Save the Day---Alumni---Graduation Is Set for March 22

Plans for Annual Alumni Day

Alumni Day at the School of Agriculture, University of Minnesota, has been set for Monday, March 21. This is a departure from the traditional custom of holding the meeting on Tuesday. For a number of years Tuesday has been the regular meeting day of the Association. Since Graduation Day has been set for Tuesday this year, Alumni Day has been changed to Monday.

In keeping with the spirit of economy the Executive Committee of the Association is planning this year to crowd all alumni activities into one day. Room 102, Administration Building has been designated as Alumni Headquarters. You are urged to make this room your headquarters while in attendance at all commencement activities. The room will be furnished so as to make it a comfortable resting place. The alumni register will be found in this room and it is hoped that all the members will center their activities around these headquarters.

There will be no special meetings set for Monday morning. The forenoon will be devoted largely to visiting the different departments of the institution and meeting old friends and acquaintances.

At 12:30 the Alumni will meet in the Party Dining Room of the Cafeteria for an informal Dutch luncheon. Get your trays upstairs and bring them downstairs where tables will be found. This is a good time to visit over the lunch with your classmates and old friends. Ample time will be had for a good visit.

The four classes that are recognized this year as being special guests of the Alumni Association are the Classes of 1892, 1902, 1912, and 1922. Mr. C. P. Bull is writing a personal letter to each member of the Class of 1892, setting a time and date for their 40th anniversary. Mr. N. J. Holmberg has charge of the 30th anniversary of the Class of 1902 and is sending a personal letter to each member of

Alumni

An behalf of the School of Agriculture I extend a most cordial and hearty invitation to all the Alumni to return for Alumni Day, March 21st. You are the School of Agriculture. Your achievement and successful living have justified this School its pre-eminent position as an educational institution.

May we gather here for the 43rd Annual Commencement to re-dedicate ourselves to the perpetuation and fullest development of those objectives and ideals of Pendergast, Brewster, Tucker, and Mayne.

Sincerely,

Principal, School of Agriculture

the class calling a general meeting and reunion for Monday, March 21. The Class of 1912 will hold its 20th anniversary on this date. The meeting place has not as yet been set but each member of the class will receive a personal letter as to time and place of meeting. This is also true of the Class of 1922 which will hold its 10th anniversary.

The business meeting of the Association will be held in Room 107, Engineering Building, at 2:00 o'clock. It is hoped that class reunions will be over and that every member of the Association will be in attendance at this meeting. There are several important matters to come up for consideration at the business session. These meetings in the past have been full of life and action, affording everyone an opportunity to become better acquainted with the work of the Association and its many activities.

The Annual Alumni Dinner will be held in the Dining Hall on Monday evening at 6 o'clock. The secretary will appreciate it very much if reservations can be made in advance for the dinner. This will assure you a place and at the same time assist the committee in providing accommodations for all. If for any reason you cannot make reservations in advance, tickets can be secured at the Secretary's Office or at the business meeting in the afternoon.

For the first time in the history of the Association the members of the senior class are to be dinner guests of the Association. This we hope may become a permanent feature of the Alumni dinner.

Special tables will be provided for the senior class and each of the five honored classes. A good program of entertainment and music has been provided for the dinner and it is hoped that there will be a large attendance at this function.

Following the dinner, at 9:00 o'clock in the evening at the Gymnasium will occur the annual Alumni Ball. The committee has secured the services of one of the best orchestras in the city for this occasion. For those who do not care to dance, cozy corners and card tables will be furnished where the members may spend an enjoyable evening visiting friends, playing cards or dancing as they may choose.

We hope that a large number of the Association members will find it possible to remain over to the Graduating Exercises on Tuesday. By combining all of the Alumni events into one day time and money will be saved for the members of the Association who wish to attend the commencement and alumni activities.

For further information address L. B. Bassett, Secretary, Alumni Association, University Farm.

Theodore H. Johnston, '07, was a Homecoming visitor who was interested in the growth of the school. Mr. Johnston is a salesman with the International Harvester company and his home is in Minneapolis.

Arthur Pearson, '13, Madison, is president of the Lac qui Parle County Farm Bureau.

The Old Fashioned Dancing Party

Time: Eight-thirty o'clock on Saturday evening, February 22.

Place: The large and spacious gymnasium.

Stage setting: Oscar Danielson's orchestra on a platform in the center of the floor. American flags hung from the rafters in profusion.

The personnel: Godparents of classes present are Dr. and Mrs. Andrew Boss, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Drew, Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Ruggles, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. McGuire, Mr. and Mrs. H. B. White, Mr. and Mrs. P. L. Johnsrud, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Field, Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Christianson, Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Gullickson, Mr. P. J. Larson, Mr. P. J. Leach, Mr. and Mrs. Franc P. Daniels and Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Peterson. Present also were Principal and Mrs. J. O. Christianson and among the guests were: Commissioner and Mrs. R. A. Trovatten, and State Treasurer and Mrs. Julius Schmahl, Executive Secretary State Fair Board Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Lee, Mr. Thomas Cashman of Owatonna, Mrs. E. V. Ripley of Menahga, Mrs. J. S. Jones, Mrs. L. S. Kelehan, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. McGuire, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Zakariason, Mr. and Mrs. Lytton Calrow and Mrs. H. J. Newman.

The reception committee, Dr. Andrew Boss, Mr. J. M. Drew, Misses Hognason and Matson, the floor managers, Mr. L. B. Bassett and Mr. Vincent Bailey, the caller, Mr. Elmer Deebach, all assisted the combined students councils, Olga Fruechte, Martha Fruechte, Leone Langford, Clara Sogge, Dorothy Fruechte, Dorothy Seleen, Antonio Fernandez, Loretta Gabriel, Arthur Fahland, Emil Blomberg, David Johnson, Wilbur Magnuson, Henry Danmann and Richard Mendenhall, in the management of the dance.

The program was old-fashioned in including the circle two step, quadrille, Virginia Reel, schottische, polka and rye waltz. It was modern in its fun-appeal for from the opening note to the last chord there was a spirit of jollity that was contagious. The minuet was danced by Sara Nelson, Virginia Parish, Cletus Hallquist and George Wilkens, all dressed in colonial costume. The girls council served the strenuous dancers fruit frappe during the intermission. Net result—a good time was had by all.

The Friendly Campus Is Theme Of Party Honoring Seniors

"To honor the seniors

A party we give,
To call up fond memories,
A joke we re-live.

On Saturday evening

We bid you to come,
The gym is the place

At eight—we tune up the fun."

In response to this invitation from the other classes, the seniors came to the "friendly campus party" at the gymnasium Saturday evening, February 27. The south end of the gymnasium had been converted into the campus with the entrance to the Administration Building in the foreground. To its right was any room on the campus. On the left and in the background was the entrance to the girls' dormitory. Placed about these three points of interest and in the foreground were clumps of spruce and pine trees. Above the doorway to the Administration Building hung the banner of the Class of 1932.

From a network of wires in the ceiling hung confetti streamers in pastel shades. There was a friendly spirit in the air. Each guest was greeted at the door of the gym by Einar Eaarela and Floyd Rath who pinned a colored crepe ribbon on him. After all had gathered, the crowd was divided into four groups and named according to the colors of their ribbons, Pinks, Greens, Blues, and Lavenders. Cletus Hallquist, Maurice Wilkinson, Myron Clark, and Walter Clausen put the groups through a number of novel stunts ending with a competitive circus performance in which all took part.

The next part of the program began after the audience of students filled the bleachers which faced the "friendly campus." The orchestra, under the direction of Miss Wendt, first played a group of lively musical numbers. Then began the story of the Class of 1932 from the time its members appeared on the campus as freshmen until the present time. As Myron Clark read the story, told in interesting episodes, it was acted in pantomime and in appropriate costume. Cletus Hallquist, as the assembly magician, surprised his audience with a clever performance. Eunice Charlson's solo and the songs by the Girls' Glee Club and the Boys' Double Quartette were enjoyed by all. The episodes in the lives of the seniors, such as the arrival of Hjalmar Hulin's loaded collegiate Ford, the post-office parade, the field meet incidents, and especially Harry Nelsen's frozen feet and the favors given to the seniors will be remembered after every other feature is forgotten.

While refreshment tables were being set in place, Miss Wendt conducted a community sing. The class godmothers, Mesdames Daniels, Petersen, Berggren, and Mrs. J. O. Christianson, presided at either end of the two refreshment tables, on each of which was a lovely bouquet of spring flowers flanked by tall lavender tapers. From the tables were served ice cream and decorated cup cakes.

And then came "good night." Myron Clark, chairman, Cletus Hallquist, Elizabeth Noble, and Esther Iverson served capably on the entertainment committee. Walter Clausen was chairman of the decoration committee, Mildred Falk of the refreshment committee, Arthur Fahland of general arrangements, and Robert Carr of the invitations committee. The many students who served on these committees and those who took part in the program all deserve praise for the efficient conduct of their part in making the party a success.

Wrestling

The Aggie wrestlers are joyous over the fact that they have won both their dual meets with the St. Paul Y.M.C.A. The farmer lads won the first meet by a score of 28 to 10 and the second by a score of 31 to 15. The first meet was fought out in the sod busters own roped arena before a group of ardent wrestling fans. The second meet was grappled on the Y.M.C.A. mat before a large uproarious crowd. Both meets were rough and full of action. Each match was fast and furiously fought on both sides. Aggie wrestlers who won their battles against the Y. wrestlers were Harry Nelson, Hjalmar Hulin, Russell Hoven, Einar Saarela, Edmund Jones, John Sullivan, Edward Neeser, and Wilford Holmberg.

Paul Weiner received a badly dislocated shoulder and chipped shoulder blade and had to forfeit his match. The Aggie team feels his loss very much.

Two meets have been booked with each the Minneapolis Y.M.C.A. and the University Freshmen.

Agrarian Stages Assembly Program

Miss Laura Matson and Mr. Birder coached the Agrarian Board Members in an assembly program to promote the Agrarian sales. The following members made talks: Russell Hoven, Melvin Kullhem, Milton Swenson, Alma Josephson, William Haight, Aloys Gruenke, and Wilbur Magnuson. The subjects were "The Old Aggie Comes Back for a Book," "Finance," "Co-operation," and "What the Book Means to Me." The whole Board sang as the closing number "Agrarian Days Are Here Again." The total sales of the 1932 Agrarian now amount to three hundred and twenty-five books.

The Board has been selling candy bars and apples to help with the necessary funds. These sales have been very successful. Have you bought your Agrarian? The Agrarian was sent to press on Saturday, February 20, and we will be waiting to get it, at the door of the Auditorium, March 15. Watch that date, folks! Don't miss it!

Basketball

Although the first basketball team has won but two games this season by points, they have achieved victories in defeat. For they have lost with a grin, played the game gamely, and with perfect team work. It is enough to report that they played their best.

The summary of the season follows:

Concordia, 29; First Aggies, 21
 Second Concordia, 16; Second Aggies, 15
 Morris, 19; First Aggies, 27
 Dunwoody, 32; First Aggies, 26
 Second Dunwoody, 21; Second Aggies, 15
 Concordia, 26; First Aggies, 19
 Lane Recreation, 6; Second Aggies, 19
 Grand Rapids, 20; First Aggies, 16
 Crookston, 28; First Aggies, 23

The members of the first squad who have played through the season are Frank Taylor, Wilbur Kraus, Roy Peters, Ralph Sonju, Harold Mertesdorf, Joel Clementson, Paul Haven, George Wilkens, and Obert Loken. On the second team these boys have played consistently well: Carl Sierk, John Marrs, Ralph Nehl, Leonard Swanson, George Hokanson, Paul Otting, Peter McKay, and George Hoven.

Remember the change, Alumni: March 21 is Alumni Day. Come and renew old friendships!

The Wing Monitor

It was twelve o'clock and all the girls at the dormitory had retired. No! Not all. From one of the rooms came the sound of riotous hilarity. The capable wing monitor in that section of the building opened one weary eyelid and cocked an alert ear but hoped that this disturbance would cease. It did not, so she rolled out of bed, hooked on her everyday wings, determined that the miscreants should be rebuked and the traditions of good behavior upheld. Cautiously she peered through the transom. There, silhouetted against the west window were two girls busily engaged in turning on and off their reading lamp which was apparently focussed on the wide open spaces. Or, it might be on Dexter Hall. What should she do? What should she say? "Girls, girl, brighten the corner where you are!" Confusion, and the light went out! Stealthy steps, a few titters, and again quiet reigns. "Mercy! Mercy!" she muttered as she returned to her room to resume her interrupted sleep, "What is the younger generation coming to?"

Miss Margaret Ennis' vacation will be spent at her home in southern Illinois and Miss Mary A. Steers returns to her home in Kentucky for the summer.

Miss Gladys E. Nordeen will be married to Frederick B. Chandler, assistant biologist of the Maine Experiment Station in June. They will make their home in Orono, Maine.

Fire Drives Dexterites to New Dormitory Quarters

Fire originating on the first floor of Dexter Hall and rapidly ascending to second and third floors through a ventilating flue, resulted in forcing the boys of Dexter Hall to find quarters in Pendergast Hall for the night, and to settle in the Dining Hall dormitory the next day. The fire started about 11:30 o'clock, Tuesday evening, February 16.

The fire was first noticed by Elmer Soehren who spread the alarm and notified Miss Hognason who called the fire company. Floor monitors assisted Emerson Sartain, Dexter Hall president, in organizing the students for extinguishing the fire and removing belongings from the rooms hit by the fire. The interval between the time the fire was reported and that when the fire company put water on the fire was increased by delays caused by the blizzard that was raging and a water hydrant never before used. The prompt and effective work of Emerson Sartain and his corps of assistants no doubt saved the building from complete destruction.

Some of the boys lost articles of clothing in moving out. Others suffered loss to the clothes due to water damage. While damage was done to personal possessions, all feel very fortunate that losses suffered were not greater and that no one suffered any personal injury.

Dexter boys wish to express their appreciation to Pendergast Hall boys for their whole-hearted support and cooperation at the time of the fire and during the adjustment following. The burden of adjustment was relieved considerably by the tireless efforts of Miss Hognason and Mr. Christian Anderson.

Faculty Luncheon

The girls of the Home Management Class entertained some of the members of the faculty on Monday, February 15 at a twelve o'clock luncheon. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. F. P. Daniels, godparents of the senior class; Miss E. J. Rose, Miss R. Segolson, Miss Kaercher, Miss Bredberg, Mr. Dankers, Miss Navelle and Miss Dinsmore. The entire luncheon was planned, prepared and served by the girls of the class and after being there and sampling the food, we have decided that the girls certainly know their Home Ec.

Assembly is School Chatauqua

January 30—"Moonlight on the Colorado" was the song which caused even the worst pessimist present to sing. Mr. Christianson urged us to read the papers so that we may keep well posted on the Oriental crisis which threatens to become universal.

The Great Northern Railway presented a technicolor movie of a fishing trip in the Glacier National Park. We saw the finest specimens of mountain trout caught on a fly and strangely enough very few of the biggest ones got away.

February 2—The "New Emancipation" was Reverend Carlisle Fielding Stewart's topic for discussion. The tenth American, or the negro, was so-called because he constitutes one-tenth of the population of the United States. Rev. Stewart declared that the "New Emancipation" must be an emancipation of social and economic principals. He asked us not to view his race as to the heights that they had attained without also considering from whence they had risen only seventy years ago.

February 3—The School of Agriculture Orchestra made its first appearance at the called assembly today. They delighted the audience with a waltz, "Over the Waves," and two marches, "The United Liberty" and "Flag of Truce." The purpose for which the assembly was called was made clear by Mr. Christianson and the various members of the Agrarian board. The interest in the publication which it was desired to create was brought about by a dialogue, songs, and talks on topics necessary to the yearbook's success.

February 5—We are glad to welcome a man who can do away with the surplus. But when we see one bring it back again several fold as well as Leo Semon of the United Theatrical Producers Company did we may consider ourselves as having witnessed an unusual thing. I thought I had it figured out how he removed Bill Thompson's shirt while he was on the stage but no one seems to know how it was done. Semon is a foxy magician.

February 6—The School of Agriculture Orchestra welcomed us and the homecoming alumni to assembly today. We sang song number 89! Mr. C. P. Bull, class of '92 and a son of one of the founders of the school, James A. Bull, gave us a bit of early history of this institution. He explained why it gives an alumnus such pleasure to come back to the home he has known. What is a home? He told us his idea of one.

February 9—The audience sang "Help It On" and the S.A.U.M. orchestra again presented some well prepared numbers.

Mr. Wm. Dankers presided and introduced Reverend Cross of Mount Olive Lutheran Church who extended an invitation to the students to attend his church. Dr. Wendt, physician and farmer and the originator of the 50-50 lease plan, talked about the education in school not gained from books. We may obtain mental, physical and moral benefits from school was his contention.

February 10—The Boys' Glee Club sang "When the Banjo Plays" and we sang "America." Mr. Christianson called the members of the judging team to the stage where we all could see their modest countenances. Cletus Hallquist led us in some hearty cheers for the boys who had brought additional honors to our school.

Judge Luther Youngdahl of the Municipal Court of Minneapolis talked about the homely characteristics of Lincoln which made him such an outstanding individual. Why was he handsome? It was because jealousy, greed, and selfishness constitute ugliness.

February 13—"Hail Minnesota" and "There's Music in the Air" were sung as they should be sung. Our speaker failed to appear at the time for assembly but Mr. Christianson very successfully filled the vacancy by giving an extemporaneous talk about the wife of the man whose birthday we are celebrating. He told of the insignificant attention which was given Mary Todd Lincoln and how cruel fate was to her in the last years of her life.

February 16—Loretta Gabriel provided a special number in singing a spring song entitled "An Open Secret."

We have followed the events of the Chinese-Japanese war. Today, Reverend Meikle of the St. Anthony Park Union Church gave us the reason why Japan is acting as she is. The Japanese are desperately short of land because they cannot support themselves on the territory which they now own.

Fifty per cent of their income goes to their landlord and thirty-five per cent of the remainder is consumed by taxes largely to support militarism. They desire land for the coming generation and are also anxious to have a large strip of land between Russia and themselves to protect themselves from military invasion from that country.

February 17—The Boys' Double Quartette sang "The Gypsy Trail." We wanted an encore so they obliged with "Way Down in the Cornfield." Again today our scheduled speaker failed us but Mr. Christianson was not at a loss. He gave a very interesting introductory talk on the subject which a speaker will talk on in some future assembly, "How Propaganda Elects a President."

February 19—Called assembly and all were present. The Girls Glee Club sang "Sonny O'Mine." Mr. Christianson gave us some information on summer projects. Why should we enroll in a project? How will they benefit us? We received a satisfactory answer to all questions which may have puzzled us in connection with them in the new bulletin distributed for our information.

February 20—The oratorical contest was held in today's assembly. Mr. Christianson first introduced George Wilkens who spoke on the "Disarmament Conference." Clarence Tolin contended that "The Turk Must Go" and Myron Clark spoke on "Lincoln—the Masterful Man of the Ages." Mr. Lansing, Mr. Dankers and Mr. True acted as judges awarding first place to Myron Clark, second place to George Wilkens, and third place to Clarence Tolin.

February 23—The favorite song of the school, "Don't Leave the Farm, Boys," was sung by the assemblage and Alice Bu Dahn sang, "Take Me to Flowerland with You."

Mr. R. A. Wait, the associate director of the American Youth Foundation, cited an example of something on which every red-blooded high school or college fellow and girl agree. They admire a winner. They admire even more the spirit of a winner. Dave Hanson of the Indiana University was an illustration of the latter. He played four years on the scrub football team. He never quit.

—M. K.

February 24—We were glad to see the Boys' Glee Club come to the stage for we knew they would have a good number again. They sang an Indian song, "The Call of the Chief."

Mr. Beckman, editor of the "Farmers' Wife" and the president of the St. Paul Y.M.C.A. talked on the topic "Country Life Calls You." He said that there is no salvation for rural life unless rural leaders see things as they are. Men having the best possibilities for rural leadership have gone to improve the standards in the urban communities. The country must maintain itself by keeping their leaders. Many people realize that farming as a business is not always an outstanding financial success but as a life it has no superior.

February 26—It is a splendid treat to listen to such a fine example of harmony as was displayed by Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Boland when they played a cornet duet called "The Carnival of Venice." The encore was equally enjoyed.

Dr. Casey, head of the department of journalism in the University, revealed how propaganda affects the election of a president. The only hope for the candidates of 1932 is to make "mass impressions." This they can do through radio, movietone, newspapers, magazines, etc. Dr. Casey urged that before we vote we get behind the propaganda and analyze the main issues.

February 27—When we entered the Auditorium we became interested to note that some of the students were to furnish the entertainment. Mr. Christianson gave us an explanation for their presence on the stage. This was the Declamatory Contest.

Ruth Turner gave a humorous reading entitled "Who's Afraid?" Wilma Soehren presented "Bobby Shaftoe," and Edith Molenaar, "The White Hands of Tallahm." We know that the contest for first place was close. The judges, Mr. Dankers, Mrs. Stern, and Miss Martyn, gave their decision to Ruth for first place, Edith, second, and Wilma, third.

March 1—We sang a song written by Dr. Andrew Boss to the music of "Old Man River" entitled "Old Minnesota." It is a song of similar nature to the Iowa Corn Song.

We had heard about the Japanese viewpoint on the war at a former assembly. Dr. Quigley now gave his impression of the tangle. Japan has rights to the Manchurian railroads as specified in the treaties of 1913 but China claims that the treaties were imposed by force, and they now resent Japan's intrusion.

Dairy Livestock Banquet

The livestock judging contest was held on Monday, February 22, under the direction of Don Johnson of the Animal Husbandry Division. A banquet will be held on Saturday, March 5, in the party dining room when the awards will be given to the winners of the contest. Elmer Soehren is the president of the Livestock Judging Club.

Song Service

February 14—Mr. Cyrus Bannum, who is the director of International Relations in the University, talked to us about citizenship and the part we must play in preparing ourselves to know national problems. "If enough dollars could be laid in rows to make a strip 19 feet wide and reaching around the circumference of the world we should have the money spent in the late war."

February 21—"Washington was a high grade farmer, a splendid mechanic and engineer, a dependable soldier and general, an able business man, but his true and lasting greatness lay in his high unimpeachable character" was the theme of the tribute paid the Father of his Country by Dean Coffey.—W. S.

February 28—In spite of its being the morning after the party for the seniors, there was a large attendance of students to hear Dean Coffey stress the need of dullness and quiet in a life crowded with activities. These periods serve several purposes. They give one opportunity to see the relative importance of things. They may be a period of preparation for greater and more purposeful activity.

Early in February was announced the engagement of Miss Anna G. Dinsmore and Arthur True. Miss Dinsmore will teach at Columbia University this summer. Mr. True will complete the work for his master's degree at the close of the winter quarter and will be engaged during the summer in managing Hon. Victor Christgau's campaign for re-election to Congress in the first district.

Sleigh Ride Party Has a Tip-Over

No sleigh ride party is complete without one and although the driver protested that it was an accident pure and simple, no one else was quite certain. At least, the spot the driver chose was a deep soft one, a snowbank by the side of the road. And so the sleigh tipped over! In it were sixteen couples, Arthur Fahland, Sara Nelson, Myron Clark, Evelyn Henry, Emerson Sartain, Lillian Wilson, Elmer Soehren, Leone Langford, Herman Frederickson, Clara Sogge, Melvin Kullhem, Eunice Charlson, Donald Anderson, Ruth Turner, Alfred Nelson, Florence Peterson, Kenneth Carlson, Pansy Drake, Arnold Widmark, Mary Sullivan, Marcus Teeter, Olga Fruechte, Wilbur Magnuson, Dorothy Fruechte, Alfred Mueller, Esther Bajari, Ronald Johnson, Emma Denison, Clarence Goff, Dorothy Wills, and their chaperones, Mr. William Dankers, and Miss Ruth M. Davis.

This ride, which lasted two hours and was routed over the roads north of the campus, ended at Pendergast Hall where refreshments were served.

Literaries

The Literaries are all working hard now, putting in their last big efforts for the Silver Cup which is given to the Literary having the highest score at the end of the term. The score is based on the following points: program, membership, attendance, alumni members present, report of social committee as to time spent, and type of entertainment. The Gophers carried off the cup last year and they are working hard this term, but there is keen competition being given them by the Owls and the S.A.U.M.

The outstanding program of the last month were the night of Field Meet when all the alumni came back to visit the various literaries. They turned out in goodly numbers and showed genuine interest in the way the students support the organizations. Alumni were asked to say a few words to the groups in all the literaries and it was interesting to learn how much their work on committees had meant to them.

Miss Lucy Studley will have charge of the Mildred Weigley Home Management House during the spring quarter and spend her summer vacation in Minnesota.

At the Show

A trip along the beautiful Columbia River in Oregon greeted a large audience. Friday evening, February 12. The numerous watersheds in their widely varied and colorful background were gorgeous. It was a fitting trip before the main feature of the evening. "Over the Hill." And no loyal Agge could bear to see his mother face what John's mother faced. Many hearts were moved as the audience viewed the life of a mother so true to actual life, that it probably is not too much to expect that some hearts resolved that such a fate should not be the lot of their mothers.

A treat in the form of a trip to historic old Boston was the first feature of a movie entertainment on Saturday evening, February 20. The trail of an interesting trip led to Bunker Hill, to Harvard University at Cambridge, and a ride thru modern Boston, Capitol Square and then down Massachusetts Avenue. Seth Parker in "Way Back Home" brot many memories of home into the minds of the movie fans. May many follow the policy of Seth in not judging their neighbors. Life is too short to hold a grudge against anyone. Auld Lang Syne is a beautiful song, especially when sung with true love in the hearts of the singers. And just as beautiful is the melody of "In the Good Old Summer Time."

Saturday evening of February 13, found many would be magicians in the dormitories after being entertained for some time by the famous Gordien, busy explaining the tricks performed. The trick that seemed to baffle most of them was the one where a good tie was produced from pieces cut from the neck of a student from the audience.

The Boys' Double Quartette Sings

But not often enough to please its audiences. They have sung at assembly several times, at the senior party at the gym, at song srvice, and over WCCO. Miss Wendt says its name is a misnomer, because its membership varies so. The boys who belong to the organization are Henry Dammann, Joseph Kuhl, David Johnson, Donald Anderson, Robert Flesland, Donovan Ogren, Chester Ullman, Earl Lindberg, Emil Blomberg, Rudolph Bode, Robert Faulkner, and Justus Legvold.

Girls Have a Successful Basket Ball Season

Out of five games played with the Home Ec. College girls, the Twin City Business Institute and the University Cleaners, the School girls basket ball team has won four games. Elizabeth Noble, Florence Peterson, Evelyn Kording, Olga Fruechte, Captain, Elizabeth Flueger, Helen Gray, Julia Hoven and Marion Noble have played the different positions on the team.

—E. M.

The Judging Team

The School of Agriculture is exceedingly proud of the members of the Livestock Judging Team who secured for the school on February 8 at Crookston the honor of another victory in its activities. The three boys who competed in the judging received the coveted first placings in strong competition with six similar schools. Carl Sierk was the high man with 859 points out of a possible 1,000. Goodwin Sonstegard piled up a total of 850 points for second place and Milton Swenson with 840 points, missed being third man by only 3 points. David Potter was the alternate who journeyed with the team to the Crookston Winter Shows but he did not compete.

The school is also proud to have as a member of its faculty a man with the ability of the coach, Don Johnson, who was so interested in the progress of the team. Few teams have made such an outstanding record.

The School of Agriculture sponsored the appearance of Plette's Band in the following Washington Anniversary Program on Sunday afternoon, February 28, in the Auditorium.

The Seniors Celebrate

Friday morning, February 26, the seniors were very much pleased to receive in their mail boxes a very cleverly worded invitation to attend the Pee-Wee Track Meet at the Girls' Dormitory at seven o'clock that evening. Of course, all the seniors who possibly could were present to be welcomed by Mr. and Mrs. Franc P. Daniels, who were giving this party. The athletes were divided into four equal groups and soon the great struggle for group supremacy was on. Mr. Daniels introduced each event and not a single dull moment was allowed to creep in between each feature. The uniqueness of the events was conducive to much merriment.

Then came the satisfaction for the inner man. The god-parents' revision of the class motto to "The Horizon Broadens As We Eat" was certainly appropriate.

The Senior classmen are united in their belief that whenever they want to attend an unusual party they would wish their godparents to make the arrangements.

Scholarship Wins

When the fall quarter came to a close, all its activities had been recorded but one. That one was the rating of the scholarship of students in the School of Agriculture, and it was not until Monday, February 15, that the faculty committee, Dr. Andrew Boss, Chairman, Professors Alvin Larson, and L. B. Bassett, reviewed the records and presented for nomination to the Honor Scholarship Society, George Wilkens, Emma Denison, Carol O'Daniels, Gladys Marshall, Eunice Charlson, William Thompson, Edith Molenaar, and Howard Tapio from the junior class, and Pearl Huisinga, Myron Clark, Clifford Stavnes, and Kenneth M. Carlson from the freshman class.

The officers of the Honor Scholarship Society, Walfred Mattson, president, William Dankers, vice-president, and William Brown, secretary, received these nominations and accepted these students to associate membership.

Associate Membership entitles one to all the honors and privileges of the society during the term in which a student is elected to membership.

Seniors and intermediates, eligible to membership, will be elected to graduate membership at the close of their school work.

Old Minnesota

Minnesota, Old Minnesota!
She must have something,
She don't say nothing,
She just keeps pushing,
She just keeps pushing along.
She pushed into clover and hogs all over;
Pushed corn on the prairies and
cows in the dairies,
She just keeps pushing,
She just keeps pushing along.
Lakes and rivers—she's got them
all,
It's great in the Spring
And it's great in the Fall.
It's the place to live for a life that's fine.
Country can't be beat and there's no use trying.

Minnesota, Old Minnesota!
She must have something,
She don't say nothing,
She just keeps pushing,
She just keeps pushing along.

Student Wins Auto

Lady Luck sometimes smiles in a direction which enables many spirits to brighten. All the students rejoiced with Glen Miller when he was found to hold the ticket at the Twin City Auto Show on Tuesday night, February 13, which entitled him to receive the prize of a fine Willys-Overland sedan. For many days Glen was kept busy answering questions on what reactions he felt on being announced as the winner and whether he planned to take the car or the money.

Farewell, Ye Seniors

As another school year draws to a close, there is happiness in the thought that vacation time will soon be a reality. However, happy as we may be, there is one occasion we regret bitterly, namely, that the closing of each school year takes from our campus many loyal Aggies.

Although we regret their departure and will miss their helping hands in school activities, we are proud that they have completed their preparation to engage themselves in the basic industry of our nation.

We appreciate the splendid example set us by the Senior Class of '32, and we, the Juniors, stand by ready to grasp the flaming torch, and to carry high the banner of truth and loyalty that has long been a tradition of the School of Agriculture.

Whatever vocation you may choose, whether farming or agricultural leadership, or some other choice, we wish you success and contentment in the task you undertake, and trust you will have the privilege or returning often to renew old acquaintances at the dear

Fellowship Hour

The first two meetings of the Fellowship Hour this month were postponed on account of a basketball game and the fire at Dexter Hall. On February 25 a meeting was held, the presiding officer being Jack Sleeper. The following program was given: whistling solo, Allen Johnson, a radio program, a talk by Mr. Lansing on the mental side of well rounded characters, saxophone duet by Aloys Gruenke and Ralph Mimbach, and a song by Henry Dammann, who accompanied himself on his guitar. On March third, Tommy Gibbons gave a talk on the physical side of well rounded characters. He also refereed a three-round match between two school students and gave a few points on boxing.

Clara Charmley, '30, and J. Elmer Howard, a former student, were married on Friday, the twelfth of February, at the bride's home. They will make their home on Elmer's farm near Staples. Clara was employed in the dining hall during the past three terms of school.

Paul Iverson, '97, of New Richland, spent Farmers' and Homemakers' Week at University Farm visiting his nephews, Clifford Stavnes and Elton Iverson. Mr.

Dormitory Boys Correspond with Foreign Agricultural Students

"In regard to correspondence between your students and ours, I have referred this matter to our students and there is quite a number of them who are keen on taking up this correspondence." The following have undertaken to write to the six students whose names you sent with your letter.

"I trust the contacts which you desire to make with our boys will be well established. I am glad to have your letter and assure you it will be brought prominently to the notice of our students. I am sending you copies of our Prospectus and the College Magazine."

Acting through a special committee, the members of the boys' dormitories self-government association has undertaken a new project this year. They are writing to foreign young men who are attending agricultural schools similar to our own. After considering the benefits of their proposed project they decided to write to the heads of foreign agricultural schools, requesting that they inform their students of the fact that some of our students would like to correspond with them. This project was started early in the fall term and the quotations reproduced above are indicative of the attitude of the administrative heads of the schools with which we are now corresponding.

The president of the executive board of the boys' dormitory self-government association appointed three of its members, Antonio Fernandez, E. Emerson Startain, and Gerrit B. Douwsma to act as a Committee in charge of this foreign correspondence project. Acting under the advice of our matron, Miss Hognason, the committee interviewed several faculty members and post-graduate students of the University in order to secure the names and addresses of principals or deans of such foreign agricultural schools as they might think would be interested in its project. As a result, such connections were made with fourteen schools in five other lands. Australia, Canada, Wales, Spain, and Germany were represented and over eighty boys' names have been sent to the various schools.

Now several of our students have received letters from their newly found pen friends. Without exception, these letters are very informative. They tell about a great variety of things and include references to the school life, class work, and school social activities of the students while at school as well as descriptions of their homes, farms, cropping and marketing systems besides such things as their personal views of the present world problems of economic depression, disarmament and reparations. Especially do those letters from Germany breathe the feeling that their youthful writers are well informed

Howard Grew Wins First Place

On Saturday, January 30, the College Plant Industry Club held its annual judging contest which consisted in identification of agronomy, horticulture, floriculture, plant pathology, and weeds and grasses exhibits and in the placing of agronomy and horticulture classes. The perfect score in these events was 1,100 points.

Two former school boys, Howard Grew, '30, and Earl Hansing, ex' 29, won first and second place in the contest, respectively, with scores of 967 and 952.5 points. In the plant pathology group, Howard's score perfect.

At the club banquet, held in the Party Dining Room on February 4, 1932, gold, silver and bronze medals were presented to the three high men in the contest, and the new rotating faculty cup was awarded to Howard Grew.

G.A.A. Adopts New Constitution

The Girls Athletic Association has for years admitted to membership all girls in the school who paid their dues. Under the leadership of Miss Gladys Kaercher and Olga Fruechte, president of the G.A.A. a new constitution has been framed. Into it has been incorporated a new set of requirements for admission to membership based on an honor point system. The 100 points to be won by a girl who desires membership may be earned in a number of different ways, such as keeping a health chart and regularly attending classes.

On Tuesday evening, March 1, Miss Kaercher and Olga Fruechte gave an initiation party for the members of the association in the grey parlor of the girls' dormitory. Early in March will take place the election of officers of the association.

Students Call Strike

It was in my junior year that the Great College Strike was on. Butter, in the opinion of some, was too limited. A few hogged the lot and the rest got none. The menu, too, monotonous—plenty of farm mutton, but mostly shoulders and neck stews; our sheep apparently had no hind-quarters. Then a beast was killed, and for a long period beef would appear in various guises, finishing up with veritable salt horse. Jam also was scanty. Plenty of wood was available for all, but mismanagement somewhere had dire results.

Combined meetings of Juniors and Seniors were held, and the Pro. was approached, with no results, so a general strike was declared. No work on farm until tucker improved! Lectures went on as usual, but all work on farm was suspended. It lasted three days. On the third day, on entering the dining-room in front of every student as a plate with a pat of butter and a ticket with his name. We were informed that an allowance of half a pound per week would be served to each—and it was funny to see the plates with particles of butter at each meal varying in size according to the appetite of the owner.

Pro. promised to look into the matter, and we decided to declare the strike off. In the meantime the papers were full of the strike, and Parliament took up the matter and a few days later Mortimer's Drags, from Gawler, brought a host of visitors. I believe every Member in the House took this holiday and we boys got a gruelling time. After full inquiries they departed, and the "Advertiser" announced that the much talked-of Students' Strike never took place.

No, this did not happen at University Farm but at the agricultural school at Roseworthy, South Australia. Now do you wonder how we found out? A little bird came through our new international student correspondence and it told us all about this incident.

The Boys' Glee Club Sings Often

The Boys' Glee Club, which enrolls Joseph Kuhl, Henry Dammann, Justus Legvold, Emil Blomberg, David Johnson, Alvin Sethre, William Elsing, Donald Anderson, Donald Koester, Robert Flesland, Lloyd Drewes, Myron Clark, Clifford Stavnes, Hjalmar Hulin, Donovan Ogren, Chester Ullman, Earl Lindberg, Lester Agre, Berthold Schwinghammer, and Rudolph Bode, made its first appearance before the assembly on February 7, when they sang "When the Banjo Plays." Since that they have been in demand, and Miss Wendt is planning weekly appearances in assembly for them. This is good news to their hearers. —E. H.

Seniors Prove Superiority Win Field Meet

Saturday morning, February 6, dawned on a campus that soon became the scene of many a pre-field meet contest. Senior banners decorated the highest spots on the campus, but the junior banners covered the senior banners on the walls of the dining room! Alumni can guess that class attendance was not perfect nor were all junior and senior leaders present at assembly that day. Intermediates viewed the signs of storm and thought back to the year or more ago when they were seniors.

Music by the School of Agriculture orchestra greeted homecoming alumni in assembly at noon, and "Don't Leave the Farm, Boys" was the song that all joined in.

C. P. Bull, '92, son of James A. Bull, one of the founders of the school, told interesting anecdotes about the founding and the early days of the school. "While we lived on the campus, it was home to us. Whenever we return, it is to a dear home." The many alumni in the audience as well as the upper-classmen found themselves in agreement with Mr. Bull.

And when the dining hall opened for dinner, the senior banners covered the junior banners! And where did the new junior banner hang? The temperature rose! The pep fest in the auditorium that followed the dinner was an unusually live one, but left the contest still undecided. The intermediates watched with the air of experienced contestants to all demonstrations and finally led the classes in their parade to the gym where they sprung some surprises. The net result of these surprises was the winning of second place with a score of 33 points. The juniors placed third with 32½ points as their score. The seniors won the meet, tidily, chalking up 61½ counts and the freshmen made their initial bow to the athletic world with 26 simeleons. Altho but one record, the girls' archery, was broken, there was enthusiastic competition throughout the meet.

The individual and team records, which follow, show how generalship helped win the contest.

Anderson; field judges, J. B. Torrance and Wm. Dankers; timers, W. E. Peterson and L. B. Bassett; and announcer, Wm. Haight. Principal J. O. Christianson presented the winners with medals at the close of each event.

At 6:15 o'clock numerous alumni joined students at literaries where class rank was again forgotten. Alumni seemed much interested in the programs of various literaries and many were asked for a reminiscence of their school days. All wondered how badly the Morris basketball team would be beaten. Surely the spirit of the day would carry a strong Aggie quintet to victory over the fighting visitors. And what a game it was! Aggies won, decisively.

After the game the floor was cleared. In one corner of the gym the orchestra made ready for action. It was none other than Don Mitchell's aggregation of players. Alumni and visitors kept coming in. The gym was filled rapidly. Then the floor was covered as alumni and students swung out on the floor as the orchestra played the first note. Alumni spoke of other field meets and dances as they visited between dances. Many visits were made to the Agrarian board booth in the north end of the gym by those feeling the need of refreshments. But alas! Twelve o'clock came too soon. The final number seemed all too short. A tired group of students turned toward the dormitories. Here alumni reviewed past experiences until sleep called all to bed to rest until late the next day.

Voices were harsh and dry, bodies and limbs weary from a day of strenuous activity but minds were crowded with happiness and memories to be treasured through the years! The 1932 meet and homecoming had become history.

The Sunlight Hop

The sunlight hop held on Saturday afternoon, February 13, was made enjoyable by the music furnished by Milton Swenson at the drums and Herman Frederickson's accordion. A sizeable crowd comfortably filled the roped off area. Students were not alone in enjoying this afternoon. Miss Matson and Miss Hognason and several faculty members also attended. William Dankers and Miss Helen Davis were chaperones.

Farewell from the Class of '32

It is with a feeling of regret that we bid farewell to the School of Agriculture. But it is with a sense of security that we leave. We have confidence in the classes that are to follow in our footsteps. We feel certain that they will uphold the traditions of the school in the future as well as we have tried to in the past. May success be your in anything you undertake and remember there is a large group of alumni, of which the class of '32 will soon be a part, pulling for you.

Debating Teams See Action

The affirmative team, consisting of Harry Nelson, George Wilkens and Myron Clark, met Washburn High of Minneapolis in a practice debate, Monday afternoon, February 1. No decision was given. The practice of this debate gave the team poise for their debate with St. Paul Central on Wednesday evening, February 3. A decision was given in favor of the affirmative. The teams participating received much benefit and fun from these debates and are beginning to feel more confident and ready to meet other teams, regardless of odds.

The negative team consisting of Walter Clausen, Hjalmar Hulin and Carol O'Daniels went to Washburn High, Minneapolis, for a practice debate, February 9. A friendly attitude on the part of Washburn students made these practice debates very interesting and beneficial. The negative team now awaits more practice debates in preparation for meeting Morris on March 11. The affirmative team will meet Crookston's negative team at University Farm on the same date.

Several members of the debating teams listened to a debate between Washburn and West High, Minneapolis. Those able to attend were Myron Clark, Carol O'Daniels, Harry Nelson, and Walter Clausen. The Aggie teams expect to meet West High in the near future. Both teams are feeling more confident and find much of value in scrimmage practice.

The subject for debate this year is, "Resolved That the Several States Should Enact Legislation Providing Compulsory Unemployment Insurance." It has been a timely and interesting question for debate.

—W. C.

Wrestling, Again

Meeting a strong, well balanced group of grapplers at the University Stadium, the Aggies suffered their first defeat of the season. The Aggies will meet the Freshman team on the formers' own ground in a return meet on March 5. This promises to be a real battle from the first to the last match. Aggie boys who won their matches were Vernon Anderson, Harry Nelson, Edmund Jones, and Emil Blomberg. John Hanna is the wrestling coach.

Girl Reserves Hold Series of Charm Talks

There has been much of interest to the girls in the series of charm talks given at the regular meetings of the Girls Reserves on Thursday evenings. On January 28, Dr. Jane Leichsenring spoke on "Living, Learning, and Leisure." On February 4, Miss Elizabeth McMillan talked about "Fun, Fancy, and Friendship." Charm, and Courtesy" was Miss Florence Carnahan's topic on February 18, and Mr. Werts' "Beauty, Brains, and Boys" talk was the one that attracted the largest attendance.

Each girl on the cabinet has taken her turn at introducing the speakers. New officers were elected on February 14 and are now in training for their new positions. They are Wilma Soehren, president; Dorothy Seleen, vice-president; Dorothy Fruechte, treasurer; and Helen Prushek, secretary.

Boys Seek Culinary Efficiency

"Boys, this article of food you are preparing should present an enticing, golden brown color when done." This was Miss Mary Steers' admonition to the thirteenth boys of the Foods Selection class as they prepared to embark on their first experiment. Eager to outdo their sister culinarians they were too liberal with the ingredients and also allowed the fire to become too hot. Alas! when the impatient boys viewed the result it was not only golden brown but had been further processed until it was now not unlike the color combination of the majestic Holstein. Although somewhat abashed by this turn of affairs they nevertheless resolved that if better cooks were to be produced further experimentation was necessary. Before many weeks had passed pungent aromes floated down the corridors which brought favorable comments from even those maidens who pessimistically insisted that boys could never learn the art of cooking.

The planning and serving of an entire meal presented a new problem. It seemed that the allotted time of two hours was not sufficient for all the details preceding a successful meal. Puzzled thoughts as to how their mothers arranged three meals a day were in the minds of many. Practice was the solution of this predicament also.

Questions of vital importance were what foods are conducive to a school girl complexion or to the maintenance of that sparkle in the eyes and ginger in the steps. The heretofore somewhat familiar alphabet began to take on new meanings at vitamin after vitamin was uncovered and christened with the cognomen of A, B, or C, and so forth.

As the quarter neared its close the benefits of such a class became apparent, especially to those who were receiving the instructions. Now they will be in a position to criticize expertly most any meal.

"Perhaps" they must "We may even be induced to accept a position at Delmonico's."

4-H Club

The second 4-H Club meeting was held on Tuesday evening, February 2, and was called to order by the president, Leone Langford. The meeting opened with the singing of songs, led by Wilma Soehren, followed by talks by Florence Peterson, Lloyd Drewes and Myron Clark.

Members that were appointed to committees for the next meeting were Gail Prushek, Russel Nelson, program; Florence Peterson, newspaper, and Myron Clark, jokes. The third meeting of the 4-H Club was held on Tuesday evening, February 6. The following program was given: a talk on club sportsmanship, Irene Mann; reading, Harold Johnson; a talk, "Club Activities in the County," David Potter; and reading, Wilma Soehren. The following committees were appointed for the next meeting: program, Margaret Weber; newspaper, Marion Peterson; jokes, Alfred Nelson.

Dairy and Livestock Club Marks Contest with Awards Banquet

The Dairy and Livestock Club sponsored two livestock judging events in February. On the twenty-second of the month, general livestock was judged, and on the twenty-seventh, dairy cattle. Elmer Soehren is president of the Club, and the members of the School livestock judging team were student managers of the contest.

Thirty-one boys took part in the February 27 event, judging two classes of each, beef cattle, horses, sheep, and swine, and giving reasons on one class of each kind of livestock.

The ranking livestock judges and the classes in which they won places follow:

Beef Cattle—Andrew Teigen, first; Alfred Mueller, second; David Johnson, third; Willard Holmberg, and Leslie Schuman, tie for fourth place.

Horses—Willard Holmberg, first; Ernest Baughman, second; Ralph Nehl, third; Merrill Nelson and William Elsing, tie for fourth place.

Sheep—Paul Popken, first; Willard Holmberg, second; Emil Blomberg and Everett Erickson, tie for third place; Edmund Jones, fifth.

Swine—Andrew Teigen, first; Emil Blomberg, second; David Johnson, John Sullivan, and Alfred Mueller, tie for third place.

Gold medals were given to boys who won firsts in each class of general livestock judging, and ribbons will be given to each of the five high men in each class judged. The McCarthy Cup, awarded for the best general livestock judge, was won by Willard Holmberg.

Ten classes of dairy cattle were judged by twenty-nine student judges at the February 27 contest. In judging the Jersey breed, William Thompson won first place; Emil Blomberg, second; Alfred Mueller, third; Carl Anderson, fourth, and Robert Fiesland, fifth. In judging Guernseys, David Johnson placed first; Andrew Teigen, second; Irving Lundborg, third; Alfred Mueller, fourth; Russell Hoven, and Carl Anderson, tie for fifth place. Andrew Teigen was high man in judging Holsteins, Willard Holmberg, second; Alfred Mueller, third; Carl Anderson, fourth, and Herman Imdieke and Walter Ditlevson, tie for fifth place.

For being the best all around general livestock judge, Andrew Teigen was awarded the McCarthy Cup, given by Professor J. J. McCarthy, now of the University of Pennsylvania. Alfred Mueller placed second, and Willard Holmberg, third, in all judging.

The class-cup was won by the Junior Team, Andrew Teigen, Willard Holmberg, and Carl Anderson.

The Land O'Lakes Cup was awarded to Andrew Teigen for being best dairy cattle judge. Alfred Mueller received second rating.

Faculty members who acted as judges in the contest were for general livestock, Robert Ramsey, cattle; L. M. Winters, horses; Philip Anderson, sheep, and Paul Harrington, swine. Judging the dairy contest were Nat N. Allen, and T. W. Gullickson.

In honor of the winners of these contests and the one at Crookston, the Dairy and Livestock Club held a banquet Saturday evening, March 5, in the party dining room of the cafeteria. Dr. W. C. Coffey, Dean of the Department of Agriculture was the toastmaster, and gave the principal address. Mr. A. J. McGuire presented the Land O'Lakes Cup to its winner, Andrew Teigen. The various awards were presented appropriately to each of the winners.

Present also at the banquet were Principal J. O. Christianson and other members of the faculty, and over one hundred students.

Musical numbers were given by Herman Frederickson, accordion, and Allen Johnson, piano.
