Duluth--- The newly completed $100,000 UMD Campus Club will be dedicated and officially opened to faculty and staff use at a dinner at 7:00 p.m. Tuesday (Oct. 20).

Dr. William A. Rosenthal, chairman of the UMD Faculty Council, will preside and will cut the ribbon opening the new facility.

UMD Provost Raymond W. Darland and former Regent Richard L. Griggs, Duluth, will participate in the program.

A. R. Melander, representing Melander-Fugelso and Associates, club architects, will present Provost Darland with a gold key to the clubrooms.

The UMD Campus Club includes a main dining room which will seat more than 100 persons, a lounge-conference room, and two smaller conference-dining rooms. The club will have its own cafeteria-style serving facility with meals prepared in the main Kirby Student Center kitchen.

The primary function of the club will be to provide a quiet, informal dining atmosphere for faculty and staff members and their guests. Social functions and other uses for the facility will be planned and directed by the officers and directors of the club. Participation in the UMD Campus Club will be on a membership basis.
