Senior Class Occupies Center of School Stage

Gymnasium Scene of Mad March Hare Party

Seniors Are Guests of Honor

"On the seventh of March, at the stroke of eight, present this pass, and don't be late, at the Ag. School Gym, at the "Rabbit Hole" door. You'll laugh, you'll shout, you'll weep and roar at the antics wild of the Mad March Hare. So come in gay mood, lay aside all care, and join the mad revel of the Mad March Hare."

In this way the seniors were invited to the all-school party given in their honor. Their curiosity about the party was rewarded when they crawled in through the "Rabbit Hole" door into the "rabbit hutch" decorated with gay streamers hung from a roof thatched with branches and straw.

The first part of the evening was spent in playing games. After that, the bleachers were drawn to the middle of the room to face the stage. The Mad March Hare became that way in his wanderings through the constellations. In each, he found the record of the seniors, and those who have wondered how the seniors "got that way" understand now that the stars under which they were born have decided all. Evangeline Adams gave a special broadcast for the party and answered personal questions about some of the seniors. Mr. Paul Leach, senior god-father, lead the community singing while refreshment tables were set in place. The godmothers, Mesdames Harvey, Leach, Daniels and Peterson, presided at the tables and were assisted by a large refreshment committee of which Alma Josephson was chairman.

Muriel Bassett was chairman of the decorating committee; Gertrude Wittwer, of the invitation committee; Paul Garbe, of the general arrangement committee; and Wayne Baustian, of the entertainment committee.

BENEDICTION

Farewell to the Seniors

When we analyze your success, we know it is due to your being united in every class project. This, we hope, will be the good fortune which you will leave to us.

You have always helped us cheerfully and to the best of your ability and the friendship we have gained thru your companionship shall never be forgotten.

We admire your sportsmanship for you have never boasted a win. You went into every game determined to win, and usually won, but if you lost, we heard no alibi. Your scholarship is a challenge to us to better it if we can.

When you go, you leave on our shoulders the responsibility of carrying on the traditions of the school. We accept this privilege in the hope that we may carry on as well as you have.

We congratulate you on your graduation from the School of Agriculture and wish you a happy and successful future.

James Bull,

President of the Junior Class

Seniors Choose "Little Women" for Class Play

"Little Women," a comedy in four acts, a dramatization by Marian de Forest of Louise Alcott's book of the same name will be given by the seniors under the direction of Cecil Birder on March 23 at 8:15 o'clock in the auditorium.

The members of the cast follow: Mr. March, Kenneth Roeder; Mrs. March, Barbara Hallquist; Meg, Esther Peters; Jo, Wayva Baustian; Laurie, Donald Josephson; Professor Baehr, Lambert Erickson; John Brooke, Darwin Hall; Hannah Mullett, Melba Burrows; Amy, Audrey Holmberg; Aunt March, Myrtle Sunness; and Mr. Laurence, Loris Nelson.

The 4-H Club

"Follow Up" was the subject of discussion at the February 13 4-H Club meeting. Members of the club who have done outstanding club work and some who have done county club agent work gave short talks on the subject. Junior leaders in training were benefited by these talks as well as active club members.

Four Classes Hold Reunions

The fortieth anniversary of the class of 1891 will be held in Room 200, Administration Building, Tuesday, March 24, from 10:00 to 12:00.

The class of 1901 will hold its thirtieth anniversary in Room 201, Administration Building, at 10:00 o'clock on Tuesday, March 24. It is hoped that Miss Virginia Merideth, the first preceptress of the girls' dormitory and godmother of the class, will be in attendance.

The twentieth anniversary of the class of 1911 will be held at 1465 Raymond Avenue, the home of the godparents, Professor and Mrs. A. G. Ruggles, from 10:00 to 2:00 on March 24. Luncheon will be served by Professor and Mrs. Ruggles.

The class of 1921 will hold their reunion in Room 301, Administration Building, from 10:00 to 12:00, March 24. Professor and Mrs. G. A. Lundquist are godparents of this class and will be in attendance.

The classes of 1891, 1901, and 1921 will be guests of the Alumni Association at a Dutch treat luncheon in the party dining room of the Farm Cafeteria at 12:30, March 24.

Business Meeting an Important Event

The regular business meeting of the Alumni Association is called for 2:00 o'clock, Tuesday, March 24, in Room 107, Agricultural Engineering Building. All of the classes that are holding special reunions should adjourn in time to attend the general business meeting. In the past the meetings have been very largely attended and taken part in by a majority of members present. To anyone who has never attended one of these business meetings a real treat is in store. Many important matters are on the docket for discussion at this meeting, the most important of which is a proposed alumni building to be located either on the campus or adjoining. The purpose of the building is to provide a home for visiting members of the association while in the Twin Cities and possible dormitory facilities for students desiring to room off the campus.

Following the business session, at 6:30 p.m., Tuesday, in the School dining hall will be the annual alumni dinner. The Executive Committee is making arrangements for a very unusual program of entertainment to be given at this dinner. Both local and hired talent will be used and a real treat is in store for those who attend.

Special Tables Provided for Honored Classes

Special tables will be provided to seat the four classes that are holding their special reunions this year. A musical program will also be given. In the past one of the best features of the Alumni Week has been the good fellowship and spirit of friendly feeling that prevails at these dinners. The committee in charge is quite anxious to have reservations made for the dinner, as it helps very much in accommodating those in attendance as well as saves money for the association, for the reason that the association is asked to guarantee a certain number of plates at the dinner and reservations made in advance give some basis for this guarantee.

On Wednesday, March 25, occurs the graduating exercises, which are held in the Auditorium at 2:00 p.m. Admission is by ticket. Tickets may be secured from the Secretary of the Association. It is hoped that many members of the association will find it possible to attend these exercises. The graduating address will be made by President Selke, State Teachers' College, St. Cloud, and the diplomas will be presented by President L. D. Coffman.

The Ball a Fitting Climax

The annual alumni ball will be held at the Gymnasium on Wednesday evening, March 25. A special feature of the ball this year will be the using of the south room in the Gymnasium for a group of older members of the Alumni Association, who would like to participate in some of the old-time dances. An old-time fiddler has been secured and it is hoped that members of the association who enjoy these old dances will be on hand to make the occasion an enjoyable one. For the younger members of the association a modernistic orchestra has been secured and the large Gymnasium will be used.

The influence and usefulness of the association rests largely with its members. The committee hopes that as many as possible will attend all of the activities, renewing friendships and encouraging both students and faculty in the search for a still better rural life.

L. B. Bassett,

Secretary, Alumni Association

Don's De Luxe Orchestra Thanks You

In a letter received from Don Mitchell after the appearance of his orchestra at the Homecoming Dance on February 7, he writes, "Don's De Luxe Orchestra wish to thank the school students and all the old Aggie friends for their friendly and appreciative attitude toward the orchestra and wish to say that we enjoyed playing for them all very much. Sincerely yours, Don Mitchell."

Owl Lit

The Owl Literary is rolling its eyes and ready to boast another successful quarter as one of the really live literaries of the campus. Upon their departure from the School of Agriculture students will miss the good programs and social hour they used to spend there every Saturday evening. One of the outstanding features of the programs of the season was a spelldown in which about 75 members competed. It is from the Owls that three of the members of the school debating team were chosen. They are also doing a very active part in the inter-literary debating. The Owls can ruffle their feathers and look back over the winter quarter of 1931 as a success.

Allen Baughman

President Lotus D. Coffman Addresses Assembly on Homecoming Day

January 27—Back again. Today we were shown some slides of what is being done in the Brooklyn Center Community Church. They were shown by the pastor of the church, Reverend Soltan, who told us that where once it was impossible to buy a $250 rug, how it had become possible to raise money to build a $70,000 church and community plant and to operate it in the interests of all. Wonder if we could do that at home.

January 28—Arlene Anderson sang "I Love You Truly." Mr. Frank Peck '08, who is chief of the Extension Division, told a good one. He said he did not even know where the girls' dorm was in the first two years he was here! Can you beat that? The theme of his real talk was that without former cooperation, the extension division would be lost.

January 30—"Minnesota, All Hail," the new Minnesota song, was sung by the boys' and girls' choruses. Mr. George Martin, vice president of the Great Northern Railway, a prominent alumnus of our University, gave us a good idea of how much it costs to run the railroads. Just think, they use 33 1-3 per cent of all the steel manufactured in a single year. He almost made us believe that a few cents reduction in railroad rates made more difference to the railroads than to the farmer.

January 31—Mr. Neatby, a graduate student, sang "The Floral Dance." Dr. Aage Brussendorf, who is head of the English department of the University at Copenhagen, told us about the agricultural schools and the farms of Denmark. They have little farms and much help and make them pay. He said the Danish farmers did not like our high tariff because it shut out their butter and bacon.

February 3—John Marrs played a harmonica solo. Rabbi Minda of Temple Israel spoke on "what men live by." Work gives one a chance to build. Play supplies incentive for securing good health. Love is most precious and the foundation of the successful home. Worship looks at life with a sense of reverence.

February 4—Bridget Hayes. That name spells grammar! You know we use her English book. Well, her talk is better than the book because it is so easy to take. She must be a grand teacher.

February 6—What will people buy? What do they want next year? Will it be the same as this year? Professor of Economics George Filipetti told how the producer learns the answer to these questions so that he can meet new market demands.

The combined chorus sang the Minnesota Farm Bureau song.

February 7—Called assembly and the room was packed! Lots of alumni visitors were there. Dean Coffey introduced President Lotus Coffman, who asked some hard questions. How are we planning for the future of our state? Its mines? Its forests? Its wild life? Our education? I guess I'll begin to plan for myself, now!

The Goodhue county quartette, Arnold Flom and his brother, Maurice, Scriver Charlson, and Orlando Greseth, sang a group of songs.

February 9—The big field meet is over. Robert Thompson read the scores of the best meet we ever had: Seniors, 64 points; Juniors, 40; Intermediates, 37; and Freshmen, 12. "How to Study" is Psychology Professor Charles Bird's subject, today. Here's how. Read lesson over rapidly. Make a survey of it. Read carefully asking myself questions about it. Put questions and answers down in note book. Study until I can answer those questions perfectly. I am trying it.

February 10—Professor of History Alice Tyler read quotations from Abraham Lincoln's speeches to show us what kind of a man he was. Last of all, she read his Gettysburg address. I could repeat it by heart after her.

February 13—Our old friend, Reverend Meickle, is working at the Union City Mission where he helps men get jobs, food and a place to sleep. He said many of them were as goodlooking as we and anxious to work. Am glad I live on a farm where there is always plenty of work to do.

February 14—We traveled with Professor Sigerfoos (he works for the University, now, for nothing) from Seattle to Hawaii, Australia, New Zealand, India, Siam, China, Japan and back to San Francisco in a few minutes. I want to take that trip some day.

February 15—Dean Coffey brought us greetings from Ray Cunningham and Miss Hoover, who were Y. secretaries here and are now at Ames, Iowa. His conversation with Mr. Cunningham had suggested the subject of his talk, group leadership. Wholesome group leadership is the result of a full understanding of the right course of action by the whole group and its conversion into right action. Where group leadership is good, individual leaders are developed and the weak are protected.

February 17—All 4-H club members were interested in Mr. T. A. Erickson's talk today because he explained what kind of people he would choose for leaders. They would have to have information, enthusiasm, imagination, tact, sympathy, initiative. On the stage were Marcus Teeter, Gertrude Wittwer and Henry Niemeyer to whom were given 4-H club medals for outstanding club work. That's something to work for.

February 18—Prayer serves two purposes. It makes one calm and it helps solve problems. Prayer should never be a begging exercise. Sound's right to me. Professor Glenn Clark of Macalester told us so, today.

February 20—"To think without confusion clearly, to love your fellowman sincerely, to ask from honest motives purely to trust in God and Heaven securely." This is the philosophy that Mr. Arvig of the American Youth Foundation proposed.

February 21—Today, we play Crookston Aggies. Rufus J. Christgau, School '20, College '25, who is the coach of that team, recalled the days he spent in S.A.U.M., how valuable literary societies were, how much benefit he derived from athletics, and what the association with the faculty had meant to him. Fred Fjestad and Gerald McKay played a trumpet duet.

The S.A.U.M. Literary Continues Strong

A large crowd has found its way to the S.A.U.M. literary every Saturday evening this term. Many alumni have been present. Among them were Roy Madden, Stanley Lindgren, Carl Franson, Alik Carlson, Myrtle Bjork, Willie Nelson, Alfred Nelson and William Wiener.

A recreational committee, composed of Gerrit Douwsma, Mabel Beattie, Corrine How, and Oswald Myhre, have helped to organize and lead in playing games after the program.

Numbers of special interest on the program have been extemporaneous speeches by Francis Smith, Gerrit Douwsma, Carl Pinney, and Martin Dankers. Kenneth Welde gave an interesting talk on his trip to Alaska. For a good time on Saturday evening, they come to the S.A.U.M. literary.

February 24—Mrs. Wallis from the Minneapolis Museum and Public Library caused many squeals when she opened her bags and pulled out snakes and rare lizards and petted them. You see there is nothing to be afraid of since of the 2,000 kinds of snakes only four are poisonous. Most of them are valuable to the farmer as they are the natural enemies of rodents which destroy over $5,000,000 worth of property every year.

Paul Leach sang, "Fuzzy Wuzzy," words by Kipling, music by Whiting.

February 27—We are lucky to live in Minnesota where most dairy herds are tuberculosis tested, Dr. C. P. Fitch says, for scrofula and other diseases result when milk comes from tubercular cows. To insure good health to humans, animals like cows, pigs and poultry must be healthy and live under sanitary conditions.

February 28—"Elsie and Barbara," only recently on the R.K.O. Orphum circuit, are banjo accordeon artists. Their old time music was as good as their modern music! They played alone and together and any way they played it was good.

March 1—Choosing one's occupation for life is decided in a number of different ways. It may depend upon one's likes, the future the occupation offers and the market for one's services. Dean Coffey gave four tests of that market that may guide one in choosing a market. There are things that people want and need and can pay for. There are things that people want and do not need and can pay for. There are things that people want and need and cannot pay for. There are things that people do not want and need and can pay for.

—E. U.

Cletus Hallquist, active member of the Hay Creek 4-H club, who with Ralph Grant made such a hit in a swine demonstration at the Minnesota State Fair last fall, was honored in the Cudahy Year book recently. The magazine published a picture of Hallquist and said a few nice words about both Hallquist and Grant in regard to their 4-H club work.

Sunday evening, February 22, Plette's Band gave a concert program in the auditorium.

Livestock Judging Team Competes at Midwinter Shows Pautsch Wins Gold Medal

Aggie Judges Travel to Crookston

Three seniors, Archie Bjornberg, Martin Dankers and Chester Mitchell, and one intermediate, Martin Pautsch, represented the School of Agriculture in the livestock judging contest at the Mid-Winter Shows at Crookston, Minnesota, in competition with seven teams from schools of agriculture in Minnesota, South Dakota, North Dakota, and Canada.

The School of Agriculture team placed third; Crookston, first, and Manitoba, second. In class competitions, the team placed first in the judging of hogs, third in horses and dairy cattle, sixth in beef cattle and seventh in sheep.

Martin Pautsch made the best individual record of those on the team, placing as fourth individual and winning the gold medal for being the best judge of hogs.

Professor A. L. Harvey of the Animal Husbandry Division and N. W. Allen of the Dairy Division coached the team. Mr. Harvey accompanied the team on the trip, which was made by car. A stop was made at Fargo, North Dakota, where two days were spent to advantage in practice judging. A total of 26 classes were judged at that time, and opportunity was given to become better acquainted with the Agricultural College of a sister state and the great Red River Valley.

The Dairy and Livestock Club Judges and Banquets

About seventy boys and girls of the Dairy and Livestock Club spent Monday, February 23 and Saturday afternoon, February 28, judging various classes of livestock. This contest was a free for all—no class team competed—and only the school livestock judging team was barred. Winners in events in the 1930 contest were barred from entering the same events. Competition was lively because it was understood that the three highest in a class would constitute a class team. All ties were broken by a toss of a coin.

The results of the two contests were announced at the club banquet held in the party dining room,

Wednesday evening, March 4, at six o'clock. Following the banquet, this program was given:

Musical number....Allen Johnson
The Club....Pres. Fred Bjornstad

Presentation of The Farmer
Medals.....Don Shannon
Field Editor of the Farmer
Remarks.....Raymond Lee

Presentation of Dairy Judging

Presentation of McCarty Medal,

In the Inter-Class Competition for the Minnesota Livestock Breeders Cup, the three high men of a class constituted a class team. First honors and the cup were won by the Junior Class team, Willard Holmberg, Verne Bracewell and David Johnson, scoring 2642 points. The Freshman Class team, W. Fremont Buchanan, Gilbert Ahlstrand, Stephen Senesac, won second place, scoring 2566 points. Of the faculty who acted as judges were W. H. Peters, L. M. Winters, E. F. Ferrin, W. E. Peterson, Clay Martin and Carl Mattson.

Vital Aggie Statistics—Now They Can Be Told

An interesting event during assembly hour, February 20, was the vote taken to discover certain vital facts about the student body. There were 288 votes cast, the seniors contributing 75, and the juniors casting 87 votes. The freshmen followed with 53 votes and 13 were cast by intermediates.

Of this number, 201 were born in Minnesota, 12 in Iowa, 2 in Canada, 4 in Wisconsin, 1 in North Dakota, 1 in Connecticut and 1 in South Dakota. The farm was the favorite birthplace, 185 claiming it as their natal spot while 42 were born in towns or cities.

Farming was the first choice of occupations with mechanics and teaching as close seconds.

The seniors and freshmen chose swimming as their favorite sport, while basketball was most popular with the intermediates.

Every class chose Zane Gray as the most popular writer.

On the remaining points, votes were cast by classes and revealed very divided opinions, no one person in a class receiving a majority of votes cast in his class. Many of the places were decided by very close votes.

The seniors considered Arthur Foster and Paul Smith as the most courteous senior boys, while the juniors selected Robert Jeffers and William Haight for like honors. Aloys Gruenke and Clarence Strauss were the freshmen chosen as being best mannered.

The most courteous girls, chosen

Home Economics Exhibits

Each class in the Home Economics Division in the School of Agriculture is inviting five guests to view the exhibit of the work of those classes in the fireplace room, on March 17, between 2:30 and 5:15 o'clock.

A program will be given under the direction of the student teachers supervised by the Home Economics staff. Refreshments made by the school girls will be served.

Caleb Dorr Declamatory Contest

On Friday evening, February 27 at 6:15 o'clock was staged the annual declamatory contest. Mr. J. O. Christianson presided.

Several selections were played by the school orchestra under the direction of Mr. Paul Leach before Mr. Christianson announced the first section of the contest, the dramatic selections. Barbara Hallquist won first place for her "Five Cents for Luck;" Wayva Baustian, second place, for "Captain January;" and Clarence Tolin placed third in reading "The Perfect Tribute."

But two contestants read humorous selections. They were Audrey Holmberg who placed first with "At the Movies" and Aloys Gruenke, second, with "A Stump Speech."

Those who chose oratorical subjects were George Wilkins, who won first place reading "Opportunity;" Chester Mitchell, who placed second with his selection "The Blundering Giant"; and Carl Pinney, who sharply contested for second place with his own "Education for Leadership."

Gold medals were awarded those who won first place and silver ones to second place winners. The judges were Mr. Wilcox of the Horticultural Division, Mr. Ferrier of the Agricultural Education Division and Miss Nichols of the Home Economics Division.

Arthur Nelson of Clitherall and his wife visited University Farm during the State Hardware Men's Convention in February. He is engaged in that business.

LeRoy Swenson '29 of St. Peter and Rose Adams of Le Sueur were married at the German Lutheran Parsonage in Le Sueur on February 4. Following the marriage, a wedding dinner was given at the home of the bride.

Mr. and Mrs. Swenson visited University Farm, Nye, Wisconsin, and Fargo, North Dakota, while on their wedding trip. On their return to their home, they were given a shower by the 4-H club. They will live in the Swenson home this summer.

Song Service

January 25: Dean Coffey spoke on the subject of "Odors." This may seem a queer subject but he made it a very interesting one. Every odor suggests the source of it. A walk down a city street carries one past the barber shop, the bakery, the coffee shop. Clean clothes have certain pleasant odors. They suggest clean persons. Even acts are said to have good or bad odors. They reveal the person who committed them.

February 1—We get as much as we give. Life is most successful when you get out of life all you can for yourself and yours. These conflicting philosophies were the theme of Dean Coffey's remarks, today.

February 8: What is the modern view of religion? This was the question Dean Coffey had been asked to answer. He saw in the modern view of religion an attempt to put one's self and one's life in harmony with creation and its creator, God. Religion finds expression in reverence—reverence for life and for those who live as well as the source of life, God.

Girl Reserves Elect Officers

The Girl Reserves have elected their officers for next year, and we congratulate the girls. Wilma Soehren has been chosen president, Clara Sogge as vice-president, and Clara Svien as the secretary-treasurer. Wilma has not picked her cabinet at the time of this writing. Miss Matson was the speaker on election night. She spoke on "The value of high ideals and good standards." She gave us many good suggestions to think about.

The girls who are interested in publicity have put on several stunts during assembly hour. They advertised the valentine party which took place at the February 12 meeting. The party was a "heart mending" function. Questionnaires were given to the girls which they answered with funny replies. These were read and the effect on all was laughable. Other games were played. Ice cream and cake were served afterwards. Edith Molenaar was chairman of arrangements. The girls interested in dramatics gave two short plays at the Y.W. and Y.M. joint meeting on February 19. "Mabel's Aunt" was the name of one of them and the other was entitled, "The Elder Makes a Call."

The club has raised enough money to send three delegates to Camp Okoboji, Iowa, next summer. Martha Fruechte and Mabel Beattie have been sponsoring this good work and it is to them we owe our thanks.

On March 7, the girls will join the other St. Paul clubs in the gingham formal to be given at the St. Paul Y. M.S.

Y.M.C.A.

To provide good programs for Thursday Fellowship hours, the Y.M.C.A. cabinet secured the following speakers. On February 26, Dr. Abedelo of the Argentine told us of that "land of opportunity." On March 5, Mr. Ross presented the case of his race, the negro. Mr. Chow of China spoke on his country, the evening of March 13. All of the above speakers will help us in an effort to bring about world brotherhood, one aim of our organization. At the final meeting, Mr. Jensen, our secretary, will lead an evaluation meeting and give us more of his broad experience in social programs.

Regarding the finances this year, about half of the boys pledged and our goal was nearly reached. The election of new officers will be held at the last meeting. The retiring cabinet wishes the incoming cabinet good success and urges them to carry on and make a bigger and better Y.M.C.A.

Caleb Dorr Scholarship Contest Close

Gerritt Douwsma, Arthur Foster, and Gertrude Esteroots tied for first honors on the basis of high scholarship and contributions to student activities in the fall term. Fourth place was won by Joseph Bickman and fifth, by Clarence Wass. All had an average of over 3.9 points, an unusually high record where 4 points are the equivalent of an A grade.

Dramatic Club

"Our program is short but good" introduced the last meeting of the Dramatic Club on Tuesday evening, February 17 when Barbara Hallquist and Homer Berlin entertained with readings. The hearers can vouch for the truth of the introduction.

Basket Ball

Basket ball seems to be the leading activity this quarter as it always is in the winter quarter. Our boys seem to keep the floor of the gym well scoured as they labor to keep in trim. At the start of the season, the Aggies bowed to Concordia with a score of 5 to 46 but the Aggies did not let this discourage them. The following game was a double header with Dunwoody on their floor, the second team losing with a smile, with a score of 9 to 14, the first team winning by a margin of 2 points, the score being 28 and 26. The boys followed this with another double header with St. Paul Luther, the second team winning with a score of 17 to 9, first team losing by a score of 12 to 18. This was followed by another double header with St. Paul Luther, played here at the school, the second team winning by a margin of 1 point, the score being 9 to 8. The first team yielded to their opponents with a score of 23 to 28. This game was followed by a first team victory for our boys won over Bethel playing on our home floor with a score of 35 to 24. The next game was a double header with what seems to be our strongest opponents of the season, Concordia, on their floor, the second team lost to their opponents with a score of 13 to 17, first team yielding to their opponents with a score of 24 to 41. This was followed with another double header with Dunwoody, second team again losing by the score of 13 to 17. The first team lost to their opponents by a score of 19 to 29. The next game proved to be the most thrilling game of the season being another double header, second team winning a victory over Breck by a score of 24 to 17. The first team lost to the first team aggie of Crookston with a score of 25 to 23 and oh, boy! but what a game that was. The crowd was held in suspense every second until the gun announced the finish. How those Aggies did play, but never once forgetting to respect their sister school team. May this competition of the Ag schools prosper and long exist.

The members of the first team are Kenneth Roeder, center; Howard Friese and Leslie Krusemark, guards, and Arthur Tjosvold, John Nielson and Paul Haven, forwards.

Joel Clementson, Goodwin Fresk, Palmer Landro, Arne Lexvold and Gordon Fresk have substituted for the regulars in several games.

But one interschool game remains to be played, the one with the Morris School of Agriculture at Morris on March 7. The game that was to have been played with the Grand Rapids school here on February 28 was cancelled on account of the flu.

The substitute for this game was an interclass tournament which provided plenty of excitement. The intermediates, Reo Swenson, Bill Erickson, Wilbur Peterson, Charles Head, Charles Winzer, Rudy Hard and Howard Doble, found their stride and defeated the freshmen, Ralph O'Connor, George Marcotte, Arthur Bielenberg, Wallace Johnson, Josef Gislason, Marcus Teeter and Floyd Monahan, to the tune of 19 to 7. The final score 21 to 10 in the Junior-Senior bout does not tell the story of how the juniors fought and made the seniors work for every point they earned. Paul Sunderman, Palmer Landro, Stanley Lind, Bruce Leonard, Earl Knodt, Dale Long, and Bill Coey played for the seniors against the juniors, Russell Hoven, Bill Miller, Carl Sierk, John Marrs, J. Nelson, and Ralph Nehl.

The last game of the evening was most hotly contested for the second team was out to win. They held the first team to a score of 23 to 18 in favor of the first team. Obert Loken, James Bull, Darwin Hall, Goodwin Fresk, Llewellyn Larson and George Wilkins were the second string men.

The last games on the home floor will be a series of inter-dormitory and park games to be played by boys not on the first team.

Wrestling

Wrestling is progressing very rapidly in the School of Agriculture. The boys are training very hard, each hoping to become the winner of his respective class. On each Monday and Thursday evening, the wrestling room of the gymnasium is filled to its capacity.

A number of boys took part in the wrestling tournament which was held on the Main Campus. Two of these boys carried away the championship of their respective classes, Harry Nelson of the 178-pound class and Gilbert Ahlstrand of the 168-pound class.

Alumni News

C. O. Ruud, a student in the School of Agriculture in 1897, did a Rip Van Winkle on March 24 when he visited University Farm for the first time in thirty-four years. He recalled old names and faces and events in a completely transformed setting. Mr. Ruud is superintendent of the Washburn estate, "Spirit Knob," at Wayzata and is a member of the Hennepin County Alumni Association.

Mr. Ruud reported that other Aggies are engaged in the same type of work as he. C. E. Mons, manager "Hycroft," the Heffelfinger estate at Wayzata; Allan Johnson '21, the Lindsay place at Deep Haven; Mr. Lindholm, the Velie place at Crystal Bay; and Homer Easterday '28, the Moll place at Groveland.

Milford Stevenson, student in '26, is married and living near Georgetown, Minnesota.

Freeman Wold visited University Farm in February. He is specializing in raising pure-bred Shrophshire sheep and fancy turkeys.

Vincent Goihl '27, and Ernest Heitman, student in '26, called on old friends at University Farm on March 1.

George Jertson is clerking in the men's clothing department of the Golden Rule Store.

Elmer Hovde '18, is president of the Brown County Farm Bureau.

Ferdinand Amundson '19, may be your "trouble man" if you call at the Hanska Garage.

Ralph Briggs '27, is farming near Hanska.

Clifford Lee '25, joined that ancient order of benedicts when he married Violet Armstrong of Hanska, in January. They are making their home on the Sylvan Border Farm where Clifford and Fritz are in partnership.

"The members of the class of '28 and godparents, Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Larson, met in the Party Dining Room for their Homecoming reunion. The '28's are a peppy crowd and we had a wonderful reunion, meeting old friends and introducing new ones. Letters were read from absent members. The class roll was called and each one responded with an account of his occupation. Fred and Howard Johnston sang several duets. There were thirty-two of us and there will be more next year." P.L.

The Seniors Win the Field Meet

The seniors won the field meet. They garnered in 64 points. The juniors came second with a total of 40 points to their credit. The intermediates were trailing the juniors by only 3 points. R.B.

Mr. Paul Leach spoke over WLB Friday February 20. He had community music as his subject. Mr. D. W. Boland gave a cornet solo on the same program.

Under the leadership of Arthur Fahland, the students Council sponsored an excursion to the Foshay tower, Sunday afternoon, February 22. About seventeen students were shown the machinery and mechanics of four stories under ground as well as other interesting features on the tower. Arthur viewed the city from a platform at the peak of the tower.

In millinery class one day, Miss Brown was demonstrating the pressing of velvet bows. "Girls, she said, "You know how crushed a bow looks after a dance." Yes, but how crushed do some beaus feel at a dance.

A Long Look Ahead

March is just begun and the School of Agriculture students will soon be going home. What for? Why, of course, to plant and reap; to sew and cook; to write letters as learned in English classes; to read books and newspapers in order to watch the rapid history making of the world; and, particularly to anticipate the coming back when fall comes round again.

Among those returning will be new students, friends of former students, those who have read of the School of Agriculture, those who have visited University Farm and those who want to visit it.

Many of these new students will be those looking for work in home economics. What will they find?

All girls are interested in clothes and rightly so to make themselves as attractive as possible. They all have questions like these to answer daily: What clothing do I need? How much can I afford? What shall I make myself? How shall I make it? These questions lead us to a study of dress patterns, cloth materials and the yarns from which they are made, as well as the actual making of garments.

From the simplest problem in cotton materials, the undergarment (pajamas can be very attractive these days) the girls progress to the study of more difficult cotton dresses.

The work with wool, given in the fall of a student's second year so she may wear her woolen garment for winter of that year, may vary according to her ability. As you know if you have tried, it is quite a problem to put sleeves in a dress and make it fit well.

Then comes that most attractive and interesting unit taken as a senior, the one when the girl works with silk and finishes with a silk gown into which has gone many hours of careful work, a dress which she may well be proud to wear on many occasions.

If a student wishes she may join the millinery group where a new hat is made to complete the costume or a twist is given here and a twist there to transform the old hat to look like new.

It is equally difficult and most important to choose material, color and style for a garment so that one's most desirable features will be emphasized. These are considered as well as the accessories, the finishing touch to the costume.

The art work has been fascinating this year. A certain amount of freedom has been given in the choice of projects, bookends, blotter pad, picture framing, lampshade, dresser or table covers, batik handkerchiefs, or refinishing old furniture. Two classes recently have re-decorated suites of rooms in the girls' dormitory which you will surely want to see. Do you know that a picture, a clock, a tray, candlestick, and a bowl of flowers can be just put on top of a bookcase or they may be put there in such an attractive arrangement that we get real enjoyment out of looking at them? And what of foods? Ask both the boys and girls if they do not enjoy preparing and serving meals in their classes, breakfasts, luncheons, dinners, teas.

The food we eat is one of the most important things in life. If it is cooked to our taste it adds much to our enjoyment. And so opportunity is given to both boys and girls to cook and serve appetizing and attractive food.

It is one thing to cook it, but it is quite a more difficult and interesting problem to know how to select the right kind so that we shall have proper growth and vitality. The home is made up of all these separate tasks put together, the planning, the buying, the sewing, cooking, care of children, but it needs a wise head to manage them all and conserve one's good disposition and enough energy to enjoy and be enjoyed by the family.

So when our School girl is a senior she looks at the home as a whole and learns in some small measure those factors involved in the development of children, and the operation of the home and family household. And after the annual exhibit of the class work and her graduation she wishes just a little bit that she could stay on and work on some more of the problems, but she now goes home to work independently with the help of the information she has learned and that which she has learned how to get at the School of Agriculture.

President Coffman and Dean Coffey Entertain the Seniors in Fireplace Room

The reception given by President Coffman and Dean Coffey in honor of the seniors occurs Saturday evening, March 21, at the Fireplace Room in the Home Economics Building. In the receiving line will be Obert Loken, president of the senior class, Dr. and Mrs. Coffman, Dean and Mrs. Coffey, Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Christianson and Miss Wylie McNeal.

Other guests than the seniors were the members of the faculty and their wives, and alumni attending college. The orchestra, under the direction of Mr. Boland, played a program throughout the evening.

Old Fashioned Dancing Party Pleases Participants

On Saturday evening, February 21, the combined students' councils sponsored the tenth annual old fashioned dancing party.

The dance opened with a grand march led by Myrtle Sunness as Martha Washington and Kenneth Roeder as George Washington, each dressed in appropriate costume. Next in line were Arlene Anderson and Frederick Johnson, Edith Molenaar and Robert Current, and Corinne Howe and Charles Winzer.

The dance program included old time favorites, such as the Rye Waltz, Virginia Reel, Quadrille, Schottische and Two Step, and the Apollo Orchestra of St. Paul furnished the music. During the intermission, Mark Williams, the crooning cowboy of KSTP, delighted the audience with old fashioned songs.

Suspended from the rafters were handsome American flags and from the railing of the running track were hung colorful college banners. Frappe was served from a flower decked table over which Mrs. Hummel and Mrs. Mackintosh presided.

Dr. Andrew Boss, Professor William Boss, Mr. James M. Drew, Miss Laura Matson and Miss Hognason were members of the refreshment committee, Messrs. C. P. Bull, Vincent Bailey and L. B. Bassett, floor managers, were assisted by a student committee of which Gordon Fresk was the chairman. Mr. Elmer Deebach called the quadrille and reel. Emerson Sartain was chairman of the decoration committee and Gertrude Esteros of the refreshment committee.

D. D. MAYNE

The 1931 Agrarian Dedicated to the Memory of the Late Principal D. D. Mayne

Honoring the memory of the man who devoted the last twenty-seven years of his life to the cause of agricultural education in the School of Agriculture is the theme of the 1931 Agrarian. This is especially fitting as the Agrarian was one of Mr. Mayne's favorite projects, one which he fostered and encouraged.

The first section and the division pages are devoted to the story of his life and work as Principal, and to expressions of appreciation by men and women who knew him well during the different periods of his life. This section is well illustrated with pictures of Mr. Mayne in his home and at work.

Einar Saarela is editor in chief of the book; Arthur Foster is assistant editor; Gerrit Douwsma, business manager; and Arthur Fahland, assistant business manager. Miss Laura Matson is faculty adviser of the staff and this is the seventh noteworthy book which she has helped plan and execute.

Girl's Basketball

The School is certainly proud of the Aggie girls' basketball team. They have played 8 games so far and have won 7 of them. Games were won from Ag College Girls, 48-6; Y.W.C.A., 29-10; Palace Playground, 21-7. A second game with the Palace Playground was lost by a score of 25-16.

Pendergast Hall Boys Entertain Guests at Open House

Departing from old custom, Pendergast Hall boys chose to hold Open House in the evening instead of the afternoon and credited the very large attendance at the event to that change. The day was Sunday, February 15.

Members of the faculty and all the students in the School of Agriculture were guests and visited the students' rooms under the direction of guides, who brought them, at the close of the tour of the building, to the club room where they were received by Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Christianson, Miss Hognason, Miss Laura Matson and student officers, Milton Swenson and Arthur Blomberg.

Here the small orchestra made up of Stanley Lind, Arthur Foster, Gerald McKay, Aloys Gruenke and Esther Nelson played a delightful program throughout the evening. Mr. Leach sang two groups of songs and Charles Howard contributed two solos.

Refreshments were served in the office where Miss Hally J. Fisher acted as hostess. Presiding over the refreshment table were Mrs. Andrew Boss and Mrs. C. P. Fitch, and Mrs. Troy Currence and Mrs. A. L. Harvey in turn. They were assisted by a student committee which included Wilbur Magnuson, chairman, Winton Pooley, David Potter, Kenneth Roeder, Robert Jeffers, Victor Fecker and Robert King. The color scheme, red and white, was carried out in red tulips, freesia and tall white tapers.

In the club room, handsome bouquets of jonquils and tulips and ivory candles constituted the only decorations.

Student committees managed every detail of the affair, but the success that attended it was due to the co-operation of each and every student. On the program committee Charles Winzer, Fred Johnson and Paul Pearson served. William Haight was chairman of a group of thirty guides.

Teeters Wins Trip to Chicago

Marcus Teeters won a trip to the National Club Congress in Chicago in December, 1931, because of success in raising corn. In the January Crop Breeders Association exhibit, shown in January during Farmers and Homemakers Week, Marcus was awarded a merit medal.
