

CO-EDS HOLD SPRING CARNIVAL TODAY

BAND TO PRESENT MUSICAL CLASSIC TONIGHT AT 7:30

Special Request Program to Be Played From Steps of "U" Library

LARGE CROWD EXPECTED 1500 Printed Programs to Be Distributed by Courtesy of Minnesota Union

By Albert F. Becker
Weather of ideal coolness, a patch of green grass to sit on, and a summer program to fit the occasion composed of dreamy melodies, Hawaiian and Spanish idyls, humorous and descriptive numbers, and popular song hits, are promised to the audience attending the third twilight concert presented by the University band from the Library steps at 7:30 to-night. In Director Michael Jalma's words this program will be a virtual music classic as the nine numbers to be rendered have been selected from the numerous requests that have been solicited by the band during the last two days. It is the cream of the band's repertoire and includes a review of the best received numbers played this year. Of the special requests received one of the first was made by F. J. Walters, University librarian, to repeat the highly descriptive suite "Atlantis" which was played two weeks ago. "The Tearin' of The Green" is a humorous version of the well known Irish melody, "The Wearing of The Green" and among its incidental solos the basson and brilliant piccolo passages will create many a laugh. Members of the band have a chance to demonstrate their vocal ability in the descriptive number "An Evening in Hawaii" which also includes a realistic hula hula dance. Again cooperating with the band as it had when it sponsored the recreation programs during the winter the Minnesota Union is financing the expenses of printed programs of which 1500 will be distributed prior and during the concert. After enjoying a brief vacation last week the band boys have worked hard and following extensive practice by extra rehearsals including one today they are holding themselves in readiness to present what they believe (Continued on page 4)

SNELLING TO TRAIN CIVIES IN SUMMER

Authorities Announce Change to Those Who Have Not Seen Service

Military authorities at Minnesota announced yesterday that in addition to the basic and advanced R.O.T.C. camps the War Department is conducting this year, a civilian military training camp at Fort Snelling. The purpose of this camp is to give the advantages of a military training to those between the ages of seventeen and twenty-five who have neither the opportunity nor the time to participate in other training activities. The department announced that the camp will be conducted for a period of thirty days. The Government will pay all expenses, transportation, food, and clothing included. The Military Department of the University or the headquarters of the Eighty-Eighth Division, Kasota Building, Minneapolis, will give any information relative to this camp.

Wisconsin Water Fete Biggest in History

Wisconsin, under perfect weather conditions, put on her most successful water carnival in history. With such a beautiful lake as Mendota almost on the campus, the conditions are ideal, and the carnival, more commonly known on the Wisconsin campus as the Venetian Night Fete, was an ideal carnival, as claimed by the general chairman, Gordon B. Wanser. Fraternities and societies vied with each other for the prizes offered by the committees for the most beautifully and originally decorated pier, for the best orchestra, and for the best float. Another point in favor of the fete was that it came at the conclusion of a visiting week for the state high schools, and this gave them an opportunity to see Wisconsin at her best.

Head of Anthropology Department to Assist in Forming Indian Policy

Dr. A. E. Jenks Herbert Work, Secretary of the Interior has invited Dr. Jenks as one of 100 to assist in forming a Government "Indian Policy".

JENKS ONE OF THREE NAMED FROM STATE

Serious Problems Being Created Rapidly by Indians

Dr. Albert Ernest Jenks, Professor of Anthropology, is one of 100 men and women in America invited by Herbert Work, Secretary of the Interior, to assist in forming a Government "Indian policy" for dealing with the serious problems which the Indians are creating rapidly these days in the nation. Governor J. A. O. Preus and Mrs. T. G. Winter are the other Minnesotans invited to assist in the formation of a new Indian policy.

It is rather suggestive of the fact that scientifically trained men are being sought by the Government to assist in the practical problems when it is noted that among the one hundred persons whose assistance is sought are ten professional anthropologists. Dr. Jenks said yesterday. These anthropologists are: Dr. Livingston Farrand, President of Cornell University, Dr. Edgar L. Hewett, Santa Fe, New Mexico, Mr. J. N. B. Hewitt, Bureau of American Ethnology, Washington, D. C. Mr. Frederic W. Hodge, Museum of the American Indian, New York City. Dr. Albert Ernest Jenks, University of Minnesota. Dr. A. L. Kroeber, University of California. Mr. Frances LaFlesche, Omaha Indian expert, Washington, D. C. Prof. Warren K. Moorehead, Phillips Academy, Andover, Massachusetts. Dr. Clark Wissler, American Museum of Natural History, New York City.

Professor Jenks is an internationally known expert on Anthropology and was recently given a leave of absence for one year to fill the position of chairman of the Committee on Anthropology and Sociology of the National Bureau of Research at Washington, D. C.

Tomhave Made Chief of Shakopean Tribe

Following the annual initiation of fifteen "papooses" Roy Tomhave, a law student and a member of the society debate team was elected president of the Shakopean Literary Society to succeed Henry Leivestad. The other officers selected for the following year were: Walter L. Rice, vice-president; Richard Paulson, secretary; Saul Halpern, treasurer; Sergeant-at-arms, Harold Westin, and Robert Kingsley, chaplain.

Initiation ceremonies were held on the banks and in the waters of the Mississippi River according to the ancient tradition of the Indian tribe of debaters. After the ceremonies and election of officers, the newly elected officers and the Chaplain were escorted to Oak Tree to appease the appetites of the "big chiefs".

High Voltage Telephones and Synchronous Motors Are Investigated; New Instructors Added to Staff; Jansky to Washington in Summer

Extensive research work is being carried on by graduate students and seniors in the department of electrical engineering, according to Dean G. W. Shephardson of that department.

Graduate students L. C. Larson and E. C. Manderfeld are working on the problem of telephoning on a high voltage transmission line. They are experimenting on a line of 6000 volts at the Minneapolis Terminal Station.

Forbes Works On Radio Henry C. Forbes has completed a series of tests on radio telephone receiving sets, giving special attention to antennae. Mr. Forbes has recently completed investigations on the design of small audio-frequency transformers for use in connection with radio-receiving sets. He has been engaged by the Bureau of Standards at Washington D. C. and will go there to continue his research work after receiving his degree this month.

J. M. Ellstad is studying the problem of electrical ignition in connection with gas engines, studying the effects of different kinds of sparks and exploding gases. He recently investigated the cause of the disturbance at Winona interfering with their telephone lines.

Sorenson in Charge of Motors J. E. Sorenson is investigating the design of synchronous motors for operation on alternating current.

K. W. Selamber is studying the effect of electrostatic telephone transmitters. These transmitters are more accurate, but not well adapted for general use.

R. A. Braden, who will graduate in June, will be in the department next year as assistant. C. L. Sampson and Otto Heideberger will be teaching fellows here next year.

Prof. G. W. Swenson and Prof. C. M. Jansky will assist the Bureau of Standards at Washington during the summer.

Ohio Professors State Views on Magazine Censor

Columbus, O., May 29.—The springing up of numerous in-urgent magazines in universities and colleges throughout the country and the attempts by university officials to curb their growth has aroused considerable comment on the general attitude toward censorship in modern schools.

In consequence, members of the faculty of Ohio State University who are known to hold definite opinions on this trend were interviewed with a view of obtaining the diverse angles of the subject.

Professor Ralph Fanning of the department of fine arts believes that dogmatic censorship on the campus should be unnecessary. "I believe that there is a better way of solving the problem of undesirable literary tastes than appointing a censor," said Professor Fanning.

"If the faculty sees fit to censor, then I believe that it should be done by way of guidance rather than through mandatory methods. This seems to be a question of educating the tastes of students."

Prof. Thomas E. French of the department of engineering drawing gave the following summary of the problem as it appeared to him: "Every now and then there comes to the front some undergraduate disciple of the cult of Menckan and Sinclair, wallowing in the abnormal and erotic, who feels that he must have an outlet, and proposes to start a magazine."

Alum Weekly Features Welles' 'My Army Days'

"My Army Days" by A. M. Welles, '77, the feature of the Alumni Weekly which came out yesterday is the fifth of a series of reminiscences which Mr. Welles has written recently. One of the illustrations is of a "mixed company" of men and girls drilling in uniform in the old College gym. "Another shocking experience" explains the plans for the new electrical engineering building.

GIRL ATHLETES TO CLASH AT 4 P.M. ON NORTHROP FIELD

W. A. A. Sponsors Event Which Takes Place of Former Field Day

INTEREST IN TENNIS KEEN

Co-ed athletes of the University will climax their year's athletic work with the Spring Athletic Carnival, to be held on Northrop Field at 4 p.m. today. The Women's Athletic Association is sponsoring the affair this year, which, with modifications and improvements, is taking the place of the Field Day of former years. Tennis and baseball finals will also be played off at the carnival today.

Track Meet Special Feature The special features of the day are the track meet, which is the first interclass event of its kind ever held by women at Minnesota, and the final W.A.A. banquet which will conclude the festivities of the day at 7:45 p.m. Seals, letters, and numerals will be awarded and the season of competitive sports for women will be closed for the year.

Keen interest has been aroused over the tennis finals and interclass baseball. So far the fresh are ahead on the baseball score but the decision will not be reached until after this event. The events are open to all University women wishing to enter. Rivalry between houses in regard to tennis and baseball and runners will also be fought to a finish. Delta Gamma has ridden through her opponents for a place in the finals from their division, but her competitors have not finished their lesser battles. All the teams who have remained in the race thus far are strong and the Delta Gammas will have stiff competition.

The tennis final rests between Theodora Foote and Clare Luger. Freshman Holds Shot Record Edna Faulkner, freshman, holds the record at Minnesota for shot putting. Helen Hagen, Ruth Figg, Agnes Jones, and Martha Taylor are looked to for the laurels of the junior class. Hazel Hitchcock is in form for the high jump but rumor has it that Agnes Jones, of track fame, is also hot on her heels. The seniors (Continued on page 4)

APPOINTMENTS AT WEST POINT OPEN

University Cadets May Qualify for Openings by Taking Exams

Cadetships at West Point are offered this spring to R.O.T.C. and other students who are able to meet the entrance requirements, according to Col. Girard Sturtevant, Commandant of the Military Department at the University.

Appointments are open to students living in the second, sixth, eighth, and tenth Congressional Districts, where representatives this year have not sent their full quota of cadets to the Academy.

Students desiring cadetships at West Point must act quickly, according to Colonel Sturtevant, for admission to the Academy will be on July 2, 1923. Prospective cadets must interview Colonel Sturtevant, and if they are found qualified, will be recommended to their Congressman for appointment.

"West Point gives a broad and splendid education, the equivalent of University training, and offers a wonderful opportunity for anyone interested in a military career," the Colonel stated.

Conger Writes Paper on 'Evaluation of Values'

Criticism, comment, and illustrations of the five types of argument which attempt to describe in terms of mind the ground or sanction which values have in the universe are contained in "A Critique of Idealistic Evaluations of Values", a philosophical criticism written by Prof. George P. Conger, of the philosophy department and appearing in the last issue of the Journal of Philosophy. "Philosophy of idealism has been restated in some notable works in terms of evolutions of values in recent years," Mr. Conger says, "by employing five different arguments these restatements attempt to describe the sanction of values." Professor Conger illustrates and comments on the five types: Arguments from necessary presupposition of valuations, priority of consciousness in valuations, unlimited references of valuations, continuity and identity of valuations, and unities manifested in valuations. Professor Conger criticizes the five points from the view of implicit quality of thinking, and his book contains a full and complete survey of each of the five types of argument.

Art Exhibit Attracts Many Visitors At Annual Event

Students and Faculty Members Among Pi Alpha Guests at Blue Hound Studio Yesterday Afternoon

Over a hundred students and members of the faculty visited the Blue Hound studio yesterday afternoon as guests of Pi Alpha, honorary art fraternity, at their annual exhibit. The exhibit included much of the work done since the fraternities founding here in 1921.

Among the displays were story illustrations by Levon Fairchild West, a realistic water painting of the river flats by Glanville Smith, and several landscape water paintings by Richardson Rome.

In addition to the above, the exhibit included all the covers for the Ski-U-Mah, which were the work of Levon Fairchild West, Richardson Rome, Edgar Weaver and Herbert Kielkopf. There were also many student posters, numerous paintings and introductory pages for the 1924 Gopher, sketches of the milling district and the old railroad bridge across the Mississippi river.

Color process plates for the 1924 Gopher one of the attractive exhibits. The display also included several batiks, which were the work of William Woollett, designer of the settings for the "Sea Gull" and the "Blue God".

Noted Originals on Exhibit Two originals by noted artists were also on exhibit: a story illustration by Hanson Booth, famous artist with the Saturday Evening Post, and a remarkable drawing of a "Gob," by Carl Bohnen, noted artist, and father of "Bud" Bohnen.

The members of the fraternity whose work was on display are Richardson Rome, Edgar Wise Weaver, Levon Fairchild West, Phil Elliot, Craig Howry, William Woollett, Glanville Smith and Herbert L. Kielkopf. Tea was served to visitors in the studio between 2 p.m. and 6 p.m.

Measles Invade Campus - 3 Cases Are Reported

Measles have invaded the campus to the extent of three light cases, according to reports from the Health Service. The disease has apparently been checked, said Dr. Boyntan last night, for there have been no new cases for ten days. The cities are full of measles now and that is undoubtedly the source of it here.

TECHNICALS ADOPT NEW CONSTITUTION BY 111 MAJORITY

126 'Yes' and 15 'No' Ballots Cast in Elections Yesterday

BOOKSTORE BOARD CHOSEN

Chemistry Students Do Not Participate in Elections

By Walter C. Rice The new consolidation plan for the technical schools carried in yesterday's election by an affirmative vote of 126 to 15. The votes by colleges were as follows: Mechanical Engineers: 8 yes, 1 no; Civil Engineers: 51 yes, 5 no; Electrical Engineers: 31 yes, 8 no; Architects: 30 yes, 1 no. Six affirmative votes of unclassified engineers were cast in favor of the consolidation. Only 141 ballots were cast out of a total electorate of more than 800.

Bookstore Directors Chosen Four students representing their respective colleges were elected to constitute the Board of Directors for the Engineers' bookstore. Lyle K. McLeland was unanimously elected Electrical Representative, Charles R. Blodgett Mechanical Representative, and Walter E. Wilson, Civil Representative. These three candidates entered the race unopposed. Lawrence A. Tveit was elected Civil Representative over Edward Hawkins by a close vote of 10 to 5.

The Chemists declare that they did not vote in yesterday's election because no polls or ballots were provided for the occasion, and no one seemed to be informed definitely as to the procedure of the balloting in the Chemistry school according to Albert Becker, retiring officer of the Freshman Chemistry class.

COUNCIL CHANGES ELECTION DATES

Purpose Is to Allow Time for Student Contact Before Choosing Officers

At a special meeting yesterday noon the All-University Council changed the dates of all class elections for next fall. Under the new system, Sophomore, Junior, and senior classes will hold their elections for the selection of class officers on the third Thursday after school opens in the fall. Freshman classes will elect their officers on the second Thursday following the official Class Scrap. Formerly the upperclassmen have held their elections on the second Thursday after the opening of school and the Freshman, on the fourth Thursday.

The Council also passed a ruling that all class scraps must be over within five weeks after the first day of school.

The object of this new arrangement is, to bring the students, especially the Freshmen into closer contact before the class election.

The Council meeting was attended yesterday by the members of both the outgoing and the incoming Councils. It was decided that the officers of the new Council would be elected at the last joint meeting of the two bodies.

Minnesota's Advantages

Criticism of the location of the University is made constantly by those who declare that Minnesota is handicapped by being situated in a large city. However, these same people rarely take cognizance of the multitude of advantages which the University receives by being located in the Twin Cities.

The appointments of the senior medics to junior internships gives a good example of such advantages. These students have been assigned for services in five Twin City hospitals. Here they will receive their intern training and at the same time they will be able to remain near the University and in constant touch with their regular college activities. The city hospitals in Minneapolis and St. Paul, the Shriners' Hospital for crippled children, the Glen Lake sanatorium, and other similar institutions all offer noteworthy opportunities to the medic students.

People are often prone to lose sight of such opportunities. The Minnesota student is offered more cultural advantages here than is the student in the small towns. The Minneapolis Symphony Orchestra, which makes the city one of the most outstanding musical centers in the country, the libraries in the two cities, the state capitol in St. Paul, the state and national courts in the Twin Cities, the Minneapolis Art museum, the dramatic offerings, and other similar institutions all tend to give the Minnesota student advantages which cannot be derived at a university situated in a small town.

Strengthening the "Weaker Sex"
Minnesota takes its place among the other schools as a promoter of women's athletics. There was a time when everyone thought that track and field meets, tennis, and volley ball were too strenuous exercise for the female sex. That idea has been beaten into submission by woman showing her prowess in this field. And it is a good thing, too, that woman has found enjoyable recreation in sports of this nature.

Today is Field Day for Minnesota's women. Everyone is eligible to compete in the various sports. Minnesota has placed herself in the ranks of those schools where the "weaker sex" physical education is fostered and encouraged. Now, it is the duty of those concerned to make it a real field day.

You who are athletically inclined take heed and turn out to show your ability. You who are interested in the furtherance of a thing like this, turn out and give them your support. The Women's Physical Education Department is sponsoring it. You show your interest.—A. E. R.

To some men it means a certain sum of money—that's their guide in buying clothes—and it's a poor guide at best.

To other men it means "build" or "physique"—getting the style they're built to best carry. It's the right way to buy, if appearance counts.

GRID CANDIDATES FINISH SESSION OF SPRING GRIND

All Uniforms to Be Turned in at Once; Oscar Kept Busy With Outfits

Large Squad of Players Out For Berths on Varsity Team Next Fall

King Football is temporarily in the discard at Minnesota. Last Tuesday saw the last practice of the six-weeks spring session staged by Coach Bill Spaulding. The squad of candidates were sent through their last scrimmage and workout and are through with all that pertains to the pigskin until the beginning of the fall season.

Coach Spaulding ended the session with a short talk to the prospective Gopher grid men about keeping in condition during the summer months. He especially stressed the point that all the men who have reported out this spring will be expected to come out for the Varsity next year, and that every position on the team is open to the men who show the most fighting ability in holding down the job.

Complete Squad Reports

Nearly every member of the Varsity squad last fall has been out for practice this spring. Captain Martineau has been unable to report very consistently owing to his track work, but he has worked out at every opportunity with the other candidates for the team. Ollie Aas reported regularly until he was laid up with the accident to his foot. Rollitt, Oster, Goy, Abrahamson, Gross, and a number of the first and second string men donned the cleats for spring practice.

Coach Spaulding has discovered some likely prospects from the freshman squad last fall. Among the most likely looking players are Gury, quarterback; Swanbeck, halfback; and Lidberg, center.

Battle for Quarter Stiff

The battle for the position of quarter stiff is one of the most interesting battles of the season. Freddy Chase, veteran field-general of the 1922 team, appears to have a slight edge on the other candidates, although he will have to step high, wide, and handsome to maintain his lead. Stuart Willson, captain of the track team and sub-quarter on the last year's squad, will be out for the job, as will Gury, quarter on the freshman squad, and Shorty Sorenson, who has been showing up very well in spring practice.

All candidates have turned in their equipment, and will devote the rest of the year to staying or becoming eligible for competition next year. Oscar is the busiest man in the Armory at present, for to him falls the mammoth job of sorting out the equipment and getting it in condition for the distribution next fall.

NINE LEAVES FOR THREE GAME SERIES

Ramsey Technical School Team Defeated in Slow Game Yesterday

In a weird ball game the Gophers yesterday defeated the Ramsey Technical School by a 7 to 1 score. The game was slow and in most of the innings uninteresting to both players and the few spectators.

As an impromptu practice game the tilt served a purpose. It was scheduled at noon and the players were on the field at four. It tops off the training, with the exception of a short workout this afternoon, that Major Watrous is sending his team on a three game trip with.

Minnesota's big inning in the seventh brought in three counters from two hits, one of them a double, a walk, two errors and a sacrifice. The midway school was unable to find either Frantz or Fox for any semblance of a hit. Their showing has earned them places on the group of Gophers that tonight will invade Evanston for a tilt tomorrow, Iowa City for one Monday, and Dubuque for a practise game with the Columbia College on Tuesday.

The squad that Coach Watrous will take with him includes Christgau, Sherman Anderson, MacMurphy, Moskovich, Foote, Captain Myrum, Gambil, Bros, Rumble, and a trio of pitchers, Friedl, Frantz, and Fox.

Pulling-Will Compile All City Ordinances

Appointment to make a new compilation of the ordinances of the City of Minneapolis has been accepted by Arthur C. Pulling, librarian at the Law School, from the Minneapolis city council. The work will include all city ordinances enacted since 1905, the date of the last compilation.

Mr. Pulling will complete his task within the next three or four months, and will continue his duties at the Law Library.

SPORTS PROGRAM PLANNED FOR AGS

Intramural Athletic Board Members Elected by Vote of Students

Plans for furthering intramural athletics on the Ag Campus were discussed by the Intramural Athletic Board of Agriculture and Forestry at a meeting in the Ag cafeteria. The constitution was drawn up by a committee of the Student Council, and provides for eight members on the board, one from each year in the schools of Forestry and Agriculture. The constitution was adopted by a popular vote on the part of the student body.

The board will work in co-operation with the Intramural department headed by Mr. Whittemore, with the purpose of fostering sports among the students on the Ag Campus. A girls' committee is working on a similar plan in collaboration with the W.A.A.

The members of the board are as follows: seniors, Joe Gordon and John Towler; juniors, Ambrose Everts and Lloyd Vye; sophomores, Henry Morrison and Bernard Anderson; the freshman representatives will be elected next fall.

A faculty committee composed of Dr. Fitch, Fred Whittemore, and Victor Christgau will act as an advisory body and will co-operate with the intramural department in obtaining a larger field of sports for the Ag students.

Plans now under way include all the regular intramural sports. Basketball, baseball, track meets, swimming events, and tennis will be directed by the board.

Girl Athletes Will Compete 4 P.M. Today

(Continued from page 1) have a fast relay team in practice and the other classes feel that their chances for points lie in other directions.

A horseback riding exhibition will take place during the day and the riders will post about the campus earlier in the afternoon as a rouser. Among the riders will be Mary Anderson, Elizabeth Bovey, Dorothy Mamm, Mildred Freng, and Dorothy Hunter.

Class booths, with pop, lemonade, and circus refreshments will be conducted by Pinafore, Bib and Tucker, and Tam O' Shanter. The program of events scheduled reads:
