Letter from the Dean

In celebration, we gather to award you with a degree that recognizes your tireless efforts, acknowledges your scholarly achievements, and symbolizes the life-changing effect that higher education holds. Regardless of whether you pursue a career in business or continue on with your studies, your Carlson School of Management degree has you poised to shape your future, and that of business.

Business is, and should always be, a force for the good. It is one of the greatest creators of economic opportunity and it has the ability to enrich our lives and fulfill our goals. The principled leadership and commitment to service that you have demonstrated during your time here makes me believe business will soon improve the world in ways I can't begin to dream possible.

As you leave campus to begin this exciting next chapter, a community of more than 50,000 alumni in 78 countries awaits you. For at the Carlson School, alumni are not only our past, they are our future. They serve as our ambassadors to the world. They return to speak in our classes, recruit our students, and contribute financially to our continued well-being. We would not be where we are today without alumni engagement, and I encourage you to follow the lead of those who have come before you. Doing so will only further elevate the value and impact of your degree. In turn, we will always be here to assist in your continued pursuit of knowledge and professional development.

On behalf of the University of Minnesota and the faculty and staff of the Carlson School, I offer you sincere congratulations. We are proud of what you have achieved and look forward to all that you will accomplish.

Peter McCormick

Peter McCormick is co-founder and senior vice president, corporate development at ExactTarget, a cross-channel interactive marketing software company with nearly 2,000 employees and offices in North America, Europe, South America, and Australia. After a successful IPO in March of 2012, ExactTarget trades on the New York Stock Exchange under the ticker symbol “ET.” Since launching ExactTarget in 2000, McCormick has held numerous executive positions in the company, overseeing international operations, partner development, services, product development, and marketing. Prior to ExactTarget, he held sales and channel development leadership positions at Divine, Inc., Target, and Steelcase.

Born and raised in Madison, Wisconsin, McCormick earned a BSB in finance and an MBA from the Carlson School of Management. He resides in New York with his wife Denise, whom he met while attending the University of Minnesota. The couple has two children: son P.J., and daughter Julia.

Honors & Awards

Latin Honors Designations

Students graduating from the Carlson School through the University Honors Program have taken part in a rigorous course of study, research, scholarship or other creative work in the major, culminating in an honors thesis representing independent work done under the direction of a faculty supervisor or mentor. Students graduating cum laude (with honor) have a minimum cumulative GPA of 3.50 for their last 60 graded credits at the University of Minnesota; magna cum laude (with great honor) awards require a minimum cumulative GPA of 3.66; and summa cum laude (with highest honor) awards require a minimum cumulative GPA of 3.75.

Distinction Designations

Students graduate “with Distinction” or “with High Distinction” based on cumulative grade point average. Students graduating “with Distinction” have completed at least 60 graded credits at the University of Minnesota and earned a cumulative GPA of at least 3.75; students graduating “with High Distinction” have earned a cumulative GPA of 3.90 or higher.

Community Engagement Scholars

Recognition as a Community Engagement Scholar is earned by students who complete nine credits of service-learning course work, at least 400 hours of community service, a series of reflective pieces, and an integrative community project that results in the creation of a sustainable project for a community organization.

Honors citations are provisional and do not become official until all requirements for the award indicated are fulfilled.

Honors & Awards

Dean's Award for Best Undergraduate Honors Theses

In order to recognize the accomplishments of undergraduate honors students, the Carlson School awards an annual prize to the students whose theses achieve the highest level of excellence. The recipients of this award were chosen from a select group of honors students who were nominated by their faculty supervisors based on the contribution and innovativeness of their theses. The winners also have demonstrated great initiative, professionalism, and independent thinking throughout the thesis project. We applaud the efforts of all Carlson School honors students and faculty supervisors for their contributions to undergraduate research.

Honors & Awards

Tomato Can Loving Cup Award

This award, created by students in 1929, is the Carlson School's highest honor to an undergraduate student, recognizing performance of distinctive service to the school. The recipient receives a monetary prize, his or her name engraved on the original Depression-era tomato can trophy, and receives a 50% tuition scholarship to the Carlson School's Full-Time MBA Program redeemable after two years of work experience.

Recipient to be announced at ceremony

Academic Excellence Award

This award is presented to the student who ranks highest scholastically among all undergraduates at the Carlson School.

Academic costume and regalia

Academic gowns date back to the 14th century, when they served two functions of nearly equal importance: to indicate the academic rank of the wearer and to keep the scholar warm in the drafty stone halls of academia.

The markings, cut, and color of the modern-day academic costume—cap, gown, and sometimes hood—indicate the academic degree, the field of study, and the institution that granted the degree.

Degree candidates wear the gowns appropriate for the degrees they are about to receive. Bachelor's degree gowns are black and untrimmed. A maroon and gold tassel hangs from the mortar board worn on the head by candidates. Master's degree gowns, black and untrimmed, have pointed sleeves.

Doctoral gowns in the United States traditionally have been black with velvet front facings and crossbars on the sleeves. The Minnesota hood, which may be worn by anyone with a doctoral degree from the University of Minnesota, is black with maroon chevron on gold. Each institution has its own pattern of colors on the hood, worn around the neck and down the back of the gown. The length and shape of the hood identify the most advanced degree the wearer has earned, and the velvet edging shows the field: drab for doctor of business administration.

In recent years a number of universities have adopted gowns of distinctive school colors. A new University of Minnesota doctoral gown and matching tam made their appearance in 1988 to celebrate the centenary of the first Minnesota doctor of philosophy degree. The new Minnesota gown is maroon-trimmed with black velvet chevron and gold metallic braid. The traditional gown may still be worn.

Commencement reception

Dear Graduate,

Immediately following today's commencement exercise, I would like to invite you and your guests to attend a celebratory reception hosted by Alumni Relations and the Carlson School Alumni Board in the DQ Club Room at TCF Bank Stadium.

TCF Bank Stadium is located directly across the street from Mariucci Arena. We encourage you to meet your families out front and proceed together to the celebration. The premium entrance to TCF Bank Stadium is located under the Benton County sign, directly behind Goldy's Locker Room.

On behalf of the entire Alumni Board, I want to congratulate you on your outstanding success and welcome you to the Carlson School alumni family.

Hail! Minnesota

Minnesota, hail to thee!

Hail to thee, our college dear!

Thy light shall ever be

A beacon bright and clear.

Thy sons and daughters true

Will proclaim thee near and far.

They will guard thy fame, and adore thy name;

Thou shalt be their Northern Star!
