

DULUTH-First major activity of the newly formed UMD Alumni Association, a constituent group of the Minnesota Alumni Association, will be Homecoming on the UMD Campus Oct. 17-19.

For the first time in the history of the Duluth Campus, a Homecoming game will be played on its own field--the practice field adjoining the Physical Education Building, at 2 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 18.

St. Thomas will provide the opposition as the Bulldogs, under their new coach, Jim Malosky, first-string quarterback with the Minnesota Gophers in post-World War II years, make a determined bid for honors in the tough Minnesota Intercollegiate Athletic Conference.

Another innovation will be the afternoon game. Normally, UMD plays its games at night at Public Schools Stadium.

As there is no seating at the UMD field, temporary bleachers are being supplied by the Minneapolis Campus physical plant and the Duluth Board of Education. Approximately 4,000 seats will be available, according to Provost Raymond W. Darland, who has taken a personal hand in bringing the game to the UMD Campus.

The UMD Alumni Association has planned a number of feature events for the Homecoming.

The reunion will have special appeal for the classes of 1953 and 1948, the first 5-year and 10-year groups respectively since UMD was established in 1947. Special invitations are going out to members of these classes. Dan Devine, University of Missouri football coach, was president of the 1948 class, and Richard Wallin, Duluth teacher, headed the 1953 class. All alumni, however, are being invited to join in the reunion.

Weekend curtainraiser will be a concert of folk music by Viennese folk singer Martha Schlamme. Vivacious and versatile, Miss Schlamme and her accompanist will appear at 8 p.m. Friday (Oct. 17) in Kirby Student center.

A coffee hour immediately after the game will include a general alumni reunion as well as group reunions by clubs, fraternities and other campus groups.

At 6:30 p.m., the big reunion dinner and first annual meeting of the new association will be held in Kirby Student center.

After the dinner, a double dance attraction is in store. Rod Aaberg and his orchestra will play in the ballroom of Kirby Student center, and Bob Shannon and his Dixieland band will play in the lounge.

On Sunday, Oct. 19, dedication of the new Tweed Gallery and Humanities building will be another feature for alumni visitors.

Participating in the dedication at 2:30 p.m. will be University President J. L. Morrill. On hand for the formal ceremonies opening the new gallery, a gift from Mrs. Alice Tweed Tuohy and her daughter, Mrs. John W. (Bernice Tweed) Brickson, in memory of George Peter Tweed, will be six of the artists who have conducted the annual summer workshop in advanced art.

They include Arnold Blanch, Millard Sheets, Fletcher Martin, Philip Evergood, Dong Kingman and Will Barnet. Other guest artists include Max Weber, Charles Burchfield, and the late Yasuo Kuniyoshi.

UMD Alumni Association Officers are Roy Teppen, Duluth, President, DSTC '33; Wilton Salmi, Proctor, Vice-president, DSTC '33; Clarence N. Anderson, Duluth, Secretary, UMD '50.
