Reneé Rongen (in photo, right) on Monday, December 1, 2014 at the University of Minnesota Crookston. Rongen's presentation begins at 6 p.m. in Kiehle Auditorium. All are welcome and admission is free.

With messages transcending the barriers of age, gender, and occupation, Rongen's entertaining, engaging and energetic style, coupled with customized rich content moves audiences to act, live, and work differently.

Rongen's presentation is sponsored by the Business Department and Communication program at the U of M Crookston along with Concerts and Lectures and the Center for Rural Entrepreneurial Studies (CRES). For more information, contact Megan Pederson at 218-281-8573.

Background on Reneé Rongen

Rongen is an award winning humorous and inspirational speaker, author, and business consultant.

She engages her audience with her "legacy living" philosophy. Her comedic timing coupled with Rongen's acclaimed gift as master story teller make her the perfect fit for organizations who want to inspire and grow their culture to be the best in the industry.

In addition to her speaking, she is an accomplished author of several popular books. Her newest work titled Fundamentally Female, released in October 2012, was included in the Oscar and Golden Globe swag bags for all female nominees. A second book in the Fundamentally Female series entitled I'm a Girl...That's Why is set for release in 2015. To learn more about Rongen, visit reneerongen.com
