Duluth--- A third novel by George Deaux, former Duluthian and 1957 UMD graduate, has been published this spring by Simon and Schuster.

The title of Deaux's latest book is "Superworm." His other books include "The Humanization of Eddie Cement" and "Exit." A fourth work, "The Black Plague" has been accepted this month and will be published in England and the United States.

Deaux was graduated from Duluth Central High School in 1949, served with the Marines and returned to Duluth to attend UMD. He studied for his Master's degree at Indiana University under a Woodrow Wilson Fellowship.
