Illinois Dopesters Work Out Illinois Victory On Basis of Purdue Game

Gopher Opponents Today Think Comparative Scores Augur Well for Success of Illini.

THINK MINNESOTA MAY BE OVER-CONFIDENT

Players in Good Condition—Former Subs Now in Regular Positions.

Rowe, Captain of Illinois, Against whom the Gophers play today.

Special to the Minnesota Daily:

Urbana, Nov. 21.—After the brand of football that Illinois displayed in the Purdue game, both the coaches and the players are looking forward to the Minnesota contest with a greater degree of confidence. For the first time since the revival of athletic relations between the two schools, Illinois has a chance to win the contest, and if the "Swedes" come to Champaign felling cock sure of the result they may return a disappointed crew.

After making a number of important changes in the forwards, Zuppke now has a line that he can depend upon to successfully hold the onslaughts of most of the conference backfields (if the Purdue plungers are a criterion). Time after time, the

Girl's Point System Works

The Idea Proves Very Successful in Preventing Monopoly of Offices.

The Point System, recently adopted by the W. S. G. A. for governing offices to be held by girls, has been initiated in a very promising way. On account of this system two girls had to drop some of their work, but, aside from that, it has not affected affairs materially. The system has been used in all elections held this year and has been very successful in its purpose. The aim of course, is to distribute the work evenly between the girls, so that the hard workers will not bear the burden of all the work, and so that other girls, who might not push themselves into offices, will be sought out and elected.

There may be some change as to the number of points allowed for each office, but this is a matter of the future and does not materially influence the work of this year.

W. S. G. A. DINNER LIST OPEN.

Girls Wishing to Attend Thanksgiving Spread Urged to Report.

W. S. G. A. as has been announced, is to give a free Thanksgiving dinner for all out-of-town girls who do not go home for vacation. The affair is to be held in Shevlin Hall at 1:30 o'clock, Thanksgiving Day. Girls are requested to hand in their names, if they wish to come, to box 779 before Saturday noon. This is very important, as the number of plates must be arranged definitely.

Ben Greet Players May Appear at Commencement

Senior Class Meeting Today at Noon Will be Addressed by Manager of Company.

Question of Engaging the Players Under Auspices of the Class to be Voted Upon.

Members of the senior class will be asked to consider a very important matter at a meeting which will be held this noon after the chapel exercises. The manager of the Ben Greet Players a noted organization of dramatists and musicians will talk at the meeting and present to the class the proposition of having the players appear on the campus during commencement week next June. The manager states that this is the original Ben Greet company and that Ben Greet himself is one of the players.

It is the plan of having the company appear here under the direct supervision of the senior class, that is being considered and for this reason President Ben Webster is anxious that a large and representative part of the senior class appear at the meeting today.

The plays that will be presented if the class decides to take up the offer of the company are, "The Tempest," "A Mid-summer Night's Dream," and "Much Ado About Nothing." The offer if accepted may mean that the class will have to give up the presentation of a class play. This, however, will be a matter for future decision.

Much interest is being manifested in the scheme by those members of the senior class to whom the plan has been broached and it is expected that such a unique and altogether pleasing form of entertainment for class night would meet the approval of the majority of not only the senior class, but of the entire student body.

GIRL ATHLETES CELEBRATE.

Women's Athletic Association Holds Party in Armory.

The W. A. A. is congratulating itself on its successful party held last Wednesday in the Girl's gymnasium. Prizes were distributed; Catherine Cates winning the Hudson cup in tennis, Margaret Helmenan being the runner-up.

Then some of our talented co-eds contributed a programme of stunts to the entertainment. Two girls, who refuse to divulge their names, imitated Jack Johnson and Jim Jeffries in a boxing match. Alma Haupt and Florence Salzer, as Spare Ribs and Gravy, added zest to the affair by a spectacular tight rope walking stunt.

Margaret Anderson and Mary Edwards, as Illinois and Minnesota, had a very exciting track meet. It took the form of a relay race and crackers were eaten with relish by the competitors, at every one of the four stopping points in the race.

A short programme of dances followed, after which cider, doughnuts and apples were served.

Football Banquet Given Big Boost by Heavy Ticket Sale Yesterday

Final Arrangements For First Annual Campus Football Banquet Reception and Dance Completed.

TICKETS MUST BE BOUGHT
BY MONDAY NOON

General Public Will Be Admitted to Gallery—Fraternal and Sororities Boosting.

Final arrangements for the big football banquet to be held Tuesday night in the Armory have been completed and the committee in charge prophesy this banquet to be the largest all-university affair ever held on the campus. A slight change in the program has been made and the events will come in the following order:

Banquet, 6:00 P. M. Election of Captain 7:00 P. M. Speeches (7:15 P. M.) by Pres. Vincent, Doc. Williams and Capt. Aldworth, who will introduce the newly elected captain for next year.

At 7:45 the men will be awarded M's followed by a general reception at 8:30. During which time the band will show its ability and give a really classical program.

The program will be concluded by a dance open to all at the banquet or by dance ticket.

During the whole program the general public is welcomed and invited to attend and honor the men who will be awarded their well-earned M's. The balcony around the main floor will be open to the public, who do not care to attend the banquet. Arrangements have been made whereby men may get tickets for the dance following. They will be on sale at the door for the normal price of 25c.

Minnesota Runners in Conference Race Today

Twelve Colleges Will Compete in Race Under Big Nine Auspices At Columbus.

Wisconsin, Northwestern and Ames Picked As Winners—Watson May Lead Field.

This afternoon the Minnesota cross country team will meet the representatives of twelve other colleges in the conference race. The race will be held at Ohio State Field, before the game between Ohio State and Northwestern. The course is five miles.

According to past performances, it would seem that Wisconsin, Northwestern and Ames have the best chances to win the big event. Wisconsin defeated Minnesota before the game between these two colleges, but with added experience and training, the team hopes to retrieve its defeat by making a good showing in this race. Watson is known to be a very strong runner over a five mile course, and no one would be surprised here to see him come in at the head of the field. However, Wisconsin, with its veteran team seems to have the edge.

Northwestern has defeated Chicago, while Ames won the Missouri valley cross country from Nebraska and Kansas—so this gives these teams a good recommendation. Snider of Ames is a particularly good man, there being very few in the country who are his equal.

Ohio State, with the advantage of a known course, and Purdue are also in the running; with Kansas, Iowa, Nebraska and Dennison to make the leaders go.

GOPHERS LINE-UP AGAINST ILLINI TODAY IN LAST GAME OF SEASON'S SCHEDULE

MINNESOTA TEAM JOURNEYS TO CHAMPAIGN TO REDEEM CHICAGO DEFEAT BY VICTORY OVER ILLINOIS—PLAYERS GENERALLY DETERMINED AND CONFIDENT.

Players Given Tame Send-off—Seven Men Will Wear Maroon and Gold For Last Time Today.

Doc. Williams Says Nothing—Several Gophers Will Be Handicapped by Injuries.

* Returns in chapel this afternoon. Game starts at 2:00 P. M. *

With today's contest several of Minnesota's star players will end their football careers. The Illini will be the last opponents which these Gophers will line up against. Shaughnessy, Aldworth, McAlmon, Fournier, Robertson, Sawyer, and Al. Bierman are the men who will wear their mole-skins today for the last time in a Minnesota contest.

Send-off Tame.
In view of this fact several of the otherwise jolly members of the Gopher squad left the city Thursday evening in a depressed mood. The depression was no doubt somewhat due to the meagre support shown by the students at the send-off. But fifty supporters appeared at the train to give the team its usual spirited leave-taking. These few created a lot of noise, but their numbers did not permit the volume that was attendant upon former departures. The team no doubt felt that they were not being backed; and their usual vivacity simmered down to a grim determination to fight the fight alone.

Players Talk.
When called upon Bill McAlmon, who will undoubtedly be acting captain in today's game, said, "Boys, we're going to do our best. That's all I can say." The cry "We want Shaughnessy," was responded to by a few faint remarks by Minnesota's stellar full-back, which indicated that something is up. Rosenthal appeared to be the most happy of all. In response to the repeated calling of his name, he said, "Boys, my leg is alright. I'm going to get into the game, and I'll give all I've got." Reports from Chicago, where the team stayed yesterday, say that the squad as a whole is quiet and serious. They seem to be sober and thoughtful over the battle today.

It is generally believed that the Gophers are laying aside all frivolity until after the final schedule is played, and that the Illini will today bear the brunt of the team's grim determination to get even with somebody. That Minnesota means business in today's contest is evidenced by the spirit of the men, to fight to the last ditch, to show their supporters that they can start things when they really have a mind to.

Aldworth May Play.
It is also believed that those men who play their last game today will fight as they never have before, partly to wipe away the sting of the defeat at the hands of Chicago and partly to end the year with a grand finale. Captain Aldworth, who has been planning for some time to get back in form for this his last game, was reported to be suffering from a return of his rheumatic fever. His playing today is a matter of conjecture and will be decided only by his condition at the time of the game. It is generally believed that, if his fever is reduced so that he can play, Doc. Williams will send him into the lineup. At all events his playing will not last more than a part of the game, for he has not fully recuperated.

Although the Gophers have not particular grudge against the Illini it is certain that the latter will suffer the consequences of last Saturday's defeat somewhat.

Doc. Williams would give no statement in regard to the outcome of the game, with his usual reserve he refused to state his views on the chances for victory or defeat. Minnesota rooters as a whole are confident of victory. They believe that the Gophers will pile up a goodly score on Zuppke's men. The Illini, on the other hand, are expecting to prevent Minnesota from scoring and probably to score upon the Gophers themselves. Coach Zuppke himself is not over-confident, but is hopeful that his men will play on a par with Dr. Williams. Minnesota, so far as conference standing is concerned has the better record. She has defeated Wisconsin. The Badgers held Purdue to a tie, and the Illini held Purdue to a tie. Illinois, however, prevented Chicago from crossing her goal-line, allowing the Maroons only two drop-kicks. Chicago scored two touch-downs on the Gophers. In spite of Minnesota's lead over Wisconsin it looks as if the Illini are very nearly on an equal footing with Williams' proteges.

Injured List Large.
Both teams will go into the contest hampered by injured players. Robertson, Mattern, Aldworth and Rosenthal are not up to standard form. This will lessen the Gophers strength. Pogue, the brilliant quarter of the Illini eleven, is reported in the Daily Illini to be out of the game for the season. His shoulder has been injured so badly that any further aggravation might prevent his playing altogether. His absence has caused a change in the lineup, it being necessary to shift Wagner from the center position to that of quarter, while Chapman, a substitute, replaces him. Some of the other players still are nursing bruises received in the fight with Purdue.

Game Will Affect Standings.
The outcome of today's game will make a radical shift in the conference standing of teams. If Minnesota wins she will rise to second place, tying with Iowa. But if the Illini win they will assume second place over the Iowans. Illinois at present ties with Iowa for second place.

The Lineup.
The possibilities of the Gophers' lineup today is:

GLEE CLUB TO SING TUESDAY.
First Campus Appearance of the Year Will be in Chapel.

The University Glee Club will make its first appearance of the year before a University audience at chapel next Tuesday noon. A program has been arranged that will bring out all the varied talent which is found among this year's singers.

EDITORIAL COMMENT.

Loyalty of the Daily men is not of the grandstand order. When the reporter stays up until four o'clock in the morning to see the Daily safely off the press no one applauds. And when shortly afterward he lifts himself out of bed for an eight o'clock class, there is no blare of bands and frenzied applause from assembled multitudes. Few know and the others take it as a matter of course. In some ways this shines as a fine example of college spirit and loyalty. It is anonymous, and often the man who works the hardest never sees his name at the top of the paper. Credit is too often given to those "higher up" Some day, perhaps, the Daily will become opulent enough to make some return for such unselfish labor, or with the advent of a utopian state of affairs in the distant future, the university may recognize the college paper as more than a toy and give graduation credit for worthy efforts in the writing of its columns.

Down in Illinois Field this afternoon seven men will be playing their last football game for Minnesota. When the whistle blows for the end of the game, Sawyer, McAlmon, Shaughnessy, Robertson, Fournier, Al. Bierman and Captain Aldworth will have worn their moleskins for the last time as representatives of the University of Minnesota. They will have done their share and more to make the university famous.

There may be many other things that make the university of Minnesota an institution recognized among the first of all universities but there is nothing that makes it recognized among certain classes of people more than its football team. The American people are athletic and we recognize athletic excellence among the first of all comparisons. There is no question that Minnesota is a power in western athletics; everyone admits it. And these men who are this afternoon playing their last game for Minnesota have done their share. We say they have done their share. They have done even more than that. They have not only helped to keep Minnesota where she is in the athletic world, but the stars among these seven have pushed her even higher. We wish to extend on behalf of the students our respect and admiration for the work of these men and to wish them proportionate success in their future work.

Dean Shenehon in New York.

Dean Shenehon of the Engineering College arrived in New York yesterday, after having spent several days in Washington. He represented Minnesota in the annual conference of land-grant colleges of engineering, which was in session in the national capital from the 12th of the month. He remained in Washington for the National Conservation Congress which met immediately afterwards. It is not known how long he will remain in the East.

The fifth Sunday afternoon popular concert of the present season by the Minneapolis Symphony orchestra will take place in the Auditorium Nov. 23, beginning at 3:30 p. m.

Doc Cooke Issues First Call for Basket Ball Men

Official Practice For 1913-14 Season Begins on Monday at 5 P. M. in Armory.

Minnesota Coach Has Wealth of Material With Six Veterans—Twelve Games on Schedule.

Dr. Cook has issued the first call for basket ball candidates, by announcing Monday, November 24 at 5 o'clock as the first official practice period of the year 1913-14. It is especially desirable that all the candidates report at this time, in order to discuss the work and show what they can do in the basket tossing line.

There is a wealth of material from which to pick a team. Whether the men are eligible or not will be determined in the near future when the men will go before the eligibility committee for permission to play on the team. The men left from last year's team, as a nucleus around which Dr. Cooke must build a new team are Capt. Stadsvoid, "Bee" Lawler, Emmons, Sawyer, Joe McKeon, Husby, and Jurgenson. Two of last year's star players which are lost to this year's team are Wipperman and "Rube" Johnson.

Besides these veterans several new candidates have been working on the floor for the last few weeks. Some of the new men have been doing excellent work in basket shooting and floor work and will doubtless give the veterans a stiff fight for places on the regular squad. The most promising of the new men are Frank Hall formerly of the champion Little Falls High school team, Ohman, Lewis, and McGary. Other men who have been doing brilliant work are Dietrich, the Bierman brothers, Lynn Robertson, Pynn, Haskins, Hillmond, Geer, Stone, Lambert, George McKeon, Smith, Barton, Jelinek, Haverstock and Jahnke.

Wisconsin Will Strive To Humble Chicago Today

Determined Badger Players Leave for Midway City in Pink of Condition.

Stagg Warns Team That Victory Depends on Consistent Hard Work.

A hard signal practice and scrimmage workout yesterday brought to a close one of the hardest weeks of practice known to the Badger eleven. Coach Juneau believes thoroughly in having his team of huskies in prime condition for the crucial meet with the Maroons this afternoon. On the eve of departure for Chicago, every man on the team with the exception of left guard Gelein is physically perfect and anxious to get into the game.

"If the Wisconsin forwards find themselves today and play the brand of football of which they are capable, the Badgers will give the Maroons worthy opposition" declared Coach Juneau yesterday.

Stagg has been making preparations for a very stiff opposition in this afternoon's contest, if the rate at which he has drilled the Maroons the last few days can be taken as evidence.

"I am expecting Wisconsin to give us a hard fight, just as the Gophers did last Saturday," he told the team yesterday. "Wisconsin is coming to Chicago today determined to win, if there is any chance, and unless Chicago keeps on the jump from whistle to whistle, the chances are good."

The movement to have 1,500 at the banquet received a great impetus yesterday by the heavy sale of tickets. Most men are buying two; groups of girls have bought tickets in job lots and many sororities will attend in a body.

A movement, headed by the Phi Psi, S. A. E. and D. U. fraternities to refuse to serve the evening meal on the night of the big banquet was started yesterday.

Any time during the evening the public will be permitted in the balconies to witness the awarding of M's and hear the speeches, and later by admission ticket will be permitted to enjoy the reception and dance.

All desiring to attend the banquet must purchase tickets some time before Monday noon. No tickets will be sold thereafter, as it is absolutely necessary the committee in charge know how many to provide for. Tickets will be on sale at the Post Office, the Y. M. C. A. or they may be procured from Allen Moore at the Daily office.

The attendance at this banquet will determine whether or not the banquet will hereafter be a campus affair. With the 1,500 expected banqueters and the crowded gallery, this final and last chance to show the team how they are regarded by the students and friends, bids fair to be the greatest show of Minnesota spirit ever seen.

strong Boiler-maker backfield was thrown for losses. Considerable more "pep" and fighting spirit has been instilled into the line-men from sources unknown.

The Illini dopesters are using the following figures to prove their contention that Illinois ought to hold Minnesota even. Purdue held Chicago to a 6 to 0 score, and throughout the entire game, the Maroons were never within the Boiler-maker's 15 yard line. On the other hand, Chicago scored two touchdowns on Minnesota. Purdue was a much improved team when they met Illinois and yet they failed to produce a score.

Most of the men came out of the Purdue game in fit condition. Especially gratifying was the work of Fullerton, Wagner, Derby and Graves, all former substitutes, but who have now earned regular positions.
