First, let me congratulate each and every student of the University of Minnesota Medical School Class of 1994 and those who supported and encouraged you throughout the past four years. For some of you, those four years may have gone relatively smoothly. For many, they were full of challenges and hard work. However it may have been, today is the day we say to you: You are medical doctors, health care professionals, caregivers and healers. The Medical School continues its tradition, as in the past century, of educating and encouraging physicians. This tradition will go on for many years to come.

Today, you will all make a pledge, the "Oath for New Physicians." The age-old oath, known as the "Hippocratic Oath," began almost 2,400 years ago. In contemporary terms, it is an oath to care, to help, and above all, to do no harm. As the practice of medicine becomes more complex, it is not too difficult to lose focus of what our profession truly represents. One can easily be disillusioned and think that this is just a business or a profit-making entity rather than a care-giving profession. Certainly, as all of our resources gradually become scarce, we as physicians should be good citizens in terms of fiscal responsibilities. We must insist that the best caring and healing do not necessarily require high technology and its inherent high cost. More often, the best caring and healing take the form of mutual understanding and compassion. There is no price tag on trust and compassion. We should believe that the "Oath of New Physicians" means exactly that.

The ceremony of donning the hoods is an academic tradition. The hood has the colors that forever represent your school. In our case it is maroon and gold, the colors of the University of Minnesota. Bordering the hood is green velvet that is universally recognized as the color of the medical profession. You have earned the hood with its specific color combination. You can wear the gown and this specific hood on any academic occasion throughout your life. This color combination gives you recognition worldwide as a doctor of medicine from the University of Minnesota.

We are also to honor our former graduates of the Medical School. Traditionally, we honor at each graduation ceremony our alumni who experienced the same recognition half a century ago. This tradition has a vitalizing effect on our alumni and our new generation of physicians--we have a tradition, we have a purpose, we are physicians and healers together. The present faculty and administration serve as a link between the more experienced and the new. We are proud to have that privilege.

Thank you and my best wishes.

Sincerely,

Shelley N. Chou, M.D., Ph.D.
Interim Dean of the Medical School and
Deputy Vice President for Medical Affairs

OATH FOR NEW PHYSICIANS

In the tradition of Hippocrates and the men and women through the ages who have dedicated their lives to the art and science of medicine I make the following pledge:

The respect and dignity of patients, and the confidential nature of our relationship is foremost in my service to them. I will value their lives as I value my own.

I acknowledge my limitations and need for continued education. I will seek the knowledge and inspiration of my colleagues, friends, and patients.

My work shall be dedicated to improving the quality of life for those who seek my assistance. I will honor the wishes and needs of the patient, recognizing that death is not always an enemy. I will do no harm.

I will strive always to improve the practice of medicine, to provide a level of care that is ethical, moral, and just. I expect the same standards from my colleagues and will not tolerate their indifference, greed, or unethical behavior.

My profession is an honored one. I will not violate the trust society has placed in me by allowing religion, race, or creed to affect my judgment or ability to take care of patients. I will be humble.

I will consider the tools of my profession to be knowledge, compassion, and patience. I will share these tools freely with my colleagues and patients alike.

I shall do my utmost to provide the vulnerable members of society the care and attention they need to assure their health, dignity, and protection. I see all life as sacred.

In the presence of my teachers, my family, and my friends I make these promises solemnly and freely. With this oath I willingly assume the rewards and responsibilities of a physician.

Students who transferred into the third-year class:

- (D) University of Minnesota-Duluth, School of Medicine
- (M) University of Michigan Medical School
- (W) Medical College of Wisconsin-Milwaukee

The University of Minnesota is committed to the policy that all persons shall have equal access to its programs, facilities, and employment without regard to race, religion, color, sex, national origin, disability, age, veteran status, sexual orientation, creed, marital status, or public assistance status.

This book is not an official record of graduation from the Medical School. The degree of Doctor of Medicine is officially granted by the Board of Regents on the date ending the academic quarter in which degree requirements are completed, which Spring Quarter of this year will be June 11, 1994. Students graduating in Winter Quarter were granted their degrees March 19, 1994.
