NO. 101

SEASON'S MOST IMPORTANT GAME SATURDAY EVENING

Chicago Game Closes Season and Decides the Championship.

Basket ball at Minnesota comes to a close Saturday night, when the Gophers meet "Chi" on the armory floor for the last game of the season, and incidentally to solve the Western championship.

Gopher stock is, as usual, on par, no one being ready to talk very much, and yet no one looks worried.

Dr. Cooke and his men are grinding away behind the scenes, making up a hot class of basket-shooting for the fast Maroon bunch.

Chicago now leads in the percentage table, Minnesota and Wisconsin tied for second, and thus if Minnesota is defeated, "Chi" gets the pennant, while the best we can look for, if Minnesota wins, is a triple tie, only to be solved by a post-season game.

Dancing, as usual, will follow the game Saturday evening. The prices, including the informal, are: Reserved seats, 75 cents, and general admission 50 cents.

EUTERPIAN CONCERT.

Program of Unusual Merit Is Promised for Tonight.

Judging from the number of tickets already sold for the Euterpean Club concert, a record-breaking crowd will be present.

Mr. Scott, who has charge of the rehearsals, said yesterday:

"If the girls do their best, as they have done at the practices, the concert will be well worth the time of the busiest University student. The concert doesn't need much said of it, for the picture of the club will speak for itself."

MICHIGAN COUNCIL TAKES ACTION REGARDING BIG 4

May Mean Severing of Relation With Big Nine.

Michigan's athletic board of control has taken the following action: That Michigan shall not withdraw from the conference, at least for the present.

That Michigan does not consider the "big four" arrangement feasible at the present time; and

That in games with non-conference colleges Michigan be governed by the conference rules, with the exception of the rule with regard to five games and the retroactive feature of the three-year rules.

The above resolutions outline Michigan's position at present in intercollegiate athletics. The Wolverine athletic board of control at a meeting last week, rejected the "Big Four" idea, but renewed the eligibility of the seniors prescribed under conference rules, and allowed the team seven games. In all other things, Michigan is on a par with other Big Nine institutions.

To the student body, these resolutions mean that the Wolverines go down east for the intercollegiate and the Pennsy relay races with full (Continued on third page)

SUPERINTENDENTS MEET.

The city superintendents of schools throughout the state will hold their regular annual meeting at the University the afternoon of March 29 and forenoon of March 30.

Seniors are advised to make themselves conspicuous at that time if they are looking for positions as teachers.

KOLLINER DOING WELL.

Professor R. S. Kolliner, who was operated on last Friday by Dr. Mayo of Rochester for appendicitis, is reported to be doing nicely. Altho he is not out of danger, it is thought the operation was successful.

HAMLET WRITTEN BY SMITH AND NOT W. SHAKESPEARE

Revised Version to Be Given League Party Saturday.

Considerable interest attaches to the history of the little play to be given at the Woman's League party Saturday.

"The New Hamlet" was written by a certain Smith family living on a farm near New York city, and was enacted by them—four generations being represented in the role of characters.

The Smith college girls gave the play about a year ago and now it passes out of the Smith family to the Shevlin Hall family.

The following girls will present the play:

Hamlet Elsa Ueland
 Ophelia Catherin Sinclair
 Romeo Maybelle Snyder
 Juliet Mary Heritage
 Queen Marjorie Vance
 Lady Montague Sabria Swenson
 Baby Hamlet (young Hamlet)
 Mary Godley
 Messenger Geneve Wales

The "New Hamlet" will be appropriately staged and costumed, and is warranted to be a great success, as the girls have given much thought and time to rehearsing it.

GONE TO PRESS.

Yesterday the last bit of Gopher copy was placed in the hands of the printer. Copy was received up to Saturday night.

It is expected that it will take a month for the printing and another month for binding. The book will go on sale May 1.

GROAT A CONTRIBUTOR.

F. F. Groat of the mineralogy department has an article in the Journal of Economic Geology, entitled, "Composition of Coal," which includes diagrams and a new scheme of classification, originated by the author.

DAILY ELECTION TO TAKE PLACE SATURDAY, APRIL 6

Board of Directors Proposes Amendment to Constitution.

The attention of Daily subscribers is called to the fact that the election for the managing body the Daily Association, the board of publishers, and the positions of managing editor and business manager, occur on Saturday, April 6. Prospective candidates will please notice the provisions of the constitution relating thereto.

Art. iv, Sec. 2. Said board of publishers shall consist of eleven (11) members, three (3) who shall be students in the academic department, two (2) students in the engineering department, two (2) students in the law department, two (2) students in the medical department, two (2) members of the faculty, appointed by the University council.

Sec. 3. In order to be eligible to membership in the Board of publishers the members must be in at least their second year in attendance at the University of Minnesota.

Sec. 5. The candidates at said election shall be elected by the subscribers of their own departments.

All paid-up subscribers are members of the association and entitled to vote.

Amendment.

An annual meeting is provided for, which will be called about a week before the election. At this time an amendment to the constitution will be considered, providing a change in the manner of electing the managing editor and the business manager. Un- (Continued on fourth page.)

PHI BETA KAPPA.

Successful Students Will Be Announced Today.

President Northrop will announce the names of the students who have been elected to Phi Beta Kappa in chapel this morning. The election was held in the president's office Saturday afternoon.

Students at the University are showing a revival of interest in the drama. There is no doubt but that the interest is sincere, as the standard plays of the old schools seem to receive their share of the students' attention.

With the Dramatic Club, the Pre-Shakesperian and Modern Drama class plays, the Literary Society plays and the senior class play, this institution will soon fairly rival the Emerson School of Dramatic Art.

This general interest in the drama shows that the students at Minnesota appreciate the fact that the stage, in its first sense, is an educational power. Such plays as have of late been put in by various organizations indicate that students are really desirous of studying masterpiece plays. The recent and well-received revival of the old miracle and morality plays speaks well for the discrimination of students in preferring them to the light farces of modern times.

LIBERALISTS DIE.

Nothing Remains of the Society But Two Dozen Spoons.

Two dozen silver spoons are the only remains of the once famed Liberal Association. Their many efforts to elevate the student body have had this ignominious failure.

The object of the organization, which was under the direction of the students, was to secure noted speakers of the country to lecture to the students. Under the patronage of the history department it flourished for two short years. Then the Liberals saw fit to disorganize; other societies with their many distractions caused the downfall.

It remains for some wiser organization to solve the puzzle of a Student's Lecture Association.

Meantime peace to the ashes of the Liberal Association—two dozen silver spoons.

The Harvard Medical School

Boston, Mass.

With the completion of the new buildings, which were dedicated September 25th, 1906, this school now has facilities and equipment for teaching and research in the various branches of medicine probably unsurpassed in this country. Of the five buildings, four are devoted entirely to laboratory teaching and research. The numerous hospitals of Boston afford abundant opportunities for clinical instruction in medicine and surgery.

Course for the Degree of M. D.

A four years course, open to bachelors of art, literature, philosophy and science, and to persons of equivalent standing, leads to the degree of M. D. The studies of the fourth year are wholly elective; they include laboratory subjects, general medicine, general surgery and the special clinical branches.

The next school year extends from September 26, 1907 to June 20, 1908.

UNIVERSITY MEN HELD UP

Jones and Hinkle the Latest Victims of Lawlessness.

Thuggery, vicious, wanton, actual thuggery, has once more sojourned amongst us, and shown its ugly visage within our University confines. Robert Hinkle looks vainly for three dollars, once his, and Dr. Med. Jones has a tale of hair-breadth escape, a real shocker, good-enough to spring in any emergency, whether of ladies or grandchildren.

Jones and Hinkle were making along University avenue, just opposite the Armory, when two bandits with sombre black drapery before their eyes (and in all other respects of genuine stage quality) waylaid them. Each robber held in his hand an ugly gun.

"Let us have your money," said the one robber, or words to the same purpose.

Jones sought safety in flight and one of the bad ones fired at him, but without luck.

Hinkle relinquished three dollars and was let go. He went to the Zeta Psi house and in short order had every one drill out and scour the immediate neighborhood. But Sherlock was not there and the thieves are still at large.

RESEARCH SOCIETY FORMED.

Professors Organize for the Promotion of Research Work.

"The University Association for Research" was organized at a meeting of the faculty in Donaldson's tea rooms Saturday evening. This organization will be open to members of the faculty upon payment of $1 annual membership fee.

Its objects are, to promote research and to discuss new developments in the various lines of scholarship.

The meetings will be held on the campus the third Saturday of every month from October to June, with the exception of December. Lectures will be given by different members of the faculty.

The administration is in the hands of a permanent secretary. Mr. J. T. Jerould was elected to this office and Prof. W. M. West to the office of treasurer.

fighting strength, and when the Quakers come west next fall Michigan will have had her extra schedule for preparation, and several stars, otherwise barred, but yet Pennsylvania will have the extra advantage of an unlimited schedule and a season at the training table.

When playing with conference colleges she will abide by conference rulings, yet hoping that her position will result in the repeal of the five-game and three-year retroactive rule. If the conference does not repeal these, Michigan will be handicapped somewhat in the track meet next June; but in football she is not affected, no conference games being on her schedule.

Michigan's entry into the eastern conference was unanimously approved of.

PROF. SANFORD TO LECTURE.

Professor Maria Sanford will give a number of lectures in the next two weeks. Friday Professor Sanford will go to Hemming, where she will address a number of ex and graduate students of the University. The subject of her lecture will be, "How to Make the Home Happy."

Next week Professor Sanford will speak on Friday to the girls of the University on the subject, "The Building of Character." Friday evening she speaks at Wilmar on "The Love Poems of Robert and Mrs. Browning," and Saturday night at Litchfield on "Othello."

WILL PLAY SHAKESPEARE.

Mrs. Potter's Class to Give "As You

Mrs. Potter's Shakespeare class will put on several scenes from some of Shakespeare's comedies in a few weeks. These will be given in class. Later on in the year the class may put on "As You Like It" and "Midsummer Night's Dream." It is Mrs. Potter's design to have these two presented on the campus, which would afford the best staging possible for plays of their out-of-doors nature.

STUDENTS ARE CRITICIZED

Jaggard Believes Our System Behind That of Germany.

Are American college students treated "like babies?"

Judge E. A. Jaggard of the state supreme court thinks so, and expressed his views on the question very emphatically in an address made a short time ago. The judge compared the American system as exemplified in our best colleges with that of the German universities, and drew unfavorable conclusions therefrom.

In an interview with a Daily representative, Professor Schlenker expressed the opinion that the jurist's adverse criticism is not entirely just. "The judge is right in saying that the German methods are ahead of ours at present," says Prof. Schlenker, "but the conditions are vastly different in the two countries. The German universities do more advanced work in their undergraduate departments than we, and it may be said that the first two years in an American college are regarded merely as preparatory in Germany. German students are therefore more mature, and are thrown entirely upon their own responsibility in the matter of study, being required only to satisfy their instructors as to their ability in the final examinations for the doctors degree, which is the lowest offered there.

"As a matter of fact, students in the German gymnasias, which correspond roughly to our high schools, are under a much closer surveillance than American students of the same age, even in our strictest military schools.

"The conditions in this country are largely resultant from the attitude of the people themselves. They demand that we stand in loco parentis to their sons and daughters in college, whether we want to do so or not. At the same time, it is doubtful true that the German methods are impracticable here. The University of Virginia tried the system, practically as employed on the continent, but found that the number of successful candidates at graduation was promptly and alarmingly diminished. We are not ready for it yet, but the time is coming when the American high schools will do the work of the first college years under the present arrangement, and then we also can reform our educational methods."

DAILY ELECTION.

Under the present arrangement the board of publishers, managing editor and business manager, are elected by the subscribers. For several reasons this arrangement is unsatisfactory and the board at its last meeting authorized a plan to be offered as an amendment to the constitution at the annual meeting. Under this plan the board of publishers continue to be constituted and elected as at present, but the managing editor and business manager instead of being elected by the subscribers, are elected by the board. This introduces the practise followed in all corporations, and is principally an advantage over the old system in that it makes these officers directly responsible and amenable to the board of publishers which is the managing body of the association, instead of to a large, loosely organized and unwieldy organization, virtually incapable of action. The managing editor and business manager will thus be responsible directly to the board, and the board to the subscribers, an arrangement which makes for a more interested and active board of publishers, a better and safer way of getting good men in these two positions, without taking away any of the powers or rights of the subscribers, and in all a safe and logical plan.

The board desires that the association be ready to act on this amendment when the annual meeting occurs.

EDWARD F. SWENSON,
 President Board of Publishers.

FRESHMAN WORKING HARD.

In Preparing for the Coming Relay Races.

Freshman stock seems to be above par for the coming freshman-sophomore relay races.

Again last night in practise the upper classmen had their measure taken by the humble, but speedy freshmen. The freshmen are only following in the footsteps of former freshmen teams, for last year the freshmen relay team won medals and a record of 1:58 2-13.

The other relay of importance this year will be the prep school, in which Shattuck threatens to regain the honors lost last year to Minneapolis Central.

The football men are out every night getting in trim to defeat the track team men in the athletic relay. The Greeks are also seen every night warming up preparatory to the fraternity relay race, which is always a popular member of the relay program.
