

Minnesota, University, Student Activities Bureau,
Director, 1969-70

PURPOSES

The 1969-70 Directory of Student Organizations has been prepared by the Student Activities Bureau in co-operation with the officers of student organizations. The directory is published:

1. To assist counselors and faculty advisors in directing individual students towards groups that can best meet their educational, cultural, social, and recreational interests and needs.
2. To provide a total picture of organized student life to assist in further development of the extra-curriculum.
3. To help provide a channel of communication between various university service agencies and student organizations.

INDIVIDUAL ACTIVITIES COUNSELING

The Student Activities Bureau was established in the belief that extra-curricular activities are a necessary and valuable part of every student's total education and development. The advisors are ready to consult with any student concerning activities and organizations that would contribute to his personal development, and to recommend appropriate ones. We encourage each student to make use of this service. Appointments with any staff member desired may be arranged with the bureau receptionist at room 110, Temporary North of Mines, 373-3955 (Minneapolis Campus) and 103 Ag Botany, 373-1164 (St. Paul Campus).

ORGANIZATIONAL ADVISING

The bureau staff are well skilled in all phases of operational development and program planning of student groups. They are ready at all times to help improve the functioning and programs of any organization. For assistance in this area, please call the staff member assigned to the particular organization. If you have a question, contact the bureau receptionist at 373-3955.

USE OF THE DIRECTORY

1. There is an alphabetical index at the back of the book, which includes not only recognized student organizations, but also many all-university events. The latter activities are described in a section entitled "All University Projects, Traditional Events & Programs".
