Fall Favorites: The Pumpkin Spice Latte

SEPTEMBER 02, 2016

As the days grow short, the air grows cold, and the leaves begin to turn colors of maroon and gold, students from the University of Minnesota Duluth look forward to drinking the ever celebrated Pumpkin Spice Latte.

Love it or hate it - or love to hate it - this drink has made a huge impact on coffee drinkers worldwide.

For those who eagerly await buying a Pumpkin Spice Latte, here is when the drink is set to debut at most major coffee chains...

Starbucks: Though Starbucks has yet to announce the release date of their iconic drink, customers will probably be able to get their hands on one around Sept. 8 - the date the 2015 version of the latte was launched.

Caribou Coffee: Everything pumpkin was officially available at Caribou on Aug. 25, according to the company's website. It's complete with Pumpkin White Mochas and the Pumpkin Ginger Latte.

Dunkin' Donuts: Dunkin' Donuts has already started rolling out its pumpkin-flavored coffees -including the Pumpkin

Spice Latte - in select locations. The full seasonal selection debuted nationwide Aug. 29, according to Delish.

McDonald's: The McCafe Pumpkin Spice Latte is returning to McDonald's across the country for the first time in three years on Aug. 31, according to the company's website.
