Wisconsin Decides Not to Protest

WE MUST WIN SATURDAY'S GAME

The Avowed Determination of Every Student or Member of the Faculty. Attend Mass Meeting Tomorrow

The team will leave tonight; every student, young and old, should march down to the Milwaukee station prepared to make the building ring with their songs and yells of encouragement and defiance. The game Saturday is to be the biggest thing the west and possibly the country has seen. Preparations at Madison have been going on for this event since the 3rd of last November, and it will take the united efforts of 4,000 students, 3,500 alumni and the eleven men, known as the Minnesota football team, to offset those preparations.

The crowd then, will meet at Buck's corner on or before 7:00 tonight prepared to see that the boys get properly started for the trip to the Wisconsin village. After this mass meeting is over and the team has reached its destination, there will be another meeting in the chapel tomorrow morning at the third hour.

Anyone who looks for a quiet time at this hour and place will be sorely disappointed. Indications point to by far the grandest demonstration ever seen at the University. The band, glee club, faculty, student-body, in fact, everybody in anyway connected with the institution have signified their intention to be present and start the thing off right. Bring Wednesday's Daily with you and sing the songs contained in it. Don't be ashamed to make all the noise possible, if you don't go to Madison it will be your only chance to root; if you intend to go it will give you excellent practice and loosen your voices for the game the next day.

Minnesota has a team which is certainly the best which ever represented her. They will do their duty beyond a doubt, the grand stand must do their's. Two thousand people supporting Minnesota would give the boys a wonderful amount of encouragement and more than anything else help them to win the game. They must understand that whether at Minneapolis or at Madison they are watched by the whole institution and that nothing short of a decisive victory will be acceptable.

Then remember these instructions, to the train tonight to see the team off for the field of battle, to the mass meeting in chapel tomorrow, to the train again in the evening and to the game at Madison in the afternoon. One thing is certain, the championship must be ours.

SATURDAY MUSICAL

The Metropolitan Music Company will furnish music for the musicale at the Y. M. C. A. building Saturday evening. The few men and women who do not go to Madison are invited to this affair.

Hon. S. M. Owen, who has served the University faithfully for eight years as a Regent, has recently been elected president of the state forestry board.

RECEPTION AT MADISON

All Minnesota students who are in Madison Saturday evening are invited to an informal reception that night at the Y. M. C. A. house. Signed, G. S. Phelps, U. of M., '99.

The young people of All Soul's Universalist church will entertain their friends Friday evening, Nov. 15, at the home of Mrs. Covell, No. 301 Third av. S. E.

The Ariel's Account of the Great Game of '93 When the Score Was 40 to 0

The Daily prints below the Ariel's write-up of the memorable game of Nov. 11, 1893, when Wisconsin came to Minneapolis expecting to win and carried back the sad tale of 40 to 0. Until last year it was probably the greatest game ever played by Minnesota.

"The Badgers arrived the night before the game full of confidence, and started out Saturday at 3 p. m. with considerable vim, quickly driving their Gopher neighbors back to the five-yard line. Arrived there Minnesota repeated the performance rendered twice at Evanston, Oct. 30th, viz., stood like a stone wall. Wisconsin played hard and Cutler punted after three downs, Richards caught it, but Pilly stopped his advance. The visitors did some of their finest playing, slowly advancing toward the opposite goal. As Madigan relates, Karel vouchsafed a few times to jump over him, but after encountering his (Madigan's) pedal extremities in mid air two or three times and suffering consequent descents to terra firma in an undignified and unpleasant attitude, he eschewed that play through the center ever after. Minnesota stood firm three yards from her goal line and took the bag on four downs. From this time on the game was clearly one-sided. Cutler punted a third down but Wisconsin soon lost the ball. Pilly and Adams flew around the ends for big gains, everybody bucked the line, and Harding landed the first touchdown 20 minutes from the start-off.

Wisconsin again started from the center by a diagonal flying wedge which she used for a start all through the game. The revolving wedge brought them up to the 20-yard line but there the boys stopped it—that Grinnell nonsense as they entitle it. The ball then went to the Gophers and immediately started on a mad career up the field and over the line in Pilly's paws. Cutler kicked the goal. Score 10 to 0. The first half finished with the striped socks about one minute from a touchdown.

In the second half the game continued to become more one-sided. The Badgers were evidently petered out—completely exhausted and prostrated, partially perhaps from surprise. They got the ball necessarily after their opponents' touchdowns, but could never retain it long. The touchdowns were made by Adams (2), Harding, Pillsbury, (2), Cutler, Pilly made several long runs and Adams was a hot rival. Both made enormous havoc with Wisconsin's line, as did also Larson, Harding and Muir. The tackling and end work was what may be familiarly termed "out of sight."

The Mass Meeting

Tomorrow in chapel will be held the last mass meeting of the year. It seems hardly necessary to urge the students to be present at the meeting but the Daily wishes to bring a few things before the minds of its readers. In the first place the team will be playing on the enemies field and every ounce of encouragement which is in our power to give should be given freely. They will hear of this meeting even if not present; they must know that it was an unqualified success.

The contest is with our old-time rivals; no stone must be left unturned to win it and win decisively. The result of the meeting today will in no small degree determine the result of the contest which is in fact for the western championship.

The game is the critical one of the season, the enemy are strongly united and on their own grounds. For your own sake, for the sake of the team, for the sake of Minnesota the students must stand together, enthusiastic and determined that Wisconsin shall be set down in her own estimation and in that of the world. With such a spirit only can the team, every member ready to die for the cause, be inspired to the best work and to a glorious and decisive victory for the Maroon and Gold.

The stimulus which the Peavey prizes have engendered into debating and oratorical work, is daily exhibiting itself in the two under classes. Prof. Sanford has charge of the Sophomores, who are divided into two classes, and who meet Wednesdays and Saturdays. A series of debates are held in each class. At the end of the semester the class with the aid of instructors, will select the three best men to meet the representatives of the Freshmen. Mr. Sanford has charge of the Freshmen, who are taking a course in argumentation, as a preparation for the work. A similar competitive plan, as that pursued in the Sophomore class, will be followed in the choosing of three men to battle against the Sophomores.

Every debator in both classes should do his very best as the selection is based on individual merit. Every one should covet the honor of representing his class on so important a contest, and lastly every one should seek the prize, as it is no mean sum, and shows the interest of the donor in advancement of rhetorical work.

Besides, those oratorically inclined should realize that a prize is awarded to the winner. For the same reasons that should incite debaters, the class orators should also be earnestly at work preparing their orations. At present, there is every indication that the contest will be spirited, and the prize will be awarded only to him who convinces his audience that he deserves both honor and reward.

President Northrop called on President Roosevelt while in Washington last week. He is attending the meeting of the presidents of state universities, held at Washington this week.

Helen A. Wilder, '98, formerly an instructor in the department of rhetoric, is teaching at Lawrence University, Appleton, Wis. Although teaching in Wisconsin, she stands ready to back Minnesota against the world.

F. W. Cappelen yesterday afternoon addressed the Engineers' society on "The Intake Pipe at Marquette." The lecture was very well attended and standing room was at a premium. It is necessary to say that none of those who attended were disappointed in the character of the discussion.

Lee A. Coombs, law, '94, who is practicing law at Valley City, N. D., recently had an exciting experience in a hold-up. Mr. Coombs was a passenger in a bus which was held up in broad daylight by masked highwaymen. Although unarmed he succeeded in summoning help, but was too late to prevent the robbery, the robbers securing their booty and making their escape before he could return with aid.

Erastus Smith, a son of John C. Smith of 1516 Ninth avenue S., died suddenly at Sandstone, Minn., Thursday. The funeral was held Monday afternoon from the family residence, Rev. William R. Francis of the First Baptist church, preaching the funeral sermon.

Erastus Smith entered the State University in 1891, and graduated from the law department in 1897. He was a member of the Chi Psi fraternity and was very popular among his classmates. After he left the University he was employed for a time in the Great Western Elevator company's office, and later with the Minnesota Sandstone company, in his office here, the company afterwards transferring him to Sandstone.

Copy of part of a letter received from a U. of W. student under date of November 11, 1893:

"One does not have to stretch his imagination very far to imagine your glee over the outcome of yesterday's battle, and judging from all reports, you have a right to be glad. U. W. was very confident. All expected that you would score, but the game and pennant was generally conceded to us. We had big processions and a whooping mass meeting to stir the fellows up, but it was of no use. Some fellows went so far as to buy up yards of cardinal bunting and one saloon was decorated in the college colors with a big 'U. W.' on one wall. Some of the boys had pulled several cannons from the capitol way up to the U. and placed them on the lake shore. When the news first came the score was 34 to 0, but nobody would believe it. They said it was a big fake and all other sorts of opinions were expressed but not a one would admit that Wis. was defeated, especially by such a score. Some said they would believe 4 to 0 but that was all. It was the quietest town tho' I ever got into. Then came the news that the score was 40 to 0 and soon after a couple of telegrams with 50 to 0, with the 5 as doubtful. Then everybody knew it was a fake and I guess the greater share of them didn't believe it until they went to the train at 5:00 a. m. and the team came home with their long faces. Until then we all had a faint hope, but it was taken out of us double quick and we knew well enough where our hopes had gone."

AT HIS OLD TRICKS

"We didn't lose that game to Wisconsin." The cause of all this "soreness" is Referee Wrenn, who, from beginning to end, saw to it that Nebraska was given as bad a treatment as was possible. At critical moments for Wisconsin, he somehow managed that Nebraska was obliged to surrender the ball. Nebraska men were constantly cautioned not to lie down when the play was going on. Wrenn told them that if they were not on their feet when the whistle blew, he would call in a substitute. The Wisconsin men were privileged to rest when they had an opportunity.—Scarlet and Cream.

Wisconsin is already endeavoring to stir up student enthusiasm as a preparation for the great coming event, as witness the clipping below, from the Cardinal:
