Martha Krebs

Dr. Krebs was nominated by President Clinton on October 21, 1993, to be the Director of the Office of Energy Research (OER) in the Department of Energy (DOE). She was confirmed by the US Senate on November 10, 1993, and sworn into office on November, 15, 1993.

As Director, Dr. Krebs manages the OER, one of the largest sponsors of basic research in the Federal Government. OER has an annual budget of approximately $3 billion which funds DOE programs in basic energy sciences, high energy and nuclear physics, health and environmental research, fusion energy, and scientific computing.

Besides serving as Director of OER, Dr. Krebs is also the Science and Technology Advisor of the US Department of Energy. In this position, she advises the Secretary on science and technology issues that cut across DOE programs, on the transfer of technology from DOE laboratories to industry, on science education and training activities, and on management of DOE laboratories. Dr. Krebs is also responsible for the management of the five multi-program and ten single program non-weapons laboratories of the Department as well as for developing Department-wide policy for both the weapons and non-weapons laboratories.

From July 1993 until assuming her current position, Dr. Krebs was Associate Laboratory Director for Planning and Development at the Lawrence Berkeley Laboratory (LBL). While at the Laboratory, she was responsible for a strategic scientific program planning process and for technology transfer planning and policy development. She established the LBL Center for Science and Engineering Education, which provides collaborative research experiences at the Laboratory for students, teachers, and University of California faculty. Before joining the Laboratory, Dr. Krebs was Staff Director of the Subcommittee on Energy Development and Applications of the House of Representatives Committee on Science and Technology.

Dr. Krebs earned an A.B. and Ph.D. in Physics from Catholic University of America in 1975. Her field of research was statistical mechanics. She graduated summa cum laude and is a member of Sigma XI and Phi Beta Kappa. She has also been a National Science Foundation Fellow.

Degrees in the Institute of Technology are awarded with two types of honors. Degrees with distinction and high distinction are awarded automatically to students with Grade Point Averages exceeding 3.5 and 3.8, respectively. The cum laude, magna cum laude, and summa cum laude degrees are awarded upon application to students who meet certain Grade Point Average requirements and complete special work within the major. Students receiving the summa cum laude degrees have completed a senior thesis.

Graduation Photographs

For your convenience, we have made arrangements with professional photographers to take a picture of each student as they cross the stage. This service will enable each student to have a photograph of their graduation. Family members and friends are encouraged to remain in their seats and enjoy the ceremony. However, photographs may be taken from the orchestra pit. Please do not block the ramp or the aisles. The graduates will need to proceed down the ramp and back to their seats in a timely manner. Thank you.
