NOBLES WINS TOP JUNIOR PRIZE

AGRICULTURE SCHOOL HOST TO JUNIORS

The largest Livestock Show in the history of Minnesota was in session from November 9 to 12 at South St. Paul. The show was especially interesting to the School students, not only because some School students were high point winners, but also because the registration and housing of the Juniors was directly in charge of the 4 H Club of the School of Agriculture. Four hundred of them were housed in the dormitories. After all the vacant rooms had been filled, cots for the visitors were set up in the students' rooms.

Wednesday was the big day of the show and nearly every student in the School visited South St. Paul to see the stock judged. That evening the exhibitors and others taking part in the show were entertained at a banquet by the St. Paul Association in the Union Depot. After this banquet the nine hundred guests paraded to the Orpheum Theater, where the grand champion prize winners were announced and were awarded prizes. Mayor Nelson

4 H CLUB ORGANIZED

How can we pool our experiences and help each other? The boys and girls in school who had been members of local 4 H Clubs, answered this question last spring by organizing a School of Agriculture 4 H Club. Under the guidance of Mr. T. A. Erickson, state club leader, a constitution was drawn up and the following officers elected: President, Alton Hanson; vice-president, Fred Halstead; secretary, Dora Newbauer; treasurer, Hazel Sheldon; and sergeant-at-arms, Ray Sullivan.

This 4 H Club gave a brief program in assembly early in November, at which it was decided to provide for the housing and entertainment of the boys and girls attending the Junior Livestock

Show. The club members canvassed the student body for space available for the visitors and entertained them with a program, on Monday evening of show week. The 4 H Club has displayed the kind of school spirit that will attract other 4 H-ers to the School of Agriculture.

BREMER SETS RECORD IN FIVE MILE RUN

HALLOWEEN TOURNAMENT

On the night of October 31, the gym was the scene of the traditional Halloween Interclass Tournament. A large crowd attended and showed its appreciation. Very keen rivalry was manifest from the start.

Any one having doubts as to the outcome soon had them shattered by the seniors, who came first in great style. The freshmen upset the dope in showing great superiority over the juniors, who went home talking to themselves. The intermediates, not being very well represented, could not compete in all entries, thus received the short end of the score.

Basket-ball seemed to be the most popular of all events. In the opening tilt the seniors defeated the freshmen to the tune of six to two. The game had the semblance of a football game as far as scrimmage and touchdowns were concerned.

The intermediate-junior game was a hard fought one. The final game between the seniors and intermediates was a very interesting affair. Going into the second half with the score four to two in their favor, the seniors, led by Elmer Bean, staged a terrific attack. When the intermediates found themselves, they were on the short end of a fourteen to two score.

The final standings were as follows:

SCHOOL HARRIERS WIN ANNUAL FIVE MILE RUN

The St. Paul Y. M. C. A. sponsored the third annual five-mile race Armistice Day, and for the second time the S. A. U. M. harriers won the meet from the St. Paul Y. M. C. A. and the Hamline teams. In a field of about forty men, Erhardt Bremer came in first, setting the record time of 27:34 down to 27:7. He was followed by Bob Horrocks of Hamline, none other than the young man who beat Ed Bremer last year. Gold Elling, McGillvray and Lee DeGrisselles came in fifth, eighth, ninth and tenth. With Bremer they earned the points that won the meet, and earned their letters. With Cook, Hafstad, Heise and Hanson following close on DeGrisselles, the team captured nine places out of the first fifteen.

FARM SCHOOL RUNNER MAKES GOOD

Errol Anderson, one of our last year's star runners who is now in the engineering college, won the annual triangular cross-country meet recently held on the University campus. Errol led the flock of about forty men to the finish line in the fast time of 14:45. Coach Emil Iverson, commenting on the race, said, "The boys ran a good race, and I expect to find some good material for the cross-country team next year."

Hooray for Errol!

AGGIE OPPONENTS WIN STATE CROSS COUNTRY MEET

Roosevelt High harriers, who on October 23 defeated the S. A. U. M. team, on November 7 won the state cross-country title. Roosevelt placed 1st, 2nd, 3rd, 4th and 6th. The other schools to finish were Sandstone, South Central, and North High schools, Minneapolis, Pine City, Norwood, and Rochester, respectively. Roosevelt High now holds the trophy, but it will be at stake again until a team has won it three successive years.

MOVIES

Saturday night, October 31, an educational film was run, showing the work of the Red Wing experimental electric line. This is directed by the engineering division of the University and interested power companies to determine the extent to which electricity can be used successfully as a source of power and light on the modern farm.

+ + +

All who saw it agreed that Douglas MacLean's "Introduce Me" was the most thrilling movie that we have had here this term. It was shown to a large audience Saturday night, November 7.

+ + +

Mary Pickford in "Little Annie Rooney" was shown November 11 to the largest audience that ever attended a movie in the Auditorium.

LITERARY UNION PRESENTS KESTER PAGEANT GREEN KNIGHT SAVES AGRICULTURE

LITERARY UNION PRESENTS S.A.U.M.- OWL CAST IN PAGEANT

The S.A.U.M.-Owl cast of forty-six characters, coached by Miss Mary McNabb, appeared at the auditorium in Miss Kester's pageant, "The Green Knight," Saturday evening, November 14.

The action in the play takes place in the throne room of King Agriculture. He has assembled his counsellors to decide what to do to satisfy the complaints of the dairyman, the chicken raiser, the farmer and the farmer's wife. The knights of the field, Timothy, Corn, Clover and others, offer to do their best to please them, but soon learn that none of them can get along without the help of the Green Knight, Alfalfa. He wins the hand of the Princess Prosperity as his reward.

The principal parts were taken by Fred Halstead as the Green Knight; Charles Robinson, the Jester; Lee DeGrisselles, as the Chief Counsellor; George Jertsen and Hazel Sheldon, as King Agriculture and his Queen; Charles Adams, the villain, Timothy; Cecil Churchward, the Herald; and Hannah Ring, the princess, Prosperity.

Between the two acts of the pageant, Miss Kearcher presented Lucille Cook, Esther Schultz, Smila Vee, Helen Noreen, Martha Freuchte and Oma Converse in the pretty "Dance of the Autumn Leaves."

The orchestra under the direction of Mr. Boland, contributed music appropriate to the pageant. Professor C. N. Carey, of the horticulture division was responsible for the very lovely autumn setting of the stage.

FORD PLANT EXCURSION

Saturday afternoon, November 7, about sixty boys made an excursion to the Ford plant. The entire group used the street car as means of transportation, no one having much faith in busses as they seem to go astray on occasions like these very easily. On arriving, a special guide took the entire party through the factory. This excursion was the second of the series planned by the students' council. Be ready for the next one. See America first!

MUSIC NOTES

There are many kinds of notes heard in the music building and in the assembly. Among the organizations producing the most popular notes (or shall we say tones?) is the boys' double quartette. The singers in this quartette are William Dankers, Edgar Parker, Charles Neitzel, Kenneth Larson, Cecil Churchward, Stanley Callister, Ray Cline, and Roland Whiting.

The School is waiting eagerly to hear from the mixed chorus and the boys' and girls' choruses. They are enrolling a large number of students. When will we hear them?

A splendid concert was given Wednesday evening, November 10, by the Selim Grotta Band of Minneapolis, directed David W. Boland. The band was assisted by Mrs. Christine Rollefson Larand and the S. A. U. M. male quartet.

PRINCIPAL CHARACTERS IN PAGEANT

Lee DeGrisselles, Fred Halstead, Hannah Ring, George Jertson, Hazel Sheldon, Cecil Churchward, Charles Adams, Charles Robinson

SUNLIGHT DANCES

The seniors sponsored the daylight dance on October 31, and the juniors the one on Armistice Day. Both were well attended. The dancers complained that fifty-three came too soon.

EXCURSION TO STATE PRISON

Saturday afternoon, November 14, the combined students council sponsored an excursion by bus to the State Prison at Stillwater. Thirty-five students took advantage of this opportunity to see the work and the home life of the prison.

After arriving at the prison, the students were escorted through the different departments of the prison by two guides, who explained the work done in each department, and the privileges given the convicts. Homeward bound, the party went on a sightseeing trip through the business section of St. Paul, and through Summit Avenue, returning back to the campus late in the afternoon.

Everyone who went on this excursion enjoyed it immensely and there is no doubt but that this has been the most enjoyable and successful excursion this year.

WE WISH YOU A VERY MERRY CHRISTMAS

IF YOU WERE A FRESHMAN

This question was asked of a graduate who has largely earned his way through school: "If you were a freshman, would you borrow money to go to school?"

His answer may help others who are asking that question now. "If possible, I should come to school with enough money to cover expenses of the first term, because then I could devote all my time to school work. I should not advise a student to borrow that money, because it is hard to pay a debt and earn enough money to go to school a second term. Where a boy has a will to go to school, he has the will to earn the money before he goes to school.

"After the first term is successfully past, a student may safely plan to come to school even with limited means, though he must realize that he has a hard row to hoe and it takes courage to stand up under the test. An ambitious student can secure work around the campus to pay for his expenses, but he cannot be too particular about the kind of work that must be done.

"I have known many students who have earned enough during the long summer vacation to pay their way through school. Others have worked on the campus, too, during school. Some of these arrived with no capital and finished school and college with a bank account to their credit.

"Money borrowed for an education is money borrowed for an investment, but money earned for an education is the measure of one's manhood."

COMMENCEMENT SPEAKERS

The highest compliment that can be paid to a senior is to be selected as commencement speaker. The preparation necessary for the delivery of a School of Agriculture commencement address is equivalent to that needed for the best course offered in the school. Linked with the honor is serious work. That is what makes the school commencement exercises unique. The seniors chosen to carry on this tradition are: Alton Hanson, Albert Lea, Erhardt Bremer, Lake City; Arthur Jacobson, Bricelyn; Fred Halstead, Fergus Falls; Hazel Sheldon, Waseca; Lovilla Newton, White Bear.

BUSINESS DEPARTMENT HAS NEW QUARTERS

The business department has been transferred from the basement of the girls' dormitory to its new quarters in Rooms 104, 105, 106 and 107 in the old Dairy Hall. New tables have been added to the equipment in the bookkeeping and penmanship rooms. More typewriters will be added when the boys are permitted to register for Typewriting II.

If a farmer is to be a business man, he must know how to use the tools of the business man. This department provides the training the farmer needs in his own business. It has grown from an enrollment of seventy, three years ago, to the present enrollment of one hundred and ninety, because it is like any other plant, when given sunlight it will flourish and grow.

SENIORS PLAN ANNUAL

Twenty-seven years ago the School of Agriculture took a step ahead of every other school of agriculture in the United States and admitted girls into her classes. What was a revolution then is now a commonly accepted condition, but it has remained for the Agrarian Staff to be the first one in these twenty-eight years to compliment the girls in the School of Agriculture, by making them the theme of the 1926 Agrarian. Will it sell? We think so.

ART IN SCHOOL LIFE

Problem! The dining room in the Home Economics Building is not homey.

Malcontents: The class in House Planning and Furnishings decides this must be remedied.

Procedure: Committees investigate situation. Find walls bare. Table cover not suitable. Shiny china in cupboards exposed to the naked eye. Glass candlesticks on sideboard brash.

Conference: Committees decide art shall dominate changes in room. Stores are visited. Committees assume responsibility for each change. Budget is organized. Purchases made. Photographer preserves in-artistic appearance of room. Much more planning. Pictures appear on walls. Colorful curtains screen windows. Proportion is achieved on sideboard. Art serves the dining room.

Results: Purposeful class work. Satisfied students. Pleasant dining room. Art is preserved in life.

DEAN COFFEY ELECTED CONFERENCE HEAD

About eighty delegates from farmers' and business men's organizations in Minnesota, Wisconsin, North and South Dakota, and Montana met to confer about rural economic problems in St. Paul, October 13 and 14. They elected Dean W. C. Coffey unanimously as chairman of the conference, which was held under the auspices of the national civic and commerce association.

GEOMETRY

Miss Martyn: You must have a reason for that proof.

Mr. Hanson: That's understood.

Miss Martyn: Nothing is understood in this class.

MINNESOTA HIGH SCHOOL PRESS CONVENTION

The members of the Minnesota High School Press Association gathered at the University High School October 30 and 31, for their sixth annual convention.

The program opened Friday morning with a press mixer to get the delegates acquainted with each other. This was followed by a musical number from the University High School double quartette.

Addresses of welcome were given by R. R. Barlow of the Department of Journalism of the University, and Mr. C. W. Boardman of the University High School.

Mr. T. D. Dillon, managing editor of the Minneapolis Tribune, spoke on the subject of editorial management, and Mr. Paul Bliss, Publicity Manager of the Minneapolis Community Fund, talked on the art of interviewing. This concluded the forenoon session.

The afternoon session opened with a musical number by the University string quartette. Mr. M. M. Oppgard gave a talk on international news gathering and the Associated Press. The rest of the afternoon session was devoted to round table discussions.

In the evening a banquet was held at the Minnesota Union. Governor Theodore Christianson addressed the high school journalists at this banquet. Wallace Hughes of University High School acted as toastmaster. A dance ended the Friday program of the convention.

At the Saturday morning session, Mr. Walter Rice, Editor of the Minnesota Daily, spoke on the problems of the newspaper, and Miss Mabel Hodenfeld, editor of the Minnesota Quarterly, talked on the problems of the magazine.

In the business meeting that followed, a bill barring the awarding of prizes to annuals whose art work was not the product of students was introduced. The delegates voted unanimously in favor of the bill and it was added to the by-laws of the association. The following officers were elected for the coming year: President, Clarence Mixon of Cretin High School; treasurer, Miss Ball of West High, Minneapolis; secretary, Maynard Johnson of Two Harbors. Rochester was selected as the 1926 convention city.

This concluded the business and in the afternoon the delegates viewed the Minnesota-Wisconsin football game.

Delegates representing the News of the School of Agriculture were Alvin Friberg, Esther Reeck, and Miss Hognason. The Agrarian was represented by Gerald Wise and Miss Matson. Other members of the staff who took advantage of the opportunity and attended some of the sessions were Ruby Quist, Fred Halstead, Hazel Sheldon, and Hannah Ring.

Win Trip to International Livestock Show

The winners of the county club leadership contests have been awarded trips to the International Livestock Show in Chicago. On the list are the names of Rudolph Holmberg of Murray County; Mildred Majerus, '25, of Goodhue county; and Otto Fahning of LeSeuer county.

The News congratulates.

ASSEMBLY SPEAKERS RANGE IN CHOICE OF SUBJECTS FROM FRAGILE EGGS TO COSTLY WAR

Indian Cornetist

Mr. Robert E. Bruce, famous Indian cornetist, who is a graduate of the Carlisle Indian School, entertained the October 17 assembly with several solos. His accompanist was Mr. Paul E. Oberg, who broadcasts for the WCCO station in St. Paul.

Personality May Be Cultivated

Dr. Smiley Blanton, who has charge of the Child's Guidance Clinic of Minneapolis Department of Education, spoke to the October 20 assembly, emphasizing the fact that good personality is the product of training and that one must learn to adjust himself to the group.

Shubert's "Serenade" was sung by Edward Landin, with Miss Dickerman at the piano. Miss Shaettgen played the violin obligato.

Man Is a Three-Dimension Being

His physical, intellectual and moral qualities must all be educated in order that his life be rounded. This was the theme of Mr. J. S. Wilson, Y.M.C.A. lecturer, in his talk to the October 23, assembly.

4 H Club Day

The October 24 assembly was given over to a program by the 4 H Club. Hazel Sheldon presented the aim of the club in the School of Agriculture. Lee De-Grisselles talked on leadership. Mr. Kittleson, assistant state club leader, told of the opportunities open to school students in local club work. Alton Hanson presided over the meeting.

Co-operative Community Life Produces Leaders

Several communities in the United States are famous for the unusual number of famous men they have produced. Professor E. A. Roadman of Fayette, Iowa, explained the success of these men as the result of co-operation in their home communities. Professor Roadman spoke in the October 27 assembly.

Education Should Be Comprehensive

Says Mr. P. G. Orweg, a worker in the American Youth Foundation. Broaden out, do not confine yourself to one interest, was his message to the students in assembly, October 28.

Prepare for Life Work

The ability to do things plus the will to work, means success, was President Coffman's advice to the group of students gathered in assembly, October 30.

The boys' double quartette appeared in this assembly for the first time this term.

The Wisconsin University

In the November 7 assembly, a movie was shown to illustrate what the Wisconsin University is doing.

Uncle Norton

Greeted his adopted nieces and nephews in assembly, October 31, and in the presence of witnesses adopted the new students. Uncle Norton, who is Mr. Chapman, "the chicken man," told how valuable eggs are and how to increase their production.

The saxophone quartette, Messrs. Wogenson, Haight, Langord, and Neitzel, played at this assembly.

An Experiment in Education

Mr. Charles F. Potter, executive secretary of Antioch College, Ohio, told in the November 3 assembly how Mr. Morgan, the president of Antioch College, had started the school that is different from other schools and like the School of Agriculture, in the division of students' time into periods of theory and of practice.

It Takes Skill and Knowledge

To be a farmer, says Mr. James D. Parker of Minneapolis, speaker in the November 4 assembly. A farmer is a business man, who has developed the art of feeding, clothing, and housing the world:

The Power of Personality

Is the most precious gift and should be developed. Miss McNabb, the new rhetoric teacher, made this clear in the November assembly. She said, "have faith in one's self, in one's fellowmen, and in the Creator, dream dreams, and then be doers, be patient, courageous, considerate, true, and cheerful.

Hannah Ring sang as a solo, "The Sunshine of Your Smile."

Lest We Forget

The Armistice was remembered in the November 10 assembly in Dr. G. A. Lundquist's talk on the late war. Mr. Boland sounded taps in memory of those whose names are found on the honor roll.

Pep-Fest for Winners

The November 13 assembly cheered the team that won the five-mile race; James Noble, winner of the most sought for place in the Junior Livestock Show; Schmiesing of Redwood, for his record as leader in the club summer camp, and the Moorhead football team, visitors in the assembly and champions of their district. It was a lively pep-fest.

University Celebrates Home Coming

The "home coming" welcome was given by Mr. E. B. Pierce in assembly November 14. "Minnesota, Hail to Thee!" was sung, and the S. A. U. M. band played. Mr. Pierce described home coming as a "peppy time." There is a warm heartedness about it when people come back to renew acquaintances and fellowship which everyone feels.

Fremont Deters, a freshman last year, and James Noble will register in the School next term.

The News congratulates each exhibitor and wishes them similar success in their future work.

BAILEY WORLD KNOWN CHEMIST REFLECTS HONOR ON SCHOOL OF AGRICULTURE

DR. CLYDE H. BAILEY, CEREAL CHEMIST

One of the many alumni of which the School of Agriculture is justly proud is Dr. Clyde H. Bailey of the biochemistry division. He is known as the greatest authority on cereal chemistry in the world today.

It was due to the influence of his family's physician, Dr. Hall of Minneapolis, that he entered the School, from which he graduated in 1905. Dr. Harry Snyder, then head of the chemistry division, a man of high character and fine personality, directed Dr. Bailey's attention to chemistry and encouraged him to further study in that field.

Dr. Bailey lived in Pendergast Hall when he came to school, and was one of the first boys to occupy a room in the then new boys' dormitory, now known as Dexter Hall. During his stay in the dormitory he was cadet captain of military discipline. This position corresponds to that of monitor in the present system.

The influence of the School gave Dr. Bailey his start in his life work. He offers this suggestion to the students of today: "There are two things an education will do for us. First, it helps us find out what our special interests in life are and helps us make a beginning. Second, it gives us a survey of the field in which we are interested." In explanation of this he likes to quote Professor Robertson, "An education is not only to remember facts, but to learn where to look for facts that we cannot remember."

Dr. Clyde H. Bailey

MISS McNABB, DRAMATIC INSTRUCTOR

Miss Mary McNabb of the rhetoric department is Miss Kester's successor as dramatic coach in the School. Her home town is Emporia, Kansas, down where she says they raise real wheat, corn, and alfalfa. She attended preparatory schools there and also the teachers' college, and specialized in dramatics, public speaking, and journalism. After graduation, she had considerable experience in journalism, working for William Allen White, the nationally known journalist of Kansas. Later she took post graduate work in public speaking and journalism at the University of Wisconsin.

For the past six years she has resided in St. Paul. At present she is president of the Business and Professional Women's Club of St. Paul.

WILL YOU COME?

The fourth Mid-Winter meeting of the Alumni Association of the School of Agriculture will be held Wednesday, January 20, 1926, at 5 p.m. in the Party room of the Dining Hall.

This meeting is not the fancy of any one or more persons who may be spirited with the hope of assembling some of the alumni. Instead, it is a regular meeting of the association. The revised constitution of 1924 contains an article which provides that the Executive Board shall fix and announce the date of two meetings besides the regular Annual Meeting in March. By vote of the board, the above date for meeting was fixed for this year.

The time of the meeting is so arranged that no conflict between it and any of the Short Course classes will exist. Further, the time being set at 5 p.m., permits each one to come to the gathering and banquet with your old friend and alumnus. The plan of procedure is for each person to go to the cafeteria, obtain what food you desire and carry it down to the dining room (Party room) just beneath the cafeteria.

President Donovan has charged the entertainment committee to arrange a snappy program for the occasion and the secretary has tuned in on them and found them preparing something none of us can afford to miss.

TRAINING IN AGRICULTURE PAYS

Franklin was right when he said "an investment in education pays the best interest." Training in agriculture helps men earn more money. This is shown by a study made by the New York College of Agriculture, in reference to the influence of agricultural training on the earning capacity of farmers. In a careful cost accounting of a group of farmers having about the same capital invested in their farms, it was found that those who had attended schools of agriculture made twice as much as those who had received no agricultural training. Minnesota has made no special study of this problem, but doubtless the same difference would be shown here. It pays to prepare for farming.
