DULUTH--Snow Week is ten years old at UMD.

A decade of winter fun weeks will be celebrated on the campus Jan. 22-30, according to General Chairman Frank Thomas, Hibbing. This year as always, cold weather sports, dancing and queens will top the menu.

No less than six home games come during the more than week-long festivities. These include ice tilts with both U. S. and Japanese Olympic pucksters.

Ski enthusiasts will initiate the week with a trip to Lutsen Friday, Jan. 22. A double billing of hockey with Michigan Tech JV occurs Friday and Saturday, Jan. 22 and 23.

Snow Week button sales get underway Monday, Jan. 25, with a varsity show and queen coronation slated that night. The U.S. Olympics hockey team will clash with the UMD Bulldogs Tuesday, Jan. 26.

On the bill for Wednesday's Winter Sports Night (sponsored by the UMD "M" Club) are judging of snow sculptures built on the campus, skating and skiing. Thursday's "Sno-Jam" dance is being sponsored by the UMD Rangers Club and Friday's sleigh-ride, by the International Club.

Snow fun consisting of mock-dogsled races, broomball and tug o'war events will heighten interest during Saturday's Winter Sports Day (Jan. 30.) Japanese Olympic icemen appear at the Curling Club that night as the UMD cage quintet meets Bemidji on the Physical Education floor.

Traditionally, the Sno-Ball will climax festivities on the last day of Snow Week, Jan. 30.

Duluthians formulating plans for the 10th annual Snow Week are Jack Eckholm, publicity chairman, Russ Schoumaker, Sno-Ball and Ray Mickolajak, Winter Sports Day. Kathy Terrell, Nopeming, is heading the queen contest.
