LEADERSHIP LETTER

From the Chancellor

Welcome Back! I hope you had a restorative holiday. Usually I am ready to take the holiday decorations down and frequently use New Year's Day to do so. This year, in the "breaking out of the way I've always done it," I am leaving them up. Unfortunately, we didn't put up a opted for no tree since we weren't going to be around. Better sense prevailed and we decided potentially exposing my 92 year old mother-in-law wasn't a very good idea. So, like many families, we Zoomed, FaceTimed and tried to reflect on what we have, not what we missed.

One thing I am NOT missing is the sub arctic cold. The weather the last several weeks has been such a gift. I hope if you live here, you have been able to be out and about and enjoy the days.

I sent you some reflections about the incidents that occurred at the U.S. Capitol last week. I was needing some affirmation about the importance of education and democracy, so I sought out John Dewey works, who has written voluminously on the relationship. I want to share his quote that was impactful to me.

“Democracy must be born anew every generation and education is the midwife.” ¹

We have much work to do in this area!

Thank you for your continued effort to make this campus a better community.

Until next time,

Chancellor Mary

CAMPUS UPDATES

Changes in Student Engagement & Wellness beginning January 1, 2021.

We're excited to announce some position updates in Student Engagement & Wellness. During the fall semester, Brooke Novak took on some additional duties on an interim basis. She will be keeping those duties permanently and her new job title is Director of Educational Programs and Transitions.

From Residential Life

Erica Claybrook-Cookman was hired in the fall as the Senior Area Coordinator in Residential Life. Likewise, she has taken on some extra duties and has excelled in that role. Moving forward, Erica's new position title is Assistant Director of Residential Life and she is the first contact for all Residential Life questions/issues.

From Athletics

The University of Minnesota Crookston hockey program got off to a great start in their return to the ice as the Golden Eagles picked up a 5-3 win over University of Jamestown on Saturday. UMN Crookston was led by two goals and two assists by Casey Kallock. The Golden Eagles finished the weekend with a split with Jamestown after a 7-4 loss to the Jimmies Sunday.

The Golden Eagle men's and women's basketball teams have also been in action in the new year. The Minnesota Crookston men's basketball team earned a win over Concordia-St. Paul January 2. They will be in action this weekend as the Golden Eagle women's basketball team holds their home opening series January 15 against Northern State

From Information Management

Zoom cloud recordings: Delete or move files after one year

Effective December 29, U of M Zoom recordings saved to the cloud that are more than 365 days old will be moved to Zoom's trash folder. Recordings will remain in the trash folder—where they can be retrieved—for 30 days. Seven days before recordings are permanently deleted, Zoom will email affected people a list of recordings and a link to the Zoom page where the files can be managed. Learn details, including how to retrieve and store recordings you want to keep.

Secure U: Protecting your data and protecting U of M data

Learn from a University Information Security expert about the importance of securing your valuable data to protect yourself and others from malware, phishing scams, and other attacks, especially around the holidays.

The December 2020 edition of the "OUCH!" newsletter covers some key steps to help secure family members who may be struggling with technology and might not understand the risks with using it and the potential threats to their online safety.

Research shows the last six weeks of each year and early new year are prime times for scams of all types, many appearing to be shopping/deals or IRS/tax related. Learn from a University Information Security expert how valuable your identity and data are and how to protect yourself and others from scams, malware and other cyber attacks, particularly around the holidays.

We encourage you to share OUCH! with your family, friends, and coworkers. IT staff please forward to administrative staff, faculty, and other colleagues in your department.

From the Help Desk

On January 4, the Office of Information Technology (OIT) will enable a new full-tunnel Virtual Private Network VPN ("AnyConnect-UofMvpnFull") that will replace the current full-tunnel option ("zz Full Tunnel - General Access VPN Pool"). The new full-tunnel VPN will tunnel users will be required to use Duo Two-Factor Authentication to access the VPN.

There is no name change to the split-tunnel users' pool.

From Dining Services

Welcome back to spring semester. The dining room in Brown will be closed for the first two weeks of the semester and items will be carry-out only.

Retail will open in two weeks once staffing is in place. If you're looking for work, please stop by the campus dining office to pick up an application.

Last week was my final week on campus as I have accepted a new job back home in Kansas, bringing me closer to my family. I want to thank everyone for the past two and half years and welcoming me into the Golden Eagle family. At this time, Jamie Heising will be the Campus Dining contact and can be reached at jamie.heising@sodexo.com.

Tim Menard Q&A

Tim Menard, our Counseling Center Director, will be retiring January 15 from the University of Minnesota Crookston. We caught up with Tim to talk about his time as a counselor and Counseling Center Director at UMN Crookston.

When did you first arrive at Minnesota Crookston?

April 7th, 2008 is the day that will go down in infamy!

What are some of your favorite memories that you will take away from your time at UMN Crookston?

Gosh there are so many. I would have to say being awarded the Outstanding Service to Students Award in 2015-2016 is definitely one of the shining moments. To be recognized for service to our students by our students is the highest honor. Also, in 2016 my peers in the Minnesota School Counselors Association chose me for the Post-Secondary School Counselor of the Year, and the Northwest School Counselors Association presented me with the Post Secondary Counselor of the Year for 2015-2016. Aside from those accolades, I think I had the most fun being the co-host along with Chancellor Mary for the 2019 Torch & Shield event. I had the opportunity to dine next to President Joan T.A. Gabel, as well as share some fun fashion tips with her. She tried to recruit me for the TC campus, to which Chancellor Mary replied with a resounding and resolute "Oh no, Tim belongs here with our UMN Crookston family". Then the glasses were lifted for a toast, and all was well with our world.

What makes UMN Crookston special to you?

I felt welcomed and included from day one. UMN Crookston has been part of my family for close to 14 years. I looked forward every day to meeting with students, checking in on my campus friends, and sprinkling some joy throughout the campus community whenever I could. It has never been a J.O.B. for me, rather it has been my vocation, what I was called to do to share my talents. My hope is that I was able to be present, intentionally aware of my agency to make a difference, and encourage others to discover their joys and share them.

What are your plans in retirement?

I love to travel and immerse myself in other cultures, but my travels will have to wait until the pandemic is better controlled. I am engaged as a volunteer chair for the board of the care for my disabled brother, so I have plenty on my plate to prevent me from getting into trouble.

What will you miss the most about UMN Crookston?

Without a doubt I will miss my UMN Crookston family, colleagues, and students. Have we had our cares and woes, most definitely, but we have squared our shoulders and met our challenges as a small yet mighty campus community and UMN Crookston will continue to lead the vanguard of innovation and excellence with myself cheering from a distance. Go Golden Eagles!
