CONGRATULATIONS, CLA GRADUATE!

On behalf of the entire community of the College of Liberal Arts, welcome to our 2016 Commencement.

Graduation marks a major milestone in your lives. Today, we congratulate you for your academic achievements and the dedication that it took to earn your degrees while we celebrate with those who have supported you and contributed to your success.

Your studies at CLA have taken all of you on different journeys. Some of you have graduated with majors you would have never predicted. Many of you studied abroad, worked as interns, or participated in research. All of you have grown and learned from the wide variety of classes, faculty, and experiences available on campus and off.

Your education has taken place amid the vibrant and diverse landscape of Minneapolis and Saint Paul. This unique environment has educated you academically, kickstarted your role as engaged citizens on important issues, and brought you into contact with great art, culture, and entertainment. It has exposed you to leading sectors in the international economy while enabling you to explore the work of a wide array of nonprofit organizations.

As you leave CLA, you have already experienced and participated in the world you are about to enter. I am confident that CLA has prepared all of you for whatever you choose next, whether that be embarking on a career or continuing your studies.

This is a prime time for the liberal arts. We are in the midst of major technological, economic and workplace revolutions that are ideally suited to liberal arts training. As students of CLA you have been taught to solve problems, apply analytical tools from multiple fields of study, think inventively, communicate well, and conduct research—and that's exactly what employers tell us they are looking for. The large number of liberal arts graduates in leadership positions at Fortune 500 companies, in government, health care, the tech sector, law, education, small business, and nonprofits, shows us that today's liberal arts students are well positioned for careers throughout the economy.

This day may mark the end of your time as a CLA undergraduate, but as the word "commencement" implies it truly is a time for new beginnings, new challenges, and new adventures. Today also marks the beginning of your lives as alumni. As you join the worldwide Gopher Nation, our pledge is to maintain and strengthen CLA's high level of excellence so that you can continue to look at your alma mater with pride. In turn, we hope you will stay connected as active and engaged alumni.

Please accept my heartfelt congratulations. We are immensely proud of your achievements and we wish you continued success. May you always remain curious and eager learners. We look forward to watching and learning as your creativity brings us new awareness, new knowledge, new questions, and new answers.

PAM EDSTROM

AGENCY PARTNER & CO-FOUNDER, WE COMMUNICATIONS

Keynote Speaker

Pam Edstrom started her career in technology public relations, first with Tektronix Inc. and then as Microsoft's first director of public relations. In 1984 she partnered with Melissa Waggener Zorkin, helping to build what is now one of the largest independent strategic communications agencies in the world. Pam is deeply involved on a day-to-day basis in nurturing client relationships, and she is equally committed to mentoring the company's present and future leadership.

In an industry where many leaders claim sector expertise after a few weeks of work, Pam's decades of dedication to technology communications walks the talk. Gutsy, tireless, and unafraid of challenges, Pam has been instrumental to the success of past and present clients such as Advanced Micro Devices (AMD), MasterCard, Dell, Boeing, Intimate Brands (IBI), and Microsoft.

In 2014, the agency regrouped all North American clients under Pam's care until the agency named its new North American President. In this hands-on role she consults regularly with clients and team leads to seek new growth opportunities.

An important part of her current duties involves oversight of the Insights & Analytics team and the evolution of WE Infinity, a proprietary digital data mining platform that helps agency clients understand and evaluate the impact of their communications campaigns and answer two fundamental questions: Did my campaign make an impact and how can I improve my impact going forward? In addition to her latest role, Pam continues to be instrumental in creating industry-leading PR services, training programs, and quality initiatives for the agency's account teams and clients.

Pam's ingenuity and future-focused vision earn her clients' trust and respect, and her hard work garners industry accolades along the way. In 2008, she was named Woman Executive of the Year by the Portland Business Journal, and she has also been recognized as one of PRWeek's 50 Most Powerful Women in PR and one of its 100 Most Influential PR People of the 20th Century. In 2010, Pam joined the Board of Directors of the LAGRANT Foundation, a nonprofit organization that provides scholarships, mentorships, professional development, and support for ethnic minorities pursuing advertising, marketing, and public relations careers.

Pam's expertise finds her frequently speaking about business and communications issues at prominent venues, including the Wharton School at the University of Pennsylvania, the Swedish government, the Royal Swedish Academy of Engineering Sciences, the U.S. Embassy in Stockholm, the University of California Berkeley Graduate School of Journalism, the Agenda Conference, the Public Relations Institute of New Zealand, the Portland Business Journal's Power Breakfast, and several marketing organizations.

THE UNIVERSITY OF MINNESOTA

Driven to Discover

The University of Minnesota, ranked among the nation's top public universities, reflects the state of Minnesota's strong and enduring commitment to education. It is nearly unique among universities in the United States in its three defining characteristics:

- It is an international research university.
- It is a public land-grant institution with a strong tradition of education and public service.
- Its largest campus—the Twin Cities campus—is located in a vibrant metropolitan area including not one, but two great cities: Minneapolis and St. Paul.

The University is the primary center in Minnesota (and much of the Upper Midwest) for education and research in the liberal arts and sciences, health sciences, law, education, engineering, agriculture, and natural resources. The Twin Cities campus comprises 19 colleges and offers a full range of academic and professional degrees. A comprehensive campus in Duluth offers undergraduate and graduate programs. The Morris campus offers a four-year liberal arts program. Crookston offers associate and baccalaureate degrees in technical, career-oriented programs. The Rochester campus provides graduate and undergraduate degrees, with a special focus on health sciences and biotechnology. Through the Minnesota Extension Service, the University is present in each of Minnesota's 87 counties.

When the University was founded as a preparatory school in 1851, Minnesota had been a territory for just two years, and statehood was still seven years away. The school was built on little more than the pioneers' faith in education. In its early years, the University struggled financially; during the Civil War, it was forced to close. It reopened in 1867, thanks to the energetic leadership of Governor John S. Pillsbury, who came to be known as the "Father of the University." Mathematics professor William Watts Folwell became the University's first president in 1869. Eric Kaler is the University's 16th president.

Two students received bachelor of arts degrees at the first commencement in June 1873. Since then, the University has granted nearly 600,000 degrees.

University alumni include eight Nobel Prize winners, 15 of Minnesota's 40 governors, a former chief justice of the United States Supreme Court, two former U.S. vice presidents, the heads of Fortune 500 companies, pioneers in medicine, civil rights leaders, top journalists, distinguished teachers and scholars, performing artists, and countless other men and women who have achieved distinction in every field.

Alumni, their families, and friends are always welcome at the University. We invite you to visit campus regularly to enjoy the many educational, cultural, and entertainment opportunities that are open to the public—including performances by students in CLA's vibrant arts programs. We also invite you to continue your relationship with the University through the Minnesota Alumni Association and the CLA Alumni Society.

THE COLLEGE OF LIBERAL ARTS

With some 17,000 undergraduate and graduate students, the College of Liberal Arts (CLA) prepares more students than any other college at the University of Minnesota—in fact, more than any other college in the state of Minnesota, public or private.

Students are taught by more than 500 permanent faculty members—teachers and researchers of international stature—and they choose from more than 60 majors or design their own cross-disciplinary program.

Most CLA students complete their undergraduate education in the college. Others complete their basic liberal arts coursework in CLA, then transfer to another unit of the University. The college offers strong pre-professional programs with close ties to the University's health sciences and other professional schools.

Since the University's earliest days, the liberal arts have been its essence and academic core.

This is because, as William Watts Folwell, first president of this land-grant University, put it, they “enrich and emancipate communities.” They prepare thoughtful citizens by posing difficult questions about the nature and meaning of our lives, and by addressing some of the most important issues that confront our nation and the world.

Examples are easy to find. We need to understand history, culture, religion, and language to appreciate and navigate the shifting ground of diplomacy and politics; leaders who lack that understanding affect war and peace around the world. We need to understand economics to survive in the current climate; economics without ethics has led to a worldwide recession. Justice and equality, belief and truth, the beauty of the written word, a work of art, a musical passage—these equip us to create a meaningful life, a life worth living.

Liberal arts graduates can challenge accepted paradigms, create bold new ideas or artistic works, view issues from multiple perspectives. They can develop hypotheses and collect data, reason soundly about complex questions, and, above all, communicate clearly and ethically.

By choosing a liberal arts education they have prepared themselves for a life-long, self-motivated voyage of discovery. They know there are no pat answers to be found in the back of the book—but are prepared to create, critique, synthesize, and defend their own independent thinking. They can know themselves from the standpoint of other times, people, and cultures, which makes them less egocentric—and more able to live in a world where people must get along together.

Today's graduates are likely to lead nomadic lives of short-term jobs—some of which have not even been invented yet—and multiple careers. But the liberal arts have provided them solid grounding across disciplines, centuries, cultures, and geographic boundaries, and in research, ways of thinking, and communication skills—the very best preparation for life in a rapidly changing world.
