COLLEGE OF PHARMACY

Health Sciences Unit F

The new 11-level unit will adjoin Health Sciences Unit A. A key element in the design is the common modular construction that permits the use of the lower levels of Unit A and Unit F as a single building. The units were designed to advance the Health Sciences concept of sharing resources and encouraging inter-professional activity for students, faculty, and researchers. Unit F will complete the hub of classrooms, seminar rooms, and learning resources and study areas that are shared by all health sciences students.

The laboratory and office space in Unit F will meet the changing educational needs of nurses and pharmacists. The unit will provide these two professional programs with the first University of Minnesota "home" designed for their particular needs.

Unit F will be completed by early 1980 and will cost $22.9 million. It has been jointly funded by state appropriations and Federal Health Professions Education construction funds. Architects/engineers for the project are The Architects Collaborative (TAC), Cambridge, Mass., and Health Sciences Architects and Engineers, Minneapolis, Minn.

SUBJECT: Unit F Ground-Breaking Ceremony

We are delighted that you have agreed to join us on the platform for the long awaited ground-breaking ceremony of our new Unit F facility. The ceremony will take place at the building site at the corner of Washington Avenue and Harvard Street. (Next door to Unit A) at 1:00 p.m. Parking will be available for guests in the Health Sciences Ramp located on Washington Avenue and Oak Street.

The event will take approximately twenty minutes. The principal speakers will be the Governor, with brief remarks from President Magrath, the legislative sponsors and the two association heads. Dr. Lyle French will make the introductions calling on the Governor to speak first. Following other brief remarks, President Magrath will ask Dean Weaver, Vice President French, Governor Perpich and Dean Ramey to join him to "break" ground for construction.

The ceremony will be followed by refreshments served in Unit A. There will be directional signs posted to direct you and our other guests to the reception after the ceremony.

We appreciate your taking time to join us on this very special occasion. If you can arrive a few minutes early it would be appreciated. Please contact my office if you have any additional questions or concerns.

President Magrath said Friday that he is considering a slate of 4 good candidates recommended by the Senate Consultative Committee for the position of VP for administrative operations. Magrath's comments in full are attached to today's Brief.

Regents approved Magrath's proposal to allow the U to initiate shareholder resolutions calling on American corporations to work toward racial integration in South Africa. Several regents said they welcomed the proposal as an alternative to divestiture of holdings in corporations that do business in South Africa. Magrath said the interests of South African blacks would not be served by the withdrawal of American corporations.

Annual investments report from VP Brown showed that the stock market has not done as well for the U over the past year as some had hoped. Regent Latz suggested that the U study the possibility of converting its $87 million in stocks and bonds to 100% bonds.

Regents agreed with President Magrath's decision not to appeal a court ruling on the scope of the faculty collective bargaining unit.

Apartment-style dormitory for 150 students will be built at UMD. Regents authorized UMD to borrow up to $1.2 million for a new residence hall at the west edge of campus. UMD officials hope the building will be ready by fall to ease the housing crunch.

Regents toured TC campus boundaries by bus and heard from Asst. VP Clinton Hewitt on plans for rehabilitating or tearing down houses owned by the U.

Regents heard presentations by John Kralewski on Center for Health Services Research, L. Sunny Hansen on Project BORN FREE (to reduce sex-role stereotyping in schools), and Maynard Reynolds and Robert Bruininks on teaching reading to handicapped children.

Purchasing procedures and procedures for audit reports on equipment inventories were postponed for discussion until December meeting.

Extension enrollment for fall quarter at all campuses of the U is up slightly from fall 1976. Some 18,719 students enrolled in extension classes this fall, compared with 17,762 last fall. Enrollment at Duluth and Rochester accounted for most of the increase.

Competition to design a 3-dimensional art object to be presented to recipients of the Horace T. Morse-Amoco Foundation Award is sponsored by the Council on Liberal Education and is open to all students, faculty, and staff. Info: (612) 373-4537.

CROOKSTON--Members of the Senate Transportation Committee, in Crookston for a hearing, will visit UMC for lunch Nov. 16.

Annual Faculty Frolics will be Nov. 18 and 19 at 8 p.m. in Kiehle auditorium. Theme is "Pride of the Folly--Hammy Awards." Tickets are $1.50 in advance and $2 at the door. Proceeds go to UMC scholarships.

Asst. Provost Anthony Kuznik and members of the Student Affairs staff will meet with representatives of U of North Dakota Nov. 21 for all-day UMC-UND articulation session. Transfer of credits and other matters of mutual concern will be discussed.

Polynesian menu designed by UMC restaurant seminar class in winter 1977 has received a bronze award for menu design from the National Restaurant Association. More than 800 entries from throughout the U.S. and 37 foreign countries were competing.

DULUTH--"Reverse Thanksgiving" will be Nov. 17. Students and staff who participate will fast instead of feast and donate what they save to Oxfam-America, a nonprofit group that provides self-development help to people in Africa, Asia, and Latin America.

Provost Heller was named VP and president-elect of American Geological Institute last week and was named to U.S. National Committee on Geology the previous week. In Seattle last week, Heller also presided over convention of National Association of Geology Teachers, a group he has headed for the past year.

A reception for fall graduates, the first held at UMD, will be hosted by Provost Heller Dec. 3 at 3 p.m. at Kirby Student Center. Similar receptions will be held at the ends of winter quarter and summer session. All graduates are invited to June commencement.

MORRIS--UMM students now have access to the Minnesota Occupational Information System, a computerized system enabling users to obtain data on specific occupations, employment outlook, career preparation. Program participation is the result of a cooperative effort by the computer center and the Career Planning and Placement Service.

U Press acquisitions editor William Wood will visit UMM Nov. 17 to talk with individuals and groups interested in publishing books. Open lunch will be at noon in the Timber Room of the Food Service Center. Call academic dean's office for individual appointments.

TWIN CITIES--NCAA declared Gopher basketball players Mychal Thompson ineligible for first 7 games of the season and Dave Winey ineligible for first 3 games.

Ground-breaking ceremony for Health Sciences Unit F will be Nov. 18 at 1 p.m. at the building site. Eleven-level unit will adjoin Health Sciences Unit A and will house School of Nursing and College of Pharmacy. Ceremony participants: Gov. Perpich, Regent Moore, President Magrath, VP French, Dean Ramey, Dean Weaver.

Harvest Bowl Nov. 18-19 will honor Minnesota's producers of crops, livestock, and food products with Harvest Banquet Friday evening, Harvest Rally Saturday morning, (keynote address by Bill Stout of Michigan State, comments by President Magrath), football game against Wisconsin Saturday afternoon. Harvest events sponsored by College of Agriculture.

More than 450 students have been provided with legal services since U Student Legal Service officially opened its doors Sept. 26. Booklet outlining services has been published. For more information contact Philip Fishman at 376-5237.

Interdisciplinary center to train occupational safety and health professionals has been established at the U under a 5-year, $3.4 million grant from the National Institute for Occupational Safety and Health. Center will be one of 9 in the country.

Hudson D. Walker, late grandson of Walker Art Center founder T.B. Walker, recently bequeathed to the U Gallery more than 900 paintings, drawings, and sculptures from the Ione and Hudson D. Walker collection. Bequest is largest in gallery's 43-year history. Selected works from the bequest are on view at the gallery through Dec. 6.

"Successful Communication" films will be shown Nov. 22 at 140 Nolte. Info: 373-5259.

Lectures and colloquia: "Effective Economic Policy: Some Key Requirements" by Mark Willes; Nov. 17, 4 p.m., Willey Hall (old AudCB). "Factors in Urban Fur Trade: Cultural Word Wars Between Whites and Indians," discussion led by Gerald Vizenor; Nov. 18, 1 p.m., 350 Anderson Hall. "Death and Dying: How To Cope With Grief" by Richard Obershaw (Sampler lecture, $1); Nov. 22, 7:30 p.m., 140 Nolte Center.

WASECA--Open House for prospective students will be Nov. 20, 1-4 p.m. About 1,000 visitors are expected to tour the facilities and learn more about programs at UMW.

GOVERNOR'S REMARKS
UNIT F. GROUNDBREAKING
UNIVERSITY OF MINNESOTA
NOVEMBER 18, 1977

We are breaking ground today for a building that will move the schools of pharmacy and nursing into a full partnership with the University's new Health Sciences Center...a center which we hope will greatly aid the people of Minnesota to build a healthier society.

Back in the mid-sixties, the University and the state legislature very wisely recognized the importance of bringing the major components of health education into one central complex.

In this way, scarce resources could be shared and research and training closely coordinated.

As Dean Weaver and Dean Ramey have often pointed out, it does not make sense to educate nurses or pharmacists in isolation from physicians, dentists, and other members of the health care team.

The medical and dental schools are already benefiting from close proximity to each other and to the state Health Department, nearby hospitals and community health projects.

Now, with the addition of Unit F to the complex, I think we can safely say Minnesota will have one of the top health education and research centers in the world.

I want to congratulate President Magrath, Vice President French, and all of the many, many individuals who worked so long and so hard to bring this complex into being--and particularly to convince the legislature--this last time around--of the need for the appropriation for Unit F.

As a former health professional myself, I share your special pride today, and it's great to be here at this happy moment.

Meeting

Ground-Breaking Held for Unit F

On Friday, November 18, the Governor of the State of Minnesota headed a list of dignitaries in the official ground-breaking for Unit F, the new Health Sciences <sup>Center</sup> ~~Complex~~ building which will house the College of Pharmacy and the School of Nursing at the University of Minnesota. Over 250 persons braved the cold weather to witness the proud event.

In his statement, Governor Rudy Perpich - himself a dentist - stated that "we are breaking ground today for a building that will move the schools of Pharmacy and Nursing into a full partnership with the University's new health sciences center . . . a center which we hope will greatly aid the people of Minnesota to build a healthier society. As Dean Weaver and Dean Ramsey have often pointed out, it does not make sense to educate nurses or pharmacists in isolation from physicians, dentists and other members of the health care team."

University of Minnesota President C. Peter Magrath also spoke on the ground-breaking occasion as did Dr. Iyle French, University Vice President for Health Sciences. In his remarks, Dr. French <sup>stated</sup> ~~stated that~~ "the two professional associations - the Minnesota Nurses Association and the Minnesota State Pharmaceutical Association, represented here today by their presidents, Ms. Audrey Logsdan and Mr. Roland Leuzinger. They were responsible for rallying the support of their members and the practicing community around the State, and to them we extend a special note of appreciation."

Mr. Leuzinger represented the pharmacy profession on the platform along with Dean Lawrence C. Weaver, chairman of the Board of Regents Wenda Moore, and Regent Mary Schertler. A number of legislators attended, including former representative (now judge) Harold Dahl, Representatives Stanley Enebo, William Dean, Wendell Erickson and Senators Roger Moe and George Perpich.

In addition to attendance by many members of the College of Pharmacy faculty, <sup>past</sup> past presidents Netz, <sup>Oberg</sup> Oberg and Delger, members of the Board of Directors and many other interested pharmacists attended as observers. The official ceremony was followed by a reception in the adjacent building, Unit A of the Health Sciences Center.

It was a proud day for pharmacy in Minnesota indeed.
