YOU CAN GO HOME AGAIN

During the memorable 1984-85 season, a year ladden-ed with achievements and firsts for the University of Minnesota-Duluth, one of the more noteworthy feats was the record the Bulldogs compiled on their home ice. In 28 en-counter at the Duluth Arena a year ago, the Bulldogs skated away with a 24-2-2 record, one of the best (if not the best) home marks in all of college hockey. Home ice, you could say, was certainly nice.

But such has not been exactly the case in 1985-86. Com-ing into this weekend's Western Collegiate Hockey Associa-tion series with Michigan Tech, Minnesota-Duluth has man-aged a 10-3-1 string at the Duluth Arena and with the likes of the University of Wisconsin, the University of North Dakota, and Northeastern University still to come on the Bulldogs' home slate, matching last year's accomplishments will be anything but easy.

All of this talk surrounding home-ice advantages presents itself as a nice lead-in to this weekend's Bulldog-Huskie matchup. While the Bulldogs have experienced a few more difficulties than usual at home during the first half of 1985-86, Michigan Tech has found life AWAY from the friendly confines of the Student Ice Arena in Houghton downright unbearable. The Huskies have not won a game outside of Houghton since January 19, 1985 when they upended Northern Michigan University 8-6 in Marquette, MI. All in all, that adds up to 20 straight games without a road triumph.

"Talk to any coach in the league and he'll tell you how im-portant winning games are at home," says Minnesota-Duluth head coach Mike Sertich. "In our last two series at the Arena with Boston College and Colorado College we won both the opening games but lost the following night both times. Things like that can come back to haunt you later in the season."

And, a look at the remainder of the Bulldogs' regular season schedule exemplifies that point, especially consider-ing the fact Minnesota-Duluth will close out the year at the University of Minnesota and at Northern Michigan.

A LITTLE BEFORE THEIR TIME

Wayne Smith, a freshman center with the Univer-sity of Minnesota-Duluth, will reach the ripe age of 18 next April 21. Now, unless you have a particular fetish with birthdays, that may not mean a whole lot other than the fact that it does make Smith, along with Michigan Tech rookie defenseman Scott White, the youngest player in the Western Collegiate Hockey Association. And, on the subject of young-timers, how about the Bulldogs' All-American defenseman Norm Maciver? He turned 21 back on September 1 which ranks him as the second youngest senior in the WCHA. (Frank Pietrangelo of Minnesota celebrated his 21st birthday on December 17.) It might be interesting to note while on the subject of age that there are two sophomores (Brett Hull and Joe DeLisle) and even a freshman (Mike Cortes) on the current Bulldog roster who are older than Maciver.

Head Coach Mike Sertich

Give a guy an inch and he'll take a mile goes the old saying. Give Mike Sertich three years and he'll take the college hockey world by storm.

"If there is anything I've learned in life, I've learned the importance of having pride—pride in oneself, and in our case, pride in our team," says Sertich. "I also want each person associated with our program — the players, coaches, administration, and the fans — to have fun. I think the two go hand-in-hand. If you have pride in yourself and in what you're doing, you're bound to have fun, too."

Not exactly the words you'd hear spewing from the mouth of a guy like Aristotle, but yet no one that's been around college hockey over the past few years is going to knock Sertich's philosophy. Especially when one takes a look at the raw numbers that the easy-going head coach of the University of Minnesota ta-Duluth hockey team has manufactured during his somewhat limited hiatus with the Bulldogs.

For openers, his three-year career record at Minnesota-Duluth stands at 93-37-6. That's a winning percentage of .706, far and away the best ever racked up by a Bulldog head coach. In terms of victories, Sertich is in the No. 2 spot, a mere 17 triumphs away from his former boss Gus Hendrickson who managed his 110 wins in seven seasons. Sertich is also the only Minnesota-Duluth head coach to guide his team to a Western Collegiate Hockey Association championship, a feat he has accomplished not once, but twice, and to the NCAA playoffs (three-for-three in that department). And as far as the WCHA is concerned, Sertich's efforts have hardly gone unnoticed. All three of his seasons the league has selected him as their Coach-of-the-Year (an unprecedented achievement).

But all through this enormous flood of success, Mike Sertich has really remained the same quick-witted, personable guy that he was when he accepted the Bulldogs' head coaching position back in the spring of 1982.

"I think it's always important to keep your priorities in order," says Sertich. "If you start losing sight of that you may find yourself losing touch with a lot of things."

Sertich found himself in somewhat the same kind of predicament about five years ago when alcohol began to unwisely seep into his life. About the same time, Sertich also started to seriously contemplate leaving hockey, at least for a while. But after some deep soul searching, Sertich was able to conquer his bout with the bottle and eventually took then athletic director Ralph Romano up on his offer to succeed Gus Hendrickson as the Bulldogs' 11th head coach.

Born and raised in Virginia, in the heart of Minnesota's Iron Range, Sertich was never an extraordinary gifted athlete himself, but his strict adherence to the work ethic made him a standout in hockey, football and baseball at Roosevelt High School in Virginia. Upon graduation from the prep ranks in 1965, Sertich was offered a scholarship to the University of North Dakota for his football skills, but instead opted to pursue his first love, hockey, at Minnesota-Duluth. During his three seasons as a Bulldog defenseman (freshmen were not allowed to compete during that time) - 1966-69 - Sertich, as he himself is quick to admit, was no superstar, but he was perhaps one of the hardest workers on the club. His career statistics for his three-year collegiate stint include two goals and seven assists for nine points in 64 games. Sertich often jokingly brags about the "scoring prowess" he possessed while a player at Minnesota-Duluth. History does indeed show, however, that the only goal he ever rang up in WCHA play came at the expense of a fellow named Tony Esposito, late of the Chicago Black Hawks and then a netminder with Michigan Tech University.

Following his graduation from Minnesota-Duluth in 1969, Sertich wasted little time in landing his first teaching and coaching job, joining head coach Gus Hendrickson as an assistant coach at Grand Rapids High School. After the two had literally built a hockey dynasty in the early 1970s, Minnesota-Duluth officials persuaded both Hendrickson and Sertich to try their coaching magic at the collegiate level. Sertich served as Hendrickson's right-hand man and the Bulldogs' chief recruiter for seven years before accepting his current post.

ASSISTANT COACHES

JIM KNAPP

Jim Knapp knows he was a fortunate fellow when he landed a position as Minnesota-Duluth's assistant hockey coach in 1982 after he was laid off while a teacher and head coach at Aurora-Hoyt Lakes High School. But Knapp's misfortune has turned into a Bulldog blessing as he has blossomed into Mike Sertich's "right-hand man."

Knapp received his hockey baptismal at International Falls High School where he was an All-Iron Range Conference defenseman for legendary Larry Ross. From there, he ventured to UMD and lettered four years (1972-76) for the hockey Bulldogs. Following his senior season, Knapp was honored with the Goldie Wolfe Most Inspirational Player Award.

After graduation from UMD in 1976, Knapp served as a student assistant coach for one year before securing the head coaching post at Aurora-Hoyt Lakes High School. While at A-HL, he transformed the Blackhawk program from the depths of the Iron Range Conference cellar to a legitimate State contender. In his five seasons at the Blackhawk helm, Knapp turned out a handful of top-notch college prospects including former Bulldogs Bob Lasko and Mike Valesano and current UMD standout Matt Christensen.

His primary duties at UMD are to assist Coach Sertich at practices and behind the bench during games. In addition to his coaching duties he is also an instructor in UMD's Physical Education Department.

Knapp and his wife, Laurie, have three sons — Jesse (9), B.J. (6) and Dan (3).

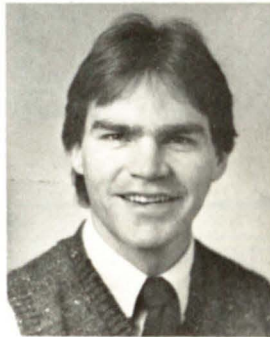

GLENN KULYK

Glenn Kulyk, another product of the UM-Duluth hockey program, is beginning his fifth season as a Bulldog assistant coach. The Prince Albert, Saskatchewan, native enjoyed a successful playing career at UMD as a center from 1976-80. During that span he racked up 44 goals and 75 assists for 119 points in 136 games to rank 21st on the all-time Bulldog scoring charts. As a senior in 1979-80, Kulyk paced UMD in scoring with 62 points.

As an assistant coach, Kulyk's main focus is on recruiting, and he spends many hours traveling throughout the United States and Canada.

Kulyk is a 1980 graduate of UMD.

TIM McDONALD

The lone member of the Bulldog hockey staff who isn't a Minnesota-Duluth graduate, Tim McDonald played his collegiate hockey at Michigan State University for Arno Bessone while MSU was still a member of the WCHA. McDonald, a native of Grand Rapids, MN, led all Spartan defensemen in scoring as a senior en route to earning Most Improved and All-Around Player honors. Also used as a forward at MSU, McDonald closed out his college playing days in 1978 with 75 career points.

Prior to his appointment to UMD in 1982-83, McDonald spent two years as an assistant coach at Ferris State College in Big Rapids, MI, and one season as a coach with the Bloomington Junior Stars of the U.S. Hockey League. His concentration at UMD is to assist with recruiting and to coach the Bulldog reserves.

MIKE VALESANO

A recent Minnesota-Duluth graduate, Mike Valesano is in his third season as one of the Bulldogs for two seasons (1981-83), scoring 42 points in 80 games as a left wing, including 33 points on 17 goals and 16 assists in 1982-83 when he played in a then school-record 45 games under rookie head coach Mike Sertich. Valesano attended Aurora-Hoyt Lakes High School where he was a three-year hockey letterman for the Blackhawks. The 1978 AA-HL graduate, who played for both former Minnesota assistant coach John Perpich and current Bulldog assistant Jim Knapp while a prep, also earned two varsity letters for the Blackhawks baseball contingent.

MEET THE BULLDOGS

Mark Odnokon – Captain

In the simplest of terms, Mark Odnokon was born to be a hockey captain. The characteristics are all there – leadership, respect from his peers, the ability to handle responsibility, acute knowledge of his surroundings. When it came time last spring to select a team captain for the 1985-86 Bulldogs, Mike Sertich and the rest of the coaching staff had just one man – Odnokon – in mind. On top of all of the aforementioned attributes, Odnokon also possesses a couple of other appealing captain qualities. First, his enspirited attitude both on and off the ice has earned him two straight Goldie Wolfe Awards as the Bulldogs' most inspirational player. Second, his durability makes him that much more of an asset. Odnokon has not missed a game during the past two seasons, the lone Bulldog that can make that statement. Perhaps Minnesota-Duluth's best forechecker, Odnokon enjoyed by far his finest year as a collegian last season, racking up 13 goals and 33 assists for 46 points – almost twice his previous two-year scoring total and sixth among Minnesota-Duluth skaters. He was third in game-winning goals last winter with three, one of which came against Michigan Tech in the WCHA playoffs (a 3-2 Bulldog victory, March 1). Odnokon, who now enters 1985-86 as Minnesota-Duluth's 46th All-Time leading scorer, hails from the same hometown, Prince Albert, SASK, as Bulldog assistant coach Glenn Kulyk. He played for three years with Prince Albert in the competitive Canadian Junior Hockey League, helping the Raiders to two national junior championships during that span. An avid fisherman and outdoorsman, Mark is the son of John and Lorraine Odnokon. The physical education major was born on 10/22/62 in Moose Jaw, SASK.

Matt Christensen — Alt. Captain

Center 6-0 180 Sr. Hoyt Lakes, MN

Where's the wings? Minnesota-Duluth alternate captain Matt Christensen may be asking that same question this year. For the past two seasons, the senior center iceman anchored one of the top scoring lines in college hockey, centering Bill Watson and Tom Herzig. However, that dynamic duo has departed thus leaving Christensen in a somewhat precarious position. But finding the right players to compliment one of the Bulldogs' most consistent players will hardly be one of coach Sertich's biggest worries of 1985-86. Christensen enters his final collegiate season at the No. 11 spot on the Minnesota-Duluth all-time scoring charts (162 points) and is on track to become the career Bulldog record holder in games played as he has missed just one game (in 1983-84) in his three seasons at Minnesota-Duluth. Christensen, who has participated in three straight National Sports Festivals, started 1984-85 off in high fashion with a 19-game scoring streak at the outset which was broken in the Bulldogs' 4-0 loss to Northeastern University. He wound up finishing second in team scoring behind Watson with a career-best 77 points (30 goals, 47 assists) and in game-winning goals (again behind Watson) with six. Christensen, whose draft rights are held by the St. Louis Blues, had three two-goal nights in 1984-85 and recorded his lone hat trick of the year in the season finale against Boston College in Detroit, MI. After finishing sixth among WCHA skaters in scoring last season, Christensen was selected to the All-WCHA second team for the second year in a row. A strong candidate for All-WCHA first team honors as well as All-American recognition in 1985-86, Christensen is a 1982 graduate of Aurora-Hoyt Lakes High School where he lettered three years for the hockey Blackhawks, then under the direction of current Minnesota-Duluth assistant coach Jim Knapp. An All-State and All-Iron Range Conference pick as a senior, Christensen also was a standout with the A-HL golf team. The son of Elliot and Marge Christensen, he was born on 6/6/64 in Aurora and is majoring in communications.

Norm Maciver — Alt. Captain

Defenseman 5-11 180 Sr. Thunder Bay, ONT

Perhaps one of the smoothest players and most gifted stickhandlers in all of college hockey, Norm Maciver returns after a brilliant season in 1984-85 which was capped by his being named to the Titan All-American team. In 47 games with the Bulldogs a year ago, Maciver collected a career-high 61 points on 14 goals and 47 assists (good for fifth among Bulldogs). Almost a third of his goals came in one game — against Providence College (12/28) — when Maciver was tabbed the WCHA's Player of the Week after notching four goals (a Minnesota-Duluth record for a defenseman) and adding an assist in the Bulldogs' 9-2 victory. Three of those four goals, incidentally, came on the power play. But that should hardly come as a surprise considering that Maciver, who's moved to forward when the Bulldogs have the manpower advantage, has tallied 22 of his 28 career goals during power play situations. Maciver, who's steady play led to scoring streaks of 11 and eight games last year, concluded the season by being selected to the All-WCHA first team. An All-WCHA second team pick the previous year, Maciver will enter 1985-86 as the Bulldogs' 21st all-time leading point getter (129 points). One of many Thunder Bay, ONT, natives to don a Bulldog hockey uniform over the years, Maciver played junior hockey in his hometown before enrolling at Minnesota-Duluth. Maciver had given some thought to joining the Canadian Olympic Team this year, but decided to remain at Minnesota-Duluth to finish up his communications degree. A standout golfer, he is the son of Norman and Julie Maciver, and was born on 9/1/64 in Thunder Bay.

Dave Cowan

Center 5-10 185 Jr. Minneapolis, MN

Dave Cowan overcame a somewhat lackluster freshman season to become a significant contributor for the Bulldogs last year. One of Minnesota-Duluth's best when it comes to taking face-offs, the quick-handed Cowan spent most of the 1984-85 campaign centering Brett Hull and Skeeter Moore. That line, although relatively young and inexperienced prior to the season, turned out to be one of the most formidable trios in the Bulldogs' offensive repertoire. Personally, Cowan increased his first-year scoring totals by 13 times, notching 12 goals and 27 assists for 39 points. That total placed him ninth on the Bulldog scoring charts. Cowan registered a career-high four assists in the Bulldogs' 7-6 come-from-behind win over Northeastern University (12/14) and had one two-goal outing against Northern Michigan (2/22) — another 7-6 Bulldog overtime triumph. A deft puck handler who's made great strides in improving his defensive game, Cowan entered Minnesota-Duluth after a superb prep career at Washburn High School in Minneapolis. He racked up 96 points as a junior and 72 points the following year to rank as one of the top scorers in Minnesota. A four-time letterman in hockey, Cowan was twice chosen the Millers' Most Valuable Player. He also lettered three times in soccer and baseball at Washburn, where he was graduated in 1983. Cowan, who was drafted by the Washington Capitals following his senior year, was born on 7/23/65 in Minneapolis, MN. He is the son of Robert and Judy Cowan.

Mike DeAngelis

Defense 5-11 180 So. Kamloops, BC

Soft-spoken Mike DeAngelis snared a regular job with the Bulldog defensive corps near the halfway point of the 1984-85 season and kept it the rest of the way. According to Coach Sertich, DeAngelis played some of his best hockey down the stretch when the Bulldogs needed it the most. DeAngelis skated in 40 of the 48 Minnesota-Duluth games a year ago, joining Brett Hull as the only Bulldog freshman to see action in a majority of the team's contests. He finished his rookie year with one goal and five assists for six points. His lone goal, however, was a biggie, coming in the Bulldogs 6-6 overtime tie with Minnesota on January 18. DeAngelis, who was paired with Brian Johnson for most of 1984-85 on defense, was the least penalized of any Bulldog to play in more than 25 games, getting sent to the penalty box on a mere three occasions for six minutes. A bit more strength conditioning and work to improve his lateral movement on the ice could make DeAngelis a hot commodity with the Bulldogs this winter. DeAngelis came to Minnesota-Duluth a year ago after a successful stint with the Penticton Knights of the British Columbia Junior Hockey League. While with the Knights, where he was teammates with current Bulldog sophomore Brett Hull, DeAngelis racked up 50 points in 1983-84, and helped lead Penticton to a runner-up spot in the final BCJHL standings. Also a gifted baseball player, DeAngelis is the nephew of former Minnesota-Duluth hockey player Bob Bostrom, who competed with the Bulldogs in 1952-53. Born on 1/27/66 in Hope, B.C., Mike is the son of Frank and Sally DeAngelis and is undecided on a major.

Brian Durand

Center 6-2 195 Jr. Cloquet, MN

After being shuffled in and out of the Bulldog lineup a year ago, Brian Durand will seek a more permanent type of status with Minnesota-Duluth in 1985-86. During his sophomore campaign last season, Durand saw little on-ice work after the midway point, but did play in all seven of the Bulldogs' final playoff games. He wound up the year with a goal and an assist after collecting a pair of goals and five assists as a freshman. Durand's lone tally in 1984-85 was the eventual game-winner in Minnesota-Duluth's 6-1 rout of Wisconsin at the Duluth Arena on Nov. 11. A big, rangy center iceman, Durand good size and quick hands may prompt Coach Sertich to try him possibly at right wing this year. A fourth round draft pick of the Minnesota North Stars in the 1983 amateur draft, Durand was a three-time hockey letterman at Cloquet High School where he was a teammate of current Bulldog defenseman Jim Sprenger. As a senior with the Lumberjacks in 1982-83, Durand racked up 34 goals and added 33 assists for 77 points en route to gaining All-Lake Superior Conference recognition. In addition, Durand also played three years with the Lumberjack football crew as a defensive back and a wide receiver and four seasons with the baseball team as a centerfielder and a pitcher. He is the son of Daniel and Phyllis Durand and was born on 8/5/65 in Duluth. Durand is majoring in business administration at Minnesota-Duluth.

Bruce Fishback

RW 6-2 195 Jr. White Bear Lake, MN

With the loss of half of last year's right wingers to graduation and/or the professional ranks (Mark Baron and Bill Watson) Coach Sertich will have a little bit of position filling to do this winter and one of those with an application for a vacated spot is Bruce Fishback. In 30 games with the Bulldogs a year ago, Fishback notched two goals and one assist for three points. One of those markers was a big game-winning goal in the Bulldogs' 4-3 thrilling triumph over North Dakota in Grand Forks, ND, while the other came against Alaska Fairbanks (10/27). Fishback, who did not skate in the last nine Minnesota-Duluth games of 1984-85, possesses both exceptional size and speed, but according to Sertich, must learn to play with more discipline. Although his playing time increased as a sophomore, Fishback's scoring production slipped slightly from his rookie season (four points). When he set foot on the Minnesota-Duluth campus in the fall of 1983, Fishback carried with him a name with a familiar ring to Bulldog hockey observers—older brother Dan, a four-year standout center had just concluded his collegiate playing days at Minnesota-Duluth the previous winter. While enrolled at Mariner High School in White Bear Lake, MN, Fishback earned three varsity letters in hockey and was a major figure on the Dolphin contingent that went 18-5-0 and captured the St. Paul Suburban Conference title in 1982-83 as well as the Mariner unit that finished second in the Minnesota State Tournament the previous year. A 1983 Mariner graduate, Fishback was an honor roll student in high school and that prowess in the classroom has continued into the post-secondary level. Last year he was one of four Bulldogs (and the only undergraduate) to gain a spot on the WCHA All-Academic team. A business major at Minnesota-Duluth, Fishback's professional draft rights are held by the Los Angeles Kings. He is the son of Ron and Louise Fishback and was born on 1/19/65 in St. Paul, MN.

Guy Gosselin

D 5-11 190 Sr. Rochester, MN

If there is such a thing as a "defenseman's defenseman," Guy Gosselin may just indeed be the ideal person that fits that label. Without a doubt one of the hardest body checkers among the 1985-86 Bulldogs and maybe even the entire WCHA, Gosselin has paired with free-wheeling Norm Maciver the past two seasons, a concoction which has produced nothing shy of terrific results. Gosselin, or "Goose" as he is known by his Minnesota-Duluth colleagues, participated in the National Sports Festival this past summer in Baton Rouge, LA, joining teammates Matt Christensen, Jim Sprenger and Brian Johnson. Although his trademark has been defense, Gosselin is not afraid to flaunt his stuff in the opponent's end of the rink. He has improved in the scoring department each of his three seasons with the Bulldogs, culminating with a 10-point performance (3 goals, 7 assists) a year ago. Although he notched two of his three goals last season in important Bulldog triumphs over Wisconsin (11/16) and Northeastern University (12/14), Gosselin might best be remembered a year ago for the other goal he tallied — a 55-foot wrist shot from center ice that eluded Minnesota goaltender John Blue and helped spark the Bulldogs to a 6-2 win in the second game of the WCHA playoff championship. One of the regulars on the Minnesota-Duluth penalty-killing unit, Gosselin was a two-year All-Big Nine Conference defenseman at Rochester's John Marshall High School prior to his migration to Minnesota-Duluth in 1982. While a Rocket, Gosselin also played three years of football. A 1982 graduate of RJM, Gosselin's professional draft rights are owned by the Winnipeg Jets. He is the son of Gordon and Virginia Gosselin and was born on 1/6/64 in Rochester. He is presently pursuing a major in criminology.

Best of Luck to the '85-'86 Bulldogs

Brett Hull

RW 5-11 200 So. West Vancouver, B.C.

Perhaps the most dynamic newcomers to hit the Bulldog hockey scene in many years, Brett Hull came to Minnesota-Duluth a year ago with a reputation as a prolific goal scorer. By season's end, he hardly let anyone down. Suiting up in a school-record 48 games, Hull completed his inaugural collegiate season with 32 goals and 28 assists for 60 points, good for fifth place on the final Minnesota-Duluth scoring charts. The 32 goals, incidentally, eclipsed the Bulldog freshman record of 30 set by Bill Oleksuk in 1978-79 while the 60 points was just four points short of another Minnesota-Duluth freshman standard. Hull, who also scored three hat tricks during the year (tying a school record) — including back-to-back three-goal gems in the Bulldogs' series sweep against Wisconsin in Madison (11/16-11/17) — strung together an impressive 12-game scoring streak near the end of the 1984-85 season. For all of his scoring heroics, Hull was justly rewarded. After leading all WCHA rookies in points, with 46, he was bestowed with the WCHA Freshman of the Year award, succeeding former teammate Rick Kosti in that respect. Lauded by Coach Sertich for his skating betterment as well as his lightning-quick slap shot, Hull has never really had a problem with putting the puck in the net. For instance, two years ago as a member of the Penticton Knights of the British Columbia Junior League, he chalked up an incredible 105 goals. The son of one of the all-time National Hockey League greats, Bobby Hull, and Joanne Hull Robinson, Brett was drafted by the Calgary Flames in 1984. Exceptionally strong for his size, Hull would seem to be a prime preseason candidate for All-WCHA honors. He was born on 8/9/64 in Belleville, ONT, and has not yet decided on a major at Minnesota-Duluth.

Darin Illikainen

LW 6-4 200 So. Hermantown, MN

A relatively unknown commodity when the 1984-85 season got underway, Darin Illikainen meticulously plodded his way into regular duty at the tailend of last season, and will be looking to retain a full-time spot with the Bulldogs this winter. In all, Illikainen played in 11 games with Minnesota-Duluth as a freshman, including seven of the final nine contests. Skating mainly with the fourth line, Illikainen collected a goal and two assists for three points. His lone goal came in his final game of 1984-85 — against Harvard University in the Bulldogs 4-2 victory over the Crimson in the second game of the NCAA quarterfinals at the Duluth Arena. Illikainen, the largest player on the 1985-86 Minnesota-Duluth roster, accelerates well, is a deft puck handler, and a solid body checker. Combine this with his inherently large frame and Illikainen certainly has the tools and potential to provide the Bulldogs with extra firepower at forward. All he really needs now is experience. Red-shirted his first year at Minnesota-Duluth in 1983-84, Illikainen elected to pursue hockey at the collegiate level following his graduation from nearby Hermantown High School despite being sought by a number of college scouts for his football and track and field talents as well. And why not? Illikainen lettered in each of those three sports four times while at Hermantown and also received some kind of Lake Superior Conference recognition in all three. A prep honor roll student, Illikainen paced the hockey Hawks in scoring his last three seasons and captained the club as a senior in 1982-83. Following that season, he was drafted by the New York Islanders in the NHL's summer draft. He is the son of Allen and Donna Illikainen and was born on 4/11/65 in Duluth. Illikainen is majoring in business at Minnesota-Duluth.

Brian Johnson

D/F 5-10 180 Jr. Silver Bay, MN

Often described as the Bulldogs' most versatile player, Brian Johnson has played both at forward and at defense during his two seasons at Minnesota-Duluth. A year ago, however, Johnson appeared to have found somewhat of an established residence on the Bulldog blueline, a position he will more than likely resume this season. A finesse type of player and, in the words of Mike Sertich, "a dream to coach," Johnson's permanent move back to defense last year resulted in a small decrease in his point production from the previous year when he skated at both the point and forward. In 1984-85, his scoring numbers read one goal and ten assists for 11 points in 38 games. As a freshman, Johnson managed four goals and nine assists for 13 points in 39 contests. Johnson, who missed eight games a year ago after injuring ligaments in his left knee in New Hampshire, helped sharpened his defensive skills this past summer by competing in the National Sports Festival in Baton Rouge, LA, along with three other Bulldogs. The Silver Bay, MN, native's invitation to the Sports Festival may have been aided by the fact that he served as captain of the U.S. Junior team that participated in the World Championships in Finland last winter. A highly recruited prep star, Johnson concluded his four-year playing career at Williams Kelley High School in Silver Bay in 1983 as the Mariners' all-time leading scorer. A two-time All Lake Superior Conference selection, he earned a spot on the All-State honor squad as a senior in 1982-83 and was chosen by the Hartford Whalers in the NHL draft that summer. Brian is the son of William and Irene Johnson and was born on 3/7/65 in Two Harbors, MN. He is majoring in physical education at Minnesota-Duluth.

Skeeter Moore

LW 5-7 170 Jr. Duluth, MN

Because of his underdog style of play and his local background, Scott "Skeeter" Moore is undoubtedly one of Minnesota-Duluth's most popular players with the hometown folks. Because of his hustling, all-out effort on the ice, Moore has likewise become a favorite with the Bulldog coaching staff. A more than pleasant surprise in the offensive end of the rink in 1984-85, Moore quadrupled his scoring totals from his previous season, netting 14 goals and 31 assists for 45 points in 42 games (eighth among Bulldog scorers). Moore, who registered two-goal nights against Northern Arizona (11/9) and Michigan Tech (1/15), sprained his knee in the WCHA playoff semifinals against North Dakota and missed five games before returning for the NCAA championships in Detroit. The diminutive winger, who skated on a line with Dave Cowan and Brett Hull for most of the 1984-85 season, doubles as one of the Bulldogs' primary penalty killers. Moore, who also played regularly with the Bulldogs as a freshman, collected 11 points (3 goals, 8 assists), enrolled at Minnesota-Duluth in 1982 and skated with the Bulldog reserves for half of that season before opting to join Dubuque (IA) of the U.S. Hockey League. In 35 regular season games with the Dubuque club, Moore tallied 35 goals to go with 35 assists and added 18 more goals in post season competition. Moore spent one year at nearby Duluth East High School (1981-82) and set a Greyhound record for most goals in a season. Prior to that, he competed at Culver Military Academy in Indiana, earning team MVP laurels all three of his years there. The 1982 East graduate is majoring in communications at Minnesota-Duluth. He is the son of Richard and Suzanne Moore and was born on 7/16/63 in Colorado.

Helps Make Minnesota Work

Jim Sprenger

D 5-11 190 Jr. Cloquet, MN

Fast becoming a leader of the Minnesota-Duluth defensive corps, Jim Sprenger has skated a regular shift with 1985 graduate Jim Johnson (now with the Pittsburgh Penguins' organization) the past two years and will be looked to help fill some of the void left by his departed partner. Sprenger's confidence has seemed to increase with each passing game, especially when he's carrying the puck. And, he's got offensive statistics to back that claim. Last year, he was credited with 18 points (6 goals, 12 assists), doubling his scoring yield from the previous season, while seeing playing time in a school-record 48 games. Perhaps his finest hour in Bulldog uniform came on February 22, 1985 when he pumped in two goals, including the game-winner in overtime, in Minnesota-Duluth's 7-6 come-from-behind triumph over Northern Michigan. An accomplished skater and fierce competitor, Sprenger played in his first National Sports Festival this past summer in Baton Rouge, LA. He came to Minnesota-Duluth by way of Cloquet High School, where he is a 1983 graduate. While at CHS, Sprenger was a three-year letterwinner with the hockey Lumberjacks. His defensive play helped Cloquet capture the consolation trophy in the 1982 Minnesota State High School Hockey Tournament and a 22-3-0 record the following year, when, as a senior he served as the Lumberjacks' co-captain. A two-time All-Lake Superior Conference pick and 1983 All-State nominee in hockey, Sprenger also earned three varsity letters each with the Cloquet football (quarterback and safety) and baseball (infielder) contingents. Sprenger is also a standout in the classroom as evident by his selection to the 1983-84 WCHA All-Academic team. The son of Norman and Dee Sprenger, he was born on 5/28/65. Sprenger's professional draft rights are owned by the New York Islanders.

Jim Toninato

C/W 5-11 170 Sr. Bemidji, MN

After miring through a slow start at the outset of the 1984-85 season, Jim Toninato really came around in high fashion late in the year, and not a moment too late at that. In fact, no less than 10 of the 20 points Toninato garnered in 1984-85 were registered in the final eight games of the season. Included in that scoring binge was a three-point effort (all assists) in the Bulldogs' heartbreaking 7-6 triple overtime loss to RPI in the NCAA semifinals at Detroit, MI. In addition, he also had a pair of two-goal games during the year — both occasions against Minnesota (1/19 and 3/15). As one of only five seniors on the 1985-86 Bulldogs, Toninato will be counted on to provide leadership as well as some additional scoring punch. Toninato, who sees a lot of time on the Bulldogs' penalty killing unit, may be one of Minnesota-Duluth's better defensive forwards. Another Bulldog to improve on his point total in 1984-85. Toninato can play either center or wing, and has done both at Minnesota-Duluth although he was primarily used at the center post last season. Tonto, as he is known by his hockey cohorts, was a four-year hockey letterman at Bemidji High School, and was also a three-year starter with the Lumberjack baseball team. As a senior, he was chosen to the All-Section 8 hockey team. He is the son of Richard and Alice Toninato and was born on 2/24/64 in Bemidji.

Sean Toomey

LW 6-2 200 Jr. St. Paul, MN

To put it quite simply, Sean Toomey is the type of player that's bursting with all kinds of potential. The key in 1985-86, of course, will be to see how much of that potential can be tapped. Toomey himself did not sit pat this past summer waiting for the season to come to him. Instead, he undertook a strenuous workout program, adding bulk to his already well-structured frame. Toomey took part in 43 games in his second year with the Bulldogs last season and did an admirable job at filling in for Skeeter Moore for five games when Moore was befallen by a knee injury during the NCAA playoffs. In all, the big, strong left winger racked up 13 points (6 goals, 7 assists), a noticeable improvement over his freshman campaign when he finished with eight points. Toomey, who has great speed, acceleration and agility for his size, received ice time in only 29 games that debut year because of a broken collarbone he suffered midway through the season. A member of the 1984 U.S. Junior team, Toomey is a native of St. Paul, MN, and attended Cretin High School where he excelled on the athletic field as well as in the classroom. He topped the Raider hockey unit in scoring as a senior in 1982-83 with 80 points in just 22 games. The Raider captain and an All-St. Paul Conference selection also that year, Toomey also was a prep football standout. He is the son of John and June Toomey and was born on 6/27/65 in St. Paul. Toomey, a communications major, was drafted by the Minnesota North Stars in 1983.

Bob Alexander

W 5-11 170 So. Apple Valley, MN

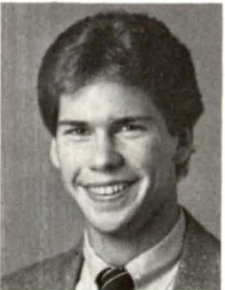

Because of the WCHA's transfer rule, Bob Alexander was forced to sit out the entire 1984-85 season after coming to Minnesota-Duluth from the University of Minnesota last fall. Alexander played one year with the Gophers, 1983-84, logging two assists in three games. Noted for a hard shot and better-than-average stickhandling talents, Alexander is a 1983 graduate of Rosemount High School in Rosemount, MN. He lettered four years as primarily a defenseman (he may be tried out as a forward with the Bulldogs this season) with the Irish, gaining All Missota Conference laurels his last three seasons at Rosemount. As a senior in 1983-84, Alexander was chosen the Irish's MVP for the second year in a row and also earned a spot on the All-State team as well. That season, incidentally, he set a Rosemount scoring record with 64 points and an Irish career point mark with 170 points (70 goals, 100 assists). The three-time Rosemount baseball letterman is the son of Firmin and Janet Alexander and was born on 10/31/64.

Mike Cortes

G 5-10 170 Fr. Duluth, MN

A mobile netminder with a quick glove hand, Mike Cortes will be one of four goalies that will attempt to land a regular spot in an area left completely vacated with the departure of All-American Rick Kostli to the professional ranks and Jon "Rusty" Downing to graduation. Cortes, who was red-shirted last year but practiced the entire season with the Bulldogs, returned to Duluth in the fall of 1984 to attend Minnesota-Duluth after spending two years with Dubuque of the U.S. Hockey League. At Dubuque, he posted a 17-1-1 record in 1983-84 and helped lead the Iowa-based team to the National Junior Tournament title. Prior to that, he was a member of the Duluth East High School hockey contingent for three years and a starter as a senior in 1981-82 (and was a teammate of current Bulldog Skeeter Moore). He is the son of Bill Cortes and Judy Fritzell and was born on 6/19/64 in Minneapolis.

Joe Delisle

LW 6-2 185 So. Shoreview, MN

Noted as one of the hardest workers on the Bulldog roster, Joe Delisle is among a handful of talented prospects vying for a regular right wing spot with Minnesota-Duluth this year. A red-shirted freshman in 1983-84, Delisle played in three games a year ago and recorded one assist - against Northern Arizona - in those three outings. At 6-2, 185-pounds, the easy-going Delisle is one of the Bulldogs' bigger players, and he is by no means timid about using that size to his advantage. Some Minnesota-Duluth coaches feel Delisle could emerge into a real plus for the Bulldogs with the right breaks. As a three-year hockey letterman at Totino-Grace High School in Fridley, MN, Delisle captured a host of honors, including All-State and All-Don Bosco Conference recognition as a senior in 1982-83. The two-year Eagle captain also was also chosen team MVP that same season. Delisle, a biology major at Minnesota-Duluth, was born on 9/7/64 in St. Paul, MN. He is the son of Thomas and Carol Delisle.

Ben Duffey

G 6-0 185 So. Bismarck, ND

Ben Duffey, other wise known as "Biz," is a man who has certainly paid his dues. After biding his time dutifully as more or less the Bulldogs' third goaltender, 1985-86 may be the year Duffey gets to show his wares. The only North Dakota native to ever wear a Minnesota-Duluth uniform, Duffey was red-shirted after making the Bulldogs as a walk-on in 1983-84. A year ago he made his first, and only collegiate appearance against Northern Arizona (11/9) in a relief role for Jon "Rusty" Downing. Duffey turned back 12 of the 13 shots the Lumberjacks sent his way in 28½ minutes of action to finish the year with a 2.12 goals against and a .923 saves percentage mark. Duffey was a two-time team MVP while playing hockey at Bismarck High School and as a senior set a school record for goals against average in a season (2.10). He is the son of Al Duffey and Marilyn Johnson and was born on 12/16/64 in Bismarck.

Tom Hanson

D 5-11 175 Fr. Hibbing, MN

A highly-touted prospect from the hockey-rich Iron Range, Tom Hanson enters Minnesota-Duluth after a brilliant three-year career at Hibbing High School. For the past two seasons, Hanson was the Iron Range Conference's top scoring defenseman. In 26 games, the three-year Bluejacket letterman collected seven goals and 23 assists for 30 points in 1984-85 en route to earning All-State, All-Iron Range Conference and All-Duluth News-Tribune Tri State recognition and was a finalist for Minnesota's Mr. Hockey competition. Hanson, who helped spark the Bluejackets to a pair of trips to the State Tournament the past two years, is a hard-nosed blueliner who plays with a lot of enthusiasm. He is the son of Harold and Joyce Hanson and was born on 3/8/66 in Hibbing, MN. He has not yet decided on a major at Minnesota-Duluth.

Rick Hayko

G 5-11 175 Fr. Regina, SASK

Rick Hayko happens to come from the same junior team — the Weyburn Red Wings — that former Bulldog All-American Rick Kosti did before he entered Minnesota-Duluth. Now Hayko is hoping to follow in Kosti's exact footprints and clinch a goaltending job with the Bulldogs in 1985-86. A left-handed netminder with tremendous agility, Hayko registered a 3.11 goals against average a year ago with Weyburn en route to winning the Harold L. Jones Trophy as the Saskatchewan Amateur Junior Hockey League's top goalie. He was second in the SAJHL with a 31-12-3 record, first in shutouts with four and also turned in a sparkling .908 saves percentage mark. The starting goaltender in the SAJHL All-Star game last winter, the soft spoken Hayko played two years with the Red Wings and was known throughout the SAJHL for his outstanding play in clutch situations. An undecided major, he is the son of Merv and Doreen Hayko and was born on 2/6/66 in Regina, SASK.

John Hyduke

G 5-10 155 Fr. Hibbing, MN

A heady goaltender with an abundance of promise, John Hyduke was a two-year starter with Hibbing High School where he was a teammate of fellow Bulldog freshman Tom Hanson. Hyduke sat out the first eight games of the 1984-85 season with a knee injury but still managed a 1.90 goals against average and a nifty .910 saves percentage mark in the 11 games he was called upon. For his efforts, Hyduke was named to the WCCO All-State and Duluth News-Tribune All-Tri State teams. Hibbing's 1984 Homecoming king, Hyduke was the backbone of the two Bluejacket clubs that made Minnesota State Tournament appearances in 1984 and 1985. Also a member of Hibbing's varsity baseball contingent for two years (second base), Hyduke was drafted by the Los Angeles Kings in the eighth round of last summer's NHL draft. He is the son of George and Evelyn Hyduke and was born on 6/23/67 in Hibbing, MN. He is an undecided major.

Pat Janostin

D 6-0 170 Fr. Hafford, SASK

One of Minnesota-Duluth's top freshmen prospects, Pat Janostin may be called into duty right away in 1985-86 to fill the defensive opening left by Jim Johnson. Janostin, who is noted for his solid play in the defensive end of the rink, comes to Minnesota-Duluth by way of Notre Dame College in Wilcox, SASK, where he had labored the past four years with the hockey Hounds. As Notre Dame's co-captain last winter, Janostin ranked 10th among his teammates in scoring with seven goals and 30 assists for 37 points. In last summer's NHL draft, he was selected in the fourth round by the New York Rangers - the 70th pick overall. Also a starting quarterback with the Hound's football unit for two years. Pat is the son of Ben and Jeanette Janostin. An undecided major, he was born on 11/17/66.

Sean Krakowski

RW 6-0 175 Fr. Calgary, ALTA

At 17, Sean Krakowski enters 1985-86 as the youngest Bulldog. But age shouldn't be a factor here (remember Curt Giles who joined the Bulldogs in 1976-77 at the age of 16?). Krakowski skated with the Calgary Canucks of the Alberta Junior Hockey League last season and as a rookie made his presence known. With 65 points (27 goals, 38 assists) in 60 games, he finished third among Canucks in the scoring books and was the AJHL's fifth top point-getter. Scrutinized by at least four major U.S. colleges, Krakowski turned down several offers from the (Junior A) Western Hockey League to pursue his education - specifically a degree in computer engineering. In addition, Krakowski's on-ice play a year ago snared him a spot in the AJHL All-Star game. The honor student is the son of Edward and Myrna Krakowski and was born on 12/29/67 in Columbus, OH.

JOSTENS

Tom Lorentz

RW 5-11 175 Fr. West St. Paul, MN

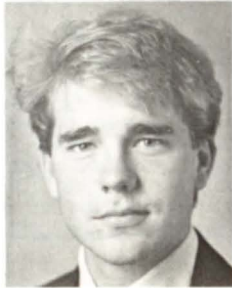

Tom Lorentz literally got his collegiate career off on the wrong foot a year ago, fracturing his left kneecap in the Bulldogs' intrasquad game. That mishap sidelined the rangy right winger for six weeks and he was eventually red-shirted. Lorentz, however, did travel with Minnesota-Duluth to the Soviet Union and scored a goal in the one game he played — against the Junior Red Army team in Leningrad. One of Minnesota's most sought-after high school seniors, Lorentz entered Minnesota-Duluth last fall with an impressive list of credentials. Twice he led the Don Bosco Conference in scoring while attending Archbishop Brady High School, and was an All-Don Bosco selection and team MVP his last two years with the Broncos. A pitcher with the Bulldog varsity baseball team this past spring, Lorentz registered a 1-1 record in five appearances. He is the son of Jerry and Pat Lorentz and was born on 11/18/65 in St. Paul. Lorentz, whose professional draft rights are held by the New York Rangers, has not yet decided on a major at Minnesota-Duluth.

Brian Nelson

C 6-0 170 So. Willmar, MN

Brian Nelson saw limited playing time as a freshman a year ago, three games to be exact (including the season opening series with Colorado College), and will have his work cut out for him in his quest to secure one of the Bulldogs' regular center spots. Nelson, who went without a point in his debut campaign, is a swift skater with a knack for always being around the puck. While at Willmar High School, Nelson was named to the All-Central Lakes Conference honor team as both a junior and senior. In his final year, 1983-84, he was also the Cardinals' captain and an All-State selection as well. A shortstop with the Willmar varsity baseball crew, Nelson competed for the U.S. Junior Team in Lake Placid, NY, in the summer of 1984. The 1984 Willmar graduate is the son of Roy and Vonnie Nelson and was born on 10/5/65 in Willmar. Nelson is the property of the New York Rangers.

Rob Pallin

D 5-11 180 Fr. Chisholm, MN

Rob Pallin took the U.S. Hockey League route to Minnesota-Duluth, a practice used by such former Bulldog standouts Jim Johnson and Bob Mason, and current Minnesota-Duluth left wing Skeeter Moore. For the past two seasons Pallin has skated for the Austin Mavericks and yet still managed to graduate from Chisholm High School on time last spring (he attended Austin High School during the last two winters while playing for the Mavericks). An offensive-minded defenseman, Pallin racked up 65 points on 19 goals and 46 assists for Austin in 1984-85 en route to making the All-USHL second team. He also competed for the USHL all-star contingent that ventured to Switzerland last season. A four-year letterman in baseball (pitcher) and one-year letterwinner in football (quarterback at Chisholm), Rob is the son of David and Charlotte Pallin. The undecided major was born on 11/19/66 in Chisholm, MN.

Terry Shold

LW 6-2 180 Fr. International Falls, MN

With the likes of Tom Herzig and Bob and Bill Mason, the International Falls area has really become a vintage recruiting territory for Minnesota-Duluth. That tradition apparently will continue with the addition of Terry Shold to this year's Bulldog roster. A big, strapping left winger, Shold led the entire Iron Range Conference in scoring a year ago while captaining International Falls High School. A three-year regular with the Broncos, Shold earned a spot on the All-State, All-Iron Range Conference and Duluth News-Tribune All-Tri State teams in 1984-85 and was a participant in last spring's Minnesota High School All-Star game. Shold was a National Honor Society member at IFHS and is a standout in the classroom. He is the son of Wally and Gail Shold and was born on 7/29/66 in Grand Marais. An elementary education major at Minnesota-Duluth, he was drafted in the 10th round this past summer by the New Jersey Devils.

Roman Sindelar

D 6-1 200 Sr. Prague, CZECH

The only Bulldog in history to come straight out of a country besides the United States and Canada, Roman Sindelar latched on with Minnesota-Duluth in early December a year ago and skated in two games (Providence College, 12/29, and Lowell, 1/5) with no points. An intelligent player with (in the European tradition) terrific skating skills, Sindelar toiled for four seasons with his hometown senior club, Sparta Prague, before journeying to the United States last fall. He previously attended Charles University in Prague. Roman is the son of Rudolf and Caroline Sindelar and was born on 5/3/63 in Prague. He has not yet decided on a major at Minnesota-Duluth.

Wayne Smith

C 5-11 180 Fr. Gloucester, ONT

Because of geographics more than anything, the Minnesota-Duluth coaching staff does not do a whole lot of hard-core recruiting in the eastern section of Canada. But when they do actively seek young prospects from that area they usually return with some dandies. Some observers are saying that Wayne Smith should be no exception. A crafty stickhandler with a knack for the net, Smith scored 73 points (31 goals, 42 assists) for the Gloucester Rangers of the Central Junior Hockey League last year. That point total ranked him 15th among CJHL scorers and second among his teammates. For his on-ice heroics, Smith was accorded the Molson Cup as Gloucester's Most Valuable Player. The business administration major is the son of Wayne and Phyllis Smith and was born on 4/21/68 in Ottawa.

Dan Tousignant

C 5-8 160 Fr. Bloomington, MN

A finalist (along with current Bulldog Tom Hanson) for Minnesota's Mr. Hockey Award in 1984-85, Tousignant is not particularly big when it comes to physical stature but that's an obstacle the hustling center iceman very infrequently lets get in his way. A four-year hockey letterman at Bloomington Kennedy High School, Tousignant was the Eagles' leading scorer a year ago with 34 points on 17 goals and 17 assists in 23 games while serving as Kennedy's team captain. The All-Lake Conference's top point getter as well in 1984-85, he was named the Eagles' team MVP at the conclusion of his senior season and was also selected to the All-Lake Conference honor unit for a second straight year. Tousignant finished his prep career with 122 points — the most ever recorded by a Kennedy skater. A three-year starting centerfielder with the Eagle varsity baseball team, Dan is the son of Len and Ginny Tousignant and was born on 10/5/66 in Englewood, N.J. He is majoring in business at Minnesota-Duluth.

RICK MENZ
Equipment Coordinator

Rick Menz begins his seventh year at Minnesota-Duluth as the equipment coordinator for the varsity athletic program. A native of Duluth, Menz graduated from Cathedral High School in 1969. It was during his high school days that he first began working at the Duluth Arena, where he worked his way up the ranks to become the ice maintenance supervisor in 1975. In the fall of 1979, he accepted UMD's invitation to become the athletic department's equipment coordinator in charge of buying, issuing, repairing, and maintaining equipment for all varsity athletic programs. While working at UMD, he completed his degree in history and geography. In the summer of 1983, Rick was the equipment coordinator at the National Sports Festival in Colorado Springs. He and his wife Sue have a daughter, Lauri (5), and a son, Derek (2).

BETTY FLEISSNER
Hockey Trainer

Betty Fleissner has served as Minnesota-Duluth's assistant athletic trainer for five years, a product of the student training program initiated by Don Roach in the early 1970s. A graduate of Duluth Denfeld High School, Fleissner was an All-State basketball player, leading the Hunters to the State Tournament; city badminton champion; and a member of the Denfeld volleyball and softball teams. At Minnesota-Duluth Fleissner also competed in volleyball, basketball, and softball. She has worked with both the men's and women's teams at Minnesota-Duluth and is currently assigned the football and hockey teams. Fleissner was graduated from Minnesota-Duluth in 1981 with a B.S. degree in physical education. She was married this past summer.

KEEPING IT IN THE FAMILY

Who are these four people and why are they all smiling? Why it's elementary. The Watson clan of Power-view, Manitoba, had just minutes earlier learned that one of their kin, one William Charles Watson, had been selected as the recipient of the 1984-85 Hobey Baker Award. Bill, shown here on the left flanked by his mother Melina, older brother Sid, and father Frank, became the fifth winner of the Hobey Baker Award and the second Minnesota-Duluth player in as many years to be so honored. Watson, joined 1983-84 recipient and former teammate Tom Kurvers, Neil Broten of the University of Minnesota, George McPhee of Bowling Green State University, and Scott Fusco of Harvard as beneficiaries of the elite award (college hockey's equivalent of the Heisman Trophy). He was later named to the Titan All-American and All-WCHA teams for the second year in a row in addition to being chosen the WCHA's most valuable player. The two-time WCHA scoring champion set a NCAA I record for points in a season with an amazing 109 (49 goals and 60 assists) in 1984-85. Now a member of the Chicago Black Hawks of the National Hockey League, Watson wound up a brilliant three-year playing career with the Bulldogs with 210 career points (good for second place on the all-time Minnesota-Duluth scoring charts) and close to a dozen school records.

THERE AIN'T NO CURE FOR THE OVERTIME BLUES

When a team is struggling the way Michigan Technological University has during the first half of the 1985-86 season, nothing never really seems to go right. The proverbial breaks and bounces always appear to go the other way. Overtime sessions, for example, have been nothing short of cruel and unusual punishment for the Huskies this year. In the 22 games Michigan Tech has played thus far, no less than eight have required an extra period to settle the score. In those eight contests, the Huskies have managed a dismal 1-3-4 record.

Overall, Michigan Tech has really not fared any better. After falling to Michigan State University 2-1 in (surprise!) overtime Friday night in the first round of the 21st annual Great Lakes Invitational at Joe Louis Arena in Detroit, MI, and 6-4 to the University of Michigan two days later in the consolation championship (the Wolverines scored a pair of goals in the final 28 seconds of the game to break a 4-4 tie), the Huskies now own a 2-16-4 record in all games and a 2-13-3 mark in Western Collegiate Hockey Association play. That puts Michigan Tech securely in the basement of the WCHA standings, a spot the Huskies occupied at the conclusion of league play a year ago. The Huskies, incidentally, come into this weekend's series with the University of Minnesota-Duluth saddled with a five-game losing streak and have not won a game in their last ten outings (0-7-3) going back to November 8.

Perhaps one of the true bright spots in an otherwise unblissful season for Michigan Tech may be the staunch goaltending performances turned in by junior Dave Roach. Roach, who has split the Huskie netminding chores for most of the season with senior Tiger Pierce, has been credited with both Michigan Tech's two victories (he's 2-8-2 overall) this season and has a deceiving 5.04 goals against average and an .868 saves percentage mark in 12 appearances. One can hardly blame Roach for Michigan Tech's woes in 1985-86. Twice he has recorded 51 or more saves in a game and last Friday he turned back 43 of the 45 shots Michigan State fired his way en route to being named to the Great Lakes Invitational All-Tournament team.

The heart of the Huskies' problems this season might very well rest in the goal production department where Michigan Tech has been outscored 116-62 in 22 games. Sophomore right wings Randy McKay and Richard Novak headline the Huskie scoring charts with 18 points apiece while center Tom Bissett, the WCHA's top-scoring freshman, has collected five goals and 10 assists for 15 points in his debut season.

The Huskies, who are under the direction of rookie head coach Herb Boxer, 38, a former standout forward at Michigan Tech, will host the University of New Hampshire in a Hockey East/WCHA series next weekend.

THE DULUTH ARENA-AUDITORIUM

The Bulldog hockey program is enhanced by the beautiful and recently renovated Duluth Arena-Auditorium complex that has become the "Home of the Bulldogs."

Located on the waterfront near Duluth's famous Aerial Bridge and Canal Park, the Arena-Auditorium has become a landmark in its brief history. Built in 1966 at a cost of $6.5 million, the Arena portion of the complex houses the 85x190 foot hockey rink with 5,639 seating capacity, locker room facilities, and several meeting rooms. The rink area is extremely versatile as it can easily and quickly be converted into a different "stage"—the Arena also hosts many concerts, dinners, conventions, shows, and other programs.

A catwalk system above the Arena's ceiling makes for easy access to eight spotlights in baskets, all of which are controlled by a centralized technician's console. A ventilating system capable of changing the air every eight minutes and air conditioning provide for excellent spectator comfort. There are two spacious press boxes to accommodate radio, television, and press media, and a four-sided, $25,000 score board above center ice tells the story of each game to every fan. An appealing message board was added to the scoreboard last year.

A spacious lobby where ticket sales originate separates the Arena from the Auditorium. The Auditorium plays host to concerts, plays, operas, high school graduations, and a variety of other activities. Individual parties also rent out the mezzanine portion of the Auditorium for private parties.

Paulucci Hall, located beneath the lobby, is the center for many post-game parties.

In 1976, an addition was built—Pioneer Hall and the Duluth Curling Club. Pioneer Hall contains a hockey rink and a smaller seating capability with fold-out bleacher seating and is used primarily by St. Scholastica's hockey team and area high school teams. It is also the home of the Duluth Curling Club with eight curling rinks and an upstairs lounge. The Duluth Arena was the site of the 1984 Silver Broom world curling championships.

A huge parking lot allows for close parking, and a skywalk system—Northwest Passage—links the Arena-Auditorium to Duluth's downtown.

1984-85 WCHA CHAMPION UNIVERSITY OF MINNESOTA-DULUTH BULLDOGS

THE WESTERN COLLEGIATE HOCKEY ASSOCIATION

John Mariucci . . . John Mayasich . . . Bill Masterson . . . Lou Nanne . . . Louie Angotti . . . Red Berenson . . . Tony Esposito . . . Keith Magnuson . . . Herb Brooks . . . Neal Broten . . . Bill Watson . . . and the list goes on and on!

You'd be excused if you mistook the list of hockey notables as a sampling of the names out of the Hockey Hall of Fame. Rather, each of the names played a significant role in the growth and development of what has come to be considered the elite college hockey league in the country—the Western Collegiate Hockey Association (WCHA).

The WCHA as we know it today was born in 1959, but its ancestry can be traced all the way back to 1951-52, when Colorado College laid claim to the Midwest College Hockey League championship. Mariucci's Minnesota Gophers rode the crest of Mayasich's heroics to the 1952-53 title before the Midwest Collegiate Hockey League was transformed into the Western Intercollegiate Hockey League (WIHL). Michigan and Colorado College dominated with WIHL throughout the 50's until the league was dissolved in 1958-59.

The seven original schools that made up the MCHL and WIHL—Colorado College, Denver University, Michigan, Michigan State, Michigan Tech, Minnesota, and North Dakota—regrouped in 1959-60 to begin the Western Collegiate Hockey Association.

Denver and Michigan Tech became the domineering teams as two of college hockey's legendary coaches—Murray Armstrong of Denver and Tech's John MacInnes—each won six league titles in the first 17 years of the league's existence. Since 1976, however, Minnesota, Wisconsin, and North Dakota have become the "New York Yankees" of college hockey.

UMD became the first "expansion" team in the WCHA when it was inducted into the ranks in 1965-66 and Wisconsin made it a 9-team league in 1969-70. The last addition to the family came in 1971-72 when Notre Dame was added.

The WCHA remained a 10-team league for 10 years, continually sending representatives to the NCAA championships and bringing home title after title. However, there was upheaval in 1981-82 with the abduction of four teams—Michigan, Michigan State, Michigan Tech, and Notre Dame—to the Central Collegiate Hockey Association (CCHA). Nonetheless, the shrunken WCHA, now reduced to six teams, remained the top league in the land.

As the 1982-83 season closed, rumors persisted of an impending merger between the WCHA and CCHA. Rumors soon turned into fruitful negotiations that seemed to be going well until a last-minute stumbling block sent representatives from both leagues home.

But, in January 1984, the WCHA expanded once again back to eight teams as charter league members Michigan Tech returned along with newcomer and Upper Peninsula neighbor Northern Michigan. Both schools had been members of the CCHA.

So as the WCHA prepares to begin its 27th year of operation, eight teams consisting of some 250 players and coaches will continue to write the success script begun by the Mariucci's of yesterday. And, with 10 of the last 13 NCAA Championship titles going to WCHA schools, that's one heck of a success script.

1984-85 THE YEAR THAT WAS

Folks that watched anxiously as the University of Minnesota-Duluth staggered out to a 1-3-0 start at the beginning of the 1984-85 season may have thought they were coming down with a mild case of deja vu. After all, it was just a mere year earlier that this same Bulldog club had mustered a meager 2-3-0 mark in its first five outings of the season.

But, just as he had done the previous season, Minnesota-Duluth head coach Mike Sertich somehow knew deep down that with a little patience everything would fall nicely into place. And nicely it did. The Bulldogs went on to capture their second straight Western Collegiate Hockey Association regular season championship, their second consecutive WCHA playoff title, and their third invitation to the NCAA playoffs in a row. In fact, after that somewhat humble start, Minnesota-Duluth went on to a 35-6-3 record to finish the season with a school-best 36-9-3 overall mark.

In the process, the Bulldogs strung together not one, but two 13-game unbeaten streaks (matching the Minnesota-Duluth record), which included one 11-game winning stretch (which shattered the school standard).

Basically, the Bulldogs enjoyed what most sports folk refer to as a simply banner year. To prove that point, only one team, Michigan Tech University, upended the Bulldogs on more than one occasion the entire season — and that came on the second weekend of the 1984-85 campaign. If you're looking for low points, good luck. Besides the heartbreaking 6-5 triple overtime loss to Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute in the NCAA semifinals which prevented Minnesota-Duluth from obtaining the coveted national title it had come within inches of the previous year, about the only so-called low point of 1984-85 was a 4-0 setback to Northeastern University in Boston on the afternoon of December 15. The shutout, the first against the Bulldogs in nearly four years, halted the 33-game scoring streak (a Bulldog record) of Bill Watson. Minnesota-Duluth quickly put that game behind it as it flew out of Beantown that evening for an historic six-day tour of the Soviet Union. The Bulldogs, who split a pair of games with a team from Moscow and a junior contingent from Leningrad, were believed to have been the first collegiate ice hockey team to ever play in the Soviet Union.

When it came to awards time at the conclusion of the year, the Bulldogs came away with more than their share of hardware. Minnesota-Duluth made it another clean sweep in the WCHA honors department as Bill Watson, who captured the circuit's scoring title for a second year in a row, was named the WCHA's Most Valuable Player, rookie sensation Brett Hull its Freshman of the Year, and Mike Sertich its Coach of the Year (for an unprecedented third straight time). Watson, who tied a national NCAA Division I scoring mark with 109 points during the year, joined goaltender Rick Kostl and Norm Maciver on both the Titan All-American and All-WCHA first teams and later went on to be selected to college hockey's highest honor as recipient of the 1984-85 Hobey Baker Award.

A HISTORY OF BULLDOG HOCKEY 41 YEARS OLD AND GROWING

It all began over a half century ago on a frozen sheet of outdoor ice near the east side of Duluth. The equipment was, to say the least, crude and the talent certainly wasn't much better.

But, those hardy souls of yesteryear, as well as those that were to follow later, are the ones who helped shape and mold the University of Minnesota-Duluth hockey program into really what it is today — one of the finest in the nation.

In the winter of 1930, an industrial education instructor by the name of Frank Kovach rounded up a handful of aspiring athletes and formed the first hockey program at what was then known as Duluth State Teachers College. Kovach, who also instigated the first football and basketball teams during that same year, did the most with what he had (DSTC had begun accepting male students just two years earlier) the inaugural campaign, but nevertheless finished the year with an 0-3-0 record losing twice to Eveleth Junior College and once to Duluth Central High School. Kovach awarded 15 letters that year and the following season his charges turned in a 2-5 mark. But, just as player interest had begun to swing upward, the mighty hand of the Great Depression hit DSTC hockey with a stinging blow. In fact, it wasn't until 1946-47 before hockey would return to the DSTC campus.

Under player coach Joe Oven and faculty adviser Ward Wells, DSTC turned in a commendable 11-6-1 overall record in 1946-47. The following season, DSTC officially became a branch of the University of Minnesota system with the hockey coaching duties going to Hank Jensen. Jensen headed the Bulldogs for four years, compiling a 17-9-1 record during that span, including a perfect 7-0 mark in 1948-49, UMD's only unbeaten season.

UMD joined the Minnesota Intercollegiate Athletic Conference (MIAC) just prior to the 1949-50 season and began a kind of domination that is rare in sports.

Under coach Gord Eddolls, a former Bulldog hockey standout who succeeded Jensen in 1951, UMD copped its first MIAC title in 1952-53, sharing the honor with St. Thomas. The following season, the Bulldogs won their first outright MIAC championship behind a group of Duluth Denfeld High School alumni — Alex Sisto, Frank Johnson, Al Peterson and Bob Boyat. Another Denfeld graduate, Duane (Dubug) Johnson, had a superb year in the nets and his backup goalie that year was former UMD athletic director Ralph Romano.

The 1954-55 Bulldogs (coached by Bob Boyat) slipped to second place behind St. Thomas in the MIAC race, but Don Bourdeau, who ended a long coaching stint two years ago at nearby Duluth East High School, finished as the conference's scoring champion. Connie Pleban, who had coached the 1952 U.S. Olympic Team to a silver medal in the Winter Games at Helsinki, Finland, took over the coaching duties in 1955-56 and the Bulldogs went 12-0 in MIAC play en route to a league crown for the first-year coach. Harvey Flaman paced the club in scoring that year with 54 points, a school record at the time.

UMD's conference unbeaten string was stretched to 25 games through the 1956-57 season as the Bulldogs assembled one of the best hockey outfits in school history. Canadian imports Flaman, Elmer Schwartz and Jerry Kleisinger each played a big role for UMD during that year. Flaman and Schwartz each set six individual scoring records while Kleisinger had an amazing 1.10 goals against average in the conference as the Bulldogs skated to a 16-4-3 record overall.

The 1957-58 season has been chronicled as "the turning point" in UMD hockey lore as the Bulldogs began to play a national-caliber schedule. Their unbeaten string in MIAC play not only reached 35, but the scores were becoming so one-sided that officials began to consider dropping out of the MIAC to pursue a higher calling.

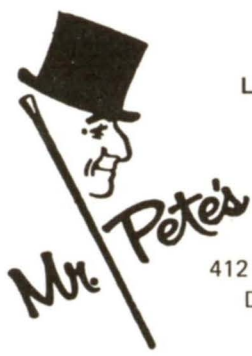

The Bulldogs' amazing winning streak in the MIAC climbed to 42 in 1958-59, but a rash of misfortune—from injuries to ineligibilities—somewhat deflated UMD's potential power and they struggled to keep above the .550 plateau.

Pleban, the winningest coach in UMD hockey history, left the UMD program to accept a position with the 1960 Olympic team and Ralph Romano kept the Bulldogs' MIAC streak alive the next two years, reaching 56 before UMD elected to abandon the MIAC in hopes of establishing itself as a legitimate national power.

For the next four years, UMD played an independent schedule, largely against teams from the prestigious WCHA, and their record steadily improved against the best college hockey teams in the land.

Finally, in 1965-66, the Bulldogs were awarded the first "expansion franchise" in the WCHA.

UMD's infancy in the WCHA was highlighted by the fascination of Bulldog fans with pint-size center Keith "Huffer" Christiansen, who set five scoring records in 1966-67, led the league in scoring, and followed by one year the selection of teammate Bob Hill as an All-

American. Bruce McLeod, who today is the athletic director at UMD, and Pat Francisco finished second and third in the WCHA scoring race as UMD enjoyed its best season to that point against national competition. That also was the year that the Bulldogs left the cozy Duluth Curling Club to move into Duluth's renowned new Duluth Arena complex.

Romano resigned as head coach in 1968 to move into administration, and the torch was passed on to Bill Selman, who coached at UMD for two seasons as the Bulldogs continued to press hard to move up in the WCHA standings. Ron Busniuk and Murray Keogan became UMD's third and fourth All-Americans in 1970, and Walt Ledingham won the same honor the next two seasons.

Selman's assistant, former player Terry Shercliffe, then began a five-year stint in 1970 as head coach that included UMD's first season in the WCHA over .500 in 1972-73. Pat Boutette joined the All-American Club, and Tom Milani, who still holds the school record for most goals in a career with 100, was the new man in town. The nets were being manned by a guy named Glenn Resch, who would later go on to become known as "Chico" and a true National Hockey League star.

In 1975-76, UMD officials persuaded Gus Hendrickson and Mike Sertich, who had built a hockey dynasty at Grand Rapids High School, to take over the program. Hendrickson's first couple of years concentrated on rebuilding the program with the likes of Dave Langevin, Rick Heinz, and Curt Giles, but in 1978-79 the Bulldogs posted a 22-14-4 record, and at one point were ranked the No. 1 team in the country! Mark Pavelich and Bah Harrington of Olympic fame were two of the leading characters in the script that year.

But the 'Dogs tumbled back into the lower half of the standings in 1979-80, and it wasn't until 1982-83 that UMD was able to crack the WCHA's upper division. Under first-year coach Mike Sertich, a former Bulldog himself, UMD placed fourth in the final league standings and gained its first ever invitation to the NCAA championships. The following year, Sertich proved 1982-83 was no fluke as the Bulldogs posted a then school-best 29-11-2 overall record, clinched their first WCHA title and placed second in the NCAA finals in Lake Placid, NY. A year ago, Sertich's magic continued. Minnesota-Duluth took home its second straight WCHA regular season and playoff crowns and earned another trip to the NCAA Championships in Detroit, where the Bulldogs finished third. Overall, the Bulldogs charted a school-record 36-9-3 mark and another school record three players — right wing Bill Watson, defenseman Norm Maciver, and goaltender Rick Kosti — were named to the Titan All-American Team.

Wood is Good

The Blandin Companies aren't in the business of manufacturing hockey sticks. We make paper and waferboard sheathing panels.

But, one of our most important jobs is managing Blandin forestlands for perpetual renewal. Jobs for our employees, products for our customers depend on it!

We also encourage responsible forest management practices on private lands through our Woodland Management Assistance Program, a service we provide to individual land owners. And, we actively support legislation to ensure that publicly-owned forestland is reforested for recreational use, wildlife habitat and timber products for future generations.

Look around this arena...look around your home.

Can you imagine a world without wood?

We all have a vital stake in the stewardship of our forests.

THE UNIVERSITY OF MINNESOTA-DULUTH

There has been one overriding characteristic about the University of Minnesota-Duluth that hasn't changed in all of its 38 years — that characteristic is growth.

Before UMD (founded as Duluth Normal School at the turn of the century) became a coordinate campus of the University of Minnesota in 1947, the site the present day facility occupies was nothing more than brush and woods. By the early 1950s, however, the campus was already taking shape with the Science Building (now called the Chemistry Building) and the Physical Education Building in place. Administrators had a far-reaching plan for UMD's orderly development to 1970. The plan envisioned a student body of 3,500 students by 1970 — more than 5,000 students were actually enrolled by then.

Today, as indicated by this year's enrollment of over 7,500 students, UMD continues its steady growth. New programs recently developed at UMD include the first four-year computer engineering program in the state of Minnesota and two four-year degrees in industrial and materials processing engineering.

UMD also offers more instructional programs than ever for both undergraduate and graduate students in six colleges and schools. Students choose from over 70 undergraduate majors leading to four associate (two-year) degrees and 10 bachelor's degrees, with teacher licensure offered in about 40 areas. Graduate students can earn five master's degrees in 14 fields, with the School of Medicine offering the first two years of graduate basic science.

The campus, located in the Arrowhead region of Northeastern Minnesota overlooking Lake Superior, has 35 buildings, some unique to college campuses: Tweed Museum of Art, Marshall W. Alworth Planetarium, Marshall Performing Arts Center, and the nearby Glensheen Mansion.

UMD's 38 years of continued growth, the last eight under the leadership of Chancellor Robert Heller, is a prime example of the area's commitment to quality higher education.

UNIVERSITY OF MINNESOTA-DULUTH ATHLETICS

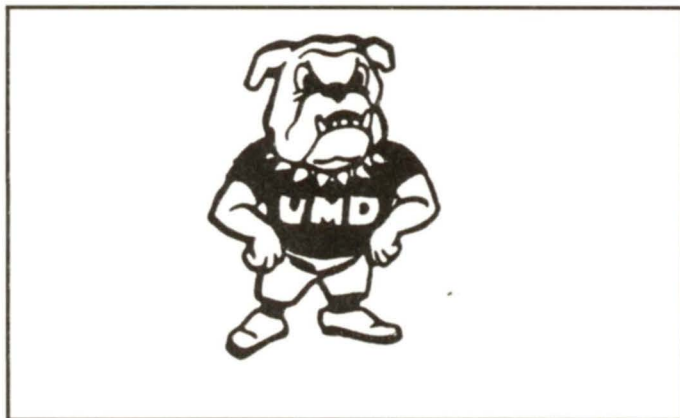

"A COMMITMENT TO EXCELLENCE"

Despite the tremendous amount of success the Bulldog hockey team has generated the past several years, they are by no means alone in terms of good fortune when compared with other University of Minnesota-Duluth athletic programs. In fact one of the principal assets the Minnesota-Duluth Department of Intercollegiate Athletics prides itself on is balance within its programs. In that sense, Minnesota-Duluth undoubtedly boasts one of the strongest athletic programs for schools of its size in the country.

In 1984-85 alone, for instance, Bulldog teams captured conference championships in hockey, women's volleyball, women's basketball, men's golf and men's tennis. Both the Bulldog men's golf and hockey contingents advanced to NCAA national tournaments as well as individuals on the Minnesota-Duluth women's track and field team and the wrestling squad. Although they were denied a fourth straight conference title, the Bulldog men's basketball team clinched the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics NAIA District 13 crown and advanced to Kansas City, MO, for the NAIA national championships for the first time in 26 years.

Minnesota-Duluth competed at the National Collegiate Athletics Association (NCAA) Division II level in all sports except men's basketball (NAIA) and hockey (Division I). The men's athletic teams are members of the Northern Intercollegiate Intercollegiate Conference (NIC), again save hockey which belongs to the prestigious Western Collegiate Hockey Association. The Bulldog women all participate in the Northern Sun Conference (NSC).

Overseeing Minnesota-Duluth's 15-sport (nine men, six women athletic program) is Bruce McLeod, who is in his second full year as the Director of Intercollegiate Athletics. McLeod, who succeeded the late Ralph Romano, has worked his way through virtually the entire Minnesota-Duluth Athletic Department, serving, at one time or another, the sports information director, the business manager, and the assistant athletic director (a position he held from 1977 to his appointment as athletic director on June 1, 1984).

A native of Fort Francis, Ontario in Canada, McLeod first made his mark at Minnesota-Duluth as a standout left winger on the Bulldog hockey team. During his three-year collegiate career (1966-69) McLeod racked up 81 points and was the Bulldogs co-captain as a senior during the 1968-69 season.

McLeod, a 1969 graduate of Minnesota-Duluth, and his wife, Monty, have two daughters.

- Recipient must have completed at least one year at Minnesota-Duluth.
- Recipient must carry a cumulative grade point average of 3.0 or have a grade point average of 3.0 during the last year in residence.

The Duluth Clinic and Minnesota Power wish to congratulate the Rasmussen Scholars – young men and women who have recognized the precedent for harmony between physical and intellectual education and who have so successfully combined athletics and scholastics.

RASMUSSEN BULLDOG FUND

In plain and simple terms, the relationship the Rasmussen Bulldog Fund has with University of Minnesota-Duluth athletics can be likened to a goaltender in hockey, a quarterback in football or a pitcher in baseball. It's the catalyst that holds the rest of the team together.

Of course, there are a number of variables and factors responsible for Minnesota-Duluth's phenomenal success in athletics during the past several years. However, none is more instrumental than the Rasmussen Bulldog Fund. The Fund, named for long-time Minnesota-Duluth athletic booster E. L. "Duce" Rasmussen, allows Minnesota-Duluth to overcome the constant financial challenges of operating a 15-sport program by generating funds to provide Bulldog student-athletes with a quality education. By offering the student-athletes scholarships and work programs, the Rasmussen Bulldog Fund enables Minnesota-Duluth to lure the finest student-athletes available to the scenic campus, guaranteeing the high standard of excellence in the athletic programs that has become a way of life at Minnesota-Duluth.

Since its inception 14 years ago, the Rasmussen Bulldog

Fund has established essential community support for both men's and women's varsity athletic programs at Minnesota-Duluth. Individuals, the business community, and a host of other organizations have contributed nearly $1 million to Bulldog athletes and programs. In 1984-85 alone, contributors poured $105,000 into the Rasmussen Bulldog Fund coffers.

Unquestionably, the greatest benefactor of the Rasmussen Bulldog Fund is the Minnesota-Duluth athletic program. However, it must also be noted that the various Bulldog teams reciprocate the community's support by attracting thousands of spectators to their sporting events, which in turn generates profits for many local businesses.

But, the Minnesota-Duluth athletic program cannot continue to flourish by milking the success of the past. The coaches and athletes are spending countless hours in preparation for the upcoming 1985-86 seasons. Now it's up to you to respond to the call — please support the Rasmussen Bulldog Fund and send in your contribution today.

WHERE HAVE YOU GONE . . . Pokey Trachsel

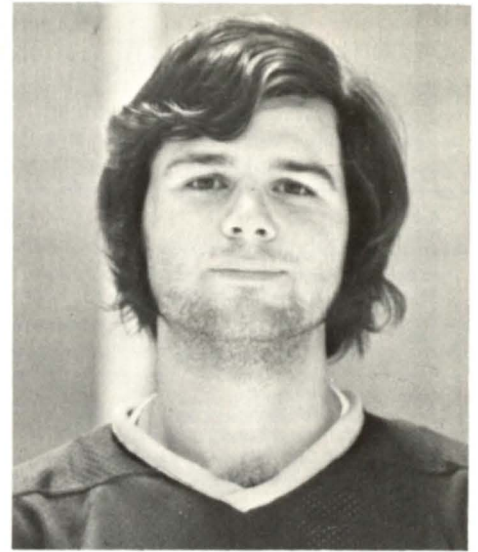

Brian Johnson's switch from defense to forward last weekend in Lowell, MA, wasn't exactly an unprecedented maneuver in the annals of Minnesota-Duluth hockey. Take, for instance, the same type of situation which occurred about a dozen years ago (1972-73) when then-Bulldog head coach Terry Shercliffe, in an effort to bolster his team's scoring potential, moved three-year regular defenseman Steve "Pokey" Trachsel up to forward to center All-American-to-be Pat Boutette and another proven point producer, Tom Milani. The shift, as it would later prove, returned some mighty high dividends for Shercliffe and Co. as Trachsel enjoyed the finest year of his collegiate career, racking up 19 goals and 26 assists for 45 points — nearly triple any of his previous season totals. Trachsel's 45 points placed him in a tie for second on the final Bulldog scoring charts behind linemate Boutette.

During that same season, on November 17, Trachsel established a Minnesota-Duluth record when he collected five goals in the Bulldogs' 11-5 triumph over Lake Superior State College in the first round of the Christmas City of the North Tournament at the Duluth Arena.

"It was just one of those nights when everything you shot seemed to go in the net," remembers Trachsel, who now lives in Duluth and works as a salesman for Johnson Bros. Liquor Company of St. Paul. "I guess it's kind of nice to see the record still stand."

Yes, but the other Bulldog record Trachsel was credited with didn't hold up. And that's probably just fine with him. As a sophomore in 1971-72, Trachsel etched his way into the Minnesota-Duluth record books by piling up 103 minutes of penalties in 32 games. It's a dubious mark that stood until the 1982-83 season when defenseman Jim Johnson was whistled for 118 minutes in 44 games.

"I always considered myself a physical type of player and a solid checker," says Trachsel, who played his prep hockey at nearby Duluth Cathedral High School. "I think there was a lot more hitting back then in comparison to the increased emphasis you see on skating now."

Trachsel was graduated from Minnesota-Duluth in the spring of 1973 with a degree in political science. He and his wife, the former Cathy Hughes of Duluth who he married his senior year, decided to take a crack at the professional hockey ranks. After signing a free agent contract with the Los Angeles Kings of the National Hockey League in the summer of 1973, Trachsel spent the next three years virtually everywhere but L.A., making minor league stops in Portland, OR, Springfield, MA, Saginaw, MI, and Spokane, WA. He and Cathy eventually wound up back in Duluth in 1977. Today they are the parents of a one-and-a-half-year-old daughter, Lisa, and are expecting their second child in March.
