Seniors Are Honored Guests at Traditional Reception

In honor of the graduating class, Dean and Mrs. Clyde H. Bailey and Mrs. John O. Christianson gave a reception to parents of the members of the senior class and to the faculty and faculty wives on Friday afternoon, March 17 at the Fireplace Room in the Home Economics Building. Receiving with the hosts and hostesses were Philip Dziuk, president of the senior class, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Miller, godparents of the class, and Mrs. Ella Rose.

Hostesses at the refreshment table were the Mesdames Ivar Glemming, Walter H. Peters, Hal B. White and Mrs. Nowotny.

Mr. Pim Is Senior Class Play

"Mr. Pim Passes By" was presented as the Senior Class play by Dean Wenstrom on Saturday evening, March 11, in the Auditorium.

This delightful comedy had its setting in the English country home of George Marden who was played by Ivan Hagel. Mrs. Marden and her niece, Dinah, were portrayed by Ruth Beckman and Kay Meyer. Donald Throlson had the title role, and Carraway Pim. Brian Strange, Dinah's husband, was acted by Don Wendt, and Mrs. Beckman took the part of the

Games Few Players Good

Although the number of games played by the girls basketball team were few, only four, the team was made up of exceptionally fine players. "The best material I've ever had," says Miss Marie Hoover.

Games were won from the Alumni, the Neighborhood House and Corpus Christi. The College alone won from the locals. Members of the team were Allison March, Marcella Pedrnos, Gertrude Lieske, Vera Clough, Luella Anderson, Annette Vera Poppe, and Lucille Brandt.

President Walter C. Coffey Gives Commencement Address

"Every soldier knows that one of the things worth fighting for in this war is his home or the home he means to establish for himself," said President Walter C. Coffey in appraising the assertions that American soldiers lack convictions and that they do not know what they are fighting for. The qualities that they demand in their own home are recognizable in the homes from which they come and to which they wish to return, was the theme of his address at the commencement exercises on Friday evening, March 17, in the Auditorium.

Five graduates, Arlene Palmer, Vera Poppe, Philip Dziuk, Allen Kroehler, and Rodney Langseth took part in a round table discussion of "Our Part In These Times," taking juvenile delinquency as the basis of their inquiry.

Dr. J. O. Christianson presented the class of twenty-six seniors and four intermediates to Dean Clyde H. Bailey who in turn conferred the certificates. One senior, Gertrude Weiss of Princeton, who is now a member of the Waves stationed at Hunter College, New York, received her certificate in absentia. The name of Martin Trolsen '43 of St. Paul who had completed work for graduation during the year was listed on the program.

Miss Peggy Donhowe accompanied by Mr. Thomas Larimore on the piano, sang "My Day Carol," an old English air; and the girls sextette sang, "Mother Machree" and "Beautiful Savior." The faculty orchestra played Verdi's "II Trovatore" as the overture and William Brook's, "Our National Honor" as the processional.

The invocation and benediction were pronounced by The Reverend Wilbur D. Grose, pastor of the St. Anthony Park Congregational Church.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Miller participated in the exercises as god-parents of the class.

Commencement Sermon Is Preached by the Rev. Roy Olson

The Reverend Roy E. Olson, Pastor of the Lake Nokomis Lutheran Church in Minneapolis, preached the commencement sermon on the subject, "Life's First Real Freedom" on Sunday evening, March 10 at the Auditorium.

Dr. J. O. Christianson read John 8: 25-33 as the scripture reading. Miss Peggy Donhowe, accompanied on the piano by Mr. Thomas Larimore, sang Handel's "Vouchsafe, O Lord." Two groups of songs, "Praise The Lord" by Handel and "Agnus Dei," and "Praise To The Lord" and a German chorale were sung by the girls sextette.

The faculty orchestra played "Les Adieux" by Sarasate as prelude, William Brooks' "Our National Honor" as the processional, and "Stony Point" by Laurendeau as the postlude.

The Reverend Father Guinney pastor of Corpus Christi Catholic Church pronounced the invocation and benediction.

Seniors Hold Last Party

The Seniors and their Godparents, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Miller, enjoyed a last good time together at an informal party Sunday evening, March 5, in Pendergast Hall lounge. Games were played and refreshments were served. Allen Kroehler, Sigrid Aarons and Phil Dziuk, chairman, made up the committee in charge.

The Seniors are leaving about ninety dollars as a class memorial. This sum will be added to a fund left by previous classes toward the purchase of an electric organ for the auditorium.

For the first time in decades, the student body was privileged to be present at the commencement exercises. This was due to the advancing of the date for the exercises from the Tuesday following the close of School to the Friday previous to the closing day.

Assembly Is Mirror in Which Is Reflected Life And Important Activities of School of Agriculture

Best known choruses from H.M.S. Pinafore by Gilbert and Sullivan were sung in costume by the S.A.U.M. Chorus at the March 14 assembly exercises. Miss Peggy Donhowe directed the chorus and Allene Johnson was the narrator. Allen Kroehler took the part of Sir Joseph Porter; Don Throlson was the Captain of the Pinafore; Ruth Wichelmann, Buttercup; Donna Barthelemy, Josephine; and Margaret Ellison, cousin Hebe. The songs sung were, "We Sail The Ocean Blue," "I'm Called Little Buttercup," "When I Was A Lad," "Bell Trio," "He is An Englishman" and the "Finale."

A number of prominent persons have appeared on recent assembly programs. On March 3, Mr. S. Vincent Owen of the St. Paul Urban League, presented the negro problem in simple terms and showed how negro contributions to the nation have been ignored in current history texts. He convinced his audience that the present status of the black man was "due largely to neglect and deprivation."

Dr. Horton Daniels, a medical missionary to China and brother of former Professor Franc Daniels, spoke at the March 10 assembly. Mr. Marion B. Rhodes, Field Director of the St. Paul district office of the FBI, told the February 23 audience of the work of that organization in the present emergency and urged each student to do what he could to ferret out saboteurs. Professor Ralph G. Nichols of the Rhetoric department read from the works of negro poets George Washington Carver, Langston, Hughes, Paul Lawrence Dunbar, and Helene Johnson on February 25.

A unique spelling test of 100 unnamed words was taken by all students at the February 29 assembly. The I.R.C. presented a political program on March 1. The officers of the three literary societies cooperated in presenting the program at the March 7 assembly. Rhoda Glaeser presented a history of the literaries and Evelyn Gray read a paper on present day literaries. Audrey Alberts played her guitar and sang "Cowboy Jack." A humorous reading, "The Lady Down the Road," was presented by Ruth Wichelmann. Lorraine Olson played "Charmante," a Mazurka by Frederick Groton, at the piano. A newspaper edited and read by Don Throlson, dealt with the more romantic aspects of campus life.

Athletic and other awards were presented at the March 11 and 15 assemblies and newsreels and shorts were features of the assemblies on Saturdays throughout the quarter.

Among the musical numbers which have been features of various assemblies have been the following: "Little Brown Jug" and "Polish Dance" played by the brass quartette made up of Alois Lauer, Rodney Langseth, Leola Urban, and Ray

Hanson; "When I Was Seventeen," a Swedish folk song, sung by Donna Barthelemy; "My Hero" from The Chocolate Soldier, sung by the mixed quartet made up of Ruth Wichelmann, Donna Barthelemy, Ray Hanson, and Allan Kroehler; "Mother Machree" and "My Secret" sung by Ruth Wichelmann, Donna Barthelemy, sopranos; Sigrid Aarons, Margaret Ellison, second sopranos; Rita Storkamp and Allene Johnson, altos, known as the Girls Sextette.

Junior Twosomes Are Lucky

At the Junior class party held on March 4 at the gymnasium, luck was had by twos. On arrival at the party, the Juniors paired off to play games and contests. Ruth Wichelmann and Alfred Halverson, one of the chaperones, won first place. Dancing, followed by refreshments, concluded the party. Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Miller and Mr. and Mrs. Peder Johnsrud were also chaperones.

Dy-Owls Win B. B. Game

Lording it over the SAUM-Gophers in a score 32 to 21, the Dynamo Owls won the inter-literary basketball game on March 8. Keen competition between the literaries brought out a large crowd of rooters. Players on the winning Dynamo-Owl team were Don Wendt, James Huneke, Norman Kruse, Phil Dziuk and John Weis. Norval Hoverstad, Karl Lieske, Allen Armstrong, Eugene Maletich, Dale Melin, Clifton Peterson and Ray Krull represented the SAUM-Gophers.

Nowotny Finds B. B. Season Revealed Improving Team

Coach Joe Nowotny scanned the basketball season at its close and said, "It ain't bad! We won sixteen out of twenty-six games with a green team. That is, it was green when we began. The squad showed improvement at every game. At the beginning of the winter term we were hit hard by sickness and ineligibility. We finished the season with only seven players. They were Captain Don Wendt, Clifton Peterson, Norval Hoverstad, Lorenz Frank, Phil Dziuk, Karl Lieske, Dan Sherman. Norman Kruse was the manager."

Proof that the boys thoroughly enjoyed the game was their conscientiousness in never missing practice throughout a long season of games. Total points made in 26 games were 786 as against 587 points of their competitors.

Teams which entered into competition with the Aggies were Park Rangers, Farm House, Murray B's, YMCA, Park Ball Hawks, Sanford, Forresters, Park Owls, SAUM Alumni, All-Stars, Y Owls, Y Panthers, T.M. DeMolays, Midway Machinists, and the Y Leaders.

Literary Societies Conclude Profitable Program Series

Miss Hellen Asher told the story of the life of Washington at the February 11 meeting of the Dynamo-Owls Literary. Rita Storkamp read a humorous song and the "Duck Song" was sung by Luella Anderson, Rita Storkamp, and Carol Rossbach.

Professor Robert Lansing talked about interesting books to read and roll call was answered with names of favorite books on February 26. Mr. Ralph Miller, Arlene Palmer, Francis Miller, Annette Held, John Weis, Rita Storkamp, Tena Stengenga, and Donna Barthelemy were the victims of a faked stunt. Rodney Langseth and Audrey Alberts played a piano duet and the meeting was concluded with the playing of games.

Miss Peggy Donhowe presented a music appreciation program with records and a musical quiz tested the knowledge of the Dynamo-Owls at the March 4 meeting.

Refreshments and informal games contributed to the enjoyment of members of the Dynamo-Owls and their advisers, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Miller, at the last meeting of the year on March 11.

"Time Savers on the Farm" was Victor Dose's topic at the February 19 meeting of the S.A.U.M.-Gopher Literary. He illustrated his talk with intricate diagrams showing the daily paths of travel on the farm and how these paths could be shortened.

Members of the literary gave short talks on places they had visited recently. Alois Lauer told all about his trip to the Midwinter Shows at Crookston. Miss Hellen Asher discussed the topic "Youth's Place in the Postwar World" at the February 20 meeting.

Dean Wenstrom read excerpts from one of Noel Coward's plays to the group on March 4. At this meeting plans were made for the final meeting, March 11, which was a party. The entire meeting was spent in playing games with time out for refreshments served at the close of the evening.

Mr. Ralph Miller recalled to the memory of the members of the North Star Literary, the name and deeds of George Washington at their February 16 meeting. Mr. Thomas Larimore performed a program of piano selections on February 26. High School vs. SAUM was the subject of the open forum on March 4 when Rhoda Glaeser was the master of ceremonies. Martha Brugman, Milton Risoen, Minnie Heidemann, and William Harzfeld directed the party at the final meeting on March 11.

Alumni President Wm. Dankers, Extension Economist in Marketing, claims Minnesota as his teaching campus for he was the principal speaker at 125 meetings throughout the state in 1943.

Political Campaigns Waged Within International Club

platforms and records of the two political parties, the Republican and Democratic, were outlined by three representatives of each before the student assembly over which Mr. Elmer Johnson, counsellor, presided on March 1. Clough, Allene Johnson, and Phyllis Peters spoke for the Democrats and Norman Kruse, Ruth Wichelmann, and Evelyn Gray sounded off the Republican doctrine. Following their speeches a brief tutorial took place. The materials for a campaign were laid on the table only to be taken up again on March 10 when the I.R.C. held an open meeting in Room 101 Administration Building. The rebuttals were handled by those who had made constructive arguments and then the question was thrown open to discussion on the floor. The party vote which followed favored the Republicans about four to one. Allen Kroehler presided at the second meeting. Previous to March 1, the I.R.C. meeting had been devoted to a study of party records and platforms.

Agrarian Makes Appearance With Patriotic Dedication

The covers bound in flag blue and lined with star-decked red, the 1944 Agrarian made its bow on March 14 dedicated to those serving their country on the war fronts and on the food production front. Listed on the dedication pages were the names of 247 Aggies known to be in the armed services. Sections of the book are devoted to Ag "tablets" in basic training, in campus maneuvers, keeping fit, and off-duty. Each section is crowded with pictures illustrating these activities. Members of the staff which published the book under Miss Laura Matson's guidance were Rodney Langseth, Editor in Chief; Marlys Coulter, Assistant Editor; Vera Poppe, Business Manager; Arlene Bremer, Assistant Manager; and Ruth Beckman, Frances Miller, Florence Ellison, Evelyn Rychner, Alois Lauer, Kay Meyer, Lillian Pribnow. Mr. Elmer Johnson financial adviser. Alumni and former students need not be told of the line that formed "to the booth" before the ticket booth in the Administration Building when the scuttlebutt layed the news that, "the Agrarian is out" nor of the pleasant moments that were spent in inscribing names and memories on every blank space of each copy of each book. Memory will paint the picture for them. Good luck, Agrarian of 1944! The Agrarian nominates you to the All-American rating, and promises to report next year what the critics said about you!

Annual Communion Breakfast Celebrated by Confraternity

Sponsored by the School and College of Agriculture Confraternity, the annual Archbishop's reception and communion breakfast were held on Sunday morning, March 12, in the church parlors of Corpus Christi Church. Following the breakfast was a program of speeches in which His Excellency Archbishop Murray, Father Guinney, Dean C. H. Bailey, Dean Henry Schmitz, Dr. Wm. A. O'Brien, Dr. J. O. Christianson, Chief Warrant Officer Lassek, Sgt. Bill Stevens, Amelia Thurnbeck and Marcella Padnos took part. Marie Sterner presided as mistress of ceremonies. The School of Agriculture girls sextette sang "Agnus Dei" and "Praise the Lord Ye Heavens" and "Ave Marie" was sung as a solo by Donna Barthelemy.

LaRay Ries Tops Crops Judges

LaRay Ries made 1,344 out of possible 1,550 points thereby winning first place in the local seeds and crops judging contest, sponsored by the School of Agriculture seeds and crops judging team on Saturday afternoon, March 4, in the Agronomy Building. Norman Kruse placed second and Allen Rovang, third. Ries' achievement was the greater, says Prof. Otto Swenson, because it was the result of individual enterprise not of preparation in class. Professor Swenson, Alois and Florian Lauer and Dan Sherman were judges of the contest.

Alumni Association Inducts Graduates into Membership Honored Classes Hold Enthusiastic Reunions

For having travelled the greatest distance to attend a class reunion, Mrs. H. L. Thompson (Ruth Holmberg '04) of Palo Alto, California was the recipient of a bouquet of flowers presented to her by Louis B. Bassett '96 for the Alumni Association at the annual alumni banquet held on March 11 in the parlors of the St. Anthony Park Congregational Church.

The twenty-six seniors who were to be graduated from the School of Agriculture on the following Friday were guests of honor at the banquet and were welcomed into membership in the Alumni Association by the president, Dr. William Dankers.

After Dr. Andrew Boss '91 had pronounced the invocation, President Dankers introduced William F. Hagerman '04 of St. Paul as toastmaster of the program at the banquet.

For the first time, no representative of a 50-year class was present to speak for the class, but C. P. Bull '92 read letters from three members of the class of 1894, James A. Wilson of Los Angeles, M. F. Wesenberg, Earl, Wisconsin, and Jens Peterson, Freeborn.

Representatives of the other anniversary classes who spoke for them at the banquet were Lou Sheldon '04 of Waseca; Frank Farnsworth '14 of Waterville, Ohio; Floyd Jamieson '19, Dent; Vincent Ericson '24, Marshfield, Wisconsin; and Dr. Gerardo Cueva '34, Dassell.

Dr. Clyde H. Bailey '05, Dean of the Department of Agriculture and Director of the Experiment Station, and Dr. John O. Christianson, Superintendent of the School of Agriculture and Director of Agricultural Short Courses also responded with toasts.

Miss Peggy Donhowe sang a group of folk songs and David Boland led the closing song, the traditional "God Be With You."

Following the banquet, a large number of alumni and guests gathered at the gymnasium for the alumni ball. Music was furnished by Hilary's Orchestra. Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Bassett and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Farnsworth led the grand march.

Patrons and patronesses were the Mesdames and Messrs. L. J. Sheldon '04, Rudolph Emerson '04, W. L. Boyd, L. R. Elwell '14, H. B. White '03, B. W. Sansome, Lester Arhart '24, Robert Garbe '34, Ralph E. Miller, and Mrs. Chester Berggren.

W. A. Dickenson '04 and Harry Rice '14 were the floor committee.

This was the concluding event of two days of reunioning by the classes of 1904, 1914, 1919, 1924, and 1934.

On Sunday afternoon, members of these groups had met to renew friendships and to recount common experiences in the Fireplace Room at the Home Economics Building, and in the lounge, office, and committee room at Pendergast Hall.

At Pendergast Hall, Mrs. LeRoy Cady, Mrs. Fred Gorham, and Mrs. Ealy Briggs acted as hostesses.

Those alumni who had travelled the greatest distance from home included Mrs. H. L. Thompson '04, Palo Alto; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Farnsworth '14, Waterville, Ohio; Karl W. Anderson '14, Canton, Ohio; R. G. Ostergren '04, Missoula, Montana; and Walter Blohm '19, Warren, Pennsylvania.

The largest and very enthusiastic reunion was that of the class of 1914. It was attended by about 60 members together with their wives or husbands.

All reunioners gathered at the Party Dining Room at five o'clock for a buffet supper and joint reunion. Alumni assisting with the meal were the Mesdames and Messrs. Turman Nodland, C. P. Bull, Lloyd I. Nelson, L. B. Bassett and President William Dankers and Oren Shelley.

On the following day, the annual business meeting of the Alumni Association was held in the Auditorium. Dr. William Dankers '25 was reelected President, and Truman Nodland '30, Secretary-Treasurer. New officers elected were William Hagerman '04, First Vice President, Philip Dziuk '44, Second Vice President, and Mrs. Fred Gorham to membership in the Executive Committee. Other members of the Executive Committee are Dr. Andrew Boss '91, L. B. Bassett '96, and Vincent K. Bailey, Jr. '22.

Dean Bailey Said

"The pronouns need streamlining in these strenuous times in the interest of effectiveness. Instead of looking to the nebulous and indefinite 'they' to provide for us, direct us, and govern us; instead of leaning to heavily on 'you' each American should become an active partner in the team of 'we,' recognizing that, after all, it is 'I' who should bear a full share of the responsibilities of the term," when he spoke at the March 5 Sunday Song Service.

Walter Carlock '43 who spent the winter working at the Swift Packing Plant in South St. Paul expects to be drafted into the army in March.

Basket Social Proves Success

Dick Evenson, adviser to the Lutheran Students Association, was the auctioneer at the Old-fashioned Basket Social held on February 27 in the Band room in the Music Hall. The gaily decorated baskets proved worth the price paid for them when opened and contents were enjoyed by makers and buyers alike. The proceeds from the basket sale will be a financial nest egg to be expended, next year.

Senior Personalities

When you hear, "Oh, Heavens to Betsey" you can tell Evy is about. Then, too, she might be singing Shubert's "Ave Maria" or listening to Abe Lyman's orchestra. Among her "favorites" she lists biking and chop suey.

Someone very ambitious, a good sport, one appreciative of good music interests her.

"Come on Little Tot" say Tommy on her way to her favorite class, acting. She loves to travel and must have a man who also likes it. He should be a blonde and own a car. Potato chips and pop are best refreshments while listening to Roselleta. March 4 is her natal day. Her pet peeve, jealous people.

Here's a girl who loves to hear the little German band! Ricky celebrates February 4 with candles and cake. To be a missionary is her aim. Chocolate chip cookies are a choice tidbit to munch after skating. He must be brunette, dependable and ambitious.

Born on March 7, Duane cannot remember when he did not look forward to spring plowing. "Pistol Packing Mama" suits his taste in music while he is tinkering with model airplanes. His ideal girl must be a good cook, able to prepare his favorite food—potatoes.

If you're a blue-eyed blonde, tall, agreeable and attractive, you'll interest Dan. Though he hates to get up in the morning, he wants to be a sheep farmer. A good book would be an appropriate gift on September 14.

If you don't want to aggravate Allie, don't ever holler at her. But you'd surely please her if you served her chow-mein on January 7. Wayne King, Straus's "Tales from Vienna Woods" Rosalind Russell, swimming, geometry are all OKed by her. She says he has a wonderful personality. He has blue eyes, dark wavy hair, has a good physique, is decent, honest, and fun-loving. He's wonderful!

Boys, beware of unkempt fingernails. Florence can't stand them. But she does enjoy good conversation and a sense of humor in a man. She loves speed. Prefers it in motor boats, motorcycles, motor cars, not in men. She'll settle for Italian spaghetti as her favorite food and roller skating and fishing as favorite sports.

Cat's Meow

You know this fellow named Rod.
He's a pretty good old cod.
Yes, Yes, he's a good fish
In fact Florence has picked him for her dish.

It seems that the ushers have quite a time keeping the School of Agriculture students from practicing the old back row technique during the movies on Saturday nights. Know anything about that, Phyllis and Allan?

You know this Magnuson got cold last Sunday night?

Pneumonia may even be his plight
They say he stood out in the snow
Waiting for the seniors to go.
The place was the dorm, old Pendergast,
You know this Magnuson must really be fast.

You know that Al Lauer?
We wish him lots of power,
At first it started with just a walk
But now people are beginning to talk..
You know Evelyn lives in the park
And Al walks her home after dark.
He says he wished she lived in the dorm
Cause at times it's awful to walk in a storm.

We have a poet in our midst,
although he doesn't happen to be in on this.

He's tall and dark—so handsome too,
That all the girls don't know what to do,
But he gives not another one a glance,
And that's the real truth,
For he reserves it all for one
And that girl's name is Ruth.
I wonder if you've guessed his name,
If not, you are a failure
For who could this fellow be,
But the one and only Kroehler.

Scotty had a little fellow,
His manners were as good as gold,
And still at him she'd scold,
He followed her to the dorm one day,
Which was against her wishes,
And just what happened after that,
Well—Good thing it wasn't dishes.
But things are running smoothly now,
As we all hope they do
Cause if anything happens to either of them
We'd all feel very blue.

Laundry and love just don't jive.
Maurice Oldre forgot all about issuing the laundry one evening when he went for a little stroll in the park. Beware boys!

They say Phil did a swell job of keeping France's hands warm during the ice capades.

Oh that Scud, she's not a dud;
Norval was just being nice
When he saw the icecapades twice.

Kroehler Is Stunt Night M. C.

Allen Kroehler was master of ceremonies at the stunt night sponsored by the two Y's on Thursday night, March 9, at the Gymnasium. The YW served the refreshments and the YM provided the entertainment which consisted of two melodramas, "Bluebeard" and "Ah" and group singing led by Don Throlson. Characters in the two stunts were taken by Allen Kroehler, Rodney Langseth, Howard Flugum, David Larson, Ralph Larson, Bill Foster, Alfred Johnson, Harley Gronau, and Roy Maglar.

Larimore's Entertain Pupils

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Larimore delightfully entertained a group of Mr. Larimore's piano pupils at their home on 1320 Keston Avenue, Sunday evening, March 5. Games were played and prizes awarded contestants in them. Phillip Youmans, a non-School pupil of Mr. Larimore's played a number of selections and demonstrated absolute pitch.

John, John the Superintendent's son
Stole Barthelemy and away he run.
They no sooner got back
Till Weis hit the track.
Do you get the angle?
It's now a triangle.

Kruse certainly gets around
For now Rita he has found.
According to the dates they've had,
I'd say they had it pretty bad.

That Mary Miller, they just can't slow
her down
Since Vernon Eid has left the town.
Last Saturday night she picked on Joe
To take her to and from the show.

Oh, that Neil Arendt
He says he just can't
So girls you'll have to wait awhile.
It won't be long til he'll change his style.

Don Wendt was called upon one day
And asked if he would join the play.
"Of course" he said, "if so will Kay."
At first they practiced just once a week
To learn their pieces how to speak
But now the story has changed a slight
They go to practice every night.
We hope Don now is well supplied
At least his wish was satisfied.

You know this fellow named Mack?
He acts as though he were on the right track.

He takes her here and there and follows her to and fro.
And the other night he took her to the show.

Some of these romances we hear.
Are about to close for this year.
And cupid you know
Will have to go slow
Till in the fall on the opening day—And that ain't hay.

Agreview Sale Is Success

Success! Yes, success is the only word which describes the Agreview sales campaign. A few weeks ago members of the staff paired off and started out to see which team would get the most subscriptions. Immediately everyone on the campus was canvassed. When the receipts were totaled it was found that $50.00 had been collected. Members of the winning team, Ruth Wichelmann and Allene Johnson, had sold $30.00 in subscriptions. A spread was given for these girls by the other staff members on February 29 at Meredith Hall. Singing and story telling made a festive hour a short one.

The Agreview staff wishes to take this opportunity to thank everyone who helped make this campaign a success by subscribing to the paper.

Why Not Write to Him?

"My thoughts often wander back to my alma mater and bring back pleasant memories of bygone days with campus life and classmates and instructors, that one had learned to know. Are activities still carrying on near normal? Or has the war greatly affected many of those traditions we old 'Aggies' hold so dear? At this time I'm especially thinking of the mid-winter Field Meet and reunion, and wondering if its spirit and good fellowship is as high as ever! Will be interested in hearing from any 'Aggie' who cares to write," writes Corporal Willard D. Abraham, 94th Combat Bomb Wing, A.P.O. 634, care of Postmaster, New York, N. Y.

At the March 15 meeting of the L.S.A. Mrs. Warner of the Home Economics Division related her experiences in Africa.

Dr. J. O. Christianson Faces New Problems in Education

Dr. J. O. Christianson is chairman of the veterans training committee of the University Department of Agriculture devoted to the study of postwar training for returned veterans. Other members on the committee are Dean Henry Schmitz of the College of Agriculture, Forestry, and Home Economics, Professors Clara Brown, Martin Sandstrom, Ralph Miller, William E. Morris, and Leigh Harden, Executive Secretary.

Dr. Christianson is also chairman of the Folk Arts Foundation, an appointment made by Governor Edwin Thye. Professor J. M. Nolte, Director, General Extension Division, is chairman of the committee planning this conference.

As director of all Agricultural Short Courses as well as Correspondence Courses in the Department of Agriculture, Dr. Christianson is promoting a new type of correspondence course in combination with a local short course. This plan is being tried out for the first time in the beekeeping correspondence course offered by Dr. Maurice C. Tanquary and the beekeeping short course to be held May 11, 12, 13 at University Farm.

For the first time, a registrant in this course is offered the privilege of completing ten of the sixteen lessons by correspondence and then receiving credit for the remaining six by attendance at the sessions of the beekeepers short course and writing the final examination at its close.

Dr. Tanquary's course enrolls 86 persons in 19 states and Canada and several of these expect to attend the short course.

Register Now

Five correspondence courses are being offered for credit in the School of Agriculture. These Are Red Letter Dates—June Tenth-October Ninth

TO OUR AGGIE STUDENTS: Home again for most all of you who were here this School year just ended. May you have a good and worthwhile season at home. Most of you are carrying Home Projects. You will find these very interesting if you get started right away and if you keep your records up to date. There will be prizes offered again next year for the best project work in each division. Some of you young folks will win them. The winners will be among those who get an early start, who keep good records, do good work and who carry through.

Superintendent J. O. Christianson

Mark this date on your calendar—Monday, October 9—registration day for the fall term of School. It will be here sooner than we realize. I suggest you send in your room reservation fee of $2.00. Better send it in right away. Then you will have $2.00 paid toward your next years expenses. Every indication is that our enrollment will be larger next fall so rooms will be at a premium. First come, first served.

We should like to have each of you bring a new student with you when you return. Better start work on that now. Let us know who may plan to attend. We will then send catalogs.

The Midsummer Reunion will be held at University Farm, Saturday, June 10 beginning with a program in the Auditorium at 7:30 and dance in the Gymnasium at 9 o'clock. We hope you can be here for that evening. Bring other Aggies with you from your community. All best wishes to all of you.
