INGOLF GRINDELAND WILL SING IN CHAPEL TODAY

Tenor Soloist Will Give Final Program. Three Numbers Will Be Sung.

Ingolf Grindelnd, the popular tenor soloist of Glee club fame will make his final bow to the University. As he graduates in the spring Prof. Scott arranged a program so that the students might hear him once more before he leaves.

He will render three numbers today: one popular song by Shubert with words by Shakespeare and the Scotch folk-song, Bonnie Sweet Bessie.

Following is the program:
Hark, Hark, the Lark! Shubert
Mattinata Tosti

CELESTIALS WILL MEET VARSITY THIS AFTERNOON

Chinese Nine Has Defeated The Best Universities In The United States.

Gophers Are In The Best Of Trim To Meet Occidental Opponents.

One of the fastest baseball games of the season will be staged at Northrop Field this afternoon when the Varsity takes on the crack Chinese team of the University of Hawaii. The strength of the Chinese team is shown by their long string of victories since their arrival in this country. Among the victims of the little yellow men's baseball prowess are the nines of Stanford University, St. Mary's College, and all the best College teams of the West.

The team which the Gophers will meet this afternoon will be the same one which won such a reputation for itself last year on its tour of the United States, winning 66 games out of a total of 119 games played. While the playing of the Chinese on that trip was strategic, they showed an absence of that scientific playing which makes the American diamond artists so deadly. This year the Celestials have had the benefit of American coaching, hence their wonderful record. The Gophers on the other hand have been playing phenomenal ball this season. On their recent trip, they accepted impossible chances in the field without a skip and clouted like demons, bringing home with the leadership of the conference in hitting. Captain Doermann will probably be seen at the third bag this afternoon if he is able to get into the game. Lambert, the sensational Gopher spitball artist will be on the slab for the Gophers.

SOPHOMORE VAUDEVILLE IS PRONOUNCED BIG SUCCESS

Large Audience Was Convulsed By Antics Of Second-Year Men In Chapel.

Dancing, Musical Comedy, Darkies And Chalk Talks Form Part Of Program.

"The sophomore program was the nearest approach to real vaudeville that has yet been attained on the campus," said one of the big audience which was entertained last night by the seven act sophomore vaudeville. From beginning to end the interest of the audience never flagged. The program was not of such a length as to be fatiguing, and the numbers were very lively.

The show began with a string quartette production,—two Russian players being accompanied by a mandolin and guitar. The Russian dancing accompanying this act was very popular and responded to several encores.

The Darkey Minstrels next took possession of the stage and were greeted with usual vociferous applause. The rag dancing included all the latest forms,—the new Boston, the tango, the grapevine, Texas Tommy, and some so extreme that no appropriate names have yet been found. This act was a great revelation to those few who do not frequent ballrooms and a good chance for those who do, to see how they look themselves.

The musical comedy written by Harold Van Duzee and Irene Eddy, was good. This kind of vaudeville performance is very difficult for amateurs, but the number proved very popular last night.

After a romantic tragedy, acted on the piano by Ray Anderson, Frank Hubachek and Bob McLean convulsed the audience almost to tears by their "live animal" chalk talk. Animals acted as if alive, responded to petting, and a cow, even stood perfectly still to be milked.

The "new style," non-flickering moving-picture machine capped the climax. Another view of how Minnesota students actually look and act was seen, followed by the comedy reels that closed the performance.

JUNIOR ENGINEERS TO HAVE A PICNIC THIS AFTERNOON

Will Stage a Baseball Contest And Feast On Real Mulligan Stew.

The Junior Engineering class will give their annual picnic today on the flats below the campus. The affair will start at five o'clock and all the members will bring their base ball paraphernalia and will stage a baseball game before supper. An old-fashioned campfire mulligan stew will be served, which will be followed by a campfire story session. The entire class will attend and the proposed new curriculum for the engineering college will be discussed, and resolutions will be drawn up which will be presented to the faculty.

EXTEMPORANEOUS SPEAKING. TRYOUTS ARE POSTPONED.

Because Of Lack Of Interest Preliminaries Will Be Held At Later Date.

Owing to the fact that only five people turned out for the extemporaneous speaking contest preliminaries scheduled to be held in the oratory room in Folwell yesterday afternoon, no definite action was taken and the tryouts were postponed until a later date. The preliminaries will be held some time before the date on which the final contest is to be held on May 13th at noon in Chapel, professor Gislason of the public speaking department announced yesterday. As all students are eligible for the tryouts, everyone who has any talent along these lines is urged to come out. Only eight persons will participate in the finals.

VINCENT HOME THREATENED BY BAND OF ANARCHISTS

Infernal Machine Is Discovered On The Porch Of President Vincent.

Quick Work On The Part Of Mr. McGinty, L. L. B. Prevents Catastrophe.

Yesterday morning a mysterious looking black box was found on the front porch of the Vincent home. No one in the house could tell what it was or how it got there and the police were promptly notified. The box was of steel and weighed about six hundred pounds, so it must have taken at least four men to carry it to the place where it was found. While the detectives were examining the outside, a curious whirring noise was heard within and for the moment they supposed that it was an infernal machine. However no explosion followed and they again began their examination. Mr. McGinty was standing near by and his eagle eye noticed a feature which the sleuths overlooked, namely a small dark spot in the lower left hand corner. This proved to be a push button which unlocked the door. Just as the door swung open, a package fell out upon the porch floor and when it was opened it was found to contain the final instructions from Mrs. Vincent to the cabaret managers. The mysterious secrets of the cabaret will be told in Chapel next Tuesday by Miss Luella Bussey. The management has also been successful in securing Mr. William Hodson, of the Men's Union, the versatile and pleasing platform orator, who will set forth the reason why the circus is being given. The band will play before the meeting begins and two high class attractions will be offered.

Four Men Qualify At Shoot.

At the cadet shoot Thursday, four men qualified as sharpshooters: Rollmann, Sewall, Smart, and Rydell. Four made marksman: Esswein, Ott, Barber, and Ray Anderson. 500 yards and skirmish were shot.

Following close upon the flurry and excitement of the yearly appearance of the Gopher, the big Junior annual, comes the sophomore campaign for the election, next Wednesday, of a new staff. Special excitement and interest has been evidenced in the race for managing editor and five candidates have handed in their names to James Baker, president of the All-University Council, which will have charge of the election.

The persons running are prominent among the students, most of them having been engaged in one or more forms of student activities. Frank McFadden is a popular academic and officer in the cadet corps. Rem Orsinger is an Aggie and is "in solid" with the farm school delegation. Carl Painter is a debater and member of

SENIOR MEN ARE WANTED FOR PARTS IN CLASS PLAY

Tryouts Are To Be Held For Parts In Senior Specialties And Choruses.

Seventy senior men are needed to take parts in the senior class play specialties and choruses. Tryouts will be held in the Y. M. C. A. from 3 to 5 P. M. Monday, May 5th.

The tryouts are held only to find out for what specialties the men are suited and so everyone who tries out will get a place.

A few more places are also left for some girls, and each girl who tried out Thursday is requested to send at least one senior to the Y. M. C. A. Monday afternoon from 3 to 5 P. M.

THE GAME TODAY.
The Minnesota baseball team meets the Chinese team of the University of Hawaii today on Northrop Field. In all probability this will be the hardest game of the year as the Chinese team comes here with an unbroken string of victories this season. It will be a game worth seeing. Let's go.

EDITORIAL COMMENT.
In this issue of the Daily we publish a communication from a member of the senior class relating to our editorial of last Wednesday. We recognize the genuine worth of the sentiment expressed in the communication and commend it to the students of the university. At the same time, however, we wish to outline our position a little more carefully in the matter of rag dancing and who shall take the initiative in abolishing it. As we have said before, we have no desire to lay at the door of the university girl, responsibility for anything she should not carry, yet we are fully aware of our man-like tendency to lay the blame upon women. On the other hand we do not quite agree with the writer of the communication that we have emerged into the age which holds up but one standard for men and women alike. We are emerging, it is true, but we still retain enough of the old tendency so that is yet quite natural for men to place women upon a little higher plane than that in which they themselves exist. And so in making our appeal for some concerted action toward abolishing the questionable dances at Minnesota, it was but natural that we should turn first to the women students and ask them to take the first step.

In our editorial we did not place the blame for extreme dancing upon either sex. We believe it should be shouldered equally by both. The men are fully as much to blame as the women. Yet if we had appealed to the men we doubt whether the slightest action would have been taken. As it is, we have at least aroused comment. The writer of the communication asks that the extreme dancing be frowned upon by men and women students alike. It is a most commendable thought. But let the girls first refuse to dance in a questionable manner and no man who is a gentleman will urge the slightest objection to a wish which he knows to be sincere.

Communications

To the Daily:
Just how much courage it took, on the part of the editor of the Daily, to comment in such accurate language, on the "ragging" malady, now infecting the campus, can be most satisfactorily estimated by a similar endeavor on the part of the curious. Hence—!

Among other things, the author of the editorial, pointed out that a feasible remedy for this obnoxious disease, lay in the recognized disapproval of the women on the campus. He further stated that whenever the women so chose, they could rid the campus of all types of questionable "ragging." The writer of this brief comment ventures to call attention to two things: first, that it is not fair to the facts in the case to assume that all women on the campus would ever be discerning enough to see the indignity of ragging, and second, that it is not fair to assume that all the men on the campus are thus desirous of shifting the responsibility on the women. The very fact that one man chose to comment on the situation in an editorial, testifies in behalf of the moral and aesthetic sanity of at least one man. Is it not just to assume that there are other men who dare to face the issue individually and help eliminate this habit? Would not the united efforts and influence of both men and women,—those who can see the facts and are willing to face them,—do more, and do it more effectively to root out this "fad," than the single efforts of women alone? We are just emerging from an age which recognized a separate standard for men and a separate standard for women. We are now likewise well into an age which holds up but one significant standard for men and women alike. Must University students, with an outlook supposed to be based on reflection and judgment resort to a method of eliminating evil which is sentimental and traditional? Or isn't Kipling right, "For the sin ye do by two and two ye must pay for one by one."

EXTENSION WORK PLANS ARE BEING RAPIDLY PERFECTED

Many University Organizations Are To Go On Two Weeks Tour In June.

This Year's Work Will Be On a Larger Scale Than Ever Before.

Preliminary plans for the University Extension course, which covers the fortnight between June 2nd and June 15th, are nearly perfected. In a few days the advertising literature will be distributed broadcast throughout the state, and definite campaigning steps will be taken toward making this year's tour far superior to that of last year.

With the exception of Crookston, where a convention will be held at the time of the tour, all cities visited last year will be revisited. The fact that these cities are more enthusiastic than ever for the return of the University people is one of much significance for the future of the extension work. It practically assures the continuance of state-wide instruction, and the broadening of the University's field of endeavor. Few states have a University that penetrates to the remotest parts of their territory, and which is not concentrated within itself. The cities of Minnesota, realizing this, are making every effort to insure the perpetration of the "University Weeks."

Through the generosity of the Legislature, Minnesota will be able to enlarge her circuit, and to give to the people of the state added attraction. This year a small army of men and women will travel from city to city, giving lectures, demonstrations, and concerts. Besides the faculty members who will visit the northern towns there will be a company of dramatic club players to present "A Pair of Spectacles," debating teams, the Euterpean Glee club, and a score of entertainers. Traveling on the southern circuit with another group of professors will be the men's glee club, debating teams, a second dramatic company, and other stage artists.

Dr. Forbush of Philadelphia and Dr. Hoben of Chicago, who are men of national reputation in their professions, have been secured to lecture with Professors Jenks, Newkirk, Young, Thompson, Ebersole, Gray, Storm, Craig, Hoag, Bradsen, Davies, Sanford, Hutchinson, Rarig, Gislason, Savage, Phalen, Burton, Norris, Robinson, and President Vincent.

1915 GOPHER BOARD WILL BE ELECTED WEDNESDAY

 the Daily staff, as are also John Shadbolt and Fred Weersing, who was president of his class last year and member of the Academic Council.

Six candidates are out for the two positions of academic representatives, two of them class officers, Marguerite Grimm and Ray Anderson, and the others are well known in class activities.

Frank Morse is the only law representative who has, as yet, announced his candidacy. E. N. Foque and R. E. Lutz are running for Engineering representatives on the new board. The agriculture and forestry departments together have one representative, for which F. P. Hansen, R. N. McLean, Ogden Morlan are candidates, while no candidates have as yet announced themselves for medical-dentistry representative.

The following are the classes which are entitled to vote in next Wednesday's election:

Forester, Sophomore Engineers, Sophomore Chemists.

The five candidates for managing editor have been invited to speak three minutes each before a class-meeting of the engineers in the chemistry lecture room next Tuesday.
