Leadership Letter

From the Chancellor

Welcome.

We are so glad that you are a student at the University of Crookston. This week is a great celebration of the new school year. The same day that we welcomed our incoming class on campus last Friday, I received a photo my grandson Sam on his first day of kindergarten (Above left photo).

Sam, just like you, is going to experience somethings he's never done before. This coming year in school you most likely will be asked to think about something you've never thought about, do something new or perhaps challenge an opinion you've always held.

I was with Sam last weekend. This little five year old has some pretty good advice he shared with me and some things for you to consider on your journey through this semester.

Sam and I were waiting to get on the Tilt-A-Whirl. He took my hand—well actually as we moved up the line—he keep squeezing my hand harder and harder as we got closer to get on the ride. He said “this is going to be a little scary. But I’m ready for it—because I have my super powers.”

You’ve got your super powers too. They are within you, they are your friends, and the people who support you. So don’t be afraid to be scared. Embrace it and go for it.

When Sam got off the Tilt-A-Whirl he said to me. Boy that was really fun. I like fun.

Just like Sam, we like fun here at U of MN Crookston and want you to study hard of course, but have fun. Enjoy, explore. Show your joy. Have your fun (Above middle photo).

And just like Sam with his support system of goofy siblings (except for the sensible one with the U of MN Crookston shirt on) you have your support system.

Your support system is all of us.

We are here for you (Above right photo). For you to succeed. Reach out to us and use the student success team and other resources here on campus.

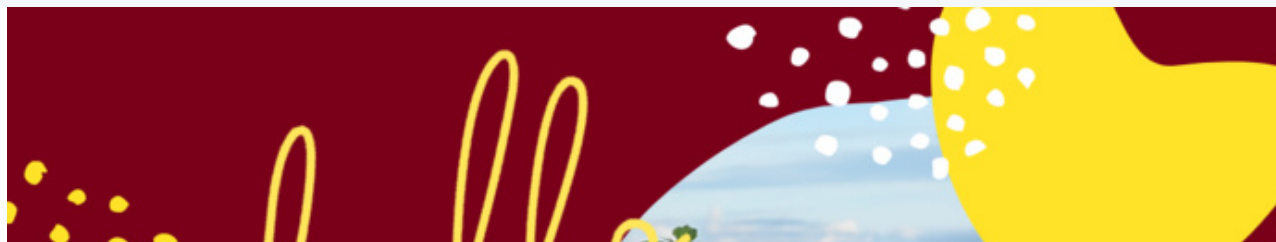

Have a great year.

Sincerely,

Chancellor Mary
