REGENTS REAPPOINT PROFESSOR CHRISTIANSON

The Board of Regents re-appointed Professor J. O. Christianson to the position of Acting Principal of the School of Agriculture at their June meeting. Professor Christianson has been with the School of Agriculture for over eleven years. From 1920 to 1924 he was in charge of a special department rehabilitating World War veterans in agriculture. Following that he taught social sciences in the School of Agriculture. During the six spring and summer months each year Mr. Christianson supervised summer project work for the School throughout southwestern Minnesota. During the past two years he has spoken to over 150 rural groups throughout Minnesota on Agricultural Education and co-operative organization work.

This summer Professor Christianson has been actively promoting a program for increased attendance during the fall term and much of his time has been spent in the field with this object in view. A large attendance in the fall will prevent overcrowding in classes and insure better balanced programs for all students, says Professor Christianson.

UNIVERSITY OF MINNESOTA

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE

UNIVERSITY FARM, ST. PAUL

OFFICE OF THE PRINCIPAL

August 27, 1930

TO GRADUATES, STUDENTS, AND PROSPECTIVE STUDENTS:

You who have completed your work at the School of Agriculture no doubt are wishing that you might be back this fall to get started again. You will miss the renewing of old friendships and the making of new ones, the registration, the classes, and the social activities. And we shall miss you as well. But don't stay away just because you have been graduated from the School. Here are many courses which would be of benefit to you, and you could select only those things in which you are particularly interested. Better think it over, and make arrangements to be in the line-up Monday morning, September 29.

I am looking forward to seeing all of you who have not yet completed your work at the opening of this coming term. I presume that you are all ready to come,—even counting the days and hours until you again meet all the old Aggie friends. Now that you have so good a start do not let anything change your course. Keep right on and complete it. It is easier, perhaps, not to break loose again to start out for school, but the things that are worth while are not always the things that come most easily. Establish the surety of your future success and happiness by completing your work here at the School of Agriculture. We shall be looking for you Monday, September 29.

To you who are making plans for attending the School of Agriculture for the first time I say: Just come and be one of the family. You will find this group at the Aggie School the most congenial, sociable, and helpful of any group you have ever known. We make it easy for you to go here. Now that you have looked over the catalogs, talked it over with Mother and Dad, thought of what you would like to take, just make definite arrangements for coming. For most of you we have already received the $2 room reservation fee so you have a place reserved for yourselves in the dormitory. Those of you who have not made this reservation should do so right away.

The only way to get started is to make definite plans and then follow those plans. Although you may start in the winter term, it is more satisfactory all around for you to get started in the fall and to continue for the six months. Get your trunk packed, bring along any musical instruments you play and be with us Monday, September 29. I know that Mother and Dad want you to be prepared to meet the coming years with success and happiness, and nothing would please them more than to have you get a good education now while you are in the best years.

With all best wishes to all of you and your folks,
I remain

Cordially yours,

Acting Principal

WEDDINGS CROWD SUMMER CALENDAR

Some weddings have come to the attention of the News of the School of Agriculture that cannot be reported because they cannot be verified and some weddings are reported about which nothing could be learned but the names of the principals. We shall be glad to tell your friends all about it, if you tell us when you marry!

Miss Hazel Wade, instructor in the business department, was married to Mr. Phillip Stern at her home on June 14. Their wedding trip took them to the Black Hills and to Yellowstone Park. Mrs. Stern will continue in her position as instructor in the School.

Miss Jennie Shefvland was married to Mr Arthur Engelsgaard at her sister's home in Audobon on August 1. They will make their home at Fosston, Minnesota.

Bernice Dickerman, instructor in piano and official accompanist, and Rhys Haight, School '23, College '29, were married at Elgin on June 9. They are making their home in Marshall where Rhys is employed as manager of the Swift creamery plant.

Adelia Schmiesing, '30, and Porter Olstad, '22, were married at the bride's home on May 4. They will make their home at Cedar Lodge Farm near Hanska.

Howard Friese, '30, and Lillian Emigh, ex-31, were married last spring and are making their home in St. Anthony Park.

Marian Poole, School '25 and College of Education '30, and Eynar Benson, College of Forestry '30, were married at the Poole home at Winnebago on June 11. Mr. Benson, will take his bride to New Haven, Connecticut, where he will do graduate work at Yale.

Ruby Quist, '28, and Gerald Wise, '26, were married at Scandia Grove, June 24, and are making their home on the Wise farm near Lake City.

Dorothy Agnes Ann Neubauer, '25, and August Lentner were married at the bride's home on June 17. They are making their home at St. Bonifacius.

Louis Schmiesing, ex-'25, and Helen E. Hanson were married on May 31. They make their home on Louis' farm near Lucan.

Hult Nelson, '28, and Evelyn Hermstad were married June 25 and are making their home, building a new one, on the Nelson farm, near Litchfield.

Announcement of Frank Crippen's, '28, marriage to Mildred David of Sanborn on June 24 has been received.

Roy Munson, '28, and Florence Constance Lee were married at the bride's home in Hanska on June 24. They are making their home in St. James.

Hannah Ring, '26, and Peder Brandvold, '26, consummated their Aggie romance in their marriage on June 10. They will be at home in Kenyon where Peder is in the garage business.

AGGIES DIP INTO POLITICS

Chester Christgau, '22, is politically minded, too. He is a candidate for election to the legislature in the tenth district. The "too" referred to Victor Christgau, '17, who is a candidate for congress from the first district which he has represented there for two years. Other Aggies whose hats are in the ring are Frank White, '07, a candidate for election as representative to the legislature from district seven; Karl Eklund, '07, who expects to be elected county commissioner of St. Louis County; and Stuart McLeod, '17, who is running for the State Senate, representing Pennington County.

The University of Minnesota suffered a great loss when Dr. Royal N. Chapman resigned to become head of the Pineapple Growers Association Experiment Station at Honolulu, Hawaii, at a salary which Minnesota could not meet. Dr. Chapman has been at the head of the Division of Entomology and Economic Zoology, and his prestige has attracted to his department students from all over the world.

Summer projects, alumni picnics, county graduations, new students, 4-H Club meetings and camps, besides numberless unnamed activities have held the attention of Professor J. O. Christianson and the summer project supervisors: Professor P. L. Johnsrud, Wm. H. Dankers, and Philip A. Swenson.

Miss Laura Matson spent eight weeks in the West traveling. She made her headquarters at her sister's home in Denver, Colorado. Among the interesting experiences she had was a visit to State Creek Dude Ranch, in the wildest part of the Rockies. "When the emergency brake on the Buick held no longer, we were transferred into a wagon in which we made the perilous climb. Our way lead through a lake which had to be forded. The view from the 10,000 foot elevation of the ranch was worth the effort we made."

Miss Matson visited Cheyenne, Wyoming, and witnessed the annual three-day round-up. In August she made an automobile trip into the southwestern part of the country, visiting Arizona and New Mexico.

Miss Johanna Hognason enjoyed a canoe trip on the Minnesota-Canadian border lakes in the Gunflint, Saganaga, and Sea Gull system. One day was spent in Cache Bay in the Quetico Reserve in Canada.

D. W. Boland has been soloist with the Minneapolis Park Board bands all summer. His pupil on the trumpet, Gladys Manthey of Minneapolis, won first place in the State High School Music Contest held at the University May 15 to 17.

To the Aggies in College, on the Farm, or nearby, belongs the credit for the success of the summer reunion which was held at University Farm June 14. Ralph Wood was general chairman under whom these committees served: Athletics, Erick Ahlstrand, Erhardt Bremer, Howard Friese; program, Frances Van Voorhis, Edith Bennion, Wm. H. Dankers; orchestra, Chester Billings, Nels Hanson; refreshments, Loren McMartin, Muriel Bassett, Vernie Clementson; and invitations, Herman Nielsen, Louis Schmiesing, Rudolph Hard, Eleanor Eckholm, Herbert Brown, and John Marrs.

HENNEPIN COUNTY AGGIES ACTIVE

The Hennepin County Aggies held their annual summer reunion at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Lane, '07, near Minnetonka Mills, August 2. The meeting was under the direction of Baldwin Hartkopf, '10, Osseo, President, and Martha Hawkins, '17, Secretary, Rogers.

C. C. Hunter, '97, was in charge of entertainment and according to what everyone said, he must have made it go. New officers elected for the coming year are: President, C. A. Jones, '08, Hopkins; Vice-President, Mrs. W. A. Schmidt, Osseo; Secretary-Treasurer, Martha Hawkins, Rogers.

The next meeting of the Association will be a dinner at the Minneapolis Y.M.C.A. Saturday evening, December 13, 1930, at 7 o'clock. This year again the Association ran a lunch stand and dining hall at the Hennepin County Fair, all Aggies contributing services in helping to raise a Scholarship Endowment fund for the School of Agriculture. Other counties may well look to Hennepin.

Other Aggie Reunions

The Aggies of southwestern Minnesota met for their annual reunion at the Dwight Ludlow home at Worthington, June 15. Professor L. B. Bassett of University Farm was the speaker of the day. Herman Skovgard of Hills was elected President for the coming year.

The Pine County Alumni met at the call of W. F. Hammergren, '15, County Agent of Pine County, and organized the Pine County School of Agriculture Alumni Association. Alvin Jensen, '28, was elected President. They are planning to have a banquet in September to which all prospective students for the School will be invited. The Pine County delegation at the School is becoming larger each year due to the splendid activities of all the Aggies in that county.

The Goodhue County Aggies met Sunday, August 8, at the Roy Voxland, '17, home near Kenyon. Lloyd Nelson of Dennison was elected President.

Oscar Gilbertson, '20, of Spring Grove, President of the Houston County Aggie Alumni Association, arranged for the reunion which was held on August 17 at Caledonia. Chester McNelly, '05, Assistant County Agent Leader, and Professor P. L. Johnsrud, '07, addressed the gathering.

The number of Aggie reunions is increasing. It is hoped that plans for most of the summer reunions can be made early enough so that details may be printed in this paper in March. The School will be glad to aid in getting out publicity material for reunions.

DONOVAN NOW HEADS NORTH CENTRAL SCHOOL

Announcement was made after the recent meeting of the Board of Regents of the University, that R. L. Donovan had been appointed superintendent of the North Central School of Agriculture and Experiment Station at Grand Rapids, to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Otto I. Bergh. A statement prepared in the office of Dean Coffey contains a brief summary of his services to agriculture. This statement is as follows:

Raymond L. Donovan was graduated from the School of Agriculture, University Farm, in 1905; and from the College of Agriculture, Forestry, and Home Economics in 1909. His ambition, as a student, was to be a farm manager, and, upon graduation, he took charge of the Boulder Bridge Farm of 300 acres on Lake Minnetonka. Later he was manager of the Hickory Island farm of 3500 acres near Austin; of the Maywood farms of 3500 acres near Rochester, and assistant manager of the Schermerhorn farms of 20,000 acres in Mahnomon county. Mr. Donovan also had charge of fifteen demonstration farms in the northern part of the state for the University Department of Agriculture.

"For two years Mr. Donovan was with the Department of Farm Management, University of Illinois; and since 1926 he has been with the extension division of the University Department of Agriculture as specialist in dairying and farm management.

"Mr. Donovan is a native of Minnesota and he is thoroughly acquainted with the agriculture of the state. He is especially skilled in dairying and farm management and in these subjects he is a most effective teacher."

AGGIE ON SCHOOL STAFF

Mr. William H. Dankers, School '25, College '29, has been appointed instructor to teach economics and marketing in the School of Agriculture. Mr. Dankers has supervised summer project work for the School in Northern Minnesota for three summers and this past summer has supervised project work in southwestern Minnesota. He won the Tomhave medal for all-college livestock judging, and he was a member of the Livestock Judging Team which represented the University of Minnesota at the large national and international shows.

Mr. Dankers worked in the Farm Accounts department of the Agricultural Economics Division during his four years in college and was given an assistantship in that division last year, during which time he taught Farm Management in the School.

TO A CRICKET

Oh, now I've found your hiding place
You wayward little cricket;
It's down below the barn a pace,
In a deep stubble thicket.

You little ebony creeper,
Of summer always singing;
You wondrous puny peeper,
Your fife is always ringing.

Out in the fields on summer eves
Your notes unwearying run,
While I on Rhythm's roughened seas
Float uncomforted alone.

Little think we of our music
Till it passes with the leaves;
But, oh, how thick, how dull and thick
Grow days when you singing cease.

We're wondering where you've gone to,
If buried in the stubble,
When somewhere near the warming flue
You start singing with the kettle.

STUDENTS' PRIVILEGE TICKETS

Beginning this fall all students will be given the privilege of taking in all school events such as movies, dramatic productions, dances, athletic events, etc., by buying a Students' Privilege Ticket at the beginning of the term. This will do away with the necessity of buying any other tickets for the rest of the term. The Students' Privilege Tickets will be on sale for $3 at the Cashier's office beginning Wednesday, October 1.

Be sure to get them before Saturday, October 4. This ticket will admit the student to nine Saturday night talking movies, any one of which would cost 50 cents at any theater, to three dances including the Athletic Association Ball, four parties, and one dramatic production. It will also include a year's subscription to the School of Agriculture News.

Those who do not have Students' Privilege Tickets will have to pay the regular admission charge for each event which would amount to over $7 for all the events. Be sure to get this ticket right away and avail yourselves of all the advantages of School of Agriculture life.

PROJECT SUPERVISORS TELL OF SUMMER WORK

Summer project work in the northern part of the state has shown itself to be a good form of practical education, not only for the students, but for the parents and neighbors as well. As supervisor of summer projects during this summer, I have had experiences that have shown its real value to me. Meeting the Aggie folks in their own homes has brought out to me more clearly the affects of the Aggie School education on rural districts.

Pine County has shown greater results due perhaps to the large number of graduates now residing there. The Pine County Aggie Reunion on June 16 gave a good illustration of the Aggie spirit in the county. The Pine County Fair also illustrated the organization and co-operative ability of the Aggies.

Ottertail County also has a large number of graduates. Their willingness to help get organized and bring more of the young folks of their county to the school shows that their Aggie spirit is active at all times in promoting the School of Agriculture.

Some of the projects are attracting the attention of the entire neighborhood. This shows that the students are doing unusual work and are bringing out the idea that in the School of Agriculture they learn to do things right by doing. Even in spite of the drought, prospects for a good enrollment at the School are very favorable. Many are making room reservations for the fall term.

Philip A. Swenson, Project Supervisor

Project Work in Southwestern Minnesota

The 1930 season again had a large enrollment in summer project work. Before the first trip through the southwest district was completed there were already several invitations to come to 4-H club camps. The following 4-H camps were attended: a tri-county camp consisting of Redwood, Renville, and Yellow Medicine counties at Redwood Falls; the Brown county 4-H camp at Fort Ridgely; the Pipestone County camp at Pipestone; and the Cottonwood County camp at Windom. At these camps instruction in stock judging was given as well as the Illustrated Lecture on the School of Agriculture.

Naturally the Aggies like to get together and so along with the 4-H club camps there were several County Aggie reunions. Reunions attended were Pine County, where a live bunch of Aggies got together for their first reunion and liked it so well that they are going to have another Aggie reunion banquet some time in September; the Hennepin County Aggies, August 2, at Minnetonka Mills, which was the third get-together for the Hennepin County group this summer. The Hennepin County association plans on giving a scholarship to the School. Another very successful reunion that was attended was at the Elmer Hovde farm on the shore of Lake Hnska in Watonwan County. This group was fortunate in having the Honorable Victor Christgau, one of our noted Aggies, as the speaker of the day.

Even commercial concerns are deeply interested in the School of Agriculture. This year the Minnesota Valley Canning Company is offering four $150 scholarships, one at each of their four plants, for the boy or girl who grows the best five acres of sweet corn. Each contestant must plant and take care of his own corn without any help from his parents. The contest known as Del Maiz has over 40 contestants, and since most boys would enjoy a $150 scholarship immensely, competition is very keen. The awards are made by a committee consisting of one representative from the extension division, one from the School of Agriculture, and one from the Canning Company.

Some boys form a partnership with their fathers at an early age. Mr. W. D. Stegner is directing a large number of 4-H club partnership projects in several counties in the state. In the contract that these boys have there is a statement that the money made must be either put in the bank or spent for further education. Many boys decide to get further education and for that reason considerable time was spent with Mr. Stegner visiting these boys and telling them about the School of Agriculture.

Besides the 4-H club camps and the Aggie reunions about 15 other meetings have been attended such as Farm Bureau Units, Farmers' Clubs, and Community Clubs.

Some very worthwhile projects have been carried on by some of the students during the summer. Probably the two most popular projects for the boys have been tractor operation and fertilizer experiments. For the girls, garden and poultry projects have been most common.

The former students are already anxiously awaiting the opening day of school, and the new students are getting trunks packed and all arrangements made for the great event of enrolling in the School of Agriculture. Wm. H. Dankers, Project Supervisor

COMMUNITY PROJECTS WIN PRAISE

Experience in practical up-to-date farming and successful community leadership is encouraged through summer projects. The educational value of this work is recognized by giving credits toward graduation or units toward college entrance.

Fourteen years of project supervision have convinced me of its practical value. A large number of our students are applying their schooling this summer in their homes and in their communities.

The Rice County Aggie Association, organized this summer through the leadership of Melville Hoover, '30, and Dorene Smith, '32, is an example of a commendable community project. Excellent organization and publicity brought out more than fifty Aggies to their first meeting, May 28, in the high school auditorium in Faribault. A splendid program of music and talks by many of the prominent alumni repaid the group for coming out. Officers elected for the coming year are: Mrs. Harry Bull (Blanche Strunk), '01, President; Harry Parsons, '19, Vice-President; and Melville Hoover, '30, Secretary-Treasurer. A reunion was planned at this meeting and held near Dundas, June 29.

Goodhue and Houston counties have older active organizations as results of community projects. County picnics are held each year where large numbers of Aggies and their friends get together and imbibe the Aggie spirit. Goodhue County made it a slogan this summer for each Aggie to bring along at least one prospective student to the picnic. This kind of encouragement to agricultural education is a worthy project for a county Aggie group.

ANNE SCHUBRING GOES TO WASHINGTON

Did you ever win something that you weren't expecting, but that you had thought about a lot and tried to imagine how wonderful it would be if you did win it? I have, and it was my trip to Washington, D.C., as a member of the Minnesota 4-H club delegation. Two boys and two girls are selected each year to represent their state in this great camp at our nation's capitol, and this year I was one of the two girls sent from Minnesota.

We arrived in Washington on Tuesday evening at 6:30 o'clock, and for miles before we came to the city we were watching to see who would be the first to see the Washington monument. When we did see it, we just said, "Oh!" We surely didn't expect to see it so big and imposing.

The next day camp opened and from then on we were kept busy every minute of the day and evening. The camp itself is situated on the beautiful grounds of the United States Department of Agriculture and is in the shadow of the Washington monument.

We slept in tents—four or five girls in a tent. We had for our tent-mates two girls and their leader from North Carolina and had lots of fun listening to them talk so much different than we do. We finally found out that they thought we talked funny too, so we all had a big laugh at each other.

Each morning after breakfast we would have our leadership conferences. There were about 156 boys and girls at camp—the finest group of young people you would wish to meet.

In the afternoons, we visited our nation's capital. We went to see the U.S.D.A. Experimental Farm at Beltsville, Maryland, the Bureau of Engraving and Printing, where we saw loads of money and postage stamps in the making, the Aircraft Building, and the Arts and Industries Building of the Smithsonian Institute. We went through the U.S.D.A. greenhouses, up in the Washington monument, and saw a baseball game between the Chicago White Sox and the Washington team. One afternoon we spent at Mt. Vernon where we saw George Washington's tomb, his home and the beautiful lawns and grounds surrounding it. On Sunday we went to church in Washington's church in Alexandria and visited Arlington National Cemetery where all our war heroes are buried. The club members were allowed to place a wreath on the tomb of the Unknown Soldier. Other places of interest that we visited were the Corcoran Gallery of Art, Pan-American Building, Lincoln Memorial, and the Library of Congress. We also saw the House and Senate in session.

One day the members of the Minnesota delegation were guests of the Senators and Representatives from Minnesota at a luncheon. We had a fine time.

Our visit to the White House will long be remembered. We were taken through some of the famous rooms and afterward had our picture taken with the President of the United States, Herbert Hoover. Supper was usually followed by a half hour of recreation after which we had a campfire program.

We were all sorry when this wonderful week came to a close and we began our journey back home. I am sure we shall always remember the friends we made and the many valuable lessons we learned at this camp.

CANDIDATES FOR HONOR SCHOLARSHIP SOCIETY RECOMMENDED

Scholarship is given first consideration in election of students to the Honor Scholarship Society, scholarship being counted 90 per cent and student activities 10 per cent in fixing the basis of nomination. Dr. Andrew Boss is chairman of the Scholarship Committee which includes two other members, Professors L. B. Bassett and Alvin Larson.

Their nominations are presented to the executive committee of the Honor Scholarship Society of which Walter Swenson, '27, is president, and by this committee elections are made.

The following students have earned the honor of becoming members of the only society on the campus which recognizes high scholarship as a prerequisite.

To active membership, the following are elected from the intermediate class: Joseph Bickman, Carl Franson, Howard Johnston, Marion Jones, Emil A. Nelson, and Wilbur Peterson; and from the senior class: Eleanor Eckholm, Adelia Schmiesing, Gertrude Wittwer, Clifford Anderson, Reynold Bergman, Robert Carr, Raymond Fruechte, Howard Grow, Loren Holmberg, Leslie Krusemark, Truman Nodland, Martin Pautsch, Olaf Torvick, and Charles Winzer.

Election as associate members is made from the junior and freshman classes and is good for only one year. Those selected for this honor from the junior class are: Gertrude Esteros, Esther Peters, Frederick Bjornstad, Max Hinds, Milton Johnson, Henry Mayo, Einar Saarela, Curtiss Wood, Roland Wray, Theodore Johnson, Gerritt Douwsma, John Hausner, John Mace, and Arthur Föster; from the freshman class are Victor Baumhoefner, Russell Hoven, Herman Imdieke, Edmund ones, Oren Shelley, Winifred Balk, Mildred Bickman, Lillian Phillips, Tom G. Anderson, Phillip Bredberg, Lydon Gammalson, Bernard Lappi, John Pederson, and Robert Peterson.

THE NEWS extends congratulations to students who have been selected for these honors.

FIVE STUDENTS WIN CASH PRIZES

Because they lead the entire school in scholarship during the winter term, these students are given the Caleb Dorr Prize for Excellence in Scholarship which consist of cash prizes. In order of scholarship, they are Gertrude Esteros, John Mace, Lillian Phillips, Gerritt Douwsma, and Roland Wray. The cash prizes are given in exactly the same order: $10, $8, $7, $5, and $5.

AG ROYAL TOP PRIZE WON BY FRESHMAN

That freshman was a graduate of the School of Agriculture and had been in college but two quarters. The unusual honor of winning the Champion Showman's Trophy in his freshman year belongs to Earl Nelson, '29. It was given to the man who had won the greatest number of points in showmanship in the annual college livestock show, the Ag Royal, which is held on the second Saturday in May.

Other S.A.U.M. graduates who took part in the show were Walter Swenson, '27, business manager; Ralph Wood, '27, advertising manager; and Erick Ahlstrand, '26, publicity chairman.

DR. CLYDE V. BAILEY UNDERTAKES NEW VENTURE

Dr. Clyde V. Bailey, '05, is in charge of a unique plant owned and operated by the General Mills Company, Incorporated, a new laboratory building for research experiments in the milling industry. The plant is at 2010 East Hennepin Avenue, and is the first of its kind in the United States, differing from similar enterprises in that research is completely separated from the products control end of the game.

Dr. Clyde Bailey is head of the cereal chemistry department of the biochemistry division at University Farm and is considered the foremost cereal chemist in the United States. He will give only part time to the commercial research laboratory of the General Mills Company, Incorporated.

AGGIES TO HAVE TALKIE

Students of the School of Agriculture at University Farm are to have their own "talkie" moving picture machine during the coming school year which opens September 29.

This is in line with its policy of providing entertainment for students right on the campus. The School has for several years had motion pictures in the school Auditorium. Now it is adding the new sound equipment which will be used for both educational and entertainment programs.

Despite the drouth and adverse crop conditions reservations are coming rapidly and the school is anticipating an attendance equal to that of the past year which was the largest since 1917. The enrollment last year was 621, including 488 boys and 133 girls.

At present over 300 students are carrying on home project work which is supervised by the school faculty and for which credit will be given. The organization of the school is unique in that its work extends through the entire year. Students attend classes at University Farm for six months during the fall and winter and spend the remaining six months carrying on projects in agriculture, social or home life improvement and in crop production.

The school now has 3,600 graduates and 15,000 former students. Of these 86 per cent are actively engaged in agriculture. Word has been received from Australia that a system of schools of agriculture patterned after the Minnesota plan is being established. A representative of the Australian government who visited the United States last year made a special study of the Minnesota plan of agricultural education through schools such as those at University farm, Morris, Crookston, and Grand Rapids.

Upon his recommendation and under his direction Australia is setting up an almost identical plan.

Several improvements and changes have been made in the dormitories during the summer. In the girls' dormitory, all the inside rooms on the ground floor have been decorated.
