Bulldogs Victors Over Bemidji Cagers

Final Game Held by Close Margin.

The Bulldogs, led by Joe Emanuel, made a one-point victory in a double over-time game against the Bemidji Beavers last Friday night. The score was 46-45.

Bemidji found the hoop early in the game and took a 10 to 6 lead in the first quarter and increased it 18 to 14 at the half. The third quarter found Duluth at its best for they had a 27 to 25 lead going into the final quarter. The final quarter was a see-saw affair with the final score 39-39.

During the first overtime period, both teams played conservatively, taking their time and making use of every break offered. Bush of Bemidji counted with a long shot and Carlson sank a gift shot to put the Beavers in the lead by 3 points. Emanuel was fouled and made good the free throw; this was followed by a push shot by Hollingsworth that tied the score 42-42 as the gun sounded.

In the second overtime period Bemidji scored 3 points on a field goal by Johnson and a gift shot by Young. Duluth's chances looked slim, but good shots by Tickets can be obtained from Mr. Ehlert. Reservations will be made any time according to the preference of the ticket holder.

Spring Quarter To Open With Junior Class Masquerade

Patriotic Interpretation Wins Loving Cup for Rural Life Club at Annual Event

The Rural Life Club with its unique idea of "Modern Aladdin" won the loving cup Stunt Night. "Hollywood Comes to the Harem," the theme carried out in picturesque Arabian Night fashion by the members of the Philokalia Club won second place. The theme of the Discussion Club stunt which won third place was a sequel to "Ali Baba and the Forty Thieves," and was called "Only Three Thieves Left."

The winning stunt of modern Aladdin was planned and developed by Harold Manley, vice-president of the club. The members of the cast included Louis Leipold, Alvin Salmela, Casimir Hero, Harold Manley, Anne Lamprecht, Mable Johnsrud, Verna Salmela, Florence Lundblade, Mae Matalamaki, Lorraine Dahl, Vivian Carlson, Susanna Eid, Ann Butler, Marion Harper, Helen Dahlen, Rose Horvath, Tootie Matteson, Helen Blake, Josephine Bronczyk, Florence Wickstrom, and Ellen Minkinen. The musical effects were possible through the splendid services of Ruth Buckley, who played the cornet, and Edward Stauber, who played the drum.

The Philokalia stunt was introduced by Lois Long, the charming interlocutor. Hilmar Hanson, as the artist, sketched various Hollywood notables such as

Men's Club?

What has happened to the Men's Club? From a position of fairly large functional importance on our campus, it has become as defunct as the dodo.

If the men in the college would, or could, summon enough life to their study-fogged minds they might realize the value of a men's club to the college and to themselves.

A few active members of the student body should get their heads together to revive the club. After planning, they should confer with the Dean of Men. He will certainly offer no objections. (And, fellers, he's dying to have you make the move!) But one can see with half an eye that the Men's Club should not be revived if the impetus must come from the faculty.

The Club might do as follows:

1. Form a new group of officers, or revive the old group.
2. Re-organize in a meeting to be called at the initiative of the first group.
3. Resume business under a new system, having (a) a regular meeting, and (b) a program of group activity suitable to the group.

The Men's Club would 1. assist in running the campus activities.

2. Foster an attempt to clean up the smoking room and keep it that way.

3. Help agitate for the extension of the college, especially in connection with the gymnasium facilities.

There are many other things which a group of organized fellows could do to end the monotony of those front-steps "Guff Sessions."

What Could We Do Without?

Gene Kohners' red socks?
Doris Myrswold's giggle?
Carm Gollinger's "red" hair?
Dot Peterson's technique?
Jean Messner's rolled stockings?
Joe and "Punky"?
Ronald Lemire's questions?

What We Could Do With:

"Balcony Bouncers?"
Hear the assembly program.
Less supervision in the library?
Study in peace.
A women's club room?
Have some privacy.
More time between classes?
Eat that last sandwich.

A THOUGHT

Of each fleeting hour
I ask no greater privilege than
To stop one heart from breaking,
To ease one life from aching;
Then—the day is not in vain.
—M. M.

Letter to the Editor

Why must the students of this institution confine themselves to a period of after class hours in Washburn? Surely our faculty doesn't think that by such artificial restrictions they can reduce the amount of "cuts" taken. We are given a social hall for use, not to make an impression on our visitors. Then that matter of the main hall in the east part of the first floor. We poor miserable sinners are not allowed to go in there; that is reserved for state occasions only. There is a piano there from which it is possible some of the pupils could derive enjoyment, but we aren't allowed to taint the carpets with our shoes. Of course, it's all right to sit primly in the hall at the proper times and in the proper rooms. Is this school being run for the benefit of outsiders or for the students?

While we are in the business let us have some clarification of the rules concerning cuts. Just what are they? After all if we have an unlimited number we should be cognizant of the fact. Otherwise what's the use of cutting?

Why don't the men of the institution get up on their respective ears and demand that the exclusive control of our gymnasium be not vested in the hands of the Women's Phys. Ed. classes? The sissies. Must be afraid to open their mouths.

College Health Department Program Presented Here

Dr. F. Hirschboeck

Dr. F. Hirschboeck, a Duluth physician, spoke in assembly Monday, February 27. "Burning the Candle at Both Ends" was the topic for his talk, in which he stressed the physical effects of tobacco, alcohol, and marihuana.

Miss A. Arnstein

Miss A. Arnstein, health director at the University of Minnesota, visited the Duluth State Teachers College last Friday. Each year a visit is made from the university to see what we are doing in health work here.

Susie Loses Sleep Worrying Over Exams

Gussie dear,

The midnight oil burned last night. Nothing makes a girl look more haggard than last minute cramming for exams.

Speaking of examinations, Gwen takes such an interest in Dr. Peiper that she can tell you two days in advance the color of his tie and shirt.

Earling Olson is very willing to sponsor a drive for "later bus service." He is still recovering from the effects of a walk home from 57th Avenue East. It seems he missed the last bus. "Scotty" McClennan ought to move into town.

Gussie, I overheard one of the Juniors describe the costume she is planning to wear at the comic masquerade party. She will appear as a surrealist's conception of a newspaper reporter's nightmare! Don't some people have peculiar imaginations?

A token, three cents, and slug comprise the reward offered by Ann Butler to the person who finds her valuable notebook. She can't do without those special jokes, recipes, addresses, and doodlings.

Dr. Sandin has a genius in his American Literature class. In a recent test, he asked the students to define "beauty." One student concluded profoundly: "Beauty, as Emerson defines it, is beauty." Maybe she expected a good grade on her punctuation.

The library circulation was greater this week than ever before, so I'm not the only one who had to finish outside reading and term papers in a hurry.

I have to pass two exams tomorrow, Gussie, so I'll write more later.

Miserably yours,

Susie

RURAL LIFE CLUB

The semi-monthly meeting of the Rural Life Club was held Thursday, February 9, in Room 315. Mr. Harold Stenbock presented a very interesting talk on astronomy. Mr. Stenbock described the solar planet system, the galaxy of stars, the various planets, and their general characteristics. He also told of his astronomy classes at Payne, Minnesota, and described the telescope that is being built there. At the close of the meeting Mr. Stenbock answered questions asked by the club members.

L. S. A.

At the last meeting of the L. S. A. held Thursday, February 23, Harley Bloom sang several selections, accompanied at the piano by Dorothy Erickson. Rev. Reuben H. Ford of the Elim Lutheran church spoke on "What is power?"

The next meeting of this organization will take the form of a skating party. Supper will be served and a devotional period held at the Gloria Dei church from where the group will go to Harrison rink. Later in the evening lunch will be served at the Bethany Lutheran church. All Lutheran students are welcome.

ENGLISH CLUB

Manuscripts submitted by Elma Lauri and Geneva Maddy were read and discussed at a recent English club meeting.

Elna Joki was selected to head the program committee for the spring quarter. Assisting her will be Myrtle Mattson, Janet Almer, Geneva Maddy, and Mae Matalamaki.

A formal tea is planned for one meeting. Others include a horseback-riding party, and discussion of original essays, poetry, plays, stories, and letters written by members.

Guess the Instructor

Say the fresh young lads and the fresh young lasses,
 "That's what I've heard, I'll not sign for his classes.
 They say he fails you without a quiver,
 Makes you feel as small as a sliver,
 Wears a smile that is hard to take
 For joy or woe or for pity's sake—
 What! is this subject a required one?
 Woe is me! Goodbye college fun!"

Say the initiated lads and the initiated lasses
 (Somewhat tutored up from the masses),
 "He's a great professor, We've all found out,
 He tells us how much we don't know about.
 At least we know just where we stand;
 Someday we might have it all in hand—
 But take it from us, what you hear as a rumor
 Is nothing at all, but his sense of humor!"

NORTHERN COLLEGE NEWS

An article entitled "Plants New to Minnesota," by Dr. Lakela, appeared in the February issue of the Rhodora, a journal of the New England Botanical Club.

The Candlelight Singers gave a program at the Bloomfield associated school commemorating P.T.A. Founder's Day there.

Insist on yourself; never imitate. Your own gift you can present every moment with the cumulative force of a whole life's cultivation; but of the adopted talent of another you have only an extemporaneous half possession.

Miss Fox Wins Prize For Most Original.

After successful performances at the college auditorium and at the Central, Denfeld, and Proctor high schools, the cast and crew of Twelfth Night wound up their activities with a masquerade party at the school gymnasium on Wednesday evening, February 22.

The atmosphere of the party was that of Twelfth Night—carefree hilarity and relaxation, with abundant food. The gym was decorated with balloons. A sign, bearing the inscription "To the Elephant," was at the top of the stairs leading to the gym.

The refreshments were suitable to the occasion, for big loaves of bread, and meats, root beer and bricks of ice cream were placed on a large table, from which each could help himself.

Entertainment was furnished by a quartet composed of Ed Anderson, Dick Niemi, Jim Matteson, and Cecil Anderholm who added to the merriment of the occasion with songs in their native tongues: Swedish, Finnish, Irish, and German.

Because the affair was a costume party, the suspense in wondering "who was who" added greatly to the fun. Prizes were awarded to Miss Fox for the most original costume, the Saturday Evening Post; Rose and Ross McCollor impersonated the twins, Sebastian and Viola; while Jim Matteson had the most comical costume. Other clever costumes were worn by Miss Stahl, as Donald Duck; Jack Chrispen and Dick Niemi, as the Black Legion Twins, and Dick Greeney, as Oswald the Rabbit.

Dancing concluded the evening's activities. General arrangements were in charge of Grace O'Rourke and John Kershaw.

Miss Bowen, Miss Smith, and Mrs. Reese attended the state meeting of county superintendents held in St. Paul during the past week. This meeting was attended by county superintendents and members of the State Department of Education and representatives of each teacher's college.

"Jewels of the Sea," a motion picture film, was shown to the students of biology on February 20 through the courtesy of Dr. Lakela. The picture depicts the life activities of plant-like marine animals.

DSTC Players Win One of Two Games Last Week Bulldogs Hold Fifth Place In Conference.

The Bulldogs last week were very inconsistent; one night they beat Moorhead, 49 to 28, and the night following they lost to Superior.

In the Moorhead game the Bulldogs sifted in and out of the Moorhead defense to register the 49 to 28 victory which put them in fifth place in the Conference with two wins against five losses. Keto and Stallings led the Green and Gold with nine points apiece. Stupca got seven and Hollingsworth six points. Preston, the Moorhead center, who got eighteen points against Duluth in their first meeting, was held to eight points. Incidentally, both of our conference wins this year have been at the expense of Moorhead.

In the Superior game the score midway in the second quarter was 16-12, in favor of the Yellowjackets, and the score may have been closer had the Bulldogs checked the rally which gave the Jackets such confidence that led them to soar to great heights in basketball accuracy.

Due credit must be given to the Superior club for that victory, for they presented both an offense and a defense that marked a complete reversal of form as compared to their earlier game vs the Bulldogs.

Joan Crawford, Greta Garbo, Laurel and Hardy, and Dopey.

The Sultan, Ivy Syverston, was extremely pleased with the artist's conception of Dopey, but demanded the artist's head in recompense for the unflattering portrayal of the Sultan. A touch of color was added to the scene by baskets of fruit carried by the charmingly arrayed maidens of the harem. Persons taking part in the skit were Elaine Fairchild, Lois Long, Ruth Bard, Alice Johnson, Mary Adamski, Grace Banta, Marion Addison, Esther Peterson, Dorothy Belling, Betty Brusig, Margaret Torgerson, and Lila Abear.

At the bazaar of nations in the Discussion Club skit, Father Time (Bob Stephenson) was the vendor, the countries Germany (Casimir Hero), Italy (Tom Pulford), Japan (Reginald Mead), France (Sid Sicotte), and Great Britain (Bob Scobie) bought and stole various possessions. Finally, Father Time stopped further negotiations.

WAA Sponsored College Play Day World's Fair Theme Used; Many Students Participated.

The Women's Athletic association of the Duluth State Teachers college sponsored a college Play Day on Saturday, February 25. The colleges which were invited to participate in the event included the Hibbing Junior college, Duluth Junior college, College of St. Scholastica, and the Superior State Teachers college.

Evelyn Backlund was general chairman of the Play Day, and the committee chairmen assisting her included Eleanora Carlson, decorations; Fae Claussen, reception, Charlotte Kelly, games; Doris Gooder, refreshments; and Helen Olsen, clean-up.

Other plans included a reception, luncheon, basketball tournament, period of recreational games, and a tea to entertain the guests.

Emanuel and Cerkvenik End Basketball Careers With Fine Record at TC

Two excellent athletes of DSTC have gone down in college history, Joe Emanuel and Frank Cerkvenik, who have played their last game under green and gold banners.

Joe, who hails from Keewatin, has been interested chiefly in the art of basketball. He starred in teams at Keewatin High School, with the Hibbing Cardinals, and, of course, at DSTC. Joe has been rather hampered in playing because of an injured wrist since the Mankato game. He usually plays guard and makes up for his size by being quick and accurate.

Frank is from Mountain Iron; he came to DSTC in 1935 where he has played both football and basketball. In football he won four letters, and played as center, end, and halfback. "Cerk," as he is known by friends, was captain of this year's basketball team, and incidentally, he has at one time or other played all three positions in that sport.

College "B" Team Shows Good Material for Next Year; Victors Many Times

Somehow or other the fact was revealed that our Ped "B" squad has not lost any of the preliminary games this year. This information, of course, comes prior to their engagement with the Royal Blues, an independent team of the city.

Headed by such stars as Leroy Peterson, Howard Lindberg, and Eddie Maher, the boys have rolled up amazing victories over such teams as the Two Harbor's Merchants, The West Duluth Merchants, and Morgan Park High School.

We sincerely urge these fellows to return to school next year in order that we may have another undefeated "A" team.
