ImperativeNeed For Nurses Cited

Katherine Densford Makes Claim After Return from Washington

by Fran Ahern

"Whether the nurse selective service draft passes congress or not, nurses are needed now, and it is the duty of all nursing associations to provide them," said Katharine J. Densford, president of the American Nurses association and director of the School of Nursing, on her return yesterday from a special meeting of the advisory council of the ANA and executive secretaries of state nursing associations in Washington, D. C.

While the council was meeting the selective nurse draft bill was passed by the house of representatives.

"The purpose of the meeting was primarily to plan the acceleration of nurse recruitment for military service," Miss Densford declared.

The council, in considering ways and means of increasing enlistments, heard reports from the army nurse corps, navy nurse corps, veterans administration nursing service, cadet nurse corps, nursing division of the procurement and assignment service, American Red Cross nursing service and the national nursing council for war service.

"According to statistics received March 1, approximately 44,000 of the 60,000 army nurses requested by the army nurse corps have been enlisted," Miss Densford pointed out. Nine thousand one hundred and sixty-five of the 11,500 navy nurse quota has been filled.

"The nurse selective service bill is now in the hands of the senate military affairs committee and if hearings are held on the bill, I will attend," she said. "Practically all the amendments recommended by the ANA were accepted in the revised bill."

"The big problem facing the School of Nursing now is the enrollment of enough students in the cadet nurse corps this spring to relieve graduate students for military service," Miss Densford pointed out. Students may enter the corps April 2, if they have completed five quarters of satisfactory college work.

A special report on pending federal legislation was presented at the close of the council meeting.

AWS Announces Spring Activities

Plans for spring quarter projects were made at the first business meeting of the new AWS board Saturday. A short installation ceremony was also held at the meeting.

Eleanor Colle, Arts junior and AWS president, president after being installed by Kathryn Markhus, University college senior and past president. Also installed was Maryanne Jones, Home Economics sophomore and new Ag AWS president.

Projects were outlined and assigned to the three class councils by Miss Colle.

Big events of the spring quarter will be the Cap and Gown day luncheon and Mrs. Walter C. Coffey's recognition tea. These projects will be supervised by Cap 'n Gown council. Nancy Keely, Arts junior, was installed as president of this council.

Freshmen interviews to help orientate freshmen to campus activities through talks with active upperclassmen will be handled by Tam O' Shanter council.

Presidents installed for the two councils were Marjorie Boberg, Arts sophomore, for Tam O' Shanter, and Lorraine Espeseth, Arts freshman, for Pinafore.

Others installed were June Richardson, Arts junior, vice president; Janet Carlson, Home Economics sophomore, treasurer; Mary Stevens, Arts sophomore, assistant treasurer. Edna Mae Snead, Home Economics sophomore, will take the position of recording secretary and Estelle Hagen, Education junior, the position of corresponding secretary. This last office will replace the position of special projects chairman.

Commonwealths Suggest Course Credit Changes

Wants Faults Cured In Advisory System

Remedies for faults of the faculty advisory system and the replacement of small-credit courses in Senior college with five-credit courses comprise the creed of the Commonwealth party, presented last week by Charles Bell, Arts sophomore, and party chairman.

"The party caucus pledged itself . . . by the creation and maintenance of a bureau, to sample student opinion on all issues. This will be done by questionnaires and the maintenance of an office where students can take their complaints and issues," the creed states.

Creation of an advisory system in those schools which now do not have one was stated as a definite aim of the party. In advocating reforms, the creed promises "to work through established channels."

A clean sweep of "imposing meaningless issues" and "verbose, meaningless planks" is presented in favor of more important "problems of the students which arise from time to time while the people elected are in office," was also proposed.

"A political party can best serve the student body by nominating representative candidates, known to possess by virtue of their campus experience, an intimate knowledge of the actual needs and wishes of all the students," the creed continues.

Commonwealth candidates for Union board are Carol Myre, Arts junior; Beverly Raitt, Nursing freshman; Barbara Ocken, Arts sophomore; Bob Kasper, V-12; Norma Jean Smith, Dental Hygiene freshman. Arts board candidates are Madeleine Jaffray and John Dalthorp, Arts sophomores; Joyce Wellsley, Arts freshman.

Fraternities Back Vet Club Petition

The Interfraternity council has backed the Veterans club petition fighting the St. Paul War Memorial bill now before the state legislature, according to Murray Butts, Arts junior and council president.

Fort Snelling soldiers also are endorsing the petition and are backing the club's fight.

Another petition was signed by a Veterans of Foreign Wars post at 310 Hennepin avenue. It is expected the post will adopt a resolution supporting the campus veterans stand.

Tom Peterson, Technology freshman and club commander, said that petitions now being circulated will be collected Tuesday and will be counted Wednesday. At present there are about 125 names on the petition in the club office, 349 Union.

The campus group feels that a better memorial than the proposed office building and improvements on the capitol approach could be devised for the $6,000,000 expenditure. They suggested "housing facilities, hospitals and a medical research center—a more fitting tribute to veterans.

Ezio Pinza, Noted Basso, Will Sing With Symphony

By Kay Stickney

Ezio Pinza, noted basso of the Metropolitan opera company, will be guest artist with the Minneapolis Symphony at its concert at 8:30 p.m. Friday in Northrop auditorium.

Known as an artist who has stolen the spotlight from Metropolitan tenors, Mr. Pinza made his New York debut in a revival of Spontini's "La Vestale" in 1926, and the audiences were more enthusiastic about him than they were about the opera. He received an ovation seldom accorded a new singer.

Since then he has been one of the favorites of the Metropolitan audiences and has shown the world that bassos can be as popular as tenors and sopranos.

For his concert here, Mr. Pinza will sing two Mozart works, "Mentre ti lascio, O figlia," and "Madamina, il cataloga e questo" from "Don Giovani" and "Ill lacerato spirito" from "Simon Boccanegra" and "Dormiro sol nel manto" from "Don Carlos" by Verdi. The orchestra will play the concert overture, "Carnival" by Dvorak, Tansman's Symphony No. 5 in D minor and the Adagio for Strings by Samuel Barber.

YM Council Backs Efforts for Housing

Executive committee, YMCA-YWCA rooming house council, issued the following statement regarding students' housing at the University:

"Whereas we, as students living in various types of rooming houses, are concerned with achieving more adequate housing for University students, we shall encourage and support any constructive efforts to maintain proper standards in all student housing and to recognize good living conditions as an integral part of a college student's total social and educational experience."

Pages on Science, But . . .

OH! Look at Those Photos

"Comes final week, a man must stop his search for truth and beauty and start to study for exams," Kenneth Clark observes in a timely article on how to study which appears in the March Technolog on sale today. He tells you what to study, when to study, what to do after you have studied, and even suggests the frame of mind with which you should take the test.

Technolog also invites its readers to "Go Beyond the Sun" in an article by George Chapin, Technology junior, with six columns of facts on the space beyond the sun. In addition there is a useful article on "Death by Electric Shock" by H. A. Poehler, reprinted from Electronics.

J. A. Pauze of the General Electric company discusses the "vast sprawling industry putting food on every man's table" and its relation to electrical engineering.

An intriguing piece of research entitled "To the Cemetery of St. Denis" by Roderick Siler, assistant professor of mathematics, will inform the reader about the "medics" of 1554 and their simple pleasures.

Interviews with two of the men "behind the desk," Henry C. T. Eggers, associate professor of drawing and descriptive geometry, and Hervey H. Barber, associate professor of chemistry, complete the March technolog.

In their usual place at the back of the book are two slightly purged pages of Purloined Prototypes.

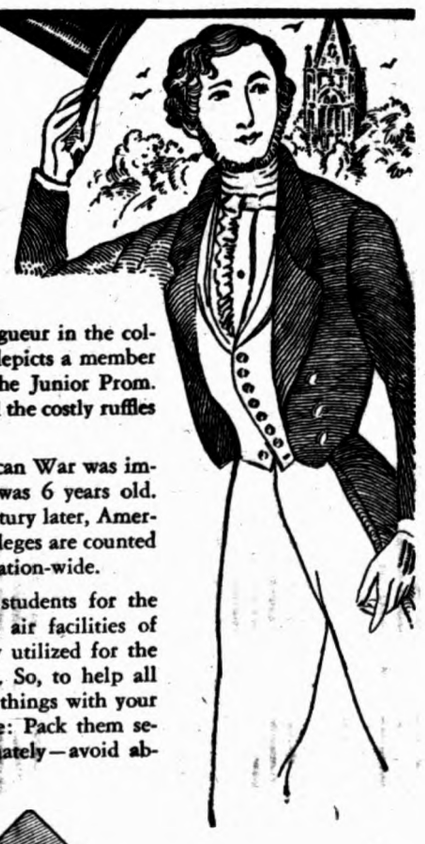
A MEMBER of THE CLASS OF 1845



Spickness and spanness were de rigueur in the colleges of the 1840s. This portrait depicts a member of the Class of 1845 attired for the Junior Prom. Observe the height of his stock and the costly ruffles on his shirt.

In that same year, 1845, the Mexican War was imminent. Railway Express service was 6 years old. The colleges were few. Now, a century later, America is fighting a global war, the colleges are counted by thousands, and our service is nation-wide.

Today, the colleges are training students for the armed services; and the rail and air facilities of Railway Express are being largely utilized for the speeding of war-goods shipments. So, to help all concerned, please do three simple things with your 1945 home packages and baggage: Pack them securely—address clearly and adequately—avoid abbreviating state names.

Once Berlin Debutant

Former Russ Prodigy Is Now Globe Trotter

By Kay Stickney

When Mischa Elman made his concert debut some 40 years ago in Berlin, audiences applauded enthusiastically for a little boy in a white sailor suit. When Mr. Elman presents a program for the Artists course at 8:30 p.m. Wednesday, the audience will applaud enthusiastically, but this time for a little man who has made a world-wide reputation through his brilliant violin playing.

Mr. Elman first tried his hand at the violin when he was three years old and by six was studying in Odessa, Russia. At 10 he was the first of the great Leopold Auer wonder children making history at the St. Petersburg conservatory.

After his first success, Mr. Elman settled down to a schedule of tours which averaged him 125 dates a season. He was the first concert star to tour the Orient and the Far East, and has also made two tours of South America.

He waited until he was 17 before coming to this country from Russia because he wanted to make his debut here in long pants. When he finally did play his first New York concert, his popularity became so great he was forced to play 21 other concerts that same season.

Though he is nearly always on tour, Mr. Elman takes time to practice so that he won't fall behind the times. Last season after staying away from modern violin music because "he couldn't lay his hands on anything that didn't make his ears curl up," he finally found a composition to his liking in the Martinu Violin concerto.

When he plays here on Wednesday evening, he will program the Sonata in D Major by Handel, the Sonata in A Major, No. 9, Opus 47 by Beethoven, the Symphonie Espagnole by Lalo, and "Nigun" by Bloch. Also included on his program will be the Hungarian Dance No. 6 by Brahms, a Nocturne by Chopin, and the Polonaise Brillante by Wieniaswsky.

Nature Is Listening Hour Theme Today

Spring fever has cropped up even on the Music Listening hour from 11:30 to 1:30 p.m. today in 118 Union. The entire program will follow a nature theme.

Mendelssohn's "Fingal's Cave" overture will set the mood, followed by Symphony No. 6 in F Major, "Pastorale," by Beethoven. "On Hearing the First Cuckoo in Spring" by Delius, "Afternoon of a Faun" and "La Mer" by Debussy are next.

Strauss' "Voice of Spring" and "Tales from the Vienna Woods" complete the program.

State Editors Cancel Annual Short Course

The twenty-ninth annual editors' short course of the Minnesota Editorial association and the Editors Short Course committee of the University has been cancelled, Ralph D. Casey, director of the School of Journalism, announced yesterday.

Originally scheduled for May 4 and 5, the meeting was called off to conform to the ruling of the office of defense transportation restricting conventions.

The action was taken following a meeting of Ralph W. Keller, field manager of MEA; J. O. Christianson, director of University agricultural short courses; Thomas F. Barnhart, professor of journalism; Paul Johnson, editor of Ag campus publications; and Dr. Casey, chairman of the Editors Short Course committee.

Nurses' Coffee Hour

A coffee hour for students and faculty in the School of Nursing will be given from 3:30 to 5 p.m. tomorrow in the men's lounge of the Union. Free coffee and doughnuts will be served. The program is sponsored by the Union, and members of the Faculty Women's club will serve.

T'es le bienvenu, vieux frère... Have a Coke

(GREETINGS, OLD MAN)

...a way to show friendship to a French sailor

Even foreigners visiting our shores for the first time respond to the friendliness in the phrase Have a Coke. There's the good old home-town American spirit behind it... the same as when you serve Coke at home. Coca-Cola stands for the pause that refreshes,—has become a bond of sympathy between kindly-minded folks.

Coca-Cola ... the global high-sign

"Coke" = Coca-Cola
You naturally hear Coca-Cola called by its friendly abbreviation "Coke". Both mean the quality product of The Coca-Cola Company.
