T. C. Holds Annual Homecoming

Discussion Club Gets Invitation

"League of Nations" Meet To Be Held at Winona
Nov. 15-16

The Discussion club has received an invitation to attend a model League of Nations meeting to be held at Winona, Minn. Nov. 15 and 16, under the auspices of the International Relations club. Winona State Teachers college, St. Teresa's and St. Mary's colleges will be hosts to the convention.

Representatives from various colleges in the north central states have been asked to attend. Each college will take the role of some country in the League of Nations, and its delegates will be prepared to speak as though in an actual League meeting. Whether or not Duluth will send delegates is at present undecided.

"Ethiopian Affairs" and "Probable Candidates for the Next Presidential Election" were the topics presented by David Mehling and Robert Mead respectively at the Discussion club meeting Oct. 17.

Freshman Swing-out Date Not Set; Officers Named

The date for the Freshman Swing-out has not been officially set, according to Walter Wiski, newly elected president of that organization. Other officers include Miss Constance Reitan, vice-president, and John Kershaw, member-at-large. Miss Harriet Harrison, dean of women, and George Corfield, dean of men, were chosen class advisers.

Seniors Slate Coed Tea, Stag Dinner on Fall Social Calendar

A tea for the senior women and a stag dinner for the men are on the fall calendar of events for the senior class, as decided at the class meeting Oct. 10. The picnic previously planned has been cancelled, because of the bad weather.

"Holiday" Rehearsals Are Held; Miss Stahl Names Tentative Cast

Rehearsals of "Holiday," satirical comedy to be given by Play Production Nov. 15, are being held regularly under the direction of Miss Hilda Rose Stahl, dramatic coach.

The tentative cast includes Miss Mary Murphy in the role of Linda Seton; John Grivich as Johnny Case; Miss Mary Agnes Fitzgerald, Julia Seton; John Tyllia, Ned Seton; Miss Irma Jacobs, Susan Potter;

Orville Mercier, Nick Potter; Casey McDonald, Edward Seton; Miss Elizabeth Shapiro, Laura Cram; Ross McCollor, Seton Cram; Leonard Anderson, Henry; Art Canary, Charles; and Miss Helen Zocher, Delia.

Members of the production staff are being chosen now.

Teachers College Women Present Skit at Play Day

The annual W.A.A. play day was held last Saturday at the Villa St. Scholastica at which time games were played and supper was served. Women from this college presented a tragedy in one act entitled "The Lighthouse Keeper."

Orchesis to Hold Tryouts for New Members Later in Year

Women who wish to become members of Orchesis will be given an entrance exam later in the year, according to Miss Catherine Cox, president. The club is studying interpretation of music, free dancing, drill, and practice in fundamentals.

College Stages Three-Day Fete

Bemidji-Duluth Grid Game To Climax Celebration
Saturday Night

D.S.T.C. Bulldogs will meet the Bemidji Beavers at 7:30 o'clock Saturday night in the Public Schools stadium to climax the three-day annual Homecoming celebration. Other events scheduled include a radio broadcast, a pep chapel, a bonfire, celebration of the annual Green and Gold Day, and a dance after the game.

Radio Broadcast Today

At 6:00 p. m. today, the college will broadcast over radio station WEBC.

The Barkers, pep organization, will have charge of tomorrow morning's Homecoming chapel. The program will include selections by the band, yells led by Miss Janet Falconer and Robert Thompson, short talks by representatives of the faculty, the football team, the student body, and the alumni, and a skit presenting the Misses Margaret Anderson, Janet Falconer, Maxine Gilberg, Charlotte Kelly, Margaret Miller, Dorothy Mudge, Cleo Neipp, Dorothy Scarlett, Marion Schwartz, Mary Scott, Enid Strom, and Lucille Sauer.

Bonfire Friday Evening

The junior class is in charge of the bonfire at Chester Bowl Friday evening at 8 o'clock. The Men's club will procure the wood for the fire, while the Discussion club, Orchesis, and the a cappella choir will each provide a stunt for entertainment during the bonfire.

Green and Gold Day will be celebrated Friday under the leadership of the Library club, at which time all students are urged to wear the college colors in some form.

Parade Scheduled

A parade Saturday at 6:30 p. m., from Twenty-third avenue east and Superior street to the stadium, will be arranged by the sophomore class. The Rangers have arranged entertainment for between the halves of the game.

HOMECOMING AND YOU

Homecoming is one activity of the College which includes every student in the College in its celebration. Each organization in the College has been given some definite part of the three-day Homecoming celebration for which it is solely responsible. This distribution of responsibility covers every student, for everyone belongs to some organization, even if his only connection is his class organization. In other words, each student should be ESPECIALLY interested in some one phase of Homecoming, as well as having an interest in the celebration as a whole.

But every member of each group may not be given any definite task in preparation. However, there are things to be done which are the privilege of everyone to make Homecoming a success. Attendance at the bonfire, the dance, the parade, and especially the game, boosting the celebration among his friends, doing his part to get alumni to return for the affair — these are the contributions which each of you can make at this gala time.

YOU are definitely a part of D.S.T.C. YOU are responsible for the success of Homecoming. Ponder this thought and act accordingly: "IF EVERY STUDENT IN COLLEGE DID EXACTLY AS MUCH AS I AM DOING TOWARD MAKING HOMECOMING A SUCCESS, HOW SUCCESSFUL WOULD IT BE?"

"THE DEAR DEPARTED" A Review

"The Dear Departed," a one-act play by the English playwright Stanley Houghton, was presented in the college chapel, Monday Oct. 7. The play, based on a story by Guy de Maupassant, brings to the surface some of the meaner traits of human nature. Avarice and deceit are not usually pleasant qualities to contemplate, but as presented in "The Dear Departed" they are more amusing than odious.

The death of a relative leaving property to be divided among a number of relatives, especially where there is no will, is a common cause for dissension. This is the central situation here, but the attempted fraud is made ridiculous when the dead man comes to life.

The players were Kathleen Carney, Flora Mae Chipman, Margaret Brown, William Ryan, John Grivich, and Kenneth Bartlett. Under the general direction of Miss Stahl, Miss Dorothy Mudge did a competent piece of coaching and directing. The players, in the main, acted their parts well; the make-up was excellent; the staging satisfactory. In a few places the articulation was a little faulty. One or two important phrases of repartee were unintelligible, though, of course, the writer's hearing may have been at fault.

Last year Clarence Nesgoda presented "The Boor" at chapel in a similar manner. The usefulness of this sort of apprentice work in dramatics for students planning to teach in the smaller towns is unquestionable, besides which these student efforts give to the college as a whole pleasant entertainment.

SOCIALITES

The Misses Irmelda and Loretta Tyman, and Eva Lehto spent the week-end at their homes in Cloquet.

Miss Berleida Christopher visited at her home in Pine City recently.

Miss Elna Abrahamson, a former student, will be married to Albert J. Brown, Oct. 24.

Carl W. Carlson, who is now enrolled at Superior State Teachers college, and Harold Jorgenson '35 visited the college Oct. 15.

Mr. and Mrs. Elton Waterhouse spent last week-end visiting in Minneapolis.

The Misses Elinor Riley, Jessy Taylor, and Marion Schwartz attended the Moorhead game Oct. 12.

Miss Ruth Thorsen entertained a group of students at luncheon recently.

Miss Charlotte Hicken, who attended D.S.T.C. last year, is now enrolled at the College of St. Scholastica.

Miss Janet Hanson '33 has registered for her senior year at the University of Minnesota.

Snatched Along Teachers' Row

BY SNITCH AND SNATCH

One of our seniors recently terminated a whispering campaign which had lasted four days — she regained her voice. . . Some of our more dignified sophomore class officers have taken up the habit of sinking ships on the front steps: it's the cutest little game. . . An absence of feminine pupils might be laid to the mice who have moved in on us; if this keeps up we'll have to delegate a "pied piper" . . . Several range students have taken an ardent dislike to concerts. It seems it is compulsory for them to attend one taking place this Friday, and any ideas they entertained about going home are shattered — they anticipate "sour notes."

Knotty Advice

Here is some advice to the femmes: keep more than one boy friend on the string if you want to get it knotted — but also remember — mean knots particularly — make fingers and hearts sore trying to undo them. . . Males: Never try to understand a woman; you'll only end up by being mis-understood. . . Since watching "Prof" Larson in choir, I've had the biggest yen to see him in a hog-calling contest — he certainly puts the rest of us to shame. . . Ever realize what a sense of rhythm John Tyllia had — watch his jaw movement — such perfection could only come from long practice.

Facs by My Profs

Mr. Gross: Boys suits get shorter as they get taller in their adolescent period. Science is certainly wonderful — if it can put flexible material like that on the market.

Mr. Pieper: In case of fire — don't run; and keep cool. . . Maybe all fires aren't hot, but is that possible?

Mr. Auchampaugh: Our present system got indigestion from being doctored too much — (govt. system) — maybe a "Tum" would help?

Poem to choir jitters:

Our mouths are open
 Eyes straight ahead;
 Standing on our feet
 Feeling half dead.
 Soft palates start swinging
 In the noon-day breeze;
 We're singing in the choir of
 D.S.T.C.

More Theme Songs

"Chasing Shadows"—Play production class — with lighting effects.

"Double Trouble"—History and Economics — but we'll learn.

"Hold Your Man"—Ye football tacklers.

"Temptation" — To give up trying to get an education.

"Cheek to Cheek"—Sardines in a can.

Pat Deplores Sue's Absence from College Homecoming Events

Sue dear,

Happy Homecoming! I know this event isn't celebrated the same date in every college campus, but since we are in the midst of ours, I thought I'd just extend the season's greetings.

New Students Active

The old grads coming back will see many new faces among the underclassmen. I can't tell you so much about the fellows, but I have noticed several promising freshman girls and a few transfers from other colleges, who seem to be joining right in with the school activities.

Really, Sue, there is the best looking freshman walking around these halls. Many of the old grads from State (the feminine ones I mean) will wish they were back. The answer to any maiden's prayer is the young man who last year was elected best-looking boy at Duluth Central, and who is vocalist with Bill Good's orchestra. Which reminds me, do you remember Floyd Holm, who was also best looking boy at Central his year, and then later matriculated (look it up if you don't know what it means) here at State Teachers? That handsome troubador is now singing with the "Men of Note" over the Columbia network.

Difficulty With Tackle

Coach Peterson is having difficulty with a certain player on our team and unless things are cleared up, I'm afraid it may become serious. It seems that Irvin Apmann wants to give up his position at tackle because his girls friend told him she would be true to the end. We are playing Bemidji you know for our Homecoming game, and from what I hear one of their guards is training to be a barber when he graduates. At any rate, he is a good clipper right now.

Again, Happy Homecoming,
PAT

T. C. Homecoming Celebration

The Homecoming party will begin at 10 o'clock in the college gymnasium with Walt Evans' band playing for dancing. The senior class will receive the alumni and other guests of the college at this time. Decoration of the gym is in charge of Philokalia. Who have planned a grand march, games for those who do not dance, and a program planned by the W.A.A. will be features of the evening. The Kindergarten-Primary club will serve punch. The freshman class will clean up after the festivities.

Campus display, a new feature of this year's homecoming, will be prepared by the Rural Life club. Other publicity has been in charge of the "D" club, who have arranged downtown window displays.

PRIVATE LIVES

Name: Gabriel Venticinque.

Age: 21.

Birthday: December 23.

Home Town: Detroit, Michigan.

Status: President of the Men's Club, plays quarterback on the football team, sings second bass on the front steps quartet. Member-at-large of senior class.

Characteristics: Short, dark and handsome; swell kid.

Preferences: Blonds, naturally. Meat and spaghetti.

Remarks: "Darn women."

Answers to: "Gabe."

Favorite song: "That's What You Think."

The only difference between a life belt and a co-ed is that the life-belt buoys the neck.—Manitou Messenger, St. Olaf college, Northfield, Minn.

The influence of "Popeye," the comic strip character, is being felt by the school cafeteria at North Carolina State college where spinach disappears more rapidly from the steam table than any other vegetable.—State College Aztec.

Only one male appeared in a music appreciation class at Bemidji State Teachers college. The teacher became alarmed and ordered each woman to bring a man to class the next day.

Soph Women Go After Soccer Championship By Registering Kicks

The sophomore soccer team beat the freshmen by two field kicks. Rumor (and the sophomores) has it that the sophomores are the champs. They beat the junior-senior team, too.

Also we hear the junior-senior team beat the freshman team 0-0. Presumably the fact used to draw the conclusion is that a number of the upper classmen forgot there was a game, and therefore they had fewer players.

But that isn't saying the freshman team is without its highlights. "Maxie" Gilberg, playing fullback, put in a kick across the field nearly (but not quite) into the goal. Being so unexpected, the kick wasn't placed. Next time, vows Maxie, she'll look for the goal first.

Catherine Carsten's headwork deserves a mention. Not many girls know so exactly what they're putting their heads into.

Captains of the teams were: Charlotte Kelly, freshmen; Genevieve Johnson, sophomore; and June Wendtland, junior-senior.

According to an investigation at the University of Iowa, only one out of eleven college engagements result in marriage.

The Bulldog

HEARUM
STRETCHUM
by... TELLUM

Homecoming is near at hand, and the Bulldog extends hearty greetings to all returning alumni.
* * *

Bud Hannigan showed his fistic ability of yester years in the Moorhead game. It seems that Hannigan's ire was aroused by the illegal tactics of his opponent whereupon Bud put over a left, then a right, and then the referee called them both out — of the game.
* * *

The day of the St. Cloud game will long be remembered by Norm Johnson—he played his first game at end and scored the first touchdown of his football career. It was also his birthday, so his teammates presented him with a lovely (and useful) gift after the game. Ask Norm about it.
* * *

"Pat", in her letter, mentioned the name of Joe "Alabam" Herring in the last issue. We wish to inform one and all that "Alabam" was the originator of the Bulldog column and we mention his name in praise and respect only. So you get the trophy, Pat.
* * *

Orville Mercier has a very fine way of getting "dates" with coeds. He had two tickets for the Firemen's ball, but no one to accompany him, so he posted a notice on the bulletin board. It seems the results were very satisfactory — which gives us an idea!

* * *

After counting all the letters "Fats" Barle wrote from St. Cloud, and after counting up all of his relatives and boy-friends, we found that there was one extra letter. We wonder—
* * *

The team was given "the air" in Moorhead. The local radio station gave them a quarter hour's broadcast, during which time the boys sang, yelled, and made contributions according to their respective talents. The broadcast was heard by Frank Fedo, Fred Lofstedt, and Neil Scott, who were traveling some distance from Duluth.
* * *

The day of the Moorhead game was Columbus Day — and did Signorelli go to town! Incidentally, Sig, Tramontin, Enrico, Fedo, and "Gabe" are all willing to concede that Lief Ericson MUST have discovered America. Columbus would certainly have had more sense than to tell the Scandinavians about it.

Bulldogs Battle Bemidji Beavers In Final 1935 Conference Game

Powerful Invaders to Meet Duluthians Saturday Under Lights

The Bulldogs will play their fourth game of the current Northern State Teachers college football season Saturday evening at 7:30 at the Public Schools stadium when they engage the Bemidji ped aggregation. Last year the Bulldogs vanquished the Beavers, 26-6.

The line-up has been and will be very uncertain because of the many injuries received by players in the last three encounters. The Beaver team is said to be a powerful one, which statement leaves us in anticipation of a hard-fought battle beneath the lights.

FROTHY FACTS

By Morgan Sweeney

A famous grid coach recently remarked that Frenchmen make poor football players because of their tendency to gesticulate while talking. . . Despite the rule against pointing most Frenchmen give the play away the moment it is called. . . As Red Dawson says in his book entitled "Quarterback Strategy," "There is only one rule to which there is no exceptions, which is, when in doubt punt."

Offensive Apt to Err

The odds of committing an error are always against the offensive team. They may fumble, be penalized or may lose the ball on an intercepted pass. In fact it is often easier for the defense to gain ground after kicking than for the same team to gain ground by retaining the ball.

All records of football prove that the kicking game is the winning game and therefore it is not in order to feel that a team is going on the defensive because it may kick. In many instances it may be the easiest method of scoring.

Kickers Write Often

After losing a game Howard Jones, of Southern California, gets an average of eighty letters from irate fans. . . But

Juniors Plan Fire; Dock Heads Stunt Committee

Clifton Dock was named chairman of the stunt committee for the Homecoming bonfire, which is in charge of the junior class. Assisting him are Robert Mead, John Grivich, and Miss Ruth Lasch. Miss Marion Schwartz is in charge of the program with Miss Charlotte Mason and Mrs. Albright serving on her committee.

when he wins one the total congratulations number about forty. . . Jones also does not allow his players to swear. . . He realizes that talking football is far different from playing it. . . The Big Ten has a conference ruling which has stirred a great deal of fuss, although it may be abolished. . . Graduates who play professional football cannot accept coaching positions.

Duluthians Tally One Victory, Two Losses In Conference Tilts

Frequent Injuries Mark Opening Conflicts With Moorhead, St. Cloud, Mankato

One victory and two defeats are chalked up on the Bulldog 1935 conference record, the victory being over St. Cloud, while Moorhead and Mankato both defeated Duluth.

Bulldogs Beat St. Cloud

The Duluth Bulldogs opened their conference schedule Oct. 5 with a brilliant 13-0 victory over the St. Cloud Peds at St. Cloud. With a heady, well-polished backfield running behind a powerful line, the Duluthians far outclassed their opponents. Norm Johnson, Penny Peterson, A. Tramontin and E. Toivonen were the Bulldog mainstays.

The victory, however, proved a costly one, for Toivonen, end, and M. Gorham, triple-threat halfback, were both seriously injured. The consistently brilliant work of M. Gorham was especially missed in the Moorhead game the following week at the Dragon field.

Dragons Down Duluth

Faced by a big, fast team composed entirely of veterans, the Bulldog machine failed to click in the manner of which it is capable. As a result the Dragons emerged with a 32-0 win over the Duluth school. This game will go down in conference history as probably the roughest, toughest game the ped loop has ever witnessed. Starting at a fast clip, the game became rougher as it progressed, with a continuous stream of cripples leaving the field. Although the score would indicate otherwise, the game was a hard fought, evenly contested affair, the Dragons making their scores on long runs and passes. Outstanding for Duluth were Nagolski, Johnson, Apmann, Signorelli, and Maurine.

Mankato Game Close

Badly crippled, minus the services of Maurice Gorham, Toivonen, Tramontin, Johnson and Maurine, the Bulldogs encountered a snag in Mankato in their first home appearance. After taking a 6-0 lead in the first quarter, the Bulldogs became the victims of several tough breaks. Two bad punts against the wind resulted in as many touchdowns for the visiting team in the third session. Both conversions for point after touchdown were successful, which proved to be the margin of victory, for the Bulldogs counted again in the final period, only to lose out by a 14-12 count. Outstanding for Duluth were Peterson, Studley, Barle, and Nagolski. It would seem that Nagolski is headed for an all-conference berth at fullback.
