WOMEN DEBATERS WILL CLASH WITH IOWA ON APRIL 3

Affirmative Team Will Oppose At 8 O'clock Music Auditorium

NEGATIVE TO TAKE TRIUMPH

First Time Entirely Feminine Teams Have Represented Minnesota

Minnesota will be represented by six women in a dual intercollegiate debate with the University of Iowa Friday, April 3. This is the first time that teams composed entirely of women have represented Minnesota in an intercollegiate contest, according to Wayne L. Morse, debate coach.

Hereafter, two feminine teams will be chosen each year to participate in the Big Ten conference debates, and will rank on an equal basis with the regular Varsity teams.

The affirmative team will meet the Iowa debaters in the Music Auditorium Friday evening at 8 p.m. Members of this squad are Agnes Thorvilson, Harriet L. Goldberg, and Rosalind F. Bach. On the same evening, Minnesota's negative speakers will meet the representatives of Iowa at Iowa City. Margaret P. Powers, Margaret S. Howatt, and Correll L. Nelson are members of the team that will travel. They will be accompanied by Miss Alethea E. Smith, instructor in public speaking.

Tickets for the contest to be held at Minnesota have been put on sale at 25c and are obtainable at Mr. Morse's office in 208 Folwell hall or at the door. Mr. Morse stated that only a limited number are being sold because of small seating capacity of the Music Auditorium, and urged students to procure them as soon as possible.

The subject to be discussed at both debates is: "Resolved: That Congress should be deprived of the right to declare war unless the declaration is approved by an affirmative referendum vote of the people." Minnesota's debaters have been at work on the subject during the entire past term, and according to the coach, "are in excellent condition."

"Because this is the first time in our history that women's intercollegiate teams have been organized, I am confident that they are going to (Continued on page 2)

NEW FEE SYSTEM TO BE INTRODUCED

$4 Per Quarter Will Be Charged Next Year to Cover All Small Items

The introduction of a new fee system next fall will result in the charging of one large fee amounting to $4 per quarter to cover all items instead of the large number of separate fees paid under the present system.

Beginning with the fall quarter next year the health fee, Minnesota Union and Shevlin hall fees, and charges for The Minnesota Daily, address book, and post office boxes will be taken out of the four dollar deposit made each quarter. The additional general deposit of $5 will be made as usual, but there will be fewer deductions from it.

Under the present system, charges for The Minnesota Daily, address book, and post office boxes are taken out of the $5 deposit, while the Minnesota Union and Shevlin hall fees and the health fee are charged separately. The new system will do away with this by placing all the items together under the quarterly $4 fee.

No change is to be made in the payment of the general $5, but there will be fewer deductions from it and there will be no necessity of a second deposit as has often been the case, according to Registrar R. M. West.

Civil Engineers Plan Banquet, Addresses

Civil Engineers, members of the student chapter of the Association of Student Civil Engineers, are holding a banquet Wednesday, April 8, at 6:30 p.m., in the Minnesota Union. This banquet is to be the next to last meeting of the school year of the Association, according to George Cornell, a member of the committee of arrangements.

Speakers for the evening have been secured by Arthur Duval, vice president of the association, and George Cornell. E. F. Flynn, assistant to vice president of the Great Northern Railroad, will speak on "Public Relations in Railroad Industry," and Prof. J. L. Parcel will talk on "Modern Bridge Projects." Musical entertainment will be furnished by the Great Northern Quartet. The price of the banquet is 60 cents a plate.

A half hour of credit is taken from the co-ed who fails to attend compulsory lectures at the University of Indiana.

WEATHER.

Mortar Board Will Order Graduation Bids Monday

Orders for commencement to be sold by the Mortar Board, senior women's honorary society, will be taken the first part of next week. All seniors who want to buy them must order and pay for them at that time. They will be delivered on May 23 so that there will be time for mailing.

Announcements, which will be on double envelopes, are sheets engraved with the seal of Minnesota, and will be sold at the price of 15 cents each. Mortar Board is working in conjunction with the senior class committee in the sale of announcements. More elaborate announcements will be sold later by the senior class alone. These will cost 30 and 50 cents apiece.

Further information about the placing of orders for the Mortar Board announcements, announcements will appear in The Minnesota Daily this week.

PAVING OF FOURTH STREET CERTAINTY

Project Will Assure Relief From Heavy Traffic On University Avenue

Relief from the nuisance of heavy traffic near campus buildings along University avenue is assured the University in the near future by the announcement yesterday that crews for the city's $1,350,000 paving program are ready to start work at Fourth street S. E., from Fifteenth to Oak street.

E. R. Dutton, assistant city engineer in charge of paving, has stated that actual paving will be in full swing in three weeks. The Fourth street project, to cost $40,000, is listed among those where construction will begin at the earliest date.

As a result of student petitions that were circulated on the campus two years ago, the removal of heavy trucking along the avenue will greatly alleviate teaching conditions in classrooms that overlook the street. For a number of years, professors in Folwell hall have had to compete with the diverting influence of the rumbling traffic.

Proceeding the action taken by the city council, Alderman Josiah Chase held meetings with students to discuss plans for action. The city council of Minneapolis passed the paving program bill last fall.

Other projects which will receive early construction are Thirty-eighth street, from Chicago to Twenty-first avenues, $53,000; Broadway and county road, from Johnson to Wilson, $99,000; and Forty-second avenue S., from Thirty-fourth to Forty-second, $71,000. Construction on several other projects will be delayed until later bond sales.

Paving projects will be financed under the Elwell law, whereby the city pays one-third of the total cost, and the benefited property the remainder.

Matrix Guests Will Meet Caliph of Arabian Nights

O. C. Edwards to Talk On 'Loyalty Today'

"Loyalty" will be the subject of a talk to be given by O. C. Edwards, instructor of mathematics in the engineering college, before the employees of the Minneapolis Heat Regulator company, at their noon hour today.

Every Wednesday noon the employees of this company are treated to a talk or musical program. These entertainments are sponsored by the Y. M. C. A. and are very successful as furnishing an hour of recreation and educational opportunity for the men, according to Mr. Edwards.

At each meeting there is an attendance of about 200 of the men. Usually there is practically a 200 per cent attendance.

Regents Meet Today to Discuss Buildings

The Board of Regents will hold a meeting today to discuss important issues in regard to construction and improvements of several campus buildings.

Among the projects which are under discussion is the addition of a wing to the Minnesota Union. Several alterations in present plans are expected to be made, according to an official announcement.

Plans for a new botany building, and for remodeling of the Stadium with the $100,000 recently appropriated for that purpose will be further considered.

'NATION' TO OFFER STUDENTS PRIZES

Accounts of Industrial Work Done During Summer Subject For Essay Contest

Students of universities and colleges throughout the United States are to be given an opportunity to compete for substantial prizes offered by the New York Nation for written accounts of work done by students in agricultural and industrial occupations during the coming summer.

The Nation wishes to encourage college men and women to see capital and labor as they actually meet in factories, mills, and mines, rather than as text book abstractions. For this purpose they are offering a first prize of $125, a second of $75, and a third of $25 for the three best essays of 4000 words relating the experiences of the students during the following summer months in occupations of this sort.

The contest is open to any graduate or undergraduate in any college or university, who continues his studies in the fall of 1925. The period of work in some industrial or agricultural pursuit is to be two months and the contestants are to be regular laborers at the place of work. Each manuscript is to be a personal record of the experiences of the contestant, together with this interpretation of the industrial situation confronting him. The winning manuscripts are to be published in the Nation.

All necessary information as to college, place of occupation, address, worked, name, and signature of member of the faculty attesting the eligibility of the writer, must appear in the upper right hand corner of the manuscript which is to be typewritten. All papers must be sent to the Nation, 20 Vesey street, New York, before October 15, 1925.

Judges for the contest are Mr. Jerome Davis, Yale University, Mr. William H. Johnson, president of the International Association of Machinists, Mrs. Florence Kelley, general secretary of the National Consumers League, Mr. Pierrepoint B. Noyes, president of the Oneida Community, Ltd., and Mr. Oswald Garrison Villard, editor of the Nation.

DRAMATIC CLASS OFFERS TRAGEDY

'The Death of Tintagiles' By Maeterlinck to Be Staged Thursday At 4:30

As the first offering of the play production class for the spring quarter, Maeterlinck's "The Death of Tintagiles" will be produced on Thursday afternoon at 4:30 p.m., in the Music Auditorium. Rachel Russ, an academic senior, is director.

In general those cast in this production are new figures on the University stage. "Tintagiles" is played by Eleanor White, and the two sisters, "Ygraine" and "Bellangere," by Harriet Ellis and Harriet Levinson. The "Three Servants of the Queen" are Dorothy Spicer, Thelma Sparboe, and Loreta Simpson; and "Aglowale" is played by Ray Mattson.

"The Death of Tintagiles" is a tragedy in five short acts, and is said to be the favorite work of its author, the greatest of Belgian dramatists, Maurice Maeterlinck. It was written near the close of the 19th century.

All University students and faculty members are invited to attend the production.

Mork Returns From Engineer Convention

George Mork, chairman of Engineers' Day this year, recently returned from the annual convention of the American Association of Collegiate Engineers which was held at Columbia, Missouri, March 19-21. Representatives from the engineering schools from the Big Ten were in attendance, and plans concerning various engineering days and similar festivities at other schools were discussed.

"I received some very excellent ideas while at the convention and will introduce several of them this year at our coming engineering festivities," Mr. Mork said last night. Ted Waldor, chairman of last year's Engineers' Day, also attended the meeting. The convention was held at Minnesota last year.

COMMITTEE SETS MAY 8 FOR DATE OF SENIOR PROM

Plans Completed During Spring Vacation; Favors and Music Are Secured

BURSAR TO SELL TICKETS

'Gala But Reasonable' Is Slogan Chosen For 37th Annual Entertainment

Members of the senior class will give the 1925 Senior Prom Friday night, May 8, with "a gala but reasonable Prom" as the slogan, the committee in charge of general arrangements of the affair announced last night.

Complete plans for the affair, which will be the 37th annual Prom at Minnesota, have been formulated by the general arrangements committee which has been working during vacation. The place for the Prom has not been definitely selected but will be decided on soon.

In deciding to hold the Prom in May, the committee expects to make it one of the most colorful of the season's social events, but at the same time it is assured that the cost will be reasonable. Though the exact price of the tickets has not been determined, it is expected that the price will be exceptionally moderate when the tickets are placed on sale about the middle of April. The sale of tickets will be under the direction of Conrad Seitz, of the bursar's office, and will be sold in the Old Library, according to Bernard J. Larpeur, all-senior president.

"The committee is bending every effort to make the senior Prom night a gala affair which will fittingly mark the closing social festivity for the senior class," Maurice Lowe, chairman of the general arrangements committee said last night. "At the time we will make the cost moderate. It is the aim of the committee to place the cost within the reach of all who really desire to attend."

Members of the favor and music committees are now finishing their work, and with the selection of the location of the Prom, the arrangements will be near complete. Assisting Mr. Lowe on the general arrangements committee are Elsie Prins, Harriet Dew, Cyril Pesek, and Edward Henn.

New Interesting Books Added to Pleasure Room

Many new and interesting volumes have been added to the fine collection of books for pleasure readers in the Arthur Upson room of the new library building within the last two weeks, according to Miss Marjorie Edgar, attendant.

Some of the new books which students will now find on the shelves of the pleasure room include "The Way of the Flesh," by Samuel Butler; "Mont St. Michel and Chartres," by Henry Adams; "A Survey" and "Fifty Caricatures," by Max Beerholm; "The Ethical Basis of the State," latest book by Norman Wilde, professor in the department of philosophy of the University of Minnesota; Charnwood's "Abraham Lincoln," and additional volumes of the Loeb classical library.

'The Intimate Strangers' Presented Here Saturday

To Be Seen By University For First Time After Road Tour of State; Plocher, Gray Have Leads

Minnesota Masquers' last production, "The Intimate Strangers," which returned Saturday to Minneapolis after a road tour of the state, will be seen for the first time by the University public at two performances on Saturday of this week. Tickets for the play are on sale every day from 9:30 a.m. on, in the box office in the Music hall lobby.

Seats for the matinee performance at 2:30 p.m. are priced at 50 cents, and for the evening performance at 8:15, 75 cents.

"William Ames," the leading role in "The Intimate Strangers," is played by Franklin D. Gray, president of the local chapter of National Collegiate Players, a former Masquer president, and 1925 Rhodes scholar from Minnesota. He will be remembered for his recent campus performance in the title role of "Captain Applejack."

As "Isabel Stuart," Dorothy Plocher will play opposite Mr. Gray. She is a senior education student.

Donald T. Arbury, an academic freshman, takes one of the juvenile leads, "Johnnie White." He was recently cast in one of the leading roles in "Kismet," and played in one performance as "The Caliph." Mildred Danne, a farm campus student, is "Florence."

JENKS TOURS OLD CITIES OF EUROPE

Minnesota Professor Conducts Anthropological Survey On Historic Sites

In a letter received yesterday by W. D. Wallis, professor of anthropology, from Dr. A. E. Jenks, head of the anthropology department, absent on official leave, Dr. Jenks states that he is making a tour of museums and other points of interest in Europe, in connection with anthropology.

Dr. Jenks and Mrs. Jenks, who sailed January 26, plan to spend four months in Europe. They are now in Les Eyzies, France, the "capital of the prehistoric world." In speaking of Les Eyzies, Dr. Jenks says, "As one goes about the country and sees the almost numberless sites where men have lived from at least Neanderthal days down to today, he is impressed by the age of man."

The places already visited by Dr. Jenks include London, Oxford, and Cambridge in England; Brussels, Louvain and Spennes in Belgium; and Paris and Perigaux in France. He plans to visit Alta Mira, and Madrid in Spain, as well as prehistoric sites along the northeastern part of Spain. He also intends to spend one week on the French Riviera. Other countries to be visited are northern Italy, Jugoslavia, Austria, Czechoslovakia and Germany.

Away on leave of absence during the year 1923-24, Dr. Jenks was chairman of the division of anthropology and psychology of the National Research Council in Washington. This council was established in 1916 at the request of the president. Dr. Jenks will teach at the summer session of the southern division of the University of California, and will return to Minnesota for the fall quarter.

The book store, in room 4 Folwell hall, will be open every day for two weeks from 8:30 to 12:30 in the morning, and from 1:30 to 3:30 in the afternoon. At this time, second hand books may be bought and sold for all courses in the colleges of S.L.A., Business, Education, and some of the other courses. Students are urged to bring in the books in the list printed above as soon as possible.

REAL ESTATE MEN PROTEST PASSAGE OF ZONING BILL

Legislature Would Bar Industries From Prospect Park Area; Flats Not Banned

MEASURE AIDS UNIVERSITY

City Desires to Keep District Strictly Residential and Free From Tracks

Representatives of the Minneapolis Real Estate board are protesting vigorously against the zoning bill which has passed both houses of the state legislature and is now before the Governor for his signature. The bill would authorize cities to zone against industries without compelling them to ban apartment houses from the same districts. Its chief object is to enable Minneapolis to protect the Prospect Park district from the encroachment of industries, and to reserve that section of the city as a University residence district.

Harry Benton, secretary of the Minneapolis Real Estate board, appeared yesterday morning before Governor Theodore Christianson urging that his approval be delayed until after representatives of the real estate men had conferred with the Board of Regents. Mr. Benton indicated that he had already made arrangements for such a meeting with the Board of Regents when that body meets this afternoon.

Elwell Answers Protest

Albert J. Lobb, comptroller, and secretary to the Board of Regents, denied yesterday that the Real Estate board had gained permission to bring their protest before the Board of Regents.

In answer to Benton's protest, Senator James T. Elwell of the state legislature suggested that only a handful of real estate representatives were attempting to block the legislation.

In discussing the situation yesterday afternoon, Alderman E. W. Hawley of the second ward pointed out that the bill had passed unanimously in the legislature, and in the two legislative committees, that it had the endorsement of the Minneapolis city council and Board of Regents.

"Monkey Wrenches in Legislature" I have never seen so many monkey wrenches thrown into the legislative machinery to block a constructive measure as in the zoning bill now before the Governor for his approval," said Mr. Hawley. "It is vitally necessary to the University that a Prospect Park district be kept as a strictly residential district, because it is the only part of southeast Minneapolis which is not gridironed in every direction with railroad tracks. The only track across the Prospect Park residential district is a mere switch track, which, in the comparatively near future, will undoubtedly be removed entirely. Its removal is essential to preserve the district for residential purposes."

SWEDISH PHYSICIST SPEAKS ON METAL

Dr. Carl Benedicks Gives Three Lectures For Engineers and Chemists

The kinetic constitution of solid matter, high speed steel, and space and time were the subjects of the series of lectures given by Dr. Carl Benedicks, director of the Metallographic Institute, Stockholm, Sweden, March 30 and 31. The lecture given Monday at 4:30 in the Chemistry Auditorium was attended by over 200 people.

Dr. Benedicks pointed out that the assumption of special repulsive forces between the atoms of a solid body, creating rigid atomic lattice, was to be discarded. He proposed that instead, as for a gas, the positions of the atoms result from their continual collisions, giving a dynamic lattice.

After a 6:30 dinner in the ballroom of the Minnesota Union, Monday night, Dr. Benedicks spoke on the hardness and the hardening of high speed steel and other alloys. He discussed the phenomenon of hardness in general, the different ways by which hardness may be increased, such as cold working and solid solution. The solid solution hardness is to be considered due to super-cooled solution and to supersaturated solutions.

The influence of a second metal on the critical points of iron depends upon whether the added element has the same space lattice as alpha or gamma iron. If the element has the same space lattice as alpha iron, it lowers the critical points, while if it has the same space lattice as gamma iron the critical point is raised.

The male quartet of the student section of the Society of Mechanical Engineers formed a delightful part of the program.

Dr. Benedicks goes from Minnesota to the California Institute of Technology, Pasadena, where he will give a similar series of lectures.

A course in conversation is now offered at the University of Kentucky. The purpose is to train students in the art of conversation.

HEYWOOD BROWN ON CONCEIT
De Pachmann's copious and naive chatter about his pianistic capabilities, which accompanies each of his concerts as surely as the lamb attends little Mary, has apparently moved Heywood Brown, dramatic critic and fair observer of life, to a philosophical tete-a-tete with himself on the subject of conceit. After much thought, he has arrived at the conclusion that conceit ought not to be a suppressed complex, but rather a flaunted, creditable virtue.

In a late magazine article, Mr. Brown says:
"Now, it really is the people who think well of themselves who do the most important work in the world, but they must keep their approval to themselves. I don't know why. It seems silly and hypocritical to me."

By way of defense of his theory that "the people who think well of themselves do the most important work in the world," the author cites Babe Ruth and Jack Dempsey. Babe Ruth, he says, is "willing to be quoted, at any given moment," as constituting "the greatest long-distance hitter" in baseball history.

Obviously, Mr. Brown must have been suffering from an "offday" when he wrote such a ridiculous, attempted radical treatise on conceit.

Every individual on earth is born with a more or less active and valuable self-assertive instinct. Talent and genius are rare, distinct traits. The most puerile ignoramus may be a blustering model of conceit. If anything, real ability and intellectual grasp tend to subdue the self-assertive instinct and are invariably accompanied by a spirit of humility and modesty about achievement! The more a wise man knows, the more he realizes how little he does know. The surest proof of narrowness of vision is self-satisfaction. How any man of lofty ideals and farsightedness can be blissfully contented with himself is difficult to imagine.

Mr. Brown includes in his foolish defense of conceit this statement: "For some reason or other the community has decided that conceit is a vice except in those two years old or less."

The community also excuses an infant's babytalk, Mr. Brown.

PAINLESS HANDSHAKING
Although the golden day of a painless handshaking is—woe betide us—too far in the hope for, means of slight relief from rock-crushing grips are occasionally devised by human benefactors of an inventive turn of mind.

Someone of this sort has apparently advised President Coolidge, the nation's chief sufferer, for, according to his personal secretary, he has adopted a quite successful mode of self-preservation against the onslaught of the virile handshaker, who suffers no qualms of conscience about pulverizing a few bones in the human hand.

The fundamental idea in the President's method of defense is this—"get the enemy before he gets you." Do not wait till you see the whites of his eyes. It's a simple question of the survival of the fittest, and the best man wins. As in a pistol duel, the fellow who wins the draw is the one who lives to shake hands another day. He who hesitates is lost.

Edward T. Clark, kindly old soul, who is personal secretary to President Coolidge, offers his master's mode of defense to the long-suffering American public in the earnest hope that its pain may be assuaged.

"—grasp the other fellow's hand before he has a chance to get yours."

"ON WISCONSIN"
The University of Wisconsin is receiving some desirable publicity.

With the pleasant accusation that the institution "is a spawning bed for a great variety of socialistic laws" and that "this socialism at Madison forms an unseen, but strong, link between the university and the state capitol," the secretary of the newly formed state organization of regular Republicans demands, in a recent statement, an investigation of such alleged socialistic activities.

In conclusion, this innocent benefactor, concocts the following perfect misconception of things:

"The taxpayers of Wisconsin, who contribute heavily to the support of the university, should at once begin a thorough investigation of the matter. The sooner the university confines itself to the purpose to which it was created, and the state capitol confines itself to the making and executing of wholesome laws, the better it will be for the citizens."

This entire incident is one rare example of good born out of petty political bickering.

Socialism may not be a wise policy to institute in this world and in this age, but certainly the energetic activity of thinking Wisconsin students in the realities of government and life is as a breath of fresh spring air breezing through the stuffy, dead atmosphere of stereotyped, cut-and-dried convention, altogether too prevalent in American colleges and universities.

THE SENIOR PROM

Spring quarter, midquarters—for the seniors, commencement. Within easy sight of graduation, the senior prom, the last social event of a college course.

It is neither wise nor nippit to indulge in sentimentality over purely extra-curricular social activities, but if ever such a feeling is in any way justifiable, it would be so in the matter of the senior prom.

Behind—some sort of school career; ahead—a chilly and adventurous plunge into some sort of active life work; for the moment, the last association in the school atmosphere with school friends. Is it not a thought to dally with? And to peak that last intimate association—the senior prom, the very end of the school social course.

Viewed in this light, the function assumes the air of true importance which is accorded it in most large universities, but which it has lacked formerly at the University of Minnesota. That is not as it should be. The officers for the senior prom should be in a slightly more inclusive way, what the Representative Minnesotans are to the year book, representative of class and school.

With such an arrangement carried out, the senior prom would come into its own as the primary social event of the year—first because of its method of organization, because of its relation to the senior, the venerable class, because of its proximity to the time of graduation.

The Higher Lunacy
"All men are necessarily mad; not to be mad would amount to another form of madness."
—Pascal.
The Hired Hand, P. O. 2236

P. O. 391
AVE. INCOGNITE!
Oyez!! Oyez!! Oyez!! Make a joyful noise, ye students, and hail Incognito! A new and prospective pilot has been found for the Higher Lunacy. As Incognito he desires to be known, so thus let us hail and salute him!

Incognito is first of all a poet, and the Higher Lunatic has selected at random several lyrics from the new candidate's scrap book for the delectation of the campus. They all should be appropriate for spring-time. Here is specimen A. Gabriel, page Shelley and Keats!

PURE, PURE, PURE, PURE
We can't leave each other, Dear Heart,
We never planned to part;
I love only thee,
And thou love only me.

This world has never been the same,
Since you and I to each other came,
With each other apart, the brightest day
Would be as dark as night in May.

Love is more than anyone can explain,
In my heart there is a peculiar sort of pain,
Oh Pure, Pure, Pure, Pure,
We have Everlasting Love, I am sure!
—Incognito.

The above outburst, as can be easily seen, was written in a joyful and exuberant mood. Our poet, however, can be melancholy upon occasion. In proof of which we submit the following:

THOU ART SOLEMN
You are so solemn and wonderful as a cemetery,
Not the sort of solemn connected with a mortuary,
I love you so I can't love you any harder,
My love from the depths of my soul, you were starter.
—Incognito.

Incognito, of course, is more than a poet. To show his prolific versatility, he has written off-hand several humorous paragraphs. To-wit:

A FOOLISH LITTLE TRAGEDY
A quiz was due, my mind was blank, my hands were clammy as I sat waiting for the dreaded inquisitor. The minutes seemed hours, five minutes, seven minutes, nine minutes, I reach for my coat. The door swung open at nine and a half and the beaming professor burst out with "April Fool." So I took the little gold jack knife that mother had given me for Christmas and carefully hit his throat from ear to ear. —Red.

In moments when we're not so solemn
We write the things that fill the column,
And so to everyone we'll say
To be a fool is not all play;
So let the fools all celebrate
On this most foolish April date.
—The Choro Hoy.

April first is a day set aside in recognition of all the foolish things we do and after looking the situation over we wonder why more time was not set aside in recognition of such a great part of our life.
—The Choro Hoy.

Felix also contributed a poem about somebody kidding a goat. The thing was lost, however, so we can only give it honorable mention.

Let us cease. —H.20.

Fifteenth Annual Short Course to Open April 7

Boys and Girls in State Between Ages of 12 and 21 Eligible For Registration; Course Concluded April 11

The fifteenth Annual Boys and Girls short course will open at the University Farm Tuesday, April 7, according to Dr. A. V. Storm, director of short courses. All boys and girls in Minnesota between the ages of 12 and 21 are eligible for registration in the course which will be concluded Friday, April 11.

Class work of the week will center about the activities of boys' and girls' clubs throughout the state during the past year. Class discussions will stress the club organization, the program, and the work. In addition, calves, pigs, poultry, sheep, corn, potatoes, gardening, canning, sewing, and baking, and knowledge gained of them by club work will be discussed.

Classes will begin at 7:45 Tuesday, April 7, and will continue until Friday evening, April 10. Evening entertainments, banquets, and sight-seeing tours will serve to break the monotony of class work.

The Minnesota Boys' and Girls' Club association will hold its annual meeting at the University farm during the short course week.

Lodging and meals will be provided for those registering for the course on the farm campus. The cost will be $1.50 for a room, 75c to $1.00 per day for board, and $1.50 for incidentals.

The only other expense will be the railroad fare. A round trip rate of fare-and-a-half has been arranged for those applying for the special rate at the time of registration.

Those attending the course will be governed by certain rules during their week's stay at the farm. Each must attend regular classes take notes, and get special permission should they desire to leave the campus during the week.

A number of special events have been arranged to add interest to the program. Two prize-winning bread-making teams will give demonstrations. The Russell Miller Milling company is paying the two teams expenses to the short course, and will also send them to the National Club congress at Chicago. A special prize will be awarded to the club having the highest attendance at the short course.

Co-ed Diamond Stars Start Season Today

Baseball for women will begin today at 4:30 p.m. when all women interested in the sport will meet for the first practice. The meeting will be held in the C-D room of the women's gymnasium, according to Blythe Schee, baseball manager.

Class managers will be elected at this meeting, and plans for the season will be discussed. According to plans at this time, juniors and freshmen will practice at 4:30 p.m., on Monday and Wednesday, and seniors and sophomores will practice at 4:30 p.m., on Tuesday and Thursday. Eight practices must be completed by May 9. Indoor practices will be held for two weeks, unless excellent weather continues.

Women wishing to practice for the class squads are asked by Miss Schee to sign up on the baseball poster in the women's gymnasium, and report for this important meeting at 4:30 p.m. today.

Because of scholastic deficiencies, 257 students were dropped from Cornell University at the end of the first semester. Most of these were dropped from the engineering school. The average number dropped in the last five years at the end of the first term is 255.

The Oregon college of agriculture wishes to announce to all concerned, and especially students in New York City, that they are going to have a course in etiquette commencing next September.

Y.W.-Y.M. Freshman Commissions Sponsor Bowery Party to Be Given April 4

Committees for the "Fresh Bowery Jag", sponsored by the Freshman commission of the Y.W.C.A. and the Y.M.C.A., have been announced by Robert Cummings in charge of general arrangements. Saturday evening, April 4, is the date set for the party which will be given in the University Y.M.C.A. building.

Although the affair is sponsored by the Freshman groups, it will be open to all University students. No admission will be charged. Carolyn Schultz will act as "master of ceremonies", and local talent features of entertainment have been planned by the arrangements committee which consists of Robert Cummings, Martha Baker, Ted Helgeson, Carolyn Schultz, and Dorothy Merritt.

Members of the masters committee are Marion Fleck, Hazel Helwig, and Eldora Riecky. In charge of publicity are Helen Hawthorne and Emery Syverson. In order to further carry out the "Bowery" atmosphere of the party, pretzels and root beer will be served for refreshments. Marjorie Darrell and Helen Brown serve on the refreshments committee.

Students in charge of the affair promise a novel program of games and local talent acts.

"We expect to have an entertainment where everyone will feel at home," announced Mr. Cummings. He also announced some of the unique acts which will make up the program. Harriett Allen and Marion Nippert will be featured in a short skit, while Marion Fleck is in charge of a play, "14", which parodies the activities of the freshman class.

A novelty act, "The Bowery Jag" will be presented by Betty Pettibone and Katherine Grill. Impersonations and an "Etiquette Pantomime" are to be given under the direction of Alyce Frost and Helen Chase respectively.

Chaperones chosen for the entertainment are Dean and Mrs. O. M. Leland, Dean and Mrs. M. E. Haggerty, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Cunningham, Mr. and Mrs. Cyrus Barnum, and Mr. and Mrs. V. V. Loper.

40 GRIDDERS REPORT FOR SPRING PRACTICE

Bill Spaulding Drills Men In Fundamentals of Game

Frosh Luminaries to Fill Gaps Left in Line and Backfield By Retiring Vets; Graham and Peplaw Appear on Field For Initial Workout of Season; Ascher With Baseball Team; Dickson Works on Ends

Over forty Gopher football candidates, dressed in the full regalia of the grid warrior, reported to Coach Bill Spaulding on Northrop field yesterday afternoon for the first spring practice of the 1925 football season. Before the workout, Coach Spaulding gave the men a straight-from-the-shoulder talk, telling them that a man could make the team only by hard work and by attendance at every practice.

Assisted by Len Frank and Campbell Dickson, Coach Spaulding then put his men through their initial workout, which consisted primarily of limbering up exercises, passing, and instruction in the fundamentals of the game.

Len Frank Works on Line
Coach Spaulding spent most of his time drilling the backfield men in passing the ball; Len Frank drilled the guards and tackles in some of the fundamentals of line bucking, and Campbell Dickson drilled the end candidates in receiving passes.

Due to the fact that Herman Ascher is playing shortstop on the baseball team, Malcolm Graham and Bob Peplaw were the only veteran backfield men to take part in the workout last night. Among the promising frosh backfield stars who reported for practice yesterday are Nydahl, Arndsee, Kerr, O'Shields, Murrell, Joesting and Renzal. All of these men are stellar performers, and they are very apt to get into conference competition next fall.

Cooper, Wheeler Return
Conrad Cooper, center, and Rog Wheeler, end, were the only first string linemen to return for practice, but with a large number of capable frosh stars, Len Frank should be able to build a formidable forward wall. Among the frosh linemen who reported for practice yesterday were such luminaries as Drill, Gary, Miller, Kakala, Mader, Kaminski, and MacKinnon. Drill was all-state tackle at Carleton for two years before coming to Minnesota and he will make a strong bid for a position on the Gopher eleven next fall.

Football practice will be carried on four days a week throughout the spring quarter. The men who reported for practice yesterday afternoon are as follows: Fisher, Arndsee, Kerr, Kykyri, Mesner, Lust, Towne, Drill, Murrell, O'Shields, Lambe, Anderson, Kaminski, Mulvey, Gary, Withrow, Bakke, Wheeler, Giers, McQuid, MacKinnon, Renzal, Zimmerman, Nelson, Joesting, Kakala, Gay, Morris, Comforth, Mader, Johnston, Burlingame, Blinkenberg and Tiller.

Two Hundred Out For 1926 Michigan Basketball Team

Ann Arbor, Mich., March 31.—The second all-campus basketball practice sponsored for all male students by University of Michigan varsity court coaches saw nearly 200 candidates for next year's varsity out getting lessons in fundamentals.

The all-campus basketball practices are designed to afford all students the advantages of instruction under varsity coaches, so that those not inclined toward varsity competition may avail themselves of the exercise.

CAMPUS PUGILISTS TO MIX SATURDAY IN PRELIMINARIES

Five Fast Bouts to Take Place At Gopher Armory; R.O.T.C. Champs On Bill

Followers of the boxing game will have their first chance to view the all-University tournament entries in action Saturday afternoon when five fast preliminaries are scheduled to take place in the University Armory. Most of the men have seen service in the recent R. O. T. C. fistic tourney and will therefore give the spectators a faster exhibition than in the past tournaments when the short period of training was insufficient for the fighters to get in the "pink."

Three of the mixes slated for Saturday are in the popular 145-pound division. W. Ewald will meet Morris Greenberg; G. L. Riley will take on Ambrose McCarthy, and Harold Kelly will mix with Abe Margoles. Greenberg shaded Kelly for the welter title in the military title contest, and the same two are expected to come through the prelims to furnish the fans with another thrilling scrap. The other two bouts on Saturday's card will bring together A. J. McLean and D. N. Krueger in the 160-pound division, and John Lyon and Don Koppin in the light-heavy division.

Saturday's results will determine the semi-finalists in the welter, middle, and light-heavyweight divisions. Kobe and Duffy are the semi-finalists for the lightweight crown worn by Rosenthal. E. P. Pixler and Herman Anderson will fight it out for the right to meet Chapman, champion of the 125-pounders. These semi-final matches will take place April 7. No admission charge will be made for the preliminary bouts.

New Assistant Student Manager Takes Charge Of First Grid Practice

Eldridge Meagher, assistant student manager for football, whose new duties started with the opening of football practice last night. Mr. Meagher was selected from a field of ten men to the position of assistant football manager to Clifford Anderson. He will be promoted to student manager at the "M" banquet after the close of the football season.

SIX VETS REMAIN FOR '27 GYM TEAM

Julius Perlt and Skurdalsvold Will Graduate

When Dr. W. K. Foster issues his first call for candidates for the gymnastic team next year six veterans are expected to answer the call. Those missing will be Captain Skurdalsvold, Perlt and Miller. The vacancies left by these men will be hard to fill as Julius Perlt and Captain Skurdalsvold have been the main cogs and the leading point getters of this year's championship team. Perlt wound up his career in a blaze of glory by taking firsts in the side horse, the horizontal bar and the parallel bars in the all-conference meet.

Skurdalsvold took a first in the tumbling event and a second in the parallel bars while Miller was a consistent performer all year. The men who will probably return next year are Davidson, Wiley, Saxe, Whitney and Mueller. In the all-conference meet Saxe came through with a second in the side horse while Mueller swelled the Gopher total by collecting a second and a fourth. With these six men as a nucleus for the 1926 squad Minnesota should go a long way in retaining the title wrested from Chicago this year.

A captain will be elected very soon and although there are no ruling favorites at this stage, Tommy Saxe seems to have a light edge over his mates to receive the honor to lead the 1926 squad, although there is some doubt as to which he will return next year.

Illinois has lost only two dual track meets in ten years to Big Ten teams. Chicago beat the Illini in 1915 and Wisconsin in 1920.

Frosh Baseball Men Will Practice Monday

All freshmen baseball candidates are requested to report Monday afternoon in the band room at the Armory to Coach Keller. It is necessary that all candidates be present as the coach wants to get a line-up on the squad and to get the men started on their spring training. The suits will be issued to get the men started on their regular work.

PROSPECTS GOOD FOR SUCCESSFUL YEAR ON CINDERS

Track in Stadium In Shape For Coming Training; Rook and Partridge Out of Lineup

The track at the Stadium has at last been put into condition, and with the weather continually growing better and more favorable for track work, everything points to a successful track season. The grades for last quarter have not all been recorded, and until this has been finished the eligibility of certain members cannot be ascertained.

Rook, a dash man, and Partridge, a come miler, have left school, and will be lost to the outdoor cinder squad. Both men were on the Gopher indoor track group, and were consistent performers at their respective distances.

The success of this year's cinder artists depends on their ability to have fresh men in every event for the dual meets. With this aim in view Coach Finger will work with his proteges to endeavor to find their best event and get them to center all their work on this part of the competition. This will give every man a better chance, to show his true worth, and tend to develop a better, balanced team. This will also help the all-around athletes to become more proficient in their favorite event and tend to better their performance, as they will not be tired from a long list of previous events.

GRID ASSISTANTS ASKED TO REPORT

Aids Needed by Student Football Manager; Aspirants to Meet Friday Afternoon

With the call of spring football by Coach Bill Spaulding comes the call for student candidates to try out for the position of assistant student manager, at the first meeting of the year to be held in the office of the head football coach Friday afternoon at 4:30.

Clifford Anderson, present student manager, has issued this call as a means of getting a number of men to try for the position, as the competition for the post starts at once and will continue through the fall quarter, when the new assistant manager will be announced.

Many to Try Out
The competition is expected to be keen again this year, as the position brings with it much honor, and it is one which entitles the student manager to travel with the team, and to earn a clean claim to a major letter. Eldridge Meagher, present assistant manager, was chosen from a group of ten men for the competition last fall. More men are entering the competition each year as the value of the training and the rewards offered become more generally known.

Advantage Gained by Reporting
The man selected must be a sophomore next fall or else have three years left in school.

If a person is not selected as the assistant manager in the sport which he tries out for, he is given an opportunity to shift to some other sport, and in this way, gaining the advantage over the new recruits who report for the position of assistant manager in that sport.

Any students who are interested should get in touch with Coach Bill Spaulding or Clifford Anderson by Friday, or should report at the meeting in Coach Spaulding's office Friday afternoon.

GOPHER NATATORS ENTER MINNESOTA STATE SWIM MEET

Nutting, Bessessen, Hill, Bird to Compete At St. Paul A. C., April 6th and 7th

Minnesota splashers are now working for the Minnesota state championship meet which will be held at the St. Paul A. C. April 6th and 7th.

In the state meet, Nutting, Bessessen, J. Hill, and Bird, of the varsity, will swim under the Gopher colors. Nutting, all-conference plunger, will compete in the plunger event; Bessessen will try for honors in the breast stroke event, Hill will swim the 100-yard back stroke, and Bird will perform in the diving event. Gordon Bjornberg, star distance swimmer, may swim in the 220-yard free style event for the varsity.

Besides the varsity natators, five Gopher freshmen will swim unattached in the meet. S. Hill, Morris, Lucke and Moody, will compose a crack relay quartet, while Purdy will swim in the breast stroke event. Sam Hill will also compete in the backstroke and 50-yard events.

Gophers Have Strongest Defensive Five in Big Ten

Although basketball has been given the air for another year, as other university sports come to the fore, it is interesting to note that Minnesota had the strongest defensive team in the conference last season. Gopher opponents scored 87 field goals against the Maroon and Gold, the least number which any team in the conference has had scored against it. Illinois rates second in defensive strength with its opponents scoring 91 field goals against that team. Ohio State, winner of the conference this year, stands seventh in considering the defensive strength of the various Big Ten quintets.

George Lott, University of Chicago freshman tennis star, ranked among the ten best American net stars last year, is spending his week of spring vacation at Atlanta, Ga., getting in shape for the coming tennis season.

Freshmen at the University of California are busy scrubbing the red paint off of the Large "C" which is on a hall back of the campus. The original color is golden, and it is the duty of the freshman class to keep the color immaculate during the school year.
