units, Lois Erickson told the Senate Consultative Committee (SCC) as part of a Title IX report. Examples: Agriculture up from 12% in 1971 to 32% in 1976, Business Administration 5% to 23%, Forestry 3% to 18%, Law 9% to 32%, Medical School 9% to 16%, Public Health 29% to 49%, Veterinary Medicine 13% to 31%, Crookston 21% to 40%, Waseca 27% to 49%.

Graduate School Dean Ibele told SCC that quality of graduate education is the concern in any consideration of offering more graduate programs in the evening. Among issues: faculty overload, selectivity of admissions, "appropriate mix of graduate students with others who might populate the course," participation of "certain pivotal faculty members."

CEE Dean Miller said demand is high, quality control up to departments. He cited studies showing similar percentage of grad students in 5,000-level courses in day and evening. He said that in 1975-76 there were 317 faculty members who taught 1 extension class, 202 who taught 2, 85 who taught 3, 44 who taught 4, 15 who taught 5, 9 who taught 6.

CROOKSTON--Central administrators and legislators of Northwest Minnesota will visit UMC to discuss the legislative request Dec. 16.

DULUTH--Regents approved establishment of a Northeast Minnesota Area Research Center at the UMD Library. To be operated in cooperation with the Minnesota Historical Society, it will collect and hold manuscripts and other historic materials. (Brief of Nov. 17 incorrectly reported that establishment of the center was approved in November.)

Former Regent Richard L. Griggs presented a $50,000 check to UMD Dec. 8 to establish the "Raymond W. Darland All-American Scholarship Fund." Occasion was a luncheon on campus to honor Griggs on his 90th birthday. Darland was UMD provost for 23 years prior to resigning last February.

Petition protesting cold floors, drafts, and frozen water pipes and drains in the Village Apartments was presented Dec. 8 to Robert W. Bridges, vice provost for business affairs. Petition, said to be signed by 80% of the 300 Village residents, was circulated by the Movilla Tenants Union and MPIRG. Representatives of the Union will meet with Bridges and the housing staff on Jan. 17 to discuss the matter further.

Sheila Roth, Human Resources Development Division of U Personnel, will conduct business procedures training sessions Dec. 16 and 17 on campus. Call 726-7108.

MORRIS--Football coach Al Molde and Cougar co-captains Jim Noonan of Minneapolis and Chuck Senkyr of Morton were honored at the Regents' meeting Friday for winning the NIC conference championship. Molde spoke briefly and showed a short film of season highlights.

Coach Molde was named Coach of the Year in both the NIC and the District 13 NAIA. Seven players were named to All-NIC team, 5 to All-District 13 team, and 3 received honorable mention on the Associated Press Little All-America team.

TWIN CITIES--Hertha Jorgensen, who has been in charge of the Graduate School Budget Office for many years, leaves the U at the end of December. Suzanne Zorn, from the Department of Medicine, will be in charge of the Budget Office after Jan. 1.

Anyone interested in inviting an international student to share traditional holiday dinner on Christmas Day should call the Minnesota International Center at 373-3200.

WASECA--Several UMW faculty members participated in an instructional improvement conference on the St. Paul campus Dec. 13, cosponsored by the Institute of Agriculture, Forestry, and Home Economics and the Minnesota Association of Colleges and Teachers of Agriculture.

Administrative in-service training workshop on time management is being held for UMW personnel Dec. 17.
