FAMOUS ARTIST TO GIVE LECTURE THIS AFTERNOON

Joseph Pennell, America's Leading Etcher, to Talk On "Wonder of Work."

HE GAVE FLOUR MILLS REAL PLACE IN ART

Has Done Much to Draw Attention to Beauties of Industrial Plants.

Joseph Pennell will lecture at 4 o'clock this afternoon in the Auditorium of the Main Engineering building. His subject will be "The Wonder of Work."

Mr. Pennell is perhaps the most distinguished of living lithographers and the greatest of American etchers. For many years he was America's leading illustrator. Lately he has been devoting himself to the discovery of beauty in those things which many artists have passed by. His series of etchings of the Panama canal have obtained a world-wide fame. They show the remarkable pictorial qualities in that great engineering feat; the splendid masses of light and shade, the grace and power inherent in strength of building. In his fine series of etchings on London, Philadelphia, or the Minneapolis milling district, he has done much to give prominence to his appreciation of the picturesque. His etchings of the New York skyscrapers proved how much poetry and splendor may be found in the towering edifices of the great city.

Mr. Pennell was a great friend of Whittier, Stevenson, Aubrey Beardsley, Charles Whibley, and others of that brilliant group. He and his wife, Elizabeth Robins Pennell, wrote the best life of Whittier.

All engineering students will be interested in this lecture. Those who have heard the lecture say that it is a lecture to open the eyes of engineers to the more imaginative and wonderful sides of their work for modern industrialism.

INTERESTING LECTURES ARE OFFERED STUDENTS

One of the most interesting courses of lecture to be offered to the young people of Minneapolis and especially those of the University is to be given by Professor Hardin Craig of the Rhetoric department, at the Plymouth Congregational church. The talks which are to be of an informal nature are to be given to the young people's class every Sunday, immediately after the morning service which ends at 12 o'clock.

Professor Craig intends to deal chiefly with the missionary journeys of St. Paul, and these talks will act as a preliminary group to the talks which will follow upon the Book of the "Acts."

The talks promise to be both interesting and educational and all attending are promised an intellectual treat.

Fair and warmer.

Will Lecture on German "Labs" as Influenced by War

Dr. H. E. Robertson will lecture on "German Laboratories in War Time" at the Auditorium of the Law building at noon today.

Dr. Robertson, who is a member of the medical faculty, was in Germany on leave of absence when the present war broke out. He visited many universities and gathered numerous facts which are especially interesting because of the unusual conditions caused by the war. He returned only in time for the present school session, so that his knowledge of conditions is based upon a thorough and extended study. He undoubtedly can give some surprising information on a phase of German life in war-time of which most Americans are very ignorant.

President Vincent was to have spoken in chapel today, but was prevented by a very severe cold. He expects to be able to deliver his address Thursday.

DAILY GROWS DAILY

Subscriptions for Paper Constantly Growing—Only Twenty Short of 2,000.

After the returns from the recent successful campaign, which Miss Flora Macdonald won with a hundred new subscribers, it was found that the subscription list had been "boosted" to a grand total of 1,980 paid-up subscribers. A little reflection on the following statistics, gathered from the highest authority, the business manager, will bring to light the fact that Minnesota has the most progressive "Daily" it has ever had in many years. The 1,980 subscribers to date make the list only twenty shy of its original aim, 2,000, but with subscriptions coming in every day in fives or sixes, it is only a small matter of time before the longed for goal will be reached. Still more, however, for the business manager has predicted 2,100 by the end of the first semester, which only goes to show how much better the "Daily" is than the editors really thought it was originally. During the second semester of course, the list will rise still higher, as many new students enter then and certainly their first act will be to subscribe for the "Daily." As the list stands at this moment it has 500 more than last year. The proof of the pudding is the eating, but the proof of a daily is the subscription list. Are you convinced?

UNION GOVERNORS PLAN DECORATING

Plans for Men's Union for Ensuing Year Are Discussed at Meeting Last Friday.

Committees on Finance and House Were Appointed and Other Business Transacted.

The Board of Governors of the Men's Union held an important meeting Friday night at which plans for the ensuing year were discussed, and the various committees appointed and duties assigned them. The standing committees are those of Finance and House. The Finance Committee will have the important task of inaugurating the life membership campaign. It will be their function to secure as many freshmen and others to take out a membership for life, which will cost $25. Their duties also are to run the dining room and cafeteria on a sound financial basis, and to let out rooms to parties and organizations desiring them for lectures, entertainments or other meetings. E. B. Pierce is chairman of this committee. The others are Roland G. Keyworth, Donald C. Smith, Joseph D. Sullivan and Addison Douglass.

The House Committee will have charge of the living quarters of the Union. They will formulate plans for the establishing of a trophy room, draft rules for use and care of the bowling alleys and secure new equipment. The decorating of the various rooms will also fall to this committee, composed of the following: Sigard Ueland, chairman; Andreas Carlson, Raymond Horn, Bernard J. Gallagher, William Mitchell.

LIBERAL ASSOCIATION TO HOLD RECEPTION

The Liberal association will hold a reception at Shevlin Hall on Saturday, October 9th, at 8 o'clock. As Ralph Colby has resigned the presidency, Mr. Butler, the newly elected president, will welcome the guests. There will be music, stunts and speeches by prominent people, after which light refreshments will be served.

The Liberal association is open to all those who have liberal religious views. This reception, it is hoped, will give an opportunity for those of a broad and tolerant spirit to meet each other. The invitations are being sent out, but it may be that many who are interested will not receive one. These especially are cordially invited to come.

Thief Robs Alpha Delta Phi House Sunday Morning

A thief entered the Alpha Delta Phi house, 1725 University avenue, Sunday morning, some time between the hours of 2 and 6 and escaped with considerable booty. The robber evidently boldly walked into the house, which is never locked, and mounted the stairs to the sleeping rooms above. Here he went from one room to another, picking up whatever seemed to strike his fancy and then calmly left the house. Discovery of the robbery was made in the morning when the milkman was making his early delivery. An opened strong-box, belonging to the steward was found in the yard, with its contents scattered about on the grass. Seven dollars in cash and about a dollar's worth of stamps were missing. A $2 bill and a watch and chain taken from one of the rooms made up the loss.

No clue has been found concerning the identity of the thief. There were reports of other losses along the avenue the same night, and the supposition is that the same person or persons are responsible. The police are investigating the matter.

LOST AND FOUND DEPT. GIVES HELP

One Thousand Articles Were Turned in Last Year and Many Owners Found.

Commencing on the first day of school the lost and found department has always played a very prominent part in the history of the average student. The lost articles, which run up into the hundreds, must be taken to the postoffice and given to the one in charge who makes a list of them and then keeps them until called for. Articles not called for are given back to the finder at the end of the year. Last year there were one thousand articles turned in and of this number seven hundred and fifty were returned to their rightful owners.

Although school has not been in session long this year a great many articles both valuable and otherwise have been turned in. Among these are about fifty text-books, tennis shoes, umbrellas, purses, note books, gloves, fountain pens, spectacles, three or four Bibles and a pair of blue dancing pumps.

5,000 WITNESS ANNIHILATION OF NORTH DAKOTANS

Football Season Opens With a Boom—Gophers Put On Lively Exhibition.

STRONG INTERFERENCE IS FEATURE OF VARSITY'S PLAY

Forward Pass Given Several Good Trys Should Work Fine With Practice.

The Gophers started the 1915 football season with a rush last Saturday. Exhibiting signs and promises of a future whirlwind attack and stone-wall defense, they casually brushed aside the Flickertails, while the scoreboard man busily changed numbers—6-7-13-14, and so on up to 41. Meanwhile North Dakota showed here and there a flash of form, for they have a good team. But they met with an aggressive and disheartening defense every time a well executed pass or lucky fumble brought them near Minnesota's goal.

North Dakota kicked off to Wyman, who returned the ball to the 35-yard line. Solon, Wyman and Bierman made repeated gains through the line and around the ends. Then a 15-yard penalty for holding stopped Minnesota's progress, and Wyman punted. Helmky fumbled the ball on Dakota's five-yard line and Quist recovered it, going over for the first touchdown. Solon kicked the goal.

North Dakota again kicked off, this time to have it returned 35 yards by Wyman. Bierman tore around right end for 20 yards. Wyman and Solon ripped up the line for a first down, and Bierman carried it over for the second touchdown.

Quist received the next North Dakota kick-off and returned it 15 yards. At this point, the North Dakota line showed a flash of "pep," and Bierman was thrown for a loss. Wyman's attempted forward pass to Solon was incomplete and he punted. The Flickertails returned the punt on the first down, no gain being made by either team on the exchange.

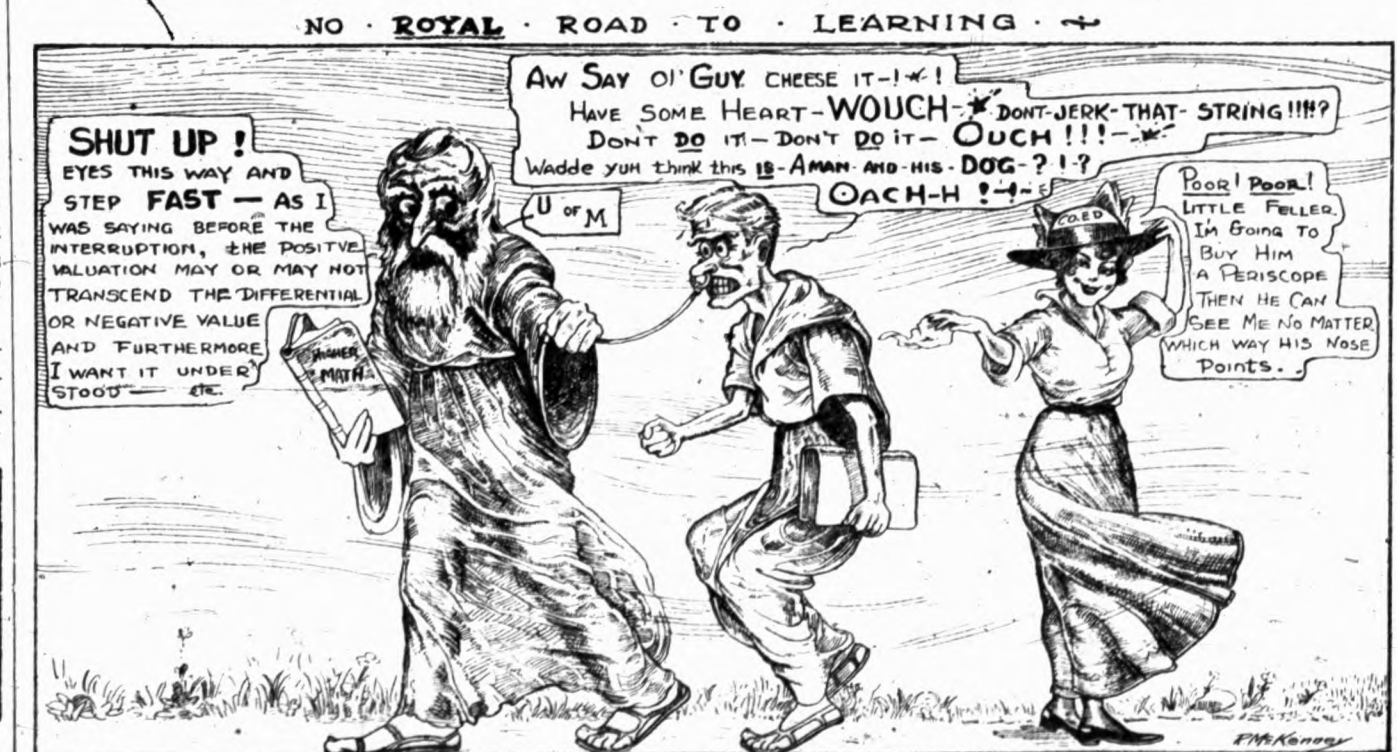

Long and Bierman took the ball to North Dakota's 20-yard line by a series of long snappy runs. Ballentyne went in for Bierman, and the quarter ended with it Minnesota's ball on Dakota's 10-yard line.

Ballentyne started the second quarter with many good gains, and Solon made a touchdown.

Minnesota made the next kick-off. And North Dakota tried three plays and punted. They met with the same result again and Minnesota took up the march toward the goal. A beautifully executed forward pass, Wyman to Quist, brought the fourth touchdown. After Wyman had hurled another pretty pass to Baston, who carried it nearly to the goal line, the half ended with the score 28-0.

In the second half, Kleffman went in for Solon and Johnston for Long. Except for the fact that North Dakota grew desperate in the last quarter and checked the Gophers several times, the second half was a repetition of the first. Kleffman, Wyman and Ballentyne, the first-year backs, showed up especially well.

Work of reconstructing the old heating plant building, which was destroyed by fire last Thursday night, is progressing rapidly. The loss, which amounted to several hundred dollars, was practically covered by insurance.

THE Y. M. C. A.

THE FIRST OF A SERIES OF ARTICLES ON SOCIAL SERVICE

By Bill.

"Aleck Syslimansky, can you read this?"
Aleck reads: "Aye aveck froom sleep."

"No. It is I, not ay, and awake, not aveck. Say awake again."

"Awake."
"Better but not quite right yet. Get the 'w' sound instead of the 'v.' Watch me, put your lips this way and say—'wake.'"

One would hear a conversation like this very frequently if one should visit the classes which college men conducted the past year for teaching foreigners how to speak and read English. These classes have been held once a week in the churches and settlements of the foreign districts of northeast Minneapolis. Many of the immigrants on entering these classes have not been able to speak English at all. But by the use of a chart system, which has been used very successfully throughout the country, the University men have been able to lead these classes without any knowledge of the foreigner's language.

This work has been very valuable not only from the standpoint of both the immigrant and the teacher, but also from that of the whole community. The foreigners coming to the United States tend to segregate in little groups. Ordinarily these groups retain all the foreign characteristics. The foreigners in these groups move about in a little Poland, a little Russia, or a little Italy, which has been transplanted to our own American city. Ignorance of the English language tends to solidify the groups and to prevent the absorption of American ideas and ideals. But as soon as the immigrant learns to speak our language he finds a hundred new channels of information open to him. With new ideas, more American ways of living come. By simply teaching the rudiments of English the men who have been leading these classes have therefore been assisting in a real Americanizing process. And in the more advanced classes the process has been more direct. For the advanced classes the lessons are chapters from American history, stories of great Americans and articles on the meaning of American life. Last year fourteen men had a part in this genuinely patriotic service.

This year a call has come for forty University men to teach these classes. The settlements and institutions in which these classes have gathered are not content to double their number. So strongly was the Americanizing influence of these college men felt that it is planned to have nearly three times as many men in this work for the coming season as engaged in it last year. All who are interested should call at the Y. M. C. A. office between 12:15 and 1:15 any day in the week. There will be someone in the office who took up this work last year and who will give more information on the subject. In tomorrow's Daily there will be a short article dealing with the effects of this work.

TRAILERS' CLUB HAVE HIKE FOR MEMBERS AND VISITORS

Twenty-five girls, including members of the Trailer's club and friends, put on their don't-care-for-wind-and-weather clothes and "hiked" about four miles out to the Agricultural College. They had planned to go further but the muddiness of the roads would not permit. A wiener roast, with all the requisites, was held at the lagoon south of the College.

Next Saturday there will be a ten-mile hike, says the pathfinder. All girls are invited to join.

CHEER LEADER IS SELECTED TODAY

Elections Will Be Held in Men's and Women's and Agricultural Postoffices.

School Spirit Exhibited by Student Body Depends Largely on Cheer-Leader.

Today, between nine and twelve, every student has an opportunity to vote for his choice of rooster king. These elections will be held in the men's and women's postoffice and also in the Aggie postoffice.

Everybody Votes.

The five candidates for this position are:

Harvey MacFarland.
Gregg M. Fullarton.
Keith Kinney.
Everett Dirksen.
Wallace Maher.

They were in action at the game Saturday.

Vote for one today. The one chosen will take Stafford King's place and endeavor to instil "pep" and vigor into the student body, thereby helping to put the ball "across."

As the school spirit exhibited by the student body depends largely upon the cheer-leader it is necessary to consider thoroughly these candidates before casting your vote. Be sure and vote as this is of immediate interest to you.

Decide upon your candidate—go to the poles—vote.

MINNESOTA MAG TO APPEAR ON TIME

"Consider the Movies," by Richard E. Burton Will Feature the First Number.

Reviews of Books Takes Place of the Exchange Department—Color of Cover Changed.

"Consider the Movies," by Dr. Richard E. Burton will be the feature of the first number of the "Mag."

Among other changes and improvements which the Minnesota Magazine has undergone is the noticeable change in color. It is now of a chaste gray and blue hue. The exchange department has been abolished this year and in its stead there is a section devoted to the reviews of books which everyone appreciates.

Everyone is bound to be interested in Dr. Burton's article "Consider the Movies," which will be the feature of the issue. "The Mantle of Judgment," by Aldena Carlson, which won the prize in the short story contest last spring, will surely captivate you. Myron Dresser, with his keen imagination, has brought forth "The Legal Professor Zwing." Callie Merritt has contributed an interesting story entitled "The Three-Footed Panther." Ralph Underwood has written an article on "Peace-at-Any-Price." In addition to these there are four entrancing little poems. "I Honor Thee," by Einar Markhus; "Whither," by Katherine Nelson; "The Irrepressible Subject," by Renee Belle Inglias, and "Golden Windows," by Muriel Fairbanks, should alone sell the issue.

The new department called "Book Reviews" will prove to be an added attraction to the "Mag." In this department will be reviewed Joseph Conrad's "Victory" and "Spoonriver Anthology," by Edgar Lee Master.

When the Minnesota Magazine makes its appearance to the new as well as the old students on Wednesday morning, it is hoped that everyone will realize its importance and buy a copy early.

TALENTED PERSONS WANTED BY GOPHER

A Well Known Artist Here in City Has Been Employed to Supervise Students' Work.

Gopher Staff to Meet Students Who Acquire Talent in Art Thursday Afternoon.

The demand for master and apprentice artists for the 1917 Gopher at present far exceeds the supply, according to Managing Editor Ueland. More artists of all temperaments, degrees of ability, and in all lines of work are needed. The art work in this year's annual is to be of a more elaborate nature than ever attempted before, so that all varieties of artistic cunning will be welcomed. There are already a number of first-class, high-grade artists on the staff, but oil and water color artists, cartoonists, designers and other specialists must be found. Freshmen and sophomores are especially urged to take up the work, for an over-town artist will be selected to supervise the work, and the board thinks that this will be an unsurpassed opportunity for artists to develop talent in all stages. Those who hope to help in the publishing of future Gophers will find this a very valuable experience.

Those who have talent, either kinetic or potential, are asked to call at the Gopher Hole in the near future, preferably on Thursday afternoon, which is being especially devoted to the art work.

The Gopher board also wishes to call the attention of the junior class to their tardiness in making their picture appointments. Although one-third of the allotted time is now up, only 137 have made their appointments, leaving 764 appointments to be made during the present month. November 1st is positively the last day.

Euterpeans to Rehearse Semi-Weekly During Oct.

Euterpean will hold rehearsal twice a week from now until October 29, when they will sing at the Minneapolis Auditorium before the High School Teachers' convention. In order to attain the highest efficiency, two rehearsals a week will be necessary, on Mondays at 4, and Thursdays at 3. All Euterpeans please come.

DRAMATIC CLUBS PROPOSE THEATRE

Lecture Room in East End of Men's Union Will Be Used.

Faculty Men Welcome Plan for Adequate Dramatic Facilities for Campus.

A theater, in which the three dramatic clubs can give their different dramas, is under consideration at the present time. There is an old lecture room in the Men's Union building which when remodeled, will furnish an adequate place for plays given by the University students. The present stage will need enlarging and one of the rooms which jogs into the main auditorium will have to be torn out. The theater when finished will accommodate 300 persons. The larger and more popular plays would necessitate more room, but the dramatic clubs have resolved to produce their plays as many nights in succession as popularity of the play requests. In previous years the plays have been staged either in the Library chapel or some outside theater. The chapel stage is not large enough on which to produce a good share of the plays and when the University rents a public theater, the expense is so great that either they do not make expenses or their profit is small. Having a theater with a large stage within the campus would do away with a great deal of outside expense.

Dr. Burton, a great enthusiast for the proposition, said: "A theater on the campus has been needed for many years and I hope that the present plan will be accepted."

A B C IS SOLVED

"Aggie Booster Club" Will Be Organized for Purpose of Arousing School Spirit.

At last the mystery of A. B. C., which has stirred the Aggies for many days, has been solved. The well-known and much discussed letters mean "Aggie Booster Club."

Some time ago the students of the College of Agriculture decided that they should be better represented and known in athletics, particularly intramural athletics. The plan is to get the Aggies together in the form of a club with constitution, by-laws, officers, etc. Meetings will be held frequently and all Ags. are expected to join and be present.

A monster mass meeting will be held tomorrow evening in the short course room at 7 o'clock. Everyone who has any college spirit, pep, life, etc., is earnestly requested to be present to do everything he or she can to boost the College of Agriculture. Officers will be elected and a constitution and by-laws will be adopted.

AGGIES MUST PAY

Little More Than Half of the Daily Subscriptions Have Been Paid Up To Oct. 1st.

Of the two hundred and seventy-nine Aggies who subscribed for the Daily only a little more than half paid up by Friday, Oct. 1. Hopes for a large Agricultural section were almost abandoned, but the business manager decided to give us one more chance and made arrangements to receive money this week at the University Farm Y. M. C. A.

Evidently this matter has slipped the minds of most of those who have failed to pay or perhaps there is some misunderstanding about taking the amount from the deposit. The "Daily" cannot do it this year and consequently it must cancel all subscriptions which are not paid up.

If you are one of those who have not paid you can help the Ag. College to get its share of the Daily by doing so at once. The Daily will be sent to all those who subscribed for a few more days, but every subscription that is not paid up by Saturday will be cancelled. Pay at once.

FRESHMAN CLASS ORGANIZES.

The freshmen have chosen John Olson as their president by a plurality of one vote over Floyd Chamberlain.

The closeness of the election made a second and third count necessary.

The remaining offices were filled as follows: Vice president, Marion Heustis; secretary, Elna Boss; treasurer, Walter Mauseau, and sergeants-at-arms, Harriet Todd and Edwin Hanson.

JUNIORS ELECT OFFICERS.

A. W. Edson was elected to head the Junior Ags. at a well attended meeting yesterday noon in the short course room. Priscilla Hough was chosen vice president; Mabeth Sterritt, secretary; O. Aamodt, treasurer; and Roy Scott, sergeant-at-arms. President Tanner, the retiring president, was elected to represent the junior class at the Ag. club banquet, to be held the last of the week.

EDUCATION CLUB TO MEET TONIGHT AT 7:15

The Ag. Education club will hold its first meeting this evening at 7:15. The meeting is very important as it involves the election of new members and a discussion of the plans for the year.

CHEMISTRY STUDENTS STUDY COAL TAR INDUSTRY

At the outbreak of the present war the United States faced the possibility of a chemical and dye famine, forcing our chemists everywhere to realize that they must now supply this country's great demand. The matter of coal tar dyes has been given especial attention, as 95 per cent of these dyes were imported from Germany. There is no reason why the United States should not supply this product that means millions annually for Germany, as we have in the country the necessary crude materials, and are able to produce many chemicals such as sulphuric acid, much more cheaply than our competitors. Hence it becomes apparent that with the competition cut off indefinitely our chemists and experimenters have a big field ahead. We have it on good authority that inside of five years our country will lead in the production of chemicals and dyes. This accounts for the rush into the study of coal products in the College of Chemistry here at Minnesota. Although no research work has yet been undertaken, on account of the congestion of students, by next week the chemists will be started on their work of revolutionizing an industry.

MANY PHARMACISTS ATTEST POPULARITY OF NEW COURSES

The popularity of the Pharmacy School is shown by this year's attendance records. There are now 103 pupils enrolled. This is a decided advance over last year. Besides this number, ten students possessing advanced credits from other schools were refused admittance, while only three or four could be accepted.

There are thirteen girls enrolled this year, which will help to make it one of the most attractive pharmacy courses offered anywhere in the country. The proportion of feminine students also shows an increase. In last year's graduating class of 54, there were only four girls.

This is the last year in which a person can enroll for the two-year course. Hereafter the shortest course will be three years of nine full months each.

PROF. LEHNERTS LECTURES ON THE NATIONAL PARKS

Professor E. M. Lehnerts of the University Extension Department, delivered a lecture on the Yellowstone and Glacier National parks, Monday evening at the Minneapolis Public Library.

Before he took up the extension work, Professor Lehnerts was a teacher of geology at the University of Minnesota.

Several University students who accompanied Professor Lehnerts on his western trip last summer were present at the lecture.

GIRLS' GYM CLASSES HOLD OUTDOOR SESSIONS

The gymnastic classes under Miss Ladd and Miss Kissok are planning on taking outdoor work until November if the weather permits.

The advanced class has already begun its outdoor baseball playing. The grounds near the tennis courts behind the Education building have been reserved for use of the class. There is already material for two teams within the class. They are planning on making up one good team capable of challenging any class team.

The intermediate class has begun work on the game of cricket. There are four teams within the class who have already a good deal of enthusiasm for the game.

ENGINEERS CLUB TO HOLD FIRST MEETING AT NOON

At 12 o'clock today the Engineers begin their year of organized activity in the form of the initial meeting of the Engineers society.

In keeping with the enlarged enrollment of the college this semester, the society hopes to have a banner year. The meeting of welcome today for the freshmen is their first gathering. There will be a speech by Dean F. C. Shenehon of the College of Engineering, and short talks by various members of the faculty and student body.

The purpose of the society is to bring upon the campus engineers of national repute and recognized ability, men in charge of "big jobs," to address their embryonic brothers. This year there are local engineering projects under construction, such as the Third

FRATERNITY PLEDGES.

The rushing season is about over, and the freshmen who during the past month have dominated the attention of fraternity groups about the campus are about to be "reduced" to their proper proportions. From a position of dazzling importance they will soon be instructed that their significance, so far as their particular fraternity is concerned, amounts to considerably less than they expected—all of which will doubtlessly be ultimately beneficial to the individual pledges. For the most of these new fraternity persons, the experiences of the next few months will be novel. It is an entirely different sort of a life that they are to lead than the one to which they have been accustomed. Necessarily there must be modifications of their manner of living to conform to the organization of the little group of which they are a member.

Fraternity life and the existence of fraternities are justifiable only when the members realize that the special privileges which they enjoy make them the debtors of the entire University in a very special way. To the extent that the fraternity man (or woman) responds to the demands made up him as a member of University society, to that extent is he being true to his fraternity and himself. Fraternity life has many beautiful things in connection with it, the friendships, the associations and all that goes to increase man's happiness through his intimate contact with man. These are its privileges.

But at the beginning the pledge should know that the fraternity is not the most essential thing in a college life; it is a delightful incidental, but at the same time it is incidental. The thing we are here for is education in its widest sense. The problem is to keep the fraternity activity within its proper sphere. Give it that part of your time and energy which it has a right to expect of you. Keep the fraternity within its own chapter house; do not carry it around the campus with you. Remember that your University comes first, in all things. Give yourself no added glory because you have been one of the chosen; you have yet to prove yourself in every way. Lead the broadest fraternal life that you possibly can. And last and most important of all, do not forget that the one best fraternity after all is that comradeship and brotherhood which is every man's debt to his fellow here on earth.

TIPS FOR INTELLIGENT PLAYGOERS

The Twin City offerings this week are of more importance than last. Honest, wholesome melodrama comes in Walter's "The Trail of the Lonesome Pine," and the fact that the author is one of the best of our younger native play-makers, lends interest to a drama, which is not, however, at all of the caliber of significance of "The Easiest Way." But it is worthy entertainment of the kind. "The Misleading Lady" at the Shubert, is an amusing and ingenious play, primarily amusement, yet with an underlying serious suggestion in it: whether the return to cave-man tactics on the part of a modern lover is advisable. The first act curtain is an unusually clever use of the principle of surprise. The authors have other good things to their credit.

The only St. Paul attraction worth discussion here, at least outside the movies, is Mrs. Wentworth's one-act piece at the Orpheum. "The War Brides" has secured a remarkable and deserved success, because it was an embodiment of a great thought deeply felt by the author, and seized at the psychologic moment, this, rather than for its technical mastery. It has had, of course, the incidental advantage of being played by Nazimova, an unequal but powerful and technically marvelous artist of the current stage. The piece makes you think about a vital thing, it moves you emotionally in a legitimate way, and has esthetic values as well. Hence is it theater material of the highest kind.

Further interest is added by the fact that Mrs. Wentworth is a graduate of this institution, who for years has graced the platform with her interpretations of literature. She has written plays before, but this is her first practical success. Another company, led by the very strong Italian actress, Varesi, is playing "War Brides" in this, its second season, and before the drama is withdrawn it is safe to say that it will bring a comfortable fortune to its writer. That such dramatic offerings are to be seen from time to time in our vaudeville houses, suggests that the intelligent play-goer must keep an eye upon this order of entertainment and not imagine that all that is worth while is to be found in the so-called legitimate theaters. One must be sufficiently wise to select and choose.

After witnessing the movie rendition of Ibsen's "Peer Gynt" at the Lyric last week, I would like to say that while inevitably much of the loftier meaning of this great drama is lost in such a presentation, much of its picturesqueness and poetry are retained, and the moral lesson is of a sort to leave the thoughtful spectator benefited. The movie has a mission in popularizing stage literature.

COMMUNICATIONS

To the Editor of the Daily:

The other evening as I oscitated over the Minneapolis Journal's sport page, on which the abortive humor of Mr. John Ritchie casts its murky light, I noted this characteristically funny bit of persiflage, aptly entitled "To Start a Friendly Row."

"If they feel the need of more squirrels on the varsity campus, why not move the faculty out into the open—or the editorial staff of the Minnesota Daily?"

"Come on, Trouble!" Wisely did Mr. Ritchie append those last words. I have no time for carping fault-finders, and I abhor the professional trouble-hunter, but I cannot allow to pass unchallenged this undeserved affront—this piece of consummate insolence.

It is not in behalf of the faculty that I take exception to the innuendo, for in that respect it may not be altogether calumnious. Yet even here I cannot admit the justice of its application, inasmuch as the members of that distinguished body are in control of my scholastic destiny. Moreover, they are well qualified to defend themselves.

When Mr. Ritchie speaks, however, in derogation of the editorial staff of the Minnesota Daily, I, as a member of that staff, feel at liberty to enter an emphatic protest. If he should offer a constructive criticism—be it clothed in a dress ever so frivolous—he would be conferring a genuine favor upon the Daily; but when he attempts to invest the serious-minded members of the staff with all the disparaging connotations of that cheap slang term "nut," his language borders on positive vilification. It would not, I think, be a presumption on the part of the Daily staff to look to Mr. Ritchie for either an explanation or a retraction of his audacious charge.

Ascetically, it might not be irrelevant to remind Mr. Ritchie that criticism, like charity, should begin at home. There will be found a plentiful supply of faults to criticize. This statement I am sure will be indorsed by anyone who reads the Journal sport page occasionally—no one, of course, reads it habitually.

Mr. Ritchie's highest achievement, and his greatest fault, is his proficiency in the science of language-mangling. He is a verbal gymnast par excellence.

HELP FOR SOCIAL SERVICE IS ENLISTED AMONG WOMEN

It will be of interest to some of the University students to know that the North East Neighborhood House has begun a still busier year than last in settlement work. This settlement house, which is the only one on the East Side, was started last year by Dr. Gilman, who was for several years at the head of the University Settlement School in New York City.

In addition to the regular settlement activities several new lines of work have been begun. One of the new departments is a clinic for babies which will be connected with the University. There will be also a Little Mothers' club for little girls who have to take care of younger brothers and sisters. They will be instructed in the proper feeding, care and clothing of children.

Any contribution of books which the students might have to offer will be very acceptable for there is room for many more in the library. Magazines are also needed in the playroom for the cutting out of pictures.

The students will be interested to know perhaps of the different classes for which teachers are needed. These vacancies are open to any student capable of teaching the desired subject. The following is a list of the various classes and the days upon which they will be taught: Playgrounds Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday p. m.; dramatic club, Monday p. m.; embroidery class, Monday p. m.; crocheting class, Tuesday p. m.; garment class, Friday p. m.; cooking class, Monday evening; embroidery club, Tuesday evening; shirtwaist club, Thursday evening; choral club, Friday evening; supper club, Friday evening. Camp Fire leader.

The embroidery club is for the women and older girls, while the embroidery class is for the purpose of teaching embroidering to younger girls.

Any information regarding the Settlement House may be obtained at the Y. W. C. A. office. Those students desiring to teach classes may communicate with Margaret Anderson, Box 128.

NATIONAL SECURITY LEAGUE OFFERS PRIZE FOR ESSAY

The National Security League of New York has announced a cash prize of $500 for the best five hundred word essay submitted to it before November first, setting forth the need of a reasonable amount of military and naval preparedness on the part of the United States. There are no conditions as to the exact treatment of the subject provided a really good essay, that can be widely reprinted, is prepared. Although the competition is not strictly confined to university students, it is expected that they are the persons who will manifest the keenest interest. The essays will be read by a committee of five distinguished men, and the award will be announced at Thanksgiving time. More complete details of the contest will be found posted on the announcement board at the entrance to the Library building, or can be obtained from Professor Wm. S. Davis of the Department of History.

PINAFORE SOCIETY PLANS TO PROMOTE FELLOWSHIP

The sophomore girls' organization, the Pinafore, plans to devote its energies toward making the girls of the sophomore class better acquainted with each other, and promoting a greater spirit of fellowship among them. Within a few weeks a meeting will be held, at which plans will be made for a social affair of some sort. This party will be used as a "get-together." The plans are as yet indefinite.

As has been the custom in previous years, the society is giving this reception in order that the students of the various classes in the school might be brought together and be given the opportunity to get acquainted. MORE ABOUT THOSE SQUIRRELS.

I read in your issue of September 30 that H. A. Hildebrand of the State University desires to obtain a number of lively squirrels for the campus. This reminds me of my school days at the University of Michigan, in Ann Arbor, where I was graduated in 1900. Ann Arbor was literally filled with gray squirrels, which helped to make the students' existence a pleasure. I would often leave my class room with discouraged heart, believing I was not making progress, when, suddenly, a lively squirrel would begin to play hide-and-seek with me, winking his eyes and shaking his all important tail. He seemed to say: "Don't worry! Just work on as you have done in the past, and all will be well." Well, sir, I would go to my room with new courage and stronger determination all on account of that squirrel! If Mr. Hildebrand is looking for squirrels let everybody assist him. May our university become one of the best in the United States. I take my hat off to my alma mater (Michigan) and to the University of Minnesota.

SHAKOPEANS MEET TONIGHT.

The Shakopean Literary society will hold their regular meeting tonight at 7:45, in the Men's Union. An interesting and varied program will be given. Mr. E. B. Pierce will address the society on behalf of the alumni, while different members will give talks.

A cordial welcome is extended to every one who is interested in the work of literary societies.

"BIB AND TUCKER" ELECT OFFICERS TODAY AT SHEVLIN

It is the custom here at the University for the girls to organize clubs representing each of the four classes.

Each club has a distinctive name, designating its rank in college. For instance, the seniors organize under the head of "Cap and Gown," the juniors under "Tam-o-Shanter," sophomores under "Pinafore," and the freshmen under "Bib and Tucker." Cap and Gown always makes it its duty to see that the freshmen get properly started and that they become a recognized body on the campus. Consequently they wish to call all of the freshman girls together in the Assembly Room of Shevlin at 12:30 today to organize "Bib and Tucker." They are most anxious about the welfare of all of the freshmen and the girls should show their appreciation of this kindly spirit by attending the meeting in a body.

FORUM ELECTS OFFICERS AND OUTLINES POLICIES

The Forum Literary society at its first meeting elected C. I. Welkert, president; L. E. Nelson, vice-president; F. A. Ossana, secretary-treasurer; W. Egge, sergeant-at-arms. The program committee has already outlined a series of novel and varied programs. The officers, in outlining Forum policies, indicated that the society will take part in a broad range of activities, not only in University forensics, but also in debates with outside colleges, Carleton and St. Thomas have indicated their desire for debates with the Forum. The purpose of the society is to give every member full opportunity to develop his talents, and to promote closer relations with other colleges for mutual benefit. The Forum is out to make a record for itself and its members.

The program for the next meeting is as follows:

- Roll Call.
- "The Purpose of the Forum," Kenneth Riley.
- "The Victories of a Year," Raymond Overmire.
- "Opportunity," Lester Nelson.
- "John Marshall," Vincent Fitzgerald.

What Some People Say About the Moore Non-Leakable Fountain Pen

UNIVERSITY OF ILLINOIS

Urbana, Illinois, Sept. 10, 1915.

Mr. E. G. Perine,
The Perine Book Company,
Minneapolis, Minnesota.

Dear Sir: Replying to your letter of September 8, I beg to say that I have personally used a Moore's Non-leakable Fountain Pen for the past five years with India ink, and have found it the most satisfactory pen that I have ever used. We recommend these pens for the use of all of the students in their work in drafting in this University. Five years' use of India ink in my own Moore's pen does not seem to have injured it in the least.

Very truly yours,
(Signed) H. W. MILLER,
Assistant Dean of the College of Engineering.

Gophers Measure Out Defeat To Invading Flickertails, 41-0

Minnesota Defeats North Dakota by 41-0 Score in First Game of Year.

VETERANS RETURN WITH MORE SPEED AND FORM

Contest Reveals a Wealth of Substitutes for Almost All Places.

In the game Saturday afternoon the Gopher team surely did look mighty good. They have demonstrated that they are a bunch of fighters and that they are not going to take a back seat for any team in the conference. The team that defeats us this year will have to say that Minnesota was the strongest team that they have met this season.

The players escaped from the fracas without any serious injuries. Bernie Bierman left the game voluntarily because of a slight injury to his left leg. While in the game, Bernie sure did give a good account of himself. Soon after the first touchdown, Bernie, by repeated gains made the second touchdown. Bierman is faster than last year and is adopting a style of dodging that greatly improves his playing. Bernie will give a good account of himself from now on.

Jimmy Ballentyne took Bierman's place at left half and was certainly on the job. Jimmie also has that dodging style of running and a run of fifteen yards was easy for him. He can be counted as first string material from the first ranks. It is great satisfaction to the coaches to know that when a man is hurt, that they have a man that they can put in who is capable of delivering. Jimmie is one of these men. It might be stated incidentally that Jimmie made the fifth touchdown after a run of thirty yards. We will see more of Jimmie.

In the first half, Captain Solon played his usual steady game, gaining ground on every play. "Solie" also made a touchdown and would have made another had he not fumbled when close to the line. Luckily Gray was on the job, for he fell on the ball for a touchdown. Solie fumbled a couple of times, but that is to be expected so early in the season. It is needless to say that Solie will be playing a game that will entitle him to recognition by the pickers of the all-conference eleven, for we have no doubt but that he will be on that mythical team.

In the second half, Kleffman took Solon's place and got away in fine style. He gained on nearly every line play and tumbled right into the interference, enabling the back-field to make such great gains. Kleffman will make a good substitute for Captain Solon and much will be expected of him.

"Pudge" Wyman played all through the game, and we are proud of Pudge. He played a fast steady game, and was always good for five or more yards through the line at one crack. Pudge did the kicking and has some fine punts to his credit. He also made us believe that he is a sprinter of the first caliber; he intercepted a forward pass and ran 55 yards for a touchdown. At quarter, Shorty Long and Sparrow Johnson performed. Each displayed much cleverness in directing the team. They are both capable of pulling off this Pogue and Clark stuff, and from the showing made Saturday, it will be a fight between these two for the job. Johnson and Long have also distinguished themselves by their slides down the field. Johnson returned a punt forty yards, running through the North Dakota bunch as if he were a "greased porker." Both Long and Johnson have shown that they are entitled to first chance at the directing end, and they will undoubtedly show up better in the next game.

On the ends, the veterans of last year, Baston and Quist, did not let anything get by them. Each contributed his little bit to the day's performance and they put on a pretty exhibition of football tactics. Quist recovered a fumbled punt and rambled away for the first touchdown of the day. In receiving forward passes each displayed unusual ability. Quist received a couple that netted about thirty-five yards, and Baston one for fifty-six yards, but the play was called back and Minnesota was penalized for being off-side. Baston received one that netted about forty yards, and it was a beautiful catch. Shortly after the beginning of the third quarter, Quist was injured and was taken from the game. Casey took Al's place and played a fair game for the short time he was in. Elson took Casey's place and lasted only two plays. Sparfka then went in and remained until the finish. With coaching Sparfka will make a valuable man. He is fast and not afraid of work and can take all kinds of punishment. This was Sparfka's first real game of football and we are sure that with coaching and experience, he will make a good substitute for either end. He should make a hard fight for one end and give some one strong competition.

The tackle positions were taken care of by two new men, Gray and Turnquist, playing their first game of college football. Both of these fellows are conscientious workers and fight all the time. While these two men played against veterans, they were not out-classed and showed that they had the stuff in them. We will undoubtedly see these same two men in action next week in the Ames game. A great improvement will be seen in their playing with another week's coaching to aid them. During the third quarter, Hartwig took Gray's place and played a fair game for the time he was in.

Guards Sinclair, a veteran, and Tenhoff, a new man, played a hard, strong game and mussed up several of N. D.'s line plays. We need not mention the way Sinclair performs, but much interest will be shown in regard to the way Tenhoff takes care of right guard, and whether he will make a worthy substitute for Dunnigan. Gerow took Sinclair's place along toward the close of the last quarter, and he really did not have a real chance to show his worth.

At the pivot position Hanson, center of last year's freshman team, will endeavor to fill Rosie's shoes. We are afraid that he has a large job on his hands. Hanson got away in fine style, and we look for big improvement in his work before the Ames game. While Hanson is not as big as some centers, he makes up for that handicap by working hard and his willingness to learn.

The coaches are well satisfied with the showing of the team and will bend every effort to make Ames think that we are still on the map and that we're going some.

It is reported that Mayer has a chance to be on the eligible list. With Mayer and Hauser at tackles, Turnquist will probably be switched to center. In case this change takes place, Dr. H. L. Williams will have plenty of substitute material to draw from.

It has also been demonstrated that the Gophers have two back-fields, and with any kind of luck, the team will give a good account of itself.

In the game Saturday, the interference showed streaks of perfection. In all probability much work will be concentrated on the interference.

The weakness shown by the line at times will be remedied.

GRIDIRON GOSSIP

THE CO-ED'S VERSION OF THE NORTH DAKOTA GAME

"Which one is 'Shorty' Long?" (upon seeing the team on the field for the first time before the game). "Oh, hasn't he swell black hair. I could pick him out in a minute."

"There's 'Jimmy'! Why doesn't he get the ball?" (upon seeing a wild forward pass in "Jimmie's" vicinity).

"Say! (excitedly) Did you see 'Bert' jump right over one of those North Dakota fellows? I do hope he didn't get hurt!"

"Oh, look!" (pathetically) "Those rough North Dakota boys have hurt

'Bernie!' I should think they would take him out."

"Dear! I'm so glad 'Pudge' made another touchdown. He got the ball right away from North Dakota. And didn't he run far though?"

"Isn't that rooster fellow, waving his arms around, a regular joke? He reminds me of a fish trying to fly!"

"Say, did you see 'Doc' get chased back from the sidelines? I'll bet he was mad when Minnesota lost the ball."

"Didn't 'Solie' kick that one over beautifully? I don't see how he can aim so straight. Gee! I wish I were a boy and could play football. That makes the score 41-0. Aren't you glad we won, Girlie!"

INCREASED TICKET SALE IS REPORTED

More Student Admissions Will Be on Sale at Manager's Office on Thursday.

Minnesota Is Called Backward in Student Support of Athletics.

Up to date there have been 876 student athletic tickets sold, according to the figures in Manager McBean's office. This represents a big increase over the total number sold last year, when the grand total was 654, and a still further increase over the year previous when the total was 462. It is a most encouraging sign and proves that the students of Minnesota are displaying more financial acumen than heretofore and that the campaign which the Daily has carried on since the first of the year in behalf of a larger sale of student tickets has been a success.

Notwithstanding the increased total this year, however, Minnesota is still behind the other schools in the number of season tickets sold. Manager McBean announces that the tickets will be again on sale all next Thursday at the same price, and the total should be boosted to a thousand, or at least 1,200. The purchase of a season ticket will still mean a big financial saving—it means twenty-five contests for $5.00.

TALK OF HARVARD STUDENTS SCORED

Cambridge, Mass., Oct. 4.—A broad charge that Harvard men are degenerate in their conversation at table is made editorially by the Harvard Crimson today. The Crimson editors say: "One thousand men are each wasting three hours a day in intellectual dejection which might profitably be spent in cultivating intelligent thought."

"Women at the war, athletics and personalities comprise the range of subjects. Among the first named, virtue is apparently unknown. The weaker sex is subject to slandering remarks whose sole aim is to fill a gap in the conversation. When the talk wanders to the war, someone says: 'I hope damned — get licked,' and the subject is closed. Even on athletics, where interest is keenest, desultory remarks and blasphemies on Yale are the main element. Interspersing everything are bitter personalities on another's physical or mental qualities."

ATTENDANCE AT INITIAL GAME CALLED GOOD SIGN

The official attendance record for Saturday's game with North Dakota shows a total of 1,983 paid admissions, exclusive of University students. This is about the same as for the first game last year, there being more students at the game this year, but less outsiders. Considering the unfavorable weather conditions which prevailed early in the day, Saturday, the attendance was very good and indicates that there should be large crowds at all the games here this year.

EIGHT HUNDRED AGGIES TAKING MILITARY DRILL

Unpreparedness for war cannot be claimed of the Kansas State Agricultural College this year. There are 810 students taking military drill, an increase of 50 cadets since last year. Orville B. Burtis of Fredonia is colonel of the regiment which is divided into three battalions of four companies each. Two Colt's rapid-fire guns have been shipped by the government to Manhattan and these will be handled by the crack company of the regiment. Lieutenant Roy A. Hill, commandant, will remain in charge until November 20.—Daily Kansan.

STUDENT OPERATES LOOKOUT STATION.
Tower for Fire Prevention Proves Value During Summer Months.

The university lookout station on the very top of the first peak of Mount Sentinel proved its value to the forest service during the past fire season.
From this lookout three forest fires have been located, one a lightning fire up the Rattlesnake, one a sawdust fire, and the third a fire this side of Soudan. The Soudan fire burned a total of more than 200 acres, and required the work of two crews to control it.
During the season the Sentinel lookout station has been held by C. V. Wingett, a sophomore forestry student. Part of Wingett's work was running of an emergency telephone line up Mount Sentinel to the station, for the purpose of reporting fires. The line runs from the lookout down the north timbered ridge of the mountain to the fence, then follows the fence down to the connection with the main line near Prescott's.

The lookout station was built by the forest school, and is maintained by the forest service. It is an important point in locating forest fires during the danger season in the Lolo, Missoula and Bitter Root national forests.—Montana Kaimin.

CARLETONIANS TO ORGANIZE MINNESOTA CLUB TONIGHT

A meeting will be held in Room 105, Folwell Hall, at 7 o'clock tonight, to complete the organization of a Carleton club. All who have ever been connected with Carleton College and who are now connected with the University of Minnesota are requested to attend.
A preliminary meeting was held in the Men's Union building last week. Plans were discussed, and it was ascertained that there are about sixty men and women in the University eligible to membership. The purpose of the club will be to unite more closely the former Carleton students for mutual benefit and pleasure.

NOTICES

Euterpean.—From October 4 to October 29, Euterpean will meet for practice twice a week, Mondays at 4 o'clock and Thursdays at 3 o'clock.

Prof. R. W. Thatcher will deliver an address on "The Purpose and Methods of Graduate Study in Science," in Room 201, Chemistry building, College of Agriculture, tomorrow at 1:15 p. m.

Girls' Music Club.—At the last meeting of the Girls' Music club, Friday, Oct. 8, was decided upon as the date for the spread to be given in honor of freshmen music students. The party is to be held at the music building. The club holds its meetings on the first and third Fridays of the month, and all members are urged to attend that further plans for the year's work may be brought up.

Kesaltsolteck Notice.—The Kesaltsolteck Camp Fire club will have a party at Shevlin Hall today at 5 o'clock. The club had intended to have a wiener roast, but was obliged to abandon this plan on account of the continued inclement weather.

Juniors! Juniors! Juniors!—764 more picture appointments to be made before November 1 for the 1917 Gopher. If you expect to appear in the Gopher it is time to get busy.

Artists.—Bring samples of your work to the Gopher Hole on Thursdays from 1:00 till 3:00. The 1917 Gopher will need the help of every artist in the University.

Organizations.—The Miller Studio is now ready to make the group pictures of all organizations for the 1917 Gopher. Make your appointment now in the Gopher Hole, or at the Miller Studio.

Kappa Rho.—An important meeting of Kappa Rho Literary society will be held tonight at 112 State St. S. E. An interesting program has been prepared and every member is urged to attend. Helen Blair and Gladys Callister have charge of arrangements.

Seniors.—In view of the fact that seniors were not notified last year in regard to the present requirements for admission to the Teachers' Course in English and Rhetoric, the department is willing to allow seniors to elect this course, provided they have completed or are completing a minor in either English or Rhetoric, and, provided further, that they have an average of one and one-half honor points for each credit hour of all the work they have taken in English and Rhetoric.

HARDIN CRAIG,
J. M. THOMAS,
For the Department of English.

Freshman Girls.—All freshman girls will meet in Shevlin Hall at 12:30 p. m. today to organize and elect officers for Bib and Tucker, and to elect representatives to the W. S. G. A. and W. A. A. boards. It is important that every girl in the freshman class be present.

Students' Directory.—The students' directory is now being compiled, and all students who have changed their addresses and who wish the correct address in the directory must have them on file in the registrar's office by October 15.

TOMASEK JOINS SQUAD.

"Tony" Tomasek, a former St. Paul Central High School football star, joined the freshman squad yesterday. His appearance on the field has been looked for by all former Central students. Tomasek is one of the best all-around athletes in the Twin Cities. He starred on Central's team for four years. Besides football, he is a shark at basketball, track and an oarsman.

This summer Tony spent on the St. Paul playgrounds and is in fine condition.

SHAKEUP FOR YALE TEAM THIS WEEK

New Haven, Conn., Oct. 4.—Yale's football team is due for one of the biggest shakeups a Blue eleven ever had. The totally unlooked for defeat at the hands of Virginia Saturday has sent football stock to about as low a level as it has been in years here.

As a result of the poor showing made by both backfield and line, it was regarded probable that Guernsey will be replaced by Mat Scovill or Charlie Taft, son of the former president. Thompson at quarter may also lose his berth either to Bentley or Lowry. Virginia's victory makes eight schools that have beaten the Elis at football. They are Harvard, Princeton, Army, Columbia, Brown, Lehigh, Washington and Jefferson and Virginia.

PERSONALS.

Dear Contribb.—Your conceit is monstrous. Do not think we ran your other effusion because of any merit. It was funny,—but not consciously so. We ran it because, as we said, we did not see why others should not read it since we are compelled to do so. No, your "talent" is not appreciated here and your protests to Merle are in vain.

Geo. Northrop wants us to make some joke to call your attention to Mr. Joseph Pennell's lecture this afternoon in the Engineering Building. His subject is, "The Wonder of Work." Make your own joke.

PARDON ME, BUT—

If of rhymes you are in need,
(And you seem to be, indeed.)
Why not choose a subject first,
Then proceed to do your worst?

Why for us of Rhetoric I,
Be assured it is a pun,
That the fact that you can't rhyme,
Seems your subject every time.

How can you expect to write
Anything which brings delight,
If with pain the lines are fraught,
And each phrase with agony wrought?

I don't think the "Kat" a mut,
This I promise to you—but
If you wish no more to write,
Why not end your page
Good-night! ?

—Ann Gora.
