DULUTH -- Dr. Henry J. Ehlers, professor and head of the UMD philosophy department, has accepted two invitations to speak on key issues in education this summer.

His book, "Crucial Issues in Education," has attracted widespread notice and will serve as the basis for his comments.

Friday he will talk before the Central Minnesota School Administrator's Workshop at St. Cloud State College.

In August Dr. Ehlers will be guest professor at the University of Bridgeport (Connecticut) where he will teach a five-week course with subject matter related to his book.

The book's present edition, the third, was written in collaboration with Gordon C. Lee, Dean of the College of Education at the University of Washington (Seattle, Wash.).
