1. Translational Research Facility

The Translational Research Facility is being planned as an addition to the existing Lions Research Building. The facility will be located in an area north of the Gateway Center that is identified in the University of Minnesota Twin Cities Campus Master Plan as an expanded research park.

The facility will provide research laboratories, office, conference and seminar space for 33 principal investigators and their associated support staff.

It will add approximately 96,000 gsf of new clinical science space and will house interdisciplinary groups
