THE UNIVERSITY OF MINNESOTA-DULUTH

There has been one overriding characteristic about the University of Minnesota-Duluth that hasn't changed in all of its 89 years — that characteristic is growth.

Before Minnesota-Duluth (founded as Duluth Normal School at the turn of the century) became a coordinate campus of the University of Minnesota in 1947, the site the present day facility occupies was nothing more than brush and woods. By the early 1950s, however, the campus was already taking shape with the Science Building (now called the Chemistry Building) and the Physical Education Building in place. Administrators had a far-reaching plan for Minnesota-Duluth's orderly development to 1970. The plan envisioned a student body of 3,500 students by 1970 — more than 5,000 students were actually enrolled by then.

Today, as indicated by this year's enrollment of over 7,800 students, Minnesota-Duluth continues its steady growth. New programs recently developed at Minnesota-Duluth include the first four-year computer engineering program in the state of Minnesota and two four-year degrees in industrial and materials processing engineering.

Minnesota-Duluth also offers more instructional programs than ever for both undergraduate and graduate students in six colleges and schools. Students choose from over 70 undergraduate majors leading to four associate (two-year) degrees and 10 bachelor's degrees, with teacher licensure offered in about 40 areas. Graduate students can earn five master's degrees in 14 fields, with the School of Medicine offering the first two years of graduate basic science.

The campus, located in the Arrowhead region of Northeastern Minnesota overlooking Lake Superior, has 35 buildings, some unique to college campuses: Tweed Museum of Art, Marshall W. Alworth Planetarium, Marshall Performing Arts Center, Sports and Health Center, and the nearby Glensheen Mansion.

Minnesota-Duluth's 89 years of continued growth, now under the leadership of fourth-year Chancellor Dr. Lawrence A. Ianni, is a prime example of the area's commitment to quality higher education.

ON THE COVER:

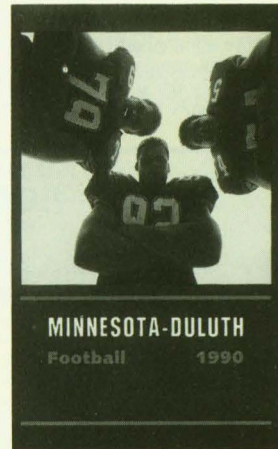

Nobody ever said life in the trenches would be all glitz and glamour — especially if your place of residence just happens to be the defensive line. Preventing touchdowns, afterall, never did win many headlines. But it did, as the old adage goes, win a few football games and that perhaps more than anything else is the reason Minnesota-Duluth has now gone 20 years without enduring a losing football season. Last year, for example, was certainly a case for the defense. While posting an even 5-5-0 overall record, the Bulldogs allowed a mere 97 points in those 10 outings for a 9.7 per game clip which ranked third among all NCAA Division II schools. In fact, only two opponents, North Dakota and Moorhead State, were able to muster more than one touchdown against the stingy Bulldog defense. Anchoring this group in 1990 are the three somewhat imposing lads gracing the cover — right tackle Ron Viaene (right), left end Tim Sitartz (middle) and left tackle Korey Jazdzewski — all of whom will be embarking on their third years as starters with Minnesota-Duluth this fall.

GRIGGS FIELD - HOME OF BULLDOG FOOTBALL

Talk about a home field advantage. Since moving over from Public Schools Stadium in west Duluth to the on-campus confines of Griggs Field nearly a quarter of a century ago, the University of Minnesota-Duluth certainly has made the most of its home field opportunities. In 108 lifetime appearances at Griggs Field dating back to the official opening of the facility on Oct. 29, 1966 against the College of St. Thomas, the Bulldogs have posted a 83-23-2 overall for a .777 winning percentage. Equally as impressive is the fact that during those 24 years, Minnesota-Duluth has suffered just one losing season at home (in 1968 when the Bulldogs registered a 2-3-0 mark at Griggs Field).

In 1985, Griggs Field underwent a major facelift of sorts as Super Turf II was installed (making it one of only two on-campus football facilities in Minnesota equipped with an artificial playing surface) along with an eight-lane all weather track, a modern scoreboard and bleachers. In addition to housing the Bulldogs, the 4,000-seat Griggs Field also hosts a number of high school football playoff contests and track and field meets throughout the year.

The Northern Intercollegiate Conference

Long recognized as one of the most distinguished athletic unions in the Upper Midwest, the Northern Intercollegiate Conference traces its colorful roots back to 1932. Since those 58 plus years, the NIC has undergone several faceliftings, but despite the additions and subtractions, it remains one of the strongholds of college division athletics.

The NIC currently includes seven schools — Bemidji State University, the University of Minnesota-Duluth, the University of Minnesota-Morris, Moorhead State University, Northern State College, Southwest State University, and Winona State University. Bemidji, Minnesota-Duluth, Moorhead, and Winona were charter members when six schools joined hands to form the original Northern Teachers College Conference in 1932. Mankato State University and St. Cloud State University were initial subscribers to the NTCC as well. In 1947, Minnesota-Duluth withdrew from the NIC to join the Minnesota Intercollegiate Athletic Conference (MIAC) but 11 years later Michigan Tech University was admitted to restore the NIC to a six-team circuit. In 1969, Mankato latched on to the North Central Conference and Minnesota-Morris joined the NIC that same year. The following year, Southwest State became a full-fledged member of the NIC family. However, change did not stop with the advent of the 1970s. Minnesota-Duluth rejoined the NIC in 1976 while Mankato, after a brief reappearance in the NIC (1978-1980), hooked up with the NCC again prior to the 1981 campaign along with St. Cloud State, Michigan Tech meanwhile departed the NIC after the 1979-80 season to join the Great Lakes Conference closer to home. In 1980, Northern State of Aberdeen, SD, officially became part of the NIC, bringing the league to its present seven-member unit.

Though the NIC was conceived in 1932, this season will be the 54th for the conference in football as there was a three-year sabbatical during World War II (1943-45).

Besides football, the NIC holds championships in eight other sports for men including baseball, basketball, cross country, golf, indoor track and field, outdoor track and field, tennis, and wrestling.

JIM MALOSKY

Head Coach

Now with over three decades of Bulldog coaching behind him, Jim Malosky enters the 1990 season as truly the elder statesman of the entire Minnesota-Duluth athletic staff.

In 32 seasons at Minnesota-Duluth, Malosky has racked up some mighty big numbers, including a 203-94-10 (.677) overall record which makes him the winningest active coach in the NCAA Division II ranks and the sixth winningest active head man in all of college football.

But perhaps consistency, even more so than winning, has been Malosky's foremost trademark. Since 1976, Malosky-coached teams have lost more than three games in a season only four times (1983, 1984, 1988, and 1989). His 1980 contingent, regarded by many as one of the finest football groups ever assembled at Minnesota-Duluth, turned in a perfect 10-0-0 record and finished among the nation's top 10 NCAA Division II schools. And, like a fine wine, Malosky just seems to get better with age. In the 1980's alone, he guided the Bulldogs to a 74-26-2 overall mark.

Malosky surpassed the longevity record of his predecessor, Lloyd Peterson, when he completed his 25th season with Minnesota-Duluth in 1982. Peterson directed the Bulldogs for 24 years, and except for six games coached by Frank Kovach in Minnesota-Duluth's inaugural campaign way back in 1930, he and Malosky have strolled the sidelines for every other Bulldog football contest since then.

Malosky, 62, first became known in Minnesota football circles when he captured All-State honors while quarterbacking Crosby-Ironton High School. He was recruited by the legendary Bernie Bierman at the University of Minnesota, and, during his collegiate career from 1946-49, the Gophers compiled a 25-11-0 record, including identical 7-2-0 marks in Malosky's junior and senior seasons when he was the club's starting signal-caller.

After receiving a B.S. degree in physical education from Minnesota in 1951, Malosky began a stint in the U.S. Army. From there it was on to Morris, MN, where he taught and coached at Morris High School, leading the Tigers to the West Central Conference championship with an 8-1-0 record. In 1956 he landed another prep coaching job at Morningside High School in Edina, MN, and, in his second year guided his troops to an unblemished 9-0-0 record, a Lake Conference championship and a No. 1 ranking among Minnesota High Schools by the Associated Press.

The following year, 1958, Malosky accepted Minnesota-Duluth's invitation to become only its third football coach in history. In only his third season as the Bulldogs' head man, Malosky directed Minnesota-Duluth to the MIAC title, a feat the Bulldogs repeated again in 1961.

In all, Malosky has won three MIAC titles, three NIC championships and he has been named Coach of the Year by the MIAC, the NIC and the NAIA District 13 on nine occasions.

Malosky, and his wife, Lilah, have four children—Lisa, Linda, Jim (a former quarterback at Minnesota-Duluth and now a Bulldog assistant coach), and Tammy. In addition to his football duties, he is also an associate professor in Minnesota-Duluth's physical education department.

THE ASSISTANT COACHES

NEIL LADSTEN — Offensive Coordinator

The veteran of Malosky's assistants, Ladsten is in his 20th season with the Bulldog football program. Ladsten captained the 1968 Minnesota-Duluth grid squad as a senior, winning All-MIAC honors as an offensive tackle that season and after his junior campaign as well. For his football and classroom heroics, Ladsten was accorded the E.L. "Duce" Rasmussen Scholastic Achievement Award in 1969. Ladsten, 43, an instructor in the Minnesota-Duluth physical education department, also has directed the Bulldogs' wrestling team the past 19 years. The Spring Grove, MN, native was bestowed with NIC Coach of the Year laurels in 1982-83, 1987-88, and 1989-90 after guiding Minnesota-Duluth to conference titles. Since 1979-80, Ladsten-coached teams have compiled an 84-48-0 record in dual meets and Bulldogs have earned NCAA Division II or NAIA All-American recognition on fourteen occasions.

SCOTT HANNA — Linebackers/Defensive Line

A former All-MIAC center with the Bulldogs, Hanna begins his 13th season as a Minnesota-Duluth assistant coach this fall. During that time, Hanna has developed a host of top-notch linebackers and defensive linemen. A Bulldog for four years (1969-73), Hanna was the recipient of Minnesota-Duluth's Outstanding Lineman Award. A native of Duluth, he also played two years of collegiate baseball in 1972-1973. For the past twelve years, Hanna, 40, has also been Minnesota-Duluth's baseball coach, racking up an impressive 214-139-2 overall record. He is employed by the Minnesota-Duluth athletic department as an equipment manager. Hanna and his wife, Donna, have four children: Kelly, Ryan, Tommy and John.

VINCE REPESH — Defensive Coordinator

The man credited with molding the Bulldog defensive unit into one of the best in NCAA Division II football, Repesh is in his seventh season as an assistant at Minnesota-Duluth. The 39-year old Chisholm, MN, native joined the Bulldogs in 1984 after a four-year stint as an assistant coach at nearby Wisconsin-Superior. Repesh, who worked as a Bulldog assistant from 1977-79, played two years of football at both Hibbing Community College (MN) and the University of North Dakota as a split end and defensive back. After graduating from UND in 1973, he remained with the Fighting Sioux football program as an assistant coach and later was the head football man at Mount St. Benedict High School in Crookston, MN. Repesh also co-directs the Athletic Academic Center at Minnesota-Duluth. He and his wife, Lillian, have a daughter, Natalie.

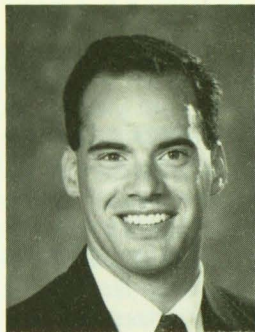

MIKE THOMAS — Offensive Line

One of the finest offensive linemen to don a Bulldog uniform, Thomas played at Minnesota-Duluth for four years and capped off his career in 1980 by being named to the Associated Press' Little All-American third team — the first Bulldog lineman to ever be so honored. A starter for Malosky's grid contingent in 1978, 1979 and 1980, Thomas was an All-NIC selection as both a junior and a senior and was given the E.L. "Duce" Rasmussen Scholastic Achievement Award in 1981. Thomas, 31, who has also worked as an assistant with the Minnesota-Duluth baseball team the past eight years, is in his eighth year as a member of the Bulldog football coaching staff. He is a native of Silver Bay, MN, and a 1981 Minnesota-Duluth graduate.

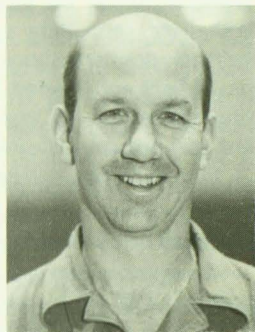

JIM MALOSKY Jr.— Quarterbacks

The holder of a handful of Minnesota-Duluth records, Jim Malosky, Jr. returns for his third full season as a Bulldog assistant coach. Malosky, 25, concluded his playing days with the Bulldogs in 1987 as the school's all-time leader in touchdown passes (41) and total offensive plays (781). Malosky, Minnesota-Duluth's starting quarterback as a sophomore, junior, and senior, also established single-season marks for total offense (1,770 yards), touchdown passes (20) and total plays (360) in 1987. The two-time All-NIC selection ranks second behind Bruce Grant in both career passing yardage (2,996) and total offense (3,690) at Minnesota-Duluth. The son of Bulldog head coach Jim Malosky, he earned a B.A. degree in physical education in 1988.

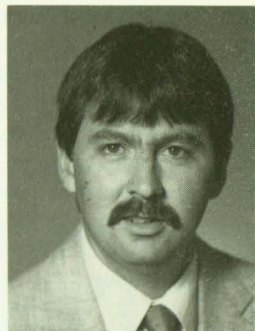

DON ROACH — Head Trainer

A familiar face along the Minnesota-Duluth sidelines for nearly two decades, Don Roach begins his 21st season as the Bulldogs' head trainer this fall. Roach, a native of Los Altos, CA, attended Menlo College (CA) before completing his B.A. degree in physical education and life science at San Jose State University in 1965. After a one year teaching stint at Lassen Union High School in Susanville, CA, Roach, 48, taught for two more years in the American Community Schools in Athens, Greece before landing his present job at Minnesota-Duluth in 1970. Roach, who received an M.S. degree in athletic training at Indiana University, has served as the Bulldogs men's tennis coach for the past 16 seasons. He has directed Minnesota-Duluth to nine straight Northern Intercollegiate Conference championships and a berth in the 1990 NAIA national championships. He has two sons - Steve (20) and Mike (16).

RICK MENZ — Equipment Coordinator

A man whose value to the Bulldog athletic program is hard to appraise because of his behind-the-scenes type of work. Rick Menz is in his tenth year with the Minnesota-Duluth football contingent as the equipment coordinator. A native of Duluth, Menz is a 1969 graduate of Cathedral High School. In the fall of 1979, he was named the equipment coordinator at Minnesota-Duluth in charge of buying, issuing, repairing and maintaining equipment for all Bulldog varsity sports. While at Minnesota-Duluth, Menz completed his undergraduate degree in history and geography. In 1983 and 1989, he was an equipment manager at the U.S. Olympic Festival in Colorado Springs, CO. The 39-year old Menz and his wife, Sue, have a daughter, Lauri (10), and a son, Derek, (7).

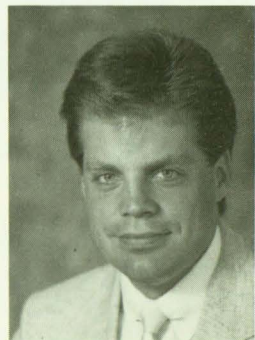

BOB NYGAARD — Sports Information Director

The last several years have seen Minnesota-Duluth athletics rise to a new position of public awareness and keeping the Bulldogs in the minds of the media and public is sports information director Bob Nygaard.

Now in his eighth year at the Minnesota-Duluth SID helm, Nygaard holds a B.A. degree in journalism from the University of Wisconsin-Eau Claire and served as an assistant sports information director for two years in the Blugold Athletic Department. A 1983 UWEC graduate, Nygaard had previously worked in the Minnesota-Duluth sports information office for two years while a student in 1979-81.

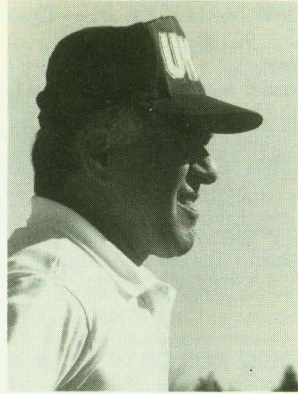

As the sports information director, the 30-year-old native Duluthian is in charge of supervising publicity, programs, press releases, records, press facilities and public relations for the 18-sport Bulldog athletic program.

A FEW MINUTES WITH JIM MALOSKY

On the strengths of the 1990 Bulldogs:

"Off the bat, our defensive front four appears to be in good shape. Although we did lose Scott Concannon, a three-year starter at end, we do return three solid performers in tackles Ron Viaene and Korey Jazdzewski and end Tim Sitarz. If those three seniors can stay healthy, they'll be a real stabilizer for us on defense. I'd also like to think with both Leon Berg and Troy Ausmus back, our halfback positions should also be a strong point for us. At tight end, Garrett Hjelle, a three-year regular, gives us plenty of experience as does his backup Jeff Walker. The return of Chris Westberg, who sat out almost all of last year with an ankle injury, gives us some flexibility at both free safety and split end — two spots he's excelled at in the past."

On areas of concern for Minnesota-Duluth this fall:

"Defensively, we need some depth at virtually every position, especially in the secondary. Football coaches, of course, can always use more depth, but we really are hurting in that department. Looking at our offense, first and foremost we have to find replacement for Dale Gessell, our starting quarterback the past two seasons. Right now we are pretty inexperienced there. Chuck Masloski, Jeff Kaldor and Troy Anderson appear to be the front-runners for the starting quarterback job and we'll take a long look at each of those three people in pre-season drills. We also lost our center from a year ago to graduation and with Leon Berg moving over to halfback, the fullback position, which is a key spot in our offensive scheme, is open. Scott Stoyanoff did get a good chunk of playing time at fullback last season so that will help. I guess we are also a little concerned with the status of our offensive line. Besides losing Brent Griffith to the professional ranks, we've also done some shuffling with a couple of our returning veterans, moving Chris Donahue from tackle to guard and Paul Paczynski from guard to tackle. Anytime you have to make changes, there is usually a degree of apprehension that follows."

On the lack of a consistent offensive attack a year ago:

"In analyzing our problems last year, you have to remember that both of our halfbacks — Jeff Parris and Troy Ausmus — played hurt for the better part of the season and that really affected our offense. We lost our five games a year ago by a total of 23 points and so we certainly had the opportunity to win all of those contests. As I look back on it, our inability to convert some key third down and short yardage situations was evident in each of our losses. I don't know if that's something you can just go out and change so we aren't exactly panicking. I don't really anticipate doing any kind of drastic change in our offense. We still try to do what we do best and that is run the football and hope that we can convert some of those third and fourth down plays."

On the 1990 Minnesota-Duluth schedule

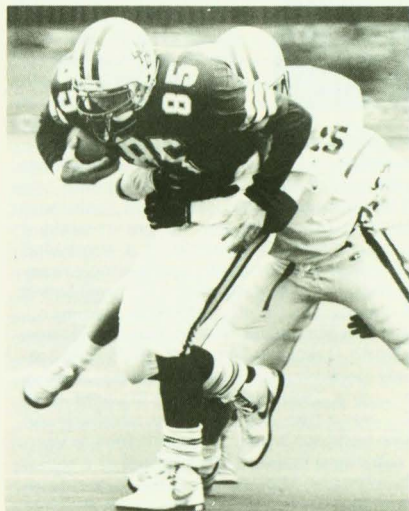

"We're starting out with a very tough club in St. Cloud State who is riding high after winning the North Central Conference last year. We follow that up with another difficult non-conference opponent in Wisconsin-Eau Claire. One consoling thing about those two games is that we do play both of them at home. After that, it's off to Humboldt State, an NCAA Division II school which competes in the competitive Northern California Conference. Following that first road assignment, we will kick off our conference schedule with Minnesota-Morris in Morris, which is never an easy place to play. If we can play respectably well in those first three or four ball games, we should be okay."

On entering a new decade at Minnesota-Duluth:

"It would be nice to enter this new decade like we did the 1980s — with a perfect 10-0-0 season. I'll be coaching in my fifth decade at Minnesota-Duluth this fall and to be perfectly honest, I never dreamed I'd be around here to see it. I guess there are a few things I'd attribute to my lasting so long. First, Minnesota-Duluth is a nice place to work and I've enjoyed my stay here. Being as successful as we've been during the past thirty-odd years also kept me going not to mention the fact that it has also helped me retain my job here. For the most part I have been kind of fortunate over the years to have players in our program who have adjusted to our style, to our techniques, and to our philosophy and they have accepted it without causing a lot of hassle. That's what really has been the easiest thing for me. Maybe because we have won with this kind of football, the players have gone along with it, but the fact that they have accepted my style and philosophy has made coaching much more pleasurable for me."

On the ever-increasing parity in the Northern Intercollegiate Conference:

"The league has gotten so much closer over the past five or six years that really anyone can beat anyone else. One of the reasons for this overall improvement in the league has been the employment of some younger coaches who are eager to make a name for themselves. A majority of the seven schools in the NIC place a heavy emphasis on football. I think it's slowly evolving into a football league."

57 YEARS OF BULLDOG FOOTBALL

"Duluth State Teachers College had its first team in 1930, and 28 players responded to Coach Kovach's call."

So records the 1930-31 yearbook, The Chronicle, depicting the origins of Bulldogs history when Minnesota-Duluth wasn't Minnesota-Duluth at all, but rather the Duluth State Teachers College (DSTC). "Coach Kovach" is Frank Kovach, an industrial arts specialist who organized and coached the first team that would later evolve into one of the most successful college programs in the land.

Appropriately enough, Kovach also became Minnesota-Duluth's first coach to direct his troops to an unbeaten season as the Bulldogs debuted in 1930 with two ties—a scoreless tie against Itasca Junior College, and a 6-6 deadlock versus Duluth Junior College and three losses in their only five outings.

Following Kovach's baptismal year, he yielded the coaching gavel to Lloyd Peterson in 1931, beginning an era that would continue through the 1957 season. Peterson's—and DSTC's—first victory ever, came against Winona State Teacher's College in a 7-0 affair; the first of Peterson's 84 victories.

In 1932 the Bulldogs were jammed in a four-way tie for first place in the Northern Intercollegiate Conference, their first taste of championship football, and in 1934 DSTC captured it's first outright title. The last part of the '30's was one of the most successful eras in Bulldog history as from 1934 through 1939, DSTC constructed a 31-7-2 record with championships again in 1937 and 1938.

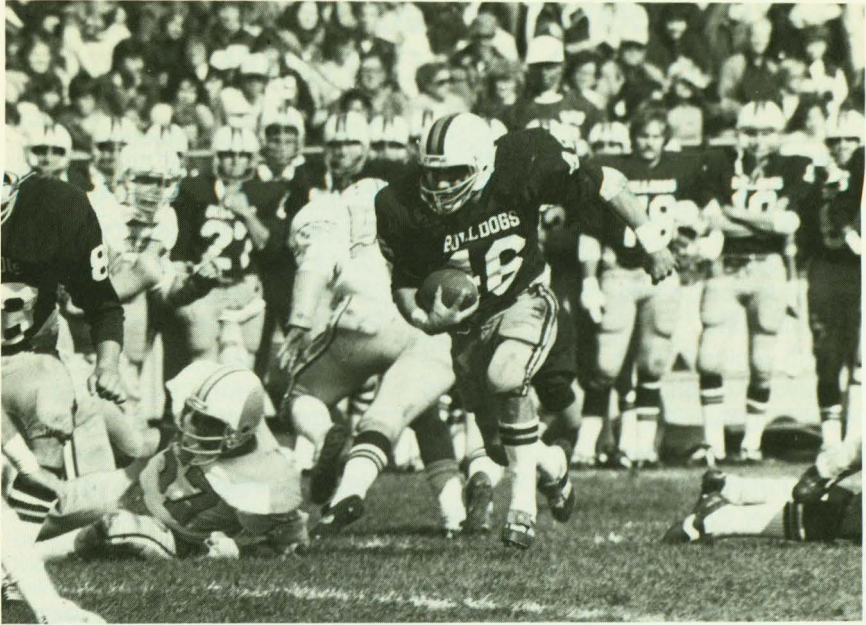

The pre-World War II days found the Bulldogs football program struggling and 1941 was the worst in the school's history to that point with a 1-6 record. When calm was restored, however, the Bulldogs made a quick comeback as they tied for the NIC championship in 1946 and again in 1948.

The Bulldogs played an independent schedule in 1949 and traded in their green and gold school colors in 1950 to become the Maroon & Gold of the University of Minnesota-Duluth.

The Bulldogs aligned with the Minnesota Intercollegiate Athletic Conference (MIAC) in 1950. The 1952 season boiled down to a showdown between Minnesota-Duluth and Gustavus Adolphus, and, in 17-degree wintry weather, the Gusties stopped the Bulldogs' drive to bring home their first MIAC championship. The following season was the most disastrous year Minnesota-Duluth has ever experienced as it suffered through an 0-7-1 season.

After being somewhat of an unknown quantity his first two years with the Bulldogs, Dale Gessell certainly made some noticeable waves in 1988 when he became the first quarterback to ever pace Minnesota-Duluth in rushing.

The consummate fullback in the Bulldogs' run-oriented style of offense, Boyd Hanson concluded his collegiate playing days in 1982 as Minnesota-Duluth's career leader in touchdowns scored with 36.

The mid-'50's was a period for slowly refueling the program with respectability. In 1957 Peterson stepped down after 24 years of coaching the Bulldogs. His replacement was a Crosby-Ironton native who had worked wonders at Morris and Morningside High Schools—Jim Malosky—and within three years, the Bulldogs had earned an MIAC championship.

Minnesota-Duluth successfully defended its title in 1961, but the program slumped again in the mid-'60's with three successive sub-.500 seasons. The Bulldogs were nosed out for the crown in 1967 with a 7-1-1 record, but again fell below the .500 mark in 1968 and 1969, the last time a Minnesota-Duluth team failed to play .500 football.

After nearly a 20-year absence, Minnesota-Duluth rejoined the Northern Intercollegiate Conference in 1976. Since that time, the Bulldogs have yet to suffer a losing season on the field of play against league competition. During the past decade, Minnesota-Duluth has amassed a 82-37-2 overall record, including a perfect 10-0-0 ledger in 1980 (which marks the only time a Bulldog athletic team has gone unbeaten and untied over an entire season). The Bulldogs have also now gone 20 years without suffering a losing season.

Minnesota-Duluth has harvested several outstanding football players throughout its 55-year history including running back Dick Pesonen; end Tom Adams; offensive tackle Vern Emerson; running backs Ted McKnight, who is the all-time leading rusher at Minnesota-Duluth with 2,957 yards and 1986 Associated Press Little All-American Corey Veech, quarterback Bruce Grant, the Bulldogs' career total offense and passing leader, defensive tackle Dave Viaene, now a member of the New England Patriots organization, and offensive tackle Brent Griffith, who was selected by the Buffalo Bills in the seventh round of last April's National Football League draft. Another Bulldog product who has gained national recognition as a respected collegiate and professional coach is Dan Devine, who captained Minnesota-Duluth in 1947.

BULLDOG ATHLETICS

The University of Minnesota-Duluth offers one of the most balanced as well as competitive athletic programs for schools of its size in the country. Minnesota-Duluth is a member of the NCAA (Division II) except for hockey, which competes at the Division I level) and the NAIA. The Bulldog men compete in the Northern Intercollegiate Conference (except of hockey which is aligned with the prestigious Western Collegiate Hockey Association) while the Minnesota-Duluth women participate in the Northern Sun Conference.

Bruce McLeod

In 1989-90, Bulldog teams captured conference championships in men's and women's basketball, men's tennis, wrestling, women's volleyball, softball and women's indoor and outdoor track and field. The men's basketball, wrestling, women's basketball, men's tennis, men's golf, and softball contingents all advanced to the NAIA national championships last year while the men's and women's track and field teams sent representatives to NCAA II national events. In addition, Minnesota-Duluth laid claim to its fifth straight NIC all-sports title.

Overseeing the Bulldogs' 18-varsity sports (ten men and eight women) program is Bruce McLeod, who is in his seventh full year as the Director of Intercollegiate Athletics. McLeod, 43, succeeded the late Ralph Romano in December 1983 after working his way through virtually the entire Minnesota-Duluth Athletic Department. He served, at one time or another, as the sports information director, the business manager, and assistant athletic director (a position he held from 1977-1983).

A native of Fort Francis, Ontario, McLeod first made his mark at Minnesota-Duluth as a standout left wing on the Bulldog hockey team. During his three-year collegiate ice career (1966-69), McLeod racked up 81 points in 77 games and was the Bulldogs' captain as a senior during the 1968-69 season.

McLeod a 1969 graduate of Minnesota-Duluth, has two daughters, Leah and Shannon.
